Mr. and Mrs. Joe Enge of Grass Creek, Wyoming, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Enge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schultz, and with other Belmond relatives.

Rev. M. F. Eardley of Anamosa, and Rev. P. Molloy and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Barry of Belmond returned Friday from Sinsinawa, Wisconsin, where they attended the Reception Ceremonies of Miss Cecilia Barry, one of the class of fifty girls, who was received into the Dominican Order of Sisters. She will now be known as Sister Mary Aemelliana.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Thompson and son, Waldon, left Sunday by motor, for Minneapolis, for an extended visit with relatives.

A. C. Meyers entertained a sister from Chicago, the past week.

Geo. Hake will show "The Winning of Barbara Worth" at the Lyric Theatre next week Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The story is by Harold Bell Wright, and one of the best this popular author ever wrote.

Harvey Chapman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Chapman, recently received his degree in mechanical engineering at Iowa State College, Ames. Harvey was one of seven advanced military students at Ames who received the commission of second lieutenant in the reserve corps, Harvey receiving his commission in the field artillery. He attended the training camp this summer at Camp Knox, Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Goelz and son, Donald, motored to Tracy, Minnesota, Sunday to visit the Floyd Lewis family.

Dr. J. E. Wallace came recently from South Dakota, to visit his wife and daughter. He is recovering nicely from his recent operation.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Manville, of Iowa City, spent Sunday at the Mrs. J. E. Wallace home.

On account of the films for the St. John's Lutheran church picture, "Martin Luther," not arriving last week, the showing of the picture has been postponed until Tuesday, Aug. 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell of Weiser, Idaho, came last Saturday to spend a few weeks with their daughter, Mrs. G. F. Elder and family.

Mrs. J. Sturdevant and daughter, Velva, are visiting Mrs. Sturdevant's parents in Washington for a few weeks.

Mrs. Anna Richardson came home from Owatonna, Minnesota, to take care of her mother, Mrs. A. Loats, who is very ill.

Mrs. Fred Mennenga was called home from Watford City, North Dakota, by the illness of her mother, Mrs. A. Loats.

Geo. Slauter, of Detroit, Michigan arrived yesterday enroute home from Omaha, to visit a couple days with his sister, Mrs. Carl Wenzel.

A SACRIFICE SALE!

My residence and other property will be sold as soon as possible regardless of its value. Anyone desiring a modern home in first-class condition should call and look it over. Located on primary 15, half a block from Main street, consists of 2 lots, house and barn. Some apple, plum trees and other fruit. House is 22x28 with ell 14x16. Full basement. Kitchen 12x14 with built-in cabinet 7x11. Clothes chute to basement. Iceless refrigerator. Dining room and parlor each 14x21 connected by folding doors. Three nice large bedrooms up stairs, with large closets; sewing room; linen closet; bath room 8x10. Extra toilet in basement. Rooms nicely painted, waxed linoleum on all floors. In the basement, there is a laundry 9x24, with stove, vegetable room 10x12 with shelving and potato bin, furnace room 10x12; outside coal and wood bin close to the furnace. Also some vacant lots adjoining suitable for garden which will be sold cheap. Terms—Reasonable amount down, balance to suit purchaser. Also have a few odds and ends to dispose of, Smith premier typewriter and desk, about $200 worth of bee supplies, some bedsteads, steel cots, etc.

E. A. PIERCE,
Belmond, Iowa. Phone 359.

What You Want In the WANT ADS

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—9x12 Wilton rug. Also China closet, dining room table and chairs. Phone 263. 1c

FOR SALE—26-46 Wood Bros. Separator, threshed five jobs. Also Thieman Harvester Ensilage cutter, used one year. Will sell right.—Henry Nannenga, Alexander, Iowa. 382*

FOR SALE—McCormick-Deering 10-20 tractor and plow. In good shape, only plowed about 90 acres. Inquire at Independent. 372*

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—400-acre farm, 3½ miles from Belmond. Excellent improvements, very well tiled. Inquire at Independent. 1c

"Andy Gump" and the whole family will be here tomorrow, that being the name of the tent show to be here. They will show on the lot north of the City Park, giving a band concert before the show.

Morris Bros. are driving a new Chrysler "70" sedan, purchased from the Thoe Motor Sales.

The Tilton & Guthrie Players will play a week's stand here starting next Monday. They have a variety of plays and feature Billy Guthrie, the red headed comedian. This company is rated one of the best of its kind, and recently completed a five week stay at the Princess Theatre, Fort Dodge, and five weeks at the Majestic, Des Moines. Their opening play here will be "My Dixie Rose."

DR. R. E. PORTER
BELMOND, IOWA
Chiropractic Health Service
Eight Year's Experience
Office Over Griesy's Store

WRIGHT COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

(Continued from page six)

The County Auditor was directed to publish the estimate and notice of hearing as required by law in the Wright County Monitor, a newspaper published at the county seat of said county.

On motion adjourned to meet July 18, 1927.

James Mehl, Chairman Protem.
F. W. Walker, County Auditor.

BELMOND MARKETS

(Subject to change.)

Hens	16c
Springs	20c
Roosters	07c
Ducks	12c
Geese	08c
Eggs	22c
Butterfat	39c
Creamery Butter	45c
Oats	40c
Corn No. 3 yellow	97c
Barley	65c

The Cemetery Aid Society meets tomorrow, Friday, August 12, in the library basement. Hostesses will be Mrs. A. E. Martin, Mrs. Thos. Brooks, Mrs. Finch, Mrs. W. C. Tyrrell, Miss Margaret Mennenga, and Mrs. Frank Christie.

Pie and Coffee

That's a satisfying lunch, any time, and after you have tried our Home-Made Pie and Coffee you'll agree with us. We bake our own pies—the real "Like Mother Used to Make" kind. A generous slice—like mother used to hand out to you—for 10c. Don't forget our regular 45c dinners, and special Fried Chicken Sunday Dinners,

Look for the Red Light!

RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

ROBINSONS ...STORE...

BAKERY
GROCERY

These cool mornings make one feel that a good cup of coffee is necessary. We have the best money can buy. Nash, Butternut and Folgers. 50c per pound in 3 pound cans, 55c per pound in ones.

We have bulk coffee from 28c to 43c a pound.

Do you know we sell 100 bars Swift Quick Naptha Soap for $3.50? A fresh supply has arrived?

Troubled with flies? We have the remedy—poison powder, liquid spray and sticky paper.

Lyric Theatre
...Geo. Hake, Manager...

SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS

FRIDAY, SATURDAY, AUGUST 12 and 13
"Desert Valley"
Fox picture with Buck Jones, Virginia Brown Faire, and Malcolm Waite. A thriller of the sage brush land.
"HIGH SPOTS"
Educational comedy.
10c and 25c

MONDAY, TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY AUGUST 15, 16 and 17
"The Winning of Barbara Worth"
United Artists production with Ronald Colman, Vilma Banky, Chas. Lane, Paul McAllister, E. J. Ratcliffe. A story of surveyor and settler, of dreams and their realization. A dream of reclaiming the desert until it becomes the garden spot of civilization. From the famous novel by Harold Bell Wright.
Fox News
10c and 30c

THURSDAY, AUGUST 18
"The Secret Studio"
Fox picture with Olive Borden, Clifford Holland, Noreen Phillips, Ben Bard, Kate Bruce. A revelation of the Latin quarter of Greenwich Village.
"ANYTHING ONCE"
Mabel Normand comedy
10c and 25c

Kinseth's Store News

Another nice saving this week for you in the way of Soap. We have a special bargain on, starting today: With six cakes of AM-OND-OL, the Palm-Almond Soap, at 59c you get Six Beautiful 10-oz. glasses of attractive design, FREE! This is a luxurious toilet soap made from the finest palm and almond oils, and we know you will like it. Place your order early.

In Preserves this week we are offering Cherry, Strawberry and Raspberry in 5-gallon pails at $1.29.

Apples in gallon cans at 42c. Better lay in what you will need this winter, as the apple crop will be short, and apples high.

49c buys a high grade broom.

Peaches, in case lots of six cans, special at $3.24.

Apricots in gallon lots at 77c.

Four packages of macaroni for 32c.

Shreaded Wheat at 11c a package.

Dozens of other money-savers at The Store on the Corner. If you cant' get down town to shop, Phone 19 or 5, and you'll get the same good prices and service as though you shopped in person.

High Finance

OVER at Clarion
THEY tell us that a
SMALL boy went into a
GROCERY store the other
DAY and said "My MOTHER wants change
FOR a dollar and she SAYS she'll send you
THE dollar tomorrow!"
WHICH just about matches
THE case of another lady
WHO bought a dozen eggs
ON account at one grocery STORE and then sold them
FOR cash at another
STORE in order to get MONEY for a movie
TICKET—that actually HAPPENED!—But say
WE wish you could hear
THE compliments we are GETTING these days
ABOUT our Day Dream Sale.
ONE customer remarked
THIS morning "I am
BUYING enough Perfume, POWDER and Cream to LAST a year and supply
THE whole family with FREE tooth paste."
TRY the Drug Store First!

Herman L. Schultz

SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

CITY MARKET'S SPECIALS!

Friday - Saturday
August 12-13

LIVER, per pound 05c
PICNIC HAMS, per pound 16c
BOILING BEEF per pound 11c

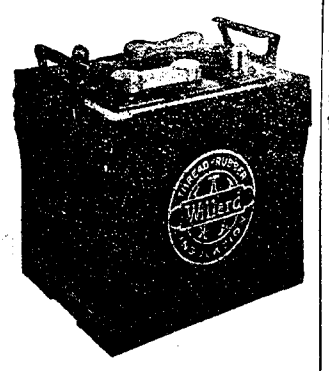
SPECIAL!
Watermelon on Ice!
Special, Attractive Prices

Watch for Our Specials Every Week!

Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning

City Meat Market
Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207. Belmond, Iowa

Come



to us with your electrical troubles.

No matter how complicated they may be, we are equipped and know how to handle them.

We can give you prompt service on anything in Automobile Electricity.

BELMOND STORAGE BATTERY CO.
Phone 46 J. W. Scott, Prop.
Thru Service We Grow!

$3.55
Round Trip
AUGUST 14
Excursion to Omaha
CHICAGO GREAT WESTERN

Free Reclining Chair Cars and Coaches — Half fare for Children

GOING TRIP SUNDAY, AUGUST 14		RETURN TRIP SUNDAY, AUGUST 14
Lv. Belmond - -	1:46 a. m.	Lv. Omaha - -	8:30 p. m.
Ar. Omaha - -	7:50 a. m.	Ar. Belmond -	2:08 a. m.

For tickets and full details ask Ticket Agent, C. G. W. Station, Belmond, Iowa.

CHICAGO GREAT WESTERN

Don't Say Bread---Say
"BLUE RIBBON" BREAD!

Baked In Belmond, By Belmond's Bakers
Tasty, Flaky, Appetizing, Satisfying, Fresh Every Day

Fresh Hot Rolls Every Day--
Including Sunday

SPECIAL SATURDAY ONLY
Coffee Cake
Only 10c Each
Your patronage solicited and appreciated

MORROW & SCOTT
BELMOND'S BAKERS

Belmond Independent

ESTABLISHED 1919 — AND HERALD-PRESS — CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 8 — BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 18, 1927 — NO. 40

Supervisor Mehl Makes Statement

Replies To Article In Court Notes Saying He Cost The County $100

SAYS MONITOR WRONG

From the Monitor.

With the permission of the editor, I wish to make a few remarks in regard to an item appearing in the court house notes in the Clarion Monitor of August 9th. Mr. Harwood states that I thought it wise to be economical and have the budget notice published in only one paper when the law provides for publication in all the official papers. Does Harwood mean to tell the readers of his paper that I control the board of supervisors and also the auditor to such an extent that I can have them do things contrary to law?

I shall explain just what took place. The board made up the county budget and filed it with the auditor and directed him to publish the notice for the hearing all as provided by law and then the auditor remarked that the law provided for one publication in a newspaper published in the county seat and that it would have to be in the Monitor. If the reader will look up the law in the Code of 1924 they will find that the auditor's statement was correct as of that time, but the publication clause in the budget law has been amended so as to require publishing in all the official newspapers, a fact that neither the county auditor or the board was aware of. As to the amount this mistake will cost the county, Mr. Harwood says it will be in the neighborhood of a hundred dollars. Here are the facts: The county has paid $14.00 for publishing the budget estimate and that amount was paid to Harwood. The hearing on the budget was held on the day that the board met to allow claims against the county. No extra cost there. So the facts are that the county will be out $14.00 and the cost of publishing the regular proceedings of the minutes of the board as pertaining to the budget which is a very small item. So when Harwood says the county is out $100.00, he is about 14 per cent right and I think after careful consideration that per cent can be applied to every item for correctness that Harwood has written in regard to me—14 percent correct.

One thing more. No statement in the Monitor attributed to me should be paid any attention to unless it carries my signature. What hurts Harwood is that he has lost his big income that he used to have from the court house supplies, but he better forget and forgive, there is no prospect for a return to the old system. James Mehl.

Member of Board of Supervisors.

Just one word. If anyone doubts that Mr. Mehl is not the dominating factor on the board let them attend just one session where a question of any importance is up for consideration.—Ed.

COURT HOUSE NOTES

Milford Mehl, son of James Mehl of Norway Township, filed information Tuesday against Mrs. Ole Carlson, a neighbor, charging her with insanity. A hearing was held that afternoon and the woman released. From remarks heard about the court house it would seem that the affair was only a neighborhood row and an attempt was being made to get revenge.

Mary A. Laird of Eagle Grove petitions the court to place her in possession of certain property in Hewitt's addition by reason of the defendants, Mary and Orren Severson to whom the property was sold, having failed to carry out the terms of the contract.

The board of supervisors met Monday and ordered the county budget published in the official newspapers. Approval of the graveling of several miles of road north of Olaf was entered of record. Tuesday the board went to Garner for a joint session with the Hancock county board.

Chairman Kitley, L. W. Schroeder and County Attorney Blue were in Des Moines Monday, where they appeared before the state board of equalization to protest against the proposed raise of thirteen per cent in the value of Wright county farm lands.

E. F. Rorebeck, receiver for First National bank of Renwick brings action against H. W. and Edith Eastman to recover $1579.33 on their promissory note. Plaintiff also asks the court to determine the interests of the Benton County State bank of Blairstown and J. E. Kerr of Renwick in two other notes aggregating $3296.32. A second suit by this plaintiff asks judgment against Edwin Palmer for $675.79 on a past due note, and further seeks to establish the rights of the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago and Citizens National bank of Belle Plaine, Iowa, in two notes amounting to $4987.32.

Vincent Savings bank vs. Mary Beaver of Goldfield is a suit to collect the sum of $1884.96 on a past due promissory note. Foreclosure of mortgage and sale of a $400 collatural pledge note is also asked.

Wm. Schuver of Holmes was released from the county jail on Thursday last by the payment of the balance of his fine, $100.

M. E. Dixon sues Tom Johnson and Gladys Johnson for foreclosure on residence property in Eagle Grove to secure note for $3500 that is past due.

Raymond Paine, clerk of Eagle Grove township, was allowed to file a claim of $29.63 against the Citizens State Bank of Eagle Grove, which he had failed to file in the time usually allowed. He asked preference for his claim but this was denied.

Receiver for Citizens State bank of Eagle Grove asks approval of sale of land in section 4-90-26, for $16,625.

Court approved the sale of lots 5, 6 and 7, block 14, Goldfield, to Mary Griffith for $1,000. The property has been held by the Citizens State bank.

L. A. Andrew, receiver for the Citizens State bank of Goldfield asks the court to establish title in him to lot 8, block 50, Goldfield, as against the adverse claims of the Independent School District of Goldfield.—Monitor.

CLARION MAN BUYS FOREST CITY PAPER

Scott H. McClure, who for several months past has been assisting Burt Harwood in editing the Wright County Monitor, at Clarion, has purchased the Forest City Summit, taking possession this week Monday. Mr. McClure is an experienced newspaper man, having been in the game for many years, and will give Forest City a first-class paper. The Independent extends congratulations to Mr. McClure, and to Forest City upon having secured a live, enterprising business man and publisher. Editor Prewittt, who had conducted the Summit for 12 years, will continue to reside in Forest City.

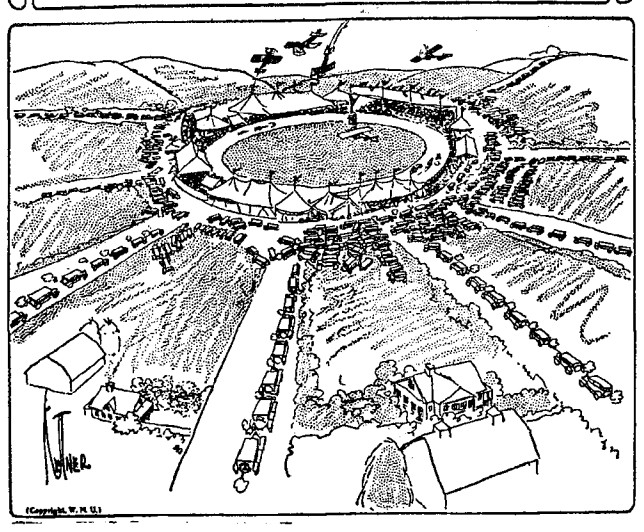
A CORRECTION

Geo. Vance, arrested recently by county officers and fined $300 for manufacturing home brew, objects to the word "Bootlegger" incorporated in the heading placed over the article in last week's Independent. Mr. Vance claims he made the liquor, 85 bottles of which was confiscated, for home consumption, and did not sell any. This paper was in error in the word "Bootlegger," and is glad to make this correction.

COMING HOME FROM INDIA

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wolle received a letter the first of the week from their son, Howard, who has been at Bombay, India, the past two years, stating that by the time the letter reached them he would be on his way home for a six months' furlough. Howard, who has been in charge of the automatic telephone system in Bombay for an English syndicate, has not been in good health the past seven or eight months, and as he is allowed a six months' vacation every two years decided to take it now in the hopes of improving his health. He expects to land at New York City about September 1.

The Hub



Goodell Trims Coulter, Sunday

Well-Played Game Results In Five to Four Score

Goodell defeated Coulter in a snappy, well-played game on the Belmond field, Sunday. It was a good game throughout, with the final result in doubt up to the last out.

Coulter took the lead in the first inning, when they scored two runs, neither of which however, were earned runs. Goodell pushed across a run in the next inning, and Coulter added another. One more run for Coulter made the count 4 and 2, where it remained until the seventh, when Coulter substitued a new pitcher in the place of Damm, who started the fray. The second heaver, reported to be large calibre size, failed to deliver. His control was wild, and in the seventh he walked three men straight, filling the bases. Before he could extricate himself from this load of grief, Goodell had pushed three runs over and the game was sewed up, making the score 5 to 4 in favor of Goodell.

Hamilton, pitching for Goodell, threw a nice game and had a goodly number of strikeouts. He became a little rattled one or two times, when the going was tough, but steadied down sufficiently to hold the Coulter sluggers fairly peaceable. This lad, just out of high school, has the makings of a good pitcher and has been playing a very nice game this summer. In fact, Goodell has one of the best base ball teams around, and regardless of size can hold their own with most of them.

OBITUARY

Edith Irene Munson was born at Lodi, Ohio, April 18, 1855.

At the age of 10 years, she came with her parents to Waterloo, Iowa, where they lived 4 years, and then moved to Rowan, Iowa, where she grew to womanhood. On March 1, 1881, she was united in marriage to Wm. Starnes. They moved on a farm southwest of Meservey where they resided until the spring of 1915 when they moved to Belmond.

There were three children born to this union, the oldest dying in infancy.

After the death of her husband six years ago she and Wm. Jr. stayed on at their home here for one year, then they went to live with her brother DeWitt Munson, southeast of Belmond.

Two years ago her health failed and since then she has made her home with her son George, and her sister, Mrs. Pink Treese. Mrs. Starnes died August 11, 1927, after being bed fast for five weeks.

She leaves to mourn her loss, two sons, George of Clear Lake and William of Belmond, one grandchild, Verle Starnes of Clear Lake, one sister, Mrs. Maggie Treese, and a brother, DeWitt Munson, besides a host of relatives and friends.

Services were held at the Congregational Church Sunday afternoon, and were in charge of Rev. S. U. Leinbach. Interment was in Franklin Grove cemetery.

Meservey Girls Win Contest At Fair

Declared Champions At North Iowa Fair at Mason City

Two young Meservey girls, Harriet Sprau and Neva Muller, won the championship in girls' club demonstrating at the North Iowa Fair, Mason City, Tuesday. The two young ladies will represent Cerro Gordo county at the State Fair contests next week in Des Moines.

The Misses Sprau and Muller were the team sent by the "Grimes Golden Girls" 4-H club of Meservey, as Meservey's entrants in the North Iowa Fair contest. Ten teams competed. The girls gave a demonstration of the Making of a 4-H Girl's Hope Chest A Help Chest, their demonstration being rated by the judges superior to all other teams contesting. Mrs. Leland Jacobson, club leader at Meservey, was present with the girls.

M. E. MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The August meeting of the M. E. Misisonary Society was held at the home of Mrs. A. W. Martin with Mrs. Bullis acting as associate hostess..

Among other important business disposed of, the Society held their Mite Box offering, conducted by Mrs. Martin.

Mrs. Ray Klemme led a very interesting devotional and lesson study. A very impressive playlet, "The Uncanny Mite Box" was given by Mrs. Klemme and Mrs. Luick. Others taking part in the lesson were Mrs. McBurney, Mrs. J. S. White and Mrs. R. E. Courson.

After a delightful social hour, delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

LEAVE FOR WASHINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Skovlin left by motor Monday, for Colfax, Washington, where they expect to make their home for some time. Mr. Skovlin has been offered the position of manager in the clothing department of the J. C. Penney store, at Colfax, and begins his duties next Monday. Belmond regrets to lose this estimable couple but wishes them success in their new home.

Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Gillette and four sons from China, were guests at the R. E. Courson home last week. The Gillettes are missionaries in China and have been back to the states on a furlough. They sailed Tuesday from Seattle for China to resume their work.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Nissen and family moved last week to Garner, where Mr. Nissen in partnership with McNamara has a meat market.

Mr. and Mrs. Cato Griesy returned Tuesday from their vacation trip to Aurora, Minnesota, and other points in the north.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Engstler, accompanied by R. D. Kenefick from Garner, were in town Tuesday, greeting old friends and attending to business matters.

STATE FAIR ALL READY TO GO AUGUST 24

Everything is in readiness for the opening next week of Iowa's greatest State Fair, August 24 to September 2.

Entries have already exceeded all anticipations, insuring the biggest livestock and agricultural show ever witnessed at any fair in this country. The addition of numerous last-minute features to the entertainment program, likewise, has now provided an 8-day schedule of amusements which outstrips anything previously offered by the fair. Assurances have been received promising that Clarence Chamberlin, Iowa's air hero, will be the guest of the fair on one of the big days, providing he is in Iowa. Officials have also added motorcycle racing, a complete flying circus, Peter Manning, 1:56¾, world's champion trotter, and other new features to the entertainment schedule. The chief attractions, as previously announced, will be Sousa and His Band, every day, horse racing, auto racing, whippet dog racing, society horse shows, a big hippodrome and circus program, and a mammoth fireworks spectacle, "The Fall of Troy," every night.

More than 500 carloads of exhibits and displays will be unloaded at the State Fair during the coming week. Some of the entires are coming from as far away as the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. The livestock show alone is valued at more than $2,000,000.

One of the big features of the exposition will be the dedication of the new Educational Building and grandstand costing over $350,000. This will provide more than 90,000 square feet of exhibit space. A new $40,000 fish and game building is also to be dedicated and opened next week.

With favorable weather, fair officials are expecting the largest crowds in the exposition's history. Very low railroad rates and good roads throughout the state are expected to aid materially in swelling the attendance.

"BLUE LAWS" STOP LIGHT GANG AT ALGONA

Des Moines Register: That clause of the Iowa code which says that "anyone engaged in labor on Sunday except that of necessity or charity shall be fined not more than $5 nor less than $1," was impressed upon fifteen employes of the Central States Electric company here today.

The men were arrested yesterday while erecting poles for the new high lines east of Algona. Today they were hailed into Judge Archibald Hutchinson's court and after a plea of guilty were assessed a fine of $1 and costs each.

The sudden zeal on the part of local officers was prompted for the most part by a desire to stop the work of the men who were setting the poles four feet short of the spot where the citizens allege they should be set.

Knowing that no injunction could be served against them on Sunday the men started work early yesterday. County Engineer H. M. Smith then filed information against them, charging them with working on Sunday and Sheriff E. L. Wolcott arrested them.

Attorney V. S. White appeared for the defendants and immediately after the decision announced that an appeal would be made.

JOHN LESTER DIES

John Lester, of Fargo, North Dakota, a former resident of Belmond, died in the Northern Pacific hospital, St. Paul, Minnesota, last week Tuesday, following an operation for removal of one kidney. Mr. Lester was a resident of Belmond some 19 years ago, and will be remembered by many local residents. He was a brother of Mrs. Pat Dillon. Funeral services were held from the Masonic Temple, Oakland cemetery, St. Paul, where interment was made. Deceased leaves a wife and three months old baby, his mother, and four sisters. He was 40 years of age.

Edwin Mennenga, who is employed at Ellsworth, Minnesota, spent Sunday at the H. H. Mennenga home.

Belmond Township Girl Is Champ

Elizabeth Hauge Champion Speller Of Rural Schools In Wright County

WINS OUT ON "BOSOM"

Elizabeth Hauge, a student of Belmond township, district No. 1 school, was acclaimed champion speller of Wright county rural schools at the county contest held in the United Presbyterian church at Clarion. Miss Hauge defeated Marjorie Thompson for final honors after Miss Thompson had missed the word "bosom."

This contest was the final of elimination contests held over the county this spring, and was open to all rural schools of the county. Fifteen students, representing ten townships, participated in the final spelldown. Supt. Focht, through a fund created by the various townships, awarded Miss Hauge first prize, $10, in gold, and second prize, $5 in gold, to Miss Thompson.

Miss Hauge is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hauge of Belmond township, and Miss Thompson the daughter of Mrs. Albert Thompson, of Norway township.

LEAGUE TO SHOW PICTURE

The St. John's Luther League will show the picture, "Martin Luther, His Life and Time" at St. John's church next Tuesday evening, August 23. This picture was to have been shown a couple of weeks but was postponed as the films did not arrive then.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Cooperative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of August 7 to August 13.

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
7	85	59	—	Cloudy
8	69	56	.40	Clear
9	75	39	—	Clear
10	80	49	—	Clear
11	85	53	—	Cloudy
12	88	58	—	Pt. cloudy
13	81	63	T	Cloudy

LUICK PICNIC SEPTEMBER 4

The annual Luick Picnic will be held this year on Sunday, September 4, in the grove. This is the time when all the Luicks and their descendants in this part of Iowa get together in a reunion and good time.

PARTY FOR 71st BIRTHDAY

Mrs. C. P. Luick and Mrs. Geo. Goelz were hostesses to a large number of ladies last Saturday afternoon, at the Luick home, in honor of their mother, Mrs. Val Griesy's, 71st birthday. The afternoon was spent in highly enjoyable old-time pastimes, and concluded with a delightful four-course evening dinner.

"BARBARA WORTH" A REAL PICTURE

The picture, "The Winning of Barbara Worth" from the story by Harold Bell Wright, which was shown at the Lyric Theatre the first three days of the week, was one of the best ever shown here, and drew many enthusiastic comments. The filming was unusually good, and the flood scene was very realistic.

The Tilton & Guthrie Players, showing here this week, are making many friends. Their plays are good, and the troupe is a friendly, sociable group. This is their first season, in Belmond, but they expect to return each year.

Miss Grace Leavy, who is employed in Racine, Wisconsin, arrived yesterday for a visit with home folks. Miss Ruth Leavy, who has been visiting her sisters, Miss Grace and Mrs. Ralph Wilcox, in Racine, the past month, returned with her.

A family reunion was held at the Conrad Hoppel home, Sunday, some 26 relatives being present.

Belmond Independent
AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES
Display, per column inch ------25c
Locals, per line ------10c
Classified, per word ------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Editorials

It is foolish for one to give an opinion as to the guilt in the Sacco-Vanzetti case, who has not heard all the evidence. Too many fools are proclaiming them guilty or not guilty, who know nothing of the evidence, or who have secured what little knowledge they have of the case from the press reports. But one may entertain an opinion on the death penalty for these two confessed anarchists, without having heard the evidence or knowing a great deal about the case. Throughout the several years in which this now famous murder case has been dragging through the courts, there has persisted, even among those who heard and studied the evidence from start to finish, a belief that the two men are not guilty, that they did not have a fair trial, and that conviction was secured in a time when rational judgment was difficult and anti-radical sentiment high. The fact that Sacco and Vanzetti are both professed radicals, anarchists, and against recognized law and order, does not deny them a fair deal. When the law specifies "Beyond a reasonable doubt", that is exactly what it means. And in this case, it has not been beyond a reasonable doubt. The evidence which convicted was purely circumstantial. The judge who presided in the trial has been declared to have been partial, unfair and prejudiced. All in all, so much has been brought out in the matter that reputable men and women throughout the country, citizens of sober judgment and acknowledged integrity and ability, have declared that a "reasonable doubt" exists. When that doubt exists, so strongly as it does here, one may hold to the opinion that a commution of the death sentence is logical and just. It is a stern thing to sentence a man to lose his life. This paper is not against the death penalty in cases of proven murder, but the evidence which calls for the taking of his life in forfeit for the one he has taken must be such that his guilt is proven "beyond a reasonable doubt." And in the Sacco-Vanzetti case it does not seem to be. Restitution in a measure can be made if, in later years, these men are still alive, but you cannot bring back a man from the grave. It seems to us that Sacco and Vanzetti should have their sentence commuted to life imprisonment. We hold no brief for a radical, even one who is merely "pink," but neither would we take these men's lives until this doubt has been removed. America has too many radicals, too many anarchists and Bolshevists of all colors and kinds, and needs a thorough housecleaning with them, but we cannot electrocute men simply because they are enimical to our form of government. As long as there exists some doubt in the guilt of Sacco and Vanzetti, professed anarchists though they are, it seems to us more just and more American that they be given life sentences.

The Central States Electric Co. deserves the condemnation being afforded it at Algona for the tactics used in endeavoring to set its poles there. A difference of opinion seems to exist as to the distance apart the poles should be set, the citizens alleging the Company was trying to set them four feet short. Realizing that no injunction could be issued against them, the Central States Company set its gang to work Sunday morning placing the poles where it wanted them. Local officers, knowing they were up against it in the matter of an injunction, neatly turned the tables by having the men, 15 in number, arrested for breaking the Sabbath, under the "Blue Laws."

Regardless of whether they were right, The Central States Electric Co. used rather unfair tactics. The matter should have been ironed out by arbitration, if possible, or in the courts if necessary, instead of sneaking on the job Sunday and doing it anyway. The "Public be damned" attitude on the part of public utility corporations was supposed to be a thing of the past; it was presumed they cared enough about public opinion, and knew the money value of it to them, to shoot square with the public. The Central States Co. is not making any large number of friends at Algona in this deed, nor is it creating any appreciable amount of friendly feeling among readers in the territory it serves. Such tactics are unfair, rude and creative of distrust, and apt to increase the impression that the Corporation is "soulless" and after the dollar without much thought of service.

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

Howard Luick and George Johnson, members of the Agricultural class of the local school, entered for exhibition at the county fair some baby beef stock which was awarded prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Mennenga and Mesdames Rule and Sheffield were Hampton callers last week Monday.

A jolly party of young ladies enjoyed a supper as guests of Miss Hazel Snyder, and a "slumber party" as guests of Miss Susan Morse Monday night.

Misses Mary and Nell Barry left last week for Webster City and Colfax. From there they will go to the millinery markets of Chicago.

J. S. Pritchard went to Garner last Saturday to accompany his son and family on a drive to Okoboji.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Dr. Galer has moved his office to the second story of his residence.

Henry Savercool died last night after a long illness.

Thomas Barry died Monday afternoon of heart trouble.

7 cents per lb. for hens.—P. L. Morse.

N. M. Wolcott left Tuesday for Wisconsin where he will visit a sister who is ill.

Miss Cora Sickenger and Miss Bessie Byers came home from the Institute and spent Sunday here.

Mrs. Waltz who has been ill is reported to be recovering.

Frank Davenport and Cora Harvey were married Monday.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

Adrian Elder reports hoppers passing over his place a few days ago. There were millions of them but they didn't stop.

Warren Rankins is joining an addition to his farm house southeast of town.

Wm. Luick realized 52 bushels of good rye from 2 acres of ground.

Mr. Fehly, proprietor of the Elder House in Garner, accompanied by his wife, made Belmond a visit this week. Mr. F. was highly pleased with Wright County, and said if we only had a railroad we would have one of the best towns in the northwest. All of which is gospel truth.

J. G. Hathaway has bought a good span of horses and a number of porkers from Julius Peck. John is getting to be quite a stock man.

Dr. Morris says considerable sickness prevails throughout the country.

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hamerick returned to their home in DeKalb, Illinois, last week, after a week's visit with his sisters, Mrs. Geo. Groen and Mrs. John Wenzel.

The Luncheon club is scheuled to meet this, Thursday, noon at the hotel, in regular session.

Mrs. C. J. Boughton does not improve from her illness as well as was hoped, and her condition is serious.

Mr. and Mrs. Truer Davenport left by motor last week on a vacation trip to the Black Hills and other points in the west.

Stephen Hardwick left Sunday for Des Moines to attend the state American Legion convention, as a delegate from the Belmond post. He was accompanied by Joe Scott, who will also attend the convention and look after business interests while there.

During the absence of Cato Griesy, who is vacationing in Minnesota, Fred Shipley is leadng the Belmond band. Listeners admit Fred is doing a good job of it.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Morse are the parents of a baby boy, born Thursday, August 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Forristal are the parents of a baby boy, born last Wednesday, August 10.

Miss Helen Elder returned to Washington D. C., last Friday ,after spending a month's vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Elder. Miss Elder has a position in the state department at Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Smith left Sunday to visit relatives at Des Moines and Boone.

Mrs. Herman Schultz and Mrs. Mikesell entertained a number of friends at a bridge party Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Schultz.

A number of ladies from here went to Alexander this week Wednesday to attend a one o'clock luncheon given by Mrs. Leslie Reed in honor of her sister, Miss Ialeen Flynn.

Old Time Dance, Saturday night, August 20, at Belmond Opera House. Music by Scott's Orchestra. Tickets 50 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Klemme left the first of the week on a vacation trip to Chicago.

R. S. Wilson of Cornelia is advertising a public wedding at Cornelia, August 28. The bridal couple are unknown at this time but the opportunity is open to all. Gifts to the value of several score dollars have been donated by Clarion and Belmond business men to the couple married.

The Fox Construction Company, who are working on Primary 15 near Belmond, are encamped in the Griesy pasture south of the M. & St. L. Their camp is an unusual sight and worth viewing. The road gang are engaged in grading and improving No. 15 north of Belmond at present, building the new highway from the Wilbur bridge corner south to the old mill on Main street.

Miss Leona Hofsommer, of Dows, was a guest last week of Miss Bernetas Wolle.

Going to school this fall? What school? Will you get the service you expect? You are entitled to two things—the right kind of service and a good position when you get through. The Hamilton University, Mason City, Iowa.

ON THE TRAIN

Those who do not travel frequently, do not always know how to avail themselves of the conveniences at hand. For example, if you want the porter, you do not have to hunt him up, but push the little button between the windows in your parlor car. The porter will get you a small table for writing or any lap work. It is a board with legs which adjusts conveniently between the seats and will not crowd you.

He will help you find a lost article, stow away your hat from the dust, put your flowers in the ice-box over night, or do any other little service for you.

When meal-time comes, there will be the "first call for dinner" and the "last call," almost an hour apart. You can govern your time for eating accordingly. Meals served in a dining car are usually so hearty that the traveler feels best if he eats only two a day, perhaps a late breakfast and an early dinner at night, or omits breakfast, and eats an early luncheon. One gets more for his money if he chooses the regular menu for the meal, set forth on the menu card. Separate dishes are much higher priced in proportion. But one can cut the cost of dining car meals by selecting only two dishes. Servings are large and bread usually accompanies an order. If two are eating together, one can order a meat and another a salad. The meat order is likely to be particularly large and ample for two people.

Coffee on the train is very strong. If one likes it weaker he can order a pot of hot water to accompany it.

The customary tip is about one-tenth the cost of the meal. You are not supposed to leave the table until you have been served a finger bowl. If one does not order a full meal in the dining car, it is possible to buy extra food either at station lunch counters or on the train, as fruits, ice-cream cones, and confections are offered by train employees all along the way.

In the sleeping car, it is customary for travellersto disrobe in the dressing rooms. Some advocate the wearing of light colored robes when passing from the dressing room to the berth, as the light colored robe is more easily seen in case of a railway accident, but the dark robe is less conspicuous. If it is the slip-over type, it will not be flapping open and disclosing the undergarment as one passes down the aisle. You will be surprised to note how deserted the aisle is when you come back from the dressing room and you will not have to run the gauntlet of the stares you had dreaded.

The dressing room is a model of convenience. There is ice water and parafine drinking cups, liquid soap, an abundance of towels on the rack above the bowls, and a metal basket in which to depos.t the towel you are through with. There is the hair receiver—little used in this day of bobs. There is an electric fan which you can start by pressing a button; or you can call a maid by pressing another button. You probably can not tell which button is for which.

The real lady will leave the dressing room, tidy, wiping out the bowl with her towel after she has washed, and not scattering her powder all over the premises. It is not intended that women shall sit in the dressing room and smoke. In one's berth is a hammock in which to lay the clothing for overnight, and a coat hanger on the side of the curtain. If you wish your shoes shined, set them on the floor where the porter can reach them. The porter will call you in the morning if you ask him to. He will not peep in at you but awaken you by shaking the edge of the mattress. When you button the curtains at night, you are as safe from disturbance as if you had locked the door of your hotel bedroom.

Most fine trains have the club, library, or observation car in the rear. It is for the use of those passengers who have purchased parlor or sleeping car privileges. It is usually equipped with a barber shop and one can have a shave, shampoo or manicure before arriving at his destination.

WATERING FERNS

Leaves need water as well as roots and it is not enough to pour a cup of water in the plant jar for your ferns. Take them outdoors occasionally to get a good rain on them or use the spray of the hose and give them a good sprinkling. Or, when neither of the above is convenient, set them in the sink or bath-tub and and with a pan of water in one hand flip the water over the leaves as you would sprinkle clothes for ironing. The whisk broom is useful in making a fine spray.

Church Notes

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

There are various kinds of pews but the filled pew is one of the best of them. Our church service hour is 11:00 a. m. If you have no other church obligations, plan to worship with us.

Now and then we hear of those who go on year after year without missing a session of the church school. These people have legitimate reason for pride, and they surely do have satisfaction. The Sunday school hour is 10:00 o'clock, and he who will may come.

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN
J. F. Wipperman, Pastor

Divine service Sunday morning at 10:45 in the German language.

Sunday School at 9:45.

Evening service at 8:00 in the English language.

We bid you welcome, come.

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor
Telephone Call, 150

Sunday, August 21—

The Sunday School and Bible classes will meet at 10:00 A. M.

English services will be held at 11:00 A. M., with the sermon given by Mr. Harold Martinson.

In the evening at 8 o'clock Mr. Martinson will give an illustrated lecture on China and our missions there. Mr. Martinson has a new set of pictures and with the personal knowledge he has of conditions in China, his lecture is sure to be both instructive and interesting. Let us greet him with a full house. A free-will offering will be received.

The catechetical class will meet at 10:00 A. M. on Tuesday, August 23rd, and Friday the 26th.

Thursday, August 25, prayer meeting will be held at the church at 8 P. M.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Sunday, August 21—

The Sunday School and Bible Classes will meet at 10 A. M.

The Luther League will hold their meeting at 2:30 P. M. Please note the change in time for this meeting and let us try and be present. Miss Gladys Eliason, our delegate to the National L. L. Convention held at Seattle, last June, will be the leader, and will give us a report of the proceedings of the convention.

Wednesday, August 24. The catechetical class will meet at 10:00 A. M. Prayer meeting will be held at 8 P. M.

Thursday, August 25. The North Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. T. A. and Mrs. A. E. Thompson at 2:00 P. M.

FREE AIR!

We ran across the following paralyzing paragraph in the Stanolind magazine, recently. Try it on your tongue after you've had about three drinks.

Penurious Ponzi Perkins, plump phenomena permeator, proud Packard possessor, prodigious petrol purchaser, parades pompously past. Purveys paying passengers. Pursues petite "pullet."

"Pretty."
"Poison!"
"Peaches."
"Pill!"
"Promenade?"
"Perhaps."
"Permanently?"
"Possibly."

Perky prepares post. "Proud papa positively persuaded. Please permit." Papa peruses. Propounds. "Proceed!" Pastor performs. "Perky perspires. Practices parsimony persistently. Pawns Packard. Pushes perambulator. Perpetually punished! Poor Perky!

Since our last issue, Stanzel has had a letter from the P. M. at Rapid City. It seems Stanzel was too anxious that Cal receive his letter offering a job hopping counter, and in sending his letter by insured mail nobody but Cal himself can get it out of the mails. "Addressee must call in person," etc.

And Cal hasn't chosen to call for it.

Uncle Sam is orful pertic'lar about his mails, and makes no exception even for the Big Boss.

The Hub Motor Co. came near being completely disrupted last Wednesday night. Joe Pletch was laid up from that Buick hitting him, so he couldn't look after the business. Then along comes the Hub Motor Twins—bright new standard-weight boys, one at the Ralph Forristal home and the other at Cort Morse's, both the same night. That took Ralph and Cort away from the garage.

They say tourists who wanted gas had to help themselves. Both proud papas deny there is any truth in the report that one of the twins is to be named Chevrolet and the other Buick.

T. Pipe in the Globe-Gazette says the cat came back, and yowls on the same wave length. Might have been expected, T. P., and the worst of it is, there are eight lives left!

That show last Friday, "The Gumps," certainly was well named. We stuck it out for the first act, then we had the gumps so bad we had to leave.

Could have had lots more fun making faces at ourself in the mirror.

Big battle begun! Bespeak Belmond bread, Buy! Bring back bakery business! Back Belmond's bakers! Be bright! Boost Belmond!

The new high compression anti-knock
Hudson motor
uses any Gasoline
and turns waste heat to power

Special high-compression fuels were developed to eliminate spark-knock, ping and roughness.

What these special fuels have sought, Hudson, through an exclusive new companion invention to the Super-Six principle, obtains from ordinary gasoline. You fill your tank anywhere. And you save money on every filling.

It makes Hudson the most economical car per pound weight in the world.

Standard Models
(118-inch wheelbase)
Coach $1175
Sedan 1285
(127-inch wheelbase)
Coach $1285
Sedan 1385
Custom-Built Models
(127-inch wheelbase)
Brougham $1575
7-Pass. Phaeton 1600
7-Pass. Sedan 1850
All prices f. o. b. Detroit, Plus war excise tax

NORDSCHOW MOTOR COMPANY
BELMOND, IOWA

AGRICULTURAL NEWS NOTES

IOWA CROP SUMMARY, AUGUST 1, 1927.

Progress in the Iowa corn crop during the month of July was slight, an increase of less than one bushel over the July first report being indicated. The first half of the month was favorable for rapid growth and fields that had started tasselling by the fifteenth were numerous. About the normal amount of silking was completed in nearly one-third of the fields by the first of August and some advanced fields showed a normal start on ear formation. Official crop reporters submitted very low condition reports for various counties, indicating that the general unevenness of the crop continues over the state in about the same degree as through the previous months of the season.

The outlook for a four hundred million bushel corn crop in 1927 in Iowa is not very favorable. According to the present condition of 73 percent of normal the indicated yield is only 32.8 bushels per acre, or a probable total production of 369,839,000 bushels. This indicates a favorable progress since July one, but it rather definitely points toward a total production considerably below normal. In 1926 the total production was estimated at 413,586,000 bushels on an acreage only 224,000 acres larger than the present season's acreage.

Weather and crop records show that in the past 37 years there have been eight years in which the average temperature during July was within about one of corn in those eight years was 38.8 bushels per acre. In July 1927 the temperature was nearly normal and the rainfall for the state was about one half the normal amount. The indicated yield, based on the August 1st condition is only 32.8 bushels. The average yield for the past ten years is 39.6 bushels per acre.

OATS—Based upon the August 1 condition of 82 percent of normal, the oats crop is indicated at 214,395,000 bushels. The condition figure August 1, 1926 was 74 percent of normal and the final production was 196,187,000 bushels.

The condition of oats over the state has been uneven and yields vary widely. The late seeded oats, as well as late varieties, were injured in the filling stage by the hot weather in early July.

Red Rust has been severe in many parts of the state and has been injurious in southern and northeastern districts. A very little Black Rust was reported in central and western portions of the state.

The indicated yield for this year is 35.7 bushels per acre compared with 10-year average of 37.7 bushels per acre compared with central and south east portions.

PASTURES AND HAY—Pastures suffered from the drought of early July, the condition of August one being 78 percent of normal as compared with 94 percent decline during July and is several points greater than the seasonal decline during the past two years for the same period.

The condition of pastures on August one is the highest in 2 years, 63 percent on August 1, 1925 and 60 percent on August 1, 1926. This year the condition is 2.8 points below the past ten-year average of 80.8 percent.

The condition of the tame hay showed a slight decline from 91 percent of normal July one to 88 per cent of normal August one. The yield indicated by August one condition is 1.68 tons per acre with a total indicated production of 5,007,000 tons. This is a slight decrease from the yield as indicated by July 1 condition due particularly to effects of dry weather upon second growths.

The condition of alfalfa declined from 92 percent of normal July one to 88 percent on August one. This is the highest condition in 3 years for August one and compares favorably with the ten-year average condition of 89.7 percent of normal.

BARLEY condition, estimated as 90 percent of normal, is nearly three points above the past ten-year average condition 87.3 percent. The bulk of the crop headed at an early season and was well filled before hot weather had any serious effects upon it. The crop is above normal in quality and the indicated production is 12,913,000 bushels as compared with the 1926 crop of 6,690,000 bushels. The 1927 acreage is 60 per cent greater than the 1926 acreage.

The August one reports on other crops are as follows—Rye, 18.0 bushels per acre indicated; flaxseed, 86 percent of normal; potatoes, 72 percent; sweet potatoes 80 percent; clover and timothy, mixed, 90 per cent; buckwheat, 85 percent; apples 2,107,000 bushels total production indicated.

348 DAIRY COWS GO FOR BEEF

That cow testing association work stands for not "more cows" but "better" cows is shown by the July report just issued at Iowa State College. The more than 2,000 farmers who belong to the 84 associations scattered over the state culled out and sold 348 unprofitable cows for beef, which is three times as many as the association members culled in July two years ago. Only 116 cows were purchased in July this year and 74 two years ago.

O'Brien County Cow Testing Association, which has set the pace since January for average yield of fat per cow, dropped into second place in July, while the lead was taken by Linn County Association No. 1, which has been second each of the three preceding months. The Linn association averaged 31.4 pounds of butterfat per cow last month, while O'Brien had an average of 28.5.

Dickinson County and the Wagner-Monona associations were tied for third with an average of 27.8 pounds of fat per cow. Anamosa Association was fifth with an average of 27.3.

J. H. Hamilton of Franklin County, with 12 grade and purebred Jerseys, had the highest herd average in the state. His cows, of which all but one were in milk, averaged 45 pounds of fat each. J. R. Carr of Dickinson County was second with an average of 44.6 pounds of fat for each of his grade Holsteins.

L. W. Lensch of Benton County Association No. 3 had the third best average, 41.9 pounds, on a herd of 16 grade Holsteins. Harry Reese of Adams county was fourth with an average of 41.6 pounds of fat for 8 purebred and grade Guernseys. The fifth best average was made by Brackin Brothers of Elgin. Their 15 cows of mixed breeding averaged 41.4 pounds of fat each.

Of the more than 28,000 cows on test last month, 2,662 were dry. The loss from separators due to faulty skimming totaled $641 for the state. In June the loss was $688, $890 in May and $739 in April. Forty-five purebred sires were purchased by association members in July as compared with 44 in June, 33 in May, 29 in April and 50 in March.

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Bldg
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

DENISON

Build A Warm Home

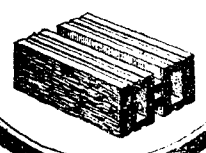
FIVE blankets of dead air are built into the walls of your house when you use Denison Matt Faced Tile. These keep out the cold of our northern winters. It is easy to keep a steady temperature, and keep the whole house cozy with much less fuel.

ONE of these air blankets also insulates the mortar joints. This keeps the interior wall face free of dampness or frost. Plaster applied direct to the tile will not sweat or frost. It will not crack as does plaster applied on lath.

MOREOVER, these tile give you the same rich beauty that formerly could be had only in costly face brick. This greater service and rich beauty are had without one cent of extra cost because Denison Matt Faced Houses cost no more.

Sold by Your Local Dealer

Mason City Brick and Tile Company
210 Denison Building, Mason City, Iowa



OFFER WINTER WHEAT SEED

Bushel and a half lots of Iobred and Ioturk, two rather new winter wheat varieties, are being offered farmers for trial this year, according to Joe L. Robinson, secretary of the Iowa Agricultural Experiment Association, Ames. This is enough seed for one acre. The cost for the seed, which includes the bags and handling charge, is $2.75.

Iobred has been distributed for several years in various parts of the state and has been giving satisfactory results. The Iobred has been compared with other varieties of winter wheat in 83 places in the state and has averaged 1.63 bushels per acre more than the varieties with which it was compared. Iobred is very winter hardy.

The head of the Iobred wheat is a distinctly bronze color. A field of it is easily distinguished at some distance. The kernel is short and plump in shape, resembling spring wheat.

The Ioturk is a newer wheat and has not been distributed over the state. This is the first time it has been offered for general distribution by the experiment association. Ioturk is a selection from Turkey Red. It cannot be easily distinguished from Turkey by appearance.

Ioturk has yielded more bushels of grain per acre than any other winter wheat at the experiment station. It has been coming through the winter satisfactorily, but has not passed any severe winters to give it a thorough test, as has been true with Iobred.

If more than bushel and a half lots of these varieties are wanted, the names of growers with seed supplies may be secured from Mr. Robinson.

SEWING HINTS

When making hems in towels, sheets or tablecloth, begin an inch from the end of the hem and stitch toward the outside, then turn and stitch in the opposite direction, doubling back on your stitching rather than tying a knot.

To make worn pillow cases wear longer, cut the closed end and turn the pillow case so that the sides will come in the middle, thus reversing the spots which will get the wear.

PILE SUFFERERS GAIN RELIEF WITHOUT THE KNIFE

Many Cases Have Responded To Non-surgical Treatment

Rectal troubles, especially Hemorrhoids (Piles) are much more common than many think and contribute in no small way to the sum total of human suffering. Large numbers who suffer from Piles neglect themselves because they fear an operation, others put off treatment, not knowing the dire results that may come from neglected cases of Piles or other Rectal troubles. And still others try to cure their Piles by a home treatment and by so doing waste their time, effort and money for as far as we know there is no salve or other home treatment that will cure Piles. Dr. Wilbert Shallenberger, the Chicago Specialist, has been successfully treating Piles and other Rectal troubles without the knife for over 26 years and has hundreds of pleased patients. Here are a few of the many who the Doctor has treated in this vicinity: Mrs. Anna Barnard, Eagle Grove, Ia.; J. E. Parsons, Clarion, Ia.; Eddie L. Bygness, Goldfield, Ia.; Julia Tebben, Kanawha, Ia.; Frank Willier, Mason Ciy, Ia.; Mary E. Roath, Fertile, Ia.; B. R. Hanson, Dows, Ia.; Charles Scott, Latimer, Ia.; Mrs. L. W. Bailey, Hampton, Ia.; Mrs. Ed. Elphic, Hampton, Ia., and many others. If you have the least suspicion that you are afflicted with Piles or some other Rectal trouble, such as Fistula, Fissure, Ulcer or Proctitis, do not neglect yourself. If you have any of the symptoms such as constipation, pain at stool, itching, hemorrhage, protrusion or unnatural discharge, you have reason to suspect Rectal trouble. Such obstinate diseases as Cancer and Tuberculosis too often are found in the Rectum, by the experienced Specialist. The early recognition of any Rectal trouble, followed by proper treatment, will surely help to diminish the number who would be so unfortunate as to develop either. Dr. Shallenberger has had a vast experience in the treatment of Chronic diseases, especially Piles and will be glad to see those who are afflicted, examine them and advise them accordingly. Dr. Shallenberger can be consulted at Clarion, Hotel Moore, Wednesday afternoon, August 24th, and at Mason City, Hotel Cerro Gordo, Friday, August 26th.

26th season in the same territory. 335th visit. Consultation and examinaion free.

MR. FEEDER!

Buying Power means Selling Power. We have a carload of

DARLING'S BEEF TANKAGE

on track. Better get your order in, as this is PRICED TO SELL QUICKLY

Our Stock of FLOUR and FEEDS is always complete. And remember we pay Highest Market Prices for GRAIN AND POULTRY

Truck Service if you want it.

Farmers Grain Company

PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!
BELMOND, - - IOWA

The Splinters

"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2 Thursday, August 18, 1927 No. 18

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

Have you ever stopped to think that if you save one dollar a week, you will have a million dollars in 20,000 years?

—

Johnny (feeling furniture,)— "Why this isn't even warm!"
Neighbor (just moved in)—"What do you mean?"
Johnny. — "Why Ma told Pa you had a hot looking bunch of furniture."

—

The policeman had found the lost poodle and restored him to his mistress. The canine was wet, dirty and dejected.
"He's been havin' a hard time, Missus," explained the cop. "A man down the street had 'im fastened to a pole and was washing windows with 'im."

—

Somebody asked us yesterday how many magazines we read. We'd say on a guess, about a tenth of what we take.

—

In a town the size of Belmond, one really enjoys a home. In a city one is born in a hospital, reared in a boarding school, educated in college, courted in automobiles married in a church, spends the morning golfing, afternoons playing bridge and evenings at the movies. When sick one goes to the hospital and when dead is buried from the undertakers. Live in Belmond and enjoy your home.

—

If we had our way about the weather, we'd order dry weather for the next week or two. And we'll bet we'd have everybody mad at us before the week was over, because we didn't order something different.

—

A woman in Persia is 137 years old. Her age, they say, is due to the fact that she has lived since 1790.

—

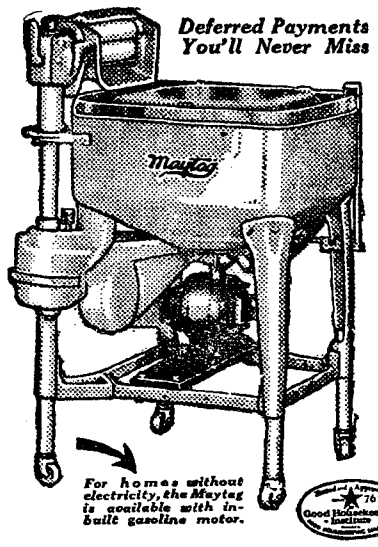
Get your winter's coal supply into your basement right away and then laugh at the price and Weather Man.

TO MAKE STENCIL

The ingenuous housewife may make her own stencils. Use a heavy parchment paper and put the pattern on this with carbon paper. With a sharp pointed knife cut out the design. If you plan to use two or three colors, make separate cutouts on separate pieces of parchment patterns, cutting out only the parts colored one color on one piece of paper, and only those colored the other color on the other piece of paper. Designs may be selected from wall paper patterns. The simpler patterns are likely to be more successful.

READ THE WANT ADS

Deferred Payments You'll Never Miss



For homes without electricity, the Maytag is available with in-built gasoline motor.

Good Housekeeping Institute

The MAYTAG is Easily Adjusted to Your Height

THROUGH adjustable legs, the Maytag is easily raised or lowered to suit your height. This is but one of the many Maytag features that makes washday easier and more comfortable.

Then, there is the famous cast-aluminum tub, that keeps water hot for an entire washing—the tub that drains and cleans itself in 30 seconds after the washing is done.

PHONE—Use a Maytag next washday without obligation or expense. Wash big tubfuls in 3 to 7 minutes—wash even collar and cuff edges without hand-rubbing. Try the Maytag—if it docsn't sell itself, don't keep it.

THE MAYTAG COMPANY, Newton, Iowa

Maytag Aluminum Washer

N. W. Branch: 515 Washington Ave. N., Minneapolis, Minn.
BELMOND FURNITURE CO.
Phone 107 Belmond, Iowa
KANAWHA — JUDD HARDWARE

Maytag dealers everywhere follow the standardized rule of sending a Maytag to a home to do a week's washing free and without obligation of any kind. This is the way all Maytag Gyrafoam Washers are sold. 334

$5.00 down

and the balance can be paid in the easiest of easy payment terms

Take advantage of this combination offer, while it lasts. We will gladly demonstrate in your home—on your own rugs—without any obligation on your part.

Premier Duplex

This electric vacuum cleaner carries our endorsement. We guarantee it as well as the manufacturer. It cleans—thoroughly. It's easy to use and it is durable and reliable.

Double Action

The PREMIER DUPLEX accomplishes easier and better cleaning by double action. This is the combination of powerful suction plus a motor driven brush. NO OILING is required.

Central States Electric Co.

General Office
CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

MESERVEY SECTION

EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:30. G. Raecker, Supt.
Morning worship at 10:30.
E. L. C. E. at 7:30 P. M.
Evening worship at 8:00 P. M.
A. K. Henning, Pastor

REFORMED CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:30.
Morning worship at 10:30. (German).
Young people's meeting at 7:30.
Evening services at 8:00.
The Ladies Aid met last Thursday at the usual time. Mrs. Ben Gruis served refreshments.
Choir practice Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.
We bid you a hearty welcome to these services and wish you a joyful hour in His presence.
H. Pannkuk, Pastor

Evangelicals Attend Assembly

The Annual Assembly at River View Park, Cedar Falls, will be in sesison from August 18 to 28. Delegates who will attend from here are Mrs. H. Fischer for the W. M. S. Harriet Sprau will represent the Sunday School and Neva Muller the E. L. C. E. Mrs. A. E. Muller and sons Donald and Normal will leave Thursday (today) to be in attendance at the W. M. S. Convention.

Attend Family Reunion

W. F. Butz and family and Mrs. Mary Butz attended a reunion of the Knoll families at Dumont, last Sunday. A most enjoyable time was spent. Dr. J. A. Butz, wife and son of Monterey, Minnesota, accompanied them here, remaining until Monday at the home of his mother.

Miss Edith Simms of Buffalo Center was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Wm. Morris and family, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hettler of Iowa Falls and Mrs. Henry Pippert of West Hollywood, California, were calling in town last Tuesday afternoon. These people were former residents of our city.

A. J. Nissen was transacting business at Britt last week Wednesday.

Mrs. Dan Wenzel Sr, is spending a few weeks at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walt Braga and family.

Threshing season is at its height in this vicinity and everything is going lovely. Although most people are wishing for rain, the dry weather is making the threshing move along rapidly and many have finished.

Wesley Fischer and family of Fort Dodge and a cousin of Mrs. Fischer, from Jefferman, spent several days the fore part of last week at the G. Lauster home. They were enroute to Minnesota, to spend the remainder of heir vacation with relatives.

Miss Myrtle Cooper of Ellston, came Friday for a few days visit at the Harm Groen home.

Mrs. Henry Geisler returned to her home in Lisbon, North Dakota, last Thursday, after spending ten days visiting at the Kolb home and other relatives in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kolb, accompanied by the latter's sister, Mrs. Geisler, were visiting at the Wm. Enabnit home in Kanawha, Tuesday of last week.

G. E. Raecker and family left Tuesday for a vacation trip to Dawson, Minnesota, and Arnold's Park to visit relatives. They were accompanied by Mrs. Anna Schroeder of Fort Dodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Hy. Kohagen, Miss Eletha Taylor and Fred Menzel drove over from Waverly Sunday, attending church services here and visiting at the H. Fischer and Raecker homes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Nissen returned home from Kamrar last week Wednesday from a few days visit at the home of their son Irwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Meyers of Bloomington, Wisconsin, have been visiting with her brother, Louis and sister, Mrs. Wm. Floy.

R. Karjens and family of Hollandale, Minnesota, were week end visitors at the home of Mrs. Eckhoff. They enjoyed a family gathering with relatives in this vicinity at the Eckhoff home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Messelheiser entertained their nephew, Geo. Drewes, and his friend, Ed Holscher of Chicago, several days the latter part of last week. They were enroute to Minneapolis where they will visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hafermann and son Albert and wife are enjoying a visit with relatives in Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Becker and Mr. and Mrs.W. F. Becker, and Mrs. Anna Schroeder, all of Ft. Dodge, were Sunday visitors at the G. E. Raecker home.

Miss Nellie Wirtz was a Belmond visitor Friday last, returning home Saturday morning.

Fred Lautenbach of Pella came last Thursday to spend several weeks at the H. K. Pals home.

Miss Nellie Frey is visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Frank Wheeler, at Hampton. She will return home the latter part of this week.

Mrs. Wm. Rozebom returned to her home in Sioux Center last Saturday, after a two weeks' visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. K. Pals and family.

Mrs. Wm. Gealow was quite ill several days last week.

Fred Quandt was home over Sunday. He has been running the threshing machine engine for Chas. Quandt, north of Thornton, the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Pals took advantage of the excursion Saturday night, going to Omaha to visit their old friend, W. P. Vander Zaim. They reported him enjoying good health in spite of his advanced age. He wished to be remembered to old friends and acquaintances.

Mother Wickersheim is back home from Belmond to remain indefinitely. She has been staying at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ed Schmidt during her long siege of illness.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Barger entertained the latter's sister and children from Dixon, Illinois, last week. Their brother, Mr. Typer of Hampton is also spending a week at the Barger home.

C. F. W. Paul and family spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Paul at Clear Lake, who have taken a cottage there for several weeks.

Gilbert Brooks of Waterloo is spending a few weeks at the home of his cousin, Leland Jacobson and family.

The three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schmidt of Belmond have been visiting at the home of C. F. W. Paul, the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wetthoeft of Chicago visited at the Wm. Messelheiser home from Sunday until Thursday last week.

Miss Florence Cogswell of Swaledale was a Sunday guest at the H. K. Pals home.

J. A. Nissen and children Arlene and Ardell of Kamrar spent Sunday at the Kolb and J. Nissen homes.

Rev. A. K. Henning and family left Monday noon for Cedar Falls to get their cottage in readiness for the annual Assembly at River View Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Van Oswegan of Alden were callers at the S. Hulsebus home, Saturday. They were returning to their home from Buffalo Center, where they had visited relatives.

Quite a number from here attended the county fair Monday to see the auto races.

The Misses Harriet Sprau and Neva Muller were the demonstration team who represented the "Grimes Golden Girls' at the Fair last Tuesday. The subject of their demonstration was "Making the 4-H Girls Hope Chest a Help Chest. Their leader, Mrs. Leland Jacobson was present to take charge of her girls and their work.

4-H Club

The G. G. G. 4-H Club held their regular meeting at the Evangelical church basement, Thursday, August 11. The meeting was called to order by Harriet Sprau, president.

Phyllis Agler gave a talk on "Pillows that Add Color."

The demonstration by Harriet Sprau and Neva Muller entitled "Making the 4-H Girls Hope Chest a Hope Chest," was given at this meeting.

Several of the mothers were present at this meeting. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Frank Hinricks of Westington, Springs, South Dakota; John Hinricks of Rusmore, Minnesota, and sister, Mrs. Johnson of Woden were calling at the H. Ostendorf and Frank Ostendorf homes, one day last week.

What You Want In the WANT ADS

DR. R. E. PORTER
BELMOND, IOWA
Chiropractic Health Service
Eight Year's Experience
Office Over Griesy's Store

FOR SALE—Six Poland China sows, to farrow about September 1. Ernest Eckhoff, Meservey. 392*

Undertaking & Funeral Director
F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone--Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

Harry T. Smith
General Blacksmithing
Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding
Meservey, - Iowa

HARVEST TIME

Harvest is the time the farmer stores his grain in the store house for future use.

The bees and squirrels also make use of their store house during time of plenty.

We all should know more than the bees or squirrels — let this bank be your financial store house.

Resources over $400,000.00

"Safety and Service"

Farmers Savings Bank
Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

This coupon and 25c entitle the undersigned to one 35c can of Acme Quality Enamel-Kote, any color, and a special 20c Paint Brush.
Name_____
Address_____
To acquaint you with Acme Quality, we are making a special offer for a short time only.
SPECIAL OFFER 55c Value for 25c

Old Surfaces RENEWED

This tells you of a new discovery thousands of women are making. It is Enamel-Kote, the woodwork and furniture finish with which dingy and dull things can be brought back to beauty in a fascinating, simple way.

Pay out no money for new furniture to replace old, until first you have made a trial and convinced yourself about Enamel-Kote.

ACME QUALITY Paint and Varnish

For over forty years, the best paint and varnish for every purpose has been Acme Quality. Before you buy any paint, come in and see us. We are here to serve you.

C. J. WENDEL
MESERVEY, IOWA

ATWATER KENT RADIO

H. F. REIF
Meservey, Iowa

HIGH QUALITY
BUILDING MATERIAL
Screen Doors and Window Screens—Mill Work—Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts nnd Poles
Cement — Lime
INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT
Wheat Bran – Oil Meal – Cotton Seed Meal, – Tankage – Salt
Highest Price Paid for Grain

Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

for Economical Transportation

CHEVROLET

World's Lowest Ton-Mile Cost

Tens of thousands of users have learned by actual comparison that Chevrolet provides the lowest ton-mile cost* in the history of the commercial car industry!

This matchless economy is due to advanced modern design . . . extremely low operation and maintenance costs . . . exceptionally slow depreciation . . . and the most amazing price ever placed on a modern, gear-shift truck—a combination of economy features found in no other commercial car in the world.

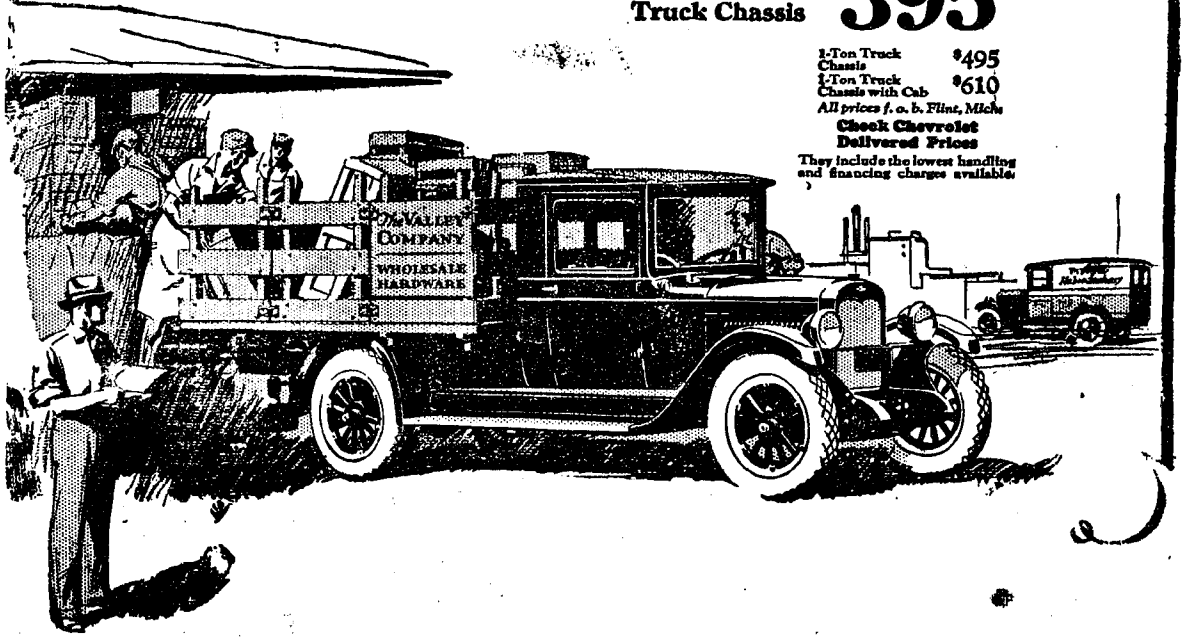
Whether you operate one or many trucks, come to our salesroom and learn for yourself how Chevrolet is designed and built to save you money. Go over the chassis, unit by unit. Note the advanced, modern engineering—typified by a powerful valve-in-head motor, with three-speed transmission and sturdy single-plate disc-clutch. Mark the rugged, quality construction throughout; heavy channel steel frame — massive banjo-type rear axle — long, extra-leaved, heavy steel springs, set parallel to the frame.

Then, go for a trial load demonstration—and see how perfectly Chevrolet meets your own haulage requirements!

*Ton-mile cost is the cost of transporting a ton of material one mile—or its equivalent.

½-Ton Truck Chassis $395

1-Ton Truck Chassis $495
1-Ton Truck Chassis with Cab $610
All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich.
Check Chevrolet Delivered Prices
They include the lowest handling and financing charges available.



HUB MOTOR COMPANY
Belmond, Iowa

RAECKER CHEVROLET SALES COMPANY
Meservey, Iowa

THE WORLD'S LARGEST BUILDER OF GEAR-SHIFT TRUCKS

NEWS ITEMS FROM GOODELL

Miss Irene Ness who is employed in Des Moines is spending a week at her parental home.

Mrs. G. E. Snearly spent Tuesday morning at Garner attending a meeting of the County Board of Education of which she is a member.

C. W. Lamer was stricken with an acute attack of appendicitis about 11 o'clock Wednesday. Dr. Snearly and Mrs. Lamer rushed him to the Lutheran hospital at Hampton and he submitted to an operation that evening. Mrs. Lamer returned home a few days later and reports him as well as expected as it was a very serious operation, the appendix being ruptured.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Carpenter and son Richard returned home Tuesday from a fifteen days auto trip to the Black Hills and Yellowstone Park. They saw the president and Mrs. Coolidge.

Mrs. J. Ahrenkiel and Mrs. Savogue went to Meservey Thursday to assist with the threshing at the home of the former's daughter, Mrs. Matt Smith. Mrs. Savogue returnhome that evening, but Mrs. Ahrenkiel remained for a week's visit.

Mrs. E. J. Schneider and Doris attended Achievement Day at Britt last Thursday.

Miss Zoe Bishop came up from Belmond Thusrday and spent the day at the home of her brother, Lloyd.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thalheim of Fon du Lac, Wisconsin, came Wednesday and visited until Monday at the home of the latter's aunt, Mrs. Clara Butts.

Rev. D. W. Thompson of Marshalltown visited friends here from Monday until Wednesday. He also went to Ventura on business.

Mrs. Al Whitaker and son Billy, came Wednesday from Spencer to visit her home folks, the McNutt families.

Miss Pals of Meservey has visited the past week at the home of her aunt, Mrs. George Zeilie.

Misses Elaine and Loraine Johnson of near Olaf visited Wednesday with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Johnson.

Mrs. Casey Blank of Dysart has been visiting her home folks, the Dan Miller family. She returned home Thursday accompanied by her sisters Helen and Evelyn Miller, who plan to stay with her about two weeks.

Anton Boller who has been working in the Mason City Oil & Grease Co. station the past two months resigned his position there on Friday of last week. Ivan Baker has rented the station and will be assisted with the work by his brother-in-law, Henry Weide of Belmond.

Relatives here are enjoying a visit this week with Mrs. Hubbard's brother, Mr. Burgess and family, from Beloit, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Bertha Hall of Charles City and her sister, Mrs. Clifford Brogan of Garner visited friends here Tuesday.

Twin Lake and Avery Townships held a joint meeting at the W. L. Thada home, Saturday. Miss Merle Ramer of Ames was present and gave an interesting lesson in recovering furniture. A picnic dinner was served at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott of Des Moines were Sunday guests with Mrs. Scott's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bachman.

Curtis Luick of Ventura, a former resident here, was a caller in this city Saturday. The Luicks are planning to move to Mason City where Mr. Luick has a position delivering meat for the Decker Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Slawson and son, Lyle, Mr. and Mrs. Danielson of Plainview, Minnesota, visited a few days last week with Mrs. Slawson's sister, Mrs. Gus Okreug.

Gerald Burk had the misfortune to fall from his pony, while riding it last Tuesday. He was rendered unconscious. His parents immediately took him to the Hampton hospital where he stayed until Friday, returning home feeling much better.

Rev. Scott and family autoed to Clarion Wednesday to take Mrs. Scott's sister, Mrs. Gormerly and husband to the 12:30 train as they were returning to their home at Mt. Vernon, having visited a week here.

Misses Louise Ahrenkiel and Louise Mason have enjoyed a ten day outing at Clear Lake in a cottage with Mr. and Mrs. Will Nelson of Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Allaben and daughter, Jacqueline left early Thursday morning and autoed to their new home at Forreston, Ill. Vincent will be superintendent of the school at that place.

The Ben Remer family of LeMars who have been visiting her home folks, the Jake Bachman family, returned the fore part of the week to their home. Miss Helen Remer who has been here for some time returned home with them.

Miss Viola Hendrick of Maurice who was reelected as grammar room teacher recently resigned her position her as she was able to get a better position. At this writing a successor has not been named.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gosnell, Mary Francis and Georgene of Ft. Dodge autoed to Hampton Friday to see her father, Mr. Lamer who is a patient at the hospital. From Hampton they came up here, Mr. Gosnell returning that evening to his home but Mrs. Gosnell and children remained here with her mother.

Duane and Allen Bonwell of Renwick have been visiting the past week with their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ahrenkiel.

The Rev. Scott, Gus Okreug, Geo. Ruka families and Mrs. A. M. Graeber autoed to West Bend Monday and visited the grotto.

The Butts family accompanied by their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Thalheim of Wisconsin were entertained Friday at the Adolph Wenzel home in Belmond, and Saturday at the Paul Fanselow home at Dows.

Rev. Scott and family, Dr. and Mrs. Gormerly of Mt. Vernon and Mrs. A. M. Graber took a picnic dinner Tuesday and autoed to Hollandale, Minnesota, and viewed the garden plots there.

Messrs. Tauge Matson and Charles Conklin who are working in Adel visited over Sunday with home folks.

The Gus Okreug and Scott families visited at the Little Brown Church at Nashua, Sunday afternoon.

Frederick Schneider went to Mason City Monday to judge stock at the North Iowa Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Brewer of Russell visited last week at the L. H. Wilson home.

Jery Brennan of Des Moines visited last week with his daughters, Mrs. Detman and Mrs. Scott.

Mrs. Met Avery received word that her brother who was seriously ill at Minneapolis had passed away, last Friday.

Mrs. John Detman is visiting relatives in Chicago this week.

Mrs. Monaghen and Mrs. Ferleman of Mason City visited last week at the T. Ruka home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lew Avery visited the Hughes at Williams last Friday.

ROWAN ITEMS OF INTEREST

The Rowan School will open Monday morning, September 5.

Mr. H. R. Carr of Clarion called at the Jesse Steffens home Monday afternoon of this week.

Mrs. Gordon Thomas and daughter Neola of Clarion called at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ina Stumph, Thursday.

Mrs. Martin of Clarion is employed at the S. B. Heath home, helping to care for Mrs. Heath.

Miss Beenen returned to her home in Alexander Tuesday of last week.

F. H. Hackley, D. W. Whitten and F. H. Sheldon departed Monday evening for Des Moines.

Mrs. Earl Sinclair and daughters and sons of Des Moines spent a part of last week at the home of Mr. Sinclair's cousin, Dwight Hackley. They returned to their home Friday.

Mrs. Levi Johnson and daughters, of Newton arrived Monday evening to spend a short time at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Fowler.

John Fletcher of Grundy Center spent the week end at the G. W. Whitten home. He returned to his home Monday. Mrs. Whitten accompanied him for a visit with relatives there.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Whitten entertained as guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Haspaska and daughter Martha, of Clarion.

Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Drury and children of Highmore, South Dakota, spent last week at the home of Mrs. Drury's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Fowler.

Mrs. Lula Emerson entertained as dinner guests last Tuesday, Mesdames Susan Bixler, Elsie Allen, R. R. Duffy and J. D. Pritchett. The dinner was in honor of Mrs. Bixler who is an aunt of the ladies and is visiting here.

Mrs. Laura Hunt of Hampton spent several days of last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chester.

Miss Ruby Azeltine spent a part of last week at the home of her brother, Leroy, who resides near Alexander.

Mrs. George Norris is quite ill at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Sharp and son spent Sunday at the homes of relatives in Belmond.

Will Duffy had a runaway with a team of mules. No one was hurt, although badly frightened.

Lerenzo Bingham of Iowa Falls spent the week end at the homes of relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bingham who have been visiting relatives returned here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stephens and family of Russell spent a few days of last week at the parental Henry Retz home. They departed Sunday for St. Paul and for other points in Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis and family returned Monday from their trip in Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren D. Adams of Denver, Colorado, who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Adams' mother, Mrs. Henry Azeltine, departed Thursday for Fort Dodge, where they will visit at the home of Mrs. Adams' sister.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Keith were Mason City callers Thursday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williams and Mrs. Fred Williams spent Saturday in Clarion shopping.

Miss Pearl Rubendahl of Iowa Falls, is spending a few weeks at the home of her uncle, Harry Rubendahl.

Mr. Jake Dewald of Vinci, Oklahoma, will eave Tuesday of this week for Falls City, Nebraska, where he will visit relatives. He has been a guest at the home of his sister, Mrs. William Steffens the past week.

Mrs. Verne Sharp was a Dows caller Saturday.

Dale Farran returned from Waverly Sunday, where he has been employed in the C. G. W. tower. He has gone to Parkersburg to visit with his friend, George Brooks.

Mrs. Harry Rubendahl and daughter Virginia were Fort Dodge callers Saturday.

Donald Farran was a Eagle Grove caller Saturday. He accompanied Kenneth Smith of Clarion.

Mrs. Will Azeltine was a dental caller in Clarion last week, having her lower teeth extracted. The gums bled so badly that it was necessary for her to return in the evening and have several stitches taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Thew. Hanson, Berneice and Raymond attended a family reunion held at Mason City Sunday.

Laurel Whitten was on the sick list a part of last week.

Mr. William Tresidder returned last week from Eagle Grove where he had spent a few days.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

10:30 A. M. Sunday School.

11:30 A. M. Morning worship Subject, "The Death of Christ." Sermon No. 2.

6:30 P. M. Junior Christian Endeavor.

7:00 P. M. Senior Christian Endeavor.

8:00 P. M. Evening worship. Subject, "The Pre-historic Age."

8:00 P. M. Wednesday. Prayer meeting and Bible Study.

8:00 P. M. Friday. Choir practice.

Rev. L. A. Marquardt, Pastor

The W. C. T. U. wil meet with Mrs. G. A. Whitten on Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. F. B. Sheldon leader. Topic, Frances Willard. This is the day of election of officers. A good attendance is desired.

Mrs. L. A. Marquardt underwent a minor operation in Clarion Monday. She is reported doing nicely.

Miss Else Keith of Montreal, Canada, and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Keith of Chicago, Illinois, arrived Monday, for a visit at the home of their brother, R. H. Keith.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

10:00 A. M. Sunday School.

11:00 A. M. Morning Service.

7:00 P. M. Epworth League.

8:00 P. M. Evening Service.

8:00 Wednesday evening. Prayer meeting.

Rev. J. H. Bounds, Pastor.

The Epworth League held a "Treausre Hunt Party" last Friday evening. They were obliged to travel from place to place in town and were finally taken to the Earl Sellers home west of town, where they enjoyed the games and refreshments the committee had waiting for them. Thirty six partook of the social.

The Quarterly Conference will be held Monday evening of next week. Supt. Lease of Algona will be here. Miss Ione Lease will meet with the young people on Monday evening.

ALEXANDER NEWS NOTES

Thursday afternoon members of the Missionary Circle of the United church held a Missionary Tea in the church basement. A program was given which included a play entitled "Doctor Sure Cure Sees Through it."

Characters

Mrs. Limp and Halt—Mrs. L. C. Peters

Mrs. Can't See Very Far—Mrs. Arthur Peters

Mrs. Fearful—Mrs. Louie Peters

Mrs. Tight Wad—Mrs. Lyle Hall

Mrs. Flapper—Mrs. Charlie Winwood

Mrs. Hard of Hearing—Miss Jessie Bell

Mrs. Busy Body—Mrs. Lloyd Green

Mrs. Invalid—Mrs. Carrie Reed

Doctor Sure Cure—Mrs. John Arends

The doctor's assistant—Mrs. George Dunn

Miss Lydia Richards of Clarion gave a very helpful and interesting talk on missions and the work, after which tea and wafers were served. Those who poured were Mrs. Lloyd Green and Mrs. L. C. Peters. A silver offering was handed in amounting to $4.75, for which the ladies of the circle want to thank all who assisted in the giving of this amount.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Larsen and children visited at the Ed Miles home at Clear Lake Sunday.

Price Preston of San Francisco, California, came Friday and is visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. Ed S. Packard.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Aldinger and sons Franz and Rex were Hampton visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Richards and children, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Smith and children, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Winwood and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Forest Gillet and son were callers at Eldora Sunday.

Mrs. John H. Leebrick, Misses Erma and Inez Bell and Robert Arends were business callers at Meservey Thursday.

John Bell returned home Thursday from Rochester where he had been to visit his brother-in-law, W. C Tucker of Hampton, who is in the hospital at that place.

Art Peters and Robert Rodemeyer were Meservey callers Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Peters and daughters Ruth and Alice were visiting at the Henry Polmateer home at Renwick Sunday afternoon.

Miss Jessie Benard of Eag Grove and Mr. and Mrs. Art Butler and sons of Dows were callers at the Fred Greenfield home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ammerman of Mason City were visitors at the parental home, Mr. and Mrs. Will Ammerman, Sunday.

Family Reunion

At the Harriman Park in Hampton, was held a reunion of the Bell families, the following families being present, which included fifty-three members: Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Bohlen, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bohlen and children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Larsen and children, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bell and children, Mr. and Mrs. Claas Symens and children and Mrs. John Arends and children of Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bell, Walter Weber and son Robert, and Mrs. Mosher and daughters of Waterloo, Mrs. Kate Kusian, Mr. and Mrs. Dick VanHorn and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Grover and baby of Green, Mrs. Minnie Tucker and daughter Lilly of Long Beach, California, and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Leebrick of Hampton.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Klinefelter and children were Mason City callers Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Latham were visitors at Woden Sunday at the Charlie Missman home.

Surprise Party

A surprise party in honor of Miss Esther Missman kas given at the Jesse Latham home on Thursday evening, twelve of her girl friends being present, and a most enjoyable evening was spent by gathering around a camp fire, roasting marshmallows, and telling stories. Some outside games were played, after which the party went into the house and continued their entertainment, after which a very delicious luncheon was served. Miss Missman of Woden has been visiting relatives and friends here for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Greenfield and son Frederick, Miss Leona Stoffer, Miss Effie Dresher, and Mrs. Fred Frohling of Belmond went to Grundy Center Sunday for a visit at the Fred Graves home.

Albert Larsen was a business caller at Rowan Thursday.

Mrs. Jesse Latham and sons Wilbur and Willard were business callers at Mason City Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Larsen, Miss Addie Larsen, and son Jack, were Meservey callers Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bell and children were business callers at Meservey Tuesday.

Present-day smokers find their sheerest enjoyment in Camels

THE people of this age spend millions for the good things of life. And they place Camel first among cigarettes.

Modern smokers make money, but when they spend it they insist on quality, and more people today buy Camels than ever bought any other cigarette.

Camel value has won the modern world. Money cannot buy choicer tobaccos, nor a more glorious blending. That's why increasing millions in the modern age single out this famous smoke as their favorite. You, too, will find it yours.

"Have a Camel!"

© 1927, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

A Word of Warning

The Standard Oil Company [Indiana] feels in duty bound to warn its thousands of patrons in the Middle West to beware of "bootleg" gasoline.

Due to an overproduction of crude oil the market is flooded with unbranded gasoline sold at a cheap price. It is high at any price. It is neither uniform nor dependable.

When you buy gasoline you are buying transportation for yourself and your family. We suggest that you buy dependable transportation.

Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline will give you a maximum of power, flexibility and speed. It costs a few cents more per gallon but it "knocks out that knock".

Our famous economy fuel, Red Crown Gasoline will give you a maximum of power at a minimum of cost.

Both products are sold everywhere in the Middle West and everywhere the same—at a price which is fair, just and equitable, consistent with quality, uniformity and dependability.

RED CROWN ETHYL GASOLINE

RED CROWN GASOLINE

Standard Oil Company
(Indiana)
BELMOND, IOWA

Proceedings of the Board of Supervisors

Clarion, Iowa, July 18, 1927.

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Wright, in the State of Iowa, met at the court house in Clarion, Iowa, as per adjournment.

Members present: E. E. Kitley, Chairman, and Supervisors James Mehl, J. C. Peterson, L. W. Schroeder, and J. D. Baker, with County Auditor in attendance.

Minutes of July 14, 1927, read and approved.

Time and date for gas and kerosene letting having arrived, board took up the same.

Bids were received from the Standard Oil Company and Sinclair Refining Company.

The bid of the Sinclair Refining Company was found to be the lowest and best bid and they were on motion awarded contract for gas and kerosene in Districts Nos. 1 and 4, Wright County, Iowa. Their bond was fixed at $500.00 and Chairman of the Board was authorized to sign contract.

Time and date for gravel letting on Secondary Road District No. 35 in Lincoln Township having arrived, board took up the same. Bids were received from C. W. Broeffe, O. C. Melohn, Hartsell and Evans, Nels Kaiser, Bing Bros., Ray Cook and H. R. Maudlin.

The following resolution was presented:

Be it Resolved by the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, that the plans and proposed form of contract prepared by the county engineer and filed with the county auditor for the graveling of six miles of road north and south through the center of Lincoln Township (District No. 35), be and the same are hereby approved and adopted; and whereas the cost of the improvement will exceed $5000.00,

Therefore, be it further resolved that August 1, 1927, at 10:00 o'clock a. m. at the court house in Clarion, Iowa, be and the same is hereby fixed as the time and place for hearing on the question of making the proposed contract;

Be it further resolved that notice of such hearing be given by one publication in the Wright County Monitor in its issue of July 20, 1927.

Roll call resulted: all present voted aye; Nay, none. Call carried and on motion was declared adopted.

Final Estimate No. 2 to H. R. Maudlin for $477.48 was presented, on motion allowed and ordered paid.

On motion auditor was instructed to advertise and set date for letting for one car rough fir lumber. August 1, 1927, at 10:00 o'clock a. m. was fixed for said letting.

On motion adjourned to meet August 1, 1927.

E. E. KITLEY, Chairman
F. W. WALKER, County Auditor

Clarion, Iowa, August 1,1927.

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Wright, in the State of Iowa, met at the court house in Clarion, Iowa, as per adjournment.

Members present: E. E. Kitley, Chairman, and Supervisors James Mehl, J. C. Peterson, L. W. Schroeder and J. D. Baker, with County Auditor in attendance.

Minutes of July 18, 1927, read and approved.

Time and date for hearing on graveling Secondary Road District No. 35 having arrived, board took up the same.

No objections were filed and no objectors appeared, whereupon on motion duly made and seconded the plans and contract as proposed for said improvement were approved.

Moved and seconded that all bids be rejected. Motion carried.

Moved and seconded that August 8, 1927, at 2:00 o'clock p. m. be fixed as the time for letting on said improvement and notice thereof be given as required by law. Motion carried.

Petition of Grant Township Trustees, et al, asking that the township road running east from Cornelia to Primary No. 15 be taken over as a county road was presented.

On motion said petition was ordered filed.

On motion bond of Mosely Grocery Company was approved.

On motion adjourned to August 2, 1927.

E. E. KITLEY, Chairman.
F. W. WALKER, County Auditor

Clarion, Iowa, August 2, 1927

Board reconvened as per adjournment. Members all present.

Minutes of August 1, 1927, read and approved.

The following resolution was presented:

WHEREAS, a request for an extension of contract time of 138 days has been properly executed and filed by Pegum on a tiling contract, Project No. 267, dated April 19, 1927, and

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors consider such request for extension of time reasonable and necessary,

Now, THEREFORE, Be it Resolved by the Board of Supervisors of Wright County that such request be granted and the contract time extended to December 16, 1927.

Passed this 2nd day of August, 1927, E. E. Kitley, James Mehl, J. C. Peterson, L. W. Schroeder and J. D. Baker, and on motion was declared adopted.

Estimate to R. F. Hirt for $1000.35 was on motion approved and ordered paid.

Time and date for lumber letting having arrived, board took up the same.

Bids were received from Wheeler Lumber, Bridge & Supply Company, Frudden Bridge Lumber Supply Company, and Niedermeyer-Martin Lumber Company.

The bid of the Wheeler Lumber, Bridge and Supply Company was considered to be the lowest and best bid and on motion they were awarded contract.

Moved and seconded that non-resident notices be served on Elizabeth Puffit, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey LaRue and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bowers. Motion carried.

Moved and seconded that John Ross be granted an extension of time on the 1927 drainage tax in Districts Nos. 152 and 194 to April 1, 1928. Motion carried.

Moved and seconded that the 1926 taxes of Anton Casperson be suspended. Motion carried.

Moved and seconded that the Wright County Monitor's charge for publishing the Notice of Hearing for County Budget be reduced $4.40. Motion carried.

Time and date for Budget hearing having arrived, board took up the same.

Be it remembered that on this, the 2nd day of August, 1927, the county supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, met in session for the purpose of a hearing upon the budget estimate as filed with this board. There was present a qorum as required by law. Thereupon the board investigated and found that the notice of the time and place of hearing had, according to law and as directed by the board, been published on the 20th day of July, 1927, in the Wright County Monitor, an official newspaper published in said county, and that the affidavit of publication thereof was on file with the county auditor. Thereafter and on said day the estimate was taken up and considered and taxpayers heard for and against said estimate. (None appeared.)

Thereafter and after hearing all taxpayers desiring to be heard, the board took up the estimate for final consideration and after being fully advised the board determined that said estimate be corrected and completed so that when completed it should be in words and figures as stated herein.

Moved and seconded that P. W. Kaufman be allowed $50.00 on his Domestic Animal claim.

Roll call: Aye, Baker; Nay: Mehl, Schroeder, Peterson and Kitley. Call lost.

Moved and seconded that P. W. Kaufman be allowed $40.00 on his Dometic Animal claim.

Roll call: Aye, Schroeder and Peterson; Nay: Mehl, Baker and Kitley. Call lost and claim was refused.

The following resolution relative to Jt. D. D. No. 54-121 was presented:

Be it Resolved that the assessment confirmed by the joint board of Hancock and Wright Counties, Iowa, on the 14th day of June, 1927, be and the same is hereby approved by the Wright County board separately, and the levy of 2½ percent therein proposed is hereby levied and spread against lands in Wright County.

Roll call resulted: all present voted aye; nay: none. Call carried and resolution was declared adopted.

The following resolution relative to Jt. D. D. No. 4-118 was presented:

Be it Resolved that the assessment confirmed by the joint board of Franklin and Wright Counties, Iowa, on the 20th day of July, 1927, be and the same is hereby approved by the Wright County Board separately, and the levy of 3 percent therein proposed is hereby levied and spread against lands in Wright County.

Roll call resulted: all present voted aye; nay; none. Call carried and resolution was declared adopted.

The following bills were presented, audited, allowed and warrants ordered drawn on the proper funds for their payment:

On motion adjourned to meet August 4, 1927.

E. E. KITLEY, Chairman.
F. W. WALKER, County Auditor.

COUNTY FUND

Robert D. Blue, Env.	$ 23.92
Robert D. Blue, Commission on fines	125.00
Birdsall, McGrath & Archerd, Services	10.00
A. H. Box, Salary	100.00
J. D. Baker, Supervisor	76.40
City of Clarion, Water-c. h. and jail	23.26
Eagle Grove Eagle, Bd. pcds.	41.09
Dows Advocate, Bd. pcds. and ptg.	42.40
Wm. Delong, Labor	2.50
L. G. Focht, Office expense	.91
Charles Gross, Office expense	2.15
Charles Gross, Salary	196.00
H. B. Hallock, Witness certificates	23.00
Leland Hanson, Vit. Stat.	3.50
J. K. Baker, Vit. Stat.	10.50
D. H. Huff, Vit. Stat.	1.50
A. A. Diederich, Vit. Stat.	3.25
Guy Byers, Vit. Stat.	8.75
R. V. Goslin, Vit. Stat.	8.50
Iowa Public Service Co., Lights-c. h. and jail	22.32
Iowa Mutual Liability Ins. Co., Liability Insurance	218.40
H. Isaacson, Repairs-jail	2.10
Melvin Jetmund, Salary	100.00
Maude Johnson, Extra help	12.00
Fred Johnson, Exp.-Helen Voight to Rockwell City	17.80
Fred Johnson, Mileage and office expense	125.85
Fred Johnson, Bd. pris.	78.80
E. E. Kitley, Supervisor	89.00
James Mehl, Supervisor	99.40
Messenger Printing Co., Supplies	4.50
Rose McGrath, Extra help in in Treas. office	36.00
S. A. McGreery, P. M., Env. for Recorder	11.51
S. A. McGreery, P. M., Env. for Sheriff	10.99
S. A. McGreery, P. M., Env. for Supt.	22.50
Metropolitan Supply Co., Supplies-Supt. office	11.15
M. B. Miles, Justice fees	8.00
Fred Johnson, Mileage	10.00
Office Equipment Co., Supplies	8.14
Perkins Bros. Co., Supplies	16.86
J. C. Peterson, Supervisor	49.90
Reliable Accounting & Research Co., Compensation	600.63
Shupe & Son, Supplies and repairs	11.97
H. M. Stanbery, Supplies for jail	7.70
L. W. Schroeder, Supervisor	71.80
G. A. Triggs, Justice fees	21.50
Fred Johnson, Mileage	15.40
G. A. Triggs, 10 percent of del. tax collected	32.06
E. P. Tinkham, Court Reporter	4.80
Edith M. Vaughn, Office expense	2.85
Wright County Monitor, Bd. pcds. and ptg.	90.89
Dr. H. P. Walker, Coroner's fees	8.00
W. M. Welch Mfg. Co., Supplies-Supt. office	1.37
Western Electric Telephone System, Phone rent and Aud. toll	21.45
Wright County Pay Roll, Officers and Clerks	2296.64

COUNTY ROAD FUND

Carl Albertson, Repairs	32.55
A. C. Anderson, Patrol	100.00
J. D. Adams & Co., Repairs for grader	22.50
H. G. Bowman, Tire for truck	31.50
Birdsall, McGrath & Archerd, Services	58.00
Harry Bamford, Gravel	557.10
Community Service Station Co., Gasoline	39.25
Harvey Caquelin, Patrol	130.00
Cities Services Oil Co., Gas and oil	14.07
Dows Lumber Co., Material	4.55
C. D. Edwards Mfg. Co., Repairs for grader	10.40
Eagle Oil Co., Gasoline	14.78
Farmers Grain & Lumber Co., Gasoline and tile	23.70
W. W. Frakes, Hardware	2.00
Glenn Hackley, Patrol	30.40
Floyd Hackley, Labor	3.50
J. Long, Gravel	533.28
Larsen Motor Co., Repairs	43.88
O. E. McGahey, Hardware	7.55
Moseley Grocery Co., Gas and oil	242.71
McCracken Tractors, Inc., Repairs	2.13
Mason City Oil & Grease Co., Gasoline	49.50
S. J. Packard, Gravel	382.60
S. W. Pinkham, Exp. account	23.80
S. W. Pinkham, Labor	125.00
J. M. Bennett, Labor	125.00
Floyd Williams, Labor	125.00
Lismore Stole, Patrol	100.00
H. M. Stanbery, Supplies	8.00
Sinclair Refining Co., Gasoline	38.60
Sinclair Refining Co., Gasoline	32.56
Standard Oil Co., Gasoline	32.55
Claude H. Thayer, Patrol	100.00
Julius Wagoner, Labor	5.07
Ralph Baker, Labor	1.25
Eddie Holm, Labor	1.25
R. Thompson, Repairs	18.25
Wright County Monitor, Ptg.	9.30
A. H. Waddell, Shed rent	3.00
Whyte Motor Co., Repairs	.95
S. M. Wilcox, Patrol	100.00
Arthur B. Wampler, Hardware	27.74

POOR FUND

A. & P. Tea Co., Grocery	19.51
A. H. Adams, Rent	15.00
Emile Bernard, Care of Paul Bernard	20.00
Ralph C. Baker, Milk	6.20
Christeson & Flower, Groc.	19.98
Clark Transfer Co., Drayage	26.50
B. E. Corliss, Rent	10.00
Clarion Farmers Elevator Co., Fuel	4.60
Duer & Son, Grocery	30.75
East Side Grocery, Groceries	109.79
K. J. Engh, Overseer of Poor in E. G.	8.25
Ellen Finn, Rent	12.00
Foll & Wilson, Funeral exp.-Mrs. Stockdale	65.00
C. O. Fitts, Rent	48.00
Fannie M. Filkins, Rent	40.00
Eva A. Gibbs, Exp.-Wessel family	47.50
Chas. Gealow, Rent	21.00
Guy Gibbs, Rent	15.00
Oscar S. Hobbet, Rent	6.00
Halverson & Iverson, Funeral exp.-Mrs. Oberton	37.16
T. A. Halvorsen, Groc.	40.12
Mrs. Anna Imboden, Care of poor	114.00
C. G. Johnson, Groc.	125.29
B. K. Kinseth, Groc.	291.96
Mrs. J. A. McBeth, Care of Agard child	24.00
Martin Grocery, Groc.	25.12
W. J. Mulhern, Rent	9.00
Moseley Grocery Co., Groc (June)	45.48
Moseley Grocery Co., Groc. (July)	43.52
Robert Nelson, Rent	36.00
Frank Nelson, Rent	9.00
J. D. Richardson, Rent	12.00
C. S. Robinson, Groc.	20.00
W. C. Stanbery, Rent	15.00
Dr. George H. Steele, Medical aid	18.00
Schoonover's Grocery, Groc.	14.30
Tillinghast & Co., Groc.	34.94
A. H. Waddell, Rent	8.00
Wm. Wehrheim, Rent	8.00
Roy E. Wilson, Groc.	32.42
Frank Welch, Groc.	17.70
Wheeler's Store, Groc.	20.93
A. H. Worra, Groc.	25.21

DRAINAGE FUND

Clark Transfer Co., Hauling tile-Dn. 107	113.34
Dickey Clay Mfg. Co., Tile-Dn. 107	120.89
James Mehl, Committee and mileage-Dn. 107	2.90
J. D. Baker, Committee and mileage-Dn. 117	5.80
J. D. Baker, Session and mileage-Dn. 118	14.30
E. E. Kitley, Session and mileage-Dn. 118	10.00
James Mehl, Session and mileage-Dn. 118	12.70
J. C. Peterson, Session and mileage-Dn. 118	8.70
L. W. Schroeder, Session and mileage-Dn. 118	6.50
J. D. Baker, Committee and mileage-Dn. 123	7.00
J. D. Baker, Committee and mileage-Dn. 125	20.80
J. D. Baker, Committee and mileage-Dn. 146	7.00
Clark Transfer Co., Hauling tile-Dn. 149	8.20
Dickley Clay Mfg. Co., Tile Dn. 149	8.75
Chas. DeGarmo, Labor-Dn. 183	1.00
Clark Transfer Co., Hauling tile-Dn. 194	28.28
Dickley Clay Mfg. Co., Tile-Dn. 194	30.25

BRIDGE FUND

Herman Anderson, Labor	12.50
C. R. I. & P. Ry. Co., Freight on car of piling	130.00
R. H. Godfredsen, Labor	53.25
R. H. Godfredsen, Labor	18.20
C. S. Imboden, Labor	3.20
H. M. Imboden, Labor	47.20
Klauer Mfg. C., Culverts	423.36
N. Thorn, Labor	72.00
J. L. Wilcox, Repairs	12.00
Sylven Woods, Labor	7.20
Guy Wilcox, Labor	12.00

DOMESTIC ANIMAL FUND

Dows Advocate, Pub. del. dog list	21.90
P. W. Kaufman, Steer killed	Refused
J. S. Melvin, Sheep killed	164.00
Walter K. Zenor, Sheep killed	8.00

COUNTY HOME FUND

O. E. McGahey, Hay fork	3.00

SOLDIERS' RELIEF FUND

F. B. Champlin, Secretary, Allowances for August	108.00

REFUND WARRANTS

Alva B. Berg, Refund of taxes	8.57

FUNDS	Proposed Expenditures 1928	Proposed Expenditures decided at Hearing	Balance on hand January 1, 1927	Estimated Balance or surplus to be deducted	Estimated Income other than Taxation to be deducted	Amount Necessary to be raised from Taxation	Taxes finally entered by the Auditor	Expenditures for year 1925	Expenditures for year 1926
General	70,000.	70,000.	26,834.	10,000.	5,000.	55,000.	55,000.	88,000.	74,645.
Court Expense	.....	.....	188.	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....
Poor	28,000.	28,000.	.....	.....	3,000.	25,000.	25,000.	23,028.	23,623.
State Insane	11,000.	11,000.	4,251.	4,000.	2,000.	5,000.	5,000.	10,974.	12,228.
County Bridge	35,000.	35,000.	14,041.	5,000.	2,000.	28,000.	28,000.	33,048.	38,226.
County Road	30,000.	30,000.	9,686.	1,000.	20,000.	9,000.	9,000.	60,556.	44,598.
Co. Road Bldg.	18,000.	18,000.	.....	.....	.....	18,000.	18,000.	20,944.	19,000.
County School	11,000.	11,000.	4,730.	.....	2,500.	8,500.	8,500.	13,402.	10,086.
Soldier's Relief	2,000.	2,000.	1,564.	1,000.	.....	1,000.	1,000.	1,533.	1,586.
Bond Funds—Road	12,500.	12,500.	1,139.	.....	.....	12,500.	12,500.	34,885.	34,047.
Bond Interest—Road	19,735.	19,735.	.....	.....	.....	19,735.	19,735.	.....	.....
Bond Funds—Bridge	14,500.	14,500.	6,120.	.....	.....	14,500.	14,500.	14,842.	15,625.
Bond Interest—Bridge	4,000.	4,000.	.....	.....	.....	4,000.	4,000.	.....	.....
County Drainage	9,500.	9,500.	.....	.....	.....	9,500.	9,500.	9,500.	9,500.
TOTALS	265,235.	265,235.	68,553.	21,000.	34,500.	209,735.	209,735.	310,712.	283,164.

The chairman of the board and the county auditor were thereupon directed to properly certify the estimate and to file the same in the office of the county auditor as required by law.

"Yes, sir. It certainly pays to study," said the young man as he received his usual fifty-dollar check from his old man. "If not for my studies I wouldn't have this check. And I owe it all to my fellow students."

The Independent's circulation is local. It is read by more people. And that's why its ads bring results.

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

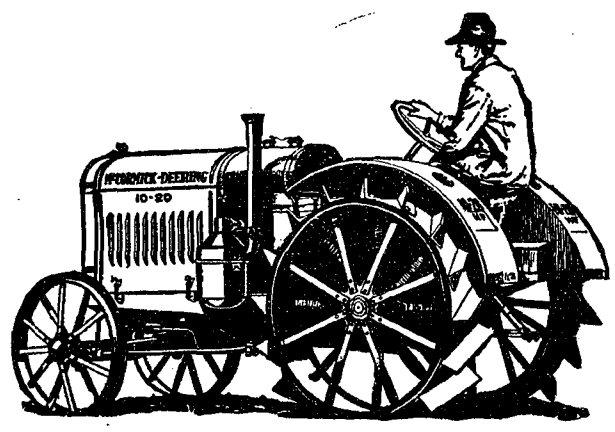
THERE ARE MANY WAYS

In which a Bank can be of help and service to you—and in all of them you will always find this Bank ready and willing to serve. In your home, your work, your business, occasions arise when assistance or advice are needed, and that's when your banker is a good friend.

It is our pleasure to serve you in any financial matter. Call on us at any time.

STATE BANK OF BELMOND
IOWA

Tractor Plowing Is Best



The best tractors for the best plowing are the

McCormick-Deering and John Deere

Let us demonstrate.

GRIESY'S

The Friendly Place

PHONE 10
BELMOND, IOWA

Men Marooned

By GEORGE MARSH

Copyright by The Penn Publishing Co.
WNU Service

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I.—Garth Guthrie, Canadian war veteran, having to live in the open on account of weakened lungs, is factor of a Hudson's Bay post at Elkwan. He came back from the conflict with a permanently scarred face, which he realizes cost him the love of his fiancee, Edith Falconer. Sir Charles Guthrie, his brother, is a millionaire war profiteer.

CHAPTER II.—With Etienne Savanac, halfbreed, his firm friend, Garth greets Doctor Quarrier, geologist, and his sister Joan. Their schooner has drifted ashore. Quarrier complains he has been robbed by a man known as "Laughing McDonald" or to the Indians as "McDonald Ha! Ha!" because of a scar which gives him a perpetual grin. McDonald is Garth's competitor for the fur trade. At Elkwan an Indian girl, Ninda, tuberculosis victim, whom Garth had befriended, is dying. Quarrier hints that Ninda is Garth's mistress, which is hotly resented. Joan, trained war nurse, cares for Ninda, but the girl dies.

CHAPTER III.—Garth tells Joan one of the reasons for his presence at Elkwan. He takes the Quarriers to Albany, from whence they can proceed to Montreal. Charles Guthrie writes approaching his brother for not coming home. Charles' wife assures him Edith still loves him, but Garth in his heart knows better. His scarred face has separated them.

CHAPTER IV.—Three of McDonald's party visit Elkwan seeking to buy gun shells. From them Garth learns of evil talk among the Indians concerning him and Ninda, and realizes Quarrier will spread his version of the affair.

CHAPTER V.—With Etienne's help Garth wins the friendship of Saul Souci, "medicine man" and treaty chief of the Crees, and gets his promise to persuade the Crees to take their furs to Elkwan instead of to McDonald. Garth is surprised by Joe Mokoman, Ninda's treated father, whom the factor had ejected from Elkwan. "Shot," Garth's affable companion on many battlefields in France, says him, and the Indian is taken, a prisoner, to Elkwan.

CHAPTER VI.—Garth sends Mokoman to McDonald with a message of defiance, and the war is on.

CHAPTER VII.—Garth hails with joy the freezing of the strait, which will enable Souci's followers to bring their furs to Elkwan without difficulty. Etienne craftily spreads reports that McDonald and his schooner are bewitched, and evil will befall all who trade with him.

CHAPTER VIII.—Waiting in ambush to shoot Garth, Joe Mokoman is attacked and killed by Shot. At a "powwow" held by his orders Souci convinces the Indians that McDonald is the friend of demons and to be avoided. The chief counsels them to take their furs to Elkwan, thus assuring the factor of trade which will establish a record for the post.

—"Fur of much value which they have toiled for on the cold barrens where the wind always blows," the sepulchral voice went on. "It is the time to go to the traders for the New Year's feast. But the hearts of the hunters are troubled. At the schooner of the trader who waits at Seal cove, the Crees have been told evil spirits and devils wait to bewitch them. And the women have begged their men to take their fur across the ice to Elkwan."

With a puzzled look Etienne stared into Garth's eyes.

"W'at he do now? I don' understand," whispered the half-breed.

Garth waited, hardly breathing, through the silence which followed. Then, on the hushed night boomed a voice, hollow, sepulchral.

"Oh, Sopci! Great Shaman of the Crees! It is well you call us to warn your people. There has come to the island a sorcerer from a far country—to destroy the hunters of Akimiski—"

"By gar!" And the fingers of Etienne shut like a bear trap on the arm of the man beside him. "We are de beeg fool!" he muttered, interpreting the reply of the spirit to the unsensing Garth.

"This conjurer," went on the voice from the tipi, as the listening Indians gasped with surprise and fear, "was bitten in the face by the devil, Matchi-Manitou, himself. He is the friend of demons and woe to the Crees who bring their fur to him, for their wives will see them no more."

"Ahuah! Ahuah!" From the women at the fire rose a low wail as they clung in panic to the cowed hunters.

"Go not to Seal cove but across the ice, for there the Crees may trade and feast in safety."

The voice died. Presently another answered in the same vein, and yet another, while the astonished and ashamed Etienne and Guthrie, who had so lightly accepted the treachery of old Saul as a proved fact, electrified by the swift turn of fortune, listened with admiration and gratitude. With the artistry of a master, Saul had played upon the known weaknesses of his people, relying on the mysteries of the medicine lodge rather than on his personal influence—winning the squaws by the judicious planting of rumors, as had Etienne, and stampeding the men with a single stroke at the medicine rites, for no Indian who heard that unearthly voice from the tipi would now dare to trade with McDonald.

"The old son-of-a-gun," chuckled Garth. "He went to that ship to throw them off the scent and keep them away from this end of the island. He gets a life job with the company for this night's work."

In an overawed, whispering group, the hunters and their squaws returned to their tipis, where deep into the night was discussed the marvel of the spirit voices, which the great magician of the Elkwan had invoked for the safety and guidance of his people.

In the privacy of their tent the two men, still dazed by the unhoped-for success of their mission to the island, gossiped by the fire.

"Forty-six silvers and eighteen black, besides a lot of cross and patch, you say?" Garth repeated, elated with the trade that would come that Christmas to Elkwan.

"Ah-hah! Wor' twenty t'ousand dollar—de beegest trade Elkwan evair mak'. We do good job w'en we breeng Saul Souci from de headwater, w'at?"

"You and Saul turned the trick, Etienne. I can't thank you enough."

In his second year in the trade Garth had made a telling business stroke. In the face of the higher prices of the free-trader—of what seemed inevitable failure, he had, with the help of the crafty old Cree, swung a huge trade to his company. They could hug their fire at Kapiskau and Attawapiskat, but he had carried the fight straight to the enemy, and had won. Going out to Shot, snug in his snow-hole, Garth poured his happiness into a hairy and comprehending ear, before he rolled into his blankets beside the staunch half-breed who had made it possible.

CHAPTER IX

"Queer we haven't heard from Joe yet," McDonald said to Skene, in the cabin of the Ghost, two days before Christmas.

"Time enough," answered the bearded mate. "He was to round up the hunters in the north, you know, and bring them down the shore ice."

"Well, we've made a good start. We've got twenty silvers now, with the three that came in this morning, and twelve blacks, not to count the cross and patch. There's fifty thousand dollars in this winter's work for us, John."

Skene looked hard at his chief. "What you goin' to do with your share of the fur we land in St. Johns?"

The deep blue eyes of the giant half closed as the heavy brows contracted. "Do with mine? What is there to do with it?"

"Goin' to head for the states and drink it up?"

McDonald laughed, without mirth. "Drink it up? No, I'm goin' to hunt up the family of a pal who 'went West' at Vimy Ridge. There's a wife and kiddies, out in Alberta. I'm goin' to share mine with 'em."

For a space Skene smoked in silence. Once or twice he glanced curiously at the man opposite, who sat with head in hands, staring at the floor.

"It'll be some surprise to my old girl with a nest-egg," he said at length. "She ain't had a too soft a life with me."

McDonald made no answer and Skene went on: "I'm goin' to buy a little place for her and the two girls—a cow or two, and a horse to get around with; then I'll have me a tidy schooner, and summers go cod-fishin' on the Labrador."

"That's sensible," vouchsafed the other. "You owe it to the woman."

"Yes, she's never whimpered. When I enlisted, she turned to like a soldier and carried on. I owe her a good home, now—and a little of my company."

McDonald's broken mouth widened in a smile. "Your company, you old scalawag! How many weeks in the year will she keep a restless old pirate like you on the farm?"

"You can laugh, Craig, but I'm for a home now, except that fishin' in the summer."

"A home . . . a home!" repeated the other, moody eyes on the pipe which he rubbed in his broad palm. "It doesn't mean anything to me, John."

"Yes, I know," and Skene looked pityingly at his chief. Then voices on deck straightened them in their chairs. A sailor thrust his head through the door of the cabin.

"There's an Injun, here with some news."

"Send him down!"

The Cree interpreter entered the cabin, followed by a hunter whose face was alive with excitement, as he chattered to the Cree.

"What's on his mind, Michel?" demanded McDonald.

Shutting off with upraised hand the stream of Cree from the mouth of the Indian, the interpreter replied: "Joe Mokoman ees dead!"

"What?" McDonald rasped. "Dead? How d'you mean? Killed?"

"Found dead on de Canoe Riviere, wid hees t'roat ripped out."

"Well, I'll be d—d! Who found him? This bird?"

"No, he see some Cree crossin' ice at de Beeg point—dey tell him."

With a quick movement, McDonald reached and drew the interpreter to him. "You say some of the Indians are crossing to the mainland?"

For a space the harsh phonetics of the Cree tongue filled the cabin.

"At Beeg point, yesterday, he see many dog-team from de nord' cross de ice. A Canoe Riviere hunter say he fin' Mokoman dead in snow by riviere shore."

"But where's old Souci? Didn't he make his medicine on the Canoe?"

"Yes, he say Souci mak' beeg medicine two sleep back—'all de hunter een nord of islan' come."

"Good! Souci is bringing them down the coast."

But as the interpreter continued to interrogate the Indian his eyes widened in surprise, which swiftly gave way to consternation. Turning excitedly, he cried: "Souci tell dem Cree dat de devil ees een de ship here! He scare dem crazee—tak' dem all ovair de ice to Elkwan!"

McDonald and Skene were on their feet. "What?" roared the free-trader. "He's taken them — to Elkwan? Stunned, the white men sought each other's faces.

"Souci, he come here to fool us," went on Michel. "He work all tam' for de Hudson's Bay."

"Whipsawed!" And McDonald's bulk slid limply into his chair.

"The old beggar! He fed it to us like a lot of schoolboys!" sputtered Skene, wagging his grizzled head. "He sure put it over in style."

"Played like a pair of fish!" McDonald suddenly straightened. "Skene, for two cents I'd cross the ice and get that fur. It's ours—they stole it."

Skene looked hard into the blue eyes of his chief. "First, we'd have a handsome row to get it, that man with the scar, and his half-breed will fight; second, the police would be up here before we were out of the ice. Foolish talk!"

McDonald's twisted features relaxed. "You're right, John, right. It can't be done. We've got too much at stake."

Skene looked suggestively at his chief, as he added: "We have—and you have."

The other shifted his gaze as he muttered, "Yes—that's only too true."

"But Mokoman! What'd you say happened to him?" Skene asked Michel.

"He was killed by de dog—hees t'roat tore."

"Killed by his own dogs—queer! Might have been wolves."

"No, de dog follow shoe tracks back to de trail. No wolf do dat."

"Well, so much for Mokoman! Small loss—never liked him."

"Does he know how much fur they had—these hunters who crossed?" asked the mate.

"Dey have mooch fur—'bout one hunder skin."

"Half of it silver and black, probably. A small fortune! H—l!" In his chagrin Skene crashed his hard fist on the table.

"You're a judge of men, John. That fellow sure licked us," McDonald admitted ruefully. "Now we've got no time to lose with the southern hunters. —Michel!"

The Cree leaned to hear the whispered order of the free-trader. "You keep this Indian on the boat—fill him up and lock him in, forward. If he got loose among the southern camps with this devil talk, they'd follow the others. Breault ought to know, but the Lord knows where he is."

Shortly two dog-teams left the ship bound for the camps in the south half of the island in a mad rush to save the skins yet untraded.

"De Mail Ees Comin'," He Cried.

The Christmas mail from Albany was approaching on the river trail below Elkwan. From the upper Elkwan and the Shamattawa, from the Winisk and the Raft, for days the hunters had drifted in to the post, dog harness gay with colored worsted and jingling with bells. There old Souci, elated by his stratagem and proud of the praise which Garth had given unstintedly in the privacy of his tent, had led the Akimiski hunters with their valuable fur-packs. In the trade-room Garth and Etienne were busy preparing for the trade which had not yet begun, for an Indian makes a ceremony of his Christmas visit to a post and in contrast to the speed with which he pushes his dogs over the river trails on the way in, is the deliberation with which he proceeds to barter his hunt when he has reached the fur post.

It was a happy pair that were opening bundles of blankets, getting out sugar and flour, tea and tobacco, from the store-room—filling the shelves with the trade-goods of the company.

"Ah-hah! W'at goin' on out dere?" Etienne looked from a window. "De mail ees comin'!" he cried, and slipping on his parka, went out followed by Garth.

The Albany mail! Garth Guthrie's thoughts were a medley of surmises, questions, hopes. Letters from home!

(Continued next week.)

WANTED—News items. Help us give you a better paper by sending or phoning the items you know. Call 115.

Selwood of Sleepy Cat

By FRANK H. SPEARMAN

Next morning Carpy dragged Selwood into his office, planted him in a chair, and sat down facing him, eager to hear all of the padre's story. When the younger man had recounted it in full, Doctor Carpy told a story himself.

"John," he chuckled with much enjoyment, "I've been kind of mean."

"What have you been doing?"

"I've been riding the old general—told him the padre's here and proved all you claimed up to the hilt. Then I says; 'What have you got to say to that?"

"What did he say?"

"What in blazes could he say?"

"But the old man's changed, John. He's broke—old age a-comin'. Then somebody planted a bullet close to his ribs last night, and that annoyed him consid'able. I told him about you going down to Bartoe's alone, and leaving directions for Lefever to bring the teamsters into action, soon as you got Christie out. And how you cleaned up Starbuck and cleaned out the place and burnt it. Well, that pleased him. 'Dash it, Doctor,' he says finally, 'blood will tell; it will tell! The boy's got it in him.' Taking the credit all to himself!" laughed Carpy. "Could you beat that?

"Now, John," continued the doctor, "I had him brought up here to the hotel. He's asleep now. After a while go up and see him. He wants to see you—"

Selwood shook his head. "I don't want to see him."

Carpy raised his chin. "Don't be a mule; that's some of your old grandfather coming out in you—not your mother. Some while later go up like a man and see the general—to tell you the truth, he ain't a long time for down here, even if he gets well of this wound—which I think he will."

Then, in Carpy fashion, he sprang a further surprise. "How you feeling this morning, John?"

Selwood almost stared at him. This was a question the doctor never asked of anybody under any circumstances; Doctor Carpy's patients were told, not asked, how they felt. But Selwood was ready for him. "I'll ask a question, myself, Doctor. Did you come out here in a wagon train?"

"I did."

"The first job I got west of the Missouri river," continued Selwood, "was driving a team of mules."

"Same as I, John—same as me."

"I was a youngster—and you know I wasn't a husky one. By the time I'd driven those mules a week, if the owner had knocked me on the head I'd have thanked him for it. Everybody in the outfit was dead afraid the Indians would get us; after the first week I was dead afraid they wouldn't. I had sneezed and coughed and snorted in that alkali dust till my nose and eyes and throat were plum burnt up. Then one evening, after the hottest, scorchingest day I'd ever felt in my life, on the Platte bottoms—"

Carpy nodded hard. "Hotter'n blazes on those bottoms, wa'nt it—"

"—somebody up ahead yelled! I was just about able to raise my head and look over the mules' ears. There, ahead of us—far, far away—I saw snow, the snow on top of the Rocky mountains.

"You're asking me, are you, how I feel tonight? If it wasn't just for one thing, I'd say I felt better than I've ever felt since that evening I saw that snow on top of the Rocky mountains."

"What's the one thing?"

Selwood shrank in a little. "You couldn't mend it."

"I know what's a-matter with you. And, maybe, I can't cure you—not I, myself. But there's a little huzzy upstairs with her head as full of you as your head is full of her. That girl can do a thing I can't do. Go upstairs, man, knock on her door, and if you can't tell her anything else, tell her some of the good news you heard today. I gave her a hint. But she'd like to hear a few things straight from you—"

"Did she say that?"

"That and a whole lot more," averred Carpy, making his prevarication violent, since he felt he had gone too far to retreat. "Go on upstairs and have a face-to-face talk with brown-eyes."

Perspiration dewed Selwood's forehead. Encouraging him in roughly honeyed fashion, Carpy got him to the foot of the stairs. He never did remember just how he got up the familiar flight that morning. But, once above, he had wit enough to turn toward his own room to consult the looking-glass about his hair.

What was his surprise to find the door of his room open and, looking inside, to see Christie smoothing up the counterpane on his bed. He stood perfectly still, watching her. In a moment she had finished and, turning as she straightened up, she saw him in the doorway. She gave a startled little cry, and her face was a picture of crimson confusion. "Oh!" she exclaimed, trying to speak and to laugh at once, "You can come right in! I'm all through. Margaret has gone, you know, and Doctor asked me if I wouldn't tidy up his room and yours just for this morning—I—so—I made the beds—and I—oh, Mr. Selwood, were you very much hurt in that dreadful fight?"

Selwood protested he had received no serious injury, but seemed unable to add much to his disclaimer. "And all this morning," continued Christie, hardly giving him time to speak, anyway, "I've been trying to get a chance to thank you over and over again for all you did for me and for Father last night—I don't know what would have become of us—where should I be now, if it hadn't been for you! You can come right in," she repeated, growing a bit hazy herself; "I think things are in some kind of order," she faltered, not only out of breath but out of thoughts, for she had stood his silent eyes, and something she saw in them, about as long as she could stand them and keep her senses. "And," she said, dropping her own eyes before him, "I'm just going."

"Spare Him to Me for One More—Just One More Chance!"

"Don't be in a hurry," he suggested, standing exactly in the doorway through which she was trying to make her escape.

"Oh!" she exclaimed for the fourth or fifth time—and her eyes bulked large with fear and apprehension. "I must go to the doctor's room now—his bed isn't made yet!"

If Christie's burning cheeks and distressed manner were to be believed, this fact pictured a terrible situation. But it did not impress Selwood. As Christie showed fright, he showed composure.

"If Doc Carpy ever saw his bed made, he wouldn't know where to get into it," he retorted unfeelingly. "He sleeps in a buffalo robe. Christie," he added, "I'd like a little talk with you. Do you remember the morning I met you and your father on the Crawling Stone trail?"

Christie spoke up promptly. "Indeed, I do."

"I picked up a girl's shoe that morning on the trail. I thought it was about the prettiest shoe I'd ever seen. There was a horseshoe lying there on one side of the trail and this girl's shoe on the other. I'd had nothing but horseshoe luck all my life out here, and it had been rotten luck. So I thought I'd take a chance on that girl's shoe—and I picked it up."

Christie laughed. "What an idea! And what did you do with it?"

"I've got it. And what I want to find out from you right now and right here is, what kind of luck it's brought me. Sit down a minute, will you?"

Christie, somewhat flustered, did sit down.

"I said to myself," continued Selwood, "it must be a nice girl that owned that shoe. And if I could find her—and ever get some things in my own life straightened out—I'd ask her whether she'd marry me—"

He seemed to be running out of words and ideas, and Christie came to his aid. "Well, of course, I hope" —her eyes fell—"it's my shoe, John. It's going to be a terrible temptation to—to claim it. Couldn't we make believe it's mine, John, anyway?"

"Do you really want it to be yours?"

Christie looked up very simply. "How could I want it to be any one else's, John?"

Five minutes later Doctor Carpy's loud whistle echoed up the hallway. Christie Fyler, in Selwood's arms, started like a frightened fawn. She tried to break away, and could not. "John!" she whispered frantically. "Some one's coming! Let me go!" With tear-brimmed eyes she looked pleadingly up. He would not release her. "He's downstairs," murmured Selwood reassuringly. "There's nobody at all up here."

"You'll start your arms bleeding again, John," she whispered in alarm. "I can't get a breath!"

"Christie!" Selwood looked down at her face, her head cushioned in the hollow of his arm. "I've got to tell you this, too—I'm dead broke."

She laughed—who as well as lovers can face the world broke? "I guess everybody is broke in Sleepy Cat, John. Then, besides risking your precious life for me, you've had a terrible misfortune—they burned your hall, didn't they, John? And you lost everything?"

He looked down at her. "Christie," he said seriously, "I suppose you'll be willing to prove property by letting me try that shoe on you to see if it fits?"

"Oh, it isn't necessary to bother you—I can try it on, myself."

"If you'll let me try it on you, I'll tell you a secret."

"Go ahead, then."

"I burned the hall, myself. Yes," he continued, as she looked at him amazed. "Why? Well—I was done with it—and everything in it. All that's behind me, Christie."

There was just an instant of breathlessness. Then she tipped up on her toes just as high as she possibly could, and flung her arms as far as she possibly could around his neck, and smothered the rest of his words.

CHAPTER XVII

The Death in the Cards.

After supper James McAlpin, with some ceremony, drove Selwood's team—the rangy American bays—up to the hotel. Christie came out on Selwood's arm, bandages and all. It was their first ride together, and Christie was to be driver.

They drove out on the divide for a few more minutes to themselves, and then down and around by the river to the camp of the padre. They found him before a little camp-fire.

"You married my father and mother, Padre," said Selwood, when he had told his own and Christie's story. "We want you to marry us."

While they talked, Selwood fed the little fire with the driftwood the Indians had gathered. The padre told of that other marriage—of the night, the storm, the flooded river, and the pine-torches of the Indians.

After leaving the camp, Christie and Selwood drove back to the hotel, hoping everybody had gone to bed, but in this they were doomed to disappointment. In the brightly lighted office a brave company of frontier adventurers, closely tuned to Selwood's movements, were tirelessly sitting in a suffocating atmosphere around a seriously overheated stove.

Christie was allowed to go upstairs unmolested; indeed, she was ignored with chivalrous ceremony. Selwood, on the other hand, was dragged into the office and held a victim till he could negotiate peace with his retainers, and effected his escape, in the end, only by inviting them all to a wedding at sunrise down at the river in the camp of the padre.

In the dawn of a glorious morning they were married—perhaps on such a spot as that to which Selwood's father had brought his bride-to-be, in the storm, so many years before.

After the wedding breakfast, attended by all the guests, with the padre as a special guest of honor, Christie persuaded her new husband to go up with her to General Roper's room. The old man, weakened by wounds and softened by years, broke and asked his grandson to forgive what had passed.

In the Dawn of a Glorious Morning They Were Married.

It was one of those moments for banishing resentments and forgetting the cruelties of pride and obstinacy. Christie wiped the tears from the old man's eyes, and he repaid her by throwing a bomb into her unsuspecting camp when he sincerely congratulated them both and named as the only favor he would ask that the first boy be named John Roper Selwood and sent to West Point.

For a day or two, no trip and no escape from work was possible for Selwood. He was up to his neck in work at the barns and the warehouse, straightening out the tangle into which the conflagration and the rioting at Sleepy Cat had thrown the stage and wagon schedules. During the day scattered lots of supplies began to filter in from Medicine Bend, and by nightfall the hotel cook was able to promise Doctor Carpy a respectable wedding supper as his compliment to the bride and groom, and to a company from which no loyal friend was excluded.

(Continued Next Week)

Quality Printing Pleases. That is the Independent kind. Get yours here

It is rumored the wedding bells will ring soon for one of our popular young ladies.

Miss Zola McGuire leaves next Sunday for Sioux City where she will enter St. Joseph's hospital to take up a course in nurses' training.

The Chain of Ten will meet next week at the home of Mrs. H. N. Hill. Hostesses are Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Pfaltzgraff, Mrs. J. S. White, Mrs. Clyde Jennings and Mrs. Wallace Sharp.

Mrs. Mathias, of Polk City, arrived Thursday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Christie, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mortimer spent a few days last week with Minneapolis relatives.

Mrs. A. Loats continues seriously ill. Her daughters, Mrs. Robinson, of Colorado, and Mrs. Ferguson, of North Dakota, were called here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Saatoff of Hampton were guests a few days last week at the home of Mrs. Saatoff's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Gartin.

Rev. and Mrs. Guldseth are the parents of a baby boy born Sunday, August 14.

Mrs. Hyland, of Lake Mills, spent the week end at the home of her brother, Nels Stockseth.

H. L. Stapley left last week for a two week's visit with relatives near Marshalltown.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Weigand and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thayer and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sorenson and family spent Sunday at the West Bend Grotto.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Zellmer and family, of Granville, Illinois, arrived Friday to visit at the Conrad Hoppel home, and with other friends and relatives.

Get a Free Ticket to the Big Tent Show for Saturday Matinee, at the New Belmond Tailor Shop.

Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Waalkes and children, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, are expected here this week for a visit. Rev. Waalkes was formerly pastor of the Immanuel Reformed church, in Pleasant township.

The Fall Term opens Tuesday, September the 6th. The Hamilton University, Mason City, Iowa.

BELMOND MARKETS
(Subject to change.)

Hens	17c
Springs	20c
Roosters	07c
Ducks	12c
Geese	08c
Eggs	24c
Butterfat	39c
Creamery Butter	45c
Oats	40c
Corn No. 3 yellow	97c
Barley	65c

COUNTY ESTIMATE

NOTICE—The Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, will meet September 6, 1927, at 10 a. m. at the Court House in Clarion. Taxpayers will be heard for or against the following estimate of expenditures at that time.

F. W. WALKER, County Auditor

FUNDS	Proposed Expenditures Estimated 1928	Balance on hand January 1, 1927	Estimated Surplus of balance on Hand	Estimated Income other than Taxation	Amount Necessary to be raised by Taxation	Expenditures for year 1925	Expenditures for year 1926
General	$ 70,000.	$ 26,834.	$ 10,000.	$ 5,000.	$ 55,000.	$ 88,000.	$ 74,645.
Court Expense	.....	188.	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....
Poor	28,000.	.....	.....	3,000.	25,000.	23,028.	23,623.
State Insane	11,000.	4,251.	4,000.	2,000.	5,000.	10,974.	12,228.
County Bridge	35,000.	14,041.	5,000.	2,000.	28,000.	33,048.	38,226.
County Road	30,000.	9,686.	1,000.	20,000.	9,000.	60,556.	44,598.
Co. Road Building	18,000.	.....	.....	.....	18,000.	20,944.	19,000.
County School	11,000.	4,730.	.....	2,500.	8,500.	13,402.	10,086.
Soldiers' Relief	2,000.	1,564.	1,000.	.....	1,000.	1,533.	1,586.
Bond Funds—Road	12,500.	1,139.	.....	.....	12,500.	34,885.	34,047.
Bond Interest—Road	19,735.	.....	.....	.....	19,735.	.....	.....
Bond Funds—Bridge	14,500.	6,120.	.....	.....	14,500.	14,842.	15,625.
Bond Interest—Bridge	4,000.	.....	.....	.....	4,000.	.....	.....
County Drainage	9,500.	.....	.....	.....	9,500.	9,500.	9,500.
TOTALS	$ 265,235.	$ 68,553.	$ 21,000.	$ 34,500.	$ 209,735.	$ 310,712.	$ 283,164.

Estimated taxes per $1,000 of assessed value $5.76.

Dance next Wednesday night, August 24, at the Opera House. Music by Shorty's Nighthawks, of Fort Dodge. Tickets $1.

The M. E. Aid Society will meet next week Thursday, August 25, for a picnic in the park. All are welcome. Bring a covered dish and your own sandwiches.

Mrs. R. W. Tomlinson enjoyed a visit from her nephew, Mr. Miller, and family, of Harvard, Illinois, a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Schlack, of Norfolk, Nebraska, arrived last Thursday to visit at the home of Mrs. Schlack's father, John Atherton.

Mrs. Jim Brewer and daughter from Alden, Minnesota, and Mrs. Bailey from St. Paul, were visiting the Brewer families here Friday.

266 students placed in positions from January to August 1, 1927. That is your guarantee of a good position if you attend The Hamilton University, Mason City, Iowa.

Let the Farmers' Shipping Association ship your live stock. Notify M. F. Christie.

A SACRIFICE SALE!

My residence and other property will be sold as soon as possible regardless of its value. Anyone desiring a modern home in first-class condition should call and look it over. Located on primary 15, half a block from Main street, consists of 2 lots, house and barn. Some apple, plum trees and other fruit. House is 22x28 with ell 14x16. Full basement. Kitchen 12x14 with built-in cabinet 7x11. Clothes chute to basement. Iceless refrigerator. Dining room and parlor each 14x21 connected by folding doors. Three nice large bedrooms up stairs, with large closets; sewing room; linen closet; bath room 8x10. Extra toilet in basement. Rooms nicely painted, waxed linoleum on all floors. In the basement, there is a laundry 9x24, with stove, vegetable room 10x12 with shelving and potato bin, furnace room 10x12; outside coal and wood bin close to the furnace. Also some vacant lots adjoining suitable for garden which will be sold cheap. Terms—Reasonable amount down, balance to suit purchaser. Also have a few odds and ends to dispose of, Smith premier typewriter and desk, about $200 worth of bee supplies, some bedsteads, steel cots, etc.

E. A. PIERCE,
Belmond, Iowa. Phone 359.

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Pure bred White Minorca cockerels, 75c each. Inquire at Independent. 1*

FOR SALE—Modern house and one or more lots, or lots only. Prewar price. Write Box 56, Belmond, Iowa. 402*

FOR SALE—APPLES. 50c a bushel. — Simon Simerson. Phone 2617. 1c

FOR SALE—Frame building, 8 ft. square. Would make good well house. Bargain! Peter Kaufman. 402*

FOR RENT—Modern house, Sept. 1. Also large garage, two blocks from schoolhouse. Inquire of Carrie Courtney. 1c

LOST—Police pup, about half grown. Tips of all four feet and breast white; head black. Was wearing plain strap collar. Reward for information leading to return. Notify Independent. 1*

Pete English, accompanied by a friend from Clarion, left the first of the week for a vacation trip to various points in the east.

OLAF NEWS

Several from this vicinity attended the fair at Mason City Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kirk spent Sunday with relatives at Estherville.

G. H. Baxter and family and Miss Carrie Baxter spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Windecker of Iowa Falls.

Miss Ave Nick returned to her home at Estherville Saturday after spending a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Kirk.

Mr. Lloyd Holverson's mother of Roland is spending a few days at their home.

Kinseth's Store News

Another nice saving this week for you in the way of Soap. We have a special bargain on, starting today: With six cakes of AM-OND-OL, the Palm-Almond Soap, at 59c you get Six Beautiful 10-oz. glasses of attractive design, FREE! This is a luxurious toilet soap made from the finest palm and almond oils, and we know you will like it. Place your order early.

In Preserves this week we are offering Cherry, Strawberry and Raspberry in 5-gallon pails at $1.29.

Apples in gallon cans at 42c. Better lay in what you will need this winter, as the apple crop will be short, and apples high.

49c—buys a high grade broom.

Peaches, in case lots of six cans, special at $3.24.

Apricots in gallon lots at 77c.

Four packages of macaroni for 32c.

Shreaded Wheat at 11c a package.

Dozens of other money-savers at The Store on the Corner. If you cant' get down town to shop, Phone 19 or 5, and you'll get the same good prices and service as though you shopped in person.

New Baby!

WE have it on mighty GOOD authority that THE new baby over at CORT Morse's house IS the finest specimen ON the North American CONTINENT—the proud FATHER admits it HIMSELF, so of course THAT settles it—and WE asked him yesterday WHOM the baby looks LIKE and he expanded HIS chest about eight INCHES and said, "LIKE me," and we told HIM he shouldn't mind THAT so long as the CHILD is healthy! AND we just hope now THAT Mr. and Mrs. Morse WILL bring the little TIKE up to appreciate THE value of good BOOKS because WE'VE always liked HIS parents and WE want that baby to LIKE this store. WE have a wonderful line of BOOKS, especially for CHILDREN, and more COMING. If you like A good book, why just TRY the Drug Store First!

Herman L. Schultz

SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

ROBINSONS
...STORE...

BAKERY
GROCERY

WEEKLY TABLOID

Business is good. Thank you!

Our prices are Right.

We are paying 25 cents for eggs.

And we will sell you a $3.50 doll for 98c after you have spent $5.00 with us. Also some other useful things at a small price.

Have you tried that 30c coffee we sell? If you haven't, why try it and tell us you are getting your moneys worth.

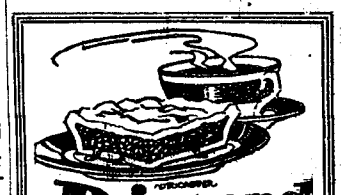
CITY MARKET'S
SPECIALS!
Friday - Saturday
August 19-20

SPECIAL SALE
on
ARMOUR'S HAMS
WHOLE OR HALVES
VERY ATTRACTIVE PRICES!

Watch for Our Specials Every Week!

Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning

City Meat Market
Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207. Belmond, Iowa



Pie and Coffee

That's a satisfying lunch, any time, and after you have tried our Home-Made Pie and Coffee you'll agree with us. We bake our own pies—the real "Like Mother Used to Make" kind. A generous slice—like mother used to hand out to you—for 10c. Don't forget our regular 45c dinners, and special Fried Chicken Sunday Dinners.

Look for the Red Light!

RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

Lyric Theatre
...Geo. Hake, Manager...

SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS

FRIDAY, SATURDAY, AUGUST 19 and 20

"The Prairie King"
Universal picture with Hoot Gibson, Barbara Worth, Chas. Sellon, Rosa Gore, Albert Priscoe. A story of the Mexican border.
"LUCKY STAR"
Harry Langdon comedy
10c and 25c

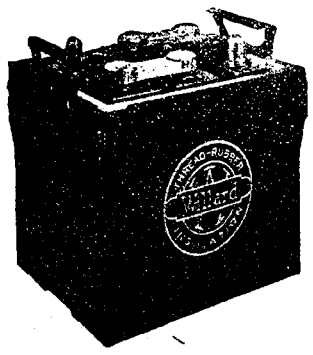
MONDAY, TUESDAY AUGUST 22 and 23

"Slide, Kelly, Slide"
Metro Goldwyn production with Wm. Haines, Sally O'Neil, Harry Carey, Junior Coghlan, Warner Richmond. The great grandstand, the World Series in full swing and a beautiful love story.
Fox News
10c and 30c

WEDNEDAY and THURSDAY AUGUST 24 and 25

"Slaves of Beauty"
Fox picture with Holmes Herbert, Olive Tell, Earle Foxe, Margaret Livingston, Richard Walling, Sue Carol, Mary Foy. Story by Nina Wilcox Putnam. A story of a woman who thought she was too young for her husband.
"SUITE HOMES"
Fox comedy
10c and 25c

Come



to us with your electrical troubles.

No matter how complicated they may be, we are equipped and know how to handle them.

We can give you prompt service on anything in Automobile Electricity.

BELMOND STORAGE BATTERY CO.
Phone 46 J. W. Scott, Prop.
Thru Service We Grow!

"Martin Luther---
His Life and Time"

A Classic 8-Reel Moving Picture

Special Showing at

St. John's Lutheran Church
Belmond, Iowa

Tuesday, August 23
8:00 O'clock P. M.

ADMISSION: Adults 35c, Children 15c

Under Auspices of Luther League

Don't Say Bread---Say
"BLUE RIBBON" BREAD!

Baked In Belmond, By Belmond's Bakers
Tasty, Flaky, Appetizing, Satisfying, Fresh Every Day

All Goods In Our Cases Are Fresh---
Day-old Pastries Are Sold At A Discount

SPECIAL SATURDAY ONLY
This Special sold out so quickly last Saturday that many were too late. For their benefit we are repeating it again.

Coffee Cake
Only 10c Each
Your patronage solicited and appreciated

MORROW & SCOTT
BELMOND'S BAKERS

Belmond Independent

ESTABLISHED 1919 — AND HERALD-PRESS — CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 8 — BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 25, 1927 — NO. 41

School Will Open Monday, Sept. 5

Superintendent And Principal To Be At School Next Week For Registration

REGISTER NEXT WEEK

Supt. Williams reports that the Belmond schools will open Monday morning, September 5th.

Following the usual custom, registration will be conducted the previous week. Wednesday, August 31, and Thursday, September 1st, will be registration days. High school and kindergarten are to be enrolled these days. All pupils who will be in high school this year are requested to report to Miss Thomas, high school principal, on either of these days, to fill out their registration cards and plan their course for the semester. Graduates of rural schools should bring their graduation certificates with them. Parents who have children to enter the kindergarten are requested to enroll them with Supt. Williams either of these days. Any child who will be 5 years of age before January 1st, 1928, is eligible to enter the kindergarten. Miss Thomas and Mr. Williams will be in their offices at the school building from 9 to 12 and 1 to 4 registration days.

OLD SETTLERS PICNIC AT GOLDFIELD, AUG. 26

The 24th annual picnic of the Boone Valley Old Settlers Association will be held at Goldfield, tomorrow, Friday, August 26. As usual, the picnic will be at Riverside Park. Everyone is invited to attend. You are requested to bring your lunch. Roast beef and coffee will be served at noon.

VAN METRE ELECTED STATE CHAPLAIN

Garner Leader: At the American Legion election held Wednesday of last week in Des Moines, the Rev. C. H. VanMetre, pastor of the Methodist church of this place was honored by election to the office of state chaplain. The honor that has thus been handed to our popular Methodist minister is one well deserved, and we know that the Rev. Mr. VanMetre will fill the position with honor to himself and his home town as well. In many ways has the Rev. Van Metre helped put Garner on the map. He is a conscientious, christian gentleman, but not only as a minister of the gospel does he excel, but in a broad-minded way, lends effort and influence to every public enterprise that has as its object the advancement of his home, community and the state at large. Rev. "Van" is at this time and has been for several years, chaplain of the 133rd regiment, I. N. G. During the World war he saw much service, and that overseas, so he is amply qualified for the position he holds.

Man 77, Weds Girl, 18

G. W. Gunder, 77 years of age, a resident of Algona, was married recently to Clara Mixdorf, 18 years of age, of Kanawha. Rev. Lewis of Garner performed the ceremony at the U. P. parsonage there. Mr. Gunders' first wife died a couple years age, after 55 years of married life to Gunder.

Miss Gertrude Ely arrived home yesterday from her trip to Europe. She landed in New York in July and visited relatives in the east the past month, coming to Wisconsin where she met Dr. and Mrs. Missman of Klemme, who have a cottage there and coming home with them by auto. Miss Ely went to London about a year ago to study music. She also traveled in thirteen different countries, visiting the conservatories of music.

Jim Blocker, a former Belmond resident and well known here, was greeting old friends in town the first of the week. He now lives in Oklahoma and is enroute to Wisconsin to look after business interests.

IOWA FARM TAXES REDUCED BY STATE

Iowa farmers will have to pay approximately $650,000 less in state taxes alone during the coming year as a result of the reduction of farm land valuations for taxation purposes made this month by the State Executive Council, officials of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation estimate.

Farm leaders stated that this was a move in the right direction and brought farm lands more nearly on a par with other classes of taxable property from the standpoint of the amount of taxes which had to be paid.

The reduction is the result of a special petition made to the executive council by the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation supported by the Department of Agriculture, H. A. Wallace, the Weather and Crop Service. In the hearings before the council President Hearst of the Federation presented reports from more than 1,000 farms throughout the state, showing that they were not producing a return in keeping with the valuations which had been placed on them for taxation purposes.

The 1926 valuation placed on farms for tax was $2,345,052, 439. The 1927 valuation will be $2,279,740,461. This is a reduction of about 3 percent, or a reduction from an average of $68.20 per acre to an average of $66.20 per acre. These figures were obtained from the office of the State Auditor.

A reduction of livestock valuations was secured in 1926 and were left at about that figure for this year.

DEBATE SCHOOL TAX QUESTION

Should the state bear a third or more of the expense of running local public schools?

A lot of farmers in Iowa this fall and winter will argue that the state should, and an equally large number will argue that it should not, for this is the question selected to be used in the sixth annual state-wide farmers' debate.

The question is stated: "Resolved: that at least one-third of the expense of running local public schools should be borne by the state." It was selected from a list of 10 submitted to county agents and Farm Bureau leaders for a vote. The choice has just been announced by W. H. Stacy, rural organization specialist at Iowa State College.

The school tax question received twice as many votes as did any other question.

The state debate this year will be developed along about the same lines as the five preceding ones. First, the question will be debated in township meetings, township teams will be selected and these will meet to determine the county championship teams. These county champion teams will later meet to determine the district and finally the state championship.

Last year 140 townships in the state discussed or debated the state question, which was relative to the adoption of a state income tax.

A set of reference material and bibliography is being prepared by Mr. Stacy and will be available Sept. 1. Other material will be furnished by the State Library Commission, Des Moines. The Iowa State Teachers College at Cedar Falls is also assisting in gathering material for the debaters.

Inquiries for material should be addressed to W. H. Stacy, Rural Organization, Extension Service, Ames, Iowa.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Cooperative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of August 7 to August 13.

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
7	85	59	—	Cloudy
8	69	56	.40	Clear
9	75	39	—	Clear
10	80	49	—	Clear
11	85	53	—	Cloudy
12	88	58	—	Pt. cloudy
13	91	63	T	Cloudy

Miss Jessie Burress, of Minneapolis is visiting old friends in Belmond this week. Miss Jessie is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. R. N. Burress, formerly of this place, where Rev. Burress was pastor of the Methodist church.

The Western Skyline

J. T. Tyrrell, Well Known Citizen, Dies

Sudden Demise Comes As Shock To Many Friends

J. Thomas Tyrrell was born at Oxford Junction, Iowa, June 17, 1861 and died at his home in Belmond, August 19, 1927, aged 66 years, 2 months and 2 days.

When he was about fifteen years old his father died, leaving him and his younger brother, C. H., and sister, Stella, to help their mother run the farm. He lived with his mother until his marriage to Anna Wolfe on March 16, 1882. They began housekeeping on a farm near Oxford Junction where they lived until they moved to this community about eighteen years ago. For three years after coming here he lived on the farm of his brother, W. C. Tyrrell, Sr. He then moved to town and engaged in buying stock and conducting a meat market. About five years ago he was compelled to give up his active business career on account of ill health.

Two children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Tyrrell, a son, who died in infancy and a daughter, Ida, who died five years ago last April.

He leaves to mourn his departure his devoted wife, two brothers, Perry of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and C. H. of Sioux Rapids, Iowa, also three sisters, Mrs. (Dr.) Brink of Mobridge, South Dakota, Mrs. J. M. DuBois of Oxford Junction, Iowa, and Mrs. Stella Myers of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. A brother, W. C. Tyrrell, Sr. of Beaumont, Texas, and a sister, Mrs. Liddia Fields of Oxford, Junction, Iowa, preceded him in death.

Mr. Tyrrell was one of those big hearted men whose sympathy and help went out to every one in need. No worthy appeal was made to him to which he did not respond. He was a friend whom no one ever had occasion to doubt, and his life is a higher tribute to his memory than any words man could utter. His life stands for itself. The floral offerings were many and as beautiful as the most skilled florists could make them.

Services were held at the home Sunday afternoon and were conducted by Rev. S. U. Leinbach and Rev. Byron Wright. The sermon was comforting and a worthy tribute to his life. The music was apropriate and beautifully rendered. The remains were laid to rest in the Franklin Grove cemetery overlooking the town he loved so well.

Out of town friends and relatives attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tyrrell Sr., Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tyrrell, Jr. and Dr. and Mrs. Fillgraf, of Spencer; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. DuBois, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Field, and Ed Tyrrell, of Oxford Junction; Will C. Field of Orlano, Florida; Cliff Field, Mrs. Mae Austin, Mrs. Lydia Cook, and Mrs. Beulah Perkins, of Cedar Rapids; Mrs. Stella Myers, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; H. F. Tyrrell, Beaumont, Texas; G. M. Wolf, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kent and daughter, Olin; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Leonard, Clarion; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ballou, Rowan.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the friends for their many acts of kindness and words of sympathy in the illness and death of our loved one, and for the beautiful floral tributes.

Mrs. J. T. Tyrrell and Relatives

Rev. Wipperman To Assume New Charge

Will Go To Hector, Minnesota To Take Charge Sept. 4

Rev. Wippermann, pastor of St John's Lutheran church here, has accepted a call to the Hector, Minnesota, charge, and leaves Sunday afternoon to assume his new duties. His new charge will consist of St. Paul's Evangelical church at Hector, and St. John's church at Osceola. Rev. Wippermann and family came to Belmond in November, 1920, and in the nearly seven years that they have been here, St. John's church has progressed splendidly. A notable part of their work is the fine new modern church erected last year, one of the finest of its kind in northern Iowa.

St. John's congregation have not called another pastor as yet, and expect to be served for the present by the pastor at Britt, and by theological students from St. Paul.

Belmond regrets to lose Rev. Wipperman and family, but wish them the very best of success in their new field of endeavor.

Reception

The congregation of St. John's Lutheran church held a farewell reception, Monday evening, in the parlors of the church, in honor of their pastor, Rev. J. F. Wippermann, who leaves Sunday to accept the charge at Hector, Minnesota. An enjoyable evening was spent, and refreshments served.

SHOWER

Mrs. J. S. White, Mrs. E. F. Bailey and Miss Bernetas Wolle were hostesses, Tuesday evening, to a delightful kitchen shower in honor of Miss Elma Stapley, whose marriage to Mr. Orvis Shillington of Clarion will take place soon.

After an evening of merriment, the bride-to-be was presented with many useful articles.

A dainty pink and white buffet luncheon was served by the hostesses.

The out of town guests were Miss Carrie Shillington of Clarion, and Miss Jessie Burress of Minneapolis.

COMMUNITY CLUB

The August meeting of the Community Club will be held Friday, the 26th, at the library basement. A good program in the form of a musical, in charge of Miss Carol Tyrrell, will be carried out after the business session. Come and help with your presence.

The musical hour will consist of four numbers, as follows:

Musical numbers by Miss Carol Tyrrell and Miss Shirley Brooks, and vocal selections by Miss Leola Jenison and Mrs. C. O. Fitts.

The hostesses are Mrs. Thiltgen, Mrs. Martin Nissen, Mrs. Wm. Nelson, Mrs. R. A. Rankins, Mrs. M. C. Barry and Miss Julia Jacobson.

PLACE WRIGHT COUNTY LAND VALUE AT $151

Based on land sales during period August, 1921 to February, 1927 inclusive. Total sales in county during period 364 according to figures compiled by R. A. Miller, tax commisisoner for the C. & N. W. railway company. Total acreage covered by said sales 54,129. Average county sale price per acre during period $173.84. Average estimated true value per acre for the year 1926, $172.29. Ratio of 1926 assessed ful value per 47.61 per cent. (The estimated average true value of land per acre as of January 1, 1925 was $168.75; January 1, 1926 $162.00 and January 1, 1927, $151.75. The average amount of shrink from 1925 to 1927 is $17.20 or 10.19 per cent.

Following is the condensed statement of land sales for the period 1921-1927, by townships with estimated average true value of all land in each township.

Boone—28 transfers, 6,160 acres. $150.45 average sale price, $132.00 average true value.

Norway—31 transfers, 4,094 acres, $169.25 average sale price, $147.25 average true value.

Belmond—19 transfers, 3,518 acres, $177.96 average sale price, $154.75 average true value.

Pleasant—20 transfers, 2,185 acres, $148.33 average sale price, $129.00 average true value.

Liberty—17 transfers, 1,914 acres, $187.60 average sale price, $164.00 average true value.

Lake—18 transfers, 2,846 acres, $224.94 average sale price, $195.75 average true value.

Grant—9 transfers, 1,245 acres. $163.10 average sale price, $142.75 average true value.

Iowa—27 transfers, 2,850 acres, $173.55 average sale price, $151.75 average true value.

Eagle Grove—30 transfers, 3,723 acres, $225.17 average sale price, $197.25 average true value.

Dayton—19 transfers, 2,656 acres, $193.69 average sale price, $168.50 average true value.

Lincoln—27 transfers, 3,289 acres, $194.39 average sale price, $170.00 average true value.

Blaine—26 transfers, 4,137 acres, $135.20 average sale price, $183.75 average true value.

Troy—24 transfers, 3,527 acres, $167.70 average sale price, $145.75 average true value.

Woolstock—21 transfers, 3,234 acres, $176.17 average sale price, $153.25 average true value.

Wall Lake—18 transfers, 3,818 acres, $159.13 average sale price $139.50 average true value.

Vernon—30 transfers, 4,933 acres, $166.75 average sale price, $145.75 average true value.—Monitor.

LITTLE RICHARD THOMPSON DIES FROM POISONING

An item inadvertently omitted last week was the death of little Richard Thompson, 8 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thompson. The lad had cut one foot on a piece of glass a short time before, and blood poisoning set in. It was thought he was recovering, and last Monday he was brought home from the hospital. About 15 minutes after returning home, he suddenly passed away, death being caused by a blood clot lodging in the heart.

OBITUARY

Richard Thompson was born August 9, 1919, and died August 15, 1927, age eight years and six days. There are left to mourn his passing his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thompson, one sister, Anita Mae, four brothers, William, Roger, Donold and Duane, besides other relatives and many friends. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30, at the home, the Rev. S. U. Leinbach in charge. Mrs. W. H. Trafford and Miss Elizabeth Leinbach sang. Four Boy Scouts acted as pall bearers, Duane Packard, Junior Goelz, Duane Brady and Peter Steenblock. Interment was in Franklin Grove cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy in the loss of our beloved son and brother, and for the beautiful floral offerings.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thompson and Family

Alleged Petty Thief Is Caught

Young Man Who Worked On Farm Near Here Accused Of Taking Property

OTHER NEWS OF COURT

Vern Hay, who has been employed as a farm hand near Belmond, seems to have brought considerable trouble upon himself. He is charged with the theft of some chickens, which were sold at Webster City, an overcoat, some blankets and a robe. His hearing is set for Wednesday before Justice Triggs.

Lyman and Lillian Nelson are defendants in a suit brought by the First National Bank of Clarion to collect the sum of $360 on their promissory note.

M. S. Gunderson of Dows brings suit against Annie Anderson asking judgment on an unpaid note in the sum of $466.50. A second case suit by same parties involves a note for $362.71.

J. D. Thebiay of Eagle Grove petitons the court that title of an undivided two-thirds interest in nw 1-4 15-92-25 be established against the adverse claims of Mamie Thebiay, et al.

L. A. Andrew, receiver for the Citizens State Bank, of Goldfield, brings action against Jerome and Helen Hawkins to secure balance deu on their three promissory notes, $8521.02.

Melvin Pease, an Eagle Grove lad, was brought before Judge Thompson at Clarion last Wednesday on the charge of entering a photograph studio in his home town in the absence of the proprietor. He was charged with the larceny of $17 in cash, which was made good by his parents and the boy paroled to Sheriff Johnson.

J. E. Mulkins, as administrator of the estate of S. P. Mulkins, formerly of Clarion, brings action against E. H. and Gertrude Holmes demanding judgment for $1000 on their joint note.

The board of supervisors visited the state asylum at Cherokee Monday. Fifty Wright county patients are receiving treatment there.

John Claude of Clarion was fined $50 by Justice Triggs Tuesday, having entered a plea of guilty to the charge of petit larceny, the Rock Island being the complaining witness.

Art Friesleben of Belmond forged a $400 check on the Hub Motor Co. as part payment on a new Chevrolet car. The deal was made Saturday and the forgery was not discovered until the following Monday. In the meantime the new car owner had taken his departure.

A trio of Indian boys spent one night last week in the Wright county jail. They were Gregory Skunk, Joe Whitney and Raymond Schmite, who with three companions had escaped a day or two previous from the Indian sanatorium at Toledo. They were 12 and 14 years of age. Their red complexion and straight black hair made their identification easy. They were from the Dakota reservation and said they were enroute to Sioux Falls, S. D,. They came to this county in a stolen Ford roadster secured from a farmer by the name of W. M. Craig living near Conrad. They ran out of gas near the W. H. Trowbridge farm south of Galt. Geo. Cook noticed the abandoned car and notified the sheriff's office. In the meantime Marshal Hemingway of Dows had taken the "redskins" in charge, soon after their arrival in that town. Sheriff Johnson and Deputy Leonard went to Dows and brought them to Clarion. Tama county officers were notified and a guard sent to escort them back home. One of the boys was armed with an ordinary sling shot, such as the average school boy carries in his pocket.

The Toledo sanatorium is an educational institution for the care of the Fox and Sac Indians. A movement is on foot for increasing the capacity of the institution from 80 to 100 patients.—Monitor.

Miss Magdalene Johnson is visiting friends in Minneapolis this week.

Belmond Independent
-AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES
Display, per column inch -------25c
Locals, per line ----------10c
Classified, per word ----------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Editorials

A young man ran for the legislature of Illinois and was overwhelmingly defeated. He entered business and failed, spending several years paying up the debts of his worthless partner. He fell in love with a beautiful girl, became engaged to be married—and she died. Entering politics again, this young man attempted to secure the nomination for congress and was defeated. He tried for an appointment to the United States Land Office, and failed. He became a candidate for the United States senate and was defeated. He was a candidate for vice president, and lost out. One failure followed another, one setback after another, loss followed loss, in his life.

Then he became one of the greatest figures in world history—Abraham Lincoln.

Lincoln's life and struggles have been used so often to cite a moral that it has become trite. But nevertheless, the moral remains, and as one studies the youth of today it becomes more evident than ever that this moral applies, and needs to be demonstrated. Somehow, there seems to be a lack of stick-to-itiveness in too many young men of today. Too many of them appear to be drifting with the current, without making an effort to swim, taking what comes. One wonders whether they are lacking in vision, the vision which kept Lincoln constantly trying despite the repeated defeats. Of the graduates of the Belmond schools in the past 25 years, how many do you know who have applied themselves diligently to a chosen line, and stuck to it until they have reached success, and how many can you name who have let their first defeat keep them down? There never was a time in world history when the world needed leaders as it does today, and seemingly leaders were never so scarce. The opportunity awaits today more than ever before. The manager of a large mercantile corporation recently said that their greatest difficulty was in securing young men of ability and ambition—chiefly the ambition—to manage their stores. Out of 40 applicants, two were chosen for training; the other 38 had let defeat in past attempts discourage them.

In another month to six weeks Belmond business firms are going to begin noticing something—the missing pay roll of the sugar factory. Each fall for the past few years one hundred thousand dollars have been turned loose in the town in the way of the campaign payroll. This fall it won't be here. And it is going to make a difference. You cannot take a hundred thousand dollars in cold cash away from a community this size without it being noticed in business. The lack of that payroll means that many families and many workers who had more money to spend will have less. They won't buy as much at home as they did. There will not be outside labor which came in, spending money locally. It is going to make a difference. The community has felt it some already, but this fall will feel the real effects of the shutdown of the sugar mill.

Yet we do not need to feel any ill effects from this shutdown. If we would simply forget that the factory ever existed, wipe it off our memory as we have wiped off our losses in it, and get some regular, steady business that is going elsewhere we would never miss the payroll. And we would be better off because this business would be consistent business, to be depended upon year after year.

Business is pretty apt to go where it is invited and where it thinks it will get the most for the money. Outside concerns and mail order houses invite that business through circulars, catalogs and various means of advertising. Their advertising is their invitation. By sending that invitation they have drawn attention to themselves and their merchandise. They have made fifty percent of the sale. If they can convince the reader that they have the value, they make the sale, and instead of buying at home the reader has sent away the money which should remain here.

We can forget all about this pay roll business if we will go after the business that has been getting away. The local merchant has the same means, and more, of placing his invitation and merchandise message before the buyer as the outside concern. We can keep one hundred thousand dollars of business in Belmond by getting after it, and the time to start after it is now.

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

The following held a family reunion at the home of Theo. Johnson in Latimer last Sunday: C. B. Johnson and family, H. C. Enger and family, B. J. Johnson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Johnson.

Miss Cloe Jenison went to Des Moines last Monday to prepare her exhibit of club canning work for the state fair. She is to have charge of the exhibit for this county. She has 101 different varieties of canned goods to exhibit, but the rules of the fair association will permit the display of only 60 varieties.

Belmond people who have had occasion to visit in Des Moines during the past week tell of the progress being made at the cantonment for the national army there.

There is a man in Belmond who has submitted to the War Department a plan for protecting the ships of this country from destruction by submarines. The plan appears to contain much merit and the name of the party will not be made disclosed until his plan is accepted and the war brought to an end through his efforts.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Mrs. T. B. Kaufman went to Clarion, Tuesday to visit Mrs. Garth.

E. L. Tiede and family are spending a few weeks at Okoboji.

Dr. Wallace went to New Mexico last Tuesday.

Misses Rose Wallace and Ida and Anna Anderson returned Monday from Clear Lake.

Gene Curtis and men completed a large barn on the farm of Geo. Crist this week.

W. A. Bartholomew returned from North Dakota, Tuesday

The Prohibitionists of Wright County are hereby called to meet at the Court House in Clarion Saturday

Dr. Vennum made a professional visit to Dows Monday.

Penny Klingbeil went to Rockford Saturday to visit friends.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

Where is that dramatic club talked of in Belmond early in the spring? Like the side walk question, guess it's defunct.

Peter Stacy has sold that fine span of boys to Mat Skovlin.

The fine new house which Mr. Fred Luick is buildingon his farm southeast of town is almost completed and some time next week Mr. Luick and family will occupy it. It is a house and home they may well be proud of.

J. S. Pritchard's family will move to Belmond as soon as a dwelling can be procured.

Like other towns of importance, Belmond comes in for her share of the curious. J. P. Byers has an apple tree in his yard that is bound to raise two crops.

A few geese are appearing. Jack Purdy killed one at the Twin Sister Lakes west of town.

SOUSA TO PLAY AT FAIR.

Des Moines, Special: John Philip Sousa, without a peer as a band master and a world-renowned composer, will bring his seventy-piece band and special soloists to the Iowa State Fair this summer to play a seven day engagement.

This summer marks the 50th anniversary of Sousa's debut as a band leader and composer. It is likewise the first time in history that Sousa has played for any fair or exposition in this country. He will present concerts twice each day and once each evening, from August 27th through September 2, including two special concerts on Sunday, August 28, which has been set aside as Music Day.

CHURCHES

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor
Telephone Call, 150

Sunday, August 28.

The Sunday School and Bible classes wil meet at 10 a. m.

English services will be held at 8:00 p. m. Theme: "Whose Servants are We." Romans 6:1-23.

The catechetical class will meet at 10:00 a. m. on Tuesday August 30 and Friday, September 2.

Thursday, September 1. An illustrated lecture on Alaska will be given at 8:00 p. m. by Mr. Roy Olson, a student of our Theological Seminary at St. Paul, Minnesota. All who attended the lecture given on China last Sunday evening can vouch for the statement that it was one of the most inspirational meetings we have lately held. We look for a like meeting at this time. Let us remember it is our duty to acquaint ourselves with the work of our church in foreign lands as well as in the home lands. A free will offering will be received.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Sunday, August 28th.

The Sunday School and Bible classes will meet at 10 a. m.

English services will be held at 11 a. m. Theme: "Yes or No; Which?" Matthew 21:28-31.

Wednesday, August 31. A congregational festival and Ladies Aid bazaar will be held in the grove by the farm home occupied by Mr. E. C. Markus, one and one half miles south of St. Olaf church. Rev. H. O. Shurson of Minneapolis will be the speaker of the day. The program will begin at 10 a. m. sharp. Dinner and other refreshments will be served by the ladies. We hope to see many of our friends come and enjoy the day with us.

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN
J. F. Wipperman, Pastor

Divine service Sunday morning at 10:45 in the English language. Your pastor will deliver his farewell address at that time.

Sunday school at 9:45. Try to make it a perfect attendance.

You are cordially invited to attend our service and to worship with us.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

The morning worship hour is 11:00 a. m. Next Sunday evening we plan an out-of-door service at the Oscar Jenison home, eight o'clock. This will probably be the last service of the kind for the season, and may we do what we can to make it a good one.

The Sunday School assembles at the ten o'clock hour.

This afternoon, Thursday, the Missionary Society meets at the Rev. S. U. Leinbach home. If without a way of going, be at the church building at 2:15.

EMOTIONS AND THE APPETITE

It is a well recognized fact that a person in love loses his appetite; but it is not so well known that violent emotions of any sort will rob one of the desire to eat.

Joy, grief, fear, anxiety, anger make one so he cannot eat.

It would be a blessing in disguise if we heavyweight adults would get so mad at least once a day that we would miss a meal. The pity of it is that we become so regular in our habits and so calm in our emotional life that no such good luck befalls us and we eat serenely on. By strange irony, it is the slim little undernourished tads who sorely need to eat, who become so agitated that they cannot brook the sight of food. Parents too often induce this emotional state without realizing the harm they are doing their undernourished children.

The erratic parent, the kind who scolds and is subject to sudden outbursts and all but throws dishes, is father to the underweight child. Cheer and serenity make for good appetite and good digestion. Do not make your child worried or fearful. Do not create unpleasant scenes when your child is about to eat.

Treat your child fairly and give consideration to his tastes in food. If one child is not permitted to have what another child is allowed, be sure to explain to the deprived child why he cannot have that food and that it is for his health's sake that he is refused and not because any favoritism is shown to his brother. Jealousy is a great cause of distaste for food, and if he feels that you are denying him because you do not like him as well, he will grieve over that and have a dislike for his food.

To compel a child to eat anything simply because you say so, arouses his obstinacy and anger. If you are reasonable with him, he will be more reasonable.

When you set food before a child, expect him to eat it as a matter of course. If you show doubt about it, he is quick to sense your fear and this makes him capricious.

If your child refuses to eat wholesome food set before him, leave it for him twenty or thirty minutes, then remove it and do not give him anything to eat until the next mealtime. It will not hurt him to miss a meal and he will soon see the point and learn to eat what is offered him at regular times.

Above all things, do not constantly coax and be anxious and fight with your child about his meals. Agitation will destroy his appetite and his digestion. "Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, than a stalled ox and hatred therewith."

THE COMPACT KITCHEN

For convenience in kitchen arrangement, consider the dining car. I visited one the other day and this is what I saw:

Within a floor-space two feet wide by twenty long—forty square feet—worked four men, and there they prepared an average of three hundred meals a day, cooked and washed dishes. Allotted ten square feet each, there was no fumbling nor waste motion nor hunting for things. There was a place for everything and each thing was in it—in plain sight and within easy reach. Every inch of available space was full, but in scientific arrangement, not in confusion. It was not artistic, but it was efficient.

There was a soft coal range and the place was hot, though well ventilated. Above the range was a warming oven full of warmed dishes. A steam table kept cooked dishes hot. Tools were in racks along the wall. An assortment of pots and pans offered one a wide supply to choose from. The refrigerator was filled with ice from the top. At stations men threw it in through a trap door in the roof. The water tank was above the storage closet. Dishes were washed and wiped at a sink, and put into a cupboard. Food was served through a window. There was a cork carpet on the floor Everything was spick and span.

THE HARMONIOUS COSTUME

More and more we are learning what "chic" is. It consists largely in a certain plainness and trimness with a touch of severity. Having things which match is a large part of smartness. For example, a rather ordinary dress or hat, of the same color, and with shoes, hose, gloves and coat to match, is infinitely smarter than a more expensive dress of brown, hat of blue, coat of gray, hose of flesh, and shoes of black.

There are great advantages in having a single perfect costume which can be worn for almost all occasions and which is harmonious, in good taste, and fitted to your complexion, and figure. When purchasing any addition to that outfit, it is economy and better taste to make this also matching, rather than buying another color, as we are prone to do to have "something different."

CLEAN HAIR

With beauty parlors vying with filling stations in popularity, we have finally come to realize that hair was made to be washed. Some old-fashioned folk used to believe that to wet the hair would spoil it or was very much counter to nature. True the hair is supplied with a natural oil and to rob it of this will make it brittle, but as a living part of the body, it must be kept clean to be healthy.

Wash it once in two weeks, if you wish. It could be washed every week without injury, unless it is very dry hair. Do not neglect to wash it longer than three weeks. Use only good soap on your hair. A liquid soap is best, since it is more evenly distributed and does not make the hair streaked. Dry the hair in the breeze, shaking and wiping it. Neglected hair will get a sweaty sour odor which is very disagreeable. It also holds the odors of cooking and cigar smoke and will not smell sweet and clean unless kept so.

PLANES AND RADIO HELP CATCH FISH

Newest Things Help Oldest Human Industry.

Washington.—Aircraft and radio, the newest things under the sun, are being recruited to the aid of fishing, a human industry as old as hunting and older than farming, according to Lewis Radcliffe, deputy United States fish commissioner.

Canada, England, Scotland, France and Japan are among the countries making use of airplanes for locating schools of fish, whales, etc., and for maintaining patrols against illicit fishing. The Danish government is also reported to be contemplating an airplane fish patrol off the coast of Greenland, where there is a stretch of 225 miles of fishing waters which a single surface vessel cannot adequately guard, but which could easily be kept under supervision by a fast-flying and far-seeing plane.

The United States was the pioneer in this work, having used planes and dirigibles as early as 1919, but lack of funds and the disorganized condition of the fisheries have prevented further development in this country.

In Spain efforts are now being made to interest fishing-vessel owners to install radio telephone receiving and transmitting apparatus and at least one fishing vessel has been equipped. In addition to the benefits in case of storm or disaster, it is claimed that the addition of this equipment will enable the fishing vessel to keep in touch with the market and thus return at more advantageous periods; that canneries may be notified of expected time of arrival and extent of catch.

Undersea Relief Maps of Pacific Made by Navy

Washington.—An achievement of the navy during the cruise of the battle fleet from San Francisco to Australia two years ago has just come to light with publication of undersea relief maps of the route the ships followed on that historic voyage of more than 7,000 miles.

Graphic representations of soundings taken at the time by the battleship Maryland, the light cruiser Milwaukee, and the destroyer Hull are shown. They are expected to be of incalculable value to navigation in the Pacific as well as to the advancement of the science of oceanography.

Equipped with sonic electric depth-sounding devices, it was an easy matter for the ships to chart the bed of the waters as they passed over. They accurately mapped the deepest ravines. Sheer pinnacles rising 24,000 feet in some instances were located. Along other stretches of the route the maps disclose queer outlines of the Pacific's bed, suggestive of an impressionistic picture of the skyline of a great city.

In the opinion of some navy hydrographers, the bottom of the oceans and other bodies of waters may be charted, though they be concealed miles below the surface even before man concludes his age-old task of mapping the exposed portions of the world. And this, they say, is possible without ever dropping a lead line from a ship.

One-Horned Rhinoceros Is Found in Java Jungle

Berlin.—A scaly monster of the prehuman ages of the earth, surviving into modern times on the swampy fastnesses of southern Java, is reported to the scientific journal, Die Umschau, by Dr. P. Vageler.

It is described as a one-horned rhinoceros, related to a form already known elsewhere in the East Indies, but differing from it in that its hide is closely covered with small, horny scales. It also has enormous front teeth, like those of the hippopotamus. It has often been described by the natives under the name "Tanggiling," which means "scaly beast," but Europeans were incredulous. Finally photographs were brought out of the jungle showing the animal.

Likes "Poker Face"

London.—The tennis expert of the Westminster Gazette is quite enthusiastic over the fair Helen of California. Her victory over bare-legged Billie Tapscott of South Africa the critic describes as "a miracle of hitting" by "a demure figure of gracious efficiency, without parade, without the suspicion of side, without a fragment of fanfarade."

Briton Bags 280 Lions on Hunt in Africa

London.—The world's biggest record for big-game shooting, which is held by Leslie Tarleton, companion of Theodore Roosevelt on the late President's African hunt, is now being threatened by an English hunter, J. P. Lucy, who has just returned from Africa with 280 lions to his credit. Tarleton's record is 286 lions.

Lucy will soon return to Kenya for another hunt, after which he expects to claim the championship. He believes that not even Tarleton has equaled his record of 26 lions in three weeks. Lucy also has killed 84 elephants and 100 rhinoceroses in other expeditions.

FREE AIR!

Good Morning. Did you have Belmond Bread for Breakfast? Be a Booster!

Three things that I Could do without—
Are spinach, kale
And sauerkraut.
—Sam Hill.

I'd surely think
It was no loss,
If they'd not give Me applesauce.
—Adam Bede.

And I believe
That I could bear it
If I should never
See a carrot.
—Judd Mortimer Lewis.

Gladly could I
Endure all these;
If someone'd eat
My cottage cheese.
—Doane Kiechel.

I hate, I hate,
O, how I hate! O,
How I hate
The red tomato.
—E. S. W. in Publisher's Auxiliary

At none of these
My nose I'd turn up,
If I'd be spared
The lowly turnip.

At last reports, a certain hash house proprietor was still waiting for a counter hopper.

No, a counter hopper is no relation to a grasshopper

Maybe there's nothing to it, but have you noticed that none of the Legion boys lost a car in Des Moines at the State Legion Convention this year?

Here's a little tip to car owners: Don't wash your windows too clean. You may avoid accidents. The other evening we had a passenger in the back seat who was enjoying a bite of Peachy Scrap. In due time he leaned over to expectorate thru the window.

It wasn't open.

Did you ever try throwing an egg against a brick wall?

ADMINISTRATOR'S OR EXECUTOR'S NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the undersigned has this day been appointed and commissioned, by the District Court of Wright County, in the State of Iowa, Administratrix of the estate of James S. Blair, deceased; and all persons having claims against said estate, are hereby notified to file them, with the Clerk of said Court, clearly stated and duly sworn to, and within legal time, preparatory to their being allowed or proved; and persons owing said estate are requested to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and avoid costs.

Dated at Belmond, Iowa, this 22nd day of August, A. D. 1927.

Lizzie S. Blair,
Administratrix.

W. E. Bullard,
Attorney. 413

SHOW FEEDER CATTLE.

Des Moines, Special: One of the most unusual features of the coming Iowa State Fair, opening here August 24, will be a big Feeder Cattle exhibit which will headline the National Livestock Show to be held in conjunction with the Fair.

The Feeder Cattle exhibit will portray the latest progress made by Iowa livestock feeders in the scientific production of beef, as well as an explanation to housewives, of the difference between the quality of beef in finished cuts of meat obtained from various grades of steers.

Included in the exhibit will be the different types of feeder cattle available to the farmer, and side by side with these steers will be shown cattle of similar grades after they have been fed out, together with detailed comparisons showing the profits which the feeders may expect to make from each grade of animals. For the interest of housewives, the new markings adopted by the United States government for designating prime, best, and good cuts will also be displayed.

RAILROADS REDUCE RATES.

Des Moines, Special: Drastic rate reductions have been announced by all railroads in Iowa and northern Missouri, in connection with the coming Iowa State Fair and National Livestock Show, scheduled here for August 24 to September 2.

A special rate of one cent a mile each way for round trip is being offered by all roads, throughout the entire exposition period, although some lines are providing even lower special inducements.

For the benefit of those who plan to drive by motor to and from the fair, the state highway authorities announce that all main routes will be placed in tip-top condition. Fair officials here predict that with favorable weather during the period of the fair, a new attendance record will be set.

AGRICULTURAL NEWS NOTES

MILKWEEDS MAY BE OF VALUE

Milkweeds, which are thought to be a nuisance to farmers, may become a standard annual crop along with corn, oats, flax and other farm crops, when Fiske Gerhardt, working in the Chemistry and Plan Physiology Departments of the Agricultural Experiment Station at Iowa State College, has completed his experiments on methods of converting the plant into marketable materials.

There are a number of products of commercial importance that can be obtained from the milkweed. While no one of these products alone can be produced cheaply enough to warrant an extensive cultivation of milkweeds at present, Mr. Gerhardt believes that by proper manufacturing methods the products derived from the milkweed make that plant of agricultural value.

It has long been known that the milk or latex from the milkweed is similar to rubber latex. However, it has passed unobserved as a possible source for rubber. Mr. Gerhardt reports that the milkweed in the wild states produces 2½ to 3 1-3 percent of rubber.

The milkweed will produce 55 or 60 bushels of seed per acre, about the same as that of corn, and from 3 to 3½ tons of dry stalks, which is almost as high as the corn stalk production per acre.

It will also produce about 650 pounds of a cotton floss material, which is above the cotton production per acre. The seeds will yield about 20 percent oil and 35 to 40 percent protein. The oil compares well with cottonseed oil, and the protein would make an excellent stock food. The "cotton floss" is now used to make a superior quality of upholstering material, and it may have other possibilities.

The fiber, which runs the entire length of the stalk, has a high tensile strength and would make an excellent hemp. It compares well with manilla hemp as to strength. Mr. Gerhardt also has produced paper and wallboard of a superior quality. The long, tough fibers help to make an extra strong board. In making wallboard, he used as high as 80 percent of the entire plant.

The fact that the milkweed is a perennial makes it a desirable crop for the farmer. Mr. Gerhardt had a problem in getting the plants to grow from seeds. He found it necessary to scarify the seeds, after which he obtained about an 80 percent germination.

The milkweed is of two species: the common milkweed, which grows from 3 to 5 feet in height, and a smaller plant that grows in swamps.

PLAN "BABY CHICK" CONVENTION

The first annual baby chick producers' convention is to be held at Ames, Sept. 12 to 16, according to an announcement just made by F. W. Wesco, field agent for the Iowa Poultry Improvement Association.

The convention is planned to promote and improve the baby chick industry in Iowa, Mr. Wesco states. Hatchery operators, flock owners, breeders, fanciers and many others interested are invited to attend the convention. Headquarters for it will be at Iowa State College.

An attempt is under way to secure several national authorities to discuss baby chick production, poultry problems and advertising.

Among the topics to be discussed are the future of the baby chick industry in Iowa, management of breding flocks to increase the hatchability of the egg, how to advertise effectively, poultry feeding, breeding and other problems.

The final day of the convention, Friday, Sept. 16, will be devoted entirely to the first annual meeting of the Iowa Poultry Improvement Association.

Programs of the convention will be available soon. They may be secured by writing to F. W. Wesco, field agent, Iowa Poultry Improvement Association, Ames, Iowa.

PAYS TO HOG-DOWN CORN IF—

Hogs husk about 1 acre of corn out of every 14 grown in Iowa.

So says John M. Evvard, famed animal feeding experimenter at Iowa State College, Ames. The practice of turning hogs into the cornfield, known as "hogging-down" if properly done, pays by saving labor, and by increasing the rapidity and economy of gains. Mr. Evvard has found in extensive experiments which extend back several years.

To make hogging-down corn profitable, the corn must be supplemented with tankage, or some other equally good protein feed, and with minerals, the tests at Ames have shown. The best plan is to place in the corn field self-feeders which contain tankage, or other protein feed, and another feeder containing a mineral mixture. This will allow the hogs to balance up the deficiencies of the corn and will speed up and cheapen the gains.

Skimmilk or buttermilk will take the place of tankage very well if these are available, Mr. Evvard says. The cheapest gains made in the tests at Ames, as an average of all the years, have been obtained where the hogs have been turned into a field in which soybeans had been planted in the corn hills at planting time and tankage and minerals supplied in self-feeders when the hogs were turned into the corn.

While the gains were a little more economical where soybeans had been planted in with the corn, more pounds of pork have been produced to the acre where soybeans were not included, but where the straight corn was supplemented with tankage and minerals.

It is a mistake to depend on soybeans planted in the corn to furnish all of the protein to balance up the corn, the tests at Ames show. While soybeans are high in protein, not enough will be available where they are planted in the corn to take care of the pigs' needs. Where tankage has been fed in self-feeders in addition to the soybeans and corn, the gains have been more economical. Allowing the pigs to run in a field of clover or alfalfa adjoining the corn field, will cheapen and speed up the gains.

Where corn, without soybeans in the hill, was hogged-down with minerals as the sole supplement, the results have not been good. With such a ration it took 693 pounds of feed to make 100 pounds of pork, whereas, when corn with soybeans in the hill was used and the pigs got tankage and minerals from self-feeders in addition, they produced 100 pounds of gain from only 412 pounds of feed.

SMALL GRAIN RUST PREVALENT

Rusts of oats and wheat are widespread thruout Iowa this year, reducing the yields in many quarters, according to findings of the plant disease specialists of Iowa State College, who have visited various sections of Iowa.

Three general kinds of rust were prevalent in Iowa—black stem rust of oats and wheat, crown rust of oats and leaf rust of wheat. Leaf rust caused heavy losses in winter wheat this year, while the damage from black stem rust was not so widespread. Crown rust of oats lowered the yields of many fields of late oats but did not seriously injure much of the early oats.

Had it not been for dry weather during June and July, crown rust probably would have affected oats far more than it did this year, believes R. H. Porter, plant disease extension specialist at Amee.

Certain varieties of oats and wheat are more resistant than others to the rusts. The varieties grown, together with local weather conditions and the possible presence of bushes of the common barberry, determined largely how severe damage was from black stem rust. One stage of this disease—in the early spring—lives on the common barberry. If these are all destroyed in a community, it will greatly aid in checking the disease.

Crown rust, the common leaf rust of oats, came on early this year, being carried in by winds from the south. Early varieties are not commonly injured much by this rust, but late oats frequently are. As with black stem rust, crown rust lives over a part of the year on another plant. In this case it is common or European buckthorn. Where a buckthorn tree or bush occurs in a locality, it frequently will be the cause of an early outbreak of crown rust.

The only control measure for leaf rust of wheat is to grow resistant varieties. Removing common barberry bushes will help check black stem rust of oats and wheat, while getting rid of buckthorn plants will aid in preventing injurious outbreaks of crown rust of oats.

DAIRY CLUBS IN 53 COUNTIES

One thousand and twenty four Iowa farm boys and girls in 53 counties this year have joined a dairy calf club, according to a report just issued by the Iowa State Dairy Association. Waterloo, which is in charge of dairy club work in the state.

Interest in dairy calf clubs has grown rapidly, the report discloses, for there were but 389 club members in 1924, 504 in 1925 and 937 in 1926.

The majority of the club members this year, 624, have Holstein calves, Guernseys are second in number with 240, Jerseys third with 129, Brown Swiss fourth with 26 and Aryshires fifth with 5. In Fayette County there is a bull club, but in all others the calves are heifers.

Most of the dairy calf clubs organized in Iowa are started on a three-year basis, so that by the time the three years are up, the club member has a milking cow instead of a young calf. This gives the juniors an opportunity to learn practically all phases of dairy management from calf feeding to feeding and care of the milking cow.

The state show for dairy calf club members is held at Waterloo in conjunction with the Dairy Cattle Congress. More than 200 showed their calves at the state show last year. Every club member showing a heifer is sure of at least a $5 prize.

Floyd Johnston, field secretary for the State Dairy Association, directs the club work and is superintendent of the state show at Waterloo.

SEEK IOWA STATE COOKBOOK

Copies of "Foods and Cookery," a cookbook compiled by the Foods and Nutrition Department of Iowa State College and edited by Miss Margaret H. Haggert of that department, have been sent to more than half of the states and to three foreign countries, according to records of Mrs. Maude Sharf, secretary to Frances A. Sims, acting dean of the Division of Home Economics.

These cookbooks are being sent out daily to homemakers, libraries and instructors in high schools, colleges and universities all over the United States. The three foreign copies were sent to Japan, Italy and New Zealand, where they are being used in schools.

The Splinters

"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2 Thursday, August 25 1927 No. 19

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

We've about decided that the way to get the best of an argument is not to take part in it.

—

A salesman was telling us the other day about a farmer who went to a poultry house to sell some turkeys. "How many turkeys have you?" inquired the buyer. "Oh," replied the farmer, "I'd say on a guess, somewheres between forty-nine and fifty!"

—

"If you must throw tomatoes," announced the show proprietor on amateur night, "I ask you if you won't please remove them from the cans first!"

—

A very young attorney was trying a case. A farmer had suffered the loss of twenty-four hogs at a railroad crossing. "Twenty-four hogs, gentlemen!" shouted the attorney. "Think of it! Twenty-four hogs—just twice the number there in the jury box!"

—

Here, in our childhood days, we dream of fame and fortune, gaining inspiration for our future success in life. Here, again, in our declining years we seek peace and contentment, living over the past in pleasant reveries of the good times gone by. Truly, home is a haven of traditions and memories, a harbor of love and happines, a port of good-will and comradeship. "Build a home first."

—

"My husband calls a spade a spade." "So does mine. But you ought to hear what he calls the lawnmower!"

—

A friend of ours says he has discovered that his old overcoat won't serve another winter; his car needs a new top; and his wife refuses to be seen on the street again without a new hat. There's trouble for you!"

—

Are you going to wait until the first cold snap before you order your coal? So's about a thousand others, the price will not be any cheaper than they are right now.

GET AWAY
like an arrow from a bow

Buick for 1928 gets away in traffic like an arrow from a bow!

Watch the Buicks next time you drive downtown. See how easily they step out in front when the signal changes. And note how they give other cars the slip in the friendly rivalry of traffic.

You cannot say you know the full meaning of "performance" until you've driven a Buick for 1928.

BUICK MOTOR COMPANY, FLINT, MICH.
Division of General Motors Corporation

BUICK for 1928

WEBSTER COUNTY BUICK CO.
DISTRIBUTORS
20-24 North 9th St. Fort Dodge, Iowa

BELMOND—HUB MOTOR CO. Kanawha—Yeakel & Mallow
Clarion—Linfor Auto Co. Dows—A Banwell
Eagle Grove—Porter Auto Co.

WHEN BETTER BUICKS ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

MR. FEEDER!

Buying Power means Selling Power. We have a carload of

DARLING'S BEEF TANKAGE

on track. Better get your order in, as this is PRICED TO SELL QUICKLY

Our Stock of FLOUR and FEEDS is always complete. And remember we pay Highest Market Prices for GRAIN AND POULTRY

Truck Service if you want it.

Farmers Grain Company
PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!
BELMOND, - - IOWA

Bank

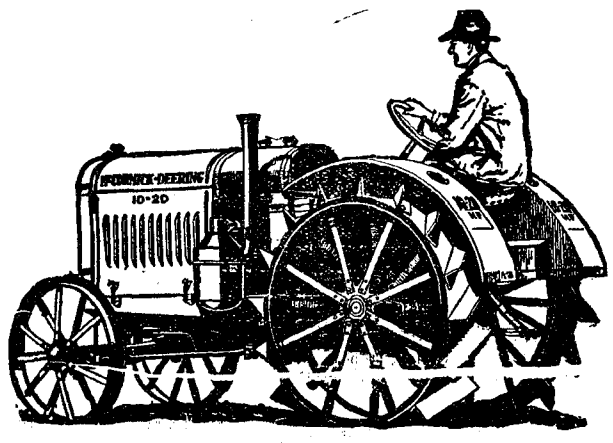
The Great Cog In Wheels of Commerce

It grinds out the products of industry on one side and dollars to the depositor on on the other—the Bank.

Every deposit made by this Institution's clients is so much added power in the ever-turning wheel of commerce. And this money-power is paid for in terms of interest to the Man Who Saves.

STATE BANK OF BELMOND
BELMOND IOWA

Tractor Plowing Is Best



The best tractors for the best plowing are the

McCormick-Deering and John Deere

Let us demonstrate.

GRIESY'S

The Friendly Place
PHONE 10
BELMOND, IOWA

MESERVEY SECTION

REFORMED CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:30.

Morning Worship at 10:30 (German).

Young People's meeting at 7:30.

Evening preaching service at 8:00.

The Dorcas Society met last Wednesday at the parsonage. Miss Marie Pals served refreshments.

The Young People's Union will meet August 30th, at the Zion Reformed church near Chapin, Iowa. Meetings will be held in the afternoon and evening. Let us have a good representation. May every one aim to make the Union helpful and profitable.

This church extends a warm and hearty welcome to all to attend its meetings.

H. Pannkuk, Pastor

Champion Team to Des Moines

The Misses Harriet Sprau and Neva Muller expect to leave Friday for Des Moines where they will compete with 97 other counties in 4 H team demonstration work. It may be of interest for some to know that they received the prize of $35.00 given by the Sterling Co. of Mason City for winning in County on Tuesday. The following day they again were successful by taking second place in competition with 10 counties and were awarded $10.00, by the North Iowa Fair Association. Miss Josephine Arnquist of Des Moines, state leader of 4 H club work, was present to judge the county demonstrations. Mrs. Leland Jacobson will accompany her team to Des Moines and remain with them during the week.

MESERVEY LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gruis left for Parkersburg, Friday, for a weeks' visit.

Pete Gruis and H. B. Gruis and family left last week for a camping trip, near Duluth, Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pieper and daughter Miriam, came Tuesday. They spent the night at the C. Bier home and Wednesday they left for Cedar Falls, where they will attend the Evangelical S. S. Convention.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ruiter and Evelyn, were visiting relatives in Latimer, Thursday.

Miss Merle Ramer, county worker in Girls 4 H Clubs, spent Friday and Saturday at the home of Mrs. L. Jacobson. She is assisting the Cerro Gordo County 4 H Girls Demonstration team in preparing for the State Fair, at Des Moines.

L. B. Hulsebus and family and Herman and Louise Witt, of Dows were in Meservey Friday. Herman and Louise motored to Mason City where the latter had her tonsils removed.

Chris Benn and family of Abernathy, Texas, visited at the Wendel homes and other friends here this week. They were former residents of this place and are making a tour of the country by auto.

Miss Lydia Pals spent two weeks at Cedar Falls, with her sister Lena, who is attending I. S. T. C. She returned home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walkus of Cedar Rapids, visited at the Bruns home Friday.

Henry Pals and Mrs. J. Dorenkamp were in Rochester, Minnesota, last week visiting the latter's husband, who has been there for some time receiving medical treatment. He is much improved and expects to return home soon.

Mrs. Herman Fischer and Lydia left for Cedar Falls last Wednesday, to attend the W. M. S. Convention, which was held at River View Park. Mrs. Fischer is the delegate from the local society. They will return Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Pals and daughter, Marie, motored to Cedar Falls, Friday, to visit their daughter Lena. She returned with them, having finished the summer term of school.

Miss Eva Schluter has accepted a position in the Goodell schools in the 7th and 8th grades. Miss Eva graduated from the Junior college Course in I. S. T. C. last June.

Elfrieda Messelheiser underwent an operation for the removal of her tonsils and adenoids at the Park Hospital, last Friday. She is recovering nicely.

Mrs. E. A. Strasburg had her tonsils removed at Mason City one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hopkey left last Friday for Minnesota to visit relatives for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Harm Meints are rejoicing over the arrival of a son, born to them last Friday afternoon.

Bert Stadtlander and family and Henry Meinders of Latimer visited at the Joe Stadtlander home Sunday.

Mel Smith and family are visiting relatives in Wisconsin. Adam Kolb is carrying mail on the route during their absence.

Mrs. Will Van Buren from Raymond, Minnesota, visited at the H. K. Pals home from Saturday until Sunday.

Louis Vandermyde returned to his home at Morrison, Illinois, after a few days visit at the H. P. Pals home. He was accompanied by Anna Pals as far as Dumont, where Anna will visit her friend, Edna Vander Meer for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Vander Meer and daughter Edna, and son Wilbur, from Dumont, brought their dinner and took the H. K. Pals family and Louis Vander Myde and Fred Lautenback to a picnic dinner at Tyrrell Park Sunday after church. Needless to say it was very much enjoyed by all.

Miss Marcella Kelly of Belmond, was visiting her friend, Miss Nellie Wirtz, last week, returning home Saturday.

Miss Clara Herndon left for Des Moines the fore part of last week, after visiting at the G. E. Thomas home for several weeks.

Mrs. Harvey Boller and three children of Belmond returned to their home last Thursday, after spending a few days at the H. Reif home.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Thomas motored to Cedar Falls last Thursday, to be present at the graduation exercises. Their daughter Thelma, graduated from the Junior College Course, and Miss Viola received her B. A. Degree. They returned home with their parents to spend the remainder of the vacation this week at Duluth and other points north.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Pals and Marie, visited their daughter Lena at Cedar Falls a few days last week. Miss Lena, also Lydia, who had been staying with the former, for two weeks, returned home with them.

Julius Zimmerman and his son and daughter of Kelley, this state, passed through here last Monday, enroute on a northern trip of ten days. They stopped a short time to greet a few relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Braga and daughter were Belmond visitors last week on Tuesday. Mrs. Dan Wenzel Sr., returned with them, after visiting several weeks with her daughter and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter McMahon of Clinton spent the week end at the H. C. Barger home. Mrs. McMahon and Mrs. Barger were college class mates and also taught at Ellsworth College together some years ago.

Miss Maggie Fischer of Hampton, Minnesota, came last week to visit indefinitely at the S. P. and H. Fischer homes. The lady is a sister to the latter and Geo. J.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Typer of Hampton spent Sunday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. H. C. Barger and family.

S. P. Fischer and family visited at the home of Mrs. Reka Cook and family, who reside south of Charles City, Sunday.

N. A. Myers of Thornton and nephew, Louis Meyers of this place, left last week on Wednesday for a trip out West, to be away indefinitely.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vanduren returned from their Minnesota visit the middle of last week to remain for a short visit at the B. Gruis home, before resuming their journey to their home in Pella.

Marcele and Maxine Waddington visited at the home of their uncle Ralph Waddington, at Latimer, last week.

Johnny Pals and Christopher Groen motored to Britt on a busrness errand last week Wednesday.

Rev. A. K. Henning came home from Cedar Falls Saturday to remain over Sunday to take charge of the services at the Evangelical Church. He returned to the assembly Monday.

Mrs. H. Brater of Clear Lake spent Sunday at the V. Zimmerman home with her son Bernard.

F. A. Lemke returned last Thursday from Des Moines where he had been in attendance at the Legion Convention.

Mrs. Lee Leyke and small daughter, Wilma Jean of Boone is spending several weeks at the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Leyke.

Mrs. W. J. Allen has been very ill for a few days but glad to report she is getting along better at this writing.

Donald Muller went to Cedar Falls Monday afternoon to attend the assembly at River View Park, until Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Smith of Naperville, Illinois, are spending a part of this week at the parental H. Fischer home.

The following left Sunday morning for Cedar Falls to attend the assembly services and be present at the dedicatory services of the new Missionary Hall: C. J. Wendel and family, H. F. Reif and wife, A. E. Muller and daughters Bonita and Eleanor and Mabel Paul. The three latter remained for the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alb. Lacher, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lacher of Walters, Minnesota, spent Sunday at the Roy Claus home. Also Mrs. Lacher and daughter Miss Emma, and friend Miss Hinkey of Hartley, were present to spend the day.

Frank Gerringer and family of St. Mary's this state, visited at the home of Mrs. Joe Smith and family, last week on Wednesday and Thursday. They are old friends of the family and were enroute to Minnesota.

Emil Zeilmar and family of Granville, Illinois, visited at the home of their relatives, Wm. Gealow and family, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gealow went to Belmond Monday for an overnight visit at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. Philip Geitz.

Arthur Wolf and wife and their son Walter of Hampton, spent Sunday at the Wm. Messelheiser home.

A. J. Nissen and family left Sunday for a camping trip to Decorah, where they expect to remain until Friday, from there to Des, Moines to attend the State fair for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Claus and daughter June were in Fort Dodge, Tuesday, where they met relatives from Greene County, and attended the Webster County fair for the day.

G. E. Raecker and family and Mrs. Anna Schroeder returned home last Saturday from their vacation trip to Minnesota.

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29

W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

GREATLY REDUCED FARES VIA GREAT WESTERN TO MINNESOTA STATE FAIR, ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS SEPT. 3-10.

Travel by Great Western trains this year to the Minnesota State Fair. Fares are remarkably low—much cheaper than driving your own car—and you avoid parking problems and road congestion. Convenient train schedules. Liberal return limits. Ask local Great Western Agent for full details.

CAUTION

Only a little match-head,
Dropped on the closet floor;
Only a little apron,
Hanging beside the door;
Only a little creeping,
Up to the apron strings;
Only a home in ashes!
Think of these "little" things!

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

DR. R. E. PORTER
BELMOND, IOWA
Chiropractic Health Service
Eight Year's Experience
Office Over Griesy's Store

This coupon and 25c entitle the undersigned to one 35c can of Acme Quality Enamel-Kote, any color, and a special 20c Paint Brush.
Name_____
Address_____
To acquaint you with Acme Quality, we are making a special offer for a short time only.
SPECIAL OFFER 55¢ Value for 25¢

You will scarcely know your own rooms
Just a few strokes of a paint brush are all that stand between you and a home interior that visitors will admire and envy.
Scuffed up floors, marred woodwork and furniture, walls, ceilings, even the radiators, can be magically transformed with
ACME QUALITY Paint and Varnish
Specially pleasing is the color range in No-Lustre Finish Flat Wall Paint for walls and Enamel-Kote for interior woods and furniture.
Before you buy any paint, come in and see us. We are here to serve you.
C. J. WENDEL
MESERVEY, IOWA

ATWATER KENT RADIO
H. F. REIF
Meservey, Iowa

HIGH QUALITY
BUILDING MATERIAL
Screen Doors and Window Screens—Mill Work—Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts and Poles
Cement — Lime
INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT
Wheat Bran – Oil Meal – Cotton Seed Meal, – Tankage – Salt
Highest Price Paid for Grain
Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

STAGE EDUCATIONAL DISPLAY.

Des Moines, Special: Approximately 50 different universities, colleges and similar educational institutions of the state will exhibit their work in the new $350,000 Iowa Educational Building to be opened at the coming Iowa State Fair, beginning here August 24.

Graphically portraying Iowa's national leadership in the educational field, these institutions will occupy more than 90,000 square feet of exhibition space in the new building. Among these exhibitions will be the University of Iowa; Iowa State College, State Teachers' College, nearly all of the denominational colleges and universities, all of the institutions operated by the State Board of Control, and many of the state's different welfare institutions. The new building will also house the elaborate art display, featuring drawings and paintings by amateur and professional artists of the state competing in the annual statewide art contest conducted by Fair officials.

TO EXHIBIT FARM METHODS.

Des Moines, Special: One of the outstanding features in the new $350,000 Educational Building at the Iowa State Fair here the last week in August, will be the presentation of exhibits and demonstrations of all the newest developments in farm methods and modern improved livestock raising, by experts from Iowa State College.

Iowa farmers who visit the Fair should be especially interested in the corn borer exhibit. Farmers may view actual specimens of this latest menace to Iowa agriculture and obtain the latest information about methods of repulsing the invasion of the pest. Other special subjects to be taken up by the college authorities, include better methods of farm marketing, livestock feeding, weed eradication, soil betterment, and crop rotation.

Undertaking & Funeral Director
F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone--Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

Harry T. Smith
General Blacksmithing
Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding
Meservey, - Iowa

HARVEST TIME
Harvest is the time the farmer stores his grain in the store house for future use.
The bees and squirrels also make use of their store house during time of plenty.
We all should know more than the bees or squirrels — let this bank be your financial store house.
Resources over $400,000.00
"Safety and Service"
Farmers Savings Bank
Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

Beginning Thursday
MERKEL'S NINE DAY NINE CENT SALE
AUG. 25th TO SEPT. 3rd
The Greatest Sale Event In North Iowa
It is a clear fact, to everybody who looks into the matter, that here are the largest stocks of dependable goods in North Iowa — and at the lowest prices. Upon the basis of assortments and savings, it is fully conceded that the MERKEL NINE CENT SALE is the GREATEST SALE in North Iowa. Thursday morning, August 25th, this long awaited Event opens the doors of opportunity.
Except For a Few Price-Restricted Items
Every Dollar's Worth of Goods in the Store Reduced in Price
An outstanding feature of the Sale is, that with few exceptions, the entire great stocks are on Sale at a straight-forward lowering of Prices. These reductions include New Fall Goods for person and home. With selections more attractive—advantages greater than they have ever been before—the MERKEL NINE CENT SALE will be ready Thursday, August 25th.
Formerly Killians Inc., But Now The Merkel Co.
—named after owners who have been in active management for several years
The Merkel Co.
Formerly Killians, Inc.
MASON CITY, IOWA

NEWS ITEMS FROM GOODELL

Charles W. Lamer was born October 12, 1865, in Pennsylvania and passed away at the hospital in Hampton, August 15, 1927, at the age of 61 years, 10 months and 3 days. At the age of six years he moved with his parents to the state of Iowa, locating near Davenport, where he lived for a number of years. Later they resided near Newton, where the family farmed. While yet in his teens, Mr. Lamer entered college, specializing in a pharmacist course, becoming a druggist and continuing in this work the rest of his life, some over forty years. On March 18, 1888 he was united in marriage to Cora Dennis, also of Newton, and to this union one child was born, a daughter, now Mrs. Gerge Gosnell of Fort Dodge, Iowa.

The Lamers moved to Goodell about eight years ago, Mr. Lamer having conducted a first class drug store here, and for the past three years, Mrs. Lamer has been our most efficient post mistress. Mr Lamer was a fine man, a good citizen and well liked by his many acquaintances. He had not been feeling as well as usual of late and on Wednesday morning while at the post office with Mrs. Lamer, he suffered an attack of acute appendicitis. The doctor was summoned immediately and he rushed him to the hospital at Hampton. He underwent a serious operation that evening, and remained in a critical condition up to the time of his death. Mrs. Lamer remained with him most of the time and on Monday be became gradually worse, the doctors giving up all hopes for his recovery. His daughter, Stella, and family came at once from Fort Dodge. He passed away about 10 p. m. Monday evening. He leaves to mourn, his wife, daughter, two grand daughters, Mary Francis and Georgene Gosnell, two sisters in California and two brothers who reside at Ashley and Melbourne, also a host of distant relatives and friends.

The remains were brought to his home Wednesday and the funeral held at the U. B. Church, 3 p. m. Thursday, with Rev. Scott officiating. The mixed quartet, Messrs. Carpenter, Newgard, and Mesdames Scott and Snearly sang three beautiful songs. Messrs. Okrueg, Jay Griggs, Allaben, Sandberg, Ruka, and Mr. Kahrs of Ventura were pall bearers. The body was sent on the evening train and a service and burial was held at Newton, Friday a. m. The esteem in which the Lamers are held in this vicinity was made manifest by the beautiful floral offerings.

Those from out of town to attend the funeral were his brother from Melbourne, Mrs. Lamer's brother, Mr. Dennis of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, the Gosnell family of Fort Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. Kahrs of Ventura, Mr. and Mrs. Adams of Belmond. The relatives accompanied the body to Newton.

The community extends sympathy to Mrs. Lamer in this sad time.

The local school board held a meeting Monday night and elected Miss Eva Schlutter of Meservey to fill the vacancy in the Grammar room. Miss Schlutter graduated from a two year course at Cedar Falls this spring and comes highly recommended.

Tommy Quigley suffered an attack of appendicitis Monday about noon. He underwent an operation at the hospital that day and is getting along exceptionally well. His father, Frank Quigley, has been spending a few days with him.

Miss Margaret Kearney, who teaches school near Williams, came last week to visit her father, Martin Kearney and other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Raymond Finn and baby came last week from Harlan where they have been visiting her home folks and will visit here a few days before they go back to Cascade where Raymond has been superintendent of the schools there for a number of years, and recently signed a three year contract.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Sandberg entertained to dinner Tuesday evening, Mr. Matson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Newgard, Olive Butts, Mrs. E. E Stacy and two children of Indianapolis, Indiana.

The Ruka and Okrueg families, Mrs. A. M. Graber and Mrs. Harry Carpenter went to Britt Wednesday, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Arthur Ruka's grandmother. Mrs Cline.

Lyle LaRue who has been working in the drug store at Ventura the past two months came home Monday to assist with the work in the drug store.

Ray Chelsvig went to Chicago a week ago where he is working.

Mrs. L. W. Wesenberg, Eunice and Olive Butts autoed to Mason City Wednesday where the former consulted a specialist in regard to Eunice's eyes.

Miss Leola Golding of Fredericksberg visited Wednesday at the Butts home. She is a college friend of Olive's whom she knew while attending school at Coe in Cedar Rapids. Miss Golding with another girl friend were enroute to Canada on a sight seeing trip.

The Ivan Baker family enjoyed a visit last week with relatives from Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tanner and two children who have been visiting relatives here the past two months, left Thursday for their home in Rupert, Idaho.

Mrs. Raymond and two grand daughters, Misses Anna Mae and Evelyn Costello, of Blue Island Illinois, came Thursday to visit the former's daughter, Mrs. E. J Schneider.

Miss Olive Butts went to Belmond Thursday, and visited until Sunday wtih her sister, Mrs. Adolph Wenzel.

Miss Voral Kienenberger has been suffering the past few days with infection in her right hand and arm, but at this writing is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Matt Smith of Meservey enjoyed Thursday and Friday here visiting her mother, Mrs. J. Ahrenkiel.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Newgard, accompanied by Mrs. Stacy and children of Indianapolis and Mrs. Matt Smith, of Meservey, autoed to Clear Lake, Thursday evening, and visited at the Eldred home.

Miss Hilma Burgess returned home Friday from Cedar Falls where she attended summer school. Hilma has accepted a position as primary teacher in the school at Reading, Minnesota.

Verner Christie in company with a friend, Mr. Gibbs of Klemme, recently returned from Canada where they enjoyed a two weeks sight seeing trip.

Mrs. Bachman's mother, Mrs. Smith went to Charles City Saturday to visit a couple weeks with her nieces.

June Remer returned Saturday to her home at Garner. She has spent the past week here assisting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bachman, with the cleaning at the school house.

The Met Avery family are enjoying a visit this week with Mrs. Avery's sister, and family from North Dakota.

Lars Peterson who has been visiting at the home of his sons here, left last Saturday for Chicago.

Mrs. Will Christie who has spent the past two months with her sister Mrs. Del Christie and brother A. C. Carpenter, returned the fore part of the week to her home in Dickey, North Dakota. Her nephew, Verner Christie took her home in his car and plans to work in Dakota until corn weather. He has a position with a threshing company to operate the tractor.

Miss Eliza Cashman spent Saturday at Halfield in interest of the threshing on her farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Finis Letch and daughter, Jean, who reside in Osceola, Wisconsin, came Friday to visit his sister, Mrs. Tony Boller. On Sunday they returned to their home accompanied by Mrs. Boller and daughter Mary, who will visit them a week and then go to Mora, Minnesota, to spend a week with her home folks, Mr. and Mrs. T. O Letch.

Miss Winifred Tizor of Mason City spent the week end with relatives here.

Miss Wether who resides at Clarion was an over Sunday guest with her college friend, Miss Hilma Burgess.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Busse whose home is in Minnesota are visiting at the home of his father, and sister, Mrs. F. Sandrey.

Tauge Matson and Charles Conklin spent over Sunday at their respective homes, driving here Saturday evening from Adel where they are working.

Mark and John Burress, accompanied by their sister, Miss Jessie, all of Minneapolis, were Sunday dinner guests at the Butts home. The two former went on to Madrid, to visit friends, Jessie remaining to spend a few days with the Butts.

Sylvester Cashman of Chicago is here visiting home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Tracy and Wanda of Springville, came Sunday to visit her mother, Mrs. A. Christie a few days. Mrs. Tracy will go to Albert Lea, Minnesota, this week to have her tonsils taken out.

Goodell played ball with Klemmo Sunday on the Klemme diamond. The game was not finished on account of the rain. Goodell was ahead at the time the boys quit playing.

Miss Mildred Johnson of Klemme who recently returned home from a music school in Chicago, came to Goodell Thursday and started a class of instruction here.

Mrs. George Thompson's mother came last week from Illinois to visit her daughter.

About forty relatives from here and Story County were invited to the George Ness home Sunday to help Miss Irene celebrate her birthday. All of Irene's brothers and sisters, with their families were in attendance, with the exception of a brother who resides at Marshalltown, but members of his family were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Tiegelman, Mrs. Bert Hood and children of Des Moines visited Sunday at the Adrian Bielefeld home.

Mr. and Mrs. Conwell, Owen and Morris autoed to Grand Junction Friday to visit at their parental homes. Mr. Conwell returned home Monday, the rest remaining for a longer visit.

The Earl Ruka, Wilmer Burk, John Rust, Hans Nelson, Gundvil Johnson, Berhow, Landon and George Thompson families autoed to West Bend Sunday to visit the Grotto. They enjyed a picnic dinner there and a picnic supper at the tourist park in Garner.

The Deberg family of Dumont were Sunday guests at the C. C. Bode home. Mrs. Deberg is a sister of Mr. Bode.

Mrs. R. Kinseth and Junior of Belmond visited Wednesday with her home folks.

Rev. Scott and family autoed to Ventura Sunday to attend the afternoon church services. Dr. Duncan of Des Moines returned home with them and delivered a fine sermon at the evening services here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harve Christensen and children visited friends at Thompson, Friday.

Mrs. Wm. Allaben is spending a few days this week at Thornton, visiting Miss Natalie Thada.

Henry Severson and children visited over Sunday with the former's son and family at Osage.

Dr. Colby and Miss Irene Small of Forest City were guests Thursday at the D. M. Conlan home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harm Vierkant and children of Rockwell Sundayed with his sister, Mrs. Lloyd Bishop.

Mr. and Mrs. Kahr of Ventura called at the Lamer home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Trees and Cleo of Belmond visited Sunday with Mrs. Trees' father, A. C. Carpenter.

Ivan Baker recently took over the management of the Mason City Oil & Grease station. Mrs. Baker is working at the station.

ROWAN ITEMS OF INTEREST

M. E. CHURCH NOTES
Sunday School at 1000.
Morning Worship at 11:00.
Epworth League at 7:00.
Evening Service at 8:00.
Prayer meeting at 8:00.
Rev. J. H. Bounds, Pastor

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Sunday School at 10:30.
Morning Worship at 11:30.
Junior Christian Endeavor, 6:30.
Senior Christian Endeavor at 7:00.
Evening Service at 8:00.
Rev. L. A. Marquardt

The Ladies Aid will meet at the Ben Fanselow home Thursday afternoon of this week. Mesdames B. A. Hiams and Frank Fanselow assistant hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith and daughter of Pipestone, Minnesota, spent the weekend at the home of Mrs. Smith's brother, Rev. L. A. Marquardt.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Whitten spent part of last week at the home of their son, Floyd at Tama.

Mrs. Gae Fletcher and children and Clair Conn of Fort Dodge spent the latter part of the week at the parental R. L. Fitz home. Mrs. Fitz returned home with them.

The Ray Williams family returned to their home at Flandreau, South Dakota last week, having spent the summer with relatives here and at Washington, D. C. Ray will teach at Flandreau again this year.

Wm. Starnes of Belmond spent Sunday at the home of his aunt, Mrs. V. E. Munson, having returned from the funeral of his mother at Thornton last week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Keith, Kenneth and Margaret, with their house guests, Mr. Andrew Keith of Chicago and Miss Elsie Keith of Montreal attended a "Keith Clan" picnic at Siloam Springs.

Arthur Emerson has returned to his home at Cedar Falls, having spent several weeks with his grandmother, Mrs. Lulu Emerson.

A. C. Reitz and family spent Sunday with relatives near Thornton and while returning were caught in a rain storm which laid the corn flat, and were forced to get out and push their car in order to keep in it the road.

Henry Ohlerking returned from Hollandale, Minnesota, last week, where he was looking after farm interests.

Mr. and Mrs. Pink Trees and daughter, Francas, of Belmond were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. Trees' sister, Mrs. V. E. Munson.

The Les Andrews family returned last Tuesday from their auto trip to Sioux Falls, South Dakota, where they visited at the home of Mrs. Andrews' father, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bohlen. Mr. Bohlen celebrated his seventieth birthday and all the family except one daughter were present. A sister, Mrs. L. W. Rooney, returned with them for an extended visit with relatives in this vicinity.

Mrs. Lee Sellers and daughter Leah, of near Dows spent last week at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Earl Sellers.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Shaner and children of LaPorte City, and Mrs. Jane Julick of Mt. Auburn, were week end guests at the Chas. Huber home. Mrs. Shaner is Mr. Huber's sister, and Mrs. Julick his aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bingham enutertained at Sunday dinner at the J. D. Pritchett home the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bingham, Lorenzo Bingham, Mrs. W. H. Bingham and Fay, Mrs. Susan Bixler and Mrs. Mary Braden.

Miss Lura Swisher of Clarion was a guest of her cousin Lois Steffens, last week.

Harry Cain had the misfortune of falling out of the back of his truck Saturday while reaching for a spout on a threshing machine, on the Gatliff farm. He fell on his back on a pully which burned and rendered him unconscious for a few minutes.

Mrs. J. S. Farran and sons Darl and Bobbie, and Miss Garnet Stumph went to Cedar Falls last Thursday, where they attended the graduation of Miss Frances Farran who has completed a two years course and will teach at Jesup this coming year. Miss Stumph engaged her room and will attend the I. S. T. C., beginning in September.

Floyd Allen, who has been selling vacuum cleaners in Wisconsin has resigned his position and spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. Elsie Allen. He will leave soon to look after farm interests near Aberdeen, South Dakota.

John Rowan exhibited Spotted Poland China hogs at Mason City Fair and took some prizes.

John Riker who has been hauling gravel near Britt, spent the week end at the home of his friend, Cliff Steffens.

Mr. and Mrs. George Liming of Adair spent Sunday with Rowan friends. Their daughter Lorine returned home with them.

Herb Ketchum of Clarion has purchased the house being occupied by the Myrtell Myers family and will take possession about September 1. The Myers family will move in with the Wm. Azeltine family.

Miss Fay Swartzendrover of Clarion was a week end guest at the home of her school friend, Mrs. R. A. Azeltine.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Aldinger and daughters, Laura and Elsie, motored to Sioux Falls, South Dakota ,early this week to visit relatives. They will also visit with Mrs. Kate Nordimire at Morristown, Minnesota, and at the Ben Jurgeson home at Lake Park. They will be gone about ten days.

Mrs. Vern Sharp motored to Iowa Falls Friday, accompanied by her cousin, Miss Pearl Rubendahl, who has been a guest at the Sharp and Rubendahl homes.

Miss Vay Ketchum and a girl friend from Clarion passed through our town Monday about noon. They were hiking to Oelwein.

Raymond Hansen had his tonsils and adenoids removed at the Hampton hospital last Wednesday.

Gordon Johnson, the eleven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson of Lehigh, former Rowanites,, was electrocuted on Tuesday of last week, while playing near a mill near his home. He called to his playmates to assist him but they were afraid and ran to tell the owner of the mill and it is thought that the 440 volt of electricity ran thru his body for at least twenty minutes. Burial took place at Bristol on Thursday, August 18. Rowan friends regret to learn of this untimely death.

Mrs. Minnie Thompson and her granddaughter are spending this week with friends at Clear Lake. The Alfred Boyington family motored to Clear Lake Sunday.

ALEXANDER NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. John Arends, and daughter Sylvia and son, Jesse, drove to Cedar Falls Tuesday, on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hall and children were Hampton visitors Saturday evening.

Mrs. E. S. Packard and children were at Belmond Tuesday. While there Marian, Robert and Dickey had their tonsils removed at the Steele hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Finkle and daughter Leone, and Evelyn Oleson of South Dakota, visited relatives in town Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peters and son Charles, and Mrs. Viola Kelsey, and Mrs. Claas Symens were business callers at Hampton Wednesday.

A girl baby came to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick R. Schmidt on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Greenfield and son Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. John Arends and children and John Bell and daughter Jessie were guests at the E Tucker home east of Hansell Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hemmes and children of Latimer were Saturday evening callers in town.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Skippet on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jens Rhodes and children of Thornton were visiting relatives here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Schmidt and children were Mason City callers Wednesday.

Mrs. Claas Symens and children Lewis, Susie and Ethel drove to Des Moines Monday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bell and children, Miss Addie Larsen, and son, Jack and Mr. and Mrs. Nels Larsen were Sunday visitors at the Charlie Harmon home in Goldfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Smythe and Gene Kelsey of Cedar Rapids came Saturday for a week's visit at the Kelsey home.

Rev. Unger of Rockford preached in the United Church Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis, and Leslie and Rose Bird of Scales Mound, Illinois, have been visiting at the Ed and Ray Richards homes.

Rev. and Mrs. Moore and sons of Monroe have been spending a week visiting friends here. Rev. Moore was a former pastor of the Congregational church of this place. He filled the pulpit Sunday evening at the United Church and gave a very interesting and helpful sermon from the 24th chapter of Genesis.

Mr .and Mrs. Simon Coates of Sheffield were visitors at the Ed Richards home Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Richards accompanied them home for a short visit.

Some of those who attended the Mason City fair were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schulte and children, Mrs. Jesse Latham and sons Willard and Wilbur, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Anderson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Dick R. Schmidt and children and Leonard, Bennie and Jesse Arends.

Mrs. Bertha Barker of near Belmond and Miss Hazel Hendrickson of Thompson were were callers at the Fred Greenfield home Sunday.

Regular services will be held at the United Church next Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gaulke and children were home over the week end.

Mr. Smith and Ted Nyteger of Fort Dodge are doing improvements on the Perry Loomis farm northeast of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Gillet and son Alva are spending a week or ten days at Sioux Falls, Humboldt and other places in South Dakota, visiting relatives and friends.

Frank Mack of Oelwein has finished the installment of electric lights in the Fred Larsen buildings north of town.

Miss Effie Dresher, Miss Paulina, Jerry, Bill and George Ammerman were Sheffield callers Sunday.

Charlie Missman of Woden was visiting relatives here Sunday and Monday.

ALEXANDER SCHOOL NOTES

The Alexander Consolidated School will open officially Monday, Sept. 5, but will not actually begin for the pupils until Wednesday morning, September 7th. Monday and Tuesday the teachers will attend the County Teacher's meeting at Hampton. All teachers have been requested to be present Saturday, September 3rd, to meet at the school house for a conference to complete arrangements for the year's work.

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Bldg
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

Kinseth's Store News

The old saying, "Can What You Can," is all right, but after you have looked over the money-saving prices we are making on canned fruits you will realize that you can't can for as little cost as you can buy by the can from us. Take a look here:

Cherries, in gallon cans, the red pitted kind, at only $1.28 a gallon.

Red Raspberries, Columbia, in gallons at $1.19.

Black Raspberries, in gallons, at $1.19.

Can you can them as cheaply as this? Figure it out, counting cost of the fruit, cans, rubbers, sugar, heat, labor and all. All right, then, phone 19 and say how many cans we shall send.

If you want to can, we have some dandy peaches in boxes at $1.40 a box.

Sno Flake Flour in five sack lots at $10.75.

Two boxes of Post Toasties for two bits—25c.

Corn Flakes the same 2 boxes for 25c.

Northern Toilet Tissue Paper 9c a roll.

A little special saving you money this week is one can Saniflush, one can Melo Water Softener, both for 35c, and a brush free.

Yes—We sell "Blue Ribbon" bread—Baked in Belmond by Belmond's Bakers.

Business is fine, thank you, and we appreciate your patronage. The Store on the Corner is always here to serve you in any way. Just call us any time.

The Brand Is Your Insurance

RED CROWN ETHYL GASOLINE

THERE is an overproduction of crude oil. This has encouraged the opening of numerous small refineries. Many of these are operated by men unskilled in this work. The consequence is that in gasolines there is a wide variance in quality and performance.

Red Crown Ethyl is a new gasoline built upon an old, established brand. Red Crown Gasoline is the peer of any motor fuel made from pure petroleum. By adding Ethyl anti-knock compound to this splendid fuel, Red Crown Ethyl is produced.

Red Crown Ethyl does away with that annoying knock—the engine delivers a steady, smooth, flexible flow of power—it gives the car a snappy start, a quick pick-up, and enables it to attain any speed the machine is capable of developing.

It has made the high-compression engine possible—and it makes your engine perform better.

Take no chances with your car — fuel it with Red Crown Ethyl. The brand is your protection.

Remember carbon in your cylinders decreases the space in the firing chamber, and of course increases the compression. But to hold this compression, thus enabling the carbon to work for you, be sure that your valves are clean and are seated properly — then Red Crown Ethyl will sing you a song that will delight.

Standard Oil Company
(Indiana)
BELMOND, IOWA
4733

LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Fred Mortimer went to Belle Fourche, South Dakota, Monday, with her grandson.

The Misses Maud and Neva Aldrich were visiting relatives at Waterloo last week.

Mrs. John Spitler left Thursday for a visit with relatives at Marshalltown.

Mrs. James Trees and daughter, Cleo, were Sunday guests at the A. C. Carpenter home in Goodell. Richard Carpenter is spending this week at the Trees home.

W. A. Parsons and son, Louis. go to Iowa City this week where on Friday Everett Parsons will recieve his Bachelor of Science degree in Commerce at the State University.

Geo. Braun and Mrs. Chas. Gealow drove to Peru, Illinois, last week on a combined business and visiting trip.

The ball game Sunday between Belmond and Renwick was called in the second inning on account of rain. Neither team had scored.

The Variety Store is offering some unusual bargains this week. A good Enamel Dish Pan at 39c. A good milk pail at 42c, and galvanized pail at 29c. Men's work socks at 10c per pair.

We bought a sample line of towels, which we are selling exactly at wholesale price.

Children's Hose, 5 and 5½ at 10c per pair.

Watch for our School Sale.

W. C. Tyrrell, William, Preston, and Harry Tyrrell, and Dr. Steele drove to Minneapolis, Monday, to attend the National Golf Tournament.

Mrs. H. N. Hill was hostess to the Chain of Ten, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Christie took their daughter, Muriel, to Iowa, City, where she had a minor operation, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Groen visited at Woodard, Sunday.

Mrs. C. O. Fitts returned Thursday from Boone, where she had been visiting her sister.

Miss Clara Johnson returned Monday from Wisconsin where she had been visiting relatives.

You can get a good position if you get your training at The Hamilton University, Mason City, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathias and son, Dale, who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Christie, returned to their home at Polk City, Tuesday.

Miss Matilda Skovlin of Des Moines has been visiting home folks the past week, on her vacation. She returns the latter part of this week to resume her duties in the office of Secretary of State Ramsay.

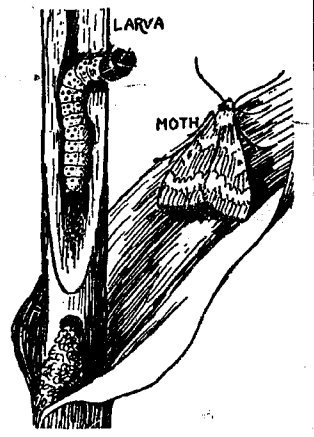
Walter Davis of Mason City, spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Legge Wallace.

A SACRIFICE SALE!

My residence and other property will be sold as soon as possible regardless of its value. Anyone desiring a modern home in first-class condition should call and look it over. Located on primary 15, half a block from Main street, consists of 2 lots, house and barn. Some apple, plum trees and other fruit. House is 22x28 with ell 14x16. Full basement. Kitchen 12x14 with built-in cabinet 7x11. Clothes chute to basement. Iceless refrigerator. Dining room and parlor each 14x21 connected by folding doors. Three nice large bedrooms up stairs, with large closets; sewing room; linen closet; bath room 8x10. Extra toilet in basement. Rooms nicely painted, waxed linoleum on all floors. In the basement, there is a laundry 9x24, with stove, vegetable room 10x12 with shelving and potato bin, furnace room 10x12; outside coal and wood bin close to the furnace. Also some vacant lots adjoining suitable for garden which will be sold cheap. Terms—Reasonable amount down, balance to suit purchaser. Also have a few odds and ends to dispose of, Smith premier typewriter and desk, about $200 worth of bee supplies, some bedsteads, steel cots, etc.

E. A. PIERCE,
Belmond, Iowa. Phone 359.

FIGHT CORN BORER



The deadly European Corn Borer, which is threatening Iowa's corn fields at the present time, will be shown in real life in all its stages from infancy through maturity, in a special farm protection exhibit which is being prepared by agricultural experts for the 1927 Iowa State Fair at Des Moines. Those viewing the exhibit will be shown how to distinguish between the corn borrer and less dangerous types of borers which already exist in Iowa. The display will also include pictures of the devastated areas traversed by this pest and actual corn stalks and ears which have been attacked by it. The exhibit will be housed in the new $350,000 Educational Building at the fair.

JUNIOR FARMERS EXHIBIT.

Des Moines, Special: Between 1,000 and 2,000 selected Iowa farm boys and girls, representing virtually every county in Iowa, have filed entries in the various statewide championship contests to be staged at the coming Iowa State Fair, August 24 to September 2.

The events will occupy the entire eight week-days of the fair and are to be accompanied by cash prizes totalling more than $11,000. They embrace all fields of farm work, including judging contests and demonstrations in such activities as farm record keeping, home management, poultry culling, and livestock feeding; and also exhibits of prize poultry, sheep, pigs, and calves.

Many of the winners of the Iowa State Fair contests will be sent to national competitions later in the season.

ORIGINAL NOTICE

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF IOWA, IN AND FOR WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA.

Catharine Schmelz,
Plaintiff,
vs
The Unknown Claimants of Lots Nos. Five (5), Six (6), Seven (7), and the South Twenty-two 22) feet of the North Sixty-six (66) feet of Lot No. Eight (8), all in Block No. Twenty-four (24), in the Original Town of Belmond, Iowa; Rockford Manufacturing Company; Rose Coulter; Rose Ralston and Edward Ralston, her husband; Mrs. William Rowen; Mary C. L. Potter; Mary C. Packard Potter; Butterfield & Reese; Home Savings and Trust Company; and William P. Hiserodt, Defendants.

TO EACH AND ALL OF SAID DEFENDANTS:

You are hereby notified that there is now filed in the office of the Clerk of the District Court of Wright County, Iowa, a petition of the above named plaintiff, claiming of you that she is the absolute owner in fee simple of the following described real estate, to-wit:—

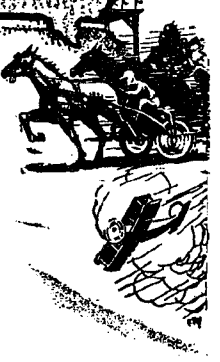
Lots Nos. Five (5), Six (6), Seven (7), and the South Twenty-two feet of the North Sixty-six feet of Lot No. Eight (8), all in Block No. Twenty-four (24), in the Original Town of Belmond, Iowa, and praying that her title thereto be quieted and confirmed, and that you be forever barred and estopped from making any claim thereto and for general equitable relief.

(For full particulars you are referred to the petition now on file.)

You are further notified that unless you appear thereto and defend on or before noon of the second day of the next term, being the September 1927 Term of said Court, which will commence at the Court House in Clarion, Iowa, on the 26th day of September. A. D. 1927, default will be entered against you and judgment and decree rendered as prayed.

Roy A. Henderson
414 Attorney for Plaintiff

IOWA'S PLEASURE LAND invites You



WHAT an outing you can have this summer at the Iowa State Fair!

Eight wonderful days brimming over with pleasure—the brilliance and glamour of a great five million dollar exposition—amusements assembled from the four corners of the earth!

Think of seeing:

John Philip Sousa in person, and his world-famous 70-piece band.

Five days of horse racing (one entire afternoon of running races.)

Auto races Aug. 26 and Sept. 2, with world-famous drivers. The "Fall of Troy"—gigantic fireworks extravaganza. Mammoth outdoor circus and hippodrome. New 12,000 seat amphitheatre. Whippet dog racing, society horse shows, auto show, state championship tournaments for horseshoe pitchers, fiddlers, hog callers; free camp of 80 acres.

National livestock show of 6,000 head of purebred stock, boys and girls' club exhibits and contests; farm produce exhibits; farm bureau projects; 40-acre machinery show, special exposition for women; mammoth new educational building filled with new exhibits; new fish and game building and aquariums. A world of education and profit for all the family.

Iowa's greatest pleasure land is ready for you—with a day's or week's outing such as you've never enjoyed before. Plan to come—bring the whole family.

SOUSA and his 70 Piece Band day and night

Iowa State Fair
AUG. 24-SEPT. 2
Reduced Railroad Rates

SPECIAL!
Saturday, Aug. 27 Only
Two-layer Honey Cream Cake
EACH ONLY
10c

Every Wednesday and Saturday is Coffee Cake Day. 10c Each.

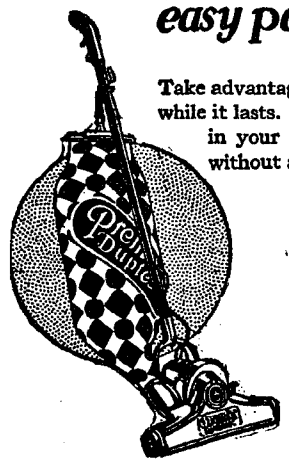
Don't say bread—say "BLUE RIBBON" bread. It's Belmond bread, baked by Belmond's bakers.

Your patronage solicited and appreciated

MORROW & SCOTT
BELMOND'S BAKERS

$5.00 down

and the balance can be paid in the easiest of easy payment terms



Take advantage of this combination offer, while it lasts. We will gladly demonstrate in your home—on your own rugs—without any obligation on your part.

Premier Duplex

This electric vacuum cleaner carries our endorsement. We guarantee it as well as the manufacturer. It cleans—thoroughly. It's easy to use and it is durable and reliable.

Double Action

The PREMIER DUPLEX accomplishes easier and better cleaning by double action. This is the combination of powerful suction plus a motor driven brush. NO OILING is required.

Central States Electric Co.
General Office
CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

CENTRAL STATES ELECTRIC and GAS SYSTEM GROWS

To meet the increasing demand for public service, this Company has again been obliged to add to the station's capacity of the Iowa Falls Power Plant, and has arranged for the immediate installation of a 3,500 KW steam turbine unit equaling 4,250 Horse Power.

This will more than double the present capacity of the Iowa Falls Plants, and it is planned to ultimately install additional units to bring the capacity of this one plant to 30,000 KW capacity.

This splendid plant will be the LAST WORD in electric power stations, and with the other power sources of the system, will provide at all times for 100 per cent Lighting and Power Service to all territory served by this Company.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to inspect our property and observe its substantial and reliable character.

Respectfully,

Central States Electric Co.
General Offices
515 Merchants National Bank Building
Cedar Rapids - - - Iowa

The new high compression anti-knock
Hudson motor
uses any Gasoline
and turns waste heat to power

Special high-compression fuels were developed to eliminate spark-knock, ping and roughness.

What these special fuels have sought, Hudson, through an exclusive new companion invention to the Super-Six principle, obtains from ordinary gasoline. You fill your tank anywhere. And you save money on every filling.

It makes Hudson the most economical car per pound weight in the world.

Standard Models
(118-inch wheelbase)
Coach $1175
Sedan 1285
(127-inch wheelbase)
Coach $1285
Sedan 1385
Custom-Built Models
(127-inch wheelbase)
Brougham $1575
7-Pass. Phaeton 1600
7-Pass. Sedan 1850
All prices f. o. b. Detroit. Plus war excise tax

NORDSCHOW MOTOR COMPANY
BELMOND, IOWA

Men Marooned

By GEORGE MARSH

Copyright by The Penn Publishing Co.
WNU Service

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I.—Garth Guthrie, Canadian war veteran, having to live in the open on account of weakened lungs, is factor of a Hudson's Bay post at Elkwan. He came back from the conflict with a permanently scarred face, which he realizes cost him the love of his fiancee, Edith Falconer. Sir Charles Guthrie, his brother, is a millionaire war profiteer.

CHAPTER II.—With Etienne Savanne, halfbreed, his firm friend, Garth meets Doctor Quarrier, geologist, and his sister Joan. Their schooner has drifted ashore. Quarrier complains he has been robbed by a man known as "Laughing McDonald" or to the Indians as "McDonald Ha! Ha!" because of a gear which gives him a perpetual grin. McDonald is Garth's competitor for the fur trade. At Elkwan an Indian girl, Ninda, tuberculosis victim, whom Garth has befriended, is dying. Quarrier hints that Ninda is Garth's mistress, which is hotly refuted. Joan, trained war nurse, cares for Ninda, but the girl dies.

CHAPTER III.—Garth tells Joan part of the reasons for his presence at Elkwan. He takes the Quarriers to Moosey, from whence they can proceed to Montreal. Charles Guthrie writes reproaching his brother for not coming home. Charles' wife assures him Ethel still loves him, but Garth in his heart knows better. His scarred face has separated them.

CHAPTER IV.—Three of McDonald's party visit Elkwan seeking to buy gun credits. From them Garth learns of evil talk among the Indians concerning him and Ninda, and realizes Quarrier will spread his version of the affair.

CHAPTER V.—With Etienne's help Garth wins the friendship of Saul Soucl, "medicine man" and treaty chief of the Crees, and gets his promise to persuade the Crees to take their furs to Elkwan instead of to McDonald. Garth is ambushed by Joe Mokoman, Ninda's reputed father, whom the factor had driven from Elkwan. "Shot," Garth's comrade companion on many battle-fields in France, says him, and the Indian is taken, a prisoner, to Elkwan.

CHAPTER VI.—Garth sends Mokoman to McDonald with a message of defiance, and the war is on.

CHAPTER VII.—Garth hails with joy the freezing of the strait, which will enable Soucl's followers to bring their furs to Elkwan without difficulty. Etienne craftily spreads reports that McDonald and his schooner are bewitched, and evil will befall all who trade with him.

CHAPTER VIII.—Waiting in ambush to shoot Garth, Joe Mokoman is attacked and killed by shot. At a "pow-wow" held by his orders Soucl convinces the Indians that McDonald is the friend of demons and to be avoided. The chief counsels them to take their furs to Elkwan, thus assuring the factor of trade which will establish a record for the post.

There would be little from his family—Ethel, that would bring cheer to an exile's Christmas. But the letter which a girl on the moonlit shore of the Albany had promised to send him—had she remembered? As he passed the tipis on his way to the chattering people on the shore, his heart was quick with expectation—hope. After the disapproval—reproach, of home letters, the letter from Joan Quarrier would come like the sun breaking through the cloud canopy of the bay. But if she had forgotten? As he joined Etienne and Marie, the possibility of there being no letter on the sled behind the four Ungava huskies galloping in to Elkwan to the shouts of the Crees, made him set his finger nails in the palm of his hands.

Up at his quarters, the little Christmas spruce waited on a table—for her letter—his Christmas. Should it wait in vain?

In the trade-room Garth opened the mail bag with nervous fingers. Clara's familiar hand, company mail from Cameron, two from Ethel, pale blue—He heard the hammering of his heart as he fumbled for, and drew out, the last envelops in the bag. One from an old army friend, another from his colonel, a third! Slowly he slid the folded paper from the one beneath—the last, as he doubtfully shook his head; numb with disappointment.

He looked! A strange hand—a woman's Hers! She had kept her word to the exile.

In his joy Garth sought the privacy of the rear of the counter to read Joan Quarrier's letter. Then he remembered. He had said it was to hang from the tree, to be read last, on Christmas day. Tucking it into the shirt beneath his coat, he put the others in a pocket and joined Etienne and the hungry dog-runner, who waited for Marie's dinner.

After all, it was to be a happy Christmas. A trade beyond his hopes; triumph over the schooner which lay thirty miles away over the ice—and word from the girl who faced so dauntlessly with those unwavering dark eyes. A Merry Christmas for Garth Guthrie, come what might from Charlie and Clara—and Ethel. From Ethel, what?

On Christmas eve he stood in his living room with old Anne, before the little spruce, brave with worsted and colored paper and bits of lighted candle. On the tree hung colored bags and at its foot were small parcels tied with gaudy Christmas ribbon. On the topmost twig was a letter.

"You told them, Anne?" he asked the grinning squaw, proud in her best wool dress, her raven hair coquettishly circled by a huge pink ribbon—a gift of Garth's, cherished for ceremonies like the present.

"Ah-hah," chuckled the faithful Cree. "Dey come soon, now. Marie, she rub dem chil's face till dey shine lak de moon."

Garth paced the floor, his lean, dark face beaming in anticipation. Then laughter, giggles, shouts of children, followed by stern reproof in a man's voice, announced the arrival of the guests, the eight Savannes.

Garth and Shot simultaneously sprang to the door to welcome the comely Marie, leading her excited brood of six, with the grinning Etienne as rear guard.

"Merry Christmas, Marie! Jean! Yvonne!" he cried, fairly dragging the giggling and embarrassed children into the house. "Ah, Monsieur Etienne Savanne, friend of McDonald Ha! Ha!, is also with us tonight."

With his audience seated, Garth proceeded to divide the gifts he had ordered the previous year from lower Canada. For each of the children was a bag of candy, which was opened with wide-eyed curiosity and grins of delight. And, as the sweet tooth of grown-ups is also highly developed in the North, Marie and Anne, who had not been forgotten, swiftly evidenced their appreciation of good candy by joining the children in their munching.

Then the toys in packages marked with the children's names were given out. There remained a dress each for Marie and Anne, and a Ross sporting rifle for the delighted Etienne.

In the heart of the Santa Claus of Elkwan, the pleasure lighting the dark faces of his friends at his unexpected gifts reacted manyfold. Besides, at the top of the tree, his own Christmas waited his eager eyes.

When with much bustle and chatter his friends returned to their cabin and old Anne left him, Garth sat down to read the letters from home. The first opened was his brother's, which ran as follows:

"If I had been told that my own brother was to disgrace himself as you have seen fit to do up there on James bay, I should have knocked down the liar who said it. We understand now your strange refusal to return home, your indifference to Ethel and the business. Professor Quarrier has given me the whole shameful story. A white woman would have been bad enough—but a squaw! Pah!"

Guthrie's lean face set hard as he read the first lines. Slowly the blood pushed up under the wind-burned skin.

"A white woman would have been bad enough—but a squaw!" Reading no further, he crushed the letter in his hand and let it fall.

"Poor Ninda!"

The letter from Clara was a medley of hysteria, reproach, and unmistakable evidence of a sincere affection for her erring brother-in-law. His eyes softened as he followed the misguided woman's effort to appeal to his sentiment—to his old love for Ethel.

"Of course she knows, Garth. That Quarrier man spread it all over town. But I am sure, in spite of it all, she still loves you—would forgive, if you asked her. Oh, Garth! You're the only brother I have, and I've always doted on you. Won't you, for my sake, come back this spring—for your own, for Ethel's sake. I don't know what she's writing you, but you mustn't take it seriously. She's terribly hurt, of course—but I know she'll forget it all, if you come back."

"Poor old Clara," said the man aloud. "Poor, simple Clara! She can't see yet that it's brother Charlie who counts with Ethel, not I."

So Quarrier had had his revenge, Quarrier, her brother. It was not strange after the snubbing he got. But she? What did Joan Quarrier think of the tale her brother had brought to Charles Guthrie?

Then he opened the two letters in the blue envelopes. One was dated a month earlier than the other and he read that first.

"I imagine your life in France," ran the letter, "was similar to that of the last year on James bay. I have learned much of what went on over there. Was it a French girl or an army nurse?"

She had unwittingly hurt him in the only way it was now possible for Ethel Falconer to reach the man who had once loved her. Army nurse! What had Ethel done for Canada to qualify her as a critic of the women who had toiled and dared behind the lines, that stricken men might live?

He read on: "Of course, Garth, this is your answer. I was willing to forget the slight, the neglect, but when we learned how you had been living, my love died. To share your affections with an ignorant, immoral squaw was asking a little too much, Garth."

The man who read laughed outright. "Your love died, my poor child, on the wharf at Quebec, when you saw what the Huns had done to your soldier boy," he said aloud.

"Well, why the postscript?" he went on. "She throws me over in the first letter, horse, foot and dragoons; why continue the agony?"

Opening the second envelop, he read: "When I wrote you, Garth, dear, I did not understand that she had died, but Mr. Quarrier tells me that his sister helped nurse her. Of course, it was all a horrible shock, but now that it is over and you may come home, I am willing to forget the past—if you want me to."

Rising in disgust, Guthrie paced the floor. "Merciful heavens! She's willing to forget the past! Poor, shallow, scheming Ethel! Rather than lose brother-in-law Charles, you cray-fish, eat humble-pie, grovel on your knees. 'Was it a French girl or a nurse?' he quoted scathingly. 'Ready t swallow that, too, are you, my dear?'"

Guthrie finished the letter. So Ethel Falconer waited with open arms for the prodigal lover. But, unlike the son of the tale, the prodigal lover was not returning.

Picking up and finishing the crumpled letter of Charles, Garth learned that, inasmuch as he had disgraced the family name and ignored the family wishes, the Guthrie family would proceed to try to forget its black sheep.

With a smile of contempt Garth opened the door of the sheet-iron stove and tossed in the letters. Clare's he would answer—good-hearted, well-meaning, old Clara, who alone had sensed his condition and his unhappiness, on his return home. Then raising his arms and expelling a deep breath of relief, he said: "Thank God, that's over! And now—"

He took the letter of Joan Quarrier from the tree and eagerly opened it.

"Dear Mr. Exile:

"Have you kept your promise? Is this the last letter to be read? I wish you a very happy Christmas, but just how that would be possible up there on your frozen west coast is difficult to imagine. However, I hope you will not be lonely with thoughts of home and what you have so stubbornly turned from."

Garth's brows knotted in thought. "Of course," he surmised, "she must know about Ethel since her brother had met Charles—had heard of the engagement and his strange actions. But if she thought him still engaged, why did she write?"

Joan continued:

"My winter has been an active one, working in a school for homeless children. Poor things! They need all one can give them. It has not been as uninteresting as it sounds. Everything is no new and strange.

"But you, when are you coming back to your kind, Mr. Exile? You must be wonderfully well after two years—and they are still waiting for you.

"Again my deepest gratitude for your hospitality to the shipwrecked."

(Continued next week.)

Selwood of Sleepy Cat

By FRANK H. SPEARMAN

At nine o'clock in the evening behind the closely curtained windows of the dining-room, wedding guests made merry. Christie, flushed with happiness, had stolen from the table for a moment to run up to the general's room with a piece of wedding cake, when one of the two waitresses, coming up behind Selwood's chair, whispered in his ear.

The bridegroom's face clouded. "Who is it?" he demanded in an impatient undertone. "Is it one of my men?"

"I don't know, Mr. Selwood. I don't think so. I never saw him before."

"Tell him," directed Selwood, vexed, "to come around in the morning; I've worked about fourteen hours today."

The waitress appeared perplexed. "I told him you wouldn't want to be interrupted," she said in an earnest whisper. "But it seemed like he was in terrible trouble. He told me to ask you for God's sake to come out to see him for just a minute."

Selwood muttered a protest. "Where is he?" he asked in an aside.

"At the kitchen door."

The girl thought that Selwood's keen eyes would have burned her up during the instant before he spoke again. "Tell him," he continued in a low voice, "to go around to the front door and sit down on the porch with his face to the street—understand? To go around to the front door and sit down on the porch with his face to the street," he repeated, "and his back to the door."

The waitress passed out into the kitchen. When she returned she whispered again. "He's gone to the front door, Mr. Selwood."

The talk had all been going on around the table, but Pardaloe's snaky eyes had not lost sight of the low-spoken colloquy. "What's a-matter, John?" he demanded suspiciously.

"Some stranger outside wants to see me," answered Selwood, rising. "I'll be right back."

Pardaloe was on his feet before Selwood had taken a step from the table. He put up his bear-paw of a hand. "Hold on, John!" he said definitely, pushing back his chair. "You don't go out alone to see no stranger tonight, 'specially not in your recent shape—hold your horses."

The table rose as one man. There was a momentary upset, and some conflict of claims as to who should accompany Selwood. Without passing on these in words, Selwood nodded to Pardaloe, and the discussion ceased. The mule boss followed him in long strides toward the dining-room door.

Bob Scott, at the table, sat close to the door leading into the dining-room from the kitchen. The other two men had not got out of the room when Scott, with his habitual smile of apology, rose in perfect silence and with incredible celerity slipped out into the kitchen and was out of the back door and half way around to the front of the hotel in the dark by the time Pardaloe had carefully drawn every shade in the hotel office and beckoned to Selwood to come in from the hall. He, himself, then slipped across the hall into Carpy's private office, and, throwing up the sash of the window that commanded the porch, trained his shotgun on the outer gloom.

Selwood, his revolver in his left hand, threw open the hall door without exposing himself. Seated on the porch, his face to the street, sat a large, loosely built man with his head hidden in a dark pull-down cap. "Who are you and what do you want?" asked Selwood, inspecting his caller from behind the hall door and through the crack of the opening.

"You know me, John," answered the man, hoarse and short in utterance. "But I ain't very popular in these parts just now."

"What's your name?"

"I'd like to give that to you private, John. I'm keeping some under cover."

Something in the cadence of the words told Selwood that he knew the man. A question that followed was only a precaution, for he felt sure from the cracked and husky tones that the man was Big Haynes.

"Whoever you are, you're well covered where you sit," remarked Selwood, with apparent indifference.

"I know it."

"Put up your hands. Stand up and turn around here," came the next order from the hall.

The man did as he was told. A disappointment awaited Selwood's confidence in his usually keen ear. The pinched, haggard, and unshaven features now turned toward him could not be those of the bluff, portly auctioneer; a hasty glance told him this could not be Big Haynes. The cheeks were bruised and swollen, the eyes sunken in hollow sockets, and the man's clothing was in tatters.

Before Selwood could speak, a voice came from the darkness, and a man came forward. "Bob Scott is at the corner of the house, said the voice. "It's Big Haynes, John," continued the Indian, low voiced; "he's alone."

Selwood stepped from behind the door out on the porch. He could hardly credit his senses. It was two days since he had seen Haynes; but those two days had aged the man ten years.

"What in God's name has happened—did our men catch you? Have you had a fight?" Selwood asked.

"Not the kind you mean, John. Give me a drink, for God's sake, and le' me sit down and tell the story. I ain't had a bite to eat since last night."

They led him into the office, helped him into the washroom, and Scott went to the kitchen for strong coffee. Big Haynes drank four cupfuls before he could quit; then, sitting in front of Selwood, who stood with his back against the writing table, and with Pardaloe and the Indian listening, he spoke.

"We got away from here yesterday morning O K—after you turned back, Bob—Starbuck, Meg, and me, and we made time on the Medicine Bend trail till daylight. The going was pretty bad, especially on Meg. Her horse picked up a stone and went lame early in the morning, and that held us back. Then we figured out nobody would molest her, alone on the trail, nor the teamsters wouldn't bother her none about the horse, for they all knowed Meg—so we rode her over to the trail, and Starbuck and me made up to meet her at Crawling Stone creek that night—so we parted." Haynes shook his head. "There was a game woman, John, if ever there was one—"

"'There was a game woman, John,'" echoed Selwood, suspicious and angry. "What do you mean?" He started. "Is Meg dead?" he thundered at Haynes. "Did Starbuck kill her?" he asked in a rage.

Haynes put up his hand. In all the wreck of his sorry plight, whatever it might be, there was something, for the first time, that commanded respect. "Let me alone, John—you'll hear it all soon enough.

"She was there ahead of us at dark, waiting—down by the quicksand crossing. We planned to take the trail when the moon come up and ride all night, but we was plum tuckered, all three of us. So Starbuck said we would go up the canyon a ways and camp for the night and rest up Meg's horse all the next day—that was today—and ride all the next night—that was tonight.

"When we thought we was up far enough for to be pretty well hid, we staked the horses up above, where there was a little grass, and built a fire down on a ledge and had supper. I never knowed, no more than a baby, that Starbuck and Meg was former man and wife—never drempt it. After supper they told me their story. Starbuck said she'd saved his life and they were going to head for the Panhandle and start over again. We didn't talk long. All Meg said was she wanted me to know she was Starbuck's real wife and she didn't like to be called just Meg, but Margaret Starbuck.

"Anyway, the two of 'em went to sleep close to the fire—I moved off a way. I was so blamed done out I just couldn't sleep—so there I was lying on my back on the rock, thinking where'd I land next, when I began to hear a funny kind of noise. And it kept getting louder 'n' louder, 'n' funnier and funnier—up the canyon. I lifted up to look, and there, away up the canyon, I seen a big white streak stretched clear across it, right from wall to wall, and roaring. I set up and called down to Starbuck, and pointed. 'What's that white thing?' I says.

"He jumped like he was shot. 'WATER!' he yells. 'Margaret!' he yells. 'Cloudburst! Quick! for your life! Grab your saddle, Haynes! Get to the horses! Up! Up!'

"He grabbed their two saddles. I grabbed my saddle, and we made. hard as we could, up the canyon wall. I'd got maybe ten feet when I heard Meg scream—she'd fell down. The water was crashing and roaring down on us like all hell was let loose. She yelled to Starbuck to save himself. He dropped the saddles and picked up Meg and started climbing with her—and the water struck us.

"I was maybe twenty feet higher than Starbuck and Meg. If I'd been forty feet it wouldn't have helped; that water was a hundred feet deep. It picked me up like a match, and picked them up, and picked the horses up—I never knew a thing till I came to, on a shelf away down the canyon. I was pounded clean to pieces. How I ever lived I don't know—but there I was.

"It Picked Me Up Like a Match."

"I looked careful for signs and kept calling Starbuck and Meg—but didn't have no hope much of ever seeing 'em again till I spied something, down at the mouth of the canyon, and pretty well out in the creek on a gravel bar. First I thought it was a big piece of driftwood; then I thought it was one of the horses. I seen, when I got closter, it wasn't. It was Starbuck and Meg.

"I waded a ways out into the creek and got pretty near the sand bar to see if either of 'em was alive. Meg's skirt must 'a' caught in a snag on the bar, and that held 'em there when the water went down. There they were, lying on the up side of the bar, with their arms tight round each other—and their heads part under water—Starbuck's head was clean under water."

Haynes wiped his forehead with the back of his grimy hand. "I waded back ashore and kept on down the wash till I got to the main crossing, and set down there to wait for help. Inside an hour a couple o' your wagons come along, headin' west. I told the boys the story jes' 's' 'twas. They'd heard about the trouble at Sleepy Cat but didn't know nothin' about it. They agreed to help me. We unloaded most of the hay on one wagon and drove the wagon up the creek, close as we could to where they lay. We waded out and one of the boys took aholt of their feet, and the other one and I took their shoulders together, so we got 'em out to the wagon the way they lay, 'n' got 'em into the wagon. So, John—well—here we are."

Hollow-eyed, he said no more. Selwood, after a moment's silence, spoke to Scott. "I guess everybody's out of the kitchen," he said. "Get hold of Bull and tell him to cook some supper for Haynes and hunt up a bed for him." He turned back to Haynes. "Where are they?"

"John, we laid 'em down at the barn in the harness-room—there wa'n't no other place, 'n' I jus' plum didn't know what to do with 'em till I seen you. If you don't think it's right—"

He hesitated. Selwood finished the sentence. "It's all right," he said, rising. As he started toward the dining-room, Pardaloe laid a heavy hand on his shoulder. And he looked down at him with serious eyes. "John," he said solemnly, "remember what the cards said Saturday night at Calabasas? We couldn't figure out just how it was coming, could we? But the old deck didn't lie; death was in it that night, sure enough, wasn't it?"

Selwood stepped into the hall, to find Christie, wide-eyed, at the open door. She caught his hands. "When I came downstairs they told me you had been called from the table. I was frightened and I ran out to see where you were," she whispered. "I heard that terrible story! John, what shall we do?"

They called Carpy, and while Pardaloe told the story to the merrymakers, Selwood and Christie told the doctor.

He vowed with hardened oaths that Meg Hyde should have the best there was to be had in Sleepy Cat; and the three started for the barn—for Christie would not be denied. "Let me go, John," she pleaded. "I'm a woman, she's a woman—let me go."

* * * * * * *

They lay on a blanket rudely spread on the harness-room floor, still locked in each other's arms. Carpy held a lantern to their faces; Selwood and Christie stood at their side.

"There's a considerable bruise on his forehead," said Carpy, speaking after his brief examination. "When the water struck him, I guess it knocked him flat on the rocks. Well—load 'em into a wagon, John. We'll take 'em up to the hotel."

"To the hotel, Doc?" echoed McAlpin, who with the rest had followed from the hotel and crowded into the room.

"Where else?" roared Carpy. "Up to the hotel 'n' into my office."

Christie knelt at Margaret's side. The men stood by. Her tears moistened the dark, sand-strewn hair, as she tried to gather it up and knot it a little at Margaret Hyde's neck.

When she rose from her knees, she buried her cheek on Selwood's breast. "At least, John," were her half-whispered words, "she died where she would have asked to die—in his arms."

CHAPTER XVIII

Hearts in the West.

"What's Selwood going to do?" asked Wentworth. He was sitting with Carpy in the sunshine on the hotel porch. A week had passed since the Crawling Stone tragedy, and Sleepy Cat, though badly scarred, had already profited, rather than lost, by the efforts to exterminate its crooks and murderers.

Doctor Carpy took Wentworth's question seriously. "Selwood talked about going back East, 'Jing!' I says to him. 'If you're goin' back East I'll hand you a letter to a friend of mine there; he'll give you a job counting grass.' 'Counting grass?' he says. 'Sure,' I says. 'He's superintendent of an insane asylum. That's what they do with men that leave Sleepy Cat for to go back East.'"

Carpy hardly paused to continue. "Christie was a good deal upset about this roughness that's been goin' on here—men gettin' killed and that kind. 'Well, Christie,' I says, 'it's partly the fault of the climate. You've got to remember it's mighty hard for a man to die here—I mean, to die the old, bed-fashion, natural death. This is a wonderful climate; it's given you, my girl, a fine husband. He came out here half dead, and if he hadn't come, he'd 'a' been dead long ago. And look at him now! Why, Christie,' I says, 'if they didn't kill off somebody by main force once in a while out here, or bring in some more doctors to reduce the population, people would get so thick, they'd be laying out the mountain-tops for town lots.

"Then," the doctor went on, "Selwood talked about California. 'California!' I says. 'California? Sand! Fleas! Greasers!' Well, he thought he was goin' out there, anyway, to get hold of a little freighting business of his own. Don't seem to be no business here he likes. I offered to sell the hotel to him."

"Well," remarked Wentworth, "if a freighting business of his own is all he's looking for, he needn't go to California for it. I came up here to offer him a third interest in our line. If he'll live here and spend part of his time in Thief River, he can run this west end of the line to suit himself."

"Well, by gum, I'm thinking that'll settle it," averred Carpy. "We've got something to work on. Now let's hunt up John, and drive that partnership nail into him while the iron's hot!"

It was not, perhaps, most of all, the bribe of an already established and congenial business that held Selwood on the crest of the Rocky Mountain divide. Every morning he walked down to the barn after he had announced he was going to California, it made him sick to look into the faces of his men.

McAlpin's tail-feathers plainly drooped; Lefever's snug trousers waistband grew a world too wide for his shrunken sides, and new notches had to be cut to tighten his cartridge-belt; Pardaloe moped in and out of the stable like an ailing mule, peevish, stooped, and hollow-eyed; Bob Scott, in desperation, had had his hair cut, and no self-respecting Chippewa squaw would longer have acknowledged him a brother in blood.

How much of this desperation was weighing on Selwood's heart as he listened, sober-faced, to Wentworth's calm proposals? How much did the claims of such a man-for-man friendship as men never know, and never can know, outside the wild life of a mountain frontier, pull at his heart while he was debating what to do in a crisis of his checkered life?

But one morning there were heard at the barn more noise, mere shouting, more profanity, more laughter, and more arguments—more fights were in the offing and more symptoms of crude, heartfelt rejoicing were manifest than had been known there since before the days of the Sleepy Cat riots. For that morning Selwood and Christie had come down to their hotel breakfast just as Carpy and Wentworth were leaving the dining-room. And there was that in their manner that Carpy read the moment he looked into their faces. He was not a bit surprised, even if Wentworth by any chance was, when Selwood—holding Christie in his arm—said to them both: "Well—I guess we're going to stay!"

[THE END.]

LOCAL NEWS

Ask your grocer for "Blue Ribbon" Bread. Baked in Belmond by Belmond's Bakers.

Ed Bohning and family from Miller, South Dakota, and Mrs. Wadsworth from Lake Mills, were visitors at the John Lieuwen home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller and family and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wenzel and family spent Sunday at Iowa Falls and Eldora, visiting the Industrial School at Eldora.

Mrs. Charles Thomas of Montana, visited relatives and friends in town last week.

Claude Thayer and family have gone on a vacation trip to different points in Minnesota.

The fall term opens Tuesday, September the 6th. The Hamilton University, Mason City, Iowa.

Mrs. Lillie Pierce of Goldfield, spent Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Hake.

Finis Letch, formerly of Goodell, and now of Osceola, Wis., was greeting old friends in town last week. Mr. Letch, who conducted the newspaper at Goodell some years ago, now publishes the paper at Osceola.

Dance Friday evening, August 26, at the Belmond Opera House. Music by the Dixieland Entertainers. Tickets $1. Everybody welcome.

Mrs. Hommerding and daughters of Clear Lake spent the week end in Belmond. Mrs. P. G. Pederson, who had been visiting in Clear Lake and Des Moines, returned home with her.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Sullivan and daughter, Miss Nell, accompanied by Mrs. Graepler, of Dows, returned Thursday from their trip to Winnipeg, Canada, Bermiji, and Duluth, Minnesota.

Mrs. B. L. Lau of Minneapolis, spent Sunday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Chris Norby.

CASH OR EXCHANGE — 640 acre dairy farm, 38 miles to market of 80,000. What have you?—W. H. Wolle, Belmond. 1*

"A loaf of "Blue Ribbon" bread, please." Baked in Belmond by Morrow & Scott Bakery, Belmond's Bakers.

Ollie Tomson from Glendive, Mont, came last week to spend a week or two with relatives here. His family have been here several weeks, and will return with him.

Mrs. Verle Jones and son, of Sioux City, and Mrs. M. J. Shauger and two daughters, of Oskaloosa, have been guests at the H. J. Williams home this week. The two ladies are sisters of Mrs. William. Sunday they all went to Northwood to attend a family reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Tyrrell and son, David, returned Sunday from a motor trip to Port Arthur, Canada.

Tuesday evening Miss Marie Johnson, Miss Maye Tracy and Mrs. M. C. Barry, entertained at bridge in honor of Miss Ialeen Flynn at the home of Miss Johnson.

Miss Mildred Schultz, who is employed in Cherokee, Iowa, is spending this week in Belmond, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schultz.

The Russell Sage Foundation says —95 per cent of the people of this country are incompetent because they are not trained correctly. HAMILTON TRAINED students succeed. The Hamilton University, Mason City, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Root, of Elsinore, California, are guests this week at the Geo. P. Hardwick home. Mr. Root is a nephew of Mrs. Hardwick. They are enroute to Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jacobmeyer and daughter, Gladys, attended the funeral of a relative at Titonka, Sunday.

Dr. A. W. Russell is able to be around again, following a two weeks siege of illness.

Mrs. Fred Meachem is able to be about once more, following her recent fall down the cellar steps in which she received severe injuries.

A family festival was held Sunday at the home of Mrs. Hauge, in north Belmond, in honor of her 84th birthday. About 50 relatives and friends were present, including her sons, A. O. and Martin Hauge, of Des Moines. Rev. Guldseth gave a short talk appropriate to the occasion. A family dinner was enjoyed, and the afternoon spent in a social way.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Telford of Mason City were guests Friday at the home of Mr. Telford's daughter, Mrs. C. C. Landon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Modlin and daughter, of Hubbard, were Sunday guests at the C. C. Landon home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wolle received a telegram the first of the week from their son, Howard, saying he had landed at Boston. Howard is coming home on a six month's vacation from Bombay, India.

Send us your cleaning early as the busy season is here. We clean all kinds of hats and caps, ladies or gent's, and everything that can be cleaned. We know the game. Phone 28.—New Belmond Tailor Shop. F. J. Tuffree. 412c

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Parsons and A. J. Lilly from Garner drove to Humboldt Sunday to attend a reunion of the alumni of the former Humboldt College.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gealow from Meservey came Monday to spend a few days with their daughter, Mrs. Peter Kalkwarf and family.

The Misses Kathleen and Pearl Barry returned last Wednesday to Chicago to resume their work. Miss Pearl is a graduate nurse, and Miss Kathleen is taking the nurse's training course.

Sam Lieuwen and family from Green Bay, Wisconsin, came Sunday to visit relatives and friends here.

Miss Leah Knox from Fort Dodge is visiting her cousin, Mrs. E. L. Madsen.

Mrs. C. J. Boughton who has been quite sick the past week or two is recovering nicely now.

Bread, cakes, pies, cookies, rolls—Baked goods of all kinds. Baked by Belmond's bakers—Morrow & Scott. At your grocer's.

Mrs. J. E. Stonebraker and grandson of Minneapolis, have been visiting at the Peter Kaufman home, the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kalvig and family of Kanawha, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. John Kalvig, and other relatives here.

Miss Wilma Thompson of Fort Dodge, is spending a two week's vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hanson of Fayette were visiting relatives here last week.

U. B. Tracy motored to Fairmont, Minn., for an over-Sunday visit with his sister. His niece Miss Maye Tracy of Belmond accompanied him. —Monitor.

Last week Tuesday, Mrs. Dice, who was visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Campbell and family, was operated on at the hospital here for tumor and appendicitis. Mrs. Dice is 81 years old and making a remarkable recovery from so serious an operation.

A family reunion will be held at the John Lieuwen home this evening, when all the children are expected to be present. A big family dinner will be a feature of the reunion.

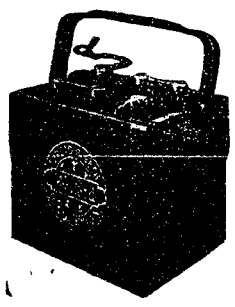
Mr. and Mrs. Martin House are the parents of a baby boy, born Monday, August 22.

Lets' go! Yes! Hollandale. Advise when.—W. H. Wolle, Belmond. 1*

St. Olaf church will hold a congregational festival and Ladies Aid Bazaar next Wednesday, August 31, in the grove at the E. C. Markus farm, 1½ miles south of St. Olaf church. Program at 10 a. m. Rev. H. O. Shurson, of Minneapolis, will be the speaker of the day. Dinner and other refreshments will be served. All are welcome.

Don't say Bread. Say "Blue Ribbon" Bread. Baked in Belmond by Belmond's Bakers.

Call



46

FOR RADIO SERVICE

Tubes, B-batteries, A-batteries, recharging and renting, along with prompt service.

BELMOND STORAGE BATTERY CO.

Phone 46 J. W. Scott, Prop.
Thru Service We Grow!

GET AWAY OVER LABOR DAY

LOW FARE Excursions

$3.55 to Omaha

$3.05 to St. Paul-Minneapolis

and Return

Half fare for children. Tickets now on sale for early morning trains Sept. 4th — limited for return to reach home Sept. 6th.
Free Reclining Chair Cars and Coaches.
Very convenient schedules allowing a maximum of time at destination for recreation and visiting. Sale of tickets limited to seating capacity of train.
Get full information and buy tickets today from

Local Ticket Agent
C. G. W. Station, Belmond, Ia.

CHICAGO GREAT WESTERN

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — Fordson tractor, guaranteed in good condition. Also Oliver tractor plow and John Deere single disc.—S. A. Bohning. 1*

FOR SALE—Modern house and one or more lots, or lots only. Prewar price. Write Box 56, Belmond, Iowa. 402*

FOR SALE—Majestic range, in good conditon. Bargain if taken at once. Phone 231. 413c

FOR SALE—Frame building, 8 ft. square. Would make good well house. Bargain! Peter Kaufman. 402*

FOR RENT—8 room modern house, three blocks from Main street. Corner lot; garage. Inquire of John Anderson. Phone 308. 1*

SONDHORDLAND STARTS AT EAGLE GROVE SEPT. 2

O Ostrem of Jewell, Iowa, Secretary of the Sondhordland League, announces this week the program for the annual meeting to be held at Eagle Grove, Iowa, on September 2-3-4:

Friday, September 2nd

Friday forenoon at 10 o'clock—Assemble at First Liberty Bank and march to Park, led by the Eagle Grove Band.

At 11 o'clock—Song by audience, and devotion; preaching in Norwegian by Rev. P. Nordsletten, Jewell, Iowa.

At 2 o'clock p. m.—
Song and Devotion.
Ladies' Octette.
Address of Welcome by Mayor G. W. Baker of Eagle Grove.
Response by President T. J. Severtson of Eagle Grove.
Ladies' Octette.
Speech in Norwegian by Rev. Olaf Holen, Roland, Iowa, who will lecture on his travels in Europe two years ago.

Friday evening, 7:30 o'clock—
Song and Devotion
Vocal Duet, Mrs. Nellie Kauffman, and Miss Anna Falk.
Speech by Hon. L. S. Nelson, District Judge, 13th Judicial District, of Worthington, Minn.
Song, Male Quartette.

Saturday, September 3rd

9:30—Annual Business Meeting.
10:30—Song and Devotion. Speech by Rev. P. Ljostvedt of Eagle Grove on "Sondhordland."

Saturday afternoon, 2:00 o'clock—
Song and Devotion
Song, Ladies' Octette.
Speech by Prof. L. W. Boe, President of St. Olaf's College, Northfield, Minn.

Saturday evening, 7:30 o'clock—
Song and Devotion.
Piano, selected, Miss Lillian Roseland, B. M., Oberlin College.
Speech by Ola Johan Saervolo, Minneapolis, Minn.

Sunday forenoon, Sept. 4—

The two Lutheran churches in Eagle Grove will join in services at the tent. Preaching in Norwegian by Rev. H. E. Rasmussen, Beloit, Wisconsin.
Singing by joint choir from the West and East Side Lutheran Churches and Holmes and Lake Lutheran churches.
Offering will be taken.

Sunday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock

Song and Devotion.
"Reminiscences from Settlements in the Pioneer Times," by Prof. L. W. Boe, Northfield, and by Rev. H. E. Rasmussen, Beloit, Wis.
Song, Men's Quartette.

Sunday evening, 7:30 o'clock

Song Services by the Joint Lutheran Churches of Eagle Grove and the Holmes and the Lake Luthern Churches, conducted by P. B. Hovland, Leader.

Program subject to minor changes.
O. OSTREM, Secretary. 34-35

OLAF NEWS

Mrs. Lloyd Holverson spent part of last week with relatives near Roland.

Orphie Anderson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Will Morse of Belmond, drove to Pilot Knob, Sunday.

Ed Thompson received a fancy price for a car of cattle which were delivered here Saturday.

Rev. Mathre and family of Estherville, are visiting at the Jacob Thompson home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kirk and L. H. Johnson, drove, to Pilot Knob Sunday.

Mrs. Albert Schlitching accompanied Fred Prelip to Mason City, Sunday, to see Mrs. Prelip who is in the hospital at that place.

Let the Farmers' Shipping Association ship your live stock. Notify M. F. Christie.

BELMOND MARKETS
(Subject to change.)

Springs	18c
Springs	20c
Roosters	07c
Ducks	12c
Geese	08c
Eggs	24c
Butterfat	39c
Creamery Butter	45c
Oats	39c
Corn No. 3 yellow	98c
Barley	65c-67c

CITY MARKET'S SPECIALS!

Friday - Saturday
August 26-27

LIVER, per pound 05c
HAMBURGER, per pound 15c
PORK SAUSAGE, per pound 15c

ATTRACTIVE PRICES ON COLD MEATS!

Watch for Our Specials Every Week!

Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning

City Meat Market
Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207. Belmond, Iowa

Here's A Proposition

THIS isn't a complaint, UNDERSTAND, it's just a LITTLE statement of fact—EVERY once in a while a HOUSE to house canvasser HITS our town and proceeds TO call on the ladies—NICE occupation, too! AND we don't give a HANG what he sells or HOW much—that's his BUSINESS—but it does MAKE us rise up in RIGHTEOUS indignation—(GOSH we're goin' good TODAY)—when these birds TELL the ladies that OUR home merchants ARE robbers and thieves—LISTEN! We'll make you a LITTLE proposition—the NEXT time one of these BELL ringers tells you THAT, just suggest that YOU compare his product WITH the home merchant's, AND if we can't beat HIM on quality and PRICE, we'll buy you a BOX of the best candy IN town! TRY the Drug Store First! P. S.—Get the habit—BUY Belmond Bread!

Herman L. Schultz

SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

ROBINSONS ...STORE...

BAKERY
GROCERY

We have more of those Libby's Peaches, either sliced or half, 40 per cent sweet, at 25c.

This year's pack No. 10 peaches at 60c. Loganberries at 65c. Pineapples at 75c.

Our buns and rolls are as good as can be made. Cakes of all kinds made to order from our own oven.

Daily—Saturday we will have the Old Style Ginger Bread, 10c per generous cut.

Plenty of one crust pies.

We help you, you help us.

Watermelon!

Yes—a good big, juicy, satisfying slice, cold and refreshing, right off the ice, for 10 cents. Try one! Or if you prefer cold pop or ice cream, we have it. If the day is cool, a brimming cup of real coffee with real cream! In fact, any time we are here to serve you with the best in

MEALS LUNCHES
SHORT ORDERS
ICE CREAM CANDY
CIGARS TOBACCO

Look for the Red Light!

RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

Lyric Theatre
...Geo. Hake, Manager...

SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS

FRIDAY, SATURDAY, AUGUST 26 and 27

"The Devil's Saddle"

First National picture with Ken Maynard, Kathleen Collins, Earl Metcalfe, Paul Hurst, Will Walling. The West, with all its adventure, in all its glory, lives again in this story of pioneer days. A stirring story woven into a thrilling chapter of American History.

"GOOSE FLESH"
Educational comedy
10c and 25c

MONDAY, TUESDAY AUGUST 29 and 30

"For the Love of Mike"

Claudette Colbert, Ben Lyon, Geo. Sidney, Ford Sterling, Hugh Cameron. The story of a foundling who is brought up by three bachelors, an Irishman, a German and a Jew. Each one claims the youngster but compromise by agreeing to bring him up co-operatively.
Fox News
10c and 25c

WEDNEDAY and THURSDAY AUGUST 31, SEPTEMBER 1

"Hard-boiled Haggerty"

Milton Sills, Molly O'Day, Arthur Stone, Mitchell Lewis, Geo. Fawcett, Yola d'Avril. The story of an American ace who, during the war, falls in love with a charming French girl in the midst of escapades in Paris while absent without leave.
Pathe comedy
"SHOULD MEN WALK HOME?"
Prices 10c and 25c

Belmond Independent

ESTABLISHED 1919 — AND HERALD-PRESS — CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 8 — BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1927 — NO. 42

School Faculty For Next Year

Five Members of Teaching Staff, Next Term New; One Less Teacher

ANTICIPATE FINE YEAR

Superintendent H. J. Williams, Belmond, Iowa.

Principal High School, Hazel Thomas, Belmond Iowa.

Athletic Coach and Manual Training, John Hall, Emmetsburg, Iowa.

History and Girls Physical Training, Arlie Knudson, Ellsworth, Iowa.

English, Elizabeth Devine, Livermore, Iowa.

Mathematics, Bernice Pfarr, Tipton, Iowa.

Latin, Helen Murtagh, Algona, Ia.

Domestic Science, Regina McGough, Ackley.

Science, Gerald Shepherd, Indianola, Iowa.

Commercial, Martha Gibbs, Belmond, Iowa.

Junior High Principal, Helen Bond, Harper, Iowa.

Junior High, Mary Sowerwine, Victor, Iowa.

Junior High, Bessie Quigley, Belmond, Iowa.

Sixth Grade, Sarah Heggen, Hardy, Iowa.

Fifth Grade, Beatrice Barry Belmond, Iowa.

Fourth Grade, Bonnie Bell, Des Moines, Iowa.

Third Grade, Shirley Thompson, Belmond, Iowa.

Third Grade, Louise Wiseman, Bloomfield, Iowa.

Second Grade, Bernadette Smith, Kensett, Iowa.

First Grade, Hilda Nelson, Humboldt, Iowa.

First Grade, Ettalee Hazlett, Riceville, Iowa.

Kindergarten, Ruth Cambier, Orange City, Iowa.

Music Supervisor, Elizabeth Waugh, Clarksville, Iowa.

Due to the anticipated smaller enrollment in the grades, one less teacher has been engaged than last year.

Five members of the teaching staff, two in the grades and three in high school, are new additions to the faculty. Miss Bonnie Bell, of Des Moines, will take Miss Purdy's place as fourth grade teacher. Miss Bell attended Drake University and has had three years teaching experience, two years at Latimer and last year at Klemme.

Miss Louise Wiseman, whose home is at Bloomfield, Iowa, will probably be given third and fifth grades. Miss Wiseman attended Iowa Wesleyan College and taught at Bucknell, Iowa, last year.

Miss Bernice Pfarr, of Tipton, will take the position formerly held by Miss Hammers, as mathematics teacher. Miss Pfarr has had two years teaching experience in the Walnut and Missouri Valley high schools. She received her masters degree in mathematics at the State University in June. Miss Pfarr also received her B. A. degree at the University.

Miss Helen Murtagh, of Algona, takes the position held for several years by Miss Sharon. Miss Murtagh will teach Latin and English. She graduated from the State University this spring, having specialized in the work she is to teach.

The Domestic Science department will be in charge of Miss Regina McGough of Ackley. Miss McGough received her B. A. degree at the Iowa State Teachers College this spring. Before completing her college work Miss McGough taught for four years in Franklin county.

Supt. Williams and the Board of Education feel that they have a very strong and capable faculty and look forward to one of the best years in the history of the school.

Miss Skouge, Miss Hammers, and Miss Jackson of last year's faculty have been married during the summer. Miss Sharon will teach in the Fort Dodge high school and Miss Purdy has moved to California where she expects to teach.

Everett Parsons left Wednesday for Deer River, Minnesota, to visit his sister, Mildred, before going to Chicago, where he will be employed.

BELMOND GIRL WEDS YOUNG CLARION MAN

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stapley, at noon August 26th, when their daughter, Elma Margaret, was united in marriage to Orvis W. Shillington of Clarion, Rev. W. G. Muhleman of Eagle Grove officiating.

The guests being assembled, Mrs. R. H. Klemme played, "To A Wild Rose" by McDowell. Evelyn and Lois Stapley, sisters of the bride, sang "Love's Old Sweet Song," after which the bridal party descended the stairs and took their places under an arch of green, banked by a profusion of garden flowers. The ring ceremony was used. The bride was given away by her father. The bride was attended by Miss Ruth Tiara and the groom by his cousin, Mr. Ray Shillington of Woolstock.

The bride's gown was of white georgette and chantilly lace over white silk. She wore a veil with headdress of swainsonia blossoms, and carried a sheaf of pink roses and swainsonia. The bridesmaid wore a rose colored silk gown with rose slip and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas and swainsonia. The groom wore a gray suit. His gift to the bride was a necklace of pearl beads.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to twenty-four guests. Decorations of the home and tables were in silver and orchid. The happy couple left on a motor trip to points north and to California, expecting to be gone about a month.

Those attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Shillington and daughter, Miss Carrie Shillington of Clarion, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shillington of Harcourt, Mr. James Shillington and son Ray of Woolstock, Mrs. R. E. Henry of Iowa Falls, Miss Gladys Eliason and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mantle of Kanawha, Mr. and Mrs. Orick Rhodes of Goodell, and Mrs. W. G Muhleman of Eagle Grove.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stapley. She graduated from the Belmond high school in '25, and since then has taught in rural schools of the county.

Mr. Shillington is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Shillington, of Clarion, who were among the early settlers of Wright county. He is an ex-service man, and during the past few years has been in partnership with his brother farming their father's farm, south of Clarion. He and his bride expect to farm next year.

The Independent joins with their friends in extending best wishes.

Sioux Rapids Man Buys Loats Store

W. E. Bump In Charge Of Store Since Monday

W. E. Bump, of Sioux Rapids, is the new proprietor of the grocery formerly conducted by A. W. Loats, through a deal completed last week. Mr. Bump took possession Monday of this week, and is now running the business. His mother is here with him assisting in getting things arranged, and his wife together with his father and two sisters will arrive in the near future to make their home here. They have rented the congregational parsonage.

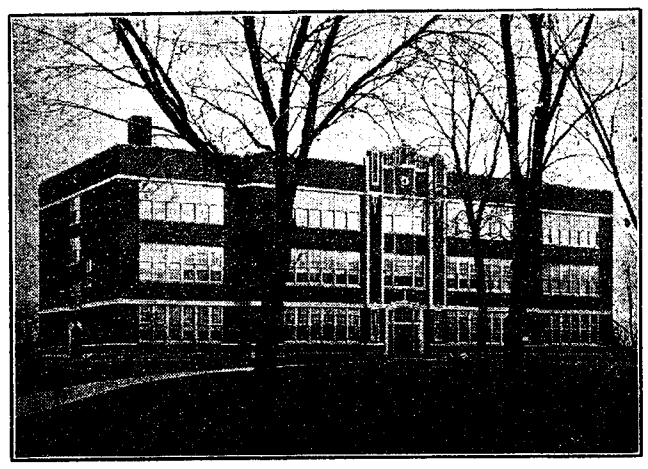
Mr. Bump is experienced in the business game, having been in the white mercantile business at Sioux Rapids. He is arranging the interior of the building, and adding a new stock of groceries.

W. F. M. S. TO MEET

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society will meet this Thursday at the home of Mrs. E. F. Bailey. Mrs. Ramsay is lesson leader and Mrs. Chamberlin will conduct the Mystery Box. Election of officers will take place and each member is to bring their gift for the Christmas Box. Those not knowing what to bring, call Mrs. Luick, chairman of the Christmas Box committee.

Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, and Miss Minnie Johnson, left Sunday to visit relatives at Huxley.

BELMOND PUBLIC SCHOOL



Eagle Grove 'Legger In Sheriff's Net

Another Victim Is Added To Officers' List

The move on the part of the board of supervisors in sending Messrs. Kitley and Schroeder and County Attorney Blue to Des Moines last week to confer with the executive council netted the tax payers a nice little saving. The state board proposed to raise the assessment on farm lands 13 per cent. The local board remonstrated and the matter was compromised by a 6 per cent increase. Estimated on the basis of one cent per acre the saving would amount to more than $3500.00.

Iner Severson was arrested at Eagle Grove Friday night for the larceny of two front wheels from the Ford car of Herman McDaniels. He later made a confession to officers and the wheels were located in a corn field a short distance from Goldfield. In default of a $1000 bond the defendant was placed in the county jail. Tuesday he was taken to Fort Dodge, where Judge Clock is holding court, for sentence.

At the time of the arrest of Iner Severson on a larceny charge Buelah Buck of Goldfield was found at the home of Severson's mother and she too taken in charge and placed in jail at Clarion. She is but 16 years of age, yet she can swear, drink and smoke. She is held as a dependent, neglected and delinquent child. She will have a hearing later.

The third person to be captured in the drag net thrown out by Sheriff Johnson and Marshal Reynolds was Roy VanArsdale of Eagle Grove, who has consented to plead guilty to a bootleg charge. He too was taken before Judge Clock at Fort Dodge.

Catherine Schmelz seeks to have her title to four lots in original town of Belmond established.

W. F. and Grace Mechem of Clarion bring action in the district court asking the foreclosure of a mortgage executed in August, 1923, by Fred and Sarah Walkner. The amounted alleged to be due is $7,669.34.—Monitor.

ARTHUR FRIESLEBEN

Arthur Friesleben was born Jan, 1, 1908, and died August 25, 1927, at the family home two miles east of Alexander. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Friesleben, and besides his parents leaves two brothers, and two sisters, and various other relatives to mourn his passing. One brother and one sister preceded him in death. Funeral services were held Sunday at the Evangelical church at Alexander, burial being in Franklin Grove cemetery in Belmond.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt appreciation and thanks to the neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy in our bereavement, and for the floral tributes.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Friesleben and Children.

Mr. and Mrs. John Heuerman spent Sunday at the Fred Musck home in Eagle Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith are guests of Iowa Falls relatives.

Daughters Evidence Hard On Vern Hay

Tells Justice That She Saw Stepfather Purloin

The chicken case against Vern Hay of Belmond was given a preliminary hearing Wednesday and Thursday before Justice Triggs in the district court rooms at Clarion. Only a few witnesses were called, but the case was stubbornly contested from the start by Attorney Files of Fort Dodge. County Attorney Blue and Sheriff Fred Johnson had the case well in hand, having secured some first hand evidence, which was difficult for the defense to overcome. At the conclusion of the hearing Justice Triggs held the defendant to the grand jury, fixing his bond at $1000, which was secured next day, when his father appeared with a certified check on the First National Bank at Fort Dodge. Hay's undoing came about when he quarreled with his wife and left her, taking their three year old daughter with him. This caused her to turn the whole matter over to the sheriff's office. Hay was located at Fort Dodge, the officers of that city having arrested him for the theft of some blankets, which they recovered, after which he was turned over to Sheriff Johnson, who brought him to Clarion.

Helen, the 11 year old daughter, was the star witness. Although she was grilled for over an hour her testimony could not be shaken. She told her story in a straight-forward and convincing manner. On several occasions she was asked if her mother had not told her to say so and so. She quickly gave a negative reply and stated that she had seen her step-father take the chickens from the roost with her own eyes and carry them upstairs and place them in a box. This was on a Saturday night the last of June. The next day, Sunday, the family drove to Webster City, where the poultry was sold at the Weedman poultry house for the sum of $8.40. The chickens, twelve White Rocks belonged to Joe Sampson, on whose farm the defendant was tenant. A 14 year old daughter corrobated her sister for the most part and Mr. Weedman, the poultry buyer, admitted buying some chickens of Hay on the date mentioned.

This is the first preliminary trial held in some time by the county attorney. The defense evidently had two objects in view. One was to compel the county attorney to "show his hand" and in that way they would be able to come into the district court with a much better prepared case. Possibly the state "held out" and only produced such evidence as would be sufficient to have the man indicted. The fact that only $8.40 was realized from the sale of the poultry may have given the defense hope that their client would be able to get off on a petit larceny charge. But the law is quite severe on that subject, with the evident view of putting a stop to this kind of business. It provides a penalty of not more than five years in the penitentiary or a $1000 fine for the theft of chickens, regardless of number or value. Following the action of the grand jury the case will come up for final hearing at the September term of court. —Monitor.

PUBLIC WEDDING AT LAKE CORNELIA, SUNDAY

Miss Bella E. Lewis, of Fairfield, and Mr. Clyde DuVall, of Des Moines, were united in marriage, Sunday afternoon, at Wilson's Point, Lake Cornelia, the Rev. Pringlet, pastor of the Christian church at Hampton, officiating. The ceremony was a public affair, taking place on an open-air platform at Wilson's Point, and was arranged and sponsored by R. S. Wilson, proprietor of the Point, a summer resort at the lake. A crowd estimated at better than 2,000 was present, parking space for cars being at a premium with many forced to park a considerable distance from the Point. The newlyweds received as gifts from various merchants in Belmond and Clarion, a large variety of articles valued at several hundred dollars. Following the ceremony, Foster's Cafe of Belmond served the wedding supper on the platform. Music was furnished by a four-piece orchestra from Webster City.

THE COMMUNITY CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The Community Club's regular meeting was held last Friday afternoon. After the monthly business meeting was attended to, a musical program was carried out, Miss Carol Tyrrell having charge, which assured us a treat.

Two song numbers were sweetly sung by Miss Leola Jenison. Miss Mildred Jacobson very efficiently played an instrumental piece, followed by two song numbers by Mrs. C. O. Fitts, who always delights us. Her accompanist was her sister, Mrs. Edwards, of Rockwell City. Then Miss Tyrrell in quite a finished manner rendered several instrumental selections. It is indeed a pleasure to listen to these young folks with talent and to have them help us out with a program. We feel grateful to them.

The hostesses served tea-cakes and coffee.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH GIVES WRIGHT A CALL

At a meeting Sunday morning of the members of the Congregational church, a unanimous call was extended to Rev. Wright, which he accepted. He will remain as pastor here at least until June, reserving the right to leave then to attend school if he sees fit. Mr. Wright came here a couple months ago from Chicago, where he was attending a theological seminary, and has given splendid satisfaction and made many friends who are pleased that he will remain.

Spencer Lady Buys Variety Store Here

Miss Charlotte Schefer Is New Proprietor

Miss Charlotte Schefer, of Spencer, Iowa, is the new owner of the Belmond Variety Store, through a deal consumated last week. She assumed possession last Wednesday.

Miss Schefer is well qualified to manage her new interests, having had many years' experience as buyer for ladies' ready-to-wear and millinery for several of the largest dry goods stores in the middle west. She is in St. Paul this week purchasing a new stock of goods.

Mr. and Mrs. Roper, who have managed the store the past few months, left Wednesday for Toma, Wisconsin, where they will manage a similar store. During their brief stay in Belmond they made many friends who regret to have them leave, but who wish them success in their new field.

COULTER WINS 2 to 1

Coulter and Goodell played a tight game of ball on the Belmond diamond, Sunday, Coulter finally coming out victorious 2 to 1. It was a good game throughout, well played, and with some fine fielding. Those two teams were evenly matched, Goodell winning 5 to 4 in the first game between the two here a couple of weeks ago. The third and "deciding (?)" game if played should be a warm one.

School Will Open Monday, Sept. 5

Enrollment Completed Today And Finishing Touches Are Being Made

LARGER SENIOR CLASS

With the enrollment of high school and kindergarten pupils this week, the opening of school is near at hand. Next Monday morning the school year begins.

Finishing touches are being given the grounds and building this week and everything seems in readiness for the incoming teachers and pupils. Supt. Williams has called a teachers meeting Saturday afternoon at which time plans for the year will be discussed.

No radical changes in the conduct of the school will be anticipated this year. A few minor changes in textbooks and courses will be made to meet the requirements of the state and local conditions.

The enrollment in the junior high and high school will be larger than last year, but from the second to sixth grades inclusive, some shrink is expected. On this account one less grade teacher has been engaged. Due to the large first grade expected, both Miss Nelson and Miss Hazlett will be assigned to the first grade. Miss Smith will have the second grade, Miss Thompson third, Miss Bell fourth, Miss Barry fifth, and Miss Heggen sixth. Miss Quigley has been assigned to the junior high and will teach geography and history.

In the high school a larger enrollment will necessitate more divisions of some classes. The increase in numbers will result from the graduation of a small senior class and a larger number coming in from the eighth grade than last year. Estimates indicate there will be about 41 seniors, 54 juniors and 45 sophomores. A freshman class of about 50 is anticipated with a chance of the number even going to 60. This total would bring the high school enrollment up to the record of two years ago.

A few changes have been made in textbooks, most of which are changes to newer editions of texts now in use. The New Aldine Language Books will be used in the third, fifth and seventh grades. The Field-Martin Primer will be used in the first grade as the basal reader in place of the Young and Field.

A recent ruling by the State Department of Public Instruction will cause a slight shift in the Normal Training schedule. Psychology will be taught the first semester of the junior year and School Management the second semester. A full year of American History is now required of Normal Training Students. It is hoped space will permit the setting aside of one room as a normal training special room this year.

Considerable repairing and improving has been done to the grounds and building during the summer. In spite of the dry weather the lawn and shrubs are in better shape than they have ever been before. Through the painstaking care of Mr. Groen, the school grounds have been made into one of the beauty spots of town. Stumps have been taken out of the playground and the rough spots smoothed down.

Inside the buildings several improvements have been made. Painters have given the corridors a much needed decorating, and varnished the woodwork. The floors have been given a new covering and the toilets a fresh coat of paint. New fixtures have been added to the drinking fountains. Part of the walls and posts of the gymnasium have been cleaned with fresh paint. Both boilers have ben completely overhauled and pronounced in good shape for several years by the state inspector. Several other odd jobs such as oiling of floors, repairing and varnishing desks, have also been done.

Business Men's Luncheon club will meet this noon in regular session. Supt. H. J. Williams will give a talk on school activities and plans for the coming year.

Belmond Independent
AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES
Display, per column inch -------25c
Locals, per line ----------10c
Classified, per word ----------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Editorials

How can one measure the value of an education? The cost in dollars and cents of educating a pupil in our public school can be figured more or less accurately. We can tell just how much our schools cost us to conduct, how much our individual taxes are, and as a whole what our investment in the schools and the cost of operation runs to. But who can say what our returns on that investment may be?

There never was a time when an education was so necessary as today. This is the age of specialization, of education and training. The boy or girl who receives it has a much better chance of succeeding in life than those who tackle life without first being trained for the battle. Our public schools are America's greatest institution, and return the greatest dividends. They are the foundation of American ideals and liberties. We send our children to the public school to be educated, but in doing that they are taught to think for themselves, to have their own ideas and opinions, and that is what makes the American youth the most self-reliant, and capable in the world. The democratizing influence of the public schools, if our boys and girls never learned a thing, is well worth what it costs to run them.

We are prone to complain of the expense of our schools, to bemoan the taxes they require, yet down in our hearts we know it is money well spent, the best money we can spend and we would not go back to "The Little Red Schoolhouse" of past days if we could. We are proud of our schools; when we are away we tell what a wonderful school we have at home, we brag about it, boost for it, but when we are home we really do not give much attention to it. We pay our taxes, we complain about them, even though we know school taxes are the best taxes we have, the ones that do us the most good and from which we get the biggest returns. But if we would take a more personal interest in our school, visit them more often and get behind their activities and projects, our returns would be still larger. They need our moral support just as much as they do our financial help.

Belmond has one of the best public schools in Iowa; we all know it. During this coming year let's all get behind it more then we have before, give the boys and girls our moral support, back them up in their activities and show them we are really interested in their welfare. If we will, our schools will be better than ever, and we as a community will be amply repaid.

Renwick Times: There was a very peculiar accident out at Tjeran Heggen's last week. A threshing machine pulled into the yard and had to make a big turn near the windmill; in doing this it scared a team of horses which was hitched to the tank wagon near the pump and they backed up against the water tank, knocking out a few staves. The man on the wagon shouted at the horses and they jerked ahead, striking one of the braces and dislocating one leg of the windmill, with the result that the windmill came down with a crash, falling directly across the separator. The separator was only slightly damaged but it will take considerable repairs to put the windmill in working order. The men on the separator made some hasty moves when they say the tower coming their way and got quite a thrill out of the affair.

FREE AIR!

We had the privilege of attending the wedding, Sunday—at Wilson's Point. A gentleman from Des Moines was united to a lady from Fairfield by a minister from Hampton in the presence of a couple thousand invited guests from northern Iowa.

Bob promised us a front seat, so we went. We had a front seat, but several hundred others had standing room only in front of us, so we didn't hear the sentence, just saw the trial so to speak.

They were sentenced for life. We all are, for that matter, but occasionally some of us get a parole or a commution of sentence.

Gosh, that takes more nerve than we got, getting up there in front of all those open mouths and staring eyes. Fellow feels bad enough at a time like that without having his misery spread before the curious public.

Pretty good looking couple, and they faced the music bravely. Noticed however, that Bob had one of the presents, a big heavy mattress on the floor behind them, in case they fainted or something.

The bride was attired in yellow something, we don't know what. It doesn't seem just right to us that the bride's attire is described in full detail and the groom's merely mentioned. The groom is dressed too.

Some of these days we're going to describe a wedding and give the poor dub his just dues. Like this:

Mr. Percival Archibald DeBunk, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Lotta Bunk of 456 Cocoanut Ave., became the blushing bridegroom of Miss Maggie Smith at noon today. The ceremony, which took place at the home of the groom's parents, was attended by several dozen of the socially prominent young men of the city.

Mr. DeBunk was attended by Mr. Spendum Koin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gottha Koin, as best man. As the groom approached the altar, leaning on the arm of his father, he was the center of all eyes, and an audible gasp was heard as the beauty of his wedding attire became evident. Blushing rosily, he replied to the questions of the clergyman, the Rev. Scarem Savem, in low, firm tones. Mr. DeBunk was beautifully attired in a three-piece suit consisting of coat, pants and vest. The coat was of dark blue serge, draped gracefully over the shoulders and hanging straight in the back, with slight gathers at the arms and waist, fastening with two dark colored buttons in the front. A neatly fashioned pocked adorned each side, while a strap running through two buckles held the garment at the rear. The vest was of the same material, sleeveless, with a V neck, and met in front. It was fastened together down the front with a straight row of buttons, while on each side were cute little pockets, from one of which peeped an Ingersol watch, the present of the bride.

The groom's pants were of the same dark blue serge, and hung straight from the waist to his shoe tops. They were suspended by bright red galluses, which added the right touch of color to a costume in perfect taste and harmony. The left pantleg was caught up about five inches by a Boston garter, revealing just the right amount of Black Cat Hosiery to give a very chick effect. Around his neck he wore a white collar, flaring out into sharp points at the front which kept his chin at just the right angle, while knotted loosely around the collar was a green cravat from which flashed a golden horseshoe. A handkerchief prettily stamped with Chinese characters, and tan oxfords completed his dress. His close cut hair was combed straight back in the most chic plain style, while a few tufts sticking up here and there but added to his earnest, intent manner.

Miss Smith was dressed in the conventional costume and carried a bouquet of forget-me-nots.

The new bridges being built on primary 15, south and north of town, are just about completed, and the highway is rapidly being graded to them so that the road will be opened for traffic straight through this fall. North from the Community Service Station, the new road has been graded to a point a quarter mile north of the Great Western tracks.

Harry Harberts, of Canton, South Dakota, was visiting relatives and old friends here last week.

CHURCHES

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

With autumn once more with us, we have houses of worship more than ever kindly inviting us to come within their portals. Are we ministering to the spiritual sides of our lives? Morning worship at 11:00 o'clock.

If without some other church home, we shall be glad to have you with us in our church school, meeting at 10:00 o'clock. Now is the time to enlist in this most worthy endeavor!

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor
Telephone Call, 150

Sunday, September 4—
The Sunday School and Bible Classes will meet at 10 a. m.

English services will be held at 11 a. m. Theme: "Our Words." Matthew 12:33-37.

There will be no meeting of the catechetical class this week.

Tuesday, September 6. The opening exercises of Waldorf College at Forest City, will take place at 2:00 p. m. As many as can afford the time should try and be present at this occasion.

Thursday, September 8—
Trinity Ladies Aid will meet with Mesdames A. E. and T. A. Thompson at 2 p. m.

English prayer meeting will be held at 8 p. m.

Friday, September 9 to Sunday, September 11, inclusive, the Eagle Grove Circuit of the Luther League will hold their Fall Convention at Bode, Rev. E. C. Haavik in charge. The opening sermon will be given Friday evening at 8 p. m.; the sessions continuing throughout Saturday and Sunday. The Choral Union under the direction of Mr. O. L. Varland will render several selections on Sunday afternoon. We know that many of our young people will want to attend this convention. Let no one leave home for Bode with an empty space in their car. And let us attend all sessions if possible, for the inspirations we will receive.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Sunday, September 4—
The Sunday School and Bible classes will meet at 10 a. m.

The Luther League will meet at 7:45 p. m.

The sermon will be given immediately following. Theme: "Dead to the Law, and Alive Unto God." Romans 7:1-6.

Wednesday, September 7. The mid week prayer meeting will be held at 8 p. m.

There will be no meeting of the catechetical class this week.

Read the announcements for Trinity congregation.

THE OUTDOOR MEAL

There are two kinds of outdoor meals: the ladylike kind, with sandwiches, salads, cakes and drinks from the thermos bottle; or the red-blooded kind, beginning with a fire on the beach or by the roadside and something cooked in the open.

For the latter kind, take along the broiling grate from your oven, a coffee pot and a fry pan. Build your fire and get a bed of coals; lay the grate over this and cook as usual. The flavor of your food thus prepared will be multiplied by "x", as you bring to it the ravenous appetite.

The simpler, strong-flavored foods go well at this time: bacon or ham and eggs, tomato or potato soup; baked potatoes in the ashes; corn roasted; weiners and mustard between the halves of a split bun. Radishes, onions, and fruits add tang to the meal.

Try this for a hot dish: Add one pound of grated cheese to one can of tomato soup; heat until cheese is melted and pour over bread toasted over the coals, and buttered well.

Chops and sausages are favorites for outdoor meals. Here is another good one: Cook bacon and leave a little of the fat in the fry pan; slice an onion into it and stir until yellow; add a pint of well seasoned tomatoes, scramble an egg for each member of the party in this dish and pour over the toast. "And finally brethren," there is nothing so delectable for the outdoor meal as pancakes and maple syrup. Prepared pancake flour makes the problem easy—but take along two fry pans to speed up the baking process.

TO AVOID CLUTTER

In most families, the homecomers are likely to drop whatever they have in their arms in the nearest place available. This makes it hard to keep the home tidy and makes any handy surface, shelf, or table-top and repository for all sorts of possessions of the various members of the family—school books, mending, the newspaper, Bud's cap, Sis's compact, Mother's handbag and Dad's glasses.

There are two methods of preventing thus making a dumping ground for the family accessories: provide a place for everything, so convenient that the temptation will not be irresistable to ditch it elsewhere; and occupy the misused surface with something else, something appropriate and artistic which will serve as a reminder to "Keep Off." One woman set a plant on a window seat, to keep her school girls from perching there. Another placed two vases with artificial flowers on a convenient shelf, to keep the family from loading it with junk.

KINDLY THOUGHTFULNESS

The housewife could make the day's work easier and more pleasant for herself, telephone "Central" and the clerks in the stores if she would put more kindness and sweetness and thoughfulness for the comfort of others in her telephone business. Sometimes she orders groceries several times in one day, when a little forethought would have enabled her to supply all her wants with one call. Or she takes down the received and does her thinking with it in her hand, instead of having made out the order list before she bothered Central. She may be petulant and cross or scold the telephone girl or clerk in the store for things which are not their fault. Even the kind and cheery voice and the heart warming "Please" make life more bearable for those who wait upon the housewife's orders.

THE TOOTHBRUSH

A toothbrush a day keeps the dentist away. To make the weapon more effective, it should be used twice a day, and that vigorously. The best toothbrush is rather small, to find its way easily between the cheek muscles and the gums. It should be fairly stiff-bristled to do a good job of scrubbing. A part of its purpose is to massage the gums and it should not be flabby nor ennervated for that. The bristles should be of uneven lengths to seek out the corners, and the groups of bristles wide apart to insure cleanliness of the brush. A good solid handle, to provide for a firm grasp, makes the toothbrushing more energetic, a point to be emphasized if the dentist is to be kept remote. Brushes with elongated tufts at the end are to be avoided as they limit the working surface of the brush to the little tuft.

CARMEL ICING

Many women are afraid to make carmel icing, thinking the sugar has to be carmelized, and fearing they will burn it in the process. It may be made easily by using two cups of brown sugar and one of white. Add a cup of sweet milk, butter the size of a walnut, and cook until it threads a long, fine thread. Stir occasionally to keep it from sticking to the bottom. When it threads, beat until it hardens. If it hardens too quickly or too hard, add a little milk.

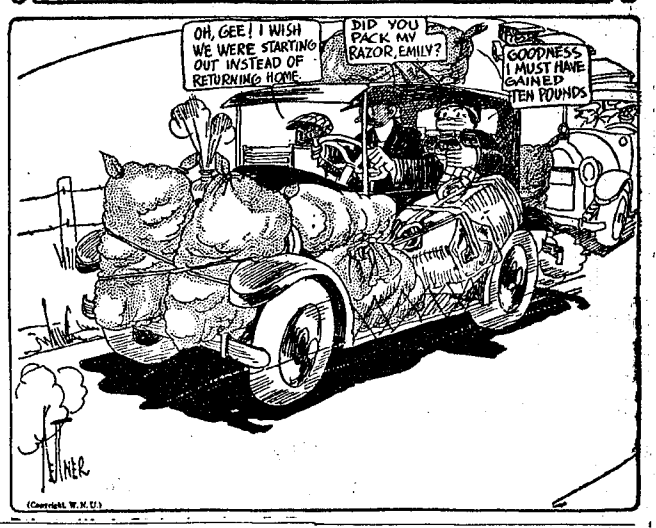
CORN IN THE EAR

If corn is served in the ear, and you are in company, do not get stage fright about it. With care and the know how, you can manipulate it gracefully and enjoy this most delicious food. First, break it in two pieces with your hands. If it is too hot to handle, hold it with your napkin. Butter, salt and pepper two rows of kernels at one time. Hold the ear in your hand and eat the buttered rows. Then butter two more and proceed as before. Do not hold the ear in both hand and do not bend over it like a wild animal.

FORSEE THE HOLE

Do not wait until there is a hole worn in your sweater or hose, but when the place begins to get thin, darn it with thread or yarn the same color. The garment will wear much longer and look neater while it is doing it, if you darn it before, rather than after, the hole arrives.

Homecoming



BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

Word was received last week of the death of Frank Luick at Marshalltown.

Last Thursday evening the class of 1915 held their second class reunion at the home of Miss Bernice Butts.

The deal was completed last week whereby Oscar Gartin sold his residence to C. L. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kimmel drove drove to Indianola last week to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Howe and daughter of California are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Rule.

Harry Wolcott and Glenn Klemme left Sunday afternoon for St. Paul, where they enter the second officer's training camp.

A baby girl was born last week Friday to County Attorney and Mrs. J. M. Berry.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Mrs. Popham returned home last Monday.

Browne Bullard has opened a second hand furniture store in the old hotel building and seems to be doing quite well.

Miss Blanche Diehl, formerly of Belmond, daughter of N. W. Diehl, and niece of H. E. A. Diehl, will be married Sept. 10 at Des Moines to Will A. Luge.

Among the improvements in Belmond this season are the residences of Dr. Hoxie, E. L. Tiede and C. E. Shaver.

Three cars of telephone poles have arrived and Mr. Sheffield already has men at work digging post holes, and he says the work will now be pushed to an early completion.

H. Jacobson made a business trip to Swea City, Monday.

Senator Allison was in town Monday looking after his property interests and visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Bradfield of Buffalo Center called on old friends here Monday.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

Mrs. Corp, living at Wm. Luick's, is quite sick.

Plenty "hoppers" going over today.

A narrow gauge railroad "magnate" from Ames was here yesterday, of whom we will say something next week.

Last week on the 25th, S. D. Pierce closed his cheese factory for the season.

The party who stole my curry comb is respectfully requested to come again and steal the brush. P. S.—Don't be bashful. Lovingly,
J. E. Rowen.

Orlando Knipfle is occupying his new house.

Miss Daniels is teaching her select school in the East Belmond school house.

N. B. Hollinger, a former resident here, now living at Chariton, in sending us the "wherewith" for the Herald, says he hopes to hear more through its columns, of such old friends of Geo. McKay, Dr. Cutler, G. A. Thompson and others; adding, "I was among the pioneer settlers of Belmond, settling there in May, 1855. It was before the days of croquet and pinbacks. I was a young man then. It was there I sowed my wild oats—pleasant recollections of those days of my boyhood."

First frost of the season at Fryburg on Thursday night last week.

"Pilgrims", bound for Clear Lake, pass through town frequently.

Up at Titonka a couple of Sundays ago somebody poisoned L. C. Heifner's dog. It is doubtful if anybody will acknowledge the deed, most certainly not after reading what Mr. Heifner has to say about it in the Topic: This is addressed to the half-baked idiot who poisoned our dog Sunday afternoon. That dog had more brains than you ever had and the next dog you meet on the street you take off your hat and salute him. There is a home for the feeble minded and you will soon be there.

So Long, Spot! A MAN Can't play all the time!

Back to school for training that leads toward success and independence.

Teach your children the value of a bank account when added to regularly.

BELMOND SAVINGS BANK
BELMOND, IOWA

AGRICULTURAL NEWS NOTES

COUNTY DAIRY TOUR SEPT. 8

The Cow Test Association of the county will hold a dairy tour Thursday, Sept. 8, which will include a number of interesting visits.

Feeds, crops, records, profits, judging, picnic dinner, sanitation, Poultry and value of good sire all to be considered during the day.

The tour starts at the W. C. Donelson farm 2 miles east of Goldfield, just south of Road No. 10, at nine o'clock.

9:00—W. C. Donelson, Raising soy beans.

10:00—F. B. Mathias, Records and profits of high herd and feed.

11:00—H. E. Poundstone, Bull pen construction. Judging contest.

Picnic dinner.

1:00—J. M. Sampson, Barn sanitation. Poultry talk and demonstration—Mrs. J. M. Sampson.

2:00—E. G. Hauge, What care and feed does.

3:00—W. H. Helmke, Proven sires and their worth.

4:30—Goldfield, So Long!

Everyone invited, September 8th, 1927.

DISPOSE OF IOWA "SPUDS" NOW

Iowa farmers who have potatoes to sell should get them all, or at least most of them, on the market by September 15, in order to avoid having them compete with northern grown potatoes, says C. L. Fitch, potato extension man at Iowa State College.

"Iowa potato producers would be wise in any year to dig their potatoes and sell or eat them by the middle of September," Fitch asserts. "The northern potato crop cannot be foretold by Sept. 15 and it is the potatoes from the north that set the price.

"Generally the late fall and winter price is higher than the early fall prices and the northern grown potatoes are handsomer than those produced in Iowa.

"The present prospect is for a large crop in the north and for lower prices. The Iowa crop is above normal in acreage, but low in yield per acre."

Fitch urges Iowa producers not to attempt to sell small or rough potatoes, nor to demand too high prices. Iowa potatoes, he says, are just as good eaters as are the northern ones and Iowa consumers should be encouraged to buy Iowa potatoes for their year's supply.

GOOD COWS DESERVE VACATION

Give the good dairy cow a rest of 6 to 8 weeks before freshening, for it will mean more production than as if she is milked up until she freshens, declares Burt Oderkirk, extension dairyman at Iowa State College.

"Thruough selection, feeding and breeding, Iowa's most progressive dairymen have developed high producing herds in which there are many cows that will milk continually thruout the year from one freshening to the next without a rest, unless their owners see to it that they receive a vacation," Mr. Oderkirk asserts.

The profitable cow of the future will be the one which produces 300 pounds or more of butterfat in 10 to 10½ months, takes 6 to 8 weeks' rest to build up her body for the next lactation, and drops a good calf each year. A cow that will continue such a program year in and out will prove most profitable.

"Cows bred so as to freshen in the fall, when properly fed, will milk heavily thru the winter and when put on grass will continue satisfactory production until hot weather arrives. They will then naturally go down in production and may be dried up.

"If there is difficulty in drying up a cow before she is to freshen, she should be taken off of grass and not allowed any other succulent feed for a time. She may be milked only once a day for a while and other milkings skipped later on.

The feed given good dry cows before freshening will be well paid for when the cow freshens, Mr. Oderkirk believes. Hence he urges feeding the dry cow well so as to get her in good condition.

EGG YIELDS GO LOWER IN JULY

Iowa hens still further "laid down on the job" of egg laying last month, it was learned when the monthly report of the Iowa Record Flocks was compiled at Iowa State College, Ames. The 43,190 hens in the 277 flocks reported averaged 12.9 eggs each in July, as against 14.6 to the hen in June and 17.2 in May.

If the egg laying trend of last year is followed, egg yields are due for further drops each month until December, when they should begin to increase again. The poultry specialists at Ames say that as a rule fall eggs pay better than at any other time of the year. Hence, they believe it wise practice to feed well now, looking toward having the flock in as high a state of production as possible this fall.

A good mash such as the following should be kept before the hens all of the time: 100 pounds each of ground corn, ground oats, wheat bran and middlings; 80 pounds of meat and bone meal. To each hundred pounds of this mixture may be added the following minerals: 4 pounds ground limestone, 2 pounds bone meal, 3 pounds charcoal and 1 pound of salt.

If milk in some form is fed in addition to this hash and the hens have plenty of green feed, they should be properly nourished for fall laying.

While the average flock in the state fell off in production, some were able to maintain good averages through July. The best record 23.1 eggs per hen, was made by Mrs. Stacy Nichols of Clemons. Her flock was very small, composed of but 8 Buff Orpingtons. The second best average, 22.9 eggs per hen, was also made by a Buff Orpington flock. This latter was composed of 57 layers and was owned by Mrs. L. Victor E. Anderson of Gowrie.

Others with high averages were: third in the state, Mrs. Clyde Cooper, Boone, 208 White Leghorns, 22.6 each; fourth, Mrs. Roy M. Curtis, Donahue, 111 White Leghorns, 22.2 eggs each; fifth, Mrs. Gustav Friedericks, Dixon, 48 White Wyandottes, 21 eggs each; and sixth, Ruth. M. Steele, Montezuma, 230 White Leghorns, 20.5 eggs each.

Eleven flocks of the 277 reporting had gross receipts of $200 or over in July as compared with 13 having such returns in June and 32 in May. The largest amount from one flock in July, $540.17, was reported by Buckdale Farms of Melcher. The feed cost for this flock of White Rocks amounted to $193.45. There were 366 layers.

WHEN CORN BORER ARRIVES—?

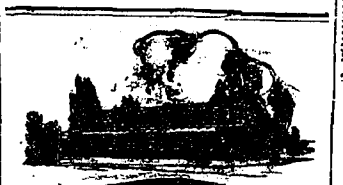
Entomologists are generally agreed that the European corn borer sooner or later will reach Iowa—that it cannot be entirely eradicated from the country or even confined to its present area. In a recent interview, Fred D. Butcher and H. H. Sunderlin, extension specialists of Iowa State College, who helped in the borer campaign in Ohio last spring, suggested the following changes that will probably have to come if and when the borer reaches Iowa.

The arrival of the borer will mean changes in the crop rotation. It will mean that no longer can farmers disc their oats into the stalk fields. Either the stalks must be burned or plowed under very thoroughly. The use of soybeans and other crops in the place of oats is a possibility. Varieties of corn which can be planted late and still mature will probably be used.

Plows will have to be used which will turn under corn stalks and trash very efficiently. A properly adjusted rolling cutter and jointer will be needed to these supplemented by wires.

Borers cannot live in silage juices and hence the silo may receive more attention in many quarters. Also the shredding of corn stalks will destroy the borers so that this practice may increase. Because it is necessary to burn the corn stalks where borers are present, Iowa farmers should begin building up the organic matter in their soils by applying manure or turning under green manure crops such as sweet clover.

It appears now that the borer does more damage in certain types of soil than others and more study needs be given to determine in what soils they do the most or least damage.



Bigger Poultry Profits

CHICKEN houses built of Denison Hollow Tile are warmer in winter, cooler in summer, —always dry and comfortable. They are easier to keep clean and sanitary. There is less chance for sickness, lice or mites among the poultry. The hens thrive better and lay more eggs when eggs bring big prices.

DENISON Load-bearing Tile

keep out wind, cold and dampness. It has five blankets of dead air—including one in the mortar joint.

The cost is small! Farm buildings of tile cost little or no more than frame buildings of same size with two coats of paint. Furthermore, tile buildings cost nothing for upkeep. They stand for generations without repairs or painting—always fire-safe and climate-proof. It pays to build all your farm buildings—and your home, too—of Denison Load-Bearing Tile.

Sold by your Local Dealer

Write for Circular describing Tile

MASON CITY BRICK and TILE COMPANY

210 Denison Bldg. MASON CITY, IOWA

DENISON

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received at the office of the county auditor of Wright County, Iowa, at Clarion, Iowa, until 2:00 o'clock p. m., September 9, 1927, for cleaning out the open ditch in Drainage District No. 90 as follows:

Cleaning out the open ditch from station 0 to 43 plus 40 a distance of about 4340 feet, with a 4 foot bottom and 2 to 1 slope, consisting of about 3700 cu. yds.

All trees on the spoil bank and in the open ditch to be destroyed.

Repair tile portion from station 43 plus 40 to about station 55.

Bulkhead about 7.5 cu. yd.

Furnish and install 36 ft. 24" steel pipe.

Furnish and install 24 ft. 12" steel pipe.

Furnish and install 40 ft. 10" steel pipe.

All work to be done in accordance with the specifications.

The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Cash or certified check for ten (10) percent of the bid must accompany said bid.

Time for commencement, September 25, 1927. Time for completion, November 1, 1927.

For further information write to F. W. Walker, County Auditor, or Charles Gross, Engineer, Clarion, Iowa.

Dated at Clarion, Iowa, August 8, 1927.

F. W. WALKER,
422 County Auditor

ADMINISTRATOR'S OR EXECUTOR'S NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the undersigned has this day been appointed and commissioned, by the District Court of Wright County, in the State of Iowa, Administratrix of the estate of James S. Blair, deceased; and all persons having claims against said estate, are hereby notified to file them, with the Clerk of said Court, clearly stated and duly sworn to, and within legal time, preparatory to their being allowed or proved; and persons owing said estate are requested to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and avoid costs.

Dated at Belmond, Iowa, this 22nd day of August, A. D. 1927.

Lizzie S. Blair,
Administratrix.

W. E. Bullard,
Attorney. 418

for READ WANT ADS results

The Splinters

"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2 Thursday, September 1, 1927 No. 20

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

Be it ever so mortgaged, there's no place like home.

—

We hereby offer a beautiful fur-lined water pitcher to anybody who can walk down the main street of Belmond with a coil of rope without somebody asking him if he's going to hang himself. Or appear in public with an ax, without somebody inquiring if he's taking home a present to his wife.

—

You can't joke with a woman. The other day a Belmond man heard a new conundrum and decided to try it on his wife.

"Do you know why I'm like a mule?" he asked.

"No," she replied, "I know you are, but I don't know why."

—

There's another thing you can say for the flivver,—it always rattles before it strikes.

—

Your neighbor is a good fellow of course. But when you continue to borrow his ladder the chances are he wonders "Why that fellow doesn't buy a ladder of his own." Better think that over. We've got some dandy good ladders here.

—

Little Mabel is a lass
Of twenty-one short years,
She wears her hair bobbed a la mode
And never scrubs her ears!

—

When your friends come to see you this winter, give them a warm welcome. You can do it so nicely with Great Heart Coal.

—

Mother, to small son. — "Why don't you drive the cow home?"

Son. — "She won't come. She's down there by the railroad track flirtin' with a tobacco sign."

—

There's lots of room at the top but lots of times it is taken by relatives of the boss's wife.

—

School starts next week. Boost the school! We'll have a better and bigger school if we all help.

GET AWAY OVER LABOR DAY

LOW FARE Excursions

$3.55 to Omaha

$3.05 to St. Paul-Minneapolis

and Return

Half fare for children. Tickets now on sale for early morning trains Sept. 4th — limited for return to reach home Sept. 6th.
Free Reclining Chair Cars and Coaches.
Very convenient schedules allowing a maximum of time at destination for recreation and visiting. Sale of tickets limited to seating capacity of train.
Get full information and buy tickets today from

Local Ticket Agent
C. G. W. Station, Belmond, Ia.

CHICAGO GREAT WESTERN

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

Perfect Comfort - - for the woman driver

An Adjustable Steering Column to Suit Your Convenience

Buick for 1928 is extremely thoughtful of feminine comfort. One indication of this consideration is Buick's new steering column, which may be adjusted to the most comfortable position for women, as well as men.

And in addition, Buick for 1928 has a new steering wheel—slender to fit feminine fingers—yet deep and solid to provide the firm grip men demand.

Buick for 1928 pleases women because it is easier to drive—because it is more comfortable to ride in—and because it is the acknowledged style-leader among motor cars. That's why you see so many Buicks at fashionable gatherings and on the smartest boulevards.

BUICK MOTOR COMPANY FLINT, MICHIGAN
Division of General Motors Corporation

BUICK for 1928

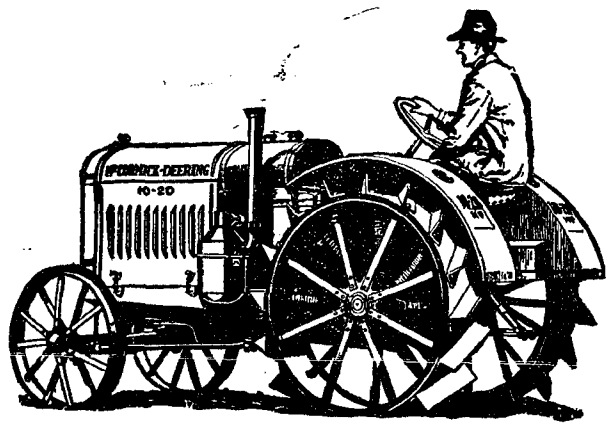
WEBSTER COUNTY BUICK CO.
DISTRIBUTORS
20-24 North 9th St. Fort Dodge, Iowa

BELMOND—HUB MOTOR CO. Kanawha—Yeakel & Mallow
Clarion—Linfor Auto Co. Dows—A Banwell
Eagle Grove—Porter Auto Co.

Tractor Plowing Is Best



The best tractors for the best plowing are the

McCormick-Deering and John Deere

Let us demonstrate.

GRIESY'S

The Friendly Place

PHONE 10

BELMOND, IOWA

MESERVEY SECTION

REFORMED CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:30.

Morning worship at 10:30 (German).

Young people's meeting at 7:30.

Preaching service at 8:00.

Ladies Aid met last Thursday. Mrs. Ben Vierkant served refreshments.

Our annual Mission festival will be celebrated on September 15th.

We extend a hearty welcome to all to attend our services.

H. Pannkuk, Pastor

C. J. Janssen Accidentally Injured

A very peculiar accident occurred last Friday morning at the C. J. Janssen farm home, while Mr. Janssen and daughter were driving a hog into the barn. In some manner the hog managed to run into C. J. with such force as to knock him down, the fall causing severe injuries to his spine and chest. He was taken to the Mercy Hospital, Mason City, and is still in care of the doctors and nurses, and suffering considerable pain. His wife was with him till Monday evening and will return at intervals The many friends of Mr. Janssen are wishing for a speedy and complete recovery.

Family Holds Reunion

The following enjoyed a family reunion at East Park Sunday: Theo. Wendel and wife, their son Ralph, and wife, Nelse Faaborg and wife, F. C. Sprau and family, Otto Strasburg, wife and daughter, Chas. Halfpop and wife and grandchildren, G. E. Thomas and family of this place, Crist Enabnit and family of Clemmons, their daughter Gladys and husband and child of Manly, Guy Enabnit and wife of Mason City. A picnic dinner was enjoyed, after which they went to the flying field to get a glimpse of Lindberg. A committee was appointed to choose the place and time for the next annual reunion, and the time passed all too quickly for those who had gathered to spend the day, as had been the custom of the Mayer family for a number of years.

School Opens

The Public School opened Monday with a good attendance, not all students who intend to enter have enrolled, owing to late threshing season, several are away. The High School enrollment will be 44. The grade rooms are also well filled. The main difficulty will be to find suitable seating space for some of the Juniors and Seniors.

Concerts End

Last Saturday night was the final concert for the season, and there were expressions of regret that they came to an end so soon. We are pleased to know that these concerts have been appreciated and we trust that we may again have them with us as in the past two years. We are also expecting an orchestra to furnish music during the winter. Let's boost for one and then appreciate their work by giving them encouragement whenever an opportunity affords.

Attend Assembly

The following Evangelicals motored to Cedar Falls Sunday morning to be present for the closing day's sesisons: C. J. Wendel and family, Roy Claus and family, Miss Lacher, G. E. Raecker and family, Mrs. Anna Schroeder, Mrs. H. Raecker, H. Fischer and family, Miss Maggie Fischer, Clare Smith and wife, Mrs. A. E. Muller and sons Donald and Norman. Mabel Paul, Bonita and Eleanor Muller returned home with the latter in the evening. All enjoyed the wonderful meetings they were privileged to attend and the talent was highly praised.

MESERVEY LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. C. Bier returned the fore part of last week from a few days visit at the home of their son Carl and family in Renville, Minnesota. They report the weather conditions there have been dry to the extent that crops will not be full yield.

A goodly number from here attended Thornton's "Big Day" Celebration, and report a large crowd had gathered for the annual event.

Miss Irena Butz and brothers, Lloyd and LuVern left by auto Friday for Des Moines, where they attended the fair a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Boelman and son Donald, and Ernest Eckhoff and family left Friday morning for a motor trip to northern Minnesota, where they spent a week at the home of an uncle and family.

The Misses Grace and Wilma Pals and Fred Lautenbach were visiting relatives at Austinville, last week on Wednesday.

Threshing Company Holds Meeting

The Grimes and Wisner Threshing Company held their annual finish up business meeting at the H. K. Pals home on the evening of August 23. The families of the members were also present and helped to make the evening a pleasant one. Ice cream and wafers were served for refreshments.

Mrs. Leland Jacobson and son, Keith, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ralph Ulrich of Garner, Harriet Sprau, Neva and Donald Muller, made up the party who left for Des Moines Friday A. M. Donald returned Saturday, the others remaining for the club demonstrations during the week. Miss Merle Ramer, County 4 H Club leader of Mason City will also be present for the demonstration work.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haferman, their son Albert and wife returned Thursday from their motor trip to various points in Wisconsin, where they spent several weeks visiting relatives. They report a very enjoyable trip.

Rev. L. Sohl and daughter Evelyn, of Waverly, spent the fore part of this week with friends in this vicinity.

Esther Smith returned from Chicago Sunday where she had been spending her vacation with her sister, Mrs. Harry Woight and husband.

The Misses Viola, Evelyn and Thelma Thomas left Wednesday for their school work. Viola has the same position in the Waterloo Schools as last year. Evelyn has charge of Art Supervision in the College high school, and will also carry five hours work. Thelma goes to Manchester to take up her new work in the opportunity room in the schools of that place.

Otto Kielman and family of Bristow, visited at the Joe Stadtlander home last Thursday. The latter and wife accompanied the Kielmans to the Abbe Meints home for a brief visit.

Miss Lucile Paul returned Thursday from a week's visit with relatives at Morristown, Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Pals, their daughter Miss Grace, and Mr. Fred Lautenbach, left last Friday for a few days visit at Pella and Des Moines, taking in part of the State Fair. Miss Grace leaves from there Saturday for Benett, where she has a position in the Public Schools, teaching music, and has charge of the 7th and 8th grades.

Joe Ludwig and family and Anna Dewald of Forreston, Illinois, were week end visitors at the M. Halfwasen home.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and daughter returned to their home in Wisconsin last Thursday after visiting a week at the E. A. Strasburg home. Mr. Thomas is a brother to Mrs. Strasburg.

The Wm. Johnson family have moved to New Hampton to make their home there. We did not learn what they plan to do.

A. J. Nissen and family returned home Sunday from a week's trip through the northeastern part of the state, and a few days at Des Moines, attending the State Fair.

Rev. A. K. Henning and family returned home Monday after a two week's stay in their cottage at Riverview Park, Cedar Falls, during the annual assembly.

Rev. H. Raecker returned home from his stay in Minnesota, Sunday, having attended the Sunday services at the Evangelical Assembly at Cedar Falls.

Bruno Bruns left last Thursday, for a week's visit with friends at Raymond, Minnesota.

Mrs. H. Wilkins and daughters visited relatives and friends at Garner several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemke accompanied their daughter to Hampton, Tuesday, for a physical examination.

Latest reports from C. J. Janssen are to the effect that he has passed the critical stage and hopes are held for his recovery.

Mrs. H. Wilkins and Miss Fannie Bruns attended the telephone operators picnic at Clear Lake last week on Wednesday. They report 300 operators present for the day's outing and an enjoyable time was had.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Smith of Naperville, Illinois, started on their homeward trip Sunday, leaving Waterloo Monday morning.

Keith Weaver came Saturday for a visit at the home of his mother, Mrs. H. Proost and family.

Rev. and Mrs. Fred Pieper and daughter stopped off here Tuesday, at the C. Bier home, on their return from Cedar Falls, where they had been attending the Asembly. They left Wednesday for their home at Fostoria.

Miss Hannah Boelman left Tuesday for Hollandale, Minnesota, for a 6 weeks stay at the home of relatives.

S. P. Fischer called on C. J. Janssen at the hospital at Mason City Tuesday forenoon.

Albert Wendel and wife returned from their trip into Minnesota Sunday night.

S. P. Fischer and family entertained relatives from Klemme at their home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wenzel, their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Guenther from Peru, Illinois, were visiting at the Jno. H. Wenzel home the first part of the week.

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

This coupon and 25c entitle the undersigned to one 35c can of Acme Quality Enamel-Kote, any color, and a special 20c Paint Brush.

Name_____

Address_____

To acquaint you with Acme Quality, we are making a special offer for a short time only.

SPECIAL OFFER 55¢ Value for 25¢

You will scarcely know your own rooms

Just a few strokes of a paint brush are all that stand between you and a home interior that visitors will admire and envy.

Scuffed up floors, marred woodwork and furniture, walls, ceilings, even the radiators, can be magically transformed with

ACME QUALITY Paint and Varnish

Specially pleasing is the color range in No-Lustre Finish Flat Wall Paint for walls and Enamel-Kote for interior woods and furniture.

Before you buy any paint, come in and see us. We are here to serve you.

C. J. WENDEL
MESERVEY, IOWA

CROSLEY
RADIO
Fresh "B" Batteries always on hand.

H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

HIGH QUALITY
BUILDING MATERIAL

Screen Doors and Window Screens—Mill Work—Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts and Poles
Cement — Lime

INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT

Wheat Bran – Oil Meal – Cotton Seed Meal, – Tankage – Salt

Highest Price Paid for Grain

Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

ORIGINAL NOTICE

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF IOWA, IN AND FOR WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA.

Catharine Schmelz,
Plaintiff,
vs
The Unknown Claimants of Lots Nos. Five (5), Six (6), Seven (7), and the South Twenty-two 22) feet of the North Sixty-six (66) feet of Lot No. Eight (8), all in Block No. Twenty-four (24), in the Original Town of Belmond, Iowa; Rockford Manufacturing Company; Rose Coulter; Rose Ralston and Edward Ralston, her husband; Mrs. William Rowen; Mary C. L. Potter; Mary C. Packard Potter; Butterfield & Reese; Home Savings and Trust Company; and William P. Hiserodt, Defendants.

TO EACH AND ALL OF SAID DEFENDANTS:

You are hereby notified that there is now filed in the office of the Clerk of the District Court of Wright County, Iowa, a petition of the above named plaintiff, claiming of you that she is the absolute owner in fee simple of the following described real estate, to-wit:—

Lots Nos. Five (5), Six (6), Seven (7), and the South Twenty-two feet of the North Sixty-six feet of Lot No. Eight (8), all in Block No. Twenty-four (24), in the Original Town of Belmond, Iowa, and praying that her title thereto be quieted and confirmed, and that you be forever barred and estopped from making any claim thereto and for general equitable relief.

(For full particulars you are referred to the petition now on file.)

You are further notified that unless you appear thereto and defend on or before noon of the second day of the next term, being the September 1927 Term of said Court, which will commence at the Court House in Clarion, Iowa, on the 26th day of September. A. D. 1927, default will be entered against you and judgment and decree rendered as prayed.

Roy A. Henderson
414 Attorney for Plaintiff

W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

Undertaking & Funeral Director
F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone--Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29

Harry T. Smith
General Blacksmithing
Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding
Meservey, - Iowa

HARVEST TIME

Harvest is the time the farmer stores his grain in the store house for future use.

The bees and squirrels also make use of their store house during time of plenty.

We all should know more than the bees or squirrels — let this bank be your financial store house.

Resources over $400,000.00

"Safety and Service"

Farmers Savings Bank
Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

CHEVROLET
for Economical Transportation

Announcing
The Imperial Landau
at a New Low Price

The Chevrolet Motor Company announces a price reduction on the beautiful Imperial Landau.

The "Body by Fisher" is of special design and is finished in ultra smart colors of genuine Duco. Oblong windows, a low roofline and brilliantly nickeled windshield frame and landau bars emphasize its stylish, dashing appearance.

You owe it to yourself to see this masterpiece of craftsmanship and value—to see how it combines all the advantages of Chevrolet's advanced engineering and proved design . . . smoothness, snap and high speed roadability . . . unfailing dependability, finger-tip steering and restful comfort.

Come in today—and go for a ride in this finest of all Chevrolets!

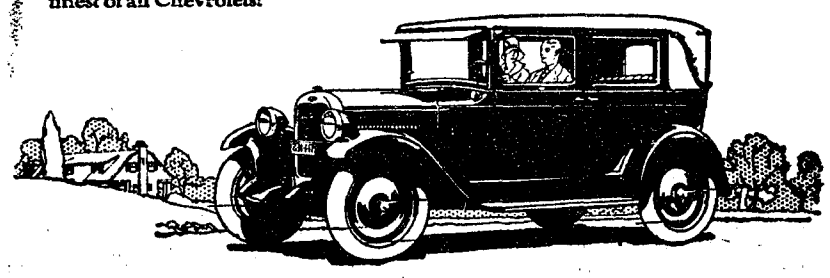
now only $745
formerly $780 f.o.b. Flint, Mich.

The Touring or Roadster - $525	The Sport Cabriolet - - $715
The Coach - $595	½-Ton Truck $395 (Chassis Only)
The Coupe - $625	1-Ton Truck $495 (Chassis Only)
The 4-Door Sedan - - $695

All Prices f. o. b. Flint, Michigan

Check Chevrolet Delivered Prices

They include the lowest handling and financing charges available.



HUB MOTOR COMPANY
BELMOND, IOWA

RAECKER CHEVROLET SALES COMPANY
MESERVEY, IOWA

QUALITY AT LOW COST

NEWS ITEMS FROM GOODELL

Mrs. J. Ahrenkiel, Louise and Mrs. J. E. Savogue left Tuesday by auto to Sioux City where they will spend a week with the latter's sister, Mrs. McElfree.

Martin Grover and daughter, Marjorie of Leland, Illinois, autoed here Monday to visit at the White home to look after his farm interests.

Miss Olive Butts accompanied by Miss Jessie Burress of Minneapolis spent Monday with Belmond friends.

The Derrick family of St. Paul are guests this week at the home of Mrs. Derrick's niece, Mrs. Ivan Baker.

Miss Elizabeth Leinbach who attends Columbia University in New York and her sister, Miss Lois, of Belmond were guests Tuesday at the Butts home.

Mrs. Arley Blickendorfer and children of Klemme visited Wednesday with her mother, Mrs. James Christie.

Mrs. Anton Ahrenkiel and Talkeus returned last week from Dysart, where they visited at the homes of her brothers. Casey and Fred Blank.

Miss Minnie Johnson of near Olaf spent last week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Johnson.

Mrs. H. Newgard accompanied by her sister, Mrs. E. E. Stacy and children of Indianapolis, motored to Meservey Wednesday and spent the day with Mrs. Matt Smith.

Freddie Blank of Estherville is visiting this week with his cousin, Thalkeus Ahrenkel.

Mrs. Raymond of Ottawa, Ill., and two grand daughters, Anna and Evelyn Costello, of Blue Island who have been visiting the past week at the home of the former's daughter, Mrs. E. J. Schneider, returned Wednesday to their homes.

Lars Peterson returned Wednesday from his Chicago trip.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Wesenberg, Eunice and Nada autoed to Des Moines Thursday to spend a week at the state fair. Miss Naida will represent Hancock county in the state spelling contest there.

Descom Bishop went to Belmond Monday to spend a few days with his grandparents.

Messrs. O. F. Conwell, Harold Savogue and Bill Butts autoed to Thornton Thursday, to attend the celebration and ball game.

Mrs. Adolph Wenzel of Belmond came Thursday to spend a few days with home folks, the Butts family.

A. M. Graber purchased a Ford coupe last week and on Friday he and Mrs. Graber left to enjoy a two week's vacation with relatives. They will visit the latter's folks at Harvey, Illinois, and will attend the Graber reunion held in Indiana, September 5th.

Frederick Schneider in company with County Agent L. T. Nutty of Britt, spent Saturday at Ames judging live stock.

John and Mark Burress were dinner guests at the Butts home Wednesday. They were enroute from a visit with friends at Madrid to their home in Minneapolis.

Miss Ruth Ness is enjoying a vacation with home folks. She works in Des Moines.

Mr. Sumner Trumbell of Klemme, spent Monday with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Hetland shopped at Mason City Thursday.

Ralph Blank of Estherville is spending a few days at the home of his sister, Mrs. Anton Ahrenkiel.

Mr. and Mrs. Patton of Davenport are guests this week with the latter's home folks. Mrs. Patton will be remembered as Mayme Deiger, previous to her marriage.

Lyle LaRue went to Mason City Friday where he will work. He has a position in the Brody Drug Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Burk of Belmond visited Tuesday at the home of their son, Wilmer.

Tommy Quigley returned home Wednesday from the Hampton hospital. He is feeling fine since his recent appendicitis operation.

Several families from here went to Belmond Monday evening and attended the farewell reception given in honor of Rev. Wippermann.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Lowenberg and son Joseph of Clare visited Wednesday at the former's parental home. They were enroute to Rochester to see Mrs. Lowenberg's father, who is a patient in the hospital there.

The E. J. Schneider family accompanied by Dorothy and Mildred Hampel of Garner, autoed to Des Moines Saturday to attend the fair. They returned home Sunday.

Mrs. E. P. Hubbard entertained the Ladies Club at her home, Wednesday.

Sylvester Cashman of Chicago, who has been visiting his mother this week went to Thompson Wednesday, to be with his wife at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erickson.

Mrs. A. D. White and Mayme accompanied by M. L. Grover and Marjorie of Leland, Ill., spent Friday at Mason City.

Otto Kemp of Fort Dodge visited over Sunday with his brothers, and sister, Mrs. Will Schlichting.

Messrs. Warner Butts, Francis Mason and Wayne Wesenberg left early Sunday morning by auto to Cross Lake, Minn., where they will enjoy a week of fishing.

Mrs. E. E. Stacy, and Robert and Jeane who have been visiting at the Matson home the past five weeks, returned Monday to their home in Indianapolis, Indiana.

The Hagan family of Hartland, Minnesota, visited over Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Johnson.

Messrs. Kramme and Anderson of Des Moines who are the bridge constructors here autoed to Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Saturday night to visit over Sunday with their wives, who are visiting relatives there.

The majority of the schools in this locality will open Monday, Sept. 5th. The following will teach in the Goodell school: Mr. Tinkle, superintendent; Mr. Hopperstad of Decorah, principal; Miss Grace Liittschwager of Alden, assistant principal; Miss Eva Schluter of Meservey,, 7th and 8th grades; Miss Louise Ahrenkiel of Goodell, 4th, 5th and 6th grades; Miss Marie Given of Clarion, primary.

The following are to teach in the rural schools: Miss Edith Halfpop, 3 miles west, Miss Esther Harberts, 3 miles north west, Miss Lulu Wilkins 5 miles northwest, Miss Bridget Nolan of Graettinger, 3 miles northeast, Miss Nettie Mason, Hickory Grove, and Miss Louise Mason, 3 miles east.

Frederick Schneider took his thoroughbred calf to the state fair Tuesday. It was judged twenty-second in the group.

Lloyd Brugman and family of Garner Sundayed with relatives here.

Goodell played ball at Belmond Sunday vs Coulter resulting in favor of the latter, the score being 2 to 1.

Several from here went to Mason City Sunday to see Lindberg and his planes.

Clement Houghton autoed up from Iowa Falls in his new Pontiac sedan to spend Sunday with home folks.

The George Gosnell family of Ft. Dodge came Saturday evening to spend Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Lamer.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bishop Sundayed at Rockwell with the Vierkant families.

Mrs. F. C. Scott has been on the sick list the past week.

Misses Harriet Martin of Belmond and Jessie Burress of Minneapolis called at the Butts home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Luick, Leslie and Merle of Ventura were Sunday guests at the John Rust home.

Miss Laura Christie of Barabo, Wisconsin, came last week to visit relatives and friends.

Mr. Dennis returned Saturday from Newton where he has visited relatives since the Lamer funeral. He will spend a few days here with his mother and sister, Mrs. Lamer, before returning to his home at Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

O. F. Conwell autoed to Grand Junction, Saturday night and Sunday Mrs. Conwell and two sons returned home with him, having spent a week at her parental home.

Mrs. Elva Chase of Garner visited relatives here Friday. Her son, Jess, who has spent the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Chase, returned home with her.

Ray Finn of Cascade Sundayed at his parental home.

Harry Summers of Palo, Illinois, was a guest last week with the Cashman family.

Mr. and Mrs. Beiderfeldt and children spent Sunday with his sister at Marshalltown.

Charlie Swenson of Republic, Missouri came Monday in interest of his farm and to call on old friends. We are glad to hear that Mrs. Swenson and two children are very well.

Mr. Hill and son of Clarion spent the latter part of last week with their daughter, Mrs. Hemenway.

Mrs. Earl Ruka invited several families to her home Sunday night and gave a surprise party in honor of her husband's birthday. All present enjoyed a fine time.

Miss Irene Ness left Friday night from Clarion and went to Chicago. A day later the news reached relatives and friends here that on Saturday she was united in marriage to Mr. Kilbourne.

Irene is well known here, having lived in this community for a number of years. She attended the local school and since then has been employed in Des Moines. She is a splendid young lady and will make a fine helpmate for the man of her choice.

Mr. Kilbourne is not known here but from all reports is a man of fine worth. He is a brother-in-law of one of the Chelsvig girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Kilbourne will reside in Chicago. Goodell folks extend heartiest congratulations.

Church Notes

The U. B. Church Conference will be held in Muscatine, beginning Wednesday, September 21.

ALEXANDER NEWS NOTES

There were several of the town and country folks who attended the barbecue at Thornton on Thursday. A fine time is reported. The following are some of those who were present: Mr. and Mrs. James Westaby, Simon Stoffer and family, Geo. Stoffer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Stoffer, Leonard and Bennie Arends, Alfred Anderson and family, Carl Bohlen and family, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Bohlen and Mrs. Minnie Tucker, Frank and Theodore Bohlen, Mrs. T. Kaduce and family, Luloff Kaduce and family, John Bell and daughter Jessie, Misses Erma, Inez and Alma Bell, Miss Ethel Schulte, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry DeFries, Cylde Blau and family.

On Tuesday evening a picnic supper was held in the P. C. Bohlen grove, in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Moore, who had been visiting here the past week. Rev. Moore was a former pastor of the Congregational church, and his many friends were pleased to have them among us again during their vacation.

John H. Leebrick of Hampton was a visitor at the John Bell home Wednesday.

Mrs. Fred Bobst of near Des Moines was calling on old friends here Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Arends, daughter Sylvia and sons Jesse and Robert were business callers at Mason City Wednesday.

Mrs. Earl Allen and three children of Iowa Falls came Wednesday for a few days visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bohlen.

Miss Effie Dresher was a Hampton caller Wednesday evening.

John F. Bell was a business caller at Belmond Thursday.

This year promises to be a banner year in the Alexander schools and if there is any boy or girl who is asking himself or herself the question of whether or not to reenter school this fall, he should seek the advice of someone who has attained real success in life. No doubt all will advise that there can be no great success in social and home life without all the education that can possibly be acquired. This is also a timely suggestion for those who may have dropped out of school for two or three years.

The Board of Education has made various improvements on the school building during the summer; bookkeeping as another popular commercial course will be offered; music will be given special emphasis throughout the grades; a school orcsestra will be organized; which conditions all point to a bigger and better school year.

The faculty for the coming year are:

Harry H. Gaulke, Supt., Alexander.

Irene B. Shenkle—Prin., English, History; Colo.

Alice Seeds—Mathematics, and Physics; Mt. Pleasant.

Verona Goetsch—Home Economics, Music; Olin.

Pearl Schenke—7th and 8th grades St. Anthony.

Iva Crook—5th and 6th grades, Rodman.

Hazel Beitz—4th and 5th grades, Hopkington.

Sylverne Helland — 3rd grade, Hanlontown.

Melba Tucker—2nd grade, Hansell.

Coryl Husband—1st grade, Dallas Center.

Respectfully yours,
Harry H. Gaulke, Supt.

ROWAN ITEMS OF INTEREST

Ed Ballou and John Rowen attended the State fair Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. James Burt and Mrs. Wilbur Utz motored to Bradford Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Hinckley entertained as guests Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Will Livingston and son of Ellendale, Minnesota, who were enroute to Ames.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Myers spent a part of last week at Steamboat Rock where they ran the drug store for their son Walter, while he and his wife attended the State Fair.

Mrs. Walt Whitten and daughter Elfrieda motored to Hampton Tuesday where they had their tonsils removed.

Lurt Sater of Middleton spent last week here looking after farm interests.

Last Wednesday evening about twelve members of the graduating class of 1919 with their husbands and wives gathered for a reunion at the Ed Riley home on the invitation of Miss Dolly Riley, a member of the class. The evening was spent in games as renewing of school days. The reminiscence was written and real by Donald Farran. The house was tastefully decorated in the class colors, silver and gold, and the class numeral held a prominent place. The color scheme was carried out in the lunch of ice cream and cake. Class flowers were used as souvenirs. At the close of the evening the class song, "Till We Meet Again" was sung after which they departed for their various homes. Those in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Chester Moellering, Ben Moellering, Mr. and Mrs. Tarry Patterson, Donald Farran, Mr. and Mrs. George Aldrich, Misses Susan Duffy, Izetta Fletcher, and Marie Sater of St. Louis, who was the honor guest. Two members of the class were unable to attend. They were Jurdon Brinkman and Ralph Whitten. Miss Frances Farran assisted Miss Riley during the evening.

Mrs. E. R. Ballou spent Friday of last week at the Tom Tyrrell home at Belmond.

Mrs. Fred Aldrich is spending this week in Mason City where she is assisting in caring for her mother who is very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Stadtlander are the parents of a baby daughter born Sunday morning.

George Mossman, Joe McKinley, and Clarence and Linden Whitten departed Monday morning for a ten day's trip in the Black Hills in South Dakota.

Mrs. Blanche Beckner and daughter of Webster City called at the Mrs. Hanah Whitten home Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L, Ingerham and Mrs. Mary Braden left Friday evening for Swaledale, where Mrs. Braden remained for a visit at the home of her brother, E. P. Ingerham.

The Misses Cleo, Dolly and Susan Duffy motored to Little Port where Susan will teach this year. They called at the L. A. McCallum home in Edgewood.

Mr. and Mrs. Haney of Winterset are visiting and assisting at the home of their daughter, Mrs. E. C. Haupt.

The race horse owned by Edgar Mantle won first prize at the fair in Hampton last Thursday.

Miss Lois Steffens returned Sunday after having spent the week at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Bright Swisher in Clarion.

Franklin McManis of Chicago is a guest at the home of his grandfather, Rev. J. H. Bounds, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Adamson and daughter, departed Sunday for Des Moines, to attend the fair health contest, in which Lucile is entered.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schroeder of Chicago are guests at the T. R. Sheldon home this week. Mr. Shroder and Mrs. Sheldon are brother and sister.

The R. H. Keith family and Miss Keith of Montreal spent Sunday afternoon in Mason City.

Miss Elsie Keith left Sunday evening for her home in Canada after having spent a week at the home of her brother, R. H. Keith.

The Bert Myers family have moved into the Will Azeltine residence. The Herb Ketchum family of Clarion have moved into the house vacated by the Myers family, and the Lee Fletcher family of Ft. Dodge, into the W. A. Hake house.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gates, Mrs. Ina Stumph and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Miller of Clarion spent Saturday in Mason City.

Mrs. R. H. Keith and Kenneth, were Webster City callers Wednesday of last week.

Zelda Hackley spent last week at the home of her sister, Mrs. Cliff Bachman at Hampton.

Mrs. Ina Stumph who has been enjoying a week's vacation from the D. W. Whitten store spent the week with relatives in Clarion.

Mrs. Mary Klineshrode and her daughter Viva and son Olie and wife of Granada, Minnesota, have been guests at the Joe Patton home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Benton are enjoying a visit from their son of Chicago, who filled the M. E. pulpit Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Haupt are mourning the loss of their infant son, who was born at the Bernard Hospital Thursday and departed this life a few hours later. Burial was made in the Graceland cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Haupt have the sympathy of the entire community.

Miss Marie Sater left Thursday, for her home in St. Louis, Missouri, after having spent a week at the home of her friend, Miss Izetta Fletcher.

Mrs. Dwight Hinckley and Mrs. Kilbur Utz spent Thursday at the home of friends near Dows.

Mrs. Jesse Steffens spent Thursday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Packard in Belmond.

The Misses Ruby and Benetia Steffens who have been visiting relatives here returned to their home in Newell last Wednesday.

Mr. A. H. Keith who has been a guest at the home of his brother, R. H. Keith, returned to his home in Chicago Wednesday.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

10:30—Sunday School.

11:30—Morning worship. "Scriptural Views of Christ's Death."

6:30—Junior Endeavor. Mrs. H. Williams, leader.

7:00—Christian Endeavor.

8:00—"Go away to college night"

8:00 Wednesday evening. Prayer meeting and Bible study.

8:00 Friday evening. Choir practice.

The young ladies Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. L. A. Marquardt, Monday afternoon.

The Ladies Missionary Society will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. A. A. Williams, Mrs. Fred Williams leader.

METHODIST CHURCH

10:00 a. m. Sunday School.
11:00 a. m. Morning worship.
7:00 p. m. Epworth League
8:00 p. m. Evening service.
8:00 p. m. Wednesday, prayer meeting.

The Ladies Aid will meet Thursday afternoon of this week with Will Azeltine for a business meeting. All members are urged to be present.

The children of the W. H. M. S. will hold their mite-box opening and picnic at the home of Etta Carr.

The barrel of empty fruit jars which are to be filled for Shesler Hall, Sioux City, are at the Telephone Office. Anyone wishing to help may come and get jars.

OLAF NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scott drove to Mason City, Saturday.

A number from this vicinity are attending the state fair at Des Moines, over the week end.

The Olaf Shipping Association shipped a carload of hogs to Iowa Falls, Saturday.

G. H. Baxter and family drove to Iowa Falls, Saturday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Baxter's grandfather.

About thirty friends and relatives gathered at J. K. Sheplies, Thursday evening, and enjoyed a picnic supper.

Olaf Peterson had the misfortune while helping his neighbor with threshing, to break his collar bone.

Orphie Anderson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schlitching left Saturday for a weeks outing at Lake Francis.

Irving Thompson and Ernest Johnson left Thursday morning for North Dakota where they will work in the harvest fields.

Cryder Wicks and family spent Sunday evening at Lloyd Holversons.

Henry Nelson and family visited at Clarence Scotts Sunday.

B. T. Benson is in charge of the Olaf Store, during the absence of James Kirk, who is attending the state fair.

Greatly Reduced Fares Via Great Western to Minnesota State Fair, St. Paul-Minneapolis, Sept. 3-10

Travel by Great Western trains this year to the Minnesota State Fair. Fares are remarkably low—much cheaper than driving your own car—and you avoid parking problems and road congestion. Convenient train schedules. Liberal return limits. Ask local Great Western agent for full details.—Adv.

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Bldg
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

Announcement!

WE wish to announce to the people of Belmond that we have purchased the Grocery formerly conducted by A. W. Loats, and are now open for business. It will be our aim to carry only the best in Groceries, and we are now adding

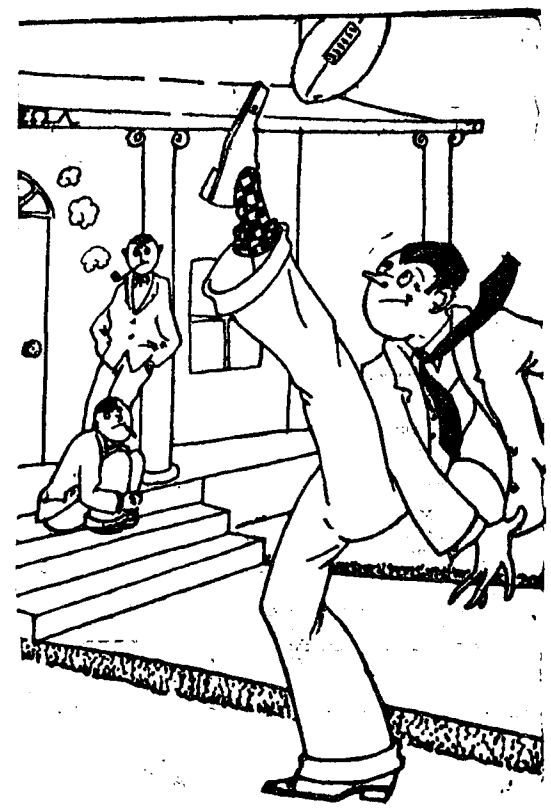
A Complete New Grocery Stock

We respectfully solicit a share of your patronage. You will always find us ready to serve you. We will sell for cash, because we can give you the best merchandise for the least money that way. Our telephone is No. 38---use it when you need Good Groceries.

Come In and Visit Us!

Located First Door West of Thoe Studio

The Bump Grocery
PHONE 38 BELMOND, IOWA



School is not all rough-house. But school boys' suits need to be exceptionally durable both as to fabric and tailoring. And they must satisfy as to style, fit and price. Years of specialization have made Michaels-Stern suits popular in all schools from coast to coast. Belmond's school opens next Monday; bring your boy in and fit him with the suit that will wear.

BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES
Nunn-Bush and Sells Shoes. Stylish, yet long wearing, from
$4.50 to $8.50

BOYS' SWEATERS
Keller-Koats, all wool, in both slip-over and Shaker Knit. The new Crew V Neck Sweater is the very latest.
$2.50 to $10

SHIRTS, NECKTIES, PANTS, BELTS, HOSIERY, ETC.

SMITH & SKOVLIN
SERVICE SATISFACTION
Phone 50 Belmond, Iowa

Course of Study In High School

Subjects Required During Four Years With The Elective Subjects

An explanation of the High School course of study might be of benefit to some parents and pupils who would like to know what is being taught in the high school. In the grades all pupils are required to take the same subjects with the exception of a little choice in junior high. In high school only a part of the subjects are required and the student is allowed to choose the rest of his course. The required subjects depend on the course pursued. Four subjects per semester is considered a full schedule. Only pupils who have shown ability to handle more are permitted or encouraged to carry any additional subjects.

Three courses are offered in the Belmond High School, the Standard or Classical course, the Normal Training course, and the Commercial course. For the first two years in high school the courses are all practically the same. During the junior and senior years the student specializes in the chosen course. Some of the subjects required in one course may be chosen as electives for another course.

The Standard Course is what might be called a Liberal Arts course. It is a college preparatory course. Graduates may enter Liberal Arts or Professional Courses in college without deficiencies.

The Normal Training Course is prescribed by the State Department of Public Instruction. This course aims to prepare graduates to become successful teachers, either in rural schools, or with additional training, in any school. Graduates of this course, by electing the proper subjects can enter the Liberal Arts courses in college without deficiencies.

The Commercial Course is not a college entrance course though college credit will be given for a part of the Commercial work. The aim of the course is to give the graduate a working knowledge of business methods including Shorthand, Bookkeping, and Typing.

The following subjects are offered in the Belmond High School Course of Study. (Note: 1 indicates first semester, 2, second semester)

Freshman Year

Required subjects:
- English I (1-2)
- Algebra I (1-2)

Electives (Two of the following)
- Home Economics (1-2)
- Manual Training (1-2)
- Latin I (1-2)
- General Science
- Community Civics 2

Sophomore Year

Required Subjects:
- English II (1-2)
- Geometry (1-2)
- General History (1-2)

Electives (One of the following):
- Latin II (1-2)
- Physiology (1)
- Geography (2)

Junior Year

Standard Course
Required:
- English Literature III (1-2)
- American History (1)
- American Government (2)
- Algebra III (1)

Electives:
- Bookkeeping (1-2)
- Psychology (1)
- Biology (2)
- Agriculture (1)
- Solid Geometry (2)
- Beginning Typing (1-2)

Commercial Course
Required:
- English Literature III (1-2)
- American History (1)
- American Government (2)
- Bookkeping (1-2)
- Beginning Typing (1-2)
- Beginning Shorthand (1-2)

Normal Course
Required:
- English III (1-2)
- American History (1-2)
- Agriculture (1)
- Normal Music (2)
- American Government (2)
- Psychology (1)
- Rural Education and School Management (2)

Senior Year

Standard Course
Required:
- Grammar (1)
- Physics (1-2)
- Economics (1)
- Arithmetic (2)
- Public Speaking (2)

Electives:
- Bookkeeping (1-2)
- Psychology (1)
- Agriculture (1)
- Biology (2)
- Solid Geometry (2)
- Beginning Typing (1-2)

Commercial Course
Required:
- Grammar (1)
- Public Speaking (2)
- Physics (1-2)
- Economics (1)
- Arithmetic (2)
- Advanced Typing (1-2)
- Advanced Shortband (1-2)

Normal Course
Required:
- Grammar (1)
- Public Speaking (2)
- Physics (1-2)
- Economics (1)
- Arithmetic (2)
- Pedagogy (1)
- Methods (2)

FOOTBALL

Prospects are good for a successful year of athletics for B. H. S. Of last years football squad only four were lost by graduation, Don McNulty, Joe Sprenzel, Henry Weide and Clifford Johnson. The backfield will feel the loss of McNulty and Johnson, while Sprenzel and Weide will be missed in the line. McNulty as captain and quarterback was always a tower of strength on offense and defense.

Paul McNulty, fast and shifty halfback, brother of last years captain, is captain of this year and should prove a capable leader. Paul will have a big job filling his big brother's shoes, but it can be done.

Last year's team was composed largely of inexperienced material. With the added year of experience and weight in some places the line should function much better than last year. Coach Hall also has a line on his men from last year and will be able to get down to business sooner. Of last years squad Captain Paul McNulty, Tomlinson, Klemme, Brewer, Schultz, Pech, Henry Johnson, Leonard Johnson, Rabe, Rierson, Chapman, Vestweber, and Obrecht together with several second string candidates and fresh men are expected to report for practice this fall. If all the available material will turn out Coach Hall will have some of his worri settled immediately.

Coach Hall has been attending a coaching school at Superior, Wisconsin a part of the summer. Coach Spear, head football coach at the University of Minnesota and "Phog" Allen, nationally famous basketball coach of the University of Kansas, served as instructors at the school. Coach Hall will undoubtedly come back full of dope for the boys for the coming campaign. The first practice will be held Monday afternoon, September 5th.

A stiff schedule of games has been lined up, with Clarion opening the season on the Belmond field, September 23rd. Eight games have been scheduled, four at home and four away. The same teams will be met as last year except that Dows appears on the schedule in place of Clear Lake. The local team resumes football relations with Dows in an Armistice day game at Dows. The complete schedule follows:

- Sept. 23—Clarion here
- Sept. 30—Garner there
- Oct. 7—open
- Oct. 14—Eagle Grove there
- Oct. 21—Kanawha here
- Oct. 28—Britt here
- Nov. 4—Forest City there
- Nov. 11—Dows there
- Nov. 18—Hampton here

Board Cuts Taxes Next Year $3,000

Cost Per Pupil Per Day Only 40 Cents For School Year

From the standpoint of money invested and the cost of operation, the school is one of the big industries of the community. From the standpoint of results or returns on the investment it would be hard to figure its value to the community in dollars and cents. About the only figures available are in regards to cost.

The receipts, from which the expense of the school is paid, come from several sources. The chief source of revenue is from the District tax, which provides for about 70 per cent of the cost of the school. The next largest receipts come from tuition, which represents about 20 per cent of the receipts. The balance of the receipts come from fees collected in Manual Training, Commercial, and Domestic Science, state aid, and semi-annual apportionment.

The cost of operating the school the past year was $40,749. For the coming year the Board of Education has found it possible and advisable to lower the budget estimate of receipts by $3000. This $3000 is all taken off the district tax, which means that the taxpayers of the district will be paying $3000 less in school taxes the coming year than they did the past year. This will amount to a little over ten per cent reduction. This reduction is made possible through the fact there are no outstanding bonds coming due this year, and also one employing of one less teacher. In spite of the reduction in receipts there will be no lowering of standards. The same high standards that have been upheld in the school will be continued.

Among the expenditures the largest is for teachers salary. The past year this amounted to approximately $30,000. Janitors and janitor supplies cost $2600, school supplies $480, records and apparatus $1150. In additon to these, desk copies, library, secretary, manual training, commercial and domestic science supplies make up smaller amounts. The manual training, commercial and domestic science departments are practically self-supporting aside from salaries.

During the past year the total enrollment in the Belmond school was 561. Figured on the basis of the total cost this would represent a cost of $72.64 per pupil for the year, or forty cents per day of school per pupil.

LOCALS

Mrs. F. J. Tuffree, Mrs. J. H. Nourse, Mrs. Clyde Jennings and Mrs Herb Hadley spent Friday at Garner with Mrs Martin Nissen.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snyder returned Monday evening from Michigan, where they had been the past few weeks visiting relatives. Sunday, August 21, they were present at the Snyder family reunion, at Cold Water Lake, near Homer, Michigan. About 100 relatives attended the reunion.

Floyd Case and family of Clarion were guests Tuesday evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Case.

Clarence Scott went to Mason City, yesterday, to have his eye treated again. He recently lost the sight of the eye when it was pierced by a piece of wire. The injured optic was seemingly healing nicely, when an infection set in a few days ago necessitating further treatment.

Fred Ruiter and son, Bennie, left yesterday for North Dakota, to visit relatives.

Mrs. Ralph Edwards and baby are guests this week at the home of Mrs. Edward's mother, Mrs. Newgard.

Mrs. Barth of Boone, is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. O. Fitts, this week.

We will clean five ties Free with every suit, overcoat or dress cleaned pressed, for one week, September 1 to 7.—New Belmond Tailor Shop. Phone 28. F. J. Tuffree. 1c

Dance tonight, Thursday, September 1, at the Belmond Opera House. Music by Dixieland Entertainers. Tickets $1.

School Days

SCHOOL opens here next MONDAY and the boys AND girls will soon be LISTENING for the old BELL to sound the call. THE boys will have to WASH their ears again AND put on stockings AND generally fix up WHILE the girls will be GLAD school has started (ANY boy will say that). WE remember once when WE played hooky to go FISHING and the prof TOLD us to stay after SCHOOL so we went PREPARED with three PAIRS of pants on, but NOTHING happened! AND we didn't get a fish! BUT if you'll stop at OUR store you can get ALL the school supplies YOU'LL need, like—

PENCILS
TABLETS, All Kinds COMPOSITION Books
NOTE BOOKS
COMPASSES
WATER COLORS
CRAYOLAS
EVERSHARP Pencils 50 up
INGERSOL fountain pens $1
BOOK Straps and Bags, 25c
SPECIAL — We will allow 50c on your old fountain pen regardless of condition, on A New Parker or Waterman Fountain Pen.
AND—For 5c you can get A GOOD PENCIL With your name on it.
A nice line of Seat Work For teachers of rural schools.
LUNCH KITS
School books are cash.
Start school right and TRY The Drug Store First!

Herman L. Schultz
SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

School Days

Among the happiest days of life are those spent in school. The associations they bring and the friendships formed are among the dearest possessions we have. School days are preparatory days—days in which the boys and girls are preparing themselves to face life on their own responsibility.

Along with their school studies, do not fail to teach your boy and girl the value of Thrift, of Saving a little regularly for the proverbial "rainy day." This Bank will be only too pleased to assist them in starting and keeping a Savings Account. One Dollar starts an account.

STATE BANK OF BELMOND
BELMOND IOWA

BELMOND VARIETY STORE

Special Sale In School Supplies

With the opening of school there are many things the children will need to prepare them for the long season ahead. We have anticipated their wants, and offer merchandise so full of value as to make every item a big bargain. Come in early and inspect our big stock—bring the kiddies with you.

SCHOOL BAGS—Black Waterproof, 12½x10 inches with ½ inch strap and 5x6 inch pocket. A most ideal school bag. Each ---------- 25c

PENCILS
Our line of pencils comprises only the best in No. 2 leads with high grade rubber erasers. 2 for ----------5c

"VELVET" PENCILS, no better pencil made. High quality grade No. 2 lead, gilt tip, red eraser, each ----------5c

"ALL RIGHT", round pencils in assorted colors, nickeled tip, white erasers, 2 for 5c

PENHOLDERS
Faber's Galilith, polished taper shaped, assorted colors, each ---------- 10c

AMERICAN penholders, assorted cork, rubber and metal tipped, straight shaft holders, assorted colors ----------5c

TABLETS
"OVER ALL," biggest pencil tablet on the market, 250 pages, good quality -------5c

"MAJESTIC", excellent quality ruled white paper, 160 pages ---------- 5c

"ALL YOU CAN CARRY" smooth finish pencil paper, 8x10, good quality, 280 pages for only ---------- 10c

"I AM IT", biggest value on the market, 500 pages heavy ruled pencil paper 5½x9, for only ---------- 10c

"HY GRADE", quality linen finish, ruled or unruled, 110 pages 5x8, only ----------10c

NOTE BOOKS
"I AM IT" good grade white paper, 120 page pressboard cover; the limit in value, each only ----------5c

BLACK MOROCCO, 8x10, fine quality, black morocco style, stiff board cover, 36 pages, each only ----------10c

FOUNTAIN PENS
"LINCOLN", full sized, attractive black chased barrel, lever action, 14 karat gold point, iridium tip, a big value at only ----------$1.00

INKS
Carter's, your choice black or blue, per bottle --------10c

SCORES OF OTHER BARGAINS—COME IN AND SEE!

Remember Folks, we run a Variety Store which means items in all lines. Visit our store, compare prices. We can save you money.

Make our Store your headquarters—use our telephone. We like to see you whether you purchase or not. Bring the kiddies.

Phone 102½ | Belmond Variety Store, Belmond, Iowa | Open Evenings

MR. FEEDER!

Buying Power means Selling Power. We have a carload of

DARLING'S BEEF TANKAGE

on track. Better get your order in, as this is PRICED TO SELL QUICKLY

Our Stock of FLOUR and FEEDS is always complete. And remember we pay Highest Market Prices for GRAIN AND POULTRY
Truck Service if you want it.

Farmers Grain Company

PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!
BELMOND, - - IOWA

JUST ARRIVED!

The New Fall Styles In

Emery SHIRTS!

School opens Monday—Fit your boy out with a new Emery.

SMITH & SKOVLIN

SERVICE SATISFACTION

PHONE 50 BELMOND, IOWA

$5.00 down

and the balance can be paid in the easiest of easy payment terms

Take advantage of this combination offer, while it lasts. We will gladly demonstrate in your home—on your own rugs—without any obligation on your part.

Premier Duplex

This electric vacuum cleaner carries our endorsement. We guarantee it as well as the manufacturer. It cleans—thoroughly. It's easy to use and it is durable and reliable.

Double Action

The PREMIER DUPLEX accomplishes easier and better cleaning by double action. This is the combination of powerful suction plus a motor driven brush. NO OILING is required.

Central States Electric Co.

General Office
CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

Men Marooned

By GEORGE MARSH

Copyright by The Penn Publishing Co.
WNU Service

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I.—Garth Guthrie, Canadian war veteran, having to live in the open on account of weakened lungs, is factor of a Hudson's Bay post at Elkwan. He came back from the conflict with a permanently scarred face, which he realizes cost him the love of his fiancee, Edith Falconer. Sir Charles Guthrie, his brother, is a millionaire war profiteer.

CHAPTER II.—With Etienne Savanne, halfbreed, his firm friend, Garth meets Doctor Quarrier, geologist, and his sister Joan. Their schooner has drifted ashore. Quarrier complains he has been robbed by a man known as "Laughing McDonald" or to the Indians as "McDonald Ha! Ha!" because of a scar which gives him a perpetual grin. McDonald is Garth's competitor for the fur trade. At Elkwan an Indian girl, Ninda, tuberculosis victim, whom Garth has befriended, is dying. Quarrier hints that Ninda is Garth's mistress, which is hotly resented. Joan, trained war nurse, cares for Ninda, but the girl dies.

CHAPTER III.—Garth tells Joan part of the reasons for his presence at Elkwan. He takes the Quarriers to Albany, from whence they can proceed to Montreal. Charles Guthrie writes reproaching his brother for not coming home. Charles' wife assures him Ethel still loves him, but Garth in his heart knows better. His scarred face has separated them.

CHAPTER IV.—Three of McDonald's party visit Elkwan seeking to buy gun shells. From them Garth learns of evil talk among the Indians concerning him and Ninda, and realizes Quarrier will spread his version of the affair.

CHAPTER V.—With Etienne's help Garth wins the friendship of Saul Souci, "medicine man" and treaty chief of the Crees, and gets his promise to persuade the Crees to take their furs to Elkwan instead of to McDonald. Garth is ambushed by Joe Mokoman, Ninda's reputed father, whom the factor had driven from Elkwan. "Shot," Garth's airedale companion on many battlefields in France, saves him, and the Indian is taken, a prisoner, to Elkwan.

CHAPTER VI.—Garth sends Mokoman to McDonald with a message of defiance, and the war is on.

CHAPTER VII.—Garth hails with joy the freezing of the strait, which will enable Souci's followers to bring their furs to Elkwan without difficulty. Etienne craftily spreads reports that McDonald and his schooner are bewitched, and evil will befall all who trade with him.

CHAPTER VIII.—Waiting in ambush to shoot Garth, Joe Mokoman is attacked and killed by Shot. At a "pow-wow" held by his orders Souci convinces the Indians that McDonald is the friend of demons and to be avoided. The chief counsels them to take their furs to Elkwan, thus assuring the factor of trade which will establish a record for the post.

Garth finished the letter with a groan of disappointment. "She's heard a fine tale from the family, and her brother's version wouldn't help it any," he muttered. "Doesn't speak of meeting them, though. She, in a school for homeless children—"

It was evident to Guthrie from the reserved tone of Joan Quarrier's letter that she had heard of his engagement to Ethel, and it was also quite as clear that she was ignorant of the color of the story Quarrier had retailed to Charles. To this, he realized, Joan Quarrier would give instant and flat denial but she was not even in Montreal—would never meet the Guthries. And after all, what did it matter? He was through with them—his smug brother, and the girl who had lost him when she stared in horror at his scarred cheek that day when the Royal Montreals came home.

He replaced the letter in the pocket of his shirt to be reread again and again with increasing disappointment—chagrin. He had hoped for something more personal—something of the Joan Quarrier he had known for five short days in September. But it was evident that she thought the factor of Elkwan not a free man. Well, he was now. Quarrier had done him an unintentional kindness in that lie—had forced Ethel's hand. Now he, Garth, could accept her release. Then what?

Far into the night Guthrie sat and smoked, but when he blew out the candle, he was no nearer a solution of his problem. Joan Quarrier had been right when she feared that a lonely Christmas awaited the exile at Elkwan. It did—a Christmas gray because a thousand miles of forest separated Garth Guthrie from a girl whose hair the moon once touched with silver dust on the cliffs of the Albany.

CHAPTER X

The New Year's festivities and the trade were over at Elkwan. The dance in the sleephouse, for which Etienne, seated high on a sugar barrel, provided the music from an ancient and scarred violin, had passed off without compelling the interference of the factor as peacemaker. The customary present of sugar and flour, tea and pork, had been given to each family of hunters and the Crees had feasted and gossiped to their hearts' content, oblivious of bitter moons to come on far trap-lines when, if game were hard to find, their children would whimper with hunger. The last of the dog-teams had jingled up the river trail or down the delta bound for Akimiski. Thanks to Souci, it had been an unheard-of trade which had come to the little post. Not only had he brought across the ice the Elkwan Crees but some from Kapiskau and Attawapiskat, as well. A good joke on Graham and Boucher.

For a week Garth and Etienne were busy sorting and pressing the fur, which was to go by sled immediately to Albany.

"Twenty-eight thousand dollars," said the factor as he finished checking his list. "Our little trips inland after Souci and over to the island were rather worth while, my friend."

Etienne grinned. "No leetle post tak' dis evair mak' dat trade on dis bay. Dey geeve you bigger place soon. You tak' Etienne Savanne wid you?"

"Take you with me, you old villain? How could I get along without you?

"It Sure Grinds Me to Think of That McDonald Coming in Here."

You're responsible for this catch of fur, and you know it."

Savanne gravely shook his head. "Eet was you who tak' de chance on de riviere to fin' Souci. W'en we go to Albanee I tell dem peopl' dat de new man at Elkwan ees hell on catch de fur."

Guthrie stopped to laugh at the serious half-breed. Of the loyalty of his head man, who had taught him practically all he knew about pelts, he had had ample proof.

Down the coast over the sea-ice traveled the sled loaded with the Christmas trade. At Kapiskau, where the early January dusk overtook them, they turned up the delta to the post to pass the night with the surprised Boucher, whose Indians at Akimiski had left him to trade with McDonald.

Starting the following morning under the stars, before the light died, the sled from Elkwan sighted the buildings of Fort Albany.

As Garth and Etienne entered the trade room, Cameron, curious of the result of their mission, called: "Well, well, what's the news from the island? Did you get across the ice?"

"Yes, we got across a week before Christmas, but had a tough time," Guthrie dissembled gravely, nudging Etienne.

"Didn't see how you could do any good going over there. Your man failed to hold any of the Elkwan people, then?" surmised the disappointed Cameron. "Same way with Attawapiskat and Kapiskau—they lost most of their people—went to the schooner. It sure grinds me to think of that McDonald coming in here and taking all that fur."

"Well, he outbids us for it, and it's only human in the Indians to let him have it. How much is the whole island trade worth in an average year, anyway?" suddenly asked Garth.

"Let's see," said Cameron, scratching his grizzled head. "Um, I should say that it runs about two hundred fox skins, all kinds."

"Well, Mr. Cameron," drawled the factor of Elkwan, "I've got half of it out on the sled, then."

"What?" Cameron stared stupidly into the twinkling eyes of the man before him. "Thought you said you didn't—half of it? What d'yuh mean, half of it? Half of what?" sputtered the puzzled trader.

"Why, half of the Akimiski trade. We got a hundred skins."

"You got a hundred—? Why, man, you said you didn't hold 'em—your people. Are you crazy, Guthrie?" cried the excited Cameron.

Unable to contain his mirth, Etienne exploded at the far end of the trade counter, as Garth replied: "You took it for granted that we failed. I didn't say we fell down," chaffed Guthrie.

"For heaven's sake, man, stop your fooling and tell me the truth. Do you mean to say that you've got a hundred fox from Akimiski on that sled out there?" demanded Cameron.

"I do."

"Well—I'll be—skinned alive!" And the dazed trader stood, fists on hips gaping at the grinning Garth and Etienne.

"How in Jehoshaphat did you do it? You got 'em, after all, with Souci?"

"Souci and Etienne, here, scared them to death."

Then, when the fur packs had been brought in and the dogs fed, Guthrie told the story.

(Continued next week.)

READ THE ADS

SPECIAL!

Saturday, Sept. 3 Only

COOKIES Scotch, Oatmeal, Lemon, Sugar and Wheat-a-laxa. Your choice of any or all. Per dozen..... 10c

Every Wednesday and Saturday is Coffee Cake Day. 10c Each.

Don't say bread—say "BLUE RIBBON" bread. It's Belmond bread, baked by Belmond's bakers.

Your patronage solicited and appreciated

MORROW & SCOTT

BELMOND'S BAKERS

Kinseth's Store News

The old saying, "Can What You Can," is all right, but after you have looked over the money-saving prices we are making on canned fruits you will realize that you can't can for as little cost as you can buy by the can from us. Take a look here:

Cherries, in gallon cans, the red pitted kind, at only $1.28 a gallon.

Red Raspberries, Columbia, in gallons at $1.19.

Black Raspberries, in gallons, at $1.19.

Can you can them as cheaply as this? Figure it out, counting cost of the fruit, cans, rubbers, sugar, heat, labor and all. All right, then, phone 19 and say how many cans we shall send.

If you want to can, we have some dandy peaches in boxes at $1.40 a box.

Sno Flake Flour in five sack lots at $10.75.

Two boxes of Post Toasties for two bits—25c.

Corn Flakes the same 2 boxes for 25c.

Northern Toilet Tissue Paper 9c a roll.

A little special saving you money this week is one can Saniflush, one can Melo Water Softener, both for 35c, and a brush free.

Yes—We sell "Blue Ribbon" bread—Baked in Belmond by Belmond's Bakers.

Business is fine, thank you, and we appreciate your patronage. The Store on the Corner is always here to serve you in any way. Just call us any time.

Deferred Payments You'll Never Miss

You will always CHERISH the day that a MAYTAG was delivered to your home for a trial washing.

You would be amazed if you could read the stream of unsolicited testimonial letters that come to us every day from Maytag users who are so pleased with their Maytags that they cannot help writing how grateful they are that they learned about this wonderful labor saver.

PHONE. Use a Maytag next washday without obligation or expense. See big tubfuls washed in 3 to 7 minutes—see collar and cuff edges washed spotlessly clean without hand-rubbing—test for yourself the Maytag's many time and labor saving features that bring real comfort to washday. If the Maytag doesn't sell itself, don't keep it.

THE MAYTAG CO., Newton, Iowa

Maytag

Aluminum Washer

N. W. Branch: 515 Washington Ave. N., Minneapolis, Minn.

BELMOND FURNITURE CO.
Phone 107 Belmond, Iowa
KANAWHA — JUDD HARDWARE

Maytag dealers everywhere follow the standardized rule of sending a Maytag to a home to do a week's washing free, and without obligation of any kind. This is the way all Maytag Gyrafoam Washers are sold. 885

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Oren Hanson left Monday for Wisconsin to visit relatives.

Mrs. Ralph Christie returned Sunday from Iowa City, where her daughter, Muriel, has been in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Galloway and daughter, Veona, arrived home Monday from Jackson, Minnesota, where they have been visiting relatives.

Chas. Klinefelter and son, Elmer, Mr. and Mrs. Will Eimbrink, of Belmond; Anton Boller of Goodell, and John Langlitz and son Erwin of Meservey attended funeral services of George Knau of Geneva, Sunday, burial being at Ackley.

Twenty-five hundred dollars buys a home in Hollandale. Why pay rent? See W. H. Wolle, Belmond, Iowa. 1*

Harry Webb returned home Monday from Corwith and Eagle Grove, where he has assisted in conducting revival meetings.

The Independent is indebted to Supt. H. J. Williams for the numerous articles in this issue dealing with the schools. We urge our readers to read them, as they are splendid articles and contain a wealth of valuable informtion concerning Belmond's schools.

Wm. Hembd and daughter, Miss Hazel Hembd, arrived home Tuesday from Wisconsin. They have spent the past ten days visiting relatives there.

Banks Will Be Closed, Monday

Monday, Sept. 5, being Labor Day, both Belmond banks will remain closed for the day.

The Fall Term opens Tuesday, September the 6th. The Hamilton University, Mason City, Iowa.

Watertown, S. D. Paper: Miss Marjorie Purcell, teacher at the Garfield school, last year, has arrived in the city to resume her position, after spending the summer vacation at her home in Belmond, Iowa, and at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, with relatives and friends.

Aug. Dippel, and his son-in-law, John Game, of Granville, Illinois; Aug. Maews and wife, of Hennepin, Ill., and Frank Maews, wife and children of Broefstown, Ill., are visiting at the Chris Friesleben home a few days this week. They came to attend the funeral of Arthur Friesleben, remaining for a few days' visit.

Miss Gertrude Ely announces the opening of the Piano Studio, Sept. 5. Arrangements for lessons may be made Sept. 3 and 5. 1c

Let the Farmers' Shipping Association ship your live stock. Notify M. F. Christie.

Rev. and Mrs. O. G. Poppen and children returned last week from their Illinois trip.

REGISTER TODAY

Today, Thursday, is the last day of Registration for High School and Kindergarten pupils at the school.

School begins Monday, September 5.

An open air meeting of the Klu Klux Klan was held in Tyrrell park, Friday evening, sponsored by Klan No. 12 of Wright county. An address was given by a minister of Eagle Grove.

E. M. Lathrop has rented the building formerly occupied by The Herald-Press. The Independent, which had some of the former Herald-Press equipment stored in it, vacated this morning. We are not advised as to what will go into the building.

Louis Foss expects to be ready for business in his new Cleaning Establishment next week. Mr. Foss has installed new and modern equipment to carry on this line of work, and has a very fine shop ready for his friends' inspection.

Quite a number of Belmonders have been enjoying the state fair at Des Moines the past week. Comments upon the fair seem to indicate that it is as large and as good as ever, and drawing immense crowds daily.

The band concert last evening was the last of the summer schedule 15 in all being given. Belmond's band this year is better than ever, and under the leadership of Cato C. Griesy has given people in this community a splendid series of entertainments. That they have been appreciated is evidenced by the throngs who have come to Belmond Wednesday evenings to listen.

Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Waalkes and children, and Prof. and Mrs. D. Waalkes left last Wednesday for German Valley, Illinois

PIANO LESSONS

I am prepared to give Piano Lessons at 35 cents per half hour. Phone 3518.—Madge Schleiffarth. 1*

The Nordschow Motor Co. reports the sale of 15 Essex cars in the month of August.

YOU can be holding a good position and earning a real salary before this time next year. Business men of Mason City employed 266 HAMILTON TRAINED students during the first half of 1927. The Hamilton University, Mason City, Iowa.

The regular monthly meeting of the Congregational Missionary Society met with Mrs. Leinbach, August 25, 1927, with a good attendance.

Meeting called to order by the Vice Pres. Mrs. Thos. Cullinan, and devotional led by Mrs. Case, after which Miss Elizabeth Leinbach gave a very interesting talk of her last year's work in New York City, as student of Columbia University. She also favored us with a solo, accompanied by Lois Leinbach.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Leinbach, Mrs. Kinney and Mrs. C. I. Williams. Night came all too soon and we left for our homes, thanking Miss Elizabeth for her talk and wishing her success in her work.

Zelda and Neva Jean Eimbrink spent Sunday at the Harvey Boller home.

A. A. Nihoof and Louis Luick went to Latimer, Monday, to play for an old folks dance that evening.

In just a few more days, literally thousands of young people will be starting to school—starting on the road to good positions—will you be one of them? Next Tuesday is the opening date of the Fall Term. The Hamilton University, Mason City Iowa.

BELMOND MARKETS
(Subject to change.)

Hens	17c
Springs	19c
Roosters	07c
Ducks	12c
Geese	08c
Eggs	24c
Butterfat	39c
Creamery Butter	45c
Oats	37c
Corn No. 3 yellow	90c
Barley	63c

INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Irl Sands suffered several severe cuts and gashes and a broken right arm, and Thos. Hardy and son, Maynard, received cuts and bruises, when the truck they were driving was struck by an Essex coach, Tuesday. The three were going north at the Simon Simerson corner west of Belmond, when an Essex driven by two young Clarion high school boys crashed into them. The Essex struck the truck at the rear, tipping it over. The injured were brought to town where Dr. McBurney gave them medical aid. Sands' arm was broken above the elbow. He was taken to Hampton, Wednesday, where the injured member was x-rayed. The break is of such a nature that the flesh will have to be cut to the bone before the arm can be set.

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Majestic range, in good conditon. Bargain if taken at once. Phone 231. 418c

FOR SALE OR RENT

Having sold some of my property, I will sell or rent my residence on reasonable terms. Anyone desiring a model home should call soon and look it over as it goes to the first one making a reasonable offer.—E. A. Pierce, Belmond, Iowa. Phone 359 42tf

FOR SALE—Modern house and one or more lots. Write Box 56, Belmond, Iowa. 1*

Cash or Exchange—640 or 120 acre dairy farm. Close to market. What have you?—W. H. Wolle, Belmond, Iowa. 1*

FOR RENT—Chicken and truck farm, consisting of 5-room house and 9 lots, with hog house, cow barn, chicken house, garage. Large strawberry bed. Edge of town. $18 a month. Write Mrs. Wm. Leonard, Swaledale, Iowa. 423*

WANTED—To store piano in exchange for its use. Best care guaranteed. Inquire at Independent. 422c

LOST—16 foot log chain, between Tyrrell's corner on Primary 15 and our farm. Finder please notify Sheriff Bros. 1*

DR. R. E. PORTER
BELMOND, IOWA
Chiropractic Health Service
Eight Year's Experience
Office Over Griesy's Store

ROBINSONS
...STORE...
BAKERY
GROCERY

We can supply the lunches—what you want, when you want it. Fresh and good. Large or small quantities.

Honey, 2 cakes 35c. Quart jars, strained 50c.

Watermelon!

Yes—a good big, juicy, satisfying slice, cold and refreshing, right off the ice, for 10 cents. Try one! Or if you prefer cold pop or ice cream, we have it. If the day is cool, a brimming cup of real coffee with real cream! In fact, any time we are here to serve you with the best in

MEALS LUNCHES
SHORT ORDERS
ICE CREAM CANDY
CIGARS TOBACCO

Look for the Red Light!

RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

CITY MARKET'S SPECIALS!

Friday - Saturday
August 26-27

LIVER, per pound 05c
HAMBURGER, per pound 15c
PORK SAUSAGE, per pound 15c
LIVER SAUSAGE, Per Lb. 15c

ATTRACTIVE PRICES ON COLD MEATS!

Watch for Our Specials Every Week!

Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning

City Meat Market
Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207. Belmond, Iowa

Lyric Theatre
...Geo. Hake, Manager...

SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS

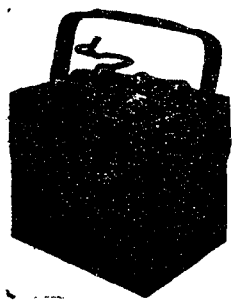
THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 1
"Down Upon the Swanee River"
With the Swanee River Orchestra, also colored singers, dancers, vaudeville performers. A picture with a large cast of favorites, including Mary Thurman and Chas. Emmett Mack.
15c and 40c

FRIDAY and SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 2 and 3
"Outlaws of Red River"
Fox picture with Tom Mix. and Tony.
"TEN YEARS OLD"
Our Gang comedy
10c and 25c

MONDAY, TUESDAY SEPTEMBER 5 and 6
"Mockery"
Goldwyn production with Lon Chaney, Ricardo Cortez, Barbara Bedford, Mack Swain. A drama of the Russian Revolution. A story of the struggle between peasantry and aristocracy.
Fox News
10c and 25c

WEDNEDAY and THURSDAY SEPTEMBER 7 and 8
"The Prince of Head Waiters"
First National picture with Lewis Stone, Priscilla Bonner, E. J. Ratcliffe, Lilyan Tashman, John Patrick, Robert Agnew. The story involves the love of a father for his son, the love of a stern father for his daughter and finally the unselfish love of a childhood sweetheart for the youth. From the Liberty Magazine story by Viola Brothers Shore and Garrett Fort.
"CUPID AND THE CLOCK"
Fox comedy
10c and 25c

Call



46
FOR RADIO SERVICE

Tubes, B-batteries, A-batteries, recharging and renting, along with prompt service.

BELMOND STORAGE BATTERY CO.
Phone 46 J. W. Scott, Prop.
Thru Service We Grow!

Wait for the NEW FORD

WE'LL soon be able to show you the beautiful new Ford car. It's better than you ever hoped it would be---the smartest, speediest, most economical low price car you've ever known.

BELMOND AUTO COMPANY
Lincoln Ford Fordson
THE PLACE OF SERVICE
LOUIS TOKMAN GEO. F. HEGINGER
Telephones 198 - 258

Belmond Independent

ESTABLISHED 1919 AND HERALD-PRESS CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 8 BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1927 NO. 43

Thief and 'Legger Are Given Sentences

Young Eagle Grove Man Is Sentenced On Charge Of Selling Liquor

LOCAL MAN APPEALS

Judge Clock, who is holding court at Fort Dodge, came to Clarion Thursday evening and held a short criminal session. Roy VanArsade of Eagle Grove, held on a bootleg charge, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $300 and serve six months in the county jail. The prisoner cannot be paroled on account of his physical condition.

Iner Severson of Eagle Grove was taken before Judge Clock at Fort Dodge last week. He was sentenced to a year in the county jail upon a plea of guilty to the theft of two front wheels from a Ford car. After serving thirty days he is to be paroled to J. W. McGrath of Eagle Grove.

The case against Beulah Buck, the 16 year old Goldfield girl, was dismissed and the girl sent home with her father. It is to be hoped that she profits from the excellent advice given her by the court.

Randall Nelson of Belmond is defendant in a suit brought by the Standard Oil Co., to collect a balance of $409.21 alleged to be due the plaintiff for gasoline, oil and grease sold the defendant from July to October, 1926.

Will Hite, the traveling salesman who ran into Dr. Henely's auto one night last April, while parked in the east part of Clarion, has been held to the grand jury. He has furnished the required $1000 bond.

Henry Sporaa of Belmond, who was fined $25 for not procuring proper automobile license plates, has appealed his case from the verdict of justice court to the district court.

Inheritance tax appraisers from the state treasurer's office were at the court house last week investigating estates where no report had been made to the state.

A past due $2000 note is cause for action in case of H. O. and Anna Swingen vs. E. J. Haland. Judgment is asked in the sum of $2239.39.

W. W. Baird, guardian of Mrs. John Lord of Clarion, states to the court widow rejects the terms of the will of her late husand and elects to take her distributive share therein under the statute. Guardian asks authority to sell her one-third interest in the Clarion residence property belonging to said estate.

Pauline Davis of Eagle Grove brings action against Neale Davis for an absolutte divorce on the grounds that subsequent to their marriage the husband was twice convicted of felony. The couple were married at Webster City, July 18, 1925, and have one child, Patricia Ann. Alimony in the sum of $25 per month is asked for the child's support.

Joseph Patton of Rowan has begun suit against John Hunter to collect the sum of $618.09. Four claims make up the amount asked. For painting and carpenter work in 1926, $130.80; same work in 1927, $124.63; commission on paint sold, $95; bed, board and washing at $5.00 per week for a period of fifty-three weeks and ten days, $267.66. Plaintiff further alleges that defendant is about to convert a part of his property for the purpose of placing it beyond the reach of his creditors.

Eva Leslie, administratrix of the estate of Elizabeth Shunkwiler, has begun action against Jay Leslie, et al, in which an order of court is asked for the sale of certain Galt property to satisfy claims against the Shunkwiler estate in the sum of $596.

The People's Savings bank of Hardy asks judgment against H. W. and Edith Eastman on their $2,000 promissory note, and for interest taxes and costs.

J. W. Frakes of Woolstock has redeemed his interest in the Frakes farm to satisfy judgment a year ago paying to Clerk Goslin the sum of $2880.15.

On or about January 31, 1925, John Knutson executed a $20,000 note to the Citizens State bank of Eagle Grove. Comes now L. A. Andrew, receiver for said bank, who brings action against Fred Wright and Ann Caliger to have their interest in said mortgaged premises declared junior and inferior to the claim of this plantiff.

Theressa Frandsen and Mary Frandsen Bangs are named as defendants in case brought by the receiver of the Citizens State bank of Eagle Grove to recover the sum of $1459.89 on three promissory notes executed by defendants.

The insanity case brought against Walter Wilson, 75, of Eagle Grove on Wednesday of last week was continued.

For the month of August tax ferrets report a total collection of $2,606.89. Their expense for the same period was $637.82. The collectors also report the sum of $78,000, in monies and credits, added to the 1927 taxable property. The larger sums making up this total ranged from $8,000 to $12,000.—Monitor.

WEATHER FOR AUGUST, 1927

Mean temperature, 79.9.
Mean minimum, 52.8.
Mean for the month, 66.3.
Maximum for any one day, 93, on the 6th.
Minimum for any one day, 39, on the 9th.
Greatest daily range, 37.

Precipitation

Total for month, 3.04 inches.
Greatest fall in 24 hours, .88, on the 16th.
No. days with .01 or more precipitation, 9.
No. clear days, 13.
No. partly cloudy, 6.
No. cloudy days, 12.
Light frosts on the 9th and 24th.
Prevailing direction of wind for month, southwest.

Other Augusts 17 Years

Monthly mean (Aug. 1927), 66.3.
Departure from normal, -3.50 degrees.
Highest temperature any August day, 102 on August 17, 1922.
Lowest temperature any August day, 34 on August 30, 1915.
Precipitation for August 1927, 3.04 inches.
Normal Precipitation for the month, 3.08 inches.
Departure from normal, -.04.
Greatest fall in 24 hours, 2.34, August 12, 1926.

HOME FROM INDIA

Howard Wolle arrived last week from Bombay, India, on a six months' vacation. Howard has been at Bombay the past three years as Operating Engineer of the Automatic telephone system there. He will remain in the states until next January, when he expects to return to India to resume his duties.

PARENT-TEACHERS MEETING

The Parent-Teacher Association at its annual meeting, reelected Mrs. H. F. Luick, President, Mrs. L. R. Parsons, Secretary, and elected Miss Hazel Thomas vice president. The various committees have been appointed by the executive committee and are planning a program of interest and profit to parent and teacher alike.

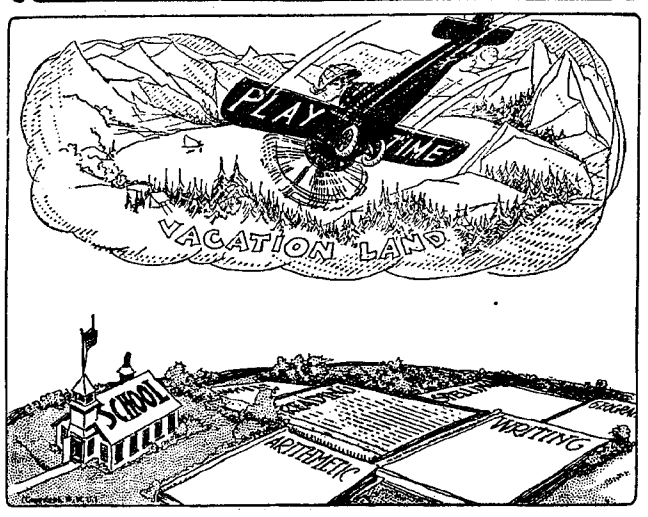
A reception for the teachers will be held at the school building on Friday, September 16, at 7:30, to which the patrons and friends of the school are invited.

BELMOND MARKETS
(Subject to change.)

Hens	17c
Springs	17c
Roosters	07c
Ducks	12c
Geese	08c
Eggs	26c
Butterfat	39c
Creamery Butter	45c
Oats	36c
Corn No. 3 yellow	85c
Barley	63c

Harry Heuerman and two boys from Faribault, Minn., were visiting last week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Heuerman.

Getting Back to Earth



Three Are Hurt In Auto Wreck

T. A. Davenport, Wife And Grand Daughter Hurt

T. A. Davenport received some broken ribs and several bad cuts and bruises, Mrs. Davenport severe bruises, and their grand daughter, Ruth Mack, a slight concussion of the brain when the Davenport automobile, a Ford touring, met in a head-on collision with a Chevrolet driven by a Mr. Beckett, of Lakota, early Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Davenport and grand daughter were returning from Mason City, on Primary 15, and had stopped at Garner. They were about two miles north of Goodell about one o'clock, coming south, when they met the Beckett car going north. Evidently Beckett did not see where he was going, and Davenport was over to the right side of the highway watching the edge of the road, and supposed the other car would go back. The two cars met head-on.

Davenport's car was turned over, little Ruth Mack being pinned underneath. The Beckett car also turned over, but neither Mr. Beckett nor his wife were seriously injured. The girl was unconscious for several hours, but is reported doing nicely and is expected to recover in a short time. Mr. Davenport has been laid up since the accident with two broken ribs and numerous severe cuts and bruises, and Mrs. Davenport with some bad bruises. Mrs. Beckett was thrown through the windshield of their car, suffering several cuts. Beckett escaped with minor injuries. First Aid was given the injured by Dr. Snearly, of Goodell.

The Beckett car was not much damaged, but Davenport's was more or less of a complete wreck.

Poisoned From Dyed Shoes

Monitor: Saturday evening at supper time Marvin Hull, delivery boy at the Wilson grocery, complained of a severe headache and nausea, but thought he could finish out the day's work so returned to his duties. A few hours later he was assited to his home, his skin turned almost a purple from the effects of poisoning. During the day he had been wearing a pair of shoes that had been dyed recently and his condition was at once traced to them as the source of the poison. Marvin is recovering nicely, but it is an experience that he does not care to repeat.

Soldiers Expected Sunday

Troop F, 14th U. S. Cavalry, are expected to camp in Belmond, Saturday and Sunday, enroute from Ft. Snelling to Ft. Des Moines. This is the same outfit which camped here a couple of months ago. Should the troops arrive per schedule and camp here Sunday, an effort will be made to secure a mounted military drill and ball game Sunday afternoon to entertain the men.

William, the eldest son of Wm. Sherriff, was operated on Monday for rupture, at the local hospital. He is recovering nicely.

Gus Johnson Hurt In Fall, Tuesday

Steps Off Scaffolding And Receives Broken Ribs

Gus Johnson received several broken and fractured ribs and an injured lung, Tuesday morning, when he fell 12 feet from a scaffolding on a new barn being built at the D. D. Pals farm, in Pleasant township. Johnson had just climbed up to the scaffolding, when in some manner he stepped off. He struck a ladder, leaning against the building, part way down, breaking the fall to some extent.

He was given immediate aid, and examination disclosed the broken ribs, one of which had punctured a lung. Johnson has been in considerable pain, but is reported making grogress toward recovery.

LUICK PICNIC SUNDAY

The 74th anniversary of the Luicks' coming to Belmond was celebrated in Franklin Grove, Sunday, Sept. 4, with the annual Luick picnic. A very fine time was enjoyed, a large number being present. Out of town relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brooks and son, J. E., of Shell Rock; Mrs. Cora Evans and Mary Jo of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Spooner of Storm Lake; Mrs. Maude Patterson, San Marcus, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Morse, Blue Earth, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Johnson and two sons. A picnic dinner was one of the features of the event.

Wins Prizes At State Fair

Mrs. J. M. Sampson had a number of her White Rock chickens entered at the Iowa State Fair, receiving six prizes. First, second and third was received on Record of Production in White Rocks, and third, fourth and fifth on Pullets. Some of the birds she had planned to exhibit were stolen a short time ago.

DAIRY TOUR PLANS INCLUDE FULL DAY

From ten o'clock, the time the dairy tour starts at the W. C. Donelson farm east of Goldfield on No. 10, until the last stop has been made in the afternoon, there will be something of interest and value for all who are interested in stock and crop production.

Each place visited will have some special lesson for the visitors. At Donelsons it's soy bean, at Poundtones, bull pen construction, other places will bring out the value of feeding and breeding.

All who are interested in dairying, are invited to join in on the tour.

Cemetery Aid To Meet

The Cemetery Aid will meet Friday afternoon, Sept. 9, at the home of Mrs. Val Griesy. Hostesses will be Mrs. Griesy, Mrs. S. U. Leinbach, Mrs. C. P. Luick, Mrs. Geo. Goelz, and Mrs. Chas. Gealow.

Miss Bernetas Wolle has been ill at her home here the past few days with malaria fever. Upon her recovery she will assume her duties as teacher in the Corwith schools.

BUY LAND

Eugene Meyer, Jr., chairman of the Federal Farm Loan Board, believes that this is the time to buy good farm lands anywhere throughout the northwest.

He believes that the bottom has been reached, and that the prices will never be lower than they are now.

"I am not advising speculative buying," said Mr. Meyer, "but bankers and business men can encourage purchasers for solid operation of farms.

"Land products are on a fairer price basis again, but land as yet is not. Today land is for sale at the lowest price in a generation, and still the buyers are not ready to take it. Low-priced land will not remain stagnant much longer. With confidence restored, prosperity will return full sway."

The president of a large bank told us recently of one of his farmer customers who had $100,000 in liberty bonds which he intended to use for the purchase of farm lands as soon as the price had reached bottom. Mr. Meyer believes, as do many other students of agricultural conditions, that the bottom has already been reached.

No one ever knows when the bottom is reached in any period of decline, whether it is on the stock market or in the price of land, until there has been a definite trend upward for some time. But during the last five years the causes which have resulted in the deflation of the price of land have run their course, and everywhere there are signs of a definite turn for the better.

Let us not lose faith or confidence in our greatest asset—land.—N. W. Banker.

SAM COVINGTON MARRIED

The following item from the Dows Advocate of last week will interest many Belmond people:

The wedding of Miss Lucile Jacobson and Mr. S. P. Covington was announced this week. This wedding which has been kept secret, occurred at the Methodist parsonage in Albert Lea, Minnesota, on the afternoon of Friday, July 29, at three o'clock. The Reverend Horn of that city performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Covington is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jacobson, and is one of Dows' most popular young ladies. After graduating from the local high school with the class of 1924, she attended Coe college where she was a member of the Alpha Theta Sorority. For the past eighteen months she has been employed as bookkeeper in the Cornell Motor Company garage in this city.

Mr. Covington is a son of Mrs. E. Covington of Glendale, California and is a graduate of the schools at Santa Anna, California. After completing his school work he became interested in the manufacture of beet sugar and for four years was connected with the sugar plant at Belmond. He recently accepted the position as foreman in a sugar factory at Bardney, Lincolnshire, England and departed August 6th to assume his new duties there. He expects to be gone a year. In the meantime Mrs. Covington will remain here and continue with the Cornell Motor Company.

TO OPEN ROWAN THEATRE

The firm of Coburn & Ziska, consisting of Geo. Coburn of Lake Cornelia and Richard Ziska of Belmond, will open the Rowan Opera House, September 14 with moving pictures. It is their plan to show two or three nights a week, and they have secured the building known as the Brooks Hall for that purpose. Mr. Ziska will have charge of the work. The equipment being used at Cornelia will be used at Rowan, the Cornelia shows however being continued until the close of the season there.

Coulter Holds Tournament

Coulter fans held a successful baseball tournament last week, the attendance being good. One hundred and five dollars was put up in purses, Klemme winning the tournament. B. L. Finn, of Belmond was umpire of the games.

Wm. Peddle, Rowan, Seriously Injured

Caught In Tractor Plow As Machine Starts And Is Dragged 60 Rods

PLOW ENTERS HIS BODY

William Peddle, a young farmer near Rowan, was very seriously injured, Friday morning, when he was caught in a tractor plow and dragged some 60 rods. Peddle was seated over to adjust the plow his foot on the tractor and as he leaned slipped off the clutch of the tractor and the machine started. Peddle was thrown in front of the plow. The point of the plow ran through his side into the body, and he was dragged by actual measurement, 60 rods before the tractor stalled.

His small daughter saw the machine start, and called her mother. Peddle was conscious when his family arrived, and told them which wrenches to use in loosening the share so that it could be pulled from his body to release him. He was able to walk to the car, and from the car to the home. Since then he has been in a very precarious condition, with the ultimate result in doubt. Owing to so much dirt having been dragged into the body with the plow point, it was practically impossible to remove or wash it all out, and at last reports a trace of infection had developed. Peddle is reported holding his own, however, and has a chance for recovery.

DR. BONNSTETTER SELLS

Dr. Frank Bonnstetter, Veterinarian has disposed of his practice in Belmond to Dr. R. T. Coe, of Ames, and expects to attend Iowa State College again, taking an advanced Veterinary work to specialize. Dr. Coe assumed the practice September 1. Bonnstetter came to Belmond July 1, 1924, and during his stay here has built up a fine business and made many friends. Dr. Coe recently graduated from Iowa State College, Veterinary course. He has been practicing in the northern part of the state for the past several months. Dr. Coe's name is familiar to football fans all over Iowa, as he was the star end and captain of the Varsity team at Ames last season. He will maintain the same office used by Dr. Bonnstetter.

ENTERS PENNSYLVANIA UNIVERSITY

David C. Tyrrell, of Belmond, mond, Iowa, will be among the students who will register in the freshman class of the University of Pennsylvania when it opens for the 1927-1928 term on September 27, it was announced by the Office of Admissions of the University.

Tyrrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Tyrrell of Belmond. He prepared for the University in the Belmond High School and at the Northwestern Military and Naval Academy, Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, taking an active part in the student life of both institutions. Tyrrell played end on the Belmond High School football team and guard on the Academy eleven. He was also a member of the Academy track squad and 'varsity debate team. Tyrrell will enter the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Cooperative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of August 26 to September 3.

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
28	79	62	—	Pt. cloudy
29	88	55	—	Clear
30	84	54	—	Clear
31	88	54	—	Cloudy
1	89	62	—	Clear
2	92	64	—	Pt. cloudy
3	84	52	—	Pt. cloudy

E. E. SULLIVAN TRANSFERRED

E. E. Sullivan has been transferred to the post office in Los Angeles, California, and will move his family to that place this month. Gene assumes his new duties Oct. 1. His successor in the local office has not been appointed by Postmaster Ramsay as yet.

Belmond Independent

AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES

Display, per column inch -------25c
Locals, per line ----------10c
Classified, per word ----------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Editorials

While the stimulation of interest in aviation incident to the flights of Colonel Lindbergh, Chamberlin, and others is a good thing for the industry and the science of flying, yet the disaster attending some of the flights, and the accidents occuring from amateur and unskilled piloting is lamentable. It is a question whether aviation is not advancing too rapidly, whether the increasing accidents and disasters will not have a depressing and deterent effect which will result in flying becoming a thing of fear in the public mind. Aviation today, with skilled pilots and straight flying, is as safe as riding on the public highway in an automobile, yet you cannot convince the average man of the fact. A few venturesome individuals will "go up" for a ride, and upon their return to earth are looked upon by many of their fellows as daredevils, foolhardy and reckless. Flying with the pilot who isn't experienced and reliable, in a plane of doubtful stabilty and strength, is reckless And there are too many such amateur aviators over the country taking up passengers. But with a pilot of known abiltiy and a good ship, straight flying is comparatively safe. The accidents you read about come from unskilled pilots, shaky machines, and stunt flying. Aviation is making tremendous strides. It is a brave prophet who will forecast what flying will be five or ten years hence. In this day and age it does not pay to say a thing can't be done: too many of them are being done. The time will come, how long before no one can say, when ships of the air will be as common as automobiles today. Planes will be built as near foolproof as it is possible to make a machine, and as easy to drive as the modern car. Every town of any consequence will have its landing field for freight and passenger liners of the air, while privately owned planes will be housed in their owner's back yard just as he has a garage for his car. In time, planes will not have to run along the ground to gain headway for rising: they will take off from a standing position. No ship will carry fuel; power will be obtained by wireless from central stations, or from a concentrated product carried in small containers. Definite air lanes will be established for traffic, and the air will be regulated by laws, a need which we are already beginning to realize. Foolish? Far-fetched? Perhaps; so was the Wright Brothers' first plane. What would you have said 25 years ago if someone had told you that in 1927 a youth would fly alone across 3600 miles of foreign territory and seas to another country?

ADMINISTRATOR'S OR EXECUTOR'S NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the undersigned has this day been appointed and commissioned, by the District Court of Wright County, in the State of Iowa, Administratrix of the estate of James S. Blair, deceased; and all persons having claims against said estate, are hereby notified to file them, with the Clerk of said Court, clearly stated and duly sworn to, and within legal time, preparatory to their being allowed or proved; and persons owing said estate are requested to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and avoid costs.

Dated at Belmond, Iowa, this 22nd day of August, A. D. 1927.

Lizzie S. Blair,
Administratrix.

W. E. Bullard,
Attorney. 418

FREE AIR!

Fred Shipley got back from Minnesota a couple of days ago, bringing a lot of fish tails with him. That's right—fish tails—with the fish fastened to the tails. Of course Fred brought as many fish tales as he did tails—but the idea is he brought the tails to prove the tales.

We acknowledge a nice fat fish, evidence proving the tales. Folks who come back bringing just tales must expect some questions as to the veracity of their stories. If they bring tails with the tales, that's different.

* * * *

Have you seen that new car Charlie Williams is driving around? Charlie brought it down to show us, and we've been trying to figure ever since whether there was anything significant about that visit.

Take a good look at it now; you won't see it when you ride in it.

Personally, we never did care for that style of car.

Wait 'till the new Ford comes out before you invest in Charlie's make of automobile.

* * * *

Perhaps you have noticed the past two weeks that we've had the same weather. Hasn't been any change. In fact, two weeks ago the weather remained the same, and last week we didn't have any weather at all. You can blame it on Hal Luick; he runs the weather around here, and he didn't send us any weather last week or the week before.

Maybe Hal thought the weather was good enough as it was, and didn't need changing. So far as that goes, this weather has been just about perfect, and what we needed for the corn. Hal, however, has promised us a change in the weather so maybe if you look around in the paper this week you'll find some.

* * * *

Have you met any two fellows who held ths same opinion and told the same story about the corn crop? We haven't. Every guy we talk to has a different tale to tell about the crop we're going to have. One fellow we believe hit it pretty straight: He said he thought it would make about as many gallons per acre as usual.

* * * *

Our friends, the Belmond Bakers, report an increasing business. Evidently more and more Belmond folks are asking for, insisting on, getting, eating, and liking Belmond Bread. It's a mighty good habit!

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Belmond, Iowa, Sept. 5, 1927

Regular meeting of town council held in town hall, Mayor Russell presiding, and the following members present: Mortimer, McNulty, Barry, Boughton. Absent: Moe.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

Clerk's monthly financial statement received and read.

Messrs. Oscar Jenison and Arthur Hinman appeared regarding traffic signs on road No. 15.

Moved and carried council order twelve crossing grates.

RESOLUTION

Be it hereby resolved by the town council of Belmond, Iowa, that the cigarette bond of George A. Stanzel be hereby approved.

Be it further resolved that the town clerk be hereby directed to issue a license to the above named party.

On passage of the foregoing resolution the roll call resulted as follows: Ayes: Mortimer, McNulty, Barry, Boughton. Nays: None. Absent: Moe. Mayor Russell declared the resolution duly passed.

Guy Byers, Clerk

Petition of Wm. Voiles et al. asking for the establishment of a road from the west end of fifth street N. E. west, to connect with Primary 15, was received and tabled for further investigation.

The following bills were audited and allowed:

Crane Co., drinking fountain	$ 18.00
Belmond Band, band -------	587.40
Adelbert Anger, labor digging ----------	47.75
A. R. Dorr, labor on crossings and approaches ---------	271.38
Birdsall, McGrath & Archerd, attorney fees ----------	5.00
Central States Electric Co., August light and power --	222.13
Grace Boughton, attending Rest room ----------	5.00
R. J. Parker, painting fountain ----------	9.00
State Bank Ins. Agency, clerk's bond ----------	5.00
F. P. Dibble, draying -------	15.48
F. Stary & Sons, one curb inlet ----------	8.50
W. A. Bullis, building man holes ----------	50.00
H. H. Rierson, labor digging	97.60
M. A. Holtzbauer, mdse. and labor ----------	317.98
Belmond Auto Co., mdse. and labor ----------	2.90
Belmond Telephone Co. telephone and tolls ----------	7.15

On motion and second council adjourned.

Guy Byers, Clerk.

CHURCHES

METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. J. F. Snyder, Pastor

Services as follows for the Lord's Day, September 11—

Sunday School at 10 a. m. The vacation season is over, school year has begun. With the opening of the new school year comes a new impetus along all lines. No less is this true in our church activities! May we all be in our places at 10 o'clock, Sunday morning, ready to take up our happy task with a willing heart and mind. If there are new folks in our community who have not as yet selected their Sunday School and church home, we heartily invite you to come and worship with us.

Divine worship and sermon at 11 a. m. Subject of sermon, "The Personal Assurance of the Presence of God." I Samuel, 7:12.

Epworth League at 7:15. A splendid showing was made last Sunday evening in our first meeting for the New Year. We can do even better this Sunday night if we all try. I know you will, let's see how many can be present, and on time.

Evening worship at 8 o'clock. In the evening hour of worship I shall give a synopsis of our trip east, entitled, What I Saw, and How I Saw it.

Everybody is most cordially invited to all of our services.

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor
Telephone Call, 150

The Luther League of the Eagle Grove Circuit will hold its annual convention at Bode, Rev. E. C. Haanik's charge, beginning Friday evening, Sept. 9th and continuing throughout Saturday and Sunday. The theme for discussion will be "The Life That Wins," John 1,7. On Sunday afternoon the Choral Union, directed by Mr. O. L. Varland, will give their concert. We plead with our young people; attend as many sessions of this convention as you possibly can.

There will be no Sunday School next Sunday.

Tuesday, September 13, the Dorcas Society will meet in the church parlors at 8 p. m. Now that vacation is past and our young women are settled in their school and other work for the season, we hope to have a better and more regular attendance at our Dorcas Society. We invite our friends to be with us.

The catechetical class will meet Tuesday immediately after school.

Thursday, September 15. Midweek prayer meeting will be held at 8 p. m.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Sunday, September 11, Norwegian services will be conducted in the forenoon at 11 o'clock and in the afternoon at 2:30 'clock by members of the Eagle Grove Inner Mission Society.

Wednesday, September 14. The catechetical class will meet at 4 p. m.

Prayer meeting, Wednesday, at 8 p. m.

Read announcement of Luther League Convention given for Trinity congregation.

A Lutheran Parent-Teachers Institute will be held at Belmond, September 24 and 25. Program will be given later.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

There really is no substitute for the church in today's civilization. Our morning worship and Sunday School at the usual hours this coming Sunday. The Sunday School is improving, and you will care to have part in it.

Remember that today,, Thursday the Ladies Aid Society has its regular meeting in the church parlors. It will be generally helpful for you to come.

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

A baby girl was born last week to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harberts. This is their second child, the first being a boy.

Mrs. C. E. Sheffield plans on spending the winter in California.

Kenneth Ballou, the fifteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Ballou, left home recently. It is surmised that he left home to join the army or navy as he was very anxious to enter the service of his country, but his parents objected because of his immature years.

M. C. Barry drove to Forest City last Friday to attend a meeting of the directors of the "Wilson Highway", the proposed new auto route from Des Moines to the Twin Cities and which traverses Belmond.

Grandpa and Grandma Bullard received word last week of the birth of a baby girl to Mr. and Mrs. Brown Bullard of Mason City.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

An ordinance has been passed by the city council granting E. M. Sheffield the right to erect and maintain telephones poles and wires upon the streets and alleys of Belmond.

Anita Cram went to Garner Monday where she will work in the telephone office.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Finch went to Garner Tuesday.

A. J. Paige took in the Illinois Day celebration at Garner yesterday.

Miss Lydia Whited leaves today for Beaumont, where she will teach.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Jenison are rejoicing over the birth of their first child, a bright baby girl.

The following left on the special car for Minnesota State Fair and Dakota Tues.: J. C. Butterfield and wife, C. N. Reese, W. A. Bartholomew, C. E. Shaver, C. B. Johnson, C. C. McGuire, Perry Loomis, E. H. Ripley, Aug. Steffen, Will Morse, D. D. Harr, Pink Trees, Mrs. H. C. Thompson, Mrs. John Lieuwen, Mrs. Jos. Bohning, Miss Berg, Mrs. C. N. Reese.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

Hank Donaldson sports a $300 horse and buggy.

A drove of 203 cattle went west through town last week.

Geo. Crist from Lawn Ridge, Ill. was here last week looking over some land he owns near Belmond. The lay and quality of his land he was well pleased with and he went away with thoughts of returning permanently in the spring.

From Hank Donaldson, E. A. Howland has bought a half interest in the Iowa river stage line. Mr. Loomis still retains his share, and it is now Loomis and Howland who control the line. $509 was the consideration we believe.

Through a letter from Kirk Whited to his mother, Mrs. Peck, we learn that the hoppers have been very disastrous to corn and vegetables in Nebraska.

That additional 16 feet to the Belmond bridge was finished Saturday.

J. B. Kern returned from Chicago Saturday. Look out for a big stock of goods next week.

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. John Isbrand of Titonka were visitors a couple days last week at the home of Mrs. Ben Stadtlander. Wednesday, they, together with Mrs. Stadtlander, and Mrs. Weide and son, visited at Iowa Falls.

The Wright County Furniture Co. recently purchased a new motor hearse, one of the finest of its kind in this part of the state. It is a Henney built hearse, made in Freeport, Illinois, and is powered with a Red Seal Straight Eight Continental motor. The interior can be used as an ambulance if needed.

Miss Chloe Jenison left last week for Anthon, Iowa, where she will teach Home Economics this year in the Anthon schools.

Mrs. Fred Aldrich is at Mason City, caring for her mother who recently suffered a stroke of paralysis.

Miss Bertha Thormann wishes to announce her Piano Classes, beginning Sept. 9. Phone No. 376. 1*

F. M. ("Shan") Packard, of Davenport, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Packard of Belmond, won the state championship at Des Moines, recently, in wet fly casting at the state tournament.

Miss Marvyl Lathrop was visiting friends at Hampton from Friday until Sunday.

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

Hancock County Fair
BRITT IOWA
SEPT. 13 - 14 15-16

SEPT. 13, ENTRY DAY

Big Live Stock and Agricultural Show

Plenty of Entertainment

Fast Harness Races Ball Games
Free Attractions
Airplane Stunts - Parachute Drops
Big Night Show
Program by the Four Horsemen, popular Radio quartet
Free Acts
Grand Display of Fireworks
Old Time Fiddlers Contest
Big Bowery Dance

THE new Ford will soon be here. New, low, trim body lines. Beautiful color combinations. Comfort and unusual speed. Quick getaway. Typical Ford durability and low up-keep.

Wait for the NEW FORD

Belmond Auto Co.

Lincoln Ford Fordson
THE UNIVERSAL CAR
THE PLACE OF SERVICE
LOUIS TOKMAN GEO. F. HEGINGER
Telephones 108 - 258

ORIGINAL NOTICE

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF IOWA, IN AND FOR WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA.

Catharine Schmelz,
Plaintiff,
vs
The Unknown Claimants of Lots Nos. Five (5), Six (6), Seven (7), and the South Twenty-two 22) feet of the North Sixty-six (66) feet of Lot No. Eight (8), all in Block No. Twenty-four (24), in the Original Town of Belmond, Iowa; Rockford Manufacturing Company; Rose Coulter; Rose Ralston and Edward Ralston, her husband; Mrs. William Rowen; Mary C. L. Potter; Mary C. Packard Potter; Butterfield & Reese; Home Savings and Trust Company; and William P. Hiserodt, Defendants.

TO EACH AND ALL OF SAID DEFENDANTS:

You are hereby notified that there is now filed in the office of the Clerk of the District Court of Wright County, Iowa, a petition of the above named plaintiff, claiming of you that she is the absolute owner in fee simple of the following described real estate, to-wit:—

Lots Nos. Five (5), Six (6), Seven (7), and the South Twenty-two feet of the North Sixty-six feet of Lot No. Eight (8), all in Block No. Twenty-four (24), in the Original Town of Belmond, Iowa, and praying that her title thereto be quieted and confirmed, and that you be forever barred and estopped from making any claim thereto and for general equitable relief.

(For full particulars you are referred to the petition now on file.)

You are further notified that unless you appear thereto and defend on or before noon of the second day of the next term, being the September 1927 Term of said Court, which will commence at the Court House in Clarion, Iowa, on the 26th day of September. A. D. 1927, default will be entered against you and judgment and decree rendered as prayed.

Roy A. Henderson
414 Attorney for Plaintiff

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received at the office of the county auditor of Wright County, Iowa, at Clarion, Iowa, until 2:00 o'clock p. m., September 9, 1927, for cleaning out the open ditch in Drainage District No. 90 as follows:

Cleaning out the open ditch from station 0 to 43 plus 40 a distance of about 4340 feet, with a 4 foot bottom and 2 to 1 slope, consisting of about 3700 cu. yds.

All trees on the spoil bank and in the open ditch to be destroyed.

Repair tile portion from station 43 plus 40 to about station 55.

Bulkhead about 7.5 cu. yd.

Furnish and install 36 ft. 24" steel pipe.

Furnish and install 24 ft. 12" steel pipe.

Furnish and install 40 ft. 10" steel pipe.

All work to be done in accordance with the specifications.

The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Cash or certified check for ten (10) percent of the bid must accompany said bid.

Time for commencement, September 25, 1927. Time for completion, November 1, 1927.

For further information write to F. W. Walker, County Auditor, or Charles Gross, Engineer, Clarion, Iowa.

Dated at Clarion, Iowa, August 8, 1927.

F. W. WALKER,
422 County Auditor

NOTICE OF PROOF OF WILL

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

In the Estate of J. T. Tyrrell Deceased:

You are hereby notified that on the 26th day of August 1927. there was filed with and opened by the undersigned Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, in and for Wright county, a Written instrument purporting to be the LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT of J. T. Tyrrell, late of said County, deceased.

And you are further notified that by Court Order the 12th day of September 1927, has been set as the day for the final hearing and proof of said Will, at the Clerk's office in the Court House at Clarion, Iowa, at which time any person interested can appear and show cause why the same should not be admitted to probate.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court at my office in Clarion in said County, this 1st day of September A. D., 1927.

R. V. GOSLIN,
Clerk District Court

W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

CULLING!

This is the time of year to cull your flocks. Weed out the boarders! I am qualified to do Culling at two cents per bird. Phone 27.—G. T. Anderson, Anderson Hatchery. 432c

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Bldg
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

FRIEND C. BRAS
Tests Eyes Fits Glasses
Service Guaranteed
SOUTH OF COURT HOUSE
CLARION, - IOWA
1-128

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29

A MAN

is wanted for an unusual position with the Central West Public Service Company

He may be a farmer . . . a merchant or a professional man

His chief qualifications will be honesty, the respect of his fellow citizens and a wide acquaintance. The position will not require full time and it will pay well.

PROBABLY this man will know something about money. Probably he has made a few investments for himself and by the success or failure of those investments has learned something about the soundness of different kinds of securities. He knows why sound investors preach the gospel which forbids putting all eggs in one basket.

If he doesn't have these qualifications he must at least be interested in them. And he will be glad to take advantage of this opportunity to learn.

This man will be a special local representative of the Central West Public Service Company, which will conduct a local campaign to build the good-will of its customers and offer them an opportunity heretofore available only in large cities. It will be an educational campaign to broadcast the utility story, to explain the reasons for its rapid growth, to show the necessity of its service and to increase the public's understanding of its worth in the happiness of everyday affairs—today and tomorrow.

Naturally the man selected will receive considerable intensive training and naturally he must possess intelligence and character.

Only written applications will be considered. You can address us at our Iowa headquarters in Sioux City with assurance that your reply will be held in absolute confidence.

Central West Public Service Company

A subsidiary of the McGraw Electric Company

SIOUX CITY, IOWA

MESERVEY SECTION

REFORMED CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:30.
Morning worship at 10:30 (German).
Young People's meeting at 7:30.
Evening services at 8:00.
Choir practice Tuesday evening at 8:00.
Our annual mission festival will be celebrated September 15.
The Dorcas Society met last Wednesday night at the parsonage. Miss Nettie Dorenkamp served refreshments. The society had the pleasure of receiving a new member. May others follow.
Welcome to all.
H. Pannkuk, Pastor

EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:30 a. m. G. Raecker, Supt.
Morning worship at 11:30 a. m.
E. L. C. E. at 7:30 p. m.
Evening worship at 8:00 p. m.
Senior choir practice Sunday evening.
Junior choir practice at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening.
German prayer meeting Thursday evening.
The next quarterly conference will be over September 18.
A. K. Henning, Pastor

S. P. Fischer and H. F. Reif were in Mason City Thursday calling on C. J. Janssen.

Frank Nissen and family motored to Ames Friday afternoon to visit over the week end at the Thos. Glass home.

Donald and Norman Muller went to Des Moines Thursday to accompany Neva Muller and Harriet Sprau home from their week's stay at the fair.

A. J. Nissen and family accompanied Miss Sylvia Bloom to Clear Lake, Wednesday, at which place she was met by the Rev. Schlesselman family, from there leaving for their home at Cresco, where Miss Bloom will teach school again this year.

Mesdames Fred Rodemeyer and Farhman of Latimer visited at the Paul Hopey home last Friday.

Miss LaVonne Butz left Sunday, for her home at Clear Lake, after a weke's visit at the home of her grandmother Butz.

Miss Mildred Koebler left for Cedar Falls Sunday, where she entered I. S. T. C. to resume her studies.

Merle Avery and son Harland returned home from Iowa City Sunday, where the latter had his tonsils and adenoids removed at the State Hospital. He is getting along nicely.

Mr. A. Achtermann of Ackley, was a caller at the Rev. Pannkuk home, last Friday.

Post Master Smith left last Friday for Chicago to spend a few days visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harry Woight and husband.

The Cemetery Association will hold their September meeting at the home of Mrs. C. F. W. Paul, on Tuesday. A good attendance is desired.

C. J. Janssen returned home from the hospital Sunday, and is getting along nicely from the effects of his recent accident.

Miss Fredonna Lemke is recovering nicely at the Hampton Hospital, following an operation which was performed on her, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Sprau took their daughter, Miss Eva, to her school east of Mason City, last Sunday.

Miss Irene Guth began her Fall term north and east of Thornton, last Monday.

A. Sanders and Herman Heern of Kamrar were Sunday visitors at the S. Hulsebus home.

Frank Ostendorf and H. Ostendorf and their wives motored to Hollandale, Minn., Thursday, to spend the day.

B. Gruis and wife left Monday for a week's visit with relatives at Stout and vicinity.

Miss Agnes Fischer and friend, Miss Jamin of Waterloo visited from Sunday until Monday noon at the H. Fischer home. Herman Jr. took them back to their work.

Mesdames H. Wilkins and Anna Bonte went to St. Paul Saturday for a few days stay at the State fair.

Miss Regina Busse returned with Bruno Bruns from her home in Raymond, Minn. the latter part of last week for a week's visit at the Bruns home.

Titus Frohling and family of Ackley spent Sunday at the parental Fred Frohling home.

H Fischer and Mr and Mrs. H. Raecker went to Logan Monday, for a weeks' stay attending to farm affairs, and visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schluter left Monday by auto for Royalton, Minn. to spend the week at the Fred Letzring home.

Rev. and Mrs. H. Raecker were in Dumont Sunday where the former occupied the pulpit in the Reformed Church. Dick Dierks accompanied them there.

Ed Rike and family and Mr. C. Brandt and family of Titonka were Sunday visitors at the Rev. Pannkuk home.

Miss Alma Ralston returned to her school work at Wellsburg last week. She holds the principalship in the Wellsburgs schools this year.

Miss Eva Schluter began her work in the Goodell schools last Monday. She will teach the 7th and 8th grades.

Rev. J. Frerick and family of Alexander spent an evening last week at the Rev. Pannkuk home.

W. F. Butz and wife and their son Donald left Tuesday for a few days visit at the Minnesota State fair.

Fred Quandt and family accompanied their niece, LaVonne Butz, to her home in Clear Lake, Sunday.

H. Proost and family were visitors at Webster City Sunday.

Albert Wendel and wife and the latter's sister, Mrs. Pequet and husband motored to Fort Dodge Sunday to visit relatives.

Gilbert Brooks returned to his home in Waterloo, Sunday, after a month's stay at the Leland Jacobson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mattern and two children of Des Moines visited at the Carl Hopkey home over last week end.

John Kolb and family of Latimer were visiting at the Adam Kolb home Monday.

Mrs. Jacobson of Thornton and her brothers, C. G. Brooks and S. R. Brooks of Waterloo, visited at the Leland Jacobson home Sunday and Monday.

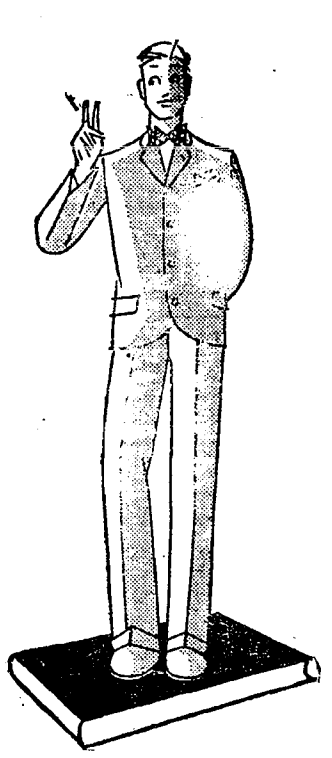
The dedication of the remodeled M. E. church at Thornton will take place next Sunday. The program may be seen in various places and all are given a hearty invitation to attend the services.

John Koenen and family motored to Hollandale last week on Tuesday to spend the day with relatives.

Miss Anna Pals left last Friday, for Washington, where she has a position in the Junior High School as teacher of English.

CROSLEY
RADIO
Fresh "B" Batteries always on hand.
H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

HIGH QUALITY
BUILDING MATERIAL
Screen Doors and Window Screens—Mill Work—Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts nnd Poles
Cement — Lime
INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT
Wheat Bran – Oil Meal – Cotton Seed Meal, – Tankage – Salt
Highest Price Paid for Grain
Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa



Even Our Oxfords Are Different
Braeburn Royal Oxfords
are of a fine worsted cheviot, skillfully woven into designs that are unlike any you will see elsewhere. They will wear well, make a splendid appearance. We have them in plain and decorated—at forty dollars.
Oxfords sound the new note in color for Fall.
BraeBurn
Smart Styled Clothes For University Men
Tailored At Rochester
$37.50 $42.50
PATTON BROTHERS CO
Donald South Federal Ave.
MASON CITY, IOWA

This coupon and 25c entitle the undersigned to one 35c can of Acme Quality Enamel-Kote, any color, and a special 20c Paint Brush.
Name_____
Address_____
To acquaint you with Acme Quality, we are making a special offer for a short time only.
SPECIAL OFFER
55c Value for 25c
Increase your property value with varnish
A shining coat of Acme Quality Varnish will give lasting beauty and protection to your doors, floors and furniture. Brighten up those dingy window sills, that dull, worn woodwork. It will pay you well from an investment standpoint.
ACME QUALITY Paint and Varnish
You will find Great Lakes Spar Varnish perfect for general purposes—
While Acme Quality Floor Roc is the ideal, enduring floor finish.
Come in and talk paint with us—we will gladly answer all questions.
C. J. WENDEL
MESERVEY, IOWA

Young People's Meeting

Delegations from the following places attended the annual Young People's Union Meeting at Chapin, last week Tuesday, during afternoon and evening: Titonka, Buffalo Center, Belmond, Alexander, Meservey and Chapin. The principal speaker was Dr. Wesenlink, Pres. of Central College. The Rev. Paul Achtermann, pastor at Chapin, also gave an address. Meservey was well represented, thirty six young people attending, and they report a very interesting meeting. Supper was served on the church lawn by the Chapin congregation.

Undertaking & Funeral Director
F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone--Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

Tony Boelman and sons accompanied the former's father to Aplington last Tuesday, where he will stay with another son for an indefinite time.

Fred Quandt and family entertained friends from Wisconsin several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rooks spent a few days at the Minnesota State Fair, leaving Tuesday

(Continued on page five.)

Harry T. Smith
General Blacksmithing
Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding
Meservey, - Iowa

HARVEST TIME
Harvest is the time the farmer stores his grain in the store house for future use.
The bees and squirrels also make use of their store house during time of plenty.
We all should know more than the bees or squirrels — let this bank be your financial store house.
Resources over $400,000.00
"Safety and Service"
Farmers Savings Bank
Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

CHEVROLET
for Economical Transportation
Only Chevrolet offers Bodies by Fisher at such low prices

The COACH $595
The Touring or Roadster $525
The Coupe $625
The 4-Door Sedan $695
The Sport Cabriolet $715
The Imperial Landau $745
½-Ton Truck (Chassis only) $395
1-Ton Truck (Chassis only) $495
All prices f. o. b. Flint, Michigan
Check Chevrolet Delivered Prices
They include the lowest handling and financing charges available
No other car in the low price field offers bodies by Fisher, with all the comfort, charm and elegance that the Fisher name assures.
Come in—and make your own inspection of Chevrolet coachwork. Note the smartness of its Duco colors . . . the grace of its full-crown, one-piece fenders . . . deep, restful seats . . . the fashionable durable upholstery . . . the finely modeled Ternstedt hardware . . . the patented Fisher VV windshield . . . and the complete modern appointments. Go for a drive —and you will learn that Chevrolet's performance is, in every way, as amazing as its outstanding beauty!
HUB MOTOR COMPANY
BELMOND, IOWA
RAECKER CHEVROLET SALES CO.
MESERVEY, IOWA
QUALITY AT LOW COST

NEWS ITEMS FROM GOODELL

Mrs. Gus Wenzel of Kanawha, and Mrs. Gerald Chase and baby of Rolfe, visited Wednesday at the Lew Avery home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewel of Crystal Lake are guests this week at the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Will Tanner.

The Butts' left Friday and autoed to Minneapolis, taking Miss Jessie Burress to her home. From there they will go to Rush City, Minn., where Miss Olive will remain, she having the position as principal in the school there. On the return trip Mrs. Butts and Bill will visit the former's sister, Mrs. Schultz who lives in Afton, Minn.

Mrs. Kinseth and Junior came up from Belmond Tuesday and spent a few days at her parental home.

Mrs. Hughes and Ethel accompanied by the former's nephew, Luther Demer of Freeport, Illinois, visited relatives and friends here Wednesday.

George Nelson of Hartland, Minn., called on friends here Thursday. He was enroute to Dedham, where he will teach in the school there. He was Goodell's principal for the past two years.

Kramme and Anderson returned Tuesday, from their South Dakota visit. The latter's wife accompanied them and visited here until Wednesday then returning to her home in Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Cashman who live in Chicago, are spending this week with Sylvester's home folks.

Mrs. Harve Christensen spent Wednesday at Thompson. The Nolte Bros. also went up to do some painting and papering at the Wigfield property.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carpenter in company with Mr. and Mrs. James Trees and Cleo of Belmond, left Thursday to enjoy an auto trip. They will visit relatives in Wisconsin and take a sight seeing trip through the "Dells." On returning they will spend a day at the Minnesota fair.

Twin Lake Farm Bureau met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Framer Cordes. They were making plans for their booth at the fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Eagmo of Story County have been visiting at the home of their son, Weir Eagmo.

Gerald Clark spent last week at Garner, visiting his aunt, Mrs. Clifford Brogan.

Mrs. A. Blickenderfer of Klemme visited Wednesday at the Charlie Peterson home.

Miss Mae Griggs left the latter part of the week for Gilmore City, where she teaches in the primary grades.

Mrs. Will Buchanan returned Wednesday to Belmond having spent a few days at the home of her son, Jay.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Chelsvig and Mrs. Nels Chelsvig returned Sunday from Des Moines where they had spent the week end visiting relatives and attending the fair.

Elroy LaRue has been under the the doctor's care the past week, suffering with blood poisoning in his hand, but at this writing is recovering nicely.

Miss Lillian Tinkle left Wednesday for Victor where she has a position in the school.

Miss Anna Finn of Chicago, and her little niece of Belmond, visited Wednesday and Thursday with her aunt, Miss Eliza Cashman.

Harvey Boller of Belmond came to Goodell, September 1, and is doing draying here.

Miss Agnes Fuller went to Miller Sunday. Agnes has a position as Grammar room teacher in the school there.

Frederick Schneider returned Monday from the state fair where he has spent the past 10 days exhibiting his thoroughbred calf. He brought the calf home and will exhibit it at the county fair, held at Britt next week.

The Dawson boys built a room on their truck Wednesday and on Friday letf for the Dakotas and Canada where they will follow the threshing.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesenberg and two daughters returned Thursday evening from Des Moines where they spent a week at the fair. Miss Naida represented Hancock county in the state spelling contest. Miss Grace Liitchwager of Alden, assistant principal here, enjoyed the fair with the Wesenbergs.

Mrs. White and Mayme, Mr. Grover and Marjorie of Leland, Ill., went to Williams Wednesday to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hughes.

Henry Weide of Belmond recently returned home from his Illinois visit and came Monday to work in the oil station for his brother-in-law, Ivan Baker.

Mrs. Glen Clark who is employed in Mason City is spending this week with her home folks, the F. W. McNutt family.

M. L. Grover and Marjorie returned the latter part of the week to their home at Leland, Illinois. They have enjoyed the past two weeks visiting at the White home.

Mrs. Ed Hemenway is suffering with a felon on her finger.

Mrs. Verdie Anderson received word Thursday, announcing the marriage of her sister, Julia, to Mr. Raymond Erhardt of Goldfield. The bride has a host of friends living here, who extend congratulations.

Mrs. Eyler who has been in poor health and cared for by her mother, Mrs. Longley, has gained very rapidly and was able to return Monday to her home at Clarion.

Mrs. Wilmer Burk went to Wisconsin Wednesday to visit her home people.

Mrs. Andrew Anderson of Garner is visiting relatives here this week. On Thursday she and Mrs. E. J. Schneider went to Belmond to visit at the Madsen home.

Dr. Snearly accompanied the Fred Lemke family of near Meservey to Hampton, Tuesday, where their daughter, Fredonna, underwent a successful operation for appendicitis.

Nellie Griggs had the misfortune to step on a needle Tuesday, breaking it off in her foot. She was taken to the doctor and the foot x-rayed, the picture showing a black thread also in the needle. She was given an anesthetic and the needle removed. Following the operation, she was given antitoxin to prevent further infection.

The Henry Christensen family have been enjoying a visit with relatives from Estherville.

A serious automobile accident happened Thursday night on the Wilson Highway about 2 miles north. Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Davenport and granddaughter Ruth, were enroute from Mason City to their home at Belmond. They collided with a Chevrlet car going north, driven by Mr. Becker and wife of Lakota. The occupants of both cars were hurt quite seriously.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gee are enjoying a visit with their son's wife and daughter, Eva, from Corwith.

Mrs. Ralph Stockesbery of Garner spent the past week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark. Mr. and Mrs. Stockesbery have rented the Clark farm and will move there March 1.

The Norwegian Aid Societies in the surrounding country held an all day affair on the grounds near the St. Olaf Church, Thursday. The society from here took their fancy work to the bazaar and it netted them a fine sum.

Mrs. George Gosnell, Mary Francis and Georgene of Fort Dodge, spent last week with her mother, Mrs. Lamer. Friday evening they were guests at the Reynold Kinseth home at Belmond.

Miss Hilma Burgess left Thursday to Reading, Minn., where she has a position as primary instructor.

Helen and Evelyn Miller returned Saturday from Dysart, where they have enjoyed a three weeks' visit with their sister, Mrs. C. Blank.

Miss Viola Finn went to Belmond Monday where she has a position in a rural school in Pleasant township.

Misses Viola and Edna Rust spent the latter portion of the week at the Curtis Luick home near Ventura.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Sandberg and son Robert, of Iowa Falls, spent Sunday at the former's parental home.

Mr. Hopperstad of Decorah, Miss Grace Liitchwager of Alden, Miss Marie Given of Clarion and Miss Eva Schluter of Meservey arrived here Saturday and started work Monday, they being the out of town teachers in the local school.

Misses Marie and Fannie Landon went to Belmond Monday to take up their high school studies.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Smith of Mason City came Saturday to visit over Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Johnson.

Miss Mayme McNulty who is employed in Chicago came Saturday to enjoy her vacation with home folks.

The Walt Mason family are enjoying a visit with relatives from Wisconsin.

Miss Edna Cline of Carlyle was a week end guest at the Earl Ruka home.

Miss Esther Harberts visited relatives at Marshalltown Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Framer Cordes spent a few days last week at Cresco, visiting their son, Joe.

Mrs. William Tanner who resides in Chicago, came Saturday to visit home folks. Mrs. Tanner will be remembered as Leona Cashman, before her marriage.

The L. W. Wesenberg family were over Sunday guests with his relatives at Iowa Falls.

The Ness families and relatives from Story County held a picnic at Clear Lake on Sunday.

Chapin and Goodell played ball at Belmond Sunday, the latter being victorious, the resulting score being 3 to 0.

Reginald and Selwyn Houghton visited Saturday at Iowa Falls, with their brother, Clement.

Mrs. Smith returned Saturday from a two weeks' visit with relatives at Charles City. She will spend the winter with her mother, Mrs. Bachman.

Mrs. Tony Boller returned Sunday, from a two weeks' vacation, visiting relatives at Mora, Minn., and Osceola, Wisconsin.

Forest and Harold Boren went to Grundy Center to stay with their uncle, Emery Boren. Forest Boren will enter college and Harold will be a Junior in the high school.

CHURCH NOTES

The U. B. Ladies Aid will be Wednesday. The annual election of officers will be held.

The Missionary held their monthly meeting Friday.

Mrs. Gus Okreug was elected delegate to the U. B. Conference, September 21, held at Muscatine.

MESERVEY LOCAL NEWS

(Continued From Page 4)

Simon Eckhoff returned to Hollandale Monday, where he will gather his potato crop.

Mr. and Mrs. John Meyers, their daughter and husband, of Aplington, drove up Tuesday to visit with Mrs. Meyers' sisters, Mrs. H. Meinderts and Mrs. Heiko Kuhlers.

F. C. Sprau and wife and their son Kenneth, Leland Jacobson and son Keith motored to Des Moines, Thursday to spend a few days at the State Fair.

L. B. Hulsebus and son Bobby of Dows spent Tuesday here while Mrs. Hulsebus was in Mason City for the day.

H. M. Taulbee and wife were Mason City callers Saturday. Miss Temple accompanied them for a visit with home folks.

ROWAN ITEMS OF INTEREST

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

10:30—Sunday School.

11:30—Morning worship. Subject "The Necessity of Christ's Death."

6:30—Junior Christian Endeavor.

7:00—Senior Christian Endeavor.

No evening service.

8:00, Wednesday evening, prayer meeting and Bible study.

8:00, Friday evening—Choir practice.

Our annual Harvest Home Supper will be held in the church basement Saturday evening, September 10. Everyone cordially invited.

The young people wish to thank all who made the ice cream social a success.

School has begun, also our Fall and Winter work in the church has begun. We hope everyone that is interested in the church and Christian work will co-operate with the pastor and officers to make this year's work the best in the history of the church.

Our "Go Away to College, service last Sunday evening was well attended, and a splendid program was given by the young people of our church who are leaving us.

List of names of those present and where they will go:

Mable Aldinger, teacher, east of Rowan; Minine Romminger, teacher, south of Rowan; Dolly Smith, teacher, near Alexander; Margaret Keith, nurse training; Dolly Duffy, teacher, south of Dows; Cleo Duffy, teacher, south of Dows; Esther Emerson, Cedar Falls, I. C. T. C.; Kenneth Keith, I. S. C., Ames

List of those absent having gone to their respective places and work: Frances Farran, teacher, Jessup; Laura Aldinger, teacher, east of Rowan; Pearl Hiams, I S. T. C. Cedar Falls; Roy Fanselow, I. S. C. Ames, James Kercheval, teacher, Wellsburg; Susan Duffy, teacher, Little Port.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

10:00—Sabbath School.

11:00—Morning Worship.

7:00—Epworth League.

8:00—Evening Service.

The W. H. M. S. will meet Wednesday with Mrs. Joe Thomas. Miss Nora Shafer, leader.

The Aid Society will meet at the G R. Sheldon home Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Myers assistant hostess.

Miss Frances Farran left Friday for Jessup where she will teach this year.

Mrs. W. A. Duffy left Monday evening for Kansas to see her father John Walker, who is quite ill again.

John Hunters has resigned his position with the Rock Island Paint Company as local dealer. Joe Patton is now doing the work.

Mr. Reese of Albert, Minnesota, is a guest at the home of his sister, Mrs. D. E. Harris, this week.

Mrs. J. D. Pritchett entertained as guests for Mrs Lula Emerson last Friday, Mesdames W. W. Azeltine, O. Azeltine, W. H. Bingham, Elsie Allen, Susan Bixler, Addie Duffy and Lula Emerson. A six o'clock dinner was served by the hostess.

Harry Cain moved the household goods of the Stake family from Greene to Emmetsburg Friday. Mrs. Stake will be remembered as Miss Nellie Gill who spent a part of her life here. Carl Emerson accompanied Mr. Cain.

Frank Williams autoed to Iowa City Sunday where he will receive treatment for his eyes. He returned that evening and will return Tuesday, when he will undergo an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kercheval, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Kercheval, Charles and Marion, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kercheval and Fred Francis were callers in Ventura Friday of last week.

Everette Smith of Rolfe spent the week end at the A. C. Reitz home.

Miss Lorine Liming has returned here and will again resume her work in the telephone office.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aldinger left Sunday for an auto trip to Niagara Falls and other eastern points.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmidt and daughter arrived Monday from Dysart, for a short visit at the home of Mrs. Schmidt's brother, Rev. L. A. Marquardt. They are enroute home from a two weeks' tour of Iowa to their home in Pipestone, Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thomas and daughter, Neola, of Clarion called at the Mrs. Ina Stumph home Wednesday enroute home from the State Fair.

Miss Vinnie Whitten who has been attending Tobin Business College in Fort Dodge spent the week end at the home of her parents. Mr. and Mrs. George Whitten. She resumed her work there Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nevitt of Chicago spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Nevitt's mother, Mrs. H. O. Azeltine.

Mr. Reese has purchased the August Reitz house and will move his family there in a short time. The house will be vacated by Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Azeltine.

Mr. and Mrs Oscar Thayer of Thornton are the parents of a son born Sunday Mrs. Thayer's mother, Mrs. Joe Thomas is caring for them.

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Bounds entertained in honor of their grandson, Franklin Mac Mannis of Chicago. About fifteen were present. The evening was spent in games and the guests departed at a late hour voting Mr. and Mrs. Bounds royal entertainers.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bernd and son Roy of New Richland, Wisconsin arrived Thursday evening for an over Sunday visit at the home of their daughter and sister, Mrs. L. A. Marquardt. They departed Monday morning for their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Goos of St. Paul spent the week end at the parental Henry Reitz home.

Mrs. Clint Kercheval presented her piano pupils in a recital last Thursday afternoon. A goodly number were present and enjoyed the following program:

Little Miss Muffet, Hazel Hiams

Hunting Song—C. Gurlitt, Mae Hyde

Selected, Cleo Duffy.

Minuet—Bach, Clara Jane Howell.

Pretty Birls Waltz—DeLancy, Della Reese

Sing Robin Sing, Vocal solo by Loretta Bingham, playing her own accompaniment.

Pretty Pansy Waltz—Weston, Margaret Emerson

Monologue—"How Two Little Girls Practise", Mae Hyde and Della Reese.

Meditation by Moonlight, Genevieve Munnis

Fairy Prince Two Step—DeLancey, Loretta Bingham

Vocal Solo—Lullaby, Hazel Hiams, accompanied by Margaret Emerson

Story—The Teenie Weenie Woman, Billie Whitten

Vocal Solo, John Howell

The Dance of the Wild Flowers—Wenrich, Fern Strevler

Duet, Secret Wishes—Miller, Mae Hyde and Clara Jane Howell

Recitation, Marion Kercheval.

The Happy Kandoo Sunday School class of the Congregational church held a party in the church parlors, last Thursday evening. The party was the conclusion of a five weeks' contest in membership. About 25 enjoyed the evening which was in the home of Miss Luelda McKinley, leader of the losing side. Election of officers was held. Vergene Andrews was elected president, Gladys Gunderson, Secretary. After the business meeting an hour was spent in social games after which refreshment were served. The guests departed at a late hour voting the losers royal entertainers.

Rowan Opera House

ROWAN, IOWA

COBURN & ZISKA, PROPS.

Moving Picture Program

Music with all programs

Wednesday & Thursday

September 14 and 15

"Desert Toll"

A Metro-Goldwyn production, a Western picture filled with thrills, and action, and with a very pretty love story running through it.

Also 2-reel Pathe comedy

Prices 10c and 25c

Two Shows: 7:30 and 9:00

ALEXANDER NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Bohlen, Mrs. Minnie Tucker, and daughter Lilly, were visitors at the John Surbal home in Garner Thursday, and from there in company with Mr. and Mrs. Surbal drove to Pilot Knob.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Larson and sons, Elmer, Wilbur and Raymond, went to Hollandale, Minn. Saturday to spend the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Veeder.

Miss Ruth Beenen leaves the first of the week for Hollandale, Minn., where she has accepted a position as one of the teachers in the town school.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hardy and daughters, Virgie and Betty, of Hampton, were Sunday visitors at the Nels Larson home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Alfreds and son Maurice went to Iowa Falls, Thursday, where Maurice had his tonsils and adenoids removed, besides a minor operation, at the hospital. He is getting along fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Hite Penning of Ackley, were visitors at the P. C. Bohlen home Friday.

Word was received Thursday of the death of Herbert Mallory, of Wayland, who had committed suicide by shooting. Many of the Alexander people were well acquainted with Mr. Mallory, who had been station agent here for several years, and this news comes as a shock to all.

Mrs. Fowler of Blairsburg came Thursday to spend a few days at the A. E. Alfreds home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Tucker and daughters, Lois, Melba, and Mrs. Schuller of Hansell were calling on relatives in town Saturday.

On Friday evening on the P. C. Bohlen lawn was given a birthday party in honor of the Misses Bernice Bohlen and Arlene Peters, being their ninth birthday. Twenty-one little girl friends were present and took part in the jolly entertainment of the evening.

Fred Greenfield was a business caller at Hampton Monday.

Mrs. John Arends gave a party in the United Church basement on Friday evening for the Sunday School class in honor of those who will be leaving for school soon. The following young people are going: Jesse Arends, Lewis Schulte, Susie Schulte to the University of Commerce at Des Moines, Sylvia Arends to the State Normal at Cedar Falls, Mildred Larsen, Bertha Nelson, Margaret Dunn and Katie Yakel to Cedar Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Rodemeyer and children were callers at the Ernest Rodemeyer home in Hampton Sunday evening.

Roman Buterbaugh was a Belmond caller Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith and children and Miss Addie Larsen and son, Jack, went to Hollandale, Minn. Sunday to spend a few days at the home of Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. Joe Veeder.

Mr. and Mrs. George Yaw of Iowa Falls were Sunday visitors at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Fred Rodemeyer and family.

The following attended the State Fair at Des Moines: Mr. and Mrs. Hilko Pals, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gaulke, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Aldinger and two sons, Misses Marie Pals and Jennie Dirkson, Otto Kieslich, Jesse Latham, Elias Klinefelter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bohlen and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hensell, John F. Bell, Miss Jessie Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Greenfield and son Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bell and daughter Erma, and son Eldon, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Larson and son Wayne and daughter, Evelyn, Chris Larsen, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Winwood and son Kenneth.

Kinseth's Store News

Pretty warm this week, but we need it for the corn crop, so we shouldn't growl about the heat. It's the first time for quite a while, tho, that it hasn't rained the first week of school. Usually you can depend on a rain when school starts.

Speaking of school reminds us that you can get most anything for the school lunch at our store. All kinds of fruits—some dandy fresh fruit coming in this week—cookies, olives, cheese, and the like.

Peaches in boxes, Fresh Prunes in boxes, this week.

49c buys a good broom.

Grapes in baskets, fresh and juicy.

As a little Special this week we are offering a 12-quart galvanized pail with wood handle, regular 50c sellers, while they last at 33c. Get yours early.

We are starting to "clean up" the town, and have a ton of Hard Water Toilet Soap which we are selling at 4 bars for 19c. Here's a real buy, folks.

Stop at The Store on the Corner. It means more money for gas thru your savings.

Camel

The cigarette you can smoke with real enjoyment

If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.

© 1927, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

15

ESSEX SUPER-SIX AUTOMOBILES Sold In August

THE 15 NEW OWNERS OF ESSEX SUPER-SIXES:

JACOB OSTENDORF, Alexander
PETER GRUIS, Alexander
OLE SANDBERG, Goodell
GEO. H. CHRISTIE, Goodell
TOM QUIGLEY, Goodell
PETER BOHNING, Belmond
JOE BROOKS, Belmond
HARRY BROOKS, Belmond
HENRY EIDE, Belmond
OTIS NELSON, Belmond
GUS NISSEN, Belmond
CLARENCE LAUDEN, Klemme
GEO. LAWHORN, Klemme
CLYDE HART, Humboldt
BEN GRUIS, Meservey

NEVER BEFORE IN THE HISTORY OF THE AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY HAS ANY MANUFACTURER OFFERED ALL THE ADVANTAGES FOUND IN THE NEW 1928 ESSEX SUPER-SIX REGARDLESS OF PRICE.

Everyone is talking about the instant welcome given the new 1928 Essex Super-Six and the names listed here is proof of the value Essex gives.

Compare the Essex Super-Six with anything offered under $1000, compare its easy riding and handling with any car you have ever driven, notice how easily the driver's seat can be changed while driving so that you may enjoy the most comfortable position at all times whether you are tall or short.

Examine the running gear construction and compare the axles, brakes, steering gear, spring, suspension, frame, low center of gravity which makes the car hug the road on the corners, and the steel body which means greatest safety and a hundred other things we will show you if you accept a demonstration in the finest Essex ever built. It costs little more than a four and is the lowest priced Six in America. Built by the Hudson Motor Car Co., world's largest builders of six cylinder cars.

READ THESE--then ask them about it!

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Carpenter drove over 3,000 miles through the Black Hills and Yellowstone Park, with a load equal to 5 passengers, making 18 miles to the gallon on gas, and Al reports the finest trip he ever made—slept every night in his Essex sedan.

Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Snearly made 3,160 miles through Canada, to New York City, Baltimore, Washington, D. C. and back through the Alleghany mountains and averaged 22 1-10 miles to the gallon. Slept in his car 10 nights and said the Essex made the finest convertible bed he ever slept in.

Nordschow Motor Company

BELMOND, IOWA

PHONES: House 244; Garage 97

SPECIAL!

Saturday, Sept. 10 Only

COFFEE CAKES, each only 10c

HOT ROLLS and DOUGHNUTS for the School Lunch

Don't say bread—say "BLUE RIBBON" bread. It's Belmond bread, baked by Belmond's bakers.

Your patronage solicited and appreciated

MORROW & SCOTT
BELMOND'S BAKERS

The Splinters

"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2 Thursday, September 8, 1927 No. 21

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

Yesterday we met a friend of ours with his hands all black! "Been puttin' up the stove," he explained.

—

"I asked you to loan me a hundred dollars and you give me only fifty."

"That's fair enough, isn't it? You lose fifty and I lose fifty."

—

"Did you hear what Mrs. Jones said about you?"

"No, I was in the other group talking about her."

—

We'll bet a new hat that the same fellows who sell those pencil sharpening machines, also sell pencils.

—

Small son. — "Mother, why did you marry Dad?" Mother. — "Are you beginning to wonder about that too?"

—

Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today. That motto is intended for the man who delays ordering his coal until cold weather comes.

Who invented that word Flapper and what does it mean?

—

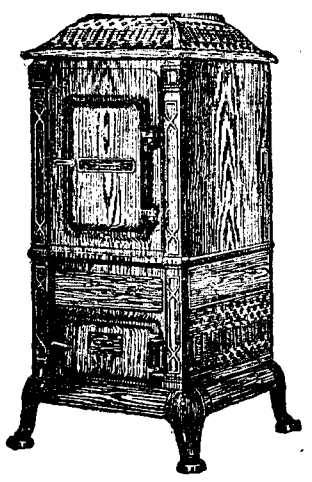
"Yep, I had a beard like yours once, and when I realized how it made me look. I cut it off." "Well, I had a face like yours once, and when I realized that I couldn't cut it off, I grew this beard."

—

When you add to the interior of your home built-in features, French doors, a breakfast room, book cases, a rining room cabinet, a fireplace mantle and the like—it just adds at least fifty per cent to the general attractiveness of your home.

The Riverside Radiona It Broadcasts Heat

Heat Your Home the Modern Way



Install the Radiona and heat the entire house all over to an almost even temperature. It works just like a basement furnace and you save the cost of an expensive installation as well as the cost of the basement if you desire. The Radiona will do a good heating job for you and also save you money on fuel.

It will do the work of an ordinary pipeless furnace, while it will use only half as much fuel as a furnace.

It is more beautiful than any other heating system and will please you in every respect.

Price so moderate that you can not afford to be without one.

GRIESY'S

The Friendly Place

PHONE 10
BELMOND, IOWA

Men Marooned

By GEORGE MARSH

Copyright by The Penn Publishing Co.
WNU Service

"Do you realize, major, that this is the largest Christmas trade ever made by a subsidiary post of Albany? Your scheme and your nerve in seeing it through make the rest up the coast look like pretty dead people. My heartiest congratulations!" The factor of Albany grasped Guthrie's hand.

"The men who turned this trick are Etienne and old Souci," protested Garth. "I don't want you to forget them. I did little."

Cameron slapped the proud half-breed on the back. "No fear of my forgetting Etienne Savanne. He's worked with me too many years. Now I wish you'd listen to what they write from Moose."

The Albany factor went to his desk and, returning with a letter, read to Guthrie:

"The Montreal office has got the idea that this free-trader, McDonald, may be the man wanted in Nova Scotia for a murder committed about three years ago. A returned soldier struck and killed a man supposed to be his wife's lover. He was traced to Newfoundland. According to McMann at Charlton island, the description of the soldier tallies with the appearance of this Laughing McDonald. I have written Montreal that the schooner is wintering on this coast. I expect the provincial police will show up here soon to investigate."

"Now, what d'you think of that?" demanded Cameron of the man whose thoughts were centered on the homecoming of a soldier with disfigured face— a face repulsive, unbearable to the woman whose weakness had caused the murder.

"There must be ten thousand men in Canada with scarred faces, Cameron. Because Laughing McDonald happens to have one doesn't make him the murderer."

Cameron sensed that the reply had a personal tinge—was in the nature of a defense of the maimed legions, and said quietly: "No, of course not, but this McDonald sailed out of St. Johns. Queer if he should be the bird they're after."

"How many police will they send on this case?"

"Oh, not more than two."

"I'm sorry for them, then. They'd never come back. Do you think that two men can go to that schooner in Seal cove and get McDonald, if he's the guilty man? He wouldn't be taken alive—and I've a notion that life isn't worth much to McDonald Ha! Ha!"

"Why, you seem to sort of sympathize with this pirate who's stealing our trade," objected the other.

The gray eyes of the factor of Elkwan held those of Cameron in a penetrating look, as he said—"I do."

The brooding face of the man with the scarred cheek sought the window. The tragedy of the man at Seal cove, if he proved to be the Nova Scotian soldier wanted by the police, was, he realized, simply the story of Garth Guthrie in an exaggerated form. The wife he had come home to, like Ethel, had turned from the mutilated face—lacked the womanhood to shield him with her heart from the mockery of an unfeeling world. How many of the Canadian maimed, he wondered, the broken, the crippled, had walked in Gethsemane with Garth Guthrie and Laughing McDonald? How many had seen veiled horror in the eyes of those they loved?

"Well, I sympathize with any man whose wife goes wrong," the voice of Cameron went on, after a pause, "but that don't justify murder, Guthrie."

"I'm not so sure," was the quiet response, "when a man comes home with a comic mask for a face, that he isn't justified in killing both his wife and the man she turns to. Put yourself in his place, Cameron. Even the children on the streets must have mocked him as he passed. Think of the hell he lived through—then she, his refuge and his anchor—fails him."

Again Cameron felt that the man championing the unknown McDonald was making the case his own. That Guthrie was sensitive of his scarred cheek he already was aware and it irritated the older man into blurting outright: "Guthrie, don't take offense at what I'm going to say, but it seems to me that you must be vain as a girl to have that scar always on your mind. Why, man, you're handsome enough to carry a dozen scars. Nobody ever thinks of it, except to envy your war record."

Guthrie's mouth curled slightly in answer: "Man, I've forgotten all about that scar, but I can't forget the men who were not so lucky."

But as Cameron's hand left the shoulder of the factor of Elkwan, he was sure that the furrow across the cheek of the younger man had played its part in a personal tragedy.

As Guthrie left the trade house to seek his room at Cameron's hospitable quarters and make himself presentable for the supper on which Mrs. Cameron would spare no effort, he turned for a short stroll across the clearing. He was approaching the mission when the fur-hooded figure of a woman passed him at a short distance on a parallel path. The face in the hood was turned from him but the swinging stride of the moccasined feet aroused his curiosity. The white women residents of the post could be counted on the fingers of a hand. It was a stranger—a new missionary teacher at the orphan Indian school, doubtless. At the mission the paths met, and Guthrie turned with a "good evening," as the woman in the fur capote came abreast, to gasp, with a furiously pounding heart, as he looked into the laughing eyes of Joan Quarrier.

"You! Here?" he exclaimed, gazing at the uptilted hood as if at a ghost.

"Welcome to Albany, Mr. Exile," she cried, extending a mittened hand. "I've just left Mrs. Cameron, and knew of your arrival with that fabulous amount of fur. Congratulations on your defeat of Laughing McDonald."

"You—wintering at Albany," he continued, 'and you never told me!"

The color rose to the dark hair on her forehead. "I found a job. You see they needed a nurse terribly, at the school." Her eyes avoided his searching look now. "My brother returns in the spring, so I decided to wait for him here."

"But when I left, you were leaving in a day or two for Moose," he relentlessly persisted. "And you wrote my Christmas letter and never told me you were only ninety miles away," he added reproachfully.

"I—I couldn't interfere with the—your fight for the fox trade," she replied weakly.

"Well, the fact is, Miss Joan Quarrier," he said with a laugh, "that you're here at Albany, and I'm at Albany, and I hereby announce that I'm going to stay a day, or two, or three, and talk to you."

"I'm sure," she said with a low bow, "that you are most flattering. But you forget that my employer, Mr. Swan, does not approve of you, sir."

(Continued next week.)

School Lunches!

The boy or girl from the country who is going to town school will find this Cafe an ideal place for the noon-day lunch. Lunches, Short Orders, or a full meal as you prefer. We invite you to try us once for your School Lunch. And any time we are always here to serve you in

MEALS LUNCHES
SHORT ORDERS
ICE CREAM CANDY
CIGARS TOBACCO

Look for the Red Light!

RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

Lowe Brothers
PAINTS - VARNISHES

Paint Your Barn with Derby Red

A gallon of LOWE BROTHERS DERBY RED and a gallon of linseed oil makes two gallons of tough, weather-proof paint containing 63% linseed oil. Derby Red comes double-thick.

Don't take a chance on cheap paints loaded with gasoline, mineral oil, rosin, etc. Let us show you how economically you can paint your barn with Derby Red.

Schultz Drug Co.
Belmond, Iowa

MR. FEEDER!

Buying Power means Selling Power. We have a carload of

DARLING'S BEEF TANKAGE

on track. Better get your order in, as this is PRICED TO SELL QUICKLY

Our Stock of FLOUR and FEEDS is always complete. And remember we pay Highest Market Prices for GRAIN AND POULTRY

Truck Service if you want it.

Farmers Grain Company
PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!
BELMOND, - - IOWA

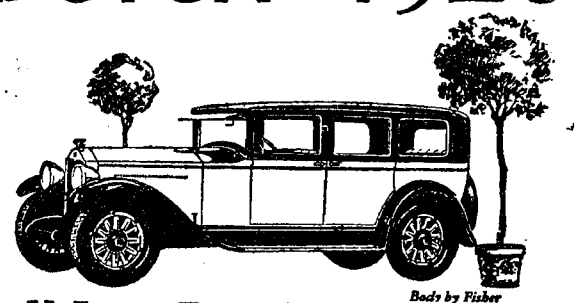
School Studies

This week you start your youngsters to school. You know what studies they will take, and you are as much interested in them as they are. That's a fine thing, and you will help them all you can. But along with their school studies, do not neglect to teach your children the value of thrift, of saving a little regularly.

Habits of thrift imparted in childhood remain always, and lead to future independence and advancement. This Bank will be glad to help your boy or girl get the right start, and any of our officers will gladly give their time and services to your child.

STATE BANK OF BELMOND
BELMOND
IOWA

BUICK for 1928



Body by Fisher

When Buick improves upon Buick—the standard for the year is set

Buick for 1928 introduces a higher standard of beauty and luxury than the world has ever known. Buick interiors are as modish as exquisite drawing-rooms—as harmoniously colored—and as comfortable. Buick's new Fisher bodies are low-swung without any loss of head-room or road-clearance.

And so, down to the smallest detail of construction, wherever refinements could be made, Buick has made them. Again Buick has improved upon Buick. Again the standard for the year is set.

BUICK MOTOR COMPANY, FLINT, MICHIGAN
Division of General Motors Corporation

Sedans $1195 to $1995 Coupes $1195 to $1850
Sport Models $1195 to $1525

All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich., government tax to be added. The G. M. A. C. financing plan, the most desirable, is available. The model illustrated is the Five-Passenger Sedan, Series 120, $1495.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

WEBSTER COUNTY BUICK CO.
DISTRIBUTORS
20-24 North 9th St. Fort Dodge, Iowa

BELMOND—HUB MOTOR CO. Kanawha—Yeakel & Mallow
Clarion—Linfor Auto Co. Dows—A Banwell
Eagle Grove—Porter Auto Co.

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jennings left Monday on a three weeks' vacation trip to northern points.

Lee Lowenberg left last week for Wadena, where he will be principal in the schools this year.

Mrs. C. C. McDermott and son from Princeton, who had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lathrop, returned home Friday. Lyle, her brother, accompanied her home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lathrop took their daughter June, to Mason City last Friday to have her eyes tested by Dr. O'Brien.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shipley returned the first of the week from Minnesota, where they have been the past several weeks enjoying a vacation and fishing trip.

The Luncheon club met last Thursday in the final meeting of the summer session. It is not known whether the club will continue thru the winter or not.

Dr. and Mrs. Missman, and son, Byrnes, of Klemme, were Sunday guests at the E. A. Ely home.

Harlan Rierson left Saturday, for Chillocothe, Missouri, where he will attend a business school.

Miss Margaret Vay of Waterloo, was a guest several days last week at the home of her friend, Miss Alpha Johnson.

Miss Magdalene Johnson went to Oelwein, Friday, where she has a position as Kindergarten teacher this year.

Claude Johnson came home Saturday from Montour, to spend the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Johnson.

Elaine Rierson went to Thompson Sunday, where she will teach this year.

Marjorie Williams left Saturday for Monticello, where she will teach English in the Monticello schools.

Ernest Gunderson came home from Iowa City Saturday, and spent a few days with Belmond relatives and friends.

Miss Helen Johnson left the first of the week for Cedar Rapids where she will teach this year.

Miss Leona Rierson left Tuesday, for Chicago, where she will enter the Masonic Hospital to take a course in nurses training.

Mrs. John Anderson spent a few days in Mason City last week, assisting her son, Lloyd, move. Lloyd recently sold his Spanish bungalow and purchased a larger house.

The Reformed Church of Meservey will hold their annual mission feast at the church, September 15.

The Kensington Club will hold their first meeting of the season at the Ward Martin home next week Wednesday.

Stanley Hill left Wednesday, for Mankato, Minn., where he will be employed.

Let the Farmers' Shipping Association ship your live stock. Notify M. F. Christie.

Mrs. Patrick Knoer and children of Winthrop, Minn., were visiting relatives here over the week end. Mrs. Knoer was formerly Miss Clara Lee.

Mrs. J. A. Sturdevant and daughter, Velva, returned last week from their vacation trip to Western points.

Mrs. Mc. J. Thompson was hostess to the Chain of Ten Tuesday.

Verle Brewer came home from Des Moines Saturday, to spend the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brewer.

Miss Clara Johnson returned to Iowa Falls, Friday, where she will teach again this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Burk visited friends in Des Moines last Thursday and Friday.

Rev. Snyder and family returned last week from their vacation trip to various points of interest in the the East, and in Canada.

Rev. Snyder and Rev. Harry Webb attended the M. E. Conference at Algona, Monday.

Miss Anna Finn, of Chicago, is spending her vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Finn.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Voiles left Sunday for Minneapolis, to visit relatives and attend the Minnesota state fair.

Mr. and Mrs. King of Fort Dodge were Sunday guests at the Andrew Bullis home. Their little son, who had been visiting at the Bullis home, returned with them.

Mr. and Mrs. John Spitler and family visited relatives at Clarion Sunday.

Ruben Pederson is moving back to Belmond this week. They have been working on a farm near Sheffield.

F. C. Aldrich, wife and mother, visited relatives at Latimer and Chapin Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Trees and Cleo, left last Thursday for Wisconsin for a weeks' vacation.

Mrs. Maude Paterson, of San Marcus, Texas, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Thompson.

Grapes, Peaches, Pears, Celery, Watermelons and Gallon Fruits at a price that is selling them.—Parsons'.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Parsons spent Sunday with relatives at Livermore.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Peterson went to Rolfe, Sunday, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dahl.

Wait for Ludeke's Poland China and Chester White Hog sale, Oct. 15, Klemme, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. LaMon and three children, of Chicago, were guests last week at the D. L. Mallory home. Mrs. LaMon will be remembered as Ida Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brooks and Mr. and Mrs. Ward Martin went to Eagle Grove Sunday to attend the Norwegian meeting.

OLAF NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Snader of Ft. Dodge called at G. H. Baxters Sunday afternoon.

Clarence Scott made several trips to Mason City, the past week to have the eye, which had become infected, treated. We are glad to be able to note that his eye is much better.

The Anderson and Schlicting families returned Friday evening from Lake Francis, where they had been spending a week fishing. They report a very fine time.

Olaf School began Monday with Miss Hall from Clarion as teacher.

Rev. Mathre and family of Estherville have been visiting at the Jacob Thompson home. Mrs. Mathre is the daughter of Mr. Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Windecker, drove up from Iowa Falls, Wednesday to attend the Ladies Aid Society Sale. Thursday morning they drove to Estherville on a business mission and to visit relatives. Margaret Baxter accompanied them on the trip to Estherville.

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Olaf church held their annual sale and dinner in the Marcus grove last Wednesday. The sale netted the North Ladies Aid over $260 and the dinner $101.

Orphie Anderson and family attended the Luick picnic Sunday.

DR. R. E. PORTER
BELMOND, IOWA
Chiropractic Health Service
Eight Year's Experience
Office Over Griesy's Store

ROBINSONS
...STORE...
BAKERY
GROCERY

We have those Quick Naptha Soap Flakes in bulk, 25c for 1½ pounds, and we give you a bar of Quick Naptha Soap free.

Black Flag kills all insects. We have one half pint 25c, quart 75c. Also powder at 25c, 50c and $1.50. full power, it's easy death for flies.

We have Dwarfies, a new breakfast food—something new.

Peanut butter, 20c per pound, in bulk.

We have flour at $2.25, that's good.

Lyric Theatre
...Geo. Hake, Manager...
SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS

FRIDAY and SATURDAY
SEPTEMBER 9 and 10
"The Sunset Derby"
First National picture with Mary Astor, Wm Collier, Jr., Ralph Lewis, David Kirby, Lionel Belmore. A human drama of the race tracks. The thrills of the races interwoven with a beautiful story of a jockey who thought he lost his nerve and a girl who knew he didn't. From the story by Wm. Dudley Pelley.
"SURE CURE"
Educational comedy
10c and 25c

MONDAY, TUESDAY
SEPTEMBER 12 and 13
"Resurrection"
Rod LaRocque, Dolores del Rio, Marc Beaumont, Vera Lewis. The romance of a Prince of the Blood and a Girl of the Soil; the story of the heroic rebirth of a man's love and a woman's redemption to honor and virtue.
Fox News
10c and 25c

WEDNEDAY and THURSDAY
SEPTEMBER 14 and 15
"The Stolen Bride"
Billie Dove, Lloyd Hughes, Lilyan Tashman, Armand Kaliz, Frank Beal. Story of a young Hungarian, who, when he returns to his native land in pursuit of his sweetheart, finds he cannot depart until he serves three years in the army. Stolen on her wedding night, the bride risks her honor to protect her kidnaper.
"SHOULD SLEEP-WALKERS MARRY?"
Sennett comedy
10c and 25c

CITY MARKET'S SPECIALS!
Friday - Saturday
September 9-10

Pork Steak per pound 22c
Pork Roast per pound 18c
Liver Sausage Per Lb. 15c

Watermelon On Ice

Watch for Our Specials Every Week!

Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning

City Meat Market
Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207. Belmond, Iowa

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Majestic range, in good conditon. Bargain if taken at once. Phone 231. 413c

FOR SALE OR RENT

Having sold some of my property, I will sell or rent my residence on reasonable terms. Anyone desiring a model home should call soon and look it over as it goes to the first one making a reasonable offer.—E. A. Pierce, Belmond, Iowa. Phone 359 42tf

FOR SALE—Pure bred black Poland China boar, 1 year old.—Phone 369. 432*

Cash or Exchange—640 or 120 acre dairy farm. Close to market. What have you?—W. H. Wolle, Belmond, Iowa. 1*

FOR SALE—Spring Boars. Also bred sows to farrow in September.—Roy Jenison. Phone 1911. 43tf

FOR SALE—Piano, dining room suite, 9x12 rug, 3-section bookcase, china closet. Phone 263. 432c

FOR RENT—Chicken and truck farm, consisting of 5-room house and 9 lots, with hog house, cow barn, chicken house, garage. Large strawberry bed. Edge of town. $18 a month. Write Mrs. Wm. Leonard, Swaledale, Iowa. 423*

WANTED—To store piano in exchange for its use. Best care guaranteed. Inquire at Independent. 422c

WANTED—Man to work on farm by month.—Carl Hopkey, Thornton, Iowa. 1*

FOR RENT—Modern house, Sept. 1. Also large garage, two blocks from schoolhouse. Inquire of Carrie Courtney, Iowa Falls, Iowa. 1c

A Song Without Music!

We wear Emery Shirts because they are equal to custom-made.

Styled for fit and comfort.
The Emery Guarantee says,
"A new shirt for one that fails."

Chorus
Neckties and Socks,
Underwear and Pajamas,
Awaitin' for your call.

THE Emery SHIRT

SMITH & SKOVLIN
SERVICE SATISFACTION
PHONE 50 BELMOND, IOWA

Announcement!

WE wish to announce to the people of Belmond that we have purchased the Grocery formerly conducted by A. W. Loats, and are now open for business. It will be our aim to carry only the best in Groceries, and we are now adding

A Complete New Grocery Stock

We respectfully solicit a share of your patronage. You will always find us ready to serve you. We will sell for cash, because we can give you the best merchandise for the least money that way. Our telephone is No. 38---use it when you need Good Groceries.

Come In and Visit Us!

Located First Door West of Thoe Studio

The Bump Grocery
PHONE 38 BELMOND, IOWA

Wanted

Used Atwater Kent Radios for trade ins on new stock.

We have places for a number of used Atwater Kents. If you have an old model and wish to trade in for a new one, come in and see us.

BELMOND STORAGE BATTERY CO.
Phone 46 J. W. Scott, Prop.
Thru Service We Grow!

IS THIS YOU?

YOU are, we should judge
ABOUT 27 years old,
WEIGH probably about 175
POUNDS, stand close to FIVE feet, six inches tall in
YOUR hosiery. You have sandy,
WAVY hair, blue eyes, wear
A cameo ring and are a
GOOD boxer, and have a
LOT of winning ways—we like you
PERSONALLY, not just because
YOU buy things at this store
QUITE frequently (although that HELPS of course), but because
YOU have been busy buying
CARS every six months.
WE saw you Wednesday at
ABOUT 1:30 o'clock on Main STREET, and if you can MAKE us admit that you're the MAN we're referring to we'll
MAKE you a present of a
PACKAGE of Camels—no strings
ATTACHED—are you "it?"

Herman L. Schultz

SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

DOLLAR SALE OF School $ Dresses

Extraordinary Values--
COME In and See Them!
A Treat For Thrifty Shoppers!

Misses' School Dresses
1 of Chambray and 1 of Gingham, 2 for $1

Misses' Dark Scotch Plaid SUITING Dresses, Sizes 7 to 14, each $1

Misses' Silk Finish
Charmeuse Dresses, in new novelty designs, regularly $1.75, each $1

Misses' Solid Color
Broadcloth Dresses, 7 to 14 sizes, just the thing for school, each $1

Misses' English Broadcloth Dresses
English Broadcloth, sizes 7 to 14. Stylish, durable. Regular $1.50 value, This Sale Only, Each $1

You must see these Dresses to appreciate the values in them. Come in and look them over. Many others.

Ella Cleveland CASH STORE
BELMOND, - - IOWA

Belmond Independent

ESTABLISHED 1919 — AND HERALD-PRESS — CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 8 — BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1927 — NO. 44

School Begins Early This Hot Weather

Classes Start At 8:15 In The Morning, Dismiss At 2:30 P. M.

FIRST GAME SEPT. 23

Entering the second week of the school year the total enrollment has reached 535. Last year at the same period the total was 547, showing a net loss of 12 pupils over last year. The high school has registered 181 pupils as compared with 166 at the same period. This is the second largest enrollment in high school, being ten less than the record breaker of two years ago. The senior class numbers 41, juniors 51, sophomores 36, and freshment 53. The junior high, with an enrollment of 88 is ten higher than a year ago. Enrollment in the other grades is as follows: sixth grade 37, fifth grade 41, fourth grade 34, third grade 44, second grade 30, first grade 46 and kindergarten 24.

In spite of the heat, classes have been running on regular time with the exception of early dismissal in the afternoon. This week the high school and junior high are beginning classes at 8:15 and closing at 2:30. This program will continue until the hot weather has passed. Pupils and teachers are making the best of the conditions .

Football practice is progressing in good shape with a squad of about 25 candidates reporting to Coach Hall each night. Coach Hall reports that the bunch is willing and are working hard. Although it is rather early to make predictions on the probable line-up, from the progress shown so far it looks as if Coach Hall will have a team that will give the Clarion boys a good reception when they open the season here September 23rd.

Miss Waugh has been holding try-outs for the girls glee club the past week and will soon be ready to start regular practice. With most of the members left over from last year this year's club should be even better than last years

JUNIOR HIGH NOTES

The Junior High pupils enrolled last Monday morning, with an enrollment of 88, and it is probable that there will be more, because there are 2 or 3 who have not come to school yet. The three new pupils who have enrolled in the 7th grade are: Gertrude Bump of Lake View, John Stockseth of Mason, Wisconsin and Calletta Lackore of Forest City, making a total of 46 in the 7th grade. There are 42 in the 8th grade.

The Junior High boys who have gone out for football are Edward McNulty, John Dempsey, Herman Dorenkamp, George Fetrow, and Harold McGuire. We all hope that these boys will get the right spirit of football and will make star players. These boys will be excused from their Physical Training classes twice a week.

The 8th grade is very glad to have the 7th grade with them this year. We know the teachers of the Junior High are even more glad to have them.

It is probable that the 7th and 8th grade, will have their first class meeting soon, and elect their officers. Then we are going to have our usual Assembly meetings in the High School auditorium, in which the pupils of the Junior High will take part. The date of the first one will be mentioned later, and we want our parents to understand that we, and our teachers, give them a hearty welcome to these meetings.

Rose Barry has been appointed Junior High Reporter for this six weeks.

The 7th and 8th grades have elected their Current Event Chairmen. The elections for chairmen were as follows:

8th A—Lois Leinbach
8th B—Velma Brewer
7th A—Maxine Nordschow
7th B—Paul Dippel

The object of having these chairmen is to give them the training and to teach them how to conduct

(Continued on page eight)

MRS. C. J. BOUGHTON

Mrs. C. J. Boughton died at her home in Belmond last Thursday, after gradually failing in health for some time. Although her demise was anticipated, yet it came as a shock to the community where she had been a much-loved resident for 46 years. Mrs. Boughton was a lovely character whom it was indeed a pleasure and a privilege to know, and her life had its indelible influence upon the religious and moral life of the community. She, together with Mr. Boughton, who passed away several years ago, were charter members of the Congregational church, and both had a prominent and leading part in the building of the church. As pioneers they helped to settle and build the town of Belmond, and were always an influence for the better things of life in the town.

Sara C. Butterfield was born at Nunda, Livingston Co, N. Y. April 14, 1836 and died at her home in Belmond, September 8, 1927, aged 91 years, 4 months and 25 days.

She was married to Corydon Boughton on May 8, 1855, at Cortland, Columbia Co., Wisconsin. They moved to near Amsterdam, (east of Goodell) in the spring of 1866, afterward moving to Amsterdam where they lived until coming to Belmond in 1881.

Mrs. Boughton was one of the charter members of the Sands Memorial Congregational Church, and was always faithful in her attendance upon the services of the church until failing health would no longer permit her to do so. She was active in the work of the church, being president of the Ladies Aid Society for several years and did all that she could to support the church. Mrs. Boughton was one of those women, whose family and church were her very life, and there was nothing which she could do for either that she did not enjoy doing.

Mr. Boughton heard the call of his country and enlisted in Co. D 8th regiment Wis. infantry on July 18 ,1861, and was mustered out on Sept. 14, 1865. This left Mrs. Boughton to care for their three small children and to endure the hardship of those days alone.

To Mr. and Mrs. Boughton were born eight children, four of whom have preceded their mother in death. The four living children are Oscar J. and Elmer E. Boughton, Mrs. E. G. Reed and Grace Boughton, all of Belmond. She leaves also one sister, Mrs. Anna Hewett, of Sioux City, Iowa, 18 grandchildren and 38 great grandchildren.

For 25 years Mrs. Boughton was the faithful secretary of the Cemetery Association during which time she did all that she could to make Franklin Grove Cemetery one of the most beautiful in the state. It is fitting indeed that her body be placed there to await the great resurrection day.

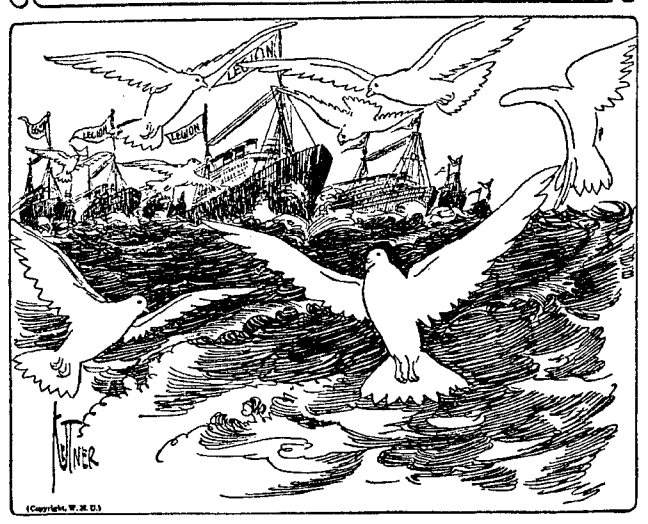
Funeral services were held Sunday, Sept. 11, at the house at 2:30 p. m., the Rev. S. U. Leinbach and Rev. B. B. Wright officiating. Interment was in the Franklin Grove cemetery

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted us during the sickness and death of our beloved mother. Also for the beautiful floral offerings.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Boughton
Mr and Mrs. E. G. Reed
Grace Boughton
Oscar Boughton

A Convoy of Doves



Gives Europe's Ideas of U. S.

Miss Gertrude Ely Writes Of Her Trip Abroad

The Independent is pleased to present this week the following article by Miss Gertrude Ely, of Belmond, who recently returned from a year's stay abroad. Miss Ely, in this article, gives a few of the impressions the Europeans have of America, and the attitude they take toward this country. Her article follows:

With the influx of thousands and tens of thousands of Americans to Europe and the British Isles each year, and with the return of these same Americans to their native land bringing at least $100 worth of foreign goods (the United States allows $100 worth brough in free of duty), the people across the sea find it to their advantage to treat the Americans with courtesy and with kindness that some are far from feeling.

No doubt the war debt is largely responsible for their attitude of unfriendliness, but as we did not cause the war, rather was it wished upon us, and with the United States being so generous in the terms of settlement of the war debt, one would expect the Aliles to be grateful than otherwise.

America Did Not Help

Never once have I heard any of them say that America helped in the war. Instead, they tell of the way the American soldiers spent their time boxing and shooting craps, when they should have been practicing shooting a gun. The English now say that they would have won out eventually, though they admit that it would have taken a little longer. The film, "The Big Parade," was not at all popular in England because they thought it brought out the idea that America won the war.

"Do Not Cancel Debts"

In Florence, Italy, we met a very intelligent, well-informed Italian who belonged to the Fascists, and he said:

"On your return to America, tell all of your friends to oppose any measure for the cancellation of the war debt, for that is the only thing that is keeping the countries from fighting each other right now!"

Italy is full of the military, and on Sunday in Venice we saw hundreds of boys and girls gathered in the public square going through military drill. Mussolini believes in instilling patriotism when they are young. Some say Italy is living in a reign of terror; we were told not to mention his name in public. However, being typical Americans, we did—and no dire calamity has befallen us yet.

There is no question but Mussolini has improved the conditions of the country enormously in the eight years he has had control of government affairs.

The Italians are industrious and are trying to cultivate every bit of land, but nowhere did we find a country that looked more prosperous than Germany. Of course, we saw only the country bordering the Rhine, but not one inch of land was wasted and the homes and gardens were beautifully kept.

Prohibition A Joke

There is one little matter in which the foreigners feel so sorry for the Americans, and that is on the subject of prohibiton. They feel that our personal liberty has been taken away, though why that particular law takes away our personal liberty any more than some other laws we have, I cannot see. The Statue of Liberty in the New York harbor is considered quite a joke, and they are sure prohibition will never be a success.

In spite of the deplorable state of affairs in the United States, however, the foreigners are very anxious to get over here, and are filing their names for the quota as fast as they can!

U. S. Cavalrymen Give Drill Here

Troop F., 14th Cavalry, In Drill and Ball Game

Troop F., 14th U. S. Cavalry, Capt. Mober commanding, camped in Belmond over the week end, the troop being quartered on the ball park grounds. Sunday afternoon, an exhibiton cavalry drill and ball game was arranged on the grounds, which drew a crowd of several hundred. The boys put on a snappy well executed drill which, while being a novelty to people of this community, was greatly appreciated and enjoyed. The ball game, between the troops and Belmond, resulted in a 6 to 5 score in Belmond's favor after a hard-fought and strongly contested battle. The Cavalrymen tied the score in the first half of the ninth, and it looked like extra innings, but the locals managed to push the winning run across in their half. The men left about 1:30 Monday morning on the next lap of their journey from Ft. Snelling, Minn., to Ft. Des Moines. Belmond people were pleased to have the troops here, and hope their schedule can be arranged to bring them through Belmond again next summer.

BASE BALL TOURNAMENT

A base ball tournament is scheduled here for Sunday and Monday next. Belmond, Goodell, Meservey and Coulter comprise the four teams to compete. A double header will be played Sunday, the first game being called at 1:30 p. m. Monday the two winners will play, and possibly the two losers.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Cooperative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of Sept. 4 to Sept. 10:

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
4	86	49	—	Pt. cloudy
5	91	63	—	Cloudy
6	84	67	—	Cloudy
7	88	56	—	Pt. cloudy
8	92	70	.03	Cloudy
9	97	71	—	Clear
10	90	72	—	Clear

The P. T. A. is sponsoring a reception for the teachers which will be held at the school house, Friday evening, September 16, at 7:30. All friends and patrons of the school are invited.

AIN'T IT HOT!

H. F. Luick, government co-operative weather observer here furnishes The Independent the following summary of Sptember's weahter:

The first thirteen days of September have caused many sweat drops to fall. Many have been inclined to say that we have never had anything like it before. The high temperatures for the 13 days have been as follows:

Sept. 1—89
2—92
3—84
4—86
5—91
6—84
7—89
8—92
9—97
10—90
11—97
12—98 (Hottest day of year)
13—96

The majority of the days have been clear—not a cloud in the sky in a few instances.

So far this month there has been only .03 inch of precipitation but if there was any way to measure it, without a question there would be several inches of perspiration.

Other Septembers have often offered hot spells but the records fail to record any of so long duration. September 1913, had 8 days of warmer weather than we have been having. In 1922 we had a similar number of extremely hot days, both years the thermometer going to 100 degrees. In 1913, after the extremely hot spell in the early part of the month, we got our killing frost on Sept. 22. In 1922, frost held off until Oct. 12th, but the corn was more or less chaffy. The earliest recorded killing frost in vicinity of Belmond, according to government records has been on Sept. 14 and the latest frost on Oct. 25th. What will be the 1927 record?

BELMOND TOWNSHIP FARM BUREAU MEETING SEPT. 16

The Belmond Township Farm Bureau will hold a meeting tomorrow, Sept. 16, at the Center schoolhouse. A good program, with a speaker, is being arranged. Everybody is welcome.

GRANT TOWNSHIP MEETING

The regular September meeting of the Grant Township Farm Bureau will be held at the Center School, Friday evening, September 16. The program will include a spelling contest with prizes to the winners. Ice cream and cake will be served by the West Side ladies. Everybody welcome.

Kanawha Man Finds Tarantula

J. W. O'Rourke, of Kanawha, found a tarantula, a large and poisonous tropical spider, in a bunch of bananas, recently, as he was cutting some of the fruit from the stem. The bananas had been in the window of the restaurant for several days, and the spider was found among the last to be cut. The tarantula's body measured about two and a half inches in length, with the legs about two inches long. A jar of alcohol is preserving the insect for inspection.

Light Rates Lowered At Humboldt

The Iowa Public Service Company, which serves Humboldt with electric service, recently issued a notice to its patrons there of a reduction in rates. Their optional residence $1 a month, energy charge of the first 50 kilowatts at 8c, excess service carries a capacity charge of KWH per month at 5c.

Dows Lad Burned By Wire

Robert Riggan, six years old, of Dows, grasped a live wire last week carrying 2,600 volts, and received some severe burns. An uncle who was nearby pulled him loose from the wire with a long pole. Although suffering greatly, it is thought the boy will recover.

Mrs. R. A. Rankins drove to Lake Park Thursday, to spend a few days with her sister, Mrs. Percy Smith. Mrs. Smith accompanied her home Sunday.

Three Claimed By Death This Week

J. P. Byers, Henry Johnson And Mrs. C. M. Johnson Pass Away

MRS. C. J. BOUHTON DIES

J. P. Byers, a pioneer settler of Belmond, passed away at his home here Tuesday at the age of 84 years following a gradual failure in health. Mr. Byers came to Belmond in 1869, and was among the early settlers of this vicinity. In the early days he conducted a harness shop, and was known throughout the northern part of Iowa. He was a soldier in the civil war, and at his death was one of the two remaining members of the G. A. R. Post in Belmond. Mr. Byers was of a genial personality, upright and honorable in every dealing, and made a host of friends. As a pioneer settler and business man he played a prominent part in the building of the community.

J. P. BYERS

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2:00 o'clock at the Methodist church, in charge of the Masonic Lodge, of which he had been a member for over 50 years, and the American Legion Post. An obituary will appear in the next issue.

Henry Johnson Called

Henry Johnson passed away Monday night at 11:30, following a lingering illness from ulcers of the stomach which culminated in a stroke of paralysis Sunday night. The past three weeks he had been bedfast. He was 79 years of age, and had lived in and near Belmond for 46 years. Funeral services were held yesterday at 2:30 at the Congregational church, Rev. S. U. Leinbach and Rev. B. B. Wright officiating Burial was in Franklin Grove cemetery. An obituary will be given next week.

Mrs. C. M. Johnson Dies

Mrs. C. M. Johnson passed away at her home at 12:45 Tuesday afternoon, death being caused by eneuritis. She was 73 years of age, and had been a resident of this community for 19 years. Funeral services will be held today at Trinity church at 1 o'clock, and at St. Olaf church in Belmond township at 2:30, Rev. Guldseth officiating. An obituary will be given next week.

Mrs. C. J. Boughton Dies

Mrs. C. J. Boughton passed away last Thursday at the age of 91 years She had been gradually declining in health for some time. Funeral services were held Sunday. An obituary appears in another column on this page.

1928 Number Plates Change

Automobile license plates for 1928 will be white, with black numerals. Wright county's allotment will be 6,000 plates, and the county number will be 86, instead of 88 as it is this year.

Meeting Friday

Swine Sanitation Meeting at the Earl Martin farm Friday at 1:00 p. m. with Dr. K. W. Stouder of the Agricultural Extension department at Ames. Dr. Stouder will discuss swine diseases and general sanitation problems. If any of the neighbors have unthrifty pigs they may bring a specimen for posting.

The five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson was operated on for ruptured appendix at the hospital here last week. His condition was serious for a few days.

Belmond Independent

AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES

Display, per column inch ------- 25c
Locals, per line ---------- 10c
Classified, per word ---------- 02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

JAMES MEHL IS NOT TO BLAME —WALKER

Eagle Grove Eagle: Auditor Walker who recently returned from his vacation, stated to the Eagle Monday that neither the board nor Mr. Mehl was at fault in the matter of the publication of the budget estimate for Wright county. Our readers will recall that the budget estimate was printed in but one paper, the Monitor. In 1924, the law provided that it be published in but one paper, and that paper must be a county seat paper. At the special session of the legislature during code revision time, this law was changed requiring the budget printed in all official county papers.

In the court house column of the Eagle it was intimated that Mr. Mehl was to blame for the omission. County Auditor Walker tells us we are wrong in this contention, that Mr. Mehl had nothing to do with the publication of the budget matter, nor did any of the other members of the board, and that omission of the budget estimate in the Belmond Independen., Dows Advocate and Eagle Grove Eagle was his error and not Mr. Mehl's. This statement entirely exonerates Mr. Mehl and the board from any intention to do otherwise than comply with the law in the budget publication. The cost of re-publication depends entirely on the amount of red tape necessary to unwind in order to comply with the law. Usually improper or inadequate publication of a legal notice invalidates all previous procedure and requires starting all over again. If this should be required in the budget matter the expense would be right around $70. If this need not be done, the expense will be under $20. An attorney has been asked by the board to look into this matter and the exact cost of re-publication cannot be determined until the entire publications in all the papers have been completed.

All comments on this incident and other acts of the board of supervisors were all directed at the official acts and records of the board and not in any manner whatsoever intended as a reflection on the character of the board members, individually or collectively. There was nothing in any of the columns of this paper intended as a reflection on Mr. Mehl, personally, or on his character, his honesty or his integrity, and no statement which has appeared in this paper in the past, or will appear in the future should be so construed. It would be withdrawn before it was ever printed. However, the board members should, and we believe they do, expect some criticism of their official acts, and the Eagle will feel perfectly free at any time in the future to call the people's attention to various transactions of the board, and make whatever comments in the judgment of the publisher the case permits. There are many acts of the board in which their judgment perhaps is open to criticism, as we have stated in previous articles. There are many acts which should be commended. For instance, according to the budget estimate recently passed, the board spent nearly $40,000 less in handling the business in 1926 than was necessary in 1925.

ORIGINAL NOTICE

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF IOWA, IN AND FOR WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA.

Catharine Schmelz,
Plaintiff,
vs
The Unknown Claimants of Lots Nos. Five (5), Six (6), Seven (7), and the South Twenty-two 22) feet of the North Sixty-six (66) feet of Lot No. Eight (8), all in Block No. Twenty-four (24), in the Original Town of Belmond, Iowa; Rockford Manufacturing Company; Rose Coulter; Rose Ralston and Edward Ralston, her husband; Mrs. William Rowen; Mary C. L. Potter; Mary C. Packard Potter; Butterfield & Reese; Home Savings and Trust Company; and William P. Hiserodt, Defendants.

TO EACH AND ALL OF SAID DEFENDANTS:

You are hereby notified that there is now filed in the office of the Clerk of the District Court of Wright County, Iowa, a petition of the above named plaintiff, claiming of you that she is the absolute owner in fee simple of the following described real estate, to-wit:—

Lots Nos. Five (5), Six (6), Seven (7), and the South Twenty-two feet of the North Sixty-six feet of Lot No. Eight (8), all in Block No. Twenty-four (24), in the Original Town of Belmond, Iowa, and praying that her title thereto be quieted and confirmed, and that you be forever barred and estopped from making any claim thereto and for general equitable relief.

(For full particulars you are referred to the petition now on file.)

You are further notified that unless you appear thereto and defend on or before noon of the second day of the next term, being the September 1927 Term of said Court, which will commence at the Court House in Clarion, Iowa, on the 26th day of September. A. D. 1927, default will be entered against you and judgment and decree rendered as prayed.

Roy A. Henderson
414 Attorney for Plaintiff

NOTICE OF SUPPLY LETTING

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, will receive bids on September 21, 1927, at 10:00 o'clock a. m. for the following office supplies:

1000 Chattel Mortgage Receipts
500 Warranty Deed Blanks
500 Chattel Mortgage Blanks
500 Farm Lease Blanks
500 Quit Claim Blanks
500 District Library Warrants
500 District Library Requisitions

Dated at Claron, Iowa, September 12, 1927.

1c F. W. WALKER,
County Auditor.

FREE AIR!

We notice in Herman's ad this week that he claims he has located the Perfect Husband. And he found him right here in Belmond! Can you imagine that?

If the P. H.'s wife actually said what she did about him, he's perfect, and there's no arguing the fact. Any married man who has ever tried to teach his wife to drive a car can solemnly swear and affirm as Henderson would say—that this guy is the berries ,and wins the fur lined cocktail shaker.

We'd like to see this said Perfect Husband. He's a genuine curiosity, and belongs in the Ringling's circsu, not in Belmond. There are at least 30 million men in the United States who would cheerfully pay two bits just to see what he looked like.

To say nothing of at least 50 million women.

If Herman will tell us who the fellow is, we'll arrange to have Cato's Vagabond's—including the saxaphone quartette—serenade him.

We don't believe there is any such a thing as a perfect husband. Ask any married women and she'll agree with us. Just ask your own wife right now if she knows of any!

This doesn't include brides of three days or less. After the first three days it's all right; their vision isn't so blurred then and the rosy tint has largely faded away.

We'll bet anybody that this alleged Perfect Husband parts his hair in the middle: that kind usually do.

And he uses a napkin at breakfast, keeps his finger nails polished, always carries a clean handkerchief, doesn't drop ashes on the rug, never goes out without a tie, doesn't stay out late, enjoys reading aloud, knows which fork to pick, never says anything stronger than "sugar", abhors prize fights, is prompt at meals, thinks foot ball is brutal, drinks tea, turns over his pay check without murmuring, and always answers "Yes, dear."

To express it in genuine American, "The poor fish!'

We'll bet Herman gets 40 dozen letters from wives around here who will want to know who this Perfect Husband is.

What is a Perfect Husband, anyway? Maybe some of the ladies can tell us. We'll give a year's subscription to the one who writes us the best description of what a perfect husband must be. Three husbands to be the judges! Send 'em in!

P. S.—We know you're wondering why we don't say something about the Perfect Wife, but we dare not: we're married!

CHURCHES

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

Morning worship will be at the eleven o'clock hour. In thinking of the relationship between worship and the soul one has fittingly said that worship is the festival of the soul.

Not only should we have more children present next Sunday but more parents as well. Be looking toward that ten o'clock hour.

The young people are to have their meeting at 8 o'clock.

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor
Telephone Call, 150

Sunday, September 18—

The Sunday School and Bible Classes will meet at 10 a. m. Parents, let us begin this season's work by taking an active interest in our Sunday School, and have our children attend regularly with lessons well earned. Do not forget that our teachers are trying to assist us to nuture our children in the fear of the Lord. To accomplish this they must have our whole-hearted co-operation and support. We hope to see our older boys and girls also in regular attendance in our Junior Bible classes and we bid those who wish to join with us, welcome. And a word more to parents. Come with your children both to Sunday School and church services. Prove to them in this way that you are vitally interested in their welfare. And remember, we have classes for you also, conducted in both the English and Norwegian languages.

Norwegian services will be held at 11 a. m. with the sermon delivered by Rev. O. Guldseth of Minneapolis. An offering for missions will be received.

Tuesday, September 20. The Catechetical class will meet immediately after school.

Thursday, September 22. English prayer meeting will be held at 8:00 p. m.

Saturday and Sunday, September 24 and 25. Our Parent-Teachers Institute See bills for program.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Sunday, September 18. The Sunday School and Bible classes will be held at 10:00 a. m. Read announcement for Trinity congregation.

Wednesday, September 21. The catechetical classes will meet at 4 p. m.

Prayer meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m.

Thursday, September 22nd. The South Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. H. M. Mickelson at 2. P. M.

Saturday and Sunday, September 24 and 25. Read the announcement for Trinity Congregation.

METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. J. F. Snyder, Pastor

Services as follows for the Lord's Day, September 18:

Sunday School at 10 A. M. Classes for all ages. It is one of our great Christian privileges to bring our children to Sunday School where the Way, Life and Methods of Jesus are taught. These being our privileges, it becomes your duty. No parent may shrink from this sacred duty.

Divine worship and sermon at 11 A. M. Sermon subject, Authority of the Scriptures. Romans 1:16.

Epworth League at 7:15. Looking forward to a great meeting spiritually and numerically You may enjoy this hour with us.

Evening worship and gospel message at 8 o'clock. Our District Superintendent, W. H. Lease, will be with us at this hour of worship and preach the Word. I am sure that the majority of our people will desire to hear Dr. Lease. Avail yourself of this opportunity.

After the regular services are conducted, the last local Conference will take place. This conference requires the presence of every official member and any other that may wish to remain has that privilege.

Everybodv most cordially invited to all of our services.

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

Dennis Madigan has been very ill the past week

The first shipment of supplies to Red Cross headquarters was sent out last week.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Luick, last week Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bohning are the parents of a fine baby girl born Tuesday.

Last week Wednesday was the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cram.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hill. Art is feeling so good that the loss of the Ford Agency did not trouble him a particle.

N. M. Wolcott, a veteran of the Civil War, made some timely remarks and related some incidents of the drafts at that time, at a patriotic meeting at the Goodell Opera House one evening last week.

On last Saturday night at eleven o'clock the manufacture of whiskey ceased within the United States for the period of the war at least. If the people of the country are able to get along without whiskey during the war, and if they are better by reason of such enforced abstinence, they should be able and should be required to do without it during peace.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Married—At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Robbins, Wednesday Sept. 10, at 11 o'clock, occurred the marriage of Miss Erma Robbins to Mr. Wallace Ramsay.

We are pleased to chronicle the fact that Floyd Dibble who has been sick unto death with typhoid fever at Eagle Grove is some better at this writing and hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Col. H. E. A Diehl went to Des Moines last Monday to attend the wedding of his niece

Mrs. Hilton of California is visiting at the home of Rev. Sands.

Mrs. W. A. Bartholomew and children returned from their New York visit last Friday.

A party composed of John Pals, Jas. Hatt, Louie Swartz and W. E. Bullard went to Spirit Lake last Saturday to fish.

John Lieuwen and son have a very neat window display this week, Sam being the artist.

S. N. Hinmans are visiting in Vermont.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

Miss Emma Bullis will soon commence a two months term of school at Joseph Postlewaite's house, east of town.

Amon Smith shot an American eagle on the 12th. The bird tried to carry off a small shoat. He measured 6 feet 2 inches from "tip to tip."

Don't read this.—We know you hate to hear about it, but business is business and sidewalks is sidewalks. Now ask your wife or some lady friend if she will help you to raise the "wherewith" to help her out of the mud on main street. You are too poor, we know. We'll go our last nickle that every mother's son of you have filtered enough tobacco smoke through your brains and rolled enough of the weed beneath your tongues, since coming to Belmond to fully make up your share in "walking" main street from end to end. In sober earnest, ain't we right?

The political discussion to take place between Capt. J. T. Haight and J. E Rowen, will come off in Belmond on the evening of the 25th.

Hon. John L. Morse returned from his Michigan trip Saturday.

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Clarion, Iowa, September 6, 1927

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Wright, in the State of Iowa, met at the court house in Clarion, Iowa, as per adjournment.

Members present: E. E. Kitley, Chairman, and Supervisors James Mehl, J. C. Peterson, L. W. Schroeder and J. D. Baker, with the County Auditor in attendance.

Minutes of August 15, 1927, read and approved.

On motion estimate to Fox Construction Company for $10,470.38 for grading the Peterson secondary road was approved and ordered paid.

On motion Estimate to Fox Construction Company for $1382.34 for grading the Schroeder secondary road, was approved and ordered paid.

On motion Estimate No. 2 to Hildebrand and Kragh for $3562.98 for bridge work was approved and ordered paid.

On motion bond of H. R. Maudlin for $8547.00 was approved.

Report of Soldiers' Relief Commission was presented, examined and on motion ordered filed.

On motion C. O. Fitts was reappointed member of the Soldiers' Relief Commission for term ending September 1, 1930.

Moved and seconded that Supervisors Kitley and Mehl act as a committee to investigate the Ida Stearns matter and report. Motion carried.

Moved and seconded that County Auditor and County Treasurer be instructed to send out notices of assessment of omitted property. Motion carried.

On motion Chas. Gross was appointed Engineer to inspect catch basin in D. D. No. 123, Section 17, Iowa Township, and report.

The following resolution was presented:

WHEREAS, a request for an extension of contract time of 30 days has been properly executed and filed by R. T. Osman on a channel change contract (F. A. P. No. 267-B) dated November 4, 1926, and

WHEREAS, the board of supervisors consider such request for extension of time reasonable and necessary,

NOW, THEREFORE, Be it Resolved by the Board of Supervisors of Wright County that such request be granted and the contract time extended to October 1, 1927.

Roll call resulted: all present voted aye; nay, none. Call carried and on motion was declared adopted.

The following resolution was presented:

WHEREAS, a request for an extension of contract time of 60 days has been properly executed and filed by Fox Construction Company on a grading contract (P No. 267 B & D) dated April 19, 1927, and

WHEREAS, the board of supervisors consider such request for extension of time reasonable and necessary,

NOW, THEREFORE, Be it Resolved by the board of supervisors of Wright county that such request be granted and the contract time extended to October 1, 1927.

Roll call resulted: all present voted aye; nay, none. Call carried and on motion was declared adopted.

Moved and seconded that Engineer's Report on Secondary Road District No. 44 be approved and Auditor instructed to advertise and set date for hearing as by law provided. September 19, 1927, at 10:00 o'clock a. m. was set for said hearing.

Time and date for budget hearing having arrived, the board took up the same.

Be it remembered that on this, the 6th day of September, 1927, the county supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, met in session for the purpose of a hearing upon the budget estimate as filed with this board. There was present a quorum as required by law. Thereupon the board investigated and found that the notice of the time and place of hearing had, according to law and as directed by the board, been published on the 17th and 18th days of August 1927, in the Wright County Monitor, Eagle Grove Eagle, Belmond Independent and Dows Advocate, official newspapers, published in said county, and that the affidavit of publication thereof was on file with the county auditor. Thereafter and on said day the estimate was taken up and considered and taxpayers heard for and against said estimate. (None appeared.)

Thereafter, the board took up the estimate for final consideration and after being fully advised the board determined that said estimate be corrected and completed so that when completed it should be in words and figures as stated herein:

FUNDS	Proposed Expenditures 1928	Proposed Expenditures decided at Hearing	Balance on hand January 1, 1927	Estimated Balance or surplus to be deducted	Estimated Income other than Taxation to be deducted	Amount Necessary to be raised from Taxation	Taxes finally entered by the Auditor	Expenditures for year 1925	Expenditures for year 1926
General	70,000.	70,000.	26,834.	10,000.	5,000.	55,000.	55,000.	88,000.	74,645.
Court Expense	------	------	188.	------	------	------	------	------	------
Poor	28,000.	28,000.	------	------	3,000.	25,000.	25,000.	28,028.	23,623.
State Insane	11,000.	11,000.	4,251.	4,000.	2,000.	5,000.	5,000.	10,974.	12,228.
County Bridge	35,000.	35,000.	14,041.	5,000.	2,000.	28,000.	28,000.	33,048.	38,226.
County Road	30,000.	30,000.	9,686.	1,000.	20,000.	9,000.	9,000.	60,556.	44,598.
Co. Road Bldg.	18,000.	18,000.	------	------	------	18,000.	18,000.	20,944.	19,000.
County School	11,000.	11,000.	4,730.	------	2,500.	8,500.	8,500.	13,402.	10,086.
Soldiers' Relief	2,000.	2,000.	1,564.	1,000.	------	1,000.	1,000.	1,533.	1,586.
Bond Funds—Road	12,500.	12,500.	1,139.	------	------	12,500.	12,500.	34,885.	34,047.
Bond Interest—Road	19,735.	19,735.	------	------	------	19,735.	19,735.	------	------
Bond Funds—Bridge	14,500.	14,500.	6,120.	------	------	14,500.	14,500.	14,842.	15,625.
Bond Interest—Bridge	4,000.	4,000.	------	------	------	4,000.	4,000.	------	------
Co. Drainage	9,500.	9,500.	------	------	------	9,500.	9,500.	9,500.	9,500.
TOTALS	265,235.	265,235.	68,553.	21,000.	34,500.	209.735.	209,735.	310,712.	283.164.

The chairman of the board and the county auditor were thereupon directed to properly certify the estimate and to file the same in the office of the county auditor as required by law.

On motion adjourned to meet September 7, 1927.

E. E. KITLEY, Chairman. F. W. WALKER, County Auditor.

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

LYRIC THEATRE
Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday
SEPTEMBER 19, 20, 21
One Show Only Starting at 8 P. M.
Prices 10c and 30c

School Lunches!

The boy or girl from the country who is going to town school will find this Cafe an ideal place for the noon-day lunch. Lunches, Short Orders, or a full meal as you prefer. We invite you to try us once for your School Lunch. And any time we are always here to serve you in

MEALS LUNCHES
SHORT ORDERS
ICE CREAM CANDY
CIGARS TOBACCO

Look for the Red Light!

RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

Lowe Brothers
PAINTS - VARNISHES

PAINTING—pays a profit

Painting your house with LOWE BROTHERS HIGH STANDARD PAINT adds new beauty to its appearance, increases its value and gives you a sense of satisfaction worth many times its cost.

See us for suggestions on outside or inside painting. Ask for color cards.

Schultz Drug Co.
Belmond, Iowa

LOCALS

T. A. Davenport is around again after his recent auto crash, but is still suffering some discomfort from his injured ribs. Gus Johnson, who received several fractured ribs from a fall from a scaffolding recently, has not improved as rapidly as was hoped, and still suffers considerable pain.

Harlan Rierson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rierson, has enrolled in the Chillocothe Business College, Chillicothe, Mo, for a business training course.

Do not delay painting when you can buy Strictly Pure Linseed Oil Red Barn Paint at $13.50 for Ten Gallons.—Schultz Drug Co.

W. E. Daniels and wife, of Chicago, arrived last week and will be residents of Belmond for several months Mr. Daniels is representing the Securities Department of the Central West Public Service Company. Mr. and Mrs. Daniels are located in rooms at the Henry Anderson residence.

Ludeke's Poland China and Chester White Hog Sale, October 15, Klemme, Iowa. 442c

Renew—not just Repair. We make your garments new. Clean, press and retouch—your clothes are new. Cap or lady's hat cleaned free with suit or dress this week.—New Belmond Tailor Shop. F. J. Tuffree. Phone 28.

Excessively hot weather has been the portion of this part of the state for the past two weeks, and no let-up seems in sight at present. The thermometer has hovered around the 90's all the time, and occasionally close to the 100 mark. Corn is maturing rapidly with the hot weather, and another week or two of it will place a large part of corn around here beyond danger of frost. On the river land some damage is being done to the crop by the excessive heat, but as a whole it has been weather made to order for corn.

Sunday Registers for sale at the Candy Kitchen. 1c

Harry Webb and Miss Wiseman were callers at Corwith, Sunday.

Mrs. Rufus Morse, Mrs. L. Collins, Willard Morse and Bob Morse returned Friday from a visit with relatives in Wisconsin.

Joe Smith has been enjoying a visit from his brother, from Minnesota. Sunday the two went to Iowa Falls to see another brother who is ill.

Ray Jones and wife of Webster City were guests of Ray's brother, C. J. Jones and family a couple of days last week.

Miss Agnes Hinman returned Monday to Iowa City, where she is taking the nurses' training course.

Edus Johnson and family and Miss Clara Johnson of Iowa Falls, and Albin Johnson and family of Hampton were Sunday visitors at the parental Gus Johnson home.

Notice To Bidders

Sealed bids will be received at the office of the county auditor of Wright county, at Clarion, Iowa, until 2:00 p. m., on the 19th day of September 1927, for graveling on Secondary road assessment districts 40 and 44.

Item No. 1—2,400 cubic yards gravel, 600 ⅓ mile units.

Item No. 2—2200 cubic yards, gravel, 12,600 ½ mile units.

Bids will be opened at the above office promptly after the time for receiving same has closed.

The standard specifications of the State Highway Commission for graveling road construction will apply with this exception: the county will spread the gravel.

The bidders will be required to submit with their proposals a list of equipment or size of crew available for work.

A certified check for five (5) per cent of the bid made payable to the county auditor shall be filed with each bid, which in case of bidder (or bidders) receiving the award should fail to execute a contract and file a bond within fifteen (15) days after the acceptance of bid shall be forfeited to the county as liquidated damages.

All bids must be on the regular form furnished by the county, sealed, and plainly marked. No bid will be considered which contains a clause in which the contractor reserves the right to accept or reject the contract awarded him by the board.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a bond in duplicate in accordance with the standard form for one hundred (100) per cent of the contract award, executed by responsible surety, drawn to protect the county and any subcontractor and such as will be approved by the clerk of the district court and the board of supervisors.

The contractor shall build and maintain such roadways as are necessary to gain access to the pit.

Bidders to bid on items as follows:

Price per cubic yard for loading and hauling for first mile.

Price per cubic yard for each additional half mile.

The county reserves the right to waive defects and to reject any or all bids.

All work to be completed by November 1, 1927.

By order of the board of supervisors.

F. W. Walker, County Auditor.

Dated September 7, 1927.

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Bldg
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

FRIEND C. BRAS
Tests Eyes Fits Glasses
Service Guaranteed
SOUTH OF COURT HOUSE
CLARION, - IOWA
1-128

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

CULLING!
This is the time of year to cull your flocks. Weed out the boarders! I am qualified to do Culling at two cents per bird. Phone 27.—G. T. Anderson, Anderson Hatchery. 432c

LYRIC THEATRE
Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday
SEPTEMBER 19, 20, 21
One Show Only Starting at 8 P. M.
Prices 10c and 30c

YOU CAN BUY
"BLUE RIBBON"
BREAD
Baked in Belmond By Belmond's Bakers
—AT THE FOLLOWING STORES—
B. K. KINSETH — CASH MARKET
W. W. GOETZ — BOHNING & CO.
CITY MARKET — C. G. JOHNSON
CLEVELAND CASH STORE — BUMP GROCERY
BELMOND CAFE — RED LIGHT CAFE
SPECIAL, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, ONLY
COFFEE CAKE
Each ---------- 10c
Your patronage solicited and appreciated
MORROW & SCOTT
BELMOND'S BAKERS

Chronic Diseases
such as Rheumatism, Goitre, Diabetes, Kidney and Bladder Ailments, Catarrh of the Stomach and Bowels, Torpid Liver, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh of Nose and Throat, Catarrhal Deafness, Nervous Diseases, Eczema and other Skin affections, Constipation, Sick headache, High Blood Pressure, Diseases of the Heart, Female Troubles, Piles and Other Rectal Diseases and Private Diseases of men and women scientifically treated by Dr. Wilbert Shallenberger
the Chicago Specialist wh has had 26 years experience in Chronic diseases and has hundreds of pleased patients. If you are suffering from a chronic ailment, do not neglect yourself or give up hope for Dr. Shallenberger has successfully treated many cases where others of less experience had failed. Consultation and examination free. Dr. Shallenberger can be consulted at Clarion, Hotel Moore, Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 21. Hours 1 p. m. to 8 p. m. 336th visit. Return visits every 28 days. 26th season in the same territory. Address letters to Wilbert Shallenberger, M. D., 768 Oakwood Blvd. Chicago, Ill.

DR. R. E. PORTER
BELMOND, IOWA
Chiropractic Health Service
Eight Year's Experience
Office Over Griesy's Store

W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29

TO HOLDERS OF
SECOND LIBERTY LOAN 4¼ PER CENT BONDS
EXCHANGE OFFERING OF NEW TREASURY NOTES

Second Liberty Loan bonds have been called for payment on November 15th next, and no interest will be paid after that date.

Notice is given of a new offering of United States Treasury notes, in exchange for Second Liberty Loan Converted 4¼ per cent bonds. The new notes will be dated September 15, 1927, and will bear interest from that date at the rate of 3⅓ per cent. The notes will mature in five years but may be called for redemption after three years.

Interest on Second Liberty Loan Converted 4¼ per cent bonds surrendered and accepted in exchange will be paid to November 15, 1927. The price of the new issue of notes, is 100⅓. Holders surrendering Second Liberty Loan Converted 4¼ per cent bonds in exchange will receive, at the time of delivery of the new notes, interest on such Second Liberty Loan Converted 4¼ per cent bonds from May 15, 1927, to November 15, 1927, less the premium on the new notes issued.

Holders of Second Liberty Loan Converted 4¼ per cent bonds who desire to take advantage of this opportunity to obtain Treasury notes of the new issue, should arrange with their bank for such exchange at the earliest possible date, as this offer will remain open only for a limited period after September 15th.

Further information may be obtained from banks or trust companies, or from any Federal Reserve Bank.

A. W. MELLON,
Secretary of the Treasury.
Washington, D. C., September 6, 1927.

Good Electric Service and Plenty of It

Central States Electric Company has a deserved reputation for continuous electrical service,—the only kind that is to be depended upon.

Through a network of hydro-electric, steam, and Diessel Oil engine power plants, interconnected by substantially built transmission lines equipped with approved switching, safety, and other devices, a continuous flow of electricity for lighting and power is assured to every customer of all the Communities served by this Company.

No expense has been spared to guarantee to its customers an adequate supply of the tremendous force of electricity, no matter how much the individual needs.

Generating equipment and line capacities are being constantly added to, and new power sources developed, even in advance of any possible demand that may be made at any moment.

As evidence of the Company's forehandedness, witness the quadrupling of the power plant at Iowa Falls, Iowa, now under way on plans that contemplate one of the largest sources of electric power supply in the whole Midwestern Section of the United States.

All of this is at the service of every householder, merchant and factory owner in this great territory.

COURTESY SERVICE SATISFACTION

Respectfully

Central States Electric Company
General Offices
CEDAR RAPIDS - - - - - - - IOWA

Camel
The cigarette that makes smoking a genuine pleasure
You can smoke Camels all day long without thought but of the pleasure and refreshment that each one brings. That's the advantage of choice tobaccos and skilful blending.

© 1927, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

The Splinters

"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2 Thursday, September 15, 1927 No. 22

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

We are still of the opinion that if one can't say a good word for his home town, it would be much better not to say anything.

—

A tourist stopped at a lonely Tennessee cabin. He noticed four good-sized holes in the door. "What's the idea of the four holes there?" he asked the head of the house.

"We got four cats" explained the native.

"But why don't you have just one good sized hole?"

"Hell, stranger, when I say 'Scat' I mean 'SCAT!'

—

Fence, wire, cedar posts, steel posts, everything in the fencing line. Get our figures.

—

Under the spreading chestnut tree,
The village smithy lies;
While he was shoeing an army mule,
He forgot to shoo the flies.

—

If you're having roof trouble, we can provide you with a roofing that will stop the leak and end your worries.

—

We heard a man say the other day that holding your breath will stop hiccoughs. Yes, and if you hold it long enough, it will stop everything else.

—

It's time to shake out the moth balls from your old overcoat and get ready for winter.

—

A Meservey boy got sweet revenge on his sister's beau the other night. He put quinine in her face powder.

—

Cello Glass comes in rolls. You can cut it to fit any window or door. A few tacks and a hammer are all the tools necessary to put it on. It's actually even better than glass. And it's so much cheaper.

MESERVEY SECTION

EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:30.

Morning worship and Lord's Supper at 10:30.

E. L. C. E. at 7:30, leaders Mrs. C. Wendel and Mr. G. Raecker.

Evening worship at 8:00 o'clock.

Choir practice Sunday evening.

Junior choir practice Tuesday evening.

Wednesday evening German prayer meeting. No English prayer meeting.

The Second Quarterly meeting Friday evening.

Rev. Wendland of Ft. Dodge will be with us to preach the Word and serve at the communion.

Let us have a full house.

A. K. Henning, Pastor

REFORMED CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:30.

Morning worship at 10:30 (German).

Young Peoples Meeting at 7:30.

Evening worship at 8:00.

Choir practice at 8, Tuesday evening.

Ladies Aid met last Thursday. Mrs. George Watermiller served refreshments.

The Dorcas met Monday evening. Miss Martha Dorenkamp served refreshments.

Our annual mission festival will be held Thursday, September 15th. Meetings wil be held as follows: forenoon 10:30, afternoon 2:30, evening 8 o'clock. Everybody is cordially invited to attend these meetings.

H. Pannkuk, Pastor

A Week At The State Fair

Mrs. L. Jacobson, Harriet Sprau and Neva Muller, Cerro Gordo County's 4H demonstration team and leader returned home Friday, after spending one week at the Iowa State Fair at Des Moines.

We had a very wonderful time and took in everything possible. Of course we saw many demonstrations and they were all very good. Page County won the state championship in demonstration work. Their demonstration was 'Bread Making".

Lucile Black of Audubon County was Iowa's healthiest girl.

We gave our demonstration, "Making the 4H Girls Hope Chest a Help Chest" on Wednesday morning at 10:30.

Harriet was elected as State Treasurer for 4H Girls.

The exhibits were very good and we enjoyed seeing them. We wish to thank all those who assisted us in the work we had to do in preparing for our trip to Mason City and also to Des Moines. Also those who helped us secure and gave us materials for our "Hope Chest."

Neva Muller, Reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hulsing are the parents of a baby daughter, born Thursday, September 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Wendel and Nelse Faaborg returned Wednesday, from a week's visit with friends in Chicago. Postmaster Smith returned home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Strasburg have been enjoying a visit with the latter's parents and sister, from Wisconsin, the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Avery of Goodell, spent a few days with their daughter, Mrs. Irv Bier and family, the past week.

Clarence and Wilma Pals accompanied by the Misses Temple, Roth, Watson, VerSteeg and Wright motored to Mason City Friday evening, attending the Style Show at the Cecil.

Mrs. H. K. Pals and daughter, Wilma and Miss. VerSteeg were Belmond callers Thursday.

Ferdinand Halfpop is having his residence treated to several coats of paint, which is adding greatly to its appearance. The painters are from Rockwell.

The Reformed church and parsonage are being repainted. J. Zimmerman of Sheffield and his son Victor are doing the work.

Word from the bedside of Fredonna Lemke, a patient in the Hampton hospital is to the effect that she is recovering nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Quandt and son returned Sunday from a week's pleasure trip in Duluth and Lake Mille Lac, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Gotlieb Gobeli of Klemme and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hopkey of this place were week end visitors at the Robert Gobelis home in Lidderdale.

F. A. Lemke visited his niece, Fredonna at the Lutheran hospital at Hampton last Thursday.

Former Teacher Has Good Position

Word has been received from Miss Olive Sherrard frim Toluca, Illinois, where she has a position in the schools as Home Economics teacher. She is very much pleased with her location and work and is elated with the wonderful equipment the school provides. Then too, she is receiving an increase in salary.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemke motored to Hampton at frequent intervals last week to visit their daughter at the hospital. On Monday they drove down to bring her home and Fredonna's many friends will be pleased to hear she is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schulte and son John of Alexander spent last Friday evening at the Harm Groen home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Becker of Cannon Falls, Minn., were week end visitors at the H. Fischer home.

Leo Hafermann and wife, Mr. Johnson and wife of Storm Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hartwig of Thornton were visiting at the Frank Hafermann home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Claus and Miss Lacher have been enjoying a visit from the latter's mother, Mrs. Lacher and daughter, Miss Emma of Hartley, the past week.

The following were callers at the A. J. Nissen home Sunday afternoon: Mr. and Mrs. R. Nock of Grafton, (Mrs. Nock will be better known as Miss Lena Johnson) Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Obrecht of Spirit Lake, Mr. Essinger and sister of Fort Dodge.

Donald Muller left Sunday for LeMars where he will take up his second year's work at the Western Union College.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hulsebus and son Bobby and Louise Witt were calling in town Saturday and met Herman Witt who returned from the Park Hospital at Mason City. He had his tonsils removed and was receiving treatments for his injured back. He will be laid up for some time but his many friends are hoping for a complete recovery and sympathize with Herman in his disappointment in not being able to return to his school work at Morningside, this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Heiko Janssen entertained Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hartwig of Thornton, Leo Haferman and wife and Mr. Johnson and wife of Storm Lake, last Sunday to dinner.

Franklin Fischer accompanied Rev. and Mrs. Raecker to Dumont, last Sunday where the latter again had charge of the morning services at the Reformed church.

Mr. Epley and family of Waverly were Sunday visitors at the H. Fischer home.

Miss Inez Obrecht left for Cedar Falls Tuesday, where she will enter I. S. T. C.

Dr. F. S. Agler returned to Surprise, Nebraska, last Monday, after a few weeks stay here attending to business matters and visiting his daughters.

Cars Collide

Last Sunday afternoon an accident which might have proven very serious, occurred a mile and a half north west of here. Merle Avery and Frank Guth were on their way to the latter's home to do chores, when a car driven by Clyde Blau of Alexander, coming from the south on the corner and for some reason the two cars collided causing Merle Avery's car to be badly wrecked. Aside from a few scratches none of the occupants of either car were injured, which was really remarkable.

Class Meeting

The S. O. S. Boy's Sunday School class met at the home of their teacher G. Lauster for their monthly business and social meeting. Games were played and before leaving the boys enjoyed refreshments served by Mrs. Lauster.

Birthday Party

Last Thursday evening about 36 relatives pleasantly surprised Mr. Jake Koenen, by gathering to help him celebrate his birthday. A pleasant evening was spent and refreshments were enjoyed by those present.

Miss Eva Sprau came home to spend the week end at the parental home.

Miss Wiota Kofold of Wisconsin visited friends here one day last week.

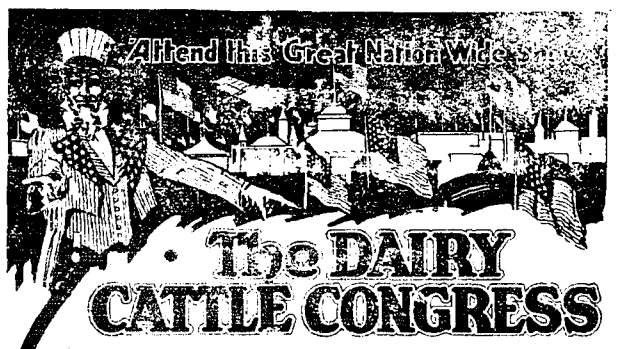
Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kolb and grand children Emory and Ross visited relatives at Lytton, in Calhoun county, from Saturday until Monday.

STUFFED CELERY

With catsup, color cream cheese until it is pink. Stuff the groove of a stalk of celery with it and serve, instead of a salted cracker, with the salad course.

CROSLEY
RADIO
Fresh "B" Batteries always on hand.
H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

HIGH QUALITY
BUILDING MATERIAL
Screen Doors and Window Screens—Mill Work—Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts and Poles
Cement — Lime
INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT
Wheat Bran -- Oil Meal -- Cotton Seed Meal, -- Tankage -- Salt
Highest Price Paid for Grain
Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa



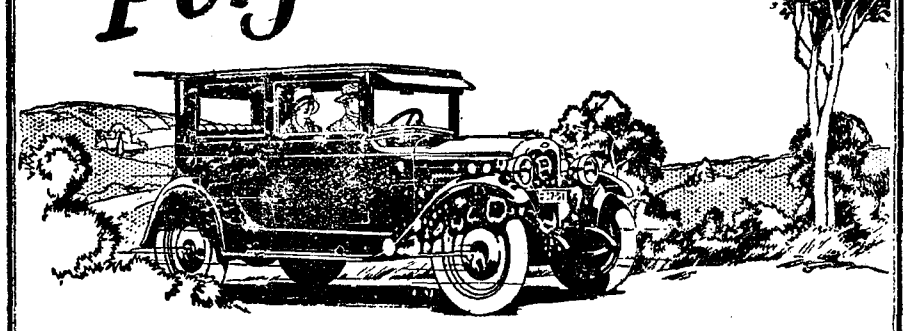
National Belgian Horse Show
American Poultry Congress
Industrial Exposition
Alone in its class
America's greatest dairy cattle and club show; hundreds of the world's best draft horses; wonderful poultry show; mammoth machinery exhibit; complete auto, food and radio shows; 100 educational exhibits; extensive women's department; baby clinics; corn show; horseshoe contest; fiddlers' contest; team pulling contest, etc.
Superior Amusements
Fifteen thrilling circus acts, a riot of clown numbers; society horse show, livestock parades and inspiring concerts twice daily in the big hippodrome. Famous bands, orchestras, quartets, novelty entertainers and soloists in continuous concerts in all buildings. Electric Park, a veritable fun factory, in full blast.
Make It Your Vacation Week
Sept. 26 - Oct. 2
Waterloo - - Iowa

This coupon and 25c entitle the undersigned to one 35c can of Acme Quality Enamel-Kote, any color, and a special 20c Paint Brush.
Name
Address
To acquaint you with Acme Quality, we are making a special offer for a short time only.
SPECIAL OFFER
55c Value for 25c
For health and appearance sake
beware the splintery floor
Think of your wood floors—your kitchen floors — the stairs that lead to the cellar or basement — the other under-foot surfaces that need attention.
Beautify them! Give them a good durable coat of Acme Quality Granite Floor Enamel. It does more. It armor-coats the floor. It prevents wear and tear—does away with the scuffing up of splinters which help to harbor dirt and not only make more scrubbing necessary, but all scrubbing difficult.
ACME QUALITY
Paint and Varnish
Paint up—and when you do use Acme Quality. Then satisfaction will be sure. See us today about your painting problems.
C. J. WENDEL
MESERVEY, IOWA

Undertaking & Funeral Director
F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone--Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

Harry T. Smith
General Blacksmithing
Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding
Meservey, - Iowa

CONFIDENCE
as shown by the banking public is the best advertising medium that a financial institution can have and without it nothing avails for the ultimate success of the undertaking. We believe that we possess it.
"Service and Safety"
Farmers Savings Bank
Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

for Economical Transportation
CHEVROLET
Amazing Performance!


-an outstanding feature of the most Amazing Quality in Chevrolet History
The COACH $595
The Touring or Roadster $525
The Coupe $625
The 4-Door Sedan $695
The Sport Cabriolet $715
The Imperial Landau $745
½-Ton Truck (Chassis Only) $395
1-Ton Truck (Chassis Only) $495
All prices f.o.b. Flint, Michigan
Check Chevrolet Delivered Prices
They include the lowest handling and financing charges available
Learn for yourself the thrill of Chevrolet performance. Come in—take the wheel of your favorite model and go wherever you like. Drive through the crowded traffic of city streets—and note the handling ease. Step on the gas on the open road and enjoy the swift sweep of the passing miles. Head for the steepest hill you know—and see how effortlessly the Chevrolet motor will carry you up.
Here is performance you never thought possible except in cars of much higher price—
—performance that only Chevrolet provides at prices so impressively low!
HUB MOTOR COMPANY
BELMOND, IOWA
RAECKER CHEVROLET SALES CO.
MESERVEY, IOWA
QUALITY AT LOW COST

NEWS ITEMS FROM GOODELL

Mr .and Mrs. Jim Elder and baby of Madison, Wisconsin, are guests this week at the home of the former's nephew, Harry Trumbell.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Sandberg and Edith accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hanson, autoed to Blue Earth, Minn., Sunday and visited at the Finske and Pearson homes. Bill Butts worked at the oil station during their absence.

Len Wilson and force and the Nolte Bros. finished their work last week at the new school house three miles west. Miss Edith Halfpop starting teaching there Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ulestad returned Saturday from a two week's visit with relatives in Minnesota.

Miss Nettie Mason recently returned from Wisconsin where she spent the summer with relatives.

Kramme and Anderson finished their culverts, Saturday, that they have been building on the east and west road. Mrs. Anderson autoed here Saturday to get her husband, they returning that evening to their home in Des Moines. Mr. Kramme went to Sioux Falls, to visit relatives.

Casey Blank of Dysart spent last week here wiring the depot for electric lights.

Mr. and Mrs. Ulestad went to Jewel Saturday to attend a funeral.

Miss Gayle McNutt of Des Moines was an over Sunday visitor at her parental home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Okrueg and the Harry Ruka family left Tuesday for an auto trip to Decorah and points in Minnesota. They returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Mason autoed to Wisconsin Wednesday to visit with relatives.

Mrs. Herman Brunes underwent an operation at the Hampton hospital last Wednesday. She is getting along nicely.

Misses Viola and Edna Rust left Tuesday to Cedar Falls where they will attend college. Viola is taking up her last year of a three year music course. Edna will enter as a freshman.

Bill Wesenberg returned Wednesday to his home in Long Beach, California. He has spent the past two months at the home of his son, Lewis, and with his sister, Mrs. Butts.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Wilson recently returned from Burt, where they had been to see their daughter, Mrs. Jess Thorson, who has been severely burned. She was pouring boiling water into the machine, the boiler slipping and throwing the water upon her. Her stomach and limbs were burned badly but she is recovering nicely. Her sister, Avis Wilson is staying with her, helping to care for her.

The E. J. Schneider and Cal Thomas families were dinner guests Thursday evening at the John Rust home.

Verdie Wilson is working with the threshing machine in Minnesota.

Mrs. Wilmer Burk and Donald returned Monday from Wisconsin where they spent a week visiting her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Harm Rust went to Hampton Thursday to see their daughter, Mrs. Brunes, who is ill in the hospital.

The O. F. Conwell family are enjoying a visit with relatives from Illinois.

Mr. Sherwood of Iowa Falls spent Friday with his brother, Leon Sherwood.

The Twin Lake Township Farm Bureau ladies held a follow-up meeting at the F. Cordes home Thursday, getting their exhibit ready for the fair. They have a number of pretty things.

Mr. Patton who has been visiting her for the past two weeks returned Monday to his home in Davenport. Mrs. Patton will remain for a longer stay with home folks, the Bill Deiger family.

Harve Hubbard accompanied Ralph Jenison of Belmond on an auto trip through the Dakotas and Canada.

The U. B. Ladies Aid met Wednesday afternoon. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. A. M. Graber, president, Mrs. Robert McNutt, vice president, and Mrs. Len Wilson, secretary and treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Sweeney of Mason City were guests Monday at the home of her uncle, D. M. Conlan.

Mrs. Will Tanner who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Cashman, returned Monday to her home in Chicago. Mayme McNulty who has also been here with home folks went back on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Delger spent last week visiting with relatives in Swea City.

John Hughes came down Monday and trucked the three calves that the Schneider children have been feeding, to Britt, where they will exhibit them at the county fair.

Mrs. Hughes of Garner spent Saturday with relatives here. Her mother Mrs, Christenson returned home with her and visited over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buss and two children of Klemme were Sunday guests at the Arthur Lowenberg home.

The Burk, Nelson, E. Ruka, Landon, John Rust and Gunvil Johnson families enjoyed a picnic dinner at Pilot Knob last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ness autoed to Marshalltown Saturday to visit over Sunday with Homer's brother, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bleich and baby of Wesley, Sundayed with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith.

The Harry Carpenter family and James Trees family of Belmond returned Thursday from their weeks auto trip through Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thada entertained relatives from Thornton on Sunday.

Misses Nettie Mason and Viola Finn spent Saturday at Clarion attending a teachers' meeting.

Clement Houghton of Iowa Falls spent Sunday with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hughes of Williams spent Sunday with Goodell relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hetland and son of Wisconsin, are guests this week at the Eli Hetland home.

SCHOOL NOTES

School started last week with a large enrollment.

The high school and town teams played ball Friday, the latter winning in a score 15 to 0.

Mr. Zeiger of Garner called Wednesday at the school house and the Seniors ordered their class rings.

There will be no school Thursday and Friday as there will be teachers meeting at Britt and give the children a privilege to attend the fair.

Miss Eva Schluter, the grammar teacher, and Miss Marie Given, primary teacher, spent the week end at their respective homes.

CHURCH NOTES

The annual election of officers will be held at the U. B. Sunday School next Sunday morning. A large attendance is desired.

ALEXANDER NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dunn and daughter Anna, of Geneva, Minnesota, were visitors at the George Dunn home, Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Miss Ruth Beenen who teaches in Hollandale spent the week end with home folks.

Miss Alice Peters has accepted a position in one of the rural schools near Holland and will begin the term Monday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hall on Tuesday, Sept. 6, a nine pound baby boy.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Bohlen and Mr. and Mrs. Claas Symens were visitors at the G. H. Raisch home near Dumont, Thursday.

John F. Bell was a business caller at Belmond Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Peters and daughter, Mildred, Mr. and Mrs. John Peters, and Mrs. Scott and son LeRoy were Meservey visitors Friday evening.

Mrs. Fred Larsen and sons Elmer, Wilbur and Raymond were Hampton visitors Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Rasmussen and son Earl were Hampton callers Tuesday.

Mrs. Ray Green of Chicago and the Misses Hattie and Agnes Green of Hampton were visitors at the Lloyd Green home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bell and children were business callers at Hampton Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Raisch and son Clarence of Dumont, were guests at the P. C. Bohlen home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mapes of Bellflower, California, and grand daughter, little Miss Wessler of Ackley and a sister of Mrs. Mapes, Mrs. Hesler of Hampton were visitors at the P. C. Bohlen home Sunday afternoon.

Mis Sylvia Arends spent the week end at the John H. Leebrick home in Hampton.

John Bell and daughter, Jessie, were visitors at the W. C. Tucker home in Hampton Saturday.

Miss Sylvia Arends goes to Cedar Falls Tuesday where she will attend the State Normal.

Albert Larsen and Dick R. Smith were business callers at Meservey Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Messelheiser of Long Beach, Calif., came Monday for a visit with their daughter and family, Mrs. George Dunn.

The Missionary Circle of the United Church held a meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. R. Harlow.

The United Aid Society will give a supper on Wednesday evening, in the church basement.

Rev. Hoyt of Blairsburg will preach next Sunday morning.

ALEXANDER SCHOOL NOTES

Our local schools opened Wednesday morning, September 7, with a total of 234 pupils enrolled. This is the largest enrollment in the history of our school and exceeds last year's mark by ten pupils for the opening enrollment. The number enrolled in each class is as follows: first grade, twenty two; second grade forty two; third grade, seventeen; fourth grade, thirty two; fifth grade, twenty; sixth grade, sixteen; seventh grade, twenty four; eighth grade, fifteen; ninth grade, fourteen; tenth grade, sixteen; eleventh grade, eleven, and twelfth grade, five.

The following students are enrolled in the school for the first time or returning after an absence of a year: Gertrude Braun, second grade; Alice Groft, sixth grade; Morris Thompson, Esther Dorenamp, Francis Weeks, seventh grade; Frances Myers, ninth grade; and Gordon Dunn, tenth grade.

Parents and buss drivers are kindly requested not to have children arrive at the school grounds until 8:30 in the morning. We notice that a good many are arriving at 8 o'clock or even before. We believe that this extra half hour or so which the child might have for sleep would be better for the physical condition of the child. Will parents and drivers please cooperate with us for a uniform time of arrival.

We will again enforce the ruling this year that no child will be permitted to go down town unless the child presents a written excuse by the parent and has obtained the o. k. from the teacher, principal or superintendent.

As a fall sport for the boys, baseball will be again taken up. Since a county tournament is to be held this fall more interest than usual is being shown and all boys are out trying for the team. The schedule arranged thus far is as follows:

Sept. 16—Open
Sept. 20—Latimer, here
Sept. 23—Popejoy, there
Sept. 30—Chapin, here
Oct. 4—Latimer, there
Oct. 7—Popejoy, here
Oct. 14—Chapin, there
Oct. 18—Latimer, here
Oct. 21-22—County Tournament at Hampton
Oct. 28—Open

ROWAN ITEMS OF INTEREST

OBITUARY

William Peddle was born the 23rd day of Nov. 1884 in Pennard, England, and died at his home near Rowan, Iowa, September 8, 1927, aged 42 years, 9 months and 15 days. His death was the result of injuries received while plowing with a tractor September 2nd.

In 1897, H. J. Peddle, a brother of the deceased, left England and came to this country. He resided in New Lenox, Ill. Two years later, after the death of their father in 1899, the rest of the family joined him in New Lenox. In 1902 they all came to this county and located on farms near Rowan. They are well known to the people of this community.

On January 13, 1909, Wm. Peddle was joined in marriage to Miss Fern Cleo Munson. To this union were born two children, Cleo May and Lillie Jane.

Mr. Peddle was reared to young manhood in England. When he was a child he was baptized in the church of England. After coming here, there being no church of his choice, he attended the Methodist church with his family. Mr. Peddle was every inch a man. He was moral, honest and kind. All who had done business with him were unanimous in saying that he was four square every day in the week. He leaves a fine moral record to his loved ones.

He leaves to mourn his departure, his wife, two children, Cleo May and Lillie Jane, his mother, Mrs. Peddle, his brothers, H. J. Peddle, Rowan; Chas. Peddle, Alden, Iowa; Eddie Peddle Ryal, Rowan; an sisters, Mrs. Jane Cox, Pillton, England; Mrs. Rose Nigg, Clarion, Iowa; Mrs. Alice Butler, Vinco, Oklahoma. A sister, Mrs. Minnie Smithers, died at Sheffield, Iowa, in 1915. An infant sister died in England many years ago.

The entire community have been made sad by the tragic death of Mr. Peddle. We join in sympathy with the family.

The funeral services were conducted in the home at 2:00 o'clock and in the M. E. church at 2:30 on Sunday, September 11, by the pastor Rev. J. H. Bounds. Interment in Graceland Cemetery The following were pallbearers: S. F. Stout, Gun Gunderson, Tice Streveler, John Keheler, Joe Simons and O. Kirkpatrick.

Fred Hackley returned last Tuesday from Brainerd, Minn., where he had been looking after farm interests.

Mrs. Kenneth French and daughter Kathleen of Omaha, Nebraska, visited last week at the homes of her uncles, Ray and Harry Harson, and with friends. Mrs. French will be remembered as Miss Kathryn Harson.

J. W. Azeltine spent last Tuesday at the home of his brother Ed, at Cedar Falls.

Dale Farran left Sunday for Los Angeles, California, to visit at the home of his brother, Duncan, and wife. He was accompanied on the trip by his grandmother Farran of Primghar, who has been visiting here at the home of her son, J. S Farran, for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin and family went to Coggon, Saturday, where they visited a sister of Mrs. Martin. From there they went to Mt. Vernon, Sunday, where their daughter Eleanor will enter Cornell College for her second year.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Thayer will be sorry to learn of the death of their infant son, Rolland Rossin, who was born on Sunday, Sept. 4th and died on Thursday, Sept. 8. Burial was made in the Belmond cemetery. They have the sympathy of the community in their loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Sullivan and daughter, Beverly Rae, of Ft. Dodge, spent several days last week at the Dan Fletcher home.

Murtell Myers and family went to Iowa Falls, Saturday evening, to spend Sunday at the A. E. Cannon home.

If you have any news you would like to see in the Independent, call phone 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fairley and daughter, of Marion, came the last of the week to visit Mrs. Fairley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Whitten.

Joe Thomas and Ed Ersland started Saturday morning on a trip to northern Minnesota They will visit in Crookston at the Gerald Ersland home.

Joe McKinley, Lynden Whitten, George Mossman and Clarence Whitten returned Thursday evening from a motor trip through the Black Hills of South Dakota, and on north as far as Winnipeg, Canada. They report an enjoyable trip.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Aldrich and R. E. Lee Jr., started Sunday on an extended motor trip. They are going up to Grand Rapids, Minn., and stop at the Clarence Jennings home, and from there on up into Canada. They expect to be gone for some time.

Edgar Mantle took his two race horses to the Butler County fair at Allison last week where they won first and second places. This week he is taking them to Perry.

Dr. Jones and wife of Fenton, have bought an interest in the Virdin drug store and will move their office equipment here this week. Later on they will move their household goods. Dr. Jones expects to work up a practice here and also run the drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Lester and family are enjoying an extended motor trip in northern Minnesota. Mr. and Mrs. Hoke are looking after their farm during their absence.

Fred Smith and family of Clarion were Sunday visitors at the Chester Moellering home. The Smith family expect to leave this week for Dixon, Illinois, where Mr. Smith has a large ditch contract.

Among some of the changes among the farmers next year are Mrs. Geo. Musson and son Lewis to the E. R. Ballou farm, Ray Wharton to the Joe Ingraham farm and Vern Dawson to the farm vacated by Ray Wharton.

Among some of the young people who leave for college this week are Miss Anna Retiz to Morningside College at Sioux City, Miss Eleanor Martin to Cornell at Mt. Vernon, Lynden Whitten, the Misses Garnette Stumph, Pearl Hiams, Esther Emerson and Elfrieda Whitten to I. S. T. C. at Cedar Falls.

Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Marquardt and son Billy departed Monday for Juda, Wisconsin, for a few days visit with Mrs. Marquardt's sister, Mrs. Ed Lubach and family.

Mrs. Hazel Azeltine received word last week of the serious injury of her son, Keith Nevitt of Chicago, in an automobile accident. Mr. Nevitt drives a milk wagon in the city and while on his route was driven into by another car, resulting in severe injuries to the head.

Mrs. Jennie Hackley departed Saturday for a two weeks visit with relatives at Rose Hill and Oskaloosa. While there she will attend the Alexander reunion which will be held at Rose Hill.

Mrs. Susan Bixler who has been visiting relatives here for several weeks, departed for her home in Massillon on Tuesday. Mrs. Elsie Allen went with her as far as Cedar Rapids where she will visit relatives.

Mrs. S. B. Heath who has been seriously ill for so long, remains about the same.

The M. E. Ladies Aid Society will hold their annual Fall Fair and chicken pie supper in the church basement, Saturday afternoon and evening, Sept. 17th.

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith went to Lake Park Sunday morning for a few days visit at the home of their son, Percy and family.

Mrs. Kepford and sons of Waterloo have been visiting the past few days at the home of her mother Mrs. Elizabeth Brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Richards and Mr. and Mrs. Chas Richards are enjoying a two weeks' vacation at their old home in Cuba City, Wis., and are also visiting at other points in Wisconsin. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rubendahl are looking after their farm during their absence.

A motorist going east on No. 10 one night last week, failed to make the turn north by the school house, and ran into Joe Thomas' fence, tearing down several posts. They were gone in the morning so Mr. Thomas was unable to find out who did the damage.

Some of those from out of town who attended Wm. Peddle's funeral on Sunday were, Mrs. John Butler of Vinco, Oklahoma, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nigg and family of Clarion, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Peddle of Alden, Mr. and Mrs. Pink Trees, Vern Trees, Spurgeon Sarber and Wm. Starnes of Belmond.

Among those who attended the fair at Allison last Friday were W. W. Azeltine, R. Virden, Wesley Azeltine and Joe Simons.

James Kercheval who teaches at Wellsburg was a week end visitor with his parents.

Mrs. Langdon Chassell of South Dakota came Tuesday to visit relatives. She came especially to see her sister, Mrs. S. B. Heath, who is ill.

Miss Anna Rietz was a guest of Everett Smith at Rolfe Thursday.

There is to be a reception at the school house Friday evening, Sept. 16th, at 8:00 o'clock, given by the town and community in honor of the school faculty. Everybody invited.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
L. A. Marquardt, Pastor
10:30 A. M. Sunday School.
11:30 A. M. Morning worship. Subject "The Extent and Effects of Christ's Death"
6:30 P. M. Junior Christian Endeavor.
7:00 P. M. Senior Christian Endeavor.
8:00 P. M. Evening worship. Subject "Present Day Civilization."
8:00 P. M. Wednesday evening, Prayer meeting and Bible Study. Edgar Bingham, leader.

METHODIST CHURCH
10:00 A. M. Sunday School.
11:00 A. M. Morning worship
7:15 P. M. Epworth League.
8:00 P. M. Evening worship
7:30 P. M. Wednesday evening, prayer meeting.

BELMOND MARKETS
(Subject to change.)

Hens	17c
Springs	17c
Roosters	07c
Ducks	12c
Geese	08c
Eggs	26c
Butterfat	39c
Creamery Butter	45c
Oats	37c
Corn No. 3 yellow	78c
Barley	62c

Let the Farmers' Shipping Association ship your live stock. Notify M. F. Christie.

OLAF NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. James Kirk spent Sunday with relatives at Estherville.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scott and Mr. and Mrs. Orphie Anderson drove to Mason City Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Lambert called at this place Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs Jim Shillington and son Ray called at the G. H. Baxter home Sunday.

Martin Paulson spent Sunday at the R. H. Rierson home in Belmond.

S. O. Windecker of Iowa Falls spent part of last week in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Carpenter called at the Albert Schlitching home Thursday.

Albert Anderson's of Thor spent Sunday at the Aster Eliason home.

Will Mallory had the misfortune one day last week to lose a valuable horse which was overheated.

Rowan Opera House

ROWAN, IOWA
COBURN & ZISKA, PROPS.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 16
Old Time Dance
Music by Smiths 5 Piece Orchestra
A Good Time Assured
Everybody Welcome
Tickets 75c

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17
"Flaming Forest"
A thrilling story of the North woods
A Metro Goldwyn Mayer Production with an all star cast
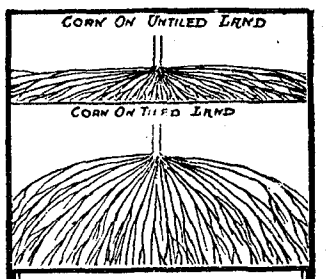
2 Reel Comedy
"From Hoboken To Hollywood"
Prices 10c and 25c

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY
SEPTEMBER 21 and 22
A Metro Goldwyn feature.

Two Shows: 7:30 and 9:00

Figures show that, in the United States, there is one auto to every six families, one radio to every eight, and one bathtub to every twelve, If cleanliness is next to godliness, how remote are we from divinity.



TILING HELPS IN DRY SEASONS, TOO!

THE benefits and profits of tile drainage are not limited to wet lands or wet seasons. It benefits any tight soil, making it more porous and better able to withstand long dry spells.

In dry seasons as well as wet, your crops have a better chance and will yield more—on tiled land. Tile drainage conserves the moisture, regulates the heat and air supply in the soil and lengthens the growing season. More of the rain that does fall sinks into the ground. Plant roots grow deeper and so draw food and water from more cubic feet of soil. It takes a longer drought to damage them.

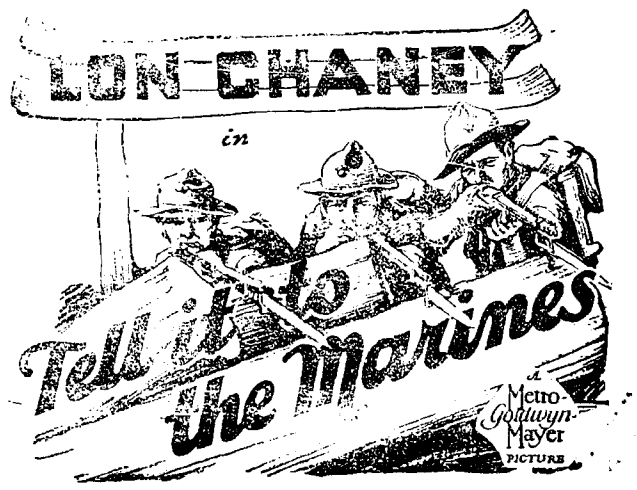
IN dry season or wet, on dry land or wet, tile drainage produces larger yields from the same acreage, the same seed and the same work. This means a lower cost per bushel and hence a wider margin of profit. No improvement you can make will pay you bigger dividends.

King's book on "Tile Drainage" is an authoritative and unbiased text-book on the subject well worth your time to read. It is free. Write for a copy.

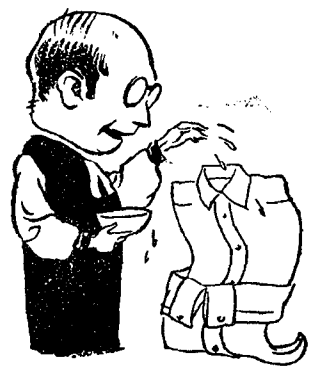
Denison Double Process Drain Tile Sold by your Local Dealer.

Mason City Brick and Tile Co.
210 Denison Bldg., Mason City, Iowa

DENISON Turns Water Into Wealth



LYRIC THEATRE
Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, September 19, 20, 21
One Show Only Starting at 8 P. M.
Prices 10c and 30c



We're going to call Emery Shirts "Volstead" because no matter how wet it gets around them, they're still true to their colors.

THE Emery Guaranteed SHIRT

SMITH & SKOVLIN
SERVICE SATISFACTION

PHONE 50 BELMOND, IOWA

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Clarion, Iowa, August 4, 1927.

Board reconvened as per adjournment.

Members present: James Mehl, J. C. Peterson, L. W. Schroeder and J. D. Baker; E. E. Kitley, absent.

On motion J. D. Baker was appointed chairman protem.

Minutes of August 2, 1927, read and approved.

Estimate No. 1 to Hildebrand & Kragh for $3592.07 was on motion approved and ordered paid.

Moved and seconded that the contract of Hildebrand & Kragh, dated March 30, 1927, be extended from August 1 to October 1, 1927. Motion carried.

Further proceedings in Drainage Districts Nos. 84, 85 and 90 having been continued on April 15, 1927, to this date, it was moved and seconded that the assessments in drainage districts Nos. 84, 85 and 90 be confirmed and the auditor authorized to advertise in Belmond Independent on September 1 and 8, 1927, for letting on September 9, 1927, at 2:00 o'clock p. m. at Clarion, Iowa. Motion carried.

On motion adjourned to August 8, 1927.

J. D. BAKER,
Chairman Protem.
F. W. WALKER,
County Auditor.

Clarion, Iowa, August 8, 1927.

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, met at the court house in Clarion, Iowa, on above date as per adjournment.

Members present: E. E. Kitley, Chairman, and Supervisors James Mehl, J. C. Peterson, L. W. Schroeder and J. D. Baker, with Deputy County Auditor in attendance.

The minutes of August 4, 1927, were read and approved.

Discussion of matters pertaining to roads and other county matters occupied the time until two o'clock p. m.

The time and date as advertised for letting contract for hauling and placing gravel in Secondary Road District No. 35 in Lincoln Township having arrived, the board proceeded with the same.

Bids were received from Ray Cook, McCoy & Nelson, A. G. Schnieders, Moe & Nelson, C. F. Wishard, and H. R. Maudlin.

The bid of H. R. Maudlin of Nevada, Iowa, was found to be the lowest and best and on motion he was awarded the contract and the chairman of the board was authorized and instructed to sign the same.

The notice of proposed adjustment by the State Executive Council, fixing the valuation of lands, lots and the several classes of personal property was placed before the board. Said notice proposed an increase of 13 per-cent over that as adjusted by the board of supervisors on lands. It was then moved, seconded and carried that County Supervisors E. E. Kitley and L. W. Schroeder and County Attorney R. D. Blue appear before the Executive Council of Iowa on August 15, 1927, and make protest against the proposed raise in valuation of the lands of Wright County for taxation for 1927.

The Board then adjourned to August 15, 1927.

E. E. KITLEY, Chariman.
E. M. CALLENDER,
Deputy County Auditor.

Clarion, Iowa, August 15, 1927.

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County met at the court house in Clarion, Iowa, on the above date.

Members present: James Mehl, J. C. Peterson and J. D. Baker.

On motion Supervisor James Mehl was elected chairman protem.

The minutes of August 8, 1927, were read and approved.

The following was on motion adopted:

Be it remembered that on this 15th day of August, 1927, the board of supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, met in session for the purpose of considering the estimate for the local budget of said county, which estimate was ordered filed and was filed on July 14, 1927. There was present a quorum as required by law.

Therefore, on this date said estimate was duly considered by the board. The board being fully advised finds that a date of hearing on said estimate should be fixed and it does fix the 6th day of September, A. D., 1927, at th e hour of ten o'clock a. m. of said day as the date of hearing, and said hearing to be at the court house in Clarion, Wright County, Iowa. The county auditor was directed to publish the estimate and notice of hearing as required by law in the Wright County Monitor, Eagle Grove Eagle, Belmond Independent and Dows Advocate, the official newspapers of said county. Publication to be for one insertion in each of said papers and to be at least ten days prior to the date set for hearing.

At two o'clock p. m. the time and date for hearing on the plans and contract for graveling Secondary Road District No. 39 having arrived, the board took up the same.

No objections having been filed and no objectors appeared, whereupon on motion duly made and seconded, the plans and contract as proposed for said improvement were approved.

It was moved and seconded that September 12, 1927, at two o'clock p. m. be fixed as the time for letting said improvement and notice thereof be given as required by law. Motion carried.

Board then adjourned to September 6, 1927.

E. M. CALLENDER,
Deputy County Auditor.
JAMES MEHL,
Chairman Protem

LYRIC THEATRE
Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday
SEPTEMBER 19, 20, 21
One Show Only Starting at 8 P. M.
Prices 10c and 30c

LOCAL NEWS

Howard Wolle left Friday for Sioux City, where he will spend a week or two visiting his brothers, William and Carl, and their families.

Charles Johnson, of Eagle Grove, was visiting his sons and other relatives here last week.

Supervisor James Mehl, of Norway township, was a caller in this vicinity on county business last Saturday.

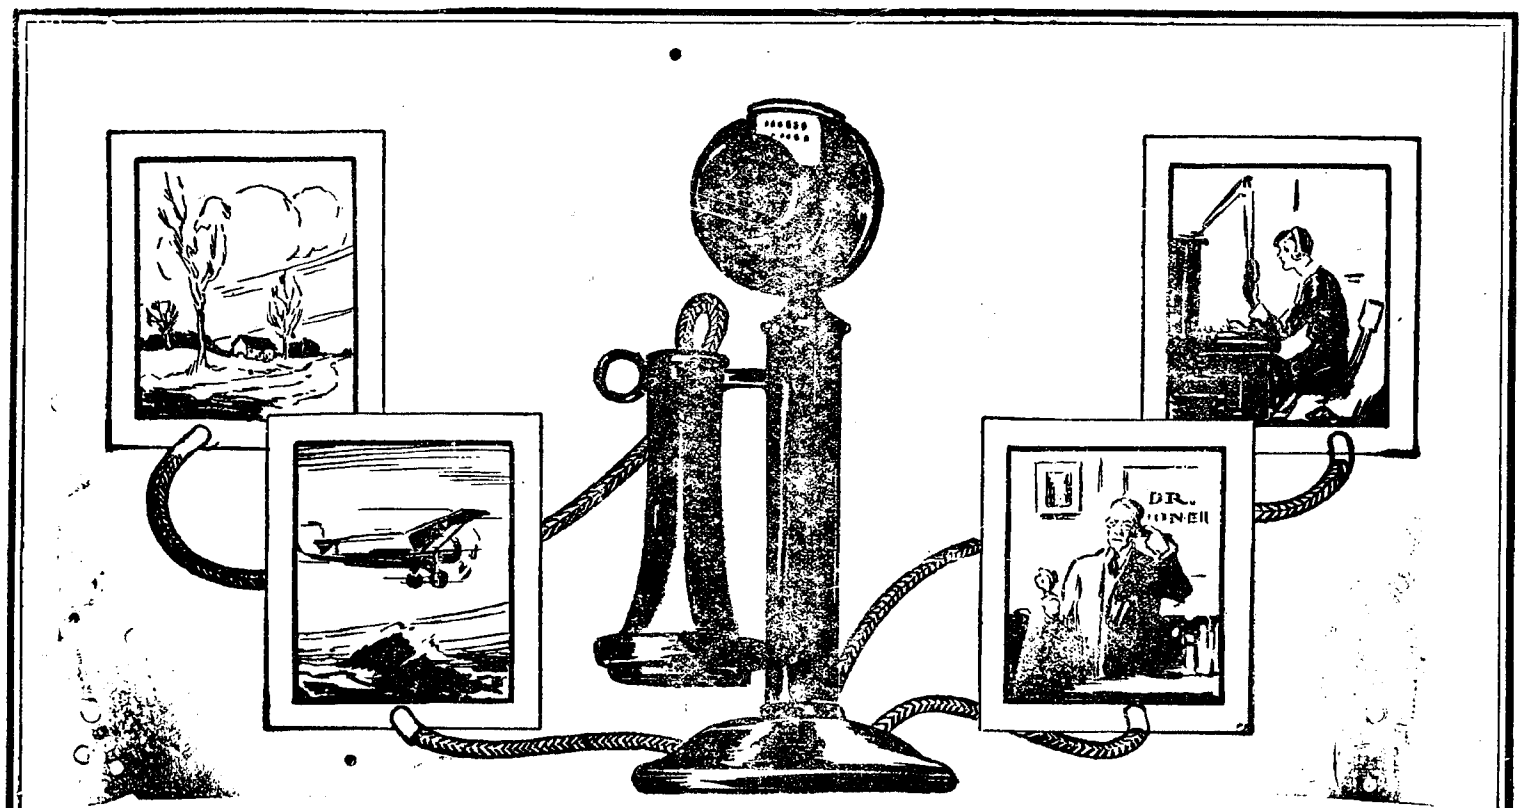
Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brewer spent Sunday with friends and relatives in Des Moines.

Miss Mary Cram, of Bismarck, North Dakota, came last week to visit at the Cram home, and with other relatives here. Geo. Hake and family drove to Austin, Minnesota to meet her.

E. J. Baker and family, Tom Carlson and family, and Geo. Norris and family composed a picnic party at West Bend, Sunday, to see the grotto.

A large delegation from Trinity and St. Olaf churches attended the Luther League convention at Bode Saturday and Sunday.

Good progress is being made on the new primary road south and north through Belmond. Another month will probably complete the grading. Concrete is being poured on the second bridge north, and the road will be ready for traffic some time this fall. Considerable comment has been made as to whether the new grade will be passable after rains unless a light coat of gravel is spread this fall, and it is reported there is a possibility that a light coat will be spread.



Your Telephone

—your tie to the rest of the world

Bringing news of your friends and neighbors—Running your messages through any kind of weather—Carrying your call to the doctor when life hangs in the balance—Gathering friends and workers together—always making life more worth-while—Surely man has but few friends so dependable, so helpful and necessary

THE Central West Public Service Company, operating in Iowa, Nebraska, North and South Dakota and Minnesota, provides telephone service for 70 cities and towns, serves 5 with gas, 1 with water and 71 with electric light and power. The present company is a result of the combining of the old Platte Valley Power and Light Company and the Central West Public Service Company under the one head as a subsidiary of The McGraw Electric Company. It consists of 147 local companies united under one management.

It is a growing company, ever working out new economies and new improvements to give better service to its customers. At the present it is experiencing considerable expansion because expansion is the road to economy in utility operation. The management wants you to know more about the company, its growth and its problems. For after all it is YOUR COMPANY. It exists to serve you with the necessities of modern life. Many of its customers are also owners of its stock, and as the company expands it is becoming more and more customer owned. It is the sincere hope of the directors of this company that you shall look upon it more and more as YOUR COMPANY.

Central West Public Service Company

A Subsidiary of The McGraw Electric Co.

MR. FEEDER!

Buying Power means Selling Power. We have a carload of

DARLING'S BEEF TANKAGE

on track. Better get your order in, as this is PRICED TO SELL QUICKLY

Our Stock of FLOUR and FEEDS is always complete. And remember we pay Highest Market Prices for GRAIN AND POULTRY

Truck Service if you want it.

Farmers Grain Company

PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!
BELMOND, - - IOWA

When Winter Comes

Even though the thermometer hovers around the 100 mark, the wise householder is thinking of the winter to come and making his preparations for the long, cold days.

Just so will the wise man and woman think of the winter of life, and begin preparations long before their declining years. Nothing can give the security and independence, and assure comfort and safety of old age like a Savings Account. Start your preparations now for the winter to come.

STATE BANK OF BELMOND
BELMOND IOWA

First—
Buick took vibration out of the engine
Now—
it has taken it out of the road

Now Buick for 1928 has come forward with another great contribution to motoring comfort. Buick has taken vibration out of the road by equipping every Buick with Hydraulic Shock Absorbers, front and rear—an added luxury that the savings of Buick volume have supplied.

Let us put a Buick for 1928 at your disposal so you may test this riding comfort for yourself.

Sedans $1195 to $1995 • Coupes $1195 to $1850
Sport Models $1195 to $1525
All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich., government tax to be added. The G. M. A. C. financing plan, the most desirable, is available.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

BUICK for 1928

WEBSTER COUNTY BUICK CO.
DISTRIBUTORS
20-24 North 9th St. Fort Dodge, Iowa

BELMOND—HUB MOTOR CO. Kanawha—Yeakel & Mallow
Clarion—Linfor Auto Co. Dows—A Banwell
Eagle Grove—Porter Auto Co.

Men Marooned

By GEORGE MARSH

Copyright by The Penn Publishing Co.
WNU Service

"All the worse for Swan, then, for I'm going to see you tomorrow morning, afternoon, and evening, Swan or no Swan. I am a masterful man and will have my way. What time tonight do I knock on the door of the Reverend Swan?" With all his eyes Garth was caressing the face which had come to him by the fire in the snow, followed him over the tundra of Akimiski, companioned his dreams. The miracle of her being here—to talk to—look at, when he had thought her south across the forests! And why had she stayed on in the dreary north?

"I think you could come up tonight." Joan's teeth flashed in an alluring smile. "I'll try to reconcile Mr. Swan to the bitter dose of your presence. He needs me here, you know—finds my experience valuable."

Removing his mitten, with a quick movement Garth slipped off the mitten of the surprised girl and took her hand. "I need you here," he said, "as well as Swan. Eight o'clock tonight!" And walked swiftly away, mad hope in his brain, his emotions out of hand.

Why had she stayed? Why had she stayed? he kept asking himself as he hurried to Cameron's house.

At supper at the Camerons' Guthrie said: "I met an old friend on the clearing tonight."

The kindly eyes of the factor's wife grew quizzical as they met the glance of her guest. "She was here when Etienne came to the kitchen and told us of your success. What did you do to that girl last September? She and I have talked a lot about you this winter."

Guthrie's heart warmed to the inference. He felt the blood in his face, and strove to cover his embarrassment with the question: "How did she come to stay and help that effigy of a man, Swan?"

Mrs. Cameron smiled. "They were dreadfully in need of some one who had training. Half the children had some ailment and Swan and his wife were at their wits' end. I suppose Joan couldn't resist the call, as her brother was to return to the bay in the spring."

"Did you meet him?" asked Garth.

"Oh, yes, they ate here several times. Very important person—the doctor!"

"Ah-h!" This from Cameron.

"What's the matter," laughed Garth. "Didn't you like him?"

"Like him? It was all I could do to keep my hands off that rooster," growled the lord of Albany. "He made a formal protest in writing to the company to the effect that he had been insulted by you and that you refused to get his stuff on Akimiski, but I told them at Moose what I thought of him."

Garth was grateful to Cameron for his omission of other details of Quarrier's charges, which he knew Joan had scornfully demolished.

"Well, Miss Quarrier is not responsible for her brother. Could I bring her over from the Mission tonight? Swan almost kicked me out in September."

"Why, of course, Major Guthrie. I was going to ask you to," said Mrs. Cameron. "The poor child has a dreary enough time with the Swans. They've been worrying about her soul, you know, because of her liberal views on religion."

After supper Garth hurried over the trail to the mission. At his knock the door was opened by the missionary.

If Garth Guthrie had been susceptible to withering looks from a reverend gentleman whose meager frame stiffened uneasily in the black cloth and clerical collar affected by Mr. Swan, he would have been embarrassed at the chilly reception extended to him when he said:

"Good evening, Mr. Swan! I have come to take Miss Quarrier over to the Camerons' for the evening."

"You, sir," indignantly replied the missionary, "have put yourself beyond the pale—have no right to the society of pure women."

Hands on hips, for a space Garth smiled good-naturedly down on the greatly excited Swan, struggling heroically with the part his conscience bade him play. Then he said quietly: "Swan, if you choose to believe the nonsense with which Qarrier has filled your peanut brain, there is no law to prevent it. But Miss Quarrier has had opportunity to judge and she doesn't believe it. She is also her own mistress and capable of determining her own actions. She is going to the Camerons' with me now. Tell her I'm here!"

The last was spoken with such cold vehemence that Reverend Swan instinctively drew back, fearing bodily harm. But the little man was stubborn. "Miss Quarrier was placed under my protection by her brother. I have a duty—"

"Oh, is that you, Mr. Guthrie?" called a feminine voice from somewhere in the building. "Just a minute! I'm putting on my coat."

"Miss Quarrier," announced the red-faced missionary, aware that the situation was swiftly slipping from his control, "I forbid you walking to the Camerons' with this man."

"Oh, Mr. Swan! You can't be really serious," said Joan, appearing in a doorway. "Mrs. Cameron expects me and I'm sure my reputation is good enough to survive the walk there with Mr. Guthrie." She was talking as one coaxes a child, and Guthrie bit his lips in an attempt to stifle a laugh.

"Miss Quarrier, you know my wishes. If you choose to disregard them—"

"Mr. Guthrie is an educated gentleman," broke in Joan, "not a cave man. I will be home by ten o'clock.

She Laughed Merrily.

Good night!" And crowding past the discomfited Swan, Joan Quarrier closed the door of the mission in his face.

"It is not difficult to tell who's commanding here," chuckled Guthrie.

"I don't like to humiliate the little man. He means well enough but if they will send weak men to work in this country, and the Oblates strong ones, like your friend, Pere Rousseau, the Indians will flock to the French."

"But Cameron tells me you've done wonders with the orphan Crees."

"Oh, yes! I've been useful to them—that's why he doesn't dare exert the authority which my honorable brother bestowed upon him. Imagine, nursing three years in France, and having Mr. Swan to guide my faltering feet!" She laughed merrily, as they swung through the stinging air of the clearing.

The man beside her was hardly aware of his moccasins touching the brittle snow, so lifted in spirits was he with the nearness of the girl whose strange decision to winter at Albany defied analysis.

"You didn't tell me this afternoon why you deceived me as to your whereabouts in your Christmas letter," he hazarded.

"If I had told you, would you have come to see me?" she asked, turning her hood and meeting his eyes with frank, impersonal gaze.

"Yes!"

"That is the reason."

"You mean you didn't want to see me?"

"I mean that you had your work to do—it would have interfered."

He walked for a space in silence, then turned to her. "You are that kind of a woman—you understand."

"I hope so."

He was thrilled by the thought that Joan Quarrier's friendship was like that. But why had she stayed? Could it be that after the photographs she had seen at Elkwan with their inscriptions, she had stayed nevertheless at Albany because—because what? He could tell her now that he was free, since his reply to Ethel's letter which went out that afternoon to Moose. But what had his freedom to do with the girl whose overshoes crunched the snow beside him?

"I would like to ask you a question," he said at length.

(Continued next week.)

The Thrilling Epic of the Devil-Dogs!

LON CHANEY in Tell it to the Marines

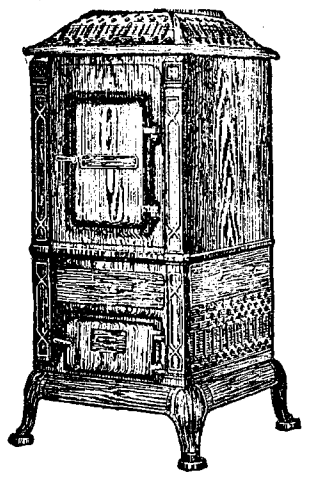
LYRIC THEATRE
Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday
SEPTEMBER 19, 20, 21
One Show Only Starting at 8 P. M.
Prices 10c and 30c

The Riverside Radiona It Broadcasts Heat

Heat Your Home the Modern Way



Install the Radiona and heat the entire house all over to an almost even temperature. It works just like a basement furnace and you save the cost of an expensive installation as well as the cost of the basement if you desire. The Radiona will do a good heating job for you and also save you money on fuel.

It will do the work of an ordinary pipeless furnace, while it will use only half as much fuel as a furnace.

It is more beautiful than any other heating system and will please you in every respect.

Price so moderate that you can not afford to be without one.

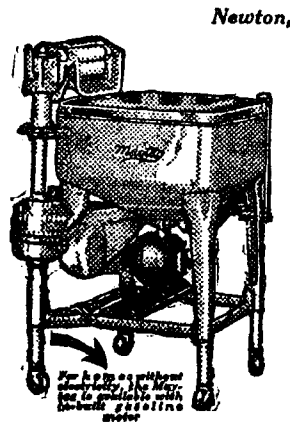
GRIESY'S

The Friendly Place
PHONE 10
BELMOND, IOWA

I want to try the MAYTAG

THOUSANDS of women have made that request. Thousands of housewives have tried the Maytag—in their own homes—on their own washings. They have seen the Maytag do an entire washing in one hour—watched as its turbulent water action washed all clothes clean without hand-rubbing. Everywhere women have proved to their own satisfaction the Maytag's unrivaled washing helpfulness.

THE MAYTAG COMPANY,
Newton, Iowa



Phone—

your Maytag dealer today. He will bring you a Maytag for a Free trial on your own washing. No obligation. If the Maytag doesn't sell itself—don't keep it.

Deferred Payments You'll Never Miss

BELMOND FURNITURE COMPANY
Belmond, Iowa

Clarion—Shupe & Son
Corwith—Ellsworth & Son
Dows—Schweiger & Oler
Eagle Grove—R. E. Roper Hdwe.
Kanawha—Judd Hdwe. Co.
Klemme—Jacobs Hdwe. Co.
Woden—Jacob-Helm Hdwe. Co.

Maytag dealers everywhere follow the standardized rule of sending a Maytag to a home to do a week's washing free, and without obligation of any kind. This is the way all Maytag Gyrafoam Washers are sold.

886

Maytag
Aluminum Washer

Gladys Nissen, the eight year old daughter of Con Nissen, fell out of a swing at school Monday and broke her leg.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wheelock, of Hartley, were guests at the C. J. Jones home last Friday. Mr. Wheelock is a brother of Mrs. Jones.

Tom Whelan and family attended a family reunion picnic at Rockford Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Dodd of Popejoy were week end guests at the F. E. Snyder and Clarence Scott homes

Albert Nolte returned Saturday from a vacation trip to Minnesota.

Stanley Hill has accepted a position in the radio department of the Southern Minnesota Motor Supply Company at Mankato.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Lalbon of Thornton were Sunday guests at the John Heuerman home. Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hafferman and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson of Storm Lake were visitors there.

Mert Pierce, of Kansas City, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Chas. Jenison and other relatives here. Mr. Pierce was a resident of Belmond many years ago, leaving here 48 years ago.

F. M. Mitchell, of near Marshalltown, was in town a few hours Tuesday visiting D. E. Packard. He was enroute to South Dakota. Mr. Mitchell, better known to older residents of Belmond as "Fanny Mitchell, was agent of the old Iowa Central here many years ago.

Donald McNulty left the first of the week for Dubuque, where he will attend Columbia College.

Miss Agnes Rikansrud of Winterset spent the first of the week with her sister, Mrs. Ralph Forristall and family, and with other relatives.

Miss Jessie Wallace left Tuesday for Cedar Falls, where she will attend the Teachers College, this year.

Miss Veron Hanson leaves today for Iowa City, wher she will enter the State University.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Robinson spent several days last week at Minneapolis.

Miss Mabel Baker left the first of the week for Cedar Falls, where she will enroll as a student at the State Normal College.

Rev. R W McFlannigan, connected with the Christian Crusaders, gave an hour's talk on the street Wednesday evening Mr. Flannigan was chaplain in the 10th Canadian brigade during the war, receiving severe wounds, which resulted in the loss of his left arm, a broken skull and jaw, and other injuries, near Albert, France, in June, 1916. He is now enroute to Rochester for an operation at the Mayo hospital.

SCHOOL NOTES

(Continued from page one.)

business meetings.

The following won Progress Pins in Palmer Method Writing last year: Mary Elizabeth Blake, Freda Peterson, Alice Nissen, Hildegarde Thorman, Rose Barry, Mariel Sullivan, Lois Leinbach, Corinne Johnson, Mona Schmidt, Amelia Greenlander, Milded VanBuskirk, Christina Groen, and Lola Bergefer. The following won Merit Buttons: Alice McMannas, Aileen Gibbs, Golden McNicoll, Velma Brewer, Leona Halfpop, Duan Packard, Esther Kemp, Arthur Dorr and Raymond Hill. These pins should have been awarded last June, but due to the fact that there was a delay in sending them, they were just given out this week.

Felts

The "Hat-of-the-Hour"
in
Black and Colors
None over $5.00

A complete line of
Silk and Velvet Hats
Both Patterns and the Cheaper Ones

First Showing of the Fall Dresses
from
D. K. LUNDBERG & CO.

The Hat Shoppe
Belmond, Iowa

COURT HOUSE NOTES

A. P. McGregor of Des Moines has filed suit against T. A. Davenport of Belmond, president and manager of the Belmond Telephone Co., in which the plaintiff asks $25,000 damages for alleged failure of defendant to carry out the terms of a certain option

Said alleged option in substance gave the plaintiff—"an option to buy the stock of the Belmond Telephone Co., at a stated price of $250,000.00 for sixty days from date of acceptance of the option for the sum of $200. If the stock is bought the $200 to be applied on the purchase price; if not bought the $200 to be forfeited. This option must be accepted on or before June 15, and is not binding until the $200 is paid. $1.00 paid on the option, balance to be paid at Belmond Savings Bank."

Plaintiff states in his petition that on June 15 he tendered $199.00 to defendant in currency, which tender was refused by defendant; that because of the alleged breach of said option the plaintiff asks judgment in the above amount.

A $300.00 suit for damage to his automobile has been filed by W. J. Wray of Clarion against Hugh Whitten and his son Kenneth of Rowan. The accident complained of occurred on No. 10, six miles east of Clarion on the evening of May 5th. Plaintiff alleges that Kenneth Whitten while driving a Chevrolet, attempted to pass a car directly ahead of him and going in the same direction, and that in so doing he steered his car into the car of the plaintiff, who was approaching from the opposite direction on the right side of the road; that the force of the collision so broke and demolished the car of plaintiff as to be of no value; that a fair value prior to the accident was $300; that its value after the collision was nothing; that the damage resulted from negligence of the defendant in the driving and handling of his car, in that he turned into the path of the defendant's car without observing the presence of approaching cars; that at the time of the accident it was night time and that his lights were turned on plaintly visible for a considerable distance.

L. Carter of Goldfield was arrested Friday on a liquor charge. He had been to Fort Dodge, where he purchased a gallon of moonshine, which was contained in fruit jars and found in the rear of his Dodge touring car. When Carter appeared in Eagle Grove in an intoxicated condition Marshal Reynolds took him in charge, later turning him over to Sherif Johnson and Deputy Leonard, who brought the defendant to Clarion and placed him in the county jail. Carter entered a plea of guilty in Judge Garfield's court Monday at Boone. He was sentenced to serve sixty days in the county jail, and pay a $500 fine and $50 attorney fee.

Ray Call of Belmond was placed in the county jail Friday night on a bootleg charge. Four half pints of alcohol were found in his possession after officers had purchased a quantity of liquor from the defendant. Belmond officers, Thos. Finn and John Dempsey, assisted the sheriff's office in effecting the capture of Call, who had been a resident of that town only a week. He formerly resided at Klemme. Monday Call was taken before Judge Garfield at Boone where he pled guilty to a bootleg charge. He was fined $300 and given a three month's sentence in the county jail.—Monitor.

FOR RENT—4 room apartment, heated. Call Robinson Store.

Lyric Theatre
...Geo. Hake, Manager...

SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS

FRIDAY and SATURDAY
SEPTEMBER 16 and 17

"Silver Comes Through"

F. B. O. picture with Fred Thomson and his horse, Silver King.
"LOVE MY DOG"
Our Gang comedy
10c and 25c

MONDAY, TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY
SEPTEMBER 19, 20, 21

"Tell It To the Marines"

Metro Goldwyn production with Lon Chaney, Eleanor Boardman, Wm. Haines, Eddie Gribbon Carmel Myers, Warner Oland, Mitchell Lewis. A picture of life in the Marine Corps. The story of the human loves, tragedies and ideals of those whom the world knows as "First to Fight" Regular Marines in their regular work, are actors in this mighty epic of Uncle Sam's sea soldiers.
Fox News
10c and 30c

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 22

"Marriage License"

Fox picture with Alma Rubens, Walter McGrail, Richard Walling, Walter Pidgeon, Chas. Lane, Emily Fitzroy. The story of a girl who marries into an aristocratic family and they refuse to recognize her.
"HER SILENT WOW"
Fox comedy
10c and 25c

The
FOSS CLEANING SHOP

Is now open for business and solicits a share of your

CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING

Located West of the Foss Shoe Shop

All Work Guaranteed

We will appreciate your Trial Offer

FOSS CLEANING SHOP
Louis Foss, Prop.
Phone 70 Belmond, Iowa

ROBINSONS ...STORE...

BAKERY
GROCERY

Not something for nothing but the most that money can buy of good quality. If you need new Bed Blankets buy $5.00 in groceries and pay 99c. See our window. Get a ticket.

Bean Hole Beans, medium sized 2 cans for 25c
Oranges, per dozen 25c
2 1-lb. cakes honey 35c
We still have Peaberry coffee at 30c
6 inch pies 10c
8 inch pies 20c
A full line of cookies, 2 dozen, 25c

CITY MARKET'S SPECIALS!

Friday - Saturday
September 16-17

Hamburger, per pound 15c
Bologna per pound 15c
Liver Sausage Per Lb. 15c

Watermelon On Ice

Watch for Our Specials Every Week!

Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning

City Meat Market
Nissen Bros. Props.
Phone 207. Belmond, Idwa

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Spring Boars Roy Jenison. Phone 1911. 43tf

FOR SALE—Piano. $50 cash required. For further particulars write "A", care of Independent. 443c

FOR SALE—One Chester White boar and one Poland China boar, both one year old. Phone 1616.—John Halfpop.

FOR SALE—My flock of 50 White Rock chickens, hatched March 28. From 150-egg strain trapnested birds. 75c each.—E. E. Sulivan. 1c

FOR SALE—Woven rugs, well made. Different colors and sizes. I still sew carpet rags.—Mrs. Pennell.

FOR SALE—At once, all my household goods, as I am moving to California. Call at residence, 2 blocks north of Hub Motor Co.—M. E. Sullivan. 1c

FOR RENT—Private garage. Inquire of Lois Morse. 1*

FOR RENT—Chicken and truck farm, consisting of 5-room house and 9 lots, with hog house, cow barn, chicken house, garage. Large strawberry bed. Edge of town. $18 a month. Write Mrs. Wm. Leonard, Swaledale, Iowa. 423*

WANTED—To buy modern, medium-sized house in Belmond, to take possession March 1, 1928. Write X Y Z, care of Independent. 1*

WANTED — Light housekeeping rooms, heated. Inquire at Independent. 1c

Found!

WELL, we've finally
LOCATED the perfect
HUSBAND—he lives right
HERE in Belmond
AND you probably know
HIM—the reason we KNOW he is perfect is BECAUSE his wife told
US the other day that
HE had taught her how
TO drive their car
AND that he never once
SPOKE crossly to her!
HONESTLY we think we OUGHT to get the band
OUT and give him a
PARADE or something!
BUT next to perfect
HUSBANDS the next
SCARCEST thing, we think,
IS a real good
FOUNTAIN Pen;
THERE are plenty of
IMITATIONS but to our WAY of thinking you
DON'T get the best
UNTL you find a
PARKER—then you
CAN bet your bottom
DOLLAR that you've
FOUND the biggest fountain pen
VALUE on the market.
TRY the Drug Store First!

Herman L. Schultz

SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

BUMP GROCERY'S

SPECIALS!

For Friday and Saturday
SEPTEMBER 16-17

Come In And Buy Your Week's Supply

SUGAR, Pure Granulated White, 100 lbs. ... $6.42
FLOUR, Mother's Best, 49 lb. sack ... 2.19
SARDINES, in Oil, 4 cans for ... .25
CORN, Vinton Brand, Tall cans, 2 for ... .25
SALMON, Tall can Pink, Each ... .19
COCOA, 2 lb. box, each ... .19
COFFEE, High Grade Comrade Brand, lb. ... .49

Bring Us Your Eggs—Highest Prices Paid, Cash or Trade

We Sell for Cash—and Sell For Less!

THE BUMP GROCERY
PHONE 38 BELMOND, IOWA

Kinseth's Store News

Pretty warm this week, but we need it for the corn crop, so we shouldn't growl about the heat. It's the first ti me for quite a while, tho, that it hasn't rained the first week of school. Usually you can depend on a rain when school starts.

Speaking of school reminds us that you can get most anything for the school lunch at our store. All kinds of fruits—some dandy fresh fruit coming in this week—cookies, olives, cheese, and the like.

Peaches in boxes, Fresh Prunes in boxes, this week.

49c buys a good broom.

Grapes in baskets, fresh and juicy.

As a little Special this week we are offering a 12-quart galvanized pail with wood handle, regular 50c sellers, while they last at 38c. Get yours early.

We are starting to "clean up" the town, and have a ton of Hard Water Toilet Soap which we are selling at 4 bars for 19c. Here's a real buy, folks.

Stop at The Store on the Corner. It means more money for gas thru your savings.

WISH WE HAD BOUGHT AN
ATWATER KENT RADIO
INSTEAD

How often we have heard this. Why? Reliability - Service - Performance.

Atwater Kent Service is no further away than your telephone. 46 is the number.

Less than $5.00 has been spent for repairs by Atwater Kent radio owners on all the Atwater Kent sets and speakers we have sold during the last five years.

Does that mean anything to you, as a prospective radio owner? Think it over.

Belmond Storage Battery Company
Phone 46 J. W. SCOTT, Prop. Willard Station 2417

Belmond Independent

ESTABLISHED 1919 — AND HERALD-PRESS — CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 8 — BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1927 — NO. 45

First Game Of Football Tomorrow

Belmond High School Meets Clarion High School On Belmond Field

GAME CALLED AT 4 P. M.

The High School football season will open Friday afternoon when the local team clashes with the boys from Clarion. Coach Hall has had as high as 38 boys out for the squad and believes from this bunch he will be able to work out a combination that will be able to make things lively for the county seat boys Friday afternoon. Among the squad are eight lettermen from last year. According to the scrap some of the new candidates are putting up, a few of the lettermen are being pushed to hold their jobs. Coach Hall has been trying out various combinations to get a smooth working machine. As yet no definite positions have been assigned as it will take some real competition to see how the boys will hold up under fire. One encouraging feature of the work-outs this year has been the friendly rivalry for positions. With no positions cinched and a big squad to draw from, everyone has forgotten everything but football on the field. Coach Hall has been very fortunate in having Dr. Coe assist him in drilling the large squad. Between them they have been able to divide the squad and keep everybody busy.

Lineup Not Chosen Yet

Although no definite lineup has been announced for the game, from the looks of the squad in practice. Schultz and Gordon Kessler have been holding the ends most of the time, with Bob Fetrow and Hoyt Klemme in reserve. At the tackles Harley Tomlinson, Albert Rabe, and Randall Kleme have been alternating. At the guards several new boys are being tried out. Dempsey, Neuhring, Don Baker, Jesse Tomlinson, and Harris Johnson have all been fighting for the positions, with the first two showing up good in practice. Pech has been at center most of the time with Moe and Trees in reserve. With a little more accuracy in geting the ball back Pech will be a valuable man in the center of the line. In the backfield Captain Paul McNulty has been showing up good at quarterback. With his speed and shiftiness Paul will cause lots of trouble for his opponents this fall. His pep will also go a long ways in keeping the team up to fighting pitch. Henry Johnson has been looking good in his old position at halfback. Chapman and John Baker have been used at the other backfield positions most of the time. Petersons has had a whirl at quarter and looks like a comer. Ed McNulty, Elder and Boughton have also been serving behind the line. Among the other boys who are reporting for practice are Frohling, Dippel, Dale and Dayton Kessler, Herb Fetrow, Brady, Quinlan and Eccles.

Coach Kennedy of Clarion has only two lettermen from last year's squad, McGrath and Nagle. These two boys in themselves go a long ways in making a team. The local boys are not expecting to meet a weak team from Clarion, by any means, and know they will have to exert themselves to the limit.

While the local boys are not claiming a victory, they all realize they have a chance in this game, and will go into the game with hopes running high.

The game is called at 4 o'clock. If the pep among the student body is any evidence, there should be lots of excitement Friday afternoon. A big crowd is expected to follow the Clarion team over here.

OBITUARY

Henry Johnson was born in Sweden, Oct. 10, 1848, and died at the home of his son, Wm. Johnson in Belmond, Iowa, Sept. 12, 1927, aged 78 years, 11 months, 2 days.

He came to America when he was 18 years old and worked for one year in the iron mines in Michigan. He then came to Fort Dodge, Iowa, and engaged in bridge construction for a year when he moved to Ackley and worked on the section for a time and later was an apprentice at a brick factory for two or three years.

When he moved to Belmond he engaged in farming and afterwards established a brick yard in Franklin Grove. This he operated for a number of years when he again returned to farming for the rest of his active life.

Mr. Johnson moved to town 17 years ago and this has been his home since. He has been in poor health for the past five or six years and several times it was thought that he could not live.

He was married to Helen Johnson in the spring of 1873 and to this union twelve children were born of whom seven are still living, Wm. and Fred of Belmond, Mrs. Lillian Pocheike of Crystal Springs, North Dakota, Geo., Howard and Harold of Belmond and Mrs. Helen Schlatter of Wickerson, Kansas. He also leaves thirteen grandchildren and two great grand children.

Mr. Johnson joined the Congregational Church in Belmond about thirty years ago and was ready to do all that he could for the advancement of the Kingdom of God.

He ws a man whose word was his bond and he ever tried to live a life in keeping with the teachings of the Bible. He rests from his labors and his works follow him.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy in our bereavement, and for the floral offerings.

The Johnson children.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Malvin of Rochester, Minn., came Sunday to visit Mr. Malvin's mother, Mrs. Ellen Schultz, and his sister, Mrs. R. C. Morse. Enroute here they were in an auto accident, but no one was injured, fortunately. Upon their arrival here they found a telegram calling them back to Rochester, their daughter having been taken seriously ill. They started home an hour or two after arriving in Belmond.

J. P. BYERS

John Paul Byers was born at Galena, Jo Davis County, Illinois, January 30, 1843 and passed away at his home in Belmond, Iowa, September 13, 1927.

He is survived by two sons and one daughter, six grandchildren, one sister and a niece. J. R. Byers of Everett, Washington, Guy at home and Mrs. Bessie Klein of Snohomish, Washington; the sister, Mrs. Alice Hall of Chicago, Illinois, and niece, Mrs. Florence Cady, of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Mr. Byers was married to Lura F. Harwood at Belmond, Iowa, on Sept. 24, 1871.

Mr. Byers enrolled in Company D. 27th Regiment of Iowa Infantry Volunteers on the 21st day of Aug., 1862, to serve three years during the war. He was discharged from the service as a corporal in Co. D. 27th Iowa Infantry of the U. S. the 8th day of August, 1865, at Clinton, Iowa, by reasons of Gen. Orders No. 96, dated at the Headquarters Dept. of the Gulf, June 26, 1865, in accordance with instructions from War Dept., May 29, 1865. Or according to the G. A. R. records which are deposited in our Public Library, "Cause of discharge, SERVICES NO LONGER NEEDED."

He was engaged in the following battles: the capture of Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 10, '63; Ft. DeRapsey, La., March 14, '64; Battle of Pleasant Hill, La., April 9, '64; Battle of Old Oak, La., May 18, '64; Battle of Lake Chicot, Ark., June 6, '64; Battle of Tupelo, Miss., July 14, '64; Battle of Old Town Creek, Miss., July 16, '64; Battle of Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 15, '64; and the Siege and Capture of Ft. Blaksly, Ala., April 9, 1865.

One of the significant things about Mr. Byers' war record was that he never lost a day from active service on account of sickness.

Mr. Byers joined the Masonic Lodge at Clermont, Iowa, and transferred his membership to King Solomon Lodge A. F. and A. M. on February 18, 1870. He served as Worshipful Master for one year and as Senior Deacon for 15 years.

He came to Belmond in 1869 and engaged in the harness business for about a quarter of a century when he sold out and retired from active business. He served this community as Justice of the Peace for many years, which office he filled with honor and justice to all. He was especially interested in the music of the community, being a member of the band and of the Methodist Church Choir.

Mr. Byers was a man of high ideals and much of his philosophy of life was given out in his conversations with his friends. "I have no time for a man who denies there is a God. Just because a man cannot understand is no reason for denying the existence of a Supreme Being." In regard to the life hereafter, which he believed in with all his heart and soul, he said that a man must undergo a change here, he must be born again in order to be fitted to enter the presence of God and His holy angels.

Uncle John Byers was a great character, honest, upright in his dealings with his fellow men: ever endeavoring to live a life that would be an honor to himself, his community and God.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon, Sept. 16, at the Methodist church, Rev. J. F. Snyder, pastor, and Rev. S. U. Leinbach officiating. Rev. Leinbach preached the sermon. The funeral was in charge of the Masonic Lodge, and the American Legion, who furnished the military honors. Burial was in Franklin Grove Cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation and thanks to the Masonic Lodge, the American Legion, the friends and neighbors for their kindness and help in our hour of need. We also very much appreciate the respect manifested by the closing of the business houses.

John Raoul Byers and wife
Bessie Byers Klein and husband
Guy Joseph Byers
Mrs. Allie Kahl
Mrs. T. L. Cady

Departing

Meservey, Coulter Winners Sunday

Coulter-Goodell Game Is Crammed With Thrills

Meservey defeated Belmond 11 to 2, and Coulter won from Goodell, 15 to 11, in the first round of the base ball tournament held here Sunday. The winning teams, Meservey and Coulter, were to have played the final, Monday, but the game was postponed on account of rain.

In the first game Sunday, Meservey easily walked away with the victory. The visitors had gathered together a snappy aggregation for the occasion, and with a Hampton pitcher performing, held the Belmond team down all the way.

Goodell and Coulter furnished the excitement and thrills for the afternoon. Scoring four runs in the first inning, Goodell apparently had the game sewed up, holding Coulter to two runs and piling up a lead of 8 to 2 at the sixth inning. In that frame, there was more base ball excitement in one inning than has ever been demonstrated in any game played in Belmond. Years ago in a tournament, Belmond scored 11 runs in one inning against Clarion, which was the record until last Sunday when the Coulter nine went crazy and with a barrage of hits which included everything in the list changed the six-run lead against them to a seven-run lead in their favor, scoring 13 runs before three men were finally put out. It was a terrific slaughter, which included a home run with the bases loaded. Hamilton, Goodell pitcher, was finally removed and Clark went in the box. Clark was as wild as a flock of ducks, but his team mates finally ended the inning.

The cloudburst of runs was totally unexpected by the fans, and created intense excitement. Goodell has been a consistent winner all season, playing excellent brand of ball, and has one of the best teams in this section. The game was doped to be a close one, hard fought thruout, as these two teams have met several times before this season with the winners barely nosing out.

Hamilton pitched nice ball until the fatal sixth when he blew up. Coulter's pitcher who started the game was wild as a bat, and walked several men. He was removed and Damm went in, Damm throwing a consistent game thruout.

An incident of the game which came near being tragic occured when Andy Lamb, a spectator, was hit in the head with a thrown ball. A Coulter pitcher warming up on the side lines overthrew to the player catching him, the ball striking Lamb on the side of the temple. Lamb was knocked unconscious, and after being taken home it was found he had a severe concussion of the brain from the blow. Monday he was unconscious most of the day, but at last reports he is gradually recovering and it is thought no permanent effects will result. He is still bedfast, suffering severe pain.

P. T. A. ENTERTAIN

The P. T. A. entertained in honor of the teachers in our school Friday evening. A program of unusual merit was given, some of our college young people participating.

Receptions are apt to dull, but this was a different party. It proved to be a jolly informal evening. The program committee will have something interesting for the next meeting. Plan to be there.

Light refreshments were served.

If you want to hear the big fight direct from the ringside, tune your radio in tonight to W H O. The fight will start at 9 p. m., but may be set ahead one hour so be "on the air" by eight to make certain.

Literary Society Of High School Meets

New Officers Elected For Ensuing School Year

The Belmond High School Literary Society held a business meeting last Friday afternoon. The secretary read the Roll Call by divisions and the new members of the society learned in which division they belonged. The president also read the Constitution and By-Laws for the benefit of the freshment and other new members. This being the first meeting of the year, it was also the first time that the new officers, elected last spring, had presided.

Those officers are:

Leonard Johnson—President
Walter Schleiffarth—Vice president
Helen Luick—Secretary
Harriet Martin—Treasurer
Vincent Barry — Sergeant-at-Arms
Miss Murtagh—Critic

Miss Thomas appointed the faculty advisors, Miss Knudson and Miss Pfarr for Division 1, Miss Devine and Mrs. Gibbs for Division 2.

After the regular business meeting the two divisions met separately to choose their program committees for the year. The following were elected:

Div. 1—Mildred Jacbson—Chairman, Paul McNulty, Joe Tiara

Div. 2—Marcella Leavy—Chairma, Richard Gowdy, Randall Klemme

Last week, all four of the high school classes met and selected their class advisors and class officers. The following were chosen:

Seniors:
Class Advisor—Miss Thomas
President—Margaret Leavy
Vive preident—Vernie McLaughlin
Sec.-Treas.—Thelma Rikansrud

Juniors:
Class Advisor—Miss McGough
President—Irene Dorr
Vice President—Marie Barry
Sec.-Treas.—Velva Sturdevant

Sophomores:
Class Advisor—Mr. Shepherd
President—Lois Hake
Vice. President—Winifred Reese
Sec.-Treas.—Dayton Kessler

Freshmen:
Class Advisor—Mr. Hall
President—Aileen Gibbs
Vice President—Hoyt Klemme
Sec.-Treas.—Ronald Schultz

JUNIOR HIGH NOTES

The eighth grade held their first meeting last week. The officers for this semester are, Amelia Greenlander, president and Harold McGuire secretary.

Francis Trees who has been ill for the last two weeks is back to school again.

Our Junior High came second in winning the Parent Teachers penant, Miss Barry's room came first. Carol Jacobson had the most guests under her name. We have made a firm resolution not to let Miss Barry's room have it so often this year.

Maxine Nordschow has brought for exhibit in Junior High Assembly room, two beautiful butterflies, that she has mounted herself.

The Healthy Wealthy Club held a meeting Tuesday and voted to carry on our club again this year. We have the same name but the Healthy part will be changed to brushing our teeth, instead of drinking tea and coffee. The officers for this Club are: Arthur Dorr, president, and Lois Leinbach, secretary. We have also decided to let the seventh grade join us this year.

Our first Assembly will be held Thursday, September 22. Our president of the club is going to ask Mr. Courson to speak to us. Everybody welcome.

The September hot weather was broken last Thursday by a good rain, and since Saturday it has been chilly enough that a little fire has been comfortable. No killing frost has arrived so far, however.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

On or about February 29, 1924, Wylie and Grace McVicker executed a certain promissory note and mortgage in favor of Citizens State bank of Eagle Grove in the sum of $2500. Later the note was sold to Carrie Borway, who now comes into court for the purpose of enforcing payment of same, which is now past due. Plaintiff further alleges that the defendants did on August 23, 1926, by order of court, convey by warranty deed to receiver for the above bank, the property held as security for the $2500 loan. Wherefore plaintiff asks judgment against said receiver in the sum of $2734.72 and $75.85 costs.

Showers Bros., of Bloomington, Ind., have filed suit against Middleton Music House of Eagle Grove to collect a balance of $159 alleged to be due on account.

In mentioning the insanity case of Mrs. Ole Carlson of Norway township in these notes a few weeks ago in which Milford Mehl was plaintiff, it was stated that the defendant was released, whereas the commisisoners voted to continue the case until further notice. From the fact that winesses appeared on both sides and conflicting stories were in circulation our reporter assumed the affair to be the outcome of a neighborhood row. In this we were mistaken and in talking with reliable citizens learn that the whole matter has been fixed up to the satisfaction of all concerned. We regret that such a misstatement should have occurred.

Angie and J. M. Bennett of Goldfield are named as defendants in a suit brought by receiver for the State Savings bank of Goldfield to collect the sum of $5095.55, alleged to be due on their $4500 promissory note dated August 25, 1924, in the sum of $4500.

John Jordan and Frank Hafferman, referees in the Stadtlander estate, petition the court for the return by the treasurer of state the sum of $506, said sum being erroneously collected as inheritance tax.

Illinois Merchants Trust Co. vs Geo. H. and Blanche Martin et al of Eagle Grove is suit asking the foreclosure of three mortgages, as follows: $8531.60, $8536.60, $8531.-60, totaling the sum of $25,599.80.

County Attorney Blue of Eagle Grove now comes to the county seat in a brand new Chevrolet coach.

The Commercial Building and Securities Co., of Des Moines brings action against C. L. and Elizabeth Richardson, asking judgment on their past due note for $1175 and costs, also the foreclosure of a mortgage on certain Wright county rea. estate.

Nancy Baines vs. John E. Baines of Dows is a divorce action based on alleged cruel and inhuman treatment.

Albert State of Clarion brings action against Maye State in which plaintiff asks that the bonds of matrimony be dissolved.

Stella Pohlman of Eagle Grove charges that her husband Clarence Pohlman has wilfully deserted her; that he has subjected plaintiff to cruel and inhuman treatment; wherefor she asks that she may be divorced from defendant.

Jack Vest, who was arrested on an intoxication charge at Lake Cornelia by Deputy Kirkpatrick, was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail.

Chas. Ward was arrested Monday night on the charge of driving a car while intoxicated. He will have a hearing later.—Monitor.

OBITUARY

Mrs. C. M. Johnson, nee Alice Hanson, was born at Ringsaker, Norway, October 9th, 1854. At the age of 12 she emigrated with her folks to the United States, settling in the vicinity of LaCrosse, Wis. In 1869 the family again moved to what is known as Hickory Grove, about five miles north west of Belmond. On March 16, 1874 she was married to Mr. C. M. Johnson. After a residence of 34 years on their farm, during which they experienced the toils and wants of pioneer life, they moved to Belmond in the year 1908. Four years later the husband died.

Mrs. Johnson had been failing in health the last year or more. The last sickness, Eneuritis, which caused her death, lasted less than five days. In her trials she sought the comfort of her Bible, and was seen at the regular worship and prayer meetings as often as her health and strength would permit. Her character can best be expressed in the prayer of the disciples, "Abide with us, for it is towards evening and the day is far spent."

Mourning her departure are her three children, George C., Herman C., and Miss Minnie, three grandchildren, Alpha, Luther and Herschel, three brothers, Hans, Ole, and John Hanson, all of Belmond and vicinity, and one sister, Mrs. O. T. Rikansrud of Kanawha.

Funeral services were held at Trinity Church at one o'clock, and at St. Olaf Church at 2:30. Rev. B. Guldseth officiated, assisted by Rev. H. C. Holm of Eagle Grove, who for many years was pastor of the deceased.

Among the many floral tokens were bequests sent to Missions and Charity by the Dorcas Society of Trinity congregation, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Austad, Mr. and Mrs. John Hulberg and Mrs. A. F. Korshund of Eagle Grove.

Interment was made in the St. Olaf Cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

To our neighbors and many friends who assisted us in so many ways during the illness and death of our beloved mother, and for the sympathy evidenced in the floral tokens, and words of comfort spoken, we wish to give a sincere thanks.

George C. Johnson
Herman C. Johnson
Miss Minnie Johnson

Over One Hundred New Cases Filed

Fall Term Of Court Will Be Busy One After Long Summer Vacation

BELMOND 'LEGGER IS UP

Over one hundred new cases had been filed by the last day of the statutory limit, for the consideration of the first fall term of the district court which will convene beginning Monday, September 26th. Judge Garfield of Ames will preside at this term which promises to be a busy one following the long vacation of the summer months. The grand jury will meet on the opening day of the court but the petit jurors are not required to report until Monday, October 3, at 1:30 P. M.

Hans J. Lenning asks the sum of $416, in a petition filed, from the Fort Dodge Mineral Feed Co., an alleged ficticious or trade name under which J. R. McDonald, is transacting business, and John Sampson his employee. Plaintiff cites as cause for action that about July 1926 Sampon as agent for McDonald administered worm capsules to 150 head of the plaintiff's hogs, alleging that said capsules were improperly administered and allowed to lodge in the throas of said animals resulting in the death of 34 head and the apparent weakening of many others.

Belmond Auto Co., brings action against Jesse Hartwig, to recover on two promissory notes in a total sum of $741.91, alleged to be past due.

H. C. Downing names M. C. Fairbanks and J. Fairbanks defendants in a suit to collect $133.61 alleged to be due on a note given by defendants.

Judgment is demanded by Edna Atwood Davis against Edith Bond Norris and H. R. Norris for $2,422.66 due on a promissory note, and that mortgage to secure same be foreclosed and property sold to satisfy.

County Attorney Robert D. Blue for the State of Iowa asks that an injunction be issued restraining Roy Van Arsdale from selling or keeping intoxicating liquors.

L. P. Anderson of Eagle Grove seeks absolute divorce from Frances Anderson, his wife, on grounds of adultery, and that custody of the two children, four and one year old, be given to parents of defendant.

Mary Henneberry, as executrix of the estate of J. W. Henneberry seeks judgment against Dr. Gorge Brown in the sum of $102.10 as balance due deceased attorney for legal services in connection with a case before the Federal Court at Fort Dodge in which Dr. Brown was named defendant by the U. S. Government.

Wm. Pappas and Madge Pappas his wife, enter confession of judgment in favor of John Cazanas in the sum of $1,946.00, plaintiff agreeing that no execution should issue for a period of two years.

Lida Thayer, resident of Belmond seeks divorce from her husband John Thayer, whom she married in January 1914, claiming abusive treatment. Plaintiff also asks custody of their four sons and three daughters.

Injunction is sought by County Attorney Blue, restraining Ray Kahl and Kelly Lowden of Belmond, from keeping or selling intoxicating liquors.

Ransom Bernard of Clarion names Grant and Mrs. Grant Whipple defendants in action to collect sum of $89.50 claimed due for medical services.—Monitor.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Co-operative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of Sept. 11 to Sept. 17

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
11	97	66	—	Clear
12	98	70	—	Clear
13	96	70	—	Clear
14	97	71	—	Clear
15	94	66	.43	Pt. cloudy
16	84	65	.10	Pt. cloudy
17	93	65	.67	Pt. cloudy

Bohning & Co. will have an interesting window display the latter part of this week, consisting of various articles, clothing, rugs, shawls, etc., brought home from India by Howard Wolle. The exhibit will be well worth inspecting.

Belmond Independent
AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES
Display, per column inch -------25c
Locals, per line ----------10c
Classified, per word ----------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

WEATHER COMPARISON THE PAST 17 YEARS

Thru the courtesy of H. F. Luick, government cooperative observer, The Independent presents the following highly interesting tables and statistics. Read them over; you will find some very interesting figures. For instance, 1923 had the earliest killing frost for the 17-year period, Sept. 14, and 1914, the latest, Oct. 25. Save this copy of the paper and you will have a record to which you can refer in later years.

Mr. Luick says:

The study of the Weather Records for the past 17 years is interesting in many respects, especially in regards to the effect of rainfall, length of growing season, etc., on the crop yields. As corn is the major cash crop of Wright county, the following figures possibly will throw some light on the influence of the weather.

Growing Season

Year	Last killing spring frost	First killing fall frost	Length growing season (Days)
1910	May 13	Oct. 22	162
1911	May 4	Oct. 20	169
1912	May 17	Sept. 26	132
1913	Apr. 28	Sept. 22	147
1914	Apr. 20	Oct. 25	188
1915	May 9	Oct. 5	149
1916	May 2	Sept. 17	138
1917	May 7	Oct. 6	152
1918	May 14	Sept. 20	129
1919	Apr. 26	Oct. 11	168
1920	May 14	Oct. 1	139
1921	May 16	Oct. 4	141
1922	Apr. 29	Oct. 12	163
1923	May 17	Sept. 14	120
1924	May 24	Sept. 30	129
1925	May 25	Oct. 10	138
1926	May 14	Sept. 25	134
1927	May 5	? ? ?	? ? ?

Average—147 days

If law of averages holds true, the growing season for 1927 should end Sept. 29th.

Relationship of Rainfall of Growing Season to the Annual Rainfall

Year	Rainfall May 1st-Sept. 30 Normal 20.87 inches	Annual precipitation Normal 33.53 inches
1910	15.12	20.09
1911	15.98	28.58
1912	19.66	29.68
1913	16.17	27.81
1914	24.03	35.53
1915	27.92	40.57
1916	22.36	37.47
1917	17.67	28.49
1918	29.02	42.58
1919	18.99	37.40
1920	22.34	37.59
1921	20.06	29.82
1922	8.53	21.35
1923	23.02	30.74
1924	20.83	33.80
1925	25.56	33.66
1926	21.47	28.41
1927	15.58 to date	? ? ?

Corn Yield Per Acre as Given By The Iowa Weather and Crop Bureau for Wright County

Year	Yield per acre
1910	Report missing
1911	31
1912	47
1913	40
1914	43
1915	Report missing
1916	35
1917	39
1918	37
1919	41
1920	Report missing
1921	39
1922	43
1923	40
1924	29
1925	Report missing
1926	36

September Weather 1927 compared With Other Septembers

Average maximum temperatures other Septembers

1910	70.8
1911	77.6
1912	70.0
1913	75.5
1914	76.3
1915	72.0
1916	73.0
1917	72.1
1918	70.8
1919	78.8
1920	77.3
1921	77.3
1922	79.6
1923	75.6
1924	69.8
1925	79.8
1926	70.7
1927	91.3 to date

TO WASH SILK OR RAYON

Make a suds of mild soap flakes in luke warm water. Squeeze the garments in this, but do not rub or twist them. Rinse thoroughly. Pull into shape, especially pull lengthwise. Dry between the folds of a soft cloth. Press with a warm iron, never a hot one.

FREE AIR!

We don't know which to get the most excited about this week, the prize fight tonight, or the football game tomorrow. Both ought to be interesting. The boxing fan will tell you football is too brutal, too rough, and the football enthusiast will say that boxing is degrading, and cruel.

* * * *

There's a lot of shekels paid out to see 'em both, just the same. With the tiff this evening, a lot of folks have paid $40 for a place to sit where they can see thru a pair of $20 spyglasses. And if there's any dispute, the fellow who occupied a seat two train-lengths from the ringside will be able to tell all about it, because he was there, and saw it happen.

* * * *

A ringside seat alongside a good radio set tuned in on W H O will not only save you a bunch of coin, but you'll be able to "see" the fight just as well as from one of those $40 seats on the edge of Ohio.

* * * *

Tomorrow our high school lads tangle with the lawyers from the county seat. Thirty-five cents will buy you as much fun and excitement as $35 will in Chicago, and you won't need a field glass either. If some of our men get laid out, we've arranged to put knickers on Doc Coe and slip him in the line. Doc, you know, messed around considerably with football down at Ames last year.

* * * *

Besides which, he claims he can play checkers.

* * * *

And football is a lot like checkers, with moving and jumping all around.

* * * *

If Coe goes in, the other ten players can watch the game: they won't be needed anyway.

* * * *

Our printer, Lee Stacy, and Ernest Haupt, went up north last week on a vacation and fishing trip. That the latter was very successful is evidenced by the fish they brought us back—a nice can of sardines.

* * * *

For some reason or other, none of this Independent outfit can catch fish, but we had better hopes of Ernest. He has a reputation to maintain.

* * * *

Notice by Herman's column this week that he received a letter from a wife—we told you he would—who wants to know when she can date up the alleged Perfect Husband for a lesson in driving. If Herman knows his stuff, he'll call this thing off before he starts something.

* * * *

After stalling off and calming all the ladies seeking the identity of this said P. H., Herman ought to be a good diplomat to send to Mexico or Italy or some similar friendly country.

* * * *

Oh, well, let's all go to the football game tomorrow and yell.

1928 AUTO LICENSE NUMBERS

County	No.	County	No
Non-resident	00	Hardin	37
Polk	A	Harrison	38
Woodbury	B	Henry	39
Linn	C	Howard	40
Scott	E	Humboldt	41
Pottawatta'ie	F	Ida	42
Black Hawk	H	Iowa	43
Dubuque	J	Jackson	44
Clinton	K	Jefferson	45
Webster	L	Johnson	46
Cerro Gordo	M	Jones	47
Des Moines	N	Keokuk	48
Jasper	P	Kossuth	49
Lee	R	Louise	50
Adair	1	Lucas	51
Adams	2	Lyon	52
Allamakee	3	Madison	53
Appanoose	4	Mahaska	54
Audubon	5	Marion	55
Benton	6	Marshall	56
Boone	7	Mills	57
Bremer	8	Mitchell	58
Buchanan	9	Monona	59
Buena Vista	10	Monroe	60
Butler	11	Montgomery	61
Calhoun	12	Muscatine	62
Carroll	13	O'Brien	63
Cass	14	Osceola	64
Cedar	15	Page	65
Cherokee	16	Palo Alto	66
Chickasaw	17	Plymouth	67
Clark	18	Pocahontas	68
Clay	19	Poweshiek	69
Clayton	20	Ringgold	70
Crawford	21	Sac	71
Dallas	22	Shelby	72
Davis	23	Sioux	73
Decatur	24	Story	74
Delaware	25	Tama	75
Dickinson	26	Taylor	76
Emmet	27	Union	77
Fayette	28	Van Buren	78
Floyd	29	Wapello	79
Franklin	30	Warren	80
Fremont	31	Washington	81
Greene	32	Wayne	82
Grundy	33	Winnebago	83
Guthrie	34	Winneshiek	84
Hamilton	35	Worth	85
Hancock	36	Wright	86

ANILINE DYES

Beware hair dyes or lip stick with aniline dye in them. Read the label on the package to discover the contents and do not buy that which has the word aniline either singly or in combination. It is rather a risky business to trust one's self to the beauty doctor or to the chemicals bought at the store. To be safe, go only to the licensed beauty parlor and use only the highest grade beauty aids.

CHURCHES

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor
Telephone Call, 150

Saturday and Sunday, September 24 and 25. Teachers Sunday School Instutute. The Saturday sessions will begin at 10 a. m., 2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. and will be held in Trinity church. On Sunday our sessions will be held in the High School auditorium, beginning with divine services at 10:30 a. m. The afternoon session will be held at 2:30 and the evening session at 7:30. See hand bills for program. The public is cordially invited.

Tuesday, September 27. The catechetical class will meet immediately after school.

Thursday, September 29. English prayer meeting will he held at 8:00 p. m.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Saturday and Sunday, September 24 and 25. Read announcement for Trinity congregation.

Wednesday, September 28—The Ladies Aid of St. John's church (West) will hold their annual bazaar at the church beginning at 10 a. m.

Prayer meeting will be held at 8 p. m.

The North Ladies Aid will meet October 5th in place of the regular date.

METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. J. F. Snyder, Pastor

Services as follows for the Lord's Day, September 25:

Sunday School at 10:00 a. m. This Sunday is designated as Rally Day in the Sunday School. Every officer and teacher is doing his and her very best to make it a real "Rally Day." You, and on you depends very largely the success of the day. Speak Rally Day, think it, become a part of it. In interesting yourself you interest others. If you have never done for Sunday School, what you really thought you should have done, do it now for this rally.

Divine worship at 11:00 a. m. Baptisms of infants and adults. Reception of members.

Epworth League at 7:15. Randall Klemme, leader. Subject, Rally Day and a Good Get Away. We urge you to come to this meeting.

In the evening hour of worship, being the last service of the conference year, we shall have the reports of every organization and department in the church. We feel that it is due the membership and Methodist constituency, just exactly what is being done in the various departments of our church as concerns investments, expenditures, membership, etc. No need for you to be ignorant along these lines. Everybody welcome to all of our services.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

We meet for worship at eleven o'clock. It should be good to come and be with others who are looking to God for the help which He alone can give.

Never were there better days for participating in the life of the Church School. The Great Teacher would say "Come and learn of Me."

This coming Sunday evening the young people meet ot 7:30 o'clock.

The Missionary Society meets today, Thursday, with Mrs. E. E. Boughton, the 2:30 hour.

The regular business meeting of the church on this coming Tuesday not to be forgotten at 1:00 o'clock.

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

Mrs. L. H. Stapley died last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharon of Elk Point, S. Dak., arrived in Belmond last week, and will make their home with John Berg and daughter.

Miss Will Gallagher visited relatives in Garner last week.

A beautiful clock, a gift to the Public Library, from the ladies of the Progress club, was placed in that building last week.

Mrs. F. B. Ross of Dubuque, daughter of Mrs. M. F. Hinman, is spending the week with her mother.

Miss Bernice Butts left last week for Cedar Falls to resume her school duties.

Prof and Mrs. Scarbro left last Friday for Cedar Rapids to visit relatives.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

E. M. Sheffield made a business trip to Chicago the first of the week.

G. H. Richardson went to N. Dak. on business this week.

L. B. Clark returned from Colo. Wednesday.

Miss Lizzie Greenfield went to Medina, S. Dak. this week, where she has secured a position in the schools.

Geo. Stokes went to Minneapolis last Monday on a business trip.

Miss Lizzie Wallace returned this week from Keister, Minn.

S. A. Keeler left yesterday for Cherokee to spend a short time with his wife.

A. Montague and B. L. Johnston were Clarion callers this week.

N. M. Wolcott and wife left Tuesday for Waterloo to attend an encampment of his regiment in the Civil war.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

Nearly $10,000 is offered for the capture of the Northfield bank robbers. They are supposed to be James and younger cut-throats.

Miss Lyna Whited will teach the school in Dist. No. 6; Miss M. McKune the Meachem school; Miss Myra Galer the Parker school; Miss Mildred Grove in East Belmond; Miss Georgia Daniels in west Belmond.

A brother of E. A. Howland will be here about Oct. 1 to take charge of his stage interests.

On Saturday morning a flock of about 1,000 pelicans sailed over town, southward bound. J. W. Seeber says there were fully that many and that they made an interesting sight.

We are sorry to learn that John Christie of Upper Grove is seriously ill.

The Splinters
"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2 Thursday, September 22, 1927 No. 23

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

Some men get their heads on coins. We would be satisfied if we could get our hands on them.

—

Lady.—"Is it dangerous to put your foot on the trolley rail?"
Policeman. — "Not unless you put your other foot on that overhead wire."

—

"Sorry, old man, but my hen got loose yesterday afternoon and scratched up your garden."
"That's all right. My dog killed your hen last evening."
"Fine! I've just run over your dog."

—

The bank had closed its doors, and the town's champion loafer was hollering the loudest.
"What are you making such a fuss about?" asked a depositor, "I'll bet you didn't have two dollars in there."
"Well, if I'd a knowed this was comin', I could o' been overdrawn!"

—

We'll bet Tunney knocks Dempsey out. What do you think?

—

We think the boyish haircut for girls looks a lot better than the girlish haircut for boys.

—

Hubby. — "Don't bring me any more bills. I can't face them."
Wife. — "I don't want you to face them. I only want you to foot them."

—

Captial is what you loan and Labor is what it takes to get your money back.

—

Most any man will lose his religion and cuss and swear when his furnace puffs in his face. We know because we've heard 'em. But when you burn Consolidation Elkhorn coal, you can maintain a nice sweet, even disposition all the time.

MR. FEEDER!

Buying Power means Selling Power. We have a carload of

DARLING'S BEEF TANKAGE

on track. Better get your order in, as this is PRICED TO SELL QUICKLY

Our Stock of FLOUR and FEEDS is always complete. And remember we pay Highest Market Prices for GRAIN AND POULTRY

Truck Service if you want it.

Farmers Grain Company
PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!
BELMOND, - - IOWA

Hit The Line Hard!

The opening of the football season brings to mind that remark of Theodore Roosevelt's, a remark which characterized this great man's life:

"Play the game fair--and hit the line hard!"

Tackle life's problems in the same manner you tackle the opposing player in the line, and you'll succeed, you'll win. Start your Savings Acount now, while you are young, hit it hard, and keep hammering. This Bank will be glad to help you. One Dollar starts an account.

STATE BANK OF BELMOND
BELMOND IOWA

BUICK for 1928

One Glance tells the story

In Buick for 1928, everything you want to know about your car's performance—every indicator and dial—is before you, indirectly lighted under glass.

Buick today offers greater beauty, luxury, and comfort than ever before—greater speed and power with quicker getaway. See the car that surpasses all others in popularity—and in value.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM
Sedans $1195 to $1995 Coupes $1195 to $1850
Sport Models $1195 to $1525
All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich., government tax to be added. The G.M.A.C. financing plan, the most desirable, is available.

WEBSTER COUNTY BUICK CO.
DISTRIBUTORS
20-24 North 9th St. Fort Dodge, Iowa
BELMOND—HUB MOTOR CO. Kanawha—Yeakel & Mallow
Clarion—Linfor Auto Co. Dows—A Banwell
Eagle Grove—Porter Auto Co.

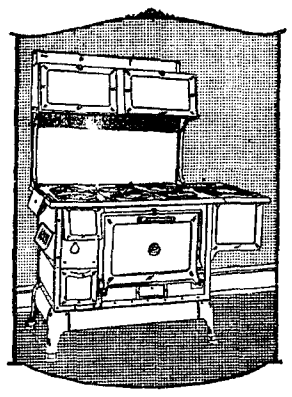
An Invitation To You

to call at our store at any time, but more especially

The Week of September 26

to inspect the finest of all cooking machines.

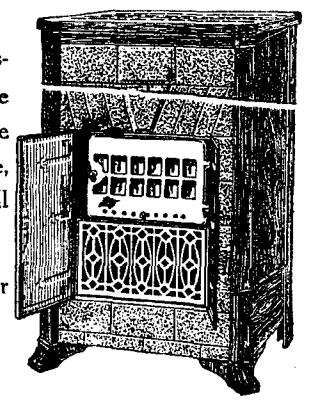
THE BAKEWELL RIVERSIDE



We are sure you have never seen anything that can equal the Bakewell in quality, design and beautiful finish.

It is fully enameled inside and out and will be a beautiful addition to any kitchen.

THE NEW FIREPLACE RADIONA



A complete heating system that is installed above the floor. Heats the whole house, just like a furnace, but requires only a small amount of fuel.

You must see this heater to really appreciate it.

A factory representative will be at our store the week of September 26th to fully demonstrate these stoves.

If you are in the market or not, it will pay you to call.

GRIESY'S

The Friendly Place

PHONE 10

BELMOND, IOWA

LIBERAL ALLOWANCE on your old cleaner

toward a new PREMIER DUPLEX

YOUR old worn out cleaner that gets half the dirt in twice the time, is worth something. We will take it and make you a most generous allowance on it. Make the old one help you pay for the new one.

Premier Duplex

This is the famous double action vacuum cleaner—the one that cleans by powerful suction and a motor driven brush. And it needs no oiling, for both motor and brush turn on ball bearings. It has many features that commend it to housewives.

Only

$5.00 down

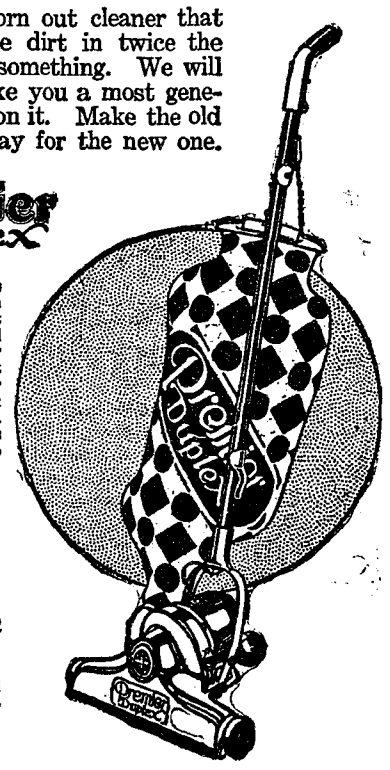
The rest can be paid in easy payments over a year's time.



General Office

Central States Electric Co.

CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

AGRICULTURAL NEWS NOTES

MAKE SOFT CORN INTO SILAGE

Because hundreds of acres of corn in Iowa apparently haven't a "Chinaman's" chance of maturing this year, or of being far enough along when freezing weather arrives to be fit for other than silage or fodder, this is a good time to begin preparations for filling the silo if one is on the farm. That's the suggestion of Joe L. Robinson, Ames, secretary of the Iowa Corn and Small Grain Growers' Association.

This, he says, looks to be the year of years to fill the silo. In some parts of the state silos have remained empty the last few years, but it now appears that these should prove a salvation on many farms for saving a part of the corn crop.

Silage has proved an economical and excellent feed for cattle and sheep by farmers and experiment stations throughout the nation. In a good silo with a water proof roof, silage may be kept fr several years years without deteriorating seriously, according to Mr. Robinson. Hence, if all of the silage cannot be fed which is made this year, a part or all of it may be held over successfully until the following year.

In some experiments conducted by the Iowa Agricultural Experiment Station, Ames, with artificial drying and ensiling the ears from the soft crop of 1917, it was found that the crop could be ensiled at about half the cost that it could be dried. The soft ear corn silage was of good quality, too. It cost 21 cents a hundred to dry the corn and 12 cents a hundred to ensile it.

As between putting the corn in the silo and cutting it for fodder, practically all of the carefully conducted experiments show that silage is greatly superior to corn fodder either as a feed for fattening cattle, breeding cattle or dairy cows.

In one experiment conducted by the Dairy Husbandry Section at Ames, it was found that an acre of corn if fed to dairy cows had twice as much value when used as silage than when used as fodder.

In this test, eight tons of silage were figured to the acre and these at $4.50 a ton gave a total value of $36 per acre for the corn crop as silage. When cut as fodder, the same corn would yield 3.4 tons, which at $5.05 a ton would give a total value ofr the acre of $17.

WHY MILK?

Milk is a growing food—it helps build bones, teeth, brain and muscle.

In every form it is valuable: sweet, sour, skimmed, raw, whole, cooked, buttermilk, cheese butter.

Nothing else is "just as good."

It is a source of protein, comparable to meat and eggs.

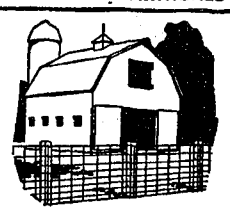
The younger the child, the greater his need of milk.

Milk is rich in mineral salts: lime, iron, phosphorus.

Milk is a source of vitamins, without which nobody can be healthy. It contains all known vitamins.

It combines well with many other foods: cocoa, soup, vegetables, meats, sauces, gravies, puddings and ice cream.

Lowe Brothers
PAINTS - VARNISHES



Don't Put Off
Painting Your Barn

Paint your barn now with LOWE BROTHERS STANDARD BARN PAINT. It is a first quality barn paint especially prepared to withstand the attacks of all kinds of weather. It's a paint that lasts; it's economical. A gallon goes a long way.

See us before you paint.

Schultz Drug Co.
Belmond, Iowa

W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Bldg
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

Camel

The cigarette that offers the utmost in refreshing pleasure

The Camel blend of choice tobaccos makes a smooth, cool, mild, refreshing smoke. No special treatment for throats—Camel tobaccos don't need it.

© 1927, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

FOOTBALL!

CLARION H. S.

vs.

BELMOND H. S.

Friday Sept. 23

GAME CALLED AT 4 P. M.

Clarion always has a good team. Belmond will also have a good team. Both are anxious to make a good start. If you like football, be there.

Admission 25c & 35c

MESERVEY SECTION

EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:30.
Morning service at 11:30.
E. L. C. E. at 7:30 p. m. Leader, Irene Guth.
Evening worship at 8:00 p. m.
Senior choir on Sunday evening.
Junior choir on Tuesday evening.
German prayer meeting on Wednesday evening.
English prayer meeting on Thursday evening.
Our revival meeting will begin on Oct. 2.

A. K. Henning, Pastor

Ball Game

The benefit ball game played here last Friday by our local team with Chapin was a good one, the victory being won by our team, the scores being 6 to 9. The town band furnished music which was greatly appreciated, and the proceeds of the ball game are to go to the band fund.

Robbers Again

Last Sunday night some one gained entrance in the rear of the meat shop, and it is claimed cash amounting to almost $100 was taken. No clew as to identity has been found.

Birthday Anniversary

Rev. H. M. Raecker and wife, H. Fischer and family and G. E. Raecker and family helped Father Raecker celebrate his birthday last Tuesday. A bounteous dinner was served to the guests, and a very enjoyable time was had. Best wishes for more happy birthdays were extended.

Miss Ella Yahnke and brother, Orwin and the Misses Esther and Ruth Fuller and their brother John, of Garden City, Minn., visited at the E. Unverferth home last Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sprau of Mason City are the proud parents of a baby daughter, born to them Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Busse of near Goodell were calling on Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Muller Monday. They had brought her two aunts who had been visiting at their home, to the station, they leaving for Harlon to visit other relatives, before returning to their home in Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Gruis left last Monday for Grundy Center where they visited relatives several days.

Theo. Wendel returned from N. Dak. last Friday where he had spent a few days looking after farm interests.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Proost are caring for a baby boy which they contemplate adopting as their own in the near future. The little one is about 7 weeks old and the mother not being able to care for him has consented to give him up for others to adopt.

Rev. F. W. Wendland returned to his home in Fort Dodge Sunday after taking charge of the communion services in the place of presiding Elder Courses, last Sunday morning.

Harry T. Smith is with us again and is enjoying better health since he spent two months at his old home in Marrytown, Md. While away he underwent an operation for appendicitis, and seemingly has been benefited greatly.

Herman Dirks returned to his school duties in the Seminary at Holland, Mich., the latter part of the week.

Miss Lucile Boller of Goodell visited at the H. F. Reif home over last week end.

Mrs. Anna Schroeder returned to her home in Ft. Dodge Saturday evening after a month's visit at the G. E. Raecker home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Pals and Mr. and Mrs. S. Hulsebus motored to Belmond Sunday afternoon and called at the John Lieuwen and M. J. Kernan homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Nissen and children visited at the Roy Klaus and A. E. Muller homes Sunday afternoon.

E. E. Butz and family of Clear Lake and Clyde Smith and wife of Mason City were visiting at the former's mother's home, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Butz returned home with the Smiths and from there she left for Monterey, Minn. where she will visit at the home of her son, Dr. J. A. Butz.

G. E. Raecker accompanied his father and mother to Dumont where Rev. Raecker again supplied the pulpit of the Reformed church, owing to the absence of the pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Roth and daughter, Miss Wilma, of Ottumwa, visited Miss Ruth Roth at the Hartfelder home, over Sunday.

Bruno Bruns and friend, Miss Regina Buss have returned to their school work at Holland, Mich., after spending their vacation with home folks here and in Minnesota.

Mrs. H. B. Frey was a Garner caller Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Theresa Gruis returned with her to remain a few days, during H. B.'s absence.

Mr. Jake Wickersheim of Fort Dodge was calling in town Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hemming of Thornton were Sunday visitors at the parental E. Foss home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Loyke left Sunday for a week's visit with relatives in Boone.

Miss Anna Strasburg and brothers Otto and Carl of Ackley were Sunday visitors with friends here.

Birthday Surprise

The children of Mr. B. Gruis, with their families gathered at the Gruis home to render the father a pleasant surprise to remind him of his birthday, last week on Tuesday evening. The self invited guests brought with them refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake to which those present did ample justice. A pleasant evening is reported and all wished Mr. Gruis many happy returns.

Birthday Party

About 35 relatives met at the John Koenen home to help Mrs. Koenen celebrate her birthday on Tuesday evening of last week. The time was pleasantly spent and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Mission Feast

Last Thursday the annual Mission Feast of the Reformed church was held, and although the day was excessively warm a large crowd gathered to observe the day.

The speakers were the Rev. C. Grossbuish of Klemme who addressed the Sunday School Session during the fore part of the morning. The Rev. L. H. Hayenga of Stacyville gave the address of the forenoon to the general assembly. In the afternoon the Rev. J. B. Frericks of Alexander spoke and again the Rev. Hayenga. In the evening, services were held with the Rev. H. Raecker, Sr., speaking in the German language, followed by an address by the Rev. D. Presscher of Kanawha. The Rev. Henning of the local Evangelical church assisted during the day in the devotionals. Music was furnished by the local choir. The offering for Missions amounted to $566.62.

Dinner and supper were served by the ladies of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. VanHeukelom and daughter Miss Alma, of Leighton, visited at the H. K. Pals home several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bernohl returned last week from a week's visit in southern Illinois, with friends and relatives.

Johnny Pals returned to his schol work at Morningside College, the fore part of last week. He was accompanied by his brother, Harm, and wife who motored to that place and spent a day at Sioux City.

Andrew Kaduce left the fore part of last week for Milwaukee, where he will attend a school of electrical engineering, this year.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Reif, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Blewitt and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Muller attended a meeting of the Order of Eastern Star at Thornton, last week on Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Klaus and daughter June, and an uncle who has been making his home with them motored to Emmetsburg last Wednesday to spend the day visiting old friends and attending the county fair.

T. Kaduce accompanied his brother William, and wife of Ackley to Lennox, South Dakota, for a week's visit with their aged mother.

Mrs. Lacher and her daughter, Miss Emma returned to their home in Hartley last week after spending about 10 days at the Roy Klaus home.

Peter Koenen left Monday evening for Holland, Mich., where he will enter the Seminary.

Rev. and Mrs. Fred Pieper and daughter came Monday afternoon, for a few days visit at the C. Bier home and with other relatives.

Miss Irene Butz spent a few days at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Clyde Smith and husband at Mason City, the fore part of the week.

PACKING BUTTER

Some town housewives ask their country sisters to pack a jar of butter for them in the fall. If well done, such butter will keep all winter. For butter which is to be packed, sweet cream should be used and it should be pasteurized to kill the bacteria. A stone jar is the best in which to store butter. It should be scalded and cooled before the butter is put into it. The butter should be packed in tightly, then the whole covered with a white cloth which has been made sterile, or free from bacteria, by being boiled in water a few minutes. The diameter of the cloth should be about two inches greater than the diameter of the jar, that it may cover the butter fully and reach up an inch all around the jar. A layer of salt, one-sixteenth of an inch deep, should then be spread over the cloth. The jar of butter should be kept in a cool cellar, but it should be covered tightly to keep the butter from absorbing odors which may be about. The object of the cloth is to enable one to lift the salt and take out a piece of butter from time to time.

DR. R. E. PORTER
BELMOND, IOWA
Chiropractic Health Service
Eight Year's Experience
Office Over Griesy's Store

CROSLEY
RADIO
Fresh "B" Batteries always on hand.
H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

7 Don't miss the BIG DAYS
of Education Inspiration Recreation
at the
DAIRY CATTLE CONGRESS
National Belgian Show
American Poultry Congress
Industrial Exposition
Sept. 26 to Oct. 2
Waterloo . . Iowa

HIGH QUALITY
BUILDING MATERIAL
Screen Doors and Window Screens—Mill Work—Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts and Poles
Cement — Lime
INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT
Wheat Bran – Oil Meal – Cotton Seed Meal, – Tankage – Salt
Highest Price Paid for Grain
Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

This coupon and 25c entitle the undersigned to one 35c can of Acme Quality Enamel-Kote, any color, and a special 20c Paint Brush.
Name_____
Address_____
To acquaint you with Acme Quality, we are making a special offer for a short time only.
SPECIAL OFFER 55c Value for 25c
New colors — new beauty for faded furniture
To prove the remarkable ease with which you can renew a worn and faded piece of furniture with Acme Quality Enamel-Kote, we make this special offer for a limited time.
Look around you now. What small piece of furniture have you that needs refinishing? Make up your mind, then tear out the coupon above, sign your name and address on it in pencil, bring it in and get the special 55c combination of Enamel-Kote and brush.
We make the offer only because we want you to get acquainted with the wonderful finishing qualities of the world-renowned
ACME QUALITY Paint and Varnish
Sign the coupon and bring it to our store.
C. J. WENDEL
MESERVEY, IOWA

VEAL "BIRDS"

Have ground a pound each of veal, beef and pork. To this add a tablespoon of salt, a cup of cracker crumbs and one egg. Mix and roll out about the size of weiners. With a tooth pick pin a piece of bacon around each of these "birds." Brown them in a frying-pan, rolling them over to brown each side equally. Cover the frying pan tightly, turn the fire low and let simmer gently for an hour or more.

WANT ADS PAY

Undertaking & Funeral Director
F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone—Residence 17; Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

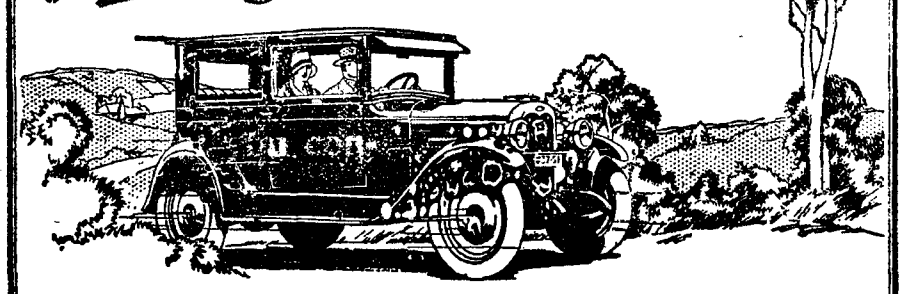
READ THE ADS

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29

Harry T. Smith
General Blacksmithing
Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding
Meservey, - Iowa

CONFIDENCE
as shown by the banking public is the best advertising medium that a financial institution can have and without it nothing avails for the ultimate success of the undertaking. We believe that we possess it.
"Service and Safety"
Farmers Savings Bank
Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

for Economical Transportation
CHEVROLET
Amazing Performance!



-an outstanding feature of the most Amazing Quality in Chevrolet History

The COACH $595

The Touring or Roadster $525
The Coupe $625
The 4-Door Sedan $695
The Sport Cabriolet $715
The Imperial Landau $745
½-Ton Truck (Chassis Only) $395
1-Ton Truck (Chassis Only) $495
All prices f.o.b. Flint, Michigan
Check Chevrolet Delivered Prices
They include the lowest handling and financing charges available

Learn for yourself the thrill of Chevrolet performance. Come in—take the wheel of your favorite model and go wherever you like. Drive through the crowded traffic of city streets—and note the handling ease. Step on the gas on the open road and enjoy the swift sweep of the passing miles. Head for the steepest hill you know—and see how effortlessly the Chevrolet motor will carry you up.

Here is performance you never thought possible except in cars of much higher price—

—performance that only Chevrolet provides at prices so impressively low!

HUB MOTOR COMPANY
BELMOND, IOWA
RAECKER CHEVROLET SALES CO.
MESERVEY, IOWA

QUALITY AT LOW COST

Alexander Faculty Given Reception

The members of the school board and their families gave the school faculty a reception in the United Church basement Thursday evening. A delicious two course dinner was served after which several toasts were given by members of the board and faculty. The remainder of the evening was spent in amusing entertainment and getting acquainted with the new members of the faculty which includes the large number of them this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Haenga and Mr. and Mrs. Hite Penning of Ackley, were visitors at the P. C. Bohlen home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jelto Beenken and son Henry, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schulte Jr., and children were visiting with relatives at Wellsburg Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Peters and daughter Ruth, and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Latham and sons, Willard and Wilbur drove to Woden Sunday for a visit at the Charlie Missman home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilko Pals and son Ormal were business callers at Belmond Monday.

Mr. and Mr. George Dunn and son John, and Mrs. Dunn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Messelheiser of Long Beach, California, drove to Cedar Rapids, Sunday to visit their daughter Miss Margaret who is attending college at that place.

John Kolb of Latimer was a caller at the Lewis Bell home Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Peters and children were Belmond callers Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Packard and son Harold and Herbert Bohlen were visitors at Belmond Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie E. Harmon and Mr. O. W. Klinger and children, Majel, Iola, Tyrus and Francis of Goldfield were visitors at the Nels Larsen home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Finkle and daughter Leone of Hampton, were week end visitors at the Clarence D. Smith home.

Mrs. Ed Sands and daughter of Des Moines came Friday for a few days visit at the Ed Packard home.

Harm Groen of Meservey was calling in town Saturday.

Mrs. John H. Leebrick of Hampton is a visitor at the parental Bell home this week.

Miss Effie Dresher and George Ammerman drove to Goldfield Sunday to visit Mr. Ammerman's grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Christensen.

Miss Sylverne Hleland was a week end visitor with relatives at Mason City.

Miss Pearl Schanke and Miss Coryl Husband were visiting relatives and friends at Garner over Sunday.

Rev. L. N. Moody exchanged pulpits with Rev. Hoyt of Blairsburg Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Greenfield and son Frederick, and Miss Jessie Bell were callers at the home of Mrs. Fred Frohling in Belmond Sunday afternoon.

The Delta Alpha Sunday School class held a meeting in the basement on Friday evening. Those who served were Mrs. William Kew, Mrs. John H. Leebrick, Mrs. Jack Hill and Mrs. M. Croft. New members of the class, consisting of several of the teachers, had the opportunity of becoming more acquainted, and a very pleasant evening was spent, by the use of entertainment prepared by the committee.

Mr. Schultz of Mason City was in town Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Miller and children and Mrs. Ben Thomas and daughter of Hampton were visitors at the E. L. Klinefelter home Sunday.

Former Goodell Boy Is Married

Goodell friends have learned of the marriage of one of our former boys.

On Wednesday, September 14, at Nashua, occurred the marriage of Florence Gertrude Long to Joseph F. Cordes, both living at Cresco, Iowa. The marriage was performed by Rev. McCushion in the Little Brown Church. The bride is not well known in this community but has visited at the Cordes home several times and from all reports and appearances seems to be a young lady of many fine qualities and capable of being a fine helpmate for the man of her choice. She has been a successful teacher near Cresco for the past few years.

Joe has lived in this community with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Cordes for a number of years and is a boy of fine character and habits, and very worthy of his bride. He moved to Cresco about two years age where he has been living on his fathers' farm.

Following the wedding the newlyweds came to Goodell and enjoyed a six o'clock wedding dinner with the groom's parents, this date also being the 31st anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Cordes. Mrs. Cordes also entertained to supper the Landon family and their guests from Ind. and Ill., who are visiting at the Landon home. On Friday Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cordes returned to Cresco and will live on the farm Joe is farming.

Goodell folks extend heartiest congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Cordes for a happy wedded life.

Miss Mattie Larson of Williams is enjoying a visit with her sister, Mrs. Homer Ness.

T. F. Matson visited from Saturday until Tuesday with home folks. Tauge expects to have his bridge and culvert constructions done at Adel in a short time.

Bill Butts left Wednesday from Clarion and went to Iowa City to resume his college studies. This is Bill's fifth year at the University, and he plans to finish his law course in 1929.

Mrs. E. J. Schneider spent Tuesday at Britt assisting in getting the work on display for the fair.

Zobel and Schultz of Ventura, who recently started working in the garage here, gave a free dance Monday night.

H. O. Sandberg of Iowa Falls and Mr. Talbot, Auditor of the Central States Electric Co., of Cedar Rapids, were business callers in this town Wednesday and visited with the former's home folks.

Mrs. Ed Hughes of Williams autoed here Thursday and spent the day with her mother Mrs. White, and Mayme.

Ina Mae, Richard and Betty Burgess went to Meservey Friday to spend a few days at the home of their uncle, Matt Smith.

Rev. Scott and family left Monday to attend the United Brethren Conference which will convene at Muscatine. A. C. Carpenter will be the delegate to represent the local church. We are very glad to report that the entire finances for the past year have been paid in full and a back debt of about $600 was also raised. The stewards, Mrs. Harry Newgard, Mrs. Amos Hanson, Mr. Harry Ruka and Mr. J. J. Cook certainly wish to express their appreciation to each one for the support given them during the past year.

The Albert Schlicting, Harry Carpenter, Amos Hanson and James Trees families enjoyed a supper at the latter's home at Belmond last Sunday evening. Mrs. Trees and Mrs. Hanson were hostesses.

The town and rural teachers of this community spent Thursday and Friday at Britt attending a teachers' institute. A fine meeting was held and proved to be very beneficial to the teachers.

Matt Smith and son Marvin of Meservey have spent the past week doing the fall plowing on the Lew Avery farm. The Smiths will move to this place, March 1.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Graber returned Thursday from a three weeks visit with relatives in Ind., and Ill. They attended the Graber reunion held Labor Day at the old Graber home at North Judson, Ind. All the Graber children with their families were present to enjoy the happy day with their mother, a lady of 84 years and enjoying fine health. They spent several days with Mrs. Graber's home folks, the Moore family at Harvey, Illinois.

Bill Allaben, rural mail carrier on the east route met with what might have been a serious accident last Thursday morning. He was going up the Sandry hill, when something broke in the rear end of his car. His brakes would not respond and the car went down backwards at a fast speed. It tipped completely over at the foot of the hill. Mr. Alaben was shaken up a bit but escaped without injury. The car, a Ford sedan, received a bent fender, but no broken glass. Mr. Allaben used Mr. Mayhew's car and continued his journey.

Mr. Littschwager came Friday and took his sister, Miss Grace Littschwager, domestic science teacher, and Misses Louise Ahrenkiel and Louise Mason to Alden to spend the week end with the former's home folks.

Mr. Andrew Hopperstad, local school principal visited from Friday until Sunday with his parents at Calmer.

A large number from here attended the Hancock County fair at Britt last week. We are certainly pleased to report that some of Goodell's young folks won prizes. Frederick Schneider won first over all with his club calf and won a large cash prize. Doris Schneider ranked seventh and Robert Schneider eighth with their calves. Doris also displayed an enameled chair with cretonne slip covers, curtains and pillows and received prizes on each one.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Christie are rejoicing over the birth of a baby, who arrived Friday.

Miss Agnes Fuller, grammar room teacher at Miller, spent the week end at her parental home.

Homer Ness is having a new corn crib and granary built on his farm. Carpenters from Belmond are doing the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Kramme of Des Moines visited Tuesday at the home of Mrs. C. Christenson. The former is the contractor who built the culverts here the past few weeks. They were enroute from Sioux Falls to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Newberger of Ventura Sundayed with her relatives. She will be remembered to friends here as Shirley Griggs.

Miss Veronica Finn left Thursday for Havanna, North Dakota, where she has a position in the school there teaching music in the Junior High Department.

Clement Houghton enjoyed a visit from Sunday until Wednesday with home folk. Clement travels out of Iowa Falls for the Witwer Grocery Co.

Mr. Joe Buchanan of Mason City and two grand daughters, Misses Maude and Neva Aldrich of Rowan visited relatives here Sunday.

Mrs. Chas. Longley entertained a few lady friends at her home Tuesday. A pleasant time was spent and also a profitable one, as they canned about 300 quarts of sweet corn.

Miss Marie Given, our local primary teacher and her sister, Miss Gladys of Clarion, visited Saturday with friends here, the Claude Allie family.

The Burhow family went to Kanawha Tuesday to attend the funeral of a relative, Mr. Brandt.

Mr. and Mrs. Orick Rhodes are enjoying a visit with relatives at Goldfield this week.

A dance was held Tuesday night in the old school house 3 miles west

ROWAN ITEMS OF INTEREST

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aldinger are enjoying a trip to Niagara Falls. They expect to visit at several points between here and Chicago, stopping off for a short time in Chicago, and then on to the Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Guthrie of McCallsburg, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Tway the first of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. French went to Kalona Wednesday for a week's visit with Mr. French's daughter, Mrs. Wm. O'Laughlin and family.

Frank Thompson of Chicago came last week to drive home his car in which Mrs. Thompson broke down here about two months ago. Mrs. Thompson and another lady were driving through from Cherokee to Chicago and were forced to leave their car for repairs.

George Coburn of Cornelia has leased the moving picture theatre in Rowan and will operate picture shows and dances. The first dance was held Friday night and drew a large crowd.

Ormal Gates who moved from here to Pasadena, California, last winter has purchased a milk route at that place and is operating the same.

Work has begun on the remodeling of the Congregational parsonage. The men of the church are donating their time and are digging out the basement.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Azeltine of Cedar Falls visited relatives in town Thursday.

Fred Aldrich returned last Thursday from visiting relatives in Mich. He also visited his brother, Herb Aldrich in Cedar Rapids.

Mrs. Wm. Duffy returned from Oswego, Kansas, Thursday, where she has been for the past two months helping to care for her father, Mr. Walker. She reports his condition about the same.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Whitten went to Fort Dodge Tuesday to visit relatives. They returned Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Peyton received a message Thursday of the death of Mr. Peyton's aunt in Linn County. They departed Saturday to attend the funeral which was held on Sunday.

Miss Gladys Whitten visited friends at Albert Lea, Minn., last week, and also attended the County fair there.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Lester and family returned last week from their motor trip in northern Minnesota.

Otis Allen has rented the L. W. McKinley farm for next year and T. Streveler will farm the Ferguson place, where Mr. Allen is now, with his own farm.

D. W. Whiten departed for Spirit Lake Saturday night where he will enjoy an outing with other members of the Grocers Wholesale Co., from all over the state.

Miss Frances Farran who teaches in the Jessup schools was a week end visitor at home.

Everett Emerson and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Boyington went to Cedar Falls and Jessup Thursday. Mr. Emerson and Mr. Boyington started from there Friday on their trip west and Mrs. Boyington returned here Saturday.

Everett Emerson who has been visiting relatives and working around here for the past fifteen months, started by auto for his home in Long Beach, Calif., last Friday. Rex Boyington of Clarion went with him and will stop for a few days in Salt Lake City, then back as far as Denver, Colorado, where he will visit relatives. Mrs. Boyington will visit her mother, Mrs. Lula Emerson during her husband's absence.

Mrs. J. H. Strow departed for her home in Santa Barbara, Calif., last week, after visiting her sister, Mrs. Esther Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Buchanan of Mason City drove down from Mason City last week to visit at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Fred Aldrich and family. They returned home Monday.

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Bounds and Miss Nora Shafer were Mason City visitors last Tuesday.

Mrs. G. A. Seney of Sheffield, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Esther Andrews.

The Reese family moved last week from the O. E. Ballou house to the home they recently purchased from A. C. Rietz. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Azeltine moved from that house to the Lon Hake house and the Gae Fletcher family from the Hake house to the O. E. Ballou residence.

The Misison Study Club of the Congergational church will meet on Thursday evening of this week at the home of Mrs. D. W. Whitten.

A family picnic was held in the Rowen woods Wednesday evening in honor of Everett Emerson who started for his home in California last week. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rietz, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Burt, and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Boyington.

Miss Munson who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. Emma Munson and other relatives for the past few weeks returned to her home at Lobi, Ohio, last Wednesday.

Mrs. John Butler returned to her home in Vinco, Oklahoma last Friday, having been called here by the death of her brother, Wm. Peddle.

Lorenzo Bingham of Iowa Falls, was a week end visitor with relatives here.

Dr. Jones of Fenton was here last Friday and Saturday. He is building an office in the rear end of the drug store.

Mrs. William Chassel of Belle Fouche, S. Dak., returned here Saturday evening from Grinnell, having accompanied her daughter, Marian from Des Moines to enroll in the college at Grinnell.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. Church will hold their annual mite box opening and election of officers Thursday afternoon at the parsonage. Mrs. Carr is leader.

Rev. J. H. Bounds attended a meeting of the officers of the Wright County Sunday School Association at Clarion Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Harris went to Albert Lea, Minn., last Wednesday to visit relatives and attend the county fair. They returned Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sinclair and son Earl, of Des Moines, came Friday to visit at the home of Mrs. Sinclair's nephew, Dwight Hinckley. Saturday morning they, with Mr. Hinckley, and daughter, Mrs. Wilbur Utz and Opal, departed for Armour, S. Dak., to see Mr. Hinckley's father who has been bed fast for the past three weeks.

Mrs. Earl Sellers was elected as delegate to the district conference of the M. E. church to be held next week. Mrs. Etta Carr and Miss Nora Shafer were elected as alternates.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bingham and daughter Faye left Tuesday by motor for Long Beach, Calif., after spending the summer in Rowan.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Richards and Mr. and Mrs. John Richards returned the last of the week from their trip to Cuba City, Wisconsin.

Kenneth Keith returned Saturday evening after spending a few days with a college friend, Donald Hunt, at Earlville.

Miss Margaret Keith went to Ft. Dodge Monday where she will enter the hospital for nurses' training. We wish Miss Keith success in her chosen work.

The Christian Endeavor enjoyed a social and business meeting at the James Burt home Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Keith had as week end guests Mr. and Mrs. Henry Feisley of Quasqueton, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Clowes and family of Renwick also spent Sunday with them.

Friends of the Art Walker family who moved from here several years ago will be interested to hear of the marriage of their daughter, Opal, to Ralph Hortop, at her home at West Concord, Minn., last Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Hortop came by auto to Rowan Thursday to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Yoeman and other relatives. They returned home Tuesday.

A large crowd enjoyed a fine time and delicious refreshments.

County treasurer Suurballe and wife of Garner were callers here Friday. They were enroute to Cedar Rapids to visit their daughter, Mrs. Williamson.

E. J. Schneider went to Britt Saturday to assist in loading the club calves which were sent to Chicago to be sold on the market.

Mrs. Rose Houghton and Daphne went to Belmond Saturday to attend a school of instruction for the telephone operators.

The Archie Landon family are enjoying a visit with Mrs. Landon's father, Mr. McClair of Elkhart, Ind., her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Menengaz of Ashkum, Ill., and another sister, Mrs. Emma Landon of Ememtsburg.

Election of officers was held at the U. B. Sunday School last Sunday. The following were elected: A. C. Carpenter, Superintendent, Mrs. George Ruka, assistant, Louise Ahrenkiel, secretary, Mrs. Harry Newgard treasurer, Mrs. A. C. Carpenter, assistant, Dale Conklin, librarian, Frederick Schneider, assistant, Floyd Scott, pianist, Eunice Wesenberg assistant, Mrs. Harry Ruka, home department, Mrs. John Rust, assistant, Mrs. Okrueg, Cradle Roll, and Mrs. George Ruka assistant.

The F. C. Cordes family accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cordes of Thornton, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cordes of Cresco spent Friday at the fair at Britt.

The C. C. Bode family Sundayed at Kelsey with home folks.

CHURCH NOTES

There will be no church services at the U. B. church next Sunday as the minister and family will be attending the conference.

Sunday School at the usual hour.

The Rosary Society was entertained Thursday by Mrs. Mike Kearney and Mrs. Adrian Bielefeldt.

The U. B. Ladies Aid met Wednesday afternoon with Mesdames Snearley, Geo. Zeille and John Rust as hostesses.

METHODIST CHURCH

10:00 a. m.—Sunday School.
11:00 a. m. Morning worship.
7:15 p. m.—Epworth League
8:00 p. m.—Evening worship
7:30 p. m.—Prayer meeting.

Next Sunday is the last Sunday of the conference year.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

10:30 a. m.—Sunday School.
11:30 a. m.—Morning worship. Subject "The Extent and Effects of Christ's Death."
6:30 p. m. Junior Christian Endeavor.
7:00 p. m.—Senior Christian Endeavor.

No evening services.

8:00 p. m. Wednesday—Prayer meeting and Bible Study.

8:00 p. m. Friday evening—Choir practice.

We were happy to have with us in our Sunday morning services, Rev. A. H. Norum of Minenapolis, and Mr. Paul Lindholm of Swanville, Minn. Rev. Norum preached on the theme "The Secret of Living in Wisdom." Mr. Lindholm, a tenor soloist sang a solo and Rev. Norum and Mr. Lindholm sang a duet.

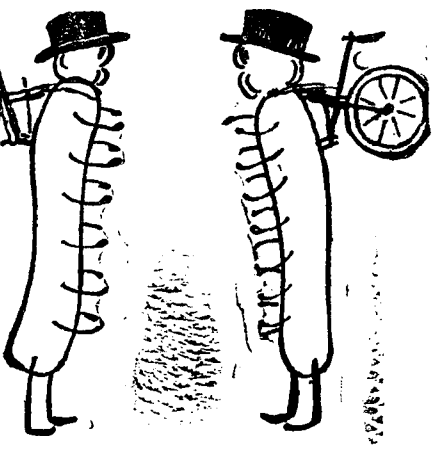
An altogether pleasing and inspirational service was held. Rev. Norum and Mr. Lindholm were just returning from a month's work among the mountaineers of Tenn. and Kentucky.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational church will have their "Harvest Home Supper" in the basement of the church Saturday evening, Sept. 24. Everybody welcome.

SCHOOL NOTES

The enrollment this year is slight-

(Continued on page six.)



Between Silk Worms

"How's business?"
"Rotten—I haven't had my spinning wheel going for a month."
"I haven't either—those Broadcloth shirts of Emery's have spoiled the market for silk."

Emery Broadcloth Shirts look like silk—wear like iron

SMITH & SKOVLIN
SERVICE SATISFACTION

PHONE 50 BELMOND, IOWA

Rowan Opera House

ROWAN, IOWA
COBURN & ZISKA, PROPS.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 22
"King of the Saddle"
Bill Cody in a Pathe Western feature
Also
2-reel Mack Sennett Comedy
Prices 10c and 25c

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 24
A good Pathe Western picture.
Also
2-reel Comedy
10c and 25c

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY
SEPTEMBER 28 and 29
"Wild Justice"
A United Artists picture featuring the wonder dog, "Peter the Great."
Don't miss this!
Also 2-reel Comedy
Prices 10c and 25c

Two Shows: 7:30 and 9:00

"THE GREATEST HUMAN DOCUMENT THE SILVER SHEET HAS EVER FLASHED"
Dorothy Herzog, in N. Y. Mirror.

"The motion picture of the year. Wonderful, remarkable, extraordinary, thrilling. Go see it. If you don't, you'll miss one of the greatest, if not THE greatest picture ever made."
Rose Pelswick in N. Y. Journal.

KING VIDOR'S
The BIG PARADE

A KING VIDOR production starring JOHN GILBERT with RENEE ADOREE
Story by Laurence Stallings.
Directed by King Vidor
A Metro-Goldwyn Mayer Picture

WINDSOR THEATRE, Hampton

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday
SEPTEMBER 26, 27, 28 and 29

Matinee 2:30. Prices: 25c and 35c
Evening 7:15 and 9:15. Prices: 25c and 50c

Special Ten Piece Orchestra

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Clarion, Iowa, September 7, 1927.

Board reconvened as per adjournment. Members all present.

On motion the 1914 tax of Herman Turk, Sr., for $4.78 was ordered abated.

On motion the following Estimates were approved and ordered paid:

H. R. Maudlin, hauling gravel	$4548.10
R. F. Hirt, Culverts	1384.65
Cronkhite Construction Co., Guard rail	129.19

Moved and seconded that Supervisors Kitley and Mehl investigate the Agard case and report. Motion carried.

On motion auditor was instructed to advertise gravel letting for Olaf Road (Secondary Road District No. 39) on September 21, 1927, at 2:00 o'clock p. m.

On motion auditor was instructed to advertise gravel letting for Schroeder road (Secondary Road District No. 44) and Tripp road (Secondary Road District No. 40) on September 19, 1927, at 2:00 o'clock p. m.

The following claims were presented, audited, allowed and warrants ordered drawn on the proper funds for their payment:

COUNTY FUND

J. D. Baker, Supervisor	$ 117.50
A. H. Box, Salary	108.00
Burroughs Adding Machine Co., Maintenance service	38.55
H. G. Bowman, Exp. co. car	1.45
Boone Blank Book Co., Supplies—Supt. office	20.63
Belmond Independent, Bd. pcds.	20.54
Clarion Farmers Elev. Co., Fuel—c. h. and jail	35.38
Clarion Oil Co., Gasoline for co. car	27.40
Dows Advocate, Bd. pcds. and printing	22.64
Eagle Grove Eagle, Bd. pcds. & ptg.	52.56
L. G. Focht, Office expense	20.75
R. V. Goslin, Office expense	5.67
Charles Gross, Office exp.	2.05
Charles Gross, Salary	188.30
Herald Press, Bd. pcds. & ptg.	21.57
H. M. Halsey, Meals for pris.	1.60
H. B. Hallock, Office exp.	7.04
H. B. Hallock, Wit. certificate	3.00
Iowa Public Service Co., Lights—c. h. and jail	42.93
Hjalmar Janson, Bd. of Education	3.00
Melvin Jetmund, Salary	108.00
Fred Johnson, Exp. of conv. Cooke & Adams to Ft. Madison	57.00
Fred Johnson, Mileage and office expense	73.57
Fred Johnson, Bd. pris.	118.00
Fred Johnson, Money paid out liquor cases	125.16
E. E. Kitley, Supervisor	122.20
Klipto Loose Leaf Co., Office supplies	135.14
Larsen Motor Co., Exp. co. car	26.66
H. F. Luick, Bd. of Education	3.60
Mrs. Adaline Lambert, Bd. of Education	4.45
James Mehl, Supervisor	140.80
Messenger Printing Co., Office Supplies	4.88
Morris Sanford Co., Office Supplies	61.30
J. C. Middleton, Bd. of Education	4.65
National Sales & Service Co., Office Supplies	11.00
J. C. Peterson, Supervisor	98.40
Matt Parrott & Sons Co., Office Supplies	45.50
Pioneer Litho. Co., Office Supplies	2.43
S. B. Ross, Wolf bounty	10.00
Reliable Accounting & Research Co., Compensation and Supplies	643.82
Dr. E. L. Sizemore, Dental services (Pris.)	3.50
Ben Suiter, Bailiff	6.00
L. W. Schroeder, Supervisor	125.20
G. A. Triggs, Del. tax collector	29.98
G. A. Triggs, Justice fees (Vern Hay)	6.50
Fred Johnson, Mileage (Vern Hay)	16.00
Mrs. J. M. Sampson, Witness fee (Vern Hay)	2.00
J. M. Sampson, Witness fee (Vern Hay)	2.00
C. N. Weedman, Witness fee (Vern Hay)	2.80
Helen Carter, Witness fee (Vern Hay)	2.00
Edith Carter, Witness fees (Vern Hay)	2.00
Mrs. L. F. Dorr, Witness fee (Vern Hay)	.90
G. A. Triggs, Justice fees (several cases)	38.50
Fred Johnson, Mileage	40.80
Town Council—Rowan, Bd. of Review	5.00
Thompson Bros., Supplies for c. h.	4.35
Edith M. Vaughn, Office exp.	2.20
Wright County Monitor, Bd. pcds., supplies & ptg.	68.21
F. W. Walker Co. Aud., Office expense	19.32
Wright County Pay Roll, Officers and clerks	2346.64

COUNTY ROAD FUND

A. C. Anderson, Patrol	100.00
Black Hawk Oil Co., Oil	104.23
Black Hawk Oil Co., Oil	33.00
H. G. Bowman, Tire for truck	31.50
Ernest Bernard, Gravel	1686.26
S. K. Bach, Repairs	8.20
Belmond Auto Co., Repairs	6.90
Community Service Station Co., Gas and Oil	14.53
C. R. I. & P. Ry. Company, freight	.99
Harvey Caquelin, Checking gravel	50.00
Verne Caquelin, Patrol	180.00
Raymond E. Caquelin, Patrol (July)	180.00
R. E. Caquelin, Patrol (August)	180.00
Clarion Farmers Elev. Co., Material	32.16
Louis A. Caquelin, Labor	10.50
Frank Farrell, Labor	3.50
Mrs. Dell Culmer, Gravel	492.04
Harry Daggett, Patrol	107.30
M. E. Baker, Labor	86.00
E. D. Bjornson, Labor	60.00
Oscar Miller, Labor	40.00
Milo Swanger, Labor	79.40
C. D. Edwards Mfg. Co., Repairs	7.70
Glendy & Day, Material	59.75

(Continued next week.)

ROWAN NEWS ITEMS

(Continued from page 5)

ly lower than last year, there being 61 in high school and 139 in the grades. The largest grade room is the 3rd and 4th which is being taught by Miss Grosse. She has 24 in each grade. She is being assisted by Miss Trask taking one of her classes and Miss Mabel Fanselow taking another.

We have three students taking post graduate work: Mabel Fanselow, Nina Rietz and Bernice Hanson.

Several students are taking advantage of the French course which is being offered for the first time this year and taught by Miss Neely.

The faculty is having professional study meeting now each week. Mr. Swanson has charge of them and he led the meeting last week, discussing, "Aims of Education." The discussion was so interesting that the teacher decided that at the next meeting each one would try to justify each subject he or she taught.

The teachers appreciated the reception last Friday night which was sponsored by the churches. The very large crowd present demonstrated without doubt that the entire community is not only interested in the school but back of the teachers as well.

The new single pedestal seats were installed in the 5th and 6th grade room Saturday. They certainly make an improvement in the appearance of the room as well as the comfort of the teacher and pupils.

The High School observed Constitution week September 12-16 with appropriate exercises on Wednesday Thursday and Friday afternoon. Members of the American Government class, taught by Miss Hazel Neely, prepared papers which were read and discussed in the assembly. The papers were "The Making of the Constitution" by Thelma Streveler, "The Purpose of Our Government," by Gladys Gunderson and 'Our Duty to Our Government" by Ruth Bounds.

The Junior Class have received copies of the play "Mammy's Lil' Wil' Rose." A comedy drama of the South, which they expect to give in about four weeks. Mr. Swanson is coaching the play.

OLAF NEWS

Orphie Anderson and family attended a picnic at Alden Sunday.

A. J. Claman attended the funeral of his niece at Gilmore City.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schlitching attended a picnic at the James Trees home in Belmond Sunday.

Several of the farmers of this vicinity had two car loads of lambs shipped to this place from Omaha, the past week.

A number from this vicinity attended the funeral of Mrs. C. M. Johnson which was held at Belmond Thursday.

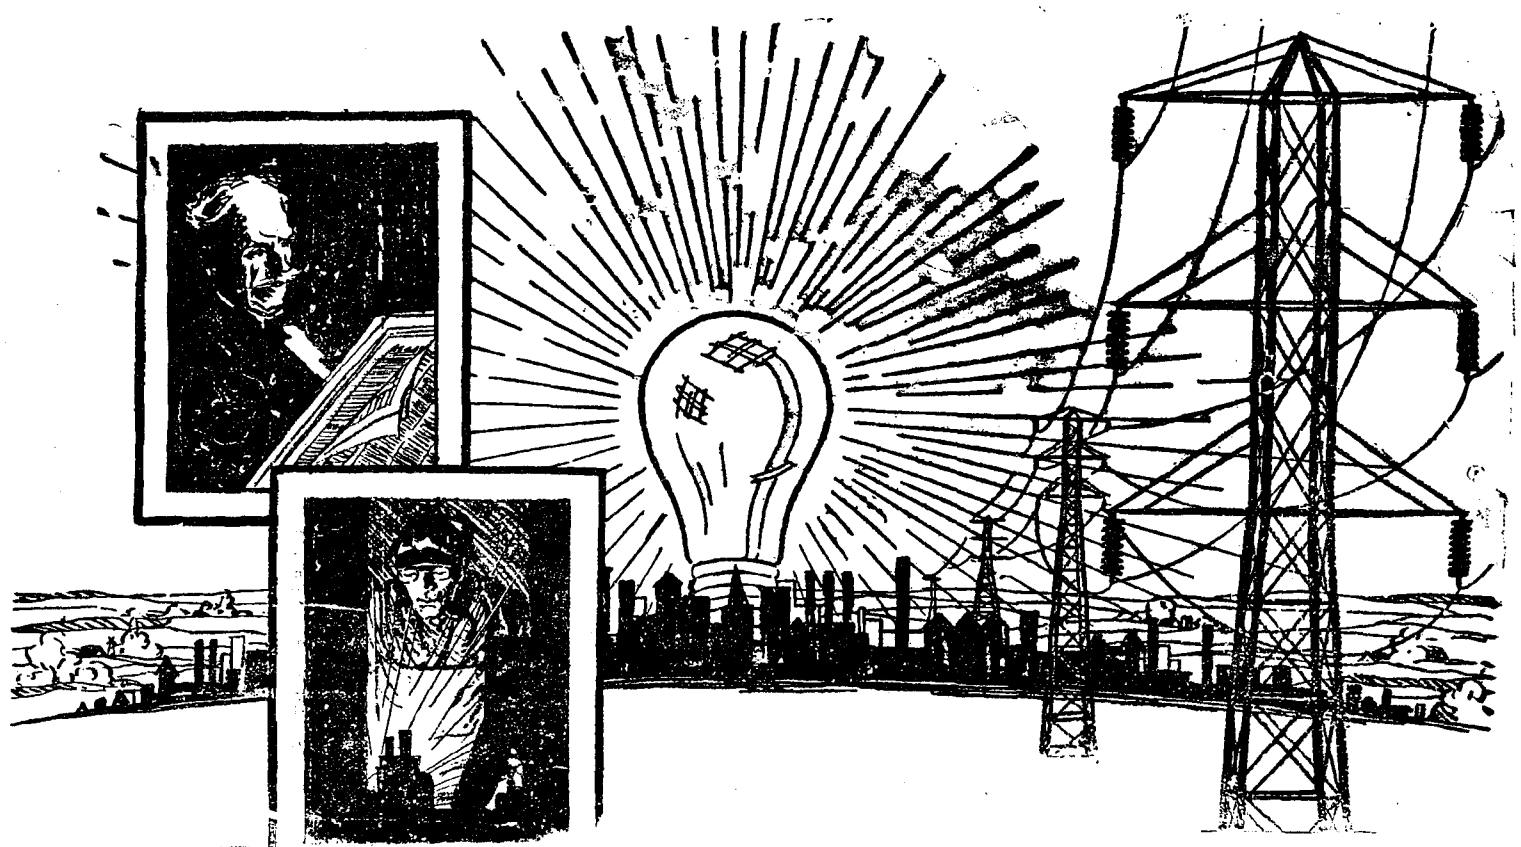
Olaf Eliason and family called at Clarence Scotts Tuesday evening.

Orphie Anderson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Holverson attended the Britt fair Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kirk drove to Estherville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snyder spent the week end at the Clarence Scott home.

Clarence Scott and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Holverson visited with friends and relatives at Roland Sunday.



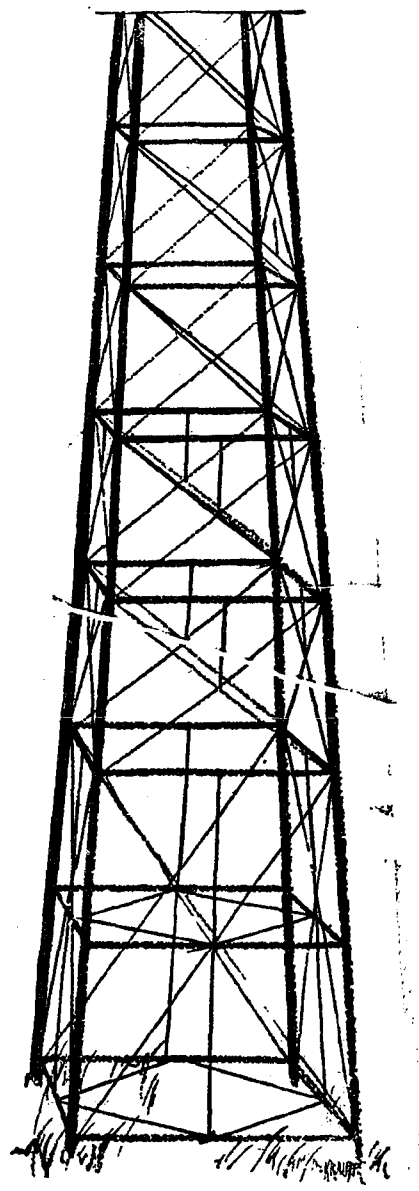
POWER AND LIGHT

Can you think of anything that means more to everyday safety, comfort and happiness?

THINK of the army of dollars that it took to build such an extensive service and think of the soundness of that investment; for dollars that make possible the service of a modern life necessity are always sure of earning regular returns.

If you had to select the one thing that you consider modern man's greatest blessing surely you would say that it was light and power. When you go about your daily tasks notice the miles and miles of electric wires. Notice how completely people depend upon this service. And notice that no matter how hard the times electric light and power are always in demand.

Light and power with telephone service, water and gas are the necessities furnished to 147 cities and towns by YOUR COMPANY.



Central West Public Service Company

A Subsidiary of The McGraw Electric Company

Kinseth's Store News

You Never See Gasoline

It goes into your tank through a hose—you take it on trust. You can't examine it. Only a chemist can analyze it. The brand and the company back of the brand are all you have to go on.

If you buy unbranded gasoline, you buy a product which no company vouches for. You may save a few pennies in the purchase price, but it will cost you more in the end.

It is wiser to buy a known product—a branded product—with the backing of a company with a reputation to sustain. Your car represents a big investment. It is worthy of your care. It requires dependable fuel.

You are protecting your car investment to the utmost when you buy Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline or Red Crown Gasoline. The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is back of them. It is proud to claim them and proud to assume responsibility for the way they work in your car.

Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline makes the engine quick to obey, powerful, speedy and smooth. It costs a few cents more but it "knocks out that knock".

Our famous economy fuel, Red Crown Gasoline, will give you a maximum of power at a minimum of expense without the anti-knock factor.

It pays to buy brands known for dependability—Red Crown Ethyl and Red Crown.

At Any Standard Oil Service Station and at Most Garages

Standard Oil Company
(Indiana)
BELMOND, IOWA

Men Marooned

By GEORGE MARSH

Copyright by The Penn Publishing Co.
WNU Service

Her laugh rippled on the frosty air. "This sounds interesting, Mr. Exile, but to avoid anti-climax you should wait for our walk back—the moon will be up then."

"The question won't wait," he replied. "Has your brother written you of my engagement?"

"Yes."

"Thank you! I wanted to tell you that it has been broken—by her—in this Christmas mail."

In silence the girl walked, stiffly, Garth thought, watching her with head turned to the river. He looked but could not see her face, buried in the fur hood.

"The reason given was—Ninda."

She turned fiercely questioning eyes as she demanded: "He told your family that story?"

"Evidently," said Garth grimly. If there was capacity for feeling in this girl, he thought, she'll show it now. "My brother has done with me, you see. I've disgraced the family."

"No, I don't see," she said, hoarsely, gazing straight ahead. "My brother has told that story in Montreal—injured you beyond reparation—my brother!"

"I'm sorry I told you," he replied, shocked at the depth of her emotion. "But I wanted you to know that my shackles are off—I'm a free man. I wanted you to know—"

In the tide of emotion which stirred him, Guthrie faltered, stopped. The shoulders of the girl lifted in a sob, as she turned to conceal her distress.

He touched her, thrilling at the contact. "Please—I'm so sorry!" he said.

"My brother!— How low, utterly low!" he heard her say. Then she got herself in hand—straightened, and said: "I will write at once to your brother."

"You'll do no such thing. Do you suppose I'd allow you to soil yourself with this family row? Your brother has unintentionally done me a service, for which I thank him."

Joan's dark brows contracted, as she gravely searched his face. "You—are not joking—you mean it?"

"I mean every syllable of it. Now let's forget it all and get on to the Camerons' before you freeze out here! It's growing sharp," he said, but what he meant was: If you stand there another second looking at me like that, Joan Quarrier, I'll kiss you.

The talk of the factor's was not allowed by that jubilant fur trader to stray far from the mad raid on Akimiski by Garth and Etienne, and the medicine-making of old Saul. From the mouth of Cameron, Joan Quarrier learned the details of the desperate effort to save the trade and its ultimate success.

"Aren't you proud of yourself, Mr. Exile?" she said as Cameron finished, and her patent joy in his success was like wine to his blood. "And Shot, too, he earned his citation—but how gruesome it was—awful!"

As he walked beside her under the frosted stars to the mission, Guthrie strove to shift the conversation to the personal—to recapture the note struck with such poignancy when she learned the aftermath of her brother's story in Montreal, but the armor of her reserve defied him. Baffled by her mood, but respecting it, he asked if he might come to say goodby the following morning, and left her at the mission door.

To the man whose love had been on his lips when his hand touched her shoulder, the new mood of the girl defied analysis. He had left the Camerons' full of what Joan Quarrier had come to mean to him—hungry to tell her there above the white Albany what he had first sensed that September night, caught in the magic of her nearness. Here, on the rim of the world, with only the glittering stars to see, he would have offered the scarred face and the love of Garth Guthrie, black sheep; but she had known his purpose and closed his lips. Yet why, unless the exile up the coast had meant more than a passing friendship, had she stayed on to the drudgery—the unspeakable monotony of the mission?

CHAPTER XI

—

She was waiting in the clearing when Shot loped up, sniffed, looked at her curiously, then pawed her joyfully with fore feet.

"Shot, you know me?" And she rubbed the ears of the wriggling airedale.

"He has a good memory for his friends," said Garth, as the dog leaped in the snow around the pleased girl.

"I think it quite wonderful, though, that he should remember me. He knew me but five days."

Garth's mouth curled. "His master knew you no longer." And the factor of Elkwan reveled in the slow color that touched her temples—the swift flickering of heavy-lashed lids.

"His master had reason to remember the guests who insulted him in his own house."

"One of his guests," countered Guthrie, "was an angel of mercy. We seldom forget the visitation of angels, do we?"

"And the other—an ungrateful scandal-monger."

"I told you last night he was a blessing in disguise."

She looked squarely in his eyes as she said: "But I did not believe you, Mr. Exile."

With a gesture of helplessness, he insisted, "But how am I to prove it to an unbeliever?"

Her eyes clouded. "Let's walk along the shore," she parried, and led the way, Shot circling her, begging for a frolic.

"You're trying again for the spring trade from the island?" she asked.

"Oh, with Souci there, and the echo of his spirit voices in their ears, we shall hold the hunters who crossed the strait."

"Then Elkwan will have a wonderful year?"

"Yes, the best in its history."

"Because of its new factor."

"Because of Etienne Savanne and Saul Souci."

"No," vehemently, "because you went inland and found Souci, and had the nerve to cross the channel through the ice in a York boat, then took a long chance over the new ice to reach the island in time; Mr. Cameron knows."

He glanced sharply at the clean profile, crowned by a plume of wind-tossed hair. "You're a doughty champion."

"No, I'm only a fair critic."

"May I never have a fairer—nor one more 'unfair.'"

"Unfair? What do you mean, Mr. Exile?"

She had given him his opening. "I mean, Joan Quarrier, that you have shut your heart to the truth," he plunged in impetuously. "I mean that you are coupling me with ghosts—dead memories; that you will not see—understand—" In his eagerness to clarify her vision of him—erase the memory of Ethel with whom, in spite of his denials, he still seemed hopelessly involved, Garth floundered—came to a halt through sheer excess of emotion.

"Can't we continue the good friends we are, Mr. Exile? We need friendship—understanding, up here on this lonely coast. Can't we—like two good comrades—hold to what we have?"

Dazed, helpless in the face of her obsession—her evident conviction that her brother had been the cause of his ultimate break with Ethel Falconer, Guthrie walked on in silence.

"Can't we hold to our friendship," she repeated, facing him, and slipping off her mitten, extended her hand.

He took it. At the raw pain in his eyes Joan Quarrier's lips opened in an involuntary catch of the breath. Her eyes widened in a look of wonder, as if startled by what she saw.

"You know you always will have my friendship," he said thickly. "I'm coming down the coast in February—to see my—friend. May I?"

"Your friend will be very glad to see you."

At the door of the mission, she met his reluctant good-by with a smile so personal—so like a caress that the hand he gave her shook like a leaf in the wind.

"My friend," he repeated under his breath as he followed Shot back to Etienne and the waiting dog team, "my friend—my world."

Hour by hour, over the coast ice, the light sled reeled off the miles. So good was the going, so keen the five great huskies for the trail, that the men left their robes only to stretch their legs. The forty miles to the Big Willow river slid past by early afternoon, and the hungry men turned in to the river mouth to build a fire from driftwood and boil their kettle.

Twenty miles directly across the strait, the gray Akimiski hills parted to form Seal cove.

"I'd give a good deal to know how they took the news over there of the loss of the northern fur, Etienne," said Guthrie, busy with his plate of beans and bacon. "Hello! There's a team coming in over the ice. Wonder who it is."

For a time Etienne studied the black object through the binoculars, but when the kettle and fry-pan had been stowed and the sled cover relashed, two rifles in their skin cases rode by the sides of the passengers.

A mile from the noon camp at the river the sled, evidently headed for the mouth of the Kapiskau, drew inshore.

"A hunter from de Kapiskau. We weel now hear how dey swear on de schooner dis Christmas."

The dog-team slowed to a walk and shortly were within speaking distance.

"Kequay!" called Savanne. "W'ere you go?"

Leaving his panting dogs, who straightway lay down on the ice, the stranger hurried to the sled from Elkwan. As he approached, it was evident to the two men that the Cree was laboring under strong excitement. His sled was heavily loaded and his hard breathing indicated that he had run much crossing the strait. Staggering up, he gasped: "De boat—ovair dere! All gone! McDonal' Ha! Ha! dead—all dead"

"What?" cried Garth, "the schooner's crew—dead?"

(Continued next week.)

READ THE ADS

FIRST TIME IN BELMOND!

SPECIAL!

SATURDAY, SEPT. 24 ONLY!

THE GENUINE

Danish BUTTER ROLLS, doz. - - 25c

You Can Buy "BLUE RIBBON" BREAD

—AT THE FOLLOWING STORES—

B. K. KINSETH
W. W. GOETZ
CITY MARKET
CLEVELAND CASH STORE
BELMOND CAFE
CASH MARKET
BOHNING & CO.
C. G. JOHNSON
BUMP GROCERY
RED LIGHT CAFE

Your patronage solicited and appreciated

MORROW & SCOTT
BELMOND'S BAKERS

FURNITURE SALE!

As I am moving to California, I will sell at public auction at the 1st National Corner, Belmond, beginning at 1:30 p. m.

Saturday, Sept. 24

2 dressers
1 commode
1 rocking chair
1 youth's chair
2 9x12 rugs
1 6x9 porch rug
4 beds, 3 double and 1 single
1 card table
1 garden seeder
1 buffet
1 refrigerator
1 drop leaf Kitchen table
1 library table
2 children's rockers
1 twin - pedestal dining table
1 kerosene stove
1 garden plow
Various other articles.
1 new Rotary shuttle Singer sewing machine

This furniture is all in good condition.

TERMS—Cash

M. E. SULLIVAN, Prop.

Louis Hauge, Auctioneer — O. L. Varland, Clerk

Wait for the NEW FORD

YOU'LL save many dollars by waiting for the new Ford. Beautiful new model brings you many features never before included in a low price car.

Belmond Auto Co.

Lincoln Ford Fordson

THE PLACE OF SERVICE

LOUIS TOKMAN — GEO. F. HEGINGER

Telephones 108 - 258

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Fyler of Charles City were Sunday guests at the W. H. Wolle home.

Miss Bernetas Wolle went to Corwith to take up her teaching duties Monday, after being absent the past couple weeks on account of illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Clapsaddle of Corwith were Sunday guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Dillon.

There will be a special meeting of Pleasant Township at the Center school Friday evening, Sept. 23. Egg grading, marketing and culling will be discussed. Ladies please bring cake or cookies.

Mrs. R. M. Cameron and Miss Daisy Cameron went to Cedar Rapids last week to attend the wedding of Ernest Cameron's daughter, Florence.

Elzo H. Buschmann left Monday for Holland, Mich., to enter the seminary.

All Rebekahs are invited to the meeting next week Wednesday evening. Good time. Refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto McCall of Woden were week end guests at the Frank Jacobmeyer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stark and family of Ft. Dodge spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meachem. Mrs. Meachem returned with them to spend a week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Polhemus of Canon City, Colo., arrived by auto, Sunday, to visit their daughter, Mrs. Chris Kragh, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jennings arrived home Friday from their trip to various points in the north.

The ladies of the Priscilla Club were entertained yesterday at the home of Mrs. Martin Nissen, of Garner. Mrs. Nissen was a former member of the club here.

The M. E. Aid Society will meet next week Thursday with Mrs. H. F. Luick. Members are requested to bring their dues.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandberg of Iowa Falls, were Sunday guests at the Gus Johnson home.

Mrs. Millens, of Scotty City, Kan., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Finn.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hereim and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bohning spent the week end with relatives at Story City and Roland.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ahlstrom left Friday for Rockford, Ill., for a week's visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Stockseth attended the funeral of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Crane, at Dows, Thursday. Mrs. Crane was formerly Miss Lottie Lee.

Walter Davis of Mason City spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Legge Wallace.

Miss Hazel Hembd spent the week end with friends in Minneapolis.

BELMOND MARKETS
(Subject to change.)

Hens	17c
Springs	17c
Roosters	07c
Ducks	12c
Geese	08c
Eggs	30c
Butterfat	40c
Creamery Butter	45c
Oats	37c
Corn No. 3 yellow	79c
Barley	61c

Mrs. G. H. Klemme was hostess Monday evening to the Delphian club.

Mrs. S. L. Johnson accompanied Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Lester and family of Clarion, Sunday, to Linn Grove, where they visited relatives.

The A. L. Luick family have moved to Minneapolis, where they expect to make their future home. Mr. Luick is still here closing up some affairs, but expects to join his family at Minneapolis soon. He has not decided just what he will take up in his new location, having several things in view.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Leonard and son, Ralph, of Swaledale, were Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Leonard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Rankins.

Pink Trees, Nate Benson, Claude Benson, Dell and Mike Luick, and a number of others started for Minn., Saturday, to try the fall fishing.

T. A. Davenport and wife, and little Ruth Mack, who were injured recently in an auto wreck, are making good recovery. Gus Johnson, who fell from a scaffolding, is also coming along nicely from his injuries.

E. E. Sullivan expects to move Oct. 2 to his new home in Los Angeles, where he has been transferred by the postal department.

The duck hunting season opened last Friday, but reports from the hunters are that ducks are pretty scarce so far.

Belmond High School meets Clarion high school in the first football game of the season tomorrow afternoon. The game is called for 4 p. m. on the Belmond field.

Winston Thiltgen left Friday for Iowa City, where he will resume his studies in the College of Medicine, at the university.

Mrs. Geo. Mortimer spent a couple days last week with relatives at Lake Mills.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bailey was taken to Ft. Dodge where he is receiving treatment from a specialist.

Another consolidation in newspapers was effected last week when the Garner Leader purchased the business of the Garner Signal. This leaves but one paper in Garner.

School district No. 6, Twin Lake township, Hancock county won three first prizes at the Britt fair, on their school work.

Kenneth Pitman of Cleveland, O., arrived here Tuesday, making the trip of 900 miles in two days. He is a former Belmond boy, and came to see his mother, Mrs. Polhemus, of Colorado, who is visiting here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Johnson spent last Sunday with Mrs. Johnson's sister at Mason City.

M. J. Thoe returned last week from a trip to several points in North Dakota.

How about Dempsey's knockout? See and hear it at the Candy Kitchen and Hanson Radio Shop. "You're there with a Crosley."

Geo. Gealow arrived home Sunday from LaSalle, Ill., on a week's vacation, to visit the home folks. George is a linotype operator on the La Salle Daily Post.

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Spring Boars Roy Jenison. Phone 1911. 43tf

FOR SALE—Piano. $50 cash required. For further particulars write "A", care of Independent. 443c

FOR SALE—Pure bred black Poland China boar, 1 year old.—Phone 369. 1*

FOR SALE—Woven rugs, well made. Different colors and sizes. I still sew carpet rags.—Mrs. Pennell.

FOR SALE—Cabinet room heater, mahogany finish. Can use small heating stove as part payment. Also have 2 small heating stoves and 3 kitchen sinks for sale.—W. J. Pech. 452c

FOR SALE or RENT—Residence property in Belmond, 2 blocks north of school house. Inquire at Independent. 453*

FOR SALE—2,000 bushels of home grown white potatoes. U. S. Graded. Guaranteed good quality. Place your orders now for your winter needs, one bushel or 500. Samples can be seen at my place or at Independent. Phone 285 or 115.—L. W. Gealow. 1c

FOR SALE—60 head of steers, native cattle. 25 weighing about 900 each, 25 about 600. Also some P. B. Poland China spring boars, weight about 200. Eligible to registry.—P. W. Kaufman. Phone 141. 452*

WANTED—Married man to work on farm. House furnished. Inquire at Independent. 1c

FOR RENT—Chicken and truck farm, consisting of 5-room house and 9 lots, with hog house, cow barn, chicken house, garage. Large strawberry bed. Edge of town. $18 a month. Write Mrs. Wm. Leonard, Swaledale, Iowa. 423*

You are welcome to the WILLARD BATTERY STATION to hear the
Tunney-Dempsey Fight
Direct from the Ringside over an
ATWATER-KENT RADIO

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Swenson attended the Albert Fischer funeral at Dows, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Connor of Hampton were Sunday visitors at the Chris Norby home.

Let the Farmers' Shipping Association ship your live stock. Notify M. F. Christie.

Do not delay painting when you can buy Strictly Pure Linseed Oil Red Barn Paint at $13.50 for Ten Gallons.—Schultz Drug Co.

Ludeke's Poland China and Chester White Hog Sale, October 15, Klemme, Iowa. 442c

Bargains—20-oz. bread 10c. Four 16-oz. loaves 25c. Gallon peaches 58c. Assorted cookies. Two boxes honey 35c. Certo, bushel peaches, prunes, grapes.—Parsons. 1c

FRIEND C. BRAS
Tests Eyes Fits Glasses
Service Guaranteed
SOUTH OF COURT HOUSE
CLARION, - IOWA
1-128

The FOSS CLEANING SHOP
Is now open for business and solicits a share of your
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Located West of the Foss Shoe Shop
All Work Guaranteed
We will appreciate your Trial Offer
FOSS CLEANING SHOP
Louis Foss, Prop.
Phone 70 Belmond, Iowa

ROBINSONS
...STORE...
BAKERY
GROCERY
Our supply of Pan Cake Flour has arrived for the fall. And we offer you A. B. C. flour 3½ pound package for a quarter. We sold 40 dozen last season. Get a dozen packages at $2.75.
Gold Medal flour $2.60
White Maple flour $2.20
Saturday we will feature
CREAM PUFFS
25c per dozen. Leave orders early.

CITY MARKET'S
SPECIALS!
Friday - Saturday
September 23-24
Picnic Hams, per pound 19c
Home Cured Bacon per pound 30c
Fresh Liver Sausage, Per Lb. 15c
Watch for Our Specials Every Week!
Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning
City Meat Market
Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207. Belmond, Iowa

Lyric Theatre
...Geo. Hake, Manager...
SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS

FRIDAY and SATURDAY
SEPTEMBER 23 and 24
"Hills of Peril"
Fox production with Buck Jones, Georgia Hale, Albert J. Smith, Buck Black. A western thriller of romance and adventure with Buck Janes as a Good-Bad man. Silver Buck, the famous white horse, has an important role.
"PLUMB DUMB"
10c and 25c

MONDAY, TUESDAY
SEPTEMBER 26 ad 27
"The Scarlet Letter"
Metro Goldwyn picture with Lillian Gish, Lars Hanson Henry B. Walthall, Karl Kane, Wm. Tooker, Marcelle Corday, Fred Herzog. A film adaptation of Nathaniel Hawthorne's famous book. The story of a woman surrounded by intolerant Puritans, who carries a badge of shame through life to shield the man she loves.
One show only starting at 8 o'clock
Fox News
10c and 30c

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28 and 29
"Painting the Town"
Universal production with Patsy Ruth Miller, Glenn Tryon, Chas. Gerrard, Geo. Fawcett, Sidney Bracy, Max Ascher. A farce comedy of a small town chick, who crashes Broadway with a score of trick inventions.
The first of a new series of
"BENSON AT CALFORD"
Collegian comedies.
10c and 25c

What D'you Know About This!

DEAR Mr. Schultz:
I AM a married lady
AND I was very much INTERESTED in your
AD last week about the PERFECT husband who TAUGHT his wife to DRIVE the car without GETTING sore and calling
HER names and I want to TELL you that it wasn't
MY husband—we've just
BEEN out in the car
AND I was trying to LEARN to drive and he
WAS as cross as an OLD bear—if I have to LEARN from him I'll NEVER touch the wheel
AGAIN as long as I
LIVE, so there!
AND I am wondering
NOW if you would mind
GIVING me the name and
ADDRESS of that perfect
HUSBAND you know about—
DO you suppose it would
BE all right for me to DATE him up for a few
LITTLE lessons?
FARMER'S WIFE.

MAYBE Farmer Wife's husband
WOULDN'T have been so cross
IF he hadn't been worried
ABOUT his pigs, and
HE wouldn't have been worried
IF he had used Dr. Hess's Improved
STOCK Tonic. Rids hogs of worms,
TAKES care of reinfestation and DOES it on full feed. Dr. Hess'
POULTRY Panacea puts hens in LAYING trim and increases egg
PRODUCTION. All sold on a POSITIVE guarantee. To give PROFITABLE and satisfactory
RESULTS. We advise Farm Wife to TELL her husband this, and then
TAKE another lesson in driving.

Herman L. Schultz
SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

Felts
The "Hat-of-the-Hour"
in
Black and Colors
None over $5.00
A complete line of
Silk and Velvet Hats
Both Patterns and the Cheaper Ones
First Showing of the Fall Dresses
from
D. K. LUNDBERG & CO.
The Hat Shoppe
Belmond, Iowa

A Good HOT Cup of
COFFEE
With maybe a hamburger sandwich, goes pretty good these chilly days. We're proud of our Coffee, and we know you'll like it. Just drop in and try a cup. And every day you will find us here to serve you with
MEALS LUNCHES
SHORT ORDERS
ICE CREAM CANDY
CIGARS TOBACCO
Look for the Red Light!
RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

BUMP GROCERY'S
SPECIALS!
For Friday and Saturday
SEPTEMBER 23-24
Come In And Buy Your Week's Supply
POST TOASTIES, 2 pkgs. for 25c
COFFEE, Peaberry, 1 lb. boxes 40c
COFFEE, Blanks Old Style, lb. 53c
BACON, Fresh Pig's Back, lb. 30c
COOKIES, Assorted high grade, Fresh, lb. 25c
JELLO, Opal Brand, 3 pkgs. for 25c
CRACKERS, 3-lb. package 50c
Bring Us Your Eggs—Highest Prices Paid, Cash or Trade
We Sell for Cash—and Sell For Less!
THE BUMP GROCERY
PHONE 38 BELMOND, IOWA

The Ladies of Belmond will be glad to know that we will have with us on Sept. 26 to Oct. 1 inclusive, Mrs. Givanden the Dorothy Perkins Beauty Specialist.
Mrs. Givanden will give free Facials --- and teach the scientific method of caring for your complexion. We will have a private booth in our store. Phone for appointment.
SCHULTZ DRUG CO.
PHONE 171 BELMOND, IOWA

Belmond Independent

ESTABLISHED 1919 — AND HERALD-PRESS — CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 8 — BELMOND, IOWA, THUR SDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1 927 — NO. 46

Busy Session Ahead Of The Grand Jury

Eagle Grove Man Is Chosen Foreman Monday When Jury Organizes

MANY CASES ARE FILED

The grand jury for the September term of court organized Monday by choosing the first named as foreman: John T. Wagner, Eagle Grove; O. A. Overbaugh, Goldfield; Geo. T. Johnson, Belmond; H. M. Halsey, Eagle Grove; Thomas Tendall, Clarion; O. K. Shager, Dows; H. A. Schroeder, Galt. Considerable business is in sight and it is probable that body will be in session several days. A report of the findngs will be made later.

Judge Garfield of Ames convened court Monday. The time so far has been spent in taking defaults, hearing motions and making assignments. The jury cases will be taken up next week.

John Brennen and Arthur Rice residents of Eagle Grove, have filed suit against that city asking the court to reduce their paving assessments, alleging that said assessments are in excess of the limit based upon the value of their property and not in proportion to the benefit which the property received.

Last call for taxes. Friday of this week is the last day on which county taxes may be paid without the penalty being added. Those who wait until the last minute may be compelled to stand in line for a considerable time.

G. A. Triggs has been appointed by the board of supervisors to the position of supervisor of the Clarion poor and has been performing the duties of that office for the past week or more.

E. H. Green of Dows, who was arrested by Marshal Hemingway on a liquor charge, was brought to Clarion Saturday. He plead guilty to the illegal possession of intoxicating liquor and was fined $100 and costs in Justice Triggs' court.

Walter Fredericks of Eagle Grove is charged with the larceny of several beef hides, which it is alleged he sold to a Goldfield butcher for something like $17. whereas the actual value was considerable more. The defendant was held to the grand jury for investigation.

Franklin Fire Insurance Co., of Philadelphia, claims that on or about November 5, 1922, W. H. Wolle of Belmond wrote a fire insurance policy for plaintiff company, net premium on which amounting to $143.18, defendant has neglected to turn over to plaintiff, wherefor judgment is demanded.

M. S. Gunderson Co., of Dows seeks judgment against W. J. and Katie Osborne for $47.97 claimed to be due on account.

M. S. Gunderson & Co. of Dows brings action agaist Ethel B. Johnson, as wife of Oscar A. Johnson to collect $582.18 on a note given on a merchandise account.

Geo. Cole of Renwick asks judgment against C. A. and Edith Packard in the sum of $9,152.04 to satisfy a second mortgage, interest, taxes and costs.

Receiver for Citizens State bank of Eagle Grove seeks judgment on a promissory note for $12,000 executed by O. A. Stryker and Carrie Stryker. The receiver also asks judgment against same defendants on notes for $5,600, $443, $3,000, $3,000 alleged to be due.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. McComber of Eagle Grove have filed formal adoption papers asking the court for an order granting leave to adopt as their own child Jacqueline Joyce Kragness from the Iowa Children's Home society.

Margaret Mennenga claims to be owner of a note for $4000 executed by Heike Bruns secured by mortgage on real estate on which she demands judgment.

Fred H. Brooks claims of J. E. Kughn, Emma Kughn, et al, the sum of $3,327.34 on past due notes executed by defendants together with mortgage on certain real estate to secure same.

Action is brought against the estate of Richard Gebhard, deceased by the American Commercial & Savings bank of Davenport, seeking judgment on a note for $11,000.

A. H. Box and Bessie Box confess judgment in favor of the State Savings Bank of Rowan in the sum of $1,127.20.

Consolidated National bank of Dubuque has filled four suits against the Belmond Home Building Co., demanding judgment on four notes of $1000.00 each.

R. J. Daggettn brings action against C. F. Buchan to recover $737.75 on a past due note.

Receiver for Citizens State bank of Goldfield sues Carl Buraas and Tillie Buraas for $251.20 and interest amount alleged due on their promissory note.

W. H. Godden of Algona, monument dealer brings suit against A. C. Williams of Goldfield for $300 and interest, claimed to be due on account.

Receiver of Citizens State bank of Eagle Grove asks for foreclosure of chattel mortgage given by J. C. and Frankie A. Middleton to said bank to secure a promissory note on which $1,639.05 still remains unpaid.

Application is made by Harry E. Rogers for the appointment of a guardian for the handling of the estate of his mother, Susan M. Rogers.—Monitor.

WHO THEY ARE AND WHERE THEY TEACH

Following is a list of the teachers in the rural schools in this end of the county, with the district they teach and their address:

Belmond Township

1—Nettie Mason, Goodell
2—Gail Thompson, Belmond
3—Charlotte Hull, Belmond
4—Helen Hildebrand, Belmond
5—Gladys Gunderson, Belmond
6—Charlotte Reynolds, Belmond
7—Ethel Hedges, Belmond
8—Gladys Barry, Belmond
9—Gladys Espe, Kanawha

Pleasant Township

1—Edna Bohning, Belmond
2—Leola Jenison, Belmond
3—Vere Jenison
4—Viola Finn, Belmond
5—Mrs. Bertha Barker, Belmond
6—Luella Rabey, Belmond
8—Charles Studebaker, Belmond
9—Marguerite Studebaker, Belmond

Iowa Township

2—Ruth Veeder, Belmond
3—L. Vey Ketchem, Rowan

Norway Township

1—Gladys Eliason, Kanawha
2—Irene Larson, Kanawha
3—Nettie Larson, Kanawha
4—Nellie Dewaard, Kanawha
5—Mrs. Edith Berhow, Kanawha
6—Nellie Duncan, Kanawha
7—Wava Holm, Kanawha
8—Erma Maland, Kanawha
9—Emery Enge, Clarion

Grant Township

1—Aurelia Kernan, Belmond
2—Lenora Sibert, Belmond
3—Faye Jenison, Belmond
5—Wanda Nichols, Clarion
6—Leona Reed, Belmond
7—Alice Charlesworth, Clarion
8—Lila Hardy, Clarion
9—Amelia Hovick, Belmond

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The monthly meeting of the Congregational Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. E. E. Boughton, September 22, 1927, with a good attendance. Meeting called to order by Pres. Mrs. M. F. Christie. Devotional led by Mrs. Frank Case, and lesson was led by Mrs. Mona Goelz, which was very interesting. After a social hour, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. E. E. Boughton, Mrs. Greenlander, Mrs. Si Packard and Mrs. Ed Reed.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Co-operative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of Sept. 18 to Sept. 24.

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
18	76	47	—	Clear
19	58	37	.07	Cloudy
20	53	32	—	Cloudy
21	58	44	—	Cloudy
22	72	33	—	Pt. cloudy
23	69	37	—	Clear
24	78	41	—	Cloudy

"Watch Your Cattle," the Hunters Are Coming

Legion Equips Park For Youngsters

Playground Equipment Is Placed In City Park

Eimbrink Post No. 35 of the American Legion, recently completed the installation of some splendid playground equipment in the city park of Belmond. The equipment, which numbers seven pieces, consists of three swings, one baby swing, trapese, flying rings, and a slide.

The entire equipment, including the cost of installing it in the park, was paid by the American Legion Post here, their expense amounting to about $200. The installation of this equipment is in line with the Community Service program of the American Legion of the nation, and is but one act of this character on the program of the local Post.

The equipment fits the city park out in very nice shape for the boys and girls of the community, and that they appreciate it is evidenced by the hard use the equipment has already been put to by them.

FORGET-ME-NOT SHOWER

Last Friday evening a "Forget-me not" shower was given Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Sullivan at the Geo. Barry home. About 36 guests were present. The evening was spent in games and a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess.

Monday evening a house dance was given at the Sullivan home, some 50 guests being present. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan are leaving Sunday for their new home in Los Angeles, California.

NARROWLY ESCAPES ACCIDENT

The Kanawha Reporter relates the following experience of the marshal of that place. "Last Wednesday night, as Marshal McCorkle was going home, he heard dogs barking and hogs squealing at the slaughter house. Deciding to try to get the dogs, which have caused considerable trouble in this vicinity, he went to the basement after his trusty tengauge. But on this occasion the weapon proved to be "rusty" instead of "trusty," and as Mr. McCorkle was closing the breach, after inserting the shells, both shells were accidentally discharged, one load entering a basket of clothes and the other played havoc with a supply of canned fruit. But the McCorkles are thankful that nothing more serious happened. The marshal then summoned several other men, who with their guns, went out to the slaughter house and drove the dogs away, but failed to get any of them. All the hogs at the place had been attacked and all were more or less injured. Six or seven of them were badly lacerated by the dogs' fangs.

Ray Brewer expects to move his Red Light Cafe in the near future to the former Herald Press building, next to the Foss Cleaning Shop. Repairs and changes are now being made in the interior of the building, arranging it for the Cafe. Ed. Jenkins is doing the work.

Sunday School Institute Held

Lutherans Hold Two-Day Session in Belmond

A successful two-day convention of the Eagle Grove circuit Lutheran Parent-Teachers Sunday school institute was held here last Saturday and Sunday, September 24 and 25. Attendance at all meetings of the institute was very good, a number of visiting pastors and teachers from surrounding towns being included.

Saturday, the program opened at Trinity church at 10 a. m. with the subject "Organization and Epuipment of the Sunday School." At 11 a. m. "Benefits of the Graded Lesson System" was given. "How to Tell a Bible Story," and "Method of Teaching" were the subjects taken up at 2 p. m., followed by "The Qualifications of a Sunday School Teacher." Saturday evening the subject discussed was "How May We Better Understand Our Children."

Sunday, divine worship was held at the school auditorium at 10:30, the sermon being given by Rev. J. O. Tweten, President of Luther Academy, Albert Lea, Minn. The programs for the afternoon and evening, which were scheduled to take place at the school auditorium, were held at Trinity church. In the afternoon, "Co-Operation of Parents In Sunday School Work," "The Spiritual Value of the Sunday School," and in the evening "The Value and Use of the Catechism" were given.

Instructors of the Institute were Prof. C. B. Helgen, President of Waldorf College, Forest City, and the Rev. P. A. Nordsletten, of Jewell. Lunch was served Sunday noon and evening by the Trinity Aid society to the visiting attendants.

WHAT IS A DIVIDEND?

The State bank of Renwick which closed its doors in July 1926 and was taken over by the receiver, paid what they termed a 25 per cent dividend last Thursday to the old depositors. This placed a good many thousand dollars in circulation in this territory. Just why the banking department calls this payment a dividend we can't understand. We always supposed a dividend to be a profit on the investment, and we are certain this wac nothing of the kind. Another thing that comes to our mind at this time is regardng a number of people who have been stalling off their creditors for the past year on account of their money being tied up in the bank. Did you notice how they have been rushing in to pay up?—Tmes.

Mrs. Dan Wenzel came down from Meservey last week to have her arm, which was badly burned, treated.

Geo. Gealow, who is employed as linotype operator at LaSalle, Ill., spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gealow. He returned Monday accompanied by Miss Jennie Gealow, who will visit relatives there this week.

PHEASANT RULES ARE CHANGED

State Game Warden W. E. Albert has changed his last week's announcement relative to the open season for pheasants. Three days have been awarded Wright county. They are Friday and Saturday, Oct. 21-22, and Saturday, Oct. 29.

Mr. Albert's announcement is as follows:

Petitions signed by the required 50 farmers and land owners have been received from Mitchell, Floyd, Winnebago, Worth, Hardin, Wright, Franklin, Chickasaw, Kossuth, Palo Alto, Humboldt, Butler, Cerro Gordo, Hancock, Grundy, Howard and Black Hawk counties.

The open season will be as follows:

In Winnebago, Worth, Butler and Hancock counties, Oct. 14, 15, 21, 22 and 29.

In Mitchell, Floyd, Black Hawk, Hardin, Wright, Franklin, Chickasaw, Kossuth, Palo Alto, Humboldt, Cerro Gordo, Grundy and Howard counties, Oct. 21, 22 and 29.

The daily bag limit will be three male birds. No hens may be taken. Shooting may be done from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset of each open date.

NO LONGER LIABLE FOR FRIENDS IN CAR

If through courtesy or by request you should give a friend or stranger a ride in your automobile and then meet with an accident by which your guest in injured, under a law effective July 4th you cannot be sued for damages unless intoxication or reckless driving contributed to the accident. The law says: "The owner or operator of a motor vehicle shall not be liable for any damages to any passenger or person riding in said motor vehicle as a guest or by invitation and not for hire, unless damage is caused as a result of the driver of said motor vehicle being under the influence of intoxicating liquor or because of the reckless operation by him of such motor vehicle."

METHODISTS VOTE TO KEEP VAN METRE

Ganer Leader: At the last quarterly conference of the local Methodist church held Friday evening last, the Garner congregation by a unanimous vote asked that the Rev. C. H. VanMetre be returned for another year. The annual district conference will be held at Webster City next week, beginning Tuesday, September 27. This request on the part of the local congregation will have weight with conference officials, and it is more than probable that the Rev. Van Metre will be returned to our city for further work, and that will please the general public as much as it will his congregation.

COMMUNITY CLUB MEETS

The Community Club will meet in its regular monthly session, Friday September 30. A good program has been arranged, consisting of music by a ladies quartet, and a work program. Bring your sewing bag and quilt pieces. The afternoon will be spent in work for the charity committee.

The hostesses are Mesdames H. L. Gowdy, M. G. Luick, A. D. Luick, C. L. Groh, Preston Tyrrell and W. P. Barry.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Luick returned the first of the week from a motor trip to Wisconsin. On their way home, their car was struck by another driven by an intoxicated driver, the Luick car being considerably damaged. Mr. Luick drove it home, however, and is having it repaired here.

The Progress club met at the home of Mrs. H. F. Luick Tuesday afternoon, for their first meeting of the year.

The M. E. Ladies aid meets at the home of Mrs. H. F. Luick this afternoon. The hostesses are: Mrs. Hadley, Miss Helen Harberts, Mrs. Easton and Mrs. H. F. Luick.

Otis Nelson and family, Albin Tomson and family and Mrs. P. J. Peterson went to Hampton Tuesday to see "The Big Parade."

Clarion Eleven Is First Game Winner

Plow Thru Belmond Line At Will And Pile Up A 31-0 Victory

LOCALS PLAY GARNER

The Belmond football team were forced to bow in defeat to the strong Clarion team in the first game of the season on the local field last Friday. The Clarion boys put up a fast hard driving game which had the local team on the defensive most of the time. Although beaten the Belmond boys showed flashes of real form. Considering that one whole side of the line was playing in their first game, the local team gives much prospects of improving as the season continues. Captain Paul McNulty and Johnson showed up well in the backfield, and Rabe played a good game at tackle. Harley Tomlinson was sadly missed at the other tackle, being out with a bad charley horse. Schultz at end showed some flashes of real footfall. For Clarion McGrath and Sharp in the backfield and Captain Nagle and Adams showed up especially strong, McGrath making several sensational runs.

Coach Hall is driving the team this week to iron out some of the weak spots in preparation for this week's game, when the boys go to Garner Friday afternoon. Coach Hall and the team are expecting a much better showing this week. One of the largest crowds in several years turned out for the first game. Clarion sending a big crowd of rooters with the team.

Lineup

Clarion		Belmond
Adams	R. E.	Schultz
Cook	R. T.	Rabe
Leyllm	R. G.	Klemme
English	C.	Pech
Bejounson	L. G.	Dempsey
Nagle (C)	L. T.	Tomlinson
McGahey	L. E.	Kessler
McGrath	R. H. B.	Chapman
Oldham	L. H. B.	Johnson
Sharp	F. B.	J. Baker
Sumners	Q. B.	McNulty(C)

Referee, Grimsley; Umpire, Sutherland, Headlinesman, Thompson.

First Quarter

Belmond kicks off to 20 yard line and Clarion returns the ball to center of the field. Clarion makes a first down through left guard. Clarion makes another 8 yards, only makes 2 yards on the third attempt. Clarion makes their down. Clarion smashes off tackle but fails to gain. Referee calls time out. Clarion makes 2 yards through left tackle; makes her down. Then one of their men makes a touchdown on a wide end run around righ side; fails to make point. Clarion kicks off and Belmond catches it on the twenty yard line; called back to kick over. Belmond gets ball on 20 yard line. Belmond fails to gain but penalized 12 yards, fail to gain on third attempt. Belmond drops ball and recover after 5 yard loss. They are penalized 5 more yards. Belmond kicks; it goes out on 45 yard line, Clarion's ball. They make 8 yards around right end and 8 more yards around left end. Clarion makes 10 yards. 10 yard penalty called on Clarion, make 5 yards around right end. Their man is brought down by Johnson. Clarion makes 5 yards around left side. They kick ball and it rolls over goal line; ball brought back to 20 yard line. Belmond's ball, first down and 10 to go, makes about 2 yards around right end. Belmond is thrown for a small loss and the next attempt brings them back still farther.

Second Quarter

Belmond attempts to smash line and fails, kicks to 40 yard line. Clarion gets ball but brought down by Belmond. On first down Clarion makes 8 yards; 4 yards more are made, third down. Referee calls time out. Clarion makes 5 yards through right tackle; then 7 yards on their next downs and 3 yards more brings them almost over the goal. Ball carried over for a touchdown; fail to make point. Neuhring is sent in for Tomlinson as L. T. Clarion kicks off; ball is received by McNulty who fumbles and recovering makes a 5 yard gain. Clarion sends in 2 substitutes. On their

(Continued on page two).

Belmond Independent
AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES
Display, per column inch ------25c
Locals, per line ----------10c
Classified, per word ----------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

The country has heard much the past few years of the Coolidge economy in government affairs, and the people as a whole have accepted the statement as fact. So much has been said about it, and it has been so well advertised as fact, that most of us have not questioned it. Wallace's Farmer, however, which Iowa farmers know to be reliable and fair, recently gave some figures about the Coolidge economy which are amazing and which completely refute the propaganda spread before the people by the Coolidge administration. Wallace's Farmer says:

For the fiscal year ending July, 1924, the first year Mr. Coolidge was in office, the total government expenditures were $3,506,677,715. In the fiscal year ending in July, 1925, the first year in which President Coolidge, thru his influence on appropriations, had any chance to affect the total expenditure, the total rose to $3,529,543,446. The following year there was a further increase of around $55,000,000. The first decrease in federal expenditures in this period was in the year just closed, when the total dropped to $3,493,584,519.

What an amazing difference there sometimes seems to be between propaganda and fact.

Keep your eyes on the Al Smith candidacy. McAdoo's action in withdrawing has not had the effect anticipated, in causing Smith to go and do likewise, for the sake of democratic harmony. On the other hand, the Smith forces are taking advantage of McAdoo's withdrawal to strengthen their own lines. The wets of America realize one thing very plainly, and that is that if they are ever to knock out prohibition in a national way it must be done in 1928: 1932 will be too late. And America is dry, despite the clamor made by a small group of wets. Al Smith cannot be elected. If the democratic party chooses him as their leader next year, they have lost before the votes are counted. They have got to look around for another standard bearer if they expect to get anywhere in 1928.

Levine has decided to cancel all his plans for flying back across the Atlantic from England, and return by boat. That is the first sensible idea Levine has had in the past three months. He has done more harm to aviation and to America than he could possibly do good.

HENRY WILL ADVERTISE

For twenty years Henry Ford dominated the automobile industry. A year ago he announced that he would stop all advertising. Inadvertantly he stopped sales to such an extent that he was forced to bring out an entirely new car to regain his place in the industry. While his plants are being changed to produce the new car, his losses are a million dollars a day. His most powerful competitor, General Motors, is spending something like thirty million dollars this year for advertising cars that everybody knows about. As a result they have sold about 74,000 more cars during the first six months of 1927 than they did last year. It is reported that Ford will spend fifteen million dollars to exploit his new car which will be on market soon. That is the largest sum ever spent in a year to advertise a single automobile. It will be a battle of giants and their weapons will be printer's ink. There is a moral in these facts for the man who says, "Everybody knows where I am and what I sell." If your names are better known than Henry Ford's, you may be right; if not, well, you know what we mean.—Audubon Advocate.

FREE AIR!

Now that the big fight and the football game are both over, we can struggle back to normalcy again.

* * * *

After getting all keyed up to the nth degree over both, we were dropped as the novelists say with a sickening thud.

* * * *

That seventh round was hard on the nerves—and likewise on the bank accounts of some folks. So much might have happened IF—. Ever stop to think of how much might happen, or what might be, IF —? It's the biggest word in the English language. Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest is this IF—.

* * * *

That applies to the feetball game Friday, too. IF—Clarion hadn't been so completely wrecked as a team, with half their men on crutches, and the other five sick in bed, as the Globe Gazette stated, we might have read the law to the attorneys from the county seat.

* * * *

IF—it hadn't been so cold and windy, Ernest Haup might have brought us something besides sardines from Minnesota; IF—Joe Scott hadn't been a good guesser we would be a dollar ahead; IF—Stanzel had had more political pull he might have had a new counter hopper; IF —Herman hadn't said anything about that Perfect Husband he wouldn't be in hot water; IF—Henderson would study he might be able to play chess some day; IF—Scott and Morrow aren't twins they ought to be; IF—Geo. Goelz ever raises a good patch of potatoes he'll quit barbering; IF — Blackie hadn't sampled his own stuff Belmond wouldn't have lost a resident.

Clarion, Iowa, September 9, 1927.
The Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, met as per adjournment.
Members all present with County Auditor in attendance.
Minutes of September 6 and 7, 1927, read and approved.
On motion Estimate No. 1 to H. R. Maudlin for $7502.74, for hauling gravel in District No. 35, was approved and ordered paid.
Time and date for repair letting on Drainage District No. 90 having arrived, board took up the same.
Bids were received from H. W. Sargent and Belmond Construction Company.
The bid of the Belmond Construction Company was found to be the lowest and best bid. On motion they were awarded contract and chairman and board was instructed to sign contract.
On motion adjourned to meet September 12, 1927.
E. E. KITLEY,
Chairman.
F. W. WALKER,
County Auditor.

FOOTBALL GAME

Continued from page 1

second play Clarion fails to make any advance. Belmond kicks off side on 35 yard line. Clarion's ball. Clarion makes 5 yards off right tackle, on second attempt make no gain and on 3rd down Clarion brings the ball over the line for a touchdown. Captain Nagle who carried the ball is injured and a substitute is sent in. They fail in their attempt to make a pont. Fetrow of Belmond goes in for Kessler as L. E. Clarion kicks off and Johnson of Belmond returns it 10 yards. No further gain is made. Half called.

Third Quarter

Clarion kicks off, ball lands on the 35 yard line and is returned 8 yards by Johnson. Belmond's ball. On first play they make 2 yards. Clarion is penalized 5 yards. Then Belmond makes a gain of 10 yards on left end, make 2 yards more and then about a yard. They are then thrown for a small loss, they attempt a pass but fail to gain. They kick and the ball is returned to the 45 yard line. Clarion makes 10 yards on a pass. Then they attempt a center smash but make no headway and then Clarion is penalized. A smash is attempted but no gain is made. Clarion sneaks a pass and makes 8 yards, shoot another pass and make 4 more yards. Clarion on their fourth down punts to Belmonds' 20 yard line and Belmond makes about 20 yards on a wide end run. Belmond loses 5 yards and makes only 2 yards on an attempted pass. They then make 2 yards off left tackle. Belmond makes very small gain and the 3rd quarter ends with the score 18-0 in Clarion's favor.

Fourth Quarter

Belmond punts to their 35 yard iine and Clarion returns it 5 yards. Clarion on their first down makes 8 yards, make 8 more yards and then about 10 on the last downs, 5 of them on a fake play. On their first down they pass to right end who makes a touchdown; fail to make point. Score raised to 24-0. Clarion then kicks off to Belmond's 10 yard line and ball is returned to Belmond's 15 yard line. McNulty makes 5 yards around right end. They then lose about 2 yards on a forced wide end run. Clarion intercepts Belmond's pass and run back for a 5 yard gain. Clarion's ball. Clarion makes approximately 2 yards through center. Clarion makes 8 yards and sends in Nagle and two more subs. They then make 4 yards off right guard, 3 more yards through center of right defense. Try smash and make no gain. Ball is on the five yard line, in Belmond's possession. Belmond kicks to 30 yard line and is returned to the 20 yard line by Clarion. Clarion's down. First play brings them 6 yards. McGahey sends a pass to L. E. who carries the ball across the goal ine. Clarion makes point and the score stands 31-0 in Clarion's favor. Second team men are sent in by Clarion and kick to Belmond's 10 yard line. The quarterback fumbles, recovers and runs 5 yards before he is brough down. Clarion man is hurt. Sub sent in and they kick off. Baker receives pass, drops it, picks the ball up again and runs 4 yards. Belmond makes 2 yards off left tackle. Clarion is penalized 5 yards. Belmond gains off right end. On the second play they are thrown for a loss and the whistle blows. The game is over and belongs to Clarion by the wide margin of 31-0.

J. S.-H. G. L.

JUNIOR HIGH NOTES

The first Junior High assembly was held at 2:50 Thursday by the Healthy Wealthy club. Arthur Dorr president, and Lois Leinbach, secretary, had charge of the meeting and it proved to be a very interesting one built around Thrift and Health.

The program was as follows:
Talk, Origin of Healthy Wealthy Club—Junior Goelz
Talk on Thrift—Velma Brewer
How to Practice Thrift—Duan Packard
Piano Solo—Marial Sullivan
Talk on Teeth—Mona Schmidt
Song—Seventh Grade girls

Mr. H. F. Luick gave our Junior High a very interesting talk on Thrift, and we are certain that we shall try to profit by all the rules and suggestions that he gave us.

Miss Margaret Webster of St. Paul visited Junior High last Monday.

The pupils who were excused in Junior High from penmanship are: Veda Curtiss, Rose Barry and Christina Groen. These girls will have to keep their writing up to a certain standard or else they have to go back into the Penmanship class.

The Junior High held a pep meeting in the auditorium last Friday afternoon at 2:50. Miss Sowerwine had charge of the meeting. There were peppy songs led by Miss Waugh, then we elected Carol Jacobson for yell leader of the Junior High.

CHURCHES

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

At the time of morning worship next Sunday, we have the regular quarterly communion service. There are many Christian disciples who never willingly miss a communion servce. We look to the people of our fellowship to make this a largely attended service, one characterized by an earnest seeking after spiritual strength.

The Sunday School convenes at ten o'clock. No one else can do your part in this phase of church life.

The young people meet at 7:30 o'clock. We plan for a good leadership and a program which will be accordingly worth while.

METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. J. F. Snyder, Pastor

There will be no worship in this church on the Lord's Day, Oct. 2.

Annual conference convenes at Webster City Wednesday morning, Sept. 28, and concludes Monday noon, Oct. 3rd. Bishop Keeney, our resident Bishop, of Omaha area, presides at all sessions.

The inspirational addresses will be delivered each day at 4:00 P. M. by Dr. E. Guy Cutshall, President of Iliff School of Theology, Denver, Colorado.

W. F. M. S. Thursday afternoon at 2 P. M. Address by Miss Joy Smith, Nanking, China.

8 P. M. Address by Dr. E. A. Steiner of Grinnell College on "Capitalism, Nationalism and the Christian Church."

Friday 2 P. M. Anniversary of the W. H. M. S. Address by Mrs. H. S. Hollingsworth, Des Moines.

Saturday evening at 8 o'clock an educational address by Dr. Roy L. Smith of Simpson College, Minneapolis.

Regular Sunday services on Sunday, with Conference pastors filling various pulpits both morning and evening.

Closing session Monday forenoon.

Regular business session of the conference each forenoon.

Electoral conference and laymen's association on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 30-Oct. 1.

Expect a goodly number of Belmond folks to this conference.

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor
Telephone Call, 150

Sunday, October 2.—
The Sunday School and Bible classes will meet at 10 a. m.

The Luther League will meet at 7 p. m. followed by the sermon at 8 p. m. Theme "True Israelites." Romans 9:1-13.

Thursday, Oct. 6.—
The catechetical class will meet immediately after school.

Prayer meeting will b held at 8:00 p. m.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Saturday, Oct. 1. Catechetical class meets at 10 a. m.

Sunday, Oct. 2.—
Sunday School and Bible classes at 10 a. m.

English services at 11 a. m.

Oct. 5. The North Ladies Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Andrew Scott.

Oct. 5. Prayer meeting will be held at 8 p. m.

Ohio experiment station workers are urging the farmers to cut their corn stalks low this fall in order to destroy as many corn borers as possible.

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elder left last week for Fort Morgan, Colo., to visit friends and relatives.

The exhibit of canned goods belonging to Miss Cloe Jenison, which won first place at the State Fair, is now on display in the window of Bohning's Store.

Mrs. Harold Rule and her three weeks old baby of Buffalo Center, spent last week at the baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rule.

Rev. Burress left yesterday for Algona to attend the annual conference. Belmond people, both Methodist and otherwise, will be glad to have him returned to Belmond for another year.

G. N. Thompson and Sid Houghton went to Ft. Dodge last Sunday.

Miss Anna Massman had the misfortune to sprain her ankle last week.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

N. J. Clark has purchased the harness business of M. Menneuga.

E. P. Ripley and wife are visiting relatives in Wisconsin.

Jas. Dignan made a business trip to Wesley Tuesday.

Miss Maud Acheson went to Pocahontas last week where she will be employed in a printing office.

G. F. Malone purchased Chas. Boughers' interest in the barber shop and the firm is now Lathrop & Malone.

Mrs. L. B. Clark and children will leave this week for their new home in Colorado. Mr. Clark will follow later.

Mrs. Leinbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Luick and at present at the home of her parents, gave birth to a baby girl Sunday.

Miss Emma Sands of Grundy Center arrived this week to visit home folks.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

Charley King has sold his interest in the boot and shoe business to his partner, Prof. Horth; but he will remain in town.

Henry Davis is fixing up his main street residence with a new porch, bay window and blinds.

E. J. Culver is on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rowan are in Belmond again.

The house question begins again, not an empty dwelling room in town.

J. E. Rowen and J. T. Haight have been invited and will hold a political discussion at Horse Grove, Oct. 7.

A drove of 160 head of cattle passed through town Wednesday.

G. G. Yeoman, Jas. Rowen, C. C. Emerson, A. Proctor and John Brooks are the Iowa township delegates to the convention at Clarion, delegates are: S. N. Hinman, L. J. Justus, Frank Christie and J. L. Morse.

We Want Your Poultry

And we will pay you the very highest market price for it. Before you sell, see us or call us and let us make you a price—you'll find it is dollars in your pocket. If you haven't time to bring your poultry in, or haven't a way to do it, remember we furnish you

TRUCK SERVICE!

We'll call at your place, load your birds, haul them to town, give you honest, full weights, and send you a check promptly at the highest market prices. We want your poultry, and we'll do anything fair and square to get it. Give us a trial!

Farmers Grain Company
PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!
BELMOND, - - IOWA

The Splinters
"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2 Thursday, September 29, 1927 No. 24

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

We know a husband who says his wife has three different voices, — a telephone voice, a "company voice," and the one she uses on him.

—

He owed the landlady money,
He couldn't pay the score,
So he married her one morning,
And stayed there two months more.

—

The secret of success, is still somewhat of a secret to us.

—

Get your winter's coal supply into your basement right away and then laugh at the Weather man.

—

A girl advertised for a husband and landed him in a short time. The ad cost $3, the wedding cost her $6, total $9. The husband lived less than a year and left $14,000 insurance. And yet some people say it doesn't pay to advertise.

—

No matter what you do, somebody always knew you would.

—

You'll soon save enough on your coal bill to pay for storm doors and windows. They keep the heat in and the cold out. Snugly fitting storm windows this winter will make your home much more comfortable.

—

The other day we saw a motorist hit a chicken, with the usual results. But he didn't drive on like most of us do. He stopped, wrung the chicken's neck, and turned it over to the lady of the house.

—

We know a lady who borrowed her neighbor's cat to rid the basement of mice. Good idea. Buy a cat and rent 'er out. The annual mouse season is here. They are looking for warm winter quarters in the furnace rooms.

—

The big fight is all over now, and the best man won.

Turn the key! and your Buick is Double-Locked

No lock could be safer! One turn of the key locks both ignition and steering wheel. But merely turning off the ignition does not lock the wheel. You may shut off the engine and coast, if you like, and still have your car under perfect control.

And no lock could be more convenient! It is illuminated and located within easy reach, where the steering column meets the dash.

The Buick double-lock is an exclusive Buick feature —one of many important refinements which characterize Buick for 1928.

BUICK MOTOR COMPANY, FLINT, MICHIGAN
Division of General Motors Corporation

Sedans $1195 to $1995 Coupes $1195 to $1850
Sport Models $1195 to $1525

All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich., government tax to be added. The G. M. A. C. financing plan, the most desirable, is available.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT . . . BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

BUICK for 1928

WEBSTER COUNTY BUICK CO.
DISTRIBUTORS
20-24 North 9th St. Fort Dodge, Iowa
BELMOND—HUB MOTOR CO. Kanawha—Yeakel & Mallow
Clarion—Linfor Auto Co. Dows—A Banwell
Eagle Grove—Porter Auto Co.

AGRICULTURAL NEWS NOTES

"SOW RYE FOR HOGS"
—BERESFORD

"Sow some rye this fall for hog pasture. Sow it almost any place convenient—fields where the corn has been taken off for silage or the old hog lots are good places. At any rate, sow a piece somewhere."

The above are the suggestions of Rex Beresford, livestock extension specialist at Iowa State College. Rye pasture, he says, comes on much earlier in the spring than any other and furnishes excellent feed for hogs, sheep or chickens.

Not a tenth enough rye is grown on the farms of Iowa, Mr. Beresford believes. The crop, he points out, may be used for pasture, it may be allowed to mature and be harvested as a grain crop, or it may be plowed under while green and will add valuable organic matter to the soil.

Where the crop is sown on a corn stubble from which silage or fodder corn has been removed, the following spring this land, after it has been pastured a while, may be plowed and planted back to corn if desired.

Any time from now until the middle of October is usually all right to sow rye in Iowa the farm crops specialists say. About 5 pecks of seed should be sown to the acre. The Rosen variety is much the best for a grain crop, but the common variety has been found satisfactory where the rye is grown for pasture.

EARLY PICKED SEEED HEALTHIEST

Picking seed corn early in the fall and then drying it quickly by artificial means, will greatly reduce the amount of dry rot. This is one of the important points learned by plant disease specialists at Iowa State College, Ames, in tests they have made in recent years.

Th value of the early selection and drying was illustrated last year by a test in Chickasaw County. Early selected corn, picked Sept. 20, and rapidly dried, showed, when tested in the spring: 97.4 percent strong, 1 percent weak and 1.5 percent dead.

In comparison, the late selected corn gave 79 percent strong, 4.5 percent weak, and 16.5 percent dead. Other tests gave similar results. A more striking difference was in the amount of disease present. The early picked corn showed 7 percent disease and the late picked corn had 27 percent disease present.

The damage caused by these dry rots depends on weather conditions both in the spring of the year at planting time and also in the late summer and fall. For example, warm wet weather in August and September provides ideal conditions for growth of the organisms which cause the moldy and dry rot ears in the field.

The two important dry rots are known as Diplodia and Basisporium. These live over on the seed and in that way carry the disease from one crop to the next. While ears badly infected with the dry rots may easily be identified, the plant pathologists have found that some ears may carry the disease, yet show no outward signs of it.

Right moisture and temperature conditions are factors in the growth of the dry rot organisms. They will grow in temperatures as low as 59 degrees F. or as high as 95. The best temperatures are 82 to 85 degrees for Diplodia and 77 for Basisporium. The greater the moisture content of the corn, the more rapidly will the organisms grow, providing the temperatures are satisfactory.

Corn should be selected in the field before frost from healthy, standing stalks. Stalks with broken shanks or broken stems and roots should be avoided as well as smutted or lodging talks. As soon as selected the ears should be dried rapidly. Drying is even more important than early picking, because these molds can not grow to any extent unless moisture is present. Artificial heat is necessary, especially if the weather is damp.

More Important

In a certain South American town the local judge was also the cashier of the bank. One day a man came in and presented a check which he wanted cashed. The judge was not satisfied as to the visitor's identity and refused to hand over the money.

"But judge, I've known you to hang men on no better evidence than this," said the man heatedly.

"Very likely," retorted the judge; "but when it comes to a matter of money, you've got to be careful."

We're Backing Out!

SINCE we received
THAT communication last
WEEK from Farmer's Wife
WE'VE had about fifty
APPLICATIONS from
"PERFECT husbands" who
ARE willing to give HER driving lessons—
WE thought we'd found
THE only perfect husband
IN town but the woods
SEEM to be full of
THEM—and we see right
NOW that we're getting INTO something that MIGHT lead to serious
COMPLICATIONS—This is STILL a Drug store,
YOU know, and not a
MATRIMONIAL bureau nor an AUTO instruction agency—
So, Farmer's Wife, if you
WLL pardon us, we'll
DROP the matter—and if
THAT husband of yours
DOESN'T do better, you
MIGHT try running him
INTO the ditch.
P. S.—We never knew there
WERE so many beautiful women
IN Belmond, for the Dorothy Perkins
BEAUTY Specialist who is at
OUR store this week is certainly
HAVING a busy time.
FARMER'S Wife, and all
OTHER ladies, phone for
YOUR appointment.

Herman L. Schultz

SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

Warm and Sanitary
Hog Houses bring Increased Profits from Swine

Today—with improved livestock and our many breeds—it is easy to get large litters.

But can you keep them, and keep them gaining?

A hog house built of Denison Hollow Tile insures the health of your pig crop. The floor, built of special floor tile, is easily cleaned and affords maximum sanitation.

The walls, with their triple air spaces, insulate against heat, cold, frost and dampness. The building is fireafe.

Tile buildings are not expensive. In addition there is no paint cost, no upkeep or repair.

Denison buildings are permanent!

Sold by your local dealer
WRITE FOR CIRCULAR

Mason City Brick & Tile Company
210 Denison Bldg.
MASON CITY, IOWA

DENISON

W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

DR. R. E. PORTER
BELMOND, IOWA
Chiropractic Health Service
Eight Year's Experience
Office Over Griesy's Store

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Bldg
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

Camel

The most popular cigarette in the United States

Quality put it there—quality keeps it there.

Camel smokers are not concerned and need not be concerned with anything but the pleasure of smoking.

© 1927, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Mule-O-Grams

September is here and nights are becoming cool, which brings thoughts of the things that are to be done before Winter sets in.

Our yard man read in the paper the other day about a grass-crop failure in Hawaii this year. Now he wants to spend his vacation there among the hula hula girls.

Bobbed hair does not make a woman bad any more than long white whiskers make a man a saint.

We certainly like to talk about MULEHIDE Roofing. You can't blame us, either. It makes a wonderful roof. Do come in and let us explain why.

This is the time of the year to cover your old roof with MULE-HIDE Shingles or roll type roofing. Why? Because MULE-HIDE Roofs laid during this warm weather really cement themselves to the old roof and make a "skin tight" fit. If you plan to reroof this fall our advice is DO IT NOW while the weather is so favorable.

One should lie on the right side, says the doctor. But if one is on the right side it is not necessary to lie at all.

BELMOND LUMBER COMPANY
M. H. Hanson, Mgr.
Phone 101 BELMOND, IOWA

An Open Letter to the Editor

From the President of General Motors

LAST SPRING I wrote you that my belief in the country newspaper had led us in General Motors to decide to advertise our products together in the small-city press of the country.

The returns from the series of the messages recently published have justified that faith; and we shall continue to advertise in your community through your newspaper this fall.

It occurs to me, however, that some of your readers may be asking: "What is General Motors?" and "Why is General Motors?" These are fair questions and I should like to answer them as frankly as I can.

General Motors was organized some years ago on the theory that a group of large companies, working together, could render a better service than they could separately. In this we simply applied to industry a principle that is as old as civilization as regards the human family and human progress.

Original members of the General Motors family were Buick, Cadillac, Chevrolet, Oakland and Oldsmobile, together with the Delco-Light Company and other well-known companies manufacturing automotive equipment. By joining together their resources, we were able to establish great Research Laboratories, a 1245-acre Proving Ground and the GMAC Plan of credit purchase; to effect vast economies in purchase and manufacture and distribution; to assure and maintain the quality of every product in the General Motors family.

Has the General Motors family principle proved itself in practice?

The best answer, I think, is to compare the Chevrolet, Buick, Cadillac, Oldsmobile and Oakland of today with the models of five or ten years ago.

Then add Pontiac, a General Motors creation. Add LaSalle, another General Motors creation. And then consider how General Motors has developed these cars into a complete line, within which any family may find a suitable quality car at the price it plans to pay: "A Car for Every Purse and Purpose."

Another example is Frigidaire, the electric refrigerator. General Motors had the resources to spend millions to develop a satisfactory refrigerator, and then to apply to its manufacture the same processes which have increased the utility and lowered the cost of the automobile.

We believe that this record justifies General Motors as an economic institution. Its products are quality products, first of all. Their prices represent the economies of united effort passed on to the purchaser. In the last year one in each three automobiles chosen by the public has been a General Motors car. The service of Delco-Light electric plants has extended to more than a quarter million homes, while Frigidaire has become the world's largest selling convenience of its kind.

We believe also that the values now offered in the current General Motors products (which are listed below) prove anew that "many minds are better than one" and that a family of companies, working together, can produce results which are decidedly in the public interest and of increasing benefit to the individual family.

Very truly yours,
Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., President
General Motors Corporation

Detroit, September 23, 1927

GENERAL MOTORS

CHEVROLET · PONTIAC · OLDSMOBILE · OAKLAND · BUICK · LASALLE · CADILLAC

FRIGIDAIRE—The Electric Refrigerator · DELCO-LIGHT—Electric Plants

GMAC Plan of Time Payments

MESERVEY SECTION

REFORMED CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:30.

Morning worship at 10:30. (German.)

Young People's meeting at 7:30.

Evening preaching services at 8:00.

The Ladies Aid met last week Thursday. Mrs. A. Schlichting served refreshments. The Aid gladly accepts orders for tying comforters at 75 cents a piece. Leave orders with any of the members or at the parsonage.

The Dorcas Society met Monday evening, 17 members being present. Miss Tillie Pals served refreshments.

This church extends a warm welcome to all to attend its services.

H. Pannkuk, Pastor

EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:30.

Morning worship at 10:30.

E. L. C. E. at 7:00 p. m.

Evening worship at 7:30 p. m.

With Sunday our Evangelistic services will begin. Preaching every night with the exception of Saturday night.

The meetings during the week begin at 7:45 p. m. We would like to invite the community.

Let us draw nearer to God. We shall be entirely biblical in all our discourses. No one can find an occasion of stumbling in that. Start from the beginning.

A. K. Henning, Pastor

Groen-Smith

On Tuesday evening, Sept. 20th, occurred the marriage of Miss Grace Groen, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harm Groen, and Mr. Clyde Smith, second youngest son of Mrs. Joseph Smith. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. H. Pannkuk in the presence of the family, and the pair was attended by the bride's brother, George, and Miss Elsena Ruiter. These young people are well known here having grown up in this vicinity, and attended the Meservey schools, both graduates. They will be at home on the Smith farm where the groom has been helping to operate the place for the past several years. The best wishes of their friends are extended for a happy, prosperous, wedded life.

Washington People Visit Here

Peter Schuyleman and daughters, Elizabeth, Elsie and Marie of Lynden, Washington, arrived here Friday afternoon for a short visit with K. Clarence Ruigh and family. They were accompanied by K. Klein of Firth, Nebraska and had made the trip from Lynden in their car, stopping at various points of interest, including Yellowstone Park. They left for the West Monday morning, expecting to stop in Nebraska, Kansas, Denver, Colorado and other points on the return trip. The men are brothers-in-law of Mr. Ruigh.

The Helping Hand Society met in the Evangelical church parlors for their regular meeting last Thursday. Mesdames F. C. Sprau and Otto Strasburg were the hostesses.

Miss Irena Butz returned last week on Wednesday evening from a few days visit at the Clyde Smith home in Mason City.

Silo filling was the principal occupation of a good many farmers in this section the past week.

Mrs. Ralph Strasburg and baby Anna Rose, of Spencer and the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henrickson of Anamosa, came Monday for a visit at the Alto Strasburg home.

H. B. Frey, Frank Sprau, Gerald Janssen and Clarence Paul returned home from Chicago last Friday, where they had been for a few days and witnessed the big fight, Thursday evening. They report a very exciting time, and said it was well worth the trip to be able to watch it.

Miss Maggie Fischer left Thursday evening for a visit with relatives at Fort Dodge.

Mrs. Chas. Quandt left Thursday to visit relatives and friends in LaSalle and Streator, Illinois, for a few weeks.

Irv. Nissen and children, Arlene and Ardell of Kamrar spent Sunday at the A. Kolb and J. Nissen homes.

Mrs. Wm. White and Mrs. Joe White of Belmond and the former's son Clare of Minneapolis, were business callers here last Thursday.

John Schmidt and wife and younger children returned last week from a visit in Forreston, Ill., at the home of Mrs. Schmidt's brother.

Coat and Dress Sale, Tuesday and Wednesday, October, 4-5.—The Hat Shoppe, Belmond.

F. C. Sprau and daughter, Miss Rozelle and Jake Sprau of Hayfield returned the fore part of the week from a visit with relatives in Ill.

Bert Lauen left Sunday for Des Moines, where he has employment with a branch house of the Willard Battery Co.

Gerald Braga of Garner spent Saturday night and part of Sunday with home folks.

Mrs. Lyle Sands and baby of St. Paul, came Sunday for a few days visit at the homes of her grandmother, Mrs. Meinderts, and aunt, Mrs. H. Wilkins.

Mrs. Wilkins and daughters, accompanied by Mrs. Lyle Sands and son were in Belmond Tuesday evening to see "The Scarlet Letter."

Miss Eva Sprau spent the week end with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith of Mason City drove down Sunday, bringing the latter's granmother back with them. The latter had spent a week with her son at Monterey, Minn.

Herman Fischer Jr., returned to his school work at Iowa State College at Ames, last Tuesday. His father accompanied him.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Janssen and children, Arloene and Gene were Mason City callers last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Lycke returned from their weeks visit with relatives at Boone Sunday.

Hio and John Backelman of Titonka were visitors at the Rev. Pannkuk home last Monday.

Rev. Pannkuk was in Alexander, Sunday afternoon, where he preached a Missionary sermon at the Evangelical Lutheran church.

The Rev. Pannkuk and Mr. B. Gruis left last Tuesday for Stout, where they attended the conference of the Reformed church, in session there for a few days.

Revival services will begin at the Evangelical church here, Sunday evening. The Rev. Henning will conduct his own meetings. All are invited to attend these meetings every evening.

ALEXANDER NEWS NOTES

The Delta Alpha Class gave a surprise party on their Sunday School teacher, Mrs. L. N. Moody, in the church basement on Tuesday evening. A most enjoyable evening was spent with various games for entertainment. A dainty luncheon was served and Mrs. Moody was presented with a pretty casserole and a luncheon set consisting of cloth and eight napkins, as a remembrance to help express for the class, their appreciation of the assistance and service that their teacher has been to them the past two years.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dunn and Mrs. Dunn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Messelheiser, drove to Iowa Falls Thursday for a visit with friends.

Coat and Dress Sale, Tuesday and Wednesday, October, 4-5.—The Hat Shoppe, Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Bohlen visited relatives at Ackley Tuesday.

Harm Janssen and Elmer Kieslich went to King, Ill., Tuesday for a visit with relatives and friends.

John Conrad and J. C. Arends drove to Webster City Tuesday on business.

Lewis Schulte and Jesse Arends who attend school at Des Moines, were home over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bohlen are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine baby girl, born Saturday, the 24th.

Mr. and Mrs. John Weik of Kenset, were visitors at the Forest Gillett home Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Buterwick, and and Duke Buterwick, of Faribault, bault, Minn., were visitors at the William Winwood home Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Verona Goettsch entertained at the Fred Greenfield home Saturday, her father and mother, her brother-in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Peterson, and her nephew, Erwin Peterson of Waterloo.

Miss Pearl Schenke spent the week end with relatives at Colesburg.

Miss Sylverine Helland spent Saturday and Sunday with her people at Hanlontown.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Gillett and son Alva went to Kensett Saturday, for a visit at the home of Mr. Gillett's sister, Mrs. John Weik.

Miss Alice Peters and Miss Ruth Beenen of Holland visited with home folks over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilko Pals and son Ormal were guests at the John H. Leebrick home in Hampton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bell and daughter Alma Jean, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Larsen drove to Cedar Rapids Monday on business and for a visit with Miss Mildred Larsen, who is attending college.

Altho Sunday evening was stormy a good many attended the meeting at the Evangelical church. The two churches were united to take part in a Mission Fest service. The singing was enjoyed by all. Reverend Fredericks of the Reformed church, led in prayer. The pastor, Rev. Barth, read the scripture lesson, the 23rd Psalm, and Rev. Anderson of Hampton preached a very inspiring sermon on the subject, "One Fold and one Shepherd," after which Rev. Moody of the United Church gave a most interesting talk, on how unity and love prevailing, all denominations are gathered into the one great family of which the churches of Alexander represent a part.

Rev. Barth expressed his gratitude of the profitable evening spent together.

ALEXANDER SCHOOL NOTES

The High School classes have all organized and the officers elected are as follows:

Senior class — advisor Miss Goettsch; president, Abner Harlow, vice-president, Pearl Thompson; secretary-treasurer, Harold Packard.

Junior class — advisor, Miss Shenkle; president, Joe Pals; vice-president, John Schulte; secretary-treasurer, Willard Latham.

Sophomore class—advisor, Miss Seeds; president, Gordon Dunn; vice president, La Vonne Ingraham; secretary-treasurer, Leona Wenzel.

Freshman Class — advisor, Mr. Gaulke; president, Rachel Schimp; vice president, Stanley Dunn; secretary-treasurer, Robert Rodemeyer.

The first high school party of the year was held Friday night, Sept. 23, when the upper classmen initiated the freshmen. All report a good time but the freshmen. They couldn't see much fun in taking castor oil, eating crackers and milk and various stunts they had to perform.

The Senior class ordered their class rings one day last week from Herbert's Jewelers, Indianola, Iowa. They expect to have them in about four weeks.

Melvin Robertson entered the seventh grade Monday morning.

The baseball boys are improving each game they play. The game at Popejoy Friday was a fine exhibition of baseball from start to finish. Popejoy managed to be on the long end of the game 6 to 5. The locals were threatening to tie the scores with Harlow on third, but Hagan failed to come thru with a hit and therefore Alexander lost her chance to perhaps win. Chapin comes here Friday and with the team in a fighting spirit, they expect to give Chapin a surprise. The game will be called at three o'clock, so be there and help boost.

(Continued on page five.)

CROSLEY
RADIO
Fresh "B" Batteries always on hand.

H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

Undertaking
& Funeral Director
F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone--Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

CONFIDENCE

as shown by the banking public is the best advertising medium that a financial institution can have and without it nothing avails for the ultimate success of the undertaking. We believe that we possess it.

"Service and Safety"

Farmers Savings Bank

Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

HIGH QUALITY
BUILDING MATERIAL
Screen Doors and Window Screens—Mill Work—Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts and Poles
Cement — Lime
INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT
Wheat Bran – Oil Meal – Cotton Seed Meal, – Tankage – Salt
Highest Price Paid for Grain

Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

Harry T. Smith
General Blacksmithing
Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding
Meservey, - Iowa

Auction Sale

Fill out your bid and send it in today

$135.00

is the regular price for this beautiful full Enamel

South Bend Malleable Range which will be sold to the highest bidder

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1927
AT 2:00 P. M.

The most beautiful range in the world.
What will you give for it?

Every piece of vitreous enamel on The South Bend Malleable Range is paneled right over the outside of our three-ply regular black range, with out bolts or rivets, in such a way that the enamel parts are perfectly protected yet very easy to remove if ever necessary.

They are built for those who want, at a reasonable price, the very best range possible to build. The entire cooking-top, reservoir-top, doors, handles, hinges, latches, dampers, drafts and frames are the finest quality Unbreakable Malleable Iron.

A one-piece, highly polished, 16-gauge, copper-bearing range body, heavily asbestos lined, over which, thru the flues, is a patented aluminum fused metal upon which rust, creosote, or even acid has virtually no effect.

The oven is 12-gauge copper-bearing special armor plate, so closely riveted into malleable angle frames that they are air and gas-tight and wonderful bakers. A 12-gallon heavy copper reservoir insures abundance of hot water.

The fire-box alone weighs 100 pounds; scientifically vented so that all the fuel gases are burned. The large circulating air chambers back of each heavy fire lining section add many years to their life and the double end draft insures perfect combustion.

A perfect range in every detail — handsome white, gray, blue and tan vitreous enamel and made in all the popular sizes and styles.

You can't afford to miss this opportunity to get this range at your own price. Come and see the range, then sign your name and address, the amount you bid and the date and hand or mail in sealed envelope to

C. J. WENDEL
Meservey, Iowa

Be sure and mark "Range Bid" on the envelope so it will not be opened before Saturday, October 1, 1927. Make as many bids as you wish—the highest will count as your bid. All bids will be opened publicly at our store Saturday, October 1, 1927, at 2:00 P. M. and the range awarded to the highest bidder.

Date_____ 1927

My Bid is $_____ for the South Bend Malleable Range

Name _____

Address _____ State _____

NEWS ITEMS FROM GOODELL

Mr. John Sullivan of Texas came Monday for an extended visit with his sister, Mrs. Clifford Chase and at the home of his aunt, Miss Eliza Cashman.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Tanner in company with Mr. and Mrs. Juhl of Crystal Lake spent Sunday in Minneapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Elder and baby who have been visiting relatives here the past few weeks returned Wednesday to their home in Madison, Wisconsin.

Lewis Johnson returned Monday from New Richland, Minn., where he enjoyed the past two weeks visiting his daughters, Mesdames Hagan, Osman and Morrestad.

E. M. Bates visited Wednesday with friends here. Mr. Bates left on Thursday with his striking machine to take in the various fall celebrations.

Harvey Hubbard in company with Ralph Jenison of Belmond returned the fore part of the week from their three weeks trip through the Dakotas and Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ness accompanied by her sister, Miss Mattie Larson of Williams, autoed to Story County Sunday to spend the day with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gosnell and two daughters of Fort Dodge Sundayed with her mother, Mrs. Lamer.

Mrs. Reynold Kinseth and Junior of Belmond, spent last week at the parental home as Mr. Kinseth with a party of men spent a week fishing at Cross Lake, Minn.

Mrs. Clara Butts spent a few days last week visiting relatives and friends at Belmond.

A. M. Graber goes to Belmond each day and assists with the work at the Goelz barber shop.

Mrs. Eric Osman and children of New Richland, Minn., are visiting this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Johnson.

Miss Mae Griggs and a teacher friend of Gilmore City were weeek end visitors with Mae's home folks.

Misses Louise Mason and Louise Ahrenkiel were Mason City shoppers Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson are enjoying a two weeks visit with relatives in Illinois. They made the trip in their new Chevrolet coupe.

Mrs. A. M. Graber, Mayme White and Mrs. Kinseth of Belmond autoed to Kanawha Friday to visit friends.

The three club calves which the Schneider children have been feeding were shipped to Chicago and the returns came back th latter part of last week. Frederick's sold for sixteen and three-fourths cents, Doris' for sixteen and one-half, and Robert's for sixteen cents. They were netted a fine sum as the calves weighed heavy.

Miss Ruth Ness of Des Moines, came last week for a visit with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Wenzel and children, of Ledyard were Sunday guests at the home of her sister, Mrs. Leo Ahrenkiel.

Goodell high school ball team and several boosters autoed to Klemme Friday and played with the high school team there. The resulting score was 16 to 0 in favor of Goodell.

Last Monday morning, Miss Louise Mason autoed to her rural school in her Chevrolet coupe and as she turned into the school yard the car slipped off a high culvert. The car was slightly damaged.

Misses Marie Given and Grace Liitchwager went to Clarion Friday evening to spend the week end at the former's home. We are sorry to report that Miss Given's mother has been seriously ill again the past week.

Coat and Dress Sale, Tuesday and Wednesday, October, 4-5.—The Hat Shoppe, Belmond.

Wednesday morning as Harry Newgard, manager of the Woodford Wheeler local office was helping to unload lumber, he lifted too heavy a load and strained the muscles in his back very seriously. He was taken home and has been under the doctor's care the past week. At this writing he is much improved and will soon be able to return to work. S. S. Matson has been working at the lumber office.

Relatives from Story County visited the past week with the Ness and Hetland families.

The Delger family are enjoying a visit with Mrs. Delger's cousins, from Sac County.

Mrs. Weck Robbins has been very sick the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Benson of Kanawha were visitors at the O. Sandberg home, Saturday.

Mrs. Reese of Cedar Rapids has been visiting her children here. On Wednesday she and her son, Howard Ruka, went to Wisconsin to visit relatives.

Mrs. Ina Eldred of Clear Lake was a business caller here Monday.

Clement Houghton is enjoying a week of vacation with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bier were called to Mason City Sunday to see the latter's brother, Mr. Lemke who was very sick in the hospital having undergone an operation a short time ago. We are very sorry to report that later in the day he passed away. Friends extend sympatay to Mrs. Beier in her sorrow.

The Allie family who reside at Boone Sundayed with his brother, Claude Allie and family.

Harve Christensen went to Cornelia Friday night to play for a dance.

The Houghton, Conlan and Cashman families accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Kossen of Springfield, Mo., autoed to West Bend Sunday and view the grotto and enjoyed a picnic dinner. They also visited the grotto at Wesley.

ROWAN ITEMS OF INTEREST

Miss Ila Wharton of Litchfield, Minn., visited her brother, Ray Wharton and family last week. Miss Wharton just completed a course in nurses training at the Minnesota state hospital at Minneapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Johnson and infant son of Dows visited Mrs. Johnson's sister, Mrs. Cliff Steffens, last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Aldrich, and R. E. Lee Jr., returned last week from an extended auto trip. They went through Minnesota, stopping a short time at the Clarence Jennings home near Grand Rapids. From there they went up into Canada, then back through Michigan, Wisconsin and Indiana. They report a very pleasant trip.

Rolland Harris spent several days in Des Moines last week.

James Kercheval, of the Wellsburg school faculty, was an over Sunday visitor with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Kercheval.

Cleo and Dolly Duffy drove to Iowa Falls Saturday where they spent the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Reed and three children and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Stretch of Coffee, Missouri, came Saturday to visit Mr. Reed's sister, Mrs. Henry Williams.

Eugene Burt was a business visitor in Des Moines a few days last week.

Mrs. J. Sinclair entertained at dinner in her home at Clarion Sunday in honor of Mr. Sinclair's sixtieth birthday. Those from here who were present were Mr. and Mrs. D. A. French and Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Myers.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Carr entertained the members of their threshing run and their families to a social evening last Friday. About forty guests were present, only two families being unable to attend. Ice cream and cake were served. All report a very enjoyabl evening.

Mrs. Jones and daughter Kathryn of Fenton were here with Dr. Jones over the week end.

Mrs. Nels Olson and daughter, Miss Mary departed for Wimbledon, N. Dak., last Friday to visit another daughter, Mrs. Herman Tulp and husband.

Henry Williams drove to Davis City, Iowa, Saturday to meet his uncle, Irwin Williams, and wife from Gilman, Missouri. They came to Rowan on Sunday.

Harold Gates and Ed Miller drove to Cedar Falls Friday to bring Garnett Stumph home from college for the week end. Lynden Whitten also came home with them.

The "Happy Kan-Doos" Sunday School class of the Congregational church are preparing a play to be given some time in the near future. Miss Laura Aldinger is coaching them. The proceeds of the play will be given to help finance the remodeling of the parsonage. The name and date of the play will be given later.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Aldinger returned last week from their trip to Niagara Falls. They took camping equipment with them and visited several different states including Illinois, Michigan, New York, Wisconsin, stopping to visit relatives in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and friends in Indiana. They also drove up into Canada.

Mrs. Jennie Rowen is visiting her daughter Mrs. E. Bradfield at Spirit Lake.

Coat and Dress Sale, Tuesday and Wednesday, October, 4-5.—The Hat Shoppe, Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Whitten visited relatives in Grundy Center Friday and Saturday.

Frank Drury was quite severely injured about the head, the first of last week when the horse he was riding in the pasture refused to cross the creek. Mr. Drury was bucked off into three feet of water but hung to the reins and was dragged some distance. It required several stitches to close the wound in his head.

Mrs. J. L. Chassel departed for her home at Belfourche, S. Dak., after spending some time with relatives here.

The Misses Esther Emerson and Pearl Hiams were over Sunday visitors with home folks from I. S. T. C. at Cedar Falls.

Mrs. Wesley Azeltine and son visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Woods, at New Providence, last week. Wesley and W. W. Azeltine drove down after her Friday.

L. Gatliff returned last week from Fulton, Kentucky. He went down there expecting to rent a farm but says they are getting such high rent there that he can see no gain in moving from Iowa.

Mrs. Frank Fanselow and Mrs. Clarence Hill received word last week of the serious illness of their father, Mr. Bates, at Ackley, Minn. They with their husbands, departed by auto, on Wednesday morning to be at his bed side. Mr. Hill returned home Saturday evening. Word has since been received of the death of Mr. Bates and his body is being brought to Dows for burial.

Alt, Glen and Fred Hackley and Fred's sons, Floyd and Albert, went to Rose Hill Saturday night to attend a reunion of their mother's family, the Alexanders, which was to have been held at Oak Park on Sunday. Because of the bad weather the reunion did not take place. They returned Sunday night. Their mother Mrs. Jennie Hackley, who has been visiting at Rose Hill and Oskaloosa for two weeks, came back with them.

Mrs. J. H. Bounds entertained at a party in honor of her son, Howard's eleventh birthday. Six boys besides the Bounds boys were there. Refreshments were served, and a wonderful time reported by those present. Howard reciveed some nice tokens for his birthday.

At the W. C. T. U. meeting which was held at the Mrs. Frank Kercheval home last week, Mrs. E. S. Tway resigned as president, and Mrs. Fred Kercheval was elected in her place. Delegates were chosen to attend the W. C. T. U. convention to be held at Indianola. Twenty two members were present at this meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Colton of LaMonte, have been visiting the past week at the home of Mr. Colton's uncle, A. O. Pelley and wife. Mr. and Mrs. Colton were on their wedding trip, having been married last Wednesday.

Mrs. Fred Weber was called to Minnesota last week by the serious illness of her sister's husband.

There will be no services at the Methodist church next Sunday, because of the conference which is being held at Webster City this week. It is customary to have Sunday School during conference but as it is being held so near, this year, many will wish to attend, so no services at all will be held.

Rev. J. H. Bounds drove to Webster City Wednesday morning to attend the M. E. conference at that place. Mrs. Earl Sellers was elected as lay-delegate from the Rowan M. E. church and will attend part of the time during this week.

Mrs. Ray Norris visited friends in Garner from Thursday until Sunday. Miss Lois Hanson of Clarion stayed with the Norris children during her absence.

The M. E. Ladies Aid Society will hold a meeting in the church basement next Thursday afternoon. Mrs. W. G. Bingham and Mrs. A. C. Rietz are the hostesses and will serve a fifteen cent lunch.

Mrs. Kenneth Fitz visited the past week with her parents at Churdan. Mr. Fitz drove down after her Sunday and they returned home Monday.

Mrs. Chester, at the hotel, has been quite ill with the quinsy. Mrs. Nels Hanson has been doing the work.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church had their annual mite box opening and election of officers last Thursday at the parsonage. All of the old officers were reelected for the coming year, except the president, Mrs. F. H. Fowler, who wished to resign and Mrs. J. H. Bounds was elected to serve in her place.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Whitten and family spent Sunday at Thornton visiting Mr. Whitten's niece, Mrs. Klemenson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Heron of Bristow, and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Heron and daughter, Ruth, of Dumont visited at the Jesse Steffens home Monday.

F. H. Fowler who is suffering with heart trouble, is very low at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Strickler of Storm Lake, visited at the R. H. Keith home on Wednesday. Mrs. Strickler will be remembered here as Miss Nina Kahuda, who taught in our school some ten or twelve years ago.

Mrs. R. H. Keith and son Kenneth were Fort Dodge visitors Monday. They called on Miss Margaret at the hospital, where she is taking nurses training.

Dr. Jones drove to Fenton Sunday afternoon, taking his wife and daughter home, and expected to come back that evening. Owing to an automobile accident, caused from the rain and snow, in which several persons were injured, Dr. Jones was delayed until Monday noon as he was called on to care for the injured. He reports that the ground around Algona was white with snow on Monday morning.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. L. A. Marquardt, Pastor

10:30 A. M.—Sunday School

11:30 A. M.—Morning worship. Subject, "Are we Believers Only or Disciples?"

6:00 P. M.—Junior Christian Endeavor.

6:30 P. M.—Senior Christian Endeavor.

7:30 P. M.—Evening worship. Subject, "The Perfection of Salvation."

7:30 P. M. Wednesday evening.—Prayer meeting and Bible study.

7:30 P. M. Friday. Choir practice.

Beginning next Sunday all our regular evening services will be held at 7:30 P. M. instead of 8:00 P. M. Please notice the change.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet this week Thursday, Sept. 29, with Mrs. Lula Emerson. A 15c lunch will be served with Mrs. Nellie Hyde, Mrs. Hadley and Mrs. Laura Burt assistant hostesses.

Mrs. Hattie Aldrich of Des Moines was a business caller here Thursday.

Miss Esther Gordon of Garner, operated the telephone switch board here on Sunday.

Miss Ann Nolan of Grattinger was a week end guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. Arthur Lowenberg.

Mrs. Rose Houghton entertained a large crowd of friends Tuesday evening at the home of her son Reginald.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Rourke of Ft. Dodge were over Sunday visitors with his sister, Mrs. Anson Avery.

Mr. Peterson of Eagle Grove was a business caller here Friday.

Mr. Morse is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Leo Ahrenkiel.

CHURCH NOTES

There will be regular church services next Sunday.

Promotion will be held at the U. B. Sunday School October 2.

Mesdames Graber, Hemenway and Will Deiger will be hostesses to the U. B. Aid Wednesday, Oct. 5. All members are requested to be present.

Rowan Opera House

ROWAN, IOWA
COBURN & ZISKA, PROPS.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 29

"Wild Justice"

A United Artists picture featuring the wonder dog, "Peter the Great." Don't miss this!
Also 2-reel Comedy
Prices 10c and 25c

FRIDAY, SEPT. 30

A Jolly Old Time DANCE

Music by Smith's 5-piece Orchestra. Tickets 75c. A good time assured for all. Everybody welcome.

SATURDAY, OCT. 1

A Universal Action Picture, guaranteed a good one.
Also
2-Reel Universal Comedy
10c and 25c

Two Shows: 7:30 and 9:00

OLAF NEWS

The Olaf Shipping Association shipped a car load of stock to Chicago Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scott and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Holverson were callers at Mason City last Friday.

Mrs. Hieman of Estherville spent several days of last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Kirk.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snyder and Mr. Polhemus spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scott.

The G. H. Baxter and Albert Schlitching families spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Orphie Anderson.

Mrs. Orrie Jenison has been very sick the past week, but at this writing is better.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Holverson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Erickson.

Coat and Dress Sale, Tuesday and Wednesday, October, 4-5.—The Hat Shoppe, Belmond.

ALEXANDER NEWS

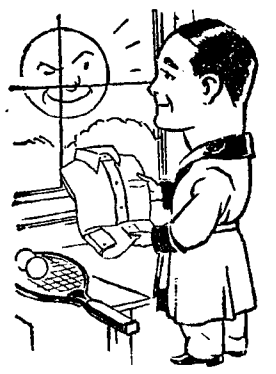
(Continued From Page 4)

A number of pupils were passed last spring on condition. This condition means that they will be given a six weeks trial in the advance grade. If any pupil was passed on condition and we find that they are unable to carry the advance work, it will be necessary to place such pupil back in their former grade. Parents should note this ruling and aid such pupil as much as possible. A good two weeks remain of this six weeks period and much can be done in this length of time.

We hope to have the school orchestra organized this week.

For READ WANT ADS results

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29



Sunday--maybe it won't rain--and you'll want to play golf or tennis--

AN Emery Sport SHIRT*

is a good sign of preparedness.

*With the NuBand feature

Ties and socks that will drive over the style bunker or will end in a love match.

SMITH & SKOVLIN
SERVICE SATISFACTION

PHONE 50 BELMOND, IOWA

CHEVROLET

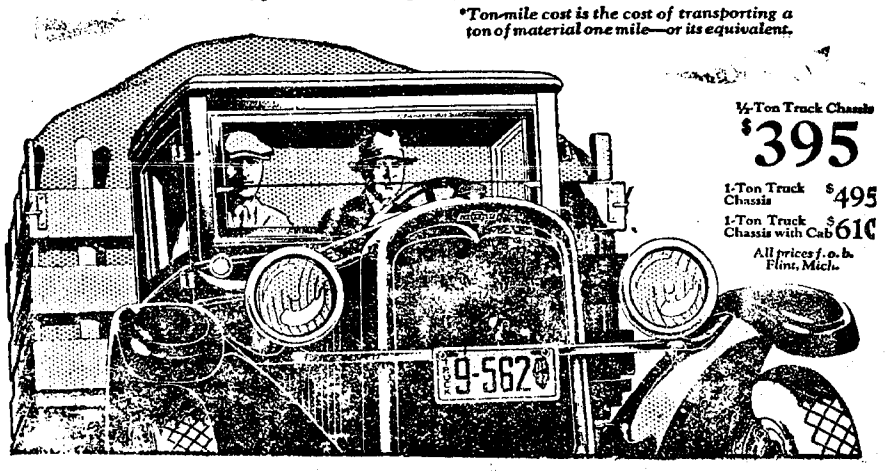
The For Economical Transportation

World's Lowest Ton-Mile Cost for every line of business

Whether you need a truck for fast delivery over city streets . . . whether your problem is the transportation of ton-loads over all types of highways . . . or whether you need a haulage unit for any sort of special purpose—
—we have a Chevrolet Truck, with a type of body to meet your particular needs, that will give you the world's lowest ton-mile cost*, plus an amazing performance never equalled in a low-priced commercial car!

Here is a type of construction once undreamed-of in a truck at this price—ruggedness, strength and modern design which assure you the long-time, over-all operating efficiency that has made Chevrolet the world's most popular gear-shift truck!

*Ton-mile cost is the cost of transporting a ton of material one mile—or its equivalent.



½-Ton Truck Chassis $395
1-Ton Truck Chassis $495
1-Ton Truck Chassis with Cab $610
All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich.

HUB MOTOR COMPANY
Belmond, Iowa

RAECKER CHEVROLET SALES COMPANY
Meservey, Iowa

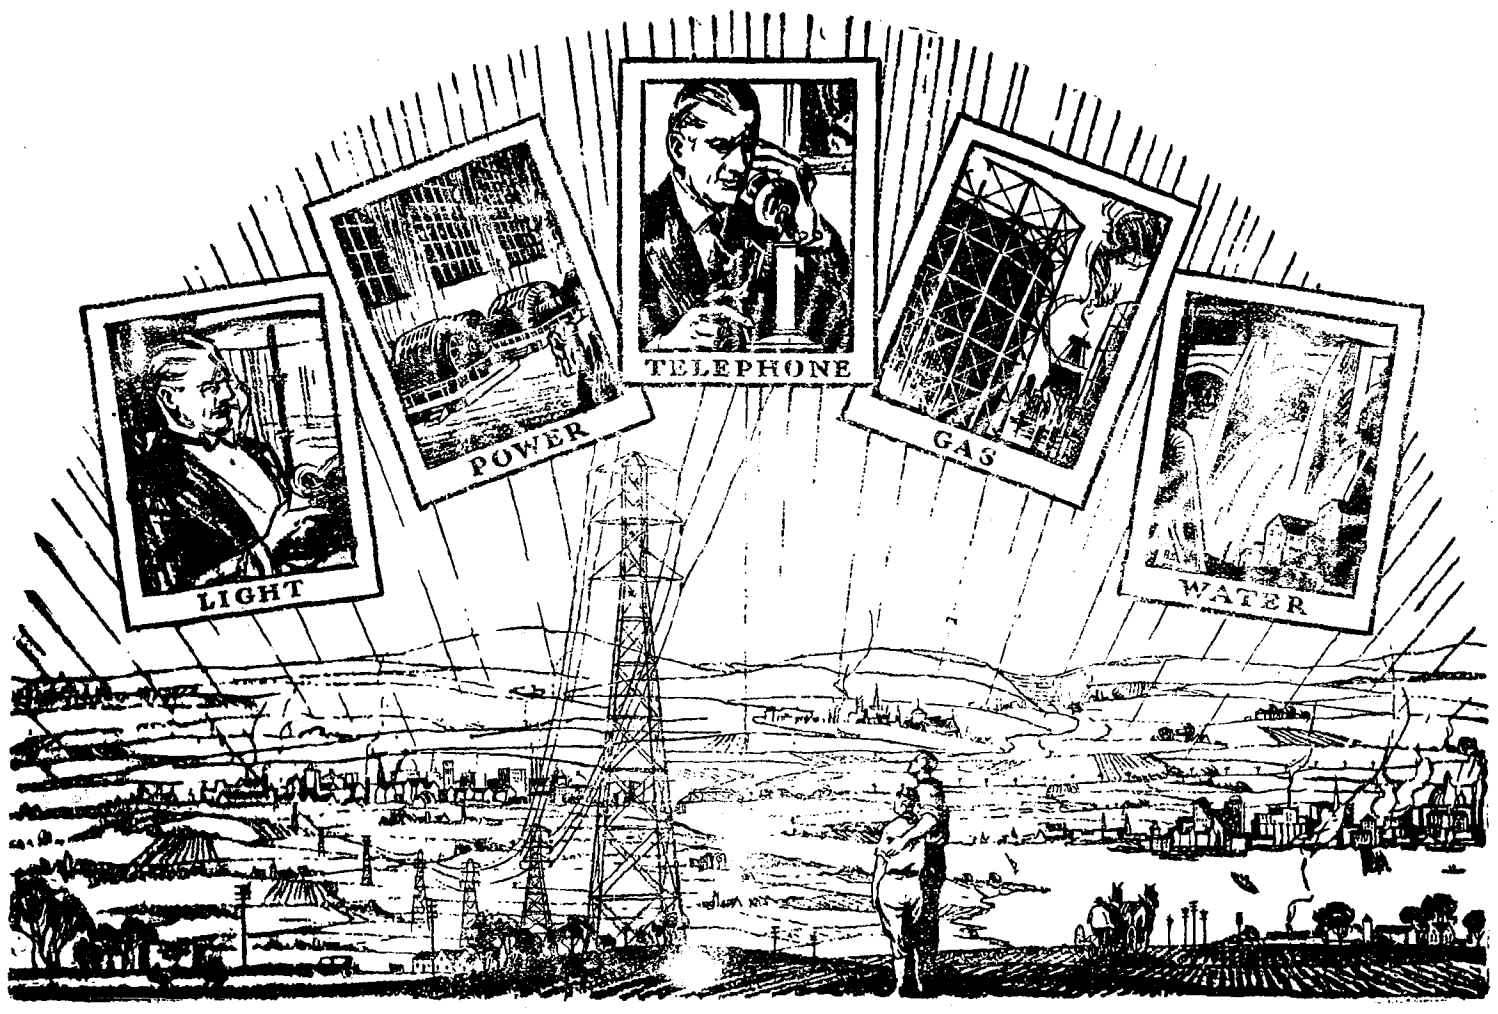
THE WORLD'S LARGEST BUILDER OF GEAR-SHIFT TRUCKS

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

(Continued from last week.)

Homer Gordon, Stripping pit (July)	103.50
Wayne Thomason, Stripping pit (July)	149.34
Ernest Grandgeorge, Stripping pit (July)	120.70
John Thorn, Stripping pit (July)	149.35
Homer Gordon, Labor (Aug.)	39.50
Homer Gordon, Stripping pit	92.50
Ernest Grandgeorge, Labor	42.60
Ernest Grandgeorge, Stripping pit	108.00
Lloyd Golackson, Labor	15.00
C. O. Gorton, Hardware	1.50
Camille Gerard, Labor	2.80
Wm. A. Gray, Moving fence	40.00
Glen Hackley, Dragging	50.15
Albert Hardy, Patrol (July)	130.00
A. Hardy, Patrol (Aug.)	130.00
Frank E. King, Labor	51.48
Frank E. King, Stripping pit	130.50
Art Lacey, Labor	45.50
W. D. McCutcheon, Dragging	36.96
C. V. McVicker, Gravel	223.92
I. D. McVicker, Culvert	7.00
J. A. Matheson, Repairs	31.87
Mathison Motor Co., Repairs	10.03
Mathison Motor Co., Repairs	1.80
Moseley Grocery Co., Gas, oil, labor and material	294.01
H. R. Maudlin, Labor	282.70
H. L. Newcomb, Gravel	199.60
S W. Pinkham, Labor	116.50
J. M Bennett, Labor	116.50
Floyd Williams, Labor	111.50
Mac Keister, Labor	5.00
Lismore Stole, Patrol	100.00
T. P. Simpson, Checking gravel	42.00
Sinclair Refining Co., Gasoline	42.88
A. B. Stole, Patrol (July)	100.00
John Jones, Extra horse	16.87
J. Long, Gravel	67.40
A. B. Stole, Patrol (Aug.)	100.00
John Jones, Extra horse	9.38
Shupe & Son, Hardware	22.55
Claude H. Thayer, Patrol	74.00
John Thorn, Labor	51.48
John Thorn, Stripping pit	130.50
Wayne Thomason, Labor	51.48
Wayne Thomason, Stripping pit	130.50
Jess Underkofler, Repairs	5.00
J. E. Voss, Labor	21.98
A. H. Waddell, Shed rent	3.00
Chas. A. Walker, Hardware	2.50
Wright County Monitor, Ptg	9.80
S. M. Wilcox, Labor	56.00
POOR FUND
A. H. Adams, Rent	7.50
A. & P. Tea Co., Groc.	9.97
Beloit Orphans Home, Care of Williamson children	72.00
Ralph Baker, Milk	6.20
J. K. Baker, Cash adv. for trans. to Ia. City	25.00
Emile Bernard, Care of Paul Bernard	25.00
Casebeer & Draheim, Clothing for Harry Wills	6.53
R. E. Corliss, Rent	10.00
Christeson & Flower, Groc.	19.84
Duer & Son, Groc.	32.88
K. J. Engh, Overseer of Poor and cash adv. for trans.	19.75
East Side Grocery, Groc.	114.89
Fannie M. Filkins, Rent	10.00
Ellen Finn, Rent	12.00
Guy Gibbs, Rent	15.00
Chas. Gealow, Rent	10.50
House of the Good Shepherd Care of Alice Williamson	21.34
Oscar S. Hobbett, Rent	6.00
O. R. Hansen, Agent, Rent	20.00
Mrs. Anna Imboden, Care of poor	102.00
T. M. Jensen, Milk	6.10
C. G. Johnson, Groc.	61.18
T. H. Kenefick, Medicine	17.90
G. H. Klemme, Rent	42.00
B. K. Kinseth & Son, Groc.	139.46
J. L. LeBarron, Burial exp. —Clara Oberton	10.00
J. H. Martin & Son, Groc.	20.03
McCoy & Nagle, Clothing for Dishman family	22.00
W. J. Mullhern, Rent	9.00
Moseley Grocery Co., Groc.	38.79
Mrs. J. A. McBeth, Care of Agard child	24.00
C. H. Morse, M. D., Medical aid	44.00
Frank Nelson, Rent	15.00
O. E. Nerby, Medicine	23.00
C. S. Robinson, Groc.	20.00
W. K. Roosevelt, Groc.	56.71
J. D. Richardson, Rent	12.00
Dr. E. C. Sage, Medical aid	26.50
Stark Bros., Shoes for Valley family	7.25
W. C. Stanbery, Rent	15.00
Schoonover's Grocery, Groc.	32.78
Mrs. James Sheriff, Rent	30.00
Tillinghast & Co., Groc.	34.71
A. H. Waddell, Rent	8.00
Roy E. Wilson, Groc.	26.29
A. H. Worra, Groc.	18.82
Wheeler's Cash Store, Groc.	20.95
Wm. Wehrheim, Rent	9.00
Frank Welch, Groc.	16.39
Glenn B. Yearous, Rent	31.90
BRIDGE FUND
C. G. W. R. R. Co., Freight	478.78
Harry Daggett, Labor	118.80
Ed Bjornson, Labor	100.00
Milo Swanger, Labor	76.00
Jack Woods, Labor	12.00
Marion Baker, Labor	52.00
Henry Edwinson, Labor	16.50
Glendy & Day, Material and repairs	3.75
Homer Gordon, Labor	6.50
Wayne Thomason, Labor	8.70
Ernest Grandgeorge, Labor	6.60
John Thorn, Labor	9.43
David C. Imboden, Labor and repairs	35.20
Klauer Mfg. Co., Culverts	267.84
Klauer Mfg. Co., Culverts	211.44
Claude H. Thayer, Repairs	26.00
Wheeler Lumber Bridge and Supply Co., Car of piling	146.40
Wheeler Lumber Bridge and Supply Co., Car of lumber	581.42
J. L. Wilcox, Labor	2.00
S. M. Wilcox, Labor	44.00
DRAINAGE FUND
Joe Loyd, Labor-Dn. 23	4.00
Henry Edwinson, Labor and material-Dn. 25	63.70
L. W. Schroeder, Committee & Mileage-Dn. 25	8.20
Henry Edwinson, Labor-Dn. 97	2.20
J. D. Baker, Session and mileage-Dn. 90	7.80
J. C. Peterson, Session and mileage-Dn. 90	5.00
L. W. Schroeder, Session & mileage-Dn. 90	8.20
Ed Nelson, Labor-Dn. 107	134.50
Henry Edwinson, Labor and material-Dn. 112	9.45
Jens N. Kjar, Labor-Dn. 123	63.50
J. D. Baker, Committee and mileage-Dn. 125	6.40
Ed Nelson, Labor-Dn. 132	15.00
J. D. Baker, Session and mileage-Dn. 139	9.80
E. E. Kitley, Session and mileage-Dn. 139	15.00
James Mehl, Session and mileage-Dn. 139	11.00
J. C. Peterson, Session and mileage-Dn. 139	11.90
L. W. Schroeder, Sesison and mileage-Dn. 139	12.70
Charles Gross, Engineer-Dn. 152	15.90
James Mehl, Committee and mileage-Dn. 152	20.70
Ed Nelson, Labor-Dn. 152	207.50
Joe Claude, Labor-Dn. 172	21.00
Dickey Clay Mfg. Co., Tile Dn. 172	39.44
Albert Lepold, Labor-Dn. 174	16.00
Henry Edwinson, Labor-Dn. 187	14.30
Ed Nelson, Labor-Dn. 194	30.00
Peter Ruter, Labor-Dn. 194	3.00
INSANE FUND
Fred Johnson, Exp. of conv. Clinton Hall to Cherokee	27.20
Dr. E. D. Tompkins, Commissioner Mrs. Carlson)	3.00
L. N. Archerd, Commissioner (Mrs. Carlson)	3.00
Rev. J. O. Reitan, Witness (Mrs. Carlson)	4.00
Ole Carlson, Witness (Mrs. Carlson)	3.20
Bert Asbe, Witness (Mrs. Carlson)	3.20
Mrs. Alice Asbe, Witness

(Continued on page 8)



MORE AND MORE YOUR COMPANY

THE Central West Public Service Company has set aside $500,000 of Preferred Stock for its customers and now you can be a part owner and grow with the company.

You can obtain this ownership through the local office. You can buy it in shares as small as $100.00 and you can pay for it over a period of ten months.

The Company serves you locally, offers the stability of its 147 properties in five states—and from the very nature and necessity of its business offers security, safety and assurance of dividends obtainable in no other local investment; for in all the history of Public Utility development no company as large as this has failed to pay dividends.

A complete and detailed financial statement can be had at the local office or will be mailed upon request. It will show a map of the 147 cities and towns served, with a classification of the gas, water, light and power, and telephone service rendered—all are necessities of life for which there is a steady and increasing demand.

Any employee of the Company will gladly talk to you about the customer ownership plan to put your dollars to work where they are sure to bring regular returns.

Central West Public Service Company

A Subsidiary of The McGraw Electric Company

REGULAR QUARTERLY
DIVIDEND PAID
7 Percent PREFERRED STOCK
Central States Electric Company
OCTOBER FIRST

Kinseth's Store News

The Boss is up in Minnesota this week, fishing. Don't know whether he'll come back with anything in the way of fish or not: all we've heard from him is that it is a little cool up there. The Store on the Corner is selling good groceries at saving prices while he is gone, just the same, and giving the same good service.

We have a full line of fresh fruits in, most anything you can imagine —grapes, bananas, apples, pears, just about anything in fruits.

With winter coming on so soon, how about laying in a supply of canned goods? We can make you attractive prices on canned corn, peas, beans, tomatoes, etc., in case lots. Let us fix you out in canned goods for winter.

Whether you shop in person, or Phone for Food, you'll get the same prices and service at the Store on the Corner. If you can't get down town, just call 19 and your order will receive as prompt attention as tho you came in person.

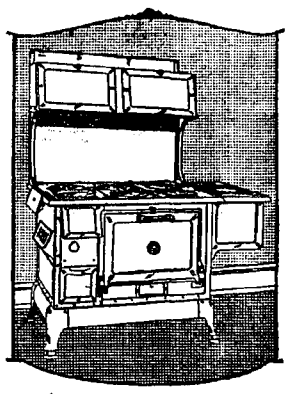
An Invitation To You

to call at our store at any time, but more especially

The Week of September 26

to inspect the finest of all cooking machines.

THE BAKEWELL RIVERSIDE



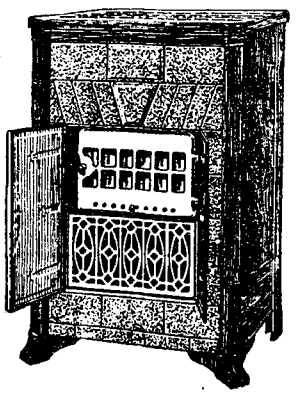
We are sure you have never seen anything that can equal the Bakewell in quality, design and beautiful finish.

It is fully enameled inside and out and will be a beautiful addition to any kitchen.

THE NEW FIREPLACE RADIONA

A complete heating system that is installed above the floor. Heats the whole house, just like a furnace, but requires only a small amount of fuel.

You must see this heater to really appreciate it.



A factory representative will be at our store the week of September 26th to fully demonstrate these stoves.

If you are in the market or not, it will pay you to call.

GRIESY'S

The Friendly Place

PHONE 10
BELMOND, IOWA

Men Marooned

By GEORGE MARSH

Copyright by The Penn Publishing Co.
WNU Service

"You see dem? How many?" repeated the half-breed, searching the Indian's face in an attempt to probe the truth of his statement.

"I see one dead man. No answer when I yell," insisted the other, and seemingly at the memory of the ship of the dead, his small eyes filled with dread.

"What happened? Was this man shot?" demanded Garth, exchanging glances with Savanne.

"He die of sickness—I look an' run. It was ver' bad down dere een dat boat," said the Indian with a shudder.

"W'ere the dogs there?"

"I see no dog."

"W'ere you from?" snarled Savanne, thrusting a face fierce with suspicion, into the Cree's.

"From de Kapiskau. I go to de boat to trade some fox."

"You get dat flour from de boat—steal it!" hazarded Etienne, guessing at the nature of the bulky load on the Indian's sled.

The Cree nodded. "Dey not use it now."

The swart face of the head man at Elkwan hardened into creased leather as he turned to Garth, and whispered: "I don lak dis t'ing. He see one man. Mebbe de oders ambush us. What we do?"

"I'm going over to find out. It's my duty. Boucher will wait for days. They may not all be dead. I'm going."

"Suppose eet ees a trick? Suppose de ones not dead wait for der revanche, w'en we come?"

"We'll stalk 'em and see."

Dropping his mittens and deliberately reaching under his capote, Etienne drew his skinning knife. Coolly running a thumb over the edge, he thrust his face into that of the disturbed Indian while his slit-like eyes snapped as he bit off the words: "You lie! McDonal' Ha! Ha! sen' you to Kapiskua. You spik de trut', or I—" and seizing the Indian by his hood, he made a quack pass at his throat.

Overawed by the fierceness of the strangers, the undersized Cree swayed on his feet, repeating in his seeming terror: "I spik de trut'. You go to de boat—you see!"

"We go to de boat—an' you go wid us," snarled Etienne.

At the words, the Indian's face went gray. "De spirit—I am scare to go back," he protested; but the inexorable Etienne ordered him to turn his dogs and lead the way back.

It was hard on the hunter, if his story was straight, but bearding a waiting McDonald in his lair was not to be lightly hazarded.

"I think the man is honest, Etienne. He naturally hated to go again to the ship. But what could have happened —flu—smallpox?"

Savanne shook his head. Only recently the bay had been swept by influenza, brought in by a whaler, impartially striking down Eskimos, Indians, and dogs, but he was still suspicious of a counterstroke by the schooner people, sore from their defeat, and confidently expected a confession from the dog driver ahead before the dusk caught them. Guthrie, on the contrary, believed that some epidemic, or possibly scurvy, had stricken the crew, and wondered if the great McDonald, in the pride of his strength, had found a grave in the Akimiski ice.

The Indian Had Seen but One Body.

The Indian had seen but one body and fled, so he said; but the schooner had been silent as a tomb. Queer that all had died, so soon. As he left, he had called repeatedly from the deck, without answer, except once, faintly, he had heard something—like the voice of a spirit.

When the Cree had reluctantly cached his load of flour and they started to cross the twenty miles of ice, he begged them not to force him into that grave of white men. The ship was haunted by demons, an Indian from the north had said. They had brought the sickness—were displeased with McDonald Ha! Ha!—and would surely bewitch him if he again went to that ship of the dead. But Etienne insisted that the seeming fear of the Cree was only a ruse to lead them into the trap while he hung back and thus avoided a shot in the back for his treachery.

Halfway across, the dusk from Akimiski moved out to meet the travelers, soon to look upon, in the berths of the schooner, death, in all horror of plague-stricken men; or to meet a treachery, as Guthrie believed, too vile for the uses of a fighting man like Laughing McDonald. But the canny half-breed would not be convinced, and the knife, shifted to his capote sash, and the uncased rifle barrel thrusting from his robe, were sinister witnesses to his distrust of the Cree.

The barrens of the island purpled, then fused with the dusk. Stars glittered above the moving teams. At last in the starlight, the black masses of the hills flanking Seal cove loomed ahead. The Indian stopped his dogs.

"Eet ees ovair dere." He pointed to the invisible shore.

Ordering the disarmed Cree to remain with his dogs, Etienne called Garth for a whispered council of war.

"De schooner ees not far. We stop an' tie up de husky. Den you an' Shot go one way an' I tak' dees feller wid de gun een hees back an' we circle roun' de boat."

"All right! If either sees or hears anything, two long whistles. Will they hear our dogs if they yelp?"

"No, eet ees too far."

Shot, trained to silence, would be invaluable in a fight, but the huskies' yelping would betray them, so they were lashed to the sleds.

"Eef we don' see nodin', I mak' dis feller holler to de ship. Den we wait. I tell heem he is de first een de boat, wid de gun een hees ribs. He ver' scare—somet'ing bad here," warned Etienne.

"He's afraid of the devils," suggested Garth, uncasing his rifle, and regretting that his army automatic hung neglected in its holster on the rack at Elkwan. This stalk of the ship had much of the color of a trench raid—a fight in the dark, if Etienne was right —and he missed the feel of his pistol on his belt, the drag on the shoulder strap of a bag of Mills bombs.

As they separated, Etienne gripped Garth's hand. "I meet you at de boat. Keep behin' de ice w'en I mak' heem holler, eef dey shoot."

The idea of stalking dead men was grotesque, but as Garth and Shot made their way slowly toward the shore, for the stars were dim, the possibility that Etienne's suspicions were not unfounded grew in the mind of Guthrie. Suppose the Indian had seen a dead man. There might have been a fight aboard while the rest were temporarily ashore after fur. True McDonald might be dead, but with the leader gone, Breault, desperate, sick possibly, perhaps insane, might have evolved this scheme to lure some of the Kapiskau people across the ice. For the Indian was bound for Kapiskau when they met him.

That the ruse was McDonald's Guthrie put aside, but strange things had happened before among a ship's company wintering in the ice, and who could guess what had fallen out on The Ghost?

When, in the faint light of the stars he made out the ice-sheathed poles of the schooner, Garth patted his excited dog. "Stand to, Shot!"

The airedale stiffened, sniffing the wind, then side by side, man and dog cautiously made their approach. From behind a pressure ridge, a hundred yards from the frozen-in craft drifted with snow to her low rails, Guthrie stopped. There, under the dim stars, silent, sinister, lay the ship. Was it the sepulcher of luckless dead, or—

Two whistles from the direction of the ship started Guthrie swiftly over the ice behind his silent dog. Circling the stern, he found behind a mound Etienne and the shaking Cree.

"What is it?"

"I hear some soun' on dat boat."

"Eet ees de spirit," whispered the Cree.

"We go up an' leesten," said Etienne, prodding the reluctant Indian forward.

Standing with rifles leveled on the plank-sheathed deck-house, they waited. Presently to the straining ears of the men came a moaning as of a creature in agony, to culminate in a crescendo of groans.

The two men peered questioningly into each other's faces. At their side the airedale trembled in a frenzy of excitement.

"Make him call to them," muttered Guthrie, with a nod at the panic-stricken Cree.

The steel muzzle of Savanne's rifle found the Indian's ribs.

In a voice shattered by terror, the Cree called: "Kequay! 'Allo!" But no answer from within broke the heavy silence. They waited. Again low moaning drifted from the deck-house.

(Continued next week.)

READ THE ADS

FIRST TIME IN IOWA!
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 1

Raised Doughnuts

a new, delicious kind

per doz. - 25c

Danish BUTTER ROLLS

for those who were disappointed last week

You Can Buy "BLUE RIBBON" BREAD
—AT THE FOLLOWING STORES—

B. K. KINSETH — CASH MARKET
W. W. GOETZ — BOHNING & CO.
CITY MARKET — C. G. JOHNSON
CLEVELAND CASH STORE — BUMP GROCERY
BELMOND CAFE — RED LIGHT CAFE

Your patronage solicited and appreciated

MORROW & SCOTT
BELMOND'S BAKERS

Working Without Pay!

If you could employ someone to work for you by the day, every day in the year, earning money for you, building up a fortune for you, never shirking, never loafing, always on the job, you would think you were exceedingly fortunate, wouldn't you?

You can have just such a servant if you want it. It is simply up to you. This servant, your servant, who works for you without pay and makes money for you is A Savings Account. It costs you nothing, always earns more mone money for you, and never loafs. One Dollar starts your account, and starts your servant working. Ask us how much it will earn you.

STATE BANK OF BELMOND
BELMOND IOWA

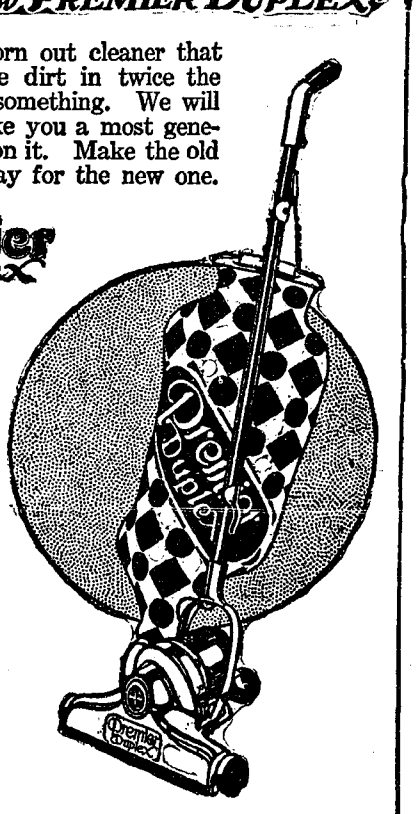
LIBERAL ALLOWANCE on your old cleaner

toward a new PREMIER DUPLEX

YOUR old worn out cleaner that gets half the dirt in twice the time, is worth something. We will take it and make you a most generous allowance on it. Make the old one help you pay for the new one.

Premier Duplex

This is the famous double action vacuum cleaner—the one that cleans by powerful suction and a motor driven brush. And it needs no oiling, for both motor and brush turn on ball bearings. It has many features that commend it to housewives.



Only

$5.00 down

The rest can be paid in easy payments over a year's time.

General Office
Central States Electric Co.
CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Osborn Young left Friday to visit their daughter, Mrs. Gerald Tracy, and family at Sisseston, S. Dak.

Special Cudahy Puritan Ham Sale, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 30, Oct. 1, at City Market. Free Lunch Saturday, Cudahy Smoked Ham sandwiches and hot coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Nelson were visitors at the Chas. Peterson home in Hampton, over the week end.

Rev. Snyder left Wednesday for Webster City, where he is attending the annual conference of the Methodist church.

Mrs. H. F. Luick will be hostess today to the Aid Society of the M. E. Church.

Special Cudahy Puritan Ham Sale, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 30, Oct. 1, at City Market. Free Lunch Saturday, Cudahy Smoked Ham sandwiches and hot coffee.

Mrs. A. E. Webster and daughters Margaret and Helen, of St. Paul, visited at the Owen Sullivan home, Friday. Mrs. Sullivan returned to St. Paul with them, Tuesday, for a visit.

Mrs. H. Meinders visited her sister at Klemme one day last week.

John Jennings and son from Tilton, were visitors at the home of Mr. Jennings' brother, Clyde, and family here over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sturdevant and daughter, Miss Velva, were Sunday guests of Popejoy friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jennings motored to Hollandale, Minn., Sunday.

Special Cudahy Puritan Ham Sale, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 30, Oct. 1, at City Market. Free Lunch Saturday, Cudahy Smoked Ham sandwiches and hot coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Barry and son returned Saturday from Iowa City, where they had spent the past two weeks visiting Mrs. Barry's home folks.

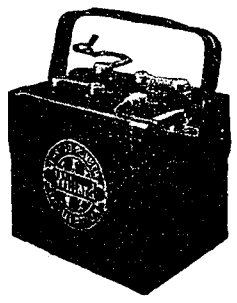
A Moth-Proof Bag Free with suit or dress cleaned and pressed, while they last this week.—New Belmond Tailor Shop, F. J. Tuffree. 1c

Ludeke's Poland China and Chester White Hog Sale, October 15, Klemme, Iowa. 442c

BELMOND MARKETS
(Subject to change.)

Hens	18c
Springs	18c
Roosters	08c
Ducks	12c
Geese	08c
Eggs	30c
Butterfat	41c
Creamery Butter	45c
Oats	39c
Corn No. 3 yellow	78c
Barley	63c

Radio



is a year around business with us.

You can get just as good service on your radio, in the summer as in the winter, if you call call 46 when you need radio service.

We have special radio rental batteries. They are compact, light, clean, and have a handle. You can set them on the floor without danger of damaging your rugs, etc.

BELMOND STORAGE BATTERY CO.

Phone 46 J. W. Scott, Prop.
Thru Service We Grow!

Mrs. Ward Martin's division of the M. E. Aid enjoyed a supper at the home of H. G. Nordschow, Monday.

Mrs. F. J. Tuffree and daughter, spent Sunday with friends at Mason City.

Mr. and Mrs. Bickett and children of Dinsdale came Saturday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Boughton.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Snyder, G. M. Polhemus, and Mrs. Chris Kragh were visitors at Popejoy, last Friday.

Regular $35 suit with extra pants for $37.50, for 10 days.—New Belmond Toilor Shop. F. J. Tuffree. 1c

The Ralph Jenison family and Harvey Hubbard of Goodell, returned last week from a motor trip thru the Dakotas and Canada.

Special Cudahy Puritan Ham Sale, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 30, Oct. 1, at City Market. Free Lunch Saturday, Cudahy Smoked Ham sandwiches and hot coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bump have moved into the rooms over their grocery store.

Dance at the Opera House this week Friday evening, Al Schreiber's Orchestra from Wells, Minnesota, will furnish the music. Next week Friday, Oct. 7th, there will be an old time dance with music by Smith's orchestra.

Mrs. Harold Shrauger of Atlantic, was a guest at the Herman Schultz home the past few days.

Howard Wolle returned last week from Sioux City, where he had been visiting his brothers, Carl and William.

Miss Elizabeth Leinbach left last week for New York City to resume her work as director of girls work in Labor Temple, there.

NOTICE

From this date I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by anyone but myself.
1* Merrold Galloway.

READ THE WANT ADS

The FOSS CLEANING SHOP

Solicits your patronage in
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING

Located West of the Foss Shoe Shop

All Work Guaranteed

We will appreciate your Trial Offer

FOSS CLEANING SHOP
Louis Foss, Prop.
Phone 70 Belmond, Iowa

A Good HOT Cup of COFFEE

With maybe a hamburger sandwich, goes pretty good these chilly days. We're proud of our Coffee, and we know you'll like it. Just drop in and try a cup. And every day you will find us here to serve you with

MEALS LUNCHES
SHORT ORDERS
ICE CREAM CANDY
CIGARS TOBACCO

Look for the Red Light!

RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Spring Boars Roy Jenison. Phone 1911. 43tf

FOR SALE—Piano. $50 cash required. For further particulars write "A", care of Independent. 443c

FOR SALE—Cabinet room heater, mahogany finish. Can use small heating stove as part payment. Also have 2 small heating stoves and 3 kitchen sinks for sale.—W. J. Pech. 452c

FOR SALE or RENT—Residence property in Belmond, 2 blocks north of school house. Inquire at Independent. 453*

FOR SALE or RENT—Modern seven-room house, full basement, near creamery.—E. A. Pierce. 46tf

FOR SALE—60 head of steers, native cattle. 25 weighing about 900 each, 25 about 600. Also some P. B. Poland China spring boars, weight about 200. Eligible to registry.—P. W. Kaufman. Phone 141. 452*

LOST—Large round cut steel buckle, with blue set in center, between my place and town. Finder please return to Mrs. Ted Townsan. 1c

WANTED — General housework, experienced. Inquire at Independent. 1*

WANTED—Work on farm, by married man. Experienced. Good milker. Inquire at Independent. 1*

FOR RENT—House, on River Avenue. Inquire of L. F. Simerson. 1*

WANTED — To buy chickens. Highest market price. Phone Belmond 3403, or Kanawha 6, and we will call.—Olaf Store, J. R. Kirk, Prop. 464*

D. E. Packard, S. S. Packard, Ned Packard, Francis Packard of Davenport, and Carl Wolle of Sioux City all left here Monday morning for Minnesota to try their luck fishing.

Let the Farmers' Shipping Association ship your live stock. Notify M. F. Christie.

Coat and Dress SALE

from D. K. Lundberg & Co., Mason City

TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY
OCTOBER 4 and 5
Open Wednesday Evening

FELT HATS
On Sale Saturday

New Silk and Velvet Hats this week end

The Hat Shoppe
Belmond, Iowa

SEPT 30 - OCT. 1
CITY MARKET'S CUDAHY HAM SALE!

These two days Special price, whole or Half Hams, Lb.------ 24c

FREE LUNCH SATURDAY!

OTHER SPECIALS!

Hamburger, per pound 15c
Pork Sausage, per pound 15c
Liver Sausage, Per Lb. 15c
Link Sausage, per pound 20c

City Meat Market
Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207. Belmond, Iowa

WRIGHT COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

(Continued from page six)

(Mrs. Carlson)	3.20
Austin Espe, Witness (Mrs. Carlson)	3.20
Dr. E. D. Tompkins, Commissioner (Clinton Hall)	3.00
L. N. Archerd, Commissioner (Clinton Hall)	3.00
George Newcomb, Witness (Clinton Hall)	3.40
W. W. Waddell, Witness (Clinton Hall)	3.40
L. D. MacNaughton, Witness (Clinton Hall)	5.40
Robert D. Blue, Witness (Clinton Hall)	3.40
L. N. Archerd, Commissioner (Walter Wilson)	6.00
Dr. E. D. Tompkins, Commissioner, (Walter Wilson)	6.00
Dr. E. C. Sage, Witness (Walter Wilson)	5.40
John Reynolds, Witness, (Walter Wilson)	3.40
Bert Waddell, Witness (Walter Wilson)	3.40
L. B. Tate, Witness (Walter Wilson)	3.40
SOLDIERS' RELIEF FUND
W. S. Flower, Salary and mileage	34.80
F. B. Champlin, Salary, mileage and exp.	58.00
C. O. Fitts, Salary and mileage	27.80
F. B. Champlin, Secy., Allowances for Sept.	120.00
COUNTY HOME FUND
Clarion Farmers Elev. Co., Material	1.66
Henry Edwinson, Material and labor	6.15
DOMESTIC ANIMAL FUND
John J. Larson, Sheep killed	12.00
Geo. Trotter, Sheep killed	12.00
REFUND WARRANTS
Martin Hill, Refund of dog tax—Amt. claimed, 2.30. Refused.
Mrs. Henry Loats, Dog tax paid in error	2.30
Joseph Roseland, Sold. exemption for 1926	9.25

On motion adjourned to meet September 9, 1927.
E. E. KITLEY, Chairman
F. W. WALKER, County Auditor

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store

BELMOND, IOWA

FRIEND C. BRAS
Tests Eyes Fits Glasses
Service Guaranteed
SOUTH OF COURT HOUSE
CLARION, - IOWA
1-128

Lyric Theatre
...Geo. Hake, Manager...

SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS

FRIDAY and SATURDAY
SEPT. 30 and OCT. 1
"The Red Raiders"
First National picture with Ken Maynard, Ann Drew, Paul Hurst, J. P. McGowan, Chief Yowlache. Marion Jackson's story, based on the struggle of pioneer settlers in the northwest, who lived in peril of the savage Indians.
"UP IN ARMS"
Educational comedy
10c and 25c

MONDAY, TUESDAY
OCTOBER 3 and 4
"Stella Dallas"
United Artists production with Belle Bennett, Ronald Colman, Alice Jayce, Lois Moran, Jean Hersholt, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. A picture with a typical girl whose heart craves romance. A drama of modern American middle class life, woven about real people such as may be found in every town and city.
Fox News
One show only, beginning at eight o'clock
10c and 30c

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY,
OCTOBER 5 and 6
"White Pants Willie"
First National picture with Johnny Hines, Leila Hyans, Henry Barrows, Ruth Dwyer, Walter Long. A peppy Hines comedy, adapted from a Liberty Magazine story by Elmer Davis.
"WOLF CHEAP CLOTHING"
Fox comedy
10c and 25c

Mr. and Mrs. Orvis Shillington returned Friday from their trip to Minnesota. While there they purchased an improved farm, and will move to that state in the near future to make their home.

Rev. Harry Webb was a caller at Klemme, Monday.

Harold Bayliss returned Tuesday from Minnesota, where he had been visiting relatives the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Rahl of Rowan were Sunday guests at the Bayliss home.

Richard Ziska returned Monday from a business trip to Des Moines, where he was arranging for moving pictures for the Rowan Opera House.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunner Ahlstrom and daughter, Jean, motored to Iowa City last week, where they visited Miss Agnes Hinman who is taking nurses training there.

Harry Newgard, manager of the lumber yard at Goodell, severely wrenched the muscles of his back last Wednesday when lifting a loaf of lumber. He was laid up for several days.

ROBINSONS ...STORE...

BAKERY
GROCERY

We have our gloves and mittens on display, 100 dozen in all. We can fit your hand, also your pocketbook.

This is the last week you can get that Peaberry Coffee at 30 cents. It has advanced 2c already. Better buy some.

SATURDAY

Jelly Rolls ---------- 10c
Marshmallow Rolls ---------- 15c

BUMP GROCERY'S
SPECIALS!
For Friday and Saturday
SEPT. 30-OCT. 1

4 lb. PAIL LARD ---------- 79c
9-oz. SQUAT CANE PINEAPPLE, 2 for ---------- 25c
ELGIN OLEO, lb. ---------- 24c
TOKAY WHITE GRAPES, lb. ---------- 15c

A COMPLETE LINE OF FRESH FRUITS

Glove and Husking Mittens, 10c and up.

FREE DELIVERIES
at 9 and 11 a. m. and 2 and 4 p. m. for Service
CALL 38

THE BUMP GROCERY
PHONE 38 BELMOND, IOWA

SPECIAL
HAM SALE!
of
Cudahy Puritan Smoked Hams
FRIDAY and SATURDAY
September 30---October 1
Special Price-- 24c
In Half or Whole Hams, per pound

ON SATURDAY, OCT. 1, We WILL SERVE
FREE LUNCH!
Using this famous Ham in sandwiches, with hot coffee.
Get your Free Lunch Saturday, and try the CUDAHY PURITAN HAM

Specials for Friday and Saturday Only

HAMBURGER, lb. - 15c
PORK SAUSAGE, lb. - 15c
LIVER SAUSAGE, lb. - - 15c
We will also have LINK SAUSAGE at the very Special Price of, lb. - - - 20c

EVERYBODY WELCOME—COME AND SAVE!

CITY MEAT MARKET
Nissen Bros., Props.
PHONE 207 BELMOND, IOWA

Belmond Independent

ESTABLISHED 1919 — AND HERALD-PRESS — CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 8 — BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1927. — NO. 47

Lucky Break Gives Game To Garner

Recover Fumble For Fifty Yard Run And Lone Touchdown

WILL PLAY EAGLE NEXT

Playing on a wet field, with a slippery ball, the Belmond boys lost to Garner last Friday on the latter's field The Belmond boys outplayed their opponents throughout the game making 16 first downs to Garner's 3 and gaining 227 yards in scrimmage against 69 for Garner. In spite of this showing they were forced to take the short end of a 6 to 0 score. The only score of the game resulted from a Belmond fumble which was grabbed by a Garner player, who ran fifty yards for a touchdown. Time after time the Belmond offense reeled off down after down only to lose the ball by a fumble. The showing of the local boys was pleasing to local fans who saw the game, the offense functioning in much better shape than in the Clarion game. The defense was practically airtight, Garner being unable to make any gains except through the aid of penalties which were numerous. The wet ball being hard to handle, handicapped the Belmond backs, and accounted for most of the fumbles and poor passing.

The game was featured by the defense of the entire Belmond team. The center of the line presented a stonewall and Johnson did some heavy work in backing up the line. Tomlinson and Rabe played strong games at the tackles. Eddie Neuhring playing at guard seems to be one of Coach Hall's 'finds' this year. Although playing his first year he has shown lots of fight and promises to be one of the bright spots in the team. On offense Captain McNulty and Johnson featured with their line plunging. With a little stronger interference to give them a start these boys will give their opponents lots to worry about. The Garner fullback played a strong defensive game getting into almost every play.

It was a tough game for the boys to lose but they feel that they showed wonderful improvement over their previous game. The breaks simply went to Garner, or at least they took advantage of the breaks.

With two weeks to practice the local boys, if they continue to show improvement, will give Eagle Grove a real game a week from Friday.

The following statistics show some of the features of the Garner game.

	Belmond	Garner
Yards gained from scrimmage	227	69
Number first downs made	16	3
Passes attempted	4	4
Passes completed	1	1
Yards penalized	65	20
Punts	5	9
Punts blocked	0	1
Fumbles	4	0
Fumbles recovered	1	3

Belmond Lineup

Left end—Kessler
Left tackle—Tomlinson
Left guard—Neuhring
Center—Pech
Right Guard—Klemme
Right tackle—Rabe
Right end—Schultz
Quarterback—McNulty
Left half back—Chapman
Right half back—Baker
Fullback—Johnson

DR. J. M. TATE IS NEW CHIROPRACTOR

Dr. J. M. Tate, whose home is at Winterset, Iowa, has purchased the Chiropractic Practice of Dr. R. E. Porter, and began his work in Belmond, Oct. 1. Dr. Tate is a graduate of the Palmer School of Chiropractic at Davenport, and comes from Renwick, where he has been practicing the past year. Previous to that he had practiced a year at another location. The doctor is an ex-service man, having served with the aviation section of the signal corp.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday, October 2nd, the home of John Lieuwen was the scene of a most delightful occasion, commemorating their 50th wedding anniversary. On account of Mr. Lieuwen's ill health no celebration had been planned, but announcement cards were sent to relatives and friends which were responded to by letters and cards of congratulations. However, they were happily surprised when relatives kept coming in, to the number of 35. all bringing well filled baskets and in a short time a beautiful table was set and a splendid meal was served.

After the noon hour, all adjourned to the living room and the cards and letters were read, also a most interesting sketch written by Mrs. S. J. Lieuwen entitled, "Reminiscence," which was the past history of the Lieuwen family. It was very clever and much enjoyed by all. The reading "An Old Sweetheart of Mine" by James Whitcomb Riley was given by Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen, this being very fitting for the occasion.

They also received a purse of gold coins amounting to fifty dollars and a number of other beautiful and useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Lieuwen were married on October 2nd, 1877 near Dumont, Iowa. They have endured the hardships of pioneer life. For a while they resided at Dumont, later buying a farm near Belmond and in 1892 they moved to town and Mr. Lieuwen became manager of the H. J. Klemme Lumber Co. He has been in the Insurance business for the last forty years, writing insurance for the Columbia Insurance Co. since that company was organized and is now a retired agent for this company.

In 1899 Mr. Lieuwen & Sons opened a General Merchandise store which was conducted by them for four years in the building where the Bohning & Co. Store now is.

Mrs. Lieuwen has always been a devoted wife and mother.

Their home has been opened to relatives and friends at all times and many have enjoyed their hospitality.

During Mr. Lieuwen's long illness Mrs. Lieuwen has been a constant companion and nurse, always cheerful and striving to do for others. They have reared a family of 7 children, five of whom are living. All but one, who was away from home and unable to be present, was in attendance at the Golden Wedding, and a Special Delivery letter was received from him.

Besides the 5 children there are 11 living grandchildren.

Those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Lieuwen and children from Green Bay, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Lieuwen and daughters, Mrs. B. Bohning from Humboldt; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Baker and son from Kanawha; and Mr. and Mrs. August Stock, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stock and Mr. P. Lieuwen from Dumont.

REV. J. T. SNYDER TO REMAIN ANOTHER YEAR

Rev. J. T. Syder, pastor of the M. E. church, was returned to this charge for another year by the annual conference at Webster City last week. Other appointments of interest in Algona district were:

Alexander—Federated
Clarion—F. W. Ortmeyer
Garner—C. H. Van Metre
Goldfield—D. M. Simpson
Kanawha—Corwin Taylor
Rowan-Latimer—J. H. Bounds
Thornton—A. G. Heddle
Klemme-Lincoln—A. W. Gauger

In the Fort Dodge district, J. G. Waterman was appointed for Dows, and W. D. Muhleman at Eagle Grove. Thirty six changes were made out of 135 regular pastors.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Co-operative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of September 25 to October 1.

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
25	64	41	.82	Cloudy
26	42	37	.52	Cloudy
27	45	38	.04	Cloudy
28	50	43	.15	Cloudy
29	62	48	.37	Cloudy
30	55	48	.12	Cloudy
1	56	44	.05	Cloudy

They're Not All in the Ball Park

Clarion Firm Buys Store At Rowan

Duer & Son Acquire The Hanson General Store

(Rowan Correspondent Special)

A deal was closed last week in which Duer and Son of Clarion purchased Theodore Hanson's stock of dry goods and groceries. Invoicing started on Monday and as soon as it is completed the new firm will take possession. They have leased Mr. Hansen's building for a year.

Mr. Hansen has been in business here for a good many years and has always kept a nice clean stock of goods and has been a fine business man, always giving the best of service to his customers, who are sorry to see him go out of business.

SUMMARY OF WEATHER FOR SEPTEMBER, 1927

Temperatures

77.6 degrees—Mean Maximum (average of the maximums)

54.1 degrees—Mean minimum (average of the minimums)

65.9 degrees—Mean (average of all temperatures for month)

98 degrees—Highest temperature for month on the 12th.

32 degrees—Lowest temperature for month on the 20th

39 degrees—Greatest daily range in temperature from highest to lowest

Precipitation

3.32 inches—Total for month.

1.34 inches—Greatest fall in 24 hours.

11—No. days with .01 or more precipitation.

Character of days and the sky

9—No. clear days.

8—No. partly cloudy days.

13—No. cloudy days.

N. W.—Prevailing direction of wind.

Light frost on the morning of the 20th.

Other Septembers

63.6 degrees—Average September temperature.

65.9—September 1927 average temperature

2.3 degrees—Plus departure from normal.

100 degrees—Highest Sept. temperature on Sept. 5, 1913, and Sept. 6, 1922.

24 degrees—Lowest Sept. temperature on Sept. 22, 1913.

4.2 in.—Average Sept. rainfall.

3.32 in.—Sept. 1927.

88 in.—Minus-departure from permal.

8.07 in.—Greatest Sept. rainfall.

1.98 in.—Least Sept. rainfall.

4.65 in.—Greatest fall in 24 hours, Sept. 30, 1925.

Sept. 14th, 1923,—earliest Sept. frost.

Sept. 30th, 1924—latest Sept. frost.

Datum from last 18 Septembers.

H. F. Luick,
Co-operative Observer,
U. S. Weather Bureau.

Lud H. Johnson brought this office in a real sample of Reeds Yellow dent corn, which we imagine his fellow farmers will have to go some to beat. The ear, 11 inches long, has 24 rows of 54 kernels each, making 1296 kernels, estimated, on the one ear. Thats' corn!

Wright County Shippers Meet

Shipping Associations Hold Fine Session At Clarion

Directors and managers of the livestock shipping association of Wright county met at Clarion Thursday, September 29 in the Farm Bureau office to discuss association problems. Representatives from Belmond, Clarion, Eagle Grove and Goldfield attended and took part in the conference, while Galt and Olaf sent in their monthly reports for comparison.

E. L. Cady, Extension Specialist in Marketing, discussed home prorating of hog shipments and pointed out that more than one third of the Iowa associations have already adopted this practice. Its successful use has decreased shipping costs and has demonstrated that managers are capable of rendering services in addition to listing and loading out the members lvestock. Mr. Cady stated that a majority of managers are already grading hogs at the local station and this practice materially assists in prorating.

Shipments to Several Markets

The records of the associations which had been forwarded to the county agent's office in advance of the meeting indicated that shipments were made to Chicago. A wide range in shrinkage, shipping costs and owners' net was revealed by an analysis of the records. Figures on dead and crippled hogs showed the associations in Wright County had made an excellent record during the past eight eight months.

Meeting Best One Yet

Knute Espe, Secretary of Iowa Cooperative Livestock Shippers, discussed the proposed increase in freight rates and explained the efforts being put forth by the state association in an attempt to protect the Iowa producers of livestock from suffering the proposed advance.

The meeting was the best held to date, as all but one of the local shipping associations were represented in one way or another, and all seemed interested in what they were doing, hoping and planning on better work in the future.

JOINT TOWNSHIP MEETING

Last Friday evening at the home of A. C. Hinman, a "follow-up" meeting was held jointly by Pleasant and Belmond township Farm Bureau members.

The subject was "Culling of Hens' and had been presented by Mr. Rood to the leaders at Ralph Christie's home in June. Mrs. Nettie Sampson our prize poultry leader, gave a very interesting review of Mr. Rood's demonstration, interspersing much of her own experience and bringing out many valuable points in managing and culling a flock.

The ladies and gentlemen are very grateful to Mrs. Sampson for so ably presenting to them this phase of poultry work.

There were about fifty or more present and after partaking of splendid refreshments the meeting was adjourned, all agreeing it had been not only an enjoyable but a profitable evening and that we are greatly indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Hinman for their genial hospitality.

JUNIOR HIGH NOTES

A meeting was called last Friday morning for the pupils of the Junior High to report on their Healthy Wealthy Club charts. The 8th grade led in both charts—8th grade saved $16.80, 7th grade $15.93. 8th grade have 11 who brushed their teeth twice a day for a week, and the 7th grade have 4.

We are very surprised to find that there were only 15 people in Junior High who brush their teeth twice a day regularly. We expect everyone to show much improvement this week. And we are looking forward to the time when the Junior High will have 100 per cent. We are very well satisfied with the savings report and hope to make our deposit soon.

Donald Francis of the 8th grade is quite seriously ill with rheumatism.

Mariel and Eugene Sullivan of the Junior High left Sunday for California.

The 8th grade held debates in Hygiene last week. The subject was "That Life in the Country is Safer and Healthier than Life in the City."

There will no school Thursday and Frday of this week owing to the County Teachers Institute which is being held at Clarion these days.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The local Girl Scout troop held their weekly meeting in the high school auditorium Monday evening. The meeting was in charge of Scout Elder, the following program being arranged by our chairman, with Capt. Bond's assistance:

Pledge of Allegiance—Troop
Music—Troop
Talk—Captain Bond
Reading—Ruth Courson
Talk—Mrs. Gowdy
Discussion—Troop

During the meeting each scout gave her aim for the coming year. It was found that nearly all the scouts, who have not already passed their second class test intend to do so this year, others to obtain merit badges, still others aim to be first class scouts. It was also found that four or five girls intend to earn their Golden Eagle Medal this year. The above mentioned medal is the highest honor a girl scout can receive.

After the business meeting the girls played kick ball in the gym. The next girl scout meeting will be held Monday, Oct. 17.

—M. E. B.

ST. JOHNS CALLS NEW MINISTER

St. John's Lutheran congregation has extended a call to Rev. Arthur Longholtz, of Farwean, Kansas, to the local pastorate. Rev. Longholtz has accepted the call and it is expected he will be installed here a week from Sunday, Oct. 16, he and his wife arriving next week to take up their new duties. Rev. Bohning of Britt will preach at St. John's this coming Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

NEW YORK WINS FIRST WORLD'S SERIES GAME, 5-4

Box Score

New York—	H	R	E
Combs	0	0	0
Koenig	1	2	0
Ruth	3	2	0
Gehrig	1	1	0
Meusel	0	0	1
Lazzerie	1	0	0
Dugan	0	0	0
Collins	0	0	0
Hoyt	0	0	0
Moore (p)	0	0	0
(Moore went in to pitch in the 8th)
Pittsburgh—
L Waner	1	2	0
Barnhart	1	0	0
P Waner	4	0	0
Wright	1	1	0
Tranor	1	0	0
Grantham	0	0	1
Harris	1	0	0
Smith	0	0	1
Kremer	1	1	0
Miljus	0	0	0

(Miljus went in to pitch in the 6th)

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
New York	1	0	3	0	1	0	0	0	0 5
Pittsburgh	1	0	1	0	1	0	0	1	0 4

Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Davenport returned last week Wednesday from their trip to the Black Hills, Yellowstone Park and other places. They were gone two months.

Vern Hay Trys To Steal Child

Beats Wife With Rubber Hose; Officers Recover Child; Hay Escapes

HAY DODGES BULLETS

Vern Hay of Belmond, who is being held to the grand jury on a chicken thief charge, created quite a little excitement at Belmond Tuesday night of last week. In company with one Hugh Lewis of Chicago and Fort Dodge, Hay entered the Harry Veeder home, three miles south of Belmond, where Mrs. Hay is working, and forcibly took their baby daughter away from his wife. Mrs. Hay was holding the child at the time. She was beaten over the shoulders with a piece of rubber hose, the black and blue marks being visible for several days afterward. The two men rushed out of the house, Hay carrying the child. They entered Hay's Star car and drove rapidly away in the direction of Belmond. Officers were promptly notified and rightly guessed that the fleeing man would head for Fort Dodge via the detour on No. 15. Officers Finn and Dempsey gave chase and overtook them a couple of miles northwest of Belmond. A revolver shot frightened the driver and the car landed in the ditch. Lewis and the baby were captured, but Hay made his escape in the dark into a nearby corn field. Sheriff Johnson and Deputy Leonard were called to Belmond and again the officers were right in thinking Hay would attempt to board the south bound Great Western passenger for Fort Dodge, the home of his father. Two officers were on each side of the train and as it departed from the station Hay was heard coming from the weeds to get abroad the blind baggage. He was commanded to halt, but instead started in the opposite direction, at which one of the Belmond officers fired at him, but wthout effect. Hay is still at large, although he is being held to the grand jury under a $1000 bond in the chicken case. In event of his indictment this amount will be forfeited unless Hay surrenders himself. Since his last escapade it is said that he has written a letter to his wife stating that he was sorry for what he had done.

Hugh Lewis of Fort Dodge, who assisted Vern Hay of Belmond in an attempt to take forcible possession of the former's child on Tuesday evening of last week, entered a plea of guilty Friday. He was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail for disturbing the peace. Lewis says his home is in Chicago. He became acquainted with Hay while the two were in jail at Fort Dodge. At that time Lewis was serving thirty days for driving an automobile while intoxicated.

The grand jury adjourned Friday evening, one of the members, Thos. Tendall of Norway township, being called to Ottawa, Ill., by the serious illness of his father, who was not expected to live. It is expected that body will reconvene this week to complete its labors.

For the month of September the tax ferrets report the sum of $2,672.92 collected. Fee for the service was $442.50. The sum of $98,600 in monies and credits was added to the tax rolls during the month. The company will complete its work in this county at the end of the present month.

The cases against E. C. Platt and Harry Wright, the Eagle Grove bankers, may not come up for trial at this term, as it was learned at the courth ouse Tuesday. One of the attorneys in the case is employed elsewhere and may not finish in time to take part in the trial.

The grand jury completed its make its report to the court on Wednesday.

The $5000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Ellen Larson against Ed Davis of Eagle Grove was begun Monday and went to the jury late Tuesday. The Larsons were tenants on the Davis farm in Dayton township two years ago, when the alleged acts complained of are supposed to have taken place.

(Continued on page 8)

Belmond Independent

AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES
Display, per column inch ------25c
Locals, per line ------10c
Classified, per word ------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Editorials

This question is directed to some of the merchants in Belmond:

Have you ever considered seriously just what it will mean to you when a chain store comes into Belmond?

Have you ever considered just what it will mean in dollars and cents in your trade?

If you haven't, think about it. For one is coming into the town if you and we and the rest of us do not head it off. And if one does come—some Belmond merchants are going out of business, not because they will want to, but because they will have to. Belmond is not too small for the chain store to enter—one started in Garner, smaller than Belmond, this fall.

Another point for you to mull over is the question of truck service. What do you propose this to grow into? Belmond today has trucks bringing in bread from out-of-town. Perhaps you may consider this a minor item, which does not concern you. You have the wrong idea entirely: it Does concern you, vitally. For what is to prevent this truck system from growing—from ultimately bringing in the product which YOU are selling? Did you see the photo in a nearby city paper last week, of the "fleet of trucks" owned by a concern in that city which were bringing goods into Belmond and similar towns? Who is paying for those trucks and their operation? YOU are, and the merchants like you in other small towns who are permitting these trucks to bring in goods to sell to your customers, or rather the people who ought to be your customers but whom you are permitting outside concerns to wean away from you.

In a measure perhaps it is the fault of the buying public, but in a much greater degree it is your own fault. You cannot expect, you have no just reason to expect, trade to walk in your doors. Twenty-five or fifty years ago, when travel was by horse and buggy and a journey even to the county seat was an all-day affair, you could expect business to come to you. More or less it had to: there was no other place to go. That has changed with the automobile and hard roads. The business which formerly had to come to you, can now easily go elsewhere. And here, is the point for you to consider: The out-of-town business can come to your customers!

Furthermore, It is beginning to come!

What are YOU going to do about it? Nothing? Don't you think some simple co-operation—for lack of a better term—with your fellow business men would help in combatting this evil? You aren't getting anywhere as you are doing, you must admit that if you will be honest with yourself. The trouble is, you are simply "kidding" yourself. Business is poor, the town is going to the dogs, people are sending away and buying out of town—it is everybody's fault but yours.

It's not the fault of the buying public, it's not the fault of the town other than as you and others like you constitute the town, it's your own fault. Some of you who holler the loudest about buying out of town, permit your wives and families to do the same thing—and do it yourselves. There isn't one merchant in Belmond who has a fair idea of the volume of business which goes out of town in the course of a year that ought to remain here. Probably Belmond is not much different in most respects than other towns its size, but in one respect—co-operation between its merchants—it is decidedly different.

This question of Belmond bread is vital to you in your business and to us all in the life of our town. Belmond needs a bakery, can amply support a bakery, and in the one we have the town is getting a quality product. Yet some of us are not only "knocking" it, but boosting and favoring outside products. That is poor business, if nothing else. All things being equal, or nearly so, we should have pride enough in our community to support and favor a home industry, vision enough to see that in supporting an outside concern we are not only harming our town but injuring ourselves. It is not so much the question of buying a foreign product at an equal price, as it is in getting together among ourselves for mutual benefit, of helping one another and quitting trying to cut one another's throats. If we cannot do this on a simple thing like this, what hope have we of ever doing it on a larger scale?

A community prospers and progresses as its merchants and citizens increase in community spirit. One merchant may use every means within reason to invite trade, building up his business until it is in a thriving condition. Another may do the same. Yet the progressiveness and community spirit of the one or two does not make the town. A football team may have one or two star players in the lineup, yet if all eleven men do not work together, for the common good, forgetting selfish desires to shine with glory, that team is whipped before it enters the field. Team work is what counts in the final analysis, and team work is what makes or breaks a community.

This is a plea for more and better community team-work. It not only means a better town for us all, but it means dollars and cents in our business, it means better business for every merchant, business and professional man in Belmond. Let's get away from out petty fear of the other fellow; let's get to know him better, work with him, for him, together for our home interests, and thereby our own interests. Let's work together as a team, for the common good. When we have a home product, let's boost it, buy it, try to sell it. When we haven't an article a customer wants, let's see if that customer cannot be served by our competitor, keeping the money in Belmond. When a community project comes up, or a problem arises which effects us all, let's get together on it in a friendly attitude, work it out, and put it thru. When we want something, let's see first if it cannot be purchased at home, and if it can, then buy it here, even tho we pay a little more, seemingly, than we could buy it for outside. Let's go out after trade, invite it, make it welcome, treat it like a friend, make the buying public in this community feel that Belmond is its headquarters, "Home."

FREE AIR!

October 9 to 15 being Fire Prevention Week, the following li'l pome seems rather apropriate:

There was a young man by the name of McGuire,
Who ran down the streets with his pants all on fire:
He ran to a doctor and fainted with fright
When the medico told him his end was in sight.
—Pipe Progress.

We think we ought to tell you right off, however, that this wasn't Cyril.

Wonder if anybody knows just how many "Weeks" we have every year in these United States. What with Fire Week, Art Week, Paint Week, Ham Week, Clean-Up Week, Sauerkraut Week, and the numerous other weeks, is it any wonder that America gets weak occasionally?

We think a "Rest Week" might ocme in handy along with the rest, altho there are some folks who observe that week every week.

And a week of good weather wouldn't go amiss, either.

If Hal Luick had served us much more weather like we have been having, folks in this vicinity would soon have begun to quack.

But then probably there's always been weather. Occasionally in the Old Time items we notice the old timers had weather, but nothing was ever done about it. What do you suppose folks 50 years hence will think when the Independent—oh, yes, we expect this paper to be going then, tho doubtless under different management—comes out with "old time items"?

Can't you just hear some of the sheiks and flappers of today telling their grandchildren, "When I was young. . . . ."

Wonder what folks 50 years from now will think about us and the times, anyway. They'll probably speculate as to what "Splinters" was, read all about what Herman had to say, compare prices in the ads, and discuss the meaning of the colors used in designating our various cafes.

Flying 300 miles an hour in their airplane, our grandchildren — the young folks,—will likely agree that we were pretty slow, pretty slow, and had some hard times, all right; pioneers, as it were.

Don't the styles of 50 years ago look comical? Yes, that's what they'll say 50 years hence, too. Remember that one-lung car Tyrrell had 20 years ago? Wouldn't you like to hear what they'll say in 50 years about our wonderful last-word, perfection-personified cars of today?

Do you suppose, by the way, that folks 50 years from now will still be waiting for the new Ford?

We have Whippets and Red Birds and Flying Clouds and Wolverines and other names for automobiles, so it seems to us that a mighty good name, appropriate and fitting, for the new Ford would be the Rip Van Winkle.

CHURCHES

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

We cordially invite everyone who is in position to do so to worship with us. Eleven o'clock is the hour of our morning worship.

Your influence will be exercised in a good way when you come to the church school next Sunday morning at ten o'clock.

The young people meet at seven thirty o'clock. They plan for an altogether worth while Sunday evening program.

Remember that Rev. Merrill N. Isely is to be with us this evening, Thursday. He has a message concerning Christian work in Turkey, where he has been serving as an educational missionary. Here is a real opportunity to push out the horizons of your knowledge and gain an understanding of what the missionary workers in that country are endeavoring to do. Eight o'clock is the hour. We venture to state you will be glad you came.

Next Tuesday and Wednesday are the days for the Webster City Association (our association) meeting at Alexander. We live too near to manifest anything less than marked interest in these sessions.

METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. J. F. Snyder, Pastor

Services as follows for the Lord's Day, Oct. 9—

Sunday School at 10 A. M. Your presence joyfully recorded. Come, give help as well as recieve help.

Divine worship and sermon at 11 A. M.

Epworth League at 6:30.

Evening worship and gospel mes-

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN CHURCH

Rev. Bohning of Britt will preach in the German language, at 8 p. m. Sunday, Oct. 9th. All members are requested to be present as some important announcements are to be made.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Sunday, October 9—

The Sunday School and Bible Classes will meet at 10 a. m.

The Luther League will meet at 7:45 p. m.

English sermon at 8:30.

Wednesday, October 12, Prayer meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Hill.

Saturday, October 15. The catechetical class will meet at 10 a. m.

The Annual Mission conference will be held Friday to Sunday inclusive, October 21 to 23. Further announcements later.

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor
Telephone Call, 150

Sunday, October 9th—

The Sunday School and Bible sage at 7:30.

You are most cordially invited to attend all of our services.

classes will meet at 10 a. m.

English communion services will be held at 11 a. m. Norwegian communion services will be held at 2:30 p. m.

The Luther League will meet at 7 p. m.

Tuesday, October 11. The Dorcas Society will meet in the church parlors at 8 p. m.

Thursday, October 13. The Catechetical class will meet immediately after school.

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

A deal was completed Monday whereby Chas. Peterson came into possession of the Windsor Theatre at Hampton. Mr. Peterson has not disposed of his Belmond interests but will continue to operate the local theatre although he will move to Hampton.

The new meat market is rapidly nearing completion.

Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Stevens left last Saturday for Dunkirk, New York to visit relatives and friends.

The birth of a baby boy to Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McCauley of Des Moines last week is reported. Mrs. McCauley was formerly Miss Elizabeth Groh.

C. P. Luick has purchased of Clare Clark, the old Bullard property and will remove the old house and erect a fine new modern residence thereon.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

E. P. Ripley and wife returned Wednesday from a three weeks visit in Wisconsin.

A. W. Russell of Meservey was in town Thursday visiting friends.

The Stebbleton Bros. have purchased the C. E. Shaver stock of high grade furniture.

Otto Handsell made a business trip to Waterloo the first of last week.

Mrs. F. O. Fitts and children returned Tuesday from their Canada trip.

Miss Edith Hillhouse went to Garner Saturday to visit friends.

A surprise party was given Miss Maggie Gilpin at the Bamford home last Friday evening.

A. Montague is papering his billiard hall this week.

Mrs. Sophia Bohning returned last week from a visit to Aplington.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

Wild geese are on the wing southward.

Oct. 2 wheat brought 77 and 82 cents at Alden. New corn brings 25 cents in the Webster City market.

This cold snap takes the "chaw" out of the festive "hoppers.'

Z. C. Bradshaw, J. L. Morse and J. T. Haight were "courting" at Garner this week.

Dr. Sargent of Webster City has opened a billiard saloon in one of the Cutler buildings on Main street.

Beloved delinquents, our wood pile is fearfully low; won't you recollect us in mercy? Wood we must have or shut up shop.

Our thanks are due B. P. Entrikin for generously assisting us in reporting institute proceedngs. Z. C. Bradshaw also helped us materially.

Elder Sands' lecture before the institute Wednesday evening is spoken of as an able effort. And right here allow us to say that but few ministers in the West can excel Mr. Sands in this respect.

We are holding on with a death grip to the little faith we have in the I. P. Oh where, of where is "Beeswax."

Kinseth's Store News

What we'd like to know, is where is that fellow who wrote, "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More"? There's no question but what Iowa has just the same weather as California—unusual.

Unusual describes the special we have this week on Pears. Pears for canning, and they're good ones, too. Ask us about them if you're interested in canning some.

The pancake season is now upon us, and what goes better than a plate of hot pancakes with syrup for breakfast? Just one thing that we know of—more pancakes. We have some dandy ABC Pancake Flour at 29c a package.

For 35c you get a package of Sani-flush and one of water softener, with a brush free. Get yours early.

Call us before you sell your eggs; we're paying the highest market prices.

Snoflake flour, $2.20.

Prince Albert and Velvet smoking tobacco, 2 cans for 25c.

Thats' all this week, folks. Remember the Store on the Corner.

Watch Your Dollars Grow!

Dollars are like vegetables — with a little careful attention they grow—if you plant them in the right place.

Deposit them in this Bank, the Bank of courteous service, and watch them grow.

STATE BANK OF BELMOND
BELMOND
IOWA

FOR SALE!

Used Cars

IN GOOD CONDITION!
AT RIGHT PRICES!

1926 CHEVROLET SEDAN
1927 CHEVROLET TOURING with Winter Top
1924 FORD SEDAN with Bosch Magneto Stromberg Carburetor
1920 FORD TUDOR
1922 CHEVROLET TOURING

Hub Motor Co.

Phone 39 Belmond, Iowa

AGRICULTURAL NEWS NOTES

CORN COST 50 CENTS A BUSHEL

It cost an average of 49.6 cents a bushel to produce corn last year on the farms of 22 farmers in Iowa County who kept complete cost accounts in cooperation with agricultural economists of Iowa State College and the United States Department of Agriculture.

While the average was 49.6 cents some of the farmers produced corn as low as 36 cents a bushel, while with others the cost mounted to 74 cents. That these 22 farmers are better than the average is inferred from the average yield which they obtained. Their corn averaged 55.8 bushels to the acre, as compared with 45.1 for all of the farms in Iowa County last year.

The various costs on the average were as follows: $14.47 an acre for growing, $5.81 for picking, and $8.12 for the land and building charge, giving a gross total cost of $28.40 an acre.

The total expense in 1926 was about $2 an acre higher and the yield 7.5 bushels an acre less than in 1925. Because of these two facts the cost per bushel was 9 cents higher in 1926 than in 1925. Had the average yield been 45 bushels to the acre, as on the average farm of the county, the growing cost would have been 61 cents a bushel last year instead of 49.6.

On 3 of the 22 farms only two-row cultivators were used and on these about two-thrids as much labor was required as on the average farm in the group.

After deducting the total cost of growing the corn from the gross value of the crop, the return on the fixed investment varied from 92 cents to $22.55 an acre. The crop was figured at 58 cents a bushel. Interest on the land and equipment was allowed at 5 per cent.

MAKE HAY FOR THE HENS

No longer is it a joke if the city man speaks of "haying the hens" for that's a perfectly good practice, according to poultrymen at Iowa State College. That is, it is a good practice if the right kind of hay is provided for the laying hens in winter.

This is a good time to put up a little hay especially for the hens, they say. Cut some alfalfa or clover while young and immature and cure it without rain so that it will be nice and green. If cut in an immature stage, it will contain a higher percentage of protein than as if left to mature. Also, that cut in early stages will contain less fiber.

CARE OF CLOTHES BIG TASK

One of the ever present problems in the home is the proper care of clothing. The following suggestions on care are offered by home economics extension specialists at Iowa State College.

It is always a good rule to brush clothing promptly after wearing, as a vigorous brushing will remove the dust and grit. It is important that a brush suited to the material be used. A whisk broom is satisfactory for heavy coats and dresses, but should not be used on the finer and more delicate materials. A clothes brush with fine bristles is suited to the finer fabrics. For brushing felt hats, coat collars, and the like, a brush with shorter and stiffer bristles is satisfactory. Velvet rubbed over messaline, satin or crepe will remove dust.

After wearing, a garment should be thoroly aired. It is best to air in the bright sunlight to avoid the danger of moths. The closet should be aired daily to allow odors to escape. Coats and dresses should be hung on hangers as soon as possible after wearinf. Hangers should have the same slope as the shoulders and be the same length as the width across the shoulders of the garment. Protective coverings against dust and smoke may be made of glazed chintz, cretonne, print percale or muslin.

Dry cleaning and thoro pressing of garments destroys moths and their eggs. In storing clothing, first make sure that there are no moths or eggs present, then wrap in unbroken paper (newspaper is good because moths do not like printer's ink.) The ends and pieces of paper which do not lap must be sealed with strips of glued paper. Heavy paper bags serve the purpose and allow the garment to hand without folding. These bags do not kill moths—they keep them out.

Some odors such as are given off by moth balls, camphor and red cedar are irritating to moths. They keep moths away but do not kill them. Label all boxes and packages or paper bags with lists of what they contain for the sake of convenience. Protect garments from light by wrapping in dark paper. Sometimes blue paper is used for white dresses to keep them from becoming yellow.

FINDS COWS SHORT OF "STEAM"

"A locomotive with steam filling the boiler stands still when the throttle is opened if the quantity of steam is insufficient to make the wheels go round. For a similar cause a lot of cows on dry pasture last month failed to make their 'milking wheels' go round because they lacked the needed 'steam' which results from a good ration," declares Henry Grunhaupt, tester for the Garnavillo Cow Testing Association, in his monthly report to the extension offices at Iowa State College.

"The cow may get enough feed to maintain her body needs from such dry pastures as we have had the past few months, but unless she had some grain in addition, she likely ran low on 'steam'—she didn't have enough feed to make her produce to the extent of her capacity.

"The dairyman who succeeds must study the needs of each individual cow and feed her accordingly. A good cow given the right care and feed will take care of the milk pail end of the business without worry on the part of the dairyman."

FOOD MAY ADD DOCTORS BILLS

Five cents out of every dollar the farmer spends goes for food, according to estimates, and whether this food gives health and supplies the body needs, or whether it adds doctors' bills is largely up to the housewife, home economics specialists at Ames assert. The housewife needs to know the food requirements of the family and how these may be met most economically.

Cereals are a cheap food, yet they supply little more than energy, Fruits and vegetables may be expensive in the winter unless canned and stored during the summer. The fruits and vegetables, however, are important sources of vitamins, minerals and necessary body elements. It is better to spend the money for fresh fruits and vegetables than for sweets and fats which have little value other than giving energy. Even as an energy source, cereals are more economical than fats and sweets.

In a family of eight children, three were suspected of having tuberculosis and all were underweight. After the mother adjusted her diet she was able to feed her under-weight family on $5 a week less and all gained for the first time in weeks—the result of more milk and vegetables and less meat.

In 347 counties of the United States all of the cattle have been tested for tuberculosis and the counties are recognized as tuberculosis free areas. This is 11 per cent of the counties of the nation. In 945 additional counties, testing is under way.

SHERIFF'S SALE

STATE OF IOWA,
Wright County, ss.
To Belmond Home Building Company a corporation.

You are hereby notified that by virtue of a special execution, to me directed. and issued out of the office of the Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, within and for Wright County, upon a judgment rendered in said Court in favor of Consolidated National Bank of Dubuque, Iowa, trustee a corporation. and against Belmond Home Building Company a corporation, for the sum of One Thousand Four and 27-100 Dollars debt and Eighteen and 45-100 Dollars costs, and Forty Nine and 07-100 Dollars attorney's fee, I have levied upon the following described Real Estate, to wit: Lot 6, Block 21 First Addition to Belmond, Wright County, Iowa.

And that on the 29th day of October, 1927, at 2 o'clock P. M. at the front door of the Court House in Clarion, Wright County, Iowa, I will proceed to sell the same in satisfaction of said execution, together with all legal costs accruing.

Dated at the Sheriff's office in Clarion, this 28th day of September, 1927.

FRED JOHNSON,
Sheriff of Wright County, Iowa.
M. H. CZIZEK,
Attorney.

SHERIFF'S SALE

STATE OF IOWA,
Wright County, ss.
To Belmond Home Building Company a corporation.

You are hereby notified that by virtue of a special execution, to me directed. and issued out of the office of the Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, within and for Wright County, upon a judgment rendered in said Court in favor of Consolidated National Bank of Dubuque, Iowa, trustee a corporation. and against Belmond Home Building Company a corporation, for the sum of One Thousand Four and 27-100 Dollars debt and Eighteen and 45-100 Dollars costs, and Forty Nine and 07-100 Dollars attorney's fee, I have levied upon the following described Real Estate, to-wit: Lot 8, Block 21, First Addition to Belmond Wright County, Iowa.

And that on the 29th day of October, 1927, at 2 o'clock P. M. at the front door of the Court House in Clarion, Wright County, Iowa, I will proceed to sell the same in satisfaction of said execution, together with all legal costs accruing.

Dated at the Sheriff's office in Clarion, this 28th day of September, 1927.

FRED JOHNSON,
Sheriff of Wright County, Iowa.
M. H. CZIZEK,
Attorney.

SHERIFF's SALE

STAITE OF IOWA,
Wright County, ss.
To Belmond Home Building Company a corporation.

You are hereby notified that by virtue of a special execution, to me directed. and issued out of the office of the Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, within and for Wright County, upon a judgment rendered in said Court in favor of Consolidated National Bank of Dubuque, Iowa, trustee a corporation. and against Belmond Home Building Company a corporation, for the sum of One Thousand Four and 27-100 Dollars debt and Eighteen and 45-100 Dollars costs, and Forty Nine and 07-100 Dollars attorney's fee, I have levied upon the following described Real Estate, to-wit: Lot 7, Block 21 First Addition to Belmond, Wright County, Iowa.

And that on the 29th day of October, 1927, at 2 o'clock P. M. at the front door of the Court House in Clarion, Wright County, Iowa, I will proceed to sell the same in satisfaction of said execution, together with all legal costs accruing.

Dated at the Sheriff's office in Clarion, this 28th day of September, 1927.

FRED JOHNSON,
Sheriff of Wright County, Iowa.
M. H. CZIZEK,
Attorney.

Indominatable Pluck.

National Commander Drain, at a luncheon for the American Legion convention in Omaha, told a doughboy story:

"What a plucky, cheerful lot our doughboys were in France!" he said. "An officer was on duty one winter day in a front line trench that in some places had three feet of water in it.

"'Where's Smith?' the officer asked a doughboy who stood up to his waist in water and floating ice cakes.

The doughboy saluted, smiled and answered:

"'Gone ashore, sir'."

Disturbing News.

Judge: The jury's verdict was—not guilty.

Prisoner: Good Lord! Now I'll have to spend the rest of my life at hard labor so I can pay my lawyer.

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

FRIEND C. BRAS
Tests Eyes Fits Glasses
Service Guaranteed
SOUTH OF COURT HOUSE
CLARION, - IOWA
1-128

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Bldg
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

DR. R. E. PORTER
BELMOND, IOWA
Chiropractic Health Service
Eight Year's Experience
Office Over Griesy's Store

W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29

LIBERAL ALLOWANCE on your old cleaner
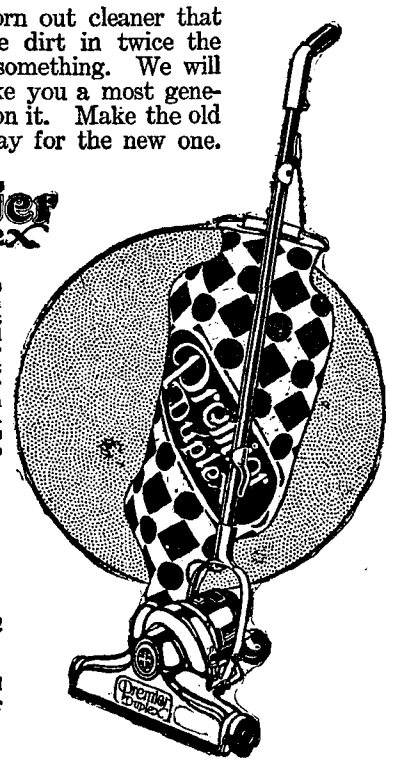
toward a new PREMIER DUPLEX

YOUR old worn out cleaner that gets half the dirt in twice the time, is worth something. We will take it and make you a most generous allowance on it. Make the old one help you pay for the new one.

Premier Duplex

This is the famous double action vacuum cleaner—the one that cleans by powerful suction and a motor driven brush. And it needs no oiling, for both motor and brush turn on ball bearings. It has many features that commend it to housewives.



Only $5.00 down

The rest can be paid in easy payments over a year's time.

General Office
Central States Electric Co.
CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT . . . BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

You Need Never Change Your Oil if You Own a Buick

Last year Buick said: "Change your oil only four times a year." Buick tests at that time had shown that oil changes would never be necessary, with the Oil Filter to remove impurities, and the Crankcase Ventilator to prevent oil dilution.

Now, more than a year has passed, and Buick owners in every section of the world—under every climatic condition—have also proved that you never need change your oil if you own a Buick—replenishment and inspection of the Buick Oil Filter only are required.

Sedans $1195 to $1995 Coupes $1195 to $1850
Sport Models $1195 to $1525

All prices f. o. b. Flint, government tax to be added. The G. M. A. C. financing plan, the most desirable, is available. The model illustrated above is the 5-Passenger, 4-Door Sedan, Series 115, $1295

BUICK for 1928
WEBSTER COUNTY BUICK CO.
DISTRIBUTORS
20-24 North 9th St. Fort Dodge, Iowa
BELMOND—HUB MOTOR CO. Kanawha—Yeakel & Mallow
Clarion—Linfor Auto Co. Dows—A Banwell
Eagle Grove—Porter Auto Co.

Camel

Climbing to new heights of popularity

Government figures show that more Camels are being smoked today than ever before. One after another Camels passed them all.

If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.

© 1927, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Clarion, Iowa, September 12, 1927

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Wright, in the State of Iowa, met at the court house in Clarion, Iowa, as per adjournment.

Members present: E. E. Kitley, Chairman, and Supervisors James Mehl, J. C. Peterson, L. W. Schroeder and J. D. Baker, with the County Auditor in attendance.

Minutes of September 9, 1927, read and approved.

On motion the bond of C. O. Fitts, member of the Soldiers' Relief Commission, was approved.

Moved and seconded that G. A. Triggs be appointed overseer of the poor in Clarion Corporation, and compensation be fixed at 50c per hour for time actually spent in the performance of his duties. Motion carried.

On motion special assessments were ordered spread on Drainage Districts No. 7, 4 per cent; No. 101, 6 per cent; No. 102, 5 per cent; No. 124, 3 per cent. all to be collected with the first installment of the 1927 taxes.

The county auditor placed before the board the certificate of W. C. Merckens, Secretary of the Executive Council of Iowa, giving the adjusted values of the several classes and kinds of property of Wright County for year 1927, the same showing that the request of the Wright County Board of Supervisors had been granted by raising land values only 6 per cent instead of 13 per cent as was first proposed by the council.

The values were then approved by the board as follows:

Town lots, increasing 2 per cent.

Colts one year old, decreasing 9 per cent.

Colts two years old, decreasing 8 per cent.

Horses three years old and over, decreasing 1 per cent.

Mules one year old, decreasing 3 per cent.

Mules three years old and over, increasing 13 per cent.

Cattle in feeding, increasing 11 per cent.

Heifers two years old, decreasing 2 per cent.

Steers one year old, decreasing 10 per cent.

Steers two years old, decreasing 3 per cent.

Swine over nine months old, decreasing 19 per cent.

Sheep over nine months old, increasing 2 per cent.

The county auditor placed before the board the certificate of W. C. Merckens, Secretary of the Executive Council of Iowa, showing the mileage of several railroads, express, telegraph, telephone and electric transmission lines and the taxable value of each per mile for the year 1927 in Wright County as follows:

	Miles	Taxable Value Per Mile	Taxable Value of Sleeping Cars
C. G. W.—M. C. & Ft. D. Main	33.426	$6500.	$ 94.95
C. G. W.—Oelwein to Clarion	12.262	6500.	94.95
C. & N. W.—Toledo & N. W. Br.	23.850	9125.	129.40
C. R. I. & P.—C. R. I. F & N. W. Main	26.150	7375.	70.40
C. R. I. & P.—Forest City Br.	18.960	7375.	70.40
M. & St. L.—Hampton to Algona	15.54	4500.	15.10
American Ry. Express	130.188	32.
M. C. & Ft. D. R.R. Telegraph	45.73	50.
Postal Telegraph Cable co.	27.38	90.
Western Union Telegraph Company	84.50	180.
Central West Public Service Telephone Co.	165.	66.
Goldfield Telephone Co.	70.25	40.
Northwestern Bell Telephone Co.	172.45	225.
Norway Rural Telephone Company	43.	28.
Vincent Telephone Co.	1.5	21.
Western Electric Telephone Co.	178.10	110.
Woolstock Telephone Co.	69.	14.45
Wright & Franklin Co. Telephone Co	78.	37.
Blaine Farmers' Mutual Telephone Co.	9.5	11.
Norway & Eagle Grove Rural Telephone Co.	5.5	9.35
Rural Home Telephone Co.	3.	10.
Central States Electric Co.	41.67	203.
Eagle Grove Farmers Transmission Line	1.	90.
Evergreen Mutual Light & Power Co	7.	86.
Farmers Mutual Light & Power Co.	7.	73.
Iowa Public Service Co.	23.3	304.
Lincoln Light & Power Co.	8.25	105.
Private Line, Peter Axon	1.5	90.

On motion, the foregoing certificates were approved and mileage apportioned among the taxing districts as follows:

C. R. I. & P. Ry.

Liberty	.67
Belmond Twp.	1.62
Pleasant	2.70
Iowa	3.26
Blaine	5.88
Lake	4.01
Ind. Clarion from Lake	.46
Ind. Clarion from Dayton	.55
Ind. Clarion from Lincoln	1.00
Corp. Clarion	2.02
Ind. Belmond from Pleasant	.30
Corp. Belmond	1.76
Ind. Goldfield from Liberty	4.83
Corp Goldfield	1.13
Ind. Dows from Blaine	2.14
Corp. Dows	1.22
Consol. Rowan from Blaine	.72
Consol. Rowan from Iowa	3.12
Corp. Rowan	.71
Lincoln No. 1	1.86
Lincoln No. 2	2.15
Lincoln No. 6	.56
Ind. Galt from Blaine	1.54
Corp. Galt	.90

C. G. W. R.R.

Troy	2.368
Eagle Grove Twp.	2.396
Belmond Twp.	1.449
Pleasant Twp.	6.087
Grant from Iowa	.520
Grant	10.505
Dayton	4.746
Ind. Clarion from Dayton	1.063
Ind. Clarion from Grant	2.152
Corp. Clarion	6.357
Ind. & Corp. Belmond	2.017
Ind. Eagle Grove from Eagle Grove Twp.	.592
Corp. Eagle Grove	2.814
Consol. Rowan from Iowa	4.681
Corp. Rowan	.750
Consol. Meservey from Pleasant	.191

C. & N. W. Ry.

Troy	4.08
Eagle Grove Twp.	4.15
Liberty	4.64
Woolstock Twp.	.39
Ind. Eagle Grove from Eagle Grove Twp.	1.07
Corp. Eagle Grove	3.50
Ind. Goldfield from Eagle Grove. Twp.	1.26
Ind. Goldfield from Liberty	.76
Corp. Goldfield	1.03
Ind. Woolstock from Woolstock Twp.	1.00
Corp. Woolstock	1.25
Ind. Renwick from Liberty	.72

M. & St. L. R.R.

Norway	1.31
Belmond	7.36
Pleasant	2.35
Ind. Belmond from Pleasant	.90
Corp. Belmond	1.42
Consol. Alexander from Iowa	.93
Consol. Alexander from Pleasant	1.27

American Railway Express

Same mileage as railroads used.

M. C. & Ft. D. R.R. Telegraph

Same mileage as that portion M. C. & Ft. D. Ry. along which it is located.

Postal Telegraph & Cable Co.

Same mileage as C. G. W. R.R. east and west from Clarion.

Western Union Telegraph

Same mileage as C. R. I. & P. Ry., C. & N. W. Ry. and M. & St. L. Ry. within Wright County

Central West Public Service Telephone

Norway	2.
Belmond Twp.	39.
Pleasant	38.50
Iowa	8.75
Blaine	7.25
Grant from Iowa	1.50
Grant	9.75
Ind. Belmond from Belmond Twp.	1.00
Ind. Belmond from Pleasant Twp.	2.50
Corp. Belmond	1.00
Consol. Rowan from Blaine	4.75
Consol. Rowan from Iowa	22.75
Corp. Rowan	3.
Ind. Meservey from Pleasant	1.75
Ind. Lincoln No. 1	1.00
Ind. Lincoln No. 5	.25
Ind. Lincoln No. 6	1.00
Ind. Lincoln No. 7	2.25
Ind. Lincoln No. 8	2.50
Consol. Alexander from Iowa	6.50
Consol. Alexander from Pleasant	4.00
Ind. Galt from Blaine	2.50
Corp. Galt	1.50

Blaine Farmers' Mutual Telephone Co.

Blaine	9.00
Ind. Dows from Blaine	.50

Northwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Troy	34.25
Eagle Grove Twp.	14.25
Liberty	3.75
Boone	25.90
Blaine	.75
Grant from Iowa	.50
Grant	4.00
Wall Lake	6.50
Woolstock Twp.	6.90
Dayton	11.00
Lake	3.50
Ind. Clarion from Dayton	.50
Ind. Clarion from Grant	1.00
Ind. Clarion from Lake	.50
Corp. Clarion	2.00
Ind. Eagle Grove from Eagle Grove Twp.	7.00
Corp. Eagle Grove	21.00
Ind. Goldfield from Eagle Grove Twp.	1.75
Ind. Goldfield from Liberty	6.25
Corp. Goldfield	1.55
Ind. Dows from Blaine	.50
Corp. Dows	1.26
Ind. Woolstock	.50
Consol. Rowan from Iowa	5.75
Corp. Rowan	.75
Ind. Renwick from Boone	1.00
Ind. Renwick from Liberty	.50
Ind. Vernon No. 1	2.25
Ind. Vernon No. 6	2.75
Ind. Vernon No. 7	2.90
Ind. Vernon No. 9	1.65
Ind. Vernon No. 9	.85

Goldfield Telephone Co.

Eagle Grove Twp.	11.50
Liberty	19.00
Boone	6.00
Norway	1.00
Dayton	1.50
Lake	10.50
Ind. Goldfield from Eagle Grove. Twp.	1.00
Ind. Goldfield from Liberty	16.50
Corp. Goldfield	8.25

Norway & Eagle Grove Rural Telephone Co.

Eagle Grove Twp.	5.50

Norway Rural Telephone Co.

Boone	10.00
Norway	31.00
Belmond Twp.	2.00

Rural Home Telephone Co.

Ind. Vernon No. 7	3.00

Vincent Telephone Co.

Troy	1.50

Woolstock Telephone Co.

Troy	9.00
Wall Lake	28.00
Woolstock Twp.	26.50
Ind. Woolstock from Woolstock Twp.	3.50
Corp. Woolstock	2.00

Western Electric Telephone Co.

Norway	7.50
Belmond Twp.	8.75
Pleasant	3.50
Iowa	1.50
Wall Lake	13.00
Woolstock Twp.	1.75
Dayton	2.00
Grant	30.25
Lake	26.90
Ind. Belmond from Pleasant	2.00
Corp. Belmond	2.83
Ind. Clarion from Dayton	1.50
Ind. Clarion from Grant	4.00
Ind. Clarion from Lake	3.25
Ind. Clarion from Lincoln	2.75
Corp. Clarion	16.77
Ind. Lincoln No. 1	3.75
Ind. Lincoln No. 2	5.33
Ind. Lincoln No. 4	3.33
Ind. Lincoln No. 5	7.50
Ind. Lincoln No. 6	2.00
Ind. Lincoln No. 7	.50
Ind. Lincoln No. 8	3.50
Ind. Lincoln No. 9	3.50

Wright & Franklin Co. Telephone Co

Blaine	11.00
Wall Lake	5.50
Ind. Dows from Blaine	3.75
Corp. Dows	2.00
Ind. Lincoln No. 6	.50
Ind. Lincoln No. 7	4.50
Ind. Vernon No. 1	6.00
Ind. Vernon No. 2	6.75
Ind. Vernon No. 3	3.00
Ind. Vernon No. 4	6.25
Ind. Vernon No. 5	5.50
Ind. Vernon No. 6	6.25
Ind. Vernon No. 7	2.75
Ind. Vernon No. 8	4.50
Ind. Vernon No. 9	5.00
Ind. Galt from Blaine	4.75
Corp. Galt	1.00

Eagle Grove Farmers Transmission Line, Geo. A. Gross

Troy	.50
Ind. Eagle Grove from Eagle Grove Twp.	.50

Evergreen Mutual Light & Power Co.

Eagle Grove Twp.	7.00

Farmers' Mutual Light & Power Co.

Liberty	3.50
Ind. Goldfield from Liberty	3.50

Central States Electric Co.

Norway	1.32
Belmond Twp.	11.18
Pleasant	2.37
Iowa	2.25
Blaine	8.40
Grant	6.25
Ind. Dows from Blaine	2.60
Consol. Rowan from Blaine	.80
Consol. Rowan from Iowa	5.25
Ind. Galt from Blaine	1.25

Lincoln Light & Power Co.

Dayton	.75
Ind. Clarion from Lincoln	2.00
Ind. Lincoln No. 2	.50
Ind. Lincoln No. 4	5.00

Private Transmission Line, Peter Axon

Eagle Grove Twp.	1.50

Iowa Public Service Co.

Eagle Grove Twp.	6.42
Dayton	7.04
Grant	5.04
Lake	.95
Ind. Clarion from Dayton	2.06
Ind. Clarion from Grant	1.00
Ind. Eagle Grove from Eagle Grove Twp.	.50
Ind. Goldfield from Eagle Grove Twp.	1.37

The County Auditor placed before the board the certified statement of W. C. Merckens, Secretary of the Executive Council of Iowa, as to the state levies for year 1927. which were approved and ordered spread against all taxable property of Wright County as follows:

State General Revenue—7.68 mills

Soldiers' Bonus Bonds & Interest —1.32 mills

Also all moneys and credits one mill for the retirement of Soldiers' bonus bonds.

Pursuant to the certificates on file from the several taxing districts, the following amounts were levied and ordered for year 1927:

	Belmond Twp.	Blaine Twp.
General School	$10000.	$ 5500.
Road	3500.	2000.
Dragging	1200.	1000.
Cemetery	50.
Drainage	1500.	300.
Twp. Hall	50.
	Boone Twp.	Dayton Twp.
General School	$10000.	$10000.
Road	1900.	3500.
Dragging	1000.	700.
Drainage Bond	1600.
Cemetery	100.
Drainage	1400.	1000.
Park	100.
	Eagle Grove Twp.	Grant Twp.
General School	$ 8000.	$ 9000.
School House Bond		1500.
Road	3000.	2000.
Dragging	1000.	1000.
Drainage	1000.
	Iowa Twp.	Lake Twp.
General School	$ 3000.	$12500.
Road	2200.	1865.
Dragging	600.	983.
Cemetery	100.
Drainage	3000.	1399.
	Liberty Twp.	Lincoln Twp.
General School	$ 7500.	$
Road	2000.	4000.
Dragging	1070.	1200.
Cemetery	400.
Drainage	1288.	2400.
	Norway Twp.	Pleasant Twp.
General School	$ 10500.	$1000.
School House	3000.
Road	2600.	2610.
Dragging	850.	522.
Drainage	2000.	2610.
	Troy Twp.	Wall Lake Twp.
General School	$10292.	$ 8500.
Road	2159.	2500.
Dragging	480.	800.
Drainage	1919.	2000.

	Woolstock Twp.	Vernon Twp.
General School	$10000.
Road	2750.	1550.
Dragging	1000.	442.
Drainage	1500.	1000.

Also General School funds for Independent Districts as follows: Lincoln No. 1, $1000; No. 2, $1200; No. 4. $1600; No. 5, $1360; No. 6, $2400; No. 7, $1500; No. 8, $1600; No. 9, $1500; and School House fund—Ind. Lincoln No. 8, $900.

General School fund: Vernon No. 1, $1200; No. 2, $1000; No. 3, $1100; No. 4, $1100; No. 5, $1200; No. 6, $800; No. 7, $600; No. 8, $1000; No. 9, $1000; and Emergency Fund—Ind. Vernon No. 7, $100; and School House Fund—Vernon No. 4, $250.

A county poll tax of fifty cents on each male resident over twenty-one years of age was ordered for 1927.

It was further ordered that tax of one dollar be collected on each male or spayed female dog and three dollars on each female dog listed by the assessors, which tax is due January 15, 1928, and is payable at the office of the county auditor.

Pursuant to the certificates of the different taxing districts governed by the State Budget Laws, Copy of which certificates has been filed in the county auditor's office to be filed with the Director of the Budget by the county auditor, comprising the certificates of Wright County, all cities, towns and school districts, the following amounts were levied and ordered by the board for year 1927, as provided by law:

Wright County Funds

General	$ 55000.
Poor	25000.
State Insane	5000.
County Bridge	28000.
County Road	9000.
County Road Building	18000.
County School	8500.
Soldiers' Relief	1000.
Road Bonds	12500.
Road Bond Interest	19735.
Bridge Bonds	14500.
Bridge Bond Interest	4000.
County Drainage	9500.

City of Clarion

General	$ 4000.
Grading	1200.
Sewer	2500.
Light	3100.
Cemetery	500.
City Hall	300.
Fire	700.
Library	2715.
Band	1000.
Sanitary	500.
Park	600.
Road Bond	600.
Rest Room	300.
Road Dragging	600.
Road	250.
Drainage District 196	11737.

City of Eagle Grove

General	10000.
Grading	900.
Improvement	1000.
Sewer	1000.
Light	4000.
City Hall	1000.
Fire Equipment Bond	1070.
Fire Maintenance	1500.
Judgment	1800.
Library	3000.
Band	1400.
Park	2000.
Road Dragging	1000.
Road	400.
Sanitary	450.
Sewer Outlet	500.

Town of Belmond

General	3370.
Grading	1011.
Improvement	674.
Sewer	1011.
Light	2022.
Fire Maintenance	674.
Library	1200.
Band	674.
Bond	2359.
Road Dragging	337.
Road	100.

Town of Dows

General	1440.
Grading	864.
Improvement	720.
Sewer	720.
Waterworks	720.
Light	1008.
Band	288.
Park	288.
Bond	1440.
Road	50.
Street Drainage	576.

Town of Galt

General	800.
Grading	200.
Light	600.
Hall	50.
Fire Maintenance	100.
Road Dragging	150.
Drainage	150.
Road	100.

Town of Goldfield

General	1250.
Grading	350.
Improvement	375.
Light	655.
Cemetery	200.
Fire Maintenance	200.
Waterworks Maintenance	500.
Waterworks Bonds & Interest	1075.
Band	250.
Park	300.
Road Dragging	125.
Liberty Memorial Bonds & Interest	800.
Liberty Memorial Building Maintenance	800.

Town of Woolstock

General	500.
Grading	100.
Improvement	250.
Road Dragging	50.
Road	250.

Town of Rowan

General	500.
Improvement	250.
Light	310.
Cemetery for Iowa Twp.	100.
Road Dragging	50.

Ind. School District of Belmond

General School	26000.
School House	2000.

Ind. Clarion

General	43869.
School House	2882.
Transportation	150.

Consol. Rowan

General	18000.
School House	1500.

Ind. Eagle Grove

General	52000.
School House	15000.

Ind. Goldfield

General	17960.

Ind. Dows

General	17500.
School House	2500.

Ind. Woolstock

General	10000.
School House	1215.

Consol. Alexander

General	21000.
School House	3300.

Consol. Meservey

General	10697.

Ind. Renwick

General	17500.
School House	2500.

The school levy for Ind. Galt was continued to October 3, 1927, because of omission by the school directors of certain requirements of the budget law.

On motion adjourned to meet September 19, 1927.

E. E. KITLEY,
Chairman.
F. W. WALKER,
County Auditor

Clarion, Iowa, September 19, 1927

The Board of Supervisons of the County of Wright, in the State of Iowa, met at the court hoose in Clarion, Iowa, as per adjournment.

Members present: E. E. Kitley, Chairman, and Supervisors James Mehl, J. C. Peterson, L. W. Schroeder and J. D. Baker, with County Auditor in attendance.

Minutes of September 12, 1927, read and approved.

Moved and seconded that county attorney be instructed to investigate poor cases where husband has failed to provide, and he is hereby instructed to commence action if necessary. Motion carried.

Moved and seconded that a non-resident notice be served on Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kahl. Motion carried.

Moved and seconded that K. J. Engh be appointed overseer of the poor in Eagle Grove Corporation and his compensation be fixed at 50c per hour for time actually spent in the performance of his duties. Motion carried.

Time and date for hearing on graveling Secondary Road District No. 44 having arrived, the Board took up the same. The following resolution was presented:

WHEREAS, on the 8th day of Feb., 1927, there was filed with the county Auditor of Wright County, a petition for the establishment of a district for the surfacing of a certain secondary road, which petition was referred to the county engineer as the law provides, and

WHEREAS, the county engineer has personally examined the lands included within said proposed district, and the roads proposed to be improved and has filed his report relative thereto, and

WHEREAS, a hearing on the establishment of the said proposed district was set for the 19th day of September, 1927, at ten o'clock a. m. of which notice was duly given as provided by law, and

WHEREAS, all objections to the establishment of the said district have been heard by this Board, and

WHEREAS, this Board is of the opinion that the said proposed secondary road district should be established,

NOW, THEREFORE, be it resolved by the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa:

(a) that the said district be and the same is hereby established,

(b) that the designation of the said district shall be "Secondary Road District No. 44."

(c) that the said district shall include the lands listed in the following schedule, and the boundaries of said district shall be as shown on the attached plat, which plat has been signed by the members of this Board and is made a part hereof:

Sub-Division	Sec.	Twp.	Rng.	Owner
5 A. in NE SW	36	91	23	Fred Kreitlow
Exc. 15 A. the N½ of SW¼	36	91	23	James & Joseph Oler
S½ SW¼	36	91	23	James & Joseph Oler
E½ NE¼	1	90	23	Harley Nelson
W½ NE¼	1	90	23	Herbert L. Sergeant
E½ NW¼	1	90	23	Herbert L. Sergeant
NW NW	1	90	23	Jennie I. Freese
SW NW	1	90	23	George A. Miller
E½ SW¼	1	90	23	Jennie E. Zigler
NW SW	1	90	23	Ella E. Hoffman
SW SW	1	90	23	Jennie E. Zigler
NE SE	1	90	23	Harley Nelson
NW SE	1	90	23	Herbert L. Sergeant
SW SE	1	90	23	Jennie E. Zigler
West 15 A. of SE SE	1	90	23	Jennie E. Zigler
21½ A. in SE SE	1	90	23	O. C. and J. S. Sime
3½ A. in SE SE	1	90	23	Knudt Nilson
E½ NE¼	2	90	23	Jennie I. Freese
W½ NE¼	2	90	23	Glen Schrader
NW¼	2	90	23	Wilford F. Selleck and W. E. Boulden
E½ SW¼	2	90	23	Wm. A. Leach
W½ SW¼	2	90	23	F. B. Sheldon
NE SE	2	90	23	Eila E. Hoffman
NW SE	2	90	23	Glen Schrader
S½ SE¼	2	90	23	Glen Schrader
E½ NE¼	11	90	23	Sohpia Gilbertson, et al
W½ NE¼	11	90	23	Andrew Scott
E½ NW¼	11	90	23	Andrew Scott
W½ NW¼	11	90	23	Andrew Miller
E½ SW¼	11	90	23	O. G. Longley
W½ SW¼	11	90	23	Andrew Miller
NE SE	11	90	23	Sophia Gilbertson, et al
W½ SE¼	11	90	23	O. G. Longley
SE SE	11	90	23	Herman Krimeyer
North 4 A. of SE NE and NE NE	12	90	23	Knudt Nilson
W½ NE¼	12	90	23	Peoples Trust & Savings Bank
NE¼	12	90	23	Jennie E. Zigler
East 45 A. of N½ SW ¼	12	90	23	F. M. Hubbell Son & Company, Inc.
Exc. 5 A. the NW SE	12	90	23	Herman Kreimeyer
SW SW	12	90	23	Herman Kreimeyer
SE SW	12	90	23	Peoples Trust & Savings Bank
N½ SE¼	12	90	23	Peoples Trust & Savings Bank
SW SE	12	90	23	Peoples Trust & Savings Bank
19 A. in SE NE	12	90	23	Martha Clemons
18 A. in SE NE	12	90	23	Jesse E. Sisam
SE SE	12	90	23	F. M. Hubbell Son & Company, Inc.
N½ NE¼	13	90	23	F. M. Hubbell Son & Company, Inc.
S½ NE¼	13	90	23	Willie Scott
NE NW	13	90	23	F. M. Hubbell Son & Company, Inc.
W½ NW¼	13	90	23	Nellie O. Anderson, et al
SE NW	13	90	23	Willie Scott
E½ NE¼	14	90	23	Nellie O. Anderson, et al
W½ NE¼	14	90	23	William Whistler
E½ NW¼	14	90	23	William Whistler
W½ NW¼	14	90	23	Geo. H. Peterson

(d) that the roads within said district to be surfaced and the general nature of the surfacing shall be as follows:

Beginning at the ¼ Corner on the South line of Section 36, Township 91 N., Range 23 W., running thence West ¼ of a mile to the West ¼-¼ Corner on the South line of said Section 36, Township 91 N. Range 23 W., thence South 2½ miles to the West ¼-¼ Corner on the East-West center line of Section 13, Township 90 N., Range 23 W.

(e) That the county auditor is hereby directed to file a copy of this resolution and a plat of the said district with the State Highway Commission.

The foregoing resolution was adopted by all members voting aye; Nays, none.

Time and date having arrived for gravel letting for Secondary Road Districts Nos. 40 and 44, board took up the same.

Bids were received from McCoy & Nelson, Nelson & Larson, H. R. Maudlin, W. B. Williams, Oscar H. Ehling, Sampson Bros. Construction Co., and Moe and Nelson.

The bid of Moe and Nelson was found to be the lowest and best bid. On motion they were awarded contracts and chairman of the board was instructed to sign the same.

On motion adjourned to meet September 21, 1927.

E. E. KITLEY,
Chairman.
F. W. WALKER,
County Auditor.

Agreeable

In a lesson in parsing a sentence, the word "courting" came to a young miss of fourteen to parse. She commenced hesitatingly, but got on well enough until she was to tell what it agreed with. Here she stopped short. But as the teacher said, "Very well; what does courtship agree with?" Ellen blushed and held down her head.

"Ellen, don't you know what courtship agrees with?"

"Well, Ellen, why don't you parse the word? What does it agree with?

Blushing still more and stammering, Ellen at last replied, "It agrees with all the girls, ma'am."

Coast Was Clear

A woman engaged a new maid, who answered the door one afternoon. A man asked if her mistress was at home.

"Yes," replied the maid, "come right in."

"But," stammered the visitor, "perhaps she's engaged."

"Oh, she's engaged all right, but he's out of town for a week, so you needn't be afraid. Come right in."

A Sure Sign

Small schoolboy (to his father)—"The world is round, isn't it?"

"Yes," the father agreed.

"Then if I wanted to go east I could go there by going west, couldn't I?"

"Yes; and you'll be a taxicab driver when you grow up."

Overdoing It

"What is the matter with your hired man, Amzi?" asked Farmer Fumblegate, "He looks somehow as if he was all run down."

"I guess," replied Farmer Bentover, "he is kinda overrested."

Puzzled

"Oh, doctor, I forgot to ask you about that eye medicine?"

"What about it?"

"Do I drop it in my eyes before or after meals?"

Reminiscence of Early Belmond Days

Editor's Note—The following interesting article of Early Belmond history was dictated by B. P. Entriken, an early resident here, shortly before he passed away at his home in Washington, D. C., last spring. Parts of the article which are of interest to local people will be printed in the Independent, another installment appearing next week.)

Moving To Iowa

In October, 1869 Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Entriken and Jessie Carter, a boy about twelve, started for Iowa. They had two horses and a colt, a cow, and their household goods packed in the covered wagon. It was very cold when they crossed the Mississippi River and entered Iowa. The cold stopped them at Manchester. Ben found an old house which was warmer than the wagon and later when he secured work, hauling wood from a forest twenty miles away, they moved into town. Within a few weeks one horse died and the hauler was transformed into a school teacher. He had noticed a school house on his way from the forest and asked why it was closed. They told him that the children had run all the teachers out. He asked for the school and was told he could have it if he would agree to stay by it. He found as tough a bunch as could be imagined but he was strong and active. He had done much wrestling in the army and was equal to the big boys. He had to throw the ringleader over his head one day and wallop him soundly but that conquered the bunch and he had a good school where they literally "toed the line."

That winter the colt died and the remaining horse became sick so the Entrikens were forced to travel by train. Sally Entriken came on from the East where she had been staying to find her brother and journeyed with them. From Webster City they traveled by buck board to Goldfield. They were too independent to depend upon their friends so went to the hotel. The Prince Albert coat Ben was wearing attracted attention and the hotel keeper asked Sally, "What denomination does your brother represent?"

She replied, "He belongs to the Heiliions."

Sally got a school that spring but Ben could not. He looked everywhere but people did not take kindly to men folks teaching in the summer. The few schools were soon taken. Ther were none at Clarion. Those in the West were: the Middleton, the Pain, the Goldfield.

Father Sands was County Superintendent of Schools and gave Ben and Sally first grade certificates. Sally met Charles Griffith while she was teaching the Evergreen school and boarding at Ed Brown's.

First Visit To Belmond

Finding that all the schools in the west were taken Ben thought he would try the eastern side of the county. He walked from Clarion to Belmond. This was the first time he had seen the lakes. Lake Cornelia was covered with wild ducks and white caps. He had to take off his trousers to wade a stream east of Plum Grove. He peeled, waded across, and dressed on the other side.

He slept in the Belmond House (later Kern Hotel) which was run by Bill Rowen's widow.

He found that the Belmond school on the top of the hill was taken. The next day he interviewed William Luick. He, too, had a teacher engaged. Said he would be glad to have Ben teach the winter school. Ben picked up an acquaintance with Warner Butts and G. A. Thompson. He took dinner with Butts and that afternoon walked to Goldfield. There was but one house between Plum Grove and Goldfield.

All that summer they boarded at the hotel while the husband looked for work, did anything that came to hand, and read in his spare time. The time was not wasted for Goldfield had a good circulating library and Ben made good use of it. He learned a great deal, lying on the floor with a dictionary close at hand.

Harvest time brought some work but G. A. Thompson who brought a load of flour over from his mill assured Ben that if he were in Belmond there would be no lack. So he borrowed a horse and rode over. This time he stayed at the old ranch west of town. He secured the winter school from William Luick and engaged a house of Thompson. The house stood north of Thompson's.

Here is a picture of Belmond at this time. Starting at the bridge, on the right hand were: a one-story building where Dr. Cutler had a bank, a store run by Cutler and Son, the Belmond House, a ramshackle building two stories in front and one behind; two blocks up Lathrop's carpenter shop and Frederick's blacksmith shop. Charles Cutler's divorced wife had a little red frame house south while Dave Luick's house was back in the field. From the bridge on the north side were: Thompson's mill, Sargeant's Saloon, Uncle Pierce's Store. Up the street was the Robinson's house of logs in the midst of poplar trees. North from the bridge were the mill, Mrs. Fulton's house, the Thompson's home, the place the Entrikens rented, and the Lathrops'. Back of the store was Uncle Peirce's house and near it the McAlpine house. Farther East were George Cutler's house, one in which George Cram lived and a slab shanty belonging to Vet Luick. Reverend Groom, a M. E. minister, lived in the Cutler house. Widow Rowen kept the hotel. Bill Purdy boarded there. That's all.

Early Friends In Belmond

The school Uncle Ben first taught was at the north side of the Cemetery, south east of town. The families represented in the school were: Rankins, Polmateer, Culps, Luicks, Robinson, Veeder, Whited and Jo Johnson. Nick Johnson is remembered because he could not say Alexander correctly.

A Good Templar's Lodge had been started just before the Entrikens moved to Belmond. They brought their cards from Argyle and went into the work with both feet. The Lodge met in Pierce's Hall. It had more influence than any church. All the good people of the town and country belonged. Uncle John Whiting was Lodge Deputy. There they first met S. N. Hinman. One evening he came in wearing snow packs and Aunt Jennie was sorry for him because he had no boots.

Friendships were quickly formed among the members—the Pierces, the Morse girls, Perry, the Meachems, Gowdys, the Thompson young people, Lon Wright (Briar Wright's son), John Brewsaugh, Frank Dunlap, Shaleri Hubbard, Byers, the Finns, Jenisons, Brayton Pond and his wife, Frank and Carrie Christie, Alvin Udell, Dziewanowski, Alice Lathrop, Hettie Sands and Chase, the younger Luicks, the Packards, Charles and Wesley Bullis, and Bill Purdy.

It was a universal gathering of young people. They were trying to put Sargeant out of business. They did so and his saloon was closed. It was not easy, however, to get testimony. Herb Ellsworth was known to be drunk but he swore that all he could buy was "coffin varnish."

To Hickory Grove

In the spring of '71, Frank Christie offered Uncle Ben the school at Hickory Grove. Here he first met Dolph and Mary Whiting. The Parkers lived on the John Whiting place. Uncle Ben had two rooms in the Christie house, one down stairs and one up. Grandpa and Grandma Whiting had just moved out of these rooms. He taught the summer and winter school living there.

Uncle Ben remembered a big picnic in the grove and a get-together at the big house south of Bamford's where Billy Ellsworth recited

"My grandfather had (a long pause)
Some very fine pigs in the merry
green fields of Olan
With a wiggle waggle here and a wiggle waggle there
In the merry green fields of Olan."

This continued for many verses the only change being the last word of the second line where he claimed to have fine cows, sheep, etc.

Those living between Belmond and Hickory Grove at that time were: Bill Finch, Mike Luick, Charles Schleiffarth, Freeman Barker, Abner Cox, Joe Bamford, Harry Parker, the Whitings, the Feaks, Job Gilpin, the Savogues. West were Udells, Ponds, Christies, Hinmans, Brayton Pond, and the Smiths. Truman Barker married Helen Hanning.

Those attending the Hickory Grove school were: Clara, Noel and Clark Pond; Mary, Elijah and Alvin Udell; Smith Pierce, Minnie and Edith Whiting, Charlie Parker and his sister, Dora and Jacob Feake, Viola Will and John Savogue, Minnie, Charlie, Milton and Amos Smith; Seaman and Perez Cox, a Hanning boy, Eugene—(a bound boy from Christies).

Ole Thompson came in winter, sat in a big back seat and learned English. Clara Pond was one of his pets.

(Uncle Ben in remembering saw the children in their seats and their names on the roll.)

Sunday School and Church at Hickory Grove

Uncle Ben met the Whitings at Hickory Grove Sunday School. He was asked to be chorister the very first Sunday he attended.

One Sunday Mr. Hinman was discouraged and announced that this woul be the last session of the school owing to lack of interest. Then he turned to Uncle Ben for the closing song. Instantly he chose, "Revive us again." All sang it. M. J. O. W. gave him a nudge and sang an extra strong alto. At its close the Superintendent said, "We will have school next Sunday."

A year later an incident occurred which Uncle Ben called a turning point in his life. Groom was the M. E. minister and lived in Sarah Cutler's house in Belmond. In the winter of '72 he came to Hickory Grove and carried on revival meetings. Uncle Ben was sarcastic of all religion. The sting which had been given him by that class leader back in Wisconsin still rankled. Jen was as bitter as he. She would not even attend the meetings. Uncle Ben did because he liked the music. Both looked upon Christians as hypocrites.

Uncle Ben said, "I have a clear cut recollection of A. C. as he got up and talked. He said, 'I don't want you people to think that this is all excitement and nothing else. We see there is something better for our children. All heads of families should join with us. Al leaders of children should help.' An invitation was given to stand and Hinman reached out his hand saying, 'We need you, Be.' I knew I had an influence with the children. I knew Hinman and Whiting were right and again I did my duty as I did when I enlisted in 1861. I went with Hinman an others down town and joined the Congregational church although I told Father Sands that I could not conform to the creed. Father Sands agreed that it was not necessary.

Booze Static

Irate Citizen (from bedroom window)—"Say, you, down there, who are you talking to?"

Intoxicated One—"Nobudy'n particular. I'm jesh broadcastin'."

More men marry because of kindliness and gentleness than because of beauty.

LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Sullivan left by motor. Sunday, for Los Angeles, Calif., where they will make their future home. Mr. Sullivan, who was clerk in the local postoffice, was transferred to Los Angeles.

We have some very good used Suits and Overcoats for sale.—New Belmond Tailor Shop. Phone 28. F. J. Tuffree. 1c

D. E. Packard and sons; Chas. Gealow, Geo. Braun, Reynold Kinseth, Fred Shipley and others who have been in Minnesota the past week or two fishing returned home the past few days. All report very good luck.

Gus Ziska arrived home the first of the week, having been with the Gifford Shows all summer in charge of the ferris wheel.

Old Time Dance at the Belmond Opera House, Friday, October 7th.

Mr. and Mrs. Orvis Shillington spent Sunday with Mr. Shillington's parents, near Clarion.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sands of Sioux City, spent a few days last week at the Win Sands home, and with old friends in this vicinity.

St. John's Lutheran Aid society will hold their annual Bazaar and Chicken Supper, Saturday, Oct. 29. Bazaar opens at 1 P. M., supper starts at 5 P. M. 474

Mr. and Mrs. John Menke are the parents of a baby girl, born Sept. 29. The little miss has been named Gertrude.

Nels Stockseth, who has been quite ill, is able to be around again.

WHAT DO YOU MEAN, —"INVEST?"

by R. H. Jackson, Editor BANKERS RESEARCH BUREAU, Inc., of Des Moines, Iowa.

Webster has given this definition —"Invest: To lay out (money or capital) in business WITH THE VIEW OF OBTAINING AN INCOME OR PROFIT."

You will notice that the definition says "with the view of"—not "with the HOPE of" obtaining a profit.

An investment should be made today in the light of cold, calculating reason. We people of Iowa have lost all the money we should ever lose playing "hunches" or listening to high-power persuasion. We must KNOW first that the security offered is ample. Not only must it be such as may be fully realized upon under adverse conditions, but the men who are charged with the conservation of its value should be men whose reputation for integrity and ability is unquestioned.

Then we should also know that the company offering the security is engaged in a business of sufficient magnitude and profit to permit it to pay us our interest at stated times as well as return our principal when it is due. As to this there can be no guess. An "investment" can be properly made only in the securities of an established concern which is able to show a satisfactory earning record for at least three years last past, and these earnings should equal at least two and one-half times the sum required for interest charges, over and above all expenses.

Finally we should know that the "investment" we are about to make will be attractive to other people with money and will, thereby, have a market. If this be so then we may if we wish, dispose of our securities and procure the return of our principal at any time. Or, we will have splendid collateral for a loan if that is desired.

These elements must be present in an "investment." They must exist to your own knowledge and unless they do, then the opportunity that is being offered you is one of "speculation" not investment. With an "investment" there is slight chance of loss. With a "speculation" there is a great chance of loss.

When the salesman offers you the "chance of a lifetime" ask him for a statement of the financial condition of his company certified to by a competent accountant. If you are unable to understand the statement, take it to someone who can and let him determine the stability of the security in question. When you have done that, write to a Chicago bank or brokerage house and ask for a bid on the bonds in question. You have plenty of time to do all this—the opportunity to invest is always present. So also, is the opportunity to speculate and LOSE. Make a good investment and your community is better off. Make a poor speculation and everyone around you suffers.

Quality Printing Pleases. That is the Independent kind. Get yours here

WANT ADS PAY

FOR YOUR
AUCTIONEER
CALL
H. BRUMMOND
KANAWHA, IOWA
PHONE 118

We Want Your Poultry

And we will pay you the very highest market price for it. Before you sell, see us or call us and let us make you a price—you'll find it is dollars in your pocket. If you haven't time to bring your poultry in, or haven't a way to do it, remember we furnish you

TRUCK SERVICE!

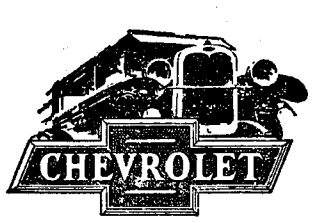
We'll call at your place, load your birds, haul them to town, give you honest, full weights, and send you a check promptly at the highest market prices. We want your poultry, and we'll do anything fair and square to get it. Give us a trial!

Farmers Grain Company
PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!
BELMOND, - - IOWA

You can buy these products with confidence

YOU are doubly assured of quality and continuing service when you buy a General Motors product. Behind the resources of these seven famous cars and of Frigidaire and Delco-Light stand the resources of the whole family of General Motors. Each is tested and proved. And in the prices you pay for these products, you share in the economies of vast production.

We invite you to learn more about these products by sending in the coupon below. Mail it today before you forget. No obligation, but interesting reading.

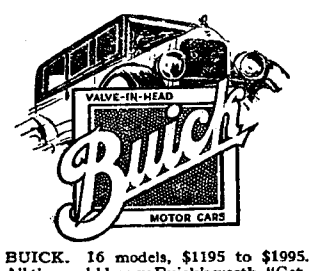


CHEVROLET. 7 models, $525 to $745. Amazing combination of beauty, performance and low price. 3-speed transmission. Beautiful Fisher Bodies. Duco finish. Fully equipped. Also truck chassis; ½-ton, $395; 1-ton, $495.

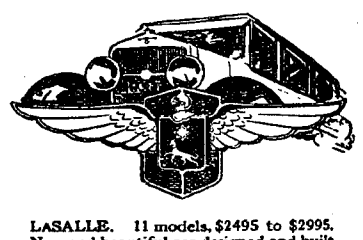
PONTIAC. 6 models, $745 to $925. Lowest priced six with Bodies by Fisher. Duco finish. Extra-powerful engine. Value proved by ever-increasing sales.

OLDSMOBILE. 7 models, $875 to $1075. New lower prices round out Oldsmobile's master-stroke of General Motors' value-giving. 4-wheel brakes.

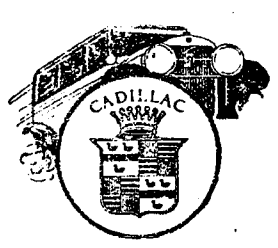
OAKLAND. 6 models, $1045 to $1265. The "All-American" model is a bigger, better, more beautiful car, typifying General Motors quality and value in the medium price class. 4-wheel brakes.



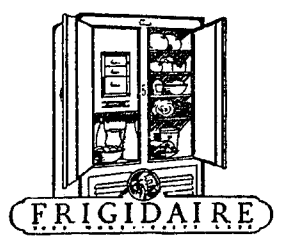
BUICK. 16 models, $1195 to $1995. All the world knows Buick's worth. "Get-away" like an arrow from a bow. Vibrationless beyond belief. Famous 6-cylinder "valve-in-head" engine. 4-wheel brakes. Beautiful low bodies.



LASALLE. 11 models, $2495 to $2995. New and beautiful car designed and built as companion car to Cadillac. Has V-type 8-cylinder engine. Marvelous lines and bodies. Continental in appearance.



CADILLAC. 26 models, $3,350 to $5,500. The standard of the fine car world. 90-degree V-type engine. Bodies by Fisher and Fleetwood. 500 color and upholstery combinations to choose from.



FRIGIDAIRE—the electric refrigerator. General Motors has applied the processes which have made the automobile available to every family to the production of Frigidaire, its electric refrigerator.

DELCO-LIGHT electric plants. Provide the conveniences and labor-saving devices of the city for the farm. Electric light and power plants, water pumps, etc. Used in over a quarter million homes.

(ALL PRICES F.O.B. FACTORIES)

GENERAL MOTORS

"A car for every purse and purpose"

CLIP THIS COUPON

GENERAL MOTORS (Dept. A), Detroit, Mich.

Please send without any obligation to me, your illustrated booklet, "Where Motor Car Facts Are Established," together with information about the particular General Motors product or products I have checked at the right.

CHEVROLET ☐ OAKLAND ☐ CADILLAC ☐
PONTIAC ☐ BUICK ☐ FRIGIDAIRE ☐
OLDSMOBILE ☐ LASALLE ☐ DELCO-LIGHT ☐

Name..... Address.....

MESERVEY SECTION

REFORMED CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:30.
Morning worship at 10:30. (German.)
Young People's meeting at 7:30.
Evening preaching service at 8:00.
Choir practice Tuesday at 8.
All are cordially invited to attend the meetings of this church.
H. Pannkuk, Pastor

EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Due to bad roads our meetings have been postponed ofr one week. We shall begin on Oct. 9. Preaching every night beginning at 7:45. No meetings on Saturday night.

Sunday School at 9:30.

E. L. C. E. at 7:00 P. M. Mrs. H. Fisher will lead.

Evening worship at 7:30 P. M.

The W. M. S. will meet this week at the Rev. H. Raecker home.

English prayer meeting at the church.

A. K. Henning, Pastor

Birthday Party

On Friday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 Jeanette Raecker entertained 8 of her little friends at a birthday party. The little tots enjoyed games and Mrs. Raecker served a dainty lunch to the guests at the close of the afternoon. Jeanette was remembered with a number of pretty and useful gifts.

The Meservey band furnished the music for the Klemme Corn Day, last Friday. They played for both afternoon and evening concerts. A number of others from this community attended the annual day put on there.

Mrs. Henry Sprau and children returned to their home in Mason City last Sunday after a two weeks stay at the parental Chas. Halfpop home. Miss Mollie Zieman returned with them to remain for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Claus and daughter June, and the former's uncle and Miss Ella Lacher motored to Paton Saturday and visited with relatives.

The Cemetery Association will hold their monthly meeting in the Evangelical church parlors Tuesday October 11th, with Mrs. W. F. Butz hostess.

The city council met Monday evening for a business meeting.

Wm. Larson and wife of Parkersburg spent a few days the fore part of the week at the Ferd Halfpop home.

Miss Eva Sprau who teaches near Mason City spent the week end with home folks.

Miss Temple returned Sunday from Mason City where she had spent the week end at her parental home.

Miss VerSteeg enjoyed a week end visit with her friend, Miss Eva Klein who teaches at Orange City.

Rev. H. Raecker was visiting relatives at Waverly the past week.

Miss Irene Guth spent the week end at her parental home.

W. F. Butz and family and his mother, Mrs. Mary Butz, were visiting at the E. E. Butz home at Clear Lake Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hemming of Thornton spent Sunday at the E. Foss home.

Mrs. H. K. Pais and son Clarence, were Mason City callers Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bohning of Harold South Dakota, and Mrs. Henry Groen of Belmond visited at the Harm Groen home the fore part of last week.

Miss Myrtle Cooper who has employment in Mason City was a visitor at the Harm Groen home last week on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Drewes of Chicago left Thursday for home after spending a few days at the home of his sister, Mrs. Wm. Messelheiser and family. Mrs. Messelheiser accompanied them to Minn., where they visited relatives at Fairmont, Northrup and Mankato, several days.

A. D. Brogan of Whittemore, was a business caller here Thursday.

Ralph Wendel and wife of Belmond accompanied by Henry Wendel and family were Mason City callers Thursday.

Carl Quandt and Gottlieb Lauster were among the business callers in Mason City, last Thursday.

Mrs. H. Mennenga and daughter, Miss Margaret of Belmond, were calling on friends here Friday.

G. E. Raecker and Theo. Wendel spent several days last week in jury duty.

The Independent's circulation is local. It is read by more people. And that's why its ads bring results.

ABORIGINE SHORN OF FANTASTIC MYTH

Liked Fine Raiment and Could Fight.

Columbus, Ohio.—The mound-building aborigine of America, stripped of the fantastic myths which have hovered above him, is revealed as a savage who loved fine raiment and ornamentation, paid great attention to ceremonials, trafficked with distant tribes, and could fight when he had to.

This appraisal has been reached by the Ohio State Archeological and Historical society after more than two decades of exploration in the great mounds of earth and stone built as ceremonial sites, and found in their greatest completeness in Ohio.

A patient striving for beauty is depicted in the remains of mound-building civilization uncovered in recent months in the Seip mound, scene of "The Great Pearl Burial of Ohio." In this primitive but recent regal tomb of the red man were unearthed five kinds of cloth, leather finely tanned and dressed, and thousands upon thousands of pearls.

Within the mound, 250 feet long, 150 feet wide and 27 feet high, explorers found under a layer of cobblestones an interior mound built of puddled loam, inclosing four burial cribs of logs, 16 feet square.

Two men, two women and two children were the skeletal occupants of the tomb, the men resting on copper breastplates. Around them were myriads of fresh water mussel pearls, some the size of small seeds and others big as hazelnuts. All had been worn as necklaces, armlets, anklers or stomachers.

Beneath the copper plates was disclosed evidence of the splendid burial robes on which the dead were laid. They were beautifully woven, in conventional designs with concentric circles and curving bands, and colored with vegetable dyes in red, maroon, orange, yellow and black. In the moment of their finding, archeology's estimate of mound builder culture was lifed to a new plane.

Five pipes carved from steatite, a dense dark stone flecked with crystal, were found—all highly polished, one weighing more than seven pounds. They were ceremonial council pipes, two carved to resemble dogs and others fashioned after an owl, a bear and a whippoorwill.

Delving again into the mound this summer, President Arthur C. Johnson, Sr., and the society, and H. C. Shetrone, curator of its museum, expect to find new treasures at its heart. Even if the mound yields nothing more, its exploration has added a fascinating chapter to the century-long search into the unwritten history of America's ancient peoples.

Beliefs About Twins Are Refuted by Test

Madison, Wis.—Twins are folks just like the rest of us, are not mentally handicapped, and do not acquire similar characteristics with age.

Prof. Curtis Merriman, University of Wisconsin psychologist, arrived at the above conclusions after a recent study, in which he psychologically examined 200 pairs of twins, all pupils in elementary schools.

In answer to a common supposition, Merriman found that older pairs of twins do not resemble each other intellectually any more than younger pairs of twins do not resemble each other intellectually.

Another popular belief shattered in the tests was that twins have to divide the intellectual power which would have been alloted had a single child been born to the same parents. Results of the psychologist's examination showed that the average intelligence quotient of all twins was 96—almost a normal 100.

GAME BIRD FARMING DEMANDS KNOWLEDGE

Department of Agriculture Gives Out Instructions.

Washington.—Game farming, be it known, is not agriculture with roulette, faro, poker or craps as a side issue, or even with baseball, tennis or croquet. It is the propagation of game birds, and it is an activity of sufficient importance to call forth a treatise on the subject from the United States Department of Agriculture.

With increase in population in this country, it states, the number of hunters has grown enormously, and with progressive settlement, areas naturally productive of game birds have been greatly restricted. Propagation is necessary, therefore, if the national supply of game is to be maintained.

The possibilities of game-bird propagation have long been demonstrated abroad. The first thing that an individual or an organization must consider before undertaking anything in this line is the securing of a license or permit. Most states have laws or regulations affecting the propagation of game birds, and many require game breeders to take out licenses. In addition, federal permits are necessary for lawful possession of wild ducks, wild geese and other migratory game birds in captivity. Federal permits are obtainable through the biological survey of the department of agriculture, which is also prepared to supply copies of digests of state laws on game-bird propagation, and the addresses of officials to whom application should be made for state licenses, and for full texts of state laws relating to game farming.

Give the Birds Room.

When the game-bird breeder is all set and raring to go, so far as his license and federal permit are concerned, the next thing for him to consider is the area of land he has available. He must give his birds plenty of room.

Small numbers of game birds can be reared with more or less extemporized equipment moved about within the confines of a roomy dooryard or in a small orchard, says the government bulletin. Game-bird propagation on a sustaining and business basis, however, requires plenty of room. The area of land available should be not less than four times that required to care for the birds properly for a single year. Plenty of space is needed for the further reason that in most cases it is desirable to produce birds that will be as wild and wary as possible.

On the efficient and economical game farm as much as possible of the seeds, grain and forage consumed by the birds must be produced on the ground. Insects, so necessary an element in the food of the young, must be wholly of local origin. This vital food supply, which more than any other factor determines the success or failure of game-bird production, depends almost directly upon soil fertility, for insects can subsist in abundance only upon rank vegetation.

Crops Must Be Rotated.

Moreover, soil fertility is not only an initial requirement, but it must be maintained, we are told. The purely agricultural phases of the game farm must be managed with just as much foresight and care, and in much the same way, as a hay or grain farm that is kept on a profit-yielding basis.

Proper cultivation of the soil is important, not only in preserving the basis of production but also in rejuvenating the land after the fouling that is unavoidable when large numbers of birds have been kept on it for a long time.

Plowing, fallowing, fertilizing, planting, and cultivating are as essential to the upkeep of the farm upon which game birds are the crop as on any other. To rest and renovate fields upon which a crop of birds has been reared it is advisable to follow with little change the scheme of crop rotation that has been found satisfactory in the region concerned.

Sanitation, vermin control, fencing, traps for birds of prey, patroling the game farm, shipping game birds and their eggs, details of breeding, getting a primary stock, liberating the birds in coverts, and improving coverts for upland game birds are some of the other problems upon which prospective propagators should be informed.

Radio Fan at Heart

A doctor's little daughter, deeply interested in radio, glanced one morning into the office where her father was testing the heart and lungs of a patient. "Getting any new stations, daddy?" she asked.

Truly Said

Angry Motorist—"Some of you pedestrians walk along just as if you owned the streets."

Irate Pedestrian—"Yes, and some of you motorists drive around just as if you owned the car!"—Hardware Age.

Husband (arriving home late)—"Can't you guess where I've been?"

Wife—"I can; but tell your story."—Answers.

READ THE ADS!

Dr. Wilbert Shallenberger, The Regular and Reliable Chicago Specialist

who has visited here since 1901 treats Chronic, Nervous and SPECIAL DISEASES of Men and Women Scientifically, also Diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat, Lungs, Heart, Blood, Skin, Nervous Debility, Nerves, Liver, Stomach, Intestines, Kidneys, and Bladder. Consumption in an early stage, Catarrh, Ringing in Ear and Deafness, Paralysis, Neuralgia, Epilepsy, Sick Headache, Goitre, Eczema, Scrofula, Appendicitis, Gravel, Rheumatism of joints and muscles.

PILES, FISTULA, FISSURE and other Rectal Diseases Treated Without Knife.

Surgical Cases and Rupture Given Special Attention.

Over 80% of my patients come from recommendations of those I have Cured. CONSULTATION FREE.

Address letters to DR. WILBERT SHALLENBERGER, 768 Oakwood Boulevard, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

CLARION, HOTEL MOORE, WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, OCT. 19
Visit No. 337

ATWATER KENT RADIO

Fresh "B" Batteries always on hand.

H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

Undertaking & Funeral Director
F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone--Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

FREE INSURANCE

Sometime ago one of our depositors called for his cancelled checks, stating that he needed them in order to convince his neighbor that he had already paid the debt owing him.

Our depositor then related an incident of how a farmer had paid a Medicine Wagon driver $4.70, which he claimed was not paid. The farmer produced the check which was evidence that it had been paid, thus saving him paying the bill twice.

We say "Free Insurance."

"Service and Safety"

Farmers Savings Bank
Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

Harry T. Smith
General Blacksmithing
Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding
Meservey, - Iowa

HIGH QUALITY
BUILDING MATERIAL
Screen Doors and Window Screens—Mill Work—Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts and Poles
Cement — Lime
INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT
Wheat Bran – Oil Meal – Cotton Seed Meal, – Tankage – Salt
Highest Price Paid for Grain
Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

CHEVROLET
for Economical Transportation

Everywhere— people turn to admire its beauty!

Embodying all the masterly design and craftsmanship of bodies by Fisher.
—offering such marks of distinction as full-crown, one-piece fenders and bullet-type lamps—
—and finished in lustrous colors of genuine, lasting Duco—today's Chevrolet is everywhere acclaimed as one of the world's most beautiful automobiles . . so refreshingly different, so outstandingly smart and stylish that people everywhere turn to admire it!
And this remarkable smartness is matched by a type of performance that is no less outstanding—perfect comfort at every speed, flashing acceleration, and delightful handling ease.
Come in and see today's Chevrolet. One glance at its custom-built beauty, one ride at the wheel of your favorite model—and you will know why Chevrolet is everywhere classed as the world's finest low-priced car.

The IMPERIAL LANDAU
Reduced to $745

The Touring or Roadster	$525
The Coach	$595
The Coupe	$625
The 4-Door Sedan	$695
The Sport Cabriolet	$715
½-Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	$395
1-Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	$495

All prices f. o. b. Flint, Michigan
Check Chevrolet Delivered Prices
They include the lowest handling and financing charges available.

HUB MOTOR COMPANY
Belmond, Iowa
RAECKER CHEVROLET SALES COMPANY
Meservey, Iowa
QUALITY AT LOW COST

NEWS ITEMS FROM GOODELL

Misses Louise Mason and Louise Ahrenkiel autoed to Des Moines in the former's car Friday evening and spent the week end.

Mrs. Herman Brunes returned home Tuesday from the Hampton hospital where she has spent the past three weeks recovering from an operation. Miss Ione Christie is assisting with the work at the Brunes home.

Rev. and Mrs. Scott and daughter Harriet, arrived home Friday evening, having been away about ten days, attending the U. B. Conference at Muscatine and visiting her sister who resides at Mt. Veron. Rev. Scott was returned to this church again, which his many friends are pleased to hear. Goodell's former minister was sent to Moravia, and Rev. Harry Varce to Moville.

Harvey Boller, local drayman, autoed to Renwick Friday afternoon taking Principal Hopperstad and his ball team there, to play with the high school team. Goodell won, the resulting score being 2 to 0.

Carl Sandberg who has been working the past two months for the Marshall Electric Co. at Marshalltown recently accepted a position with the Quaker Oats Co., at Cedar Rapids, in the engineering department.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Beier accompanied by Mrs. A. M. Graber went to Klemme Wednesday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Beier's brother, Henry Lemke.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Kossen left Friday for their home in Springfield, Mo. They have been guests the past two weeks at the D. M. Conlan home.

Mrs. Louise Africa received word this week from California that her son, Henry Africa was very sick and not expected to live. He is suffering with heart trouble. Later word came that he was resting easier. The Henry Africa family are well known here and their many friends are hoping that he will regain health.

Raymond Chelsvig who has been employed in Chicago for some time came home Tuesday for a visit at his parental home.

Mrs. Anton Ahrenkiel went to Klemme Friday to assist with the work at the Quandt restaurant. Mrs. Ahrenkiel and Mrs. Quandt are sisters. Friday was the big celebration at Klemme.

Mrs. Henry Christenson is visiting relatives at Waterloo this week. Mrs. Roland Estel accompanied her as far as Ackley, where she is enjoying a visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wolf.

Harry Newgard who has been suffering with having strained the muscles in his back was able to return to his work the fore part of last week, but on Wednesday while working, became seriously worse and had to be taken home. The doctor has advised him to remain quiet for about two weeks.

Floyd Anderson returned last week from Canada where he has spent the past year.

Miss Josephine Dominey became seriously ill Monday morning and that evening was rushed to the Hampton hospital where she was immediately operated on for appendicitis. Her aunti Mrs. John Dominy is staying with her for a few days. She is getting along nicely.

T. F. Matson spent Thursday with home folks here. On Friday he went to Ames to bid on some road work. He expects to finish his work near Adel in about two more weeks.

Miss Marie Given, local primary teacher has not been teaching the past week as her mother remains in a critical condition. The former returned to her school work Monday but plans to drive to her home at Clarion each evening.

Tom Hamilton and son Verner, were called to Estherville Sunday by the death of Mr. Hamilton's aunt. The funeral was held Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Heginger entertained their children and their families to Sunday dinner. Those from out of town to attend were George Heginger and the Frank Kemp family of Belmond.

Mrs. Earl Ruka and Mrs. E. Schneider went to Garner Monday to attend a farm bureau meeting.

T. F. Matson and C. H. Conklin came home Saturday from Adel as they were not able to work due to the rainy weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Watts who live at Dows were over Sunday visitors at the Butts home. Mrs. Watts is a niece of Mrs. Butts.

Miss Lela Griggs went to Ames Thursday and registered on Friday to enter college. She will take a two year Home Economics course.

Mrs. James A. Hanson of Hartland, Minn., returned Monday to her home. She had spent the past few days visiting her son Amos and the Sandberg family.

Clement Houghton returned Sunday to his work at Iowa Falls, having enjoyed a week's vacation with home folks.

Matt Holtzbauer of Belmond came up from Belmond Tuesday to do some plumbing at the S. S. Matson home.

Several ladies from here went to Garner Sunday afternoon and attended the initiation of the C. D. of A.'s. Their husbands went up in the evening and attended the banquet.

While the high school boys were playing foot ball last Thursday, Archie Conklin was seriously hurt. The knee was thrown out of joint. He was immediately cared for by the doctor and will not be able to return to school for many days.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Tanner spent over Sunday with Crystal Lake friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hughes of Williams Sundayed with relatives here.

Church Notes

The W. M. A. Society will hold their meeting Friday, 2 P. M., at the church.

ROWAN ITEMS OF INTEREST

FLORENCE HENRY FOWLER

Florence Henry, second son of George Roswell and Lovina Esther Fowler, was born at Hobart, Indiana, January 18, 1860. When but five years of age the family came to Belmond, Iowa, and purchased the land now owned by C. W. Fowler. The family resided in a little cabin during the summer, and in the winters lived near Belmond where Mr. Fowler could obtain work. While at work cutting timber a limb of a tree fell on him, resulting in his death twelve hours later. This left Mrs. Fowler with three little children, the eldest being but twelve years of age.

The following year, 1869, she returned to her former home in Indiana and a short time later Florence Henry went to reside with his Grandfather Brown near the present city Chicago Heights, Illinois.

He made his home from that time on thru his boyhood days with both his grandfather and a sister Flora, at Lowell, Indiana. At the age of 20, 1880, he left for the old homestead in Iowa with an entire capital of only one hundred and fifty dollars to start farming. This he spent for a team and what meagre equipment he could purchase. On account of the long distance to railroad points he was forced to haul his grain to Alden, Iowa, and later to Hampton. These were long perilous journeys in severe cold weather, and thru a country in the time of poorly marked trails. In the year of 1884, after these trying years of hardships and privations, Mr. Fowler sold his farming interests, and went to Blue Mound, Nebraska, to file on a claim and after a short time there he returned to the home farm near which had been located, Luni, a postoffice point, now Rowan. On October 7th, 1886, he was united in marriage with Nina Florence Azeltine, after which they began their housekeeping on a farm six miles south of Belmond, Iowa, that he had purchased. He resided on this farm for eleven years and then movd to a farm near Rowan where he lived for four years, then moving to the town of Rowan, where he spent the remainder of his years.

Mr. Fowler was a man in every sense of the word; high ideals, virtue, honor, and moral integrity, being characteristics of his daily living and contacts with his fellowmen.

His oft repeated statement was, "My word is as good as a bond." During all these years, which were full of activity, he also served his community both in the capacity of school director and township trustee, serving many years in the latter office.

Mr. Fowler leaves to mourn his loss, his loved wife, Nina, and four daughters, Mrs. Milton Brown, Marengo, Iowa; Mrs. L. N. Johnson, Newton, Iowa; Esther, at the home in Rowan, and Mrs. J. I. Drury, of Irequois, South Dakota; and a brother, Christopher, of Rowan. Two sisters, Mrs. Nichols, and Ella, who died in infancy, have preceded him to the better land. Four grandchildren also remain, as well as a niece and nephew, Ethel and Melvin Nichols of Gary, Indiana, a nephew, Benjamin Nichols of Henry, Illinois, and an aunt, Mrs. Phoebe Holbrook, of Chicago Heights, Ill.

Mr. Fowler frequently advised his close friends and associates "to never hold, nor harbor any ill will toward anyone". This advice not only was given, but exemplified by his own conduct to the community where he was admired and respected.

Funeral services were held Friday, Sept. 30, at 1:30 P. M. from the house and 2 o'clock at the M. E. church, Rev. J. H. Bounds, pastor, officiating. The hymns sung, two of them by a quartet consisting of Mrs. A. O. Pelley, Mrs. Chas. Martin, W. A. Rietz and C. M. Myers, and one solo by Mrs. Pelley, were especial favorites of Mr. Fowler.

The pall bearers were F. M. Myers, D. A. French, D. E. Harris, F. B. Sheldon, J. D. Pritchett and W. H. Whitten.

Interment was in Graceland Cemetery

Among those from out of town who attended Mr. Fowler's funeral were, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Brown of Marengo; Mr. and Mrs. Levi Johnson and daughters Arlene and Nina, of Newton; Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Drury and children, Marguerite and Robert of Iroquois, S. Dak.; Lorenzo Bingham of Iowa Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Rankins and Mrs. R. A. Rankins of Belmond, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Azeltine of Cedar Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sellers of Dows; Hubbard McCallum of Mason City and H. M. Nichols of Gary, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Aldrich entertained at a surprise party Saturday night in honor of their daughter, Maude, the occasion being her birthday. The members of her class (the Seniors) and the high school teachers were the guests. Bounteous refreshments were served and a splendid time reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kercheval spent several days last week with their son Klint and family. Mr. Kercheval is working on the basement which is being put under the Congregational parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gordon returned Wednesday from a motor trip to Minnesota. Mr. and Mrs. W. Tressider attended to the farm while they were gone.

There was a surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Ketchum last Friday night in honor of Herb Ketchum and his son Philip's birthdays, Philip's birthday being the 29th, and Mr. Ketchum's the 30th. The Ketchum family, Miss Dorothy Lukins and Mr. Frank Osier were the guests.

Friends of the Chester Conn family will be interested to learn of their recent move from Fort Dodge to Rockwell City. Mr. Conn is employed by the Deep Rock Oil Company there.

Glen Liming has returned to Rowan after hauling gravel all summer for the Snater Construction Co. He expects to stay in Rowan this winter.

Word has been received from the Walter Bingham family that they have arrived in Long Beach, Calif., where they motored from here. They were held up for several days in Grante, New Mexico, because of bad roads.

Rex Boyington returned last Wednesday from Salt Lake City, where he accompanied Everett Emersoon on his trip to California. Mr. Boyington reports a splendid trip until they came to the mountains. Owing to recent heavy rains the mountain roads were badly washed out, making traveling slow as well as extremely dangerous. Mr. and Mrs. Boyington returned to their home in Clarion on Thursday. Mrs. Boyington has spent the two weeks of her husband's absence with her mother, Mrs. Lula Emerson.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Myers went to Lacona Monday to spend a couple of weeks at the home of their son, Lester, and family.

Harry Cain went to Fenton, Sunday afternoon, and brought back Dr. Jones' office equipment on Monday morning. Dr. Jones will move his family here next week and will live in Mrs. Addie Duffy's house. Mrs. Duffy has just had her house redecorated and repaired.

W. W. and Wesley Azeltine attended the fair at Spencer last Saturday.

Mr and Mrs. E. R. Ballou attended Cattle Congress at Waterloo several days last week.

Miss Dorothy Steffens started clerking for Fred Hackley on Monday and will be employed there during the winter months. She is staying at the home of her cousin, Miss Nora Shafer.

The farm bureau will hold a business meeting and election of officers at the Jacob Aldinger home on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Azeltine had as their guests the first of the week, Mrs. Azeltine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Woods and daughter, Miss Faye of New Providence, and her uncle, Mr. Madden and his daughter Mrs. Hennig and daughter, Betty Clare, of Omaha, Nebraska, also Mr. Roy Butler of New Providence.

Rev. Bounds returned Monday from Conference at Webster City. Mr. Bounds comes back to Rowan for another year.

ROWAN SCHOOL NOTES

The work on the Junior Class play "Mammy's Lil' Wild Rose" is progressing nicely in spite of the unfavorable weather which make practices nearly impossible. "Yo' all" will surely like this little drama of the "sunny South" with its good natured negro mammy, uncultivated little Rose, and rustic mountain characters. The dates are Oct. 13 and 14.

Miss Lippert's room, 7th and 8th grades, is planning to give short programs on Friday afternoons for the purpose of giving the students practice in planning and presenting programs.

The fourth grade has just finished a spelling contest between the "yellows" and the "blues." The "blues" won and the following pupils made 100 per cent in spelling every day: Roselind Bailey, Margaret Emerson, Johnnie Kehler and Vernetta Knuths.

The sixth grade is proud of one of their students, who hasn't missed a word in spelling since school started. Her name is Gail Smith. Vernon Dhondt is high student in the fifth grade with a spelling grade of 97 per cent so far.

School will be closed on Thursday and Friday of this week so that the teachers may attend the Wright County Teachers Institute.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. L. A. Marquardt, Pastor

10:30 A. M.—SSunday School

11:30 A. M.—Morning worship. Subject, "What Kind of a Child?" The morning service will be followed by the Quarterly Communion Service.

3:00 P. M.—Junior Christian Endeavor. No evening service.

7:30 P. M. Wednesday evening.—Prayer Meeting and Bible study.

8:30 P. M. Wednesday evening—Monthly church board meeting.

7:30 P. M. Thursday evening—Choir practice.

Please notice the change of hours and time of the week day services.

The Woman's Missionary Society will meet with Mrs. Peter Hanson Thursday afternoon of this week. Leader Mrs. Ben Fanselow. There will be a Mite Box offering. The books close Oct. 15th for Home and Foreign Apportionments.

The Annual meeting of the Webster City association of the Congregational church and ministers will be held with the Federated church of Alexander, Iowa, on Oct. 11 and 12, 1927. We hope a goodly number of our people will attend this meeting. Go at least one day if possible.

M. E. CHURCH NEWS

Rev. J. H. Bounds, Pastor

Next Sunday there will be an all day meeting at the church beginning at eleven o'clock. The district Supt. will be with us and a picnic dinner will be served at noon. Each family is asked to bring a covered dish and sandwiches. We would like to see as many as possible turn out and make this a good meeting.

There will be a business meeting of the Aid Society at the home of Mrs. J. D. Pritchett, next Thursday afternoon.

The Womans Home Missionary Society will meet on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Tressider. Mrs. Earl Sellers will lead the meeting.

Sunday School will be held at 10 A. M. next Sunday as usual.

OLAF NEWS

The following families enjoyed Sunday at Albert Shlitchings: Orphie Anderson, Clarence Scott and G. H. Baxter.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kirk drove to Estherville Sunday to spend the day with folks.

S. O. Windecker of Iowa Falls, was at this place the first of last week on a business mission.

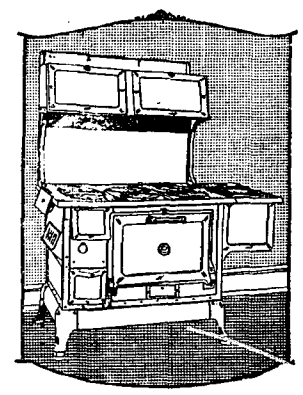
Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Benson are the parents of a baby boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Holverson attended the funeral at Alden Sunday of Mr. Holverson's niece.

Mr. Clyde Watkins has been suffering the past week with a very severe cold.

The train service on the M. & St. L. has been very irregular the past few days due to a wreck near St. Benedict.

The Bakewell Riverside



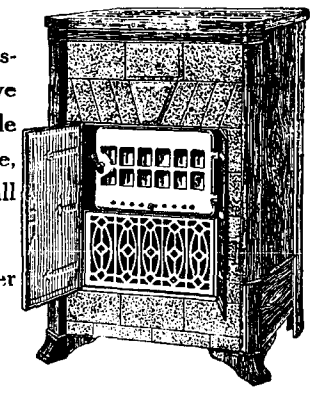
We are sure you have never seen anything that can equal the Bakewell in quality, design and beautiful finish.

It is fully enameled inside and out and will be a beautiful addition to any kitchen.

THE NEW FIREPLACE RADIONA

A complete heating system that is installed above the floor. Heats the whole house, just like a furnace, but requires only a small amount of fuel.

You must see this heater to really appreciate it.



GRIESY'S

The Friendly Place

PHONE 10

BELMOND, IOWA

The Splinters

"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2 — Thursday, October 6, 1927 — No. 25

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

With the possible exception of June, October is our favorite month.

—

The automobile may be putting a few trains out of business. But we notice it doesn't happen when they meet on a crossing.

—

"It's a good thing our wives don't know where we were last night."
"That's right. "Where were we?"
"I don't know."

Teacher: "What is the interest on a thousand dollars for one year at two per cent? Ikey, pay attention.'
Ikey: "For two per cent, I'm not interested.'

—

Years ago men used to fight for their religion instead of about it.

—

Judge — "Was the prisoner drugged?"
Cop — "Sure, yer Honor, I drug him seven blocks."

—

Sometimes when we see a self-made man, we wonder why he made himself that way.

We have just received a shipment of Cedar posts. We can quote you a mighty attractive price on them too.

—

"Lend me five dollars, will you? I promise on the word of a gentleman that I'll pay it back next week."
"Bring the gentleman around and let me see him."

—

Winter just ahead. Is your house provided with storm windows and doors? We can get any size for you in about a week after we receive the order.

—

Guess we may as well prepare for winter.

PROGRESS

Good roads, well housed contented people, modern lighting, power, heating, transportation and communication are the symbols of progress.

The establishment of highways, power plants, transportation facilities, and communications has been possible only because people have had faith and have been willing to invest of the production of their labor, that these things might be. And as a result of this faith and their practical investment, their reward in money and enjoyment has been great and will be greater as time goes on, and increasing numbers benefit through the applied faith in works of those who have made these conveniences and necessary things possible.

The growth in size and importance of the great Electric Industry is the result of human desire for better things and the faith of the millions of investors who have made this growth possible.

With the vanguard of this great development, marches

CENTRAL STATES ELECTRIC COMPANY

one of the principal Electric and Gas Service Organizations serving Iowa, Minnesota and Nebraska. This Company is consistently developing power sources and bringing to the communities it serves, adequate light, heat and power.

Water power has been developed, and steam and oil engine power plants established: Its slogan has ever been

"AMPLE PUBLIC SERVICE EFFICIENTLY RENDERED"

This is why the new Unit is now being built at the Iowa Falls Power Plant, greatly increasing the resources of power there and why development is in prospect of the water power on the Des Moines River a few miles below Fort Dodge.

These developments are only possible because of the faith of the people who invest money in the business itself and in the men who direct the destinies of this Public Service Company.

Respectfully

Central States Electric Company

General Offices

515 Merchants National Bank Building

CEDAR RAPIDS - - - - IOWA

COURT HOUSE NOTES

Stella Pohlman of Eagle Grove is given a divorce from Clarence Pohlman, also the custody of their two children, Newton and Lucile.

Albert State of Clarion has been granted a divorce from Maye State, who failed to defend. They have no children.

A judgment for $465.04 has been awarded Hal E. Smith and B. C. Clark of Clarion. Plaintiff brought action against Amos Thompson of Eagle Grove to secure payment of a past due note. Receiver for the Citizens State bank was garnished and admitted his indebtedness in above sum to said Thompson which amount the court ordered paid to the plaintiffs.

Etta Clark of Belmond has had her petition against Albert B. Clark for attorney fee and temporary allmony allowed. The former at $50 and alimony at $40 per month until further order of court.

Case of Geo. H. Steele of Belmond against K. E. Hagan has been fully settled by agreement of parties.

The case against Helen M. Carson brought by S. S. Westvold of Eagle Grove has been settled and costs paid.

Thor Savings Bank has dismissed its case against T. N. Rogness at its own costs.

Receiver of the Citizens State bank of Eagle Grove has dismissed two suits against Thor Arthur et al at the bank's costs.

Roper Hardware Co., of Eagle Grove, at its own expense has dismissed its case against R. S. Woodard et al.

Porter Auto Co., of Eagle Grove has dismissed its action against H. G. Nordschow of Belmond.

A. W. Moseley & Co., of Goldfield vs W. H. Rice; case dismissed at plaintiff's costs.

F. W. Pohlman of Eagle Grove vs. Security Savings bank; county auditor is directed to issue warrant for $25.53 to Clyde Pohlman in repayment of money paid to county clerk for said Pohlman, then a minor.

The court has approved the sale of 320 acres—W½ E½ 32-91-25 and E½ E½ 30-91-25—to Morris E. Hamer on application of receiver for Citizens State Bank of Eagle Grove. The receiver is authorized to pay $2.50 per acre commission to agent making sale.

The contract entered into by receiver for the Citizens State bank of Eagle Grove and O. A. and Carrie Stryker has been approved by the court. By said contract the following real estate and one-half of the 1927 crop is conveyed to said bank: NE¼ 35-91-25 and SW¼ 13-90-26.

Through default of defendant W. H. Hahn of Dows judgment is entered in favor of Birdsall, McGrath & Archerd in the sum of $555.80 on past due note.

Farmers Savings bank of Goldfield by its receiver, is given judgment against Robert Hanson on past due note for $281.36. Same plaintiff is awarded other judgments as follows: Otto Jergenson, for $206.55; John McCutcheon, $238.40; Bert and Inger Weland. $1,197.26; Lewis Otto, $1,302.26; E. M. Jones, $2,794.18; Henry and Mabel Larsen, $222.13; Sam Ulstad, $121.75; Annie and J. M. Bennett, $4,706.22.

Peter Christensen vs. L. D. Fothergill of Eagle Grove; case settled and costs paid.

Case of First National bank of Kanawha vs. Weir Bros., has been settled at plaintiff's costs.

First Liberty Savings bank of Eagle Grove is awarded judgment against J. F. Lynch in the sum of $3,601.61.

Receiver for Citizens State bank of Goldfield is given judgments against the following defendants. Albert P. Larson, $2,306.88; W. A. and H. Y. Brisbin, $7,431.57; Jerome and Helen Hawkins, $8,627.12.

Duffy Trowbridge Stove Co., is given judgment against W. W. Frakes of Eagle Grove for $151.50.

Ole Tegland of Eagle Grove is awarded judgment against Sam Bjelland of Clarion for $3,610.96 on his note.

First National Bank of Clarion vs. Lyman Nelson; default judgment in favor of said bank on note for $360 and costs.

M. S. Gunderson vs. Annie Anderson of Dows; default on note, judgment for $351.14. Same plaintiff is also awarded other judgments: $643.85 against Oscar Johnson; $582.18 against Ethel B. Johnson and $47.97 vs. W. J. and Kate Osborne, all defendants having defaulted.

W. F. and Grace Mechem of Clarion vs. Fred and Sarah Walkner; default on mortgage, judgment in favor of plaintiffs for $7,748.43.

People's Savings bank of Hardy is given judgment against Henry and Edith Eastman on their defaulted mortgage in the sum of $2,977.42.

Wm. Baird, as guardian of Martha A. Lord, is authorized to sell her one-third interest in lots 8-9-10, block 1, McKay's additon to Clarion at public or private sale at not less than the appraised value as made by D. W. Stewart, Geo. W. Young, Jr., and F. J. McCoy.

A. E. Walker vs. H O. and Anna Sevinger; default on note, judgment in favor of plaintiff for $2,239.39.

Default on payment of account is entered in case of Showers Bros. Co. vs. Middleton Music House; judgment entered for $159.

R. J. Daggett is awarded judgment against C. F. Buchan on defaulted note for $737.75.

Five judgments appear on record in favor of the Consolidated National bank of Dubuque and against Belmond Home Building Co., as follows: $1,004.86; $1.004.27; $1,004.27; $1,004.27, $1.005.27.

Judgment is entered against Heike Bruns of Belmond for $4,419.89 in favor of Margaret Mennenga and foreclosure of mortgage ordered.

Mary Henneberry of Eagle Grove is granted judgment against George Brown of Clarion on defaulted account for $106.89.

Case of Franklin Fire Insurance Co., vs. W. H. Wolle of Belmond is dismissed at plaintiff's costs.

May Hankole of Eagle Grove is awarded judgment against J. W. Porter in the sum of $4,362.12.

State Savings bank of Galt has secured judgment against Lois and W. W. Cooley for the sum of $2,225.17 and a special execution for the sale of the right of Lois Cooley in NW¼ 14-91-24.

Citizens State bank of Eagle Grove is given judgment against Fred Madsen for $2,079.91 on a defaulted note.

G. S. Gunderson of Eagle Grove defaulted on his note and judgment was awarded receiver for Citizens' State bank for $455.06.

Anna Martin of Eagle Grove vs. J W. and Sadie Porter; defaulted mortgage, judgment for $3,207.81.

Holliday Bros., vs. Henry Stoakes and John Henry of Goldfield; defaulted note, jugment for $1,199.56.

George Cole vs. C. A. and Edith Packard of Renwick; judgment on defaulted mortgage for $9,152.04.—Monitor.

ADMINISTRATOR'S OR EXECUTOR'S NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That the undersigned has this day been appointed and commissioned by the District Court of Wright County, in the State of Iowa, Administrator of the Estate of Ida M. Starnes, deceased; and all persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to file them with the Clerk of said Court, clearly stated and duly sworn to, and within legal time, preparatory to their being allowed or proved; and persons owing Estate are requested to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and avoid costs.

Dated at Belmond, Iowa, this 4th day of October, A. D. 1927.

C. C. Benson, Administrator.
472 W. E. Bullard, Attorney

STATEMENT OF OWNERSHIP

Management, etc., of the Belmond Independent published weekly at Belmond, Iowa, for Oct. 1, 1927.

State of Iowa,
Wright County, ss.

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and County aforesaid, personally appeared R. A. Rankins, who having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the publisher of the Belmond Independent; that the name and address of the Publisher, Editor, Managing Editor and Business Manager is R. A. Rankins, Belmond, Iowa; that the owner is R. A. Rankins, Belmond, Iowa; known bondholders, etc., none.

Signed: R. A. Rankins

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 1st day of October 1927.

(Seal) Roy A. Henderson
(My commission expires July 4, 1930)

Laying For Him

Wealthy Father—I am sorry, but I can't give my consent to your marriage with my daughter.

Impecunious Suitor—Oh, confound it all, then at least let me out by the side door. You see, all my creditors are waiting in front.

Caught In Her Own Trap

Young wife (to friend)—Oh, I am in a terrible predicament. I wanted a new hat so badly and when my husband refused to buy me one I fainted, you know. Well, while I was in the faint, I saw him kiss the maid. Now I can't say anything because I was supposed to be unconscious.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Belmond, Iowa, Oct. 3, 1927.

Regular meeting of town council held in town hall, Mayor Russell presiding. Members present: McNulty, Mortimer, Boughton. Members absent: Moe, Barry. Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

Clerk's monthly financial report received and read.

Moved and carried that the petition of Mrs. Daisy A. Pierce asking for the suspension of taxes on lot 7 Block 7, Original town of Belmond, Iowa, be hereby aproved.

Moved and carried that Mayor Russell investigate the matter of graveling 6th Ave SW, 1st street SW and 7th street NE, and if found satisfactory to go ahead with the work.

The following bills were audited and allowed:

Iowa Valve Co., 1 hydrant	$ 34.60
F. Stary & Sons, 1 manhole cover	4.25
Belmond Independent, ptg.	b.11
Greenlander Lbr. Co., mdse.	34.95
Bohning & Co., mdse.	7.10
State Bank Ins. Agency, Compensation insurance	83.76
Central States Electric Co., Sept. light and power	227.96
V. Swenson, labor in park	7.00
Johnson & Wright, mdse.	79.76

On motion and second council adjourned.

Guy Byers, Clerk.

All Week Special!

DIXIE DREAM
DOUGHNUTS

THIS IS A NEW DELICIOUS RAISED DOUGHNUT MADE EXCLUSIVELY BY US

per doz. - 25c

Your patronage solicited and appreciated

MORROW & SCOTT
BELMOND'S BAKERS

A New Chiropractor has COME To Belmond

I have purchased the office of Dr. Porter and shall be pleased to meet all his patrons and any others desiring to obtain better HEALTH

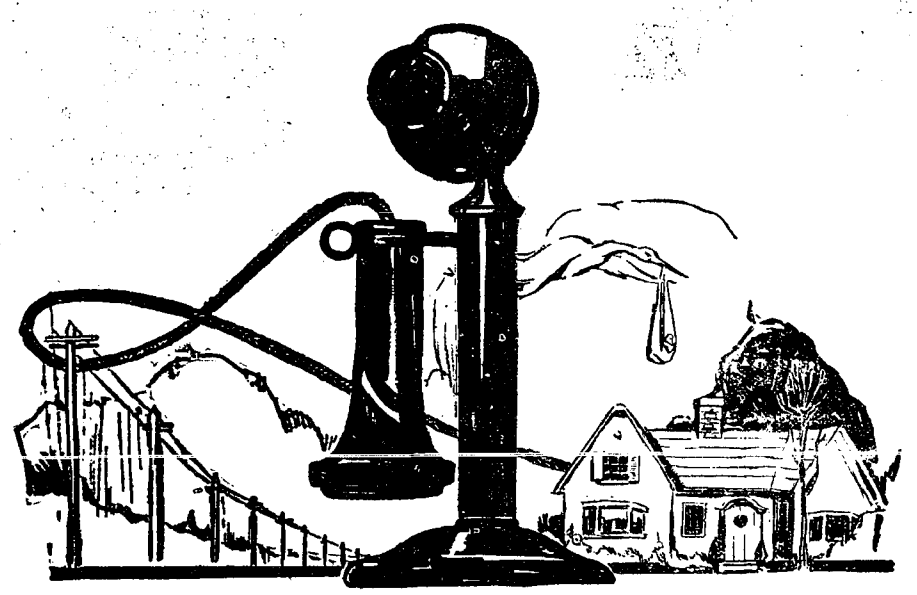
Spinal Analysis Free

Dr. J. M. Tate
Chiropractor

POLAND CHINA & CHESTER WHITE
HOG SALE
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1927
Located on farm 1-4 mile west of KLEMME, IOWA

POLAND 25 Boars, 20 Gilts, bred from the leading families of CHINAS the Poland China breed, sired by "Sun Ray's Ideal," he by "Sun Ray," Dams by Big Armistice Boy by High Liberator. CHESTER 25 Boars, 20 Gilts. This is a good offering of the WHITES modern Big Type Chester Whites sired by Big Bud. White Hawk, and other prize winners. Don't miss this sale.

R. C. LUDEKE, Klemme, Iowa



We are born into a world that has telephones

We accept the service as a commonplace—

Sometimes a severe storm temporarily interrupts the service and does us the favor of forcing us to realize how necessary is the part that the telephone plays in our everyday life. ¶ It is this necessary feature that gives utility service—whether it be telephone, electric light and power, water or gas—its stability, and makes possible the industry's unparalleled record for regular dividend payments to its investors. ¶ Your Company is now offering you an opportunity to share in the growth of this industry through the ownership of its Preferred Stock. You can obtain complete information from your local office.

Central West Public Service Company
A Subsidiary of The McGraw Electric Co.

Men Marooned

By GEORGE MARSH

Copyright by The Penn Publishing Co.
WNU Service

"I'm going aboard," said Guthrie and calling Shot, leaped the rail, followed by Etienne. A door, behind the sheathing, opened to his hand, and with the dog in front, they made their way down to the pitlike blackness of the cabin. The odor of spilled whisky, food—and the stench of corpses struck them like a blow in the face. Striking a match, Etienne lit the stub of a candle he took from his pocket. In its flickering light the two gazed in horror at the chaos around them. On the table, the floor, whisky bottles, empty, half full, lay in a litter of meat and biscuit tins, dishes and scattered food. Sitting, jammed grotesquely between boxes in a corner, a rigid hand gripping a glass, the candle lit the staring eyes and gaping mouth of a dead man.

"Black Breault!" muttered Guthrie. "Died drunk! But that groan! Where are the rest?"

Turning, nauseated from the air and the loathsome spectacle, they found a stateroom. In two berths lay the dead bodies of the bearded mate Guthrie had met on the beach, and a sailor. Then a muttered groan and a curse led them to the adjoining room. Guthrie stood in the low door, holding the candle above his head.

In a bunk a gigantic figure lay in a sleeping bag. Guthrie bent forward, thrusting his arm with the light into the room. The heavy breathing of the bulk in the berth pulsed through the small room.

"McDonald!"

Etienne crowded beside his chief, curious to see the man whose fame had swept James bay. The face was turned from the door and Guthrie entered the room to stumble over a bottle which rolled away, spilling its contents. Then he held a light over the mutilated face.

As the candle lit the russet hair and unseeing eyes, flaming with fever above the shattered face with its red beard, Garth Guthrie stared motionless. Slowly his jaw dropped. As if in the spell of some strange fascination, the grimacing face in the candle light held Guthrie's unwavering eyes. Bewilderment, profound, shifted slowly to amazement—to recognition.

"Craig Galbraith!" he gasped. Then swiftly turning back the robes, exposed at the base of the corded neck a jagged scar.

"Craig Galbraith!—Laughing McDonald! God!—what irony!"

Turning to the perplexed Etienne, Guthrie rapidly explained as he felt for the pulse in a huge wrist.

"Etienne, you and I have work ahead! This is 'flu' or pneumonia. He needs some nourishment—may have starved for days. The bag has saved him—kept him warm with that fever."

"But you nurse heem—dis McDonal'! Ha! Ha!?" demanded the surprised half-breed.

"Nurse him!" Garth laughed rawly. "Why, this man took me on his back through hell itself—brought me through a barrage with one of his arms broken and a shot in the chest. He was my friend—my pal, understand?—saved my life! We were brothers—in France! Light the galley lamp and heat some broth—soup, quick!"

"Hees name not McDonal'?" asked the bewildered Etienne, dazed by the swift reversal of the situation.

"No! I never suspected—never dreamed who McDonald was. He was shot in the face while I was in the hospital. I didn't know how bad it was—never saw him again."

With a quick glance of admiration at the gigantic frame of the man deep in delirium, Etienne went to find the galley and start a fire.

Guthrie found and lit a lamp; then poured some whisky in a glass and propping up the head of the unconscious man, got it down his throat. A rapid inspection of the boat discovered a fourth corpse. The Cree known to be with the schooner, and another man, had evidently deserted the dying. The absence of rash on the bodies and faces did away with the possibility of measles or smallpox. It was doubtless influenza, contracted from an Indian or Eskimo, for a warning had been received at Albany from Moose that influenza was again loose on the bay.

Finding the Cree waiting out on the ice, Garth sent him for the dog-teams and leaving the efficient Etienne watching a kettle of canned soup and a coffee pot on an oil stove, returned to Captain Craig Galbraith, alias McDonald. Ha! Ha!

Lighting a pipe to combat the odor of spilled whisky, Garth sat down on a stool to consider his problem.

Once after his return home he had heard from the man who had brought him unconscious through that hail of gas and lead and steel, and whom he had never seen since the day Galbraith left the same hospital to rejoin his command. In his letter from Halifax, Craig had refused an invitation to visit Montreal, pleading business, but, unknown to Garth, the giant at whom the women of France were wont to turn admiring eyes, had come home wearing the grin of a gargoyle. Then, like a rifle shot, struck home the realization that the man wanted in Halifax for killing his wife's lover was the man in the bunk. He pictured the agony of him, once called Handsome Galbraith, bringing that twisted grimace back to the wife he had loved—the blind rage, born of despair and shame, that heated his blood on finding her faithless as a woman, and as a hero's wife, for the broad chest of Craig Galbraith, famous in the Canadian corps for his trench raids, wore the bronze badge of the elect—the Victoria cross.

If he died, it did not matter; but if he lived? If he lived, he was a hunted man. Cameron would send a party to Seal cove on hearing from Guthrie of his discovery. The ship and fur would be held for government action. In the meantime what of the man in delirium?

Etienne entered with soup, which Galbraith mechanically swallowed.

"Is the Cree back with the dogs, or did he leave us?"

"No, he come back. I tole heem I would follow heem an' cut hees t'roat if he run away," said Savanne dryly.

"Etienne, we can't stay here. We'll pick up this 'flu,' or something worse. The ship is a morgue. And I won't leave the man who wouldn't leave me." For a space Guthrie puffed furiously at his pipe. Suddenly he slapped his knee. "I've got it! Listen! His heart is strong, and the fever, as near as I can tell, is not as bad as it might be. It's fifty miles to Elkwan. With the Cree's dogs you can make it by daylight. Well wrapped up and bound, so he can't roll out or hurt himself, he'll make it. It isn't cold, and cold air is better than this stinking ship—"

Etienne listened as if he thought Guthrie had suddenly gone mad. "But you? w'ere you go?" he broke in.

Guthrie smiled. "I'm going to take our dogs to Albany."

"To Albanee?"

"Yes! It's my duty to report this to Cameron at once."

"De Cree can go."

"No, you'll need his help. I'll pay him well."

"But," Etienne sensed that something lay behind it all, "we tak' dis man to Elkwan an' de police come—den w'at?" Etienne also had guessed.

"At Albany," smiled Guthrie, "I'll tell Cameron that you shot yourself accidentally—bad wound. And I am going to bring Miss Quarrier up the coast tomorrow, to nurse you. She knows all about wounds—and I think—she'll come," added Guthrie quietly.

"By gar!" The half-breed stared at his chief in unqualified admiration.

"It's his only chance for life. Here he would die. The place is infested with germs—ought to be burned. You understand? You start as soon as you can. I'm on my way now. I'll be in Elkwan tomorrow night—if she'll come with her medicine kit. And I think she will—for she's a soldier. God bless her!"

After forcing more soup down the throat of the sick man, he was given a stiff drink of whisky, bundled in fur, bound with strips of blanket, and with great difficulty carried to the sled. Fortunately for Guthrie's plan, the delirium had not taken a violent form, for the enormous strength of Galbraith would have baffled them.

With a grip of the hand Guthrie bade his staunch head man good-by, and whistling to Shot, started with his tired team for Albany. Already that day the dogs had done sixty miles and the forty miles before them over the rough sea-ice, even with the light sled, would, if pushed, bring them into Albany, five sore-footed, stiff-legged cripples. So it was not until the sky grayed with the dawn that Guthrie drove up to the tradehouse at Fort Albany, and feeding his tired team, put them in an empty shack where they might sleep through the morning, undisturbed by the hectoring of the post dogs.

Later, walking in on the Camerons at their breakfast, he told of the stalking of the schooner of the dead.

"Well, that's the wildest tale I have heard in forty years on this coast," ejaculated the factor, while his wife and children sat with awed faces. "Not a soul alive on the ship?"

"Not a soul alive," repeated Garth. "'Flu' and probably the whisky they carried didn't help any. The schooner reeked with it. Poor devils, they must have stayed drunk to ease their misery."

"And the fur, two years' trade, did you see it?"

"No, but Etienne said there was a lot of it on board. Then, somehow, in casing his rifle, he shot himself."

"Shot himself?"

"Yes, in the hip. That's why I'm here." Guthrie took the bit in his teeth as his gray eyes squarely met Cameron's. "I'm going to ask Miss Quarrier to come to Elkwan with her medicine kit. She knows wounds—I'm afraid of blood poisoning."

"But, whyever didn't you put him on the sled and bring him here. She can take care of him better at Albany, and then—"

Guthrie shook his head. "He wouldn't come, Cameron. He thinks he's going to die, and wanted to be with his wife and children."

"Oh, but how can you ask that girl to go to Elkwan? She's needed here. Swan'll raise a devil of a row—has already, over your seeing her."

In the narrowing eyes of Guthrie lurked a glint which Cameron recognized. He had seen it before in the look of men, indomitable, desperate. It startled him, made him wonder—about the affair between Joan Quarrier and the factor of Elkwan.

"Of course, we don't want anything to happen to Etienne," he temporized, "but why you didn't bring him here is beyond me."

"I've already told you why, Cameron." The gray eyes of the speaker were black, as they bored coldly into those of the kindly Scotsman. Ill at ease, Mrs. Cameron went to the kitchen to digest the startling announcement.

"Yes, I know they always want their family around when they're scared. Well, if she'll go, it's her business. It'll raise a rumpus, though, and I hate to have her—hurt."

Guthrie was on his feet, scowling down at the other. "One minute! Let's go slow here! You're my superior, and I had hoped, my friend, but you're on dangerous ground, Cameron. What do you mean by—hurt?"

"There, there, now, my lad! Keep cool," expostulated the older man. "I'm your friend and I'm proud to be. Now you've brought it up, I've got to talk from the shoulder. You don't realize what that skunk of a Quarrier tattled about you—"

"Oh, I know all about that—that sick child who died at Elkwan—Joan was there. Hasn't she told you?"

"Why, of course! But the rest, here, and at Moose—you know them. Swan has made a row because she wasn't sent to the mission, to die."

"What of it?" snapped Guthrie.

"He says you kept her there against her will."

"Nonsense! She couldn't walk a hundred yards without stopping to rest. She refused to come down the coast to the mission—just faded away."

"Mrs. Cameron and I understand, Guthrie. Etienne and Joan told us. It's this white-livered missionary who has made the trouble and if Joan goes with you to take care of Etienne, he'll not spare her either—he'll bust with righteous horror—And it'll hurt Joan."

"Will you call your wife?" asked Guthrie, in a tone brittle like the shattering of ice, the muscles of his jaw and temples working under the skin.

"Why, yes!" replied the factor. "Mary! We want to speak to you."

"Mrs. Cameron," said Garth, quietly, "your husband tells me that it will seriously hurt Joan Quarrier's reputation in missionary circles, if she goes to take care of Etienne's wound."

"Let's Go Slow Here!"

"I'm afraid it will cause a lot of talk here and at Moose," regretfully agreed the factor's wife. "You know what they are."

"No, I don't know what they are—except this, I know that Mr. Swan must have a foul mind. Of course, he has no head—there's no room under his hat for one."

"He'll surely forbid her to go with you, Major Guthrie."

"Suppose she goes anyway?"

"I don't know what to say."

Guthrie smiled. "Well, would you feel better about it, if I told you I loved her, and have already tried to ask her to marry me—will ask her every day she's at Elkwan?"

The face of the startled and embarrassed Mary Cameron flushed with delight. "Oh, Major Guthrie! I'm so glad—so glad!"

"H—ll! take her up today! I wasn't sure you were serious, my boy, and we think a lot of her," gruffly exclaimed the factor.

Her eyes misted with tears she could not control, the factor's wife grasped the hand of Guthrie with both of hers. "I don't know—she never told me!" she cried, "but I've thought somehow that she thinks a lot of you. I wish you luck!"

So peace was made at Cameron's.

CHAPTER XII

Garth found Joan Quarrier at the Mission school. Entering the building, he stood for a space in a doorway and watched her read to a group of Cree orphans.

As she looked up, aware of his presence, he said: "It is not February, but I have returned."

"Something is the matter?" she said, apprehensively. "What has happened at Elkwan?"

"Etienne shot himself."

"But you, why are you here? Why did you come?"

"For you."

"For me—to go to Elkwan?" Dazed at the idea, her hand sought her forehead, while the chattering children crowded curiously around them.

"He wants you. There may be infection—and you know wounds—have everything in your kit, bandages, stimulants, antiseptics."

"Let me put on my coat and we'll talk outside," she said.

So they went to the clearing.

"I know well what I'm asking," he said. "It means a day on the sled—discomfort, for you. But he is my friend, and it may mean his life—your coming."

Her troubled eyes turned to his. "I want to go—the trip is nothing. It's going, alone, with you—it means leaving the mission, I suppose."

"Of course, Swan will make a fuss. To him it will look immoral—your going—to save a man's life," he said, savagely, "but for you—an army nurse, with a life at stake," he pleaded, "is there any choice?"

She smiled wistfully as she gazed over the frozen river.

"I've got to go. It's in my blood—to help them—the wounded."

His heart leaped at the words. "To help the strong—to help me—is that in your blood, too, Joan Quarrier?" he asked passionately.

She shivered and avoided his eyes, as a wave of color swept up to her dark hair. "The strong need no help," she parried.

Again in control of himself, the elated Guthrie smothered his own emotion in this thought for the stricken friend at Elkwan, for whom he had lied to the man he respected and the girl he loved. And he wondered what she would say to him when she learned of the deception. That she would have come as readily, had he told the truth, he had no doubt, but the secret of Galbraith's presence at Elkwan was a trust, sacred, inviolate. He had told Cameron that the crew of the Ghost had died to a man. At Albany, Laughing McDonald was a dead man. On the way up the coast, Joan Quarrier should learn the truth.

"Oh, ye of little faith!" Guthrie sadly shook his head. "What must I do to convince you?"

The girl made no answer.

Looking up, Garth saw, bundled in fur cap and coat much too large for him, a short figure blocking their path.

"You are going on this mad journey?" the shrill voice of Swan demanded. "Do you hold your reputation so cheaply?"

"You have heard?"

"Yes! Mrs. Cameron has told me what this man has come for."

"You're too late, Swan, she has promised to go," said Garth quietly. Ignoring Guthrie, the little man gravely warned:

"You realize, Miss Quarrier, if you go, you cannot return to the mission?"

"Yes," Mr. Swan. Before I became a mission teacher, and my moral welfare the object of your solicitude, I lived for three years with wounded men. A man's life is at stake. It is worth more than my reputation."

To Garth she said abruptly: "Come for me when you are ready. I'll go and pack my kit."

"Bravo. Healer of Wounds! That was spoken like a soldier," and walking squarely at the mortified missionary, dazed at the flouting of his authority, who stepped into the soft snow to avoid the threatened collision, the elated Guthrie hurried to the trade-house.

"She'll go, she'll go!" he announced to the waiting factor.

"Good! You'll take good care of her, I know. I wish you the best of luck, my boy. She's a rare one—is Joan."

"Swan told her she couldn't return to the mission."

"A-ah!" contemptuously grunted the other. "We'll send over and get her belongings. She'll spend the rest of the winter with us But she's much too valuable to the Swans for them to stick to their high horse. They'll be over trying to wheedle her into coming back."

"But I hope she won't."

"We'll see to that. Why, they didn't know how to feed a husky pup, and in charge of twenty children! Think of it! Joan turned to and taught 'em something, scientific, you know. Oh, they'll be back after her."

Guthrie grinned broadly as he said: "So will I."

"Well, I hope you get her."

Behind the slab counter Garth curled up on a bundle of blankets for a few hours' sleep, until his dogs were fit to take the ninety-mile run north to Elkwan and the sick man who, officially, had died on the Ghost.

At noon he drove his refreshed team to the mission where Joan, standing beside her duffle bags, waited in the snow.

With the light load of two passengers, the big runner sled—its wooden shoes shod with ice, which slips over a hard surface with less friction than steel and can be renewed at will, would be sport for the five powerful dogs. Driving, as he would, to bring skill and medicine to the succor of the guest at Elkwan, Garth hoped to reach the post before dawn, but much depended on the light. A thick night would slow the dogs to a walk while crossing the mouths of the big rivers, where tide cracks opened and closed over night and the trail led through hummocks and ridges, bad going by day—at night, heart-breaking to driver and dogs.

"You're not sorry—haven't regretted promising to come?" he asked, as he wrapped her in robes and stowed her bags.

She shook her head. "Not in the least, Mr. Exile. I'm reconciled now to the loss of the last shred of my reputation. It was a wild scene—in the house. They even prayed for me when they realized threats were futile."

"Prayed for you—you, bound on an errand of mercy? In the name of all the saints, they'd let an innocent man die for want of proper care, because of my reputation? I must be a monster to them."

She laughed. "Yes, I can truthfully say that after what my brother told them, they think you are a terrible person."

"Do you?" he countered, leaning over the sled.

"Well—" her dark eies flashed up into his, "not exactly terrible, rather—what shall I say?—stubborn."

"Marche, Castor!"

And the huskies, with Shot ahead, galloped to the trade-house. There the Camerons were waiting for the girl who had, also, burned her bridges. Shortly, down the cliff trail and over the river-ice raced the team, carrying hope for Craig Galbraith, deep in delirium at Elkwan, ninety white miles away.

As they left the river and turned up the coast, Guthrie's anxious eyes circled the gray horizon for indications of what would follow the haze-smothered sunset over the Keewatin muskeg. For days, now, the weather had softened to above zero temperature, a characteristic of James bay winters, which are milder than those of the forest country to the south, and he prayed for a bright night, as his thoughts were busy with the tragedy of Craig Galbraith and his own part in the climax of the pitiful history.

The decision he had made beside the bunk in the Ghost, once he had struck on a feasible plan of procedure, was inevitable to the man who owed his life to the heroism of the stricken Galbraith. But the situation which Guthrie faced as he watched the high barrens of Akimiski catch and hold the veiled light of the dying sun, might easily result not only in dismissal from the company but in arrest by the authorities. His clear duty to his employers had demanded that he report to Cameron the presence of Laughing McDonald at Elkwan. The information that a Hudson's bay factor had concealed from the government a man suspected of murder would raise a hornets' nest in Ottawa. All this Garth Guthrie had seen with clear vision the night before, when he shared his plan with Etienne, but as his eyes rested for an instant on the tragic face of the friend who, that day in front of Amiens, had not counted the cost, there was in his face the look of a man who would repay to the last farthing. Ottawa, the company he had served so well, were nothing There lay Craig Galbraith, sick, hunted by the law he had defied, deserted—Laughing McDonald, whom he had fought for the trade—his friend, and he would see it through. Craig should have his chance, slight as it looked. With the woman of the great heart and the skilled hands, he was hurrying over the sea-ice as fast as five Ungavas could travel. Hold on, Galbraith, V. C.! as you held at many a disputed parapet and shell-hole!

They had talked little through the first miles, the thoughts of the man centered on his problem. With the skill of long training, she had gone into the details of Etienne's wound, and Garth had had no heart so early in their journey for a confession of his duplicity. But when, off the mouth of the Big Willow, he announced that it was time to rest the dogs and eat the supper prepared by Mrs. Cameron, he felt that, over the hot tea, Joan Quarrier should be told the facts.

With the aid of cedar kindlings carried on the sled, he soon had a fire under the teakettle.

"Do you realize how you have ignored your passenger, Mr. Exile? This is my first ride behind the dogs and I wanted to talk about them."

The huskies, except Shot, who was inspecting the willow thicket, were sprawling in their harness, sniffing hungrily at the odor of bacon. Now that he was alone with Joan, was to be alone with her through the long miles to Elkwan, Guthrie felt strangely diffident. Until he had laid the truth before her, told of the love he bore this broken thing, once feared as Laughing McDonald, waiting in such sore need of her ministrations, and received her absolution for his deception, he would feel ill at ease with the woman who faced the world with the stark truth in her eyes.

"Let me see," she went on, "I know Castor and Pollux, but that cream-colored one?"

"Oh, that's Dido," he laughed, "and the white-gray one is Aeneas."

"Aeneas? And does he run away from her like his namesake?"

"Run away? Hardly. She's the fastest dog in the team. What's more, he doesn't try. He's more constant than Virgil's hero."

"What's the name of that surly one, who growls so much?"

"Oh, that's Achilles, of course, the sulker. But he's not so much of a hero. He's deathly afraid of Castor, and Shot fought him to a standstill, once."

Pouring her a cupful of the steaming tea and making a sandwich with the bacon, he passed Joan her supper.

"My, I'm hungry! How good the tea tastes! But aren't the dogs to have some fish after their work?"

"No, they were fed this morning. If I feed them now, it would make them lazy; we wouldn't reach Elkwan before noon, and I'm worried—I'm afraid we're going to be too late as it is."

She looked up, puzzled at his tone. "Why, you said he wasn't bleeding badly—no artery involved. It's only a matter of keeping the wound clean."

The moment had come.

"I have a confession to make to you, Joan Quarrier," he began. "I have lied to you—brought you from a warm shelter up this coast tonight on false pretenses."

"False pretenses! What do you mean?" She was curious but not disturbed.

"I have been the cause of your breaking with the Swans—given the missionary people the chance to raise their saintly eyebrows in horror—for what?"

"Why, my dear man!" she protested, "I understand all that. Their prattle can't hurt me, can it? I don't understand. Where is the lie?"

He sucked in a deep breath and leaned toward her, as he said: "Etienne was not shot. You're on your way to help me save a friend—a friend who crawled with me on his back through gas and shell fire. They broke his arm and got him in the chest, but he came through. Can you guess who it is?"

Her dark brows contracted as she met the pleading look of the man standing by the fire. Slowly she shook her head. "You said Etienne was hurt. Now you say it was some one else—I don't see—"

"Laughing McDonald."

"Laughing McDonald?" she cried. "You said you found him dead on the schooner?"

"He was alive, but very sick—'flu,' pneumonia, I'm not sure— Etienne and an Indian took him to Elkwan while I came to ask you to go—to help—"

"He was this friend who saved your life—in France?" she asked, wide-eyed with surprise.

"Yes, Capt. Craig Galbraith. He took the name of McDonald—"

"When he disappeared after the murder?" she broke in.

"That is unworthy of Joan Quarrier," he demanded gently.

"But his description tallies with that of the man wanted in Halifax. You forget that I've seen him."

Guthrie warmed to the defense of his friend. "Suppose he is the man? Is it strange that a man branded for life with that grimace," he pleaded, "a man, proud, sensitive, coming home with the Victoria Cross—twice won—should go mad when the wife he cherished, as I know he did, turns, in horror of his scars, to a lover? Tell me, is it strange?"

"It was murder," she objected, half-heartedly.

"No, not if the man was struck in the heat of passion—as Galbraith could strike. It was retribution."

"After all, he was a gallant soldier," she mused aloud, "and he saved your life."

Ignoring the inference, Garth pressed his point, for he saw to his joy that his story had touched her. "Think what his bitterness—his agony—must have been, doomed forever to wear that mask, when the woman who should have been proud to bear his name failed him. Imagine his loneliness—his despair, when, in his need, she turned to another."

There was a mist in Joan Quarrier's eyes as she said: "You must have loved him greatly to defend him so well."

"He threw away his hope of reaching the lines, when he followed Shot to my shell-hole and started back with a gassed man; is it strange that I'm fighting for his life, oh, Healer of Wounds?"

For an instant, as he waited for her answer, she met the fierce pleading of his eyes, then looked into the thickening night as she said gently: "You have won. I'll give all I have to save him—for he was a gallant soldier—and has suffered."

Joan Quarrier did not see the pride, the gratitude, and the love that shone down on her from Guthrie's eyes.

* * * * * *

For an hour after the stop at the Big Willow for the hot tea the weather had been gradually thickening. As the dogs followed the coast, Guthrie's restless eyes watched the murk slowly blot out the stars. It meant feeling their way past the river mouths; and, across the delta of the Attawapiskat, a sharp watch on the compass to avoid entering the river itself. Clearly caution dictated turning into the Kapiskau and spending the night at the post. But the chance of the man at Elkwan might hang on the hours saved by pushing on through the sable blanket which shrouded the coast. He turned to the girl muffled in robes on the sled behind him.

"It's not going to be cold, but a cold night with the stars would be better than this."

"How can you tell where we're going? I can't see a thing."

"I'm letting Castor pick the trail—just checking him with the compass. It has a luminous dial."

"But he can't see any more than we can."

"A good lead dog has an extra sense—instinct for a trail. Castor has it; that's why he's our lead dog. He has brains, too."

"Where's Shot?"

"Oh, he's following the shore. If he misses us, he'll circle and get our scent."

"Won't he bark?"

"No, he was taught not to—at night. But I must make a decision."

"A decision?"

"We're near the mouth of the Kapiskau. It's going to be slow work—can you stand this till daylight?"

"What has that to do with the Kapiskau?"

"If you're tired—too tired to go on, we can stop at the post." She caught a note almost of appeal in his voice.

(Continued next week.)

LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. C. O. Fitts will be hostess today to the M. E. W. F. M. S.

The Chain of Ten met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. F. J. Tuffree.

Dr. G. F. McBurney left yesterday morning for Sioux City, called there by the serious illness of his brother.

G. M. Polhemus, Mrs. Chris Kragh and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Snyder returned Monday from a few days motor trip in South Dakota.

The ladies of the Priscilla Club motored to Fort Dodge, Wednesday to visit Mrs. Dittmer, a former member of the club.

Dr. and Mrs. McBurney, Mrs. Alice Curtis and Mr. Fetrow attended the general conference of the M. E. church at Webster City, Sunday.

Carl Wolle of Sioux City is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wolle.

Miss Bertha Eliason and Miss Hazel Olson left for St. Paul, Monday morning to attend the Lutheran Bible School.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shurson returned Tuesday evening from a motor trip to Osakis, Minn., where they visited his sister, Mrs. Randall Johnson. Rev. B. Guldseth and daughter, Eunice, accompanied them back from the Twin Cities.

Dr. Bonnstetter, who is specializing in the veterinarian department at Iowa State College, spent the week end with Belmond friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Antoniou have been spending the past week at Albert Lea and other points in Minnesota.

The Monday Night Bridge Club opened the season this week with a pot-luck lunch at the home of Mr. A. E. Martin.

Fresh oysters at Cleveland Store.

You will miss a good value in a cheap used car if you do not inquire the price of a 1920 Ford Tudor at Hub Motor Co.

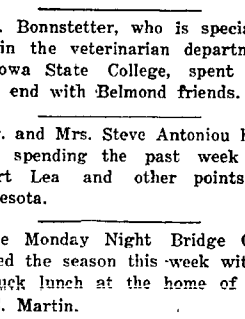
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Johnson and Miss Minnie Johnson, were Mason City callers, Saturday.

Miss Clara Johnson came up from Iowa Falls to spend the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Johnson.

BELMOND MARKETS
(Subject to change.)

Hens	18c
Springs	18c
Roosters	08c
Ducks	12c
Geese	08c
Eggs	30c
Butterfat	41c
Creamery Butter	45c
Oats	40c
Corn No. 3 yellow	78c
Barley	63c

Radio



is a year around business with us.

You can get just as good service on your radio, in the summer as in the winter, if you call call 46 when you need radio service.

We have special radio rental batteries. They are compact, light, clean, and have a handle. You can set them on the floor without danger of damaging your rugs, etc.

BELMOND STORAGE BATTERY CO.

Phone 46 J. W. Scott, Prop.
Thru Service We Grow!

Occident Flour only $2.49, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.—Clevelands Store.

Mrs. A. E. Martin was hostess to the Progress Club Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Curtis was called to Webster City Monday by the death of her brother in law, Ed Curtis, the florist at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bohning from Harold, South Dakota, were visitors the first of the week at the Henry Groen home.

Miss Elaine Rierson, who teaches at Thompson, spent the week end with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Klemme drove to Waterloo Saturday to attend the Cattle Congress which was is session last week.

Twenty percent off on all House Dresses and Aprons at Cleveland's Store, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Claude Johnson, who has been working on a graveling job near Montour. is home, work being held up due to the continuous rains. Claude is working as mechanic in charge of the repair work on about twenty trucks used on the job.

FANCY WORK

We have a nice line of Stamped Goods at the "Hemstitching Shop," located above the Tuffree tailor shop. Come up and look them over.
Mrs. W. E. Stevens.

RADIO REPAIRING

When your radio does not work right or gets out of repair, call 219. I am prepared to repair any make radio set at reasonable prices.—E. H. Brewer. 1c

Poultry Wanted

We will call to buy your poultry and will pay you the highest market price. Poultry weighed and paid for at your place. Just call Geo. Coburn, Cornelia. Clarion phone 61-31. Belmond phone 3817. 47tf

1926 Chevrolet Sedan for sale at Hub Motor Co.

ROBINSONS
. . . STOR E . . .

BAKERY
GROCERY

Eventually why not now? Your money goes farther here.

2 1-lb. cakes honey	35c
4 lb. jar of honey	50c
4 3-oz. jars of jam	35c
4 lb. jar pure strawberry preserves	95c
2 half lb. cans Hershey's cocoa	38c
Bulk cocoa, per lb.	10c
Pea berry coffe, per lb.	32c
Bulk cocoanut	40c
Macaroni, 4 packages	30c
2 packages Corn Flakes or Bran Flakes	25c
Van Camp's Beans, medium can per dozen	$1.00
100 bars Swift's Quick Naptha Soap	$3.25
Peanut butter in bulk, per lb.	20c
White Maple flour	$2.20
Smoked bacon fleches, per lb.	22c
Self ringer mop	75c

Pancakes!

There isn't anything that quite fills the bill for breakfast like good pancakes. We serve them every morning—and you'll find they are good. Try our delicious pancake breakfasts!

MEALS LUNCHES
SHORT ORDERS
ICE CREAM CANDY
CIGARS TOBACCO

Look for the Red Light!

RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

Mrs. O. A. Overbaugh lost control of her Ford Sedan last Thursday morning and went into the ditch near the Blesie bridge north of town, with slight damage to the car. The county line road is full of chuck holes and is a most dangerous road at this time. It is almost impossible for a most careful driver to go the length of it at any speed without wrecking the car or swallowing his false teeth. Something should be done about it, but as the matter has to be taken care of by two counties whose board of supervisors meet at different times and seldom get together, there is little chance.—Renwick Times.

Buy late 1925 Chevrolet Coach, mileage less than 7000, at Hub Motor Co. Price right.

Let the Farmers' Shipping Association ship your live stock. Notify M. F. Christie.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Graham and two children of Forest City visited Belmond friends and relatives Sunday.

All Children's HATS ON SALE Saturday

WE STILL HAVE COATS AND DRESSES

New Silk and Velvet Hats this week end

The Hat Shoppe
Belmond, Iowa

The
FOSS CLEANING SHOP

Solicits your patronage in

CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING

Located West of the Foss Shoe Shop

All Work Guaranteed

We will appreciate your Trial Offer

FOSS CLEANING SHOP
Louis Foss, Prop.
Phone 70 Belmond, Iowa

CITY MARKET'S SPECIALS!

Friday - Saturday
OCTOBER 7-8

Spare Ribs per pound 18c
Cream of Nut Oleo per pound 23c
Liver Sausage, Per Lb. 15c

Watch for Our Specials Every Week!

Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning

City Meat Market
Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207. Belmond, Iowa

Already Booked.

Tramp—Please, sir, will you give me a shilling to git somethin' to eat?

Gentleman—You've got a sixpence in your hand now. What's that for?

Tramp—Thats' to tip the waiter with.

READ THE WANT ADS

Safety First

A MAN in Missouri
TRACKED some mud into
HIS house the other
DAY so his wife killed
HIM! Of course that
WAS a little too severe
BUT some of you ladies
PROBABLY know just how
SHE felt—and we're
INCLINED to blame the HUSBAND for the tragedy
BECAUSE if he had been
NICE to his wife and PROVIDED her with a
PFANSTIEHL Radio,
JOHNSON'S Electric floor polisher,
WHICH we rent at $2 a day,
OSBORN Brushes—never sold from
DOOR to door—
AND some other household
CONVENIENCES such as we HAVE here at our store
SHE never would have SHOT him—so we're just MAKING this little SUGGESTION to the HUSBANDS of Belmond
TODAY—Play safe!
DON'T take a chance!
BUY some of these items
FOR your wives and
KEEP the home atmosphere
CALM and happy.
TRY the Drug Store First!

Herman L. Schultz

SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

Lyric Theatre
...Geo. Hake, Manager...

SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS

FRIDAY and SATURDAY
OCTOBER 7 and 8

"The Claw"

Universal picture with Norman Kerry, Clair Windsor, Arthur Carew, Tom Guise, Helene Sullivan. A Cosmopolitan story by Cynthia Stockley; deals with the trials of a hero worshipping English girl, who follows a British army officer to the African veldt.

"SHE'S A BOY"
Educational comedy
10c and 25c

MONDAY, TUESDAY
OCTOBER 10 and 11

"Back To God's Country"

Universal production with Renee Adoree, Walter Long, Robert Frazer, Mitchell Lewis. A James Oliver Curwood story with a Northern background. The story of a little French maid who would willingly sacrifice her love to protect her father. But the hero has other ideas and outwits the villain.
Fox News
10c and 25c

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY, OCTOBER 12 and 13

"After Midnight"

Metro Goldwyn picture with Norma Shearer and Lawrence Lawrence Gray.
"FIGHTING TO WIN"
Collegian comedy
10c and 25c

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION

There will be a U. S. Civil Service examination for the positions of Clerk—male or female—and Village Carirer for the Post Office of Belmond, Iowa, complete details of which may be secured from Miss Lois Morse, Secretary Civil Service Board. Miss Morse will be found at the Belmond post office. Receipt of applications for the two positions closes Nov. 9, 1927.

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Spring Boars Roy Jenison. Phone 1811. 43tf

FOR SALE or RENT—Residence property in Belmond, 2 blocks north of school house. Inquire at Independent. 453*

FOR SALE—New electric range. Call New Belmond Tailor Shop. Phone 28. 1c

FOR SALE—"No Hunting" Signs at the Independent. 25c each, $1 for six, $1.75 a dozen. 472

FOR SALE—Big Type Poland China male hogs, farrowed in March. Cholera immune. Gotlieb Lauster. Phone Meservey 4814. 47tf

FOR SALE or RENT—Modern seven-room house, full basement, near creamery.—E. A. Pierce. 46tf

WANTED — To buy chickens. Highest market price. Phone Belmond 3403, or Kanawha 6, and we will call.—Olaf Store, J. R. Kirk, Prop. 464*

Mule-O-Grams

September is here and nights are becoming cool, which brings thoughts of the things that are to be done before Winter sets in.

Our yard man read in the paper the other day about a grass-crop failure in Hawaii this year. Now he wants to spend his vacation there among the hula hula girls.

Bobbed hair does not make a woman bad any more than long white whiskers make a man a saint.

We certainly like to talk about MULEHIDE Roofing. You can't blame us, either. It makes a wonderful roof. Do come in and let us explain why.

This is the time of the year to cover your old roof with MULE-HIDE Shingles or roll type roofing. Why? Because MULE-HIDE Roofs laid during this warm weather really cement themselves to the old roof and make a "skin tight" fit. If you plan to reroof this fall our advice is DO IT NOW while the weather is so favorable.

One should lie on the right side, says the doctor. But if one is on the right side it is not necessary to lie at all.

BELMOND LUMBER COMPANY
M. H. Hanson, Mgr.
Phone 101 BELMOND, IOWA

BUMP GROCERY'S
SPECIALS!
For Friday and Saturday
OCTOBER 7 & 8

4 lb. PAIL LARD	79c
9-oz. SQUAT CANE PINEAPPLE, 2 for	25c
ELGIN OLEO, lb.	24c
TOKAY WHITE GRAPES, lb.	15c
SUNBEAM GUARANTEED FLOUR	$2.19

A COMPLETE LINE OF FRESH FRUITS
Glove and Husking Mittens, 10c and up.

FREE DELIVERIES
at 9 and 11 a. m. and 2 and 4 p. m. for Service
CALL 38

THE BUMP GROCERY
PHONE 38 BELMOND, IOWA

A Mexican General
can never depend on the style of his flag--but you can depend on the style of

THE Emery SHIRT

SMITH SERVICE & SKOVLIN SATISFACTION
PHONE 50 BELMOND, IOWA

Belmond Independent

ESTABLISHED 1919 — AND HERALD-PRESS — CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 8 — BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1927. — NO. 48

Local Woman Juror On Banker's Case

Mrs. Nordschow One Of Eight Women Called To Serve As Jurors

BATTLE IN PROSPECT

The attention of the district court this week is being occupied in the trial of E. C. Platt, president of the Citizens State Bank of Eagle Grove at the time that institution was closed. Mr. Platt has been indicted by the grand jury and is being tried on the charge of making false statements to the banking department. All of Monday was consumed in the selection of a jury, each prospective juror being very closely questioned regarding his or her feerings against officers of closed banks the Eagle Grove bank in particular. All were required to state whether or not they would be able to sit as a juror on the case with an open mind and be guided by the evidence and the instructions of the courts; that they would not be governed by passion and prejudice. Some were excused because they had lost money in the defunct bank, others because they had lost funds in other bank failures or were friends of the officers of the closed bank. Eight ladies and four men compose the jury finally selected, as follows: Mrs. Statia Shillington, Clarion; Mrs. Cora B. Jones, Eagle Grove; Mrs. Ruth A. Darland, Goldfield; Mrs. Ilo Clark, Clarion; Mrs. Marena Nordschow, Belmond; Mrs. Anna Miller, Dows; Mrs. Inda Cleveland, Eagle Grove; Mrs. Etta Taminga, Clarion; O. E. Munson, Belmond; Fred Ramsey, Clarion; Albert Lentz, Dows; George Kirstein, Clarion.

In his opening statement County Attorney Blue outlined the plan of the state in prosecuting the case and stated that he expected to obtain a conviction in the case from facts set forth by books and records of the bank. Attorney Senniff for Mr Platt was very postive that he would be able to prove to the jury that no fradulent statements had been made. He also stated that he understood the former cashier Ernest Thompson had been brought to Clarion from Fort Madison for the purpose of testifying in the case; that did not disturb him one bit, for he did not care a piffle. He further said that the forty odd thousand dollars discrepancy in the bank's account with the depository bank in Des Moines was accounted for by the fact that the rediscount paper did not arrive in the Des Moines bank until a day or two after the statement complained of was made. This difference, he said, might easily occur in any institution dong a large volume of business. Bank drafts are often in circulation for several days before arriving at the proper destination for credit. Judge McCall is helping the county attorney and the case will be a hard fought legal battle.

The grand jury returned indictments against the following, the report having been made public last week: Walter Frederick, Eagle Grove, larceny of beef hides; bond $2500; Clarence Lowden. Klemme, illegal transportation of intoxicating liquors, bond $1000; Vern Hay, Belmond, larceny of chickens, bond $1000; Raymond Rasmussen, Goldfield, driving a car while intoxicated, bond $2000.

In the case of Fritze vs. Terhark, wherein plaintiff claimed $360 from his tenant, the jury after being out about eight nours brought in a verdict in favor of defendant in the sum of $100.

The following cases have been dismissed or dropped from the calendar: Town of Belmond vs. W. H. Milligan, A. J. Dorr, I. C. Jones and Guy Bates; City of Clarion vs. B. H. Oberton and John Giles; City of Eagle Grove vs. Wm. Clawson; State of Iowa vs. Clair Clairhaut, Aime Clophaut, J. H. Baker, et al, Oliver Goodwin.

John King, who was arrested at Cornelia on an intoxication charge and sentenced to thirty days in jail, turns out to be a deserter. He was identified by finger prints. Sheriff Johnson took the man to Fort Des Moines Tuesday and turned him over to the proper officers. He escaped from the medical department of the government hospital at Denver on June 4th.

State vs. E. C. Platt, formerly of Eagle Grove. Defendant waives ararignment and enters a plea of not guilty. The same entry appears of record in state cases against Raymond Rasmussen, Vern Hay and Clarence Lowden.

Later in the day Clarence Lowden of Klemme, indicted for the illegal transportation of intoxicating liquors changed his plea of not guilty to that of guilty, and asked that sentence be pronounced at once. Therefore Judge Garfield ordered that defendant pay a fine, of $300, cost of the action and $35 attorney fee. Upon the payment of $150 the balance of said fine is to be suspended during good behavior.

Vern Hay, who attempted to abduct his small daughter from the Harry Veeder home near Belmond about ten days ago, appeared in court, Friday, having been indicted by the grand jury, charged with the larceny of poultry. His bond, which was fixed at $1000 when defendant was held to the grand jury by justice court, was increased to $1500. Later upon request of Hay's attorney, the bond was reduced to $1000 which had previously been posted in the shape of a certified check.

On application of County Attorney Blue the court issued an order to Sheriff Johnson in which the warden of the penitentiary at Fort Madison is to turn one Ernest J. Thompson over to said sheriff. Said Thompson is a necessary witness for the state of Iowa in the case now being tried against E. C. Platt.

The damage suit brought by Mrs. Ellen Larson vs. Ed Davis of Eagle Grove was given to the jury about five o'clock Thursday. At one o'clock the following morning a verdict was returned for the defendant.

Some five or six of the stockholders of the First National bank at Eagle Grove, which was merged with the Citizens State bank of that city, have refused to pay their assesments. Judge Garfield has approved an order that action in the federal court at Fort Dodge be commenced against the stockholders to recover the amount due.

Hearing was set for October 10 on notice given creditors concerning settlement with A. W. Moseley & Co., per agreement with receiver for the Farmers Savings bank of Goldfield, wherein said Moseley paid $1000 in cash and conveyed certain real property.

Nebraska Buick Co., vs. W. B. Evans is suit on account. Upon default of defendant judgment is awarded plaintiff in the sum of $243.61.—Monitor.

GOODELL GIRL MARRIED
(Goodell Correspondent)

A wedding of interest to Goodell friends is the following:

Tuesday of last week occurred the marriage of Alyce Wilkins and Lester Smith, both residing at Garner. The wedding took place at the Catholic parsonage with Rev. Father Woerdehoff officiating. They were attended by the bride's brother and sister, Ira and Francis Wilkins. Alyce is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Wilkins and spent her childhood days with her home folks on their farm north east of Goodell, attending the rural school. About four years ago they moved to Garner graduating from high school with the class of 1927, and for the past few months has been working in a grocery store. The groom is not known in this vicinity but from all reports is a fine young man. He has been living with his parents on a farm near Garner but at present attends barber school at St. Paul and will continue his course there while Mrs. Smith will continue working in the store.

NEW MINISTER TO BE INSTALLED HERE SUNDAY

The Rev. Arthur Langholtz, from Kansas, the new minister called to St. John's Lutheran church in Belmond, will be installed next Sunday, Oct. 16, by Rev. Bohning, of Britt. The services, in the English language, will be at 10:30 a. m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Dedicated to Thoughtlessness

Unmarried Wife Asks For Divorce

Mrs. Vern Hay, Oral Wife, Asks For Separation

Another chapter in the case of Vern Hay of Belmond, charged with the theft of chickens, came to light Monday when Mrs. Goldie Hay filed notice of divorce. In her petition she states that on or about November 1, 1923, the plaintiff and defendant made an oral agreement to become husband and wife; that they lived together as husband and wife since sometime in 1924, until July 28, 1927; that one child; Mary Louise has been born to this union; that defendant has been guilty of such cruel and inhuman treatment as to endanger life; that plaintiff demands an absolute divorce, the custody of their minor child, and alimony. At the request of the wife Judge Garfield issued a writ of attachment against the defendant's automobile and other property rights and credits in the sum of $500.—Monitor.

Electric Rate Cut

Remsen, Iowa.—Sending out a notice from the office here, the Iowa Public Service Company has announced a reduction in electric rates to its customers of northwestern Iowa, both residence and commercial rates becoming effective at once.

The rates, which are optional, have been reduced for residences from 14 cents a kilowatt to eight cents a kilowatt for the first 50 and an excess of five cents a kilowatt a month. The new rates for commercial purposes are the same, except the capacity charge for residence service is $1.

ROWAN LEGION ELECTS
(Rowan Correspondent)

The Andrew Whitten Post No. 159 of the American Legion here at Rowan held a meeting and election of officers on Monday night. The following officers were elected for the coming year:

Post Commander—Harry Cain
Vice Commander—Ralph Adamson
Adjutant—Frank Retleff
Finance Officer—William Reltz
Historian—R. E. Lee Aldrich, Jr.
Sergeant at Arms—Albert Moellering
Chaplain—Howard Box

They will hold another meeting in two weeks at which the new officers will be initiated.

BELMOND MARKETS
(Subject to change.)

Hens	17c
Springs	17c
Roosters	08c
Ducks	12c
Geese	08c
Eggs	30c
Butterfat	41c
Creamery Butter	45c
Oats	39c
Corn No. 3 yellow	76c
Barley	68c

Alf Weddel, a cousin of the Boughtons, Chas. Trumble and daughter Iva, came Saturday to visit relatives and friends.

Legion Elects New Officers

Joint Meeting With Auxiliary Followed By Dance

A joint meeting of the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary was held Tuesday evening, in the Legion hall. A business meeting was the first order of business, at which the following new officers were elected:

Post Commander, Stephen Hardwick.
Vice Post Commander, Ed. Kennedy.
Vice Commander, Goodell, Robert McNutt.
Vice Commander, Alexander, Ed. Packard.
Adjutant, Thayne Bailey.
Finance Officer, Ole Champlin.
Sergeant-at-Arms, Joe Pais
Post Historian and Chaplin, C. M. Morse.

It was voted at the meeting that the Legion co-operate with the public schools for a program on Armistice Day.

The Legion also decided that it would award a medal for scholarship in the subject, "Our Government" to the pupil doing the best work in this line in both the Junior High and High School.

Following the business meeting, a social time and dance, completed with refreshments, was enjoyed.

Next Monday and Tuesday the Legion and Auxiliary are sponsoring the moving picture, "Rookies," at the Lyric Theatre in Belmond. "Rokies" is, as the title suggests, an army story, but a continuous laugh from beginning to end and guaranteed a sure cure for grouch or blues.

200 POUNDS OF DYNAMITE WILL BE SHOT

Kanawha Reporter: County Engineer A. J. Lilly informs us that about 600 feet of Joint Drainage District No. 731139, a joint between Hancock and Wright counties, will be cleaned out by the use of dynamite.

The explosives will be touched off at exactly 2 o'clock on the afternoon of October 14. The location of this ditch is on the SE quarter of Section 32, Twin Lake township.

As this is the first time that this method of cleaning out a ditch has been used in this county the work will be done in the form of a demonstration and there will no doubt be a large crowd of people present to witness it. There will be about 200 pounds of explosives used and one of the experts of the staff of the Du Pont Powder Company will be present to lay the dynamite and set the fuses. The entire success of the work lies in the proper placing of the explosive and although Mr. Lilly has had much experience in drainage work, he thought that the initial trial of this labor and time-saving method should be conducted by an expert.

In the county proceedings last week, the item regarding the tax levy for General School in Pleasant township should have read $10,000 instead of $1,000.

FACTS AND FIGURES

Here are some figures that should open our eyes. The average fire loss for each man, woman and child in France is 49c; in England 33c; in Germany 28c; in Austria 25c; in Italy 25c; in Switzerland 15c; and in Holland only 11c.

In 1926 the fire loss in the United States ran close to $561,000,000—a fire loss greater than any nation ever had suffered before in the history of the world. Today, therefore, the share of this loss borne by every inhabitant of the United States is $4.75 annually. Compare this with the loss in England of 33c or in France with 49c and you will have some idea of the fast growing American fire loss.

Vienna and Chicago are cities of about the same size. Vienna's fire loss for one year was $303,200; Chicago's was $5,513,237, or more than eighteen times as great. Can we be proud of such figures?

Help Make Iowa Fire Prevention Week, October 9-15, Effective.

NEW FORDS ARRIVE IN WISCONSIN TOWN

Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin Courier: "Considerable interest was aroused here by the arrival of two new Fords. While not ready for exhibition purposes, the Fords have been observed by several and much approval of their fitness and finish has been voiced. Their bodies are finely lined and graced with pleasing curves. Their color job is of a quality that shows richness and well being, and their lines in general are wholly fitting for the work desired of them. Probably not without reason the design follows that of former models, but there are individual differences. They are generally quiet, but there is considerable sound when under heavy stress or exertion.

"Their speed and durability have not yet been tested, but their fuel consumption, at least at the present time, is surprisingly low. Methods of caring for the radiator overflow remain the same. While formed on the same general principles, there is much difference between the two models received here, which is not surprising when it is considered that one is a boy and the other a girl, born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ford. The babies have not yet been named but they and their mother are reported to be doing well."

OLAF NEWS

G. H. Baxter and family spent Sunday with S. O. Windecker at Iowa Falls.

School was closed Thursday and Friday. Miss Hull atended a teachers meeting at Clarion.

Martin Paulson spent the week end with R. H. Rierson of Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kirk drove to Estherville Sunday.

Mrs. Orrie Jenison who has been very sick is very much improved at this writing.

Will Holbrook and family and Wendell Holbrook and family of Iowa Falls spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Eliason.

Olaf Eliason and family attended the Fall Festival at Iowa Falls Thursday.

Mistakes Will Happen

The Herald had a mix-up of heads last week which occasioned considerable merriment, when the head of a marriage announcement was placed over a political article. The joke is on the editor all right, but we all know all the parties and the Herald is confident that our mayor will be just as capable and the young folks will be just as happy, whatever head is placed over the notices of election or wedding. So that's that.—Wellsburg Herald.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Cooperative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of Oct. 2 to Oct. 8.

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
2	62	54	.73	Cloudy
3	55	40	.18	Cloudy
4	69	35	—	Clear
5	60	49	.16	Cloudy
6	52	44	.12	Cloudy
7	59	38	—	Pt. cloudy
8	64	38	—	Clear

Rainfall for week—1.19 inches.

High School Holds First Literary

Students Stage Amusing Old Time Program Followed By Modern Version

FOOTBALL AT EAGLE

At the regular Monday morning assembly Supt. Williams gave a very interesting speech with the title of "Sand and Cement," the sand representing our abilities and the cement, the use we make of them. He explained that in order to attain success in life one must have them both mixed together, just as in making cement both are necessary.

Until now there has been a shortage of chairs in some of the class rooms. The new chairs improve the appearance of the rooms and do away with the disturbance which was made when chairs had to be bororwed from other class rooms.

Work has been begun on the question for debate this year. There are fourteen pupils trying out.

The Senior Normal Training class attended Teachers Institute at Clarion on Thursday and Friday.

The Juniors held a meeting in the Study Hall Wednesday to decide how they might best raise the money necessary for the Junior-Senior Banquet, to be held in the spring.

The Freshman class enjoyed their first party in the gymnasium of the High School on Wednesday. Alice Nissen was chairman of the entertainment committee and Lois Trafford had charge of the refreshments. Mary Elizabeth Blake was chairman of the reception committee. The evening was spent playing games.

A program of unusual interest has been planned for P. T. A. meeting for the afternoon of Oct. 21st, the subject being "Laughter and Happiness."

High School Literary Society

The Literary Society of Belmond High School met in the auditorium, Oct. 7 at 2:35. The program was introduced by Walter Schleiffarth who gave the purpose of the society.

A typical literary program of some years ago was the first part of the program. The president, Hal Luick, was represented by Loren Bamford, and the secretary, Mona Griesy, by Uinta Packard. The secretary requested the members to answer roll call with current events which proved amusing. A piano duet was given by Gertrude Ely (Lillian McNutt) and Ruth Klemme (Marie Landon). A recitation of Kipling's, "If" by Adolph Skovlin (Francis McAlpine) followed. A debate which had been postponed from the previous meeting on account of the extrordinary preparation necessary was held on the question, "The Seniors are more beautiful and wise than the Juniors." Glenn Klemme (Harley Hammond) and Cortland Morse (Albert Rabe) upheld the affirmative while Hazel Thomas (Madonna McNulty) and Ella Furuseth (Esther Steenblock) presented the negative side of the question. Miss McGough, Mr. Hall and Mr. Shepard serving as judges, awarded a two to one decision to the affirmative. The next number on the program was a cornet solo by Cato Griesy, (Adam Ziegler. Corrie Fitts (Arthur Rierson) read a paper prepared by Harry Bohning (Dale Kessle) on "How to become a Successful Merchant." The program was concluded by a violin solo by Clarence Townsen (Robert Smith). The meeting was then adjourned.

A typical literary program of today was represented by a clever one act farce called Malted Milk and Marcia. The cast of characters included: Old Man Flint, (Clair Hill) Maria (Margaret Leavy) Mr. Lock, (Joe Tiara) Mr. Meke (Ardell Johnson) and Jimmy, the office boy, (Duane Brady).

A report was given by Marcella Leavy concerning our next Literary program.

Miss Murtagh gave the Critic's report and the meeting was adjourned.

Grade School Notes

One more pupil has been added to

(Continued on page 10)

Belmond Independent
AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES
Display, per column inch -------25c
Locals, per line ----------10c
Classified, per word ----------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Editorials

"NO KETCHUP"

Passing through Cedar Falls the other day, I stopped for a cup of coffee at a restaurant. Whilst drinking my coffee I noticed a framed sign above the counter: 'No Ketchup Served With Sandwiches.' Of course the meaning was very plain; if I purchased a sandwich, I was not to ask for catsup with it, because I was not entitled to catsup. On leaving I asked the man who ran the establishment: 'How's business?' He replied that business was poor; he was making no money.

"A few days later I was in Chicago eating supper at a counter before boarding a night train. Over the opposite counter hung a framed sign: 'If you wish another cup of coffee ask for it: It's yours for the asking!" On leaving I asked the proprietor: 'How's business? 'Never better!" was his prompt reply.

"That's it! Business is always good where they give the second cup of coffee; and conversely, business is generally poor where they serve no catsup. The other day the writer had trouble with a radio unit which had not been working well. He returned it to the manufacturer a year after he bought it; promptly he received the following letter: 'We find that this unit can be repaired in three days; it will then be returned to you prepaid and a check forwarded for the amount of express this way'—this a year after purchase. Evidently they found a defect and were honest about it. I shall go back for my next purchase.

"So, when I pay my grocery bill the merchant hands me a sack of chocolates for the wife or daughter. So, when I buy my cigar, the girl says thank you and smiles sweetly. So, when I go to the theatre, I not only see the picture which the manager undertook to show, but I get a greeting at the door, pleasant ushering, fresh, cool air, good music, and an inquiry as to how I liked the show. All these friends of mine are using the 'Second cup of coffee philosophy; and I always go back! So do other folks.

"The philosophy of 'No Ketchup' and the philosophy of 'Another cup of coffee' run all through life. Sooner or later, not only business men, but the rest of us learn that it pays to go beyond the bounds of obligation—to do more than we are bligated to do. Homes are happier where husband, wife, brother, sister live together upon this principle. The law compels a man to support his wife; but he had better learn to do more than the law requires if he is going to stay married. The school requires a certain number of marks, grades and credits for graduation, but the student had better get something more than is required or he will be the loser all through life. The social group in which I live in Estherville demands that I keep out of jail; but I shall have to do more than keep out of jail if I am going to be a christian. This is just what Jesus was saying when He said, 'If a man compels you to go with him one mile, GO WITH HIM TWO!'

"After all, the philosophy of the 'second cup of coffee' is very old—nearly two thousand years—and perhaps more!"—Estherville News.

Another thing we can't understand is why they allow prize fights in this country and then bar the films from the moving picture theatres. The actual fight is certainly as bad as the picture, and you can see a great many things worse than fight films in most any theatre. Why should a man who can't afford to pay $40.00 for a seat be barred from seeing the reproduction?—Renwick Times.

LOCALS

The Catholic Ladies will hold a Food Sale Saturday, Oct. 15, at the J. H. Fetrow Cream Station, starting at 10 a. m.

John D. Meinders was taken seriously ill late Friday afternoon while working in the field. A doctor was called and he was taken to the hospital at Hampton where a very successful operation was performed immediately for acute appendicitis. His many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

Miss Jennie Elder from Los Angeles, Calif., was visiting her cousins, Mrs H. C. Thompson and G. F. Elder and their families a few days last week.

The Catholic Ladies will hold a Food Sale Saturday, Oct. 15, at the J. H. Fetrow Cream Station, starting at 10 a. m.

The Cemetery Aid meets at the R. H. Rierson home Oct. 14. Hostesses Mrs. Rierson, Mrs. C. I. Williams, Mrs. Louise Veeder, Mrs. A. W. Hill, Miss Amanda Johnson.

Floyd Dibble is suffering from a badly swollen arm, the result of infection setting in from a small pimple.

Mrs. Herman Schultz went to Chicago, recently, to see her sister, who is quite ill.

Mrs. F. E. Purcell was called to Milwaukee, recently, by the illness of her daughter, Mrs. L. M. Helland. Upon her arrival there she found a new grandaughter awaiting her. Mother and child are doing nicely.

A number of relatives surprised Mr. and Mrs. J. D. L. Pals, recently in honor of Mrs. Pal's birthday. Refreshments were served and a fine time enjoyed.

Sunday, Oct. 9, was Han Hanson's 79th birthday, and in honor of the event all the children except the Ollie Tomson family of Montana, were home, the Tomson's sending him a nice present as a remembrance.

FREE AIR!

They tell us that Carlton Johnson, one of our successful farmers near Olaf, has been studying the merits of using his cows to replace horses in the field. It's a common practice in some parts of Europe, we understand, but a rather novel idea here.

* * * *

Anyway, according to the story, Carlton found one of his cows all harnessed up ready for work when he got up one morning recently, and his friends claim he was going to use bossy to plow.

* * * *

It's not such a bum idea at that. Fellow can work along in the field, and about ten o'clock when he begins to wonder how far away dinner is, he can just stop the "horse," get off the plow, dig out his collapsable tin cup and with a few "soo, boss!" have a lunch. You know.

* * * *

Perhaps if the practice is extensively carried out, the cow will replace the little brown jug in the field. This should be brought to the attention of the W. C. T. U.

* * * *

However, on the other hand—or should it be on the other hoof?—there might be some difficulty with the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

* * * *

A couple of weeks ago this great family journal, announced that the Red Light Cafe was considering moving from the red light district, to another location further up the main drag in the suburbs—more or less—of the city. We wish to retract said announcement; Mr. Brewer says he does not expect to move.

* * * *

We are very glad to hear it, and feel sure Mr. Brewer has made a wise decision, altho personally we'd save a lot of money if he would move.

* * * *

G. A. Stanzel, he of the Yellow Front, informs us that after long and serious study and thought, he has decided that he might as well look around for another counter hopper, because it begins to look as tho Cal wasn't going to choose to accept his offer. Well, G. A. could try an ad in this paper.

* * * *

Monday the barbers raised their prices on haircuts and shaves. We knew it was coming; anyone could easily figure out that after receiving their degree and license from the state they would have to have more money with D. B. after their name.

* * * *

There's a lot of difference between being just a plain Whisker Mower and a Doctor of Bobbing.

* * * *

That's what you get for having a college education.

CHURCHES

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor
Telephone Call, 150

Thursday, Oct. 13. The Goodell Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. Hetland at 2 p. m.

English prayer meeting will be held at the church, Thursday, at 8 p. m.

Friday, Oct. 14. The Women's Missionary Federation of Eagle Grove Circuit will hold an all day meeting at Badger beginning at 10 a. m. We hope many of our women will see their way clear to attend this meeting.

Sunday, Oct. 16.

Sunday School and Bible Classes will meet at 10 a. m.

The Luther League will meet at 7 p. m.

Missionary A. C. Gunderson of the Sudan district of Africa will give an illustrated lecture on the work in the Sudan, at 8 p. m. The public is cordially invited. A free-will offering will be taken.

Monday, Oct. 17 to Wednesday, Oct. 19. The Eagle Grove Circuit of our church will hold their regular fall conference at Thor, Iowa. Each congregation should be well represented at our circuit meetings.

Thursday, Oct. 20. Mid week prayer meeting will be held at 8 p. m.

Friday, Oct. 21 to Saturday, Oct. 23. Read announcement for St. Olaf congregation.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Friday, Oct. 14. Read announcement for Trinity congregation.

Sunday, Oct. 16. From now until Christmas, Sunday School will be held only on Sundays when forenoon services are not being held.

Norwegian communion services at 11 a. m.

Monday, Oct. 17 to Wednesday, Oct. 19. Read announcement for Trinity congregation.

Wednesday, Oct. 19. Mid-week prayer meeting will be held at the home of Mr. Nicolai Nelson at 8 p. m.

Thursday, Oct. 20. The South Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. Oscar Lewis at 2 p. m.

Friday Oct. 21 to Sunday, Oct. 23. A general discourse and mission meeting will be held, beginning Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. The mission sermon will be given Sunday forenoon at which time also the offering will be received. The text for our discourse will be Romans 15:1-13. Among the visiting pastors we expect to have with us part of the time are Rev. N. J. Lohre of Minneapolis, General Secretary of our Synod, Rev. P. Ljostviet of Eagle Grove, Rev. J. O. Reitan of Kanawha, and Rev. John Grouli of Hupch, China.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

It is a mutual matter, the church being able to help the individual and the individual being able to help the church. Each Lord's Day our morning worship is at the eleven o'clock hour.

May we have Sunday School so much a part of our lives that at the appointed time we shall do but one thing—be engaged in the activity of His school.

The Ladies Aid Society meets this Thursday afternoon at the church building. Every member is urged to be present. There is important business to be looked after.

The young people meet at the eight o'clock hour this coming Sunday evening.

METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. J. F. Snyder, Pastor

Services as follows for the Lord's Day, Oct. 16—

Sunday School at 10 a. m. Very profitable lessons, experienced teachers. All we need is you. There are a great many matters that claim and ever demand our attention. We of necessity respond. Remember it is most easy to hatch up excuses when Sunday morning comes and our conscience tells us, "You ought to go to church today." We then scramble in our minds at least, seeking a pacifier.

Morning worship and sermon at 11 a. m.

Epworth League at 6:30. Epworthian, please remember the hour is 45 minutes earlier than before.

Evening worship and gospel message at 7:30. May each one of our constituents make an honest effort to be in our evening worship.

The annual chicken dinner served by the Ladies Aid of the church on Thursday evening. Service begins at 5:30, until all are served. You eat, why not eat with us?

Everybody most cordially invited to all our services.

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

The stork left a baby boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Madsen Sunday night. This is their first born.

Next Monday October 15 the people of Iowa will be permitted to say whether or not this question of prohibition shall be permanently settled.

Oscar Gartin recently purchased the residence property now occupied by J. M. Berry.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foss rejoice over the arrival at their home of a fine baby boy, born, last week.

Ed Jenison was kicked by a horse last Monday and had several ribs broken.

J. W. and Ed Azeltine of Rowan have leased part of the two sections southeast of town known as the "big pasture" and which was formerly owned by Mrs. Clark Abbott of Brooklyn, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Pabst of Klemme called on relatives here Wednesday.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

D. D. Harr has disposed of his entire stock of drugs and will quit business.

Miss Anna Jensen has resigned her position in the telephone office and Miss Blanche Eddy is now the "hello girl."

Mrs. E. S. Hubbard returned Wednesday from her Colorado visit.

Louis King put his foot under a heavy trunk at the depot the other night and now walks on crutches.

A badger is on exhibition in Mc Guire Bros. window, the mounting being the work of Prof. Popham.

N. E. Curtis and wife were Clear Lake visitors last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Finch went to Chicago Saturday to visit their daughter.

E. S. Christie bought the H. Hauge farm last week and Walter Schleiffarth bought the Kern farm of W. E. Bullard.

Misses Lizzie Wallace and Anna Anderson departed Tuesday night for the west. They will be gone almost a year.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

John Sands is the latest dad who strokes his beard complacently—all on account of that wee baby girl at his house.

Theo. Sands has commenced wagon making in Daily's shop.

Dite Packard has quit the mercantile business at Howland & Pritchard's Store and will trap and hunt for a while. At this business Dite is first class.

Duff Dryden has sold his meat shop building to Capt. Haight.

The attendance was so slim at the Hayes and Wheeler Club meeting Wednesday night, no organization was made. Hence the public don't know what they missed in not hearing Entriken and Bradshaw's speeches.

Mrs. L. M. Langstaff has opened a nice lot of millinery goods in the Johnson building on Main street.

At the Horse Grove discussion last Saturday evening a large crowd was in atendance. J. F. Haight and J. E. Rowen belabored each others favorite candidate, and it is said both did well. Rowen for Hayes, and Haight for Tilden.

Congressman Tom Robinson has been kept rather busy the past few weeks filling speaking engagements. Last Tuesday evening he was at Cedar Falls, where he addressed a large meeting of the Cedar Falls Commercial Club. Yesterday he was a guest of the officers of the Dairy Cattle Congress at Waterloo, and attended the program in the afternoon and evening. Next week Friday he will speak at the annual Wright county teachers institute at Clarion.—Hampton Chronicle.

FRIEND C. BRAS
Tests Eyes Fits Glasses
Service Guaranteed
SOUTH OF COURT HOUSE
CLARION, - IOWA
1-128

SPECIAL SATURDAYS AND WEDNESDAYS
DIXIE DREAM
DOUGHNUTS
THIS IS A NEW DELICIOUS RAISED DOUGHNUT MADE EXCLUSIVELY BY US
per doz. - 25c
PIES, made from Heinz Mincemeat.
Your patronage solicited and appreciated
MORROW & SCOTT
BELMOND'S BAKERS

The Splinters
"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2 Thursday, October 13, 1927 No. 26

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

"What church do you go to when you go?"
"Well, the church I stay away from when I don't go is the Methodist."

—

Barber — "Will you have anything on your face when I've finished?"
'Well, it doesn't seem likely."

—

We know a man who has told us the same story eleven times.

There is nothing quite so aggravating as a leaky roof. We have all kinds of roofing cement.

—

Kentucky is the state, you know, of beautiful women, fast horses and GREAT - HEART coal. It does every thing you'd naturally expect an extra good coal to do. And then does just a little more. Phone your order. We deliver promptly.

—

We can't please everybody. We know that. But that fact doesn't hinder us from trying.

We wonder why the newspapers don't get some pictures of football stans and run them in the sport sections. We like things new and original.

—

Take off your hat to Henry Barr;
He don't own nothin'
On his car!

—

THE NEW BEET SONG.—"Beet ever so humble, there's no place like home."

—

A young man wrote home after the elopement. — "We are married and all my troubles are over.' Married men, laff that off!

What Will Your Harvest Be?

Early in the summer you planted your crop. All summer long you tended it. Now it is fall, and you are ready to harvest. What that harvest will be has been largely dependent upon you.

Just so in the fall of your life, your financial harvest will depend upon the seed you planted while young, the care you gave it thru the summer of life.

Start Your Saving Account in This Bank Today.

STATE BANK OF BELMOND
BELMOND IOWA

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dull and son, and Miss Helen Boils of Mason City, were Sunday visitors at the C. G. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Johnson and daughter, Miss Theodora, of Latimer spent Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Barton and family of Buffalo Center, visited Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hanson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Hill, and daughter, Miss Dean Hill, drove to Mankato, Minn., Sunday to spend the day with Stanley Hill, who is employed there.

If you like good things to eat, attend the Catholic Ladies' Food Sale Saturday, Oct. 15, at Fetrow's Cream Station.

Vern Fell is the new printer now employed at the Independent, taking the place of Lee Stacy, who expects to move away. Mr. Fell was formerly employed on the Cedar Rapids Republican.

Keith Bailey was host Saturday afternoon to a number of his little friends, the occasion being Keith's birthday.

Mrs. Alex Shefveland came from Kenyon, Minn., Friday to visit for a few days at the homes of Oscar Jacobson and family, and Miss Julia Jacobson. Rev. Shefveland came Sunday night, and they returned to their home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Young returned last week from their trip to Sisseton, S. D., where they had visited their daugher, Mrs. Gerald Tracy, and family.

Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Snyder returned Friday from Lake City where they had taken Mrs. Snyder's mother home after a few days' visit at the Snyder home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Polhemus left Saturday for their home in Colorado after a several weeks' visit with relatives and friends in Belmond and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Bishop spent Sunday with relatives at Mason City.

Charles Johnson of Eagle Grove visited his sons here a few days last week.

Mrs. Gus Johnson was hostess to Mrs. J. S. White's division of the M. E. Aid, Friday. The serving committee was Mrs. Mc J. Thompson, Mrs. Fred Mortimer, Mrs. Ed Webb and Mrs. Johnson.

Joe Smith received word Monday that his brother, James, of Iowa Falls, had passed away. Mr. and Mrs. Smith attended the funeral, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Nelson and son, spent the week end with relatives at Mason City.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. White accompanied by Mrs. Legge Wallace, motored to Persia, Saturday, where on Sunday they attended the funeral of Mrs. White's uncle, J. L. Willard. Mrs. Wallace remained for a few weeks' visit.

The Belmond Cemetery Association will hold a quarterly meeting at the Belmond Savings Bank, Friday, Oct. 14. All members are urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nourse enjoyed a fishing trip in Minnesota, Saturday and Sunday

Ted Johnson began his duties as clerk in the local post office last week, taking the place of E. E. Sullivan who recently moved to California.

The Catholic Ladies will hold a Food Sale Saturday, Oct. 15, at the J. H. Fetrow Cream Station, starting at 10 a. m.

Eleanor Wenzel entertained a number of little friends at a party, Thursday, celebrating her sixth birthday. Games were played and refreshments enjoyed, Eleanor receiving many nice little presents in honor of the occasion.

Keith Madsen entertained 14 boy friends at a dinner last Thursday, celebrating his birthday.

A number of friends gathered at the R. E. Webb home, Sunday, to assist R. E. and his son, Harry, in celebrating their birthdays. An enjoyable time was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wenzel and family and Mr. and Mrs. James Thayer visited relatives at Rockwell Sunday.

Included in the list of 315 fraternity pledges who have been announced at the beginning of the fall quarter at the Iowa State College are two from Belmond, Albert E. Martin to Theta Delta Chi, and Roger Leinbach to Delta Chi.

Aug. Trager, of Granville, Ill., is visiting at the home of his son, Herman Trager, and family this week.

NOTICE OF PROOF OF WILL

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

In the Estate of Henry Johnson, Deceased:

You are hereby notified that on the 8th day of October 1927, there was filed with and opened by the undersigned Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, in and for Wright county, a Written instrument purporting to be the LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT of Henry Johnson late of said County, deceased.

And you are further notified that the 7th day of November, 1927, at 1:30 o'clock p. m. of said day has been set as the day for the final hearing and proof of said Will, at the Clerk's office in the Court House at Clarion, Iowa, at which time any person interested can appear and show cause why the same should not be admitted to probate.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court at my office in Clarion in said County, this 8th day of October A. D., 1927.

R. V. GOSLIN,
483 Clerk of District Court

ADMINISTRATOR'S OR EXECUTOR'S NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That the undersigned has this day been appointed and commissioned by the District Court of Wright County, in the State of Iowa, Administrator of the Estate of Ida M. Starnes, deceased; and all persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to file them with the Clerk of said Court, clearly stated and duly sworn to, and within legal time, preparatory to their being allowed or proved; and persons owing Estate are requested to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and avoid costs.

Dated at Belmond, Iowa, this 4th day of October, A. D. 1927.

C. C. Benson, Administrator.
472 W. E. Bullard, Attorney

SHERIFF'S SALE

STATE OF IOWA,
Wright County, ss.
To Belmond Home Building Company a corporation.

You are hereby notified that by virtue of a special execution, to me directed. and issued out of the office of the Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, within and for Wright County, upon a judgment rendered in said Court in favor of Consolidated National Bank of Dubuque, Iowa, trustee a corporation. and against Belmond Home Building Company a corporation, for the sum of One Thousand Four and 27-100 Dollars debt and Eighteen and 45-100 Dollars costs, and Forty Nine and 45-100 Dollars attorney's fee, I have levied upon the following described Read Estate, to-wit: Lot 8, Block 21, First Addition to Belmond Wright County, Iowa.

And that on the 29th day of October, 1927, at 2 o'clock P. M. at the front door of the Court House in Clarion, Wright County, Iowa, I will proceed to sell the same in satisfaction of said execution, together with all legal costs accruing.

Dated at the Sheriff's office in Clarion, this 28th day of September, 1927.

FRED JOHNSON,
Sheriff of Wright County, Iowa.
M. H. CZIZEK,
Attorney.

SHERIFF'S SALE

STATE OF IOWA,
Wright County, ss.
To Belmond Home Building Company a corporation.

You are hereby notified that by virtue of a special execution, to me directed. and issued out of the office of the Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, within and for Wright County, upon a judgment rendered in said Court in favor of Consolidated National Bank of Dubuque, Iowa, trustee a corporation. and against Belmond Home Building Company a corporation, for the sum of One Thousand Four and 27-100 Dollars debt and Eighteen and 45-100 Dollars costs, and Forty Nine and 07-100 Dollars attorney's fee, I have levied upon the following described Real Estate, to wit: Lot 6, Block 21 First Addition to Belmond, Wright County, Iowa.

And that on the 29th day of October, 1927, at 2 o'clock P. M. at the front door of the Court House in Clarion, Wright County, Iowa, I will proceed to sell the same in satisfaction of said execution, together with all legal costs accruing.

Dated at the Sheriff's office in Clarion, this 28th day of September, 1927.

FRED JOHNSON,
Sheriff of Wright County, Iowa.
M. H. CZIZEK,
Attorney.

SHERIFF'S SALE

STATE OF IOWA,
Wright County, ss.
To Belmond Home Building Company a corporation.

You are hereby notified that by virtue of a special execution, to me directed. and issued out of the office of the Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, within and for Wright County, upon a judgment rendered in said Court in favor of Consolidated National Bank of Dubuque, Iowa, trustee a corporation. and against Belmond Home Building Company a corporation, for the sum of One Thousand Five and 27-100 Dollars debt and Eighteen and 45-100 Dollars costs, and Forty Nine and 07-100 Dollars attorney's fee, I have levied upon the following described Read Estate, to-wit: Lot 7, Block 21 First Addition to Belmond, Wright County, Iowa.

And that on the 29th day of October, 1927, at 2 o'clock P. M. at the front door of the Court House in Clarion, Wright County, Iowa, I will proceed to sell the same in satisfaction of said execution, together with all legal costs accruing.

Dated at the Sheriff's office in Clarion, this 28th day of September, 1927.

FRED JOHNSON,
Sheriff of Wright County, Iowa.
M. H. CZIZEK,
Attorney.

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Bldg
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

POLAND CHINA & CHESTER WHITE
HOG SALE
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1927
Located on farm 1-4 mile west of KLEMME, IOWA
POLAND 25 Boars, 20 Gilts, bred from the leading families of CHINAS the Poland China breed, sired by "Sun Ray's Ideal," he by "Sun Ray," Dams by Big Armistice Boy by High Liberator. CHESTER 25 Boars, 20 Gilts. This is a good offering of the WHITES modern Big Type Chester Whites sired by Big Bud. White Hawk, and other prize winners. Don't miss this sale.
R. C. LUDEKE, Klemme, Iowa

We Want Your Poultry
And we will pay you the very highest market price for it. Before you sell, see us or call us and let us make you a price—you'll find it is dollars in your pocket. If you haven't time to bring your poultry in, or haven't a way to do it, remember we furnish you
TRUCK SERVICE!
We'll call at your place, load your birds, haul them to town, give you honest, full weights, and send you a check promptly at the highest market prices. We want your poultry, and we'll do anything fair and square to get it. Give us a trial!
Farmers Grain Company
PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!
BELMOND, - - IOWA

FOR SALE!
Used Cars
IN GOOD CONDITION!
AT RIGHT PRICES!
1926 CHEVROLET SEDAN
1927 CHEVROLET TOURING with Winter Top
1924 FORD SEDAN with Bosch Magneto Stromberg Carburetor
1920 FORD TUDOR
1922 CHEVROLET TOURING
Hub Motor Co.
Phone 39 Belmond, Iowa

BUMP GROCERY'S
SPECIALS!
For Friday and Saturday
OCTOBER 14 & 15
KELLOG'S BRANK FLAKES, 2 pkgs. for . . 24c
COOKIES, Assorted Fresh, per lb. 24c
CRACKERS, Fresh, 3 lb. box 49c
CAMPFIRE CANE & MAPLESYRUP . . 28c-53c
FREE PREMIUMS with TEA and COFFEE. Ask Us to Explain.
A COMPLETE LINE OF FRESH FRUITS
FREE DELIVERIES
at 9 and 11 a. m. and 2 and 4 p. m. for Service
CALL 38
THE BUMP GROCERY
PHONE 38 BELMOND, IOWA

Kinseth's Store News

What we'd like to know, is where is that fellow who wrote, "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More"? There's no question but what Iowa has just the same weather as California—unusual.

Unusual describes the special we have this week on Pears. Pears for canning, and they're good ones, too. Ask us about them if you're interested in canning some.

The pancake season is now upon us, and what goes better than a plate of hot pancakes with syrup for breakfast? Just one thing that we know of—more pancakes. We have some dandy ABC Pancake Flour at 29c a package.

For 35c you get a package of Sani-flush and one of water softener, with a brush free. Get yours early.

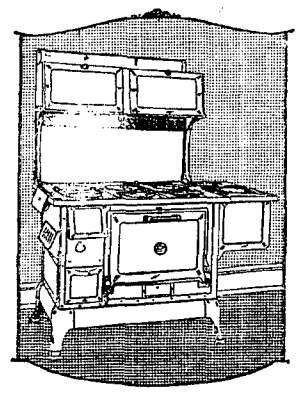
Call us before you sell your eggs; we're paying the highest market prices.

Snoflake flour, $2.20.

Prince Albert and Velvet smoking tobacco, 2 cans for 25c.

Thats' all this week, folks. Remember the Store on the Corner.

The Bakewell Riverside



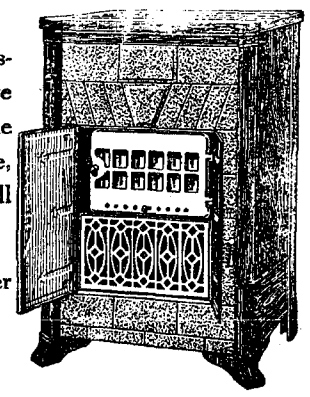
We are sure you have never seen anything that can equal the Bakewell in quality, design and beautiful finish.

It is fully enameled inside and out and will be a beautiful addition to any kitchen.

THE NEW FIREPLACE RADIONA

A complete heating system that is installed above the floor. Heats the whole house, just like a furnace, but requires only a small amount of fuel.

You must see this heater to really appreciate it.



GRIESY'S
The Friendly Place
PHONE 10
BELMOND, IOWA

MESERVEY SECTION

REFORMED CHURCH

The Ladies Aid met last Tuesday with a goodly number of members present. Mrs. K. C. Ruigh was hostess. It was decided upon to treat the Ladies Aid room with a coat of paint which has greatly added to the appearance of the room.

In spite of the bad roads we had a good attendance at Sunday school last Sunday. Let every child be present every Sunday. There was also a very large attendance at the Young People's meeting. Let us keep it up and bring others. Let us teach them by example. Remember the collection next Sunday evening.

Choir practice Thursday evening at 8:00.

Sunday School at 9:30.

Morning service at 10:30. (German).

Young People's meeting at 7:30.

Evening service at 8:00.

"Let the mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus Who came not to do his will but the will of Him who sent Him." Let us all join in his ministry whatever the cost. We bid you a cordial welcome to these services and wish you a joyful hour in His Presence this day.

H. Pannkuk, Pastor

Aged Woman Has Accident

Grandmother Strasburg who is making her home with her son, Otto and family, had the misfortune of falling as she was walking about the house, last Thursday fracturing her hip. It has not been determined just how serious the result will be but owing to her advanced age it is unfortunate that she must be laid up in this manner.

S. S. Class Entertains

The members of the King's Daughters S. S. class of the Evan. church met at the home of their teacher Mrs. C. J. Wendel, last week on Wednesday evening with the following teachers as their guests: The Misses Elsie Hoyt, Ruth Roth, Louise Watson, Elfrieda Wright and Frances VerSteeg. The evening was spent in a pleasant manner and refreshments were served by the officers of the class.

Series of Meetings Held

Evangelistic meetings began at the Evan. church last Sunday evening and will continue for two weeks. The pastor, Rev. Henning, is conducting his own meetings and urges that all will avail themselves of attending these meetings every night except Saturday.

Seniors Have Meeting

The Senior class in High School held their first business meeting recently and elected officers which resulted as follows: Pres., Arloene Janssen, Sec., Wilma Pals, Treas. Bonita Muller.

Beets Being Marketed

The lifting of sugar beets has begun in this vicinity and are being loaded out and shipped to the Mason City market.

MESERVEY LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Joe Stadtlander was numbered among the sick, several days last week.

Mrs. Wm. Gealow went to Belmond Friday for a short visit at the home of her mother, Mrs. Barbara Geitz.

L. B. Hulsebus of Dows was in town Friday calling on relatives and attending to business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Fischer and children Lyle and Lydia and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wendel motored to Waverly Friday to attend a play put on by the nurses of Allen Memorial Hospital, Waterloo.

Theo. Wendel and G. E. Raecker were in Mason City several days last week on jury duty.

The Meservey band met Friday evening for rehearsal and transaction of business. At a recent meeting the officers of the past year held over as follows: Pres. Oliver Sprau, Sec, and Treas., Miss Irena Butz. The Board of Directors is composed of the following: K. C. Ruigh, Franklin Fischer, Arloene Janssen, Oliver Sprau and Irena Butz.

Wm. Kaduce of Mason City visited at the T. Kaduce home the latter part of last week.

H. B. Frey and son Wilbert were transacting business in Mason City, Friday afternoon.

Wm. Eimbrink and family and Chas. Kienenberger of Belmond were calling on relatives here Friday. They were accompanied by J. Langlitz who had been visiting with relatives near Belmond and Goodell for a week.

Claude Clausen and family of Buffalo Center were over Sunday visitors at the Wm. Morris home.

Mrs. F. C. Sprau and daughters, Eva and Rozelle were callers at Mason City Saturday. Miss Eva attended a meeting of the Study Center.

Miss Irene Guth spent the week end with her parents returning Sunday to her work.

Mrs. H. B. Frey and son Wilbert, motored to Keister, Minn. Saturday where they visited relatives and friends over Sunday.

Albert Wendel and wife were over Sunday visitors with relatives at Waseca, Minn.

Miss Hilka Koop and Wm. Heern of Kamrar visited at the Muller home Sunday.

The following relatives spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Mary Butz. A sister, Mrs. Fred Pfaltzgraff and her son Carl Boockemeier and family of Dumont, Mrs. Arlo Pfaltzgraff and daughter of Hampton Mr. and Mrs. Eli Polk of Aredale and W. F. Butz and family of this place.

Miss Myrtle Cooper of Mason City was a Sunday visitor at the home of Harm Groen.

A. J. Nissen and family and Mr. and Mrs. S. Hulsebus drove to Dows Sunday afternoon and visited at the L. B. Hulsebush ome.

Irwin Nissen and children, Arlene and Ardell of Kamrar, were Sunday visitors at the home of his parents and at the A. Kolb home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paul and children Lowell and Elaine of Morristown, Minn., arrived at the home of the former's brother, C. F. W. and family, Sunday, and visited until the following day.

H. M. Taulbee and family accompanied by the Misses Roth and Watson were calling on relatives at Northwood Sunday.

E. A. Strasburg and A. J. Nissen hied themselves off in the early hours of Monday on a duck hunting expedition. E. A. says the banker managed to bring down one lone duck which he lost in the weeds but finally located. He said a lot of other things, but perhaps it will be best not to repeat them, although the druggist seemed willing to be held responsible for the statements. In our efforts to remember what these experiences of the hunters were, we forgot the number of ducks E. A. said he brought home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wendel attended a Red Cross meeting at Des Moines Tuesday.

Louis Peters and family of Alexander were Sunday visitors at the E. A. Strasburg home.

Mr. John Trey of Sibley, visited at the B. Frey home a few days the fore part of the week The men are cousins.

Mrs. Wm. Unverferth of Ft. Dodge came last week for a visit at the home of her brothers, Wm. Prelipp and with other relatives and friends.

Wm. Kaduce and family were in Mason City Sunday where the former was receiving medical treatment.

REDUCE KITCHEN TRAVELING

Housewives on too many Iowa farms appear to be engaged in the job of traveling rather than housekeeping. A conveniently arranged kitchen will do more to decrease the "mileage" of the farm housewife than any other single item, say home economics specialists at Iowa State College.

A step saving kitchen arrangement is one in which all articles used the oftenest are in the most convenient places and all articles used together are grouped together. These two rules are a basis for the removal of much drudgery from housekeeping.

The two processes carried on most frequently in the kitchen are meal preparing and meal clearing away. The equipment used together in meal preparation should therefore be grouped, likewise the meal clearing equipment.

In preparing meals, many steps may be saved by locating the necessary utensils and staple food materials storage places near the work table where the food is prepared. The work table ought to be near the range, altho this is not so important as the location of the utensils and food materials. If one does not have a kitchen cabinet, shelves arranged above the work table with screwed in cup hooks on the under sides are convenient.

The clearing away process may be made easier by arranging equipment so that as few steps as possible are needed in bringing dishes to the place where they are washed. A surface for stacking dishes after they are washed should be available and the dishes themselves should be drained at the right of the dishpan. The cupboard should be to the left of the draining board or pan and the dish towels should be conveniently close to the rest of the meal clearing paraphernalia.

Undertaking & Funeral Director

F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone--Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

Harry T. Smith

General Blacksmithing

Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding

Meservey, - Iowa

ATWATER KENT RADIO

Fresh "B" Batteries always on hand.

H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

FREE INSURANCE

Sometime ago one of our depositors called for his cancelled checks, stating that he needed them in order to convince his neighbor that he had already paid the debt owing him.

Our depositor then related an incident of how a farmer had paid a Medicine Wagon driver $4.70, which he claimed was not paid. The farmer produced the check which was evidence that it had been paid, thus saving him paying the bill twice.

We say "Free Insurance."

"Service and Safety"

Farmers Savings Bank
Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

HIGH QUALITY
BUILDING MATERIAL
Screen Doors and Window Screens—Mill Work—Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts and Poles
Cement — Lime
INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT
Wheat Bran – Oil Meal – Cotton Seed Meal, – Tankage – Salt
Highest Price Paid for Grain

Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

Camel

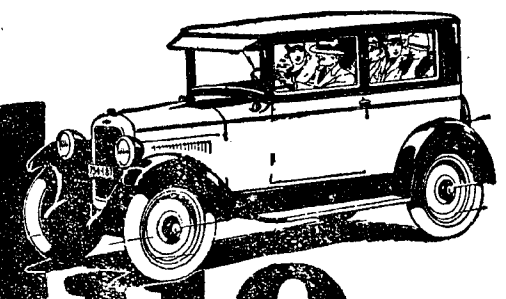
The cigarette that leads by billions

Just to state a great truth in another way—Camel is so exactly what so many smokers want that no other brand is even a close second.

If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.

© 1927, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

for Economical Transportation
CHEVROLET



Value that defies comparison!

Just think what Chevrolet offers you today!

A type of performance that is amazing—perfect comfort at every speed—flashing acceleration and remarkable handling ease—all the marvelous beauty of bodies by Fisher—finished in smart colors of genuine lustrous Duco—a motor world-famous for power and economy—in short, advanced modern design in every unit that results in the extreme of satisfactory economical transportation.

Because these cars are sold at amazing low prices, they embody the most outstanding motor car value in the world today—a value that defies comparison!

The COACH $595

The Touring or Roadster	$525
The Coupe	$625
The 4-Door Sedan	$695
The Sport Cabriolet	$715
The Imperial Landau	$745
½-Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	$395
1-Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	$495

All prices f. o. b. Flint Michigan

Check Chevrolet Delivered Prices

They include the lowest handling and financing charges available.

HUB MOTOR COMPANY
Belmond, Iowa

RAECKER CHEVROLET SALES COMPANY
Meservey, Iowa

QUALITY AT LOW COST

ROWAN ITEMS OF INTEREST

(Held over from last week.)

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vick of Warren, Ill., arrived Monday to visit Mrs. Vick's brother, Wm. Tressider and wife.

Quite a number from here attended conference at Webster City on Sunday. Among them were Earl Patton and family, Earl Sellers and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Sheldon, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hackley, Miss Nora Shafer, Mrs. Hannah Whitten, Vincent and Ruth Bounds, Nina Rietz.

Miss Margaret Jacobson who has been assisting at the S. B. Heath home has been quite ill with tonsilitis. She went to her home at Dows on Sunday to stay until she is better again.

Mrs. Hanah Whitten and William Baines returned last week from visiting their sister, Mrs. G. C. Tutin near Pierre, S. Dak. Mr. Baines returned to his home at Montgomery, Sunday. He has been visiting Mrs. Whitten for some time.

Miss Florence Box came Saturday morning to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. C. Box and other relatives. Miss Box has been in Detroit, Michigan, taking post graduate work in a hospital there. Her work will be that of administering anesthetics. She expects to depart soon for San Luis Obispo, Calif., where she will be employed in a hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Reed and family and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Stretch departed Sunday for their home in Coffee, Missouri, after spending a week at the home of Mr. Reed's sister, Mrs. Henry Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Reece had as their guests a few days last week, Mr. and Mrs. Finnigan and Mr. and Mrs. Polce of Muscatine. They were enroute hoem from visiting in Dakota.

Mrs. Dix of Hampton spent a few days last week with her friend, Mrs. Edgar Bingham. Mrs. Dix expects to go west for the winter in a short time. Her daughter, Mrs. Merle Brooks, resides in Oregon, and other relatives in California.

Roy Mitchum of Oskaloosa visited over Sunday at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Jennie Hackley and other relatives.

Mrs. Nels Olson and daughter, Mary, returned last week from a two weeks visit at the home of their daughter and sister, Mrs. Herman Tulp, at Wimbleton, No. Dak. They report no rain up there during their visit, which is considerably different from our Iowa weather during that period.

Mrs. Cliff Steffens departed by motor with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Johnson and baby of Dows, for a weeks visit at the home of the ladies' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Fletcher, at Bruce, Wisconsin.

W. G. Bingham has been suffering with a severe boil on his arm which has made him unable to do his work.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Mosher moved from the rooms they have occupied in the Mrs. Lula Emerson home, to a house in Dows, on Saturday.

J. W. Azeltine was a visitor in Waterloo the first of last week.

Harry Cain received word of the death of his uncle, John Cain, at Fort Dodge, last week. Mr. Cain had been suffering from heart trouble for several years.

Mrs. Etta Carr returned to her home on Wednesday after spending some time at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Miller, at Latimer.

Chas. Rowen visited in Marshalltown a few days last week.

Art Walker of West Concord, Minn., called on relatives Thursday enroute to Oswego, Kansas, to see his father who has been seriously ill for several months.

Mrs. Hannah Whitten returned from Indianola the last of the week where she had been as a delegate to the W. C. T. U. convention held there.

Miss Florence Box departed Friday for San Luis Obispo, Calif. where she will enter a hospital as administer of anesthetics.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Whitten and daughter Miss Gladys, spent Saturday visiting relatives in Webster City.

The small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fitz, east of town, has been very ill with spinal menengitis She is some improved at this writing.

Mrs. Howard Gates is doing jury duty at present. Her mother, Mrs. J. E. Miller of Clarion, is staying at the Gates home caring for the little girl.

Harry Cain went to Fenton the first of the week and brought back the remainder of Mr. Jones' household goods. We are glad to welcome Dr. Jones and his family to Rowan. We surely need and can easily support a doctor here. Dr. Jones comes here very highly recommended by the people of Fenton.

Darrell Stout and Dean Fitz moved their skating rink from Cornelia the first of the week and have stored it in the Keith garage for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Harris and Leland of Thornton, visited at the L. W. Stevenson home Friday evening.

E. S. Tway who travels for a school supply company was a week end visitor at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fletcher and John Fletcher of Dike spent several days the first of the week at the home of their sister, Mrs. G. W. Whitten and family.

Several of the teachers spent the week end out of town after attending the teachers insitute at Clarion on Thursday and Friday. Miss Gross went to Council Bluffs, Miss Lippert went with Miss Trask to her home near Eagle Grove, Miss Ruby at the Lew Tollackson home in Clarion and Mr. Swanson to his home in Swea City.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Thayer of Thornton spent Sunday at the parental J. E. Thomas home.

The Rolland Harris family moved in with Mrs. Allen Monday and Mr. and Mrs. Usher, the manager of the new store, moved into Mrs. Rowen's house, vacated by the Harris family.

Alfred Boyd, who worked in the Keith garage here a few years ago called at the Keith home last Thursday. He was returning from harvesting in the northern wheat fields, to his home in Centerville.

The farm home of the Rowen Brothers and Mrs. Jennie Rowen was the scene of a very pleasant family reunion Sunday in honor of Mrs. Jack Felton who is visiting here from the Falkland Islands. Those who attended from out of town were, Mrs. Lillie Peirce and Sam Farmer of Goldfield, Mrs. Cady Templeton, Mr. and Mrs. James Rowen and two daughters from Clarion, and Miss Nellie Pierce of Marshalltown. Those present from around here were: Mrs. Jennie Rowen, John and Charles Rowen, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fowler, Mrs. Georgia Rowen, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rowen and Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hyde and Mae, Mr. and Mrs. Lem Rowen, Mrs. Lula Emerson and Carl, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Bingham, Duane and Loretta. A bounteous dinner was served cafeteria style.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Ketchum entertained at a family dinner Friday evening in honor of their daughter, Miss Vey, the occasion being her birthday. Frank Osier of Clarion was the only guest besides the Ketchum family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kercheval and Fred Francis drove to Charles City Friday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hospins, friends of theirs. They returned home the first of the week.

The "Happy-Can-Does" Sunday School class of the Congregational church have chosen a three act play entitled, "The Path Across The Hills." They are working on this play and will give it in the near future.

Clint Kercheval and Elmer Bailey are reshingling the house on the Dix farm occupied by the Bailey family.

Esther Emerson and Pearl Hiams were home from I. S. T. C. at Cedar Falls, for the week end.

The High School gave a basket social and program at the school house last Tuesday evening, the proceeds to go as an athletic benefit. The sale of baskets brought them over ten dollars. Thelma Streveler was the winner among the ladies' beauty contest and Tommy Que among the men.

Dr. Jones purchased the other half of the drug business from R. Virden the first of the week, and now owns the entire business.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Rev. J. H. Bounds, Pastor

10:00 A. M.—Sunday School.
11:00 A. M.—Morning Worship.
6:45 P. M.—Epworth League.
7:30 P. M.—Evening Worship
7:30 P. M. Wednesday evening—Prayer Meeting.

Rev. W. H. Lease, Dist. Superintendent of the M. E. church, accompanied by Mrs. Lease and their daughter, Margaret, spent Saturday evening and Sunday in Rowan. On Sunday at the regular service Rev. Lease preached a splendid sermon on "Sacrifice." In the afternoon another service was held at which time he gave an exceptionally fine evangelisticsermon on "The Mastership of Jesus." Special music by the choir added to the beauty of both services. A covered dish luncheon was served in the church basement at noon.

A large crowd was in attendance throughout the day. An atmosphere of fellowship and worship prevailed which made the day one long to be remembered.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Guy Sheldon Mrs. D. A. French will bet he leader.

Thursday, Oct. 20th has been set for the annual dinner by the Ladies Aid Society. A twenty five cent dinner will be served at noon in the church basement. Everybody welcome.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. L. A. Marquardt, Pastor

10:30 A. M.—Sunday School.
11:30 A. M.—Morning worship. Subject, "God's Faithfulness"
3:00 P. M.—Junior Christian Endeavor.
6:30 P. M.—Senior Christian Endeavor.
7:30 P. M.—Evening worship. Subject, "God's Three Great Facts for Sinners."
7:30 P. M. Wednesday evening.—Prayer Meeting and Bible Study.
8:30 P. M. Wednesday evening.—Sunday School Council Meeting.
7:30 P. M. Thursday evening.—Choir practice.

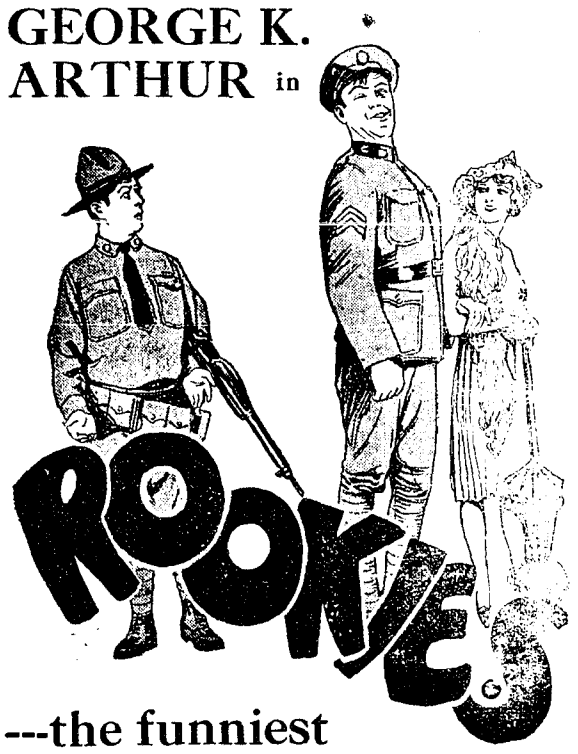
The Ladies Aid of the church will hold an all day meeting for the purpose of cleaning the church. All are urged to come for all day or part of the day. If not possible to come and work, please pay a quarter.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Dee Holbrook. A 15c lunch will be served with Mrs. G. Gunderson and Mrs. Peter Hanson assistant hostesses.

The Woman's Missionary Society will meet with Mrs. Virden Friday afternoon of this week. Leader Mrs. Ben Fanselow. There will be a Mite Box offering. Also books will close Oct. 15 for Home and Foreign apportionments.

---meet the world's greatest comedy team

KARL DANE
GEORGE K.
ARTHUR in



---the funniest picture ever made!

Six months in jail or a month in training camp! So he became a rookie—and what he learned was nobody's business!

Here is the funniest picture ever made! The loves and laughs and thrills of recruit-days are all here in a mighty barrage of entertainment! You'll learn about laughing from this one!

A SAM WOOD Production with MARCELINE DAY

Lyric Theatre, Belmond

MONDAY and TUESDAY, OCT. 17-18

Under Auspices of American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary

Two Shows Each Night

starting at 7:30 o'clock

Prices: Adults 30c
Children 10c

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer PICTURE

PUBLIC SALE

As I am quitting farming, I will sell at public auction at the Sumner Eldred place, 3½ miles northeast of Goodell, on Thursday, October 20th

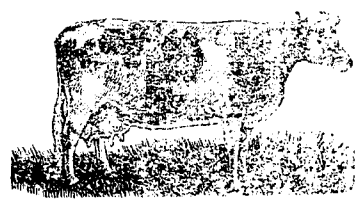
Commencing at 12:30 P. M.

8 - Head of Horses - 8

1 team mares, wt. 1400 each, 13 yrs. old
1 grey gelding 7 yrs. old, wt. 1500
1 bay mare 10 yrs. old, wt. 1400
1 bay mare 10 yrs, old, wt, 1200
1 sorrel horse 14 yrs. wt. 1300
1 sucking colt
1 yearling colt



32 Head of Cattle 32

9 milk cows, some fresh now, others will been soon; 1 2-yr.-old heifer, 13 yearlings, heifers and steers, 5 spring calves, 4 small calves

One Good Grade Boar, 1 year old

Farm Machinery, Etc.

1 sleigh
1 bobsled
1 hay rake
1 good binder
1 20-ft. harrow
1 endgate seeder
1 mower, Independent
2 good wagons with triple boxes, almost new
2 discs
1 grindstone
1 heating stove
2 good cultivators
2 good corn plows
1 hand corn sheller
About 12 tons timothy hay in stack
3 work harness
2 good scoop boards
1 set driving harness
1 Emerson sulky plow
1 LaCrosse sulky plow
1 corn planter with 80 rods of wire
Various other articles

Free Lunch at Noon

TERMS—All sums under $10, Cash. Over that amount 8 months' time will be given on approved security bearing 8 per cent interest. All property to be settled for day of sale.

A. J. WILKINS, Prop.

H. BRUMMOND, Auct. OWEN CONWELL, Clerk

NEWS ITEMS FROM GOODELL

Weck Robbins has been on the sick list the past week suffering with infection in one of his limbs. He is getting along better at this writing.

Mr. Langlitz of Meservey spent last week with his daughter, Mrs. Anton Boller.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson returned the fore part of last week from Rock Island, Ill., where they visited home folks the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Robbins who have been living in the Will Monaghen residence moved last week and will live with Lee's home folks.

Friends here received word last week from the O. A. Nelson family. They are living in Mankato, Minn. Mr. Nelson is Supt, of the school at North Mankato. The Nelsons formerly lived here, O. A. being the Supt. of the local school.

Floyd Anderson who came to see his father who has been quite sick left last week to resume his work at Fertile, Minn.

Corwith high school ball team came here Tuesday evening and played a game with our boys. The score resulted 3 to 2 in favor of the local team.

Mrs. Juhl of Crystal Lake spent Tuesday with her friend, Mrs. Will Tanner.

Mrs. Henry Christensen returned Tuesday from a week's visit with relatives at Waterloo. Mrs. Clara Schultz and daughter Nina, who have been at Waterloo for some time accompanied her home and are visiting relatives here.

The Landon and Frank Sandry girls came home Wednesday night from Belmond where they attend high school, as there was no school the remainder of the week, due to the county teachers' meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Bates of Garner spent Saturday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Will Tanner.

Miss Margaret Fuller went to Miller Friday and visited school. Her sister, Miss Agnes, is grammar room teacher there.

Rev. and Mrs. Scott autoed to Clarion Friday and met the latter's sister, Miss Summerville, who came from her home in Cumberland, Md., to visit the Scotts for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dominey and children of Estherville were over Sunday visitors with the Dave Finn and Dominey families.

Relatives and friends have received word from the Clarence Busick family that they have safely reached their new home in Oregon. They recently moved there making the trip in their car.

T. F. Matson and C. H. Conklin returned Tuesday to their work at Adel having been forced to lay off due to the bad weather.

John Christie, Daniel and Virgil Nolte spent Sunday of last week at Lyle, Minn., visiting the Naber family.

Misses Nettie Mason and Viola Finn spent Thursday and Friday at Clarion, attending the Wright County Teachers Institute.

Klemme and Goodell high school teams played ball Friday on the home field. Goodell won, the score being 6 to 4.

Dr. G. E. Snearly took John Meinders to Hampton Friday. The latter was very ill and when he submitted to an operation, his appendix had ruptured, he having been ill only about two hours.

Joe Heginger went to Hampton Monday and the following day underwent a successful operation. At this writing he is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Roland Estelle returned Tuesday from Ackley where she spent a week with her daughter, Mrs. George Wolfe.

Alf Weddle of California called on old friiends here Sunday. Mr. Weddle was Goodell's blacksmith about 30 years ago and has not visited here for over 20 years. He went to on Patton to visit his former acquaintances a longer visit.

Mr. Will Ruka who visited a few days at the home of his uncle, Geo. Ruka, returned the fore part of the week to his home at Phillips, Wis.

Mrs. Lester Bickett of Dinsdale, and Mrs. Will Dempsey of Belmond visited Saturday with Mrs. Harry Carpenter. These girls were classmates while attending high school at Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Sandberg and Edith autoed to Iowa Falls Sunday, to spend the day with the H. O. Sandberg family. They also visited the institution at Eldora.

Mrs. Louise Veeder of Belmond and daughter, Miss Mildred, who is primary teacher at Clarion, were Sunday guests at the J. E. Savogue home.

Robbers came some time Monday night and visited two business places The drug store was broken into and several expensive things taken. They also entered the garage taking two tires, a small amount of money and most of the best tools. The sheriff was summoned the next day and he is working to find the clue.

Tuesday afternoon about twenty-five lady friends gathered at the T. L. Ruka home and showered Clara Kirkwood with many useful kitchen utensils. They also brought well filed baskets and enjoyed a pleasant afternoon and delicious refreshments. The following Thursday night Goodell friends invited her to the Catholic church parlors and presented her with miscellaneous gifts, and served a fine lunch. Clara received many beautiful presents and we are beginning to believe that she will use them at an early date.

Mrs. Harry Carpenter, leader of the Otterbein Guild invited the sixteen members to her country home Thursday and entertained them to a six o'clock dinner, which the young ladies certainly enjoyed. They also held one of their meetings with Frae Alice Reed as leader. Part of the evening was spent in making candy to be sent to Miss Dorothea Okreug who is doing Missionary work in Porto Rico.

Several citizens from this locality spent days at Garner last week serving on the jury.

Mrs. Dorothy Christensen celebrated her seventy third birthday last Friday and in honor of the occasion her daughters and sons and wives invited a host of lady friends and gave her a surprise party. She was indeed surprised. Those present spent a pleasant time and Mrs. Christensen received many presents from her many friends. A tasty luncheon was served by the hostesses. Those from out of town to attend was her daughter, Mrs. Carroll Church of Clear Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Thompson of Belmond and daughter, Miss Ethel who works in the bank at Klemme were Sunday dinner guests at the A. C. Carpenter home.

The Henry Griffin family who formerly lived here and who have resided in Klemme for some time recently moved to the Arnold farm where they will work.

On Tuesday evening the groom's parents served a wedding dinner to the immediate relatives. Alyce has a host of rfiends here who extend happiest congragtulations to her and her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beier who are living at Manson autoed here Saturday and visited over Sunday at the former's parental home.

The annual farm bureau meeting will be held Saturday, Oct. 15, at the Colleseum at Britt. Mr. Hurst of Cedar Falls, the president of the Iowa Farm Bureau federation and Mrs. Van Bloom of Dayton, the tenth district committee woman will be the speaker. Annual election of officers will be held. It will be an all day meeting and a picnic dinner will be served at the noon hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Nebel, their son Elmer and wife of Hartley, spent a few days last week at the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. Newberger of Ventura spent Sunday with the latter's relatives.

Relatives have received word from Armstrong that Frank Quigley recently submitted to an operation for ulcers of the stomach, he being in the hospital at Estherville. At this writing he is getting along nicely.

Last Thursday at school the children were playing and Marjorie Avery fell on the steps, cutting her hands very badly.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Chase and her brother, John Sullivan, returned Monday from Ottumwa, where they had spent the week end with another brother, Mervin Sullivan and wife.

Harriet Scott became very ill Friday and became dangerously ill early Sunday morning. The doctor was summoned and she was taken to the Hampton hospital and underwent an operation for appendicitis Sunday evening. Her moher is staying with her and the family received word Monday that she was getting along as well as could be expected. Rev. Scott was unable to accompany them to the hospital as he is suffering with a wrenched back.

The Eli Hetland family accompanied by Miss Grace Liittchwager, autoed to Minnesota Friday to visit the former's relatives. They returned Sunday.

Miss Marie Given was unable to return to her school work Monday and asked to be off duty for about two weeks. Her mother is expected to live only a few days. Mrs. Hemenway's mother, Mrs. Hill is caring for her. The board is trying to get a substitute.

The O. F. Conwell family were week end visitors at Grand Junction at their parental homes.

Relatives from Marquette were over Sunday visitors at the Delger home. Mr. Delger and the men folks went to Sac County on Sunday and visited other relatives.

Mrs. Butts went to Dows Sunday to spend a couple weeks with her nieces.

Mrs. Anson Avery went to Britt Tuesday to attend her uncle's funeral. He was brought to Britt for burial from his home in Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Wigfield of Humboldt were Sunday guests with his sister, Mrs. Harve Christensen.

Mrs. Maggie Monaghen of Clear Lake is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Ruka and brother, D. M. Conlan.

Mrs. Ina Eldred, Verneda and Mrs. Abbott of Clear Lake spent Sunday at the Met Avery home. The Eldreds and Abbotts will go to California next month to spend the winter.

The Lloyd Bishop family autoed to Rockwell Sunday to sptnd the day with her brother.

Mrs. Maurice Dillon and Mrs. Harry Sorenson of Belmond came up from Belmond Thursday to attend the shower given in honor of the former's sister, Clara Kirkwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carpenter autoed to Mason City Saturday, where the former went to get machinery repairs. They remained and attended the evening show.

FOR YOUR
AUCTIONEER
CALL
H. BRUMMOND
KANAWHA, IOWA
PHONE 118

This Car has been carefully checked and reconditioned where necessary
- Motor
- Radiator
- Rear Axle
- Transmission
- Starting
- Lighting
- Ignition
- Battery
- Tires
- Upholstery
- Top
- Fenders
- Finish

OK by

CHEVROLET
USED CARS
with an OK that counts

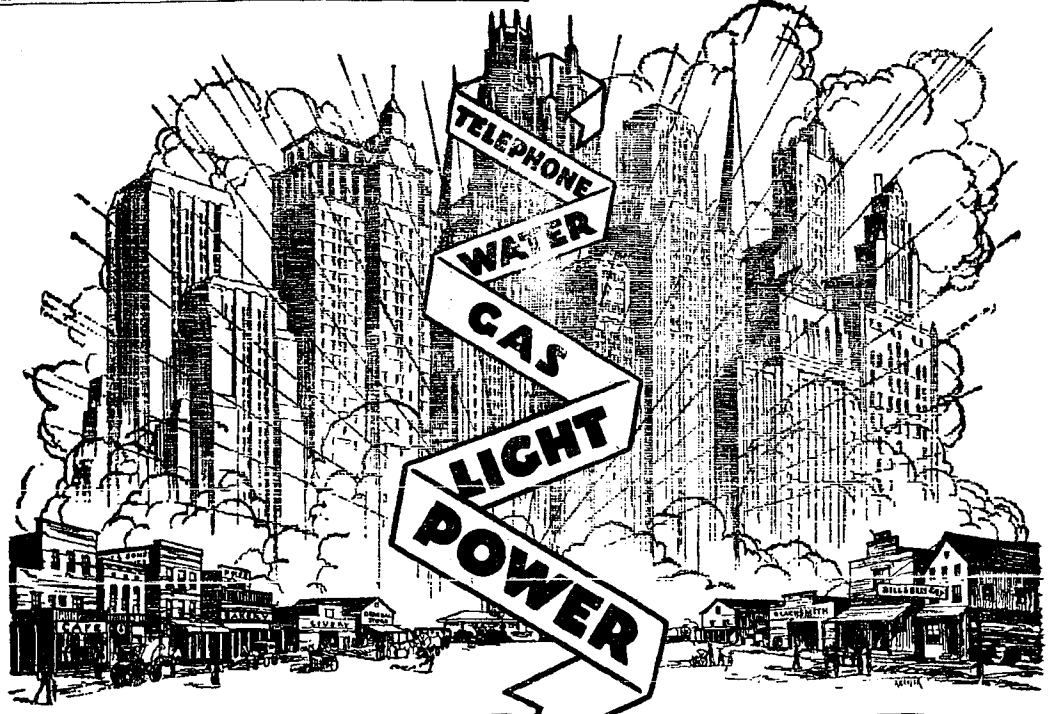
Look For The Red "O. K." Tag

After we have thoroughly reconditioned a used car, we attach a red "O. K." tag to the radiator cap.

This tag certifies that the vital units of the car have been gone over completely by expert mechanics and put in condition to give thousands of miles of additional service. It takes all the "guess-work" out of used car buying.

Look for this tag when you buy a used car—for it is your guarantee of quality and value!

HUB MOTOR COMPANY
Phone 39 Belmond, Iowa
QUALITY AT LOW COST



PROGRESS

THE story of America is a story of progress and the utility industry has written the most important chapter in the book.

Cities have grown because of their utility service and the utilities have grown with the city. You can see how that is. Every new-born babe is a future customer. Every new home demands some utility service—water, light, power, gas or telephone. If it is a city home it demands all five.

Hard times or prosperous times the utility industry goes on its way of progress. Its service is a necessity and the demand is steady. There is no industry like it. None so sure to grow.

YOUR COMPANY serves 145 cities and towns with one or more of these necessities. Its preferred stock now being offered locally has the stability and the soundness that is a feature of the whole industry where all large companies like yours have unbroken records of paid up dividends.

You can buy shares in blocks as small as $100, and you can even arrange to pay for them over a period of ten months. Any local employee will gladly give you the details.

Central West Public Service Company
A Subsidiary of the McGraw Electric Co.

He Felt so Dressed Up
When He Put on His New

Emery Shirts

that he forgot his suit and started out
to call on his girl!

SMITH & SKOVLIN
SERVICE SATISFACTION
PHONE 50 BELMOND, IOWA

Men Marooned

By GEORGE MARSH

Copyright by The Penn Publishing Co.
WNU Service

"Too tired," she protested, "an army nurse tired when there's a patient to take care of?"

"I know, but it's a bit dangerous, too," he said doubtfully. "Of course—I'd like to keep on—for his sake."

"Well, we'll keep on. It means making Elkwan hours sooner, doesn't it? And that counts. I can sleep on this sled. I'm almost asleep now."

"Thank you, Soldier!" he said, and stopped the team while he consulted

Watched the Murk Slowly Blot Out the Stars.

his compass. "If I could only see that shore—the boulders."

Guthrie left the sled, and fastening a long rawhide thong to Castor's collar, cried, "Haw, Castor! We're going ashore to see if we can stumble into those boulders."

But leading his team and at intervals stopping to examine the ice from his knees, to Guthrie's surprise the dogs traveled many hundred yards without reaching the drift and the shell ice of the shore. Was he deep in the mouth of the Kapiskau? And off shore?

He had been too careful to have drifted out toward Akimiski, yet he had traveled a mile straight into the shore without hitting it. The only possible solution was the wide mouth of the Kapiskau—and he had wished to avoid getting into the river—had hoped to pass well outside. Swinging the team into the northwest, he decided to travel by compass for another mile. That would bring him into the north shore, if he were inside the river mouth. It would also— He looked toward the invisible figure on the sled—the girl who had unreservedly placed herself in his hands—who had entered on this voyage of mercy, thoughtless of self. The hands inside his mittens shut convulsively, as a warning Etienne had once given him flashed across his memory. And he had brought her—the thing most precious in the world to Garth Guthrie—into this. Why had he not camped on the Big Willow?

For minutes Guthrie walked ahead of his team, praying for signs in the ice—a gray blur at his feet—of the proximity of the shore. Then—desperate, he stood on the tail of the sled and urged his dogs into a trot, as he checked them from circling with the luminous dial he held in his mitten. For a space Castor gingerly led the team into the black wall when through the murk sounded a brittle bark.

Aroused, the yelping huskies quickened their pace.

"Shot's found the shore—he smells something," cried Guthrie to the girl in front of him. "Queer, he barked, though!"

Again the rough voice of the airedale broke through the pit-like blackness. Castor answered. With a jerk the huskies started into a fast trot.

They had not traveled a hundred yards when, directly in front of the invisible team, sounded Shot's raw challenge. There was an impact of hard bodies, Castor's snarl of rage, Pollux's roar, followed by the bedlam of huskies fighting. Into the melee of enraged dogs tangled in their traces slid the sled. With the handle of his heavy dog-goad clubbed, the bewildered Guthrie ran to the rescue of the airedale, who for some inexplicable reason had attacked Castor. Mercilessly swinging the heavy butt of the whip, calling the dogs by name, he blindly fought to free the offending Shot from the knife-like fangs of Castor and Pollux. A heaving mass of snapping jaws, the huskies, mad with excitement, tripped, hampered by their traces, were slashing wildly in the dark at their enemy and each other.

At last, taking a slash which rippped the sleeve of his parka as he reached in, Garth got Shot's collar with one hand and lifting the struggling dog while he clubbed the others back, dragged him from the milling team. Attempting to follow, Castor fell stunned by a blow on the skull, and Guthrie was free from the infuriated team, unable, enmeshed in their traces, to drag the sled in pursuit of the airedale who fought in Guthrie's arms to return to the battle.

"Oh, what has happened?" called Joan Quarrier's frightened voice. "It was too awful. What started them?"

"It's all right. I've got Shot and he's not cut much. He'll cool off in a minute. For some reason he piled into Castor."

"Attacked Castor?"

Guthrie led his dog to the tail of the sled where he made him fast. "Yes, he must have bowled Castor over on the run. Of course that started the team. But it's so dark I doubt if any of them are hurt much. They couldn't see to strike—and their traces saved Shot. He's got two on the shoulder but they're not deep."

The girl was off the sled and soothing the airedale trembling with the heat of the fight.

"I'll straighten out the dogs now. They don't care for this whip-handle."

"I could hear the blows," she said. "It hurt, but I suppose it was the only way."

"They'd have killed Shot, if they once got him down. I had to get him out of it quickly," Guthrie explained, and calming his excited dogs, soon had them on their feet with straightened traces. Castor, Garth's favorite, who had taken the bulk of the blows, found the hand of his master with his tongue as he rubbed against Guthrie's leg. Garth rumpled the erect ears of the trembling Ungava.

"Poor old boy! It wasn't your fault, was it, if Shot went crazy? Don't blame you a bit, old man. I had to do it, but it's forgotten, isn't it? Yes, good old Castor!" With a pat of the massive skull, Garth went to soothe the still excited Pollux, and the rest.

But all the while his brain was busy with the strange action of the airedale. They were close to the beach. Shot had found—killed—something, and refused to share it with the approaching team. But why did he leave it?

With Shot lashed to the tail of the sled, and the heat of the combat cooled in the blood of the huskies through the soothing tones of the master's voice and the touch of his hand, Guthrie again called to his lead dog.

"Marche, Castor!"

As the sled started, the airedale broke into furious barking. Puzzled, Guthrie turned back. "What's the matter, Shot?"

The dog was clearly excited about something. With a whimper he rose on his hind legs and pawed the man's chest in dumb attempt to communicate the reason for his protest.

"What is it, old boy? What's over on that shore you don't want us to see?"

"Tell me, Shot," called the girl, and the dog left Guthrie to go to her but was stopped by his leash.

"It's more than queer," said Guthrie, "it's uncanny. Well, I've got to find that shore to make a fresh start. Now, Shot, be quiet, will you?"

Again the driver called, "Marche, Castor!"

The dogs leaned into their collars and the sled started, but from its tail rose the howls of the protesting Shot.

"Good Lord, I've got to look into this! I'll be back shortly." And, stopping his team, Garth walked into the murk.

He had advanced but a short distance, doubled over the ice, feeling his way with his moccasins, when he stopped, as a chill, like the touch of a cold wind, cut through him.

"Tide crack!" he gasped. Within a step of the gray blur of ice on which he stood, a black streak, fading into the enveloping gloom, barred his way. "We're in the river mouth . . . among the tide cracks—Etienne warned me! Shot—old Shot, God bless him—he knew!

Shot's actions were clear enough now. Coming upon the open water toward which the sled was hurrying, the airedale had returned on the bound, barking a warning as he came. Then, as the dogs came on at a trot, Shot had catapulted into Castor, starting a fight and—stopping the sled. Stunned, struck with remorse, Guthrie crouched on the lip of the gash in the river ice, into which dogs, sled—all of them, would have blindly plunged but for Shot's mad attack on the team. To have led her to this—a hideous death with the dogs drawn under by the drag of the sled. And Etienne had warned him of the tide cracks in the river mouths. He had intended making a wide swing around the Kapiskau, but in his search for the beach, had entered the river. But Shot, staunch old warrior that he was, had through some uncanny instinct sensed their danger and taken the only method of stopping the team. Putting her trust in Garth Guthrie, Shot had saved her. He turned back to the team, thrilled with pride in the dog who worried at his leash. The love of the man for his dog had been cemented by yet one more bond. Shot had saved her for Garth Guthrie!

"What did you find?" she asked as he reached the sled.

"I learned that we'll have to backtrack straight east," he said calmly.

"Why, aren't we heading for the shore?"

"Yes, but we've got to get out of this river. When I strike the sea-ice, I'm going to circle, hit the coast, and give you some rest."

"But we ought to keep on."

"Not in this blackness. It's as thick as Flemish rain in March. I've got to lead the team," he did not add, "to watch for water ahead."

Unleashing Shot, whom he hugged as he mumbled for a space into a hairy ear, Guthrie sent the airedale out as an advance patrol. He had found water once, he would find it again if they stumbled upon another tide crack. Leading Castor on a leash, he started straight east for the sea-ice.

For an hour they walked, Shot ranging ahead while Guthrie, bent forward, eyes on the ice and his compass dial, cautiously followed. Fearful of not yet having cleared the river mouth, he led his dogs for another hour, then circled into the northwest and found the shore above Kapiskau. There he fed his dogs, cut willow and alder, and with his cedar kindling got a fire going to boil the kettles. As soon as it lightened enough to follow the coast, they would start afresh for Elkwan. After the Kapiskau, the ten-mile delta of the Attawapiskat was not to be thought of.

As Joan Quarrier sat by the comforting heat in the willow thicket, Guthrie told her the story which he had kept from her while he groped through the water traps of the river mouth.

She sat with parted lips, her serious eyes suspiciously bright, as Garth explained why Shot had hurled himself on the team.

"And you never told me what you found when you left us!"

"Why scare you? It was bad enough as it was."

She shook her head in protest. "You call me a soldier, and treat me as a woman."

"You are a woman to me—too precious to take out on a night like this and drive into a tide crack," he replied, watching the light of the fire play on her brooding eyes.

For answer she called: "Come here, Shot—to me. I want to kiss you."

The airedale rose, stretched, yawned, and wagged his way to her. "There," I'll never forget what you did tonight. You deserve the V. C."

With a grunt, Shot thrust his nose toward her hood.

"Look out, he's trying to return the kiss," warned the man who envied his dog.

Her white teeth flashed in amusement. "You may, Shotty, on the cheek, for you're a brave and gallant gentleman."

"And the other brave and gallant gentlemen—are they to be ignored? Aren't Castor and Pollux, and—their brave and gallant master, to share in your salute, oh, mon general?"

"This general decorates but one hero tonight and that is Shot," she replied archly. "His devotion has been proved."

"And mine?"

She would not meet his eyes. "Oh, my friend," she parried, "we have work before us—a bitter fight for the life of a brave man. Why think of ourselves?"

In the lee of the sled, tipped on its side, its canvas cover stretched above her like a shed tent to reflect the heat of the fire, Joan Quarrier slept, warm in her robes, until waked by the cracking of the fire at dawn.

"Good morning, Healer of Wounds. The tea is almost ready; the bacon done; the bread cut. Will you wash your face and hands in the snow, and partake of the bounties set before you on these beautiful plates of tin?"

Through sleepy eyes the girl smiled up at the man who had labored for her comfort. "You are very good to your passenger, Mr. Exile. I shall recommend this line to all who contemplate a night voyage up this coast."

"We ought to make Elkwan by noon. I wonder what we'll find," he said, pouring the hot tea.

"Whatever we find, Maj. Garth Guthrie, you have squared your debt.

"But I Almost Lost You."

No man could have done more for his friend."

"But I almost lost you—"

"That would have been the fortune of war."

"And the irony of fate, with Etienne and poor Galbraith waiting up there at Elkwan for two who never came."

CHAPTER XIII

At noon, that day, a lone figure stood in the snow on the clearing at Elkwan and searched the river-ice below the post. With a dubious shake of the head, Etienne returned to Old Anne and his wife, waiting in Guthrie's quarters.

"Ver' black night; hard to follow de shore. Something happen to M'sieu' Guthrie. Mebbe de woman not come wid heem."

"She come," insisted Old Anne. "She come w'en he ask. She come."

"Dat McDonal', he ver' seek man. She breeng de med-ccene eef she come. I go an' have a look at de trail."

Again Etienne stood on the cliff above the white Elkwan and watched for the moving spot on the ice, which would mark the approaching team. Disappointed, he was about to return to the women in the house when his keen eyes suddenly lit with excitement. Far on the white shell of the river seemed to move a black spot. For a space the half-breed studied the barely distinguishable object. Then he trotted to the quarters.

"Dey come!" he cried to the waiting women. "Dey turn de beeg islan'."

When the huskies that had traveled forty miles since daylight drew in to the cliff trail at a slow walk, Guthrie hurried to the waiting Etienne with the demand: "You got him here? He's alive?"

The half-breed nodded, then with a wide grin turned to the girl on the sled. "'Allo! You welcome to Elkwan, ma'm'selle!" as he assisted her out of the robes.

"I'm mighty glad to see you, Etienne. How are Marie and the chicks, and dear Old Anne?"

"Oh, ver' fine, t'anks. You have hard ride las' night?"

Joan and Garth exchanged smiles. "We surely did," replied Guthrie. "We camped at the Kapiskau."

"At de Kapiskau?"

Guthrie's thoughts were of the man at his quarters and he did not explain. With Joan and Savanne he hurried across the clearing.

"Well?" he questioned, as the army nurse finished taking the pulse and temperature of the man whose rough breathing filled the room.

Without answering she placed her ear to the broad chest of the man muttering in delirium. After a space she turned to the waiting Guthrie with puzzled eyes.

"I don't quite understand. Pulse almost normal, temperature only 101, respiration not high, and yet he's developed pneumonia in one lung. I can easily hear the rales!"

"You mean he has beaten the flu?"

"I think so; he's so strong. But pneumonia—"

"It hits the big men hardest," he said gloomily.

Joan gave the patient a hypodermic of strychnia and left the room to make some gruel.

"Craig Galbraith — Laughing McDonald" mused Guthrie aloud. "You gave all you had for Canada, and now Canada hunts you because a woman without eyes could see only your scars."

On her return with the nourishment, Joan found Guthrie still gazing with somber eyes at his friend.

With her well-equipped medicine kit, and her wide experience with influenza and pneumonia cases in the army, Joan Quarrier gave immediate battle for the life dependent on her care. But the problem confronting Guthrie was more complex. What was to become of Galbraith if he lived? Cameron would waste no time in taking possession of the schooner and its valuable cargo, which he would hold for the disposition of the authorities at Ottawa. But the schooner and cargo belonged to the estates of the dead men. McDonald was officially dead. He, a hunted man, could not claim it. Who, beside his wife, were his heirs? Garth did not know.

Then Cameron had said the police were coming shortly to the bay in search of the man who called himself McDonald. Failing to find McDonald's body, which Garth said he had seen on the boat, they would naturally come to Elkwan to talk to the man who brought the news to Albany. If Craig lived, he would be weeks in bed, recovering his strength. Where could they hide a man needing constant care if a police dog-team appeared on the ice below the post? Etienne could be hustled into bed and bandaged to corroborate the story told to Cameron, but Galbraith—what of him? Accessory though it made him to the crime of his friend, the gray eyes of Guthrie hardened at the thought of Galbraith, V. C., Galbraith the trench-raider, whose name was known the length of the British front, being hounded down in his dire extremity. Garth laughed as he pictured the police attempting to take Laughing McDonald on his schooner in the fullness of his strength—McDonald Ha! Ha! and the bearded mate who limped, with Lewis guns and the snipers' rifles they had slept with for four years.

And Joan—he had made her an accessory as well; asked her to nurse a man she knew, now, was wanted for murder. How was he to square his conscience with that? To pay his debt to Galbraith he not only had asked her to throw her reputation to the winds, but to defy the law—Joan Quarrier, who had stepped into his life to become his world.

It stripped down to this: If the police found Galbraith at Elkwan Garth Guthrie was done. Cameron might fix it with the company, but the authorities would be merciless. Then the smug Charles could revel in his "I told you sos," and Ethel—he had not thought of Ethel, whose Christmas letters he had not answered, since he found Joan Quarrier on the Albany clearing—she could thank Heaven for her lucky escape.

"But the police won't find him at Elkwan!" Guthrie rasped through his teeth, and went to the trade-house to make his plans with Etienne.

"Did you have any trouble getting him up here?" Guthrie asked.

"No, he holler some, but he was lashed in good."

Then Guthrie explained the part Etienne was to play when the police appeared. They would want to interview him, and must find him in bed, a sick man. Accordingly, he must have the bandages, which Miss Quarrier would prepare at once, ready to put on. The children would have to be coached and kept out of the way.

"Have you ever been badly hurt, Etienne?"

The half-breed smiled and opening his shirts, drew them back, baring a long scar across the muscular chest.

"At Henley house, at de New Year dance, I get dis, manee year ago. I was ver' seek man. I know. W'en poleece dey come, I be ver' seek man once more."

Guthrie laughed outright at the gravity of his head man.

"Trust you, Etienne, to act your part anywhere! Now if we could only keep them away from my quarters, but I've got to feed them there. That's where the danger lies. He may make a noise. He'll have to have an opiate to keep him quiet. If they hear him, it's all up with us."

Savanne took the pipe from his mouth and leaned toward his chief, the muscles in his swart face knotted with the intensity of his feeling. For a space the two men hardly breathed as the narrowed eyes of the half-breed bored into Guthrie's quizzical guze. Then Etienne said slowly: "You are good frien' to me an' my familee. I feex dese poleece—if you—say so."

Slowly, as he read the stark sincerity of the offer in the other's face—sensed that his friend of the dusky skin was bringing to the altar of their friendship the supreme gift, the hazard of his life, Guthrie's eyes softened with the affection which two years of river and coast and trail with Etienne Savanne had kindled. He reached out a long arm and took the sinewy hand of the other.

"I won't forget—my friend."

The swart face of the half-breed lit with pride at the words, then turning away, he threw over his shoulder: "I get de bandage from M'a'mselle Quarrier an' show Marie how to mak' good nurse."

* * * * * * *

"His temperature's risen to 103. I can hear it in the other lung now."

Joan Quarrier entered the living room, from which Old Anne had taken the supper dishes.

"Double pneumonia!" Guthrie muttered. "Not a chance, after the flu, is there? Poor old Craig! We've done what we could."

She raised her eyes to the man who slouched, head in hands, elbows on knees. "Friendship is a very real thing to you."

He looked up. "Yes, so real that without a thought of the cost to you, I brought you into this—"

"That was rather a fine compliment to me, Mr. Exile, that you should feel sure of me—know that I would come."

"I thought only of him—of what I owed him." For an interval he was silent, then continued with a look that brought the blood to her face: "You?—I knew you would come—when you understood. But it was unfair—wrong."

"Why wrong?" she demurred. "Etienne or this man, what did it matter? You needed me to help you and I came."

"But I've done worse still. If the police find him here, you'll be subject to the law—an accessory. I did not think. I was mad, but I want to get you out of this before it's too late. I'll take you to Albany tomorrow."

As Joan Quarrier stared at the speaker, her surprise slowly shifted to anger. The dark eyes lit with a look new to the man who watched.

"You mean that? You think I'd desert him, dying, your friend?"

He shrugged hopelessly in the face of her determination. "You're in a false position. I had no right—"

"Stop!" she commanded, raising her hand in finality. "Now, if they come, what will you do?"

For a space he could not answer, swept by a wave of pride in the staunchness of the girl of whom he had asked so much.

"I've got to feed them here. Can you keep him under an opiate?"

"Yes, he's under one now. If he grows delirious, as some do, he'll injure himself—try to get up. We'll have to keep him lashed to the bed."

"I'll get them over to the trade-house as soon as they eat. They may not stay more than a night, but when they fail to find his body at the schooner, they'll want to see me."

"I gave Etienne his bandages and showed Marie how to adjust them."

"What a wonderful coconspirator you are, Healer of Wounds! How am I ever to repay you?" He sat from habit with the unmarred left side of his face quartering on the girl. Suddenly she straightened, startling him with the tenseness of her look.

"Why do you sit that way?" she demanded angrily.

"What—what do you mean?" he asked, confused by her tone.

"You treat me as if I were—oh, like the one he came back to." She pointed toward the adjacent sickroom.

(Continued next week.)

ALEXANDER NEWS NOTES

Miss Mildred Barth spent the week end with her parents at Latimer.

Misses Esther and Velma Larsen of Spencer are spending a week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Larsen and other relatives here.

Fred L. Greenfield was a business caller at Belmond Saturday.

Mrs. P. C. Bohlen with her sister Mrs. Minnie Tucker and daughter, Lillie of Long Beach, California, went to DeSmet, S. D., Saturday for a visit with their sister, Mrs. William Krueger and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Claas Symens and Mr. and Mrs. Hilko Pals were business callers in Hampton Saturday evening.

Miss Maud Gordon of Mason City was a visitor at the Fred Dunn home over Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hardy and family of Hampton were Sunday visitors at the Nels Larsen home.

Fred Greenfield and son Frederick and Misses Sylverne Helland, and Vernona Goettsch were callers at Dows, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wenzel are the parents of a boy baby born Oct. 5.

Mr. and Mrs. John Weik, and Mr. and Mrs. Russel Perry and son of Kensett were Sunday visitors at the Forrest Gillet home.

Miss Mary Helmick of LuVerne spent the week end with her friend Miss Coryl Husband.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Webb and son Robert of Chapin were Sunday visitors at the Fred L. Greenfield home.

Dick Blau and friends Miss Melba Tucker visited at the Ed Tucker home near Hansell Sunday.

Carl Bohlen and sons Burton and Myron were business callers at Mason City Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schult, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schulte, Jr. and family spent Sunday at the Fred Frohling home near Belmond.

Mrs. W. P. Aldinger returned home Saturday from the hospital at Hampton where she underwent an operation two weeks ago.

Miss Alyce Peters of Holland visited at her parental home, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Peters over Sunday.

Miss Ruth Beenen spent the week nd with home folks. Miss Ruth is teaching near Holland this year.

At the meeting of the United Aid society Wednesday afternoon, the following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. Art Peters, president; Mrs. Otto Keislich, vice president; Mrs. Fred Greenfiled, treasurer. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, Oct. 19, with Mrs. Louie Peters and Mrs. Fred Greenfield hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dunn were Mason City callers Monday morning.

Miss Wilma Hemmes of Latimer was a visitor at the George Blau home Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schulte and children were callers at Belmond Saturday evening.

Mrs. A. Simpson and son and daughter, Fae and Hattie, and John Simpson and son Ralph of Iowa Falls were visitors at the Lyle Hall home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ammerman of Mason City were home visitors at the Will Ammerman residence Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jelto Beenken and son Henry were business callers at Belmond Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Blau were calling in Latimer Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cleveland of Forest City visited a few days the past week at the C. B. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hemmes and children of Latimer were Sunday evening visitors at the George Blau home.

Mrs. Annabel Overman of Hampton was visiting at the home of her niece Mrs. Forrest Gillet over Sunday.

ALEXANDER HIGH SCHOOL

The high school on Monday, Oct. 3, organized into two literary societies, the Philomathean and the Alethean, and elected officers. The officers of the Alethean society are: President, Joe Pals; vice president, Lela Larsen; Secretary-treasurer, Robert Rodemeyer. Officers who were appointed are: Sergeant-at-arms, Allyn Hagen. Program committee, Wilbur Latham, Leona Barkema, and Leona Wenzel. Advisor, Miss Shenkle; Critic, Miss Seeds; For the Philomathean Society the officers chosen are: President, Pearl Thompson; vice president, Harold Packard; secretary-treasurer, La Vonne Ingraham. The appointed officers are: Sergeant-at-arms, Willard Lathem; program committee, Mildred Barth, Gordon and Mirian Packard. The advisor is Miss Goettsch and the critic is Supt. Gaulke.

Fire drill was practiced Friday, Oct. 7. At the sound of the gong, all of the pupils in the building hurried out without any confusion.

Perhaps the Yankees were very happy in winning the world series championship in baseball, but we doubt if they were as happy as our local team when they defeated the Popejoy boys last Friday 8 to 6. This is also very noteworthy because it is the first baseball game that has ever been won by an Alexander High School team. Let's keep it up.

The school orchestra is certainly on the boom. We will have more to say about that later.

The class in Agriculture have been making a thorough study of corn, the last few weeks, making various drawings of the seed, the plant, also studying the various methods of selecting good corn and finally each pupil in the class will put on a display of the best ten ear sample they have selected.

The six weeks report cards will go out Wednesday, Oct. 19th.

LOCAL NEWS

A pleasant surprise was given Miss Evelyn Grenwood by several of her friends, Wednesday evening, Oct. 5, the occasion being her birthday. Refreshments were served and a good time enjoyed.

Mrs. E. L. Warneke and children of Webster City, visited her mother, Mrs. Dora Buchanan, Sunday.

Mrs. G. F. McBurney was hostess to the Priscilla Club, Wednesday.

Chicken Supper at the M. E. church today, Thursday, beginning at 5:30 p. m. Everyone invited.

Rev. and Mrs. VanMetre of Garner celebrated their silver anniversary, Saturday, in the church parlors, which were beautifully decorated for the occasion, a bounteous dinner was served, and the guests presented with a silver purse of $25.

Get your Sunday's food at the Catholic Ladies Food Sale Saturday, Oct. 15, at Fetrow's Cream Station. Sale starts at 10 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Madsen and Mrs. Powers of Humboldt were guests Thursday at the H. F. Peterson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jenings motored to Minnesota, last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wolle and daughter, Miss Berenetas, spent Sunday with the Fyler family at Charles City.

H. F. Peterson, Bert Anfinson, Cort Morse and Cato Griesy were among the party who left early Sunday morning on a fishing trip to Minnesota.

Thursday evening at the Congregational church, Rev. Isely gave an address on missionary work in Turkey. Rev. Kent, assistant state superintendent, was also present and gave a brief outline of his work.

The subject for the P. T. A. meeting, which will be held next week, will be "Happiness." Mrs. W. R. Ramsay will be leader and it is hoped that a great many will be out so that there will be an interesting discussion on the spirit of happiness in the home and school.

Food Sale Saturday, Oct. 15, by the Catholic ladies at Fetrows Shop. Sale starts at 10 a. m.

The Trinity Lutheran Ladies Aid will hold their annual Bazaar and Supper Saturday, Nov. 19. 485

An item overlooked last week was that of the M. E. Aid annual chicken supper tonight, at the church basement.

M. W. A. DANCE TONIGHT

The Modern Woodmen of America will hold a dance in the Belmond Opera House tonight, Oct. 13, instead of in their hall as originally arranged. Everybody welcome. Music by Smith's Orchestra.

SCHOOL NOTES

(Continued from page one.)

the kindergarten roll, Junior Lobdell, who entered Sept. 26.

Mrs. Ray Klemme spent an enjoyable afternoon visiting the second grade on Friday.

Ulala Sullivan left with her parents for California last week.

Although Gladys Nissen is slowly improving, she is still absent from school.

Mrs. Varland visited the fifth and sixth grades last Tuesday.

Mrs. Goelz visited the sixth grade Thursday.

Junior High Notes

The eighth grade is working on some Health posters in Hygiene this week.

For the last six weeks Mona Schmidt has had a perfect spelling record in Junior High. Ruth Courson and Herman Dorenkamp of the eighth grade and Maxine Nordschow of the seventh grade have missed only one word during the six weeks.

There will be a Junior High Assembly Wednesday in the High School auditorium. Miss Quigley's History class will have charge of the program. Since Wednesday is Columbus Day, the meeting will be based on History.

The girls and boys of the Junior High have begun again this year their work in Penmanship. Those who received their Merit Buttons last year will start work for their Palmer Method Certificates.

A meeting was called Monday morning by the President of the Healthy Wealthy Club. The report was as follows: eighth grade saved $10.69, seventh grade $10.80. The seventh grade have 8 who have perfect teeth records, and the eighth grade have 12. The savings report was not as large this week, due to the fact that the first week's report was over four weeks and this was only over one week. The 7th grade have an increase of four in the teeth record, while the 8th grade have only one. During the first week the 8th grade had 5 who did not brush their teeth at all, and this week, 2. The 7th grade had 14 the first week and 9 the second week. This shows improvement. We are sure that everyone is striving hard to make this club a success.

Coach Hall has taken advantage of the open date in the football to get the boys in shape for the game at Eagle Grove this week Friday. With the continued work shown this week the boys should give a good account of themselves when they clash with the Eaglets.

Due to the fact that Kanawha cancelled their game with Belmond, Lake Mills has been secured to take the date and will play on the Belmond field, Oct. 21st. Due to scarcity of material and the fact that available material did not appear for practice, Kanawha has cancelled all the games on their schedule. Local fans will regret the fact that Kanawha will not play here as the game is always a good drawing card and the team had hopes of evening the score from last year, however Coach Hall feels fortunate in being able to fill the date with Lake Mills. The next home game will be with Britt Oct. 21.

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—P. B. Chester White boars of the big stretchy type; also three fall boars. New blood lines for old cutsomers; cholera immune. —Erith Cook. Farm located 3 3-4 miles northwest of Kanawha, Rt. 2. 48-1

FOR SALE — Spotted Poland China boar pigs, weighing from 150 to 225 lbs., cholera immune.—C. Edwin Johnson, Kanawha, 3 miles south, 1-34 miles west. 48-2

FOR SALE—Windmill Oil. Just received a barrel of Special Windmill Oil. Can sell at 75c per gallon, or will oil your mill at a nominal price. Better have your mill looked after before cold weather. Agent for Aermotor, Woodmanse and Stover-Sampson mills.—Julius Olsen. Phone 245. 482*

FOR SALE—"No Hunting" Signs at the Independent. 25c each, $1 for six, $1.75 a dozen. 472

FOR SALE—Two P. C. Black boars. Papers furnished.—Leonard Johnson. 482*

FOR SALE—Big Type Poland China male hogs, farrowed in March. Cholera immune. Gotlieb Lauster. Phone Meservey 4814. 47tf

FOR SALE or RENT—Modern seven-room house, full basement, near creamery.—E. A. Pierce. 46tf

FOR SALE—Spring boars, 50 to 80 per cent white, fine type lot.—Roy Jenison. Phone 1811. 43tf

FOR SALE—Modern home. Want to sell this fall. Address L, care of Independent, Belmond, Iowa. 482c

FOR SALE — Chevrolet heater. Phone 71. 1c

FOR SALE—White Rock pullets, March hatch. Also some year old hens. Inquire at Independent. 1c

WANTED

WANTED—Farmer, farmers son, or man with auto, for country, (men and women for cities) to engage in permanent business. Big daily profits, capital unnecessary. H. S. Shipe, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. 483*

WANTED — To buy chickens. Highest market price. Phone Belmond 3403, or Kanawha 6, and we will call.—Olaf Store, J. R. Kirk, Prop. 464*

WANTED—Housekeeper on farm. Inquire at Independent. 1*

Poultry Wanted

We will call to buy your poultry and will pay you the highest market price. Poultry weighed and paid for at your place. Just call Geo. Coburn, Cornelia. Clarion phone 61-31. Belmond phone 3817. 47tf

Don't forget. Ludeke's Hog Sale, Saturday, Oct. 15, at Klemme, Iowa.

1926 Chevrolet Sedan for sale at Hub Motor Co.

Buy late 1925 Chevrolet Coach, mileage less than 7000, at Hub Motor Co. Price right.

Let the Farmers' Shipping Association ship your live stock. Notify M. F. Christie.

Pancakes!

There isn't anything that quite fills the bill for breakfast like good pancakes. We serve them every morning—and you'll find they are good. Try our delicious pancake breakfasts!

MEALS LUNCHES
SHORT ORDERS
ICE CREAM CANDY
CIGARS TOBACCO

Look for the Red Light!

RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

All Children's HATS
ON SALE
At Two Prices
$1.50 and $1.95
WE STILL HAVE COATS AND DRESSES

New Silk and Velvet Hats

The Hat Shoppe
Belmond, Iowa

ROBINSONS
... STORE ...

BAKERY
GROCERY

Our Peaberry coffee is good.

We have Celon Tea at 60c, and Oolong Tea at 50c.

Strawberry, Raspberry jam, full qt. ---------- 35c
Quick Naptha Soap, 10 bars --- 35c
Soap Chips, 23 oz. pkg. ------- 25c
Box Sunbright free.
Van Camps Pork and beans, medium sized can ---------- 10c
Van Camps beans, large can --- 20c
Bean Hole Beans, medium sized cans, 2 for ---------- 25c
Fig Bars, fresh and good 2 lb.. 25c
No. 1 Soft shell walnuts ------ 30c
White Maple flour, guaranteed, 49 lb. ---------- $2.20
Mince Meat in bulk, lb. ------- 25c
Fruit Jello, 3 pkg. ---------- 25c

A new shipment of dolls have arrived. They are beauties, at 97c.

Lyric Theatre
...Geo. Hake, Manager...

SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS

FRIDAY and SATURDAY
OCTOBER 14 and 15

"A Hero On Horseback"

Universal picture with Hoot Gibson, Ethlyne Clair, Edwards Davis, Edward Hearn, Dan Mason. Screen version of Peter B. Kyne's story, 'Bread upon the Waters.' The story of a banker who was a good cow-puncher.

"HALF PINT HERO"
Educational comedy
10c and 25c

MONDAY, TUESDAY
OCTOBER 17 and 18

"Rookies"

Metro Goldwyn production with Karl Dane, Geo. K. Arthur, Marceline Day, Louise Lorraine, Frank Currier. The background of the story is the citizens' military training camp. Drills, athletics, sham battles, runaway army balloons, daring dives are plentiful, besides romance, thrills and laughs.

Fox News
10c and 30c

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY,
OCTOBER 19 and 20

"Cheating Cheaters"

Universal picture with Betty Compson, and Kenneth Harlan. A crook play with an amazing and baffling plot.

"RUMORS FOR RENT"
Helen and Warren comedy
10c and 25c

The
FOSS CLEANING SHOP
Solicits your patronage in
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Located West of the Foss Shoe Shop

All Work Guaranteed

We will appreciate your Trial Offer

FOSS CLEANING SHOP
Louis Foss, Prop.
Phone 70 Belmond, Iowa

NEXT!

IT'S been several YEARS now since it
WAS safe to cuss in a
BARBER shop, but one
OF our local barbers
CAME very nearly doing
IT yesterday—he had a
LADY in the chair
WHO wanted a haircut,
AND he was thinking
ABOUT something else
WE suppose—anyway he
LET the chair back
AND was just getting READY to lather her
FACE when she gave
THE alarm!
BUT, changing the SUBJECT, we wish you'd
DROP in at the store
HERE and see how
WE'VE shaved the prices
ON our line of EDISON Phonographs.
(WE have sold two this week).
AND on records—4 Victor
RECORDS for $1.
3 Edison black faced records $1.
NEXT time
YOU'RE past this way,
COME in—or better yet,
MAKE an extra trip—
IT will be well
WORTH your while.
P. S.—Decorate now for WINTER months. We have
SOME good values in
WALL paper. Come in and LOOK them over. Don't FORGET that we carry a
COMPLETE line of paints,
VARNISHES, Alabastine,
AND Frescoat.
SATURDAY Special on
BOX paper. 29 cents and 49 cents per box.

Herman L. Schultz

SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

Mule-O-Grams

Uncle Ned says that the only good luck he had this summer was a leak in the roof right over the kitchen sink. You too may have a leak in your roof but if you are nt as lucky as Uncle Ned you ought to see us for some MULE HIDE WATERPROOF PAINT and fix up that leak at once.

Our yard man says he's been using a magnifying glass ever since the time he mistook a lighted cigarette in the dark for a key-hole.

Right now is the right time for doing the right thing. The right thing to do right now is to order your coal from us while prices are still down.

Mabel: "Are you a sailor's sweetheart?"

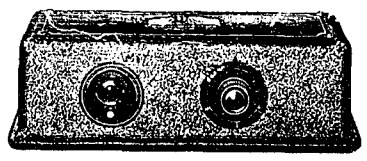
Anne: "No, I don't like salt with my mush."

In Chicago a barrel of beer costs 3 to make and sells at $60, leaving $57 for ammunition.

A quick-witted man is Michael McGuire,
He spit on his chin when his whiskers caught fire.

Nels Stockseth is planning on making harness out of Mule Hide roofing for his horses.

BELMOND LUMBER COMPANY
M. H. Hanson, Mgr.
Phone 101 BELMOND, IOWA



A COMPLETE STOCK OF

Atwater Kent Radios and Power Units

ARE NOW ON DISPLAY IN OUR STORE

A large variety of models to choose from, and prices that you can afford to pay.

Come in and look over our line, and let us give you a demonstration.

Five years exclusive
Atwater Kent dealer in Belmond

BELMOND STORAGE BATTERY CO.
Phone 46 J. W. Scott, Prop.

CITY MARKET'S SPECIALS!

Friday - Saturday
OCTOBER 14-15

Beef Roast, per pound 18c
Bacon Nuggets, per pound 22c
Elgin Oleo, Per Lb. 23c

Watch for Our Specials Every Week!

Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning

City Meat Market
Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207. Belmond, Iowa

ANNOUNCEMENT!

I have taken over the Veterinary Practice and Business formerly conducted by Dr. F. A. Bonnstetter, and respectfully solicit a continuation of your patronage in that line.

Office quarters and phone remain the same.

I am a graduate of the Veterinarian Course of Iowa State College, Ames, and have had practical experience and practice since completing the state course. Your patronage will be appreciated, and all calls, night or day, answered promptly.

POULTRY DISEASES A SPECIALTY

DR. R. T. COE
VETERINARIAN
Phone 23 Belmond, Iowa

Belmond Independent

ESTABLISHED 1919 AND HERALD-PRESS CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 8 BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1927 NO. 49

Belmond Will Meet Lake Mills Friday On The Local Field

Second Home Game To See Two Evenly Matcher And Determined Teams

Report cards for the first six weeks period of school have been given out during the week. Parents will find that a number of new items are added to the report cards this year.

An entirely new card is being used in the kindergarten. This carl presents a more inclusive report than the former card did. In the grades the term 'School Citizenship' is used instead of 'Deportment' as the former term is more inclusive than the latter.

In both the High School and Grade report cards, the terms Industry, Co-Operation, and Attention have been added. A check mark placed in the space after one of these items will indicate to the parents the places where improvement can be made. In this way Superintendent Williams and the teachers feel parents will get a more complete report of the school and in some cases will find the cause of poor reprts. The term Co-operation is used to designate willingness on the part of the pupil to follow out suggestions and regulations in the school, to take pride in his room, building, and grounds, and to make conditions agreeable for others to work. Industry refers to the amount of effort put forth by the pupil. Attention refers to the ability to observe and attend to class work in particular. The terms used may overlap to some extent but each one has a definite meaning in the conduct of the pupil.

GRADE NOTES

Following are the lists of pupils in the grade rooms who have been neither absent nor tardy during the first six weeks:

Kindergarten

Betty Jean Brewer, Lydon House, Warren Snyder, Fred Stanberry, Reese Townsan, Irene Thayer, Merle Thayer, Arlene Wolf, Jack Lobdell, Lucille Anderson, Fred Brower, Garnet Bergefer, Junior Pierce.

First Grade

Roger Bohning, Robert Dempsey, Ruth Guldseth, Maxine Kinseth, Billie Pierce, Dale Ramsay, Mary Jane Roosevelt, Mildred Shaw, Carolyn Stanzel, Eleanor Wenzel, Robert White, Marjorie Tideback.

Third Grade

Barbara Chamberlin, Orvis Fitts, Arnold Foster, Celeste Hadley, Georgia House, Francis Packard, John Packard, James Shaw, Velma Tideback.

Fifth Grade

Muriel Bohning, Corinne Dorr, James Gowdy, Irene Greenlander, Edith Greenwood, Jane Holtzbauer, Loretta Hood, Gwendolyn House, Wilbur Luick, Keith Madsen, Helen Olsen, Alice Roosevelt, Mary Stadtlander William Stadtlander, Markeson Varland.

Sixth Grade

Joye Jacobmeyer, Onnalee Halfpop, Alice Buchanan, Ina Schmidt, Lavonne Ramsey, Blanche Pfaltzgraff, Virginia Anfinson, Gladys Peterson, Loren Whalen, Orville Varland, Alfred Stadtlander, Francis Leavy, Gerald McNulty.

Mrs. Townsend was a visitor in Kindergarten last month.

Florence Barrau has been absent from Kindergarten for the last three weeks.

Mrs. Snyder visited in Kindergarten Friday morning.

Mrs. H. L. Hadley and Mrs. F. A. Bailey visited the second and third grades on Monday afternoon.

JUNIOR HIGH NOTES

Junior High observed Columbus Day by having their second Junior High assembly Wednesday. The eighth grade class officers presided. The seventh History classes under Miss Quigley's direction dramatized scenes from the life of Columbus. The rest of the program consisted of talks on Columbus, a reading, a violin solo, and a song by an eighth grade double quartet.

Ruth Courson is the Junior High reporter for the next six weeks.

The Current Event classes have elected the following chairmen for the next six weeks: Duane Packard 8A; Holm Swenson 8B; Carol Jacobson 7A; and Colletta Lackore 7B.

The Healthy and Wealthy Club had the following report this week: Fifteen eighth graders had a perfect teeth record and thirteen seventh graders likewise. The thrift report is $3.66 for the eighth graders and $3.99 for the seventh graders. Our new officers for the six weeks are Raymond Hill and Billy Moore president and secretary respectively.

Mildred VanBuskirk had the best report card in the eighth grade with 8 A's and 1 B. Jean Elder is second with 7 A's, and 2 B's. Carol Jacobson had the best report card in the 7th grade, 7 A's, 1 B, and 1 C. Billy Moore was second with 6 A's, 2 B's, and 1 D.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

In assembly Monday morning Miss Thomas talked on the conduct of the school. She stressed the high standards of Belmond High School and urged the students to maintain them.

A Sophomore class meeting was held at four o'clock Wednesday for the election of committees to proceed with preparations for their class party which wil be held in the gymnasium Friday evening.

A Junior class meeting was held Wednesday at 4 o'clock for the purpose of deciding how money could be earned for the Junior-Senior banquet. Several suggestions were made and the one selected was the Lyceum Course. The fact that this event will be the largest for many years is the reason for beginning this early.

Miss Waugh has announced that work on an Operetta will begin in a few days.

Every student in high school is anxious for Wednesday to come when they will find out their standing for the first six weeks of school.

At the regular Friday morning assembly the music for the pep meeting was led by the boys' and girls' glee clubs.

Eagle Grove triumphed over the Belmond eleven, on the Eagle Grove field last Friday, six to nothing. The game was slow and ragged with fumbles and penalties frequent. Johnson at full back, Rabe at tackle and McNulty on offense, were outstanding among the Belmond players. The Eagle Grove team outweighed the Belmond team fifteen pounds to the man.

The line-up was as follows:

Left End—Kessler
Left Tackle—Tomlinson
Left Guard—Neuhring
Center Pech
Right Guard—Klemme
Right Tackle—Rabe
Right End—Schultz
Quarterback—McNulty
L. Halfback—Chapman
R. Halfback—Baker
Fullback—Johnson

Substitutions: Peterson for Kessler; Kessler for Peterson; Peterson for Chapman.

Lake Mills plays here Friday in the second home game of the season. Belmond and Lake Mills played a scoreless tie 2 years ago. The teams appear evenly matched and a good game should result. The team has shown considerable improvement since the opening game with Clarion.

The P. T. A. meeting will be held at the school house Friday afternoon Oct. 21 at 2:30. The subject, led by Mrs. W. R. Ramsay is "Happiness." The program will include a talk by Mrs. Courson on "In the Cheer Up Business," a solo by Mrs. Fitts, a talk by Miss Thomas on "The Pyschology of Laughter," a reading by Mrs. Lieuwen and music under the supervision of Miss Waugh. There will also be a round table discussion and the leader would like each one to come prepared to tell a funny saying of a child.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Librarian wishes to announce the following new books are released for circulation:

Non Fiction

The Story of Philosophy, Will Durant
The Book Nobody Knows, Bruce Barton
The Story of Great Inventions, E. Burns
Diggers in the Earth, Eva Tappan
Exploring the Universe (Science), Henshaw Ward
The Story of the Roman People, Eva Tappan
We, Charles Lindbergh

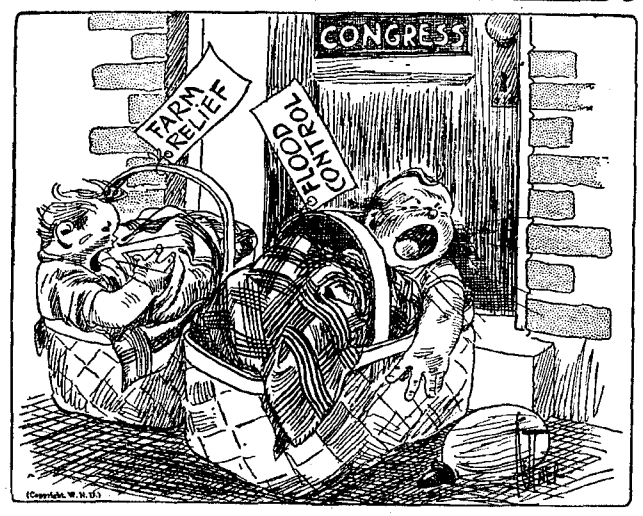
Fiction

Miss Brown of X. Y. O., Oppenheim
Witchwood, Buchan
Kitty, Deeping
A Good Woman, Bromfield
Jalna, De Le Roche
In the Path of the Storm, Franklin
Singing River, Deford
Death Comes for the Archbishop, Cather

Children's Books

A Book of Giant Stories, Atchinson
The Trade Winds, Meigs
Nonsense Book, Lear
Smoky, James
A Paris Pair, Brown
Japanese Fairy Tales, Williston

Waiting for Adoption



Smith & Skovlin Clothing Store Is Broken Into

Thieves Gain Entrance Thru Rear Of Store; Take Clothing And Money

Unknown thieves entered the Smith & Skovlin clothing store some time Sunday night, and made away with a quantity of clothing and $12 in cash.

Entrance was gained through the coal chute at the rear of the building. Then they broke the coal bin door and after failing to jimmy the first floor door from the basement, removed a bottom panel and crawled through.

It is thought there were two of the robbers, as they chose clothing to fit two men, and had laid out suits for two, evidently one large and one small sized man. So far as known, the clothing taken consisted of a few corduroy pants, some flannel shirts, a pair of rubbers, and Alec Smith, Jr.'s hat. They then tapped the till for $12 in cash.

Sheriff Johnson came over Monday morning, and after viewing the evidence picked up a suspect who was questioned, but failing to find anything definite on him he was released. The total loss amounted to about $50, with no insurance. It is thought the robbery was the work of amateurs, and the authorities are working on a few clews the thieves left behind.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Monday evening the Girl Scouts held their meeting in the high school auditorium. A very excellent and instructive program was presented. During the meeting Capt. Bond announced the Church Going contest would start Sunday. In order to get a star each girl must attend church at least once each Sunday. The patrol having the most stars will win the contest. All the contests we held last year were a huge success, let's try very hard to make the new contest equally as successful.

The following program was given:
Pledge of Allegiance—Troop
Music—Troop
Girl Scout News—Carol Jacobson
Announcement—Capt. Bond
Talk—Gladys Jacobmeyer
Vocal Solo—Kathryn Blake
Address—Rev. Snyder

The next Girl Scout meeting will be held Monday, Oct. 31. A recreational program is planned for this meeting.

FOLLOW-UP MEETING OCT. 21

The follow-up lesson of the poultry project "Fall and Winter Management of Laying Hens and Pullets" will be given at the Belmond city hall, Friday evening, Oct. 21, for Belmond and Pleasant townships. Ladies please bring cups, cake or sandwiches. Coffee will be served.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Cooperative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of October 9 to October 15.

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
9	55	37	.03	Clear
10	72	39	—	Pt. Cloudy
11	64	43	—	Pt. Cloudy
12	45	37	.04	Cloudy
13	49	30	—	Cloudy
14	65	25	—	Clear
15	65	43	—	Cloudy

First general killing frost, Oct. 14.

Local Boy Scouts Receive Honors At Pilot Knob

Four Belmond Boys Awarded Eagle Badges, Highest Scout Honor

Two hundred Boy Scouts received honors at the Court of Honor held Sunday at Pilot Knob, near Forest City. Three thousand was the estimated attendance of visitors. Those scouts from Belmond to receive awards were:

First Class Badges: George Goelz Jr., Duane Brady.

Merit Badges to First Class Scouts: Dwight Boughton, craftsmanship in wood; Ronald Courson, angling, conservatin, and swimming; Robert Fetrow, craftsmanship in wood; Hoyt Klemme, angling and conservation; Duane Packard, first aid.

Eagle Badges: Hoyt Klemme, Randall Klemme, Robert Obrecht, Richard Gowdy.

Scout Masters' Certificates: Cato C. Griesy, A. E. M.

The high point of the program arrived when five scouts were presented with the Eagle Badge, the highest honor of scouting. Four of the five boys were from Belmond, as given above. The 5 scouts were presented by a double guard consisting of five scouts from Belmond and five from Clear Lake, the guards standing at salute and the entire audience and balance of scouts standing during the presentation of the badges. This Court of Honor and the one held at Belmond last year stand as the two of the largest and most impressive ever held in the state.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Klemme, Dr. and Mrs. Gowdy entertained the entire school faculty at a very unusual and novel party at the Boy Scout cabin Saturday night.

The invitations gave no hint as to the entertainers' identity, or the place. Perhaps there were more ideas advanced in regard to this matter by the faculty than has been advanced on many important national questions. The only hint as to the nature of the party was that old clothes should be worn. Also, that a hayrack would be the means of transportation.

At six o'clock, the teachers, dressed in knickers, met at the school house. A hayrack with a driver, whom no one recognized or knew, awaited them. They were taken to Tyrrell's Park and told to walk following the lights, which led to the scout cabin. They encountered several ghosts, but arrived at the cabin, where they were greeted and the identity of their entertainers was disclosed.

They were first served with a delicious dinner on long tables decorated with the Hallowe'en colors, cats, witches and pumpkins. After the dinner, they had a peanut hunt, played "cootie," told ghost stories, and played "Run Sheep Run." The teachers all declare it was a most enjoyable time and thank their entertainers greatly.

CHRISTENSON-SPITLER

The marriage of Miss Marie Christenson and John H. Spitler took place this week Wednesday morning, at the M. E. parsonage at Clarion, the ceremony being performed by Rev. F. W. Ortmeyer. The wedding dinner and reception were at the home of the bride west of town.

BUYING OUR DAILY BREAD IN THE HOME TOWN

In The Knoxville Express we read that merchants at Rolfe voluntarily decided to refuse to buy bread shipped in by an out-of-town bakery. They had a bakery in their town, and felt that their home baker could make as good bread as anybody. They felt that it was not the part of loyalty to sell anything but home made bread. The Traer Star-Clipper tells of the same plan used by the merchants at Gladbrook. The Express then goes on to state there are two bakeries in Knoxville and yet as time goes by and the roads get better more and more bread is being shipped in from Des Moines.

Since a few years ago when the city bakeries established their truck routes the bread question has become a live one in the commercial circles of almost every Iowa town. Where other towns have outside competition from one city. Audubon bakers face the competition from both Des Moines and Omaha. Naturally, they don't like it.

It is every man's privilege to conduct his business as he sees fit and this newspaper would not attempt to tell anyone how to run his business. But it is a purely selfish proposition for each of us to buy as much as possible at home. Certainly there is no justification for shipping in bread because it is cheaper. Our own view is that the merchant who ships in bread because some of his customers like it better than home-made bread is a lot more considerate of those few customers than they would be of him. A literal application of the golden rule wouldn't be a bad thing. Certainly it is easy to do if retail grocers really mean it when they urge people to trade at home.—Audubon Advocate-Republican.

MRS. WM. TANNER, GOODELL, INJURED IN CAR WRECK

Mrs. William Tanner of Goodell, received numerous bruises and cuts and a severe shaking up Sunday afternoon when the car in which she was riding went into the ditch near Mason City. Mr. and Mrs. Tanner were on the highway near the Cerro Gordo County farm, on their way to Mason City, when another auto crowded them off the road. The Tanner car struck a telephone pole, breaking it off, and tipped over. Mrs. Tanner was thrown through the car window. The Tanner auto was badly damaged.

WENZEL-KIRKWOOD

Kanawha Reporter: John Wenzel and Mrs. Clara Kirkwood, of Goodell were united in marriage at the Catholic parsonage at Belmond by Father Malloy at 8:30 o'clock this morning. A brother and sister of the bride acted as best man and bridesmaid. A wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at noon.

Mr. Wenzel is well and favorably known to the people of this community, having been in the meat market business in Kanawha for several years. Previous to his entering business for himself he was employed in a local market. He served with the A. E. F. in France during the World War.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Ruka, of Goodell. The many friends of the bride and bridegroom extend congratulations and well-wishes for the future.

After a short honeymoon trip to Ft. Dodge and Cedar Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Wenzel will make their home in the Eliason house in the east part of town.

NEW PASTOR INSTALLED

Rev. Arthur G. Longholz, formerly of Fairview, Kansas, was installed as pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church last Sunday. Rev. O. H. Bohning of Britt, had charge of the instalaltion services. A quartet of the First Lutheran church of Britt rendered several appropriate selections. After the services a reception was held in the church basement, a bountiful dinner being served. Next Sunday Rev. Longholz preaches his first sermon here in the English language. The people of this community are invited to attend the services. Rev. and Mrs. Longholz and son, Norman, arrived in Belmond last Thursday.

STILSON-OLER WEDDING

Lyle Joseph Oler and Vada Mary Stilson were united in marriage, Tuesday, at high noon, at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Bernold Kinseth, the Rev. J. T. Snyder, pastor of the M. E. church officiating. Mr. Oler, whose home is at Dows, is employed with the Bellman Produce Co., of Sioux Falls, S. D., where he and his bride will make their home. Mrs. Oler's home has been at Hampton.

Eagle Grove Banker Is Freed By Jury Tuesday Evening

Eight Women and Four Men Debate Verdict From 4:30 To 9:00 p. m.

The trial of E. C. Platt, former Eagle Grove banker, which has occupied the attention of the district court for the past twelve days, was given to the jury shortly after 4:00 o'clock Tuesday. As most of our readers know Mr. Platt was president of the Citizens State bank of Eagle Grove at the time that institution was closed, December 1, 1925. He was indicted by the grand jury, charged with the crime of making a false report to the superintendent of banking in Des Moines. The report in question was made over a year before the bank closed. The whole matter hinged on the date of the call from the banking department, date of its arrival in Eagle Grove, date of the sending of nearly $40,000 worth of rediscount notes to the correspondent bank in Des Moines an the time of swearing to the statement called for by the banking department. A majority of those who have heard the testimony predict a verdict for Mr. Platt, while a few think the jury will disagree.

The jury had gone out for supper at the time this paper went to press.

Another grand jury indictment was that of P. H. Staggs of Clarion, who is charged with larceny by embezzlement from a Des Moines automobile insurance company.

During the trial of the case against Banker Platt, formerly of Eagle Grove, his attorney introduced a motion Friday morning to have the charges against Mr. Platt dismissed. Counsel stated that there had been no competent evidence submitted to show that false reception was intended. Homer A. Miller, president of the Iowa National bank, Des Moines, was called to testify in the case Thursday. The nearly $40,000 of rediscount paper was sent to his bank in Des Moines and he testified that there was nothing to indicate that the former Eagle Grove banker had done anything dishonest in connection with the above transaction. Judge Garfield overruled the motion.

County Treasurer Hallock says the time will soon arrive for the publication of the delinquent tax list. The list will be published three weeks, the first appearing the second week in November. If you haven't paid your taxes, better hurry. Tax sale comes the first Monday in December. Unpaid personal taxes will be turned over to G. A. Triggs December 1.

Receiver for the Citizens State bank of Eagle Grove is awarded judgment against Miss Dorothy Schaffter in the sum of $2500, being the amount of a hundred per cent assessment levied against the stockholders, following the closing of said bank, for the purpose of paying depositors and creditors thereof.

The sixth and seventh quarterly reports of Charles Kelly, examiner in charge of the Citizens State bank at Goldfield and the same named bank at Eagle Grove and the Farmers Savings bank of Goldfield have been approved by the court.

Receiver for Citizens State bank of Eagle Grove is awarded pudgment against John A. Wright in the sum of $2365.82 and costs on defaulted promissory note. The same plaintiff is given judgment against Frank Wright and Ann Caliger for $24,215.55 and order to sell mortgaged property under special execution to satisfy said claim.

Foreclosure proceedings have been ordered against mortgaged property in case of Fred Brooks vs. Joe Kughn to satisfy judgment for $3431.96 awarded plaintiff.

The court has approved the sale of lot 8 in block 50, Goldfield, by receiver of Citizens State bank of Goldfield, to Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Shafte, the consideration being $600.

John Jordon and Frank Haffermann have been given an order for the refund of $506.00, the sum having been twice paid to the treasurer of state through error.

Otto and Anna Wolf made showing to the court of proper payment of taxes for the purpose of protecting their redemption rights in certain real estate.

A judgment for $590.05 has been entered against George Phillips in favor of American Banking Co., on defendant' defaulted note.

Receiver for Citizens State bank of Eagle Grove is given judgment against Theressa Frandsen and Mary F. Bangs for $1,449.88 on defaulted notes.—Monitor.

Belmond Independent
AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES
Display, per column inch ------25c
Locals, per line ------10c
Classified, per word ------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Editorials

Everyone rejoices that Ruth Elder and her pilot escaped alive from their trans-American flight, but one wonders just what good the flight would have done had it succeeded. We take a certain pride, naturally, in having an American do things first, but an American has already demonstrated that the Atlantic can be crossed by plane, and other Americans have duplicated the first flight. Other Americans, as well as some equally brave Europeans, have disappeared into the mysterious depths of the Atlantic ocean. Enough trials, enough successes, and enough failures have been made on inter-oceanic flights to prove it can be done, and that to do it with our present planes is highly dangerous. The lessons which every pioneer attempt teaches have been learned; of what avail, then, are more flights across the deep? The proposed flight of Mrs. Grayson, in her multimotored seaplane beans some reason for trying, and should provide further scientific data. Her plane, equipped to ride on the water, and with more than one engine, carries a measure of safetly lacking in the land planes.

We have just completed reading two books, "Elmer Gantry," by Sinclair Lewis, and "God and the Grocerman," by Harold Bell Wright. Two books dealing with similar subjects yet as far apart as the poles. Sinclair Lewis' writings are always destructive criticism: witness "Babitt," and "Main Street", while Wright's are constructive. "God and the Grocerman" is a good antidote for "Elmer Gantry." If you read them both, read "Elmer Gantry" first, and follow it with Wright's book. Probably there are ministers like Elmer Gantry, yet one is put to it to believe they are in the majority. Undoubtedly there are men who enter the ministry not because they are "called," but because they believe it an easy way to make a living. Doubtless there are many poor-quality preachers, with no more honest religion than the average man, but one cannot unhesitatingly agree with Lewis that these men are the rule. Sinclair Lewis paints with dark colors, yet in "Elmer Gantry" in the character "Pengilly," he gives a brief glimpse of the kind of man he must admit are in the ministry, the men who are earnest, sincere, and who do great good. Unquestionably there are many ministers selfishly seeking their own advancement and glory, rather than endeavoring to really serve the Master; men who make much of little things because they are afraid of the big ones. We agreed with "Elmer Gantry" in a measure, but we did not like the book, for Lewis offers nothing better. Certainly it should do some good, for the "Elmer Gantry" minister who sees himself thus delineated nakedly before himself must necessarily stop and think, while the book should have its effect upon keeping others from falling into the same class.

In "God and the Grocerman," Harold Bell Wright deals with a theme which more and more is occupying the attention of church people: The Federation of churches. He gives some eye-opening statistics regarding the numer of denominations, the value of church property, annual upkeep, and distribution of monies received through dues and collections. Especially does he condemn the fact that four out of every five dollars received goes to maintain the various denominations, while one dollar, one-fifth of the money, he alleges is actually used in real Christian work. He points out the unbusinesslike methods of the Church in handling its finances, in building and maintaining numerous buildings to house the various denominations, and advocates doing away with so many different branches. Instead of one hundred trains each carrying 100 passengers, all going to the same station, he advocates 10 trains each carrying one thousand passengers, with the consequent decrease in overhead and expenses, and the more funds which can be devoted to worth-while work. Where ten churches are struggling to exist, none of them amounting to much in the way of Christian work, the author would rather see the ten combined into two strong bodies, ironing out the little inconsequential differences in creed, conducting their churches on business principles and thereby devoting more attention and more money to charitable and missionary work. Christian work—especially at home. "God and the Grocerman" is a book well worth reading, and no matter what your particular belief or denomination you will find plenty of food for serious thought in it.

NOTICE OF PROOF OF WILL
TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

In the Estate of Henry Johnson, Deceased:

You are hereby notified that on the 8th day of October 1927, there was filed with and opened by the undersigned Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, in and for Wright county, a Written instrument purporting to be the

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

of Henry Johnson late of said County, deceased.

And you are further notified that the 7th day of November, 1927, at 1:30 o'clock p. m. of said day has been set as the day for the final hearing and proof of said Will, at the Clerk's office in the Court House at Clarion, Iowa, at which time any person interested can appear and show cause why the same should not be admitted to probate.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court at my office in Clarion in said County, this 8th day of October A. D., 1927.

R. V. GOSLIN,
488 Clerk of District Court

FREE AIR!

Most likely everyone is enjoying Iowa's famed—and glory-deserved—Indian Summer weather, the likes of which California never saw. You know, seems like nearly everyone in Iowa is working like a nigger in order to pile up enough coin so they can go to California to live. If it wasn't for the Iowans out there, California wouldn't have a population any larger than that of New Mexico's. (Probably we'll hear the roar from Los Angeles clear out here.)

* * * *

A Californian is an Iowan who has left home, and accustomed himself to earthquakes, fleas and Mongolians until he actually believes they are better than cyclones, mosquitos and bootleggers.

* * * *

The pastures are always greener on the other side of the fence.

* * * *

Some day we hope to go to California and see for ourselves.

* * * *

Enjoy this weather while you may, for winter is in the offing, whatever that is. You can tell it, not by the time of the year, or the season, of the heavy corn husks or squirrel tails or other such "signs", but by the fact that the grocery stores are beginning to advertise buckwheat pancake flour.

* * * *

Don't know of any more unfailing sign of cold weather than buckwheat cakes, unless it's woolen underwear.

* * * *

They both make you itch, anyway.

* * * *

Not changing the subject, but we'd like to see you out at the feetball game tomorrow with Lake Mills. Aside from other things, we want the boys to trim the Norsemen from the canning factory town, but more especially we want 'em to lick 'em because that used to be Martin Thoe's home town, and Martin is always orating about what a good place Lake Mills is. If we can lick 'em much and plenty, believe it will be good for M. J.

* * * *

Our boys are worthy of support, according to our way of thinking, and have been playing in tough luck. That first game they deserved to lose; Clarion had us so far outclassed it was like putting our Chevvy up against the Morris Bros. Chrysler. You can always depend on Clarion having a real football team, because the babies over there teeth on a football and the first thing they learn to say is "First and ten."

* * * *

We oughta licked Garner, but they had all the luck in northern Iowa that day, and can't dispute it, while the Eagle Grove game was a hard one to let slip away. Eagle has a le-e-e-tle bit better team, but it's mighty little. Tomorrow we anticipate the Lake Millers are going to snag some grief.

* * * *

Get your pheasants in the morning, and then get Lake Mills in the afternoon.

BELMOND CHURCH NOTES

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor
Telephone Call, 150

Sunday, October 23

The Sunday School and Bible Classes will meet at 10 a. m.

There will be no services at Trinity, because of the mission conference to be held at St. Olaf. Read announcement for St. Olaf congregation.

The Luther League will meet at 6:45 p. m.

Monday, October 24. The catechetical class will meet immediately after school.

Tuesday, October 25. Our regular evening for choir rehearsal, 7:30 sharp. To our members and to others who choose to worship with us, who have the gift of song, we say "Come, join the choir! Your help is wanted!"

Thursday, October 27. English prayer meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Friday, October 21, to Sunday, October 23—

A general discourse and mission meeting will be held beginning Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. The following pastors have promised to be with us one day or more: P. Ljostveit and T. J. Severtson of Eagle Grove, Rev. J. O. Reitan of Kanawha, N. J. Lohre, General Secretary of our Synod, O. Guldseth of Minneapolis and Missionary J. O. Jacobson of Hupeh, China. The text for our discourse will be Romans 15: 1-3. The mission sermon will be given Sunday morning in the English language, by Missionary Jacobson, at which time also the offering will be received.

Wednesday, October 26. Prayer meeting at the home of Mrs. John Hill at 7:30 p. m.

Thursday, October 27. The North Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. G. C. Johnson at 2 p. m.

Saturday, October 29. The catechetical class will meet at 10 a. m.

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN
Arthur G. Langholz, Pastor

Sunday School at 9:45.

Services at 10:45. The pastor will preach his introductory sermon. Services in the English language. A cordial invitation to all to attend this service.

Luther League meets Sunday evening.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

What shall our tomorrow be from a spiritual point of view? Come, let us worship together, and strive toward the end of having a life of the Spirit which shall hold us steady on that tomorrow. We assemble for worship at 11:00 a. m.

The church school is for us all, adults as well as children. If we are not right along present, we can surely make the Sundays better ones by regular attendance.

The young people are to meet this coming Sunday evening at eight o'clock. Bring a friend.

METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. J. F. Snyder, Pastor

Services as follows for the Lord's Day, Oct. 23—

Sunday School at 10 a. m. There has been a steady increase in our attendance. Are you one of those making this possible? If not, why not?

Divine worship and sermon at 11 a. m. Subject of sermon, "The Great Need of Patience." Heb. 10:36.

Epworth League at 6:30. Marian Pech, leader. Splendid discussions. You should be a part of this worth while organization unless you belong elsewhere.

Evening worship and Gospel message at 7:30. Subject "Morals and Future Citizens."

The general Aid Society meets in the home of Mrs. F. O. Fitts, Thursday afternoon. Very important that every member be present. Annual election of officers.

Notice cards in windows of our business houses announcing an extraordinary program for Tuesday night, Oct. 25th in M. E. Church.

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

The marriage of Miss Blanche Cuppett and Mr. Lester Meyers of Rowan was solemnized last Thursday at the home of the bride's grand father, D. L. Cuppett.

Wright county goes dry by a majority of 337.

V. A. Morse of Michigan, a son of Judge Ben Morse, arrived in Belmond last Monday to visit relatives.

Dr. Stevens returned last week from his New York trip, Mrs. Stevens remaining for a longer visit.

Miss Lyna Pierce made a trip to Des Moines last week, combining business and pleasure.

It is reported that Stan Morse shot a goose at Morse Lake, last week, the remarkable thing about it being the size of the bird. Duck hunters have been numerous at the lakes the past week, Cort Morse, B. Mennenga and Rev. Burress bagging a goodly number.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

E. L. Tiede and family are now domiciled in their elegant new home.

Mrs. Ora Case visited her sister, Mrs. Frank Case of Clarion last week.

Miss Clara Chase went to Eagle Grove Wednesday to visit relatives.

Rev. Chapler filled the pulpit at the M. E. church last Sunday and we hear his discourse spoken of very highly.

Bradford Knapp went to Eagle Grove last Saturday to referee a football game.

J. K. Miller returned this week from his trip to North Dakota.

Representative Pritchard and his daughter attended the political meeting at Clarion last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leinbach returned Wednesday to Irving, Ill.

Dr. Vennum had a professional call to Hampton Monday.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

Artist Pierce is home from Humboldt.

Postmaster Mitchell took a jaunt to Luni yesterday.

F. G. Yeoman, Esq. of Woolstock, will talk politics to the people of this vicinity on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Jno. Geyer and family returned to Belmond Tuesday last, from their eastern visit. They will occupy their house in "prospect hill" East Belmond.

Someone broke into Chase' saloon Tuesday night, taking cigars, etc. Verily it doesn't pay to have much money invested in the saloon business in Belmond.

J. M. Elder, H. H. Bush, Robert Elder, Sheriff Bradstreet. Al White and Al Howe of Garner, were at the Purdy house Monday night, enroute for court at Clarion.

The Splinters

"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2 Thursday, October 20, 1927 No. 27

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

You won't do it, of course, and neither will we. But wouldn't it be fine if we did our Christmas shopping now instead of December 24th?

—

Night before last we saw a man in town carrying a lantern. Now you tell one.

—

We will have in some of that good old Illinois Egg coal this week. Phone in your order and get it clean from the car.

For that little repair job, you can always find what lumber you need here. And you get the same courtesy with a little order that you do with a big one.

—

"Haven't I told you, Bobby, that you will mash your fingers if you drive nails?"
"Yes, I know, Dad, but Jane's holding the nail."

—

Mistress, to maid. "Haven't we always treated you like one of the family?"
Maid — "Yes, an' I'm not goin' to stand for it any longer."

—

They called the baby "Weather-strip" because he kept his father out of the draft.

A French lady aviator recently broke all records by looping the loop a hundred times. That's what we would call "moving in high circles."

—

The most sensible preparation for winter we can think of is storm doors and windows.

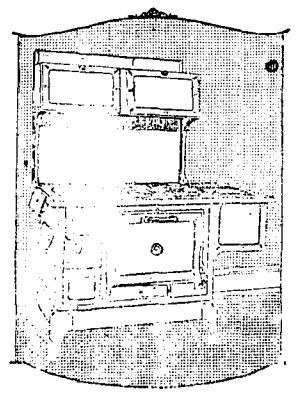
—

FABLE—Once upon a time there was a lady in Belmond, who, at the end of the month, found that her check stub footings tallied exactly with her bank balance.

—

We know a man who calls it Ar-MIS-tice.

The Bakewell Riverside



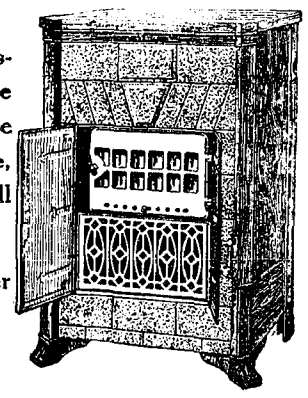
We are sure you have never seen anything that can equal the Bakewell in quality, design and beautiful finish.

It is fully enameled inside and out and will be a beautiful addition to any kitchen.

THE NEW FIREPLACE RADIONA

A complete heating system that is installed above the floor. Heats the whole house, just like a furnace, but requires only a small amount of fuel.

You must see this heater to really appreciate it.



GRIESY'S

The Friendly Place
PHONE 10
BELMOND, IOWA

SPECIAL SATURDAYS AND WEDNESDAYS

DIXIE DREAM
DOUGHNUTS

THIS IS A NEW DELICIOUS RAISED DOUGHNUT MADE EXCLUSIVELY BY US

per doz. - 25c

CINNAMON ROLLS, Saturday, October 22 Only, Dozen 15c

Your patronage solicited and appreciated

MORROW & SCOTT
BELMOND'S BAKERS

AGRICULTURAL NEWS NOTES

IOWA CORN PRODUCTION ELEVEN PER CENT BELOW AVERAGE

The 1927 Iowa corn production forecast of 377,913,000 bushels on October 1 is eleven per cent below the past five-year average harvest of 422,916,000 bsuhels. The harvest in 1926 was 413,586,000 bushels, or nine per cent larger than the present forecast. The Federal and State Crop Reporting Service has forecast an average yield of 34.5 bushels per acre this season as compared with a yield of 39 bushels reported by the State Assessors in 1926. The condition in per cent of normal for the first of October is reported as 75 per cent. This is one and four-tenths points better than the corn condition for the United States. The total production for the entire country is estimated at 2,603,437,000 bushels as compared with the past five-year average of 2,766,561,000 bushels.

Crop reporters for Iowa have stated that a very rapid progress in corn growth was made during the past month. In the south eastern part of the state the handicaps of the early season were too much to be be overcome by as short a period of favorable growing weather as September gave, but in many other sections a nearly normal stage of maturity was reached by October. Opinions in general indicate a need for favorable curing weather for at least one-half of October. Some late plantings will produce fodder only regardless of the time of killing frost. The quality of the crop is low and there is danger of some loss from mold and rot in the field. Storms have blown down and further damaged corn in the areas injured by grub worms.

The amount of corn reported safe from frost on October 1 was 85 per cent of the crop, with not more than two per cent damaged previous to that date. If general killing frost does not occur before October 15th, it is probable that fully 80 to 85 per cent will be out of danger. The percentage of the acreage which will not mature sound corn will probably be as large as the acreage injured seriously by killing temperatures.

The October forecast places Iowa oats production at 192,896,000 bushels at an average of 32.3 bushels per acre. The final returns on oats harvesting will probably place the 1927 production about two per cent smaller than the previous crop, but 12 per cent under the average of the past five years. The total production of oats in the United States is forecast as 1,205,639,000 bushels, at an average yield of 28.1 bushels per acre. The average yield for the past ten years is 31.8 bushels, and the average production for the past five years is 1,352,357,000 bushels.

Barley yields have quite generally gone above the top average per acre for the past ten years. An average of 31.8 bushels per acre leads all yields for the state since 1917 when this grain went to 35 bushels per acre. The total acreage of barley in Iowa this season is estimated as 429,000 acres, and is expected to produce 13,642,000 bushels. This is nearly double the barley production of 1926, however, the expansion of barley acreage this year resulted in near 60 per cent more acres than last year.

The tonnage of all the tame hay did not turn out as large as was indicated by the first cuttings from some of the hay crops. The leguminous hay crops made satisfactory yields, alfalfa including all cuttings made an average crop of 2.80 tons per acre, clover (red and alsike) 1.65 tons and soy bean or cow pea hay averaged 2.06 tons. Millet and sudan grass gave average returns of 2.30 tons, other hay crops averaged 1.21 tons. As a group all tame hay yields, at an average of 1.57 tons per acre, forecasts a total production of 4,823,000 tons compared with a production of 3,945,000 tons in 1926.

COWS SLOW UP IN SEPTEMBER

Apparently the exceedingly hot weather in early September this fall reduced by several thousands of dollars the returns obtained by Iowa dairymen, for the monthly cow testing association report, just issued at Iowa State College, shows that the average yield of butterfat per cow last month in the leading association was three pounds below August and two pounds below the average for September a year ago.

There were about 30,000 cows represented in the 86 testing associations of the state last month and a reduction of three pounds of fat for each of these would mean a reduced income of $40,000 or more. Dairymen throughout the state during the hot weather of early September reported that their cows dropped off heavily in production even though some were feeding well and making an effort to maintain yields.

The best testing association average in September among the 79 reporting was 23.3 pounds of fat per cow, which was made by the Linn County No. 2 association. In this organization 312 cows were on test. The next four high associations in their order were: Tama County, 471 cows, 22 pounds of butterfat each; Linn County No. 1, 846 cows, 21.9 pounds each; Polk County, 629 cows, 21.7 pounds each; and West Branch, 292 cows, 21.3 pounds each.

Sargent & White, Linn County No. 2 Association, had the highest herd average in the state, 43.2 pounds for each of their 15 purebred and grade Holsteins. Others with high herds were: second in Iowa, J. N. Martin, Hardin County, 15 purebred Jerseys, 41.9 pounds of fat each; third, John Robertson, Warren County, 10 purebred and grade Jerseys, 39.4 pounds of butterfat each; fourth, Independence State Hospital, 89 purebred and grade Holsteins, 36.3 pounds of fat each; fifth, J. H. Hamilton, Franklin County, 12 purebred and grade Jerseys, 35.5 pounds each.

SEARCH FOR IOWA'S BEST SOW

Who owns the best brood sow in Iowa—the one whose pigs gain fastest, most economically and have the best quality of carcass when killed?

It is hoped to be able to answer that question by a new project to be started this month by the animal husbandry section of the Iowa Agricultural Experiment Station at Ames. The project will be known as the "Swine Performance Record." Facilities are available for the testing of only about 20 litters at a time.

According to the plan outlined, 4 pigs from a litter will be shipped to the college. There the pigs from all litters will be given similar care and feeds. They will be handled exactly the same in all respects. After the pigs reach 225 pounds, they will be slaughtered and the quality of the carcasses determined. Measurements to show growth also will be taken and the results of the test will be made available yearly.

Any litter from a purebred registered dam and a purebred registered sire is eligible to be entered for testing. The litter of a gilt to be eligible must have comprised 7 living pigs, while the second or later litter of a sow must have consisted of 8 or more living pigs.

The pigs sent to Ames for testing are to consist of two barrows and two sows. They must average not less than 30 pounds nor more than 45 pounds per head, must have been farrowed not earlier than Sept. 25, and be not over 65 days of age when delivered at Ames.

The pigs are to be purchased by the Experiment Station f. o. b. Ames at Chicago top price (Ames weights) based on the day of arrival. The litters to be tested will be chosen by drawing. Litters of the first 20 sows drawn will be tested. Names after the first 20 will also be drawn and will become eligible if any of the first 20 are dropped.

Nominations for litters to be tested must be received at the college not later than Oct. 25. The drawings are to be made Oct. 26. Application blanks to nominate litters may be obtained from the animal husbandry section, Iowa Agricultural Experiment Station, Ames.

The new project had its beginning in 1923, when a group of swine men interested in a plan to test the progeny of certain sows for gains, economy of gains and quality of carcass met at the State Fair. It is hoped that thru the testing under similar conditions of litters from the best sow that real progress in breeding may be made. The testing of a litter should furnish the breeder or farmer an excellent guide as to whether a sow is a valuable breeder, poor or medium.

WATCH HOGS IN CORN FIELDS

Watch hogs running in corn fields for outbreaks of "flu," warns Dr. K. W. Stouder, extension veterinarian, Iowa State College. To prevent such outbreaks, he suggests providing dry beds in open front sheds where the hogs may sleep at night.

If the hogs in running in a cornfield are in the habit of sleeping out of doors at night, they are in real danger of getting flu should it suddenly turn cold, Dr. Stouder says. It may pay to round up the hogs and drive them into their sleeping quarters should a rain or snow and cold winds come.

Some farmers complain that altho they provide sheds for their hogs running in corn fields, that the hogs do not use the sheds, Dr. Stouder says. Some, however, have found that by putting the tankage self-feeders or watering receptacles near the sheds that the hogs use the sheds much more.

It is usually following a sudden cold spell or a storm that the hogs get flu when running in corn fields, Dr. Stouder says. By providing dry beds in open front sheds and seeing that the hogs use the sheds, he asserts that much of the flu can be prevented.

FALL PIGS THRIVE ON ALFALFA

Alfalfa hay as a supplement in the ration of the fall pig is one way to make him a 200-pound porker by next April. So say John M. Eyvard and C. C. Culbertson, who have charge of animal investigations at Iowa State College.

Twenty-five pounds of chopped alfalfa hay used as a supplement for yellow corn in a mixture of 50 pounds of tankage and 25 pounds of linseed oilmeal has been advocated by specialists at Ames as a fall pig ration for some time. Trials recently completed at the South Dakota Experiment Station disclose that high quality whole hay is equally as good if the pigs can be induced to consume enough of the uncut feed.

Pigs fed on the ration of corn and tankage at the South Dakota station made an average daily gain of 1.32 pounds. When chopped alfalfa hay linseed meal were fed with the corn and tankage the average gain was 1.54 pounds.

In these experiments there was a saving of 16 pounds of feed for each 100 pounds of gain in the pigs fed the chopped alfalfa hay ration. There was also a difference of 17 days in favor of the alfalfa fed pigs in reaching the weight of 200 pounds.

The alfalfa fed hogs reached a good marketable weight fully 17 days before the other pigs, and the pork was produced by the alfalfa ration at a saving of 41 cents per 100 pounds.

OFFER AID TO PLAN PROGRAMS

"Programs for Meetings" is the title of a new publication just issued by the Extension Service, Iowa State College, which was prepared to assist rural people in planning the programs for their meetings.

The bulletin considers program planning under the subjects: "Why" "Who," "When," "Where," and "How." Suggested programs ror each month of the year are given in the publication. It also lists publications or other material that may be obtained which will aid in preparing various features of the programs.

About 1,000 meetings are held by the township Farm Bureaus of Iowa each month during the winter season, according to W. H. Stacy, rural organization extension specialist, who prepared the new bulletin. It is mainly the township Farm Bureaus that make use of the program material offered, tho it will be sent to any organization that requests it.

Copies of the new bulletin on program planning may be had free upon request to the Extension Service Ames.

PICKING SEED NOT ENOUGH

Early picking of seed corn in the fall isn't the whole story. In late years it has been learned that rapid drying is quite as important as early selection, for rapid drying means elimination of much of the dry rot which takes a heavy annual toll in Iowa, according to plant disease specialists.

Furthermore, seed corn selected early and hung up in a corn crib, or in some similar place, if not dried out properly is liable to damage should a hard freeze come, warn farm crop specialists at Iowa State College.

In several seasons farmers have found to their dismay that seed corn which they selected in the early fall proved to be worthless the following spring because they had failed to dry the corn and it had been caught by a freeze while hanging in some airy outdoor building.

Many have found that it pays to put the seed in a brooder or farrowing house equipped with a stove and by keeping a good fire for a few days, dry the corn out so thoroughly that it is in no danger of freezes or of becoming affected with dry rot molds.

HOW MUCH TO KEEP A HORSE?

It cost $98.24 in 1926 to keep the average farm work horse when feed, labor in care, housing and interest on the investment were included. At least this was the average cost which a group of 22 Iowa County farmers found who kept complete cost accounts in cooperatin with the Agricultural Economics Department of Iowa State College and the United States Department of Agriculture.

The feed bill was the largest item, amounting to $59.61. Labor in caring for the horse was $15.58, the charge for the use of buildings was $8.13 and interest $6.91.

The cost of horse labor per hour varied on these 22 farms from 6.8 to 18 cents per hour and averaged 12 cents. In 1925 the average cost was 13.5 cents, or slightly higher. The reduction in 1926 was due to the farmers using their horses to better advantage. They secured 892 hours of labor per horse in 1926 as compared with 820 in 1925.

As in 1925, the farms with the lowest cost per hour of horse labor in 1926 used tractors as well as horses. That is, the use of a tractor on some of these farms increased the efficiency of the horses. Also, some of the farms with the lowest total cost of labor per acre of crops used a combination of horses and tractors.

The number of crop acres handled per horse varied from 13 to 39 on the 22 farms. The average was 23.2 or about 2 acres more per horse than were handled the previous year.

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Bldg
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

PARSON'S SPECIAL BARGAINS
Thur., Fri., Sat., Oct. 20-21-22

49 lb. sack of guaranteed flour	$1.98
3 pkg. seedless raisins	.30
1 lb. cookies	.20
1 lb. red salmon	.25
1 bottle certo	.28
4 lb. whole rice	.25
Post Toasties, Pep or Bran, 2 for	.25
Good broom	.45

EXTRA GOOD BARGAINS BREAD, GALLON FRUIT, CAKES, ROLLS AND ALSO FRESH FRUIT, CANDY AND CIGARS.
We deliver a reasonable order free.
Eggs bought cash or trade.
BARGAINS AT PARSON'S

An Allotment to Our Customers

We have arranged to allot an amount of our 7 per cent Preferred Shares to our customers and for the period of October 15th to October 31st inclusive, our employees will accept orders for this 7 per cent Preferred Investment at and we will date the certificates as of October 1st, so that all the shares ordered during that time will draw the full dividend from October 1st.

$100 Per Share

This Dividend will be paid on January 1st.

Important improvements and additions including the large increase to be made in the Steam Power Plant at Iowa Falls, Iowa, and other additions to be made is why this allotment of the 7 per cent Preferred Stock is offered through our employees to our customers on the special basis.

If an employee does not call on you, please see our Manager at our local office or write this Department addressed, Securities Department, 515 Merchants National Bank Building, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and full particulars will be mailed to you.

Respectfully

Central States Electric Co.
H. F. KELLOGG, Manager
IOWA, FALLS, -:- -:- -:- IOWA

Camel
The cigarette that earned first place by its goodness

The greatest endorsement ever given to a cigarette is revealed by the fact that Government figures show that more Camels are being smoked today than ever before. An endorsement by the many—not the few.

If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.

© 1927, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

For the Woman Reader

by Florence Riddick Boys

COPYRIGHTED

PLANT SHRUBS NOW

Any time before the ground freezes is the time to plant shrubs. There is nothing which will more beautify your yard than a wise planting of shrubbery over it. It actually adds to the value of your property, in dollars and cents, for it makes it attractive to the buyer, and this with such a small outlay of cash. But the best value of shrubbery is that it adds the home touch to the house and yard.

How to get that mysterious charm is a problem to the novice, but there is no secret about it. All it requires is that you give some study to selection—and the nurseryman will help you with that—and that you get a shovel and spend about a couple of hours in setting the shrubs out. It is wise to buy a little fertilizer to encourage their growth.

There are three main types of shrubs: those for hedge, for masses and for single specimens. For a low hedge, the pivet, which trims well; or the Japan Barberry, with its pretty foliage and its scarlet berries, are the best. For a high hedge or to screen off some unsightly view, the lilac or syringa are valuable; or the more rare Rose of Sharon (Althea) which blooms in August and September with a profusion of rose-like blossoms.

For mass effects, one may select a wide variety from the catalogues but take care to set tall shrubs in the background and to choose those which branch low and droop gracefully for the foreground.

For single specimens, the nurserymen will mke many suggestions. The tree Hydrangea, Red Dogwood and Purple Fringe sumach are choice varieties.

A STYLE SHOW

Women's Clubs have many and varied ways of earning money. The most common of these is selling things, from candy to pancake flour, baking, aprons, and flowers. Rummage sales, card parties, musicals, lectures are always popular. The home talent play or vaudeville never fails to draw a crowd—but why not try the simple and natural (for women) style show or fashion revue?

Attack the style proposition in two ways: historically and as to type. That is, show the style of various periods, beginning a century ago There is little need of going further back, for styles have a habit of going in circles, and like history, constantly repeat themselves. Begin with the wide skirts and work down to the beanpole silhouette of today; and on to those flaring skirts and wider sleeves we are just reviving.

The second phase of your program might be the different types of dress: business dress, the ideal house dress, the model apron, afternoon dress, sport dress, evening dress and perhaps garden dress, riding dress, traveling dress and bridal costume. The amusement touch may be introduced by the burlesque of inappropriate dress—such as the hat set at a wrong angle, gaudy colors, or exaggerated styles.

If a home economics expert will accompany the show with a lecture on the history of the dress, wisdom in selection, economy in buying, appropriateness for occasions, or a discussion of fabrics, a very valuable educational turn may be given to your style show. Can you think of a woman—or even a man—who would not delight to purchase a ticket for a really well worked out show of this kind?

SHOE STYLES

Both black and tan are popular in shoes this season. Reptile skins seem to have crept further into our favor than ever. Lizzard, alligator and boa snake, in both black and tan are going strong. Lines are more simple and heels more moderate. Patent leather and suede are also good choices for the season's footwear.

Hats, shoes, gloves, bag — to be smart—should match or harmonize. To choose a conservative color and shades, as black and white, or the shades of brown and tan, makes this more easily possible.

VALUE YOUR EYES

Much poor health is due to eyestrain. Poor vision may make a child retarded in school, give one the failure habit or make him unsuccessful in his work. Even curvature of the spine may be caused by sitting in a crooked position in order to see. The lungs may become weak by constant stooping to read or write; and headaches are frequently caused by poor eyesight.

The best lighting system is that which is nearest to daylight. The indirect method of lighting is good because it distributes the light evenly about the room. Insufficient light causes eyestrain; and too bright a light is just as bad. When we stare at the sun, we see spots and are blinded by the glare. Somewhat similar is the effect of too bright lights. Electric lights should be frosted or shaded in some way, and not too strong nor too close to the work and worker.

TO STORE VEGETABLES

Beets, salsify, parsnips, carrots, rutabagas and turnips can be stored in out-door pits, but they are difficult to get at in freezing weather. They can be stored in boxes in the cellar and kept fresh by being covered with moist sand. Cabbages will keep better is each head is wrapped closely in a newspaper and they are placed on a shelf in the cellar. Squashes and pumpkins should be kept where there is good ventilation, in a dry, cool place.

COOKING VEGETABLES

Cooked vegetables would be much more delicious if we cooked them more delicately. The old way was to cover them with water and put them on to cook. When they had boiled until they were tender, we would drain off the liquid into the sink and serve the vegetable. The better way is to put them on to cook with a very small amount of water—almost none. Cover them tightly, with a kettle lid which fits and will not let out any of the steam. Then turn the fire low and let them simmer gently. The steam will cook them and they will not be robbed of their vitamin and mineral salts or fine flavors. It may be necessary to take a long fork and turn the contents of the kettle over, if the top is not cooking as rapidly as that on the bottom of the stew pan. But cover again quickly.

Do not simmer too long strong vegetables, such as cabbage, or they will become dark colored and too strong flavored. Do not drain off any of the liquid. Season with salt, pepper and butter and serve. Vegetables which require different lengths of time to cook may be combined after cooking, as peas, and chopped carrots, or corn and beans. Grated cheese may be added to cooked cabbage or onions just before serving. Cover the dish a moment after the cheese is added, that it may melt slightly.

SAFETY FIRST

It is not enough for the modern mother to teach her children to say "Thank you" and to brush their teeth and to eat carrots and spinach. She must teach them certain fundamental principles of safety—to look both ways when they cross a street, to walk on the left side of the road so that they will face the on-coming traffic, and not to play with matches. More children now die of accidents in one year than men died in any year of the world war.

USE FOR SOUP MEAT

The meat from soup is rarely any good, since the juices have been extracted in making the soup. It may, however, be given a tastiness all its own by the following method: Cut the lean meat only rather fine, as for hash. Flour it and fry it crisp in butter or lard, browning it to give the gravy a good flavor. Then pour in milk to make a good gravy. This is delicious with mashed potatoes. Try it on your family and listen to their praise of it.

THE CHILD'S SLEEP

Nine hours of sleep a night is not too much for the average child. The college boy or girl should have eight. If one is nervous, working terribly hard or run down physically, he needs ten hours each night to recuperate. But the length of the nightly sleep depends much upon the habits of life, food, exercise and environment. It is not good to spend more hours in sleep than are needed to maintain good health.

BABY'S BEDDING

One inventive mother has a novel way of keeping the baby from kicking off the bedcovers at night. She sews a lady's hose-supporter around one of the rods of the bed on each side. When she tucks the baby into bed she fastens the bedding with the supporter, just as it is meant to fasten to a stocking. This method is less likely to tear the bedding than pinning and the elastic allows the child more freedom of movement.

SAGGING CANE SEATS

When cane seats begin to say, they can be made taut and firm by turning the chair over and wetting the under side of the seat. The upper side, being varnished, will not be affected by the dampness, but applied from beneath where there is no varnish, it will make the cane shrink and the seat will remain tight for a time.

CARE OF NICKEL

If nickle plated surfaces become rusted, use the following remedy: Apply vaseline and after several days wipe with a cloth dipped in ammonia. If the spots are stubborn, add a few drops of hydrochloric acid to the ammonia, but be sure to dry the metal quickly; then rinse it with water, and polish thoroughly.

MEAT PIES

Cut up left-overs of meat; add a left-over dish of cooked carrots or peas or a stalk of celery and a few potatoes cut in quarters. Dish this mixture into individual tins; cover with unsweetened muffin batter; bake. This makes delicious meat pies.

COLD PROSPECTS

Wise old Ben Franklin said: "Silks and satins put out the kitchen fire." With the popularity of these materials today, it looks like a cold winter in most households.

Harvest Sale

A special opportunity for farmers to get acquainted with the extra quality, longer wear, and greater comfort of Flint Overalls.

During the next 30 days—right when farmers give Overalls the hardest wear—we want you to try Flint Overalls.

The Farmers' Favorite

Overalls that fit, heavy enough for winter, comfortable in summer, give long wear, stand shrink, and best of all, sell at a reasonable price, are popular with farmers everywhere.

Get a pair of fine Double Thumb Gloves—free. We have your size Overalls in stock.

$1.75 Per Pair

Double Thumb Gloves FREE With every pair of Flint Overalls sold during this Harvest Sale, we will give a pair of S. & S. famous cotton work gloves. Made with double thumb for double work on the farm. Just what you need for fall work.

All Flint Overall dealers are cooperating to make this a country-wide sale for farmers. A big reason why you should know the value in Flint Overalls. The kind that are cut full for comfort. Big pockets. Wide legs. Reinforced crotch. One-piece front. Bib cut wide and high for extra protection. Made of strong, durable, blue denim that stands washing and wear. Seams guaranteed rip-proof.

B. K. KINSETH & SON

BELMOND, IOWA

We Want Your Poultry

And we will pay you the very highest market price for it. Before you sell, see us or call us and let us make you a price—you'll find it is dollars in your pocket. If you haven't time to bring your poultry in, or haven't a way to do it, remember we furnish you

TRUCK SERVICE!

We'll call at your place, load your birds, haul them to town, give you honest, full weights, and send you a check promptly at the highest market prices. We want your poultry, and we'll do anything fair and square to get it. Give us a trial!

Farmers Grain Company

PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!

BELMOND, - - IOWA

DOWN through the ages philosophers have given this idea of service as the fundamental rule of life. How well it has worked in business may be judged from the fact that the total combined investments in Public Utilities exceed the combined investments of any other industry!

Public Utilities introduced the idea of service into business. And they carry it further than any other business because they serve the very necessities of life.

Your Company provides water—light—power—gas or telephone service to 145 communities in five states. It is now offering you an opportunity to share in its growth through ownership of its 7% preferred stock. A financial statement, which is yours for the asking, will show you the soundness of the Company's organization. A review into the past will show that all large Public Utilities always have paid dividends regularly and you can easily appreciate how the service of a necessity to human life is the soundest of all investments.

Ask any local employee to tell you how easily these Preferred Shares can be acquired for cash or over a period of ten months

Central West Public Service Company

A Subsidiary of the McGraw Electric Co.

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29

VILLAGE CARRIER Examination, Belmond, Nov. 19. Age 18-45. Men, Women. Don't miss this opportunity. Coaching course $5. Booklet free. L. Hampton, Box 1818-J. C. Washington, D. C. 1*

FRIEND C. BRAS
Tests Eyes Fits Glasses
Service Guaranteed
SOUTH OF COURT HOUSE
CLARION, - IOWA
1-128

Mule-O-Grams

Uncle Ned says that the only good luck he had this summer was a leak in the roof right over the kitchen sink. You too may have a leak in your roof but if you are nt as lucky as Uncle Ned you ought to see us for some MULE HIDE WATERPROOF PAINT and fix up that leak at once.

Our yard man says he's been using a magnifying glass ever since the time he mistook a lighted cigarette in the dark for a key-hole.

Right now is the right time for doing the right thing. The right thing to do right now is to order your coal from us while prices are still down.

Mabel: "Are you a sailor's sweetheart?"

Anne: "No, I don't like salt with my mush."

In Chicago a barrel of beer costs 3 to make and sells at $60, leaving $57 for ammunition.

A quick-witted man is Michael McGuire,
He spit on his chin when his whiskers caught fire.

Nels Stockseth is planning on making harness out of Mule Hide roofing for his horses.

BELMOND LUMBER COMPANY
M. H. Hanson, Mgr.
Phone 101 BELMOND, IOWA

ANNOUNCEMENT!

I have taken over the Veterinary Practice and Business formerly conducted by Dr. F. A. Bonnstetter, and respectfully solicit a continuation of your patronage in that line.

Office quarters and phone remain the same.

I am a graduate of the Veterinarian Course of Iowa State College, Ames, and have had practical experience and practice since completing the state course. Your patronage will be appreciated, and all calls, night or day, answered promptly.

POULTRY DISEASES A SPECIALTY

DR. R. T. COE
VETERINARIAN
Phone 23 Belmond, Iowa

FOR SALE!

Used Cars
IN GOOD CONDITION!
AT RIGHT PRICES!

1926 CHEVROLET SEDAN
1927 CHEVROLET TOURING with Winter Top
1924 FORD SEDAN with Bosch Magneto Stromberg Carburetor
1920 FORD TUDOR
1922 CHEVROLET TOURING

Hub Motor Co.
Phone 39 Belmond, Iowa

LOCAL NEWS

A Halloween party will be given by the local Rebekah lodge, Wednesday, Oct. 26, to which all Rebekahs and Odd Fellows are invited. Refreshments will be served.

Miss Lovett, Mrs. Connor, Mrs. Schuell, Miss Rosien and Mrs. Ballou of Ft. Dodge were Friday guests of Mrs. Andrew Bullis.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Mennenga of Hampton visited with Mrs. H. Mennenga, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Loomis returned last Thursday from a visit with relatives in Minnesota and Montana.

Geo. Smith, of Atwater, Minn., returned to his home Saturday after a visit with Belmond relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Fitts and Mrs. M. J. Newgard motored to Rockwell City, Saturday, to visit at the Ralph Edwards home. Mr. Edwards was at the hospital receiving treatment for rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Jones and daughter, Ruth, left Sunday for Gaylord, Minn., to visit a sister of Mrs. Jones.

Mrs. Tom Tyrrell returned Saturday from a six week's visit with relatives in Jones County.

Mr. and Mrs. Gartin spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Gartin's sister, Mrs. Kitch, near Iowa Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Christie and daughter of Ames came Sunday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Christie, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mennega are moving this week to the Ralph Jenison farm.

Rev. Harry Webb preached at Goodell, Sunday, for the Rev. Scott, who was not able to fill the pulpit that day.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Skovlin of Mason City were Sunday guests at the home of his folks here.

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Tomson of Clear Lake spent several days with Belmond friends last week.

Mrs. Louis Lord of Minneapolis, was a guest of relatives here a few days last week.

Miss Mildred Johnson and mother of Klemme were Sunday visitors at the R. E. Webb home.

G. A. Stanzel has added a large new electric sign to his Yellow Front cafe.

Editor Temple and brother of Bode were guests at the W. C. Tyrrell home the first of the week.

Friday and Saturday, the town was full of hunters from all parts of the state who came to hunt pheasants in Hancock county, the season being open there last Friday and Saturday. Varying degrees of luck were reported, some getting the limit—three male birds per day—while others had to be content with less, or none.

The pheasant season opens in Wright county this week, Friday, Oct. 21, the open season being Friday and Saturday of this week, and Saturday, Oct. 29, of next week. The limit is three male birds a day per hunter. No hens may be shot. Hunting may be done from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Rev. and Mrs. A. F. Kilian, Louise and Reuben, of Woden, and Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Langholz and Frances Ann of Good Thunder, Minn., were guests, Monday, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. G. Langholz.

Dr. David McBurney, dean of the extension department of Morningside College, Sioux City, died Oct. 16 of heart disease. Mr. McBurney was quite well known in Belmond, being a brother of Dr. G. F. McBurnew of this place.

OLAF NEWS

Ladies Aid Society meets with Mrs. Geo. C. Johnson Thursday, Oct. 27.

Mrs. Nick and children of Estherville spent the week end with Mrs. James Kirk.

Mr. S. O. Windecker of Iowa Falls spent several days of last week at G. H. Baxter.

Orphie Anderson and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Will Morse of Belmond.

G. H. Baxter and family called at the Andrew Lieuwen home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scott entertained relatives from Story county, who came to take advantage of the open season on pheasants in Hancock county.

Mr.a nd Mrs. Henry Ginapp of Sheffield spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Eliason.

SHERIFF'S SALE

STATE OF IOWA,
Wright County, ss.
To Belmond Home Building Company a corporation.

You are hereby notified that by virtue of a special execution, to me directed. and issued out of the office of the Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, within and for Wright County, upon a judgment rendered in said Court in favor of Consolidated National Bank of Dubuque, Iowa, trustee a corporation. and against Belmond Home Building Company a corporation, for the sum of One Thousand Four and 27-100 Dollars debt and Eighteen and 45-100 Dollars costs, and Forty Nine and 45-100 Dollars attorney's fee, I have levied upon the following described Read Estate, to-wit: Lot 8, Block 21, First Addition to Belmond Wright County, Iowa.

And that on the 29th day of October, 1927, at 2 o'clock P. M. at the front door of the Court House in Clarion, Wright County, Iowa, I will proceed to sell the same in satisfaction of said execution, together with all legal costs accruing.

Dated at the Sheriff's office in Clarion, this 28th day of September, 1927.

FRED JOHNSON,
Sheriff of Wright County, Iowa.
M. H. CZIZEK,
Attorney.

SHERIFF'S SALE

STATE OF IOWA,
Wright County, ss.
To Belmond Home Building Company a corporation.

You are hereby notified that by virtue of a special execution, to me directed. and issued out of the office of the Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, within and for Wright County, upon a judgment rendered in said Court in favor of Consolidated National Bank of Dubuque, Iowa, trustee a corporation. and against Belmond Home Building Company a corporation, for the sum of One Thousand Four and 27-100 Dollars debt and Eighteen and 45-100 Dollars costs, and Forty Nine and 07-100 Dollars attorney's fee, I have levied upon the following described Real Estate, to wit: Lot 6, Block 21 First Addition to Belmond, Wright County, Iowa.

And that on the 29th day of October, 1927, at 2 o'clock P. M. at the front door of the Court House in Clarion, Wright County, Iowa, I will proceed to sell the same in satisfaction of said execution, together with all legal costs accruing.

Dated at the Sheriff's office in Clarion, this 28th day of September, 1927.

FRED JOHNSON,
Sheriff of Wright County, Iowa.
M. H. CZIZEK,
Attorney.

SHERIFF'S SALE

STATE OF IOWA,
Wright County, ss.
To Belmond Home Building Company a corporation.

You are hereby notified that by virtue of a special execution, to me directed. and issued out of the office of the Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, within and for Wright County, upon a judgment rendered in said Court in favor of Consolidated National Bank of Dubuque, Iowa, trustee a corporation. and against Belmond Home Building Company a corporation, for the sum of One Thousand Five and 27-100 Dollars debt and Eighteen and 45-100 Dollars costs, and Forty Nine and 07-100 Dollars attorney's fee, I have levied upon the following described Read Estate, to-wit: Lot 7, Block 21 First Addition to Belmond, Wright County, Iowa.

And that on the 29th day of October, 1927, at 2 o'clock P. M. at the front door of the Court House in Clarion, Wright County, Iowa, I will proceed to sell the same in satisfaction of said execution, together with all legal costs accruing.

Dated at the Sheriff's office in Clarion, this 28th day of September, 1927.

FRED JOHNSON,
Sheriff of Wright County, Iowa.
M. H. CZIZEK,
Attorney.

Pancakes!

There isn't anything that quite fills the bill for breakfast like good pancakes. We serve them every morning—and you'll find they are good. Try our delicious pancake breakfasts!

MEALS LUNCHES
SHORT ORDERS
ICE CREAM CANDY
CIGARS TOBACCO

Look for the Red Light!

RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

STATEMENT OF CONDITION OF

State Bank of Belmond

Organized under the laws of Iowa, located at Belmond, Iowa, in the county of Wright, at the close of business on the 10 day of October, 1927.

RESOURCES

Loans and discounts, bonds and securities		$433,341.66
Overdrafts		1,525.90
Banking House	$ 40,000.00
Furniture and Fixtures	15,000.00	55,000.00
Other real estate owned		31,182.32
Due from banks and bankers, cash and cash items		59,397.66
Other assets		5,739.07
Total Resources		$586,186.61

LIABILITIES

Capital Stock		80,000.00
Undivided Profits (after deducting expenses		2,682.39
Deposits due to banks and bankers on demand	26,596.60
Individual Deposits subject to check	206,699.41
Savings Deposits	64,075.73
Time certificates of deposit	166,744.61
Demand Certificates, Certified Check and unpaid dividends	4,387.87	468,504.22
Bills payable other than with Federal Reserve Bank		35,000.00
Total Liabilities		$586,186.61

State of Iowa, Wright County—ss.

We, W. C. Tyrrell, Jr., President, G. F. Elder, Vice President, and R. E. Courson, Cashier of the bank above named, do solemnly swear that the foregoing statement is full, true and correct, to the best of our knowledge and belief.

W. C. TYRRELL, Jr. President
(BANK SEAL) G. F. ELDER, Vice President
R. E. COURSON, Cashier

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence by W. C. Tyrrell, Jr., G. F. Elder, and R. E. Courson this 17 day of October, 1927.

(SEAL GRACE QUIGLEY
Notary Public in and for Wright County.

Attested by: W. W. Goetz, T. A. Davenport, Directors.

For Friday and Saturday
OCTOBER 21 & 22
Bump Grocery Specials

FLOURS OF ALL KINDS
BUCKWHEAT SELF RISING, 4 lb. pkg. 40c
OPAL PANCAKE FLOUR 24c
VIRINIA SWEET PANCAKE FLOUR 33c
SUNBEAM FLOUR $2.19

We have a fresh supply of LITTLE JAP POP CORN, shelled and cleaned, 2 pounds for 25c

WE CARRY A FULL LINE OF FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Make our store your trading headquarters.

BLUE RIBBON BREAD AND DOUGHNUTS

THE BUMP GROCERY
PHONE 38 BELMOND, IOWA

Wait for the NEW FORD

THE new Ford is more than just a good-looking car --- it has more speed, quicker pick-up and greater stamina than you've ever hoped for in a low price car

Belmond Auto Co.
Lincoln Ford Fordson
THE PLACE OF SERVICE
LOUIS TOKMAN GEO. F. HEGINGER
Telephones 108 - 258

MESERVEY SECTION

EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:30 a. m.
Preaching service at 10:30 a. m.
E. L. C. E. at 7:00 p. m.
Evening worship at 7:30 p. m.

We are in the midst of our Revival meeting. Services every night at 7:45. Come and be benefited by these services.

Come and hear the claims of the gospel.

A. K. Henning

SCHOOL NOTES

Window boxes are being placed in the fifth and sixth, and seventh and eighth grade rooms which improves the appearance of each room immensely.

A number of pupils have been absent the past week on account of beet harvesting.

The second six weeks period is well under way and a marked improvement can be noticed by all the teachers.

The first and second grades are busy making Hallowe'en decorations in preparation for their party.

The fifth and sixth grades are making health posters this week.

The Health Crusade work has been now fully organized in most of the grades. The third and fourth grade children have their health charts made out and several of them have discovered that they are below the average in weight and special efforts will be made to bring them back to normal.

Miss Gwendolyn Temple, Principal of the high school, spent the past week end with her family in Mason City.

Benjamin Suntken has been absent the past week due to illness.

The teachers of the Meservey Consolidated School enjoyed a pheasant dinner at the home of Supt. and Mrs. H. M. Taulbee, Friday evening.

The High School is planning a big Hallowe'en party for the evening of Oct. 28th. The party is to be a masquerade, and several features are being planend.

Honer Roll of Meservey Consolidated School for First Six Weeks of 1927-27 School Year

Those whose names appear on Honor Roll A, are pupils who have the highest scholastic averages for this period in their respective room or department.

Those whose names appear on Honor Roll B, are pupils who have made the greatest improvement in their school work for this period in their respective room or department.

High School

Honor Roll A—John Schlagel, Mildred Jansson, Lydia Pannkuk, Lydia Pals.

Honor Roll B—Alma Gruis, Virgil Schluter, Andrew Lauen.

7th and 8th Grades

Honor Roll A—Henry Schlagel, 8th; Bernice Blewett, 7th; Viola Koehler, 7th.

Honor Roll B—Leona Prilipp, 8th; Ivan Allen, 7th.

5th and 6th Grades

Honor Roll A—Marcele Waddingham,; 6th; Heino Winther, 5th Byron Blewett, 5th.

Honor Roll B—Glen Janssen, 6th; Hermine Koenen, 5th.

3rd and 4th Grades

Honor Roll A—Leonore Wilkens, 4th; Mildred Wendel, 3rd; Genevieve Wilkens, 4th.

Honor Roll B—Ben Vierkant, 4th; Maryin Groen, 3rd.

1st and 2nd Grades

Honor Roll A—Sylvia Quandt 2nd; Hildegarde Gruis, 1st; Harold Allen, 2nd.

Honor Roll B—Marvin Morris, 2nd; Juanita Winters, 1st.

The Junior Class of the high school has the highest class average with an average of 88.4 per cent.

Class averages—Junior, 88.4 per cent, Senior, 86 per cent; Freshmen, 85 per cent, Sophomore, 82.4 per cent.

Birthday Party

About 40 relatives gathered at the Harm Koenen home on the evening of Oct. 11th to help him celebrate his birthday. The evening was spent pleasantly and those present enjoyed the refreshments served by Mrs. Koenen.

Auto Accident

Last Saturday afternoon as Mr. and Mrs. Con. Beier were returning from Mason City they collided with L. Foss' oil truck, as the latter was driving out of the S. Schumacker place 5 miles north of town. Luckily no serious damage resulted.

MESERVEY LOCAL NEWS

Roy Claus and family and Miss Ella Lacher were visitors with relatives and friends at Hartley, Sunday.

John Pals was home over Sunday from Morningside, to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harm J. Pals.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Wickersheim of Randall and Ed Coyle and family of Swaledale, were Sunday visitors at the C. F. W. Paul home.

Ole Christensen of Latimer is doing the plumbing in the Irv. Langlitz residence, which is fast nearing completion.

Mrs. Albert Wendel returned Sunday from a week's visit with relatives at Waseca, Minn. Albert drove up to accompany her home.

Rev. H. M. Raecker of Sheffield was calling on relatives here Sunday afternoon.

G. E. Raecker and family motored to Fort Dodge Sunday to spend the day with relatives and friends. Mrs. Anna Schroeder returned home with them for a visit.

Mrs. F. Haferman and daughter, Mrs. Heiko Janssen left Saturday for Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin, to attend the funeral of a relative.

Mrs. Lambert Pals, and daughters, Misses Tillie and Ollie, were in Hampton one day last week to call on Mrs. Lambert Pals, Jr., who is a patient at the Lutheran Hospital, having undergone an operation for appendicitis. She is getting along nicely.

Miss Christina Groen of Belmond returned home the fore part of the week after a two weeks visit at the Harm Groen and Peter H. Pals homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Paul of Buffalo Lake, Minn., visited over the week end at the home of his brother, C. F. W. Paul and with other relatives.

H. T. Smith motored to Tipton, Saturday to visit over Sunday at the home of his brother.

Harm Koenen and family of Sheffield visited at the homes of Henry Heitland and John Ruiter, Saturday and Sunday. The Koenens have recently moved from Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Braga and daughter Barbara, attended the wedding of Mrs. Braga's brother, Jack, last week, on Wednesday.

Wm. Gealow and family attended special services at St. John's Lutheran church, last Sunday. The new minister, Rev. Arthur Langholz was installed at this meeting.

Mrs. Mary Butz was quite ill for a few days the fore part of the week.

Miss Louise Watson enjoyed a visit with her brother Sunday, who is attending Iowa State College.

L. B. Hulsebus and H. Anderson of Dows were calling in town Friday and took advantage of the open season for pheasant hunting in Hancock county.

Mrs. H. Meinderts returned home Sunday from a few days visit at the Bert Stadtlander home near Latimer.

P. H. Pals and wife, Hilko Pals and wife were visiting relatives in Dumont Sunday.

C. P. Jacobson of Fryburg, N. D., was visiting at the home of his nephew Leland Jacobson and family the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kolb and grandchildren were visiting their son John and family at Latimer last week on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Halfpop and son Alvin, were in Mason City Sunday, visiting at the Henry Sprau home.

Chas. Waddington and family visited at the John Kolb and Ralph Waddington homes at Latimer, last Friday evening.

Mrs. H. Wilkins and daughters, were week end visitors with relatives at Garner.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Loats and the later's father B. Ahrenholz and his son Herman of Corsica, S. Dak., were visiting at the Mel Smith home one day last week.

Lloyd Bishop and family, and Harry Vierkant and family of Rockwell, spent Sunday here with Mrs. B. Vierkant.

Mother Strasburg continues to be in a critical condition from the result of a fall. She is suffering considerable.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Enabnit and son Meyer, of Clemons, were visiting at the Adam Kolb home Sunday.

THUMB SUCKIN

We may think it is cute to see a small child suck its thumb, but it is a bad habit and one which should be broken as soon as possible. Thumb sucking, and the use of pacifiers, cause croked teeth, spoil the shape of the mouth, and tend to harm the health of the child in many ways.

The longer the fond mother permits the child to indulge in this habit, the harder it will to break him of it. To dip the thumb in "bitter apple", which may be purchased at the drug store, is one method cure. Disliking the taste of the apple, the child will refrain.

In some children the habit is so persistent that this remedy is not sufficient. To pin bags, or over-sleeves with a closed end, over the hand, enclosing the offending thumb, is one of the best ways to break the child of this habit. He will need the sleeves more when he is about to go to sleep than in his active waking hours, for he then craves the comfort of sucking habit.

STATEMENT OF CONDITION OF

Farmers Savings Bank

Organized under the laws of Iowa, located at Meservey, in the County of Cerro Gordo, at the close of business on the 10 day of October, 1927.

RESOURCES

Loans and discounts, bonds and securities		$298,640.55
Overdrafts		521.21
Banking House	$ 5,000.00
Furniture and Fixtures	3,980.00	8,980.00
Other real estate owned		22,911.26
Due from banks and bankers, cash and cash items		55,768.85
Other assets (customers' tax receipts)		5,593.61
Total Resources		$392,415.48

LIABILITIES

Capital stock	20,000.00
Surplus fund	5,000.00	$ 25,000.00
Undivided profits (after deducting expenses		3,296.30
Individual deposits subject to check	153,007.70
Savings deposits	9,630.84
Time certificates of deposit	201,038.54
Demand certificates, certified checks and unpaid dividends	442.10	364,119.18
Total Liabilities		$392,415.48

State of Iowa, Cerro Gordo County, ss.

We, A. J. Nissen, President, Conrad Bier, Vice President, and K. Clarence Ruigh, Cashier of the bank above named, do solemnly swear that the foregoing statement is full, true and correct, to the best of our knowledge and belief.

A. J. NISSEN, President
CONRAD BIER, Vice President
(SEAL) K. CLARENCE RUIGH, Cashier

Sworn to before me and subscribedin my presence by A. J. Nissen, Conrad Bier and K. Clarence Ruigh, this 13th day of October, 1927.

ELLA LACHER
(SEAL) Notary Public in and for Cerro Gordo County.

Attested by: Frank Hafermann, Wm. Messelheiser, Jacob Nissen and W. F. Butz, Directors.

FREE INSURANCE

Sometime ago one of our depositors called for his cancelled checks, stating that he needed them in order to convince his neighbor that he had already paid the debt owing him.

Our depositor then related an incident of how a farmer had paid a Medicine Wagon driver $4.70, which he claimed was not paid. The farmer produced the check which was evidence that it had been paid, thus saving him paying the bill twice.

We say "Free Insurance."

"Service and Safety"

Farmers Savings Bank

Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

HIGH QUALITY

BUILDING MATERIAL

Screen Doors and Window Screens---Mill Work---Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts nnd Poles
Cement --- Lime

INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT

Wheat Bran -- Oil Meal -- Cotton Seed Meal, -- Tankage -- Salt

Highest Price Paid for Grain

Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.

Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

FOR YOUR
AUCTIONEER
CALL
H. BRUMMOND
KANAWHA, IOWA
PHONE 118

ATWATER KENT RADIO

Fresh "B" Batteries always on hand.

H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

Harry T. Smith
General Blacksmithing
Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding
Meservey, - Iowa

Undertaking & Funeral Director
F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone--Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

Falls Newest

SUITS and OVERCOATS

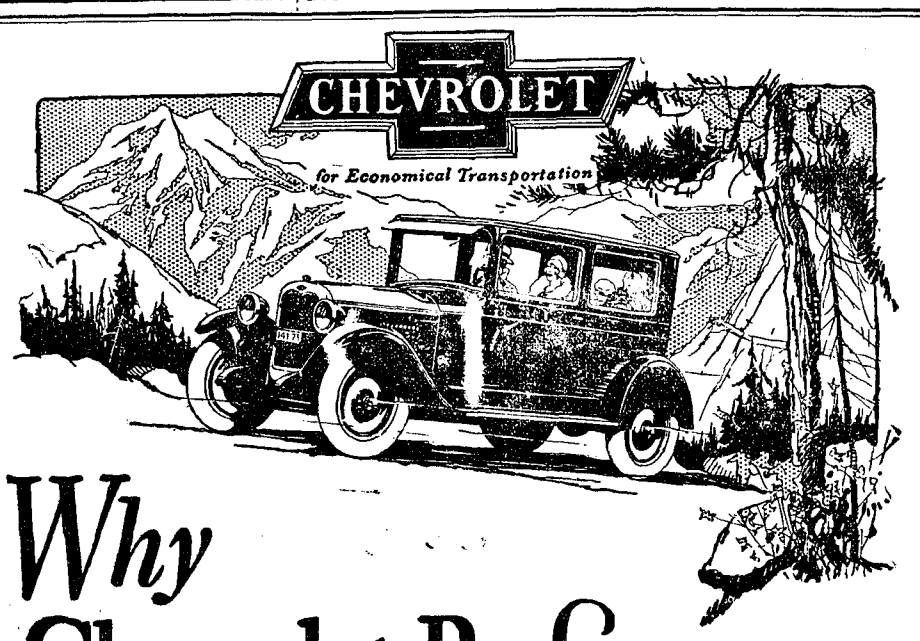
Distinctive new patterns and weaves

$30 $35 $45

Hundreds of new suits and overcoats are on display here. Smart new patterns, rich colorings, including the very popular Oxford Greys. Weaves never seen before. You can select your new suit and overcoat here with every assurance of style—and value. The Patton Brothers label on your clothing is style and quality insurance. Come in and look.

New Hats, Shirts, Ties, Hose, Sweaters, Underwear

PATTON BROTHERS CO.
Where A Dollar Does Its Duty
MASON CITY, - IOWA



Why Chevrolet Performance is Thrilling Millions

Never before was a low-priced car so delightful to drive as today's Chevrolet!

Fast get-away . . . easy, smooth operation . . . high speed roadability . . . unfailing power . . . and flashy acceleration——exactly the type of performance that everyone wants in an automobile today!

In addition, there is all the finger-tip steering, all the positive braking and effortless gear shifting that have made Chevrolet so decidedly popular for congested traffic.

And never before was a low-priced car so comfortable—for Chevrolet springs are 88% as long as the wheelbase . . . and built of chrome vanadium steel!

Come in! Learn what a feeling of confidence it gives you to drive a car that is powered for the exceptional need . . . that is smooth and quiet at every speed . . . that responds to the slightest pressure on the steering wheel.

Then you'll know why millions have acclaimed today's Chevrolet as the finest performer in the low-price field!

The COACH
$595

The Touring or Roadster	$525
The Coupe	$625
The 4-Door Sedan	$695
The Sport Cabriolet	$715
The Imperial Landau	$745
½-Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	$395
1-Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	$495

All prices f. o. b. Flint, Michigan

Check Chevrolet Delivered Prices

They include the lowest handling and financing charges available.

HUB MOTOR COMPANY
Belmond, Iowa

RAECKER CHEVROLET SALES COMPANY
Meservey, Iowa

QUALITY AT LOW COST

ROWAN ITEMS OF INTEREST

The Ketchum brothers, west of town, had the misfortune to have four cattle run into by a freight train one evening the first of last week. Three of them were killed and the other badly crippled.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Haupt and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Eckleburger were called to Klemme last Tuesday, where Mr. Haupt's brother, Fred Haupt was very low. Upon arriving there they found he had passed away. He had been suffering from cancer for several months. Mr. Haupt remained at Klemme until after the funeral, Mrs. Haupt,, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Eckleburger and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Haupt going up on Friday to attend the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Harris drove to Sioux Falls, S. Dak., Saturday to see Mr. Harris' grandsons, Roy and Robert Allen. They returned home the first of the week.

The High School Agricultural class went to Ames last Wednesday.

Mrs. Fern Peddle had a very good farm sale last Wednesday. Nearly everything brought a good price. Mrs. Peddle has rented the land to John Keheler for the coming year, but expects to stay on the farm.

Jim Chester, the section foreman had the misfortune to drop a railroad tie on his foot injuring it quite badly. He was unable to work for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shafer and Betty and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coburn went to Cooks, Michigan, last week to spend a week at the home of Mrs. Shafer's and Mrs. Coburn's sister, Mrs. Oscar Thurson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Gail Cundall returned recently from visiting at the Frank Toyne home near Waltham, Minn.

Word has been received by relatives of Harry Harris that he is located in Twin Falls, Oregon, and is working in a sugar beet factory.

Carl Emerson was quite ill the last of the week, being threatened with pneumonia. Mr. Swanson, who coached the Juniors for their play, took Carl's place on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Les. Peyton are the parents of a son, born last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hercog of Chicago came on Friday and accompanied Alvin Haupts to Klemme to attend the funeral of Fred Haupt. Mr. Hercog is a cousin of the Haupt family. They spent Sunday at the Alvin Haupt home and returned to their home in Chicago Sunday evening.

Murtell Myers has bought out Alfred Woods' farming interests on the F. H. Fowler farm east of town. The Myers family will take possession some time this week.

Lorenzo Bingham of Iowa Falls was a week end visitor with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Whitten and Billy drove to Webster City Sunday.

L. R. Fitz has the contract for graveling the township road one mile north of town and will start work at once.

Darrell Stout, Dean Fitz and Wm. Whitten spent Friday and Saturday in Hancock County near Britt hunting pheasants, that being the open season there.

Miss Maude Cowley who teaches in the high school at Alden was a week end visitor at home.

Wayne Boyington and family of Brandon spent Sunday at the Alfred Boyington home.

Mrs. Milton Brown returned to her home at Marengo, Monday after spending some time with her mother Mrs. F. H. Fowler.

Roy Fanselow was home over Sunday from the State College at Ames.

Dale Farran returned Saturday from Los Angeles, California, where he had spent several weeks with his brother, Duncan Farran and wife.

Josephine Mossman went to Clarion on Monday where she will be employed as chamber maid at the Moore Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Groom and children, Tommy and Darlene of Geneva spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Myers.

Julius Christenson who stays at the Nels Olson home, returned from Sweden last week where he has been visiting relatives. He went from here last May and reports that it rained every day while he was in Sweden.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Thomas and baby of Fort Dodge, spent Sunday with Mr. Thomas' cousin, Mrs. D. W. Whitten and family.

It was announced in this paper last week that the M. E. Ladies Aid Society would hold a twenty five cent dinner in the church basement on Thursday, Oct. 20. The ladies have changed their plans since and will hold a covered dish and sandwich luncheon. This is to be a business meeting with election of officers so a good attendance is desired.

Henry Ohlerking went to Hampton Wednesday to see his new granddaughter which was born to Mr. and Mrs. Martin Werda of Sheffield at the Lutheran Hospital at Hampton.

Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Temple of Burt spent Sunday at the home of his mother, Mrs. D. A. French.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. McKinley and daughter Luelda, and Thelma Hackley drove to Nicolette Park at Boone on Sunday.

Frank Pester near Clarion returned last week from Laramie, Wyoming, where he purchased 110 head of white face cattle and shipped home to feed this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Azeltine and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Azeltine and son spent Sunday at the home of their daughter and sister, Mrs. John Hardcastle and husband, at Ayrshire.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Adamson had as week end guests, Mr. Adamson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Adamson of Centerville; his sister, Miss Opal Adamson of New York City; his brother, Leroy Adamson of Fertile; and Mrs. Adamson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Whiting of Waukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lineweaver and son Kenneth of Goodell, Jim Heathershaw of California, Mrs. Heathershaw of Clarion and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Lester and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hanson at the Peter Hanson home.

Fred State of Santa Ana, Calif., was calling on friends in town one day last week.

Bert Heath and son Broks Heath. spent a couple of days last week with their father and grandfather, S. B. Health.

Donald Hyde of Crystal Lake spent a few days last week with his brother, Roy Hyde and family.

Pete Munsey returned a short time ago from North Dakota, where he has be working in the harvest fields.

Don Farran went Saturday night to spend the week end at the home of Henry Little (R. H. L.) in Chicago. He returned home Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Marquardt of Pipestone, Minn., visited over the week end with their son, Rev. L. A. Marquardt and family.

Mrs. Raymond Hanson departed for Sheffield, Ill., Sunday evening, being called there by the death of her brother, Guy Hanson.

Guy had many friends here who will be made sad by his death. He worked around herd several years before the war and has made several visits since.

He was in the army during the war and saw many hardships during his service in France. At one time his company, while chasing the enemy, ran out of provisions and lived on nothing but cabbage stubs for four or five days, the enemy having eaten the cabbage as they passed through. After the Armistice was signed he served in the army of occupation in German territory for some time.

Guy was never in very good health since his discharge from the army altho he has worked most of the time. He had been manager of an Oil Well Supply Company in Rollins, Wyoming, for four years and when he became unable to work any longthey still kept him on their pay roll for several months.

Last February it was found that he was suffering from pernicious anemia and although everything was tried which might have been of benefit it was of no avail and death claimed him last Saturday, Oct. 15. He was thirty two years and one months of age, being born in Bureau County, Ill., in Sept. 1895.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Hanson and family will leave by motor for Pasadena, Calif., about the middle of next week.

Edgar Mantle and Mrs. Ina Stumph went to Iowa Falls Friday evening to meet Miss Garnette Stumph and her friend, Miss Wanda Duncan from I. S. T. C. at Cedar Falls. They spent the week end with Garnette's mother, Mrs. Ina Stumph. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thomas and Mrs. Stumph drove to Cedar Falsl with them Sunday afternoon.

Herman Retliff is building a new house on the land he purchased a couple of years ago.

Mrs. C. H. Lindsey and children, Garth and Dorothy Elizabeth, and Miss Dorothy Steffens were Hampton visitors Monday afternoon.

The American Legion will hold a meeting next Monday evening, Oct. 24th, at which the new officers will be installed.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. H. J. C. Box on Wednesday afternoon. Leader Mrs. Walter Whitten. Subject "Citizenship." A report from the state convention will be given. An urgent request for a good attendance.

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Bounds and some other members of the church will attend the District Conference at Britt on Wednesday. The ministers wives plan to have a meeting and have dinner together that day.

The parent teachers association held a meeting at the school house on Tuesday evening.

There is to be a meeting of the officers and teachers of the M. E. Sunday Schools of the County at Clarion on Thursday. It is an all day meeting at which the plans for the work of the Sunday Schools will be made for the coming year.

M. E. CHURCH CALENDAR

Rev. J. H. Bounds, Pastor

10:00 A. M.—Sunday School.
11:00 A. M.—Morning Worship.
6:45 P. M.—Epworth League.
7:30 P. M.—Evening worship.
7:30 P. M., Wednesday—Prayer meeting.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. L. A. Marquardt, Pastor

10:30 A. M.—Sunday School
11:30 A. M.—Morning worship. Subject, "Our Lord's Question for Today."
3:00 P. M.—Junior Christian Endeavor.
6:30 P. M.—Senior Christian Endeavor.

No evening services.

7:30 P. M. Wednesday.—Prayer meeting and Bible Study.

No choir practice this week.

The Young Woman's Missionary Study club will meet Thursday evening, Oct. 20 promptly at 8:00 with Mrs. Fred Williams. Mrs. Laura Burt will have the lesson. There will be a social hour following the missionary hour. Assistant hostesses are, Mr. Henry Williams and Mrs. Marquardt. We are going to dress dolls for our Christmas box, so don't forget your doll and sewing material. All young ladies of the community who are not connected with any other church are invited to attend.

ROWAN CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL NOTES

The High School glee clubs are working on an operetta, "Sailor Maids" to be given next week. Miss Vanessa Pruss is the coach.

We notice that a few of the high school boys have given up in despair over being able to grown enough of a brush on their upper lips to be noticeable. A few, however, seem determined to grow a distinguishable shadow by holidays.

The Junior Class play, "Mammy's Lil' Wild Rose" was successfully given in the high school auditorium on Thursday and Friday of last week. The presentation of the play on Friday night was made possible only by Prin. Swanson's ability to fill the place of Carl Emerson who was ill on that night. Much credit is due Mr. Swanson and the class for the exceptionally good acting and the success of the play.

SERIOUS THOUGHT

"Bootblacks are having twice as many children as college professors."

NEWS ITEMS FROM GOODELL

Miss Lenore Bennett of Garner came Monday to substitute two weeks in the primary room.

Mrs. John Dominey and her niece Miss Josephine, returned home Friday from Hampton where they have spent the past two weeks. Josephine is feeling fine since her recent operation for appendicitis.

Anton Boller, Lee Robbins and Alfred Carpenter left Wednesday and went to Mason City where they will be employed in the sugar factory for about three months.

A host of friends gathered at the Ed Hemenway home Monday evening and held a surprise birthday party in honor of Mrs. Hemenwy. A delicious luncheon was served.

W. L. Thada spent from Monday until Thursday at Des Moines attending a Merchant's Convention.

Rev. and Mrs. Emerson who now reside at their home in Charles City visited the fore part of the week with their daughter, Mrs. Lew Wesenberg.

Friends here are glad to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Werte Usher, recently moved to Rowan and have accepted positions in a department store. Mr. Usher is manager of the groceries, and Mrs. Usher the dry goods department.

Mrs. H. O. Sandberg and Robert, of Iowa Falls, came Wednesday for a brief visit at the O. Sandberg home. On Friday Henning and Mr. Ingham of Cedar Rapids were business callers at Britt and came back this way and the two former returned with them.

Avis Wilson returned the fore part of last week from Burt where she has been for some time caring for her sister, Mrs. Thorson, who was burned very badly, but is getting along nicely now.

Luke Brown of Mankato, Minn., and his road force who have been grading the road west of town recently finished up work there and moved Tuesday to the east road and are progressing rapidly during this fine weather.

Renwick high school team crossed bats with the local boys Wednesday afternoon at the school diamond. The score resulted 5 to 0 in favor of Goodell. At the close of the game, Miss Grace Liittchwager and her domestic science girls invited the boys to the cooking room and served them a fine lunch.

Friends here received word Tuesday from Clarion that Mrs. Given had passed away that evening. Her daughter, Marie Given, is primary

(Continued on page 8)

Exhibition

---AT---

Smith & Skovlin

In our windows are exhibited the various stages of construction in the making of the famous

NUNN-BUSH

Superfine SHOES

FOR MEN

Here you will see the different articles used, from the thread to the solid oak soles. This display shows step by step, the building of the nationally-known ankle-fashioned oxfords.

NUNN BUSH

"Faithful to the Last"

SMITH SERVICE & SKOVLIN SATISFACTION

Phone 50 Belmond, Iowa

BEN HUR!

The world's greatest Moving Picture! Nothing like it ever before—perhaps never again!

A tale of the Christ, by Gen. Lew Wallace, with

RAMON NOVARRO

Betty Bronson, May McAvoy, Francis X. Bushman, Carmel Myers.

WINDSOR THEATRE, HAMPTON

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday

OCTOBER 24-25-26-27

Matinee 2:30 25c and 35c

Evening 7:15 - 9:15 25c and 50c

SPECIAL 10-PIECE ORCHESTRA

FOOTBALL!

LAKE MILLS H. S.

vs.

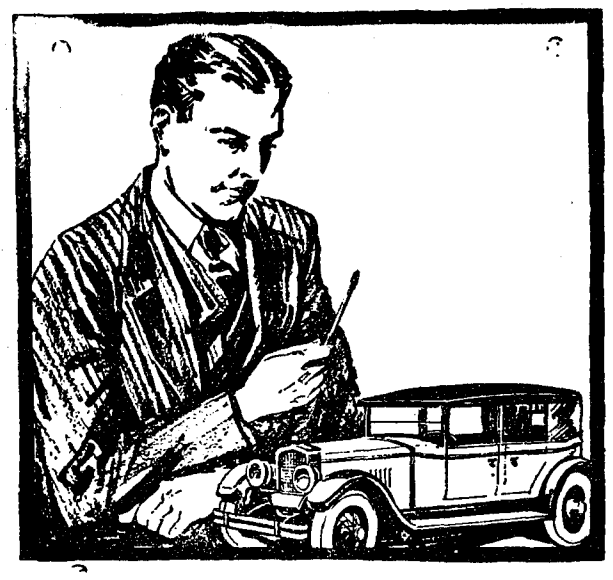
BELMOND H. S.

Friday Oct. 21

GAME CALLED AT 3:30 P. M.

The Belmond boys have shown improvement in every game. Lake Mills has one of their best teams in years. This game will be one of the best of the season.

Admission 25c & 35c



"How best can I trade in my present car for a new car?"

WHEN you are ready to trade in your present car for a new car, you naturally want full value for your present car. But most of all you want full new car value.

It will therefore pay you to consider varying trade-in allowance offers in the light of these basic facts:

1 Your present car has only one fundamental basis of value: i.e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.

2 Your present car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.

3 The largest allowance offered is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not.

4 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.

5 First judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your present car.

6 Remember that you are making a purchase—not a sale. You are buying a new car and simply using your present car as a credit against the new car's purchase price.

WE publish this message, believing that the public is entitled to have all the facts. And we invite you to send for the facts about General Motors products by using the coupon below.

GENERAL MOTORS

CLIP THE COUPON

GENERAL MOTORS (Dept. A), Detroit, Mich.

CHEVROLET ☐
PONTIAC ☐
OLDSMOBILE ☐
OAKLAND ☐ BUICK ☐
LASALLE ☐
CADILLAC ☐

Please send, without obligation to me, illustrated literature describing the General Motors product I have checked—together with your booklet describing General Motors Proving Ground.

Name _____

Address _____

_____

FRIGIDAIRE Electric Refrigerator ☐ DELCO-LIGHT Electric Plants ☐

ALEXANDER NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Veeder and daughter, Virginia Ruth, of Hollandale, Minn., were visiting relatives here Saturday and Sunday.

Mr.a nd Mrs. Charlie Harmon of Geldfield visited at the Nels Larson home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Tinkey returned Thursday from Osterdock where they had been for a visit with Mr. Tinkey's parents. They report the roads in a bad condition.

John Bell, daughter, Jessie, and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Leebrick of Hampton were callers at the H. C. Lykweig home in Sheffield Sunday.

Lewis Schulte and Jesse Arends of Des Moines spent the week end at the homes of their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Miles and daughter Esther of Clear Lake, were visitors at the Albert Larsen home Sunday.

Mr. C. W. Brewbaker of Dallas Center is visitng at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. E. Buterbaugh and family.

Misses Esther and Velma Larsen returned to Spencer Monday after a two weeks visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Larson and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hardy and children and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Finkle and daughter, Leone of Hampton were visiting relatives here Sunday.

R. E. Buterbaugh and family are enjoying a visit with Mrs. Sarah E. Buterbaugh of Dallas Center.

Mrs. Lillian Sugar came Sunday for a visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Albert Larson.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dunn and family were visiting at the George Proctor home at Hampton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Ingraham, Misses Ada and Anna Star and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gaulke and baby of Dows were Sunday visitors at the Joe Ingraham home.

Mrs. William Aldinger and daughter Elizabeth of Hampton were calling at the W. P. Aldinger home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Green and daughter, Emmagene, were Hampton visitors Sunday at the James Green and Ethel Hall homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bangasser of Ackley, were Sunday visitors at the Carl Bohlen home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rodemeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyers and son of Latimer and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rodemeyer and children of Hampton were guests at the Fred Rodemeyer home Sunday.

George Yaw and mother, Mrs. Harvey Yaw of Iowa Falls, were visiting at the Charlie Winwood and Fred Rodemeyer homes Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Butler were calling at the A. B. Arends home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Nysco Boelman and children of Belmond visited at the Jelto Pals home Sunday.

J. C. Arends and daughter Hazel, spent the week end with relatives at Everly.

Miss Imo Hall is working at the Tony Herman home near Latimer.

Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Woodcock of Farnhamville came Saturday and Rev. Woodcock preached in the United church Sunday morning and evening.

The ladies of the Evangelical Lutheran church held their bazaar and served ice cream, cake, pie and coffee in the United Church basement, Saturday evening. They realized the sum of nearly ninety dollars.

The following officers were elected for the coming year at a meeting held Thursday, of the Women's Missionary Circle at the home of Miss Jessie Bell: Jessie Bell, president, Mrs. Lyle Hall, vice president, Mrs. Lloyd Green Secretary, Mrs. George Dunn treasurer, Mrs. John Arends, corresponding secretary.

The Webster City association of Congregational churches held here Tuesday and Wednesday, was well attended. There were nearly seventy present from out of town. A fine program was carried out. Humboldt was selected for the meeting place next fall.

John Bell was a business caller at Hampton Thursday, and returned home with a new Oldsmobile sedan.

There will be preaching at the United Church next Sunday by Rev. Northrop of Hartwick. All are invited.

Henry and Robert Toll of Kelley, were Sunday visitors at R. E. Buterbaughs.

GOODELL NEWS

(Continued from page 7)

teacher here and the community extends heartfelt sympathy in her great sorrow. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hemenway and Mrs. Claude Allie from here attending. Miss Given will not return to her school duties until next Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Smith of Meservey accompanied by Mrs. T. R. Burgess and Mrs. J. Ahrenkiel, autoed to Iowa Falls Wednesday to attend Mr. Jim Smith's funeral. Mr. Smith was an uncle of Matt and Mrs. Burgess.

James H. Bremmer of Bedford came Thursday to enjoy the two days of pheasant hunting and to visit old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes recently returned from Moorehead, Minn. where they have enjoyed a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Dulcie Mayland. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Peterson of Brainerd, Minn. who will make an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. Dorothy Christenson.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Busse who reside 5 miles north east are the parents of a baby girl.

Mrs. Ina Eldred and daughter, Verneda of Clear Lake, Mrs. Abbott and two children of Chicago, were week end guests at the S. S. Matson home.

Misse Louise Mason and Louise Ahrenkiel visited friends at Des Moines over the week end.

Andrew Hopperstad was a week end visitor at his home at Kalmer.

Roy Spitler was called to Wesley the fore part of last week due to the illness of a relative. His daughter, Edith, accompanied him.

Verdie Wilson who has been following the harvest in Minnesota and the Dakotas returned home last week.

Miss Nina Ahrenkiel has been absent from school for some time suffering with the whooping cough.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ruka accompanied by Miss Summerville of Cumberland, Maryland, Floyd and Vernon Scott, autoed to Hampton, Saturday to spend the day with Mrs. Scott and Harriet at the hospital, Harriet is getting along fine and expects to be able to be brought home Wednesday.

Mrs. Anton Baller invited about twenty girls to her home Saturday evening and entertained them in honor of Lucile's seventeenth birthday. A splendid time was enjoyed and the hostess served delicious refreshments at the close of the evening.

Messrs. Earl Clark and Matteson are building a new house on the Frank Quigley farm. The Francis Quigley family will live in it.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Tanner enjoyed a visit Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Juhl from Crystal Lake.

Mrs. Henry Christensan and Mrs. James Christie went to Garner Thursday morning to attend the funeral of a friend.

Joe Ashe of Kanawha was around shaking hands with old friends Friday. Mr. Ashe was formerly the road patrolman here.

Harry Webb of Belmond delivered a fine sermon at the U. B. Church Sunday morning as Rev. Scott was unable to preach.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Schneider attended the annual farm bureau meeting at Britt on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Woods of Marshalltown came Sunday to spend a week with the latter's mother, Mrs. Louise Africa and sisters, Mrs. Savogue and Mrs. Deiger.

L. W. Sherwood and family autoed to Iowa Falls Sunday to visit relatives. Miss Liittchwager accompanied them and spent the day with her home folks at Alden.

The high school teachers and pupils are very busy getting up a Carnival that will be given Friday, Oct. 28th at the hall. A fine entertainment is planned.

Goodell friends extend heartiest congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John Wenzel who were married Wednesday by Father Molloy at the parsonage in Belmond. The bride has always lived near Goodell and has a host of friends here. Immediately following the ceremony the bride's mother, Mrs. Anna Ruka, served a fine wedding dinner. The happy couple autoed to St. Paul for a honeymoon. They will be at home to their many friends at Kanawha, where the groom owns a meat market.

Mrs. Lilly and son of Cedar Rapids were guests last week with her sister, Mrs. W. F. Beier.

Relatives from Chicago who have been visiting at the Jake Bachman home returned last week to their home.

Mrs. Hattie Aldrich who has a position with the Orphan's Home at Davenport came last week and brought two ten year old girls here, leaving one at the Dick Delger home and one at the Homer Ness home.

Mrs. Framer Cordes spent Thursday at Garner serving on the jury.

Mrs. Rose Houghton entertained a number of friends at the home of her son Reginald last Sunday in honor of her son Clement's birthday. Clement came home from Iowa Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Tanner autoed to Mason City Sunday afternoon and just before they came near the County Poor farm a car came along and crowded them into the ditch. They tipped over and broke a telephone pole off. Mrs. Tanner went through the window and is bruised and badly shaken up. The car was wrecked very badly but fortunately no one was seriously hurt.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd O'Rourke who reside in Fort Dodge were week end guests at the Anson Avery home. The former is a brother of Mrs. Avery's.

Church Notes

Mrs. E. J. Hetland was hostess to the Norwegian Aid last Thursday afternoon.

The Senior Christian Endeavor will have a program and pie social at the church on Friday evening of this week. The money will go into a fund for the purchase of paint for the church and parsonage. Every one who is interested in having a god time and also help our young people raise this money are asked to come and enjoy themselves and help the cause.

We were happy to have seven new people present themselves for membership into our church and they were received into the church last Sunday. They were: Mr. Fred Williams, Mrs. Ina Williams, Bernice and Mildred Williams, Mrs. Ethel Marquardt and Robert and Carol Fanselow. We pray God's blessing on them in this new life and service.

A number of our people attended the Webster City Association of Congregational churches and ministers. Those in attendance were: Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Marquardt, Mr. Edgar Bingham, Miss Francis Virden and Mesdames C. Kercheval, R. Virden, H. J. C. Box and H. J. Whitten.

A number of people from Galt were in attendance at our evening service Sunday. Those present were: Mrs. Norris, Vivian Norris, Mrs. Satterlee, Miss Stoakes, Miss Harriet Poolman, and Mr. Melvin Tisdahl. Glad to have you with us. Come again.

Kinseth's Store News

Let's all go out to the football game, tomorrow, and help the boys trim Lake Mills. You know, we have a good team this year, but the boys have been playing in hard luck. Let's boost 'em along tomorrow!

While you're down town stop in and try our fig bar cookies and ginger snaps, each 2 pounds for 25c.

Flour—Sunbean $1.98; Snoflake $2.20; Snobread $2.35.

A.B.C. Pancake Flour 29c. Or if you hanker for some good buckwheat cakes try our Fairie Queen Buckwheat Flour, at 35c.

Corn meal, graham, rye.

Corn Flakes, 2 pkgs. 25c.

Elbow Macaroni, 3 lbs. for 25c.

With every pound of Red Rose Coffee at 45c you get a tumbler free.

Golden Cup Coffee in 2 lb. lots, with a vegetable cooker, all for $1.29.

Gallon fruits—peaches 59c, 6 cans SC 54c; prunes 49c; apricots 77c.

49c buys a good broom.

Call us on eggs—and don't fogret the Store on the Corner.

STATEMENT OF CONDITION OF

Belmond Savings Bank

Organized under the laws of Iowa, located at Belmond, Iowa, in the County of Wright, at the close of business on the 10 day of October, A. D. 1927.

RESOURCES

Loans and Discounts		$437,910.22
Bonds and Securities (Exclusive of U. S. Bonds		42,550.31
United States Bonds		20,212.50
Overdrafts		257.77
Banking House	6,000.00
Furniture and Fixtures	3,600.00	9,600.00
Other Real Estate Owned		24,655.17
Due from Banks and Bankers, Cash and Cash Items		39,704.22
Other Assets, Customers Tax Receipts		4,457.13
Total Resources		$629,347.32

LIABILITIES

Capital Stock	$ 25,000.00
Surplus Fund	$ 6,000.00	31,000.00
Undivided Profits (After deducting expenses)		2,104.26
Individual Deposits Subject to Check	259,727.08
Savings Deposits	151,127.44
Time Certificates of Deposit	183,338.40
Demand Certificates, certified checks and unpaid dividends	2,050.14	596,243.06
Total Liabilities		$629,347.32

State of Iowa, Wright County, ss.

We, C. P. Luick, president; D. E. Packard, vice president; and C. O. Fitts, cashier, of the bank above named, do solemnly swear that the foregoing statement is full, true and correct to the best of our knowledge and belief.

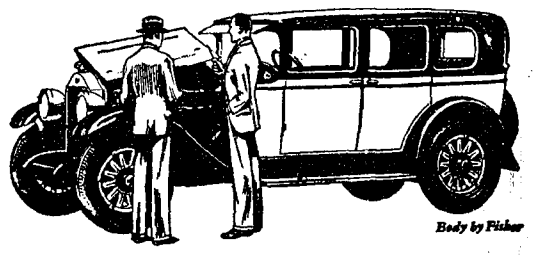
C. P. LUICK, President
(BANK SEAL) D. E. PACKARD, Vice President
C. O. FITTS, Cashier

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence by C. P. Luick, D. E. Packard and C. O. Fitts this 15 day of October, 1927.

ROY A. HENDERSON
(SEAL) Notary Public in and for Wright County.

Attested by: Harm Steenblock, M. D. Sullivan, and O. T. Jacobson, Directors.

Only Buick has an engine Vibrationless beyond belief



Body by Fisher

BUICK'S remarkable freedom from vibration is due primarily to three vitally important factors. First—the inherent smoothness of the Buick Valve-in-Head six-cylinder engine. Second—rubber engine mountings, front and rear. And third—the scientific and almost perfect balance of the entire Buick crankshaft assembly.

Only Buick enjoys these advantages. And only Buick provides the silken performance—the unvarying smoothness at all speeds—the longer life and greater serviceability of an engine vibrationless beyond belief.

Sedans $1195 to $1995 Coupes $1195 to $1850
Sport Models $1195 to $1525

All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich., government tax to be added. The G.M.A.C. financing plan, the most desirable, is available.

BUICK for 1928

WEBSTER COUNTY BUICK CO.
DISTRIBUTORS
20-24 North 9th St. Fort Dodge, Iowa
BELMOND—HUB MOTOR CO. Kanawha—Yeakel & Mallow
Clarion—Linfor Auto Co. Dows—A Banwell
Eagle Grove—Porter Auto Co.

Men Marooned

By GEORGE MARSH

Copyright by The Penn Publishing Co.
WNU Service

Vaguely her meaning dawned on him. Scars— to her—were an accolade. Those straight eyes of hers never turned in horror from a wound.

"Forgive me," he said, and his eyes clouded with mist. "I knew the day I met you—that you saw beyond—the scars."

For an instant her face was radiant with a look that stirred the man with the mad desire to go to her—take her in his arms—wring from this woman who doubted him—his love, the admission that she too cared. But no, not here, his ward and guest, helpless to avoid him. His chivalry checked his impulse. She knew he loved her; she should have fair play at Elkwan.

Muttered words from the sick man drew them to his bedside. The great frame, banded by strips of cloth to confine him in his delirium, rendered the bed he lay on insignificant. His heavy russet hair, smoothed by the nurse from his wide forehead, framed the deep blue eyes which stared, unseeing at the ceiling of the room. Below leered the torn mouth, ghastly in its distortion.

"We were happy—before," they heard him mutter. "I know—I know—it was hard. But couldn't you bear it—for the sake of—the old days? Handsome Galbraith—it was—once. Then—that shell! Good-by, Handsome Galbraith!—But you—I loved—needed. Your eyes! God! the look in them—when you saw me!"

The eyes of Joan Quarrier and Guthrie met. Two tears, ignored, slowly wet her cheeks. The face of the man was twisted with pity.

"What hell he must have lived through!"

"And she—why are such creatures put into the world?" said the girl, huskily. "When his need of her was greatest—she unmasked her little soul."

Involuntarily Garth Guthrie started. How unerringly she had characterized Ethel. Had she guessed, he wondered.

"I can guess what followed," Garth replied. "I know him. Heart-broken—he often spoke of her—he went to drink, to forget. Then it happened."

"But after all, are they sure he's the man?"

"The circumstantial evidence puts it beyond question—the description, his being here in the north."

While Joan caught a few hours' sleep in the room of Guthrie which he had again given her, the factor sat beside the unconscious man, whose tortured lungs labored for breath.

Before she lay down the girl stood quizzically before the photographs which still stood in their places on his dresser.

"You're very lovely," she murmured. "It's not strange that he can't forget you. He still remembers or you'd not be here—still remembers, although he wants me to think he has forgotten."

CHAPTER XIV

In early afternoon Etienne swung back the trade-house door with a crash.

"Dog-team on de riviere!"

"All right," replied Guthrie. "Tell Miss Quarrier on your way. Now you get into those bandages and into bed, and don't have the children around if they come to talk to you."

"I am ver' seek man," laughed the half-breed and went out.

So the police had come? He hadn't expected them for days, but they must have reached Albany from Moose the day he left. They certainly hadn't lingered at the schooner with Cameron's men; mystified at failing to find the body of McDonald, they probably wanted to talk first to the men who had discovered the tragedy, then return to Seal cove.

They would pass at least one night at Elkwan to talk it over. There was no alternative to having them eat at his quarters. There lay the danger. He would rush them through supper and to the trade-house where they would sleep, as, of course, Joan Quarrier had his spare bed. Etienne's accident they would have heard of from Cameron, and Etienne and Marie were more than equal to entertaining them with the picture of a man suffering from a painful wound. The rub would come at meal time. Would the opiate keep McDonald quiet—and his breathing—would they hear it? If only he could have been moved for a day, but where? The trade-house, factor's quarters, and Etienne's were the sole heated buildings at the post. Going to his quarters, he called Joan and Old Anne.

"Anne, you can't speak English—don't answer any questions. Understand?" The broad face of the cook stretched in a smile as she winked. "Name," she answered in Cree.

"Good! And when you hear us come in for supper, make as much noise as you can in the kitchen. Sing all you wish, rattle the pans. When you wait on us, talk to me in Cree—all the time. See? They may hear him breathe."

"Enh-enh!" replied the Cree.

"How is he now?" Guthrie asked Joan.

Her eyes reflected her anxiety. "Worse—much worse. Raging fever—105; pulse running away. He's been straining terribly at his bonds. Lucky you and Etienne made them strong."

"You gave him the opiate, of course?"

"Yes, he's feeling it now. By supper time he'll be quiet—but his breathing?"

"Dog Team on the Riviere!"

"That's what worries me." Guthrie went to the sick room where the giant, bound to his bed by thick bandages of cloth, lay moaning in a half stupor. "Old Craig. To finish like this!" Sorrowfully, the man who was imperiling his future that his friend might have his chance went out to meet the approaching dog-team.

With Shot beside him, curious of the strange dogs, Garth watched the visitors climb the cliff trail behind their team of scrubs.

"Good day!" called the older of the two men, stepping forward with extended hand. This is Mr. Rawdon." The speaker nodded to his companion, a young, heavily built man, who shook Guthrie's hand.

"I've been expecting you," said Guthrie. "You can turn your dogs into that empty shack after you've fed them. They'll be safe there. My only assistant, as you know, is laid up."

The dogs fed and safeguarded from the big Ungavas of the post, Guthrie led his guests to the warm stove of the trade-room.

"You come straight from Seal cove?" he asked carelessly. "They were expecting you when I left Moose with Miss Quarrier."

At the mention of Joan's name, the heavy face of Rawdon lighted with interest.

"Yes," replied Farrel, lighting his pipe. "We went over to the island with Cameron's people who are guarding the fur. But, of course, we wanted to talk to you and your man before we got down to work."

"Got down to work? What do you mean?" Guthrie's cold eyes studied the face of the inspector. A decent face, he thought, honest, human.

"Why we found only three bodies. Cameron says you found four, including McDonald's. McDonald's wasn't there."

"McDonald's body not there? Impossible!"

"No, we made no mistake. The Indians must have spirited it away. They tell me there's a fortune in fur on that schooner, too, but there's no sign of its being plundered."

The watchful Guthrie had his opening and lost no time in developing it.

"Why, we left McDonald dead in his berth, from flu, I suppose. Breault was in the cabin, and the other two in berths. The interpreter and a sailor they claim were on the boat must have made for the nearest camp. Did you search the ice? The Indians might have buried him. He had some Indians picking up fur for him on the island. They may have found him and given him a decent grave in the ice."

"That's true, but why should they leave the rest on the boat?"

"He was the big man—the chief. He had a great hold on them. That might explain it," Guthrie suggested. "Well, I wonder what they've got for you hungry men to eat," he added. "Make yourselves at home while I go over and ask Old Anne when she'll be ready for us."

"By the way," called Farrel as Garth opened the door. "How's your man, wound all right? He can talk, can't he? I want to get his statement."

"He's doing finely—thanks to his army nurse. She saved him from infection."

They were waiting for Garth at the house. Her eyes shadowy with strain and anxiety, Joan met him at the door.

"The morphine? Is it working?" he asked.

"He's quiet now, but I don't know how long it will last. It seems lost on him. I've given him all I dare."

"His temperature—pulse?"

"Awful! I don't see how he lives. It looks like the crisis tonight."

"I can't hear him breathe. Is supper ready? I'll bring them in, and rush it through."

"Yes."

As he turned to go out he heard a sob. She stood at the door of the bedroom.

"To think he should die like this!" she said.

Guthrie strode back to her. He took a limp hand in both of his. "Healer of Wounds, I love you! Courage!" And he went out.

At the trade-house door his set face dropped its lines.

"Well, Old Anne is about ready for us. It's short variety but I hope there'll be enough for your appetites. I'm sorry, but I'll have to put you up here. Miss Quarrier has my extra room."

As Joan Quarrier, pale, but mistress of her nerves, met them in the living room with a forced graciousness and was introduced, the eyes of Rawdon bulged in patent admiration of the picture she made. Fair women are rare where life is hard, and his evident surprise at finding the ex-army nurse who had wintered at the mission at Albany of such comeliness, seemed temporarily to paralyze his tongue.

Appearing on the minute with the stew, Old Anne filled the room with the harsh sibilants of the Cree tongue.

"Don't mind Anne," Guthrie laughed, making conversation as his guests ate. "She's a bit queer in the head, but her heart's all right, isn't it, Anne?"

Anne turned upon him a chaos of chatter. From the kitchen, where she went for the boiled goose, the staunch old Cree kept up a rattle of pans, until she hurriedly returned to resume her conversation with the man whose ears strained for sounds through the shut door of the sick room.

As yet no sound from the room. Thus far—victory!

"Well," said Farrel, comfortably, as he finished, "your cook may be a bit talkative, Guthrie, but I sure have enjoyed her supper."

"Glad you have. Sorry it wasn't better."

"And you've got to run to that half-breed?" demurred Rawdon, now quite at his ease with Joan. "I don't see why you can't stay a while and talk to us."

"Oh, a nurse always puts duty before pleasure, Mr. Rawdon," she replied, with a stiff smile, as with tilted head she waited, nerves taut as wires, for the repetition of a sound she had heard—a sound incomprehensible, terrifying, from the closed room.

"Well," he laughed, "that's what I call a compliment. But you'll be back soon?"

"Back soon, you whelp!" cursed Guthrie inwardly. "If you don't finish that food, I'll choke you with it!" Then his heart skipped—to shake him with its hammering, as he heard a thud—a sound of ripping cloth. Raising his voice, he said sharply: "If you're through, gentlemen, we'll have a smoke beside the trade-house stove," and with Farrell, rose from the table where Rawdon lingered, hypnotized by the face of the girl who sat rigid with fear.

Guthrie flung open the door, admitting the biting air. "Rawdon!" The words snapped through the silent room like the crack of a whip. "Miss Quarrie has a dressing to do for Savanne." Then behind the shut door, a crash, curses, a groan froze him, desperate, where he stood. The game was up. He had lost!

"Why, what's that? Somebody in there?" demanded the younger policeman, rising, head thrust in the direction of the sounds. Gray-faced, Joan Quarrier, like one under a spell, watched the hawk-like features of Guthrie harden—saw the gray eyes grow cold, as the surprised Farrel turned to his host.

"Get Etienne, quick!" Like the ring of tempered metal the voice of Guthrie crossed to the Cree in the kitchen door. She disappeared.

"What's this all about, Guthrie—this racket in there?" stormed Rawdon, heatedly.

As the bewildered Farrel waited for Guthrie's answer, his eyes widened as he saw the groping fingers of the factor of Elkwan, who leaned against the gun-rack, find and close on the butt of his automatic.

Then with a crash the door of the bedroom was thrown back, and a giant figure, shreds of cloth hanging from naked shoulders and arms, swayed, head lowered, in the doorway. Burning with fever, the wild eyes above the grinning mouth glared with the ferocity of a mad beast at Rawdon, who instinctively recoiled from the diabolic countenance thrust toward him. Gripping the door jambs for support, the great muscles of his arms flexed, Laughing McDonald shook the room with a roar: "Give 'em the steel, Canadians! Steel for their gas! Give 'em—" With a gasp, a hoarse rumble of the deep throat, a choking cough, the massive frame pitched headlong to the floor.

On her knees beside the man whose pulse she could not feel, sobbed Joan Quarrier. Gripping the relaxed hand of the friend he had failed to save, Guthrie listened for a heart beat. There was none. Laughing McDonald had joined the silent battalions.

"He's gone?" he asked the girl, while the policemen, dumb in their surprise, gaped at the two figures with their dead.

She nodded.

"Gentlemen," Guthrie turned his face to his guests. "You are too late. Your man has escaped."

"Stan' back!"

From the open door two slit-like eyes in a face black with menace glittered over a rifle barrel held loosely, shoulder high. In undershirt and socks, his waist belted in bandages, stood Etienne Savanne, skinning knife dangling from a wrist thong, at the summons of his chief.

"Hand' up! Queek!"

His eyes shifting in doubt from the savage features of Savanne to the man still kneeling, dazed, beside the body, Farrel demanded: "What's this? A hold-up?"

"It's all right, Etienne. Drop your gun," ordered Guthrie in a tired voice, getting to his feet. "There's no trouble here."

"Oh, yes, there is!" objected Rawdon, recovering his nerve. "What d'you mean, Major Guthrie, by secreting a man wanted for murder? There's some real trouble ahead for you, as an accessory!"

"Shut up, Rawdon!" snapped Farrel. "I'm in command here." And the older man fumbled in an inside pocket and produced an oilskin envelope.

Numb with bitterness, Guthrie, aided by Etienne, carried the shell of Craig Galbraith into the bedroom littered with the debris of his unconscious frenzy.

"Come here, will you, Guthrie?" called Farrel, who held a photograph in his hand.

"Is that Laughing McDonald?"

Guthrie apathetically took the photograph and went to the lamp. It was the likeness of a large man in Canadian uniform, the patched face hopelessly disfigured by wounds. As he looked at the Canadian soldier, into the listless eyes of the man who had given his all for friendship, and in vain, crept a doubt—perplexity, then cold assurance. Garth handed the photograph to Joan Quarrier.

For an instant she examined the likeness, then with a note of triumph in her voice, returned it to Guthrie with: "It looks like him, but this man has no lobe on his left ear and his hair—look at the thin hair! His—our man's—is thick."

Guthrie nodded. "This is the man you are after, Farrel?"

"Yes, and he's the man in that room."

"You didn't tell me his real name."

"His real name is Carmichael—Jack Carmichael. You ought to know, major; he must have been a friend of yours to take the chances with the law that you have, in hiding him."

"All right," said Guthrie coldly, "any chances I took, I'll answer for. Now look at this photograph. You see that this man, besides losing half his face—poor devil—has no lobe on his left ear. That's clear, is it?"

"Yes, I noticed that."

"All right. Now look at his hair—is it thick or thin?"

"Thin."

"All right. Now in his description, what scars does he carry?"

Farrel read from the paper he took from the envelope in his pocket: "Scars: Little finger on right hand, missing; lobe of left ear, missing; etc.; shell wound on knee."

"Come in here. Taking a candle, Guthrie led the two policemen into the bedroom. "There's the little finger on both hands. Get that?" Joan heard Guthrie say. "Ears both whole, aren't they? See any scars on his knees?—No!"

"Now, Inspector Farrel, look at that head of hair! —Does that look thin to you?—No, quite the contrary, it couldn't be thicker. Now I'll ask you to notice this bayonet thrust. He got it in a raid in the Ypres salient.—That's what gave him his first V. C. I was with him. Has your man a slash across the collar bone like this? —No!—Are you satisfied, Farrel?

For a space, the trembling girl, thrilled—elated, listened for a reply. Then there came in the low voice of Farrel a reluctant "Yes."

The three men returned to the living room, victory in the eyes of the factor of Elkwan. After the toil, the anxiety, the despair, the memory of Craig Galbraith was clean of stain. Excusable as Guthrie had thought the act, in the light of circumstances, it was good to know he had not died a hunted man. Craig had not been the only Canadian to come home to his Calvary. Laughing McDonald, of the Ghost, was not wanted in Hulifax.

CHAPTER XV

"Etienne," said Guthrie to the half-breed, who lingered at the gun-rack in the room, knife still hanging from wrist thong, hostile eyes on the policemen, "you help Miss Quarrier and Old Anne, while I show these gentlemen their beds. I'll be back directly."

With a backward glance at Joan, Rawdon reluctantly followed the others from the house.

In the trade-room Guthrie told the story of Craig Galbraith.

"He made the trench raid a work of art, Farrel, V. C., Croix de Guerre, Legion of Honor, he had them all. There wasn't a Hun headquarters that didn't know his name. They offered a king's ransom for him dead or alive."

"They warned me at Moose that it would be suicide for us to go to that schooner," replied the older man.

"It would have been, Farrel."

"What was he doin' with the Lewis guns?"

"I don't know. Of course, I thought he was the man wanted and figured that he didn't intend to be taken. But he was weird with a pistol. He'd shoot with either hand, from any angle. And his strength—you saw him and can judge."

"Well," said Farrel with a sigh, "I'm glad it turned out as it did. If the description had tallied with him, you were in bad for concealing him from us, although I understand how you felt—in bad with your people, too."

"Yes," said Guthrie, quietly, "it took some hard thinking to decide what to do when you heard him break loose."

"What to do?" demanded Rawdon with a sneer. "What could you do?"

Guthrie's glance in the direction of the speaker brought the blood to Rawdon's face.

"Shoot you through the head, Rawdon, if I had been the only one involved—or rather, the ears, to insure getting your brain."

"You would—would you!" Purpling with rage, the policeman straightened to his feet. "You were trying to hide a crook from the officers of the law—or thought you were—"

With a crash Guthrie's chair hit the floor behind him. "Mention that man over there again—and you'll never leave—"

"Hold on here!" Roughly pushing his subordinate behind him, Farrel faced the man whose mouth curled in contempt of the patent fear in the eyes of the younger policeman. "I won't have a fight here, major! You're nervous—get yourself in hand!"

"It's all right, Farrel. He's safe enough here," said Guthrie quietly, "but he'll have to watch his step. Understand, Rawdon?"

Turning his back on the victim of his over-raw nerves, Garth threw back a good-night to Inspector Farrel and returned to the watchers.

Guthrie crossed the white clearing, stung by regret at his loss of self-control, his deliberate humiliation of the man whose manner with Joan Quarrier at the supper table was eloquent of the gossip at Albany. But, harassed as he was by anxiety for the safety of Galbraith, at the veiled insult in the uncouth Rawdon's frank admiration of the girl, who staunchly simulated interest in his attentions, while her ears strained for the dreaded sounds which would betray them, Guthrie's command of himself had been too sorely taxed. The strain over, his raw nerves had sought the panacea offered. During his short stay at Elkwan, Constable Rawdon of the government police was not apt to press his attentions on Joan Quarrier.

CHAPTER XVI

What could be done, Etienne and Old Anne, under the dictions of the nurse, had done for the dead. In the morning, protected by a cache of logs, he would be buried in the snow until the spring would admit of the digging of a grave.

"You need air and change from this place." Garth said to Joan. "The stars are out; put on your coat and let's walk. I have much to say to you."

"It would be good. I think I'd like to walk on the river ice," she agreed. And with Shot as escort, they crossed the clearing.

"How low the stars seem, almost crowding down on us, as you told me that morning on our way to Albany."

"How long ago it seems—so much has happened," he said.

"To you, Mr. Exile—and to me," she answered cryptically.

"You never told me why you stayed at Albany," he began after a silence.

She did not meet his eyes, but looked far to the east where the moon, sliced in half, like a mammoth cheese, by the roof of Akimiski, bathed the indigo barrens with silver.

"Is it a secret?" he pressed.

"I was needed there."

"And now, because of my bringing you into this, you can't go back."

"They will gladly have me back—they need me."

"But so do I, Healer of Wounds, I need you. Won't you listen—believe what I say?" His voice broke with emotion he could not control.

She stopped. They had reached the river trail and were alone—out of sight of the post buildings.

"Please, I beg of you, never call me that again!"

"Why, I'm sorry—I didn't know," he faltered, puzzled by her mood. "It means so much to me—a badge of honor, an accolade."

"Yes, at first, but it has come to mean to me—" she checked herself.

He waited, watching the light touch her sober face.

"It has come to mean to me," she went on, "something humiliating—hateful."

"Why, my dear child!" he gasped in astonishment. "Humiliating? I'm proud—so proud, to love the woman who has been a healer of wounds."

"Oh, but you don't understand—can't see! And how am I to tell you?"

"If, after what we've been through together," he said passionately, "if, knowing that you are all my world—all I have left to cling to, to fight for, you can't be frank with me—"

"You tell me that you care for me," she broke in bitterly, "then why is she there—in your room, where you can see her?— If you've forgotten—as you say."

He raised his mitten to his forehead as if dazed, then turned a face tense with candor. "Is she still—there?"

"Still there? Don't you know that the three likenesses are in your room, now?"

He smiled as one smiles at the caprice of a child. "It is so long since I'd noticed them, I had forgotten." Then, dimly at first, in a moment he saw—"Healer of Wounds!" he murmured. "Oh, you think there's a scar, a wound unhealed—the memory of her, that I can't forget?" he cried. "Ethel! You think you're healing the wounds Ethel left—a substitute. Is that it?"

She would not meet his smiling eyes.

"Long before I met you," he went on, "she had become a shadow. I had come to see her as she was—the shallowness, the hardness of her. Then there came sailing across the strait a girl with eyes that never wavered—a heart all gold, and hair," he laughed at the anti-climax, "that the wind loved to play with. Like the soldier she was, she forgot self in the work at hand. With those clear eyes, saw the truth. And when I left her that night on the shore of the Albany—I loved her."

With a catch in the throat, Joan Quarrier lifted her face to the moonfight. The sensitive mouth quivered below clouded eyes, fiercely questioning.

"You cared for me, you say, but each morning you looked at the lovely creature you had lost—and felt—just a bit sorry for her, for yourself, eh, Major Guthrie?"

He hardly recognized the voice, so hoarse, so bitter was the note on which she finished.

Hopelessly he shook his head. As if to himself, he muttered in protest: "They were there with those of the family, untouched, because unthought of. I was away—hardly slept in the room after leaving you at Albany, up the coast, inland after Souci, on the island. Do you think I would have turned to you in my need—asked you to come up here—with all it meant—if I had not loved you?" he pleaded.

But in her overmastering pride, Joan Quarrier was obdurate.

"Let us walk," she said, mechanically, and started on.

They walked a mile up the river trail, and turning, faced the pulsing aurora. The stinging air had lured the color to her cheeks, the shadows left her somber eyes. They vied in naming the colors in the intermittent glow of the northern lights, identified stars, for the moment forgot themselves in the stimulation of keen air and leaping pulses.

As they neared the post, her moccasin slipped on the ice-hard trail. With a swift movement he caught her,

With a Swift Movement He Caught Her.

felt for an instant the weight of her in his arms, straightened, still holding her; then, as her hood fell back and he caught the fragrance of her hair—crushed his lips to it. Slowly her dark head turned, and there on the ice of the Elkwan, he held her, trembling, meeting his wild mood with a revelation of tenderness—of passion, unguessed.

"Why, oh, why," he asked, "did you torture me so long?"

"Because, Oh, Lord of Elkwan and half of Akimiski," she bantered, "you tortured me with those photographs."

"Do you believe—that I forgot their existence?"

"Yes—but oh, I couldn't be second best—her substitute. I wanted to be first—wanted to be everything to you—all. And yet you needed me so—I knew it that night at Albany."

"That I loved you?"

"No, stupid, that you needed me."

"And that is why you stayed at Albany—because you thought I needed you?"

"No, prince of blindmen, because I—loved you." And she tenderly kissed the cicatrix which crossed his cheek. "You made me love you the night you told me of the coming of Ninda, to Elkwan."

"And I made your brother hate me," he laughed.

"Have I atoned for his injuries to you?"

"I love him for those injuries. He didn't know how he helped. But you mustn't stand here in the cold with your hood off. You'll freeze your face!" Guthrie suddenly became serious.

"Not with you, hungry man!" she laughed.

"Good-night, oh much-needed lady," he said in the living room.

"Good-night, Sir Philip Sydney. All in a few hours I have seen your eyes cold as the ice out there—and I've seen them—well, as they look now, dearest man-with-the-scar," and she kissed him and went to her room.

The following morning, when the police dog-team had left for Seal cove, the nervous Ungavas led by the protesting Shot drew the rude coffin of Craig Galbraith to the post cemetery. There, beside the snow-drifted cross marking Ninda's grave, they built a cache of logs over the rough box of spruce slabs, and against it, rested the spruce cross which would be set in the spring when the frost left the ground.

As Garth and Etienne crossed to the trade-house, the half-breed stopped, shading his eyes with a mitten.

"See something?"

"Ah-hah!"

(Continued next week.)

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hartwig of Thornton were Sunday guests at the John Heuerman home.

Rev. and Mrs. Guldseth attended the meeting at Thor, this week, of the Eagle Grove circuit of the Norwegian Lutheran church. Pete Swenson and Nels Nelson were delegates to the meeting from Trinity church, Belmond.

The P. T. A. meeting will be held tomorrow, Friday, afternoon.

Mrs. J. S. White's division of the M. E. Aid enjoyed a party, Saturday at the parsonage.

Dr. and Mrs. G. F. McBurney, accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Snyder, motored to Sioux City, last Wednesday, to attend the funeral of Dr. McBurney's brother.

Mr .and Mrs. Victor Melander and three children of Wales, Minn., are guests this week at the Cato Griesy home. Mrs. Melander and Mrs. Cato Griesy are sisters.

The regular monthly meeting of the M. E. Aid will be held Thursday at the home of Mrs. F. O. Fitts. A good attendance is desired, as the annual election of officers will be held.

"Rookies", the Legion-Auxiliary sponsored picture at the Lyric theatre this week, was one of the best comedies ever shown here, and drew full houses both nights.

Misses Mildred Veeder and Helen Murtagh drove to Iowa City and Grinnell to spend the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Guy of Tama, visited last week with Belmond relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Loats and daughter, Arlene, left for Buck Grove last week, where they will visit relatives.

Mr. Herma Ahrenholz of S. Dak., has been visiting at the Fred Loats home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Holden of Jackson, Minn., were visitors at the Tom Bayliss home the first of the week.

The Boston Concert Co. will give a concert at the M. E. church Tuesday evening, Oct. 25. The concert will consist of both instrumental and vocal selections, including Swiss hand bells. The concert is sponsored by the Epworth League of the church. Eleven numbers are to be given.

St. John's Lutheran Aid Society will hold their annual Bazaar and Chicken Supper, Saturday, Oct. 29. Bazaar opens at 1 P. M., supper starts at 5 P. M.

BELMOND MARKETS
(Subject to change.)

Hens	18c
Springs	18c
Roosters	08c
Ducks	12c
Geese	08c
Eggs	35c
Butterfat	43c
Creamery butter	50c
Oats	37c
Corn No. 3 yellow	67c
Barley	63c

Mrs. George Mortimer was hostess to the Chain of Ten, Tuesday.

NOTICE

The ladies of the Congregational Aid Society will hold their annual bazaar and supper on Thursday, Nov. 10th.

BASKET SOCIAL

And program at school District No. 3, Iowa township, Friday evening, Oct. 28, at 8 o'clock. Located 3 miles south, 1 mile east of Belmond. Everyone invited—Vey Ketchum, Teacher. 492

BASKET SOCIAL

And program at Hickory Grove school, District No. 1, Friday evening, Oct. 28. Everyone invited.—Nettie Mason, Teacher. 1c

BASKET SOCIAL

A Hallowe'en program at school district No. 9, Belmond township, 5 miles west, 1 mile south of Belmond, Thursday evening, Oct. 27. Everyone invited.—Gladys Espe, Teacher. 1c

BASKET SOCIAL

There will be a Basket Social at the schoolhouse three miles south of Meservey, Oct. 28. Ladies please bring baskets.—Pearl Ax, Teacher. 492c

NOTICE

Hunting is prohibited on my farm on account of danger to stock, unless by my special permission.—A. J. Dorr. 492*

WARNING TO THE PUBLIC

Please take notice that neither of the undersigned companies has in the field a representative who is authorized to sell the stock of either one of these companies to anyone.
Community Service Station Company
Skelly Oil Company 493*

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A few Spotted Poland spring boars. Cholera immune. Eligible to registry.—M. S. Allison. 492

FOR SALE—Some Chester White spring boars, eligible to registry. Cholera immune.—Charlie Barkema. Phone 1618. 1*

FOR SALE—Black Poland China boar. Also good wide tire wagon. Phone 104. 1*

FOR SALE—P. B. Chester White boars of the big stretchy type; also three fall boars. New blood lines for old cutsomers; cholera immune. —Erith Cook. Farm located 3 3-4 miles northwest of Kanawha, Rt. 2. 48-1

FOR SALE — Spotted Poland China boar pigs, weighing from 150 to 225 lbs., cholera immune.—C. Edwin Johnson, Kanawha, 3 miles south, 1-34 miles west. 48-2

FOR SALE—Windmill Oil. Just received a barrel of Special Windmill Oil. Can sell at 75c per gallon, or will oil your mill at a nominal price. Better have your mill looked after before cold weather. Agent for Aermotor, Woodmanse and Stover-Sampson mills.—Julius Olsen. Phone 245. 482*

FOR SALE—"No Hunting" Signs at the Independent. 25c each, $1 for six, $1.75 a dozen. 472

FOR SALE—Two P. C. Black boars. Papers furnished.—Leonard Johnson. 482*

FOR SALE—Big Type Poland China male hogs, farrowed in March. Cholera immune. Gotlieb Lauster, Phone Meservey 4814. 47tf

FOR SALE or RENT—Modern seven-room house, full basement, near creamery.—E. A. Pierce. 46tf

FOR SALE—Spring boars, 50 to 80 per cent white, fine type lot.—Roy Jenison. Phone 1811. 43tf

FOR SALE—Modern home. Want to sell this fall. Address L, care of Independent, Belmond, Iowa. 482c

FOR SALE—Large type spring boars. $30 each if taken soon. Also 10 veal calves, 25 to 400 pounds, 8c lb.—Peter H. Pals, Meservey. 1c

FOR SALE — Spotted Poland Boars. Have a number of spring boars, weighing 175 to 250 pounds, also have two fall boars. Farm located 1 mile north, 2 miles west of Goodell. Gundvel Johnson. 496*

FOR SALE—House and two lots, one block south and one block east of library. Fr information address Inez Kent, 5311 Vincent So., Minneapolis, Minn. 492c

FOR SALE — Home-grown white potatoes, sound and ripe, $1.25 a bushel. Cabbage 2¼c lb.; Carrots 2¼c lb.; Turnips 1½c lb. Call at mill, next to creamery, or phone 285 or 115.—L. W. Gealow. 493

FOR SALE—High grade Holstein milk cows, to freshen about Christmas. Also some shoats, immuned.—M. Halfwassen, Meservey, Iowa. 1c

WANTED

WANTED—Farmer, farmers son, or man with auto, for country, (men and women for cities) to engage in permanent business. Big daily profits, capital unnecessary. H. S. Shipe, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. 483*

WANTED — To buy chickens. Highest market price. Phone Belmond 3403, or Kanawha 6, and we will call.—Olaf Store, J. R. Kirk, Prop. 464*

WANTED — Married man for farm. Must be experienced. Wife to help with housework. No children. Inquire at Independent. 492*

Poultry Wanted

We will call to buy your poultry and will pay you the highest market price. Poultry weighed and paid for at your place. Just call Geo. Coburn, Cornelia. Clarion phone 61-31. Belmond phone 3817. 47tf

Ben Blake and Fred Johnson went to Nebraska, last week, to spend a few days hunting ducks.

Supt. Williams was in Mason City Saturday afternoon, where he acted as an official at the Mason City-Marshalltown game.

We're Late!

GREAT GUNS! Here it IS 2 o'clock Thursday AFTERNOON and we were SUPPOSED to have this COPY over at the INDEPENDENT office ABOUT six hours ago AND we cant' think of A THING to say except THAT we're glad to see SO many smiling faces HERE at our store, as THE chaplain said at THE penitentiary, and WE might also spring SOME new and catchy SLOGAN like "service is OUR motto" or "We lead—OTHERS follow"—not that THEY mean a blamed THING but they fill up A LITTLE space and may SAVE us from being SHOT at sunrise by the FOLKS over at the INDEPENDENT office—BY the way, have you NOTICED our De Vilbiss WINDOW this week? P. S.—We have a big line OF Tally Cards and all KINDS of gifts suitable for CARD parties. TRY the Drug Store First!

Herman L. Schultz

SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

All Children's HATS
ON SALE
At Two Prices
$1.50 and $1.95
WE STILL HAVE COATS AND DRESSES

New Silk and Velvet Hats

The Hat Shoppe
Belmond, Iowa

ROBINSONS
... STORE ...

BAKERY
GROCERY

Creamery Butter, per lb.	50c
Lard, per lb.	20c
Bacon, per lb.	22c
Cheese, per lb.	40c
A. B. C. Pancake flour	25c
Buckwheat flour, 3 ½ lb.	25c
New raisins, 2 lb.	25c
New prunes, 40-50, 2 lb.	25c
White Maple flour, 49 lbs.	$2.20
5c off in five sack lots
Fig bars, 2 lbs.	25c
Quick Naptha soap, 10 bars	35c
We have Dwarfies at	25c
Coffee at 30c, 32c, 35c 40c and	50c
Try our Flavor Sweet Oleo at	22c

Lyric Theatre
...Geo. Hake, Manager...

SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS

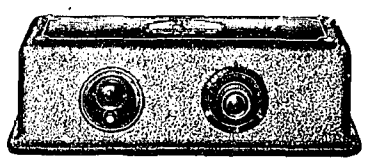
FRIDAY and SATURDAY
OCTOBER 21 and 22
"The Circus Ace"
Fox picture with Tom Mix, and Tony, the horse.
"AT EASE"
Educational comedy
10c and 25c

MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY
OCTOBER 24, 25, 26
"CAMILLE"
A First National production with Norma Talmadge, Gilbert Roland, Lilyan Tashman, Rose Dione, Harvey Clark, Helen Jerome Eddy, Alec B. Francis. A modern version of Dumas' world famous story. It follows closely the original theme, tho the romantic classic will be unfolded by the screen in settings of the present day.
Fox News
One show only, beginning at 8 o'clock.
10c and 30c

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 27
"STAGE MADNESS"
Fox picture with Virginia Valli, Tullio Carmenati, Virginia Bradford, Lou Tellegen, Richard Walling. The story of a dancer who won the heart of a multitude, but lost her own.
"MAKING GOOD"
Collegian Comedy
10c and 25c

The
FOSS CLEANING SHOP
Solicits your patronage in
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Located West of the Foss Shoe Shop
All Work Guaranteed
We will appreciate your Trial Offer

FOSS CLEANING SHOP
Louis Foss, Prop.
Phone 70 Belmond, Iowa



A COMPLETE STOCK OF
Atwater Kent Radios and Power Units
ARE NOW ON DISPLAY IN OUR STORE

A large variety of models to choose from, and prices that you can afford to pay.

Come in and look over our line, and let us give you a demonstration.

Five years exclusive
Atwater Kent dealer in Belmond

BELMOND STORAGE BATTERY CO.
Phone 46 J. W. Scott, Prop.

CITY MARKET'S
SPECIALS!

We have some very good Ft. Dodge
Cottage Cheese

Also Excellent
Bokay Oleo

Watch for Our Specials Every Week!

Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning

City Meat Market
Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207. Belmond, Iowa

NORMA TALMADGE IN CAMILLE

The greatest picture Norma Talmadge has ever starred in! A modern version of Dumas' world famous story, closely following the original theme.

Lyric Theatre, Belmond
Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, October 24-25-26
ONE SHOW ONLY, BEGINNING AT 8 O'CLOCK
Also Fox News -:- Admission: 10c and 30c

Belmond Independent

ESTABLISHED 1919 — AND HERALD-PRESS — CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 8 — BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1927 — NO. 50

Belmond To Meet Britt Team Here In Hard Battle

Rivalry Strong Between Two Teams And Desperate Struggle Is Forecast

After Lake Mills had run up two touchdowns the first half, Belmond came back strong the second half and played Lake Mills off their feet, but were only able to push over one touchdown and had to be content with the small end of a 13-6 score on the Belmond field last Friday. Belmond had possession of the ball almost continuously the second half, Johnson, Rabe, and McNulty hammering the line for repeated gains. From the opening kickoff of the second half the locals marched down the field and in spite of several penalties never lost the ball till it was downed behind the goal line for a touchdown.

The local team was badly crippled due to ineligibility, sickness, and injuries, Coach Hall being forced to call on several untried players during the game. Rabe was out part of the game due to illness, and his absense was keenly felt.

Lake Mills showed a hard driving attack the first half and pushed over two touchdowns in quick order. Berry semed to do ball carrying for the visitors, tearing off several nice gains.

Coach Hall is working this week to instill confidence and fight into the team, which seemed lacking during the first half last Friday. The team was undoubtedly in a slump from the stiff game with Eagle Grove the previous week.

Britt invades the local field Friday. Most of their stars of last year have graduated and they have practically a new team this year. A pep meeting was held at the school yesterday afternoon and the ticket sale started to try and stir up more interest in the school and town for the game.

Belmond's line up—

Gordon Kessler and Hoyt Klemme, ends; Harley Tomlinson and Randall Klemme, tackles; Edide Neuhring and John Baker, guards; Mel Pech, center; Clarence Peterson, quarter; Captain McNulty and Chapman, halves, Henry Johnson, fullback.

Substitutes—Rabe for Chapman, Don Baker for Neuhring.

Referee — Grimsley; Headlinesman—Kennedy.

The Sophomore class held a party in the high school gymnasium, Friday, October 21st. Mr. Shepherd, as class sponsor, was chairman of the reception committee. Jane Myers was chairman of the entertainment committee, and Florence Dempsey, chairman of the refreshment committee. This was the first party of the year for the Sophomores, and served as a "renew-your-acquaintance" affair. Many games were played and enjoyed by the class. The teachers of the Sophomore courses were guests. It is reported that many especially enjoyed the homeward journey afterwards.

The entire high school group met in the auditorium Friday morning, for a short pep meeting, previous to our game with Lake Mills in the afternoon. The high school songs and yells were given, under the leadership of Margaret Leavy and Harley Hammond.

The High School was pleased to have Rev. Snyder talk to them Monday morning. His talk was on "a few definites necessary for forming our lives." He said that everyone should have a certain purpose in life, and should train himself accordingly. A good lesson was derived from his talk, and one that might well be practiced.

The first round of debate tryouts will be held on Wednesday evening of this week. There are fifteen candidates for the teames this year. Declamatory work will not be started till later in the year as the dates for declamatory contests are set for later in the spring, to avoid conflict in dates with debates and basketball.

GRADE NOTES

The following pupils who are in the fourth grade have a perfect record for attendance for the first six weeks of school: Roy Bonte, Waunita Brewer, Frank Buchanan, Donald Champlin, Harris Dipple, Arlene Dorenkamp, Francis Dorr. Ruth Finn, Angelina Jacobson, Jessie Jacobson, Kenneth Kinseth, Cortland Luick, Patricia McNulty, Donald Nielson, Meryl Pfaltzgraff, Ralph Rowe, Earl Sheller, Harry Sheller, Louise Smith, Dorothea Thayer, Laura Williams, Helen Lobdell.

Mrs. Geo. Elder visited the sixth grade on Wednesday.

Mrs. C. W. Treese, Mrs. Hans Thompson, Mrs. Chester Hake, Mrs. Roy Halfpop, and Mrs. J. E. Pfaltzgraff visited the 6th grade Friday.

The 6th grade football team won from the 5th grade team with a score of 24-6 on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Williams acted as referee and Mr. Shepherd was head linesman. Another game between the same teams is scheduled for this week.

The visitors in the 4th grade last week were Mrs. Thayer, Mrs. Townsand, Mrs. Champlin, Mrs. Dorr and Mrs. Pfaltzgraff.

Miss Frohling, Mrs. Moe and Mrs. Glenn Klemme visited the 1st grade on Friday.

Billie Pierce, 1st grade, and Junior Pierce, Kindergarten, have moved away from Belmond.

Mrs. Chaplain, Mrs. Townsand and Benson visited in the kindergarten, last week.

The pupils in the kindergarten room are looking forward to a Hallowe'en party on Friday afternoon.

JUNIOR HIGH NOTES

The Junior High has shown great enthusiasm about the membership drive for the Parent-Teachers Association. The result was 44 members for the eighth grade and 46 for the seventh grade, though the eighth had more on the average. The eighth grade got the pennant this time with 38 guests and the seventh had 25. Junior Goelz had 6 guests which was the most in the Junior High. Raymond Hill was second with 5 guests and Kathryn Blake, Corinne Wenzel and Guinevere Luick had 4 each. We succeeded in raising $16 for the Parent-Teachers Association.

The report of the Healthy and Wealthy Club is: 19 people in the 8th grade have a perfect teeth record and 21 people in the 7th grade. The seventh grade saved $6.60 this week and the 8th $6.50.

The 8th grade Hygiene Posters are completed.

Fourteen pupils in the 8th grade had perfect spelling records this last week.

The 7th grade held their class meeting last week and elected Howard Dempsey, president, and John Dempsey secretary.

MRS. OLENA FURUSETH

Mrs. Olena Furuseth was born at Houston, Minn., February 3, 1862, of parents Andrew and Tonetta Olson. In 1884 she was united in marriage to Ole L. Furuseth of Belmond, who preceded her in death September 26, 1911. The family lived on a farm west of Belmond until in March 1920, when the deceased and son, Lloyd, moved to Madison, Wisconsin, where she lived till her death. About a year ago she was taken ill and had not been well since. During that time she has undergone two operations and has suffered much. The end came Thursday morning, Oct. 20, 1927. She passed away at the age of 65 years, 8 months, 17 days.

She leaves to mourn her loss three children: Lloyd of Madison, Wis.; Oscar, of Cooks, Mich.; and Thea, wife of Rev. O. E. Daehlin, DeSmet, S. Dak.; seven brothers and sisters: Mrs. Martin Johnson, West Salem, Wis.; Mrs. L. E. Elstad, Lansford, N. Dak.; Mrs. I. N. Amblie, Addy, Wash.; Rev. Samuel Olson, Lake Geneva, Wis.; Mrs. P. N. Amblie, Minneapolis, Minn.; Bernard Wilson, Madison, Wis.; and Stephen Wilson. Three are deceased. Martha, Joseph Herman and Mary.

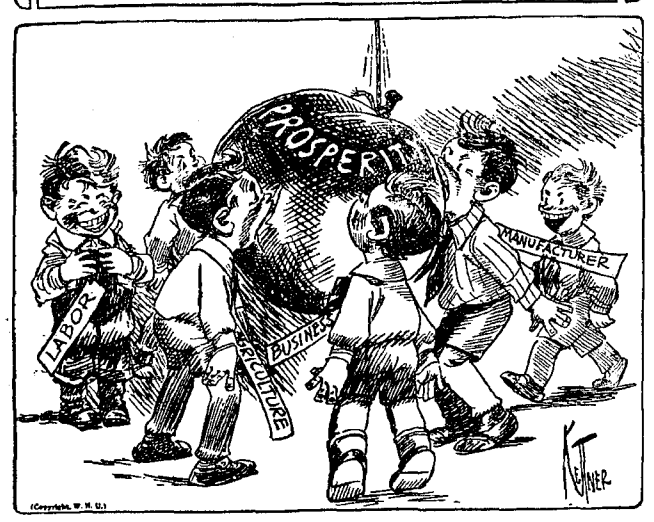
Funeral services were held first, Friday forenoon at Madison, Wis., The body was then brought to Belmond for burial, her son, Lloyd, accompanying the remains. Services were held here Sunday. A short devotion was held at the C. B. Johnson home, and then at St. Olaf church, where the last rites were held in the presence of over 400 persons. The services were conducted by Rev. Guldseth assisted by Rev. O. E. Dachlin of DeSmit, S. D., who brought words of greeting to the members of the St. Olaf congregation from Mrs. Furuseth as she had requested before her death.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Co-operative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of October 16 to October 22.

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
16	64	29	—	Pt. cloudy
17	64	27	—	Clear
18	63	33	—	Clear
19	74	32	—	Clear
20	75	40	—	Clear
21	73	33	—	Clear
22	85	46	—	Clear

Halloween



Wright County Sunday School Meeting Today

All Sunday Schools In The County To Send Delegate To Clarion Today

Under the direction of the Wright County Sunday School council Religious Education day will be observed Oct. 27. The meeting will be held in the Congregational church in Clarion, beginning at 9:00 o'clock a. m. There will be an afternoon and evening session. This is definitely designed for Sunday School officers and teachers. Two of the state teams will be present to lead this conference. Everyone interested in Sunday School work is welcome.

There will be a half hour song service with special musical numbers at the opening of the evening session. It is urged that every Sunday school in Wright county be represented by its superintendent, pastor, officers and teachers and anyone else interested in the work.

A covered dish luncheon will be served at the noon hour. This will give a splendid opportunity to meet the workers from other parts of the county.

We would also call your attention to the older boys' and girls' state conference to be held at Marshalltown, November 3, 4, 5 for ages 16 to 22. Our quota from Wright county is five girls and five boys, and two leaders. This is also the date of the teachers' state convention so many of the high school age will be on vacation. This is a "Leadership Training Conference." It is hoped that the Sunday schools may take advantage of this opportunity and send their choicest material, those with leadership quality, to this state conference.

CHRISTENSON-SPITLER

Miss Marie Christensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Christensen, residing seven miles west of Belmond, and John Harold Spitler, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Spitler, of Belmond, were married at Clarion, Oct. 19. Rev. Ortmeyer, pastor of the Clarion M. E. church, performed the ceremony, which took place at 10 a. m. at the parsonage. The bridal couple were accompanied by Miss Soma, and George Christenson.

After the wedding a reception and dinner was held at the home of the bride's parents, immediate relatives and friends being present. The couple left that afternoon on a motor trip to Jewell, Des Moines, and other points. Mr. and Mrs. Spitler will reside on the J. B. Spitler farm, one mile west of Belmond, which they will operate next year. The best wishes of their many friends go with them for a happy wedded life.

PARENT-TEACHERS MEETING HELD AT HIGH SCHOOL

The Parent-Teachers association met Friday afternoon in the high school auditorium, with Mrs. Luick president, and Mrs. L. R. Parsons, secretary. Mrs. Wallace Ramsay had arranged a program on "Happiness." Miss Thomas, Mrs. Glenn Klemme and Mrs. R. E. Courson gave short talks on the subject, and several mothers and teachers took part in the story telling and discussions. A number of musical selections were given. Children in the various grades had worked hard to bring guests, and a large number attended the meeting.

Business Men To Accept Wrappers Of Bread As Cash

Wrappers From "Blue Ribbon Bread" Accepted At Half Cent Each By Firms

Sixty-five business and professional men of Belmond are listed on a page ad in this issue, in which each firm or individual represented offers to accept "Blue Ribbon" Bread wrappers as cash in payment of account or in trade. Each firm listed will allow one-half cent apiece on every "Blue Ribbon" Bread wrapper brought to their place of business, starting today, and lasting until public notice is given to the contrary.

This community page includes practically every business and professional man in Belmond who does not sell bread and is a move on their part to boost the local bakery, as well as to develop the community co-perative spirit. The firms represented feel that the Belmond bakery is putting out a quality product, and is deserving of home support and other things being equal or nearly so should have the preference over outside concerns bringing in a competative product.

The public is requested to co-operate with these firms and with the local institution, and when buying bread at a local dealer to specify "Blue Ribbon" Bread, and to insist on getting it. Wrappers from this bread will be accepted the same as cash; 20 wrappers will be accepted as payment for a 10-cent loaf of bread, for example, or for tooth paste, dental reairs, meat, dry goods, hardware, subscription, or anything the firm or individual has to sell. Four wrappers will buy a postage stamp.

Saturday Last Pheasant Day

This week, Saturday, Oct. 29, will be your last oportunity to get your pheasants, legally. Saturday is the third day of the three-day open season in Wright county for this fall. Last week Friday and Saturday the fields were filled with hunters, a large share of whom were from more or less distant points, many being here from around Boone, Ames and Des Moines. The birds were wary and hard to get, and average luck was poor.

BASKET SOCIAL

There will be a basket social and program at Plum Grove school District No. 2, Grant township, Friday evening, Nov. 4. Everyone invited. Ladies please bring baskets.—Miss Lenora Sibert, Teacher. 1c

BASKET SOCIAL

And Program at school District No. 2, Belmond township, Friday evening, Oct. 28, at 8 o'clock. Everyone invited.

Gail Thompson, Teacher.

BASKET SOCIAL

And program at school District No. 3, Iowa township, Friday evening, Oct. 28, at 8 o'clock. Located 3 miles south, 1 mile east of Belmond. Everyone invited—Vey Ketchum, Teacher. 492

BASKET SOCIAL

There will be a Basket Social at the schoolhouse three miles south of Meservey, Oct. 28. Ladies please bring baskets.—Pearl Ax, Teacher. 492c

MRS. H. C. MADISON DIED AT HOME HERE, MONDAY

Mrs. H. C. Madison, one of the well known older residents of Belmond, died at her home here Monday, following a short illness. Funeral services were held Wednesday, Oct. 26, at Trinity church, Rev. Guldseth, pastor of Trinity church, officiating. Burial was in the Belmond cemetery.

Bertha Marie Christenson was born in Denmark, Sept. 7, 1848. After coming to the United States, she was married April 28, 1871, to H. C. Madison, at Oakdale, Wis., where they resided on a homestead until June 20, 1888, when they came to Iowa, making the trip in a covered wagon. They located on a farm three miles west of Belmond, where they resided until ten years ago, when they moved to Belmond and where the home had been since.

Eight children were born to this union, namely Otto A., Henry W., Ella C. and John D., who are now living, and Andrew I., Anna S., Elof F., and Minnie (Helland), who preceded their mother in death.

Besides the husband, the four children are left to mourn her passing, namely Otto A. Madison, Denver, Colo.; Henry W. Madison, Wibeaux, Mont.; Ella C. Cleveland, Belmond; and John D. Madison, Spencer, besides various other relatives and friends.

TOM HAKE HURT IN WYOMING SUGAR FACTORY

Relatives here received word the first of the week of the serious injury of Tom Hake, at Torrington, Wyoming, recently. Hake who is working in the beet sugar factory there, was on the cross belt doing some work when another employee of the sugar factory threw in the gears, starting the belt. Hake was thrown onto the beet belt and carried under a beam, receiving a broken collar bone, broken ankle, several broken ribs and numerous severe cuts and bruises. While he was badly injured, it is said he will recover but it will be some time before he will be able to resume his work. The Hake family are former residents of Belmond.

FARM BUREAU HOLDS POULTRY MEETING HERE

The members of the Farm Bureau of Belmond and Pleasant townships held a meeting, Friday evening, at the Belmond city hall. Mrs. Arthur Hinman and Mrs. J. M. Sampson gave talks on the proper housing and feeding of poultry for production and health through the winter months. A shipping association for shipping poultry products to eastern markets was also discussed at this meeting. Attendance was good from both townships, and at the close of refresments were served.

COMMUNITY CLUB MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Community Club will be held at the usual place Friday afternoon, October 28.

There is to be a solo by Mrs. Trafford and "Fifty Years of Fashions" by Mrs. H. C. Thompson and Mrs. C. I. Williams. Come out and witness the review and see which period you like best.

The hostesses are Mesdames Kaufman, Courson, Geo. Thompson, J. T. Snyder, Val Griesy and Miss Julia Johnson.

Have Exciting Hunt For Little Rowan Girl, Lost

(Rowan Correspondent)

There was a great deal of excitement in town Tuesday evening of last week when it was discovered that little Marilee Whitten, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Whitten, was lost. Nearly all of the men and boys and a good many women and girls of the town were out with lanterns and frash lights searching for her. About 8 o'clock she was found in an out building at the R. Virden home, after being gone for three hours. She went into the building closing and latching the door, and then was unable to open it. After crying until exhausted she removed all of her clothing except her underwear and went to sleep. She slept through all of the searching, but finally awakened and answered when somone called her name.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyer of Lemon, S. Dak., came Saturday to visit at the J. B. Spitler home. Sunday, they accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Spitler to Klemme to visit the latter's son and family.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Luick of Clear Lake are spending a couple weeks with Belmond friends and relatives.

Eagle Grove Man Drives Car While Drunk; Four Months

Judge Tells Him Drunken Driver Is Worst Menace Found On Highway

Salmon Arney of Eagle Grove entered a plea of guilty last week to driving an automobile while intoxicated. He was arrested in an intoxicated condition by Sheriff Johnson and Marshal Reynolds. Judge Garfield sentenced him to pay a fine of $400 or serve four months in the county jail. One-half the fine was suspended during good behavior. Being unable to pay the same he was placed in jail. The court reminded the defendant of the seriousness of his offense, a drunken automobile driver being the worst menace to be found on the highway. Arney has two children, both under three years of age, and a third in prospect.

The jury in the case against Banker Platt came in last Tuesday evening about two hours after this paper had gone to press, returning a verdict in favor of the defendant. Geo. Kirstein was foreman of the jury. Only three ballots were taken; a majority being favorable to the defendant from the start. There are two other indictments against Mr. Platt, but it is doubtful if they will come to trial. Harry Wright was indicted at the same time as Platt and on similar charges. It is estimated that this case will cost the taxpayers of the county in the neighborhood of $8000. Of this sum over $3000 was paid for the services of expert accountants from Minneapolis and nearly $2000 in attorney fees. E. J. Thompson, who stole $25,000 from the Eagle Grove bank, was brought from Fort Madison at county's expense to testify before the grand jury and again at the trial.

Raymond Rasmussen of Eagle Grove plead guilty to an intoxication charge in Justice Triggs court last week and was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail. He is in no way connected with the Rasmussen family at Goldfield.

Coroner Walker acted in the capacity of sheriff one day last week when he escorted E. J. Thompson, the Eagle Grove defaulting cashier, back to his berth at Fort Madison. Thompson is employed in the clerical department of the prison where aprons are made.

The clothing store of Smith & Skovlin of Belmond was entered several nights ago. Some pants, shirts and hats and $14 in cash were missing. Entrance was gained thru the coal room door in the basement. It is thought to be the work of local talent.

Judge Garfield of Ames closed the September term of court Friday, having disposed of a goodly amount of business. Judge Garfield is one of the younger judges in the state, but if his first term in this county is to be taken as a criterion, he is quite well qualified for the position he helds. He is a hard worker and disposes of business quite systematically. He made a very favorable impression upon the attorneys at court as well as with the general public with whom he came into contact.

Engineer Hilton reports highway No. 15 now open for travel, the grading of the same having been completed last week. It is proposed to gravel the highway next season.

Cornell Motor Co. vs. A. Woods of Dows is a suit to collect $117.50 on a past due promissory note.

W. W. Azeltine and E. W. Azeltine bringing suit against J. E. Lamb of Clarion to recover the sum of $280. Petition states that defendant through his agent, Gene Dawson, agreed to pay $1.00 per ton for 280 acres of flax straw, which yield was estimated at one ton per acre; that $1.00 was paid to bind the agreement, but that defendant never baled the straw, but allowed it to waste.

Walter Fredericks of Eagle Grove was taken to Fort Madison Sunday night by Deputy Leonard. He had plead guilty to the larceny of some beef hides. Judge Garfield gave him an indeterminate sentence not to exceed five years.—Monitor.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Elder and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gowdy and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gaskill enjoyed a picnic dinner in the Renwick park, Sunday.

Mrs. Chris Norby is entertaining her sister, from Minneapolis, this week.

Belmond Independent
AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES
Display, per column inch ------25c
Locals, per line ------10c
Classified, per word ------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Editorials

Some radical changes will have to be made in the open season dates and arrangements on pheasants for next year, and some radical changes occur in the attitude of outside hunters, if there is to be any hunting next season. Farmers have, almost without exception, had some complaint to make regarding the hunting arrangements this fall. And it is the farmer, remember, who has the final say-so. Open dates can be made, licenses granted, and hunters come, but if the farmers post their places with "no hunting" warnings just where is anyone going to hunt?

The influx of outside hunters last Friday and Saturday, and the week before in Hancock and Winnebago counties, was nothing short of tremendous. Hotel and room accomodations were entirely inadequate; a farmer near Goodell, Hancock county, informed this paper that three men from Des Moines slept on his kitchen floor because they could not find a room. The Belmond hotel was jammed with outside hunters. Restaurants ran 24 hours a day.

Complaint after complaint has reached this paper of trespassing on the part of outside hunters, even after being warned personally by the farmer. One party of hunters went into a man's field near Belmond despite the fact that the field was posted against hunting, and when the farmer ordered them out, laughed in his face, refused to leave, and tramped through his field. Another party from near Ames deliberately started shooting pigeons on a farmer's barn. Many cases have been reported of hunting in fields posted against trespassing, and farmers as a whole have become pretty well disgusted. If the present state of mind of farmers is any indication, the number of fields posted against hunting will treble next year.

And the outside hunters were not very careful about shooting hen pheasants, to judge from the remarks made by many local hunters. Some of them were caught, but many more escaped with their illegal birds. Game wardens could not be everywhere; and finding the male birds wary and wild, too many hunters used their ammunition on the hens.

In talks with various farmers, The Independent finds the vast majority of them in favor of a decided change in the open season. If we are going to have a three day open season next fall, let's have it one day a week for three weeks, the day to be in the middle of the week, say Thursday, and the open days to be the same in all counties at the same time. This will eliminate in a large measure the influx of hunters at one time in any particular county, distribute the hunters over a wider area, create much less trouble and result in better hunting everywhere in the pheasant territory.

LOCAL NEWS

J. E. Jenison came up from Sanborn, Monday to look after business interests and visit relatives here.

Mrs. C. C. Thiltgen returned Saturday from Keokuk, where she had been in attendance at Rebekah Assembly as delegate from District No. 99. She reports a good session, and a fine time.

Roller Skating at the Belmond Opera House, Thursday and Saturday nights, Sunday p. m. and every night next week except Friday. Ladies Free Thursday night if over 15 years of age and dressed in overalls.

Mr. and Mrs. Meinders are the parents of a baby girl, born Friday, Oct. 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. John Isbrand, of Titonka; Mr. and Mrs. Karl Stadtlander and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Stadtlander and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Stadtlander and family, were visitors at the Mrs. Ben Stadtlander home, Sunday, helping her celebrate her birthday. Mrs. Stadtlander received many presents in honor of the occasion. The guests brought well filled baskets and refreshments were served. Thirty-two were present.

A number of friends and neighbors gave a farewell party, Friday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wessels, who are moving to Thornton.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mortimer and Mrs. Sadie Reese and daughter spent Sunday with relatives at Waterloo.

Dance at Belmond Opera House, Friday night. Music by Al Schriber Orchestra, of Wells, Minn. Everybody welcome.

About 30 friends and relatives gathered at the M. F. Christie home, last Thursday, to assist Mr. Christie in celebrating his birthday. They presented him with a chair in token of the occasion. Mrs. Christie served refreshments.

Hallowe'en Dance, Monday, Oct. 31, at the Belmond Opera House. Music by Smith's Orchestra. A good time dance for both old and young, with the carnival balloon dance featured. Everybody welcome. Tickets, $1 a couple.

FREE AIR!

We know now why it is called "hunting" pheasants. Last Friday morning we got up at 5 a. m. and, the season being "open" went out "hunting" pheasants. We had bologna for dinner.

* * * *

Judging from our experience, and that of more "hunters" we met, somebody was kidding us when they placed an "open season" on these birds. Can't see why there should be an open season where there isn't anything to open on.

* * * *

We've come to the conclusion, and the more we think about it the more we believe it's right, that pheasants were placed in Iowa and all this propaganda spread about them by the munitions makers, Dupont and others. The whole thing is a snare and a delusion, getting folks worked up and placing an open season simply to sell shotgun shells.

* * * *

And judging from the number of "hunters" who hunted—what we don't know—and the bang, bang, banging going on, the shotgun shell manufacturers ought to be plenty able to buy a new Ford, when it comes out.

* * * *

We're rather sorry now about those "No Hunting Allowed" signs we printed and sold. Seems rather like obtaining money under false pretenses. If the "allowed" had been left off, and the signs simply read "No Hunting," they'd have been much more truthful, because there wasn't. In a way, of course, there was—you hunted, but you didn't hunt nothin'.

* * * *

There are some pheasants, all right, but we don't know where. When you do see one, he's about a mile off and going so fast it's a case of "Herehecomestherehegoes!" By the time you can get your gun trained on him, the bird is in the next township and some fellow from Des Moines or Waterloo or some other foreign country is making money for the munition factories.

* * * *

There were a lot more hunters than there were pheasants. We'll bet there were fellows up here from Des Moines that never had been this far from home, and didn't know Wight county was in Iowa. And the way some of them acted they ought never to be allowed in Iowa again.

* * * *

The fellow who gets a pheasant, earns him, and that's no prevarication. Anybody who will get up at 5 g. m., bump over all the rutty cross roads in northern Iowa, flop aound over the stubble fields, scratch the westen part of his anatomy on barb wire fences, tear his new hunting pants, lose his temper, his religion and his watch, shoot six shells and miss every time, all for the sake of getting a long-tailed bird because it's an "open season," has more patience and desire to hunt than we have, and he's welcome to 'em.

* * * *

Now some wise guy will probably say we had poor luck.

* * * *

Somebody asked us the other day whether the Smith Bros. who run the Smith Orchestra were the same Smith Bros. who make cough drops. No relation whatever.

* * * *

Before we close—or before signing off, to be more up to date about it—we would like to call your attention to the Community Page on page 4. Read it, then save the wrappers. Buy Blue Ribbon Bread! Be A Booster!

BELMOND CHURCH NOTES

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor
Telephone Call, 150

Reformation Sunday, October 30.

Sunday School and Bible classes will meet at 10 a. m.

English services will be held at 11 a. m. Theme, "The Kingdom of Heaven." Matt. 13:44-50.

The Luther League will meet at 6:45. The topic will be "For What Does Protestantism Stand?" Rom. 4:1-5, and Gal. 3:23-29.

Monday, Oct. 31. The catechetical class will meet immediately after school.

Thursday, November 3.

The Ladies Aid will meet in the church parlors at 2 p. m.

Prayer meeting will be held in the church at 8 p. m.

Friday, Nov. 4. The Finance Committee, with the Board of Trustees, are asked to meet at the parsonage at 7:30 p. m. Let all members do their best to be present.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Reformation Sunday, Oct. 30.

Sunday School and Bible classes will meet at 10:30 a. m.

Luther League meeting and service will be held at 7:30 p. m.,

Wednesday, November 2. Prayer meeting will be held at the home of Mr. John Mehus at 7:30 p. m.

Saturday, November 5. The catechetical class will meet at 10 a. m.

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN
Arthur G. Langholz, Pastor

Sunday School at 9:45. Seek good and not evil, that ye may live.

Services at 10:45. This service will be conducted in the German language.

Services at 7:30 p. m. in the English language. This will be a Reformative service. Come and worship with us.

Ladies Aid Society will hold their annual bazaar and chicken supper, Saturday, Oct. 29. Bazaar opens at 1 p. m. Supper starts at 5 p. m.

Luther League social meeting at the parsonage Monday evening, Oct. 31st at 8 p. m.

METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. J. F. Snyder, Pastor

Services as follows for the Lord's Day, October 30—

Sunday School at 10 a. m. Bible School is one of the important factors in every child's life. As parents who respect our duties, you will see to it that your children receive this training.

Divine worship and sermon at 11 a. m.

Epworth League at 6:30. Harley Hammond is the leader. Seemingly our League hours are growing more and more interesting with each succeeding one, possibly due to the fact that each Leaguer is putting forth personal interest.

Evening worship and gospel message at 7:30.

If you have not received your church envelopes through which you may care for your subscription to the church for this conference year, speak to any of the stewards of pastor concerning the matter.

Everybody cordially invited to all of our services.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

Make it a point to be present at the services of this next Lord's Day. The Sunday School will come together at the usual hour, and the worship services are to be planned for.

This afternoon, Thursday, the Missionary Society meets at the church parlors. Do your part toward insuring a full attendance at this meeting.

The young people's meeting at seven-thirty o'clock.

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

Mrs. Ward Martin and Mrs. Tom Brooks were called to Algona last week by the serious illness of their father.

Bert Anfinson and Harry Bohning drove to Ames last Saturday to see the football game and then went on to Camp Dodge to call on the Belmond boys in camp.

J. P. Ott and wife of Rice Lake, Wisconsin were in Belmond last week visiting friends and attending to business matters.

Mrs. A. A. Keiser is the guest of her daughter and family, who reside at Roland.

Mrs. Blanche Christensen and parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Shaffer, visited with friends at Latimer last Sunday.

Mrs. Dibble, aged mother of Mrs. E. M. Lathrop, died at the home of her daughter here last week Thursday.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Rev. R. M. Wyant, formerly connected with the Belmond schools, and now engaged in the ministry and located at Lansing, Iowa, was in town Tuesday.

Dell Luick purchased a fine new milk wagon last week. This wagon will not sour the milk.

School Notes—The pupils of Miss Whiting's room organized a band of mercy last Friday.

The A grade of Miss Grimwood's room began to read in the first reader Monday.

Coeburn Chapler entered the fifth grade Monday.

The football team went to Garner Saturday and were defeated 40 to 0.

Markets—Oats 22 to 24 cents, corn 46 to 47 cents, barley 27 to 30 cents, flax $1.05, hogs $6.50.

A new steel bridge is being built across the river south of town.

J. N. Johnson & Co. held an auction sale of lots in the new town of Olaf last Monday.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

B. P. Entriken, of this place, will teach the village school at Goldfield. "Ben" is a thorough scholar, and we guarantee the people just such a school as will please them.

Warren Rankins of Fryburg has remodeled and enlarged the house on the farm he bought of Capt. Tyrrell.

The Signal says coal at Garner is worth 5 per ton. That would make it about $8 in Belmond.

Dealers have reason to believe that potatoes will bring 50 cents per bushel before spring.

Mrs. Macomber shows commendable enterprise in that new sidewalk—the first put down in town.

Belmond should have a fire company.

The lakes are full of feathered game. Swab out your "fusileer."

The grain raised in this section seeks various markets this year. Garner, Alden, Hampton and Clear Lake are the competing points.

SPECIAL SATURDAYS AND WEDNESDAYS

DIXIE DREAM
DOUGHNUTS

THIS IS A NEW DELICIOUS RAISED DOUGHNUT MADE EXCLUSIVELY BY US

per doz. - 25c

CINNAMON ROLLS, Saturday, October 29 Only, Dozen 15c

Your patronage solicited and appreciated

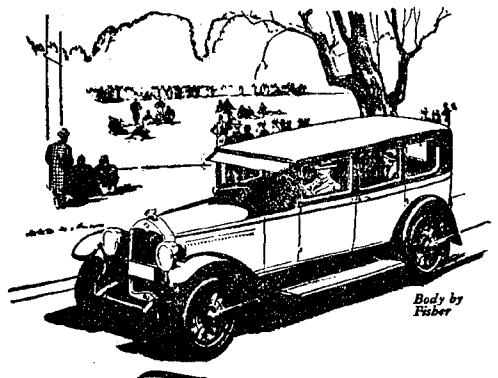
MORROW & SCOTT
BELMOND'S BAKERS

Financial Independence

—is the keystone in the structure of contentment and happiness. It can be attained by economy, thrift and saving. Success is measured not by earnings but by accumulation, and the bank is the necessary vehicle. This bank, with its efficient savings department, welcomes the opportunity to assist you in the accumulation and provides the highest grade investments, as you may desire them.

STATE BANK OF BELMOND
BELMOND
IOWA

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM



There's no "time out" for Buick

The referee's whistle shrills . . . "time out!" . . . The game halts, pending a player's return to the "line-up".

When you attend the big football games this year, notice the predominance of Buicks — for men and women who like action, like Buick. And hundreds of thousands of Buick owners can testify that there is no "time out" for Buick.

Sedans $1195 to $1995 Coupes $1195 to $1850
Sport Models $1195 to $1525

All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich., government tax to be added. The G. M. A. C. financing plan, the most desirable, is available.

BUICK for 1928

WEBSTER COUNTY BUICK CO.
DISTRIBUTORS
20-24 North 9th St. Fort Dodge, Iowa
BELMOND—HUB MOTOR CO. Kanawha—Yeakel & Mallow
Clarion—Linfor Auto Co. Dows—A Banwell
Eagle Grove—Porter Auto Co.

1928 ATWATER KENT RADIO

An announcement by A. Atwater Kent

It is only right that purchasers should share in the results of up-to-date manufacturing methods. This is the tendency of the times.

In our 15 1-2 acre factory our production engineers and other experts, since the inception of radio, have been working out manufacturing economies, possible only with operations on a large scale.

These advancements have enabled us not only to maintain but constantly to improve the quality of Atwater Kent Radio.

Therefore the public will receive the benefits of a 20 per cent average reduction on all our radio products, beginning immediately.

The new prices are in keeping with the long established Atwater Kent policy of sharing with the public the results of economies as fast as they are put into practical operation.

A. Atwater Kent.

Atwater Kent Radio Hour every Sunday night on 23 associated stations

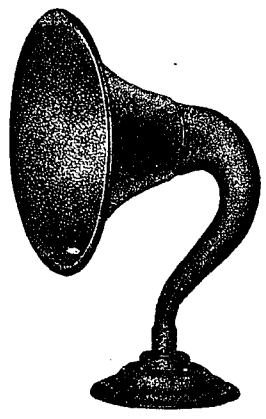
RECEIVING SETS

	Last Year's Price	New Price
Model 35	$ 70.00	$49.00
Model 30	85.00	65.00
Model 33	90.00	75.00
Model 32	140.00	90.00
Model 50		150.00

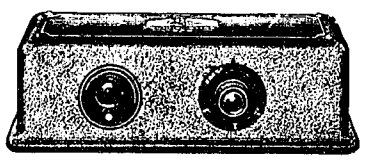
RADIO SPEAKERS

Model E Drum type	$30.00	$24.00
Model H & G Horn type	21.00	15.00
B Power Unit type R	50.00	39.50

One dial receivers licensed under U. S. Patents 1,014,002



We have speakers of all types and models—Cone type, Drum type, and Horn type, or builtin cabinet speakers.



Model 35, 6 tubes, one dial receiver. In this model you can own the latest Model Atwater Kent radio, all complete, installed with power tubes and good equipment for $115.00.

Boys And Girls Poultry Exhibit Held Saturday

An exhibit of the Boys' and Girls' Poultry Club was held at the Belmond city hall, Saturday, Oct. 22, for Belmond and vicinity. Supt. L. G. Focht was in charge, the judging being done by Prof. Fuller, of Cedar Falls, who works in conjunction with the Extension Department of Iowa State College.

In connection with the exhibit Saturday were exhibits by local boys and girls from rural schools, who were furnished with egg settings last spring by the Business Men's Luncheon Club.

The prize winners of the school exhibit and the club exhibit were as follows:

School Exhibit

1st Prize—R. I. Reds, Trio—Harriet Walters

1st Prize—R. I. Reds, Cockerel—Faye Thompson

1st Prize—Barred Rock, Cockerel—Edith Carter

1st Prize—Barred Rocks, Pullet—Edith Carter

Poultry Club Exhibits

1st Prize—Buff Orpington, Cockerel—Bernice Box

2nd Prize—Buff Orpington, Cockerel—Carlisle Didio

1st Prize—Buff Orpington, Pullet—Carlisle Didio

2nd Prize—Buff Orpington, Pullet—Bernice Box

1st Prize—Buff Orpington, Trio—Carlisle Didio

2nd Prize—Buff Orpington, Trio—Bernice Box

1st Prize—R. I. Reds, Trio—Donald Jenison

2nd Prize—R. I. Reds, Trio—Sadie Ter Hark

1st Prize—Buff Rocks, Trio—Lillian McAlpine

1st Prize—Buff Rocks, Cockerel—Alma Anderson

1st Prize—White Rocks, Cockerel—Mildred Frohling

1st Prize—White Rocks, Pullet—Mildred Frohling

1st Prize—White Rocks, Trio—Mildred Frohling

1st Prize—Barred Rocks, Trio—Ina Jenison

2nd Prize—Barred Rocks, Trio—Esther Frohling

LOCALS

Miss Jessie Wallace, was home from Cedar Falls for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Bock and Miss Mary Barry motored to Chicago, Saturday.

Mrs. M. C. Madsen was called to California last week by the serious illness of her daughter.

Mrs. John Rule, formerly of Belmond, is seriously ill at the home of her son, John, at New Salem, North Dakota, having been bedfast for several weeks.

Jasper Johnson came up from McGehee, Ark., last week to spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lud C. Johnson, and other relatives.

Howard Wolle left for Chicago, Sunday, to spend a few weeks at the office of the Automatic Telephone Co., with whom he is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nordschow of Dumont were guests over the week end at the home of Belmond relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Malvin Hanson are the parents of a baby boy, born Wednesday, Oct. 26.

WHOO-O-EY DAY" NOV. 18

Friday, November 18, is the date chosen for the annual Iowa swine feeder's Whoo-o-o-ey Day" at Ames.

More than 500 experimentally fed pigs have been on the "job" this summer and they will be responsible for the story that will be told swine men by John M. Evvard and his co-workers at Iowa State College.

KANSAS CORN BEST IN MATURITY

A United States Department of Agriculture report on the condition of the corn crop in the states where corn is grown most extensively estimates 95 per cent of the Kansas corn was out of danger of killing frosts by Oct. 15, with other states showing percentages out of danger on the same date as follows: Illinois 65 per cent, Indiana 67, Ohio 78, South Dakota 65, Missouri and Iowa 80, and Nebraska 88.

Trench Silo Is Being Tried Out By Local Farmer

Simon Simerson is trying something new for this locality this year, in the way of a "trench" silo. While trench silos have been and are being used in various parts of the country, they are a comparatively new thing around here and Mr. Simerson's furnishes a good object of study and experiment.

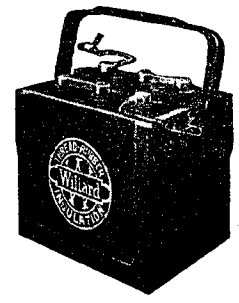
The Simerson trench silo, is a hole in the ground, about eight feet deep and twelve feet wide. The bottom was covered fairly lightly wth straw and the silage dumped into the hole from wagons. After being filled to the top, and packed down, the silage was covered with a layer of straw, seeded with oats, and the whole thoroughly drenched with water. Some 75 wagon loads of corn were dumped into the hole, which is evidence of its size and capacty. A silo on the place was also filled.

Silage from this trench silo is being fed now to feeding cattle, and is producing results. If the experiment turns out as well as anticipated, Mr. Simerson plans to build more.

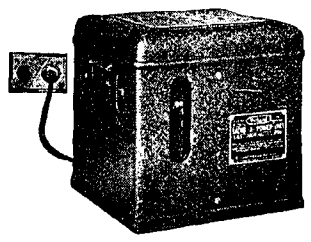
Cost of the trench silo is very small compared to that of a regular silo, and it is easily within the reach of any farmer. According to Wallace's Farmer, 25 such silos were dug out in Hardin County this fall, states many more are in prospect for and the county agent of that county next year.

ONE SOW'S BOAR PIGS BRING OWNER OVER $200

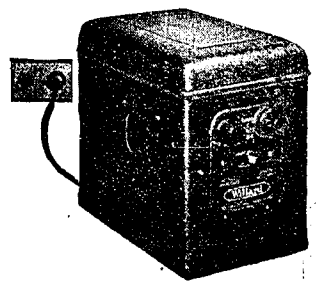
Roy Jenison attended the Spotted Poland sale of Wm. Abraham, near Faulkner, last week. Mr. Abraham sold 50 boars, for an average of $40. Among the lot were four spring boars, farrowed in March by a sow Mr. Abraham purchased in February from Mr. Jenison. The sow cost Abraham $64, and one of her pigs sold at this sale for $65, more than paying for her. The four sons of this sow brought $226. At this price which, besides the other pigs she farrowed, made her owner a good fat profit.



Willard Radio A-batteries. Prices $12.00 to $27.00. Rubber case and handle.



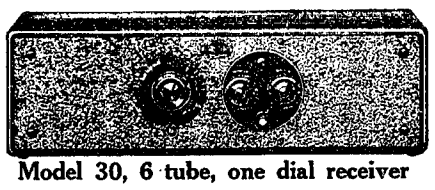
Willard A-Power unit. Price $47.50



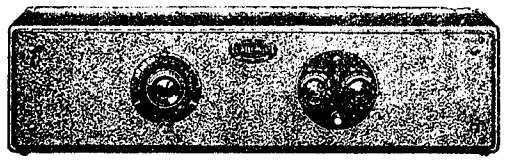
Atwater Kent B-Power unit was $50.00. New price $39.50.

Willard Super B-Power unit $40.00

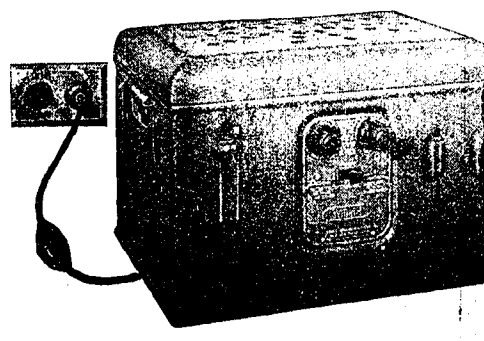
Willard Standard B-Power unit $35.00



Model 30, 6 tube, one dial receiver



Model 32, 7 tube, one dial receiver



Willard A and B Power unit. Price $78.50.

BELMOND STORAGE BATTERY CO.

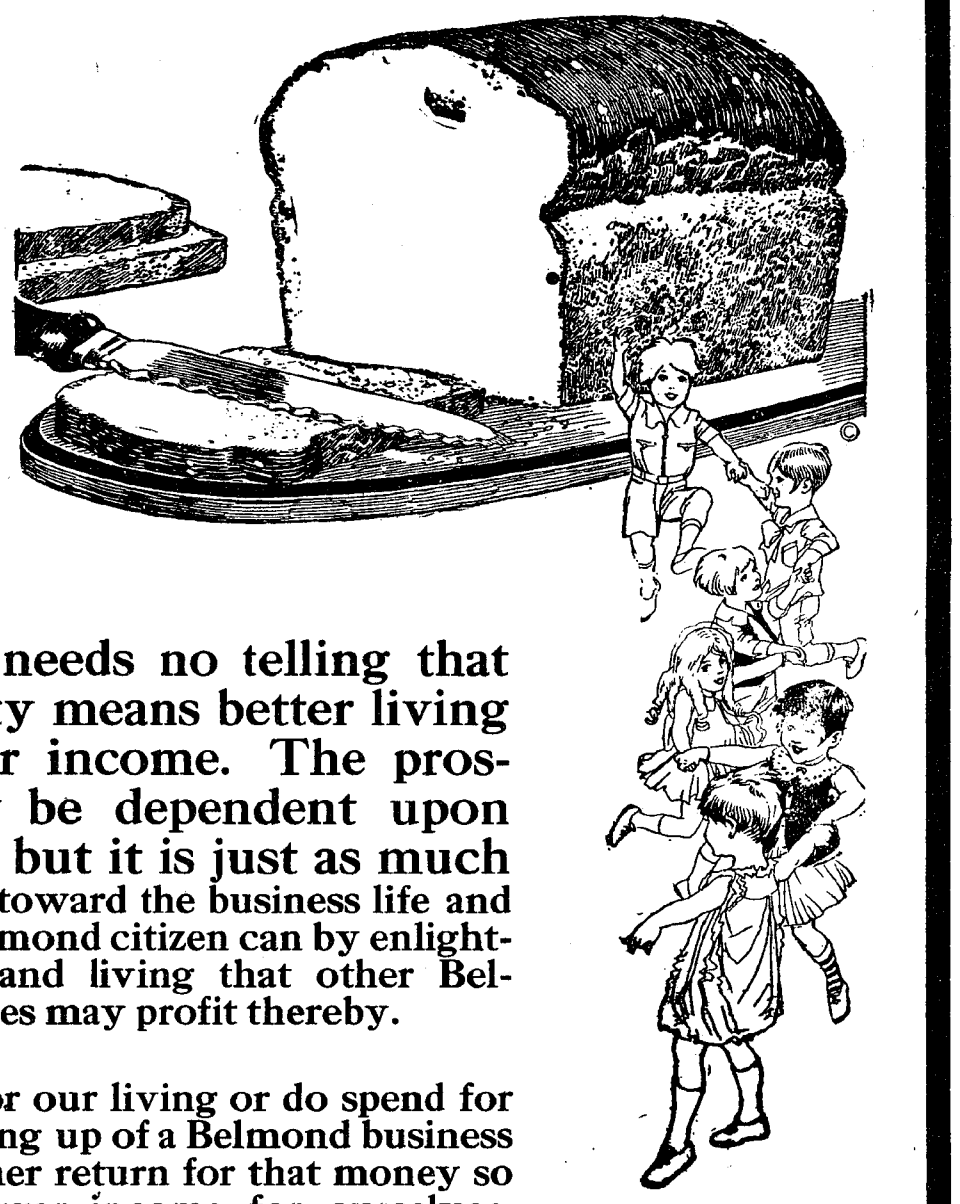
FIVE YEARS EXCLUSIVE ATWATER KENT DEALER IN BELMOND

PHONE 46

J. W. SCOTT, Proprietor

WE GIVE RADIO SERVICE THE YEAR ROUND WINTER OR SUMMER

Prosperity For Belmond!



MOST everybody living in Belmond, needs no telling that prosperity and growth in this city means better living conditions for them and probably a better income. The prosperity and development of Belmond may be dependent upon general business and financial conditions but it is just as much dependent upon the attitude of the people generally toward the business life and institutions that go to make up the town. Every Belmond citizen can by enlightened selfishness, help himself by so ordering his life and living that other Belmond residents and not residents of other communities may profit thereby.

In other words if the money we must spend for our living or do spend for our pleasures and luxuries shall go toward the building up of a Belmond business and institution then we in the end will receive another return for that money so spent in a better and bigger town with better and bigger income for ourselves.

We the undersigned business and professional people of Belmond believeing that the development and growth of any local industry will eventually benefit us all, urge all Belmond people to buy only Belmond made products and insist on being served with such products. As an aid to that purpose each one of the undersigned will accept as cash, at 1-2c each, all wrappers from "BLUE RIBBON BREAD" made in a Belmond bakery, until public notice is given to the contrary.

Keep Your Money Working At Home

Buy "Blue Ribbon Bread"

---Save the Wrappers

ring them to any business house listed below where they will be accepted as cash in payment for any account or purchase.

SCHULTZ DRUG CO.
CATO C. GRIESY
WALLACE RAMSAY
BELMOND FURNITURE CO.
H. J. KLEMME LUMBER. CO.
W. C. TYRRELL CO.
SMITH & SKOVLIN
C. J. PAPOUSEK
BELMOND VARIETY STORE
C. J. JOHNSON GARAGE
LMOND STORAGE BATTERY CO.
JOHN ZOOK
A. F. WENZEL
H. R. AIGLEY
R. THOMPSON
DR. A. M. LARSON

HANSON RADIO SHOP
BELMOND AUTO CO.
DR. L. R. PARSONS
DR. R. L. NELSON
BELMOND CANDY KITCHEN
D. BISHOP
NORDSCHOW MOTOR CO.
THE HAT SHOPPE
E. E. BOUGHTON
G. F. McBURNEY
WRIGHT COUNTY FURNITURE CO.
BELMOND LUMBER CO.
DR. H. L. GOWDY
F. S. SHIPLEY
A. E. CHAMBERLIN
ADAMS PHARMACY

HUB MOTOR CO.
M. C. BARRY
SHELLER BARBER SHOP
F. J. TUFFREE
GEO. H. STEELE
BELMOND SAVINGS BANK
STATE BANK OF BELMOND
FOSS CLEANING SHOP
SCHULTZ JEWELRY CO.
JOHNSON & WRIGHT
GEO. BRADY
FOSS SHOE SHOP
F. P. DIBBLE
GREENLANDER LUMBER CO.
J. C. ATHERTON SHOE SHOP
JONES HARNESS CO.
ANDERSON HATCHERY

W. H. WOLLE, Real Estate & Insurance
BELMOND INDEPENDENT
FARMERS GRAIN CO.
COMMUNITY SERVICE STATION
FARMERS CREAMERY CO.
CENTRAL STATES ELECTRIC CO.
GEO. W. GOELZ
E. M. LATHROP
C. C. McGUIRE
ROY A. HENDERSON, ATTORNEY
DR. R. T. COE, VETERINARIAN
CENTRAL WEST PUBLIC SERVICE CO.
T. A. DAVENPORT
LYRIC THEATRE
M. J. THOE
H. T. BAILEY

A COMMUNITY

The other night, the train in which I was riding, stopped about a half mile from a town and gave me a good perspective of that community. How apart, distinct, compact and separate it was from the field and forest stretching away from it. Streets knitted its parts together and streets lights twinkled here and there and outlined the city limits. From among great trees, roofs peered out; the dome of a court house seemed to preside over all and administer law and justice. Church steeples pointed the mind upward; and a great building, which I knew to be a school house, bore testimony to that community's estimate of its children and of education. The mantle of darkness was settling down over the world, but that town did not look lonesome.

There came to me a new vision of what an integer, what a unified thing is a community. How common are its interests, its need for water, light, power, sewers, schools, law protection, trade with the outside world, entertainment and recreation, beauty and inspiration and good citizenship.

I wondered if the people living in those houses were friendly with one another, if they helped one another and worked toward a common purpose for the wellbeing of all. Of course, all the residents of a locality cannot see things in the same light nor have the same opinions and methods. But how much more comfortable and prosperous we could make ourselves if we would unite in the joint effort to make our town a great common home, with all the modern conveniences!

Something like this was the motive back of a woman's club in Ohio. Every woman in town was a member by virtue of living there. The dues were twenty five cents a year, that they might not exclude anyone.

Their first activity was to engage a city engineer to make a survey of the community and draft a plan by which the city might be improved. They did not hope to do anything at once, but they wanted a city plan to work toward. In turn, they beautified the school yards, the cemetery, the station grounds, and the streets. By a plant exchange, they encouraged landscape gardening about private homes until the whole town became like a beautiful park.

Why shouldn't every man, woman and child in the community be joined in a great unit to make the home town lovely? A community is really a great family, with a common home to keep, not bounded by four square walls nor by fences, but by the city limits. We should meet together frequently and hold round-table over plans for our mutual betterment.

BUSINESS CLOTHES

The business woman who applies for a job in a gown of georgette and lace, her last year's "best" kills her chances right there. The hard headed business man may like to see his wife and daughter play the part of "Fluffy Ruffles," but he knows that efficiency is rarely garbed in chiffon, high heeled patent leather pumps and other gay furbelows.

The plain navy frock, the small felt hat, the "sensible" shoes, hose of the "service" weight, gray, perhaps, to match her tie—such as these carry the business woman to success. The trim neatness of the woman thus clad bespeaks her intelligence, her exactness, her freedom from frittering distractions and her general smartness. She is the one whom the business man will choose to handle his letters and papers and receive his business callers in the outer office.

In the olden day, the business woman was supposed to dress with a mannishness which might indicate that she could handle business as well as a man. But we no longer pretend to be musculine in order to lay claim to our sound headedness or understanding of the affairs of the business world.

Woman has made a place of her own—thanks to our noble woman pioneers who endured the sneers of her softer sisters that she might pave the way for women in business. Woman's ability is recognized as a great asset in the business world of today. The business woman stands high and is respected, not in spite of her sex, but on account of the good record her sex has made. And she may dress the part. She no longer needs to ape the apparel of her brother, but may dress as any other sensible woman on the street.

In short, the dress of the business woman of today is no different from approved street dress, morning garb or sports wear of any woman. Dressed for her employment, the business woman is fitted to go anywhere or make any of the contacts other woman may have at the same hours. The only requirement of business clothes today is appropriateness, and has no relation to sex.

BLOCK CORPORATION

A new feature of community life in some of our cities is a city block in which the houses constitute a unit. The houses are built around a central space about one hundred feet square which is set aside as a play space for the little children of the families in that block. A tract at one end of the property is devoted to recreation for larger children and adults.

Mothers, in ordinary blocks in towns and cities, could cooperate in the same manner, if they wished, to provide ample play space and equipment for their children. Several families could go together to buy swings, sand piles and other play tools, and the mothers could take turns in watching the children as they play. This would save the time of all the mothers and do both the mothers and children good, making for acquaintance all around, and giving each mother certain time off from child care and an opportunity to do something else. If this plan did not work, the mothers could chip in together and hire some nice young lady or older lady to give the child group certain hours of play supervision each week.

TOAST SANDWICH

This is a delicious sandwich for a family supper. The toast should be served piping hot, even if the members of the family have to await their turns to get their portion. Have ready; crisp lettuce leaves, sliced tomato, crisply fried bacon, and mayonnaise. Toast the bread and butter it while hot. Place on a slice: a leaf of lettuce, a layer of tomatoes, two slices of the bacon; and spread with the mayonnaise; then cover with another piece of hot buttered toast and serve. This is a home made "club sandwich."

FRUIT DRINK

For fruit drinks, prepare your sugar and water first. Boil one cup sugar in two cups water and cool. Add the juice of three lemons, and of three oranges and the juice from a can of pineapple. Other fruit combinations may be used according to the taste or what you have on hand. Blackberry or raspberry juice, grape-juice, ginger ale, or a pint of iced tea may be used with the sugar-water-lemon combination.

READ THE ADS!

IS YOUR STOMACH ON A STRIKE
?

If you cannot eat the food you like because of unpleasant after effects, there is something wrong.

Chiropractic can remove the pressure from the nerves involved and health will be the natural result.

Bring your BACK to the Chiropractor for health's sake.

Come in and talk over your Health Problems.

Dr. J. M. Tate
CHIROPRACTOR
Office over Griesy
Phone 21 Belmond, Iowa

If Your Chickens Have Worms--
TRY TOBACCO DUST!

One part of tobacco dust to 30 parts of mash will kill the worms. Starve the birds 24 hours before feeding this ration. Do not allow them to have any water until 6 or 8 hours after feeding this formula. Their drinking water should then contain 1 tablespoonful of Epsom Salts to each gallon of water. Follow our advice in this and you will see results.

Mix the tobacco dust with Sargents
Laying Mash

Makes Hens Lay, Keeps Them Healthy. You can get it here.

A Full Line of Jamesway
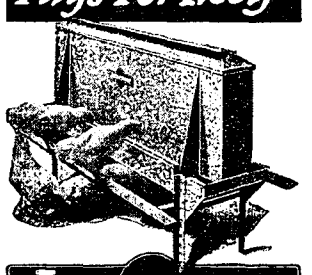
Poultry Equipment

Here's a Feeder that soon Pays For Itself



Jamesway
Free Feed
CAFETERIA

EVERY farm flock in this locality should have one of these FIVE-IN-ONE Feeders; contains compartments for Mash, Grain, Oyster Shell, Grit and Charcoal. It's a great labor saver—only needs filling once a week and your flock can always eat what they want, when they want it. They balance their ration as nature dictates and as a result you get more eggs—your flock is healthier.

Saves Labor—Saves Feed

This practical feeder comes in two sizes—100 flock size and 200 flock size. Think what a convenience it would be to just fill this up once a week and know that you flock was provided with feed for an entire week. It's the busy farmer's friend. Built with a patented shaking device that always keeps feed down in feed troughs. Feed is always clean and absolutely no waste. Slanting tilting top prevents birds roosting on top. We guarantee that this feeder will pay for itself in one season in saved feed and labor. Let us show you this incomparable feeder.

Anderson Hatchery---G. T. Anderson, Prop.
PHONE 27 BELMOND, IOWA

We Want Your Poultry

And we will pay you the very highest market price for it. Before you sell, see us or call us and let us make you a price—you'll find it is dollars in your pocket. If you haven't time to bring your poultry in, or haven't a way to do it, remember we furnish you

TRUCK SERVICE!

We'll call at your place, load your birds, haul them to town, give you honest, full weights, and send you a check promptly at the highest market prices. We want your poultry, and we'll do anything fair and square to get it. Give us a trial!

Farmers Grain Company
PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!
BELMOND, - - IOWA

ENDS OCTOBER 31st

The opportunity of our customers to secure shares of the Special Allotment of our 7 PER CENT PREFERRED STOCK investment, carrying the FULL DIVIDEND from October 1st. ends on October 31st.

Have you seen our Manager, or one of our Employees regarding this SPECIAL OFFER?

If not, then do not delay, as this opportunity will soon close.

REMEMBER. By investing now, you will receive the FULL DIVIDEND on the Shares you buy for the THREE MONTHS OF OCTOBER, NOVEMBER, and DECEMBER, on JANUARY 1st.

There is no need of us telling you again about the Safety of the money you invest in these 7 Per Cent Preferred Shares, because you know they are Safe and the Income is Sure.

Over Forty Dividends have already been paid on the Stocks of this Company.

See our Manager or any Employ TODAY.

Respectfully,

Central States Electric Company
General Offices
515 Merchants National Bank Building
CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Bldg
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

FRIEND C. BRAS
Tests Eyes Fits Glasses
Service Guaranteed
SOUTH OF COURT HOUSE
CLARION, - IOWA
1-128

FOR YOUR
AUCTIONEER
CALL
H. BRUMMOND
KANAWHA, IOWA
PHONE 118

The Splinters

"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2 Thursday, October 27, 1927. No. 28

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

Teacher. — "What do we use soap for?"

Jimmy. — "That's what I'd like to know."

—

Ask us what shingles to use and we'll tell you 'Our 5 x cedar." We don't know of a better shingle made.

—

Another reason why we don't like to have our photograph taken is because it makes us look like we were having our photograph taken.

The only successful substitute for brains, we guess, is silence.

—

Abe Martin says "A nickle cigar don't smell so bad after the band gets t' burnin'."

—

There are some mighty good merchants in Belmond. We know them personally. They are square shooters. Dont' you think the home merchant is at least entitled to a chance to fill your wants? Of course you do.

—

We've noticed that the ladies who ride in open cars these days have no need for rouge.

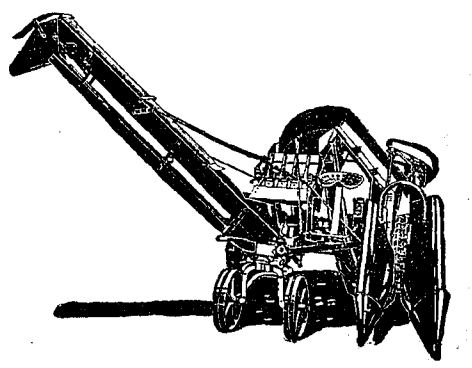
Washed egg coal for ranges, stoves on hand, none better for quick fire, and no soot.

—

They buried a man in a western city not long ago. In a spirit of fun, he stuck his head into the window of a bootleggers' hang out and yelled "Fire." And they did!

—

Yes, letters to Santa Clause may be addressed in our care, if you like, Better ask the old fellow for something useful this year—a ton of coal for instance.



A Corn Picker Increases Your Husking Capacity Six to Ten Times

Add the extra cost of hand husking to your profits—be rid of worry at husking time forever. Owners tell us that a corn picker will pay for itself in two years with what it saves.

A Corn Picker Will Solve Your Help Problems

Will out-pick six men.
Will do cleaner work than hand huskers.
Will get your husking done on time.

Let us explain the merits of the new 1927 Models. There are many improvements on both the

JOHN DEERE and McCORMICK-DEERING

PRICES VERY REASONABLE

GRIESY'S
The Friendly Place
PHONE 10
BELMOND, IOWA

MESERVEY SECTION

EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:45. Notice the change of time.

Morning worship at 10:45.

E. L, C. E. at 7 o'clock. Rev. H. Raecker will lead.

Evening worship at 7:30.

This is the last week for our Evangelistic meetings.

We are glad for the interest and the audiences.

Let us pray earnestly and examine our own hearts, and get right with God.

In the coming week

German prayer meeting at 7:30.

English prayer meeting at eight o'clock.

Junior choir practice Monday night.

Senior choir practice Sunday night.

A. K. Henning, Pastor

REFORMED CHURCH

The Ladits Aid met last Friday at the usual time, 17 being present. Mrs. Harm Dirks served refreshments.

The Dorcas society met Oct. 12th. Miss Ollie Pals served refreshments. Both societies are busy getting ready for the annual sale which will be held some time in December.

Preparatory service ntxt Sunday at the morning service. At this time opportunity will be given to join with the church. There are those among us who have not yet made a public confession of faith in Christ. Remember that you are under the influence of the Gospel ministry which means added responsibility on your part. Are you realizing your great need of Christ and are you giving the matter of accepting Christ as your personal Saviour serious thought.

Sunday school at 9:30.

Morning worship at 10:30 (German).

Young People's Meeting at 7:30.

Evening service at 8:00.

Catechetical classes meet Saturday at 1:30.

H. Pannkuk, Pastor

SCHOOL NOTES

The individual pictures that were taken of the pupils of the school last week were received Friday, causing great excitement.

The children of the fifth and sixth grades had been planning a surprise party for Miss Wright. They had successfully concealed it the past week so it was indeed a great surprise.

The fifth and sixth grades are making health posters this week. Both grades are working on a Health Crusade contest.

The first and second grades are beginning their work with the vegetable project.

The following pupils in the 2nd grade received 100 per cent last week: Harold Allen, Grace Boelman, Verbina Meinders, Marvin Morris, Marjory Nissen, Ellen Olson, Sylvia Quandt, Viola Ruiter, Sterling Sprau, Arlene Schmidt, Russell Goetzke.

Miss Elsie Hoyt spent the week end at her home near Ventura.

Miss Gwendolyn Temple visited at the home of her parents in Mason City, the past week end.

Miss Louise Watson and Miss Ruth Roth accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Hartfelder to Ames Sunday and spent the day there.

The high school masquerade party will be held at the high school Friday evening starting at 7:30. The plans for the party are such as to assure everyone of a good time.

MESERVEY LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wendel of Belmond, Mesdames Theo. Wendel, C. J. Wendel and Nelse. Faaborg were Mason City callers Tuesday of last week.

E. E. Butz and family of Clear Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith of Mason City were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Mary Butz. Miss Irena Butz returned with them from a week's visit at the Smith home in Mason City.

Mrs. Thos. Sloss and two daughters of Ames motored up Sunday to spend the day at the Frank Nissen home. Mrs. Sloss remained for a few days visit.

Herman Fischer, Jr., came home from Ames for an over Sunday visit at the parental home.

W. F. Butz and wife and LuVerne were calling at Clear Lake Saturday.

Miss Johanna Halfwassen who has employment in Belmond spent last Friday night at her parental home.

G. E. Raecker and family and Mrs. Anna Schroeder visited at the Rev. H. M. Raecker home Sunday.

Frank Nissen and family and Mrs. Thos. Sloss were Belmond callers Monday afternoon, where Mrs. Nissen had dental work done.

M. Halfwassen and family visited at the Lew Koehler home near Latimer Sunday.

Supt. and Mrs. H. Reed and baby daughter, Mr. Harry Carl of Bennet, Miss Grace Pals of this place and Miss Phyllis McCullock of Kanawha were week end visitors at the H. K. Pals home. The Misses Pals and McCullock have positions in the Bennett schools. The men enjoyed a pheasant hunt Saturday.

Miss Florence Cogswell of Mason City visited at the H. K. Pals home Sunday afternoon.

Wm. Messelheiser and family were business callers at the county seat Saturday.

Frank, Oliver, and Virgil Sprau accompanied their sister Miss Eva, to her school work last Sunday afternoon.

Miss Irene Guth was a week end visitor at her parental home.

Hartley Blewitt of Thornton and Harold Blewitt and family were Sunday visitors at the Wm. Hartfelder home. The Hartfelders are now cozily settled in their new house on the J. Nissen place, which was recently completed.

Mesdames Frank Haferman, Wm. Obrecht and Heiko Jannssen returned last Friday from Wisconsin Falls, where they had been called by the death of a relative.

The following relatives were entertained at the Chas. Waddington home Sunday: Wm. Enabnit and family of Kanawha, Irv. Nissen and children of Kamrar, John Kalb and family of Latimer, Robert Enabnit and wife of Clear Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kolb and grand children of this place.

Mrs. E. S. Barker and son and her mother, Mrs. Gartz were visiting at the Ed Foss home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Crist Boike and son of Cedar Falls spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. B. Gruis.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kolb and grand children were callers at Ventura Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schuman of Cedar Falls, Mrs. A. Boller and children, Harvey Boller and family of Goodell spent Sunday at the H. F. Reif home.

Rev. and Mrs. Fred Pieper and daughter of Fostoria arrived Monday evening for a few day's visit at the C. Beier home and with other relatives.

G. E. Raecker attended a Chevrolet meeting at Forest City Monday evening.

Robbers Appear Again

Last Wednesday, during the hours of midnight and morning, two business places here were entered and robbed of considerable merchandise. Th C. J. Wendel hardware store was relieved of 2 valuable guns, several dozen knives, a number of watches, etc. The Muller Store was short dress and work shirts, Munsing wear, shoes bed blankets and a variety of groceries and tobacco. Both places were entered by forcing a door and window open, the former in the basement and the latter on the second floor.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ralston and Mr. and Mrs. Walt Braga were Mason City callers Tuesday of last week. They visited at the Milton Lewis home.

Clarence Pals and sister Wilma, and the Misses Temple, Roth and Watson, were in Mason City Wednesday evening, attending "Ben-Hur."

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Quandt and the latter's sister, Mrs. Phillips of Illinos, arrived here Tuesday of last week for a visit with relatives and friends. Mrs. Chas. Quandt returned with them after visiting relatives for a month.

Rev. L. Sohl, Mrs. Schroedemeier and daughter, Miss Viva, of Waterloo, were visiting relatives of the latter here, Thursday and Friday. The Rev. Sohl attended the Sunday School Convention at Clear Lake, Friday.

Dr. J. A. Butz and wife of Monterey, Minn., motored to this place Thursday evening making an over night visit at the home of his mother who has been ill.

Rev. H. Pannkuk and Mr. B. Gruis returned from a few days stay at Bristow the first part of last week where they had attended a business session at the Reformed church.

HALLOWE'EN WARNING.

Meservey youths are hereby given due warning that any destruction of property or disturbing of the peace on Hallowe'en will be severely dealt with.

J. F. HARTFELDER, Mayor.

CLEAN UP NOTICE

Property owners of the Town of Meservey are hereby requested to rake up leaves, twigs and other rubbish on or adjacent to their property, so as to avoid letting this material get into and clog the sewer. Your co-operation will be appreciated, and may save you money in repairs.

J. F. HARTFELDER, Mayor.

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29

Harry T. Smith
General Blacksmithing
Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding
Meservey, - Iowa

Undertaking & Funeral Director
F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone--Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

ATWATER KENT RADIO
Fresh "B" Batteries always on hand.
H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

FREE INSURANCE

Sometime ago one of our depositors called for his cancelled checks, stating that he needed them in order to convince his neighbor that he had already paid the debt owing him.

Our depositor then related an incident of how a farmer had paid a Medicine Wagon driver $4.70, which he claimed was not paid. The farmer produced the check which was evidence that it had been paid, thus saving him paying the bill twice.

We say "Free Insurance."

"Service and Safety"

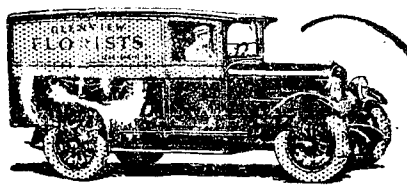
Farmers Savings Bank
Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

HIGH QUALITY
BUILDING MATERIAL
Screen Doors and Window Screens—Mill Work—Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts nnd Poles
Cement — Lime
INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT
Wheat Bran – Oil Meal – Cotton Seed Meal, – Tankage – Salt
Highest Price Paid for Grain
Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

Camel
The cigarette preferred by experienced smokers
In the remarkable growing popularity of the cigarette many brands have bid for favor, but Camel continues to lead by billions. Quality put it there; quality keeps it there.

If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.
© 1927, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

for Economical Transportation
Two Trucks
that lead the world in popularity



½ Ton
Chassis Only $395
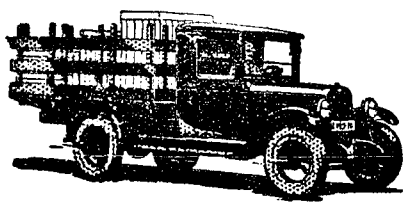
f. o. b. Flint, Mich.


1-Ton
Chassis Only
$495
1-Ton Truck Chassis with Cab $610
All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich.
The number of ½-Ton trucks in use today is far greater than that of any other capacities—for these are the units used by thousands upon thousands of retail merchants to meet the requirements of modern delivery service.
And because Chevrolet offers the greatest value available in each of these two sizes—and because it offers the world's lowest ton-mile cost—both the Chevrolet Ton and ½-Ton trucks are leading the world in popularity.
Come in—and see for yourself what Chevrolet offers you in comparison with other haulage units.
Then you'll know why Chevrolet is the world's largest builder of gear-shift trucks—with undisputed leadership in both the Ton and ½-Ton fields!
HUB MOTOR COMPANY
Belmond, Iowa
RAECKER CHEVROLET SALES COMPANY
Meservey, Iowa
THE WORLD'S LARGEST BUILDER OF GEAR SHIFT TRUCKS

ROWAN ITEMS OF INTEREST

M. E. Aid Elects Officers

The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church held their annual dinner and election of officers last Thursday. They had a splendid attendance with a goodly number taking advantage of the covered dish luncheon at noon. The old officers were re-elected for the coming year and are as follows: President, Mrs. W. W. Azeltine; vice president, Mrs. W. H. Whitten, secretary, Miss Esther Fowler; and treasurer, Mrs. A. O. Pelley.

Royal Nieghbor Social

A goodly number of R. N. A.'s and friends met Friday evening and a time of sociability was had, and a variety of joyful games played. Decorations of a Hallowe'en nature were tastily arranged and a splendid line of home made candy and pop corn were furnished by the neighbors, from which they realized a neat sum of money. This hearty co-operation of the committees as well as Neighbors and friends is the means to promotion to fraternal love.

Rowan Girl Wins Medals

Little Yvonne Knuths, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Knuths, has just recently received two medals won at the baby contest at the State Fair at Des Moines this year. They entered her last year and she received a score of 92.73 per cent. This year with a score of 97.23 per cent she won a bronze medal for placing third in the rural district for girls and a gold medal in the improvement class for her improvement over last year. This is a record of which Mr. and Mrs. Knuths may well feel proud.

Rowan Farms Sold

Pelley and Rietz have recently purchased the old Brooks farm, north west of town on Snarl Street.

Carl Larson has purchased the Cressey eighty which Wm. Peddle had bought shortly before his death. Mr. Larson takes over Mr. Peddle's contract.

ROWAN SCHOOL NOTES

Friday and Saturday of this week the combined glee clubs of the High School will present the operetta, "Sailor Maids." The cast under the direction of Miss Pruss has been working hard to make the presentation a success.

The cast, besides the chorus of life guards and sailor maids, includes the following persons:

Cyrus Templeton ____ Darl Farran
Frances Marie _____ Ruby Azeltine
Jeanette Spencer __ Thelma Hackley
Olga _____ Evelyn Whitten
Captain Dover __ Raymond Aldrich
Edward _____ Clifford Stapley
Gerald Kennedy __ Kenneth Whitten
David Kern _____ Derush Hughes

This delightful story of the sea should furnish a very enjoyable evening of entertainment.

The Parent Teacher Club was very well attended last Tuesday evening. A very interesting as well as entertaining program was presented. The community singing was led by Miss Pruss. Mrs. James Burt gave two readings. Messrs. Fred and Henry Williams sang a duet with an encore and Prin. E. R. Swanson gave a talk on "Aims of Education."

M. E. CHURCH CALENDAR

10:00 A. M.—Sunday School
11:00 A. M. Morning worship
6:45 P. M. Epworth League
7:30 P. M.—Evening worship
7:30 Wednesday evening—Prayer Meeting.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. L. A. Marquardt, Pastor
10:30 a. m. Sunday School.
11:30 a. m. Morning worship. Subject, "How does God Lead His People."
3:00 p. m. Junior Christian Endeavor.
6:30 p. m. Senior Christian Endeavor.
7:30 p. m. Evening worship. Subject "The Fools Vineyard."
7:30 p. m. Wednesday evening. Prayer meeting and Bible study.
7:30 p. m. Thursday. Choir practice.

The Wright County Religious Education Day will be held at the Congregational church at Clarion on Thursday, Oct. 27 at 9:00 a. m. This meeting is for officers, teachers and Sunday School workers. An all day meeting. Plan to go. There will be a basket lunch at noon so take your basket with you.

The pie social netted the C. E. Society 15.25. We wish to thank all who helped to make this a success.

The Ladies Aid will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Farran for a work meeting. All ladies are asked to come as there is work for all.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coburn and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shafer returned from visiting their sister, Mrs. Oscar Thurson at Cooks, Mich.

Mrs. F. H. Brooks and son Fred, Jr., of Parkersburg spent a few days last week with her daughter, Mrs. Chester Moellering and Mrs. Edgar Mantle.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Sullivan and Beverley Rae of Ft. Dodge came Friday to spend the week end at the parental Dan Fletcher home. Mr. Sullivan had frinds from Des Momes come up to hunt pheasants with him.

Miss Nora Shafer was quite ill last week suffering from pleurisy and neuritis.

The young people of the Epworth League enjoyed a social at the M. E. church basement last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Emma Gill and son Bernard of Fairmont, Minn., drove down on Friday and spent Saturday with Mrs. Gill's mother, Mrs. Jeanette Patton. They went Saturday evening to the home of Mrs. Gill's daughter, Mrs. Joe Sampson, near Belmond and spent Sunday there, returning to their home at Fairmont, on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rowen and daughter of Clarion were in town Saturday afternoon. Mr. Rowen has given up his position with the Standard Oil Company at Clarion so as to help care for their baby as she is in very poor health.

Fritz Ohlerking and Eddie Ketchum have returned after working in the harvest fields in North Dakota and Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Richards went to Thornton the first of last week and visited Mrs. Richards' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sperry. They also visited with a cousin who was there from New Jersey. The following day they spent with Mrs Richard's sister, Mrs. Chas. Proctor and family.

Mr. and Mrs. March Pacey and family of Plymouth, were Sunday visitors at the Chas. W. Martin home.

Mrs. Wesley Azeltine had as a house guest over the week end, Miss Gladys Moorehouse of New Providence.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Malaney of Clinton came last Monday evening and spent Tuesday and Wednesday with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Richards. Mr. Malaney and Mr. Richards drove to Mason City on Wednesday.

Don Colton of Waterloo and Miss Grace Robbins of Texas were week end guests at the home of their uncle, A. O. Pelley.

Rev. J. H. Bounds attended a meeting of ministers at Thornton on Monday.

Following is the program which was given at the parent-teachers' meeting at the school house last Tuesday evening:

Community singing, led by Miss Pruss
Two readings, Mrs. James Burt
A splendid talk on "Aims of Education by Mr. Swanson
Duet, Fred and Henry Williams

Kenneth Kieth and his cousin Stevenson Early, both students at Ames, were week end guests of Kenneth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Keith.

Fred and Chas. Aldinger returned from Omaha Monday where they went to buy cattle. Because of the high price asked they came home without buying any.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Myers returned on Monday from visiting their sons in the southern part of the state for the past three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Myers enjoyed a pheasant supper at the W. D. Ferguson home south east of Dows last Friday evening.

Mrs. Julius Olson of Belmond spent one day last week with Mrs. John Richards.

Mrs. Nina Fowler and Miss Esther motored to Marengo the first of last week taking Mrs. Milton Brown to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Aldinger and daughter returned last week from visiting Mrs. Aldinger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nordmeyer at Morristown, Minn.

Mrs. Etta Carr went to Lyle, Minn., Thursday evening to visit her daughter, Mrs. Krusmier and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Aldinger and family have moved from their farm into the D. M. Whitten house in town. Mr. Whitten had the interior all redecorated, Chas. Jetmund of Dows doing the work.

D. A. Hiams drove to Iowa Falls Friday evening to meet their daughter, Miss Pearl, and Miss Esther Emerson who came from Cedar Falls to spend the week end at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Richards and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Richards drove to Webster City Sunday, where they spent the day at the Lew Whittam and Donaldson homes.

Ralph Whitten of the Perry school faculty and friend, Clarence Shumaker, came to spend the week end at the H. J. Whitten home and also to hunt pheasants on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Coburn and family departed by auto for Cooks, Michigan, on Saturday morning to visit at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Oscar Thurson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Azeltine drove to Mason City Saturday.

Mrs. S. F. Stout, Mrs. Ina Stumph and Miss Peggy Ladd drove to Waterloo Wednesday to meet Mr. Stout's sister, Mrs. Chas. Pepper and daughter Janice, who returned home with them for a visit. While in Waterloo they visited at the F. E. Kenison home. Miss Garnette Stumph who attends I. S. T. C. at Cedar Falls came over to Waterloo and visited with them, returning with them as far as Cedar Falls that evening.

Mrs. Jennie Hackley, and son Glen, and daughters, Misses Nellie and Zelda, and grand daughter Miss Thelma Hackley drove to Iowa Falls Sunday and spent the day with Mrs. Hackley's daughter, Mrs. Elmer Gaulke and family.

D. W. Whitten entertained two friends from Des Moines during pheasant season.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Harris and family were Sunday guests of his brother, Ray Harris and family at Sheffield.

Henry Williams drove to Des Moines taking his uncle, Irwin Williams and wife that far on their way to their home at Gilman, Missouri. They have visited here the past month.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Azeltine entertained Mrs. Nina Fowler, Miss Esther Fowler and Mrs. Milton Brown at dinner one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Reece and two sons and Mrs. H. O. Azeltine drove to Dows Saturday where one of the Reece boys took the train for Iowa Falls. He expects to work there.

Mrs. Ina Stumph and son Bernard and Brown and Lowell Hoke drove to Hampton Monday evening where they took in the movie "Ben Hur."

Mr. and Mrs. P. Shreck and family of Hayfield came Friday to visit at the parental Williams home and with other relatives, returning home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jacobson, and son, of Dows, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Whitten Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Patton and family and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Patton of Delaware county, were Sunday guests at the Joseph Patton home.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Stout entertained the following guests on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stout of Forrest City, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stout of Thompson, brothers of Mr. Stout and his father James Stout of Forest City, who remained for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Adamson had as guests for pheasant hunting, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Adamson, Mr. Claude Hornby and sister, Miss Bess Hornby of Fort Des Moines. They came Friday and spent Saturday with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Watt and two children of Marathon visited several days the last of the week at the home of Mrs. Watt's aunt, Mrs. W. A. Hoke.

Mrs. Cady Templeton of Clarion and Mrs. Baty Bradfield of Spirit Lake visited with their sister, Mrs. Jack Felton at the home of their mother, Mrs. Jennie Rowen several days last week prior to Mrs. Felton's departure for her home in the Faulkland Islands.

Misses Pearl Johnson and Norma Ouverson, students at the State Agricultural college at Ames were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Adamson.

Miss Cleo Duffy entertained her H. S. class of '24 on Saturday evening in honor of Miss Berniece Hansen who leaves soon for Pasadena, California. Six of the ten members of the class were present. Hallowe'en games were played and dainty refreshments served. A good time is reported.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Ballou entertained five guests from Des Moines during the open season for hunting pheasants.

ALEXANDER NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Packard and children attended the movies at Belmond on Monday evening.

Mr. Crosby of Hampton was a caller in town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Green and daughters, Hattie and Agnes were visitors here Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Larsen and children were visiting relatives at Popejoy Sunday.

John Bell and daughter, Jessie, attended a birthday party on Friday at the W. C. Tucker home in Hampton in honor of Mrs. W. C. Tucker, Ed Tucker and Miss Jessie Bell. A most enjoyable day was spent. A sumptuous dinner was served, and many lovely gifts presented. There were 25 present.

D. R. Schmidt was a Belmond caller Wednesday morning.

Roman Buterbaugh was a business caller in Belmond Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Fred Rodemeyer and son, Mrs. John Hill and son, John Henry, Mrs. Carrie Hanson and Mrs. Chas. Winwood were visitors at Iowa Falls Tuesday.

Lewis Bell and daughter, Alma Jean, were business callers at Belmond Tuesday.

Mrs. J. R. Harlow and daughter, Naomi, were Belmond visitors Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Meyers and daughter Ruby, and Doris Larson, spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives in Austin, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Klinefelter and children and Mariam Packard visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly in Dows Sunday.

R. E. Buterbaugh was a Belmond caller Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Packard were calling in Belmond Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Larsen and grandson went to Jefferson Saturday for several days visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beitz and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wilson and son Burdette of Hokington spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Hazel M. Beitz at the Fred Greenfield home.

Miss Vernona Goettsch spent the week end with relatives at Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Gillet and son Alva George, were visitors at the home of the Misses Bell and Eleanor Frasier in Bradford Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Braden of Dows has been visiting the past week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. C. Peters.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Hensell and daughter Mabel of Webster City were Sunday visitors at the home of their son Oscar.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Butler of Hampton and Mr. and Mrs. George Latch of Renwick were visiting at the A. B .Arends home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Green and daughter, Emmagene, were visiting at the Clayton Arnold home in Bristow Sunday.

Mr and Mrs. Ed Richard were called to Schulsburg, Wis., Wednesday morning by receiving the sad news of the death of Mrs. Richard's brother at that place.

Mrs. Earl Allen of Iowa Falls was visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bohlen over Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Carrie Osborne of Hampton, has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. Otto Keislich a few days the past week.

Mrs. Will Teeby and Mrs. Joe Atkinson of Hampton were visiting with Miss Anna Beenen Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hawley were guests at the W. P. Aldinger home on Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Harlow entertained at their home Saturday and Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Staker and son, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barnes of Woodward, and Mrs. Martin Hadu and daughter of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Claas Moderman with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Frohling of Belmond drove to Wellsburg for a visit with relatives Sunday.

Jake Ostendorf anr family went to Stout Thursday for a visit with Rev. Heyenga and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kieslich were callers at Northwood Thursday.

Mrs. Anna Bonte of Meservey was calling on relatives here Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Miller of Colfax and Emmert Miller of Woodward were guests at the J. R. Harlow home Friday and Saturday.

Fred L. Greenfield was a business caller at Belmond Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gruis of Meservey were calling at the Jelto Pals home Wednesday.

Rev. and Mrs. Frericks and son were business callers at Hampton, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Gillet and son Alva and Mrs. Lloyd Green attended a show at Belmond Friday evening.

Miss Marie Pals was a business caller at Belmond Thursday.

Miss Sylverne Helland was a Mason City visitor over Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bell returned to their home at Waterloo Monday after spending a few days with relatives here.

Miss Melba Tucker visited with her parents at Hansell over Sunday.

The Delta Alpha Class will be entertained on Friday evening in the basement by Mrs. Charlie Winwood and Mrs. Forest Gillet.

Mrs. Minnie Tucker and daughter Lillie of Long Beach, Calif. who have been visiting with relatives and friends for the past ten weeks, started for their home Monday morning leaving Belmond about 2 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Johnson. Andrew Johnson, and J. B. Johnson and daughter Florence of Forest City were Sunday visitors at the C. B. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hall and children were callers at Belmond Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Johnson were business callers at Latimer Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hail entertained at their home, on Sunday, to dinner, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Sawyer and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Kinney of Iowa Falls; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Smith and sons Cecil and Howard of Blue Earth, Minn., and Miss June Nelson of Swea City.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Greenfield and son Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bell and children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Larsen and children, John Bell and daughter, Jessie, Mrs. John Arends and son Robert, Misses Alice Seeds, Iva Crook and Hazel M. Beitz were callers Sunday afternon at the Okko Uken home in Kanawha.

Our community was shocked on Monday morning by the sudden death of Mr. Wickering. It is probable heart trouble was the cause. Mr. Wickering had not been in the best of health for some time. He dropped dead suddenly while at work in the field. This community extends its sympathy to his son Ed who has been living with the father here.

On Sunday afternoon, Oct. 30th, there will be services at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church in the afternoon as follows.

Sunday School at 2 o'clock.

Preaching at 3 o'clock, with Communion and the Reformation sermon. All services in the English language.

Rev. C. J. Barth, Pastor

OLAF NEWS

Mrs. Henry Lien has been at Northwood the past week helping care for her sister, Mrs. Alma Olson who has been very sick.

S. O. Windecker of Iowa Falls spent several days of last week at the G. H. Baxter home. He came to this place to take advantage of the open season on pheasants.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hanson are the parents of a baby boy, born Wednesday morning.

Miss Muriel Bohning spent the week end at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Orphie Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hanson accompanied Mr. and Mrs. John Shurson to Mason City Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Astor Eliason attended a foot ball game at Ft. Dodge Saturday afternoon.

Olaf Peterson and family spent the week end with Emil Peterson and family near Bricelyn, Minn.

NOTICE OF PROOF OF WILL

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

In the Estate of Henry Johnson, Deceased:

You are hereby notified that on the 8th day of October 1927, there was filed with and opened by the undersigned Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, in and for Wright county, a Written instrument purporting to be the

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

of Henry Johnson late of said County, deceased.

And you are further notified that the 7th day of November, 1927, at 1:30 o'clock p. m. of said day has been set as the day for the final hearing and proof of said Will, at the Clerk's office in the Court House at Clarion, Iowa, at which time any person interested can appear and show cause why the same should not be admitted to probate.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court at my office in Clarion in said County, this 8th day of October A. D., 1927.

R. V. GOSLIN,
483 Clerk of District Court

READ THE WANT ADS

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed bids will be received at the office of the County Auditor at Clarion, Iowa, until 10 o'clock a. m. November 7, 1927, for price on Iowa and Illinois coal for the poor in Wright county, same to be delivered to the various towns in the county.

By order of the Board of Supervisors.

Dated at Clarion, Iowa, October 24, 1927.

F. W. Walker,
1c County Auditor.

Kinseth's Store News

Let's all go out to the football game, tomorrow, and help the boys beat Britt. You know we have a good team this year, but the boys have been playing in hard luck. Let's boost 'em along tomorrow!

While you're down town stop in and try our fig bar cookies and ginger snaps, each 2 pounds for 25c.

Flour—Sunbean $1.98; Snoflake $2.20; Snobread $2.35.

A.B.C. Pancake Flour 29c. Or if you hanker for some good buckwheat cakes try our Fairie Queen Buckwheat Flour, at 35c.

Corn meal, graham, rye.

Corn Flakes, 2 pkgs. 25c.

Elbow Macaroni, 3 lbs. for 25c.

With every pound of Red Rose Coffee at 45c you get a tumbler free.

Golden Cup Coffee in 2 lb. lots, with a vegetable cooker, all for $1.29.

Gallon fruits—peaches 59c, 6 cans SC 54c; prunes 49c; apricots 77c.

49c buys a good broom.

Call us on eggs—and don't fogret the Store on the Corner.

WINDSOR THEATRE

HAMPTON, IOWA

MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY

OCTOBER 31 - NOVEMBER 1-2

"The Year's Greatest Melodrama"

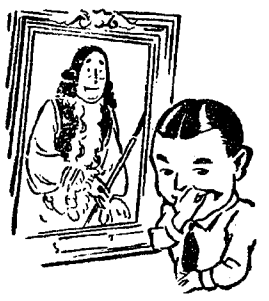
"Beau Geste"

with RONALD COLMAN

Alice Joyce, Neil Hamilton, Noah Berry, Mary Brian, William Powell, Norman Trevor, Ralph Forbes, Victor McLaglan

Special Ten Piece Orchestra

PRICES 25c and 50c



Lace cuffs on men's shirts have gone out of style

but we have the correct styles to shirt modern Sir Walter Raleighs.

THE Emery SHIRT FOR STYLE

Ties--Socks--Handkerchiefs too that are right up to the minute in style.

SMITH SERVICE & SKOVLIN SATISFACTION

Phone 50 Belmond, Iowa

NEWS ITEMS FROM GOODELL

SCHOOL NOTES

U. B. Ladies Aid met Wednesday with Mrs. J. Ahrenkiel, Mrs. Cordes and Mrs. J. E. Savogue as hostesses.

The official board met Tuesday night at the parsonage. The following officers were elected: Rev. Scott chairman; S. S. Matson, treasurer; Mrs. Harry Carpenter, Secretary; Ms. Frank McNutt, janitor; J. J. Cook, Harry Ruka, Harry Newgard and Lewis Wesenberg, collectors.

The Missionary Society and Otterbein Guild will give a program at the U. B. church Sunday at eleven a. m.

Sunday School at 9:45 a. m.
Morning service 11:00 a. m.
Christian Endeavor 6:30 p. m.
Evening service 7:30 p. m.
Choir practice Thursday 7:30.

Lewis Rierson is an out of town visitor enjoying a vacation from his duties on the oil truck. Henry Weide is delivering oil for him.

Mrs. Janette Wiles went to Rockwell, Thursday to visit her sister-in-law, Mrs. George Christie.

Al Whettle, Goodell's former blacksmith but who now does blacksmithing in California spent last week as a guest with many of his old friends. Folks here will be sorry to hear that Mrs. Whettle passed away about a year ago.

Mrs. J. E. Savogue entertained in honor of her sister, Mrs. Ray Wood of Marshalltown who spent last week here.

Rev. Scott accompanied by Miss Summerville of Cumberland and Mrs. A. M. Graber autoed to Hampton Wednesday and brought Mrs. Scott and Harriet home from the hospital. Harriet is getting along fine and will be able to go back to school in a few days.

Friends have received word from the C. F. Peters family that they are living in Clinton where Mr. Peters is an instructor in the schools there. He formerly was superintendent of the local schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mennenga who have been working at the Harry Carpenter home the past 8 months, moved last week to work as the Ralph Jenison home near Belmond, as Ralph plans to go to Colorado for his health.

Harvey and Tony Boller left early Monday morning and trucked two cows to Brainerd, Minn,. for a gentleman who lives near Kanawha. They plan to visit Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Letch at Mora, Minn.

Goodell high school team went to Swaledale, Monday to play ball. They came home victorious, with a score of 6 to 3. Friday Swaledale came over to play the return game and Godell again won, score 6 to 0. The local boys have played seven games this fall and we are proud to say they haven't lost a game.

Twin Lake farm bureau ladies held an annual meeting at the Geo. Zeilie home Thursday. Election of officers was held. Mrs. Earl Ruka was elected president, Mrs. Archie Landon vice president, and Mrs. John Rust Secretary. A fine lunch was served by the hostesses, Mesdames John Rust, George Zeilie and E. J. Schneider.

The Harvey Boller family moved last Thursday from Belmond and are living in the Ed Hughes house. Harvey is doing dray work here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Woods returned Friday to their home at Marshalltown, having visited a week with her relatives.

E. J. Schneider and Lew Wesenberg autoed to Galt Tuesday and trucked home two calves which the Schneider children will feed for Club work. They also stopped at Belmond and brought one home from there.

Albert Wilkins held a very successful farm sale last Thursday. Albert will move March 1 from the Eldred farm to the Nolte homestead which he recently purchased.

Tauge Matson spent Monday with home folks. Tuesday he went to Ames and bid on some bridge work which he got. He will finish his work at Adel this week and then will move his equipment near Des Moines to his new job.

Mrs. Frank Christie has enjoyed a visit the past few weeks with her from Waterloo. He recently returned to his home.

Mrs. Juhl of Crystal Lake spent a few days last week here, caring for Mrs. Tanner who was badly hurt in the car accident Sunday. At this writing she is improving slowly.

Mrs. Ina Eldred of Clear Lake and her daughter, Mrs. Abbott of Chicago were business callers here Thursday and visited at the S. S. Matson home.

A host of friends gathered together Monday evening and gave a surprise party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Hetland at their home. The ladies came with well filled baskets and everyone enjoyed a fine time and lunch.

Mrs. Griggs and son Frank of Iowa Falls were Sunday guests with her niece, Mrs. A. C. Carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Scott who reside in Adel visited Sunday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bachman.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson invited a crowd of friends to their home Thursday evening. Everyone present reports a fine time and delicious refreshments.

Principal Hopperstad autoed to Mason City Friday to spend the week end with his aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Finn and daughter, Kathryn, of Casade, were week end guests with Raymond's home folks.

Mrs. Joe Heginger has been staying at Belmond with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Kemp, while Mr. Heginger is recovering at the Hampton hospital from his recent serious operation. Word came the last of the week that Mr. Heginger was not egtting along as well as could be expected, which his many friends regret to hear.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rust autoed to Cedar Falls Friday and brought Viola and Edna home for the week end. They were accompanied home also by a college chum of the girls.

Miss Mae Griggs, primary teacher at Gilmore City, spent the week end at her parental home.

A large crowd enjoyed a dance and lunch in the old rural school house, 3 miles west of town last Thursday evening.

Misses Arlene Orr and Edna Cline spent Saturday here calling on old friends. These girls were former teachers in the local school. Miss Orr is now attending school at Cedar Falls and Miss Cline is doing her third year of primary teaching in the school at Goldfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Kilbourne and children accompanied by Miss Evelyn Chelsvig autoed here Saturday to visit the ladies' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Chelsvig. On Sunday they returned to their home in Des Moines.

Lee Robbins came home Saturday to spend the day with home folks. Lee is working on the night shift in the sugar factory in Mason City.

The Goodell post office was moved the fore part of the week from its present location to the Ahrenkiel building, where the drug store is.

Miss Marie Given came Sunday from her home at Clarion and took charge of her school work on Monday, having been absent two weeks due to the illness and death of her mother. Miss Lenore Bennett who substituted for her returned Friday to her home at Garner.

Last Friday evening about seven thirty, a serious accident happened on the south corner of the Wilson highway. Mr. and Mrs. Weir Eagmo were coming from the west in their Chevrolet car and several boys were coming from the south in the McLaughlin car of Belmond. Both drivers seemingly did not see each other and as the Eagmo car crossed the highway they were hit by the other car. The people in both cars were badly bruised and shaken up one boy getting his nose broken and Mrs. Eagmo received a severe cut across her hand, which required several stitches. They were cared for at once by Dr. Snearly. Both cars were damaged a great deal, the McLaughlin car being almost a wreck.

The Seniors and Juniors have been very busy the past week getting ready for their carnival that will be given Friday of this week. Volley ball and base ball will be played in the afternoon and the doors to the carnival will be open at 6:30. It will be held in the new city hall. Free attractions of all kinds and a fine lunch. An auction food sale will be held at 9 p. m. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. The proceeds will be used for the Junior-Senior banquet and to defray the expenses of the caps and gowns for commence next spring.

Mrs. Clara Butts returned Sunday from Dows where she has spent the past two weeks, visiting her niece, Mrs. Dave Cuppett.

The Tinkle family enjoyed a week end visit with their daughter Lillian, who teaches at Victor, and Mrs. Tinkle's sister also from Victor.

Dr. and Mrs. Snearly returned Wednesday from Minneapolis where they spent a few days.

Mr. Roy Spitler, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Christie recently returned from Burlington where they had been to attend Mrs. Christie's uncle's funeral. They also visited the Clifford Tracy family at Springville. Mrs. Tracy is a sister of Ray's.

F. W. McNutt is doing carpenter work on the Elwood farm near Meservey. His son Robert is taking his vacation and assisting him. Mrs. McNutt is carrying the mail.

Mr. Spitler and children went to Buffalo Center Sunday to spend the day with his sister, Mrs. Robinson.

James Trumbell of Mason City, spent a few days last week at the home of his son Harry.

Bill Tanner was a business caller at Mason City Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bode of Kesley were week end guests at the home of their son, C. C. Bode.

Mr.a nd Mrs. Ray Wilkins and son moved from Garner Monday and will work at the Harry Carpenter farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Earhardt of Goldfield were over Sunday visitors at the Verdie Anderson home. Mrs. Erhardt and Mrs. Anderson are sisters.

Joe Jenison who resides at Sanborn came Monday to visit his sister Mrs. Al Mayhew.

Twin Lake farm bureau held a meeting at center school house Friday night. Pictures were shown.

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Clarion, Iowa, September 21, 1927

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Wright, in the State of Iowa, met at the court house in Clarion, Iowa, as per adjournment.

Members present: E. E. Kitley, Chairman, and Supervisors James Mehl, J. C. Peterson, L. W. Schroeder and J. D. Baker, with the County Auditor in attendance.

Minutes of September 19, 1927, read and approved.

On motion the 1911 Poll Tax of E. W. Shafer for $4.59 was ordered abated, same having been reported in error.

On motion the bonds of Moe & Nelson on Secondary Road Districts Nos. 40 and 44 were approved.

Time and date for supply letting having arrived, Board took up the same.

Bids were received as advertised, except 600 District Library Requisitions, from Dows Advocate for $36.30, and Wright County Monitor for $70.00.

The bid of the Dows Advocate was found to be the lowest and best bid and on motoin they were awarded contract.

On motion chairman of the board was authorized to sign tile contract with Wall Lake and Woolstock Townships.

Moved and seconded that the action of the board in purchasing 10,000 feet of snow fence and 800 posts be approved. Motion carried.

Moved and seconded that the recommendation of the delegates to the County School Convention, increasing County School Superintendent's salary, be refused. Motion carried.

Time and date for gravel letting in District No. 39 having arrived, board took up the same.

Bids (per cubic yard loading and hauling) were received from the following:

Nelson & Larson, 1st mile .26—additional ½ mile .065.
Hartsell & Evans, 1st mile .25—additional ½ mile .062.
O. C. Melohn, 1st mile .24—additional ½ mile .65.
A. G. Schnieder, 1st mile .25—additional ½ mile .063.
W. B. Williams, 1st mile .23—additional ½ mile .06
Moe & Nelson, 1st mile .24—additional ½ mile .06
McCoy & Nelson, 1st mile .25—additional ½ mile .065.
Sampson Bros., 1st mile .23—additional ½ mile .06

The bids of W. B. Williams and Sampson Bros. were settled by mutual consent and on motion Sampson Bros. were awarded contract, and Chairman of the Board was authorized to sign the same.

On motion adjourned to meet October 3, 1927.

E. E. KITLEY, Chairman.
F. W. WALKER, County Auditor.

Clarion, Iowa, October 3, 1927

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Wright, in the State of Iowa, met at the court house in Clarion, Iowa, as per adjournment.

Members present: E. E. Kitley, Chairman, and Supervisors James Mehl, J. C. Peterson, L. W. Schroeder and J. D. Baker, with County Auditor in attendance.

The following resolution was presented:

WHEREAS, a request for a extension of contract time of 30 days has been properly executed and filed by Fox Construction Company on a road contract, dated April 19, 1927, and

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors consider such request for extension of time reasonable and necessary,

NOW, THEREFORE, be it resolved by the Board of Supervisors of Wright County that such request be granted and the contract time extended to November 1, 1927.

Roll call resulted: all present voted aye; nay, none; call carried and on motion was declared adopted.

On motion bond of Sampson Bros. was approved.

On motion bond of E. F. Bailey was approved.

Moved and seconded that the 7 miles of Secondary road in Woolstock Township be closed for repairs. Motion carried.

On motion the 1927 tax of Lydia O. Maryhew, part of Lot 24 in NE¼ NE¼ of Section 36-91-23, Dows Corporation, was suspended.

On motion the 1926 taxes in Eagle Grove Corporation were ordered suspended as follows:

Anna Erickson, Lots 2 and 3, Block 3, Wright's 3rd Addition; Karl Bjelland, Lot 9, Block E, Wright's 2nd Addition; Mrs. Thor Watne, Lots 3 and 4, Block 6, Wright's 3rd Addition; Louisa Cowan, Lot 1, Block 7, Scott's Highland Park Addition; Jennie Forsythe, Lot 6, Block 36, Original Town.

Quarterly reports of County Clerk, County Recorder and County Auditor were presented, examined and on motion ordered filed.

Engineer's reports on Drainage Districts 123 and 155 were presented and on motion approved.

Moved and seconded that Charles Gross, Engineer, be authorized to make repairs on Drain No. 155 according to his report. Motion carried.

Moved and seconded that Charles Gross, Engineer, be authorized to make repairs on Drain No. 123 according to his report. Motion carried.

Moved and seconded that Charles Gross, Engineer, be authorized to make repairs on Drain No. 14. Motion carried.

Moved and seconded that Charles

(Continued on page 9)

THE LAW PROTECTS YOU
as a customer and as an investor
in Public Utilities

THE customer is protected in that the charge for service is regulated to cover the actual costs of producing the service.

The investor is protected in that recent rulings of the Supreme Court have recognized the right of a Public Utility to earn a fair return on the money invested to make the service possible. This protection for the investor is really a protection for the customer too, for it gives such evident security to a utility investment that the public has been anxious to secure this type of stock and the customer is therefore assured of adequate capital to provide good service.

This unusual protection for the investor goes a long way to explain why large utility companies have unequalled and unbroken records of paid-up dividends.

The investment in Your Company's 7% Preferred Stock will give you this unusual protection and will insure a regular return on your money.

Central West Public Service Company
A Subsidiary of the McGraw Electric Co.

Men Marooned

By GEORGE MARSH

Copyright by The Penn Publishing Co.
WNU Service

"Can't be the police team coming back?"

"No, eet ees long team—seex dog, I think"

"From Albany—a packet from Cameron. I wonder what's happened."

Twenty minutes later Guthrie was opening the mail bag which the dog driver from Albany had handed him.

"As soon as Etienne rounds to," wrote Cameron, "you bring Miss Joan down the coast—she's needed. The company is locating a permanent post on the island in the summer, and want you to handle it. You have made a big stroke with Moose and Montreal, and if you care to stay in the trade, ought to go far. I trust by now you are open to congratulations."

But the dispatch of the mail-team to Elkwan was due to the special orders from Montreal headquarters which accompanied a letter addressed in typewriting to Major Garth Guthrie. Curious of the reason prompting the unknown writer to the haste and expense of an express packet down the Missinaibi and up the coast in midwinter, Garth opened the letter in the handwriting of his brother, which ran:

"Dear Old Garth:

"If you will accept my deep apologies, I will be a happy man. I have learned that Quarrier had personal reasons for wishing to injure you. At the time I believed him—thought you had cut loose from us, were unfair to Ethel. But I have received a long letter from Fort Albany, from Quarrier's sister, which is corroborated by Cameron, the factor, which clears the situation. This Miss Quarrier seems to be a most unusual woman, and Clara—you know Clara—well, she has a surmise.

"The Hudson's Bay people have told me of your marked success this winter, for which my congratulations. A Guthrie has a nose for business. Best wishes, my boy, but if you will come back to us, greater opportunities await you here. By the way, you may be interested to hear that Ethel married Sir Hubert Quayle, president of the Quayle Mines, last week. Clara is furious. She sends her best love.

"Affectionately,
"CHARLES."

Hurrying to his quarters with Shot at his heels, Garth thrust the letter into Joan's hand. He watched her color deepen as her dark eyes lit with her joy for him.

"Oh, I'm so glad—so glad!" she cried. "They want you back, Garth, want you with them."

"Shall I take Ethel down now? They ought not to be in there—her photographs—a married woman," he teased.

She shrugged her shoulders. "They are decorative, and your walls are bare. Why not leave them there?"

"Bravo, Healer of Wounds! Spoken like a soldier," and he took her in his arms, as the letter fluttered, neglected, to the floor.

"Cameron writes they are sending me next year to take the new post on the island. Is it Montreal in the spring—or our honeymoon on Akimiski?"

She rose and went to his open arms. "The Island—The Land across the Water—in sight of which I met that very black sheep, Garth Guthrie—let's spend the summer there, Mr. Exile—alone."

For a space man and girl stood, lost in their happiness, then a wistful whine, the protest of two hairy paws, in silent demurrer to his heartless exclusion, waked them.

On his hind feet, nose to her shoulder, she impulsively drew the dog to her. "What would this family be without our Shotty?" And Garth's long arms circled girl and airedale, the two living things he held most dear.

[THE END.]

WRIGHT COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Gross be appointed engineer to inspect D.D.No. 117 for repairs and report. Motion carried.

The school levy for Ind. Galt for year 1927 having been continued on September 12, 1927, to this date because of certain requirements of the budget law, the board finds the omission corrected and now levy for the General School fund for that district, $4700.00.

On motion adjourned to meet October 4, 1927.

E. E. KITLEY, Chairman.
F. W. WALKER,
County Auditor.

Clarion, Iowa, October 4, 1927.

Board reconvened as per adjournment. Members all present.

Minutes of September 21 and October 3, 1927, read and approved.

Moved and seconded that Mrs. Jas. Pohlman be allowed $12.50 per month for care of grandchild. Motion carried.

Moved and seconded that a nonresident notice be served on George Nelson of Eagle Grove. Motion carried.

Moved and seconded that the allowance of Harry J. Meade be reduced to $15.00 per month, and that the allowance of Mrs. Roy Poland be discontinued. Motion carried.

The following estimates and finals were approved and ordered paid:

Fox Construction Company, overhaul on Schroeder road, $201.44; overhaul on Peterson road, $231.03; and final for grading on Peterson and Schroeder roads, $1890.91.

Final to Geo. Cronkhite Construction Company for guard rail, $195.88.

Final to H. R. Maudlin for hauling gravel, District No. 35, $833.64; and District No. 30, $505.34.

Petition of J. O. Anderson, et al, petitioning the board to establish a road district for the purpose of surfacing with gravel the following described road; Commencing at the N.W. corner of Section 5-91-25, thence south on Section lines to N.W. corner of Section 20-91-25.

On motion said petition was referred to County Engineer Gross for his report.

On motion the following report of Engineer Gross on Secondary Road District No. 46 was approved and November 7, 1927, at two o'clock p. m. was set as the day for hearing on the same:

Clarion, Iowa, October 4, 1927.
Board of Supervisors,
Wright County, Iowa.
Gentlemen:

I have examined the petition designated in the petition No. 46 for the establishment of a secondary road assessment district for the purpose of surfacing with gravel that portion of the County Road beginning at the North West corner of Section 5-91-25 thence South on section lines to the North West corner of Section 20-91-25.

I hereby report favorable on the establishment of this district.

Tendered herewith and made a part of this report by reference is a plat of the road and contiguous territory.

I suggest the following described boundary as one proper for this district:

Beginning at the N.W. corner of the N.E. ¼ of Section 6-91-25 thence South on center line of Sections 6, 7, and 18-91-25; thence East on the South Section lines of Sections 18 and 17-91-25 to the South East corner of the S.W. ¼ of Section 17-91-25 thence North on the center section lines of Sections 5, 8 and 17-91-25 to the N.E. corner of the N.W. ¼ Section 5-91-25; thence West on the N. section line of Sections 5 and 6-91-25 to place of beginning.

Respectfully submitted,
CHARLES E. GROSS,
County Engineer.

Moved and seconded that the Drainage petition of F. W. Zastrow, et al, be referred to Engineer Gross for his report. Motion carried.

The following claims were presented, audited, allowed and warrants ordered drawn on the proper funds for their payment:

The October Schedule of Claims

COUNTY FUND

Acres-Blackmar Co., Office supplies	$ 7.14
J. D. Baker, supervisor	94.20
A. H. Box, salary	100.00
Boone Blank Book Co., office supplies	.87
City of Clarion, water—c.h. and jail	20.01
Crescent Printing Co., office supplies	98.21
Des Moines Rubber Stamp Co., office supplies	1.02
Eagle Grove Eagle, board proceedings, printing and Bar Docket	150.12
L. G. Focht, office expense	27.47
R. V. Goslin, office expense	7.47
Charles E. Gross, salary	185.15
Charles E. Gross, office expense	7.89
H. B. Hallock, Co. Treas., Jury and Wit. certificates	161.70
Iowa Public Service Co., Lights—c.h. and jail and repairs—jail	45.48
Fred Johnson, office expense (August)	32.15
Fred Johnson, board prisons, mileage and office expense	415.60
Melvin Jetmund, salary	100.00
E. E. Kitley, supervisor	94.40
Klipto Loose Leaf Co., office supplies	15.84
James Mehl, supervisor	109.50
Metropolitan Supply Co., office supplies	68.63
S. A. McCreery, P. M., env. for Supt.	21.98
S. A. McCreery, P. M., env. for Supt.	18.02
S. A. McCreery, P. M., env. for Aud.	43.96
S. A. McCreery, P. M., env. for Treas.	44.32
M. B. Miles, repairs jail	8.00
J. C. Mayer, repairs jail	30.39
L. Moore, painting flag pole	8.75
J. C. Peterson, supervisor	73.50
Matt Parrott & Sons Co., office supplies	64.66
Reliable Accounting & Research Co., compensation	442.50
L. W. Schroeder, supervisor	48.20
H. O. Salisbury, repairs jail	10.00
G. A. Triggs, del. tax collector	21.98
G. A. Triggs, justice fees (several cases)	28.00
Fred Johnson, mileage (several)	29.75
Edith M. Vaughn, office expense	5.05
Dr. H. P. Walker, coroner's fees	16.50
D. H. Leonard, mileage	2.50
L. P. Stevenson, jury fees	2.10
Menis Olson, jury fees	2.10
Jake Reichter, jury fees	2.10
Ruth Leader, reporter's fees	10.00
Dr. Holler, witness fees	2.10
Maurice Williams, witness fees	2.10
Ralph Cleveland, witness fees	2.10
Sidney Cleveland, witness fees	2.00
Marion Rucker, witness fees	2.10
Wright County Oil Co., Gas for Co. car	11.71
S. H. Williamson, justice fees (Fredericks)	4.00
John Reynolds, constable's fees (Fredericks)	5.25
Wright County Monitor, bd. pcds., ptg. and supplies	50.02
Western Elec. Tele. Sys., phone rent and aud. toll (September)	22.50
Western Elec. Tele. Sys. phone rent and aud. toll (October)	20.85
Wright County Pay Roll, officers and clerks	2346.64

COUNTY ROAD FUND

A. C. Anderson, patrol	96.15
J. D. Adams & Co., repairs	47.43
Carl Albertson, repairs	9.75
J. O. Anderson, right-of-way	10.00
Black Hawk Oil Co., Grease and oil	46.67
John Cramer, labor	21.75
Raymond E. Caquelin, patrol	130.00
Harvey Caquelin, labor	29.25
Harvey Caquelin, patrol	130.00
L. E. Evans, repairs	4.60
Farmers Grain & Lbr. Co., gasoline	16.50
L. R. Fitz, gravel	11.25
Farmers Elev. Co., Holmes material	35.90
Ernest Grandgeorge, labor	100.60
Homer Gordon, labor	66.00
Lloyd Golackson, labor	17.50
Glenn Hackley, dragging	27.20
A. Hardy, patrol	130.00
Frank E. King, labor	131.23
Johnson & Wright, hardware	13.20
C. V. McVicker, gravel	505.16
W. D. McCutcheon, dragging	29.74
Mathison Motor Co., repairs	11.60
Moseley Grocery Co., gas and oil	165.75
S. W. Pinkham, labor	100.00
J. M. Bennett, labor	90.00
Floyd Williams, labor	85.00
Mac Keister, labor	5.00
S. W. Pinkham, exp. acct.	22.40
Ed. Rohrer, labor	117.00
A. B. Stole, patrol	100.00
Lismore Stole, extra horse	21.25
Lismore Stole, patrol	100.00
G. D. Scott, labor	5.60
Sinclair Refining Co., gasoline	62.72
John Thorn, labor	130.50
Claude H. Thayer, patrol	90.37
Kenneth Tillman, spreading gravel	119.65
Wayne Thomason, labor	137.75
J. E. Voss, labor	27.77
Edith M. Vaughn, recording easements	2.10
Whyte Motor Co., repairs	57.39
Wright County Monitor, printing	13.80
Whyte & Son, hardware	18.16
E. E. Wolf, repairs	25.49
S. M. Wilcox, patrol	36.00
A. H. Waddell, shed rent	3.00
Wheeler Lbr. Bridge and Supply Co., snow fence	638.00

POOR FUND

Appleyard & Wallace, burial expense of Clara Oberton	108.50
A. & P. Tea Co., grocery	9.09
Guy D. Baker, milk	6.00
Emile Bernard, care of Paul Bernard	20.00
Blake Lumber Co., fuel	94.55
Cerro Gordo County, hospital exp. (Mrs. Frank Lamb)	Refused
Cox & Adams, grocery	47.30
B. E. Corliss, rent	10.00
Christensen & Son, clothing	22.65
Christeson & Flower, grocery	20.03
Duer & Son, grocery	20.80
East Side Grocery, grocery	100.58
K. J. Engh, overseer of Poor in E. G.	14.00
C. O. Fitts, Agent, rent	36.00
A. H. Foss, repairing shoes	4.40
Ellen Finn, rent	12.00
Farmers Elev. Co., Holmes, fuel	11.17
Fannie M. Filkins, rent	10.00
Greenlander Lbr. Co., fuel	55.15
Guy Gibbs, rent	15.00
Chas. Gealow, rent	10.50
Oscar S. Hobbet, rent	6.00
House of the Good Shepherd, care of Alice Williamson	10.00
Anna Imboden, care of poor	100.00
T. M. Jensen, milk	6.10
G. H. Klemme, rent	14.00
B. K. Kinseth & Son, grocery	146.95
Jake Lampert Yards, Inc., fuel	5.70
Mrs. J. A. McBeth, care of Agard child	24.00
Moseley Grocery Co., grocery	37.47
W. J. Mulhern, rent	9.00
Nancy A. Miller, rent	36.00
Martin & Son, grocery	24.93
Frank Nelson, rent	9.00
Robert Nelson, rent	24.00
T. J. O'Toole, rent	30.00
Wm. Potter, M. D., medical aid	126.00
W. K. Roosevelt, grocery	33.39
Ole O. Ralle, rent	30.00
C. S. Robinson, grocery	19.58
J. D. Richardson, rent	12.00
Schoonover's Grocery, grocery	22.81
Dr. F. A. Stevens, medical aid	7.00
H. M. Smith, fuel	33.55
Swedish National Sanatorium, care of Andrew Helland	325.00
W. C. Stanbery, rent	15.00
H. M. Stanbery, shoes	1.00
Tillinghast & Co., grocery	35.00
Drs. Tompkins & Walker, medical aid	12.50
G. A. Triggs, overseer of poor in Clarion	8.00
Wm. Wehrheim, rent	8.00
A. H. Waddell, rent	8.00
Wheeler's Cash Store, grocery	19.98
Frank Welch, grocery	17.21

(Continued Next Week)

PUBLIC SALE!

THE UNDERSIGNED WILL SELL AT AUCTION ON THE JOHN D. PALS 20-ACRE FARM, 1-2 MILE WEST AND 1 1-2 MILES NORTH OF PALSVILLE, ON TUESDAY, NOV. 1st

Commencing at 1:30 p. m.

30 Laying Hens
4 Head of Milk Cows
2 Head of Horses
3 Head of Heifer Calves
11 Head of Spring Shoats

Machinery, Etc.

1 disc	3 tons hay
2 wagons	1 stack straw
1 hay rack	Tools, forks, etc.
1 corn plow	2 sets double harness
2 water tanks	Numerous other articles.

TERMS---Cash.

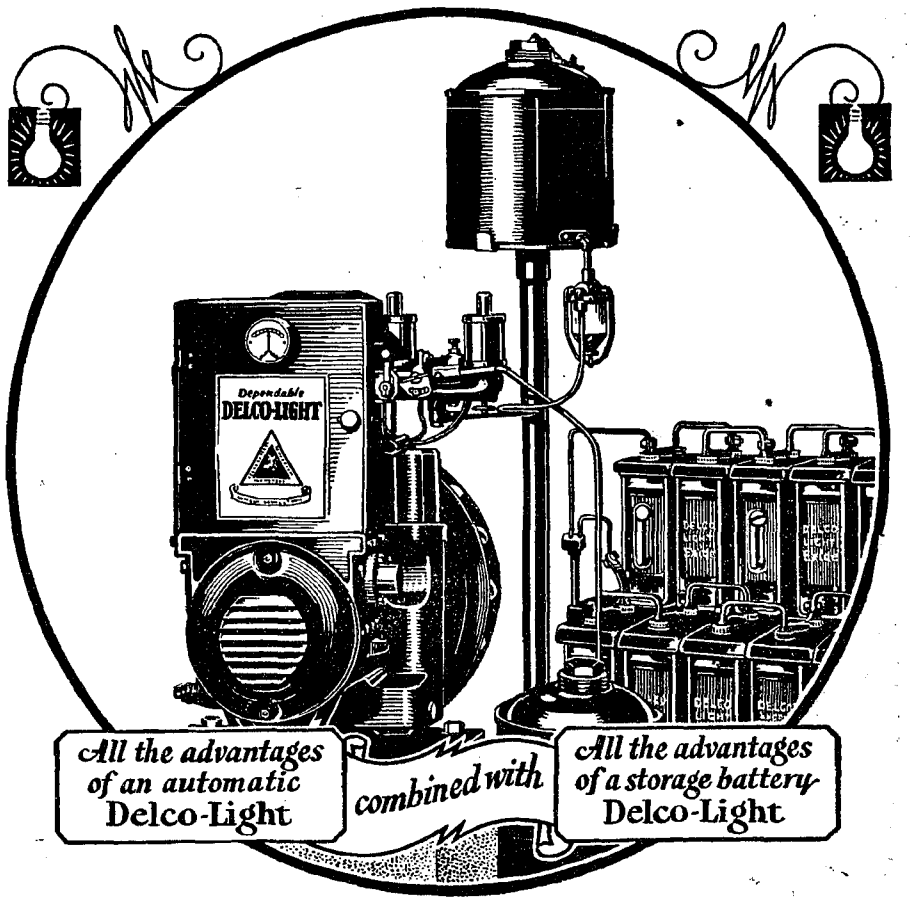
GEO. SANAK, Prop.

Louis Hauge, Auct. State Bank of Belmond, Clerk

New Type Delco-Light

a scientific marvel

Does Everything but Think!



All the advantages of an automatic Delco-Light combined with All the advantages of a storage battery Delco-Light

Operates from battery on small loads. Automatically switches to power for heavier service. Uses smaller battery—thus costs less. Requires less fuel. Demands practically no attention. This amazing achievement the result of 15 years' research by Delco-Light engineers. Approved by General Motors after 7 years of gruelling field tests.

Now comes a new type Delco-Light Plant that astounds even those scientists and engineers who are in daily contact with the epoch-making achievements of electrical science.

When you see this amazing Delco-Light Plant, you will agree that it is a decade ahead of everything heretofore conceived by any manufacturer of farm electric plants.

Write—or 'phone—and get full information about this new achievement of Delco-Light and General Motors. Or call on me personally and see the evidence with your own eyes. And remember—if this newest model doesn't exactly suit your needs, there are many other Plants to choose from, now priced as low as $225. Don't wait. Write or 'phone or call today.

C. J. PAPOUSEK
BELMOND, IOWA

LOCAL NEWS

W. E. Bullard is in Des Moines this week, attending a session of the supreme court of Iowa.

A Hallowe'en party was held last evening in the Odd Fellow hall by the Rebekah lodge. A very enjoyable time was had. Refreshments were served.

"Blue Ribbon Bread" wrappers will be accepted at 5c each on every cap cleaned until Dec. 1 and at 2½ cents each on every suit or dress cleaned and pressed until Nov. 5.—Foss Cleaning Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe were guests of relatives at Ackley, Sunday. Howard accompanied them, going from Ackley to Chicago.

Clate Huntley and family of Clear Lake were Sunday guests of Belmond relatives.

Glen Galloway and family visited in Clear Lake Sunday.

C. B. Johnson is reported as being quite ill at this writing.

Dance at Belmond Opera House, Friday night. Music by Al Schriber Orchestra, of Wells, Minn. Everybody welcome.

Help beat Britt, Friday, Oct. 28, 3:30 P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Sturdevant spent Sunday with friends at Iowa Falls.

Miss Ruth Hill, of Minneapolis, is spending a two weeks vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Hill.

Football—Britt vs Belmond, Belmond Field, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Bailey spent Sunday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Lowell Schwinger, at Ackley.

Mrs. Wickersheim, who has been visiting her son in Fort Dodge, returned home Sunday.

Ernest Stadtlander, Jr., who is working on a bridge near Osage, spent the week end with his parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jacobmeyer, and son, Howard, spent the latter part of the week with relatives at Fort Dodge.

Belmond meets Britt here Friday, at 3:30. Be there.

Do you believe in Home Industry? We do. We will accept 12 Belmond "Blue Ribbon" Bread Wrappers at 2c each on every suit or dress cleaned and pressed until Nov. 5.—New Belmond Tailor Shop. F. J. Tuffree. 1c

Hallowe'en Dance, Monday, Oct. 31, at the Belmond Opera House. Music by Smith's Orchestra. A good time dance for both old and young, with the carnival balloon dance featured. Everybody welcome. Tickets, $1 a couple.

BELMOND MARKETS
(Subject to change.)

Hens	18c
Springs	18c
Roosters	08c
Ducks	12c
Geese	08c
Eggs	35c
Butterfat	43c
Creamery butter	50c
Oats	38c
Corn No. 3 yellow	65c
Barley	63c

Mrs. E. E. Kinney will be hostess to the Priscilla club, next Wednesday.

Roller Skating at the Belmond Opera House, Thursday and Saturday nights, Sunday p. m. and every night next week except Friday. Ladies Free Thursday night if over 15 years of age and dressed in overalls.

St. John's Lutheran Aid Society will hold their annual Bazaar and Chicken Supper, Saturday, Oct. 29. Bazaar opens at 1 P. M., supper starts at 5 P. M.

BAZAAR AND SUPPER

The Catholic Ladies of Clarion will hold a bazaar and chicken supper, at Clarion, today, Oct. 27. Serving of supper starts at 5:30. Adults 50c, children 25c. Everyone invited. 1c

NOTICE

Hunting is prohibited on my farm on account of danger to stock, unless by my special permission.—A. J. Dorr. 492*

NOTICE

The ladies of the Congregational Aid Society will hold their annual bazaar and supper on Thursday, Nov. 10th.

WARNING TO THE PUBLIC

Please take notice that neither of the undersigned companies has in the field a representative who is authorized to sell the stock of either one of these companies to anyone.
Community Service Station Company
Skelly Oil Company 493*

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A few Spotted Poland spring boars. Cholera immune. Eligible to registry.—M. S. Allison. 492

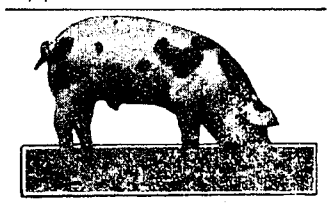
FOR SALE—Duroc Jersey boars, big bone, with plenty of stretch. Fireworks breeding.—Geo. Thompson, 2 miles north and 3 east of Belmond. 504*

FOR SALE—A number of Spotted Poland May shoats, weighing 100 to 125 pounds each. Good, thrifty pigs. Cholera immune.—Roy Jenison. 50tf

FOR SALE—P. B. Chester White boars of the big stretchy type; also three fall boars. New blood lines for old cutsomers; cholera immune. —Erith Cook. Farm located 3 3-4 miles northwest of Kanawha, Rt. 2. 48-1

FOR SALE — Spotted Poland China boar pigs, weighing from 150 to 225 lbs., cholera immune.—C. Edwin Johnson, Kanawha, 3 miles south, 1 3-4 miles west. 48-2

FOR SALE—"No Hunting" Signs at the Independent. 25c each, $1 for six, $1.75 a dozen. 472



FOR SALE—Spring boars, 50 to 80 percent white. These boars are better than three-quarters big type. From average saved litters of 8 pigs.—Roy Jenison. Phone 1811. 50tf

FOR SALE—African ganders.—Mrs. George Kessler. Phone 2807. 502*

FOR SALE—Red Globe home onions. Phone 1920. 50tf

FOR SALE—Big Type Poland China male hogs, farrowed in March. Cholera immune. Gotlieb Lauster. Phone Meservey 4814. 47tf

FOR SALE or RENT—Modern seven-room house, full basement, near creamery.—E. A. Pierce. 46tf

FOR SALE—Spring boars, 50 to 80 per cent white, fine type lot.—Roy Jenison. Phone 1811. 43tf

FOR SALE—Modern home. Want to sell this fall. Address L, care of Independent, Belmond Iowa. 484

FOR SALE — Spotted Poland Boars. Have a number of spring boars, weighing 175 to 250 pounds, also have two fall boars. Farm located 1 mile north, 2 miles west of Goodell. Gundvel Johnson. 496*

FOR SALE—House and two lots, one block south and one block east of library. Fr information address Inez Kent, 5311 Vincent So., Minneapolis, Minn. 492c

FOR SALE—Home-grown white potatoes, sound and ripe, $1.25 a bushel. Cabbage 2¼c lb,; Carrots 2¼c lb. Phone 285 or 115.—L. W. Gealow. 493

FOR SALE—Shropshire rams, the big quality kind, with dense fleece.—F. W. Drury, 1 mile west of Rowan. 502c

FOR SALE—Hoosier kitchen cabinet, in good condition. Inquire at Independent. 1c

WANTED—Farmer, farmers son, or man with auto, for country, (men and women for cities) to engage in permanent business. Big daily profits, capital unnecessary. H. S. Shipe, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. 483*

WANTED TO RENT—40 to 120 acres, for cash or grain.—Walter C. Brown, Story City, Iowa. R. F. D. 3. 502*

WANTED — Married man for farm. Must be experienced. Wife to help with housework. No children. Inquire at Independent. 492*

Poultry Wanted

We will call to buy your poultry and will pay you the highest market price. Poultry weighed and paid for at your place. Just call Geo. Coburn, Cornelia. Clarion phone 61-31. Belmond phone 3817. 47tf

The
FOSS CLEANING SHOP
Solicits your patronage in
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Located West of the Foss Shoe Shop
All Work Guaranteed
We will appreciate your Trial Offer
FOSS CLEANING SHOP
Louis Foss, Prop.
Phone 70 Belmond, Iowa

SPECIAL FOR SATURDAY
One Lot of Finely Knit
Bloomers, $1.50
Underwear Shades
Discount on All Pattern Hats
Hosiery at a Discount, also
The Hat Shoppe
Belmond, Iowa

ROBINSONS
... STORE ...
BAKERY
GROCERY
Just arrived, Wacona Sorghum, $1.35 per gallon, 70c for 5 lb. can. Pure jam, Loganberry and raspberry, per qt. ---------- 50c
Fruit Jell, all flavors ---------- 8c
A. B. C. Pan cake flour, buckwheat or plain ---------- 25c
Rob Ross Pan cake flour, 4 lbs. 35c
1 lb. Calumet Baking Powder -- 30c
White Maple Flour, 49 lbs. -- $2.20
Special for Saturday
CREAM PUFFS
Four heated, lighted rooms. Hot and cold water. All for $25.00 a month.

Budget
THERE'S a family in THIS community that OPERATES on the budget PLAN, just like the UNITED States of AMERICA!
THE man and his wife APPROPRIATE so much EACH year for house EXPENSES, so much for CHARITY, so much for CLOTHES, a certain AMOUNT for amusement AND barber bills, and SO on down the line, AND we think its' a FINE idea only our INCOME, we're afraid, COULDN'T very well be DIVIDED up that way—BUT if any of the rest OF you plan to try the SYSTEM we'd like to SUGGEST that you make ROOM in your budgtt SOMEWHERE for a Pfanstiehl RADIO or Orthophonic Victrola. YOU'LL like to have one BEFORE the year is up and THIS is the place to buy it.
P. S.—We'd like to have every LADY in Belmond interested in CHILDREN'S books look over OUR line. When Christmas comes OR for birthdays you will KNOW where to get them.
P. S. No. 2—Bring your "BLUE RIBBON" Bread wrappers TO us, we'll take them all.
Herman L. Schultz
SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

Lyric Theatre
...Geo. Hake, Manager...
SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS
FRIDAY and SATURDAY
OCTOBER 28 and 29
"Good as Gold"
Fox picture with Buck Jones, Frances Lee, Chas. French, Carl Miller. A story of Western adventure with the Grand Canyon of the Colorado furnishing the background.
"THE STUNT MAN"
Semon comedy
10c and 25c
MONDAY, TUESDAY
OCTOBER 31, NOVEMBER 1
"THE FIRE BRIGADE"
A Metro Goldwyn production with May McAvoy, Chas. Ray, Holmes Ray, Tom O'Brien, Eugenie Besserer. A lifelike drama of our everyday heroes, the Firemen. Mother love, romance and thrills.
Fox News
Belmond Fire Department Benefit
10c and 30c
WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY
NOVEMBER 2 and 3
"THE LONE EAGLE"
Universal picture with Barbara Kent, Raymond Keane, Nigel Barrie, Jack Pennick, Donald Stuart. A war-time air epic. An adaptation of Lieutenant Ralph Blanchard's thrilling story of aviators during the world war. Blanchard was, and still is, a member of the United States Air Forces.
"THE OLD FLAME"
Helen and Warren comedy
10c and 25c

Parson's Special Bargains
DRIED APRICOTS, 2 lbs. ---------- .50c
LARGE DRIED PRUNES, 2 lbs. ---------- .25c
MACARONI, 4 pkgs. ---------- .30c
CORN or GLOSS STARCH, 2 pkgs. ---------- .25c
BLACK OOLONG TEA, 1 lb. ---------- .50c
LYE, 3 cans ---------- .30c
CATSUP, 14 oz. bottle ---------- .20c
GRAPE FRUIT, APPLES, GRAPES and BANANAS
Watch our window for the bargains we are running. They are money savers for you.
We deliver reasonable orders all day long.
Eggs—we are short of them and will pay you a good price for good fresh eggs.
BIG BARGAINS AT PARSON'S

CLOSING OUT SALE!
I have decided to sell all my personal property at auction at the old First National Bank corner, Belmond, on Saturday, Oct. 29
Commencing at 1:30 p. m.
THIS SALE WILL INCLUDE:
1 horse
A large assortment of Furniture
2 splendid rugs, one 9x12, one 12x12
40 pure bred White Leghorn pullets, laying now
1 3-wheel invalid chair, with adjustable foot rests
Beds, springs, mattresses, quilts, sheets, pillow cases, etc.
A quantity of Fancy Work, such as center table spreads, fancy bed spreads, etc.
Various other household items
USUAL TERMS
S. ENGER, Prop.
LEWIS HAUGE, Auct.
STATE BANK OF BELMOND, Clerk

What You Want in the WANT ADS

COME EARLY!
Nearly every Sunday we run out of chicken before all are served. If you have missed out before, come early next time and be sure of getting our Special Sunday Chicken Dinner.
We are now serving
OYSTER STEW
Piping hot, and with all the trimmings, at 30c. Try one. And any time, try us for
MEALS LUNCHES
SHORT ORDERS
ICE CREAM CANDY
CIGARS TOBACCO
Look for the Red Light!
RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

CITY MARKET'S SPECIALS!
Oct. 28-29
Hamburger, per pound 17c
Pork Sausage, per pound 17c
Liver Sausage Per Lb. 15c
Watch for Our Specials Every Week!
Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning
City Meat Market
Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207. Belmond, Iowa

For Friday and Saturday
OCTOBER 28 & 29
Bump Grocery Specials
26 OZ. CAN PUMPKIN ---------- 10c
1 CAN YELLOW CLING PEACHES, SIZE 2½ 24c
1 CAN BARTLETT PEARS, SIZE 2½ ---------- 24c
JERSEY CREAM FLOUR, 49 LB. SACK --- $2.10
A FULL LINE OF FRESH FRUITS
With every purchase of $1.00 or more we will give 14 pounds of sugar for 98c.
We Appreciate Your Patronage
THE BUMP GROCERY
PHONE 38 BELMOND, IOWA

Belmond Independent

ESTABLISHED 1919 AND HERALD-PRESS CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 8 BELMOND, IOWA, THUR SDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1927. NO. 51

Belmond Beats Britt 12 to 6 In Hard Game Here Friday

Boys Play Best Game Of The Season Showing Up Better From Every Angle

Belmond celebrated their first victory of the football season last Friday when the local team won a well played game from Britt on the local field. Although outweighed by a wide margin, the Belmond team opened up a hard driving offense the last half that had Britt on the defensive most of the time. During the first half Britt started strong and pushed over a touchdown before the local boys got their bearings. That one touchdown was just enough to put the Belmond boys on edge for they came back strong. Britt scored by making use of their advantage in weight and continual smashing of the line. Just as the first half ended Britt had the ball on the one yard line, but too much delay in getting signals resulted in time being called before the ball was put in play. The first half ended with Britt leading 6-0.

Second Half Is Different

The second half was a different story with Belmond taking the offensive. McNulty, Johnson and Rabe slid off tackle for repeated gains, and a beautiful forward pass from Johnson to Klemme put the ball in scoring distance, McNulty carrying the ball on an end run for the first touchdown. The try for point failed. Belmond opened another drive late in the fourth quarter which fell short of the goal line by a few yards, Britt taking the ball on downs. For a while it looked as if the scoring was finished and the game due to end in a tie. With only one minute to go Rabe intercepted a Britt pass and sprinted thirty yards for Belmond's second touchdown. The referee's whistle soon ended the game with the final score 12 to 6 in Belmond's favor.

Belmond finally hit the stride they have been looking for all season and with a few of the breaks in their favor played a strong heady game. The forward passing attack showed considerable improvement. Johnson on the throwing end was taking his time and showing good accuracy in locating his man. Johnson's kicking was also outstanding, his long kicks taking the ball out of dangerous territory several times. The line seemed to be functioning better on offense than in previous games, the tackles taking out the defense to open holes for the backs on their off-tackle drives. The Britt ends smeared most of the end runs tried. The Britt team put up a strong game showing lots of driving power on offense but seemed to lack the punch when most needed.

Pep Is A Feature

One of the features of the game was the pep shown by the high school rooters. They backed the team from the start of the game. The crowd went wild with the first touchdown and wilder still with the second one. It would be unfair to the team to pick anyone as stars of the game as the whole team was playing hard football all the time. It was the fact that all were working together spelled defeat for Britt.

Three games remain to be played on the schedule, the team playing at Forest City yesterday (Wednesday), at Dows Armistice day, and finishing the season with Hampton on the Belmond field Nov. 18th.

Belmond line-up—
Kessler and Hoyt Klemme, ends
Harley Tomlinson and Rabe, tackles
John Baker and Donald Baker, guards
Melvin Pech, center
Captain McNulty and Henry Johnson, halves
Clarence Peterson, quarterback
Albert Rabe, fullback
Substitution, Jesse Tomlinson for John Baker
Referee, Grimsley
Headlinesman, Kennedy

Literary Gives Program

The Belmond High School Literary Society met in the auditorium Friday, October 26, 1927. The following program was presented by Div. 2, sponsored by Miss Devine and Mrs. Gibbs.

Vocal duet, Lillian Larson, Lucille Doctormann
Pantomine—Samuel Snickerwitzs' Hallowe'en
Reader, Harriet Gowdy
Samuel Snickerwitz, Hoyt Klemme
Son, Edward Obrecht
Wife, Faye Thompson
Cat, Dayton Kessler
Farce—The Haunted Gate
Marion, Harriet Martin
Ruth, Louise Haupt
Grace, Alice Nissen
Irene—Irene Dorr
Marie—Marvyl Lathrop
Mathilda Morse—Pearl Veeder
Angeline Dodge, Florence Dempsey
Ralph, Clarence Peterson
Phillip, Dewain Morris
Donald, George McAlpine
Piano Solo, Velva Sturdevant
Reading, Stanley Moe
Paper, Mary Elizabeth Blake
Piano Solo, Ruth Ramsay
Critics Report was given by Miss Murtaugh

Pep Meeting Is Held

Wednesday, Oct. 26, a pep meeting was held in the auditorium. We all agreed we would advertise the game and as many as were able would attend.

The first preliminaries of debate were held Wednesday, Oct. 26. Of these the following eight were chosen: Harriet Gowdy, Richard Gowdy, Randall Klemme, Helen Luick, Muriel Luick, Harriet Martin, Ruth Ramsay, Lois Trafford.

The second preliminares are to be held November 9, 1927. Of the eight remaining, four will be picked for the first team.

There will be no school Thursday and Friday of this week as the State Teachers Convention is in session at Des Moines.

Hazel Pierce moved to Wahington the last week. She was a pupil of Miss Smith.

Mrs. Dorr and Mrs. Busick were visitors in Miss Smith's room last week.

Mrs. Fred Fulton visited Miss Hazlett's room Friday morning.

The following were visitors in Miss Barry's room Thursday: Mrs. Chris Norby, Mrs. Hazel Riddle, Mrs. Earnest Davenport, Mrs. Bertha Barker. Friday Miss Hembd was a visitor of this room.

Rondall Steenblock reentered the sixth grade after a three weeks' absence.

Junior High Notes

The eighth grade has twenty-one members with perfect teeth records and no one who is not cooperating.

The seventh grade have fourteen who have perfect records and only two people who did not cooperate at all.

The Junior High under Miss Sowerwine's direction is working on a health program to be given at the next Junior High assembly.

The eighth grade English classes are getting cartoons, and letters explaining them ready to send in to the Current Events Editor in hopes of capturing the $2.00 prize.

The eighth grade saved $4.00 this week and the seventh, $5.72.

COMMUNITY CLUB MEETS

The Community Club held their monthly meeting Friday afternoon, at the Library basement, with a goodly attendance. The usual routine of business was carried out. A resolution was enacted to the effect that the ladies of the Community club would, in so far as possible, patronize home industries.

Mrs. Trafford favored the club with a group of two songs in her cheerful way. Mrs. Fitts in a delightful manner sang two old songs of fifty years ago. The lesson on "Fifty Years of Fashions" was very interestingly handled by Mrs. H. C. Thompson and Mrs. C. I. Williams.

The hostesses served splendid coffee and doughnuts and thus ended a very pleasant afternoon.

OLAF NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snyder of Belmond spent part of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kirk entertained relatives from Estherville, Sunday.

Miss Margaret Baxter attended a birthday party Saturday afternoon, in honor of Miss Elizabeth Lieuwen.

Mrs. Olaf Eliason had her tonsils removed at Dr. Steeles' hospital, Saturday.

Miss Helen Holbrook and Miss Mary Holbrook drove up from Iowa Falls Saturday to spend a few days with their sister, Mrs. Olaf Eliason.

Mr. A. J. Claymon attended the funeral of his nephew at Gilmore City.

Harry Bohning and family and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Morse spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Orphie Anderson.

W. P. Kirk of near Estherville, delivered two truck loads of potatoes to this place the past week.

Mrs. Ed Thompson has been ill the past week with tonsilitis but at this writing is better.

Vanishing (Indian) Summer

This Week To Be Observed As Education Week

Legion Co-Operating With School In Observance Community Meeting

In accordance with the idea being carried out in practically every community, the week of Nov. 7-13 will be observed in Belmond as Education week.

The American Legion in cooperation with the local schools have made plans for the observance of this week, the climax of which will be a community meeting at the school building on Armistice Day, Friday morning at 11 o'clock. As this hour is the hour usually observed for Armistice Day, the program will be in keeping with the spirit of the day and the week. The high school will present the first part of the program and the local American Legion Post the latter part of the program. The Legion has been fortunate in securing as a speaker Sheriff G. E. Cress of Mason City. Mr. Cress is a world war veteran, an active Legion man, and strong for law enforcement as his record as sheriff of Cerro Gordo county will show.

Each day of Education Week has been designated as follows:

Monday, Health Day
Tuesday, Home and School Day
Wednesday, Know Your School Day
Thursday, School Opportunity Day
Friday, Armistice and Citizenship Day
Saturday, Community Day
Sunday, For God and Country

The purpose of Education Week is to acquaint the public with the work of the schools, with their ideals, their achievements, and their needs. It is sponsored by the American Legion and the National Education Association, and has the cooperation of all other leading national organizations.

"Let the week be a time of deeper understanding on the part of the people of the role education has played, is playing, and must play in the life of our democracy. That nation is greatest that puts the child first in its thinking, in its statecraft, in its business, in its ideals of conduct. The nation that has the highest regard for childhood will lead all others in health, intelligence, morality, efficiency, and happiness. It will reach the greatest heights of national prosperity. The race moves forward through its children."

OLD ROWAN SETTLER DIES SUDDENLY, WEDNESDAY

(Rowan Correspondent Special)

Mrs. Esther Andrews, 59, an old settler of the Rowan community, died at her home in Rowan, at 7 a. m. yesterday. Death was caused by cardiac asthma, a form of asthma affecting the heart. Her grandson, Clare LaGue, and his sister, Robinetta LaGue, who had spent the night at the Andrews home, noticed she appeared ill shortly after she arose, and a physician was summoned. Death occured before the physician arrived. Mrs. Andrews had been a resident of Rowan and vicinity for about 40 years, and of late had made her home in Rowan, where her 11 year old grand daughter, Gail Smith, resided with her. Funeral arrangements have not been made at this time.

Mrs. C. C. Benson was hostess to the Delphian club Monday evening.

T. A. Davenport Resigns Position As Manager Here

G. E. Whitehouse Of Coon Rapids New Manager Of Telephone Company

G. E. Whitehouse, of Coon Rapids, Iowa, began his duties as manager of the Central West Public Service Co. telephone system here November 1, succeeding T. A. Davenport of Belmond, who resigned, his resignation taking affect Nov. 1.

Mr. Whitehouse has had 11 years experience in the telephone business, and comes well recommended. He has a wife and one child, and expects to move his family here as soon as suitable quarters can be secured.

Mr. Davenport has not announced his future plans, but will of course remain in Belmond. He assumed the management of the old Belmond Telephone Co. in 1911, when the system consisted of Belmond and Goodell exchanges. Through his efforts very largely, the system was increased until at the time of the sale last year to the Central West Public Service Co. nine exchanges were included in the system, and the business had been built up to one of the most solid, substantial and paying concern in the community. Mr. Davenport always gave his best efforts and attention to the company, and his success and ability were attested by the fact that he remained manager for so many years, while the company continued to grow and increase in value.

Mr. Whitehouse is a genial gentleman with a pleasant personality, qualified for his new position, and will continue to give patrons of the company the same good service.

BELMOND, PLEASANT AND IOWA TOWNSHIPS

On Wednesday, November 14, the first of a series of lessons in nutrition will be given in Belmond by the State leader, Miss Lloyd Church, beginning promptly at 10 a. m. and closing at 4 p. m.

Each township is entitled to seven leaders, including the lady chairman.

The place of meeting will be announced later.

Mrs. A. C. Hinman.

Dates of School—Nov. 14, Dec. 12, Jan. 16, Feb. 13, March 12.

Goal—To score not less than 168 points.

BELMOND TOWNSHIP FARM BUREAU MEETING FRIDAY

The Belmond Township Farm Bureau will hold its annual meeting at the center schoolhouse Friday evening, Nov. 4. Among the topics of interest to be brought before the farm people will be that of fixing a set price for corn husking. This will also be the annual election of officers. A short program will be given and refreshments served. Everybody is invited to attend.

A steady rain Tuesday with flurries of snow turned into a hard freeze Tuesday night, with a resultant decided lowering of the temperatures. Farmers, who had been waiting as long as possible for the corn to dry out, are getting into the fields this week for the first real husking.

Fred Johnson and Ben Blake returned Saturday from a hunting trip to South Dakota.

JOSEPH HEGINGER

Joseph William Heginger was born November 8, 1863 in Austria Hungary, and at the age of eleven years moved to this country with his parents and settled at Cedar Falls. At an early age he was baptized in the Catholic faith, but after coming to this country the family was converted to the German Lutheran faith.

At a young age he was united in marriage to Miss Louise Pictsch of Hancock county. They resided for many years on their farm west of town and about eight years ago purchased property and moved to Goodell. To this union seven children were born, Joseph who died in infancy, George of Belmond, Mrs. Louise Kemp of Belmond, Mrs. Clara Kemp, Herman, William, and Ben, all of Goodell.

Mr. Heginger has spent the greater part of his life in this community and has won a host of friends who will miss him.

He was a man of fine character, a true Christian and church supporter.

About three weeks ago Mr. Heginger went to Hampton and submitted to an operation for double hernia. Blood poisoning developed, causing his death Wednesday at 12:30 a. m.

Thus another has gone before us in death, teaching us to apply our hearts, knowing that we too must pass through the valley of the shadow of death. May our Lord God send His spirit into the hearts of the mourners to comfort them.

He leaves to mourn, his wife, two brothers, John Heginger of Klemme, Charlie Heginger of Wisconsin and a sister who lives at Sigourney, all of whom were in attendance at the funeral.

A short service was held at 1 p. m. at the home and at 2 p. m. at the St. John's Lutheran church at Belmond with Rev. Langholz officiating. A male quartet from Britt rendered several beautiful songs. The remains were laid to rest in the Goodell cemetery east of town, with a short service at the grave. His four sons and two sons in law were pall bearers. Goodell friends extend sympathy to the sorrowing family.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our friends for the many acts of kindness shown to us during our recent bereavement. Also for the beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. Joe Heginger and Children

PASTORS RESIGN DUE TO CONSOLIDATION

Rake Register: Rev. O. M. Hanson and family have now moved. A large truck was loaded last Monday with their household goods which was due to take the load all the way across the country to Kelliher, Minn. where the Reverend and family will make their future home. Mr. Hanson will have a large field there with four congregations to serve. They will live at the town of Kelliher.

Mr. Hanson came as pastor to the Bethania church northeast of here eleven years ago. At that time he came to serve Lutheran congregations of Bethania, Keister, Bricelyn and Frost.

As the years passed on the work kept changing. While he and his family lived in the parsonage at Bethania, but the other places have changed considerable. At Keister and Bricelyn things got so established that consolidation movements of the Norwegian Lutherans were perfected and they called new pastors as separate charges. At this point the Liberty congregation at Rake went into a pastoral charge with the Bethania congregation and for nine years Mr. Hanson served as pastor to the Emeral congregation at Frost, Liberty congregation at Rake, and Bethania, six miles northeast of Rake.

A consolidation of the Lutheran congregations at Rake has been in progress during the past couple of years. This again has changed the field of pastoral work. It has caused Rev. O. M. Vereide to resign here, and also has caused Rev. Hanson to move to a new field of church work.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to the friends and neighbors who so greatly assisted us during the illness and death of our dear wife and mother, also for the beautiful floral offerings.

H. C. Madison and Children.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Cooperative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of October 23 to October 29.

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
23	74	37	—	Pt. cloudy
24	75	37	—	Clear
25	84	39	—	Clear
26	85	48	—	Clear
27	82	56	—	Clear
28	75	50	—	Cloudy
29	80	59	—	Cloudy

Average Of $100,000 In Mortgages Is Released By Clerk

Twenty Mortgages Released Last Two Weeks By Clerk Of Court

During the past few years Clerk Goslin has released mortgages amounting to $100,000 on an average following each term of court. The releases come about through foreclosure decrees obtained in the district court. Last week twenty such mortgages were released on the margin of the records in the recorder's office by the clerk. Two of the instruments were for $24,000 each, while the remaining eighteen ranged from $1000 to $9000 or an average of about $3200 each.

Alvin Doughan of Hancock county brings suit against Bert Asbe and his son Lloyd Asbe of Norway township asking $2900 damages. For cause of action plaintiff alleges said Lloyd Asbe backed his father's Ford sedan across the street of Kanawha on May 22, 1927, at a dangerous rate of speed; that plaintiff was in the act of entering his auto when the Asbe car struck it; that the door closed on his left arm breaking it near the wrist. The sum of $1500 is asked for physical pain and suffering, $1300 for loss of time and labor, $100 for medical care and costs of this action.

Judge Thompson of Webster City will convene the next term of the district court at Clarion on November 28, for a four weeks' session.

Belmond Furniture Co., asks judgment against Grant Whipple of Clarion on his past due promissory note for 117.50.

John Martin of Somonauk, Ill., asks the foreclosure of a certain mortgage to satisfy his claim of $7,183.73 against Lillian and Frank McDaniels of Woolstock.

U. P. Rummel of Dows states that Guy and Opal Moore have failed to pay interest on their $1000 note and for that reason he seeks to have mortgage foreclosed.

Fred Hackley of Rowan asks that a special execution issue on certain livestock to secure an unpaid balance on account due from Alfred and Bertha Woods in the sum of $366.18.

John Jordon and Frank Hoffermann seek to recover from the state treasurer the sum of $506, alleged to have been erroneously paid out of the John Stadtlander estate.

Robert L. Smith et al of Eagle Grove brings action against Hans E. Peterson to recover the sum of $2527.13, alleged to be due the plaintiffs for cash and grain.

State of Iowa vs. L. Carter is a suit brought by County Attorney Blue to forfeit defendant's Dodge touring car with which the owner is charged with the illegal transportation of intoxicating liquors. Hearing is set for December 8, following which the car will be sold to the highest bidder as by law provided.

George Thompson of Eagle Grove asks for the attachment against certain horses owned by Amos Thompson to secure his claim of $307.50 for labor.

Receiver for Citizens State Bank of Eagle Grove vs. Porter Bros., is an action to collect such sum as may be due plaintiff on a certain chattel mortgage.—Monitor.

HAVE YOU PAID YOUR TAXES?

County Treasurer Hallock says that there are numerous tax items in Belmond unpaid. The delinquent tax list, he says, will go to the printer about Saturday morning of this week, and if any have not yet paid their contribution to their country in the way of taxes, they better hurry, for an added expense attaches when advertised.

Personal tax is not advertised, but all personal tax unpaid by the last of November will be given to the delinquent tax collector Dec. 1st, and this also means an extra penalty to the tax payer.

Taxes are due and payable Jan. 1st, an dtax sale does not take place until the first Monday in December, yet it is remarkable how many pieces of real estate go to tax sales.

Mr. Hallock says that statements have been mailed, and if property goes to tax sale, or personal to the delinquent tax collector, no fault can attach to the treasurer's office. It is Mr. Hallock's desire that the tax payers of the county give him a clean slate. The tax payers can cheat the printer out of the delinquent tax list.

Belmond Independent
AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES
Display, per column inch -------25c
Locals, per line ----------10c
Classified, per word ----------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Editorials

The public is fickle, and loves a winner. Just as long as you win, you will have support; slip in the least and your support starts slipping with you. We are too much inclined to play the game solely to win, with not enough thought for the sportsmanship of the contest. We want our teams to win—fairly, of course—but win they must, and if they don't, we're "off of them." It isn't the right spirit to take; if a team is striving hard and doing their best it is no disgrace to be beaten, and they are as much entitled to support as though they were winning. If the Belmond school football team had been a consistent winner, crowds would pack the field at their home games. Because the boys have lost the majority of their games, their home support has steadily fallen off, for the public loves a winner. Despite the fact that the team has steadily improved, playing a better game each time, the fans are staying away. The boys deserve better treatment than that: let's give it to them in their next game. They are game lads, trying hard, doing their best and improving; let's be just as good sports as they are.

Possibly nothing can be accomplished, but after traveling over the new grade on primary highway No. 15, one is inclined to think that a coat of gravel this fall would be a good thing for the road. There is a splendid grade on this highway from No. 10 to north of Belmond, some nine miles, and the grade has packed and hardened into excellent condition. It is a good road now—as long as it is dry. But next spring, when the frost goes out and the rains arrive, No. 15 promises to be impassable. It seems to us that some gravel this fall, with the grade in the excellent shape it is, would help out wonderfully next spring.

NOTICE OF PROOF OF WILL

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

In the Estate of Mrs. H. C. Madison Deceased:

You are hereby notified that on the 27th day of October, 1927, there was filed with and opened by the undersigned Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, in and for Wright county, a Written instrument purporting to be the LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT of Mrs. H. C. Madison, late of said County, deceased.

You are further notified that the 29th day of November, 1927, at 1:30 o'clock P. M. of said day, has been set as the day for the final hearing and proof of said Will (the same being the second day of the next term of said District Court) at which time any person interested can appear and show cause why same should not be admitted to probate.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court at my ofice in Clarion in said County, this 27th day of October A. D. 1927.

R. V. Goslin,
513 Clerk District Court

NOTICE OF THE APPOINTMENT OF EXECUTRIX

State of Iowa, Wright county ss.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the undersigned has been duly appointed and qualified as Executrix of the estate of J. T. Tyrrell deceased, late of Wright county. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment; and those having claims against the same will present them, duly authenticated, to the undersigned for allowance, and file in the office of the Clerk of the District Court.

Anna Tyrrell, Executrix.
Dated at Belmond, Iowa,
October 28th, 1927. 512

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF HILL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, INC.

THE UNDERSIGNED, of legal age and residents and citizens of the United States, hereby associate ourselves into a body corporate and adopt the following articles of Incorporation:

I.

The name of the corporation shall be Hill Manufacturing Company, Inc., and its principal place of business shall be at Belmond, Iowa.

II.

The object and purpose of the corporation shall be to engage in the business of manufacturing and selling, at retail and at wholesale, automobile awnings and parts, automobile accessories, awnings, curtains and other articles and appliances, and to do each and every necessary or proper thing to forward such object and purpose.

III.

The corporation shall have the right to buy, hold, lease, sell, convey, assign, transfer mortgage or otherwise encumber personal and real property. All instruments affecting real estate of the corporation shall be signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary.

IV.

The authorized capital stock of this corporation is $15,000.00 divided into shares of $100.00 each. The corporation may commence business when $300.00 in stock has been issued but no stock shall be issued until the corporation has received full cash payment therefor.

V.

The corporate period shall begin on the date of the issuance of its charter by the Secretary of State and shall terminate tweny (20) years thereafter unless sooner dissolved according to law.

VI.

The officers of the corporation shall be a President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Board of Directors. The Secretary and Teasurer may be the same person.

The corporation shall be managed by a Board of three directors, chosen from the stockholders at the annual meeting or at a special meeting called for that purpose.

The Board shall have the right to employ such labor and agents as it may deem necessary, and to fix the salaries and wages of all employees and officers, and may adopt by laws, which may be altered or changed by the stockholders.

VII.

The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held on the first Monday in October. Until the first annual meeting the following persons shall be officers:

W. C. Tyrrell, Jr., President, Belmond, Iowa.
V. F. Mikesell, Secretary, Belmond, Iowa.
G. H. Klemme, Treasurer, Belmond, Iowa.
W. C. Tyrrell, Jr., Director, Belmond, Iowa.
V. F. Mikesell, Director, Belmond, Iowa.
G. H. Klemme, Director, Belmond, Iowa.

All officers of the corporation shall hold office for the term of one year or until their successors are elected and qualified. Every officer and director shall be a stockholder and if any officer or director transfers or sells his stock, he shall thereby cease to be an officer or director.

The Board of Directors may fill any vacancy until the next annual meeting.

Special meetings of stockholders may be called by the president or any member of the board of directors by giving five (5) days notice in person or in writing to the stockholders, and the President shall call a meeting when requested so to do by two-thirds (2-3) of the stockholders. At all stockholders meetings each stockholder shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

VIII.

The highest amount of indebtedness to which this corporation shall at any one time be subject shall not exceed two-thirds (2-3) of its paid up capital stock.

IX.

The private property of the stockholders shall not be liable for the debts of the corporation.

X.

These articles may be amended at any annual meeting of the stockholders or at any special meeting called for that purpose, by a majority vote of the stock.

XI.

The corporation reserves unto itself a lien upon all the stock of any stockholders for all indebtedness of such stockholders to the corporation and any assignment or transfer of stock shall be subject to the lien of any indebtedness due from such stockholder to the corporation, and no transfer of any of the stock of the corporation shall be made until such lien, if any exists, has been paid and satisfied.

Dated October 18th, A. D. 1927.
W. C. Tyrrell, Jr.
V. F. Mikesell
G. H. Klemme

LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. John Anderson went to Mason City. Saturday, to visit a few days at the L. O. Skovlin home, and get acquainted with her new grandson.

Geo. Hake is bricking up the front of the Lyric Theatre, leaving three door openings with a row of windows across the top. This will enable him to keep out much of the cold, and at the same time allow an ample amount of light.

Come and look over the wonderful assortment of Stamped Pieces, just received at the Hemstitching Shop. Bring your hemstitching.—Mrs. W. E. Stevens.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Skovlin, of Mason City, announce the birth of a son, Dean Oliver, weight seven and three-quarters pounds, on Oct. 27. Mr. Skovlin was formerly a Belmond resident.

Dr. G. H. Steele, Cato C. Griesy, Harry Bohning, Reynold Kinseth, Gus Nissen, Dr. Coe, Lawrence Gealow and R. A. Rankins were among the local fans who motored to Ames, Saturday, to see the Ames-Kansas Aggies football game.

Hallowe'en passed more or less quietly here. The "kids" were out, but behaved reasonably and no destruction of property is reported.

"The Fire Brigade", the Belmond fire department benefit movie at the Lyric Theatre Monday and Tuesday nights, was well attended and the picture was very good.

Miss Clara Johnson came up from Iowa Falls, where she is teaching, to spend the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Johnson.

Miss Bernetas Wolle who teaches at Corwith spent the week end at the parental, W. H. Wolle home.

Mrs. Hazel Riddle of Minneapolis, visited the past week with her sister, Mrs. Chris Norby.

Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Kitch, from Iowa Falls, spent Sunday with the latter's sister, Mrs. Gartin, and husband.

Mrs. Cylde Jennings was hostess Tuesday, to the Chain of Ten.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Voiles spent the week end in Des Moines.

Roy Wolf, who is employed in Mason City, was called home Saturday by the illness of his two little daughters. He returned Monday.

Deputies of the A. O. U. W. lodge, Mrs. Beesy and Mrs. Lamb, held a booster meeting Friday evening at the Library parlors. The time was spent in music and games.

Mrs. Claude Thayer underwent an operation last week Monday, at the local hospital. She is recovering nicely.

Mrs. Maurice Dillon is recovering nicely from her recent operation at the Belmond hospital.

Rev. O. H. Bohning of Britt was a visitor at the Rev. Langholz home on Saturday of last week.

Edward Krieg, of Mankato, Minn., spent the week end at the Roy Jenison home. Mr. Krieg is an old school friend of Mr. Jenison's when the two were attending Mankato Business College.

BELMOND CHURCH NOTES

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor
Telephone Call, 150

Sunday, November 6—

The Sunday School and Bible classes will meet at 10 a. m.

The Luther League will meet at 6:45 followed by English sermon at 7:30. Theme, "Grateful in Christ." Romans 11:13-24.

Monday, November 7—

The Catechetical class A will meet immediately after school.

The Sunday School teachers will meet in the church at 7:30 p. m.

Tuesday, November 8. The Dorcas Society will meet in the church parlors at 8 p. m.

Wednesday, November 9. The catechetical class B will meet in the church immediately after school.

Thursday, Nov. 10. The Goodell Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. Chelsvig at 2 p. m.

English prayer meeting will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Sunday, November 6. English communion services will be held at 11 a. m.

Wednesday, November 9. Prayer meeting will be held at the home of Osmund Lewis at 7:30 p. m.

November 12, the Catechetical class meets at 10 a. m.

METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. J. F. Snyder, Pastor

Services as follows for the Lord's Day, November 6—

Sunday School at 10 a. m. Does the Sunday School conducted every Lord's Day have any consideration on your part? Have you ever paused and studied its importance? If you cannot conscientiously answer yes—will you give that hour a chance in your program?

Divine worship at 11 a. m. Holy communion of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated to which we urge all our people, and every follower of the Lord Jesus. Jesus said, "Do this in remembrance of me."

Epworth League at 6:30, Harry Webb, leader. We are having most helpful meetings. You cannot afford not to belong to some League.

Evening worship and gospel message at 7:30.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. H. L. Hadley, Mrs. Gus Nissen, assistant hostess, Mrs. McBurney, lesson leader, and Mrs. T. N. Davenport has charge of the Mystery Box.

The Standard Bearers will meet Wednesday night of this week at Mrs. McBurney's at 7 o'clock and go from there to A. W. Martins.

Everybody is most cordially invited to all of our services.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

We know that we ever ought to be building good habits into our lives. One good habit certainly is to meet in the church fellowship each Sunday. We have our services next Sunday at the usual hour, Sunday school at ten o'clock, morning worship at eleven o'clock and young people's meeting at seven thirty o'clock.

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN CHURCH
Arthur G. Langholz, Pastor

21st Sunday after Trinity—

Sunday School at 9:45. Christian instruction is of prime importance for all. Why not enroll?

Services at 10:45. This service in the English language. Spend Sunday morning in church and thus begin the week right. We would point sinners to Jesus, their only Savior.

Ladies Aid Society meets Thursday afternoon with Mrs. F. W. Pletch as hostess.

The Luther League is invited by the Britt and Titonka Luther League to meet in Britt, Sunday evening, November 6th. The Woden League will also be present.

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

Belmond boys now in France are: Leo Kenefick, Roy Pierce, Stephen Hardwick and George Mikesh.

The first real touch of winter was felt last Saturday night when a heavy fall of snow covered this section of the country.

It is reported that Martin Lewis has sold his garage business to Chas. Johnson. Mr. Lewis retains the building.

Old Glory floating from the top of the new Liberty pole on pleasant days last week was a most beautiful sight.

Dr. Hoxie of Barney, N. Dak., was in Belmond over Sunday, visiting with W. I. Rosecrans, who is confined to his home because of illness.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

S. N. Hinman and wife returned Monday from their extensive eastern trip.

R. C. Bras was in town Monday arranging to run a special train to Eagle Grove next Monday night to the big republican rally.

Tiede's day last week sustained the long established reputation for bargain days.

C. E. Shaver and W. A. Bartholomew returned from Lisbon Saturday.

Mrs. T. B. Kaufman and Mrs. H. C. Tyrrell returned last week from Washington, D. C.

It is expected that the new steel bridge south of town will be completed this week.

There will be a republican speech at the Henry Meinders school house, four miles east of town, Friday night.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

A bright little boy at John Byers'. John feels as tall as a church steeple.

Every day white-topped wagons pass town. Evidently the "migrating" season is at hand again.

A flurry of snow dropped down Wednesday night, furnishing some genuine "squaw" winter.

Belmond turned out some well qualified teachers this fall. Mr. B. P. Entriken, Miss Mildred Grove, Miss Mira Galer, Miss Rose Whited and Miss Georgie Daniels, all received first class certificates.

Prairie fires are licking up property in various surrounding counties.

Mr. and Mrs. Overacker of Clarion visited their daughter, Mrs. David Luick, here this week.

B. P. Entriken, at the last meeting tendered his resignation as secretary of the Temperance association. Mr. Entriken will move to Liberty township.

FOR YOUR
AUCTIONEER
CALL
H. BRUMMOND
KANAWHA, IOWA
PHONE 118

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Bldg
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

SPECIAL SATURDAYS AND WEDNESDAYS
DIXIE DREAM
DOUGHNUTS
THIS IS A NEW DELICIOUS RAISED DOUGHNUT MADE EXCLUSIVELY BY US
per doz. - 25c
Your patronage solicited and appreciated
MORROW & SCOTT
BELMOND'S BAKERS

THE VALUE OF Your Dollar
When you start a savings account with this bank, your dollars join those of other savers, and, together, they make possible increased production, augmented wealth, greater prosperity, and all this means more money for you and still your savings remain intact, insurance against a rainy day, a promise of ultimate independence. Your account will be welcome, regardless of size.
STATE BANK OF BELMOND
BELMOND IOWA

If Your Chickens Have Worms--
TRY TOBACCO DUST!
One part of tobacco dust to 30 parts of mash will kill the worms. Starve the birds 24 hours before feeding this ration. Do not allow them to have any water until 6 or 8 hours after feeding this formula. Their drinking water should then contain 1 tablespoonful of Epsom Salts to each gallon of water. Follow our advice in this and you will see results.
Mix the tobacco dust with Sargents
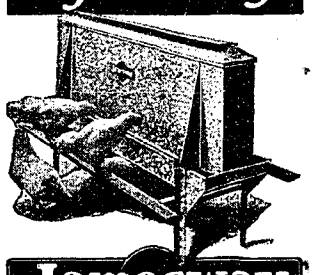
Laying Mash
Makes Hens Lay, Keeps Them Healthy. You can get it here.
A Full Line of
Jamesway
Poultry Equipment
WE BUY POULTRY.
Get Our Prices First.
Here's a Feeder that soon Pays For Itself


Jamesway
Free Feed
CAFETERIA
EVERY farm flock in this locality should have one of these FIVE-IN-ONE Feeders; contains compartments for Mash, Grain, Oyster Shell, Grit and Charcoal. It's a great labor saver—only needs filling once a week and your flock can always eat what they want, when they want it. They balance their ration as nature dictates and as a result you get more eggs—your flock is healthier.
Saves Labor—Saves Feed
This practical feeder comes in two sizes—100 flock size and 200 flock size. Think what a convenience it would be to just fill this up once a week and know that you flock was provided with feed for an entire week. It's the busy farmer's friend. Built with a patented shaking device that always keeps feed down in feed troughs. Feed is always clean and absolutely no waste. Slanting tilting top prevents birds roosting on top. We guarantee that this feeder will pay for itself in one season in saved feed and labor. Let us show you this incomparable feeder.
Anderson Hatchery---G. T. Anderson, Prop.
PHONE 27 BELMOND, IOWA

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29

AUCTION
CHESTER WHITE SALE
Wednesday, Nov. 9, 1927
At 1 o'clock
30 Spring Boars, 10 Spring Gilts. New blood lines for all old customers.
Free lunch at noon.
Located 3 miles north of Thornton on the gravel road, Iowa 107.
EDWIN R. SKINNER
THORNTON, IOWA

FRIEND C. BRAS
Tests Eyes Fits Glasses
Service Guaranteed
SOUTH OF COURT HOUSE
CLARION, - IOWA
1-128

Dr. Wilbert Shallenberger, The Regular and Reliable Chicago Specialist

who has visited here since 1901 treats Chronic, Nervous and SPECIAL DISEASES of Men and Women Scientifically, also Diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat, Lungs, Heart, Blood, Skin, Nervous Debility, Nerves, Liver, Stomach, Intestines, Kidneys, and Bladder. Consumption in an early stage, Catarrh, Ringing in Ear and Deafness, Paralysis, Neuralgia, Epilepsy, Sick Headache, Goitre, Eczema, Scrofula, Appendicitis, Gravel, Rheumatism of joints and muscles.
PILES, FISTULA, FISSURE and other Rectal Diseases Treated Without Knife.
Surgical Cases and Rupture Given Special Attention.
Over 80% of my patients come from recommendations of those I have Cured. CONSULTATION FREE.
Address letters to DR. WILBERT SHALLENBERGER, 768 Oakwood Boulevard, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.
CLARION, HOTEL MOORE, WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 16
Visit No. 338

We Want Your Poultry

And we will pay you the very highest market price for it. Before you sell, see us or call us and let us make you a price—you'll find it is dollars in your pocket. If you haven't time to bring your poultry in, or haven't a way to do it, remember we furnish you

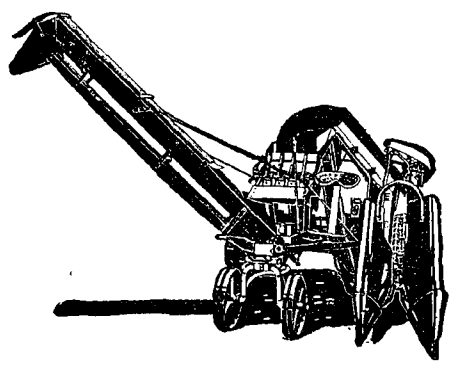
TRUCK SERVICE!

We'll call at your place, load your birds, haul them to town, give you honest, full weights, and send you a check promptly at the highest market prices. We want your poultry, and we'll do anything fair and square to get it. Give us a trial!

Farmers Grain Company
PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!
BELMOND, - - IOWA



A Corn Picker Increases Your Husking Capacity Six to Ten Times

Add the extra cost of hand husking to your profits—be rid of worry at husking time forever. Owners tell us that a corn picker will pay for itself in two years with what it saves.

A Corn Picker Will Solve Your Help Problems

Will out-pick six men.
Will do cleaner work than hand huskers.
Will get your husking done on time.

Let us explain the merits of the new 1927 Models. There are many improvements on both the

JOHN DEERE and McCORMICK-DEERING

PRICES VERY REASONABLE

GRIESY'S

The Friendly Place
PHONE 10
BELMOND, IOWA

AGRICULTURAL NEWS NOTES

FARM REAL ESTATE VALUES

Iowa farm real estate values during the crop year just ended were 21 per cent above the 1912-13-14 average regarded as pre-war, or just between the 1915 and 1916 level. Values for 1927 stand at 121 per cent of the pre-war level in the index of farm real estate values prepared by the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. It was 130 per cent in 1926. This decline is a part of the continued depreciation during the past seven years from the peak of 213 per cent of pre-war average in 1920. Present values are about half way between the averages for 1915 and 1916.

The decline during the past year, not only in Iowa, but in nearly the entire country was not wholly unexpected according to Mr. Leslie M. Carl, Federal Agricultural Statistician for Iowa, who points to the marked decrease during the year in the price of certain of our major farm products, the sharp drop in farmer's incomes, and a generally inactive farm real estate market. There have been plenty of farms for sale with buyers few and cautious. In some states there are many foreclosed and other distress farms hanging over the market to keep values down. Even with the favorable improvement of conditions in Iowa the same class of farms have influenced the general index of values.

The values for Iowa have ranged from 96 per cent in 1912 upward to 213 per cent in 1920. The sharp upward changes came with increases of 14 er cent from 1915 to 1916. 11 per cent from 1918 to 1919 and 33 per cent from 1919 to 1920. When the decline in values started they did not continue as rapidly as they ascended. In 1927 the index stands at 121 per cent of the pre-war, which is an average decline from the peak of 1920 of about 7 per cent per year, while the increase from 1912 to 1920 as shown by the index was at the rate of 81 per cent per year.

A complete index of farm land values by states and geographical divisions is available for distribution.

Farm real-estate values for the United States is placed at 119 per cent of pre-war, against 124 in 1926. Present values are at about the 1917 level.

The largest decline last year was in the South Atlantic states, for which the department's index is 137 compared with 148 in 1926. The index for the East North Central States is placed at 103 against 110 in 1926; West North Central states, 115 against 121; East South Central States, 133 aganst 139; West South Central States, 139 against 144; Middle Atlantic States, 111 against 113; Mountain states, 101 against 103; New England states, 127 against 128; and aPcific States, 143 against 144.

The greatest depreciation in values since the 1920 peak has occurred in the West North Central States, where the index is now 115 per cent of pre-war against 184 per cent in 1920. The East South Central group runs a close second, with a decline from 199 in 1920 to 133 at present; followed by the South Atlantic States, the index for which was 198 in 1920 against 137 now; East North Central, 159 in 1920 against 103 for 1927; Mountain States, 151 against 101; West South Central, 177 against 39; Middle Atlantic, 136 against 111; New England, 140 against 127; and Pacific, 56 against 143. Values for the United States as a whole have gone down 50 points, from 160 in 1920 to 119 for 1927.

WHY SOILS NEED LIME

Crop land has had much of the limestone taken out where crops are sold and nothing pu back. Two tons of clover hay takes 146 pounds of limestone from the soil. A 50 bushel oat crop takes out 21 pounds, while a 50 bushel corn crop removes 27 1-2 pounds per acre.

On the Morrow test plots in Ill., one plot has raised corn, oats and clover continuously for 50 years. All the crops have been removed and no fertilizer or lime added. Last year, under favorable weather conditions, there was but a very poor stand of unthrifty red clover obtained. The plot adjoining grew a good crop. Limestone had been added.

We generally think of sweet clover and alfalfa requiring limestone for good yields, but there are many sections throughout Iowa where red clover is a very uncertain crop, due to the lack of limestone in the soil.

On the leveler lands, lime may be spread all winter without much loss. Where it is known the soil is sour it is highly advisable that limeing be started as soon as possible.

SORT CORN BEFORE CRIBBING

It will pay many farmers this fall to sort their corn before it goes into the crib because most fields are likely to contain a good many spoiled ears or those containing a lot of moisture. So suggests C. S. Dorchester of the Farm Crops Department at Iowa State College.

By eliminating the spoiled and wet ears, the corn will keep far better and will grade higher when it is shelled. Two or three spoiled ears in a bushel will greatly affect the grade of corn even tho the moisture content may be low, Mr. Dorchester says.

The unusual methods of sorting corn are inefficient, but a plan used successfully by several farmers is to throw the corn off onto a platform beside the crib or elevator. There the corn is carefully sorted and the very wet and spoiled ears thrown out for feeding. The sound corn is then scooped into the elevator before the next load arrives.

If an elevator is not used, the platform may be high enough so that scooping from it into the crib may be conveniently done.

Ventilators may be installed in the crib which will aid in drying out the corn. Ventilators in corn cribs would pay in many years, the Ames crops men believe. One type they recommend is of an "A" shape and is portable.

The "A" type ventilator is built in sections, usually 2 1-2 feet wide at the bottom, 6 feet high and 8 feet long. Usually 2 by 4 material is used for the frame and the sides are covered with wire netting, or with siding put on in the same manner as for a crib.

The ventilators run the full length thru the center of the crib and are open at each end. This permits a draft thru the length of the crib and gets air near the center. These have been used very profitably by many farmers. Detailed blue prints of the ventilator may be obtained for ten cents from the Extension Service of Iowa State College, Ames.

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

BRIDGE FUND
A. C. Anderson, labor	3.85
Albert Bowers, labor	26.00
Christensen Bros., repairs	11.50
Clark Transfer Co., hauling plank	3.50
Harry Daggett, repairs	4.04
W. W. Frakes, supplies	1.40
Homer Gordon, labor	25.00
Ernest Grandgeorge, labor	36.00
Johnson & Wright, hardware	21.93
Frank E. King, labor	43.50
Klauer Mfg. Co., culverts	216.60
R. E. Roper, hardware	45.29
Shupe & Son, hardware	14.81
Wayne Thomason, labor	43.50
W. A. Thomason, labor	2.40
John Thorn, labor	43.50
Claude H. Thayer, labor	9.63
S. M. Wilcox, labor	64.00
DRAINAGE FUND
A. Amdahl, labor—Dn. 18	13.80
Farmers Elev. Co., Holmes, material—Dn. 18	2.60
Farmers Elev. Co., Holmes, material—Dn. 23	1.95
Farmers Elev. Co., Holmes, material—Dn. 36	.65
Farmers Elev. Co., Holmes, material—Dn. 75	.65
J. D. Baker, session and mileage—Dn. 90	7.80
A. H. Box, rodman—Dn. 90	4.00
Charles E. Gross, engineer—Dn. 90	15.50
Melvin Jetmund, rodman—Dn. 90	4.00
E. E. Kitley, session and mileage—Dn. 90	9.20
James Mehl, session and mileage—Dn. 90 (2 meetings)	14.80
J. C. Peterson, session and mileage—Dn. 90	6.20
L. W. Schroeder, session and mileage—Dn. 90	8.20
G. E. Nelson, repairs—Dn. 93	32.50
Clark Transfer Co., hauling tile—Dn. 107	10.00
J. D. Baker, committee and mileage—Dn. 117	7.50
J. D. Baker, committee and mileage—Dn. 123	7.40
Charles E. Gross, engineer—Dn. 123	6.85
J. D. Baker, committee and mileage—Dn. 125	7.00
J. D. Baker, committee and mileage—Dn. 139	9.00
James Mehl, committee and mileage—Dn. 139	6.10
Clark Transfer Co., hauling tile—Dn. 152	10.00
Charles E. Gross, engineer—Dn. 155	4.50
Charles E. Gross, engineer—Dn. 161	2.35
James Mehl, committee and mileage—Dn. 194	7.40
Farmers Elev. Co., material—Dn. 202	1.95
DOMESTIC ANIMAL FUND
Fred Aldrich, hog killed	15.00
Mrs. Ethel Jones, sheep killed	78.80
John Wirtz, steer killed	27.00
COUNTY HOME FUND
J. A. Lowden, supplies	1.10
SOLDIERS' RELIEF
F. B. Champlin, Sec'y., allowances for October	108.00
INSANE FUND
Cerro Gordo County, insane hearing—Ida Stearns	27.80
Dr. E. D. Tompkins, commissioner (George Hibbert)	3.00
L. N. Archerd, commissioner (George Hibbert)	3.00
John Reynolds, witness (George Hibbert)	3.40
REFUND WARRANTS
Kate Given, error of assessor	30.00
Mrs. Mary Ramer, over charge on 1926 tax	15.10
Leonard L. Raymer, sold. exemption for 1926	Refused

On motion adjourned to meet October 14, 1927.

E. E. KITLEY, Chairman.
F. W. WALKER,
County Auditor.

The Splinters

"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2 Thursday, November 3, 1927 No. 29

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

Why does a chicken cross the road? In these days of automobiles, it doesn't.

—

In Persia the father sells his daughter in marriage. Usually he gets about 100 sheep. Here in America all he gets is your goat.

—

"Here comes Thanksgiving," moans a certain Belmond lady, "and I'm already twenty eight pounds overweight.

—

It is not too early to advise your friends to do their Christmas shopping early.

Cold wave coming! Weather man says so. How's your coal supply?

—

You'll soon save enough on your coal bill to pay for storm doors and windows. They keep the heat in and the cold out. We have 'em. Snugly fitting storm windows this winter will make your home much more comfortable.

—

Mrs. Housewife, aren't you tired dragging that old ironing board around? A built-in board is so much more convenient.

—

Another way you can open a new bottle without squirting the contents all over your vest, is to drop the bottle on the floor. We've just tried it, and it works.

—

A business man—some of you folks may know him—once bought a load of wood from a farmer. The wood proved to be so green that it wouldn't burn. A few days later the parties in the transaction met on the street. "Say," said the business man," could you get me about three more loads of that wood?"

"Sure," said the farmer in surprise. "Well, you get 'em for me! With four loads of that wood I could put out the fires of hell!"

—

A man in our place of business hunted through every pocket he had yesterday to find a list of items his wife had made out for him. We wonder what happened at home when he asked his wife to make out a new list.

If you're thinking about stylish shirts
STOP!
We thought for you and here are the styles that are the GO!
THE Emery SHIRT
"Equal to custom-made"

SMITH SERVICE & SKOVLIN SATISFACTION
Phone 50 Belmond, Iowa

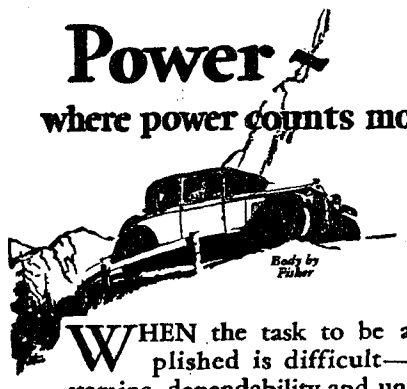
WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

Power
where power counts most



WHEN the task to be accomplished is difficult—when stamina, dependability and unfailing power are essential—the advice of those who know is, "Buy a Buick!" Drive one today and find out why.
Sedans $1195 to $1995 - Coupes $1195 to $1850
Sport Models $1195 to $1525
All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich., government tax to be added. The G. M. A. C. financing plan, the most desirable, is available.

BUICK for 1928

WEBSTER COUNTY BUICK CO.
DISTRIBUTORS
20-24 North 9th St. Fort Dodge, Iowa
BELMOND—HUB MOTOR CO. Kanawha—Yeakel & Mallow
Clarion—Linfor Auto Co. Dows—A Banwell
Eagle Grove—Porter Auto Co.

MESERVEY SECTION

EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:45.
Morning worship at 10:45.
E. L. C. E. at 7:00.
Evening service at 7:30.
Senior choir practice on Sunday evening.
Junior choir practice Monday evening.
German prayer meeting Wednesday evening.
English prayer meeting on Thursday evening. In connection with the latter we have Bible Study. Bring your bible.
We are grateful for the fine weather during our meetings. The attendance was very good and Eternity will show results.

A. K. Henning, Pastor

REFORMED CHURCH

The Dorcas Society met last Wednesday evening, fifteen members being present. Miss Fanny Bruns served refreshments.
The consistory had the privilege and joy to receive four new members upon confession of faith into the church last Sunday.
Next Sunday at the morning service the Lord's Supper will be celebrated. All believers should remember the command of Christ, namely, "This do in remembrance of Me." The usual communion offering will be received at this time.
Catechetical classes meet Saturday at 1:30 p. m.
Sunday school at 9:30.
Morning worship at 10:30. (German).
Young people's meeting at 7:30.
Evening preaching meeting at 8:00.
Choir practice Thursday evening at 8:00.
All are invited to attend these services. Let us not neglect our greatest need. Man's greatest need is Christ.

H. Pannkuk, Minister

MESERVEY LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. B. Gruis motored to Bristow last week on Wednesday to spend the day visiting old friends.
Thos. Sloss motored up from Ames last Wednesday for a short visit at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Nissen and family. Mrs. Sloss returned home with him after a few days visit with her daughter.
Mr. and Mrs. Heiko Kuhlers and son Henry, and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Meinderts visited relatives at Grundy Center and Aplington, Friday.
The news of the arrival of a son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kalkwarf did not reach us in time for last week's issue. All concerned doing nicely.
F. C. Sprau and children attended the Hallowe'en program and basket social at Miss Eva's school near Mason City, last Thursday.
J. Nissen and wife and Wm. Hartfelder, wife and daughter, visited at the J. A. Nissen home at Kamrar, Thursday last.
Adam Kolb and wife and grandchildren, motored to Kamrar Thursday to visit at the J. A. Nissen home. Mrs. Kolb and grand children remained till Sunday.
A large crowd attended the box social and program at school, district No. 4 last Friday evening. Miss Pearl Ax is the teacher.
We have one resident on north main street that is not selfish—he is not much for looks, teeth are getting less, smokes a corn cob pipe most of the time—it tips around in his mouth and somewhat resembles the famous under-slung pipe of Gen. Dawes. We do not care to mention his name, but if our readers will notice the work along the gutters near his home they can see what we are trying to tell. We hope some one else will catch the idea.
Miss Myrtle Cooper of Mason City and Bert Groen of this place motored to Waverly Sunday and visited the Rev. Sohl family.
Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Sprau and children Frank, Eva, Sterling and Alton were week end visitors with Jake Sprau at Hayfield, Minn.
Carl Quandt and family accompanied by Mrs. Dan Schmidt and daughter Phyllis, were callers in Mason City Friday.
Miss Mabel Paul returned home Saturday evening from a two weeks visit with relatives at Morristown, Minn. She was accompanied by her brother Wilfred and his friend, Wm. Honken, who remained until the following day.
The Cemetery Association will hold their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Paul Hopkey, Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 8. All invited.
Joe Stadtlander and wife and the latter's sister were visiting at the home of Chris Stadtlander at Alexander, Sunday afternoon.
S. P. Fischer and family were visiting at the Tony Osterman home near Nashua, Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Humke and son Paul, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ukro of Ackley, were Sunday visitors at the C. Beier and Mrs. Lemke homes.
A. E. Muller and wife and daughters Neva and Eleanor visited at the L. B. Hulsebus home at Dows, Sunday.
The Meservey Consolidated School is dismissed for a two week's corn husking vacation. The teachers left for their homes Friday and Saturday to enjoy the rest.
John Ruiter and family moved into the Irwin Langlitz residence Monday and are getting cozily setled. H. B. Frey and family will move into their property just vacated by the Ruiter family.
Wm. Larson and family of Parkersburg were week end visitors at the Ferd Halfpop home.
Mrs. H. B. Frey motored to Gardner Sunday to accompany Theresa Kral here, who will assist with the work in the Frey Cafe this winter.
Miss Mabel Prelipp, who has been employed at the Frey Cafe the past two months is helping with the house work at the John Simms home.
Joe Frey and two sons of Rushmore, Minn., visited relatives here for a few days the fore part of last week.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nolen of Hampton were calling on H. B. Frey's Sunday afternoon.
Mr. and Mrs. E. Yanke and three daughters of Garden City, Minn., were visiting at the Prelipp and Unverferth homes Saturday and Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hopkey and son Lester attended the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Freie at Latimer, Saturday afternoon and evening. Mrs. Freie is Mr. Hopkey's sister.
The C. F. W. Paul family visited at the Sam Paul home in Sheffield Sunday.
Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Raecker of Sheffield were calling on relatives here Friday afternoon.
Grandmother Wickersheim returned to her home here after an extended stay at the E. M. Schmidt home in Belmond.
Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Pals and sons were visiting friends in Dumont, Sunday.
Miss Anna Strasburg and brother of Ackley were Sunday visitors at the Nels Faaborg home.
Geo. Hopkey and family and Fred Hopkey and wife were present at the silver wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Freie at Latimer.
J. A. Nissen and children of Kamrar spent Sunday here with relatives. Mrs. Kolb returned home with them after a few days spent there.
A most enjoyable time was held at the High School Hallowe'en party held at the school house last Friday evening. The committees who had things in charge planned everything on the "spooky" order and decorations were in keeping with the occasion. Sandwiches, pickles, pumpkin pie and ice cream made up the menu.
NOTICE—All cemetery lot holders are requested to please have their dues paid before the end of Nov. 1927.—Mrs. Nels Faaborg. Sec. Meservey Cemetery Assn. 513*

FOUND!
Some money. Owner can have same by describing kind and amount, and by paying cost of advertising.
J. F. Hartfelder. 1c

FASHIONS, FADS, FOIBLES

Cascades, points, and the uneven hem-line give the long appearance to the short skirt — which is just gradually coming down further below the knees. For the evening dress, there is the deep dip in the back with knee-length in front.
The waistline tends to become more and more marked, though exactly where it is marked depends upon the manufacturer of the garment or the taste of the wearer. Skirts are circular and indicate vivacity and movement.
The ensemble is very prevalent, not only for sports and street but also for evening wear. It is shown in contrasting or harmonizing color combinations and fabrics. This is accomplished by trim, diagonal strip, geometrical insets, or by woven or printed designs.
Hats are head-fitting and rimless, or they support a soft, wavy brim which is more like ruffle on the crown. It is usually shorter in the back, merely covering the stub ends of the growing hair, or the bob, and dents at its own sweet will. Hats are soft and crushed, folded or indented for trim.

Harry T. Smith
General Blacksmithing
Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding
Meservey, - Iowa

Undertaking & Funeral Director
F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone--Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

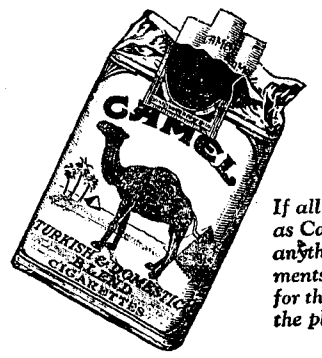
W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

ATWATER KENT RADIO
Fresh "B" Batteries always on hand.
H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

Bank Your Money
If you have money it should be deposited in the Bank.
When you were a borrower some one deposited so you could borrow.
Pay your debt and build your credit at the same time.
Convenience and correct change.
SAFETY AND SERVICE
Farmers Savings Bank
Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

HIGH QUALITY
BUILDING MATERIAL
Screen Doors and Window Screens—Mill Work—Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts and Poles
Cement — Lime
INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT
Wheat Bran – Oil Meal – Cotton Seed Meal, – Tankage – Salt
Highest Price Paid for Grain
Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

Camel
An honest cigarette honestly advertised
Delightful tobaccos, the choicest grown. Blended with skill and care. Sold without bunk of any kind, and it leads the world by billions.



If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.
© 1927, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

7% With Safety
Because the Company provides the necessities of life—water, light, power, gas or telephone service to 145 cities and towns—and the demand grows from day to day. ¶Preferred Stock in large well-managed Public Utilities always has been a sound investment, for all such companies always have paid their dividends regularly. ¶Any local employee can give you the facts.
CENTRAL WEST PUBLIC SERVICE CO.
A Subsidiary of the McGraw Electric Company

ROWAN ITEMS OF INTEREST

Irene Calista Hiams, daughter of Alpheus D. and Susan Hiams, was born April 6, 1864, at Amsterdam, Hancock County, Iowa, and died at Rowan Iowa, Oct. 25 1927, aged 63 years, 6 months and 19 days.

She was united in marriage to Edwin Milo Emerson on May 4, 1886. To this union were born two children, a son Ray, who died at the age of six months, and a daughter, Mrs. Howard Box of Rowan, Iowa.

Mr. Emerson died Oct. 6, 1902.

On December 5, 1910, se was united in marriage to Simon B. Heath at Rowan.

She leaves to mourn her departure her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Howard Box, Rowan, ner mother, Mrs. A. D. Hiams, one brother, Bert Hiams, Rowan, four sisters, Mrs. Ben Fanselow and Mrs. Albert Emerson of Rowan Mrs. J. L. Chasell of Belle Fourche, S. Dak. and Mrs. Earl Hammond of Ucross, Wyoming, and one grandson, Edwin Howard Box.

Two brothers preceded her in death, Roy Paul who died at the age of 13 years, and Ray at the age of one month.

In her girlhood she was organist for several years in the Sunday school in the Horse Grove School house. She was a charter member of the Rowan Congregational church which was organized when the church was built in 1890. She remained one of the most faithful members of the church till the time of her death.

She was a good wife, a good mother, and a faithful friend. She found a warm place in the hearts of the people of this community, through the confidence they had in her sincere and consistent Christian life.

The funeral services were held at 10:00 a. m. from the house and 10:30 at the Congregational church on Thursday. Rev. Bonnell of Rice City, a former pastor at Rowan had charge of the services, assisted by Rev. Marquardt. Two hymns were sung by a quartet consisting of Mrs. A. O. Pelley, Miss Evelyn Whitten, D. W. Whitten and Henry Willams and a solo by Rev. Marquardt.

The pallbearers were H. J. Whitten, W. H. Whitten, E. Bingham, W. A. Hoke, Wm. Duffy and D. E Harris

Interment was in Graceland cemetery.

The sorrowing family have the sympathy of the entire community.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to acknowledge with sincere thanks, the many kindnesses extended us during the recent sickness and death of our wife, mother, daughter and sister.—Mrs. S. B. Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Box, Mrs Susan Hiams, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Hiams, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fanselow, Mr. and Mrs. A. E Emerson, Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Chassell, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hammond.

Relatives from out of town who attended the funeral of Mrs. Heath were C. A. Church of Belmond, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Church of Forest City, Mrs. Schmalle of Garner, Mrs. H. Trees of Klemme, Mrs. Ward of Klemme, Miss Marian Chassell from college at Grinnell, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Heath from Des Moines, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Azeltine from Cedar Falls, Misses Esther Emerson and Pearl Hiams from college at Cedar Falls.

ROWAN SCHOOL NOTES

There will be no school on Thursday and Friday of this week as the teachers are planning to attend the Iowa State Teachers Convention at Des Moines. The programs at these conventions are always full of helpful suggestions and are an inspiration to all teachers.

The Rowan High School is honored by having one of its musicians, Clifford Stapley, chosen to play in the Iowa High School Symphony Orchestra at the Iowa State Teachers Convention this year. The members of this orchestra were chosen from schools from all over Iowa and will play at the convention Friday evening and Saturday morning. Clifford will play first clarinet.

The High School operetta was very successfully given last Friday and Saturday nights. The audience was small both nights but those who wer privileged to see it praised the Glee Clubs and Miss Pruss highly It takes an enormous amount of work and expense to put on a good operetta and since this one was exceptional for so small a school as ours in the ability shown and the variety of the program, it is too bad more people could not have seen it. The duet and solo parts were especially good and all those having principle parts deserve special mention. Clifford Stapley spent a great deal of time in arranging the lights and fixing the stage for the operetta,

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Rev. J. H. Bounds, Pastor
10:00 A. M.—Sunday School
11:00 A. M.—Morning worship.
6:45 P. M.—Epworth League.
7:30 P. M.—Evening worship.
7:30 P. M. Wednesday, Prayer meeting.

The Ladies Aid meets on Thursday afternon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Thomas with Mrs. D. E. Harins and Mrs. Fred Hackley as assistant hostesses.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society meets with Mrs. J. E. Thomas on Wednesday afternoon.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. L. A. Marquardt, Pastor
10:30 A. M.—Sunday School.
11:30 A. M.—Morning worship.
3:00 P M. Junior Christian Endeavor.
6:30 P. M.—Senior Christian Endeavor.
7:30 P. M.—Evening worship.
7:30 P. M. Wednesday evening—Prayer meeting and Bible study.

The Christian Endeavor will have a social at the home of Miss Evelyn Whitten on Thursday evening.

The Ladies Missionary Society will meet on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. J. Whitten, if the weather is favorable, if not it will be at J. S. Farrans. Leader is Mrs. E. R. Ballou.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Eckleburger entertained Mr. Eckleburger's cousin, and wife from Lehigh on Sunday.

A very sad death occurred on Friday evening at the Charles Richards home. Mrs. Richards' cousin, Mrs. Bertha Mac Vean of East Orange, New Jersey who has been visiting there, was taken ill shortly after supper, of acute indigestion. Drs Jones of Rowan and Dr. George of Dows were both called immediately but she passed away about eleven o'clock that night.

The body was taken to the undertaking parlors at Dows and sent to her home at East Orange, Monday noon.

Mrs. Mac Vean was 46 years of age and was a member of the Baptist church. She is survived by two sons, one at Nashville, Tenn., and one at Newton, New Jersey. Her husband preceded her in death about two years ago.

Mrs. J. S. Farran and sons, Douglas and Dale, motored to Jesup, Friday after their daughter, Miss Francis, who teaches in the Jesup school. Her friend, Miss Agnes Moe, also of the Jesup school faculty, came home with Miss Farran to spend the week end with her at her home. They stopped in Cedar Falls bringing Miss Garnet Stumph from there to spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Ina Stumph. They were driven to Ackley on Sunday where they took the train back to their work.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Harris and family from Sheffield were Sunday visitors with Mrs. Harris' brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ferguson.

Herman Wessels visited friends in Rowan a few days last week, departing for Mason City the last of the week where he will work.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Polmateer and family of Renwick spent Sunday with Mrs. Polmateer's uncle, D. A. French and wife.

Gae Fletcher has rented the old Brooks farm, recently purchased by Pelley and Rietz, for the coming year.

Mrs. Frank Fairley and daughter of Marion visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Whitten several days last week. Mr. Fairley drove up on Sunday and took them home with him Sunday afternoon.

Nels Eson, who has been working in Minnesota, has returned and is staying at the home of his sister, Mrs. Jens Kjar.

John Rowen and F. B. Mathias attended a Spotted Poland China sale at Oelwein Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Boyington of Clarion came over Saturday evening to spend Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Lula Emerson.

Mrs. Bertha Mac Vean of East Orange, New Jersey, came Wednesday for a visit with her cousin, Mrs. Chas. L. Richarus.

Rev. Bounds attended a sub-district group meeting at Clarion Thursday. All of the ministers in this sub-district were entertained at the M. E. parsonage at dinner.

Clarence Lindsey has been transferred from the C. G. W. tower at Waverly, to Austin, Minn. He came home on Sunday and spent the day with his family, returning to Austin from Clarion at midnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Proctor, and family of Thornton visited Wednesday evening at the Chas. Richards home. The ladies are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Haupt returned Saturday from a few days visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Haney at Winterset.

Mrs. Shurson of Kanawha returned to her home Saturday after spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Burt.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sperry of Thornton were called to the home of their daughter, Friday evening, by the sudden death of their niece, Mrs. Mac Vean.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Aldinger and daughters Mabel and Elsie spent Sunday with relatives near Ackley and Iowa Falls.

Wm. Bailey Sr., was taken very ill Tuesday night but is much better again.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Ketchum and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Nelson drove to Forest City on Saturday and spent the week end with relatives.

Mrs. Charles L. Richards accompanied by Mrs. John Richards and Mrs. Bertha Mac Vean were Belmond and Alexander callers Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin and daughters, Gladys and Marion drove to Pilot Knob State Park near Forest City on Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Marquardt, and son, Billy, drove to Marshalltown Tuesday where Mrs. Marquardt underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Deaconess Hospital on Wednesday. Rev. Marquardt drove home for Sunday morning services, returning to Marshalltown on Sunday afternoon. He reports Mrs. Marquardt as getting along nicely.

Roy Ward and family and Miss Shelton of Shell Rock spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Ward's sister, Mrs. Frank Davis and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Dee Halbrook drove to Hayfield, Friday evening and spent Saturday with their siter, Mrs. Peter Shreck and family, returning Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kercheval entertained Mr. and Mrs. Cline Kercheval Tuesday evening at a birthday dinner in honor of Mrs. Clint Kercheval.

Mrs. Louise Letts of Webster City is visiting her friend, Mrs. Frank Kercheval.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Whitten attended the Chris Klemenson farm sale at Thornton Thursday. Mrs. Klemenson is a niece of Mr. Whitten.

Miss Margaret Keith came from Fort Dodge where she is taking nurses training, to attend Mrs. Heath's funeral.

Miss Angie Baines, our telephone operator went to Dows on Friday and had her tonsils removed by Drs. George and Lekwa.

The Rowan hotel has again changed hands. R. Virdin has purchased the building and Mr. and Mrs. Nels Hanson will move back to take charge of it. Mr. and Mrs. Chaster are moving to the Nels Hanson house.

Robert and Lyle Walker of West Concord, Minn. came last week to visit relatives and husk corn in the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams motored to Hayfield Saturday to visit his sister, Mrs. P. Shreck and family. They returned home Sunday.

Mr.a nd Mrs. H. J. Whitten drove to Woden Sunday to visit Mrs. Rudicill who once lived at Rowan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Carter of Glidden came Saturday to visit Mr. Carter's niece, Mrs. Dwight Hinckley, and family.

Carl Weber who lives south east of Rowan has recently gone to Germany to accompany mother to this country.

NEWS ITEMS FROM GOODELL

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Graber will move this week to Belmond as the former has a position in the Goelz barber shop. The Grabers have lived here for about fourteen years and have a host of friends who regret to have them leave as they certainly have been the best of citizens and splendid workers in the church. The best of wishes go with them to their new home.

Misses Eva Schluter and Louise Ahrenkiel and their grade pupils enjoyed a Hallowe'en party at the school house Thursday evening. The time was spent in playing games to suit the occasion and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Jess Thornson and Grace of Burt came the fore part of last week to spend a few days with home folks, the L. W. Wilson family.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Kienenberger were Hampton callers, Monday.

Mrs. John Hughes of Garner came down Wednesday to visit her mother, Mrs. Christensen and was a welcome visitor at the Ladies Aid.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gosnell and two daughters of Ft. Dodge were week end visitors with her mother, Mrs. Lamer.

Mesdames Scott and Graber gave a party Tuesday evening for the Christian Endeavor folks. Most of the members attended and enjoyed a good time and lunch.

The Fox Construction gang who have been working on the road east of town finished last week and are moving their equipment to Holmes to the road there.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Schneider went to Ames Wednesday and attended a farm bureau meeting. They attended the farm bureau banquet and a reception given by Mr. Hughes. president of the college.

John Meinders returned Monday from the Hampton hospital and is feeling fine since his recent appendicitis operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Litchwager and son of Alden came up Friday evening to attend the school carnival and to visit their daughter, Grace, who is domestic science teacher here.

Charles Conklin came home Friday from Adel where he has spent the summer working for T. F. Matson. Tauge has finished his construction work at Adel and is moving his equipment to Warren county where he has another job. The former will go there to work also.

Mr. and Mrs. John Meinders are the parents of a baby.

Prin. Andrew Hopperstad and Harold Savogue autoed to Ames Saturday to attend the foot ball game.

Mr.a nd Mrs. Mervin Sullivan of Ottumwa came Saturday to spend a few days with his sister, Mrs. C. F. Chase. and aunt, Miss Eliza Cashman. Mervin has a drug store at Ottumwa.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hughes and children who reside at Waterloo were over Sunday visitors with his sister, Mrs. Lew Avery.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brunes autoed to Aplington Monday to attend his uncle's funeral.

The Harry Carpenter, Amos Hanson and James Trees families enjoyed an oyster supper Sunday evening at the Albert Schlichting home at Olaf.

June Remer came down from Garner Friday evening and visited until Monday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bachman.

Robert McNutt, the little three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. McNutt, is very ill suffering with a bad case of whooping cough and is threatened with bronchial pneumonia.

Mary, Harry and Clifford Anderson came from Garner and spent the week end at the home of their father, Verdie Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Lowenberg and son Joseph of Clare, Sundayed with Ivan's home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Burgess and daughter of Beloit, Wisconsin are visiting his sister, Mrs. E. P. Hubbard. They have pent the summer with relatives in Washington and are returning to their home.

Mesdames Harve Christenson and Henry Christenson went to Northwood Saturday to visit over Sunday with the former's sister, Mrs. Nelson.

Alf. Weddel of California and his sister, Celia of Patton were over Sunday guests at the White home. The former accompanied by Charlie Trumbel left Monday morning for their home.

Rev. Dillavo of Webster City gave an inspiring sermon on Sunday School Work at the U. B. church, Tuesday evening.

Relatives received word last week announcing the birth of a baby boy to Mr. and Mrs. Breese who live at Waterloo. Mrs. Breese formerly lived here and will be remembered as Irene Galbraith.

Gerhard Johnson of Clarion spent last week at the C. Longley home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall of Moline, Ill., visited from Thursday until Monday at the George Thompson home.

The W. L. Thada store was broken into and robbed last Friday night. Several things were taken.

Mr. Masey of Rienbeck was a business caller here Thursday in interest of his farm on which Justin Lowenberg resides.

Mrs. Ed. Hemenway and Mrs. Met Avery autoed to Corwith Wednesday to visit the former's friends, whom she became acquainted with while teaching there. Mrs. Avery also visited her niece, Mrs. Clapsaddle.

Mesdames F. C. Dominey, Houghton, Arthur Lowenberg and Phil Lowenberg attended the C. D. of A. Hallowe'en party at Garner Wednesday night.

The Junior Senior carnival held Friday evening was a decided success. Fine free attractions. orchestra and a good celebration were given. Mrs. E. J. Schneider received the lucky number for the 100 pound sack of sugar, Mrs. Halfpop the sack of flour, and Mrs. D. M. Conlan the 10 gallons gas. Lunch was served and and auction food sale. After expenses were paid $74.50 was netted.

Corwith high school team played ball here Friday and Goodell won by a score of 8 to 4. This makes the eighth game played by the local boys and they have been victorious in all.

The Camp Fire girls will give a program at the hall Saturday evening.

The program given at the church Sunday morning was very fine. The W. M. A. ladies and girls had charge of it. A collection was taken for missionary work.

Mesdames H. Christensen, Conklin, Wilson, Harve Christensen, accompanied by Mrs. Thorson and baby of Burt autoed to Clarion Thursday afternoon and visited Mrs. Will Lester who formerly lived here.

CHURCH NOTES

The U. B. Ladies Aid met Wednesday and Mrs. Robert McNutt was elected president, and Mrs. Cordes vice president. The next meeting of the aid will be Wednesday, Nov. 9th, with Mrs. Thada, Mrs. Conklin and Mrs. Wilson hostesses.

The W. M. A. will meet Friday at 2 p. m. at the church with Mrs. Harry Carpenter leader.

The Rosary Society will hold a supper and dance Tuesday, Nov. 8.

ALEXANDER NEWS NOTES

Mrs. Nels Larson was a Hampton visitor Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bell and children and Mrs. John Arends and sons Leonard, Bennie and Robert were guests at the John H. Leebrick home in Hampton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Klinefelter and children were Hamtpon callers Sunday afternoon.

George Ammerman and Miss Effie Dresher were Sunday visitors at the C. T. Christensen and Elmer Nelson homes in Goldfield.

Miss Gretchen Junger of Manly, came Friday for a week end visit with her friend, Miss Vernona Goettch at the Fred Greenfield home.

The services at the United church Sunday morning, conducted by Rev. Leinbach of Belmond, were much enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Earl Eason, formerly Miss Francis Slickerveer, of Lu Verne, was calling on old friends here Saturday.

Fred L. Greenfield and son Frederick were Hampton callers Friday evening.

Mrs. Harry Hardy and daughters, Virgie and Betty, and baby son Russel Gean of Hampton, spent the week end with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Leebrick of Hampton entertained at their home on Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Greenfield and son Frederick and the Misses Iva Crook and Vernona Goettch.

Mrs. Charlie Missman and children of Woden were Sunday visitors at the Louie Peters home.

Mrs. Clarence Smith and baby visited relatives in Hampton Friday

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Peters left Saturday for a two weeks visit with friends and relatives in Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Keislich, and daughter Blanche, and son Elmer, and Mr. and Mrs. George Harberts attended a reunion at the John Douglas home in Arden Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Coates and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cocklen of Sheffield were Sunday visitors at the Ed Richards home.

Mrs. B. Elsing and daughter, Minnie of Geneva, came Tuesday for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Jelto Pals and family. They returned home Friday.

Mrs. Carrie Osborn of Hampton visited at the home of her sister, Mrs. Otto Kieslich several days the past week.

Burton Bohlen drove a truck load of goods to Hampton Saturday for one of the Mexican families.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kalkwarf are the parents of a fine baby, born Oct. 26th.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Boldt of Holland were visitors at the Casper Peal home Sunday.

Mrs. Charlie Richards and Mrs. John Richards of Rowan were callers in town Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Fowler of Blairsburg came Wednesday for a few days visit at the A. E. Alfreds home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Burma and Mr. and Mrs. John Burma of Ackley, were visiting at the Jelto Pals home Sunday.

Misses Catharine and Freda Boldt of Holland were visiting at the Alice Suntken home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schulte Sr., and son John were visiting over Saturday and Sunday at the Fred Murphy home in Webb.

Will Root was a Thornton caller Saturday.

Mr.a nd Mrs. John Modderman and family were visiting at the Bert Hemmes home in Latimer. Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hemmes and family of Latimer were calling in town Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Allen of Cresent, and Mr. A. A. Berry of Clarinda were callers at the Oscar Hensell home Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Yaw of Iowa Falls were Sunday visitors at the John Bell home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Clark and sons Donald and Lyle were Hampton visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Frericks and son John left Monday morning for Castlewood, S. Dak., for a visit with Mrs. Frericks' parents.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stohl and family and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stork and family of Sheffield were visiting at the George Dunn home Sunday.

Misses Ruth and Alice Peters went to Vernon Center Thursday for several days visit at the Lucius Ashley home.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Peters and daughter Ruth, and Ellen Peck went to Hampton Wednesday evening to attend the movie "Ben-Hur."

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Engraham and daughter Ila. of Swaledale, and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ingraham of Rowan were visitors at the Joe Ingraham home Sunday.

Miss Imo Hall of Latimer visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hall Sunday.

Mrs. S. E. Buterbaugh of Dallas Center, left for her home Thursday after a two weeks visit with her son R. E. Buterbaugh and family.

C. W. Brenbaker returned to his home at Dallas Center the last of the week, after a two weeks visit with his daughter, Mrs. Roman Buterbaugh and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hall and daughters Imo and Margaret and son, George, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Green and daughter, Emmagene, were Sunday visitors at Iowa Falls and Hampton.

The A B C

of getting ahead

is to save—everybody will admit that. And the safest way to save is to put your dollars to work in an industry that always has paid its dividends regularly. ¶ You can buy Central West 7% Preferred over a period of ten months. Your money earning all the while. ¶ See any local employee for the complete details.

CENTRAL WEST PUBLIC SERVICE CO.
A Subsidiary of the McGraw Electric Company

CROSLEY RADIO

"You're there with a Crosley"

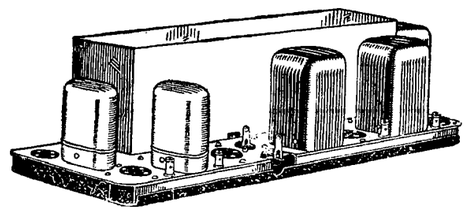
Super Musicone

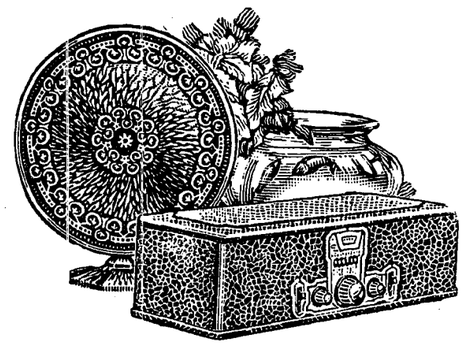
$12.75

CROSLEY
6 Tube
BANDBOX

It is only after many, many years of careful scientific research that the "Bandbox" is offered to the public. No other single model in broadcast receivers has received anything like this amount of devoted attention. But the results more than justify the tremendous effort.

The Crosley "Bandbox" receiver tells its own story, amazingly and convincingly. Small wonder a waiting radio world pronounces the "Bandbox", at the unprecedented price of $55, Crosley's paramount achievement. You owe it to yourself to see the "Bandbox" and listen to its remarkable performance.



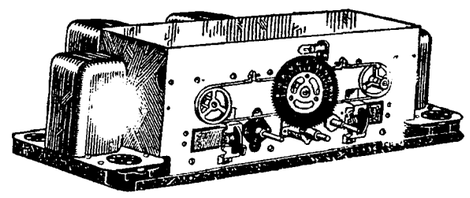


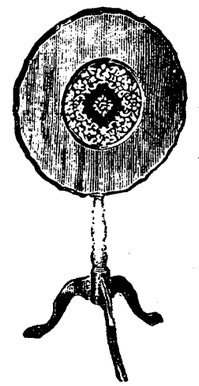
CROSLEY "BANDBOX", complete with super Musicone, five CX-301 A tubes, one UV 171 Power tube, three 45 volt Eveready or Burgess B batteries, one 100-Ampere storage A battery, one 22½ volt power tube, C battery, only ---- $109.00

1. Completely shielded coils, condensers and wiring. 2. Acuminators for sharper tuning. 3. Completely balanced genuine neutrodyne. 4. Volume control. 5. Single tuning knob. 6. Illuminated dial. 7. Single cable outside connections. 8. Designed for easy installation in consoles. 9. Beautiful frosted brown crystalline finished cabinet.

CROSLEY
6 Tube
BANDBOX

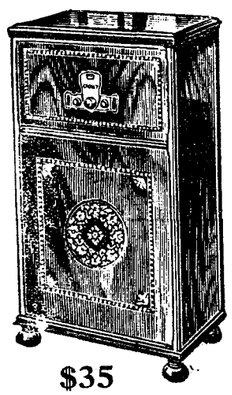
For years the Hanson Radio Shop has been a leader in offering its customers the finest and most remarkable values in its field. The unique design of the Crosley "Bandbox" marks it as a rare accomplishment. We recommend it as a triumph of radio art. Depend upon the facilities of our completely equipped radio department. Make it a point to come in and see the "Bandbox." We will be glad to demonstrate it at our store.





Improved Musicones

Above is the new tiltable Musicone which is a very distinctive model, giving a rich, deep tone at $27.50. Other models at lower prices. The new Crosley patented actuating unit (NOT the cone) is the secret. There is nothing else like it.



$35

Approved Console Cabinets

These beautiful walnut cabinets are perfect radio consoles. They have been approved by Powell Crosley, Jr., as ideal, acoustically and mechanically, for the installation of the Crosley "Bandbox." Installation is extremely simple for the metal cabinet is quickly removed and the receiver chassis placed in the cabinet to become a permanent part of the console. Genuine Musicones are built in There is ample room for power supply units.

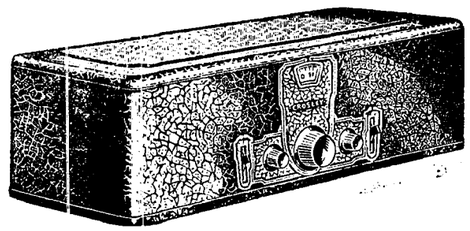
Complete with set and all equipment.

$131.25

CONSOLE
MODEL 400

For $30 additional, you can have Electric Socket Power equipment.

Here Is The "Bandbox"



For Only $55.00

Here is a 6 tube receiver of unmatched value. Many features of this set heretofore have been found only in the most expensive radio.

Now the great resources embodied in the engineering skill and patents of The Crosley Corporation—The Radio Corporation of America—The Westinghouse Company—The General Electric Company—The American Telephone and Telegraph Company—The Hazeltine Corporation and the Latour Corporation are at Crosley's command and Crosley presents to the world a supreme achievement in radio efficiency and an unprecedented value at $55.

HANSON RADIO SHOP

V. E. HANSON, Manager

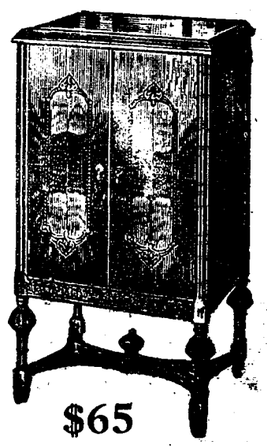
PHONE 101 or 74 — Across From Library — BELMOND, IOWA

A Handsome Cabinet

MODEL 405

Will harmonize with furnishings of any room. Cabinets are Burled Walnut, richly finished with carved decorations and are handsome, sturdy, authentically designed furniture.

EXPERT SERVICE IN REPAIRING AND REPLACEMENTS AT REASONABLE PRICES

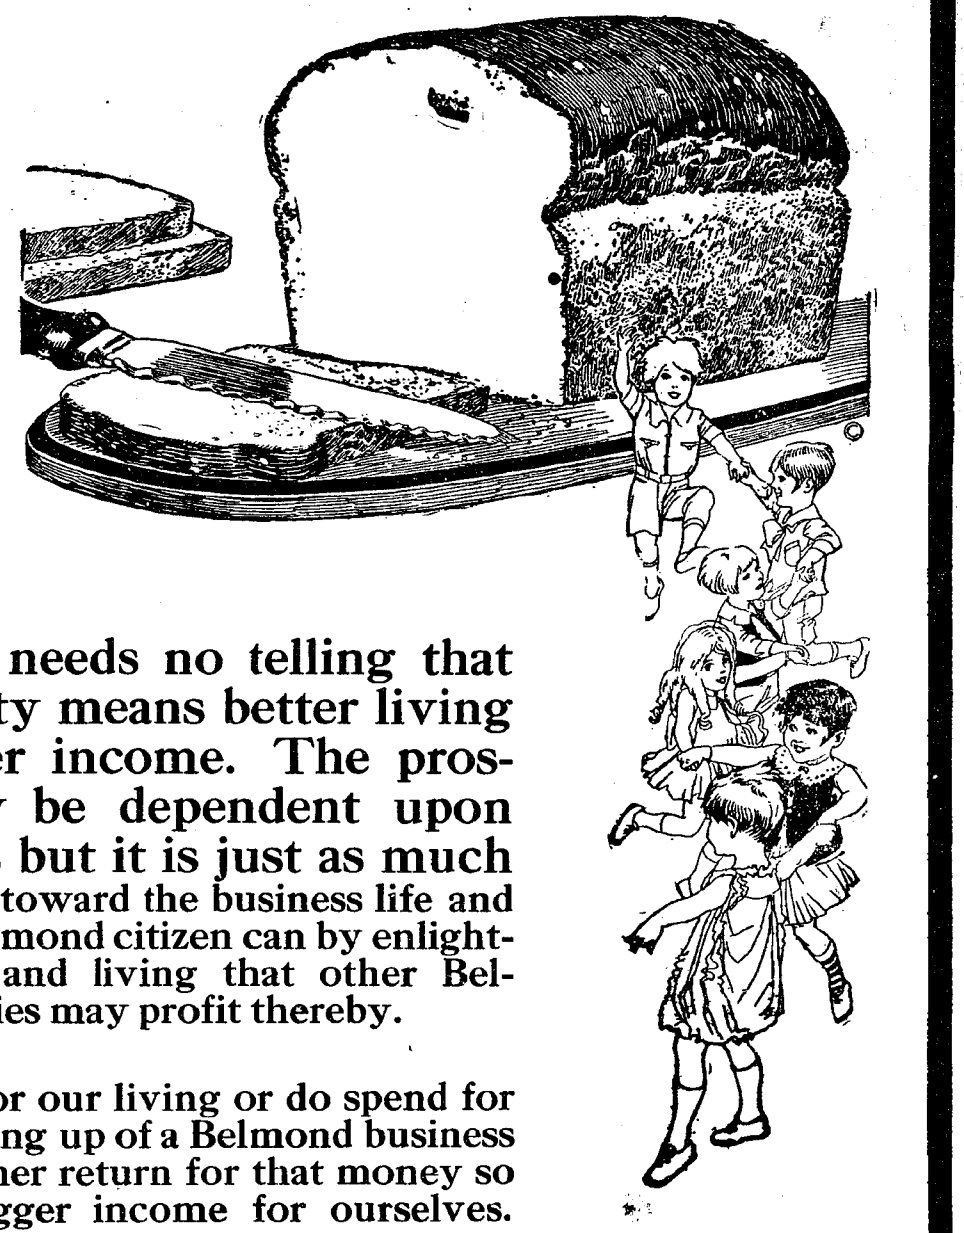


$65

Complete with set and all equipment.

$161.25

Prosperity For Belmond!



MOST everybody living in Belmond, needs no telling that prosperity and growth in this city means better living conditions for them and probably a better income. The prosperity and development of Belmond may be dependent upon general business and financial conditions but it is just as much dependent upon the attitude of the people generally toward the business life and institutions that go to make up the town. Every Belmond citizen can by enlightened selfishness, help himself by so ordering his life and living that other Belmond residents and not residents of other communities may profit thereby.

In other words if the money we must spend for our living or do spend for our pleasures and luxuries shall go toward the building up of a Belmond business and institution then we in the end will receive another return for that money so spent in a better and bigger town with better and bigger income for ourselves.

We the undersigned business and professional people of Belmond believeing that the development and growth of any local industry will eventually benefit us all, urge all Belmond people to buy only Belmond made products and insist on being served with such products. As an aid to that purpose each one of the undersigned will accept as cash, at 1-2c each, all wrappers from "BLUE RIBBON BREAD" made in a Belmond bakery, until public notice is given to the contrary.

Keep Your Money Working At Home

Buy "Blue Ribbon Bread"

---Save the Wrappers

Bring them to any business house listed below where they will be accepted as cash in payment for any account or purchase.

SCHULTZ DRUG CO.
CATO C. GRIESY
WALLACE RAMSAY
BELMOND FURNITURE CO.
H. J. KLEMME LUMBER. CO.
W. C. TYRRELL CO.
SMITH & SKOVLIN
C. J. PAPOUSEK
BELMOND VARIETY STORE
C. J. JOHNSON GARAGE
BELMOND STORAGE BATTERY CO.
JOHN ZOOK
A. F. WENZEL
H. R. AIGLEY
R. THOMPSON
DR. A. M. LARSON

HANSON RADIO SHOP
BELMOND AUTO CO.
DR. L. R. PARSONS
DR. R. L. NELSON
BELMOND CANDY KITCHEN
D. BISHOP
NORDSCHOW MOTOR CO.
THE HAT SHOPPE
E. E. BOUGHTON
G. F. McBURNEY
WRIGHT COUNTY FURNITURE CO.
BELMOND LUMBER CO.
DR. H. L. GOWDY
F. S. SHIPLEY
A. E. CHAMBERLIN
ADAMS PHARMACY

HUB MOTOR CO.
M. C. BARRY
SHELLER BARBER SHOP
F. J. TUFFREE
GEO. H. STEELE
BELMOND SAVINGS BANK
STATE BANK OF BELMOND
FOSS CLEANING SHOP
SCHULTZ JEWELRY CO.
JOHNSON & WRIGHT
GEO. BRADY
FOSS SHOE SHOP
F. P. DIBBLE
GREENLANDER LUMBER CO.
J. C. ATHERTON SHOE SHOP
JONES HARNESS CO.
ANDERSON HATCHERY

W. H. WOLLE, Real Estate & Insurance
BELMOND INDEPENDENT
FARMERS GRAIN CO.
COMMUNITY SERVICE STATION
FARMERS CREAMERY CO.
CENTRAL STATES ELECTRIC CO.
GEO. W. GOELZ
E. M. LATHROP
C. C. McGUIRE
ROY A. HENDERSON, ATTORNEY
DR. R. T. COE, VETERINARIAN
CENTRAL WEST PUBLIC SERVICE CO.
T. A. DAVENPORT
LYRIC THEATRE
M. J. THOE
H. T. BAILEY

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jennings attended a buttermaker's convention at Mason City, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bayliss and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Petersen were Clear Lake visitors, Sunday.

Romance of the early days in California, beautiful scenery, and costumes, in "Rose of the Golden West,' at the Lyric, Nov. 7 and 8.

Armour's Star Ham 25c a pound, Saturday at City Meat Market. Whole or half hams.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Gillef stopped at the M. D. Sullivan home one day last week. They were on their wedding trip to the Black Hills. Mrs. Gillef was formerly Lena Ripp and lived here with her parents. They are now living in Wanakee, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mennenga are the parents of a daughter born Tuesday, November 1.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wallace are the parents of a daughter, born Monday, Oct. 31.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Elder and children, and Amelia Greenlander motored to Waterloo, Sunday, to visit Mr. and Mrs. H. Hawk and family.

Mrs. Ellen Schultz, mother of Mrs. R. C. Morse, is quite ill with asthma.

Messr. Arthur and Frank Graves and Miss Alice Graves of Dows were recent guests at the Chris Kragh home.

A window display worth going some distance to see is that in the Belmond Auto Co. display windows. On the Hallowe'en order, the display is exceptionally attractive, particularly at night, and represents a large amount of labor in the arranging as well as considerable skill in planning.

Don't fail to see "Rose of the Golden West," the picture of the year, at the Lyric Theatre, Belmond, Nov. 7-8.

Get your free lunch Saturday at the City Market. Special sale on Armour's Star Ham at 25c a pound.

W. J. Bayliss, brother of Tom Bayliss, spent the first of the week here, returning to Omaha, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hedley Enger and daughter of Colorado Springs, Colo., arrived Tuesday by motor to visit old friends and relatives here.

Mrs. Frank Wolf and daughter of Des Moines are visiting Mrs. Wolf's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forristall.

Mrs. H. F. Peterson spent a few days in Des Moines, last week.

Miss Velva Sturdevant entertained 12 girl friends at a 6 o'clock dinner Monday evening, in honor of Miss Ruth Hill.

Mr. and Mr. H. F. Quick and family drove to Ames Saturday to attend the annual Homecoming and football game.

Special Sale, Armour's Star Hams, whole or halves. 25c a pound, at City Market, Saturday, Nov. 5.

Mary Astor and Gilbert Roland star in "Rose of the Golden West", a romance of early California days, at the Lyric, Nov. 7 and 8. One of the best pictures shown this year. prices 10c and 30c.

Morrow & Scott, the Belmond bakers of "Blue Ribbon Bread," report a material increase in the sale of their product since the page ad and endorsement by 65 Belmond business men appeared last week. The page appears again this week, so if you failed to keep the list of firms who will redeem "Blue Ribbon Bread" wrappers, you can cut it out this week. Every "Blue Ribbon" wrapper—or the wrapper from any bread made by Morrow & Scott, whether graham, potato or rye—will be accepted as one-half cent in trade or payment on account at any of the firms represented on the page. Save your wrappers and trade them in. The firms listed will be glad to have them.

The writer went to Ames, Saturday, to witness the Iowa State-Kansas Aggie football game. Through the courtesy and kindness of L. N. Metcalf, Director of Athletics at the State College, we were permitted to park our car on the field where we had an excellent view of the game, the parade, races and crowd. We wish to express our sincere appreciation to Mr. Metcalf and the college authorities.

"Blue Ribbon Bread" wrappers will be accepted at 5c each on every cap cleaned until Dec. 1 and at 2½ cents each on every suit or dress cleaned and pressed until Nov. 5.—Foss Cleaning Shop.

SUPPER AND BAZAAR

The ladies of the Congregational church will serve a chicken supper on Thursday, November 10th, from five o'clock until all are served. The bazaar opens at 10 a. m. Will those donating articles for sale please hand them in early in the week, Monday or Tuesday, if possible Leave with Mrs. Christie.

WARNING TO THE PUBLIC

Please take notice that neither of the undersigned companies has in the field a representative who is authorized to sell the stock of either one of these companies to anyone.
Community Service Station Company
Skelly Oil Company 493*

BELMOND MARKETS
(Subject to change.)

Hens	17c
Springs	18c
Roosters	08c
Ducks	12c
Geese	08c
Eggs	36c
Butterfat	43c
Creamery butter	50c
Oats	39c
Corn No. 3 yellow	68c
Barley	63c

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Home made cider vinegar. 5-gallon lots 25c a gallon; single gallons 30c.—John Baldridge. Phone 353. 512*

FOR SALE—Pure bred Duroc Jersey gilts, weight about 200.—Willis Knisley. 512*

FOR SALE — Spotted Poland China boar pigs, weighing from 150 to 225 lbs., cholera immune.—C. Edwin Johnson, Kanawha, 3 miles south, 1 3-4 miles west. 48-2

FOR SALE—Full blood Guernsey bull calf.—B. T. Benson, 6 miles west of Belmond.

FOR SALE—Duroc Jersey boars, big bone, with plenty of stretch. Fireworks breeding.—Geo. Thompson, 2 miles north and 3 east of Belmond. 504*

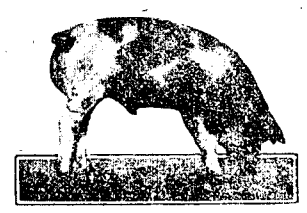
FOR SALE—White Wyandotte cockerels. $1.50.—Ed Holm. 512

FOR SALE—Heifer, to fresh this month.—D. H. Delaney. 1c

FOR SALE—Pure bred Poland China spring boars. Phone 3511.—Bert Meachem. 1*

FOR SALE—P. B. Chester White boars of the big stretchy type; also three fall boars. New blood lines for old cutsomers; cholera immune.—Erith Cook. Farm located 3 3-4 miles northwest of Kanawha, Rt. 2. 48-1

FOR SALE—A number of Spotted Poland May shoats, weighing 100 to 125 pounds each. Good, thrifty pigs. Cholera immune.—Roy Jenison. 50tf



FOR SALE—Big, husky spring boars. New blood for old customers. Cholera immune. Satisfaction guaranteed. Prices $30 and $35 for quick sale.—Roy Jenison. 51tf

FOR SALE—African ganders.—Mrs. George Kessler. Phone 2807. 502*

FOR SALE—Red Globe home onions. Phone 1920. 50tf

FOR SALE—Large white Leghorn cockerels, $1. Black and Spotted Poland boars, 200 lbs. $30, if taken at once. Ten head cows and heifers to freshen soon. All good stuff.—P. H. Pals, Meservey. 51tf

FOR SALE or RENT—Modern seven-room house, full basement, near creamery.—E. A. Pierce. 46tf

FOR SALE—Modern home. Want to sell this fall. Address L, care of Independent, Belmond Iowa. 484

FOR SALE — Spotted Poland Boars. Have a number of spring boars, weighing 175 to 250 pounds, also have two fall boars. Farm located 1 mile north, 2 miles west of Goodell. Gundvel Johnson. 496*

FOR SALE—Home-grown white potatoes, sound and ripe, $1.25 a bushel. Cabbage 2¼c lb,; Carrots 2¼c lb. Phone 285 or 115.—L. W. Gealow. 493

FOR SALE—Shropshire rams, the big quality kind, with dense fleece.—F. W. Drury, 1 mile west of Rowan. 502c

WANTED TO RENT—40 to 120 acres, for cash or grain.—Walter C. Brown, Story City, Iowa. R. F. D. 3. 502*

Poultry Wanted

We will call to buy your poultry and will pay you the highest market price. Poultry weighed and paid for at your place. Just call Geo. Coburn, Cornelia. Clarion phone 61-31. Belmond phone 3817. 47tf

FOR RENT—Six room house, partly modern, on Main street.—Mrs. Tom Tyrrell. 1*

LOST—Sunday, 6 head calves, weight 400 to 500 lbs each.—F. L. McAlpine. 1c

The
FOSS CLEANINGS HOP
Solicits your patronage in
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Located West of the Foss Shoe Shop
All Work Guaranteed
We will appreciate your Trial Offer
FOSS CLEANING SHOP
Louis Foss, Prop.
Phone 70 Belmond, Iowa

ROBINSONS
... STORE ...
BAKERY
GROCERY
Folgers coffee, 1 lb. 50c. 2½ lb. $1.15
Nash coffee, 3 pound can ---- $1.50
Bulk coffee 30c, 33c, 35c, 42c, 45c
Call and sample it.
Soap has advanced but we will sell 100 bars Quick Naptha soap $3.50
Bean Hole Beans, 2 cans ------ 25c
Van Camps Beans, medium cans 10c
Eagle Milk ---------- 23c
Peter Pan milk, 4 doz. cans ----$5.00
Bulk cocoa, 1 pound ---------- 10c
Buck wheat pancake flour 3½ lb. 25c
A B C pancake flour, 3½ lb. ---25c
Rob Ross pancake flour, 4 lb. --25c
We want your eggs. We have some storage eggs at 37c.
$5.00 in groceries and a small amount of cash gets you something good. Call.

Turkish Customs

IN Turkey, so they TELL us, a woman never KNOWS her husband
UNTIL she has married
HIM, but there are lots
OF wives right here in
THE Belmond community
WHO probably will tell
YOU that Turkey hasn't ANYTHING on the United STATES in that respect!
SOMETIMES she doesn't KNOW him until several YEARS afterwards—and
VICE versa, if you get
WHAT we mean—but
THERE'S this great
ADVANTAGE we have over
TURKEY—over there
THEY haven't drug
STORES like ours where
YOU can buy
SPECIALS for Friday
AND Saturday
TWO for the price of one
TWO boxes stationery 50c,
TWO Dewitts Shampoo, 50c,
TWO compacts $1.00,
TOOTH brush and tooth paste 50c,
TWO Velvetina cold cream 75c,
AND a lot of others,
NO room to mention.
AND where they give you
HONEST-to-goodness
SERVICE like we do here—
ISN'T that a fact?
P. S.—Surprise packages
FOR ladies and gentlemen
VALUES $1.50 to $4.50
FOR 89 cents.

Herman L. Schultz
SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

Lyric Theatre
...Geo. Hake, Manager...
SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS
FRIDAY and SATURDAY
NOVEMBER 4 and 5
"GUN GOSPEL"
First National picture with Hoot Gibson
"BATTER UP"
Educational comedy
10c and 25c
MONDAY, TUESDAY
NOVEMBER 7 and 8
"ROSE OF THE GOLDEN WEST"
First National production with Mary Astor and Gilbert Roland.
Romance of the time just prior to the annexaton of California by the United States when it appeared that Russia might seize the territory. Settings are the beautiful haciendas of the early west.
Fox News
10c and 30c
WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY
NOVEMBER 9 and 10
"THE LIFE OF RILEY"
First National picture with Charlie Murray, George Sidney. Irish-Jewish comedy. Much of the comedy is caused by the fact that both heroes are in love with the same woman, a widow.
"THE LAST LAP"
Collegian comedy
Prices 10c and 30c

Kinseth's Store News

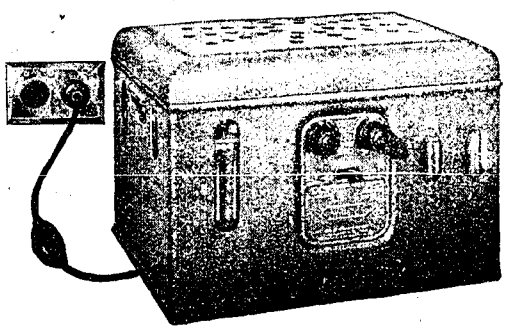
We've had a full portion of Indian Summer, and no complaint to make after that hard freeze Tuesday night. Cold weather is about due, and you want to look over our line of overshoes and rubbers before it arrirves. Some dandies for the ladies and children.

Better drop in and see the apples we just received, and which we are selling at saving prices in bushel lot this week. A bushel down cellar will furnish a healthful "piece" for the children.

Husking mittens and gloves. Farmers will be getting into the fields now picking corn. Get your supply of mittens and gloves here.

A very special bargain we are offering now, is a sale on children's shoes. We have a nice lot which we are closing out. Look them over; you'll find something for your boy or girl at real savings.

The Store on the Corner—Don't forget it



The Willard "A" and "B" Power Unit
Is the Premier of All Radio Power Units
It meets every demand. It is convenient, simple and efficient. Convenient, for its adaptability to your radio cabinet or any remote location. Simple, because it is controlled automatically by means of the switch on your radio set. Efficient, since it incorporates the best principles of engineering yet devised.
NOW ON DISPLAY AND READY FOR DEMONSTRATION AT THE WILLARD BATTERY STATION.
BELMOND STORAGE BATTERY CO.
Phone 46 J. W. Scott, Prop.

Reduced Prices
---ON--- HATS
HOSIERY
BLOOMERS
WE ALSO HANDLE COATS AND DRESSES
BOUTONNIERES
FANCY WORK
The Hat Shoppe
Belmond, Iowa

COME EARLY!
Nearly every Sunday we run out of chicken before all are served. If you have missed out before, come early next time and be sure of getting our Special Sunday Chicken Dinner.
We are now serving
OYSTER STEW
Piping hot, and with all the trimmings, at 30c. Try one.
And any time, try us for
MEALS LUNCHES
SHORT ORDERS
ICE CREAM CANDY
CIGARS TOBACCO
Look for the Red Light!
RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

SPECIAL HAM SALE!
Saturday, Nov. 5, Only
ARMOUR'S STAR HAM
Whole or Halves, at only
lb. 25c
FREE LUNCH
of Ham sandwiches and coffee served Saturday.
OTHER SPECIALS
BOILING MEAT, Lb.
13c
Delicious Home-Made Bacon, Lb.
32c
Watch for Our Specials Every Week!
Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning
City Meat Market
Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207. Belmond, Iowa

Bump Grocery Specials

TALL CAN SALMON, 1 CAN	19c
FRESH OYSTER CRACKERS, 1 LB.	19c
DRIED PEACHES, BEST GRADE, 1 LB.	20c
49 LB. SACK GOLDEN HARVEST FLOUR	$1.98
CHOICE NAVY BEANS, 4 LBS.	29c
LARGE PEARL RICE, 4 LBS.	29c
NICE SIZE RED ONIONS, 8 LBS.	25c
LITTLE JAP POP CORN, SHELLED AND CLEANED, 2 LBS.	25c

With every purchase of $2.00 we will give 16 pounds sugar for $1.00
THE BUMP GROCERY
PHONE 38 BELMOND, IOWA

Belmond Independent

ESTABLISHED 1919 AND HERALD-PRESS CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 8 BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1927. NO. 52

Legion And School Co-operating In Armistice Program

Sheriff Cress, Mason City, To Give Address At School Auditorium At 11 A. M.

To the Citizens of Belmond and comrades of the World war:

Tomorrow is Armistice day.

Nine years ago tomorrow the great world war came to a close and the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse galloped away into history leaving in their wake the most terrible scene of death and destruction ever seen by mortal man; leaving behind them white crosses row upon row, maimed and blinded men and countless hundreds for whom the war will never cease, but who must live the war over in mental anguish, thousands of widows and orphans and hundreds of thousands of mothers who will never cease to mourn for the boy who will never return.

The war is over, time and progress have helped to heal the wounds left in its wake, but shall we the living forget the sacrifice of our valiant dead, shall we in the stride and strife of modern progress forget our nation's heroes? God forbid! Tomorrow at eleven o'clock marks the ninth anniversary of the close of the World war. Let us at that hour pause in our several occupations and facing the east remain silent for a moment in respect of the heroes of the great war.

At eleven o'clock tomorrow there will be a program at the high school the first half hour of which will be given by the Literary Society, followed by an address by Sheriff Cress of Cerro Gordo county. Sheriff Cress is a comrade of the World war, an active Legionnaire and a firm believer in law enforcement. He will have a message well worth listening to.

I sincerely hope that tomorrow's program will find a goodly number the citizenry and the comrades in attendance.

My friends, let tomorrow be a day in which we can indeed keep alive the fires of freedom and pledge ourselves anew to the cause for which our friends and comrades died.

Comrades, let us pledge ourselves again in

THE SPIRIT OF ARMISTICE DAY
By Stephen R Hardwick

I've done my bit in the trenches,
I've had my fill of the same;
I've done my bit and I stand to quit,
And never take on again.
I've dug in the blasted trenches,
When the air with gas was full;
I've charged in those same old trenches
With France and Johnny Bull.
I've carried my pack along dirty roads,
Till it cut and drew my blood;
I've sweated and lay like a thing of clay,
In a sweltering swamp of mud.
I've followed the life of a soldier,
No chance to beat it or shirk;
The life of a soldier, believe me,
Is little but damn hard work.
I've followed the flag of my country
In khaki and plain O. D.
Over in France with the A. E. F.
And here in the land of the free.
Now I am back in the U. S. A.
And I'm glad to be here, I tell you;
But if my country needs me again,
They'll find me ready and true.
For I know when the bugle shall blow,
And I hear the revelle,
That my pulse will beat and my blood will heat
No matter where I may be.
For there'll be a tugging down inside
That only a soldier feels
To slave and sweat in the heat and wet,
Stand straight and click his heels.

Yours in service,
S. R. Hardwick,
Commander American Legion,
Eimbrink Post No. 35

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Girl Scouts will hold a food sale Saturday at Peterson's Meat Market. The sale will start at 10 o'clock and continue on during the day. The proceeds of this sale will help buy merit badges needed this year and for other troop expenses that will arise.

Next Monday evening, Nov. 14, the Girl Scouts will give a musical program as the entertainment for the meeting. All mothers and friends interested in scouting are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

—M. E. B.

AMES-MISSOURI GAME ARMISTICE DAY FEATURE

Ames, Iowa, Nov. 10. Special: The largest crowd that will attend a football game at Iowa State this year, and one of the largest for several seasons, will be on hand to witness the Iowa State-Missouri classic November 11, according to advance ticket sales. The game with the Tigers will not only be the big game of the conference, but will combine Armistice day, Dad's day and Boy Scout day at Iowa State. All scouts of Iowa will be invited as guests of the college. Special railroad rates of a round trip for the price of a one-day fare have been announced by Iowa railroads. A caravan of 250 Denison rooters will make the trip to watch a home town boy, Captain Walt Weiss, play.

The annual struggle between Iowa State and Missouri will mark the twenty-first meeting of the two schools. Their rivalry dates back to 1895. During this period Iowa State has won 9 games and the Tigers 8. Three games have ended in ties. Iowa State has scored 155 points to Missouri's 125. Last year Missouri won 7 to 3.

Five Belmond Women Called For Jury Duty

Petit Jurors To Report At Clarion For November Term December 5

The November term of district court will convene at Clarion Monday, Nov. 28th. Judge Thompson will preside. The same grand jury for the September term will meet on the opening day of the November term, the petit jurors reporting at 1:30 p. m. Dec. 5.

Following are the jurors drawn from this part of the county:

Belmond

Malinda Shurson, Sophia Thiltgen, Helen Tiara, Leona Reed, Emma Avery, Ole Scott, Ed Murphy, L. Sharp, M. H. Hanson, Otto Jacobson, M. C. Barry, L. H. Johnson, H. L. Bamford, Oren Hanson, W. F. Selleck.

Rowan

Maude Kercheval

Kanawha

Alice Christians, G. Osby.

MOTORIST MUST WATCH FOR TRAIN SAYS SUPREME COURT

A rule of conduct for automobilists and others who cross railroad tracks was laid down today by the Supreme court in a case appealed by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

In setting aside a judgment in favor of the estate of Nathan Goodman, killed at Whitefield, O., the court through Justice Holmes, declared that "when a man goes upon a railroad track he knows that he goes to a place where he will be killed if a train comes upon him before he is clear of the tracks. He knows that he must stop for the train not the train stop for him.

"In such circumstances, it seems to us that if a driver cannot be sure otherwise whether a train is dangerously near, he must stop and get out of his vehicle, although obviously he will not often be required to do more than to stop and look. It seems to us that if he relies upon not hearing the train or any signal and takes no further precaution, he does so at his own risk."

The court announced that it had laid down this rule of conduct for the control of all courts "once for all."—Chicago Tribune.

Eleven o'Clock

Belmond Plays At Dows Tomorrow In Armistice Game

Team Pointed For Hardest Battle Of Season; Lose To Forest City

Belmond high's football team goes to Dows, Friday, to meet the fast Dows team in an Armistice Day feature. The boys hope to give a good account of themselves.

The Forest City high school football team with lots of good breaks, easily defeated the Belmond team last Wednesday by a score of 25-6. Hall, Forest City halfback, looked best for the winners, scoring two of the Indians touchdowns. The other resulted from lucky breaks, followed by short drives by the Forest City backs, across Belmond's goal line.

A series of line plunges and off-tackle runs, with Rabe and McNulty carrying the ball, resulted in Belmond's lone touchdown, McNulty making a run of about 20 yards to cross the Forest City goal line.

On the defense H. Tomlinson looked good in the line by stopping many plays for no gain.

The Lineup:

L. E.—Kessler
L. T.—H. Tomlinson
L. G.—J. Tomlinson
Cen.—Pech
R. G. J. Baker
R. T.—R. Klemme
R. E.—H. Klemme
Q. B.—Peterson
L. H. B.—Rabe
R. H. B.—McNulty
F. B.—Johnson

Junior Goelz, George Fetrow, Amelia Greenlander, Mona Schmidt, Corinne Johnson, Jean Elder and Ruth Courson got 10 in their Arithmetic Drillbooks, which means they worked twenty problems in twenty-five minutes and got them all right.

Fourteen 8th grade pupils had a perfect spelling record this week.

The 9th grade is working on Hygiene stories and the best one will be printed in the paper so watch for it.

The next Junior High Assembly will be held Thursday at 2:30 and everyone is invited.

The 8th grade Hygiene class made blood experiments. They looked at the live blood through miscroscopes.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Wednesday at 11:55 the high school was called to the auditorium to have a pep meeting. They sang some of their school songs and the yell leader led in several yells.

The debate tryouts will be held Wednesday evening in the auditorium. Four out of the eight debators will be chosen to represent our school in later debates.

Division I of the Literary Society will give their program sponsored in part by the American Legion, Friday. Nov. 11th, at eleven o'clock.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Cooperative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of October 30 to November 5.

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
30	73	54	.07	Pt. cloudy
31	70	32	—	Pt. cloudy
1	57	33	.30	cloudy
2	51	26	—	Pt. cloudy
3	51	34	—	Clear
4	49	32	—	Pt. cloudy
5	39	22	—	Clear

Organize Company To Manufacture Hill Auto Awning

New Corporation Is Chartered By Secretary Of State Will Start Soon

W. C. Tyrrell, Jr., V. F. Mikesell, and G. H. Klemme have formed a corporation to manufacture the automobile awning invented and manufactured this past summer by A. W. Hill. The new company will be known as the Hill Manufacturing Co. Inc., and is capitalized at $15,000. Officers will be W. C. Tyrrell, Jr., president, V. F. Mikesell, secretary, and G. H. Klemme, treasurer. The three named constitute the board of directors.

The new corporation, whose place of business will be Belmond, have leased the awning rights from Mr. Hill, and plan to manufacture the article on a rather extensive scale. It is understood they plan a campaign of advertising later on, with the idea of building up a nation-wide business. New and improved machinery is planned, for quantity production.

Mr. Tyrrell and Mr. Mikesell left last week for Texas, where they expect to place a number of agencies. Mr. Mikesell will then go on to California to place agencies in that state.

Manufacturing of the awning will be in the Klemme cement plant, at the south edge of town, where the new machinery will be installed. A force of about 25 to 30 employees will likely be used.

Mr. Hill started making the "Work Rite" awning last spring, and his product met a need and found a market that kept him rushing all summer to fill orders. The new company has renamed the awning the "Premier," and will market it under that title.

HAUGE-MADSEN

Miss Mildred Hauge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Hauge, of Belmond, and Irving Madsen, son of Mrs. M. C. Madsen, of this place, were married at Mason City, Thursday evening, Nov. 3. The wedding took place at the Ralph Stanberry home, 915 North Deleware, at 5:30 p. m., the Rev. J. F. Boeye, pastor of the First Methodist church of Mason City performing the ceremony.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served.

Mrs. Madsen is office secretary of the Y. W. C. A. at Mason City. Mr. Madsen is connected with the Standard Oil Co. office there. Both young people were former Belmond residents, where they spent a large part of their life and where they attended the Belmond schools.

Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Hauge and the Misses Lucille, and Everill Hauge, of Belmond, Miss Ione Hauge, of Des Moines, and Mrs. G. H. Klemme of Belmond.

THREE TOWNSHIP MEETING IN BELMOND, NOV. 16

The first lesson in Nutrition, Fundamental Food Needs will be given for Pleasant, Belmond and Iowa townships at the M. F. Christie home in Belmond, Wednesday, Nov. 16, at 10 a. m. Ladies are requested to bring dishes, silverware and a covered dish.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Forest City Summit: In an effort to boost the home bakery. business men of Belmond have agreed to accept each bread wrapper at a valuation of one-half cent in trade. This is a good example of sticking together and such a spirit will help the town hold its own in spite of the loss of business due to the temporary closing of the sugar factory.

OCTOBER WEATHER

Temperature

Mean maximum, 67.0.
Mean minimum, 40.2.
Monthly average, 53.6.
Highest temperature for month, 85 on the 22nd and 26th.
Lowest temperature for month, 25 on the 14th.

Precipitation

Total for month, 1.38.
Greatest amount to fall in 24 hours, .78.
Number rainy days, 8.

Sky Conditions

No. clear days 14, partly cloudy 7, cloudy 10 days. Killing frost on the 14th.

Other Octobers

Monthly average Oct. 1927, 53.6
Normal October average, 50.6.
October 1927 3 degrees warmer than average October.
Highest temperature any Oct. (18 years record), 88, on Oct. 5, 1919, Oct. 8 and 10, 1920, Oct. 5, 1922,
Lowest temperature any Oct., 4 degrees below zero, Oct. 30, 1925.
Precipitation Oct. 1927, 1.38.
Normal Oct. precipitation 2.72.
Deficiency Oct. 1927, 1.34.
Greatest precipitation any Oct., 4.34, Oct. 1918.
Least precipitation any Oct., .62 Oct. 1923.
Greatest snowfall any Oct., 10.5 in. Oct. 1917.
Least snowfall any October, Trace Oct. 1910, 1912, 1918, 1922.
No snowfall in October 1914, 1915, 1920, 1921, 1924, 1927.
Killing frost in last 17 years have occured in Oct. 11 times.

H. F. Luick,

Few New Cases Filed For Trial In District Court

Past Week Mostly Minor Cases Brought In; One Divorce Case Filed

J. T. Jensen brings suit against Louis Scheppler to collect on three promissory notes aggregating $73.25 with interest, and on a personal check of the defendant for $8.25, payment of which it is alleged was refused. Same plaintiff brings suit also against Louis Scheppler and Mrs. Violet Scheppler on their promissory note for $400 with interest.

L. A. Andrews, receiver for Citizens State bank of Goldfield, asks personal judgment against Jessie S. and James McGowan for the sum of $10,541.04, with interest claimed as amount due on a promissory note given to said bank.

First National Bank of Clarion brings action against E. C. Sage and Katherine M. Sage for the sum of $160.00 and interest, amount unpaid on a promissory note past due.

Absolute divorce is sought by Mrs. Rachel Mathews from her husband William Mathews, and the custody of her minor daughter by a former marriage.

Maggie Braun, et al, vs. George Braun, Jr., et. al., is a suit brought to confirm the shares of both parties in the estate of George W. Braun, deceased.

Anna V. Kenefick alleges that she holds a promissory note made by C. J. and Blanche E. Larkin for the sum of $2000 and secured by real estate in Eagle Grove, which is due and payable and judgment is prayed.

A report has been received from Iowa City, sought following the death of George Chapman of Eagle Grove, from which information the county coroner has made his report that death came as a result of congestion of the lungs and a heart condition.—Monitor.

PLEASANT TOWNSHIP TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual business meeting for the election of officers of Pleasant, township Farm Bureau will be held at the center school house, Friday evening, Nov. 11. An interesting program will be given, and lunch served. Ladies are requested to bring sandwiches, cake or cookies. Everyone invited.

C. B. Johnson, One Of Pioneer Settlers, Dies Here Tuesday

Was For Many Years One Of Town's Leading Merchants: Funeral Services Friday

Christian Borreson Johnson was born at Ringsaker, Norway, Jan. 13, 1846, the youngest and the last of a family of seven children. At the time Christian was four years old, the family immigrated to the United States. Thirteen weeks were spent on the sail-boat in the journey over the ocean, and while on the ocean, as the ship entered St. Lawrence harbor, the father died, leaving the mother with her children to face the struggles of pioneer life in a new country. They settled first in Dane County, Wisconsin, and later in LaCrosse County. At 22 years of age Mr. Johnson sought his fortune in the west. While on this trip he purchased the north quarter section of his present farm, four miles northwest of Belmond, in the year 1868. On May 1st, 1869, he was united in marriage to Agnete Thompson at West Salem, Wis. Two weeks later they emigrated from Wisconsin to his farm at Hickory Grove, making the trip with oxen and covered wagon. On this farm they lived for 24 years.

In the spring of 1893 Mr. Johnson and family moved into the town of Belmond and conducted a General Merchandise store until in 1917 when he sold his business to his son Chester.

Mr. Johnson was one of the charter members of the Norwegian Lutheran congregation organized in the early 70's and continued as an active member thereof to the last.

Of Mr. Johnson it can truly be said that he was a "Grand Old Man." In his family, religious and business life, he was a man of principles, true to his convictions. He possessed the virtues of tolerance, and patience, when faced with opposition to his principles or adversities otherwise.

His end came Tuesday forenoon, Nov. 8, 1927. Age 81 years, 9 months and 26 days. Mourning his departure are his widow, and seven children, Anna (Mrs. H. C. Enger) of Colorado Springs, Colo., Theodore of Latimer, Iowa, Albert of Huxley, Iowa, Benton, Chester and the Misses Amanda and Julia of Belmond, eleven grand children and two great grand children. Two children died in infancy.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon, with a short service at the house at 1:30, and at Trinity church at 2 o'clock.

Burial will be in Franklin Grove cemetery.

NOTRE DAME PLAYS DRAKE AT DES MOINES, NOV. 19

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 10.—Football fans will have an oportunity to bid farewell to the Bulldogs for the 1927 season, and also to see the outstanding grid machine of the United States in action, when the Drake University eleven battles Notre Dame in the Drake bowl here, Nov. 19.

Coach Rockne and his Notre Dame team without question offer the greatest gridiron drawing card in the country. For the Minnesota and Army games, athletic authorities at Notre Dame have refunded more than $100,00 to fans who were unable to secure seats, while a crowd of 110,00 will see the Catholics battle the University of California team, from Berkeley, at Soldier's Field, in Chicago, Nov. 26.

That Iowa grid fans are equally anxious to see Notre Dame in action is evidenced by the heavy advance sale of tickets for the classic in the Drake bowl here, Nov. 19. Orders for seats have been received from every county in Iowa for this game, and it now appears certain that the 18,000 seats in the Drake stadium willl be sold. For that reason athletic authorities at Drake urge fans to send in their orders for reserved seat tickets immediately, to avoid possible disappointment at the last minute.

Last year, at South Bend, Drake held Notre Dame scoreless for three periods of that game. The Drake defense has exhibited wonderful strength in recent contests, particularly against Ames, which means that Coach Rockne's warriors will have a real battle on their hands when they clash with the Bulldogs.

Belmond Independent
AND [illegible]
Consolidated 19[illegible]
RAY RANKIN
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. (Paper stopped promptly)

ADVERTISING RATES
Display, per column inch ------25c
Locals, per line ------10c
Classified, per word ------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions; minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Editorials

Nine years ago tomorrow, at 11 o'clock, buglers sounded the "Cease Firing" call, and the greatest conflict in world history came to a close. The war was won. France had lost three million men, England had seen over a million of her youth go never to return, America mourned thousands of her young men, killed and wounded, every nation on both sides gazed upon her missing ranks, and no man knew the destruction that had ensued. Billions in money had been spent, property damage was beyond estimation, huge portions of land lie in desolation, shell torn and shattered nations were bankrupt. The peoples of the earth faced a world tremoling, weak, exhausted, broken. The war had been won.

That was nine years ago. Today, the world is at peace. Green grass, placed by a kindly nature, has covered the ground where shattered bits of bone and flesh once lay scattered about, intermingled with parts of broken rifles, crushed helmets and the chaos of destruction. Vines twine over the shattered stumps of once fine trees. New little cottages have sprung up where an old home used to be. A carpet of green covers the banks of the trenches, between whose walls human beings existed like the cave men of prehistoric ages, in mud and slime and filth, seeking the opportunity to kill a fellow human being because they were at war, and it was the survival of the fittest. Nations are bowed with the burden of debt from the great war they won, or lost. And under the surface of this dearly won peace, there runs a current of unrest and fear. Secretly another war is being prepared for, a war, which, if it comes, will demoralize the world, and break into bits the civilization and democracy for which the last great conflict was fought.

Have all the sacrifices, all the suffering, all the misery through which our service men and women went through in the world war been in vain? The question of who won the war is beside the point. The question appears to be, was the war won? We cannot give too much honor and respect to our soldier dead, or our men and women who returned. They offered all, even unto life itself. They sacrificed as we who remained at home cannot realize. They are the nation's heroes, deserving of every honor in our power to bestow. It is fitting and just that we should pause at 11 o'clock Armistice Day and, with faces to the East, remember. "Lest we forget?" No, we will not forget. Time heals, but the memoory remains. All honor to the men and women of America in the great war. But while we remember, while we pay our respect, let us remember too that modern war is a ghastly hell, demoralizing, degrading, destructive, a relic of barberism with no place in an enlightened civilization.

NOTICE OF PROOF OF WILL

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

In the Estate of Mrs. H. C. Madison Deceased.

You are hereby notified that on the 27th day of October, 1927, there was filed with and opened by the undersigned Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, in and for Wright county, a Written instrument purporting to be the LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT of Mrs. H. C. Madison, late of said County, Deceased.

You are further notified that the 29th day of November, 1927, at 1:30 o'clock P. M. of said day, has been set as the day for the final hearing and proof of said Will (the same being the second day of the next term of said District Court) at which time any person interested can appear and show cause why same should not be admitted to probate.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court at my ofice in Clarion in said County, this 27th day of October A. D. 1927.

R. V. Goslin,
Clerk District Court

51[illegible]

FREE AIR.

So many folks inquired why there wasn't any Air last week that we've concluded to give the reason. We really didn't know this colyum was so popular, so noted—or perhaps notorious, often there isn't much difference between the two—but it seems like we'll lose half our list if we don't take care of these occasional punchures, as it were.

* * * *

You know, pumping up this colyum every issue is a tuff proposition. Sometimes it isn't at all difficult, material is plentiful and easily worked up, then again it puts wrinkles on our brow and loosens a few more hairs on our head. We're going to be bald headed before long as it is.

* * * *

Perhaps that will be an advantage, being bald headed. It will give dignity, don't you know, something every first class editor should have. We lack a number of things to be a first class editor, but chief among them is Dignity. It just ain't natural to us as a rule.

* * * *

Take W. E. Danials, now, the gentleman representing the telephone company's securities department. He's full of dignity, it oozes from him. It's natural with him. If only he wouldn't go clattering around the peaceful countryside in that decrepit, battered-up Rip Van Winkle Studebaker he calls an automobile. When he's in that creaking, limping grandfather of a car, which should have retired on a pension before Cleveland was president, it places a terrible strain on his dignity.

* * * *

Sometimes, tho, a person acquires dignity with added years or acquired honors. Look at Geo. Goelz, for instance. Since the new barber law went into effect, and he is no longer a plain whisker mower but has taken the examination and received the degree of D. B. (Doctor of Bobbing) he has become so dignified he won't go near a potato patch.

* * * *

Or look at Jack Dempsey, since he became Night Chief of Police. Why, he kept his head so high at first that when he made the rounds at night he stumbled at every corner.

* * * *

But it's a good thing for a night watch to have, Dignity. He needs it, it's one of his most essential qualities to properly fill the position. A lot of folks think that all a night watch has to do is watch around at night. That's only one of them, and really, it's only one of minor consideration in the work. A good nightwatch, such as Belmond has, must not only have good eye sight, but he must also have dignity combined with diplomacy.

Especially diplomacy. Really more than dignity, in our opinion.

Now Jack has good eyesight—he's a good nightwatch—and he has dignity, but we're a little bit afraid he lacks in diplomacy. After a recent episode in the night life of our thriving metropolis we figured there was going to be a rush of applications for Jack's job, and the Air was neglected while we endeavored to get our application in first.

* * * *

Might as well have saved the effort, however: there were 67 applications filed before we got there.

BELMOND CHURCH NOTES

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor
Telephone Call, 150

Sunday, November 13.

Sunday School and Bible classes will meet at 10 a. m.

English services will be held at 11 a. m. Theme: "How to Deal With an Erring Brother." Matt. 18:15-22.

Monday, November 14, the Catechetical class A will meet immediately after school.

Thursday, November 17. Prayer meeting will be held at 8 p. m.

Saturday, November 19. Trinity Ladies Aid annual Bazaar and Chicken Supper will be held in the church parlors. Read advertisement in next week's issue.

Today, Thursday, is the day of the annual bazaar and supper. The bazaar is held from ten o'clock on, and the supper begins at five o'clock continuing until all are served.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Sunday, November 13.

Sunday School and Bible classes will meet at 10:30.

The Luther League will meet at 7:30. A [illegible] from [illegible] promised to be with us [illegible] be given immediately following the League. Theme, "The Riches [illegible] Rom. 11:25-36.

CONGREGATIONAL
B. B. Wright, Minister

Morning worship and Sunday School will be at the usual hours next Lord's Day. The time spent at these times is not too much to use in the house of worship on each Sunday. The young people will meet in the evening at seven thirty.

METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. J. F. Snyder, Pastor

Services as follows for the Lord's Day, Nov. 13th:

Sunday School at 10 a. m. You will always find a welcome in our school.

Divine worship and sermon at 11 a. m. This is observed as National Educational Week, each day is a complete program in itself. Sunday, Nov. 13, is designated as "For God and the Country" day. Pastors are requested to cooperate in this movement. Therefore at the 11 o'clock period the pastor will speak on a subject in keeping with the spirit of the movement.

Epworth League at 6:30. Joe [illegible] leader.

Evening worship and gospel message at 7:30. Subject of sermon, "The Secret of our Asking."

[illegible] are cordially invited to all of [illegible] services.

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN CHURCH
[illegible] G. Langholz, Pastor

Second Sunday after Trinity

Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. We look forward to a good attendance.

Services at 10:45 the German language. We preach Christ and Him crucified.

Services at 7:30 in the English language. You are cordially invited to worship with us.

God desires your salvation.

WHAT MAKES IT THUNDER

[illegible] any one else [illegible] seriously blamed for side [illegible] the question, but [illegible] have [illegible] settles the window [illegible] the [illegible] the question [illegible] from multitudes of young lips. The United States Weather Bureau has full information about all these things and this is what they say about Thunder.

In active "thunder-head" clouds the upward currents of air are so strong that they keep raindrops from

(Continued On Page 4

THE "YANKEE" LOAF

A new, improved loaf of bread, sweeter, richer, is now being featured by the Belmond Bakery. A better bread than "Blue Ribbon" with better toasting qualities. Ask your grocer for it, or, if he can't supply you, get it at our shop.

Try A Loaf of "YANKEE"—You'll Like It

MORROW & SCOTT
BELMOND'S BAKERS

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

The death of Rev. E. H. Thorman, pastor of the German Reformed church, northeast of Belmond, occured last Saturday.

A deal was consummated last week whereby Floyd Dibble purchased the Kimmel dray line and tquipment.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Rule and baby of Buffalo Center spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rule.

Mrs. F. A. Stevens returned last week from her New York visit.

The new cash meat market will have a big opening day this week Saturday.

The daily papers of yesterday contained the announcement of the first casualties among the American troops now in French trenches, three dead, five wounded and twelve missing, Merle Hay of Glidden being one of the dead.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Miss Hattie M. Kenefick, a former Belmond girl, daughter of J. T. Kenefick, of Chicago, was recently admitted to practice law in the state of Illinois.

The Belmond football team has at last won a game. Garner came down here last Saturday and were scalped to the tune of 17 to 0.

Misses Laura Pritchard and Daisy Cameron were guests at the home of Walt Bloom and wife of Klemme last Tuesday.

W. E. Entriken will hold a sale at his farm near Cornelia next Thursday.

G. F. Groh and Henry Groh from Wisconsin were here this week, attending the funeral of their mother.

G. S. Smock of Dubuque is the new funeral director at the Belmond Furniture Company store.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

A coal war is raging among the dealers at Hampton, $3.50 per ton last week.

For the past few weeks Dite Packard has been trapping near Twin Lakes, in Hancock county. He has succeeded in catching upward of 400 muskrats.

As a "tramp," Ben Entriken of this place, is a success. Last week he walked from here to Hampton and Aplington in the mud and snow, leading a cow the entire distance. On getting home and making investigations, both heels were found barked, his toes blistered, and both legs "spavined."

Frank Christie, of Hickory Grove, threshed out 125 bushels of grass seed. He marketed it at $1.37½ per bushel. Whiting Bros. threshed over 200 bushel.

Monday ushered in a number one blizzard.

1,000 POUNDS OF BEEF!

We will have a shipment of 1,000 pounds of

FRESH, PRIME BEEF

which we are going to offer at amazing bargain prices

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 12, ONLY!

Don't fail to take advantage of this big money-saver and get your supply at the following bargain prices:

ROAST BEEF, lb. . . . 16c
BOILING BEEF RIBS, lb. 13c
SPARE RIBS, lb. . . . 17c

Probably we will not be able to offer you these bargain prices again this winter, as they are possible only because we were able to make a wonderful buy in thousand pound lots. Order what you want early, or phone your order now and we will reserve it for you.

CITY MEAT MARKET
PHONE 207 NISSEN BROS., Props. BELMOND, IOWA

The Splinters
"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2. Thursday, November 10, 1927 No. 30

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

Every year, along about this time, we meet the man who says he actually prefers chicken to turkey.

She used to be satisfied with a dozen nice handkerchiefs for Christmas. Now she wants a four-door sedan.

There's hardly anybody willing to work for what they're worth.

Just received a car of hard coal for magazine stoves. Phone us your orders.

Andrew Pals moved into the new home built by his father, D. D. Pals on the old Abe Smith farm. This is a very attractive home for any farm. Ben Hogenson built the house, and we know it was well done.

Remember we have the small size egg coal for kitchen range. None better.

"Mamma, didn't the missionary say that cannibals did wear any clothes?"

"Yes, sonny."

"Then why did Dad put a button in the collection plate?"

If a man's a failure, he blames the town. If he is a success, he takes the credit himself.

Drunk.—"Shay, where does Tom Maloney live?"

Friend.—"Why you're Tom Maloney, yourself."

Drunk.—"I know it but where does he live?"

She.—"What ave you got in the shape of bandnas today?"

Street Merchant—"Cucumbers, lady."

A Montana grocery store advertised as follows: "Apples, oranges, imported nuts, fruit cake. Come in now and avoid the rush. The early bird gets the worm."

ARMISTICE DAY

TOMORROW marks the ninth anniversary of the close of the great war. It is fitting that at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, we should pause and, turning our faces to the East, pay tribute to the men and women of America who volunteered all in the service of their country.

In observance of the ninth anniversary of the Armistice, this Bank will remain closed all day, November 11.

STATE BANK OF BELMOND
BELMOND IOWA

AGRICULTURAL NEWS NOTES

GIVE FALL PIGS GOOD START

Sunshine, dry quarters, plenty of warm feeding and plenty of water before them at all times are some of the more important factors in producing 300 pound pigs of the fall farrow by Dec. 1.

John M. Evvard and C. C. Culbertson, chief and assistant chief in animal investigations at the Iowa Agricultural Experiment Station, Ames, believe that these principles when applied to fall pigs of good ancestry will aid greatly in making the "porkers" ready for the early spring market.

Pigs farrowed between Aug. 20, and Sept. 20 have proved most successful in experiments conducted at Ames. This season the sows may farrow in the clean pastures where there is small chance of infection. Also, the pigs that arrive that early in the season should have a good start before the rigors of winter commence.

Another point which is stressed by Mr. Evvard and Mr. Culberttson is ample protection against the [illegible] They recommend treatment with protective serum and potent virus at weaning time or shortly before.

If the feeder can be placed in a protected place outside it is more desirable than an inside location. If it is impossible to keep the snow from lodging in the troughs, the feeder had better be inside of the building.

To keep the pigs coming and thus have them in shape for the high spots of the spring market, an eagle eye must be trained on the pigs during the entire winter, according to Evvard and Culbertson. Those who have charge of the pigs must keep them free from worms and lice to attain the best results.

DRY ROT FOLLOWS WET SPELL

Excessively damp weather during the past three weeks has made the seed corn selection still more of a problem for Iowa State farmers, R. H. Porter, extension plant pathologist of Iowa State College, says that dry rot is harassing many Iowa corn fields and that the wet weather has helped encourage it.

Corn that already has been selected and dried on the storage place without attention during also may become infected, even tho it may have been healthy when picked, according to Mr. Porter. To avoid this the seed corn should be dried with heat as soon as possible after gathering and then should be stored in a dry place.

Storage places suggested by Mr. Porter are brooder houses and farrowing houses that are not in use. He also suggests the kitchen in the farm house, provided sufficient ventilation is available.

With the corn that has been thoroughly dried before storing, there is no danger from poor seed because of dry rots or freezing, according to plant specialists.

MUCH BUTTER, MEAT AND LARD

More butter, meat and lard were in cold storage on Oct. 1 this year than a year ago on the same date, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. However storage holdings of apples, poultry, eggs and cheese were smaller than they were last year.

CHICAGO STOCK SHOW TO CLIMAX EVENTS

Improved agricultural conditions which have made this a record year for the local and state fairs, are expected to result in a great outpouring of stockmen and farmers and the products of their skill at the 28th anniversary celebration of the International Live Stock Exposition in Chicago from Nov. 28th to Dec. 3rd. The spirit of the Thanksgiving season, aroused by the wonderful display of the bounties of nature, will be the keynote of the gathering, according to Secretary Manager B. H. Heide.

Over 11,000 of the finest beef cattle, horses, sheep and swine and 5,000 of the choicest samples of 22 crops of grain, small seeds and hay will take part in a thousand different contests for the highest honors of our basic industry. These animals will include the outstanding individuals of over 40 breeds of live stock which have proven the sensation of the recent fair circuits of the United States and Canada and others which are being fitted solely for the show-ring of the International.

Walter Biggin of Dalbeattie, Scotland, is coming across the Atlantic to judge the individual fat bullocks and select the grand champion of the show, while Lieutenant Arthur Caddy of Australia will make the official awards in the Red Polled breeding classes. Canada as usual, will send strong entries to compete in many of the contests and this year New South Wales will be represented for the first time in the Grain & Hay show. Practically every state in the Union will take part in the various activities of the Exposition.

Attractive educational displays covering a wide range of timely subjects will be staged by the United States Department of Agriculture and the state experiment stations. Inspection of the exhibits in the Meat Shows, National Boys' and Girls' Club Congress, individual and carload show and attendance at the numerous contests, student judging competitions and auctions will fill each day's crowded program which will be brought to a fitting close by a brilliant night horse show and entertainment in the arena.

Reduced railroad fares will be in effect on all railroads entering Chicago and over 40 national farm organizations will take this opportunity to hold their meetings in connection with the International, Chicago, the agricultural capitol of the world will be the mecca of the live stock and farming industries the week following Thanksgving.

FAYETTE'S AGENT WINS CONTEST

Because he was able to produce the best balanced record in promoting alfalfa growing in his county during the past year, B. W. Lodwick, county agent in Fayette County, last week was declared the winner of a state-wide contest among county agents and will receive a free four-day trip to the International Live-stock Exposition, Chicago, in Nov.

Sixteen county agents submitted reports on their activities with alfalfa. Others given high ratings by the judges were: John Bliss, Ringgold county; J. L. Uban, Black Hawk; Paul B. Barger, Madison; W. E. Geiger, Poweshiek; W. B. Hamilton, Franklin; E. J. Mildenstein, Buena Vista; and Z. R. Mills, Tama. Judges of the contest were R. K. Bliss, director of extension; Paul C. Taff, assistant director, and F. G. Churchill, farm crops extension specialist.

The points in Mr. Lodwick's report which helped him to win, according to the judges, were the following: he showed that alfalfa acreage in the county had increased five times during the past year; he held 23 regular meetings where alfalfa alone was considered and these were attended by 2,700 persons; he organized a boys' alfalfa club in which 25 juniors enrolled and each seeded an acre or more of the crop; 77 farmers in Fayette County grew alfalfa this year for the first time; a well planned alfalfa variety test was conducted on the county farm.

PAINTED FURNITURE POPULAR

With painted furniture as popular as it is nowadays, people who like to handle a paint brush will not be at a loss for something to aint, for early every home has some piece of furniture that can be improved by a coat or two of paint and there is lots of fun to be had in applying it.

To make a perfect job of an varnished piece of furniture, suggest home furnishings extension specialists at Iowa State College, every bit of varnish should first be removed by scraping with a knife blade, piece of glass, steel or sandpaper. Care must be taken not to mar the wood. Commercial varnish removers are also satisfactory. Painting may be done without removing the varnish, but does not give quite as good results. If the varnish is not removed, it must be absolutely clean and all loose or rough portions smoothed with fine sandpaper or steel wool.

For the first coat, whether the wood is clean or is still varnished, the flat no-gloss house paint should be used. If there is a dark surface to be covered by a light paint, two coats of flat paint will probably be needed. When the flat paint is thoroughly dry, add a coat of enamel paint of the color desired. Work rapidly, using as few brush strokes as possible. The paint must be stirred until every bit of sediment is removed before painting. Strain the paint if the sediment persists. Paint from a separate receptacle, thus keeping the paint in the can clean.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Belmond, Iowa, Nov. 7, 1927.

Council met in regular session in town hall, members all present and Mayor Russell presiding.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

Clerk's monthly financial statement received and read.

Compensation Insurance policy of the Fidelity and Casualty Company of New York was received and approved.

Moved and carried that the petition of Mrs. Mary Cole asking for the suspension of taxes on lots 3 and 4, Block 5, Bartholomew's Ind. Add. to Belmond, Iowa, be hereby approved.

Moved and carried that the Clerk be hereby instructed to purchase two traffic signs as per catalogue No. 41 of W. S. Darley & Co., Chicago, Ill., sign No. 271.

The following bills were audited and allowed:

F. Stary & Sons, Crossing plates	$ 76.44
F. P. Dibble, Draying and freight	6.74
C. Schmelz, Wood work	2.00
Central West Public Service Co., Tel. and tolls	7.90
Harold Kierson, Labor digging	2.00
H. J. Klemme-Lbr. Co. Mdse	185.32
Walter W. Goetz, Kerosene	.26
Ray T. Brewer, Lunches	1.60
J. W. Scott, Mdse. and labor	24.50
Belmond Independent, ptg.	1.47
Roy Henderson, Atty. fees	5.00
Central States Electric Co.
Oct. lights and power	217.15
Wm. Jenkins, Labor digging	6.00
Archie Galloway, Grading	2.00
Bruce Waddington, Hauling gravel	185.00

On motion and second council adjourned.

Guy Byers, Clerk.

PRIMARY ROAD TRAFFIC HAS RIGHT OF WAY—STOP SIGNS SOON ON SIDE ROADS

Iowa primary road traffic has the right of way over side road traffic.

Stop and slow signs have been ordered by the state Highway Commission and will be placed within the next few weeks on all highway crossings where county and township roads intersect the primary system.

The fact that primary traffic has the right of way over side road traffic cannot be called to attention too often. The last legislature made the primary roads arterial highways and instructed the state Highway Commission to erect signs on the side roads giving instructions as to whether side road traffic at that particular intersection should stop or be warned merely to go slow. Maintenance engineers made a study of every cross road on the primary system, established it as a stop or slow crossing according to the danger to traffic at that particular point, visability and amount of traffic being the chief consideration. Stop signs were ordered totaling 4,231 and slow signs totaling 8,010. Posts for these signs have been received for about one-half of the counties and are already placed. None of the stop and slow signs have yet been received but they are promised from the manufacturer within the next few weeks and their placing will require but a few days time.

Stop signs will be octagonal in shape and twenty-four inches across. Slow signs will be diamond shape and the longest dimension will be twenty inches.

The work of putting up several thousand signs is progressing rapidly and by the time this issue of the Service Bulletin is in the hands of the readers the work should be completed. The direction signs are arrow-shaped with the name of the town and the distance on black on a white background. These have been placed on primary and inter-city sections.

Speed limit signs for [illegible] towns have been ordered and it is expected that they will be received and erected in every city or town which has or will pass the necessary ordinances establishing authorized speed zones. The last legislature authorized cities and towns to establish three speed zones for motor vehicles within the town or city limits. The first is known as a suburban district in which the speed limit may be the same as on the primary road outside the city or town. The second is a residence district zone in which the maximum speed of any vehicle may be twenty-five miles per hour and the third a business district zone in which the maximum speed is placed at fifteen miles per hour. The legislature required the Highway Commission to furnish and erect signs marking these districts on every primary road extension within such cities or towns as have passed the required speed ordinances. The Maintenance Department has requested every town and city on the primary road system to provide the information and necessary ordinances. As fast as these signs are received from the manufacturer they will be put in place. It is expected that this work will be done before the end of the present season. — State Highway Service Bulletin.

FRIEND C. BRAS

Tests Eyes Fits Glasses

Service Guaranteed

SOUTH OF COURT HOUSE

CLARION, IOWA

1-128

We Want Your Poultry

And we will pay you the very highest market price for it. Before you sell, see us or call us and let us make you a price—you'll find it is dollars in your pocket. If you haven't time to bring your poultry in, or haven't a way to do it, remember we furnish you

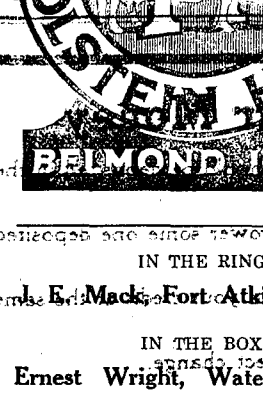
TRUCK SERVICE.

We'll call at your place, load your birds, haul them to town, give you honest, full weights, and send you a check promptly at the highest market prices. We want your poultry, and we'll do anything fair and square to get it. Give us a trial!

Farmers Grain Company

PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!

BELMOND, IOWA



Complete Dispersal

of a Wonderful Herd

50 Registered Holsteins

Monday, November 14th

10:30 a. m.

Get your foundation stock here.

Headed by Hauge, K. P. O. P. 29th

is one of the outstanding, show ring winning sons of P. O. P. The highest bidder gets him.

Production and quality combined. Herd fully accredited.

42 Females--8 Bulls

Complete line of farm machinery including Hindman Milker, Dandinger Hammer Mill, John Deere Power Corn Sheller, Fordson Feed Grinder, etc.

IN THE RING

J. E. Mack, Fort Atkinson, Wis.

Autos leave Hotel Gase, Belmond, for farm every hour beginning 9:00 o'clock a. m.

IN THE BOX

Ernest Wright, Waterloo, Iowa

Iowa Holstein Breeders Association

Sales Manager

Farm Machinery, Etc.

1 beet drill
1 hay rack
1 hay loader
1 speed jack
1 5-sec. drag
1 3-sec. drag
1 4-wheel trailer
1 Tower cultivator
1 hard coal burner
1 McCormick mower
1 John Deere 7-ft. disc
1 18-in. pulley for [illegible] mill
1 John Deere endgate feeder
20 chicken coops, galvanized
[illegible] brooder, incubator
1 Fairbanks-Morse [illegible] grinder & burr
1 Hayes corn planter, with 70 rods of wire
1 soy bean attachment for Hayes planter

4 Head of Horses—4

1 suckling colt
1 gray gelding, [illegible] 12 and 13 yrs old
Bay team [illegible]

Colony Hog House for six hogs

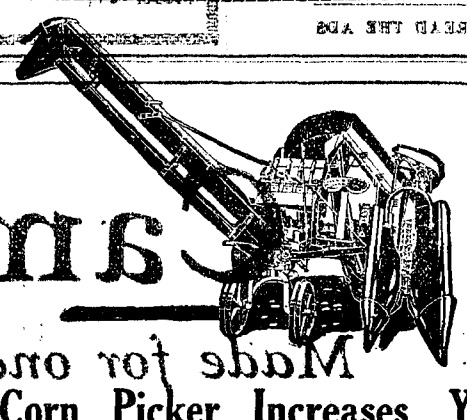
TERMS Cash or make arrangements with your banker.

Lunch Served At Noon by St. Olaf Ladies Aid

LEWIS HAUGE, Auctioneer

E. G. HAUGE

VARLAND, Clerk.



A Corn Picker Increases Your Husking Capacity Six to Ten Times

Add the extra cost of hand husking to your profits be rid of worry at husking time forever. Owners tell us that a corn picker will pay for itself in two years with what it saves.

A Corn Picker Will Solve Your Help Problems

Will out-pick six men.

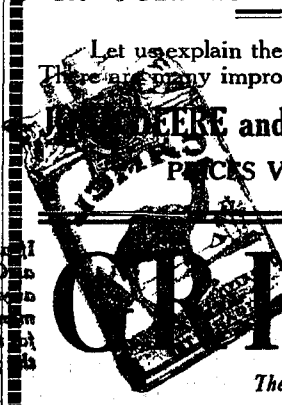
Will do cleaner work than hand huskers.

Will get your husking done on time.

Let us explain the merits of the new 1927 Models. There are many improvements on both the

JOHN DEERE and McCORMICK-DEERING

PRICES VERY REASONABLE



GRESY'S

The Friendly Place

PHONE 10

BELMOND, IOWA

MESERVEY SECTION

REFORMED CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:30.
Morning worship at 10:30. (German).
Young people meeting at 7:30.
Evening preaching at 8:00.
Choir practice Thursday evening at 8:00.

The Ladies Aid met last Thursday at the usual time. Mrs. Harm J. Groen served refreshments. The Aid gladly accepts orders for tying comforters at 75c a piece. Leave orders with any of the members or at the stores.

The Catechetical classes will not meet next Saturday, but will meet again, November 20th.

All are welcome to attend these services.

H. annkuk, Pastor

Birthday Party

Last Saturday evening relatives of Mrs. Jake Koenen helped her celebrate her birthday by calling at their home and spent the time in a pleasant manner. Refreshments were served.

W. M. S. Rally and Little Herald Party

A goodly number of W. M. S. mothers and children attended the Fall Rally and Little Herald party at the Evangelical church parlors last Thursday afternoon from 2 to 4. The Missionary Society held their regular meeting then joined the Little Herald members. Refreshments were served and a good time was had by those present.

MESERVEY LOCAL NEWS

NOTICE—All cemetery lot holders are requested to please have their dues paid before the end of Nov. 1927.—Mrs. Nels Faaborg. Sec. Meservey Cemetery Assn. 513*

Robert Hughes and family of Waterloo were visitors at the Irwin Bier home last week.

M. S. Braga of Iowa Falls spent a few days at the home of his son, Walter and family, the latter part of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Nissen and son A. J., and daughter, Mrs. Wm. Hartfelder attended the funeral of Mrs. Nissen's sister, Mrs. Mary Kiebler, at Dubuque, last Friday. Deceased was an invalid for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schulte of Alexander were calling at the S. Hulsebus home Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Wm. Klingbeil of Lisbon, N. Dak., recently visited at the Frank Haferman home for a few days. She left for Waterloo from here to spend the winter at the home of a sister.

Word from the bedside of Mrs. Lambert Pals, Jr., at the Lutheran hospital, Hampton is to the effect that she is somewhat improved.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sloss and children of Peterson, Iowa, spent Sunday at the Frank Nissen home. Mr. Sloss is a brother of Mrs. Nissen, and were returning to their home from the annual homecoming at Iowa State College, Ames. Dr. and Mrs. Gaston accompanied them.

Mrs. Wm. Priebusch of Reeseville, Wis., arrived Saturday for a two weeks visit at the home of her son, Carl Quandt and family.

C. J. Wendel and family motored to Tama Sunday to spend the day with relatives of Mrs. Wendel.

Among those who attended the Junior Class play at Thornton, last Friday evening were Miss Irena Butz and brother LuVerne, Mrs. H. F. Reif, Norman Muller, H. Proost and Vonna and Phyllis Agler, Nellie and Homer Wirtz.

H. Fischer and family and Rev. and Mrs. H. Raecker visited at the Rev. H. M. Raecker home in Sheffield Sunday afternoon.

James Hemming and wife of Thornton were visiting at the parental Ed Foss home Sunday afternoon. Jeanette Raecker returned home with them for a week's visit.

Mrs. J. McNeely, her daughter and husband James Hanna and family, of Hansel, E. E. Butz and wife of Clear Lake and Mrs. H. S. Butz were entertained at the W. F. Butz home Sunday.

Mrs. A. W. Schlesselman and children Orvis and Dorothy and Miss Sylvia Bloom of Cresco, were callers at the A. J. Nisser home a short time Sunday afternoon. They were returning home from a visti with relatives and friends at Renwick.

Mrs. Gus Wickersheim of Grandy, Minn., visited at the C. F. W. Paul home and with other relatives Sunday and Monday. Her sister Miss Bernice Banker, of Mason City, visited her also on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Joe Haak of Grundy Center, was a caller at the S. Hulsebus home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Jacobson and son from Fryburg, S. D., arrived last week and will remain at the Leland Jacobson home for the winter. Mrs. C. P. Jacobson and son left Saturday for a short visit with relatives at Waterloo.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. W. Paul accompanied Mrs. Gus Wickersheim of Grandy, Minn., to Sheffield, Tuesday, where the latter will visit at the Sam Paul home, a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Peters of Alexander visited at the E. A. Strasburg home Sunday.

Sam Paul of Sheffield was a caller at the C. F. W. Paul home Monday. Fred Paul of Morristown, Minn., visited at the Paul home Saturday.

AUTUMN

Mary Riddick Madison

Out among the swaying trees,
In the gusty autmn breeze,
I could wander all the day
On my glad, ecstatic way—
Feeling that I walk with wings
While my bouyant spirit sings,
While I breathe the fragrant air.
Falling leaves blown everywhere!
Oh the nipping autumn air
Cheers the spirit, drives out care!

WOOL

Sheep were probably the first animals to be domesticated, even when man was still scarcely civilized. The first use of wool as clothing was probably away back when one of our ancestors wrapped a sheepskin about him to keep him warm, and went forth with his club in search of a dinner. Wool is still the material de luxe for warmth, sharing the honors with furs.

But wool has some advantage over fur. It is finer and softer and more porous, permitting bodily ventilation, is more plentiful, and can more easily be fashioned into garments of any shape and size.

For all our spinning and weaving and disguising wool fabrics, we must not forget that it is an animal product and must be treated with a certain deference and delicacy accordingly. Wool materials should not be washed in hot water nor with strong soaps. nor be twisted in wringing to break the fibers, nor be hung too near to the fire, nor pressed with too hot an iron, since they scorch easily. They should be handled with such care as animal fibers demand: washed in soft, lukewarm water with mild soap, squeezed gently and not twisted, dried in the breeze, and ironed with a moderately hot iron.

In buying wool fabrics, you may distinguish them from cotton in two ways. Break a thread of cotton and it will snap and break off abruptly. Break a wool thread and it will tear unevenly and leave hairy fibers straggling at the end. Cotton burns with a flash, while a wool thread smoulders slowly and gives off a smell like burnt hair.

APPRAISING OUR TIME

It takes some thought and good judgment to decide what is worth doing and what is but a waste of time. Women should not work all the time. It is a reflection on the ability and the good sense of the housfwife if the couplet is true:
"Man's work is from sun to sun;
But womans' work is never done."

The everlastingly-at-it housewife should take a recognizance of her duties and her time. She should shorten the former, since she cannot extend the latter. To keep the bow constantly strung is to lose its elasticity. To keep one's nose always at the grindstone is to kill buoyancy and spirit. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." Some corners could certainly be cut, some tasks eliminated, to cull an extra hour of ease.

"This only cost me seventy-five cents," said a housewife as she showed me an elaborately made rug. I had the rags and the thread." But did it cost her only that? She paid the price of hours when she should have been exercising out in the open air, or reading a story to her children, or chatting with her neighbors or playing pal to her husband. She never "had time" for these things. It might have been all right for her to have spent her time so, if she had employed only leisure hours, or calmed her spirit with sweet thoughts the while. But to her, I knew that it meant more work.

Why is woman such a willing pack horse? A man will not "stay put" in that fashion. He is up and out, mingling with the world, playing more and—sometimes — outgrowing that cheerful drudge, his wife. What does it profit a woman if she work constantly, economize on money, and lose inflation of soul, the companionship of her children, neighborly friendship, and perhaps her husband?

CANDLES

Candles, oil lamps, gas, electricity, and now back to candles—thus we have completed the circle. We know now the virtues and the disadvantages of each illumination, and it is the good features of the primitive lighting which are bringing it back again.

At the dining table, candle light reflects hospitality as it gleams upon the silver and sparkles on the glass. In the living room, soft candle light casts a shade of romance and charity over those present. In the bedroom, the dim light of the candle is gracious. On the mantel it awakens the home instinct. In the hall, the single candle looks welcoming, and in the window it throws tis beams afar to guide the stranger.

Tall candles on the dining table are graceful and will burn through the meal and not flicker out. The number of courses has a relation to the length of the candle.

Candlesticks of every variety await our need: tall pewter ones for the library, iron for the hall, glass for the dining room, pottery for the living room, and china or painted wood for the bedroom. Candles of colors may be used to emphasize a color scheme in a room. The colonial atmosphere, so much appreciated today, calls for candles, particularly the old-fashioned, tall and uncolored kind.

CLEANING WINDOWS

Nothing makes a home look lovlier than clean and gleaming windows. Even lace curtains cannot hide the grease and grime. I have learned a new use for paper—this from the dry cleaner—use it instead of the wet wash at times. On windows it works miracles. When your windows are wet from a rain, wipe them off with a paper towel or soft, crimpled paper, and watch them come to a shine.

When they need a real wash, wring a chamois skin out of hot water, in which a few soap chips are dissolved and a little ammonia added, and wash them well. Wipe them with another chamois skin, slightly moistened. The chamois skins may seem expensive, at first cost, but they will last for years and will do good work easily, and they will grow softer with use.

STORING SWEET POTATOES

Sweet potatoes do not keep well in the home kitchen or cellar, without special care. To keep them for some time, they must be well dried, wrapped separately and kept in a room where the temperature is about 55 or 60 degrees Fahrenheit.

THE ODD SOCK

Frequently a member of the family will have in his dresser several stockings without a mate. Either the matching sock has developed a run or been worn out or lost. It would make for economy if one would buy two or more pairs of stockings of the same color and pattern. If one stocking gives out, the other may be matched with the best one of another pair.

TO MEND FURNITURE

When the veneer on your furniture comes loose, as it frequently may in steam-heated rooms, spread the best quality of liquid glue sparingly under the loose veneer, then clamp it down firmly in place; when the glue is set it will stay in place permanently.

READ THE ADS

WHAT MAKES IT THUNDER?

(Continued from page 2)

falling and often carry them upward for some distance. Smaller drops unite to form larger ones but they cannot become larger than a quarter of an inch in diameter. They cannot fall through still air faster than 24 feet per second, nor be carried upward by a current of air faster than 24 feet per second without breaking into smaller drops.

When they break into smaller drops there is a separation of the electricity, the drops taking the positive charge and the air the negative charge. This goes on until the positive charge on the raindrops that are being held up becomes very strong while the negative charge is carried away rapidly, by the up-rising stream of air. At intervals from several minutes to a few seconds, the charge becomes so strong that it is discharged in a flash of lightning.

As the lightning breaks its way through the air, extremely high temperatures are generated in the narrow channel which it cuts for itself. This expands the air with explosive violence. It is the explosion that we hear and call thunder. The rumbling, rolling sound is due to several causes. A lightning flash is often several miles long. The sound of the explosion at the near end reaches our ears first, then the wave arrives from more distant parts at the rate of about a mile in five seconds. If a flash proceeds from directly overhead two miles across the sky, we hear the explosion from the near end about 10 seconds sooner than from the far end. Then there are the endless echoes from cloud to cloud and from hills, mountains and even buildings that prolong the roar and rumble.

Retracing our story, thunder cannot occur without lightning: the lightning results from an overcharge of positive electricity on raindrops that are broken up by a current of air that is rising more than 24 feet per second and it takes a lage volume of air at or near the surface of the earth considerable warmer than the air aloft to start an updraft of that speed.

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Bldg
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

Undertaking & Funeral Director
F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone—Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

ATWATER KENT RADIO
Fresh "B" Batteries always on hand.
H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

Harry T. Smith
General Blacksmithing
Horseshoeing Woodwork
Welding
Meservey, - Iowa

Bank Your Money

If you have money it should be deposited in the Bank.

When you were a borrower some one deposited so you could borrow.

Pay your debt and build your credit at the same time.

Convenience and correct change.

SAFETY AND SERVICE

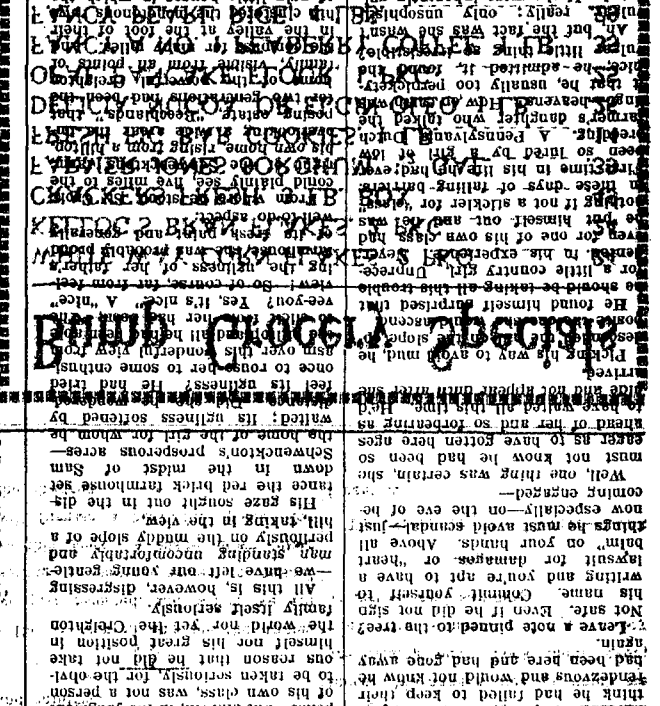
Farmers Savings Bank
Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

HIGH QUALITY
BUILDING MATERIAL
Screen Doors and Window Screens—Mill Work—Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts and Poles
Cement — Lime
INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT
Wheat Bran – Oil Meal – Cotton Seed Meal, – Tankage – Salt
Highest Price Paid for Grain
Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

Camel
Made for one purpose —to promote pleasure
Camel is attuned to the mood of the smoker who seeks pleasures rather than panaceas. Offered as a cheer not as a cure.

If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.

© 1927, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.



Sylvia was right up to the minute and, if not in advance, was scarcely behindhand and ready for the next one. Her philosophy was applied as much to take things as they come as to make them come. She lived not for gross enjoyment, but certainly for appreciative, keen and zestful living. Her temperament and mental attitude were those of a child, usually unsophisticated, and always natural, with its responses ever ready to the call of the moment. She found herself interested in her experiences and in the people she met, and was not one of those who take themselves too seriously.

Sylvia was not a beauty, but she was pretty enough to be attractive, and had a way of making the most of her good points. Her hair was her crowning glory, and she knew it. Her eyes were a clear gray, and her complexion was a healthy pink and white. She was of medium height, and her figure was slender and graceful. She was not a clothes horse, but she had a pretty taste in dress, and was always well groomed. She was not a beauty, but she was a very attractive girl, and she knew it.

Sylvia was a member of the Junior Literary club, and was to read a paper at the next meeting. She had selected as her subject "Some Famous Women Novelists," and had been reading up on the lives of George Eliot, Jane Austen, the Brontë sisters, and Mrs. Humphry Ward. She had found herself deeply interested in the lives of these women, and had become so absorbed in her subject that she had neglected her studies for several days. She had also neglected her mother, and had failed to keep her engagements with her friends. She had been reading late at night, and had gone about with her head in the clouds, and her mind filled with the lives of these famous women. She had found herself wishing that she had lived in their time, and had known them personally. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous author herself, and had written books that would live after her. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous beauty, and had had men at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous singer, and had had the world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous actress, and had had the footlights at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous painter, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous sculptor, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous architect, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous engineer, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous doctor, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous lawyer, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous judge, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous governor, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous president, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous king, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous queen, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous goddess, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous nymph, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous fairy, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous witch, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous ghost, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous vampire, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous werewolf, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous mummy, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous skeleton, and had had the art world at her feet. She had found herself wishing that she had been a famous corpse

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Rob Haris, from Whitewater, Mich., are guests at the E. C. Kinney home. Mrs. Haris is a cousin of Mrs. Kinney.

Mrs. E. H. Thomas, of Haver, Montana, is visiting at the T. A. Davenport home. Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Davenport are sisters.

Mrs. B. K. Kinseth is recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. Ralph Edwards and son of Rockwell City, are visiting her mother, Mrs. M. J. Newgard and other relatives here this week.

Armistice Day Skate at the Belmond Opera House. Afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30. Evening from 7:30 to 9:30. Evening Carnival Skate 9:30 to 11. Plenty of noise, confetti and funmakers for the crowd, and everything in keeping with Armistice day. Patriotic music.

Mr. and Mrs. Graber, of Goodell, have moved to Belmond, where Mr. Graber is employed in the Goelz barber shop.

Mrs. F. J. Tufrfee attended the funeral of a relative at Fort Dodge, Saturday.

Recently some young boys of the town, doubtless unthinkingly, poured broken and crushed glass down Mrs. Pennel's well. Fortunately, the glass was discovered in the water before it was used for drinking purposes, otherwise severe suffering and possibly three deaths might have resulted. Aside from the seriousness of this act, Mrs. Pennel feels greatly hurt that the boys would do such a thing to her, as she has always been friendly to them, and while having pretty authentic information as to the identity of the culprits, she says she will not take the matter up with the authorities if the boys will come to her, acknowledge their guilt and ask forgiveness. A word of advice to the boys is to do this, because contaminating a well with broken glass is a decidedly serious offense and if the case against them is pushed they may find themselves serving a long term at Eldora.

Fire last Thursday completely destroyed the well house and all equipment in it, on the John Baker farm, northwest of Belmond. The blaze is believed to have originated from a kerosene burner which was used for heating water, and which was burning at the time. No one was home when the fire was discovered. The fire truck from Belmond was called, and the work of the firemen is all that saved the large barn from being burned. The well house was used by Mr. Baker's son, Guy, who is working the place, to do his bottling for the Baker Dairy line, and housed equipment for this purpose, all of which was destroyed. Among the equipment lost was a milk bottler, bottle washer, separator, washing pan, several electric motors, and the kerosene heater. Mr. Baker did not have insurance on the well house, as it was erected after he had insured the farm buildings. Guy Baker, whose loss runs into several hundred dollars, had his equipment insured and will receive some reimbursement. Mr. Baker and his son are greatly appreciative of the work done by the firemen, and wish to extend their very sincere thanks to the company.

W. F. M. S. MEETS

An interesting meeting of the Womans' Foreign Missionary Society was held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. H. Hadley, with Mrs. Gus Nissen as assistant hostess. Mrs. Davenport presented the Mystery Box, and Mrs. G. F. McBurney gave an interesting lesson on Child Life in the Orient.

Armistice Day Skate at the Belmond Opera House. Afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30. Evening from 7:30 to 9:30. Evening Carnival Skate 9:30 to 11. Plenty of noise, confetti and funmakers for the crowd, and everything in keeping with Armistice day. Patriotic music.

Glasses fitted.—A. H. Berger, Specialist, Clarion, Iowa. 528c

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smalldridge from Iowa Falls are visiting at the Wilbur Bump home this week.

Mrs. Louie Foss entertained the bridge club Monday evening.

The two little girls of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wolfe are now recovering from a severe attack of summer flu. For a few days last week their recovery seemed doubtful.

Mrs. A. W. Martin and Mrs. H. F. Luick motored to Des Moines, Friday.

Last Thursday afternoon Mrs. F. W. Pletch entertained the St. John's Lutheran Ladies Aid at the church parlors.

Mr. and Mrs. John Spitler and daughter, Evelyn, attended a funeral near Clarion, recently.

Mrs. Louis Foss and children spent several days last week with her parents, at Clarion.

Last week Walter Compton, Mrs. A. E. Nelson, Mrs. Yelm and Miss Rena Yelm from Chillicothe, Ill., were visiting at the Wilbur Bump home.

The two little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wolfe continue seriously ill. A specialist from Des Moines was called in consultation last week Friday. A trained nurse from Fort Dodge is in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Oren Hanson, George Johnson and family, and Miss Minnie Johnson were Sunday guests at the Guy Barton home in Buffalo Center.

J. Meinders returned last week from the Hampton hospital, where he recently underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. L. Pals, who is at the Hampton hospital, where she recently underwent an operation, continues very ill.

Miss Helen Elder, who is a stenographer in the government office at Washington, D. C., has been promoted to senior stenographer with a substantial increase in salary.

Mrs. Harry Brooks, of Madelia, Minn., was a guest last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lynch.

NOTICE

The Belmond Savings Bank and the State Bank of Belmond will be closed all day Friday, Nov. 11, in observance of Armistice Day.

SALE DATES CLAIMED

DEC. 14—Clarence Scott. Closing out farm sale.

NOV. 14—Hauge's Holstein dispersal sale, combined with sale of farm machinery, horses, etc. See ad in this issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pals have moved into the new home built by his father, D. D. Pals, on the old Abe Smith farm.

The M. E. Aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. F. J. Tuffree, next week, Thursday, Nov. 17.

The Holstein herd of A. O. and E. G. Hauge, Nov. 14, at the farm occupied by the latter, will be a complete dispersal of their herd, headed by the herd sire, K. P. O. P. 29th, who will also be sold. The lot consists of 42 females and 8 bulls. J. E. Mack, Fort Atkinson, Wis., will be in the ring, with Ernest Wright, Waterloo, in the box. E. G. Hauge has a list of farm machinery, and some horses, which will be sold at this sale, Lewis Hauge being auctioneer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kennedy left Tuesday evening for Huntington, W. Va., called there by the death of Mr. Kennedy's father.

Rev. and Mrs. Guldseth and family motored to Minneapolis, Thursday to visit a few days with relatives, the parents of both Mr. and Mrs. Guldseth living there. They returned Saturday.

Mrs. D. E. Packard will be hostess next Wednesday to the Priscilla club.

Mrs. H. Greenlander is very seriously ill at her home here, being confined to her bed. She has been failing in health for the past year or two.

Armistice Day Skate at the Belmond Opera House. Afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30. Evening from 7:30 to 9:30. Evening Carnival Skate 9:30 to 11. Plenty of noise, confetti and funmakers for the crowd, and everything in keeping with Armistice day. Patriotic music.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton, of LaCrosse, Wis., were guests last week at the Mrs. Josephine McAlpine home. Mr. and Mrs. Dalton, theatrical managers, who have played in Belmond several times, were on their way home after closing the summer season.

Cards received from Scotts Bluff, Neb., announce the birth of a son, Lee Roy, to Mr. and Mrs. Stickman. Mrs. Stickman was formerly Valois McAlpine, daughter of Geo. McAlpine, of Belmond.

Miss Grace Reed who teaches at Beaman, spent the week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Reed.

Rev. Meier and family of Manson were guests at the Chris Friesleben home last week. Rev. Meier was a former pastor of St. John's Lutheran church in Belmond.

Hugh Berry, of Cleveland, O., came Friday to look after business interests at the sugar factory for the Dyer Construction Co.

On Hallowe'en night the Luther League of St. John's church enjoyed a Hallowe'en party at the St. John's Lutheran parsonage with Mrs. Langholz as hostess. Last Sunday night about 25 members of St. John's Chruch motored to Britt to attend a joint Luther League meeting of the Titonka, Woden, Britt and Belmond leagues. An appropriate program was rendered at the First Lutheran church with many Leaguers present. After the program a lunch was served at the G. A. R. hall and guests departed for their homes at a late hour.

BASKET SOCIAL

There will be a basket social and program at District No. 6, Grant township, Friday evening, Nov. 11, 1927, at 8 o'clock. Everyone invited. Ladies please bring baskets.

Leona M. Reed, Teacher.

BELMOND MARKETS
(Subject to change.)

Hens	17c
Springs	18c
Roosters	08c
Ducks	12c
Geese	08c
Eggs	36c
Butterfat	44c
Creamery butter	50c
Oats	40c
Corn No. 3 yellow	71c
Barley	68c

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Home made cider vinegar. 5-gallon lots 25c a gallon; single gallons 30c.—John Baldridge. Phone 353. 512*

FOR SALE—Rhode Island Red cockerels, $1.25 each, Buff Orpington pullets, $1.25 each, cockerels $1.50 and $2.00 each. Mrs. A. W. Leonard. 521c

FOR SALE—Pure bred Duroc Jersey gilts, weight about 200.—Willis Knisley. 512*

FOR SALE — Spotted Poland China boar pigs, weighing from 150 to 225 lbs., cholera immune.—C. Edwin Johnson, Kanawha, 3 miles south, 1 3-4 miles west. 48-2

FOR SALE—Full blood Guernsey bull calf.—B. T. Benson, 6 miles west of Belmond.

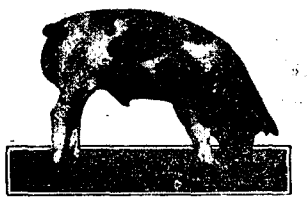
FOR SALE—Duroc Jersey boars, big bone, with plenty of stretch. Fireworks breeding.—Geo. Thompson, 2 miles north and 3 east of Belmond. 504*

FOR SALE—White Wyandotte cockerels. $1.50.—Ed Holm. 512

FOR SALE—Heifer, to fresh this month.—D. H. Delaney. 1c

FOR SALE—Pure bred Duroc Jersey boars. Cholera immune. Farm 1½ miles south of Alexander.—Clarence Smith. 522c

FOR SALE—P. B. Chester White boars of the big stretchy type; also three fall boars. New blood lines for old cutsomers; cholera immune.—Erith Cook. Farm located 3 3-4 miles northwest of Kanawha, Rt. 2. 48-1



FOR SALE—Big, husky spring boars. New blood for old customers. Cholera immune. Satisfaction guaranteed. Prices $30 and $35 for quick sale.—Roy Jenison. 51tf

FOR SALE—Red Globe home onions. Phone 1920. 50tf

FOR SALE—Large white Leghorn cockerels, $1. Black and Spotted Poland boars, 200 lbs. $30, if taken at once. Ten head cows and heifers to freshen soon. All good stuff.—P. H. Pals, Meservey. 51tf

FOR SALE — Spotted Poland Boars. Have a number of spring boars, weighing 175 to 250 pounds, also have two fall boars. Farm located 1 mile north, 2 miles west of Goodell. Gundvel Johnson. 496*

Poultry Wanted

We will call to buy your poultry and will pay you the highest market price. Poultry weighed and paid for at your place. Just call Geo. Coburn, Cornelia. Clarion phone 61-31. Belmond phone 3817. 47tf

Ain't Science Wonderful!

THEY used to tell us
THAT a potato carried
IN your pocket all
THE time would cure
RHEUMATISM, and we believed
UNTIL we were twenty YEARS old that the foot
OF a graveyard rabbit
KILLED at midnight
WAS sure to bring
GOOD luck—but now
SCIENCE comes along and
BLOWS those ideas sky
HIGH—they even go so
FAR as to say that
WHISKEY won't cure
SNAKE bite!
BUT science is WONDERFUL just the SAME and we're in favor
OF it—we must not FORGET, you know, that SCIENCE has given us
PFANSTIEHL Radio,
ORTHOPHONIC Victrola,
AND so many other
USEFUL things that you
ALWAYS find here at
OUR store.
P. S.—We have a lot of nice GIFTS suitable for weddings, ANNIVERSARIES and birthdays. TRY the Drug Store First!

Herman L. Schultz

SCHULTZ DRUGS

Belmond Phone 171

Lyric Theatre

...Geo. Hake, Manager...

SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS

FRIDAY and SATURDAY
NOVEMBER 11 and 12

"PAINTED PONIES"

Universal picture with Hoot Gibson, Wm. Dunn, Chas. Sellon, Otto Hoffman, Ethlyne Clair, Slim Summerville. Hoot rode into town to win the rodeo championship—and he did, with the girl of his heart to boot.

KILTIES

Educational comedy
10c and 25c

MONDAY, TUESDAY
NOVEMBER 14 and 15

"IS ZAT SO"

Fox production with Geo. O'Brien, Edmund Lowe, Kathryn Perry, Cyril Chadwick, Doris Lloyd, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. Comedy drama from the stage play. Story of a pugilist and his pal in high society.

Fox News

Slides picturing children of Belmond, Alexander, Goodell and Rowan will be shown these nights.

10c and 30c

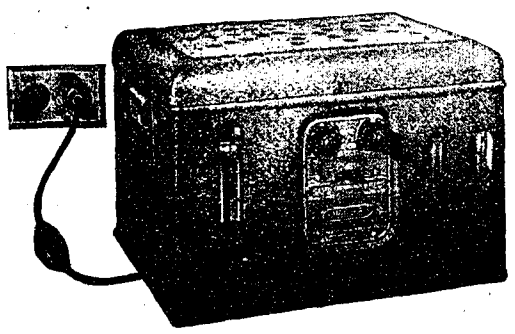
WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY
NOVEMBER 16 and 17

"THE DROP KICK"

First National picture featuring Richard Barthelmess with Barbara Kent, Dorothy Revier, Eugene Strong, Alberta Vaughn. A story of college life, with college boys and girls, college scenes, football games, fraternity dances and all the college atmosphere of today.

CRAZY TO ACT

Sennett comedy
10c and 25c



The Willard "A" and "B" Power Unit

Is the Premier of All Radio Power Units

It meets every demand. It is convenient, simple and efficient. Convenient, for its adaptability to your radio cabinet or any remote location. Simple, because it is controlled automatically by means of the switch on your radio set. Efficient, since it incorporates the best principles of engineering yet devised.

NOW ON DISPLAY AND READY FOR DEMONSTRATION AT THE WILLARD BATTERY STATION.

BELMOND STORAGE BATTERY CO.

Phone 46 J. W. Scott, Prop.

Reduced Prices

---ON---

HATS HOSIERY BLOOMERS

WE ALSO HANDLE COATS AND DRESSES

BOUTONNIERES
FANCY WORK

The Hat Shoppe

Belmond, Iowa

ROBINSONS ... STORE ...

BAKERY
GROCERY

Cheaper flour, none better. White Maple $1.95, Sea Foam $2.10, Gold Medal $2.35. Eventually why not now?

We have our fruit cakes made for Thanksgiving. Call, sample and you will buy.

We still sell bacon for 25 and 30 cents per pound.

Another shipment of coffee, 3 pounds $1.00.

Mincemeat in bulk ready for the pie 25c. None better.

We are making some candies again. Call. See us.

More Cream Puffs for Saturday.

Kinseth's Store News

We've had a full portion of Indian Summer, and no complaint to make after that hard freeze Tuesday night. Cold weather is about due, and you want to look over our line of overshoes and rubbers before it arrirves. Some dandies for the ladies and children.

Better drop in and see the apples we just received, and which we are selling at saving prices in bushel lot this week. A bushel down cellar will furnish a healthful "piece" for the children.

Husking mittens and gloves. Farmers will be getting into the fields now picking corn. Get your supply of mittens and gloves here.

A very special bargain we are offering now is a sale on children's shoes. We have a nice lot which we are closing out. Look them over; you'll find something for your boy or girl at real savings.

The Store on the Corner—Don't forget it

Bump Grocery Specials

WHITE WAY CORN FLAKES, 2 PKG.	.24
KELLOG'S BRAN FLAKES, 2 PKG.	.24
CRACKERS FRESH, 3 LB. BOX	.49
FARMER JONES SORGHUM, ½ GAL.	.39
FRESH FIG BAR COOKIES, 1 LB.	.14
DELICIA, NUCOA, OR ELGIN OLEO, 1 LB.	.25
OPAL PANCAKE FLOUR, 1 PKG.	.25
FANCY A NO. 1 PEABERRY COFFEE, 1 LB.	.35
FANCY PEARL RICE, 4 LBS.	.29
IOWANA OR PIGS BACK BACON, 1 LB.	.35
NICE SIZE RED ONIONS, 8 LBS.	.25

Buy your weeks supply here. We pay highest price for eggs, cash or trade.

We deliver at any time of the day.

THE BUMP GROCERY

PHONE 38 BELMOND, IOWA

Belmond Independent

ESTABLISHED 1919 AND HERALD-PRESS CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 9 BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1927. NO. 1

Red Cross Will Seek Members Here Saturday

Annual Campaign Of Local Chapter Will Get Under Way November 19

One year ago the Belmond chapter of the Red Cross staged a Roll Call drive; the people of Belmond and vicinity responded willingly and the chapter went over the top with something more than 100 members. And in the nick of time—for there followed two of the worst catastrophies this nation has ever known. In seven states, the Mississippi Flood.

Nor did the list end there. While appalling destruction on the Mississippi gripped the attention of the world, the R. C. acted quickly, efficiently, as your agent of relief. Not only in the Mississippi, but in twelve other disasters which occured simultaneously.

Again—the same month which saw the great Florida hurricane also witnessed a tornado in Ohio, a devastating fire in Alaska, floods in Illinois, Kansas and in our own state, Iowa. And in every case, the Red Cross directed the immediate reilef, carried out the permanent rehabilitation.

Now, once more, the Red Cross must prepare for future catastrophies. We are confident that the good people in this community will hasten to renew their membership in this great humanitarian organization. The Red Cross is the only organization that can meet the tremendous needs.

Within the year your local chapter has given liberally of its funds to the Florida Disaster as well as to the Mississippi Flood relief. Besides this relief work we would also call your attention to the splendid work done in the school by our Red Cross nurse. Any who are interested in knowing what has been done with the Red Cross funds may get full information by applying to Maye Tracy, secretary of the Belmond chapter.

If you believe in helping humanity you believe in the Red Cross.

I wish to personally thank the citizens of Belmond for their generous support of the Red Cross in the past. I am very confident that the good people of this community will not fail us next Saturday, Nov. 19, 1927, the date set for our annual Red Cross drive.

O. L. Varland,
Local Chairman.

PETITION TO KEEP BRIDGE

A petition was circulated this week in Belmond, asking the Wright county board of supervisors to retain the bridge north of town, located on the former trail of primary 15, and to extend this road, a county highway, thru east to the Quinlan corner. The petition reads:

"Commencing at the south line of section 18, Twn. 93 N. R. 23 W of the fifth p. m. where the present county road begins to curve to the south and running thence in a westerly direction along the south line of said section 18 to an intersection with Primary road No. 15 at or near the southwest corner of said section 18."

It is claimed this road is a benefit and a convenience to residents of Wright county and the traveling public, and the board is requested to establish it as a county road, add it to the county system and maintain it as such. The petition was liberally signed.

INGRAM'S SHOW HERE NEXT WEEK

The opening play of the Ingram company, "Gossip," was written by the author of many Broadway successes. The feature of the week is the drama, "Messmates."

To music lovers the orchestra this year is splendid. Every musician is an artist capable of playing the best from opera to jazz.

If there is anything that offends in any way the management invites criticism, for they endeavor to make the Ingram attractions really worthwhile and secure the best of talent. The Ingram company will play all next week at the Opera House.

On Thanksgiving Day they will give a matinee and a big Thanksgiving dance at night.

WRIGHT COUNTY COW TESTING ASSOCIATION

October 1927

A total of 259 cows from 24 herds averaged 542 pounds of milk with 20 8-10 pounds of butter fat.

It is very noticeable that the cows have been on a rapid decline this fall due to the bad September weather and are hard to bring back to milk.

Five High Herds

F. B. Mathias, Cows 8, breed, Guernsey, av. milk 701, av. fat 33.6;

W. C. Donelson, cows 7, breed, Holstein and Guernsey, av. milk 684.7, av. fat 27.9.

W. W. Helmke, cows 11, breed, r. B. Holstein, av. milk 809, av. fat 27.6.

F. F. Soults, cows 13, breed, Holstein and grade Guernsey, av. milk 665, av. fat 25.2.

Meeker & Son, cows 13, breed, Holstein and Guernsey, av. milk 519, av. fat 25.2.

Palmer Teig, Tester.

MARRIED

(Alexander Correspondent)

George Ammerman Jr., and Miss Effie Dresher gave their friends a real surprise, when after two weeks the news began to spread, that they had been quietly married on October 31st, at Fort Dodge. George is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ammerman living near Dows the past year but who have been residents of Alexander for several years, and the groom is well known in this community.

Miss Effie Dresher is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dresher (deceased). As her parents died when she was a small girl she has had to make her own way, in which she has done well. At present she has been working at the home of Mrs. Fred Greenfield. She will make a fine companion and helpmate for the man of her choice. At present they are undecided as to where they will locate and set up housekeeping, as it depends upon the place where Mr. Ammerman gets a position.

Their many friends extend congratulations and wishes for a long and happy wedded life.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Cooperative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of November 6 to November 12.

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
6	37	15	—	Cloudy
7	34	30	—	Cloudy
8	40	30	—	Cloudy
9	49	28	—	Cloudy
10	58	39	.02	Cloudy
11	64	29	.08	Cloudy
12	29	18	—	Clear

Moe & Nelson Secure Contract For No. 15 Gravel

To Use Gravel From The Luick Pit; Work To Start At Once

Moe & Nelson of Belmond secured the contract for graveling primary No. 15, at the letting Tuesday, Nov. 15, before the State Highway Commission at Ames. The price was $7,984.

A total of 9.736 miles is included in the contract. This is the stretch from primary No. 10, eight miles south, to the point about a mile and three quarters north of Belmond.

Gravel will be taken from the C. P. Luick pit, south of town, the contract calling for crushed and screened gravel. Work will be started at once, and conditions permitting it is probable the entire stretch will be graveled this fall. Primary 15 was graded and drained this summer, and the grade has settled into excellent condition for graveling. When the road is completed, it gives promise of being one of the finest stretches of graveled highway in the state.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

Next Sunday morning we shall have our usual services. Inasmuch as it will be the Sunday preceding Thanksgiving day, we shall have a Thanksgiving theme at the worship hour.

This Thursday afternoon at the missionary meeting we plan to have Miss Elizabeth Turner with us. Miss Turner attended Grinnell college, our training school for women in Chicago and has completed a five year period of service in China. We believe that she will be a real help for this meeting.

Minor Cases Are Filed For Trial In District Court

One Damage Case Over Car Accident Listed In Past Few Days

Farmers Savings bank of Woolstock brings suit against Ed. and Birdie Frye to collect the sum of $1400 on their promissory note. Ed Frye is named as defendant in suit to collect three other notes by the same bank in the total sum of $657.45.

Harry Wickerink of Eagle Grove is defendant in suit brought by Elisworth Motor Co., to collect $124.33, balance alleged to be due on note.

Marsh E. Mills vs. J. W. and J. K. Shepelee is an action to collect the sum of $12,577.42 on past due notes.

Ellsworth Motor Sales Co., ask damages in the sum of $250 from the Clark Transfer Co., of Eagle Grove, alleging that one of the company's trucks driven on the wrong side of the road, forced plaintiff's Nash car into the ditch.

American Commercial & Savings bank of Davenport vs. E. J., Nellie and B. L. Haupert and First National bank of Webster City is a suit to colelct the sum of $33,098 on a past due note.

Sheriff Johnson was in Des Moines the first of the week in attendance at a sheriff's school of instruction called by the attorney general. Experts in Chicago and New York were present and gave addresses on matters of interest to the officers assembled.

Three of the young men mentioned last week as being involved in the larceny of gasoline and poultry entered a plea of guilty to the charge of petit larceny and were fined $25 and costs. They are: Christopher Groen, Ernest Harms and Bert Staddaly, all of Meservey. The fourth, Elvin Shepherd is in the county jail, being held to await the action of the grand jury, charged with the larceny of poultry.

The tax ferrets have completed their work in Wright county. The total amount of cash collections was $20,001.67; amount paid for collecting same, $4,567.84 or 19.9 per cent. There are items aggregating $2,928.56 which will be paid to the treasurer, also the sum of $3,508.29, a considerable portion of which the board thinks will be collected.

Marriage Licenses

November 14—Albert Kuhn and Mrs. Olga Sporaa of Dows.—Monitor.

Mr. and Mrs. Malvin from Rochester, Minn., spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. Ellen Schultz, and his sister, Mrs. R. C. Morse.

Belmond Meets Hampton Here Tomorrow, 18th

Four Of Home Men To Play Their Last Game For Belmond High

The last football game of the season will be played with Hampton on the local field Friday of this week. The game will be called at 3 o'clock. Captain McNulty, Albert Rabe, Harley Tomlinson, and Randall Klemme will appear in their last football game for Bemond high school. The whole team is making an effort to wind up the season with a victory. Dows beat Hampton in the first game of the season by practically the same score that they defeated the local team at Dows last Friday. If the Belmond boys can hit their last half stride at the beginning of the game the Hampton boys may find a real battle on their hands.

Belmond met Dows, at Dows in football last Friday afternoon. Dows made two touchdowns the second quarter and one in the last quarter. Belmond made their touchdown in the third quarter by completing two passes, the first caught by Hoyt Klemme, the second by Paul McNulty who carried the ball across the line. The game was played on a muddy field in almost zero weather. The Belmond team showed plenty of fight.

The line-up for the game was as follows:

Left End—Kessler
Left Tackle—H. Tomlinson
Left Guard—D. Baker (Substitute, Chapman)
Center—Pech
Right Guard—John Baker
Right Tackle—Randall Klemme (Substitute, Schultz)
Right End—Hoyt Klemme
Quarterback—Peterson
Right Halfback—McNulty
Left Halfback—H. Johnson
Fullback—Rabe

Literary

Belmond high school Literary Society met in the auditorium, Nov. 11, 1927.

The following program was given by Literary Division 2.

Chalk Talk on World War—Eugene Barry

"Memories". Reader—Velva Sturdevant.

June Norby, Hildegard Thorman, Minnie Groen, Gertrude Gealow, Katherine Sandrey, Emma Nelson, Marie Barry, Lorena Earsland, Edwin Quinlan, Robert Fetrow, Harold Scott, Orland Rierson, George Waddington

Reading", Twenty Five Years After" —Mildred Jacobson

The American Legion then took charge of the program.

A short talk was given by Stephen Hardwick, Commander of the Legion. Sheriff Cress of Mason City gave a very interesting speech on the World War. He proposed that we dedicate the day to lifting high the torch of good citizenship. We should resolve to make our country bigger and better.

The program closed with the "Star Spangled Banner" sung by the audience.

Miss Ely Talks About Her Trip To Europe

The pupils of the 5th and 6th grades enjoyed a real treat, Monday afternoon when Miss Ely talked to them about her trip to Europe. She took them on an imaginary trip with her, beginning with the buying of the passport. They spent special time in France, Italy, and Holland. They learned many interesting things about the people of these countries and their customs, which will make the study of Europe more real to them. Due to the limited time, they found it necessary to make the return trip by airplane.

The pupils and teachers wish to express their appreciation to Miss Ely for giving them this splendid talk.

IOWA FALLS TRUCK LINE HAS BIG BUSINESS

Iowa Falls Citizen: Many of our readers may not know it, but the McLeod Transfer Company of this city has eight freight trucks in operation. Just now they are replacing three of the trucks with larger ones. The price of a new truck of average size for freighting costs around $4000.

The tax for running the trucks on the road is one-fourth cent per ton mile, that is, a truck weighs with its load four tons, the tax per mile is one cent. The McLeod Transfer Co. pays around $100 a month taxes on their trucks.

The McLeod Transfer Company make Hubbard, Zearing, McCallsburg, Radcliffe, Jewell, Webster City, Eagle Grove, Goldfield, Clarion, Renwick, Coulter, Kanawha, Alexander, Belmond, Dows and many intervening points.

Outside of trucking companies doing contract work, the McLeod company carries a larger volume of freight than any other company in the state.

SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE AT CLARION, SATURDAY

Under the auspices of the Wright county Sunday School Council, Mrs. R. M. Smallpage, the Children's Division Superintendent, will conduct an Institute, Saturday, Nov. 19, in the Methodist church at Clarion. The meeting will begin at 1:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Emily Hamilton of Grinnell, a State Worker, will be present and will undoubtedly have a worthwhile message. The work presented will be in the interest of the primary and junior departments.

It is hoped that every primary and junior teacher in the county will be present and all others interested in Sunday school work.

A cordial welcome is extended to every one to attend and encourage the movement.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to all who assisted us during the illness and in the death of our husband and father, for the words of sympathy and floral offerings.

Mrs. C. B. Johnson and Children

Miss Bernetas Wolle, who teaches at Corwith, is home enjoying a two weeks' corn husking vacation.

P. T. A. Meets In Auditorium Friday Afternoon

Mrs. Hamilton Of Mason City To Give Address Of The Afternoon

Mrs. Hawthorn of Mason City, a state P. T. A. worker, will be the speaker at the regular meeting on Friday afternoon of this week. Mrs. Hawthorn is president of the Womans Club of Mason City and a very busy woman. It is hoped that a large number will be present to hear her. Music will be presented under the direction of Miss Waugh. The roll will be called to see "who's who" in the P. T. A. as a result of the splendid work done by the grades last month to increase the membership.

C. A. Church Last Of G. A. R. Passes Away

Was Among Early Settlers Of Belmond, One Of City's Wealthiest Citizens

C. A. Church, 83 years of age, one of Belmond's early settlers and among the foremost citizens of the community, died at his home here Friday evening, Nov. 11, of cerebral apoplexy.

Mr. Church suffered the stroke early Friday morning, and did not regain consciousness.

The news of his stroke and death shortly after, came as a shock to the community, where he had been a resident for forty-five years, as Mr. Church had apparently been in his usual good health this fall.

Veteran of Civil War

Cyrus Church was a veteran of the civil war, and a charter member of Whited Post No. 247, originally chartered Nov. 9, 1883. He was the last of the 87 members of Whited Post.

C. A. CHURCH

About a year ago, while S. D. Martin and J. P. Byers were alive, they with Mr. Church voted to surrender the charter of the G. A. R. Post, which was done and the records of the post turned over to the Belmond public library.

Mr. Church was modest and unassuming in his manner of life, temperate in all his habits, upright and foursquare in every dealing with his fellow men. He was a man of sound judgment, conservative and safe, and these qualities enabled him to succeed in his business life and to accumulate one of the largest fortunes in the county. His holdings include a considerable amount of property in Wright and Hancock counties, and a large amount of stocks and bonds.

Mr. Church served for over 20 years as a member of the public school board of Belmond, the longest any member has ever served with that body.

Obituary

Cyrus A. Church, son of Charles and Calista (Smith) Church, was born in Erie County, Ohio, Feb. 10, 1844, and died at his home in Belmond, Iowa, Nov. 11, 1927 age 83 years his last birthday.

Mr. Church was the third of six children who grew to maturity. At the age of four the family moved from Ohio to DeKalb County, Illinois, and in 1856 to Iowa, where they settled in Hancock County.

At the beginning of the civil war, Mr. Church was too young to enlist, but on August 18, 1862, he enlisted from Amsterdam, Hancock county, and was mustered into service at Dubuque, Iowa, as a private in Company B, 32 Regiment Iowa infantry volunteers. He served until August, 1865, taking part in the battles of Mobile, Nashville, Tupelo, Pleasant Hill, Red River, Cane River, Old Oaks and Fort Blakely. He was honorably discharged from service, Aug. 24, 1865.

Upon his return from the war, Mr. Church became interested in farming, which he followed for many years.

In 1868 he was married to Celinda Plummer, and to this union one child was born, a daughter, Mae. Mae Church was a woman of beautiful character, unusually talented, who gained the admiration and esteem of the entire community. She preceded her parents in death February 27, 1917.

Mrs. Church passed away Feb. 28, 1923, at San Diego, Calif., where she and Mr. Church were spending the winter. One sister, Mrs. Susan Hiams, of Rowan, and one brother, Henry N., of Klemme, besides a number of nephews and nieces and a large circle of friends are left to mourn the passing of this pioneer settler and old soldieer.

Funeral services were held Mon-

(Continued on page 8)

Belmond Independent

AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1918, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES

Display, per column inch -------25c
Locals, per line ----------10c
Classified, per word ----------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Editorials

We are all on the lookout for good investments, something that will give us a profitable return. There is no one among us who cannot afford to invest at least one dollar, and there is no place where one dollar can be invested and bring as great returns in human happiness and service as in the Red Cross. Saturday will be the day when Belmond's chapter of the American Red Cross will solicit your membership in this greatest of humanatarian organizations. Invest your dollar in a membership! "Even as ye have done it unto the least of these, so have ye done it unto Me."

The explosion of gas storage tank in Pittsburg a few days ago left thousands homeless, packed hospitalse with injured, brought death and destitution to many. Peacetime catastrophes may occur any place, any hour. Belmond may be next, who knows? At such times as these the Red Cross comes as an angel of Mercy, binding up wounds, furnishing trained nurses, bringing food, clothing, supplies. Membership in this great Christian organization is only one dollar, which counts for little. But your dollar and the dollar from millions of other real Americans count for much. Invest your dollar in the service of your less fortunate fellow men.

Value of Newspaper Recognized

A. A. Anderson, Secretary of the Pacific Coast Building-Loan Association, in an address at the Pacific State savings and loan conference, recommends newspaper advertising as the most effective and economical means of reaching the public. Further he urged that the building-loan associations throughout the United States should have a fund of at least $1,000,000 for such a campaign.

As Mr. Anderson knows, it has been fully demonstrated that the newspaper stands by itself as a carrier of messages to the greatest possible number of people. It is the only medium that is sure to reach the citizens of a community and be read. This fact is being more fully appreciated every day.

The smaller city dailies and country weeklies are the great medium for reaching the masses of the people who represent the majority of the reading and buying power of this nation.—The Manufacturer.

More and more, national advertisers are including country newspapers in their list of publications for advertising, as more realize their value. Ths trend has been noticeable the past two years, and can be seen in almost every weekly of any account. Ten years ago, or even five years ago, national magazines carried the bulk of national advertising. Today the national advertisers are leaning toward the dailies and country weeklies more, and are largely supplementing their magazine advertising with newspapers, while a great many are using newspapers only.

It has been proven beyond doubt that newspapers are the best medium for placing a message before the public. In a recent test at Wakefield, Mass., direct mail and newspapers were tried by a firm there, and accurate check made of costs, replies and sales. It was established that the newspaper advertising was much cheaper, brought more replies and resulted in more sales. A money-back guarantee accompanied the direct mail advertising, but this guarantee did not meet the faith of the public that goods advertised in a public organ, and indirectly guaranteed by that organ by publishing the ad, were genuine and the prices authentic. A very large part of the mail folders were found to have been thrown away, unread, whereas the newspaper ads rated high in percentage of readers.

FREE AIR!

We've often wondered just what a laugh was, and the other day ran across the following definition:

* * * *

"A laugh is a peculiar contortion of the human countenance, voluntary or involuntary, superinduced by a concatenation of external circumstances, seen or heard, of a ridiculous, ludicrous, jocose, mirthful, funny, facetious or fanciful nature, and accompanied by a cackle, chuckle, chortle, cachination, giggle, guffaw or roar."

* * * *

That being so, take note of the next time you laugh, and see in which class you belong.

* * * *

That man Stanzel had the laugh on a lot of wise guys a week or so ago, when he pasted up a hundred dollar bill and offered it for sale for $2.50. Nobody would bite, no srr: couldn't catch them on any fool bait like that.

* * * *

And the bill was genuine!

* * * *

Which just goes to show how suspicious folks are by nature, no trust, no faith, no confidence in their fellowmen, always looking for the hook when they see a worm. Here Stanzel was trying his best to give someone $97.50, and no one would take it!

* * * *

At that, it's the first time we knew G. A. had such a generous streak in his make-up; usually he's trying to get the money instead of giving it away. Probably if some one had taken up his gamble, he's have made 'em buy $97.50 worth of ham and eggs.

* * * *

Now take George Ruka, there's a man who is really kind hearted and means well. Of all the fellows who told us they were going to get an extra pheasant for us during the open season, he's the only one who fulfilled his contract, and he bought us a spring chicken.

* * * *

And that's better than pheasant. The season is always open to them, except that some seasons are better than others.

* * * *

This is one of the best seasons.

* * * *

The other morning as Jim Adams was coming down to the store, he saw Joe Pletch carrying a chicken in his hand, and headed for the chopping block. "Going to have a big feed?" Jim asked. "Yep," says Joe. "What's the matter with the hen?" says Jim. "Didn't Chevrolet?"

NOTICE OF PROOF OF WILL
TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

In the Estate of Christian B. Johnson Deceased:

You are hereby notified that on the 15th day of November, 1927, there was filed with and opened by the undersigned Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, in and for Wright county, a Written instrument purporting to be the LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT of Christian B. Johnson, late of said County, deceased.

And you are further notified that the 12th day of December, 1927, at 1:30 o'clock P. M. of said day, has been set as the day for the final hearing and proof of Will (the same being a day of the next term of said District Court) at which time any person interested can appear and show cause why the same should not be admitted to probate.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court at my office in Clarion in said County, this 15th day of November A. D., 1927.

R. V. Goslin,
13 Clerk District Court.

LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. G. F. McBurney was hostess Tuesday, to the Chain of Ten.

Mr. and Mrs. Edus Johnson and family, and Miss Clara Johnson, of Iowa Falls, spent Sunday at the Gus Johnson home.

Pete Swenson and son, Earl, were business callers at Des Moines, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hedli Enger and daughter, and Mrs. C. B. Johnson, were Sunday guests of Latimer relatives.

Twenty-four relatives and friends were entertained to dinner, Sunday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Spitler.

Fire last Wednesday evening caused quite a bit of damage to the interior of the Fetrow popcorn stand next to the Lyric Theatre. The fire company responded to the alarm and quickly subdued the blaze. Flames originated from the stove used for popping corn.

CHURCHES

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor
Telephone Call, 150

Saturday, November 19. The Ladies Aid Bazaar and Chicken Supper will be held in the church parlors. The bazaar will begin at 10 a. m. and the supper at 5 p. m. Read advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

Sunday, November 20—

Sunday school and Bible classes will meet at 10 a. m.

The Luther League will meet at 6:45. Topic: Blessings We Often Forget. Ps. 103.

English sermon will be given at 7:30. Theme: "The Object of Our Prayers." I Tim. 2:1-6.

Monday, November 21. The catechetical class A will meet immediately after school.

Tuesday, November 22. The catechetical class B will meet immediately after school. Kindly note change of day.

Thanksgiving Day, November 24. Divine services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Theme: "Why Praise God." Psalm 67.

Our weekly prayer meeting will be held Thursday at 7:45.

Saturday, November 26. A Sunday School Institute will be held at Fort Dodge. Rev. S. A. Berge's charge, beginning Friday evening, and continuing to Sunday evening. Let as many of our people as possible attend at least one day's sessions of this institute.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Sunday, November 20. Norwegian services will be held at 11 a. m. Theme: "The Widows Mites." Mark 12:41-44.

Wednesday, November 23. The North Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. Herman Johnson at 2 p. m.

Prayer meeting will be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the home of H. M. Mickelson.

Saturday, November 26. There will be no instruction of the catechetical class, as the pastor will be in attendance at the Sunday School Institute held at Fort Dodge, Rev. S. A. Berge's charge. We hope that our teachers and many parents will find time to attend this instutute.

METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. J. F. Snyder, Pastor

Services as follows for the Lord's Day, November 20:

Sunday school at 10 a. m. Consider the importance of religious education in this modern age, the incalculable value to both old and young. Your presence solicited and appreciated.

Divine worship and sermon at 11 a. m. Subject of sermon, "The Threefold Ministry of Jesus."

Epworth League at 6:30. Splendid leadership provided for these our most interesting lessons. This is a helpful hour, young folks cannot afford to miss it, if you do not belong to some League.

Evening worship and gospel message at 7:30. We call this Telephone night. So often we become so absorbed in our own program of life that God is entirely left out. His call is in "The Still Small Voice." Do you heed it?

An institute for primary, Junior and intermediate Sunday school teachers will be held in the Clarion M. E. church at 1:30 Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Smallpage and a specialist from Grinnell college will be present and participate in the program.

Aid meeting at the F. J. Tuffree's Thursday afternoon.

Please remember that next Sunday is annual White Cross roll call. Funds care for the Lord's worthy poor.

You are cordially invited to all of our services.

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN CHURCH
Arthur G. Langholz, Pastor

23rd Sunday after Trinity

Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. We were glad to see a number of adults in class. Thus it should be. Every member of the church in Sunday School and every Sunday School member in church is the ideal.

There will be no services Sunday morning as the pastor has been called out of town. Rev. Bohning of Britt will preach at 2 p. m. Sunday.

On Friday evening the Sunday School teachers will please meet at the parsonage to arrange a Christmas program.

On Thanksgiving Day services will be conducted in the German language beginning at 10:45 a. m. It certainly is proper to meet in God's house on that day to give Him thanks for material and spiritual blessings.

Luther League meets Sunday evening.

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

Mrs. Edna Utley of Mlwaukee, was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Reese last week. Mr. Utley has recently been called for military service in Chicago.

During the week 200 house wives of Wright county have adopted wheatless menus. To their surprise and satisfaction they have learned that the saving of wheat does not mean starving, but merely the substitution of more palatable and tasty breads for white bread.

John Cantwell has closed out his restaurant stock and will spend the winter in Minneapolis.

Local coal dealers have made herculean efforts this fall to supply their trade with coal, and it is believed that in a majority of cases enough coal is at hand to last most of the winter.

A meeting of county committeemen for soliciting funds for the Y. M. C. A. was held in Clarion last Friday and the officers for the various districts were appointed. Rev. Burress was appointed chairman of this district.

Rev. W. E. Sauerman and Rev. B. W. Northrup of Alden, exchanged pulpits last Sunday.

Patrons of the local school enjoyed the privilege last Friday of inspecting the work of the different agricultural clubs of the local school, which was placed on display in the school yard and in the gymnasium.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

C. J. Boughton and wife are mourning the death of an infant child which was buried in Franklin Grove cemetery last Saturday.

Miss Francis Hubbard of Clarion, spent Sunday at the parental home in Belmond.

Messrs. Church, Montague and Dunham have returned from their northern trip.

Council proceedings.—Moved and seconded we hire Chas. Barrett at the salary of $15 per month from Nov. 15, his duties to be nightwatch and extinguish street lights. Carried.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Finch, accompanied by Leo Rosecrans departed last week for California.

Will Chase and wife are rejoicing over the birth of a baby boy, born last Tuesday.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

The family of J. S. Pritchard moved from Alden last week. They are occupying the Bruns house in East Belmond.

The wolf crop seems to be a good one this year in Wright county. They are seen frequently near town.

J. W. Seber of Belmond will teach the "young ideas" at the Kent school house in Iowa township.

One hundred and twelve persons have signed the Hickory Grove temperance pledge.

Coal at Garner is $5.75 per ton, while at Britt, 10 miles farther to freight it by rail, they sell it at $4.00 per ton. Why is this thus?

The Finn Bros. are industrious farmers living east of town. Last Monday they sold 25 head of hogs, the lot weighing 7,500 lbs., realizing the handsome sum of $337.75.

School commences next Monday, Nov. 21, in the Goudy building. Mrs. Brewsaugh, teacher.

Rena, little daughter of Will Purdy, had her feet scalded recently with hot water.

At the bridge near John Brooks' in Iowa township, Clark Ide and a companion caught 280 pounds of fish last Thursday. The boys took them to Hampton, realizing $15 for their trouble.

Nicholas Johnson, owning a good farm one mile east of town, is in the hog business, too. Yesterday he sold eleven to Capt. Tyrrell, the average weight of which was over 332 lbs.

The following officers have been installed in the I. O. of G. T. lodge for the ensuing term: John Brewsaugh, W. C. T.; Millie Grove, W. V. T.; M. A. Packard, W. R. S.; S. F. Entriken, W. F. S.; Emma Dalum, W. T.; Mrs. J. B. Shesler, W. C.; Chas. King, W. M.; Mate Carpenter, W. I. G.; David Goudy, W. O. G.; Hattie Robinson, W. A. S.; Mrs. Emma Brewsaugh, W. D. M.; Alice Meacham, W. R. H. S.; Mrs. B. P. Entriken, W. L. H. S.

Very Low Fares via Rock Island
To Chicago and Return
Account
International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Fair
November 26---December 3, 1927
A Great Annual Event. Brilliant Evening Entertainment. Every Opportunity for Enjoyment in Chicago.
Tickets will be on sale daily from November 25th to 30th, inclusive. Final return limit December 8, 1927
For full information, apply to
J. A. Sturdevant, Agent - Belmond, Iowa
C.C. Gardner, Asst. Gen'l Pass.Agt., 614 Valley Nat'l Bank Bldg,, Des Moines

Stepping Stones
To the Land of Plenty
YOU can't attain your first thousand until you get the first hundred. The first step towards the Land of Plenty is in opening a Savings Account at this Bank, the Bank of courteous and reliable service.
Today is not too early!
Only A Dollar Is Needed
STATE BANK OF BELMOND
BELMOND IOWA

1928
THE 1928 line of Furniture is now on the market, nearly sixty days in advance of previous years. This fact is significant—it means that 1927 bought more furniture than the manufacturers anticipated. They are now showing the 1928 line which normally is not shown until late December.
To meet this condition we have sold every suite this week regardless of cost in order to make room for this remarkable new line, which we are now receiving.
The 1928 styles are attractive; price—never lower. You will be astonished at the prices, and the QUALITY and MATERIALS are exceptional.
Bed room suites in two woods as low as $68.00 complete. Blended oak dining suits, extraordinary—looks like a walnut but wears as only oak can do.
You must see this merchandise to appreciate what Craft Furniture Makers have done for 1928.
Watch this space for prices on Holiday suggestions next week.
Your HOME Should Come FIRST
Belmond Furniture Company
Furniture and Undertaking
Phone 107 Belmond, Iowa

AGRICULTURAL NEWS NOTES

LAST WHOO-O-O-EY CALL

Arrangements are complete to give the 1,000 or more farmers who are expected to gather in Ames, Friday, Nov. 18, for the annual swine feeders' "Whoo-o-o-ey Day" the newest information learned during the year in swine feeding and management problems. The pro gram will open at 10 in the morning and will continue thru the day. The closing feature of the afternoon session will be a question box, where those present may ask for a discussion of any swine problem.

DAIRY COWS STAGE COME-BACK

Iowa dairy cows, after a slump in September due probably to the hot weather in the early part of the month, apparently are back to their normal stride in butterfat production, judging from the cow testing association report for October, just released at Iowa State College.

The Hardin County Testing Association, with 394 cows, of which 84 were dry, obtained an average of 25.1 pounds of butterfat per cow for first place among the 80 associations in the state reporting. This is nearly 2 pounds per cow more than the leading association had last month and is more than a pound higher than the leader had in October a year ago.

John Robertson of Warren County, who had the highest herd among the 1,966 in the state reported last month, had an average of 50.8 pounds of fat for each of his 9 purebred and grade Jerseys. This is the highest herd average since last June.

While 85 associations were in operation last month, in various parts of Iowa, including 2,087 farms and 30,380 cows, only 80 associations sent in reports in time to be tabulated. Of the 28,733 cows on test in the 80 reporting, 449 were culled out and sold for beef because their butterfat and milk yields were too low in proportion to feed costs. There were 6,565 dry cows, slightly more than during September.

Ranking of the highest associations were, First Hardin County; second Linn county, No. 2; third, Benton County, No. 1; fourth, West Branch; fifth, Linn County, No. 1; sixth, Tama County; and seventh, Warren County.

The leading herds ranked as follows: First, John Robertson, Warren County; second F. A. Chester and Son, Bremer County; third Theodore Lund, Hamilton County; fourth. Harry Reese, Adams County; fifth, Mark and Son, Hardin County; and tied for sixth, D. O. Miller, Grundy County, and Ben Olson, Benton County No. 3.

CORN BORER IN 55 NEW COUNTIES

The European corn borer has spread to 55 new counties in 1927, according to a recent check-up by the United States Department of Agriculture. This year the borer has been found as far south as Pickaway County, Ohio; as far north as Cheboygan County, Michigan, and as far west as Berrien County, Mich. Berrien County is situated on the eastern shore of Lake Michigan, just above the Indiana-Michigan state line. In Indiana, the borer has proceeded westward as far as St. Joseph County. Eight of the 55 counties newly infested this year have been discovered since Sept. 21.

HEALTHY SEED IS BEST IN YIELD

As in previous years, tabulation or the results from the harvesting of the corn disease plots maintained in various counties over Iowa by the Plant Pathology Department at Iowa State College, revealed that healthy seed corn and early selection increase the yield of corn.

R. H. Porter, extension plant pathologist, in checking over the results from the plots in O'Brien County, found that the corn grown from healthy seed yielded 6.7 more than the corn grown from diseased seed. It exceeded the corn grown from planter-box run by a 3 bushel margin.

In Cerro Gordo county similar results were obtained. Corn grown from healthy seed averaged 5.8 bushels more than the corn from diseased seed and 4.5 bushels more than that grown from the planter-box run.

Early selecting was compared with late selecting with a decided advantage going to the early selection. In Chickasaw County the early selected seed yielded 5.6 bushels more than the late, and in Benton County it bested the late selected seed by a margin of 3.6 bushels.

Mr. Porter says that in each instance 10 plots were run in each county with the exception of O'Brien where tabulations were recorded on eight plots.

The results are but a substantiation of previous experiments and should be conclusive argument in favor of healthy, early selected seed.

PLAN "STEP-SAVING" FARMYARD

As farm women have received considerable helpful information in the past from the caption of "Saving Steps in the Kitchen," J. R. Fitzsimmons, landscape architect with the Extension Service of Iowa State College, believes that under the slogan, "Saving Steps in the Farmyard," the farmer himself may be able to secure knowledge of a helpful nature.

During wet weather, it is not uncommon, according to Mr. Fitzsimmons, for the Iowa farmer to turn into his gate off of a fine graveled road and immediately become mired in the rich, sticky loam of his own farmstead. Also, thru a poor arrangement of farm buildings, the farmer is obliged to wade thru mud during the greater part of the winter and spring in doing the ordinary tasks about the farm.

Altho this situation cannot be remedied immediately, the farmstead eventually can be planned to save the farmer many steps. As the buildings grow old and must be replaced, the newer structures can be located with a definite building plan in mind.

Landscape architect specialists at Iowa State College are arranging a six-weeks training school course, which will be conducted thru the various county-wide organizations over Iowa. Considerable interest is being displayed in the new project, according to Mr. Fitzsimmons, and it is believed that the project will be adopted by a number of county organizations.

The course will deal not only with the establishment of definite building plans for Iowa farms, but will also take up the beautifying of the farm after the foundation of framework has been completed. Location of driveways, placing of shrubs and trees and care of the farmstead generally also will be included in the course.

Iowa Champions Both

Here is portrayed a proud moment in the life of Kermit Iverson, of Ruthven, picked by state club leaders as Iowa's champion boy dairyman for this year. He is shown holding Maywood Bess Lola Lass, an Iowa owned calf, after it had been declared champion in the Holstein calf club classes at the 1927 National Dairy Show at Memphis, Tenn.

Chili Sauce

Chop the following vegetables: two quarts of peeled ripe tomatoes, four green peppers and one hot pepper, four onions. Add four tablespoonfuls of brown sugar, one tablesponful each of ginger and cinnamon, a half teaspoonful of nutmeg, two tablespoonfuls of salt. Cook an hour, then add three cups of vinegar; boil five minutes longer, and seal in hot jars.

READ THE ADS

We Want Your Poultry

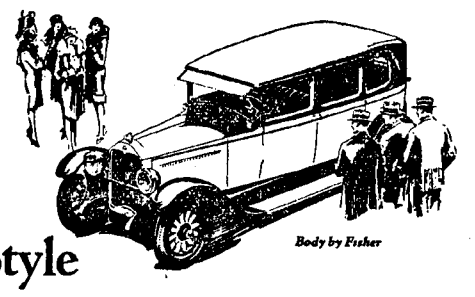
And we will pay you the very highest market price for it. Before you sell, see us or call us and let us make you a price—you'll find it is dollars in your pocket. If you haven't time to bring your poultry in, or haven't a way to do it, remember we furnish you

TRUCK SERVICE!

We'll call at your place, load your birds, haul them to town, give you honest, full weights, and send you a check promptly at the highest market prices. We want your poultry, and we'll do anything fair and square to get it. Give us a trial!

Farmers Grain Company
PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!
BELMOND, - - IOWA

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM



Style that women desire . . Durability that men demand

BUICK for 1928

Fleet, graceful lines... lustrous Duco colors ... luxurious closed car interiors—

—unmatched performance ... unrivalled comfort ... sturdy construction that assures long life—you'll find them all in Buick!

Buick for 1928 has won tremendous popularity among men and women alike, because it combines the style that women desire with the durability that men demand.

SEDANS $1195 to $1995 . . . COUPES $1195 to $1850
SPORT MODELS $1195 to $1525

All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich., government tax to be added The G.M.A.C. financing plan, the most desirable, is available.

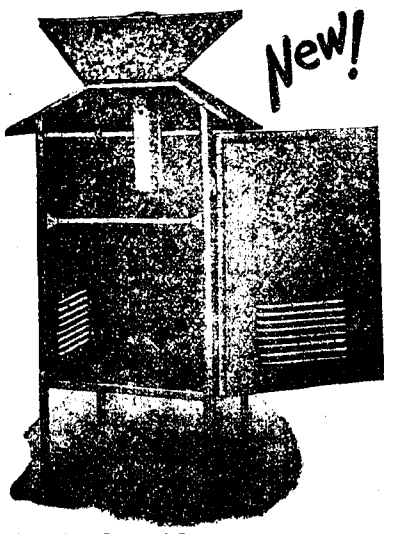
WEBSTER COUNTY BUICK CO.
DISTRIBUTORS
20-24 North 9th St. Fort Dodge, Iowa
BELMOND—HUB MOTOR CO. Kanawha—Yeakel & Mallow
Clarion—Linfor Auto Co. Dows—A Banwell
Eagle Grove—Porter Auto Co.

KILDALL'S GENUINE "Old Style"

Insure the success of your dinner. Insist on the best. Your dealer can supply genuine Old Style

Ludefisk

For Sale By—
B. K. Kinseth & Son, Belmond
H. F. Peterson, Belmond
James Kirk, Olaf



New!

THE JAMESWAY TEMPERLATOR

Offers a practical way of tempering cold winter days in the small poultry house. Just the thing poultrymen have been looking for to prevent a slump in egg yield caused by cold snaps. Get two seasons' use out of your Brooder Stove instead of only one. Use the Temperlator to take the chill off during the winter. In the spring, remove the Brooder Stove, slip on the hover and brood baby chicks. Draws cold air through slotted openings in the base of the cabinet. The air is thus warmed and thrown into circulation.

TAKES THE CHILL OFF

Consists of an all metal, non-inflammable cabinet and our regular No. 660 Stove. Stands 13 inches from floor on metal legs. Cabinet is 24 inches square. Measures 5 feet overall. Designed for 20x20 or 18x24 pens. May be used for pens up to 20x30. In larger pens use two or more. In addition to the regular automatic damper control of the Jamesway Brooder Stove there is an auxiliary damper in the ash pit door. This damper is used with the Temperlator for adjusting to various chimney drafts.

FB No. 661 Temperlator Cabinet without Stove.....$19.00
CB No. 662 Temperlator Cabinet with Stove less Hover 42.00
CB No. 663 Temperlator Cabinet with Stove and Hover 47.50

Complete Line of Jamesway Equipment
We Buy Poultry — Get Our Prices
ANDERSON HATCHERY -:- Belmond, Iowa

Your Thanksgiving Pies

Mince Pies, made from Heinz mince meat, hot out of the oven Thanksgiving day

Only 20c and 30c

PLACE YOUR ORDER EARLY!

DANISH BUTTER ROLLS
Saturday, November 19th - - Doz. 25c

MORROW & SCOTT
BELMOND'S BAKERS

The Onward March

Bankers Life Salesmen are Marching On

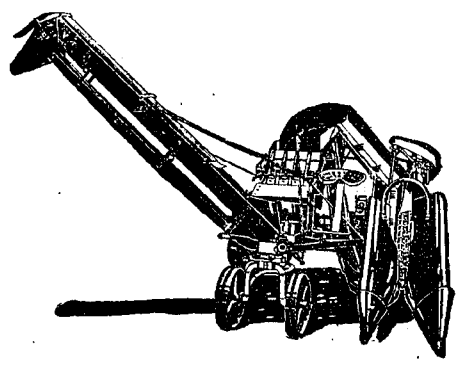
New Business Paid for in October

$14,158,000

The largest amount of new business paid for in any one month in the history of the Company

C. O. Fitts, Local Agent
Fort Dodge Agency

Bankers Life Company, Des Moines



A Corn Picker Increases Your Husking Capacity Six to Ten Times

Add the extra cost of hand husking to your profits —be rid of worry at husking time forever. Owners tell us that a corn picker will pay for itself in two years with what it saves.

A Corn Picker Will Solve Your Help Problems

Will out-pick six men.
Will do cleaner work than hand huskers.
Will get your husking done on time.

Let us explain the merits of the new 1927 Models. There are many improvements on both the

JOHN DEERE and McCORMICK-DEERING

PRICES VERY REASONABLE

GRIESY'S

The Friendly Place
PHONE 10
BELMOND, IOWA

MESERVEY SECTION

MESERVEY WOMAN WATCHES MEN STEAL GASOLINE

Early Sunday evening Sheriff Johnson was called to the Adolph Schlichting home, two and a half miles this side of Meservey, where they had been missing chickens and gasoline. Mrs. Schlichting had been at home but had the house closed, so that when a party in a car called and knocked at the door they were under the impression that the folks were all away. They then proceeded to help themselves to gasoline which they found on the place and this maneuver Mrs. Shlichting watched from her bedroom window. When they were about to leave she went out and accosted them, but they drove on and Mrs. Schlichting notified the authorities. Taking Deputy Leonard and Marshal Finn of Belmond along Sheriff Johnson obtained information whereby three young men were arrested, two charged with petty larceny and one with larceny of poultry. Later two more were arrested and held for investigation and Sheriff Cress of Mason City was called in as there had been some stealing taking place in his county. An all night session was held Sunday night and Monday found four new boarders in the county bastile. The promptness with which Mrs. Schlichting acted in the matter was of material aid in rounding up the suspects and was the kind of cooperation that is appreciated by the Sheriff's office.—Monitor.

REFORMED CHURCH

The Dorcas Society met last Wednesday evening. Miss Katie Koeneu served refreshments.

The consistory again had the privilege and joy Sunday evening to receive four new members into the church. May the God of all grace richly bless all new members received lately with the full blessing of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. May others who have not yet received Christ be led by the Spirit of God to do so. We are thankful for the visible manisfestation of God among us. To Him alone be all the glory!

Classes in cateschism will meet again next Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

There will be a Thanksgiving and Thank Offering service on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24th, at 10 o'clock. Remember our usual Thanksgiving offering. "Let us come before His presence with thanksgiving."

Sunday school at 9:30.

Morning worship at 10:30 (German).

Young people meeting at 7:30.

Preaching service at 8:00.

Choir practice Thursday at 8:00 p. m.

All are cordially invited to attend these services.

H. Pannkuk, Pastor

EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Sunday school at 9:45.

Morning worship ot 10:45. This will be a Thanksgiving service.

E. L. C. E. at 7:00. Mrs. Emma Foss, leader.

In the evening we have a Thanksgiving program under the auspices of the W. M. S. They are having a treat in store for us. An offering will be taken for missions. Members please bring the contents of your Thank Offering boxes.

The Mission sermon and offering on last Sunday was a success. The offering amounted to $55.00. All seemed to enjoy it.

Choir practice Sunday evening.

Junior Choir practice Monday evening.

German prayer meeting Wednesday evening.

English prayer meeting and Bible study Thursday evening.

A. K. Henning, Pastor

MESERVEY LOCAL NEWS

L. B. Hulsebus and Walter Witt of Dows spent Wednesday here with relatives. Walter has been attending Morningside College, but owing to his brother, Herman's serious illness, he will not return to his school work this semester.

Sheriff Cress was a professional caller in our city several days last week.

Simon Eckhoff returned home from Hollandale, recently to spend the winter at his mother's home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hulsebus and son Bobby, of Dows, stopped here to visit relatives on their return from Mason City, Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stadtlander and the latter's sister visited relatives at Bristow, Wednesday.

Rev. and Mrs. H. Raecker left last Friday evening for Brooklyn, New York, where they will visit indefinitely at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Joe Meci and family. They were accompanied to Coulter by their son, G. E.

Joe Stadtlander and wife were Mason City callers Saturday afternoon.

Jeanette Raecker returned Friday from a week's visit at the James Hemming home in Thornton.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Arends and daughter, Lucile of Dumont, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Branan of Hampton, E. E. Butz and family of Clear Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith of Mason City were visitors at the W. F. Butz home Sunday.

Miss Leona Fischer of Brooton, Minn., is visiting relatives here, and plans to care for Grandmotner Wckersheim for a few days.

Dr. F. S. Agler of Surprise, Nebr. is spending a few weeks here with his daughter and children.

Clark Shove was taken to Mason City Saturday evening and was admitted to the Mercy hospital, where on Monday he underwent a minor operation.

W. F. Butz spent Monday at Mason City on jury duty. Also several days last week.

Mrs. Wm. Priebush was accompanied to Mason City by her son Carl Quandt, and wife, Monday. She will return to her home in Reeseville, Wis., where her husband will join her on a trip to Oklahoma to visit relatives for two months.

C. J. Janssen and family were Mason City callers Saturday.

Miss Gwethelyn Wenzel of Thornton spent a few days at the Walter Braga home the past week.

Wilfred Paul returned home from Minnesota, Thursday, to remain indefinitely.

H. F. Reif began his new duties as meter reader for Central States Electric Co., this week. From now on if you feel the figures are too high, just blame Heinie.

Grandmother Strasburg has been failing the past week and little hope is held for her recovery.

Wm. Muhlenbrock and family of Latimer were visitors at the Paul Hopkey home Sunday.

BASKET SOCIAL

At District No. 7, Hopkey school, 5 miles north of Meservey, Wednesday evening, Nov. 23. Ladies please bring baskets.

1c Lena N. Pals, Teacher.

WARNING!

Hereafter anyone trespassing on the premises of Adolph Schlichting's farm will do so at their own risk.

1* Adolph Schlichting.

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Bldg
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

JOIN

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29

ATWATER KENT RADIO
Fresh "B" Batteries always on hand.
H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

Undertaking & Funeral Director
F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone--Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

Harry T. Smith
General Blacksmithing
Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding
Meservey, - Iowa

Bank Your Money

If you have money it should be deposited in the Bank.

When you were a borrower some one deposited so you could borrow.

Pay your debt and build your credit at the same time.

Convenience and correct change.

SAFETY AND SERVICE

Farmers Savings Bank
Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

HIGH QUALITY
BUILDING MATERIAL
Screen Doors and Window Screens—Mill Work—Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts and Poles
Cement — Lime
INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT
Wheat Bran – Oil Meal – Cotton Seed Meal, – Tankage – Salt
Highest Price Paid for Grain

Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

FOR YOUR AUCTIONEER
CALL
H. BRUMMOND
KANAWHA, IOWA
PHONE 118

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

for Economical Transportation

CHEVROLET

A car for her, too!

In thousands of American homes there are now two automobiles—"a car for her, too," so that there may be transportation for the family while "he" drives to business.

And because it is so easy to drive and park . . . because it is so decidedly smart and comfortable, today's Chevrolet is an outstanding favorite among women drivers everywhere.

Come in—and see the beautiful Chevrolet models. You'll find quality you have always associated with the highest priced automobiles—and you'll find that Chevrolet ownership is always economical . . . even when the family has more than one automobile!

AT THESE LOW PRICES

The Touring or Roadster	$525	The Sport Cabriolet	$715
The Coach	595	The Imperial Landau	745
The Coupe	625	½-Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	395
The 4-Door Sedan	695	1-Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	495

All prices f. o. b. Flint, Michigan
Check Chevrolet Delivered Prices
They include the lowest handling and financing charges available.

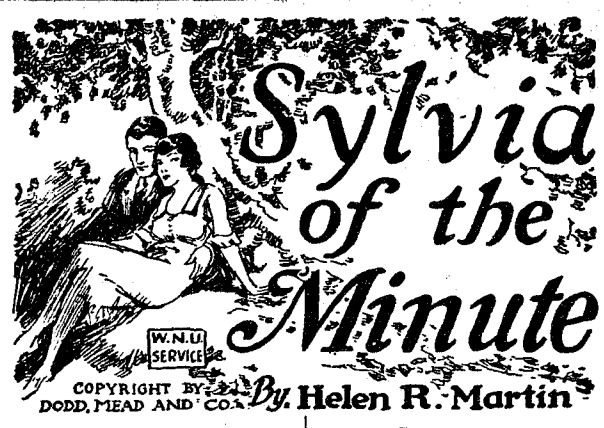
HUB MOTOR COMPANY
Belmond, Iowa
RAECKER CHEVROLET SALES COMPANY
Meservey, Iowa
QUALITY AT LOW COST

Camel
keeps right on delivering enjoyment

Camel holds the leadership because it delivers complete smoking pleasure—that's Camel's platform.

If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.

© 1927, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.



COPYRIGHT BY DODD, MEAD AND CO.

By Helen R. Martin

The Schwenckton family, as well as all the neighboring farm families, had seen this kitchen become transformed in three weeks, under the temporary reign of Aunt Rosy during the confinement of Schwenckton's young wife, from a spotless cleanliness to a messy untidiness and disorder which, in the eyes of the immaculate Pennsylvania Dutch housekeepers, was a scandal next only to immorality and more unheard of. Aunt Rosy's incompetent housekeeping, combined with her autocratic and unamiable attitude towards her sister's stepchildren (from which there was no escape nor appeal, since it was backed up by the Head of the House) had driven the elder son and daughter to rebel and run away; Nettie, the fifteen-year-old girl, having found refuge in the home of her grandmother and Jakey, seventeen years old, having disappeared entirely—to the genuine distress as well as inconvenience of their father to whom Jakey especially had been a great help on the farm. But the other two, Lizzie and Sammy, were too young to escape.

The one soft spot about Aunt Rosey, apparently, was her devotion to her young sister, Susie, Mr. Schwenckton's girl wife, whom she had "raised" from a baby. But although she idolized Susie, she completely dominated her. In all things Susie followed her elder sister's advice and judgment and obeyed her, when she was with her, as much now as when, before her marriage, she had lived in Rosy's home. Susie was the only person in the world who did not find Rosy repulsive.

Ten-year-old Lizzie, a thin, delicate-looking child, was working frantically at a wash-tub at the far end of the cluttered, dirty kitchen, crying hysterically while she worked, terrified of the punishment hanging over her.

Meely, going across the room to hang her jacket on a rack on the wall, spoke over her shoulder in reply to Aunt Rosy's complaints, her pleasant tone and manner betraying none of the loathing she felt towards the woman. "But since you didn't do the cleaning, Aunt Rosy (look at this kitchen!) nor the diapers, and kept Sammy home from school to wait on Susie, what have you done all day? Mr. Schwenckton won't like it, you know, that you're having the diapers washed here in the kitchen where we have to eat—"

It is to be noted that Meely's accent and diction were not now so studiously Pennsylvania Dutch as when she had talked with St. Croix Creighton a half hour ago. The hint of foreignness in her speech was not that of the Pennsylvania Dutch at all.

A heavy step on the porch at this instant was followed by the opening of the kitchen door and the entrance of the farmer in overalls.

Lizzie's crying was instantly choked back while she bent to her work more frantically than ever; and Aunt Rosy acquired suddenly a great air of industry about the stove and table.

Mr. Schwenckton, closing the door behind him, stood surveying with disgust the disorder and dirt of the kitchen.

A big, red-faced man of mild, though obstinate, countenance, he looked so good-natured that one might have wondered why his children were so afraid of him. But family discipline among the Pennsylvania Dutch is a religion; "spare the rod and spoil the child," a dogma. Mr. Schwenckton had ever tried to perform his whole duty by the children God had given him to rear for His honor and glory in a heavenly home, the Scriptural prescription for accomplishing this being the only means he knew, disagreeable as he often found it—for he was withal an affectionate father; not wholly severe; only very conscientious; obstinate in the performance of what he saw to be his duty, however difficult.

"Yi, yi, yi!" he shook his head and frowned at the dirty kitchen, "but you're the dopple of a housekeeper, Aunt Rosy! You ain't the nice housekeeper your little sister Susie is. Well, I guess anyhow not! Yi, yi, if the neighbors seen our kitchen so through-other yet!"

"Yes, well, but when I tell you oncet how Lizzie won't help along when I tell her to," his sister-in-law complained as she began to dish up sausage and fried potatoes, while Mr. Schwenckton went to the sink to wash his hands, "you'll see for yourself, Mister, how I can't get through all by myself. Lizzie she run—"

"Lizzie!" the farmer broke in, raising his voice above the running water. "stop that splashin' at the tub and come now to your supper."

"Ye-yes, sir," the child stammered, her teeth almost chattering. As she dried her hands on her apron and came to the table, Aunt Rosy gave her a look as of one who would say, "You just wait! Don't think because he cut me short that I ain't tellin' on you! You just wait!"

"Where's Sammy?" asked Mr. Schwenckton.

"Upstairs settin'," his sister-in-law told him as she carried the food from the stove to the table. "With Susie. Susie she's too poorly to be let alone, whiles I gotta be down here."

Mr. Schwenckton shook his head dolefully, his face, as it emerged from the roller-towel, looking deeply troubled.

"Well, come everybody now and set. I want to get eat and hurry up to Susie."

During the long "blessing" invoked by the head of the house, after they were all seated, Meely's was the only head unbowed. The expression of her face (while fulsome words of gratitude were directed to the throne of God) suggested anything but thankfulness as she surveyed the platter of sausage floating in a lake of grease, the burnt potatoes, the pale, heavy pie.

At the "Amen" she rose at once, went to a cupboard and brought back to the table a fresh napkin for herself.

The temporary housekeeper spoke up in self-defense against the implied criticism of this gesture on Meely's part. "Well, if I did forget your napkin again, I must say I wasn't raised to eat so hoggish myself that I need a napkin to my meals!"

"You've got no need, Aunt Rosy," her brother-in-law mildly admonished her, "to speak so unpolite. Us we all know," he added as they all began to help themselves, each one for himself, as was their custom, "that Meely was raised more refined than us."

"Well, I wouldn't go so far as to say that, Mister," Aunt Rosy resentfully objected. "To call myself common yet toward what she is! I ain't belittlin' myself that much! I cert'nly consider myself as good as other ones; and so I likewise consider your poor, sweet, little wife, Sam Schwenckton! If she'd heerd you'd compared her to this here stranger and sayed she was common toward what this here stranger is—"

"Ach, Aunt Rosy, be peaceable," Mr. Schwenckton checked this whining tirade. "Meely ain't ezackly a stranger to us, even if we didn't get acquainted with her till here this fall. You can't call a cousin a stranger yet!"

"You ain't got no proof she's your cousin. She don't look like as if she's your cousin. Nor act or speak like none of your cousins I ever met up with."

"Yes, well, you never met up with none of the Berks County Schwencktons. They're different, too, again from us Schwencktons here in Dauphin county. They're better educated that way and more refined. Meely," he addressed their boarder, his tone anxious, his eyes worried, "how do you think my Susie is today?"

"She can't get better so long as you keep her room dark and don't air it, Mr. Schwenckton. Air and light are all she needs to get well."

"Yes, well, but I don't hold with them doctors that says it's unsanitarium to keep the windahs shut and the room dark when you're sick," Mr. Schwenckton pronounced conclusively—and from a conclusion once reached, a position once taken, the power did not exist that could move Sam Schwenckton.

He drew a deep sigh. "I did hope Susie was gettin' better for me after her lookin'g so bright yesterday."

"The reason she was so much brighter and better yesterday," said Meely, "was because when Aunt Rosy was taking a nap, I covered Susie and the baby with blankets and aired the room! Threw open all the doors and windows and left them open for an hour! Then I washed Susie and changed her nightgown and the bed linen. She and the baby slept after that for four hours! That's why she was better yesterday."

Mr. Schwenckton looked sternly disapproving. "You hadn't ought to heist windahs where a person's layin' sick!" he reaffirmed, and Aunt Rosy added her horrified prophecy: "Yes, soon you'll have another wife dead on you, Mister, with such goings-on as soon as my back is turned around behind me oncet!"

"Susie would be up and about in a week if you kept her room aired and clean," Meely imperturbably affirmed, "and the baby, too, would pick up. There's nothing the matter with the baby except that it's not properly taken care of, Mr. Schwenckton."

"Yes, well, but when a body's sick, or for babies," Mr. Schwenckton repeated, "we don't hold to openin' windahs on 'em."

"Susie's bed was plenty clean as it was!" declared Rosy. "It didn't need changin' till another week yet. It makes me too much work, such behavior does! And Susie's too sick for Meely to take and wash her! Of—all things! Washin' a person when they're sick yet!"

Meely's reception of this criticism was as impersonal as though it were being directed toward anyone but herself. Her whole attitude to this family, her very presence here, seemed tentative, experimental. When she was not regarding them with wide-eyed wonder *and curiosity, her face was ex*pressing amusement, or pity, or impatience; sometimes bewilderment; sometimes the interested suspense of one might feel at a "movie" or a play.

Their attitude to her, however, was entirely matter-of-fact. Evidently they took her quite for granted, as she certainly did not take them.

Just now her alert observation took in the fact that Mr. Schwenckton's anxious glance was resting with affectionate concern on Lizzie's red eyes; that he was aware of her desperate effort to repress the little gasping catching of her breath which betrayed her recent violent crying; that he saw she was not eating her supper.

Aunt Rosy Never Missed a Chance to Disparage Meely in Sam Schwenckton's Eyes.

Reaching across the table, he took her plate, piled it with food and handed it to her. "Eat your supper, Lizzie," he ordered in a tone that for him was a caress. "We can't have no more sick folks here."

"Y-yes, sir." Though the food strangled her, she would have to obey and eat it to the last crumb when her father so ordered.

Aunt Rosy never missed a chance to disparage Meely in Sam Schwenckton's eyes; for she felt that if she could get rid of this objectionable girl, as she had gotten rid of Nettie and Jakey, the two older children of the family, she would hold the situation in hand, here in her young sister's home, with much more confidence.

"So you took another of them long walks of yourn again today, Meely, ain't?" she just now remarked insinuatingly. "Seems so funny walkin' just fur the sake of walkin'! Ain't, Sam? I guess," Aunt Rosy nodded knowingly, "she goes to meet her fellah!"

This bait elicited no reply from Meely, though it manifestly touched Mr. Schwenckton's curiosity a bit and even Lizzie's sickly interest.

"But why," continued Aunt Rosy, "are you so secret about it if you're got a fellah? You're welcome, I'm sure, to keep comp'ny here in the front room. Ain't, Sam? You're got no need to meet him secret that way. It don't look nice. Looks like as if you had somepin to hide yet! Ain't Sam?"

"I can't think," responded Mr. Schwenckton reflectively, "of any fellah 'round here that wouldn't be too common for Meely."

"Ach, I don't know. She ain't so much so far forth as I can see," Aunt Rosy frankly stated, "even if she is high-educated that way."

"The only educated young 'men 'round here is the two Creightons, *and to be sure," said Mr. Schwenck*ton, "they only run with swells."

"Creightons?" repeated Meely inquiringly.

"Yes. They're away-up folks, them Creightons. They're 'ristocratics, they are. Grand folks. None better. Even the swells that live in town ain't nothin' much to the Creightons—they're got so much, the Creightons has."

"'So much'? Money, you mean, of course?"

"To be sure. What else?"

"Well, I thought you might mean education or brains or even character—interesting things."

"Yes, well, they're got all them things, too."

"Have they?"

"Ach, yes, they're wery grand college-educated that way, them two Creightons. And the younger one, St. Croix, he's wery proud *and high-minded; wonderful high*minded! Marvin, the older one, he ain't so proud. He's different to what St. Croix is."

"How is he different?" asked Meely, disguising under an elaborate indifference her excited interest. Much as she had longed to ask questions about the Creightons, she had never dared risk it, so she was elated that, without any maneuvering on her part, the talk should be taking this interesting turn.

(Continued Next Week)

The Tenth Anniversary of America's entry into the World War in 1917, is an appropriate time to join the American Red Cross and participate through membership in its peace-time services. Join during the Annual Roll Coll, November 11 to 24.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF HILL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, INC.

THE UNDERSIGNED, of legal age and residents and citizens of the United States, hereby associate ourselves into a body corporate and adopt the following articles of Incorporation:

I.

The name of the corporation shall be Hill Manufacturing Company, Inc., and its principal place of business shall be at Belmond, Iowa.

II.

The object and purpose of the corporation shall be to engage in the business of manufacturing and selling, at retail and at wholesale, automobile awnings and parts, automobile accessories, awnings, curtains and other articles and appliances, and to do each and every necessary or proper thing to forward such object and purpose.

III.

The corporation shall have the right to buy, hold, lease, sell, convey, assign, transfer mortgage or otherwise encumber personal and real property. All instruments affecting real estate of the corporation shall be signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary.

IV.

The authorized capital stock of this corporation is $15,000.00 divided into shares of $100.00 each. The corporation may commence business when $300.00 in stock has been issued but no stock shall be issued until the corporation has received full cash payment therefor.

V.

The corporate period shall begin on the date of the issuance of its charter by the Secretary of State and shall terminate tweny (20) years thereafter unless sooner dissolved according to law.

VI.

The officers of the corporation shall be a President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Board of Directors. The Secretary and Teasurer may be the same person.

The corporation shall be managed by a Board of three directors, chosen from the stockholders at the annual meeting or at a special meeting called for that purpose.

The Board shall have the right to employ such labor and agents as it may deem necessary, and to fix the salaries and wages of all employees and officers, and may adopt by laws, which may be altered or changed by the stockholders.

VII.

The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held on the first Monday in October. Until the first annual meeting the following persons shall be officers:

W. C. Tyrrell, Jr., President, Belmond, Iowa.

V. F. Mikesell, Secretary, Belmond, Iowa.

G. H. Klemme, Treasurer, Belmond, Iowa.

W. C. Tyrrell, Jr., Director, Belmond, Iowa.

V. F. Mikesell, Director, Belmond, Iowa.

G. H. Klemme, Director, Belmond, Iowa.

All officers of the corporation shall hold office for the term of one year or until their successors are elected and qualified. Every officer and director shall be a stockholder and if any officer or director transfers or sells his stock, he shall thereby cease to be an officer or director.

The Board of Directors may fill any vacancy until the next annual meeting.

Special meetings of stockholders may be called by the president or any member of the board of directors by giving five (5) days notice in person or in writing to the stockholders, and the President shall call a meeting when requested so to do by two-thirds (2-3) of the stockholders. At all stockholders meetings each stockholder shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

VIII.

The highest amount of indebtedness to which this corporation shall at any one time be subject shall not exceed two-thirds (2-3) of its paid up capital stock.

IX.

The private property of the stockholders shall not be liable for the debts of the corporation.

X.

These articles may be amended at any annual meeting of the stockholders or at any special meeting called for that purpose, by a majority vote of the stock.

XI.

The corporation reserves unto itself a lien upon all the stock of any stockholders for all indebtedness of such stockholders to the corporation and any assignment or transfer of stock shall be subject to the lien of any indebtedness due from such stockholder to the corporation, and no transfer of any of the stock of the corporation shall be made until such lien, if any exists, has been paid and satisfied.

Dated October 18th, A. D. 1927.

W. C. Tyrrell, Jr.
V. F. Mikesell
G. H. Klemme

WANT ADS PAY

FRIEND C. BRAS
Tests Eyes Fits Glasses
Service Guaranteed
SOUTH OF COURT HOUSE
CLARION, - IOWA
1-128

This Car has been carefully checked and reconditioned where necessary
✓ Motor
✓ Radiator
✓ Rear Axle
✓ Transmission
✓ Starting ✓ Lighting
✓ Ignition
✓ Battery
✓ Tires
✓ Upholstery
✓ Top
✓ Fenders
✓ Finish
O.K.

CHEVROLET
USED CARS
with an OK that counts
Reconditioned Right— and Priced Right!
When we recondition a used car, we do a thorough job. All work is done by efficient expert mechanics, using genuine parts for all replacements. Then we price it right.
This square-deal reconditioning and selling policy is your assurance that you pay only for what you get when you buy a used car from us—and that your car will give thousands of miles of dependable service.
Look for our red "O.K." tag when buying your used car.
HUB MOTOR COMPANY
Phone 39 Belmond, Iowa
QUALITY AT LOW COST

BLANCHE RING
Noted Star of the Stage writes:
"The life of an actress is one of nerve-strain. If she sings, also, her worries are doubled. Her audiences reflect her moods. If she is mentally tired, she cannot help but convey her fatigue to those out in front and the result is a form of ennui on both sides of the footlights. I have found a sure cure for such fatigue, on the part of the player, is a good cigarette. For years I have smoked Lucky Strikes and the mental balm and real enjoyment I have derived from them have helped me marvelously. In addition they have protected my voice. I use no other brand."
Blanche Ring

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTE
MADE OF THE CREAM OF THE TOBACCO CROP
"It's toasted"
No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

The Splinters

"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2 Thursday, November 17, 1927 No. 31

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

The nights are getting longer, but we don't seem to find any more time to sleep.

—

Everything equalizes itself. The rich have ice in summer, and the poor in winter.

—

One man tells us that last year he carried out two loads of ashes from every load of coal he burned. That may be exaggerated a little, but he hadn't bought it here. He ordered his first load today and very soon he'll join the list of boosters.

A city chap was crossing the pasture. "I say," he shouted to the farmer in an adjoining field, "is that bull safe?"

"Well," replied the farmer, "he's a danged sight safer than you are right now."

—

Prepare for those wintry blasts. Storm doors and windows are the answer.

—

"There's a fly in that milk pitcher,"
Said the fussy Mr. Brown.
"Never mind," replied the waiter,
"Serves him right
—just let 'im drown."

The papers yesterday told of a man who sawed himself out of jail with a safety razor blade. We've got a few blades just like that.

—

Magazine size hard coal on hand, also soft coal in the egg size, for ranges.

—

We clipped this from an Iowa newspaper. — "A burning shingle from the barn fell on Mrs. Anna Noonan's neck, inflicting a severe burn. The loss was only partially covered by insurance."

—

Some people live and learn, and other people just live.

—

A quartet is where all four think the other three can't sing.

LOCAL NEWS

The M. E. Aid meets today with Mrs. F. J. Tuffree.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Martin and Mrs. Finch drove to Ames last Friday to see Albert Martin, and to attend the football game.

Mrs. J. S. White's division of the M. E. Aid enjoyed a dinner at the church Saturday evening, with their husbands as guests.

Mrs. D. E. Packard was hostess to the Priscilla Club, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Holtzbauer, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Holtzbauer of Algona, visited the Matt Holtzbauer home in Belmond, Sunday.

Mrs. Andrew Bullis spent the week end with her son, C. King of Fort Dodge.

Mrs. Arthur Hinman suffered a broken arm, a few days ago, while cranking their car, the engine backfiring.

Mrs. L. R. Parsons and daughter, Doris, and Miss Waugh, motored to Clarksville, Friday, returning Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Truckenmiller and daughter, Fern, of Sibley, spent the week end at the H. J. Williams home.

Rev. Langholz left Tuesday night for his former home at Fairview, Kin., where he preaches the funeral sermon today of Edward Meyer, a former parishioner.

Glasses fitted.—A. H. Berger, Specialist, Clarion, Iowa. 528c

Ronald Purcell left last week for Milwaukee, where he will take special treatment for a severe case of uticaria, or giant hives. He will return to his school work after the holidays.

Several million young people are getting ready to make a success of life by storing up all the educational energy possible. What are YOU doing? Perhaps, you have just been delaying a few months and you are ready now to make the winter months count. The Hamilton University, Mason City, Iowa offers you just the opportunity you want—standard courses fully accredited. The First Winter Term opens Monday, November 28.

BAZAAR AND SUPPER

The Ladies of Trinity church will hold their annual bazaar and supper on Saturday, Nov. 19. Bazaar opens 10:00 a. m. The chicken supper will be served from 5 o'clock until all are served.

BASKET SOCIAL

At the Olaf school, district No. 3, Belmond township, Tuesday evening, Nov. 22. Ladies please bring baskets. Everyone invited.

Miss Charlotte Hull, Teacher.

VERY LOW FARES FOR THANKSGIVING VIA CHICAGO GREAT WESTERN

Only one fare plus 50c for the round trip between nearly all stations on the Great Western. Tickets now on sale for all trains November 23 and 24. Good for return to reach home before midnight November 28, 1927. Half fares for children. Coach and chair car seats free; Pullman berths extra. Details from any agent of the Chicago Great Western R. R.

C. A. CHURCH DIES

(Continued from page one.)

day morning, Nov. 14, at 10:30 at the home, Rev. C. H. Van Metre, Methodist pastor of Garner and formerly of Belmond, officiating. The American Legion, Eimbrink Post No. 35, furnished the military part of the services, the Legion band playing several selections. The remains were taken to Des Moines for cremation, as was done with his wife and daughter.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the friends and neighbors for their kindly assistance during the brief illness and death of C. A. Church.

Mr. and Mrs. George Avery.

Mrs. R. H. Klemme was hostess to the Delphian club Monday evening. A very clever one act play was given by three of the members.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Enger and daughter, Helen, of Colorado Springs Colo., who have visited the C. B. Johnson home the past two weeks, returned home this week.

Mrs. Mullinex, who has been making quite an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Finn, returned to her home at Scott City, Kansas, Monday.

Funeral services were held Friday for C. B. Johnson, short services being held first at the home and then at Trinity Lutheran church. Rev. Guldseth, pastor of Trinity church, officiated. Burial was in Franklin Grove cemetery.

Out of town relatives and friends in attendance at the funeral of Mr. C. B. Johnson were: Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Johnson and daughter, Theodora of Latimer; Ruth Johnson, Windom, Minn.; Gladys Johnson of Ames College, Ames; Loretta Johnson of Fairview Hospital, Minneapolis; Mrs. Arnold Burke and son of Irene, S. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson and daughters, Viola and Dorothy, Huxley; Eleanor Johnson of St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Schonemann and children, Lauritz and Sena, Thornton; Arthur and Jessie Nelson, Mrs. H. C. Dull and son Forest, and Lloyd Skovlin of Mason City; Mr. and Mrs. Ove Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Christenson, Latimer; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nelson, Eagle Grove; Mathilda Skovlin of Des Moines; Harry Newgard, Goodell; Mrs. Ralph Edwards, Rockwell City; Rev. and Mrs. Axel Shefveland of Kenyon-Minn. Rev. Shefveland assited at the funeral services of Mr. C. B. Johnson.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19

What? Trinity Ladies Aid Bazaar and Chicken Supper.

Where? In the parlors of the church.

When? On above date. Bazaar will begin at 10 a. m. The supper will be served at 5 p. m., and throughout the evening.

WELCOME!

BASKET SOCIAL

The schools, Belmond township No. 7 and Grant Township No. 9, will hold a joint social at No. 9, the new school on the Loomis farm, Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Good program. Everybody invited. Ladies please bring baskets.

Miss Amelia Hovick.
Miss Ethel Hedges.

SALE DATES CLAIMED

NOV. 29—A. J. Fee, closing out farm sale.

DEC. 14—Clarence Scott. Closing out farm sale.

DEC. 15—Sampson Stock Farm closing out farm sale. Also H. G. Guernsey herd.

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Pure bred white Leghorn cockerels, 75c. Pure bred Plymouth Rock cockerels $1.25. Pullets $1.—Blairs. 1*

FOR SALE—Pure bred Silver Laced Wyandotte roosters. $1.50 each if taken in November.—J. M. Croft, Alexander, Iowa. 12*

FOR SALE—Dressed geese and chickens, delivered.—L. R. Farmer. Phone 2109. 1*

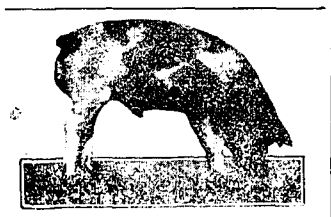
FOR SALE—A Dutch Napanee Kitchen Cabinet with white porcelain top, also one large piece linoleum 10x15.—Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen. 12*

FOR SALE — Spotted Poland China boar pigs, weighing from 150 to 225 lbs., cholera immune.—C. Edwin Johnson, Kanawha, 3 miles south, 1 3-4 miles west. 48-2

FOR SALE—Duroc Jersey boars, big bone, with plenty of stretch. Fireworks breeding.—Geo. Thompson, 2 miles north and 3 east of Belmond. 504*

FOR SALE—Pure bred Duroc Jersey boars. Cholera immune. Farm 1½ miles south of Alexander.—Clarence Smith. 5z2c

FOR SALE—P. B. Chester White boars of the big stretchy type; also three fall boars. New blood lines for old cutsomers; cholera immune. —Erith Cook. Farm located 3 3-4 miles northwest of Kanawha, Rt. 2. 48-1



FOR SALE—Big, husky spring boars. New blood for old customers. Cholera immune. Satisfaction guaranteed. Prices $30 and $35 for quick sale.—Roy Jenison. 51tf

FOR SALE—Large white Leghorn cockerels, $1. Black and Spotted Poland boars, 200 lbs. $50, if taken at once. Ten head cows and heifers to freshen soon. All good stuff.—P. H. Pals, Meservey. 51tf

FOR SALE — Spotted Poland Boars. Have a number of spring boars, weighing 175 to 250 pounds, also have two fall boars. Farm located 1 mile north, 2 miles west of Goodell. Gundvel Johnson. 496*

Poultry Wanted

We will call to buy your poultry and will pay you the highest market price. Poultry weighed and paid for at your place. Just call Geo. Coburn, Cornelia. Clarion phone 61-31. Belmond phone 3317. 47tf

Special

Thanksgiving Dinner

A regular old-fashioned Thanksgiving Dinner, with all the trimmings, Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24. No advanve in price—just the same as Sunday dinners, 45c. Bring the family!

Remember our Special Sunday chicken dinners.

MEALS LUNCHES
SHORT ORDERS
ICE CREAM CANDY
CIGARS TOBACCO

Look for the Red Light!

RED LIGHT CAFE

RAY BREWER, Prop

READ THE WANT ADS

CITY MARKET'S SPECIALS!

Friday - Saturday
NOVEMBER 18-19

Pork Sausage, per lb. ____ 17c
Neck Bones 3 lbs. ____ 25c
Pork Chops, per lb. ____ 25c
O. K. Oleo, per lb. ____ 20c

Watch for Our Specials Every Week!

Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning

City Meat Market

Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207. Belmond, Iowa

Selection of
Matrons Hats
Large head sizes
$2.98

All Hosiery 89c

A few Felts and Children's Hats
$1

The Hat Shoppe
Belmond, Iowa

ROBINSONS ... STORE ...

BAKERY
GROCERY

Dried Fruits are Cheaper. Listen!

80-90 prunes, 3 lbs.	25c
50-60 prunes, 2 lbs.	25c
20-30 prunes, per lb.	20c
Raisins, all kinds, per lb.	10c
Peaches, Blue Ribbon, per lb.	16c
Dates this week, 2 lb.	25c
Pears, fancy,	25c
Apricots	25c

FRUIT CAKE for Thanksgiving.

Masola Oil, bulk, per qt.	50c
Mince meat ready for pie, lb.	25c
A. B. C. pancake flour	25c
Bacon Nuggets, none better, lb.	30c
Van Camps beans, medium can	10c
Van Camps soup, 3 cans	25c
1 lb. jars jelly	20c

We help you, you help us.

Lyric Theatre

...Geo. Hake, Manager...

SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS

FRIDAY and SATURDAY
NOVEMBER 18 and 19

"OUT ALL NIGHT"

Universal picture with Reginald Denny, Marion Nixon, Wheeler Oakman, Dorothy Earle. Farce comedy about back stage life when Denny fell in love with the beautiful star of a musical show.

NEW WRINKLES
Educational comedy

10c and 25c

MONDAY, TUESDAY
NOVEMBER 21 and 22

"THE MAGIC GARDEN"

F. B. O. picture with Joyce Coad, Margaret Morris, Phillip De Lacey, Raymond Keane. Story of the titanic power of a childhood love, born amid the witchery of an old-fashioned garden, flowering in the romantic palaces of historic Venice, attaining its full splendor when the Girl meet again in the Magic Garden.

Fox News

10c and 30c

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY
NOVEMBER 23 and 24

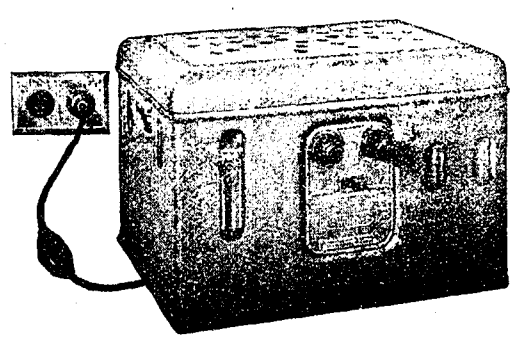
"THE CRYSTAL CUP"

First National picture with Dorothy Mackaill, Jack Mulhall, Rockliffe Fellowes, Jane Winton. Based on Gertrude Atherton's novel.

AROUND THE BASES
Collegian comedies.

10c and 25c

COMING—"The Seventh Heaven", November 28 and 29



The Willard "A" and "B" Power Unit

Is the Premier of All Radio Power Units

It meets every demand. It is convenient, simple and efficient. Convenient, for its adaptability to your radio cabinet or any remote location. Simple, because it is controlled automatically by means of the switch on your radio set. Efficient, since it incorporates the best principles of engineering yet devised.

NOW ON DISPLAY AND READY FOR DEMONSTRATION AT THE WILLARD BATTERY STATION.

BELMOND STORAGE BATTERY CO.

Phone 46 J. W. Scott, Prop.

Whew!

THE fishing season is OVER but the fish
STORIES still continue—
FOR instance, Fred Shipley
WAS in the store here
YESTERDAY and he says
THAT four years ago he WAS fishing at Cross Lake
AND the bass got
SO savage he had to KEEP his hands inside
THE boat—finally he LOOKED at his watch to SEE how late it was
AND a monster bass
JUMPED out of the water
AND grabbed the time
PIECE right out of FRED'S fingers!
BUT wait until you hear
THE rest of this story—
FRED says that the
NEXT season he was out
THERE again
AND he landed that SAME bass and when he
DRESSED the fish he found
HIS lost watch lodged in BETWEEN the gills somehow,
AND the action of the GILLS had kept the
WATCH wound up so that
IT had lost only three MINUTES during all
THAT time! Will somebody
PASS a palm leaf? We're GETTIN' warm!

Two Live Gold Fish

FREE! FREE!
FOR two days only,
FRIDAY and Saturday of this
WEEK, November 18 and 19
WE are going to give away
TWO live gold fish in a glass
GLOBE, with sea weed, pebbles
AND plants, with every purchase
OF one tube of NY-DENTA Tooth Paste at the REGULAR price—50 cents,
AS long as the fish last.
GET yours early! Only one
OUTFIT to a customer.
P. S.—We sell specially
PREPARED fish food at 10c
PER package.
TRY the Drug Store First!

Herman L. Schultz
SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

Kinseth's Store News

Cold weather is due, and along with it snow and slush. Have you got your Zipper boots yet? If not, remember we can fit you out with what you need. In black and all colors.

Our overshoe line is a good one, too, and it will pay you to look it over before buying overshoes.

Men's 4-buckle, all rubber overshoes at $3.98. Guaranteed.

Children's overshoes, too.

Wool socks for men, 28c to 65c per pair.

A fresh supply of Lutefisk just received, and we can supply your wants in this delicious food.

And don't forget that for Thanksgiving you can get anything you need, for the big dinner in the way of groceries and fruits, nuts and preserves, at the store on the corner. Make up your list, phone 19, and we'll deliver your order to your door.

P. S.—Don't forget to be at the football game with Hampton here Friday, tomorrow.

Bump Grocery Specials

Friday and Saturday, Nov. 18 - 19

MICHIGAN NAVY BEANS, LARGE SIZE, 3 LB.	.24
POP CORN, SHELLED, 2 LB.	.19
CORN FLAKES, 2 FOR	.24
PEARS AND PEACHES, LARGE CAN	.23
ASSORTED COOKIES, 1 LB.	.20
BULK HIGH GRADE COCOA, 1 LB.	.15

We have Liquid Figars Preserver for smoking meats.

We appreciate your patronage.

Call 38 for free delivery any time of day.

Bring in your eggs.

THE BUMP GROCERY

PHONE 38 BELMOND, IOWA

Belmond Independent

ESTABLISHED 1919 — AND HERALD-PRESS — CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 9 — BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1927. — NO. 2

Dows Girl Asks $5,000 Damages For Injuries

Auto Accident Brings Suit Against Car Owner In District Court

A $5,000 damage suit resulting from an automobile injury near Dows has been filed for trial at the coming term of the district court. Miss Helen Gebhart demands that amount from Lee Miller. For cause of action plaintiff alleges that on the evening of August 3, she was walking along the highway in Vernon township, keeping to the edge of the grade; that defendant's automobile, which was being driven by his young son, the defendant accompanying him, was driven recklessly, and unlawfully and negligently upon and over the body of the plaintiff, severely injuring her; that defendant suffered serious and grevious injuries, consisting of physical and mental shock; bruises, torn ligaments and partial loss of the sight of one eye, which may become totally blind. The sum of $410 is asked for expenditures for medical attention and nurse and $4950 for injuries, pain and suffering.

A friendly suit has been started against Wright and Webster counties by the state of Iowa in order to determine the residence of one John Voss, an inmate of the state institution at Cherokee for the past ten years. He was committed from Fort Dodge and until the present time that county has paid the expense of his care, something over $2000. The case first came to the attention of the Wright county board of supervisors, when a bill for his keep was sent here for payment, which was refused. It seems that Voss, who was a tiler, worked around Goldfield and Eagle Grove for a time before going to Fort Dodge, where he was making his home when the insanity charge was lodged against him. The Wright county board hopes to prove that the patient never obtained a legal residence in this county.

Game Wardens Greiner and Eaton filed complaint against Wm. Whittaker and Robt. Austin charging them with the possession of furs out of season. Search of their premises was made and seventy-four muskrat hides found. When arraigned before Justice Triggs they entered a plea of guilty. The former was fined $100 and the latter $50, one-half of the amount in each case being remitted during good behavior. The officers also confiscated the illegal furs, which were valued at $150. Deputy Greiner reports over forty such convictions during the past six weeks.

Complaint having come to the sheriff's office that gambling was going on in the Eagle Grove pool halls Sheriff Johnson made an official visit to that city Saturday. Assisted by Marshal Reynolds he searched the pool halls but found nothing of the nature complained of. The officers next turned their attention to the cigar store of Joe Gunderson, here they found five punch boards. The proprietor was taken before Mayor Baker, who fined him $25 and costs on his plea of guilty.

Fort Dodge officers wired Sheriff Johnson Saturday to hold Oliver "Sunshine" Goodwin for investigation in connection with an oil station hold up in that city the night previous. It proved to be a case of mistaken identity and "Sunshine" was released. Three or four oil station robberies have been pulled off in that city during the past week or two.

Foreclosure of a certain mortgage and judgment for $4187.11 and costs is asked against F. W. and Mary Klein of Eagle Grove. Suit is brought by receiver for the Citizens State bank. The same parties are involved in a second foreclosure for $2516.79.

J. D. Madison of Belmond petitions the court to declare his father H. C. Madison to be a person of unsound mind and to appoint H. F. Luick guardian of the eprson and property of said defendant. Property is valued at $33,000.

J. H. Martin & Son of Eagle Grove demand judgment against Roy and Helen Poland to collect a grocery account for $42.80.

E. Aughenbaugh & Co., vs. Henry Carl of Dows is a suit to collect $123.16, balance alleged to be due on account.

Harry and Mary Brown of Clarion are defendants in a suit brought by M. J. Wehrheim on a note for $445.26.

J. B. Sickies Co., vs W. W. Frakes of Eagle Grove is a suit to collect $114.95, balance alleged to be due on account.

A past due note for $868 is cause for suit in case of H. H. Rierson vs. Tom Finn of Belmond.

T. A. Holverson of Woolstock is defendant in a suit brought by Huiskamp Bros. to collect $118.09, balance on account.

The alleged balance of an unpaid grocery bill in the sum of $346.99 is basis of suit brought by J. H. Martin & Son against Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Orr of Eagle Grove.

Ray Lalor and Enos Orr are defendants in a suit to collect $65.56 on their joint promissory note executed to the State Bank of Woolstock in April, 1924.

Grain Belt Insurance Co., of Des Moines seeks to collect from W. L. Jacques on his note for $34.50 executed to said company.—Monitor.

CHURCH HEIRS

The will of the late C. A. Church of Belmond provides that his twenty-eight nieces and nephews shall share and share alike in the distribution of his $300,000 estate, after the same shall have been converted into money. None of the heirs are to receive title to any of the real estate. They are as follows:

Sarah Clayton, Reuben Church, Frances Church, Anna Church, John Church, Kate Church—Children of his deceased brother Reuben Church.

W. P. Church, Lena Church, Audrey Church, Andrew Church, Max Church, Gay Church—Children of his deceased brother Chas. M. Church.

Kate Heath, Bert Hiams, Susie Hiams, Mabel Emerson, May Hiams, Carrie Hiams—Children of his deceased sister Susan Hiams.

May Church, Burr Church, Adna Church, Octave Church, Lois Church. —Children of his deceased brother Henry Church.

Chas. Church, Elery Church, Carrie Church, Beecher Church, Birch Church.—Children of his deceased brother Carroll Church.

In addition to the above separate bequests are made to his brother and sister and Mrs. George Avery, each receiving $5000 and the further sum of $8000 to C. O. Fitts, executor of the estate.—Monitor.

MRS. NORDSCHOW IS HOSTESS TO MISSIONARY

The Congregational Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. Nordschow, Thursday afternoon, Nov. 17th, with a good attendance.

Meeting was called to order and devotional led by the president, Mrs. M. F. Christie.

Miss Elizabeth Turner, a returned missionary from China was with us and gave a very interesting talk, also had lots of pieces of beautiful work that the Chinese girls had done. Miss Turner expects to return to her work next summer.

After a social hour, our hostesses, Mrs. Nordschow, Mrs. Griesy, Mrs. Chester Luick and Mrs. Goelz served delicious refreshments.

Elect Officers Of Pleasant Township Bureau

Annual Meeting Results In Ira Studebaker Being Chosen Chairman

The Pleasant Township Farm Bureau held its annual meeting at the Center school house, Tuesday evening, Nov. 15. Mrs. Sampson, vice chairman, presided and the following program was given.

Lesson—"Culling the Farm Flock," Mrs. Jos. Sampson
Cornet Solo, Harry Webb
Remarks, County Agent Tomlinson
Reading, Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen
Vocal Solo, Sam Leinbach, Jr.
Address, County Pres. S. U. Leinbach

Mr. Tomlinson suggested plans and methods for carrying on the work for the coming year.

Rev. Leinbach spoke of the work and accomplishments of the Farm Bureau.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Chairman—Ira Studebaker
Vice chairman—Mrs. Ira Studebaker
Secy. and Treas.—O. D. Jenison

Following this refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed.

Thanks

First Good Fellowship Meeting Dec. 5

Don Farran, Rowan Writer Is Expected To Give Address Of Evening

The first meeting of the season of the Belmond Good Fellowship club is called for Monday evening, Dec. 5, at the library basement. This meeting, being the first, will be a reorganization meeting, with election of officers for the ensuing winter session. The usual refreshments will be served.

Don Farran To Speak

Efforts are being made to secure Don Farran, the young Rowan poet and writer, for speaker at the first meeting. Mr. Farran appeared before the club last winter and gave universal satisfaction. If, however, he is otherwise engaged for that evening, another good speaker will be secured.

COMMUNITY CLUB MEETING

The Community Club will meet on Friday afternon of this week in their usual monthly meeting. There will be community singing led by Mrs. C. C. Griesy. The usual business and then a sewing bee conducted by Mrs. McBurney, Mrs. T. Brooks and Mrs. Ralph Christie. The sewing is for our Christmas charity work. Bring your needle. thread, thimble, scissors and some quilt pieces.

The hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. E. Bock, Mrs. W. R. Ramsay, Mrs. C. O. Fitts, Mrs. Chas. Gealow, Mrs. Lud Johnson and Mrs. C. C. McGuire.

Rev. Arthur G. Langholz returned on Monday from Fairview, Kansas, his former home, where he was called to conduct the funeral of E. H. W. Meyer, which was largely attended. He also conducted Sunday morning services at the English Lutheran church of which he was pastor.

Prize Contest On Insurance Gets Under Way

Mrs. W. S. Pritchard, Of Garner, In Charge Of Federated Contest

A prize essay contest on the subject, "Guaranteeing a College Education Through Life Insurance," is being sponsored by the Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. W. S. Pritchard, Garner, chairman of the insurance department of the Federation, is in charge of the contest. A first prize of $75, second of $50, third of $25, and ten of $5 each will be awarded. The contest started Nov. 7, and closes Dec. 31, and is open to all students in the ninth to twelfth grades, inclusive, including private, church and parochial schools as well as public schools. Essays must be sent to Mrs. Pritchard, at Garner, and must not be over 500 words in length, typewritten, double spaced and written on one side of sheet only. Material to work on will apepar in the Des Moines Register of the Thanksgiving issue.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Cooperative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of November 13 to November 19.

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
13	46	23	—	Pt. cloudy
14	43	31	.14	Cloudy
15	42	21	.02	Cloudy
16	25	18	T	Cloudy
17	23	13	—	Cloudy
18	22	5	T	Cloudy
19	32	21	.03	Cloudy

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ramsay, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Fitts and Mr. and Mrs Cato C. Griesy attended a Rotarian meeting at Clarion, Monday evening held in the Odd Fellow hall. A banquet and program featured the evening.

STATE OF IOWA
Executive Department

THANKSGIVING DAY PROCLAMATION

Once more Thanksgiving Day set apart as an annual festival of thanksgiving for the year's blessings, is upon us. In noting the origin and cause of the early Thanksgiving Proclamations, we find that those of Washington and Lincoln were issued in thanksgiving for some event directly associated with what has since become a vital part of the history of our country. It was not until 1864 Congress finally declared that henceforth the last Thursday in November should be the correct day for a national thanksgiving and that the date should be a legal holiday. This custom has since been observed by every President and yet the only historic reference which we make in our recognition of the day is to the landing of the Pilgrims and their first year in America. But have we only the year 1621 and the current year's blessings to be thankful for? Would we today enjoy the blessings of freedom and prosperity were they not the result of a heritage left us not alone by our Pilgrim ancestors but by the pioneers of other periods. There cannot rest on the home any more sacred duty than to honestly and efficiently serve our county and reserve its ideals and institutions.

On this day of days, set apart for the giving of thanks to Almighty God for His divine goodness, surely the Flag, the emblem of freedom and opportunity should be prominenly displayed as evidence of our remembrance and gratitude.

Now, therefore, I, JOHN HAMMILL, Governor of the State of Iowa, do hereby designate

Thursday, the 24th Day of November

as Thanksgiving Day, and call upon the people of Iowa to devote the day to public thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many and signal favors of Almighty God, especially for affording them an opportunity peaceably to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of Iowa.
Done at Des Moines, this 14th day of November, A. D., 1927.

SEAL

By the Governor:
W. C. RAMSAY
Secretary of State

JOHN HAMMILL
Governor

P. T. A. HEARS FINE ADDRESS

The ladies who were present Friday afternoon, Nov. 18th, had an unusual treat in the address which Mrs. Hawthorne of Mason City, gave. The lady is a pleasing talented speaker and unfolded for us delightful knowledge in her subject, "The Influence of Women in Music."

Musical numbers by some of the grade children were enjoyed. The mothers surely appreciate the splendid work Miss Waugh, music instructor, is doing with their children.

Interest in the P. T. A. attendance charts is very keen. Mothers and even the neighbors are turning out to help the youngsters win.

Refreshments and a social hour closed the meeting.

Choosing The Vitamine

Yes, that is what some of the P. T. A. mothers are doing. They do not mean to have their children behind with their school work, or cross and thin, or perhaps overweight, because mother doesn't know the proper foods, and how best to prepare them.

P. T. A., through the Farm Bureau is bringing this nutrition study to any mother interested. It is free; come and join us. Mrs. H. L. Schultz is leader. The first meeting was held Monday. Meetings are held at the school house. Watch for the next date.

FORMER BELMONDER RAISES WILD DUCKS

The Cedar Rapids paper of Nov. 20 contains an interesting article about William Baldridge, son of John Baldridge of Belmond. Mr. Baldridge who is a well known photographer in Cedar Rapids, has a wild duck "farm" at his home there, and raises wild ducks for his own table, having some 80 of the birds this fall. He sets the birds in the spring, under hens or in an incubator, and raises the ducks along with his domestic poultry. Mr. Baldridge started three years ago, taking over the state permit held by his brother, Frank, when the latter went to Cross Lake, Minn., to start his summer resort. The ducks seem to thrive in captivity, and make no effort to answer the call of the wild by flying over the short wire fence of the poultry yard.

Has-Wases Will Meet No-Mores This Afternoon

School Alumni And Business Men To Play Football On The Belmond Field

In what will undoubtedly be the battle of the Century, the "Has-Wases" will meet the "No-Mores" in a ripping, smashing, crashing, thrilling exhibition of football on the Belmond gridiron at 2:30 this, Thanksgiving, afternoon. The "Has-Wases" will be composed of high school alumni, while the "No-Mores" will be made up of business men.

Acrimonious assertions unhesitatingly broadcast by certain individuals of the alumni are said to have brought about the impending battle in Ern Luick's stadium. Taking exception to the remarks of these said alumni, certain business men flung the challenge of battle in their faces, the challenge being accepted.

The No-Mores team contains 11 captains and five lieutenants, every man on the team being a captain. The Has-Wases will exhibit 11 generals and five colonels, thereby outranking their opponents. The lineups of the two teams is given as follows:

For the No-Mores

G. A. Stanzel—Center
Gus Nissen—Right Guard
L. V. Sharp—Right Tackle
E. Larson—Right End
H. Peterson—Left Guard
Diestler—Left Tackle
A. Larson—Left End
Dr. Nelson—Quarter Back
Hall—Left Half Back
Shephard—Right Half Back
Dr. Coe—Full back
Substitutes: Hanson, Powers, Dr. Parsons, Vestweber, Shephard.

For the Has-Wases

Otto Dorr—Right End
Henry Kessler—Left Half Back
Harlan Rierson—Center
Claude Johnson—Left Guard
Chas. Studebaker—Left End
Sam Leinbach—Full Back
Paul Johnson—Quarter Back
Elmer Chapman—Right Guard
Ira Studebaker—Left Guard
Preston Tyrrell—Right Half Back
Joe Sprenzel—Right Tackle
Substitutes: Halfpop, Lathrop,

(Continued on page 8)

School Team In Good Battle Against Hampton

Altho Beaten, Team Puts Up Real Fight Against Heavier Opponents

The high school football team closed the season by holding the Hampton boys to a 19 to 6 score. Although the local boys came out on the short end of the score, they played a whale of a game, making their usual last half stand. Hampton got away to a two touchdown lead in the first half, but after this spurt they were compelled to sit up and take notice, for the local boys decided it would take more than two touchdowns to beat them. During the last half the Belmond boys played Hampton to a standstill and scoring one touchdown themselves. The winning drive was the result of some clever forward passing that completely baffled the Hampton team. The first pass with Johnson on the throwing end and Hoyt Klemme receiving started the parade. Another pass from Johnson was picked off by a leaping catch by McNulty followed by a fifteen yard dash by the Belmond captain through the Hampton secondary defense.

The whole Belmond team played clean, snappy football. At one time a quick recovery of a Hampton fumble stopped a Hampton drive on the three yard line. The four boys playing their last football game for Belmond, made a gallant stand, Tomlinson and Klemme in the line, and McNulty and Rabe in the backfield, all playing a strong game. The line functioned as a stone wall on defense after the first few minutes. McNulty and Johnson carried the ball most of the time and were seldom stopped for less than three or four yards. Johnson's kicking also took the ball out of dangerous territory repeatedly.

The Belmond team has shown continued improvement all season. Beginning with a squad of largely inexperienced players, Coach Hall has succeeded in turning out a team, that made a strong showing at the close of the season. Although defeated in most of their games, the boys have never been routed, and have shown a scoring punch in practically every game. The places of the four seniors will be hard to fill, but with the experience gained this year, the remainder of the squad should produce a strong team next year.

Lineup—
Center—Melvin Pech
Tackles—H. Tomlinson and R. Schultz
Guards—Randall Klemme and Donald Baker
Ends—Gordon Kessler, and Hoyt Klemme
Halfback—Paul McNulty
Halfback—Albert Rabe
Quarterback—Clarence Peterson
Fullback—Henry Johnson

Monday, Nov. 14, the usual assembly was held in the auditorium. Mr. Williams read a scripture lesson from the Psalms and the student body sang a number of songs. Miss Thomas gave us a few suggestions concerning conduct and the assembly was dismissed.

Friday, Nov. 18, the day of the last football game, the students again were called to the auditorium. Miss Waugh conducted the first session of the Musical Contest. She listed the names and composers of the compositions the students will have to know by the second week in May, Music Week. Following some remarks made by Miss Thomas concerning the football games with Hampton, Harley Hammond led the yells in a short pep meeting. Everyone was right on his toes, ready to support the team. After having showed our enthusiasm concerning the game we were dismissed.

The boys and girls Glee Clubs have begun practice on the Operetta, "Tulip Time.'

There are quite a number of the boys absent this week on account of corn husking.

The Sophomore class are writing business letters in class this week.

Junior High Notes

Although we lost the penant the 7th grade won the Gold Seal for getting the most members for P. T. A. this year. The 7th grade had 16 guests for the P. T. A. meeting and the 8th grade had 20. Christina Groen, in the 8th grade had the most guests, three.

Carol Jacobson and Maurice Johnson have had perfect spelling rec-

(Continued on page six.)

Belmond Independent

AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES
Display, per column inch -------25c
Locals, per line ----------10c
Classified, per word ----------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Editorials

A MESS OF POTTAGE

Clear Lake Mirror: Last Saturday night one of those fly-by-night salesmen plied his game on Main street. He had rare bargains in house blankets. A home auctioneer, all tubes working in clarion notes, mounting a box, soon had a crowd of eager listeners who swallowed the bait, and were tricked into buying the wonderful blankets at unheard of bargains.

Saturday nights Main street is a busy thoroughfare and why should any portion of it be turned over for the use of some traveling mountebank and his assistant to ply a game to trap the unwary and obstruct traffic, to add a few paltry dollars to the coffers of the city. We don't believe any city official has the authority or right to license the use of streets to peddlers. Whether or not it be true, in justice to our business interests and to keep the money at home, no such licenses should be granted.

It is estimated that this street vendor carried away some three or four hundred dollars in his game of disposing of a lot of second-grade and worse than that, blankets at prices that would purchase a better article at less money at the home stores.

The street vendor departed chuckling to himself, the auctioneer jingling a few dollars in his pockets, the city treasury richer by a few paltry dollars, are the only beneficiaries, whilst those duped possess —husks.

WISCONSIN EDITOR SEES MODERN DANCE

The editor of the Columbus, Wis., Republican reports his experience in viewing a modern barn dance as follows:

We stopped and took a peep into a dance hall the other night, and we were fully convinced that some of the best wrestling matches the world has ever known have not been nationally advertised. Somebody is missing a fortune in the sale of ring-side seats. If it had not been for the music, arrests for assault and battery could have been made promiscuously. Some of the dancers showed characteristics of first-class wrestlers. A-1 contortionists and some record breaking hop skip and jump artists were present, with hair oil running down their spinal columns, and their hair plastered over a cranium that had nothing in it but a burning desire to spar with the Charleston or flea-hop. Yes, our kid was there, backing them around the hall like the rest, but with a different movement than he puts on when he pushes the lawn mower at home. An eighty-year old man with the ague would be a real Beau Brummel in a ball room nowadays. One couple were swaying everything but their feet, and they didn't have a parking sign either. Some of the sheiks bent over their partners at an angle that would make the Hunchback of Notre Dame look as straight as a telephone pole. Others grasped their li'l girls in a vise-like grip, while some held them on the shins. There were more girls who rolled their hose than will ever roll a perambulator. The music resembled a 1913 Ford running through a galvanized corrugated culvert.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Belmond, Iowa, Nov. 21 1927

Special meeting of town council held in town hall on call of Mayor Russell for the purpose of considering the purchase of an Electric Stop and Go sign for the intersection of Main and River streets, and to transact such other business as may come before it.

Members all present and Mayor Russell presiding.

Matters pertaining to signs were taken up and discussed.

On motion and second council adjourned.

Guy Byers, Clerk.

FREE AIR!

Comes now W. E. Daniels claiming this Colyum has unduly, maliciously and with malice aforethought deliberately slandered one alleged motor vehicle owned by the said Daniels, nicknamed a Studebaker, and replying thereto with the following Proclamation of Thanksgiving, towit:

Belmond, Iowa, Nov. 16

To the Editor.

Dear Sir:

My attention has been called to a few pearls of wisdom in your paper of recent date, in which you saw fit to heap abuse upon the reputation of the best automobile a man ever was fortunate enough to own.

I am not unmindful of the fact that an editor is sometimes hard pressed to fill up his paper, especially so when his one pair of shears is mislaid with which he gathers news from metropolitan papers.

In any case, when one attacks Old Studey they step on my pet corn; it is the one thing that will arouse an otherwise peaceful citizens who throws "Dignity" to the dogs and demands blood—buckets of blood!

You say grand father limps—if 70 miles per hour is limping, what in Heaven's name will he do when he hugs the ground and straightens away on all four legs? Dont' try to pass us then, or even try to keep up for the most you will get out of it will be the smell of gasoline and our dust.

Another thing—Grandfather, did you say? Be it so—but look what his grandson did last week at Atlantic: 25,000 miles in 23,000 minutes. Grandfather, bah! Remember the record his father did, 500,000 miles of continuous service in a California city with the only blot on an otherwise spotless record being that he was engaged in transporting newspapers. Yet in all these years not a single word of complaint, plaint, and now his remains are on exhibition at the home office in South Bend, Ind.

Don't you wish your "Puddle Jumper" could boast of such lineage instead of being sired by a spreader and damned by everybody?

Of course, the efficiency record you are stacking up for "Economical Transportation" is fine and all that can be expected. I believe you told me you had something like 687 endured miles on your speedometer and were still using the same tires, same spark plugs, and that many of the original bolts, screws, nails, safety pins, etc., with which the miserable thing was held together were still in place.

Ever since your pretty four wheels and a gob of paint caused the death of the Ford (or at least suspended animation) one expected the country to quiet down and driving to be at last safe and sane, but, ye gods! it is worse than ever. The car itself is certainly quiet enough, but the howl of the drivers drown all thoughts of peace and quiet.

Yes, I drive a Studebaker and I love every bone in his old body. "We" have more than 100,000 satisfying, pleasurable miles on our speedometer and expect to enjoy as many more before turning it in for another just like him. I am an apostle of "Safety First" and that is why I am driving a Studebaker, and is also why I am selling public utility securities—safe, sound, secure.

Very truly yours,
W. E. DANIELS

You might know he'd ring in some free advertising somewhere. Oh, well, today's Thanksgiving; let's be thankful we don't drive a Studebaker.

NOTICE OF PROOF OF WILL TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

In the Estate of Christian B. Johnson Deceased:

You are hereby notified that on the 15th day of November, 1927, there was filed with and opened by the undersigned Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, in and for Wright county, a Written instrument purporting to be the

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

of Christian B. Johnson, late of said County, deceased.

And you are further notified that the 12th day of December, 1927, at 1:30 o'clock P. M. of said day, has been set as the day for the final hearing and proof of Will (the same being a day of the next term of said District Court) at which time any person interested can appear and show cause why the same should not be admitted to probate.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court at my office in Clarion in said County, this 15th day of November A. D., 1927.

R. V. Goslin,
Clerk District Court.

13

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That the undersigned has this day been appointed and commissioned by the District Court of Wright County, in the State of Iowa, Executor of the Estate of Henry Johnson, deceased; and all persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to file them with the Clerk of Court, clearly stated and duly sworn to, and within legal time, preparatory to their being allowed or proved; and persons owing said Estate are requested to make immediate payment to the undersigned and avoid costs.

Dated at Belmond, Iowa, this 16th day of November A. D. 1927.

Fred Johnson, Executor.
Roy A. Henderson, Attorney.

12

READ THE WANT ADS

BELMOND CHURCH NOTES

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

Morning worship and Sunday school at the usual hours next Sunday morning. With the holiday season at hand our thoughts should increasingly turn toward the church and what the Christian message means to our life.

Remember that this Thanksgiving day we have a union service with the Methodist church at 10:00 a. m. May we make it a point to be in attendance at this service!

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN CHURCH
Arthur G. Langholz, Pastor

Thanksgiving Day

Services at 10:45 a. m. in the German language. "O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, for His mercy endureth forever."

1st Sunday in Advent

Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. Senior lesson, "Isaiah Teaches True Worship."

Services at 10:45 a. m. in the English language.

You are invited to worship with us.

METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. J. T. Snyder, Pastor

Services as follows for the Lord's Day, November 27:

Sunday school at 10 a. m. Classes for all ages. Experienced teachers. Do you go to Sunday school?

Divine worship and sermon at 11 a. m.

Epworth League at 6:30. Muriel Luick, leader.

Evening worship at 7:30.

This is the second period we are devoting to a song and story service, using the missionary hymns of the church. This time we shall use the "great" hymns of the church giving the setting of how the hymn came to be written, by whom and the experiences involved. There will be different parties that shall share in this service.

Sunday is Advocate Day. On this day we make renewals or take new subscriptions to our church paper. Please think the matter over, if you have not yet become a subscriber to one of our papers, give it a trial.

Union Thanks-giving services in this church on Thursday morning at 10 a. m., Rev. B. B. Wright of the Congregational church delivering the sermon. Please plan to attend this important service. You surely have reason to express your thankfulness to almighty God in a public sense for His Blessings and vouchsafed Presence throughout the year.

You are cordially invited to all of our services.

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor
Telephone Call, 150

Sunday, November 27.

Sunday School and Bible classes will meet at 10 A. M.

English services will be held at 11 A. M. Theme: "The Coming of Christ and His Mission." Luke 4:16-22.

The Luther League will meet at 6:45. Have we as a Lutheran church been a blessing to our country? Let us discuss this Sunday evening at our League meeting.

Tuesday, November 29th to Thursday, Dec. 1. The Pastoral Conference of the Iowa District of our church will gather at Northwood Rev. Wm. Ylvisaker's charge.

Ther will be no catechetical instruction for neither class this week.

Thursday, Dec. 1. The Ladies Aid will meet in the church parlors at 2 P. M.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Sunday, November 27.

Sunday school and Bible classes will meet at 10:30 A. M.

The Luther League will meet at 7:30 P. M. The pastor will use the text for the League topic as a basis for his remarks. Let both young and old turn out in strong numbers at our League meetings.

Tuesday Nov. 29. Read announcement for Trinity congregation.

December 3. The catechetical class will meet at 10 A. M.

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

Mrs. Chas. Elder went to Iowa City last week to be with her husband who is a patient in the hospital at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Kimmel left Sunday on their Colorado trip.

This week Friday evening Miss Pearl Johnson and Miss Gertrude Ely will give a musical at the school auditorium. The entire proceeds will be given to the Red Cross.

Several of the boys from Belmond now located at Camp Dodge were home last week on a short furlough.

Markets—Cattle $9, hogs $16, old corn $1.50, new corn $1.00, barley $1.15, oats 61c.

Last week Frday our high school students did their bit for the Y. M. C. A. movement. The students and teachers of the high school gave $165 for the fund.

A record breaking hog sale was held at the Tyrrell farm last Saturday when 200 shoats weighing around 100 pounds were sold at public auction. There were about 20 pens of 10 or 12 shoats each and were sold at prices from twenty to thirty cents per pound.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Penny Klingbeil was at Hampton last week visiting.

The Belmond football team has been reorganized and next Saturday will meet a team from Britt on the local grounds.

R. C. Bras of Clarion was in town Tuesday. He says his son is improving rapidly.

We are told that F. E. Snyder and Ora Case purchased the Dziewanowski bus line.

There is some talk of a benefit play being given about the first of December by the Belmond Dramatic club for the Mystic Toilers.

E. M. Sheffield is this week installing the switch board for his telephone exchange and also stringing wires as rapidly as possible. It is quite probable that the entire exchange will be in operation by the first of the year and a long hoped for convenience for the farmer will be realized.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

Several German gentlemen from Marshalltown will soon be here landlooking.

M. H. Luick is buying hogs hereaway for Richardson & Robertson, of Alden. Mike is a good hand at this business.

Hon. John L. Morse will office with Justice Cameron this winter. Thus you can get "law" and "justice" under the same roof.

By tonight L. B. Clark & Co. will be thoroughly installed in their new banking quarters. This gives the boys plenty of room and furnishes a tiptop place to loaf.

A party of coal haulers—Messrs. Lynch, Bullock and others—got fast in the mud at the creek four miles east of town on the Hampton road Tuesday evening. A council was called and the party concluded to wait for daylight Wednesday, at which time they all went out and brought in their loads.

"Walking down Broadway."—One iron company in Pennsylvania has forty-four nail machines at work from sun to sun. Those side walks can be put down next spring cheaper than ever—nails will be plenty.

Wanted — Ten thousand turkeys and chickens wanted at G. G. Pritchards.

Notice is hereby given that on evening of the 29th of Nov., the night before Thanksgiving, a dancing party will be given at Pierce's Hall with a good supper at the Belmond House. The dancing public are respectfully invited. Fulton, Sprague and King, musicians.

Orgâns, Organs, Organs!

Any person wishing an organ at a fair price will do well to give me a call before buying elsewhere. I'm prepared to supply the public on short notice. A liberal discount to churches. I will furnish churches with beautiful instruments at the largest discount that has ever been offered in the United States or Europe. Give me a call before purchasing elsewhere and learn my terms.

C. E. Haight.

A total of $1,285,101.70 was returned by the Federal Government to the States for roads and schools during the last fiscal year, under the law providing for the re-transfer of 25 per cent of the receipts of the National Forests. The total receipts of the National Forests from timber sales, grazing and other sources were $5,166,605.74.

Farmers in Argentina are growing nearly 20,000,00 acres of wheat this season for threshing next spring. Flaxseed accounts for nearly 7,00,000 acres which is more than the combined acreage of oats, barley and rye.

Special Saturday

ONE DOZEN FRIEDCAKES FREE WITH EVERY FIFTY CENT PURCHASE

MORROW & SCOTT
BELMOND'S BAKERS

Thanksgiving

AMERICA as a nation has so much to be thankful for that we, as Americans, should be deeply grateful and thankful we are citizens of it. America is truly the "Land of Plenty." Let us today give thanks to the Power who has guided and so richly blessed us as a nation, and petition that we may continue to be favored with divine guidance.

This Bank will be closed all day Thanksgiving

STATE BANK OF BELMOND
BELMOND IOWA

Holiday Suggestions

Wonderful line of Polychrome Framed mirrors, heavy plate $1.75, $2.20, $3.50 and $4.00. Same with fancy oval tops $7.50 and $9.00

Very fine selection of oil paintings on canvas—genuine reproductions of the originals, from famous artists. $1.60, $2.00, $3.25, $3.50, $4.00, $9.50 and $12.00

Floor lamps, fancy silk shades with iron and decorated stumps $6.00, $9.50, $11.00 and $11.50

Smoker sets, metal and wood $3.75, $4.35, $5.90 and $7.25. Exceptional values.

Priscilla Sewing Cabinets in mahogany and lacquer, $3.90, $4.50 and $4.90

Ladies Walnut Desks, with chest drawers, $24.30 and in oak $25.20

Cedar Chests, made from genuine Tennessee red cedar $11.95 and up

Coxwell Chairs in high grade mohair and velours $24.75 and $29.85

Occasional Chairs in Honduras Mahogany $4.75, $6.75 and $8.00

Windsor Chairs finished in mahogany $11.50 and $15.50

Upholstered Occasional Chairs in high grade coverings exceptionally attractive $12.50, $14.25, $16.00 and $19.00

Your HOME Should Come FIRST

Belmond Furniture Company
Furniture and Undertaking
Phone 107 Belmond, Iowa

AGRICULTURAL NEWS NOTES

20 TONS HAY FROM 4 ACRES

A Fayette County farmer, H. W. Gross of Eldorado, reports that he harvested 20 tons of hay from a 4 acre tract of alfalfa this year, which is a yield of 5 tons to the acre. He values the crop at $20 a ton, giving a gross return of $100 an acre.

The field was seeded the first of August, 1925, following an application of 2 1-2 tons of limestone per acre and a liberal application of manure. Mr. Gross obtained an excellent stand and believes that anyone can get a good stand by seeing that the alfalfa is seeded on soil well supplied with lime and rich in fertility.

Alfalfa is not a "poor land" crop, believes Mr. Gross, and because it pays so well, he is of the opinion that some of the best land may be devoted to it.

Three cuttings of alfalfa were made from the Gross field this year.

FARM MUST DOUBLE RETURN

To make his 91 acre farm produce twice as much feed for his livestock as it has produced in the past, is the goal which Carl Wennes, Winneshiek County dairyman, has set for himself.

One of the ways in which Mr. Wennes expects to increase the feed return is to grow more alfalfa, he informed J. L. Boatman, extension soils specialist of Iowa State College, who recently visited Mr. Wennes.

Two acres of alfalfa is all that Mr. Wennes has at present, but he plans to seed 16 acres more next spring. In order to put the soil in shape to grow alfalfa, 65 tons of ground limestone have been spread on the Wennes farm this fall and another carload will be applied next spring.

Still another crop which Mr. Wennes believes will increase the feed for his Guernsey cows and hogs is sweet clover. He has 8 acres of this crop at present.

His experience in growing legumes—sweet clover and alfalfa—leads Mr. Wennes to believe that it pays well to apply the limestone to the land the year before the crop is seeded.

On 25 acres of corn land, acid phosphate at the rate of 125 pounds to the acre was applied with a corn planter attachment on the Wennes farm this sring. The corn grown there matured much more quickly and the yield appeared to be enough better than the unfertilized corn that Mr. Wennes believes the regular use of this fertilizer will help him to double his yield of feed and do so profitably.

"INSIDE" INFORMATION

Use cold water first on egg stains, then hot water and soap. If the yolk leaves a grease spot use carbon tetrachloride or some other grease solvent after sponging with cold water and allowing the stained place to dry.

The legs of children's rompers should not bind. They should be straight or have loose bands. The size of the band should be determined by measuring the child's leg five inches above the knee. A knitted band or cuff may be used if the bloused effect at the knee is desired.

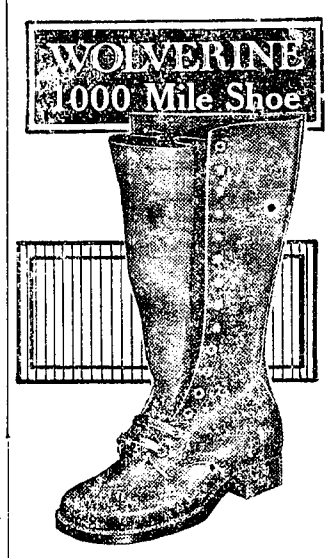
The dasheen is a vegetable used in place of potato in southern climates where white potatoes cannot be kept for long stretches of time. Its flavor slightly resembles that of chestnuts. It can be boiled and prepared in any of the ways potatoes are good. As the texture is somewhat dry, it should be liberally seasoned with butter.

Scraple is a good example of a food combination in which the incomplete protein of a cereal is supplemented by a little of the more nearly complete protein of meat. It is an old fashioned Pennsylvania-German dish made by cooking corn meal with pork trimmings or lean pork. The U. S. Department of Agriculture will tell you how to make it.

Several times a year, or whenever waste water begins to run away slowly from your sink drain or from other fixtures, the pipe should be well flushed with boiling hot water to dissolve the grease. This should be followed with a strong solution of caustic soda or caustic potash (lye), and half an hour later the pipe should be flushed thoroughly with clear hot boiling water.

People are learning to understand the value of liver in the diet as a source of vitamins and minerals, as well as of protein. In addition to plain fried liver, or liver and onions, there are numerous appetizing ways of cooking liver. Equal parts of ground ham and cooked liver seasoned with cream and with parsley chopped and served on toast make a good dish. Liver may also be cooked in a casserole with mushrooms or other vegetables. Chopped cooked liver is excellent for stuffing onions or other baked vegetables.

Jerusalem artichokes are similar in food value to potatoes. Since they grow somewhat irregular in shape, the easiest way to prepare them for the table is to boil or bake them in their skins and then pare them. Boiled Jerusalem artichokes can be served in cream or other well-seasoned sauces, fried, or baked in a sauce with grated cheese and butterer crumbs spread on top. Baked Jerusalem artichokes may be served in their skins, or scraped out and seasoned with butter, salt and pepper.



The Shoe for Outdoor Men

Men who are outdoors, for work or for play, will want a pair of these "Hi-Cut" WOLVERINE shoes. Made of horsehide, through and through, they wear and wear and wear. You never saw such shoes to stand up under hard use. Yet they are soft and easy on the feet. The thick horsehide is tanned to the softness of calfskin. There are several other models of the WOLVERINE. Come in and see them. The cheapest shoe in the end, for it wears like iron.

C. C. McGuire
Belmond

FRIEND C. BRAS

Tests Eyes Fits Glasses

Service Guaranteed

SOUTH OF COURT HOUSE

CLARION, - IOWA

1-128

Cash Specials
Friday and Saturday only

These articles were bought right and we are giving you the benefit of the special prices.

HUSKING MITTENS DOUBLE STITCHED, PER DOZ.	$2.00
2 14-oz. bottles catsup	25c
Tomato soup	10c
Blackberries per can	19c
Peaches, per can	22c
2 lbs. ginger snaps	25c
28 bars Swift's Naptha soap	$1.00
Soap chips, 2 lbs.	25c

CLEVELAND'S CASH STORE

We Are Thankful!

Yes, Thanksgiving is here again, and let's hope that we all have something to be thankful for. We have—and we wish to take this means of thanking our friends and patrons for the nice trade we have enjoyed the past year

OUR AIM IS TO GROW

And if Quality Merchandise and Service is what you want, we are here to give you both. Our stock of

FLOUR, FEEDS and CEREALS

are complete. We buy Grain, Poultry and Hices
A truck at your service. Just phone 198

Farmers Grain Company
PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!
BELMOND, - - IOWA

PUBLIC SALE!

The undersigned will hold a public sale at the place known as the John Pals farm, 1 mile north and 3 miles east of Belmond, and 1 mile south of Palsville, on

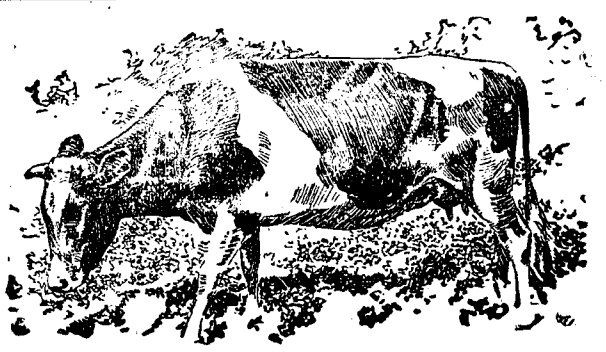
Tuesday, Nov. 29

Commencing at 1:00 P. M. Promptly

3 Head of Work Horses

21 Head of Cattle 21

7 MILK COWS, 4 fresh, 2 to freshen soon
3 2-year-old heifers
1 2-year-old White Face Bull
6 yearling calves
4 calves



40 - HEAD OF THRIFTY SHOATS - 40

Weighing from 60 to 80 pounds each

Farm Machinery, Etc.

1 bob sled
1 cart
1 stock tank
1 P & O disc
3 wagons
1 wagon box
1 wagon seat
1 scoop board
1 hog waterer
1 walking plow
2 sets of harness
1 McCormick mower
1 nearly new Moline corn planter with 80 rods of wire
1 Gale corn planter with 120 rods of wire
1 Hoosier endgate seeder
1 galvanized 8-ft. trough
8 galvanized 2-ft. troughs
1 dry mash feeder
1 Mellotte cream separator
Some hay
1 hay rake
1 hay rack
1 tank heater
1 disc carrier
2 cultivators
1 4-section drag
1 drag cart
1 corn sheller
1 sulky plow
1 garden plow
1 set fly nets
1 McCormick binder, 8-ft. cut
1 new No. 2 manure spreader
1 poultry nest section, metal, containing 10 nests
Various other articles

HOUSEHOLD GOODS

Iron bed
Chairs
Parlor furnace (Heater)
Bedding
Kitchen table
Rocker
Steel range
9x12 Rug
Numerous other Household Items

FREE LUNCH SERVED AT NOON

TERMS: CASH, OR MAKE ARRANGEMENTS WITH YOUR OWN BANKER

LEWIS HAUGE, Auctioneer
BELMOND SAVINGS BANK, Clerk

A. J. Fee, Prop.

The Splinters

"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2 Thursday, November 24, 1927 No. 32

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

Have you made out a list yet of the things you're going to be thankful for this season?

—

We've just heard of the stingiest man in Iowa. When everybody else gives three cheers, he gives only two.

—

We have Cello Glass in rolls 26" and 36" wide. You can cut it to fit any window or door. A few tacks and a hammer are all the tools necessary to put it on. It's actually even better than glass. Come in and see this wonderful material.

We venture the prediction that there will be a lot of tired digestive systems today.

—

Half the women seem to be trying to get husbands, and the other half seem to be trying to get rid of them.

—

We've heard of the horse that jumped out of a clover field into an adjoining, and then found that the plant he wanted was a thistle. The same thing often happens when we buy out of town. The far pasture sometimes looks greenest, but it isn't. Give the home merchant first chance. That's all he asks.

—

No matter what you do, somebody always knew you would.

A man in this town gave his wife a lecture on economy the other day. And the next morning she discovered that he had left the electric light burning in the basement all night.

—

"Did you miss the steps, dear?" asked the wife to her husband who had just fallen down stairs.

"I never missed a blamed one of 'em," yelled the husband.

—

A woman teacher, tryin to explain the meaning of the word "slowly" illustrated it by walking across the floor. When she asked the class how she walked, she nearly fainted when a smal boy shouted, "Bow-legged."

MESERVEY SECTION

OBITUARY

Wilhelmina Strassburg, nee Zimmerman was born at Benz, Province Uckermark, Germany, on April 12, 1836. She died on Nov. 19, 1927 at Meservey, at the age of 91 years, 7 months and 7 days. The cause of her death was old age.

She was married to Gottfried Strassburg on October 8, 1865. To this union were born 6 children.

On August 16, 1872 they came to America, landing on said date in Ackley. On October 14, 1892 they came to Meservey.

She was preceded in death by her life's companion on Sept. 2, 1912, and also three of the children died before her.

Those that mourn her departure are the daughter, Mrs. John Peters, and the two sons, Ernest Strassburg and Otto Strassburg, besides other relatives and friends.

Mother Strassburg made her home for some time with her daughter, Mrs. John Peters, but at the latter's illness she made her home with her son Otto and his faithful companion. Through a fall, Mother Strassburg very recently broke her leg and suffered great discomfort and much pain.

In her suffering she was however, well taken care of in the home of her son andh is companion. The two sons, Otto and Ernest, with their wives did all for her that loving hands can do.

Mother Strassburg was a Child of God and took great comfort in this fact. Repeatedly she expressed her desire to depart and be with God.

In 1893 she and her husband joined the Evangelical church in Meservey.

REFORMED CHURCH

The Ladies Aid met last Thursday at the usual time in the church basement, 15 being present. Mrs. Harm J. Pals served refreshments. The date of the sale will be announced next week.

Catechetical classes will meet Saturday at 1:30. We are glad to have such a large class of beginners.

Sunday school at 9:30.

Morning worship at 10:30. (German).

Young People's meeting at 7:30. We are having very good attendance at the young people's meetings lately.

Evening services at 8 o'clock.

Choir practice Friday at 8 p. m.

H. Pannkuk, Pastor

EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Sunday school at 9:45.

Morning worship at 10:45.

E. L. C. E. at 7:00. Neva Muller, leader.

Evening worship at 7:30.

No prayer meeting, but a Thanksgiving service will be held in the evening of Thursday at 8:00 P.-M.

Catechetical instruction at 2 P. M. Saturday. Send your children to study the catechism.

A. K. Henning, Pastor

MESERVEY LOCAL NEWS

Roy Van Winkle and family moved here from Eldora the fore part of last week and are occupying the Geo. Watermiller dwelling in the south part of town. They will remain until March 1st, when they will move to the farm now tenanted by Henry Heitland and family.

Misses Elzena Ruiter and Lyda Groen and the latter's brother, George, attended Harold Lloyd in the "Kid Brother" at Thornton last Wednesday evening.

The Helping Hand Society of the Evangelical church will hold a bazaar and supper, Dec. 14th, in the church parlors.

Mrs. I. F. Bier accompanied Mrs. Harry Bamford and daughter, Mrs. Dziewanowski of Belmond to Mason City last week on Tuesday, where they spent the day shopping.

Harold Blewitt and family and Miss Louise Watson attended an Eastern Star party at Thornton last Thursday evening.

Miss Myrtle Cooper spent Saturday and Sunday at the Harm Groen home. Bert accompanied her to Bode Saturday evening, where she accept a position in the school in the 7th and 8th grades.

Mrs. H. Proost and Vonna left last week Tuesday for an extended visit with relatives in Illinois.

Geo. Hopkey and wife and Paul Hopkey and wife attended the funeral of Mr. Bernard Frie at Latimer last Friday afternoon.

Miss Irene Butz and brothers were Mason City callers Saturday and visited their grandmother at the Park hospital.

Jake Wickersheim of Fort Dodge spent Sunday and Monday here with his mother.

Mother Wickersheim has been confined to her bed since the latter part of last week. Her daughter. Mrs. C. F. W. Paul has been caring for her.

Dr. and Mrs. Joe Butz of Monterey, Minn., motored to this place last Wednesday evening and remained until the following day, with his mother, who has not been getting along well the past few months.

A bit of interesting news escaped us last week, but are going to tell you about it this week, nevertheless. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barger are the parents of a baby son born at the Lutheran hospital at Hampton, Nov. 12th. They have named him Neil Andrew.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Butz accompanied the former's mother to Mason City last Friday where she entered the Park hospital for medical treatment.

Dr. F. S. Agler returned to his practice at Surprise, Neb., last Sunday night after spending a week here.

Rev. A. K. Henning attended the funeral of Rev. F. J. Haas at Hubbard, last Monday. Rev. Haas has been pastor of the Evangelical church at Hubbard nearly seven years and was very prominent in the Iowa Conference. He will be greatly missed.

The annual Thank Offering services were held at the Evangelical church last Sunday evening. The program was successfully carried out and enjoyed by those present. The offering amounted to $53.00 and will be appropriated for Missions.

W. F. Butz and daughter, Miss Irena, were in Mason City Monday calling on Mrs. Butz at the hospital.

Clocks, Silverware and China at Mallory's, Belmond.

MESERVEY SCHOOL NOTES

The Juniors have been working on their class play "Mary's Castle in the Air" to be given in the near future.

Miss Lucile Paul has been absent from school the past week due to illness.

Rehearsing for the dramatic contest has begun. There are many high school students entering into the three types—humorous, dramatic and oratorical readings. Miss Ver Steeg is the capable instructor who has charge of dramatics in our school.

Our school work is still under way after two weeks of corn picking vacation. Several pupils are absent because of corn husking yet but we hope by next week everyone will be back to resume their work.

School will close Wednesday for four days of Thanksgiving vacation.

The second six weeks will end Dec. 2nd, and everyone is busy preparing for examinations for next week.

The following teachers spent the week end out of town: Miss Gwendolyn Temple at her home in Mason City, Miss Ruth Roth at Goldfield visiting a sorority sister, Miss Frances Ver Steeg at Humboldt visiting frends, Miss Elsie Hoyt at her home in Ventura.

The first and second grades have been busily engaged in making squirrels, pilgrims, turkeys and various other Thanksgiving decorations.

The second grade are pleased to add to their ranks, a new pupil, Louise Von Winkle, who comes from Eldora.

The Thanksgiving season is almost here and the stories of the Pilgrims and their hardships are being brought to the children. It is well to remind them of the things they have to be thankful for and thus create the true Thanksgiving spirit. The third and fourth grades have thus been studying the history of the Pilgrims and the reason for their trip across the ocean.

The fifth and sixth grades have finished their Thanksgiving project. They each wrote stories of Pilgrims and the "First Thanksgiving" putting them in booklets appropriate for the season.

Because the United States and Finland have been making cheeses of the Swiss type, the cheese industry has proved less profitable in Switzerland and the Swiss dairymen are turning to butter production. To stimulate butter production the Swiss government has appropriated about $200,000 to assist the industry. Most of this, it is expected, will be devoted eventually to cover deficits caused by a governmental guarantee of butter prices.

Under average conditions hens lay best during their first year of production, after which production decreases gradually each succeeding year. It is important therefore, to cull the laying flocks closely at least once annually to remove those hens which will not produce profitably the following year and to replace them with the more profitable producing pullets.

The raisin industry is the most important in the production of dried fruit. In 1923 the crop amounted to 290,000 tons.

W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Bldg
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

FOR YOUR
AUCTIONEER
CALL
H. BRUMMOND
KANAWHA, IOWA
PHONE 118

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29

Light in weight
yet strong and durable

THE patented "muscles" of Top Notch Buddy Boots give remarkable extra strength without adding weight. These ribs or muscles protect the sides of the boot, strengthen them and prevent cracking. The tough gray soles are double thick to match the wear-defying qualities of the legs. The most economical boot because the longest-lasting. In short, hip and Storm King lengths.

For dependable, distinctive boots, arctics and rubbers, always look for the Top Notch Cross. The most reliable stores carry the complete Top Notch line for men, women and children. The Beacon Falls Rubber Shoe Co., Beacon Falls, Conn.

TOP NOTCH
A GUARANTEE OF MILEAGE
Rubber Footwear

ATWATER KENT
RADIO
Fresh "B" Batteries always on hand.
H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

Undertaking & Funeral Director
F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone--Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

Harry T. Smith
General Blacksmithing
Horseshoeing Woodwork
Welding
Meservey, - Iowa

For Conservative Investment
BUY
7 per cent Preferred Shares
CENTRAL STATES ELECTRIC COMPANY
$100 per Share to yield SEVEN PERCENT

This Preferred Stock is issued fully paid and non-assessable; is free from Iowa Taxes and Normal Federal Income Tax; is backed by substantially applicable property equities considerably exceeding the stock outstanding, and Net Earnings applicable to Dividends equal the requirements nearly THREE TIMES.

Dividends are regularly paid quarterly. This 7 per cent Preferred Investment is followed by over $875,000 Par Value of Common Capital Stock and over $500,000 Par Value of Class A. Common Stock, totalling over $1,380,000 of Common Stocks.

All of the Common Stock sold and outstanding with investors has been sold at prices ranging from Par to $112. per share, which indicates the substantial investment behind the 7 per cent Preferred Stock.

The Company owns Seven Electric Power Generating Plants, Four Gas Plants, and One Water Plant, Hundreds of Miles of local and long distance transmission lines, serving about 80 communities in Iowa, Minnesota and Nebraska.

See any Employee or call at

CENTRAL STATES ELECTRIC COMPANY
IOWA FALLS, IOWA

Bank Your Money

If you have money it should be deposited in the Bank.

When you were a borrower some one deposited so you could borrow.

Pay your debt and build your credit at the same time.

Convenience and correct change.

SAFETY AND SERVICE

Farmers Savings Bank
Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

HIGH QUALITY
BUILDING MATERIAL
Screen Doors and Window Screens—Mill Work—Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts and Poles
Cement — Lime
INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT
Wheat Bran – Oil Meal – Cotton Seed Meal, – Tankage – Salt
Highest Price Paid for Grain

Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

Camel
One of life's great pleasures is smoking

Camels give you all of the enjoyment of choice tobaccos. Is enjoyment good for you? You just bet it is.

If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.

© 1927, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

OBITUARY OF ROWAN BOY

Glen W. Reeder as born the 9th day of March, 1913, at Clarion, Wright County, Iowa, and died at the home of his parents, 5 miles southeast of Belmond, Iowa, where he had lived the past four years, being at the time of his death aged 14 years, 8 months and 6 days. Most of his life was spent in Wright and Hancock counties, Iowa, with the exception of four years spent in North Dakota.

He attended the country schools and for one year attended the Rowan consolidated school. He was a bright and industrious student. He was a boy who loved his home and friends. He always had a good word for all with whom he associated.

His mother preceded him in death in Dec., 1918. He is survived by his father, step-mother, three brothers, Kenneth, Robert and Roy, one sister Gladys, two step sisters, Peggy Ladd and Mrs. Chet Gateliff also his grand parents, uncles and aunts and a host of sorrowing friends.

Funeral services were held at the home at 1:30 o'clock on Thursday, and in the M. E. church at Rowan, at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. H. Bounds, pastor of the church conducted the services. Interment was in the Clarion cemetery. The pall bearers were Irvin Haupt, Louis Musson and Merl Endrick of Belmond and Chester Deveroux, Ray Paul and Harold Johnson of Crystal Springs, N. D.

Gerald Ersland returned to his home at Red Lake Falls, Minn., last week after spending a week with relatives. Mrs. Ersland and little Joe remained for a longer visit.

Mrs. C. H. Lindsey and Miss Dorothy Steffens spent Saturday in Fort Dodge.

Henry Ohlerking returned Thursday from a week's trip to Minnesota.

The Methodist Ladies Aid Society had a good attendance at their annual bazaar and supper which was held in the church basement on Friday afternoon and evening. The proceeds amounted to something over seventy three dollars.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Azeltine, Miss Lillian and Mrs. Wesley Azeltine and son Robert were Mason City visitors Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Canhan and daughter of Iowa Falls, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Murtell Myers. The two ladies were college room mates.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Fitz, Mrs. Kenneth Fitz and Barbara drove to Churdan Sunday to see Mr. Fitz's father who has been ill. They returned Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Whitten and Miss Gladys spent a few days last week with relatives in Grundy Center, returning home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Adams who are visiting relatives in Ft. Dodge came Friday and spent a couple of days with her mother, Mrs. H. O. Azeltine.

The play "The Path Across the Hills," which is being given by the "Happy Kan Doos" Sunday school class of the Congregational church will be given in the high school auditorium Friday and Saturday evenings, Nov. 25 and 26. Following is the cast of characters:

Samuel Crawford__ _____ Grandpa
Robert Post _____ The Visitor
Walter Conrad _____ Ruth's brother
Dr. Jimmie Reed____ With Ambition
Salamander Alexander John Henry
Jones__ _____ Zuzus' choice
Mrs. Davis _____ Grandma
Ruth Conrad __ Nicknamed "Bobbie"
Flo' Gray _____ Ruth's cousin
Lutie _____ A neighbor
Zuzu _____ The Cook

Admission, adults 25c, children 15c

C. H. Lindsey, relief towerman at Austin, Minn., spent Sunday with his family. He expects to take his family to Austin the last of the week to be with him during the remainder of his three months relief period.

A. A. Williams received a message the last of the week of the death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Irwin Williams, at Gilman, Missouri. Mr. Williams and son Henry and wife departed Saturday to attend the funeral which was held on Sunday. At this writing the relatives have not heard the cause of her death. She and her husband had returned home just a short time ago from spending a month with relatives here and at that time she was enjoying good health.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hackley and family spent Sunday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Cliff Bauchman and family near Hampton.

W. A. Rietz of the Rowan Lumber and Grain Company and Jas. Olson of the Solberg elevator went to Mason City Friday evening to attend a meeting of grain men.

Word was received by relatives Monday that James Whitten of Bloomfield, Ontario, Canada, had passed away. He was one of the old settlers here, but moved to Canada quite a number of years ago. No particulars of his death have yet been received, but the obituary will be given next week.

Mrs. D. W. Whitten received word Monday of the illness of her mother, Mrs. J. H. Hanan at Lakeworth, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Scott and family spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Scott's father, John Modderman at Alexander.

Wanda Stout was hostess at a birthday party on Saturday afternoon in honor of her sixth birthday. Those present were Virginia Rubendahl, Ardis and Lois Harris, Billie Whtten, Dannie Jean and Marilee Whitten, Doris Harris, Mildred and Merle Dean Fletcher, Marian, Robert and Berneta Harson and Anna Kjar. Games were played and refreshments served by Mrs. Stout. A good time was enjoyed by the youngsters.

Word has been received from the Theodore Hansen family of their arrival at Pasadena, Calif., on Friday, November 11th. They went immediately to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ormel Gates, who went from here last winter, where they stayed over Sunday. In the evening the McCallum families who have gone to Calif. from here went to the Gates home and the evening was spent in talking over old friends back in Iowa. Mrs. Hansen told them that she did not wonder at the Iowa people enjoying California when she saw the lovely flowers and the scenery there. At the time the letter was written the Hansens had not yet decided where they were going to stay.

Relatives here have received the announcement of the marriage of Miss Leda Fletcher to Mr. Earnest Thoman at Blue Earth, Minn., on Thursday, Nov. 17. Mrs. Thoman is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Fletcher of Bruce, Wis., and is quite well known to the people of this community, as she was born near Rowan and has made several visits her since moving with her parents to Wisconsin. For the past two years she has made her home with her sister, Mrs. Frank Dray at Blue Earth, Minn., and has been employed in a department store there. Mr. Thoman is a barber in Lacota, where the young people will make their home. Friends here extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Usher entertained on Sunday in honor of Mrs. Usher's birthday, the following guests, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Blank of Klemme, her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ahrenkiel and son Taalkeus of Godoell.

The R. N. A.'s held a bazaar and ten cent lunch at the hall on Saturday evening. They realized about sixteen dollars from it. Their next meeting is to be held next Saturday evening instead of the usual Thursday because of Thursday being Thanksgiving.

The Congregational Ladies Aid will meet on Friday afternoon with Mrs. Alvin Haupt.

Roy Hyde who has been quite ill is some better at this writing. Mrs. Ryder who has been caring for him has returned to Mrs. Rowens.

Fred Ohlerking and Ed Ketchum drove to Tipton Saturday returning Sunday.

The American Home Department of the Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs have sent an urgent request to the ministers of every church in the state to take as their subject on Sunday morning, Nov. 27th "The American Homes of Today." The homes of today are being much criticised and they feel that the churches should get behind this matter and help to better the condition. All club women and other home makers are urged to attend this service and later the subject of these sermons will be discussed in the clubs. Rev. Bounds of the M. E. church will preach a special sermon on this subject and extends an invitation to all home makers to be present.

Both boys and girls basket ball teams will play the Chapin teams here in the school gymnasium on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thomas and Neola of Clarion and Mrs. Ina Stumph drove to Cedar Falls Sunday to take Miss Garnette Stumph and friend, Miss Wanda Duncan back to their college work.

Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Marquardt, and son Billy, drove to New Richmond, Wisconsin Monday to visit Mrs. Marquardt's parents. Mr. Marquardt returned the middle of the week, Mrs. Marquardt and Billy remaining for a two weeks visit.

There will be union services at 10:00 o'clock on Thanksgiving morning at the M. E. church. Rev. Marquardt will preach the sermon.

Miss Esther Ohlerking of Hampton is spending a week with her father, Henry Ohlerking and sister, Miss Ida Ohlerking.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Mosher and baby of Dows spent Sunday with Mrs. Lula Emerson.

The parent teachers club held a meeting and election of officers at the school house on Tuesday evening of last week. The officers elected were: Mr. Swanson, chairman over all, Miss Pruss, secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Munnis, chairman of the program committee and Mrs. Guy Sheldon chairman of the refreshment committee. After the meeting they went to the grade rooms where each teacher was given fifteen minutes to explain her program. Refreshments were served and then all went to the gymnasium and enjoyed a game of volley ball. The tall ladies played against the short ladies and the tall men against the short men, the talls winning both games.

Buy your sweetheart a diamond ring at Mallory's, Belmond

OLAF NEWS

The Olaf Shipping Association shipped two car loads of stock to Mason City Saturday.

Alvin Erickson and family spent Sunday afternoon at the A. A. Olson home.

Tom Wicks of Roland spent part of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Holverson. He drove up here to attend the Ed Hauge sale.

Miss Sylvia Holverson of Roland is spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Holverson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Heginger were Mason City visitors one day last week.

The North Ladies Aid Society served lunch at the Ed Hauge sale, clearing $58.89.

The Forest Products Laboratory of the United States Department of Agriculture was called upon last month, to identify a piece of wood from a railroad tie which had been in a track for 35 years. The wood was found to be a true fir, and was still in good condition.

GOODELL MAN ON ROUTE 25 YEARS

This week, Tuesday, November 22, W. N. Allaben had the honor of having been rural mail carrier on the eastern route for twenty five years. During this time he has missed only fifteen days because of illness. Through his untiring efforts and pleasing ways he has won a host of friends on his route. Mr. Allaben will attain the retiring age of 65 years next August and will then be entitled to a pension.

Mr. and Mrs. George U. Mikesh and daughter, Mardel of Onamia, Minn., are visiting this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mikesh.

Misses Doris, Helen and Evelyn Miller are absent from school suffering with bad cases of mumps.

Miss Lureta Nolte who works at the Fred Prelipp home at Kanawha spent the week end at her home here.

Miss Karna Peterson went to Klemme Saturday evening as she was one of the members of the Girls' Glee Club who gave a program there.

The Home Economics girls gave a tea Wednesday afternoon with their mothers as guests. Misses Rogeen Tinkle and Doris Schneider were hostesses.

Mrs. Peterson who has been visiting the past month with her sister, Mrs. Dora Christenson, went to Garner Tuesday, and visited her niece, Mrs. Hughes. On Friday she returned to her home at Brainard, Minn.

Ina and Cloe Jenison have been suffering with the whooping cough and being cared for at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. E. P. Hubbard. On Tuesday they went home and on Thursday accompanied the rest of their home folks, the Ralph Jenison family to Colorado, where they will spend the winter due to Ralph's poor health. They made the trip in their Buick car.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Carpenter took their son, Harry to Mason City Wednesday where he was given a treatment for his eye at the Park hospital. Harry's many friends will be glad to hear that he is getting along nicely since his recent accident.

Miss Eliza Cashman was called to Belmond Wednesday due to her sister, Mrs. Finn being very sick. She remained to help care for her.

Tauge Matson who is working on the highway bridge work at Panora came home Tuesday and spent the day with home people. From here he went to Ames to bid on more work.

Mrs. G. E. Snearly went to Garner Monday and attended a meeting of the County Board of Education, of which she is a member.

Mrs. L. W. Wesenberg was hostess to about twenty young folks Wednesday night. She gave a party in honor of Eunice's fifteenth birthday. A fine time was spent and refreshments served at the close of the evening. Miss Eunice received many pretty gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Sandberg returned home Tuesday from a week's visit with relatives in Illinois. On their return home they called on the Vincent Allaben family at Forreston, Ill.

Mrs. Frank McNutt received word last week from her relatives who live in Albany, Oregon. Her mother, age 90 years, and her sister have been very sick with the flu. Her nephew also had the disease and passed away.

Rev. and Mrs. Scott accompanied by her sister, Miss Summerville of Cumberland, Mrs. E. J. Schneider, and Louise Ahrenkiel went to Belmond Wednesday to attend lodge.

Miss Evelyn Thomas of Meservey who attends college at Cedar Falls, Sundayed with friends here. Miss Thomas was formerly grammar room teacher here.

Mrs. Weck Robbins went to Iowa City Friday night to enter the hospital. She has been in poor health for some time and an operation was advised. Her many friends are hoping for a speedy recovery. Her son Carl accompanied her.

The Fox Road force who have had their equipment stored in the Homer Ness farm yard came Wednesday and moved to Holmes where they will work.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rhodes left Friday morning for California where they will spend the winter with the former's brother. They will also visit relatives in the Dakotas and Montana.

Miss Agnes Fuller came home from Miller Friday to spend the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ness and Dorothy autoed to Williams Sunday to visit relatives. Sanford Ness who has been picking corn there for some time accompanied them home.

Mrs. Cora Lamer is enjoying a visit with her niece and husband from Sioux Falls, S. D.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Sandberg and Robert autoed up from Iowa Falls Sunday and spent the day at the former's parental home.

Rev. and Mrs. Scott accompanied by her sister, Miss Summerville, visited the grotto at West Bend, Monday.

Miss Dahlia Stromer who lives near Garner was a week end guest at the Jay Griggs home.

Weck Robbins has been suffering the past two weeks with infection in the lower part of his limb. On Tuesday he went to Belmond and had an x-ray picture taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Ahrenkiel and Taalkeus Sundayed at Rowan with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Usher.

About 6 a. m. Thursday word was sounded around town that the P. C. Lowenberg home was on fire. Mr. Lowenberg started the fire in the kitchen range and went in another room. The stove pipe became very warm, setting the wall paper and curtains afire. Hearing a crackling Mr. Lowenberg went out in the kitchen and happened to have two pails of water there which he extinguished it with. The telephone central notified folks with phones and a crowd hurriedly came but the fire was out.

Last Monday as Curtis Luick of Mason City, who delivers meat for Deckers, was coming into town he met a car about two miles north on the Wilson Highway. He turned out and struck the loose gravel, causing him to tip over and break a wheel off the car. Fortunately he was not injured. Mr. Luick formerly lived here.

Last Thursday the hot lunches were started in the Goodell school. Miss Liittchwager and the domestic science girls prepare the meals at the small cost of 10 cents per day for each child. Five nourishing meals are served.

A new clock has been purchased for the high school assembly.

Medical examinations were given Tuesday and Wednesday for basket ball. Boys and girls teams were organized and the players are busy practicing in the opera house. The girls already have their suits.

Miss Margaret Fuller went to Miller Monday to spend a few days with Agnes who teaches there.

Church Notes

Everyone cordially invited to attend the U. B. bazaar and chicken supper at the church, Sat., Dec. 3. Things to be sold and supper at reasonable prices. Come.

(Held over from last week)

Lyle La Rue who is employed in the Brady Drug store at Mason City came home Saturday for an over Sunday visit with his home folks.

Miss Agnes Fuller returned Monday to her teaching work at Miller, having spent her two weeks' corn husking vacation at her parental home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hughes of Williams Sundayed with the White and Avery families.

School reopened Monday with teachers and pupils back to work. They had a week of vacation for corn husking.

Mr. Rose Houghton and daughter Mrs. D. M. Conlan autoed to Rochester, Minn., Tuesday. Mrs. Houghton will spend about two weeks there and receive treatment for her eye. The latter returned home Friday.

Mrs. Casey Blank of Dysart visited the fore part of last week with home folks, the Dan Miller family. While here she became sick and her illness was a case of mumps. She returned to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Sandberg left early Tuesday morning and motored to Illinois to enjoy a ten days vacation. They will visit the former's brother at Lee Center and Mrs. Sandberg's sister at West Brooklyn. They will also visit other relatives at their former home, in Dixon.

You can buy a wrist watch for your friend, at Mallory's Belmond.

ALEXANDER NEWS NOTES

See the new line of toilet sets at Mallory's, Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Claas Symens were Hampton callers Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Leebrick were Sunday visitors at the John Bell home.

Mrs. Kate Starkey was laid to rest in the Alexander cemetery beside her husband Joseph Starkey, Saturday afternoon. She passed away Wednesday at the home of her brother Bets Grabbe, in Hampton with whom she had been staying for the past two years. Funeral services were held at the home in Hampton. Mrs. Starkey had been a faithful member of the Methodist church here for many years. A large circle of friends were saddened to hear of her death.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dunn, Mrs. Fred Dunn and Mrs. Ellen Peck attended the funeral services of Mrs. Kate Starkey at Hampton Saturday.

Will Ammerman was a caller at Hampton Wednesday.

Miss Ida Steenblock of Belmond was a caller at the Fred Rodemeyer home Wednesday evening.

Ole Foughty was a Hampton caller Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Bonte and family of Belmond were visiting at the Mrs. Bonte home Thursday evening.

Mrs. J. B. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thomas and children and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jones of Hampton were Sunday visitors at the Elias Klinefelter home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernold Kinseth and children of Belmond were callers in town Sunday.

Charlie Winwood, Charlie Cross and Wesley Parks were Mason City callers Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Yaw of Hampton were visiting at the John Hill home Sunday.

Mrs. Otto Kieslich and daughter, Blanche were Hamtpon callers Friday.

Mrs. L. S. Reed and Mrs. Oscar Hensel and family were Hampton callers Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dunn were Clear Lake callers Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Roland Schnabely and Mrs. Sarah Butler of Beamaen. were visiting old friends here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ostendorf and children of Popejoy, were visiting with relatives here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Scott and family of Rowan were visiting at the John Modderman home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ammerman of Mason City were visiting at the Will Ammerman home Sunday.

The Delta Alpha class will meet Friday, Dec. 2, at the Clarence Bohlen home. Hostesses, Mrs. Cliff Bobst, Mrs. Clarence Bohlen and Miss Alice Seeds.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Latham and two sons Willard and Wilbur were visiting at the Reverend Cushman home in Iowa Falls Sunday.

Henry Schomburg and John Peters were Hampton callers Monday.

UNITED CHURCH NOTES

Rev. A. C. Woodcock, Pastor

Services will be held in the church on Thanksgiving Day at 10:00 A. M. Sermon will be on "Our Heritage."

Services on Sunday, November 27. Morning worship at 10:00 A. M. with sermon on, "The American Home of Today." We want to make this a real home Sunday and urge every family to be in church together. A special invitation is extended to all members of Federated Women's Clubs.

Sunday school will be held at 11:00 A. M. There were 119 there last Sunday. And many absent. Let us all come.

The Junior and Senior Christian Endeavor societies will meet at 6:45 P. M.

Evening service of worship at 7:30 p. m. The young people's chorus will sing. The pastor will preach on "In the Hands of Our Friends." We will try to make this service worth your while to come. Come and help us and we may do you good also.

(Held over from last week)

William Aldinger and family made a business trip to Des Moines Thursday.

Mr. Crosby of Hampton was a caller in town Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johanson, son Evanel and daughter, Irlene, were Sunday visitors at the Arthur Larson home near Coulter.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peters returned home Saturday from a two weeks visit at various places in Illinois.

School opened here again Monday after a weeks vacation. However the weather during vacation was not very favorable.

Some of the farmens have finished picking corn, and find that the crop has been larger than they had expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Greenfield, and son Frederick, were Dows and Hampton callers Sunday evening.

Emil Polmateer of Renwick was visiting friends here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ammerman Jr., were entertained at the George Ammerman home near Dows Sunday for dinner.

J. M. Johnson was a business caller at Hampton Wednesday.

Lloyd Green was a business caller at Clear Lake Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Green and daughters Hattie and Agnes and Mr. Will Hanna of Tontogany, Ohio, were visiting at the Lloyd Green home Wednesday.

UNITED CHURCH NOTES

Rev. A. C. Woodcock, Pastor

Services on Sunday, Nov. 20—

Morning worship at 10:00 a. m. Sermon on 'The Simplicity of Jesus' Faith."

Sunday school meets at 11:00 a. m. Only five more Sundays before Christmas. We should have 150 in Sunday school before then.

The Junior and Senior Endeavor Societies meet at 6:45 p. m.

Evening praise and worship with sermon on, "Making Contact With God."

The Senior choir will meet Thursday at the George Dunn home.

The Junior choir will practice on Thursday evening at the Fred Dunn home.

A special service will be held at 10 a. m. in the church on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24. We hope many can spare an hour from other things for church worship on this day of Thanksgiving.

The Missionary Circle held its monthly meeting with Mrs. J. R. Harlow on Thursday last. The Circle is small but certainly a live one. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Carrie Reed, with Mrs. J. R. Harlow as leader.

Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Woodcock had for their week end guests, their son Bertram who is teaching school at Nora Springs, and Miss Lora Axtell, of Deep River, who is teaching at Wyman.

Miss Oca Lauderdale of Dillion, Montana, is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Henry Peters.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Green and daughter, Emmagene, were Hampton callers Friday. Mrs. Green and daughter remained for a visit with relatives, until Sunday.

Will Root and Lloyd Green were business callers at Mason City Saturday.

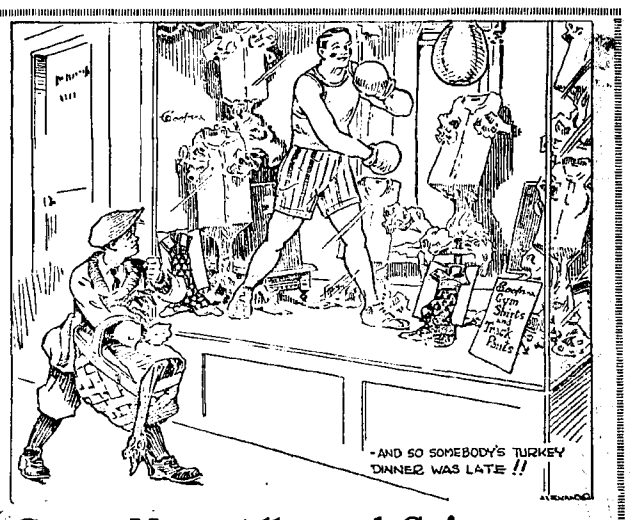
Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Winwood and son Kenneth and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Peters and children, were Belmond callers Thursday evening.

Mrs. L. S. Reed and children visited a few days the past week with relatives at Belmond.

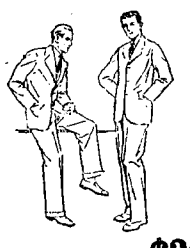
Miss Lela Larson has been visiting at the Arthur Larson home near Coulter the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ostendorf and family of Popejoy and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hemmes and children of Latimer were Sunday visitors at the John Blau home.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Aldinger and Ed Aldinger of Geneva were guests at the W. P. Aldinger home Sunday.



Get a New All-wool Suit for Fall and Winter



Collegiate Model—the three button loose fitting coat with round notched lapels is the smartest style for young men this winter. The finest materials, new patterns and weaves, expert tailoring—looks fine over Coopers underwear.

$20, $30 and $35

Conservative Models with two-button single-breasted coat. Good style and quality in the new all wool materials we are showing. Conservative dressers like them for street and business wear.

$20 to 47.50

Now in Stock — Coopers style Underwear, Hosiery and Pajamas for men.

TIGER BRAND HATS

$5 and $6

Smart dress hats in new and seasonable light colors—mostly tan and gray. They have the jauntiness that college men like.

COLLEGIATE OXFORDS

$5

Young men like this square-toed model, made especially for street and sports dress wear. Fine calfskin leathers in tan or black.

You'll be wearing your dress clothes often now. Come in and get the accessories you need.

C. C. McGUIRE, Belmond

Belmond School Notes

(Continued from page one.)

ords this six weeks. Mona Schmidt hasn't missed a word yet this year. Ruth Courson, Herman Dorenkamp and Corinne Johnson have perfect records this six weeks.

Amelia Greenlander, Jean Elder, Christina Groen and Mildred Van Buskirk are excused from penmanship because of their excellent work. As long as their writing is as good as it is now they will not be required to take penmanship but if their writing on any paper fails to meet the standard they will go back into the class.

As the result of the Healthy and Wealthy club the 8th grade had 20 who had perfect teeth records and 16 in the 7th grade. The 8th grade saved $1.07 and the 7th $4.84.

Grade News

The morning group of Kindergarten folks made a Thanksgiving book and also wrote a letter, both of which were for Arline Wolf. They made a special excursion trip to the post office to mail them.

Warren Snyder has been absent from the Kindergarten the past week because of having the mumps.

Mrs. Elder visited the first grade Friday afternoon.

Ann Just, a new pupil, entered the second grade Monday.

Mrs. Stadtlander, Mrs. Chris Groen, and Mrs. Milligan were the visitors of the fifth grade Friday.

The fifth grade, under the direction of Miss Barry, are very proud to announce that they won the Parent Teachers penant for the second time this year.

Mrs. Milton Ramsey visited the sixth grade last Friday.

Louise Miller entered the sixth grade Friday.

(Held over from last week)

Last Wednesday evening the final tryout for debate was held. Mr. O. L. Varland, Mr. Cato Griesy and Rev. Byron Wright were judges.

Eight people tried out for the first team of the high school.

First Debate

Affirmative—Lois Trafford, Harriet Martin

Negative—Muriel Luick, Richard Gowdy

Second Debate

Affirmative—Helen Luick, Randall Klemme

Negative—Harriet Gowdy, Ruth Ramsay

Muriel Luick, Harriet Martin, Ruth Ramsay and Randall Klemme were chosen to represent the High School in the State debate. In the first debate the affirmative team received a 2-1 decision and in the second debate the negative won with the same scoring.

The grades and high school will start this week on the music memory contest to close Music week, which comes the second week in May this year.

Junior High Notes

This week sixteen in the eighth grade and fifteen in the seventh grade had perfect teeth records. The eighth grade saved $6.93 and the seventh, $1.91. At our meeting Friday Miss Bond gave a talk on "Safe guarding our Teeth," and we are trying to see how many members of our club visit the dentist to have their teeth examined before the end of this week.

Our Junior high assembly was held Thursday, Nov. 10, the Healthy and Wealthy Club officers presiding. The following program under Miss Sowerwine's direction was given:

Introductory Speech—Duane Packard

Piano Solo—Minerva Rise

Song—Eighth grade boys

Reading—Howard Dempsey

Song—Seventh grade sextette

A Lesson in Dietetics—Play by eighth grade.

Miss Sowerwine has worked very hard on this program and it was a very fine success.

The Junior High appreciated the invitation to the Armistice Day program given by the high school.

Veda Curtis and Billy Moore missed only one problem in their Drill Book this week.

We appreciated our visitors this week and would like to have everyone visit more for it creates interest in the school work.

The following were visitors in the Kindergarten Wednesday, Nov. 2: Mrs. Berghefer, Mrs. Guldseth, Pearl Larson, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Groen, Mrs. Barron, Mrs. Kramer, Mr. Davenport.

Warren Snyder has been ill with the mumps.

Arlene Wolf has been absent because of serious ilness.

Mrs. Geo. Elder, Mrs. A. E. Courson, Mrs. Glenn Klemme, Mrs. F. Bailey, Mrs. Hadley, Mrs. Chamberlin, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Barron Mrs. Groen, Miss Gregg, Mrs. Whelan, Mrs. Schmidt visited Miss Hazlett's room Wednesday.

Adam Just entered Miss Nelson's room Thursday.

Visitors in second grade Wednesday were: Mrs. T. Bailey, Mrs. Madsen, Mrs. Hadley, Mrs. F. Bailey, Mrs. Nielson, Mrs. R. Klemme, Mrs. Kinseth, Mrs. Berghefer, Mrs. Barron, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Fitts, Mrs. Stapley, Mrs. Drain, Mrs. Olsen and Mr. Davenport.

The following visited the third grade Thursday: Mrs. Hadley, Mrs. F. Bailey, Mrs. C. O. Fitts, Mrs. Geo. Brady, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. A. J. Hood, Mrs. Chamberlin and Mrs. Chet Hake.

Catherine Just entered the third grade Thursday.

The visitors in fourth grade were: Mrs. Pfaltzgraff, Mrs. Finn, Mrs. Nielson, Mrs. Kragh, Mrs. M. G. Luick, Mrs. Kinseth, Mrs. Schmidt, Mrs. Hood, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs Champlin.

Visitors in Miss Barry's rooom were: Mrs. Madsen, Mrs. A. W. Martin, Mrs. E. W. Luick, Mrs. Berghefer, Mrs. Roosevelt, Mrs. Greenwood, Mrs. Greelnander, Mrs. Hood, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Gowdy, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Stanbery, Mrs. Olsen, Miss Wagoner, Miss Hunst, and Miss Rabey.

The following visited the sixth grade Wednesday: Mrs. Jacobmeyer, Mrs. Nordschow, Mrs. Geo. Brady, Mrs. Schmidt, Mrs. Whelan, Miss Gregg, Mrs. Ramsay, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Courson, Mrs. Elder, Mrs. Hood, Mrs. Ralph Jenison.

Mrs. Pfaltzgraff and Mrs. Finn were visitors Thursday in the sixth grade.

Elizabeth Just entered the sixth grade Thursday.

NOTICE OF SUPPLY LETTING

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County will receive bids for county printing and office supplies, the bids to be made on each item separately, and bids on bar docket and financial statements to be on each numbered page, each also to be by lump sum. Contract will be let to lowest and best bidder as a whole, and any extras ordered during the year are to be paid for at individual item price as fixed in bid. Letting to be held December 5, 1927, at 2 o'clock p. m., all purchases to be F. O. B. Clarion, Iowa. See list on file with County Auditor.

Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Dated at Clarion, Iowa, November 21, 1927.

F. W Walker,
County Auditor

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF HILL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, INC.

THE UNDERSIGNED, of legal age and residents and citizens of the United States, hereby associate ourselves into a body corporate and adopt the following articles of Incorporation:

I.

The name of the corporation shall be Hill Manufacturing Company, Inc., and its principal place of business shall be at Belmond, Iowa.

II.

The object and purpose of the corporation shall be to engage in the business of manufacturing and selling, at retail and at wholesale, automobile awnings and parts, automobile accessories, awnings, curtains and other articles and appliances, and to do each and every necessary or proper thing to forward such object and purpose.

III.

The corporation shall have the right to buy, hold, lease, sell, convey, assign, transfer mortgage or otherwise encumber personal and real property. All instruments affecting real estate of the corporation shall be signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary.

IV.

The authorized capital stock of this corporation is $15,000.00 divided into shares of $100.00 each. The corporation may commence business when $300.00 in stock has been issued but no stock shall be issued until the corporation has received full cash payment therefor.

V.

The corporate period shall begin on the date of the issuance of its charter by the Secretary of State and shall terminate tweny (20) years thereafter unless sooner dissolved according to law.

VI.

The officers of the corporation shall be a President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Board of Directors.

The Secretary and Teasurer may be the same person.

The corporation shall be managed by a Board of three directors, chosen from the stockholders at the annual meeting or at a special meeting called for that purpose.

The Board shall have the right to employ such labor and agents as it may deem necessary, and to fix the salaries and wages of all employees and officers, and may adopt by laws, which may be altered or changed by the stockholders.

VII.

The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held on the first Monday in October. Until the first annual meeting the following persons shall be officers:

W. C. Tyrrell, Jr., President, Belmond, Iowa.

V. F. Mikesell, Secretary, Belmond, Iowa.

G. H. Klemme, Treasurer, Belmond, Iowa.

W. C. Tyrrell, Jr., Director, Belmond, Iowa.

V. F. Mikesell, Director, Belmond, Iowa.

G. H. Klemme, Director, Belmond, Iowa.

All officers of the corporation shall hold office for the term of one year or until their successors are elected and qualified. Every officer and director shall be a stockholder and if any officer or director transfers or sells his stock, he shall thereby cease to be an officer or director.

The Board of Directors may fill any vacancy until the next annual meeting.

Special meetings of stockholders may be called by the president or any member of the board of directors by giving five (5) days notice in person or in writing to the stockholders, and the President shall call a meeting when requested so to do by two-thirds (2-3) of the stockholders. At all stockholders meetings each stockholder shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

VIII.

The highest amount of indebtedness to which this corporation shall at any one time be subject shall not exceed two-thirds (2-3) of its paid up capital stock.

IX.

The private property of the stockholders shall not be liable for the debts of the corporation.

X.

These articles may be amended at any annual meeting of the stockholders or at any special meeting called for that purpose, by a majority vote of the stock.

XI.

The corporation reserves unto itself a lien upon all the stock of any stockholders for all indebtedness of such stockholders to the corporation and any assignment or transfer of stock shall be subject to the lien of any indebtedness due from such stockholder to the corporation, and no transfer of any of the stock of the corporation shall be made until such lien, if any exists, has been paid and satisfied.

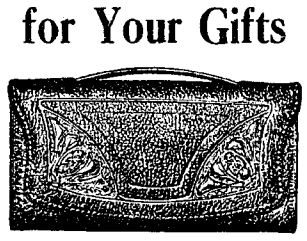
Dated October 18th, A. D. 1927.

W. C. Tyrrell, Jr.
V. F. Mikesell
G. H. Klemme

R. T. COE
Veterinarian
CALLS ANSWERED
DAY OR NIGHT
Office over C. C. McGuire Store
Phone 23 Belmond, Iowa

The
FOSS CLEANING SHOP
Solicits your patronage in
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Located West of the Foss Shoe Shop
All Work Guaranteed
We will appreciate your Trial Offer
FOSS CLEANING SHOP
Louis Foss, Prop.
Phone 70 Belmond, Iowa

MEEKER MADE
STEERHIDE
Leather Goods for Your Gifts



Hand Bags Bill Folds
Under Arm Bags
Sewing Sets
Comb and File Sets
Key Ring Cases
Card Cases
Try the Drug Store first!
Schultz Drug Company
Phone 171 Belmond, Iowa

Thanksgiving

--a day to thank a generous Providence for blessings bestowed upon us. And surely every one of you has something for which to be thankful. If only you enjoy the respect of others—if only you've made a new friend—if only good health and mental contentment are yours, you're fortunate. Be thankful!

This Bank, too, extends Thanks to its many patrons who have made possible its prosperity in resources and new friends during the year

Closed all day Thanksgiving

Belmond Savings Bank

Golden State Route to California

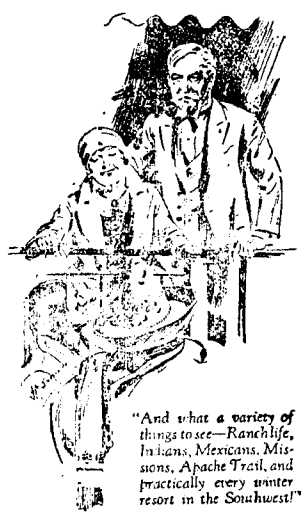
On your winter trip to California go via Golden State Route. It's the low altitude way—and "low altitude" means "perfect comfort."



"And what a variety of things to see—Ranch life, Indians, Mexicans, Missions, Apache Trail, and practically every winter resort in the Southwest!"

Rock Island-Southern Pacific California service includes the de luxe Golden State Limited from Chicago—Kansas City—none finer; the popular Apache—thru Pullmans daily from Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Des Moines and Kansas City and the Californian from Kansas City.

Meals—"Best on Wheels" at most reasonable prices.

Rock Island Lines

Ask the Rock Island Ticket Agent or
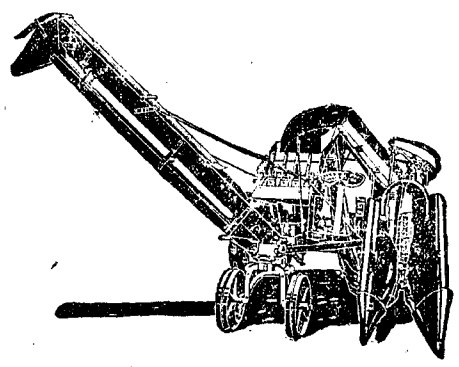
MAIL THIS COUPON
Rock Island Travel Service Bureau,
614 Valley National Bank Bldg.
Des Moines, Iowa.
Please send me booklets descriptive of California and the Golden State Route.
Name.....
Address.....



A Corn Picker Increases Your Husking Capacity Six to Ten Times

Add the extra cost of hand husking to your profits—be rid of worry at husking time forever. Owners tell us that a corn picker will pay for itself in two years with what it saves.

A Corn Picker Will Solve Your Help Problems

Will out-pick six men.
Will do cleaner work than hand huskers.
Will get your husking done on time.

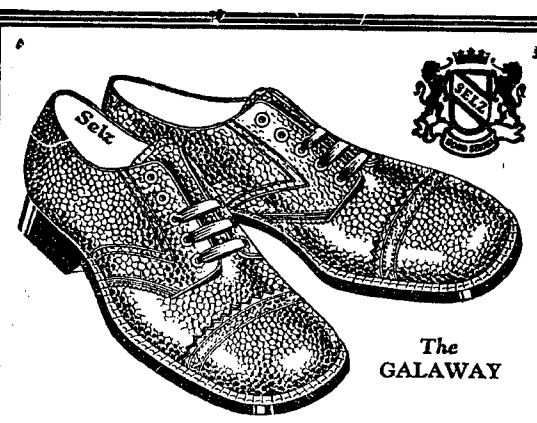
Let us explain the merits of the new 1927 Models. There are many improvements on both the

JOHN DEERE and McCORMICK-DEERING

PRICES VERY REASONABLE

GRIESY'S

The Friendly Place
PHONE 10
BELMOND, IOWA



The GALAWAY

$6 is the price of this shoe

YOU will wonder how it is done so many of its features are to be found only in shoes much higher in price

- Glen grain leather
- semi-soft broad boxed toe
- extra heavy sole stitching
- wide all leather shovel heel
- blucher lacing
- new Autumn tan or black

All this for $6. Huge production to satisfy the most popular demand is responsible an achievement by

Selz

OTHER VALUES AT $8.50 AND $10

SMITH & SKOVLIN
SERVICE SATISFACTION

$10 Wrist Watches -:- Diamond Rings

Good Assortment of Other Rings
WATCH REPAIRING A SPECIALTY
$1 Glasses You Can See With at

Mallory's Jewelry Store

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

From "roof to basement" that's the way to buy a car

Buick welcomes this searching test

The man who buys a home goes over it thoroughly, from roof to basement, to make certain that it has the sound construction that means long and enduring service.

Buy your car as you would a home. Buick welcomes this searching test, and invites critical comparisons. And Buick is willing to leave the decision to you.

SEDANS $1195 to $1995 , COUPES $1195 to $1850
SPORT MODELS $1195 to $1525

All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich., government tax to be added. The G. M. A. C. financing plan, the most desirable, is available.

BUICK for 1928

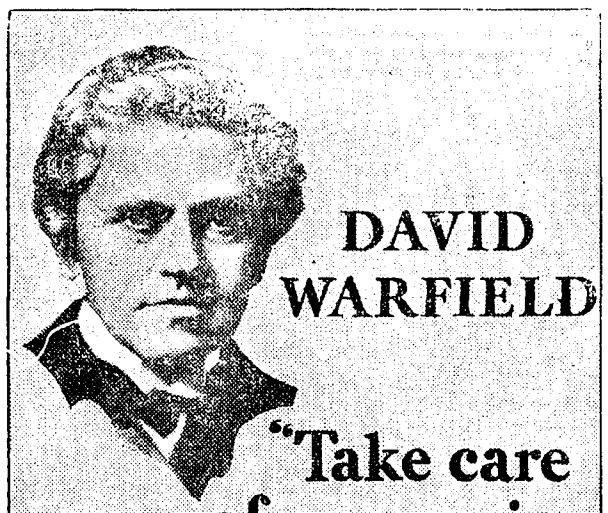
WEBSTER COUNTY BUICK CO.
DISTRIBUTORS
20-24 North 9th St. Fort Dodge, Iowa
BELMOND—HUB MOTOR CO. Kanawha—Yeakel & Mallow
Clarion—Linfor Auto Co. Dows—A Banwell
Eagle Grove—Porter Auto Co.



DAVID WARFIELD

"Take care of your voice smoke LUCKIES"

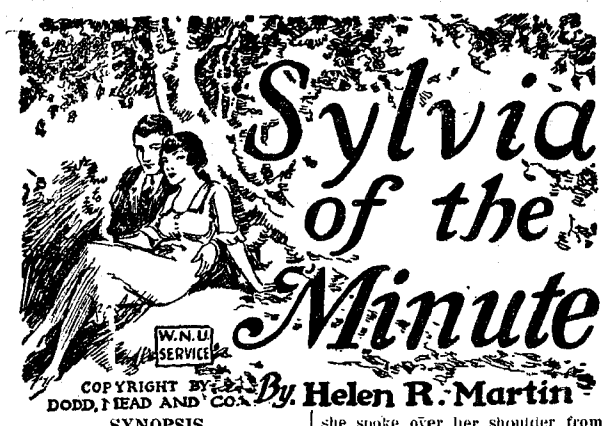
"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.



Sylvia of the Minute

COPYRIGHT BY DODD, MEAD AND CO.

By Helen R. Martin

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER 1—Handsome, fastidious and wealthy—young St. Croix Creighton awaits his sweetheart at their trysting place. She is fifteen minutes late, this ordinary little Pennsylvania Dutch girl, Meely Schwenckton, but he awaits her eagerly. She is so demurely beautiful, he thinks, but so out of his "class."

"Well," answered Mr. Schwenckton, "Marvin makes hisself nice and common with us folks when we meet up with him; and with his Pop's miners, too."

"But that ain't sayin', Meely," spoke in Aunt Rosy, "that he'd stoop to you. He ain't that common!"

"Isn't he?"

"Yes, well, but he might stoop even to such as Meely," Mr. Schwenckton speculated, "since his Pop turned him out to earn his own livin'."

"Oh! Why?" asked Meely breathlessly, off her guard for an instant in her surprise and curiosity.

"Well, he didn't hold with his Pop about the way their miners is treated. He puts out that he thinks it's like Roosha under the czar. He's fur treatin' em like Roosha under the Bolsheviks. So him and his pop they don't hit off so wery good. He tol' his Pop (so it's put out) that he couldn't live on money so earnt. So then his Pop tol' him to get out and earn his own livin' and see how he'd like it."

"Then the other son, St. Croix, will inherit all his father's wealth, will he?" asked Meely. "Or are there other heirs?"

"Them's all. But the estate is entailed, that way, and Marvin must get his share, too, till his Pop's deceased a'ready. That's what gets old Creighton's so peeved, that he can't disinherit his son; for he says that Marvin, with his Bolshevist vee-yous, will ruin their business—his own share and St. Croix' too, seein' it's all together. Yes, Marvin, he's an awful worry to his Pop!"

"And to his brother, St. Croix, too, I should think?" Meely suggested.

"Ach, yes, it's put out that the brothers don't get on good together at all. Then there's other troubles, too, between Marvin and his Pop—about a second cousin in England with such a title—a dukeess or what—that Marvin was to marry and he got balky and wouldn't do it. It seems he tol' his Pop he wouldn't buy his wife nor he wouldn't sell hisself fur no titled lady in the world, nor he wouldn't marry no girl that would sell herself for his money."

"And was he sure," Meely asked, after an instant's pause, "that his English cousin wanted to sell herself?"

Well, that's the talk. The two families had fixed up the match and Marvin he got balky. And his Pop was awful peeved, he'd been so set on this here match. Marvin bein' the oldest was gave the first chance at this here grand lady, you see, and wouldn't take it. So now it's St. Croix that's to marry her, they say."

"Is he?"

"So they say. And I guess it's better so, for he's more suited to such a duke-ess, or wiat. Marvin's too plain a dresser for such a high lady."

"And how," asked Meely after another moment's silence, "does this Marvin earn his living since he's been thrown out by his father?"

"Yes, you better ask, Meely! He's your boss! He's got hisself elected county superintendent of our public schools!"

"What!"

"Yes, mind if he didn't! So he'll be wisitin' at your school one of these here days to see how you teach oncet!"

"Does he know anything about teaching, himself?" asked Meely skeptically.

"Well, he's got a college diarploma or what."

"And the younger son—St. Croix—he agrees with his father, I suppose, about the treatment of the miners?"

"Ach, yes, him and his Pop agrees fine. He's the lawyer for the estate and his Pop thinks he's fine and sharp. Lizize," he spoke to his little daughter, "eat your supper."

"It don't wonder me she don't eat," said Aunt Rosy; "her conscience won't leave her enjoy her wittles, so bad—"

"Be peaceable, Aunt Rosy. You can tell me after supper what you're got to say."

The child looked terrified at these ominous words and Meely glanced at her pityingly. For a moment no one spoke and the silence seemed heavy and menacing.

"Well," Mr. Schwenckton presently broke it, "I'm done." He pushed away his plate, drew the back of his hand across his mouth, shoved back his chair and rose. "I'll go up and see Susie."

Aunt Rosy, who was a greedy eater, at once concluded her own supper with a few hasty mouthfuls and rose to go with him. "Lizzie!" she spoke over her shoulder from the stairway opening out from the kitchen, "you get at and clear off the table and do the dishes and then finish up them diapers."

"Yes'm," answered Lizzie, rising at once and beginning to scrape and collect the plates.

A moment later Sammy, a cowed and sullen boy of twelve, skulked into the kitchen, sat down at the table and began hungrily devouring his belated supper.

Meely strolled to the foot of the stairs and stood listening to the voices in the room above; and Lizzie, her eyes wide and strained, left the sink and tiptoed across the room to stand at her side.

"Lizzie she won't obey me," Aunt Rosy's complaining voice came down from the sick room. "I can't do nothin' with her. After school this after she run out and stayed till near supper time a'ready! If you don't learn your children to obey me, Mister, I can't housekeep for you, and then where'd you be, with a sick wife and a boarder that's that particklar!—wantin' a napkin to every meal yet!—and interferin' and makin' Susie worse with lettin' in the cool air where she's layin' here sick! Well—of—all—things!"

"And, Sam," Susie's weak voice backed up her sister, "Meely she encourages Lizzie to disobey to my sister Rosy. I misoverheard her sayin' to Lizzie, 'It's a pity you ain't old enough to do like your sister and brother done—run off!' Yes, mind you, Sam, if she didn't tell Lizzie that!"

"Yi, yi, yi!" Mr. Schwenckton's deep voice responded in strongest disapproval.

"Yes, and if you don't get rid of your fancy boarder, Mister, you will have another of your children runnin' off, now mind I'm warnin' you!" said Aunt Rosy.

"Ach, no, no!" Mr. Schwenckton returned in a tone of mingled distress and resolve.

"Well, then, you gotta switch it out of Lizzie, Mister, the way you done out of Sammy. If you give her the good switchin' you give Sammy last week for not mindin' to me, then I guess I won't have no more trouble with her. Sammy you bet he minds to me now when I speak to him! Well, I guess anyhow then! He jumps when I speak since he got that there good whippin' off of you! And Lizzie she needs it worse'n Sammy yet."

The noise of Mr. Schwenckton's suddenly rising and walking to the door at the head of the stairs sent Lizzie, white and quivering, back to her dish-washing.

Meely, slowly following, took a towel and began to dry the dishes already washed, both of them waiting in tense anxiety for the entrance of "the Mister."

But Mr. Schwenckton did not at once come down. Meely and Lizzie, from where they worked, could still hear, faintly, the voices in the room above.

"I have awful afraid!" Lizzie whispered, her teeth chattering as she splashed in the dishpan. "Pop he whips so hard! It's awful good of you, Meely, to help me! Mebby if I have all done nice and clean till Pop comes down, he won't whip me so hard!"

"You poor little thing!" Meely exclaimed, working as fast as Lizzie herself. "I won't let him touch you! I'll—"

"But I have afraid that would make him do it all the harder, Meely—your takin' up for me after what his Susie jus tol' him!—how you tol' me it was a pity I wasn't old enough to run off! If you took up for me now, after her tellin' him that, he'd think I was gettin' spoilt by you and that he'd have to learn me!"

"But you've done nothing! That horrible woman lies! I'll tell him how she lies! And how she imposes on you two children and overworks you. He's too fond of you, Lizzie, to allow it, once he understands. He seems so especially fond of you, Lizzie. Did he ever whip you?"

"Not yet. I'm the only one he didn't whip. Each one, as soon as they get big enough, get one awful hard whippin' and then never no more. Oncet was enough. After that one they never disobey to Pop no more. Oncet was enough to learn 'em. Except Sammy. On account of Aunt Rosy's bein' here, Sammy's had his second one. The reason Nettie and Jakey run off was that Pop was a-goin' to whip 'em if they didn't mind to Aunt Rosy, and as big-growed as what they are yet, they didn't want to take it off to him, so they run off."

"But how have you escaped, Lizzie?"

"I don't know—I never seemed to do nothin' to get a whippin' for. But I know Aunt Rosy'll make him whip me tonight! I have so afraid, Meely! I'll run off to Gramma's like Nettie done if it wasn't dark night and ten miles away!"

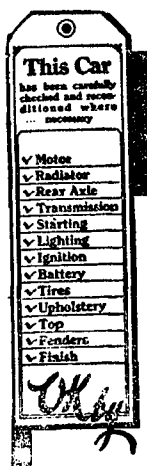
"It's a wonder your father doesn't force Nettie to come home. He did try to, didn't he?"

(Continued Next Week)

READ THE ADS!

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29



for Economical Transportation
CHEVROLET

USED CARS
"with an OK that counts"

Buy Used Chevrolets from Chevrolet Dealers!

As Chevrolet dealers, we are particularly interested in Chevrolet performance. We do our utmost to make every used Chevrolet deliver the dependable transportation for which Chevrolet is famous the world over.

That's one of the big reasons why it pays to buy used Chevrolets from Chevrolet dealers! Another safety factor is the red "O. K." tag which we attach to the radiator cap of each reconditioned car. Look for it on the car you buy—and KNOW that you are getting superior value.

HUB MOTOR COMPANY
Phone 39 Belmond, Iowa

QUALITY AT LOW COST

Nimble—Lively—Quick!

In cold weather or warm—up hill or down—on a ribbon of road or through a hard pulling stretch—Solite makes your car easy to handle—speedy and powerful and smooth.

Solite is a light gasoline that makes no compromise with power to attain speed. It drives the piston the full stroke under power. It gives speed backed by power.

And the flexibility of the engine makes it a pleasure to drive! Fast! Slow! Quick pick-up and speed again! Wherever you want to go—however you want to go! The engine obeys with ready ease and a smooth purr!

It costs only a few cents more to feed your car Solite—you'll agree it's worth it.

At any Standard Oil Service Station and at most garages.

Standard Oil Company,
[Indiana]
BELMOND, IOWA

s747

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kernan are the parents of a baby girl, born Sunday, November 20. Mrs. Kernan is very seriously ill at this writing.

Harlan Rierson who is attending school at Chillicothe, Missouri, came Sunday to spend the Thanksgiving vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rierson.

Miss Sadie Frohling who operates a beauty shop at Dumont, spent the week end with Belmond relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Johnson spent Sunday with relatives at Mason City.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Parsons of Mason City came yesterday, to spend Thanksgiving at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Robinson.

Silas Sampson is in the local hospital receiving treatment for a serious infection in his left hand.

Claude Johnson and Marvin Sjoberg escaped with minor bruises when the Maxwell sedan they were driving turned over at the corner west of the Fred Lynch farm, southwest of Belmond, Tuesday morning. The two young men were out hunting, and the morning being very foggy, did not see the turn in the road in time to slow down. The car turned completely over, smashing the top to kindling. A neighbor's team was secured, the sedan righted and driven to town to the Johnson garage under its own power.

Ernest Stadtlander, Jr., came home from Osage, where he is employed with a bridge gang, to spend the week end with his parents, returning Tuesday.

Miss Myrtle Hawley, who teaches at Renwick, is spending the Thanksgiving vacation with home folks. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hawley of Carroll are also here for Thanksgiving.

Miss Grace Reed of Beaman is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Reed.

Mrs. Ralph Christie returned Sunday from Iowa City, where she had taken Muriel for violet ray treatments.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul Barth and daughter, Billie, of Boone, spent Sunday at the Mrs. M. J. Newgard home.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Skovlin of Colfax, Wash., are the parents of a baby daughter, born Monday, Nov. 21. Mr. and Mrs. Skovlin were former residents of Belmond, moving to Colfax this fall, where Mr. Skovlin is managing the clothing department of a Penney store.

Elsie Knoll of Ventura, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Stadtlander of Alexander, Jake Dorenkamp and Mr. and Mrs. L. Cramer were Sunday guests at the Hugh Sharp home.

COMING—Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 28 and 29, "The Seventh Heaven," at the Lyric Theatre. One show each night, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Rev. J. T. Snyder went to Britt Monday evening, to attend a meeting in the interests of Morningside college. The college is conducting a campaign for one million dollars to meet standardization requirements and provide additional buildings and equipment.

A demonstration of the Red River Special corn picker manufactured by a Battle Creek, Micn., firm, will be held at the Tom Quinlan farm one mile northeast of Belmond, Saturday Nov. 26. This picker, something new that is just coming out, attaches to a tractor, the mechanism of the machine being driven by a power takeoff from the tractor.

"HAS-WASES" WILL MEET "NO-MORES" THIS AFTERNOON

(Continued from page 1)

Axen, Smith, Henn.

Supt. H. J. Williams will umpire.

Upon the field, the No-Mores can be distinguished by their white sweaters, stainless white being chosen because the team is above reproach. The Has-Wases will wear purple, denoting their royal ability. Both sides expect to have large sections of supporters present.

Funds realized from the game will be donated to the school athletic fund. Admission to this great thriller will be, men 50c, women 25c, kids a dime. If you're under 12, you're a a kid.

Gobble your gobbler early today, and don't fail to be present at this sensational football game. Anyone not satisfied with the entertainment will have their money cheerfully refunded provided they can get it.

Mrs. Spitler was hostess Tuesday to her division of the M. E. Aid.

Read "My Pegasus and Other Articles," by Ellen Harrison (Lyna Whited). For sale at Mrs. Curtiss' Flower Shop.

The high school girls Sunday school class of the M. E. church entertained their mothers at a Mothers and Daughters' banquet, last Thursday evening, at the church. A three course dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock, with the color scheme in decorations being blue. Blue birds were used in trimming. Following dinner, a program was given in the church auditorium, Miss Helen Luick, president of the class, presiding. Included in the program was a piano selection by Harriet Martin, a vocal solo by Muriel Luick, and a clever farce, "The Anybody Family on Sunday Morning." Seventy-three were present. This Sunday school class numbers 35 high school girls, and once a year they entertain their mothers, using money they have earned during summer school vacation.

COMING—Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 28 and 29, "The Seventh Heaven," at the Lyric Theatre. One show each night, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Starnes of Thornton were Sunday visitors at the Nels Stockseth home.

NOTICE

The undersigned will not be responsible for any debts contracted by anyone but ourselves.

22* Moe & Nelson.

A recent deal in real estate was that of J. C. Arends, who purchased the Van de Brink farm about ten miles west of Belmond. Mr. Arends plans to move on the farm next spring.

Two hundred three members for the Red Cross were secured by the local chapter in its campaign last Saturday. If you did not join then, you can pay your $1 dues at either bank now.

In Japan individual citrus trees are known which, according to records, are at least 300 years old and have changed little in that time.

BELMOND MARKETS
(Subject to change.)

Hens	17c
Springs	17c
Roosters	08c
Ducks	14c
Geese	12c
Eggs	36c
Butterfat	45c
Creamery butter	50c
Oats	40c
Corn No. 3 yellow	69c
Barley	65c

Rev. Snyder, Joe Sprenzel and Rev. Harry Webb attended a rally meeting at Britt, Monday meeting.

The two little children of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wolf, who have been dangerously ill for several weeks, are reported as improving nicely. The trained nurse who has been in attendance, returned to her home Thursday.

Mrs. Frederick and son of Detroit, Minn., are guests at the J. R. Thayer home this week.

J. W. Lindsay & Son will hold a closing out farm sale near Harvey church, Tuesday, Nov. 29. Free lunch at 12:30. 13 horses, 35 calves, 65 hogs, farm machinery.

Clifford H. Johnson purchased a half interest last week in the Anderson Hatchery, which has been conducted by G. T. Anderson, and assumed his new duties with the firm Monday of this week. The firm name will henceforth be the Anderson Hatchery Co., with Mr. Anderson and Mr. Johnson equal partners.

COMING—Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 28 and 29, "The Seventh Heaven," at the Lyric Theatre. One show each night, beginning at 8 o'clock.

BASKET SOCIAL

And program at school District No. 4, Belmond township, Friday evening, Dec. 2, at 8 o'clock. One mile north and five miles west of Belmond. Everyone invited .— Ladies please bring baskets.

Helen Hildebrand, Teacher.

NOTICE

The parties who have been molesting my traps are hereby given due warning to leave them alone or suffer the consequences.

D. L. Ainger.

Glasses fitted.—A. H. Berger, Specialist, Clarion, Iowa. 528c

SALE DATES CLAIMED

NOV. 29—A. J. Fee, closing out farm sale.

DEC. 14—Clarence Scott. Closing out farm sale.

DEC. 15—Sampson Stock Farm closing out farm sale. Also H. G. Guernsey herd.

DEC. 8—Geo. Dippel, closing out farm sale.

DEC. 2—Roy A. Henderson, Trustee, bankruptcy sale of farm equipment. See particulars next week.

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Two Ford trucks with Warford transmission, also 4 33x5 tires. Also have 2 Warford transmissions for sale.—Moe & Nelson. 22*

FOR SALE—Frame chicken house, 12x14. Also 2 Portland cutters. Inquire at Independent. 2tf

FOR SALE—Pure bred Silver Laced Wyandotte roosters. $1.50 each if taken in November.—J. M. Croft, Alexander, Iowa. 12*

FOR SALE—Dressed geese and chickens, delivered.—L. R. Farmer. Phone 2109. 1*

FOR SALE—Ford roadster with truck body. Cheap. Inquire at Independent. 1c

FOR SALE—A Dutch Napanee Kitchen Cabinet with white porcelain top, also one large piece linoleum 10x15.—Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen. 12*

FOR SALE — Spotted Poland China boar pigs, weighing from 150 to 225 lbs., cholera immune.—C. Edwin Johnson, Kanawha, 3 miles south, 1 3-4 miles west. 48-2

FOR SALE—Duroc Jersey boars, big bone, with plenty of stretch. Fireworks breeding.—Geo. Thompson, 2 miles north and 3 east of Belmond. 504*

FOR SALE—Pullets $1.00 each.—Mrs. Menno Frohling, Phone 1105. 1*

FOR SALE—Big, husky spring boars. New blood for old customers. Cholera immune. Satisfaction guaranteed. Prices $30 and $35 for quick sale.—Roy Jenison. 51tf

FOR SALE—Large white Leghorn cockerels, $1. Black and Spotted Poland boars, 200 lbs. $30, if taken at once. Ten head cows and heifers to freshen soon. All good stuff.—P. H. Pals, Meservey. 51tf

FOR SALE — Spotted Poland Boars. Have a number of spring boars, weighing 175 to 250 pounds, also have two fall boars. Farm located 1 mile north, 2 miles west of Goodell. Gundvel Johnson. 496*

FOR SALE—Silver Laced Wyandotte and Buff Orpington cockerels. $1.50 each.—Mrs. A. P. Bohning. Phone 2606. 23c

WANTED—Man to pick corn by the bushel. 7c with elevator. Inquire at Independent. 1c

Poultry Wanted

We will call to buy your poultry and will pay you the highest market price. Poultry weighed and paid for at your place. Just call Geo. Coburn, Cornelia. Clarion phone 61-31. Belmond phone 3817. 47tf

Special
Thanksgiving Dinner

A regular old-fashioned Thanksgiving Dinner, with all the trimmings, Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24. No advanve in price—just the same as Sunday dinner, 50c. Bring the family!

Remember our Special Sunday chicken dinners.

MEALS LUNCHES
SHORT ORDERS
ICE CREAM CANDY
CIGARS TOBACCO

Look for the Red Light!

RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

Selection of Matrons Hats
Large head sizes
$2.98

All Hosiery 89c

A few Felts and Children's Hats
$1

The Hat Shoppe
Belmond, Iowa

ROBINSONS
... STORE ...

BAKERY
GROCERY

Dried Fruits are Cheaper. Listen!

80-90 prunes, 3 lbs.	25c
50-60 prunes, 2 lbs.	25c
20-30 prunes, per lb.	20c
Raisins, all kinds, per lb.	10c
Peaches, Blue Ribbon, per lb.	16c
Dates this week, 2 lb.	25c
Pears, fancy,	25c
Apricots	25c

FRUIT CAKE for Thanksgiving.

Masola Oil, bulk, per qt.	50c
Mince meat ready for pie, lb.	25c
A. B. C. pancake flour	25c
Bacon Nuggets, none better, lb.	30c
Van Camps beans, medium can	10c
Van Camps soup, 3 cans	25c
1 lb. jars jelly	20c

We help you, you help us.

Lyric Theatre
...Geo. Hake, Manager...

SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS

FRIDAY and SATURDAY
NOVEMBER 25 and 26

"ARIZONA NIGHTS"

F. B. O. picture with Fred Thomson and Silver King with Nora Lane, J. P. McGowan, Wm. Courtwright, Lottie Williams, Mrs. McCormick and Dan Peterson. The romance of the gold rush leaving a struggling settlement wide open to the attack of Indian bands. Based on the story by Stewart Edward White.

FOX TALES
Mermaid comedy
10c and 25c

MONDAY, TUESDAY
NOVEMBER 28 and 29

"THE SEVENTH HEAVEN"

Fox production with Janet Gaynor, Chas. Farrell, Ben Bard, David Butler, Marie Mosquini, Albert Gran, Gladys Brockwell. The romance of a little Paris street waif and her lover who leaped from the depths of degradation to the Seventh Heaven of Happiness. The atmosphere of the Paris Montmartre where the plot of the story is laid, is carried out in the settings. Based on the play by Austin Strong.
One show each night, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Fox News
10c and 30c

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY
NOV. 30 and DEC. 1

"AMERICAN BEAUTY"

First National picture with Billie Dove, Lloyd Hughes, Walter McGrail, Margartt Livingston, Lucien Prival, Al St. John. From the Saturday Evening Post story by Wallace Irwin. A beautiful girl bluffs her way in order to catch a millionaire for a husband. When she finally has him in her net, she discovers he isn't such a catch after all.

BABY BROTHER
Our Gang comedy
10c and 25c

We're Thankful!

WHAT have we got to
BE thankful for?
OH, lots of things!
WE'RE thankful for HEALTH, for "three squares"
A DAY and the appetite
TO enjoy them—for LIBERTY and freedom,
AND the fact that we LIVE in Belmond—
ALL these THINGS we're mighty
THANKFUL for, of course,
BUT the thing we want
TO mention particularly
AT this season is our APPRECIATION for the KINDNESSES you've shown
SCHULTZ Drug Co.
DURING the past year—
HONESTLY, we
WOULDN'T stay in business
TEN minutes if it were NOT for those friendly
RELATIONS that we enjoy
SO much, and which make
THE daily routine here
AT the store so
INTERESTING—believe us,
WE thank you!
P. S.—We have more
GOLD Fish. Two Gold Fish
AND globe free with NY Denta tooth paste.
REGULAR price 50 cents.
GET yours now.
EXTRA Gold Fish 15 cents each.

Herman L Schultz

SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

Kinseth's Store News

Cold weather is due, and along with it snow and slush. Have you got your Zipper boots yet? If not, remember we can fit you out with what you need. In black and all colors.

Our overshoe line is a good one, too, and it will pay you to look it over before buying overshoes.

Men's 4-buckle, all rubber overshoes at $3.98. Guaranteed.

Children's overshoes, too.

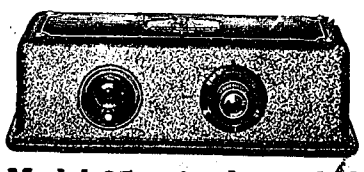
Wool socks for men, 28c to 65c per pair.

A fresh supply of Lutefisk just received, and we can supply your wants in this delicious food.

And don't forget that for Thanksgiving you can get anything you need, for the big dinner in the way of groceries and fruits, nuts and preserves, at the store on the corner. Make up your list, phone 19, and we'll deliver your order to your door.

P. S.—Don't forget to be at the football game with Hampton here Friday, tomorrow.

Every Atwater-Kent Owner is Thankful



Model 35---6 tube, 1 dial
$49

Why not an Atwater-Kent for Christmas---the gift for the entire family

Belmond Storage Battery Co.
Phone 46 J. W. Scott, Prop.

FOR THANKSGIVING

We can supply you with a choice lot of

TURKEYS GEESE
CHICKENS

Place your order early.

Watch for Our Specials Every Week!

Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning

City Meat Market
Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207. Belmond, Iowa

Bump Grocery Specials
Friday and Saturday, Nov. 25 - 26

APPLES BLACK BEN, 1 BU.	$2.45
APPLES, ROMAN BEAUTIES, 1 BU.	$2.95
GOOD GRADE BROOM, EACH	49c
SYRUP, 1 GAL. WHITE	59c
MUSTARD, 16. OZ. GLASS	20c
TONES BULK COCOA, 1 LB.	15c
CORN FLAKES, 2 PKG	23c
OYSTER CRACKERS, NATIONAL BISCUIT CO. 2 1-4 LB.	39c
ALL BULK CRACKERS, 1 LB.	19c
PEABERRY COFFEE, FANCY NO. 1, 1 LB.	35c
ASSORTED COOKIES, 1 LB.	19c
SWEET POTATOES, 6 LB.	25c
LITTLE JAP POP CORN, 2 LB.	19c

THE BUMP GROCERY
PHONE 38 BELMOND, IOWA

Belmond Independent

ESTABLISHED 1919 — AND HERALD-PRESS — CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 9 — BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1927. — NO. 3

School Operetta, "Tulip Time," To Be Given Next Week

Boys' And Girls' Glee Clubs To Present Musical At Auditorium Dec. 9

The boys and girls glee clubs have been working the past two weeks on the operetta "Tulip Time" which is to be presented in the school auditorium the evening of December 9th. Both glee clubs have unusually good talent this year and with the capable leadership of Miss Waugh, a finished production is assured. This will be the first high school operetta to be presented in two years. "Tulip Time" is a new operetta, having just been published this year, so the audience will be assured of something new and up-to-date.

More publicity, including a synopsis and cast of characters will be published in next weeks Independent.

Belmond High School Literary met in the auditorium on November 23. The following program was given by Literary Division 2:

Farce—A Letter From Home
James Collins, Carl Wagoner
Tom Macey, Max Elder
Grant Wilson, Harris Johnson
Harry Howard, George Mack

Music — Saxaphone selection by Richard Gowdy

Farce—A Mysterious Thanksgiving Guest
Mr. Jonathan Perkins, Farmer, Donald Baker
Mrs. Mary Jane Perkins, his wife, —Muriel Luick
Albert, the hero—Roland Schultz
Rev. Ephraim Sage, the parson, —Randall Klemme
Miss Susan Croker, the gossip—Esther Jones
Sally, the kitchen maid—Eleanor Barry
Bob, the grocer's boy—Ronald Courson

Paper—What the B. H. S. has to be Thankful For, by Thelma Riksansrud

Mr. Hall and Captain Henry Johnson are getting men lined for basket ball this week.

Junior High Notes

Last week the Healthy and Wealthy Club elected Corinne Johnson president and Jerry Adams, secretary. The eighth grade saved $1.63 and the seventh grade saved $3.61. In the last two weeks the following people visited the dentist to have their teeth examined: Kathryn Blake, Doris Parsons, Gertrude Bump, Deloris Barry, Clarence Cline, Esther Kemp, Maxine Nordschow, Helen Kelly Evelyn Stapley. Violet Norris and Gladys Baker.

The Junior High reporter for the next six weeks is Jean Elder.

In outside reading in the eighth grade Mona Schmidt is the highest with sixty-four points and Rose Barry second with fifty-one points. In the seventh grade Maxine Nordschow is highest with eighty-eight points and June Obrecht is second with fifty-nine points.

Mildred VanBuskirk and Mona Schmidt have the best report cards in the eighth grade. They have 7 A's and 2 B's in the seventh grade Carol Jacobson and Maxine Nordschow are the highest. They also have 7 A's and 2 B's.

The eighth grade held their annual class party Friday, Nov. 18th from 7:15 to 9:15 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. George Barry, Mr. and Mrs. George Goelz and Mr. and Mrs. Williams together with the five teachers were guests of the eighth grade. The party was made a success thru the work of a few very efficient committees and everyone apparently enjoyed the party.

Grade Notes

The following were neither absent nor tardy for six weeks in first grade: Mary Whelan, Almar Sharp, Dorothy Miller, Norma Jean Hill, Ruth Fulton, Marian Elder, Floyd Wagoner Bennett Moe, Clarence Chamberlin, Kenneth Bailey.

Albert Cook entered the second grade.

Miss Wiseman's room is planning to have a program every Friday morning by the pupils.

The following pupils of Miss Barry's room who have had perfect attendance for the past six weeks are: Doris Berghefer, Muriel Bohning, James Gowdy, Irene Greenlander, Jane Holtzbauer, William Luick, Keith Madsen, Ruth Milligan, Marjorie Moore Charles Norby, Harold Obrecht, Helen Olson, Alice Roosevelt, Naomi Roosevelt, Mary Stadtlander, William Stadtlander Lois Stapley.

Those with perfect attendance for the second six weeks in the sixth grade are: Ina Schmidt, Blanche Pfaltzgraff, Dorothy Courson, Esther Johnson, Orville Varland, Ina Berghefer, LaVonne Ramsey, Vina Bell Curtis, Jessie Elder, Loren Whelan, Virginia Anfinson, Gladys Petersen, Onnalee Halfpop, Ray Rowe, Donald Goelz.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Jones motored to Des Moines, Tuesday.

Miss Helen Harberts was hostess to the Chain of Ten, Tuesday.

Miss Bernetas Wolle left Sunday to take up her school duties at Corwith.

H E L P !

It has always been the custom of the Community Club to do a considerable amount of charity work at Christmas, but this fall club funds are low and the club is asking for donations. More charity work than ever before is probable this year. If you wish to donate money, clothing, groceries, vegetables, canned goods and the like, please leave them with either Mrs. G. F. McBurney, Chairman, or with Mrs. R. A. Rankins. Your help will be greatly appreciated.

THANKSGIVING REUNION

The W. H. Wolle home was the scene of a pleasant family reunion on Thanksgiving Day. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wolle and daughter Coralyn June, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wolle and two sons, Packard and Jack, all of Sioux City, Howard R. Wolle of Bombay, India, Miss Bernetas H. Wolle of Corwith, Miss Ruth Bond of New Salem, N. Dak., Mr. Vernie Hofsommer of Dows, and Mr. Harvey Hutchinson of Brighton, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Wolle of Clements, Calif. were unable to be home for the reunion.

A number of local sports fans will in all probability attend the American Legion boxing show to be held in the armory at Mason City next Tuesday night. There will be 32 rounds of boxing, with a 10 round bout between Battling Clemens of Atchinson, Kan., and Jimmie Doyle, St. Paul., lightweights, as the headline attraction. Ray Krause, Oelwein, and Young Delaney, Perry, Ia. will mix it in the 8 round semi-wind-up and an 8 round bout and two 4 round bouts will complete the evening.

County Farm Bureau To Hold Annual Meeting Dec. 19

Annual Election Of Officers And Business Meeting To Be Held That Date

The annual business meeting of the Wright County Farm Bureau which in other years came on the first Monday in January, has by action of the last legislature been changed to the third Monday in December, which this year falls on the 19th. The legislature required in making this change that the Farm Bureaus should revise their constitutions so as to conform to this state law. This will be part of the business that will come before the membership at that time.

The annual meeting is the one opportunity during the year for everyone to cast his ballot for any changes that he may believe to be for the best interest of the organization. The meeting is yours. Come out and help to keep the organization functioning at its best efficiency.

Back on the Air

Details Of New Ford Car Will Be Given Friday

Local Agency To Hold Open House December 2 And Explain New Car

Belmond will get its first full description of the new line of Ford automobiles, tomorrow.

A public reception to be held by the Belmond Auto Co., is part of the national introduction of the new Ford models. In thousands of communities all over the United States tomorrow this new line of moderate-priced light automobiles will be introduced to millions of people.

The doors of the showrooms are to be opened promptly at 8 A. M. and attendants will be on hand throughout the remainder of the day to explain the new and interesting features of the car which is expected to make a new chapter in automotive history.

The new Ford cars are said to be the product of several years of study and planning by Henry Ford and his engineers in the great Ford laboratories at Dearborn. Mr. Ford himself has announced that "there is nothing quite like the new Ford car" and has stated that it will prove just as great a pioneer in the present field of low price light cars of quality as the famous Model T was a pioneer in its field for more than nineteen years.

Among the visitors to the reception tomorrow will be city officials, executives of business, civic and professional organizations and other leaders in the life of the community who have been specially invited.

The performance of these new cars, it is said, will be startling when viewed in the light of automobile performance of the past.

The local dealer has been notified by Ford officials at Detroit that the factories throughout the country are now preparing to produce new cars in numbers exceeding even the tremendous production record achieved in the manufacture of the Model T line.

Company officials at Detroit also repeated their early announcement that production of the new Ford line will not make the Model T line obsolete. The manufacture of new parts for Model T replacements will continue to be an important factor of the Ford plants as long as any of the Model T cars are still in operation, the local dealers were advised. Because of this policy, present owners of Model T Ford cars will be able to keep their cars in perfect order as long as those cars remain in commission.

Primary 15 road signs have been taken down on Main street, as the highway now runs straight thru town on River avenue. Until 15 has been graveled however, and the gravel settled, traffic going through will be better off to take the old route, because of the soft, muddy conditon of the new grade. Graveling of the primary road from No. 10, 8 miles south, to a point about 2 miles north of Belmond, is being started this week by Moe & Nelson, local contractors who have the job, and will be rushed to completion.

Business Men Win From Alumni In First Football Tilt

Fair Sized Crowd Watches 14 To 0 Game On Local Field, Thursday

In a good, fast game the business men defeated the high school alumni, Thanksgiving, 14 to 0 on the local football field. Despite the fact that some of the business men had not played football for years, and some not at all, the team put up a good exhibition and with the aid of their speedy backfield pushed over two touchdowns and made the extra points.

The first touchdown came in the second quarter, after a steady march down the field, and the second tally in the last period when Hall got away for a long run thru the entire alumni team.

Starting out, the alumni outplayed the business men, and it looked like the school would carry off honors, but the opposing line was too heavy and altho inexperienced, kept the alumni backs from getting thru.

Casualties in the alumni lineup were heavy, altho not very serious. Chas. Studebaker received a sprained ankle, Ed Halfpop substituting for him. Paul Johnson sustained a broken hand, John Holtzbauer taking his place. Near the end of the game Sam Leinbach was out of the lineup with a wrenched knee, Alec Smith going into the lineup then. All three injured men had been playing a strong, hard game, and their absence was keenly felt by the alumni.

Line up of the two teams was as follows:

Business Men's Team
L E—Dr. Larson
R E—Geo. Powers
L G—Ralph Baker
R G—Dr. Bonstetter
L T—Gus Nissen
R T—W. Sharp
L H—Shepard
R H—J. Hall
Q B—Dr. Nelson
F B—Dr. Goe
C—G. A. Stanzel

Alumni Line up
R E—Otto Dorr
L E—Chas. Studebaker
L G—Claude Johnson
R G—Elmer Chapman
R T—Ira Studebaker
L T—Joe Sprenze.
Q B—Paul Johnson
R H—Preston Tyrrell
L H—Henry Kessler
F B—Sam Leinbach
C—Harlan Rierson
Substitutes: Ed Halfpop, John Holtzbauer, Alec Smith.
Referee: Dr. G. H. Steele

Real Estate Transfers

Thos. J. Finn to Rose Finn, sw¼, Section 15, and the nw¼, 22-93-23, $1.00.

Chas. Sampson to Simon Bohning, lot 8, blk. 13, Railroad add. Belmond, $5500.00

C. A. Church to Emma J. Avery, lot 4 blk 17, Belmond, $1.00.

Martha and H. G. Nordschow to Simon Bohning, part of lot 3, blk 25, Belmond, $1.00.

DOWS BANKER HEADS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

The members of the Wright county Bankers' association enjoyed a turkey dinner at their annual meeting held Novemer 18 at Hotel Moore in this city. The meeting was well attended, practically every banker in the county being present. The principal business transacted was the election of officers for the coming year. They are as follows: U. H. Rummel of the State Bank of Dows, president; H. F. Luick of the Belmond Savings Bank; vice president; Geo. W. Young, Bank of Clarion, secretary; D. C. Young, Bank of Clarion, treasurer.

Representatives of the proposed five million dollar Iowa land corporation were invited to the meeting and explained the purpose of the new organization.—Monitor.

FAMILY REUNION

A family reunion was held Thanksgiving Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Groh when their four children, and five of the grandchildren were home to enjoy a turkey dinner. The children were John H. Groh, Chrysler auto salesman of St. Paul; Louis Groh, who conducts pharmacy in Minneapolis; Edmund who has a pharmacy in St. Paul and Mrs. McCauley (Elizabeth Groh) of Des Moines.

BUYS STORE AT BRITT

J. C. Underkofler, Ledyard, Iowa, a son of Jess Underkofler of Belmond, has moved to Britt where he is conducting a drug store. He purchased the V. M. Simons drug store of that place. Mr. Underkofler will retain his store at Ledyard.

MARRIED

Friends here received the announcement yesterday of the marriage of Miss Alma Greenfield to Mr. William A. Mouck, Nov. 23, at Santa Ana, California.

Dows Lad Wins Trip To International Show At Chicago

Chicago Northwestern Road Awards Prize To Blaine Township Youth

Clair Hill of Dows, son of Clarence Hill, Blaine township farmer received the Chicago North Western trip to the Chicago International Livestock Show.

Each year some of the railroads of the state offer free car fare to the Fair Stock Show and 4-H club congress at Chicago to the champion 4-H club members of the state. Clair fed the champion baby beef of the county and as a special reward won the trip.

While in Chicago Clair will be in the company of some 200 other county and state 4-H club prize winners from Iowa. There will be boys and girls too attending the Exposition from practically every state of the union. Special trips and tours are arranged for the club members. A big parade is staged and a banquet held which is noted throughout the land for its interest, loyalty and eats.

Last year Richard Thompson of Pleasant township, Belmond, won the trip, through his pure bred sow and litter club work.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Cooperative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of November 20 to November 26.

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
20	48	28	—	Cloudy
21	50	35	.03	Cloudy
22	42	26	—	Cloudy
23	35	18	T	Cloudy
24	43	26	.06	Pt. cloudy
25	51	25	—	Cloudy
26	52	33	—	Pt. cloudy

The Misses Iva and Wilma Trumbell returned Saturday from Des Moines.

R. E. Webb was a business caller at Klemme, Monday.

Many New Cases Are Filed For December Term

Grand Jury Hearings Started Monday; Court Is Busy With Assignments

The November term of the district court convened Monday with Judge Thompson of Webster City presiding. A total of 283 cases are on the docket as follows: Old cases, 142; new, 45; criminal, 17; probate, 90; petitions for widows pensions, being paid from the county on account of dependent children 5. Sixteen of the old cases have been dismissed since the docket was prepared.

Judge Thompson of Webster City will hear five petitions for citizenshop on Wednesday, three women and two men. They are: Bertha Sophia Aukland of Eagle Grove, Anina H. M. Hansen of Goldfield, Elsie Otteros of Dows, Hakon Christiansen of Eagle Grove, Kenrick Mein of Kanawha. The petitions have been approved by the government and it now remains for each applicant to prove to the satisfaction of the court that he is sufficiently informed respecting our institutions and form of government to enable him to perform the duties of citizenship in an intelligent manner.

O. L. Hill of Clarion is defendant in a suit brought by Crowe & Son to recover $25.15 on account.

L. D. McNaughton and R. D. Blue of Eagle Grove ask the appointment of a guardian of the property of Clinton B. Hall, who is of unsound mind and addicted to the habitual use of intoxicating liquors. Defendant, a world war veteran, who was committed to the insane hospital at Cherokee has since been transferred to Veteran's hospital at Knoxville. It is necessary that a guardian be appointed in order that defendant may receive the benefits of his war compensation.

Mrs. Jennie Adkins of Elkhorn, Wis., daughter of the late Wm. H. McDougald, has filed a petition in the district court asking for a partition of said estate, consisting of 1600 acres of real estate and $60,000 in cash and bonds. One-fourth of the entire estate is bequeathed to the Northwest M. E. Iowa conference and the remainder to his son and daughter and their children, each receiving a 3-32 of the same. The plaintiff asks that referees be appointed to divide the estate and if actual partition cannot be made that said referees be authorized to sell said real estate under order of court and make division of the proceeds. Geo. W. Young and Duane C. Young of Clarion, were by terms of the will, appointed executors of the estate.

Elvin Shephard of Meservey, who has been confined in the county jail, for the past three weeks on a chicken theft charge, entered a plea of guilty Monday. Judge Thompson gave him a three months' sentence in the county jail, remitting half of same on good behavior and giving the defendant credit for the time already served.

The grand jury organized Monday by electing the first named as foreman: H. A. Schroeder, Galt; O. K. Shagtr, Dows; E. E. Wolf, Holmes; Geo. T. Johnson Belmond; S. W. Sumners Clarion; John T. Wagner, Eagle Grove; Frank Pester, Clarion.

Last week the sheriff's office received the report of another phonograph being stolen from the rural schools of the county, this time from the John McAlpine school south of Belmond.

The Community Service station of Belmond has filed suit against the Swanson Construction Co., et al, to colelct the sum of $208.11 for gasoline used by said company while constructing a certain bridge on highway No. 15 near Belmond.—Monitor.

Donald Jenison, young son of O. D. Jenison, was a happy lad Tuesday morning, when he found a female mink in one of his traps on the Jenison farm. Donald took the mink to E. A. Schmalle who has a fur farm at his place northeast of Belmond, and Mr. Schmalle paid him $15 for it.

Belmond Independent
AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES
Display, per column inch ------25c
Locals, per line ------10c
Classified, per word ------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Editorials

The city officials are, negotiating it is understood, for an electric stop and go sign to be placed at the intersection of Main street and primary 15. This move will meet with universal commendation on the part of Belmond citizens, as this corner in all probability will be the busiest of any in the city. With primary 15 straightened to run straight north and south thru town, it will carry a heavier traffic than ever before in all liklihood, and some means of regulating this traffic will be a necessity. A sign similar to those used in Clarion, is, it is understood, in prospect.

Christmas is only 24 days away. It doesn't seem that short, but time flies. Will Belmond get its proper share of Christmas business? It depend on us alone. Shoppers are beginning to buy holiday gifts now, and now is the time to be seeking their trade. Belmond in past years has let far too much of this holiday buying get away from it. Let's keep the biggest share of it at home this year. We can if we will. Let's dress our display windows as attractively as we can in holiday style. Let's get more of the holiday atmosphere about our stores, through decorations, trimmings, and attractive display of our merchandise. Let's get away from worrying about the other fellow making a sale, and get some of this Christmas spirit into ourselves, into our faces and expressions. Let's get some holiday appearance to our business streets, with tree, lights, trimmings. Let's do anything we can, in fact, to invite Christmas trade, to make it welcome and treat it neighborly when it comes. Any merchant in Belmond who does not dress his display window as attractively as he can does not deserve any holiday trade, because he is either too lazy or doesn't want the business. "Window shopping" leads to sales. It's advertising, cheap advertising and good advertising. Put your message before the buyers, any legitimate way you can, through your windows, your displays, newspapers, direct mail personal invitations, and if you back it up with the right spirit, service and honest goods you'll see results, profitable results. Let's get this Christmas business.

NOTICE OF PROOF OF WILL TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

In the Estate of Christian B. Johnson Deceased:

You are hereby notified that on the 15th day of November, 1927, there was filed with and opened by the undersigned Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, in and for Wright county, a Written instrument purporting to be the

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

of Christian B. Johnson, late of said County, deceased.

And you are further notified that the 12th day of December, 1927, at 1:30 o'clock P. M. of said day, has been set as the day for the final hearing and proof of Will (the same being a day of the next term of said District Court) at which time any person interested can appear and show cause why the same should not be admitted to probate.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court at my office in Clarion in said County, this 15th day of November A. D., 1927.

R. V. Goslin,
13 Clerk District Court.

FREE AIR!

Well, well, well, the new Ford ca is to be here this week—maybe. At least December 2 is the day of days set for this mysterious vehicle to make its initial bow before a long-suffering, long-hoping, watchfully waiting American public. If it lives up to the anticipations, it's going to be quite a puddle jumper, as Daniels insults us.

* * * *

And it will be. We're as anxious as the rest of 'em. Curious to see it. You know. And you can't pry anything about it out of Louie Tokman or any of that gang down there; they don't nobody know nothin' about it when you ask 'em.

* * * *

That's why we say the new car will be here this week—maybe.

* * * *

Even Bill Dempsey is dumb. And when Bill keeps still, it's serious, no question.

* * * *

They tell us G. A. Stanzel has been offered a job with the New York Yankees next season. They want to add him to the list along with Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, because of his batting ability.

* * * *

You folks who missed that feetball game Thanksgiving between the Has-wases and the No-mores, missed something. Aside from the game, which was good in itself, the antics of some of those ball toters were alone worth the price of admission. Take Gus Nissen for instance: Gus got in his own road and everyone else's, but he was always, somehow, in the way of the guy trying to get thru, and always among those present in the pile.

* * * *

If the business men practiced what they are always preaching, "trade at home" Dr. Nelson must have been busy the next day rubbing kinks out of his fellow players.

* * * *

Joe Sprenzel almost made a serious mistake, but nothing eventful occured.

* * * *

One thing was demonstrated very clearly, that Belmond has material for a real amateur team.

* * * *

The boys were loaded for Doc Coe, who captained the State College team at Ames, and Coe couldn't do much. But while the alumni were watching Coe, Shephard and Hall got away with the bacon.

* * * *

Really ought to make this an annual affair.

* * * *

Do your Christmas shopping early.

MENDING HOSE

Tiny spools of graded shades of tan and grey darning rayon thread make it possible to darn the light colored silk hose of the day, matching the shade exactly. When hose begins to show the slightest thin spot where a hole will come, it prolongs their life to darn them before the hole comes. A run should be mended immediately, before it runs far. Runs run very fast and, if neglected, the tiny run will be a big shabby spot, beyond repair. It saves mending if the hose are handled very carefully. Rough handling will draw a thread and cause a defective spot. Be careful to shave off a splinter on the lower edge of a chair or where it continually catches a stocking as you pass. An offending splinter has put many dollars into the pockets of silk hose manufacturers.

THE NEW COATS

Fur coats are less popular than in former years, the favorite coat of this season being the cloth coat, trimmed in fur, or lined in fur. The sports coat continue the long, straight, slender lines of yesteryear, but the dress coat has a long tight waist with a flaring skirt, or possibly the flare is only on one side, where the coat opens, or it may be simply a rounded fold-over curve upward.

The long flat, shawl collar is the latest thing for street coats, though the collar may be turned up and enveloping for sports or when riding. In other words, coats have become more effeminate and supple and less bundley and bunglesome.

WROUGHT IRON

Iron, that rugged and durable material which our ancesters have used in their homes for ages, as a crude necessity, rather than with any idea of decoration, has come back into favor in homebuilding. This time its chief function is artistry, and it adds a touch of quaintness and stability. It stirs the traditional homing instince, as we remember the original use in primitive ages, as door hinge, lamp, or crane for the fire place.

The modern use of wrought iron is chiefly as a grating at a window or doorway, an ornamental gate between two rooms, iron furniture for the porch, a base for an aquarium or plant stand, or a chandelier.

BELMOND CHURCH NOTES

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN CHURCH
Arthur G. Langholz, Pastor

2nd Sunday in Advent

Sunday School at 9:45 A. M. Senior lesson, "Isaiah Teaches Right Living." Mr. George Hoppel has been appointed as superintendent. Let us cooperate with him in the upbuilding of our Sunday School.

Services at 10:45 A. M. in the German language.

Services at 7:30 P. M. in the English language. "Two Prayers of the Apostle St. Paul." We were glad to note the splendid attendance last Sunday. Thus it should be as Scriptures say, "Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is."

Saturday at 1:30 the Sunday school will please meet at the church to practice our Christmas program, "When Jesus Was Born." All children are urged to be present.

Anyone desiring to order devotional books, church papers for Christmas can do so through the pastor.

METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. J. T. Snyder, Pastor

Services as follows for the Lord's Day, December 4—

Sunday school at 10 A. M. Our Sunday school must Glow and Grow, and Go, and you can help to make it so.

Divine worship and sermon at 11 A. M. Supt. Lease will be with us in this service and preach the Word. Supt. Lease is a strong preacher. Every one should make an effort to hear him.

Epworth League at 6:30. This is consecration night. May all be present and take part in this important service. Remember we are counting on you fellow Leaguers.

Evening service and gospel message at 7:30.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society meeting with Mrs. R. E. Courson Thursday afternoon. Associate hostesses are Mrs. Davenport, Mrs. Anfinson and Mrs. J. T. Snyder. The program leaders are Mrs. Ramsay and Klemme. This is the Christmas meeting and will have as our guests the Missionary Society Ladies of the Congregational church.

Standard Bearers will meet with Helen Luick, Thursday night, Dec. 1st.

Please see the pastor about your advocate subscription.

You are cordially invited to all of our services.

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor
Telephone Call, 150

Friday, December 2. Ladies Aid members please note: The Annual Business Meeting of the aid will be held in the church parlors at 2:00 P. M. on the above date in place of on Thursday as announced last week. Every member is asked to be present and to be on time. Prospective members and friends are welcome.

Sunday, December 4.

Sunday school and Bible classes will meet at 10 A. M.

English mission services will be held at 11 A. M. with the sermon delivered by Rev. J. A. M. Hinderlie, of Forest City. At this service we will give our last mission offering for this year. We plead with you that you will consult your God, and let Him help you decide what your gift to this cause shall be at this time.

The Luther League will meet at 6:45. The topic will be "Who Will Stand in the Judgment." Matt. 7:21-27 and Psa. 1.

English sermon at 7:30. We hope to have Rev. Hinderlie with us at our evening worship also.

Monday, December 5. The catechetical class A will meet immediately after school.

Wednesday, Dec. 7. The catechetical class B will meet at 4:30 P. M.

Beginning Wednesday, December 7 and continuing thru Sunday, Dec. 11, a series of evangelistic meetings will be held each afternoon and evening by Evangelist E. Scotvold of Minneapolis. We extend a cordial welcome to all who may so desire, and especially to our young people to attend these meetings. All meetings will be conducted in the English language.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Saturday, Dec. 3. The catechetical class will meet at 10 A. M.

Sunday, December 4. English services will be held at 2:30 P. M. Theme: "The Coming of the Kingdom of God." Luke 17:20-30.

Wednesday December 7. Read announcement for Trinity congregation. Evangelistic meetings.

Saturday, December 10. The catechetical class will meet at 10 A. M.

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

The recent Y. M. C. A. drive resulted in raising the sum of $31591.28 in Wright county. The apportionment assigned to Belmond was $1937 and that amount was exceeded here by 93 cents.

H. I. Crist left last week for Illinois to spend Thanksgiving, this being his seventeenth annual trip to that state for dinner.

The death of Mrs. Wm. Jenison took place last week Thursday at the hospital in Mason City where she had been confined following an operation.

The Red Cross received about $70 from the musicale given by Misses Johnson and Ely.

The snow last Monday will not improve the corn picking to any extent. It looks as though winter has come to stay.

Mrs. Peter Stacy was called to Hampton this week Tuesday by the death of her brother.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

We learn that Z. C. Thayer, father of Jas. Thayer is dangerously ill.

H. C. Tyrrell succeeded in killing 15 birds straight at the shoot Tuesday and thereby won the deer.

Hans Hanson and wife are rejoicing over the birth of a boy weighing 14 pounds, born last Tuesday.

Solon Jones left Tuesday for Kent, Minn., where he will erect a building on one of D. D. Harr's farms.

E. M. Sheffield this week connected his telephone exchange here in town with the town of Olaf and one or two farm houses near there.

Galen Ripley arrived home Monday from Des Moines for a short vacation.

Markets—Hens 7c; springs 8c; No. 1 turkey hens 10c; No. 1 turkey Toms 9c; ducks, full feathers 8c; geese 5c.

H. H. Douglass and Geo. Elder attended the football game at Clarion last Saturday.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

The Good Templars of Belmond are talking of a dramatic entertainment.

Miss. Grove has 37 scholars enrolled at her school and Mrs. Brewsaugh 27.

About three inches of snow brings out every old sled in the county. Runners go better than wheels.

Jared Galer took stage Tuesday morning for southwestern Iowa to look up a situation.

Capt. Haight's youngest child, living with Chas. Thorpe's family, is dangerously ill with lung fever.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Barry, a baby boy.

Wert Whited contemplates a trip to Nebraska soon. Chas. Farrington is also getting ready to visit other climes.

A huge wolf was seen to canter through the suburbs of Belmond last night. These animals are getting too numerous.

The baby fair at Pierce's Hall Friday night was an entire success. About one hundred persons were present, with numerous babies to compete for the prize. The handsomest and best baby was decided to be Harry Potter, a bright little fellow a few months old. He received 44 votes and now "snoozes" in that baby quilt. The large bed quilt was drawn by Mrs. J. Geyer, the fancy rug by Dr. Galer and the bead pin cushion by Mrs. W. F. Ellsworth.

From a private letter from Kirk Whited who used to furnish "copy" for the Herald, we take it that he is prospering. He is teaching school at Clarkville, Nebraska.

Have You Had An Opportunity to Listen to the

KLAR-O-DYNE

Concert Grand Radio?

If not, then you have missed a real treat. We are the sole agents for this wonderful machine. Full cabinet and a superior built-in horn which produces the most beautiful tones. One dial control, and at prices that are astonishingly low---quality considered.

Complete with Philco Unit. (This unit hooks into an electric light socket and eliminates batteries) ---------- $174.50

Complete with storage and dry cells ---------- $142.50

Your HOME Should Come FIRST

Belmond Furniture Co.

Furniture and Undertaking

Phone 107 Belmond, Iowa

Sell More Christmas Merchandise this Year! it can be done with Independent advertising

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

Drive Buick for 1928 over that bad road

DRIVE a Buick for 1928 over the stretch of bad road you know best . . . Notice how Buick's Cantilever Springs smooth away those aggravating ruts and bumps . . . Observe how Buick's Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers, front and rear, absorb road shocks and eliminate jolts and jars . . . You cannot know Buick's marvelous new riding comfort until you have tested it yourself. A car awaits you in our showroom.

SEDANS $1195 to $1995 COUPES $1195 to $1850
SPORT MODELS $1195 to $1525

All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich., government tax to be added. The G. M. A. C. financing plan, the most desirable, is available.

BUICK for 1928

WEBSTER COUNTY BUICK CO
DISTRIBUTORS
20-24 North 9th St. Fort Dodge, Iowa
BELMOND—HUB MOTOR CO. Kanawha—Yeakel & Mallow
Clarion—Linfer Auto Co. Dows—A Banwell
Eagle Grove—Porter Auto Co.

AGRICULTURAL NEWS NOTES

MANY BROOD SOWS TO BE KEPT

Iowa farmers apparently intend at the present time to keep about the same number, or possibly a few more brood sows for farrow next spring than they kept a year ago, if those who have been attending the brood sow selection meetings in various parts of the state are fair representatives.

Rex Beresford, C. W. McDonald and Roy W. Snyder, all animal husbandry extension men at Iowa State College, report that at the brood sow meetings in Polk, Dallas, Pottawattamie, Sioux, Sac, Winnebago, Delaware Cass and Marshall Counties, there were scarcely no farmers who said they would keep fewer sows this year than last. The intention appeared to be to increase hog production slightly.

At the meeting attended by Rex Beresford in Polk, Dallas, West Pottawattamie, Sioux and Sac counties, he estimated that the intended increase at this time by those present would run 7 to 10 per cent. All of these counties are in the western half of the state. In other counties, the extension men did not find so pronounced intention of increases.

Corn and hog prices in the next two months or so will have a considerable bearing on the number of sows actually kept for farrowing, however, the extension men point out. The present intention of farmers may not be followed out if the price situation between corn and hogs should change.

The thousand or more Iowa farmers who gathered at Iowa State College last Friday, Nov. 18, for the annual swine feeders' "Whoo-o-o-ey Day" had no occasion to be disappointed if they went to Ames in the hope of learning something new about swine feeding or management, for several of the many experiments brought new facts to light.

One important development of the past year is the finding of a supplemental mixture composed of 10 ingredients which, when fed to a bunch of fall pigs along with corn, resulted in more rapid and economical gains and more profit than any other supplement tried on the 15 fall pig lots this year.

The new mixture which won this year produced gains at a cost of $4.58 per hundred, as compared with $5.52 where a linseed oilmeal-alfalfa meal-tankage mixture was fed. The 10-ingredient mixture fed pigs gained fast enough to go from 47 to 250 pounds in 19 days less time than the pigs fed the other mixture. Also the margin over feed cost on the 10-ingredient fed pigs was nearly $2 per pig more than with the other lot.

The new supplement which showed up so well was compounded as follows: tankage 40 pounds, cottonseed meal 20 pounds, peanut meal 9 pounds, linseed oilmeal 15 pounds, alfalfa meal 12.8 pounds, salt 1 pound, ground limestone 1.5 pounds, iron oxide 0.198 pounds, wood ashes 0.50 pound and potasisum iodide 0.002 pound.

Among the many other new and interesting facts brought out by the tests of the past year and which were explained on "Whoo-o-ey Day" were the fact that wood charcoal and coal appeared to have some value in pig feeding. However further work is to be done with these to determine definitely which should be used, when and in what quantities.

Cottonseed meal when mixed with tankage and oilmeal in the tests this year appeared to have value. It resulted in the pigs consuming more of the mixture and the gains were practically as good as where tankage and oilmeal were fed, but the margin was a trifle less.

Cross-bred pigs this year gained a trifle more than the purebreds, as they did last year, but their advantage was less than it was a year ago. The 'three-quarter purebreds" fed this year (pigs from cross-bred sows) did not gain nearly so fast as did either the purebreds or cross-breds.

Ground oats showed up well this year for spring pigs when self-fed for a couple of months after weaning. In this test, the corn was limited for the first two months and then self-fed.

Over 2,000 Iowa farmers are now getting monthly reports on each of their cows because of membership in cow testing associations. These reparts show the production of each cow, the value of her product and the cost of her feed.

WANT DAIRY FEEDING HELP

From every section of Iowa calls have come in to the dairy extension offices at Iowa State College asking for help this fall and winter in dairy feeding and management problems. In all, 35 counties have asked for dairy production schools, which are one-day meetings.

The counties which to date have asked for dairy production schools are: In December—Benton, Calhoun, Crawford, Dickinson, Kossuth, Louisa, East Pottawattamie, Tama and Winneshiek; in January — Carrol, Chickasaw, Cyalton, Fayette, Franklin, Grundy, Humboldt Linn, Mitchell Monroe Ringgold Sac, Wapello; in February—Cerro Gordo, Delaware, Hancock, Lyon, Osceola, Scott, Sioux and Wayne. Others which have asked for dates but the month for which has not been decided, are Howard, Lee and Plymouth.

The demand this year is larger than it was a year ago, when 32 counties placed this project on their Farm Bureau programs. The demand this year is especially large in the sections not ordinarily thought of as as dairy regions, reports Burt Oderkirk, who is in charge of dairy extension and cow testing association work in the state. Many western and southern Iowa counties are in the list asking for the schools.

The information given at the various schools will vary with the region. If most of the dairymen who attend are beginners, the work will consist largely of fundamental feeding information, mineral recommendations, methods of building dairy herds and informaton on dairy judging.

In the older dairy counties, more attention will be given to breeding problems, purebred sires, methods of holding proven sires in service, how to read pedigrees, attention to type and production records. Less time will be given to feeding than in the newer regions.

DOUBLES PROFIT FROM DAIRY

One boarder cow gone, a profitable producer in her place, a little better feeding and care of the entire herd—that's the story of how one Warren County farmer last year was able to double the profits from his dairy herd.

This farmer has been a member of a cow testing association for the last two years. It was thru this organization that he learned one of his cows was unprofitable and how to give his cows better care and feed.

The first year his cows were on test, they returned $43.51 each above feed cost. The next year, the same cows, except that the boarder had been displaced by a good cow, returned $91.49 in addition to paying for their feed. This was the return even tho it cost more to feed the cows the second year than it had the first.

The first year this herd averaged 244.9 pounds of butterfat per cow in the testing association and the second year, 349 pounds.

CORN CONTEST YIELDS LARGE

Entries in the annual Iowa Corn and Small Grain Growers' Association corn yield contest this year show indications of besting the yields of last year by a comfortable margin, according to Joe L. Robinson, Ames, secretary of the association.

Mr. Robinson, who is in charge of the cooperative experiment work at Iowa State College, reports that early tests indicate much drier corn than last year. Adverse weather conditions during the greater part of the growing season last summer were more than made up for during the latter part of the season when a month of good drying weather occurred.

Results of the annual yield contest will be made known at the Iowa Corn and Small Grain show to be held at Iowa State College during the latter part of January and the first of February this winter. Entries this year were the most numerous in the history of the contest.

BEES SHOULD BE CELLARED SOON

Twelve percent of the bee population of Iowa succumbs annually to the ravages of the cold winter weather and, in some especially hard winters, the death rate mounts to 18 per cent.

These rates are abnormal, according to F. B. Paddock, state apiarist at Iowa State College, and could easily be reduced by adequate protection either by putting the bees in cellars or by out-door protection with specially constructed cases.

It is generally conceded that the bees should be inside before Thanksgiving if they are to be cellared. After they have once been installed the bees require little or no attention until spring.

December 1st Crop Report

Nearly ninety-five million bushels of low quality corn, or about 24 per cent of the crop, is a strong factor in the composition of Iowa's total corn production in 1927. Of the total production estimated at 394,344,000 bushels, Mr. Leslie M. Carl, Federal Agricultural Statistician for Iowa, states that only 76 per cent has been adjudged of merchantable quality. Only three crops since 1914 have been lower in quality than reported for the 1927 crop, in 1917 the crop being reported at 65 per cent, in 1924 at 55 per cent, and in 1926 at 74 per cent. The average quality for the past ten crops is 83.6 per cent.

The total corn production for Iowa of 394,344,000 bushels is only 28,572,000 bushels less than the average crop for the five years 1922-1926. It is nearly ten per cent smaller than the 1926 crop. This crop plus 20 million bushels of the 1926 crop remaining on farms on November 1, 1927, is about 12 per cent less than all corn on farms a year ago. The average yield per acre is 36 bushels, as compared with the ten-year average of 39.7 bushels.

Yields per acre in the west central portion and in the central portion of the state were about equal to the ten-year average yields. In the eastern third of the state corn yields ranged 31 bushels in the south east section, 34 bushels in the north east section and 38 bushels in the east central group of counties. The average quality was lowest in north east and in the south east groups.

As a producing state, Iowa would not be expected to rank lower than first place however in quality of the corn produced in 1927, Iowa has dropped to fourth place. The quality of the crops in Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri, in the order named, ranks higher than in Iowa. Illinois ranks fifth in per cent of merchantable corn produced this season.

The 1927 crop in Kansas is nearly three times as large as last year's crop, and the average yield per acre is the best since 1889. The Kansas crop is not only a large crop, but also a good one, and the quality, reported at 92 per cent, is higher than any important corn producing state in the United States. In volume of total corn produced in 1927, the five important states rank as follows: Iowa, Nebraska, Illinois, Kansas, Missouri.

The average weight per measured bushel of threshed grains from the 1927 crop compares favorably with the average for the past ten crops, winter wheat weighing 60 pounds or nearly two pounds heavier than the average, spring wheat 57 pounds, or 1.4 pounds heavier; oats 30 pounds, or two pounds lighter, and barley 46 pounds or just slightly under the average. Some damage may have occurred in August to unthreshed grains causing loss of quality and weight, but where threshing was completed early weights per measured bushel compared favorably with other years.

Cattle feeding as well as sheep and lamb feeding in Iowa during this coming winter will be considerably decreased according to the feed and supply situation about November 1st. Receipts of stocker and feeder cattle into Iowa from twelve markets from July one to November one, indicate 64 per cent as many cattle going on feed in Iowa as last year, and 75 per cent as many sheep and lambs.

The improved outlook for corn resulted in a keen demand for unfinished cattle all through October and the prices of such cattle continued to advantage and reached the highest point of the season toward the end of the month. While prices for heavy feeders continued at a substantial premium over light and medium weights, the proportion of such cattle in the total shipment was below October in both 1925 and 1926. For the period July to October the proportion of feeders weighing over 900 pounds, shipped from four leading feeder cattle markets, was 13.4 per cent of the total stocker and feeder shipments from these markets compared with 17.5 per cent in 1926 and 19.2 per cent in 1925. In actual head the number this year was over 40 per cent below the average og 1925 and 1926. On the other hand the proportion of stockers under 700 pounds and of calves this year was larger than in either the two previous years.

With feeding distributed as it is this year compared with last, reduced market supplies of fed lambs in December and January and increased supplies from February to May in 1927-28 compared to 1926-27 are to be expected. However, it is reported that the feeder lambs going into western Nebraska and Colorado are unusually heavy and feeders in those areas are expected to follow a policy of topping out their feed lots earlier and more frequently than usual. This may result in a heavier movement from these areas in December and January than would normally be expected.

91 BUSHELS OF CORN TO ACRE

Some excellent corn yields are being reported by various counties this year where local variety test plots have been conducted. Jasper County which has been carrying on corn variety yield tests on an unusually large scale for several years, secured yields this year on the five test farms varying from 43 to 91 bushels to the acre, according to the report sent to crops extension men at Iowa State College.

Most of the Jasper County strains yielded from 64 bushels up, with many above 70. On one of the test farms, the yields ranged from 43 to 54 bushels, but on all others, the yields were above 60 bushels for all strains tested.

Butler County also recently harvested variety yield test plots and there the yields ranged from 35 to 60.1 bushels an acre. The highest yielding Butler corn was known as "Smith's Yellow Dent" and was produced bq H. G. Smith, Nashua. This same strain also was well up for the section in one of the recent state corn yield contests.

In the Jasper County tests, Krug corn, or strains developed from Krug had by far the best general average yield. All but one of the top nine places in the tests at one farm were Krug or strains developed from Krug. The Krug also was first at two of the other test farms.

WANT ADS PAY

Public Sale!

The undersigned, as Trustee in the Bankruptcy of Frank Edwin Christie, will sell to the highest bidder, for cash, the following described property at the Frank Christie farm, 2 miles south and 1-2 mile west of Goodell, on

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 2

Commencing at 2:00 P. M.

3 HEAD OF HORSES

1 BLACK GELDING - 1 GRAY MARE
1 SORREL GELDING, with one eye

POULTRY

100 Chickens - 10 Ducks - 7 Turkeys

Miscellaneous

1 Ford Sedan	1 Threshing Machine
1 Mitchell Truck	1 Buggy
1 Set Work Harness	1 Truck Wagon
1 300-bu. Corn Sheller	1 Single-row Cultivator
1 Oil and Water Wagon	8000 Feet of Lumber

ROY A. HENDERSON, Trustee

Roy A. Henderson, Clerk — Lewis Hauge, Auctioneer

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Clarion, Iowa, November 8, 1927
Board reconvened as per adjournment. Members all present.

Minutes of November 7, 1927, read and approved.

Estimate No. 1 to Sampson Bros. for graveling Secondary Road District No. 39 for $5530.57 was on motion approved and ordered paid.

Moved and seconded that Mehl and Kitley investigate the Puffit matter at Sioux City, Iowa. Motion carried.

Moved and seconded that Greenlander Lumber Company be awarded contract for Illnois coal for the poor in Belmond at $8.50 per ton delivered. Motion carried.

On motion Board of Supervisors appointed Board of Apportionment on Secondary Gravel Road Districts as follows:

No. 30—C. O. Lewis, W. H. Mantle and Charles E. Gross.

No. 32—C. O. Lewis, Chester Luick and Charles E. Gross.

No. 35—C. O. Lewis, W. H. Mantle and Charles E. Gross.

No. 39—W. H. Mantle, Chester Luick and Charles E. Gross.

No. 40—W. H. Mantle, Chester Luick and Chas. E. Gross.

On motion County Auditor was instructed to advertise in county papers for 1928 office supplies, the bids to be made on each item separately and bids on Bar Dockets and Financial Reports to be made on each numbered page. Letting to be held December 5, 1927, at 2 o'clock P. M., and county officers are hereby notified to file their lists of supplies wanted with County Auditor on or before November 19, 1927. All purchases to be F. O. B. Clarion, Iowa. The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

The following claims were presented, audited, allowed and warrants ordered drawn on the proper funds for their payment:

COUNTY FUND

Ernest Anders, Witness fee State of Iowa vs Howard Welty)	$ 3.60
J. D. Baker, Supervisor	144.90
A. H. Box, Salary	104.00
Belmond Twp. Trustees, Meeting	16.00
Belmond Independent, Bd. Peds. & Ptg.	80.39
Burroughs Adding Machine Co., Maintenance service	38.55
Cathlene Blue, Clerking Grand Jury	13.40
M. F. Birdsall, Attorney's fee (Defense of Raymond Rasmussen)	10.00
Crescent Printing Co., Supplies—Supt. Office	12.94
Clarion Oil Co., Gas for co. car	13.65
Clarion Cafe, Meals for Jury	6.30
Dows Advocate, Bd. peds., ptg. and supplies	112.98
Dayton Twp. Trustees, Meeting	16.00
Eagle Grove Eagle, Bd. peds. and ptg.	73.30
L. G. Focht, Office expense	8.04
Fullerton & Gray, Supplies —Supt. office	57.92
Fidlar & Chambers, Supplies	11.55
W. P. Foster, Grand Jury Bailiff	30.00
Charles E. Gross, Salary	180.58
Charles E. Gross, Office expense	2.45
H. B. Hallock, Office expense	31.00
H. B. Hallock, Co. Treas., Jury & Wit. certificates	1417.80
Helsell, Helsell & McCall, Services	804.05
Leland Hanson, Vit. Stat.	4.00
J. K. Baker, Vit. Stat.	6.75
D. H. Huff, Vit. Stat.	4.00
A. A. Diederich, Vit. Stat.	5.75
Guy Byers, Vit. Stat.	11.50
R. V. Goslin, Vit. Stat.	11.50
Iowa Public Service Co., Lights—c. h. and jail	51.67
Melvin Jetmund, Salary	102.00
Hjalmar Janson, Bd. of Education	2.60
Fred Johnson, Exp.—E. J. Thompson to Clarion and return	103.14
Fred Johnson, Exp.—Walter Fredericks to Ft. Madison	30.75
Fred Johnson, Bd. pris.	274.60
E. E. Kitley, Supervisor	91.20
Klipto Loose Leaf Co., Supplies	21.48
Adaline Lambert, Bd. of Education	4.00
Jake Lampert Yards, Inc., Fuel and material for repairs—jail	39.35
Liberty Twp. Trustees, Meeting	16.00
James Mehl, Supervisor	98.90
Messenger Printing Co., Supplies	32.25
Metropolitan Supply Co., Supplies	4.59
J. C. Middleton, Bd. of Education	3.80
S. A. McCreery, P. M., Env. for Supt.	11.51
S. A. McCreery, P. M., Env. for Sheriff	10.99
S. A. McCreery, P. M., Env. for Engr.	22.02
A. MacEachron, Witness fee	12.00
Norway Twp. Trustees, Meeting	16.00
New Home Cafe, Meals for Jury	11.35
J. C. Peterson, Supervisor	43.40
Matt Parrott & Sons Co., Supplies	3.63
Reliable Accounting & Research Co., Compensation	217.50
L. W. Schroeder, Supervisor	87.20
Ben Suiter, Bailiff	57.00
Troy Twp. Trustees, Meeting	12.00
Edith M. Vaughn, Office expense	1.65
Western Electric Telephone System, Phone rent and —And. toll	21.10
Wright County Monitor, Bd. peds., ptg and supplies	82.05
Wright County Oil Co., Gas for co. car	7.41
W. A. Walker, Court Reporter	281.93
Wright County Pay Roll, Officers and Clerks	2412.09

COUNTY ROAD FUND

Austin-Western Road Machinery Co., Repairs	18.50
A. C. Anderson, Patrol	100.00
Paul Anderson, Labor	10.00
Birdsall, McGrath & Archerd, Services	204.05
Blackhawk Oil Co., Grease and oil	150.39
Belmond Township, Spreading gravel	49.90
Belmond Auto Co., Repairs	10.90
Elmer Buckingham, Mowing weeds	18.40
Community Service Station Co., Gas and oil	23.41
Raymond E. Caquelin, Patrol	130.00
Dows Lumber Co., Material	210.15
Dows Advocate, Pub. notice of hearing	39.22
Harry Daggett, Patrol	50.00
Ed Bjornson, Labor	34.00
M. E. Baker, Patrol	34.00
Ralph Tincher, Labor	9.00
Milo Swanger, Labor	60.00
Ed Bjornson, Labor (Sept.)	23.20
M. E. Baker, Labor	34.00
Milo Swanger, Labor (Sept.)	32.00
East End Foundry Co., Repairs	21.60
Pete Franks, Hauling Lumber	1.00
Lloyd Golackson, Labor	28.00
Gormally Bros., Right-of-way and mowing fence	229.25
Hawkeye Radiator Shop, Repairs	2.75
A. Hardy, Patrol	132.00
Glenn Hackley, Dragging	51.85
F. M. Hubbell, Son & Co., Borrow material	27.20
Humphrey Chevrolet Co., Repairs	.50
Joe Johnson, Dragging	2.55
Harry Johnson, Checking gravel	23.60
H. H. Kinghorn, Labor	5.50
Mid - Continent Petroleum Corporation, Oil	104.41
W. D. McCutcheon, Dragging	35.48
Moseley Grocery Co., Gas and oil	310.77
J. A. Matheson, Repairs	27.45
Mathison Motor Co., Repairs	8.40
H. A. Nelson, Checking gravel	73.60
Norway Township, Spreading gravel	87.90
Wm. Neuhring, Gravel	159.44
W. O. Oleson, Labor	66.60
S. W. Pinkham, Labor	82.00
Floyd Williams, Labor	82.00
J. M. Bennett, Labor	77.00
S. W. Pinkham, Labor	25.00
Floyd Williams, Labor	25.00
J. M. Bennett, Labor	20.00
John S. Peterson, Damage to crop	25.00
Will Rose, Labor	7.00
Sinclair Refining Co., Gasoline	130.36
Shupe & Son, Hardware	5.50
A. B. Stole, Extra horse	24.38
A. B. Stole, Patrol	100.00
Lismore Stole, Patrol	100.00
Lismore Stole, Mowing weeds	32.00
Claude H. Thayer, Patrol	100.00
Edith M. Vaughn, Recording easements	3.80
J. E. Voss, Labor	48.26
Frank Van de Brink, Right-of-way	25.00
A. H. Waddell, Shed rent	3.00
Arthur B. Wampler, Hardware	8.98
S. M. Wilcox, Patrol	80.00
Wright County Monitor, Pub. notice of hearing	23.10
Charles D. Yost, Borrow material and moving fence	152.10
Jennie E. Zigler, Moving material	192.75

POOR FUND

Guy D. Baker, Milk	6.20
Emile Bernard, Care of Paul Bernard	20.00
Beloit Orphans Home, Care of Williamson children	72.00
Dr. A. L. Bushby, Medical aid	36.00
Dr. John R. Christensen, Medical aid	18.00
B. E. Corliss, Rent	10.00
Christeson & Florer, Groc.	20.00
Cragmor Sanatorium, Care of Harold Soesbe	234.60
C. J. Engh, Overseer of poor and trans.	41.38
Ben J. Daniels, Fuel	4.50
East Side Grocery, Groc.	104.99
Foil & Wilson, Funeral exp. Amt. claimed, $20.00. Refused.
Fannie M. Filkins, Rent	10.00
Farmers Grain Co., Fuel. Amt. claimed $7.48. Refused.
Ellen Finn, Rent	12.00
Gordon Gibbs, Rent	22.50
Greenlander Lbr. Co., Fuel	22.75
Chas. Gralow, Rent	10.50
Oscar S. Hobbet, Rent	6.00
T. A. Halvorson, Groc.	58.79
O. R. Hanson, Agent, Rent	30.00
House of the Good Shepherd, Care of Alice Williamson	10.00
Harmon Funeral Home, Funeral expense, Coates. Amt. claimed, $75.00. Refused.
Anna Jobodon, Care of poor	20.00
C. G. Johnson, Groc.	109.52
G. H. Klemme, Rent	14.00
Dr. O. A. Kellogg, Medical aid	31.50
B. K. Kinseth & Son, Groc.	125.60
Dr. C. H. Morse, Medical aid	106.00
J. H. Martin & Son, Groc.	35.65
Moseley Grocery Co., Groc.	25.41
Mrs. J. A. McBeth, Care of Agard child	24.00
Dr. G. F. McBurney, Medical aid	8.50
Dr. T. J. O'Toole, Medical aid and rent	42.00
W. K. Roosevelt, Groc.	46.19
John Reynolds, Trans. for Lewis	4.00
C. S. Robinson, Groc.	20.00
Schoonover's Grocery, Groc.	56.83
H. M. Smith, Fuel	25.60
Dr. G. H. Steele, Medical aid	25.00
Mrs. J. W. Sheriff, Rent	30.00
W. C. Stanbery, Rent	15.00
Stark Bros., Shoes for Glazier family	4.75
G. A. Triggs, Overseer of poor	20.00
A. H. Waddell, Rent	8.00

(Continued on page 8)

PUBLIC SALE!

As I am quitting the farm and moving away, I will hold a Complete Closing Out Sale, at the Joe Pletch farm, 1 mile east of Belmond, on Thursday, December 8th

Commencing at 10:00 A. M. Sharp

7 - HEAD OF HORSES - 7

1 GRAY GELDING, 3 yrs. old, wt. 1400
1 GRAY MARE, 11 yrs. old, wt. 1400
1 BLACK GELDING 8 yrs. old, wt. 1500
1 ROAN MARE, 8 yrs. old, wt. 1500
1 GRAY MARE
1 BLACK GELDING, 8 yrs. old, wt. 1400
1 BAY MARE, 13 yrs. old, wt. 1400

73 - Head of Cattle - 73

10 MILK COWS, 4 fresh, now, balance milking or to freshen soon
3 HOLSTEIN HEIFERS, to freshen soon
1 GUERNSEY HEIFER, to freshen soon
1 BLACK HEIFER, to freshen soon
7 YEARLING STEERS
5 YEARLING HEIFERS
6 SUMMER CALVES
4 FALL CALVES
3 SMALL CALVES
1 2-yr.-old ANGUS BULL, eligible to registry
30 HEAD OF FEEDING HEIFERS
2 HEAD SPRING CALVES

81 - Head of Hogs - 81

8 POLAND CHINA SOWS, tried, year old last spring
57 HEAD FALL PIGS
1 HAMPSHIRE FALL BOAR
15 HEAD FEEDING SHOATS

200 WHITE ROCK HENS AND PULLETS

MACHINERY, ETC.

1 8-ft. disc
1 9-ft. disc
1 Dain hay loader
1 Dain hay buck
1 set dump planks
1 walking cultivator
3 riding cultivators
Miscellaneous lumber
1 16-in. walking plow
1 7x9 farrowing house
1 10x16 brooder house
1 McCormick hay rake
1 Case 13-in. gang plow
1 4-section wooden drag
1 McCormick corn binder
1 iron-wheel truck wagon
3 complete lumber wagons
1 Deering mower, 5-ft. cut
2 Tower surface cultivators
1 Deering 8-ft. grain binder
1 McCormick-Deering corn picker, practically new 1 36-ft. grain elevator, with speed jack
1 McCormick mower, 5-ft. cut
1 Hayes corn planter, 90 rods of wire and fertilizer attachment
1 New Idea wide spread manure spreader
1 hay rack
1 bob sled
4 feed bunks
1 lawn swing
1 fodder rack
1 fanning mill
1 single harness
1 Endgate seeder
1 hand corn sheller
1 fodder feed rack
1 16-ft. self feeder
4 sets work harness
1 60-gal. hog waterer
1 Stickney pump jack
1 50-gallon iron kettle
1 50-gallon feed cooker
Extra Horse collars, etc.
Several small self feeders
Milk Pails and cream cans
1 DeLaval No. 15 separator
1 power grinder with 8-in. burr
1 2½ h. p. Rock Island gas engine
1 h. p. Associated gas engine with mounted buzz saw
1 hog waterer for attaching to tank
1 set hay slings and pulleys
1 set blocks with 130 feet of rope
1 grind stone
Some pop corn
12 seed corn racks
1 240-egg Queen incubator
1 300-egg Klondike incubator
1 Buckeye brooder stove, 500 chick capacity
1 STACK TIMOTHY STRAW
1 STACK OAT STRAW
22 BUSHELS WHITE AND YELLOW SEED CORN
5 ACRES CORN FODDER IN STACK
25 to 50 BUSHELS TIMOTHY SEED, recleaned, Ames tested
About 20 TONS TIMOTHY and CLOVER HAY, in barn
1 1-ton FORD TRUCK, in good condition
Vise, anvil, drill and various other tools
Numerous other items

ALL SMALL ARTICLES WILL BE SOLD BEFORE NOON.

Household Goods

1 Cook Stove
1 heating stove
Dining room chairs
1 leather bed davenport
Dressers
Several beds
Kitchen chairs
1 laundry stove
Linoleum
Several rugs
Rocking chairs
Various other household articles

FREE LUNCH SERVED AT NOON

TERMS: CASH, OR MAKE ARRANGEMENTS WITH YOUR OWN BANKER BEFORE DAY OF SALE. All Property to be Settled for on Day of Sale.

GEO. DIPPEL, Prop.

H. BRUMMUND, LEWIS HAUGE, Auctioneers
BELMOND SAVINGS BANK, Clerk

HOME-COMING

Go sit beside the hearth again,
Whose circle once was glad and gay;
And if, from out the precious chain
Some shining links have dropped away,
Then guard with tenderer heart and hand
The remnant of your household band.

—Phoebe Cary.

We are all here;
Father, Mother,
Sister, Brother,
All who hold each other dear.
Each chair is filled; we're all at home;
Tonight let no cold stranger come.
It is not often thus around
Our old, familiar hearth we're found.
Bless, then, the meeting and the spot;
For once be every care forgot;
Let gentle peace assert her power
And kind affection rule the hour.
We're all—all here.

—Charles Sprague.

FAMILY-PARTY FUN

The ordinary family reunion is likely to be a dull affair because relatives are seldom as harmonious in ideas and hobbies as strangers in like tastes. There are so many chips on shoulders that one must guard his tongue carefully not to knock off.

There is Bob the bachelor and glad of it, there is George who married the aristocratic Annabelle, there is Aunt Maria who is all ears for bits of gossip, and Martha whose orbit of thought is bounded by her babies—and how shall one get them all to appreciate the best there is in each other and not rub each other's fur the wrong way?

Answer: Get them to frolicking more. Fun together is more of a human tie than kinship, and laughter is "thicker than water, or even blood."

Have the house decorated with foliage or corn-stalks and pumpkins and ask each to dress in "old-fashioned garb." Receive them warmly and give each some complimentary remark which will warm and cheer their hearts. One can be sincere in this for none of them are all-black sheep. Be as polite to each as you would be to a stranger. Provide some extra jollity, such as paper caps, a novelty toy for each one, or some foolishness which will break the ice and set the party going. Give each a letter and ask them to write a story, each word of which shall begin with that letter and give a prize.

After dinner, serve coffee in the living room, because that is such a chummy thing to do, or gather around the fireplace and crack nuts, or pop corn or roast marshmallows. Ask everybody to tell a joke, or sing old-fashioned songs, play "Button-Button," have charades, dance "Old Tucker," or "Money Musk" or have a taffy pull.

The ordinary family party just sits and is too full for utterances and is a fizzle because there is nothing doing to interest anybody. The hostess of a family reunion should take even more care in providinn entertainment for her guests than she would be if they were all compatible souls of the same age and station in life.

Bread Stuffing

There are many variations of the ordinary bread stuffing; as, adding chopped walnuts, oysters, and what not. But the stuffing is made by the roast savor and the spicey herbs and, with the right combinations of these, there is nothing to beat plain bread stuffing. Besides it is less expensive and does not add so much avoirdupois. To make it, proceed as follows:

Lay by some bread until it is two days old, chop it rather coarse. Over four cupfuls of these crumbs, pour one cup of boiling water. Add an egg beaten lightly and two tablespoons of melted butter, one small, finely-minced onion, one teaspoon of minced parsley. For seasoning, one may exercise her taste, but of course you will use a teaspoon of salt, and pepper to taste. A teaspoon of celery salt, or a half teaspoon of celery seeds, and a quarter teaspoon of powdered sage are good. Or one may use prepared spices of poultry seasoning. Mix together lightly, taking care not to let it become pasty.

THE FEAST

Bleak November winds and the harvest season make one's "ame folk" and the home fireside seem a little dearer than ever.

The housewife is busy and excited as she prepares the homecoming feast.

A laughing family-gathering and a groaning table; and afterward a demolished table and a groaning family! And what will be the menu? Time was when roast turkey was the center of attraction—but today, the royal bird is almost the exception, rather than the rule. Anyway, don't you think turkey meat is a bit tough and tasteless, as compared with baked ham, chicken pie, leg o' mutton, or that crisp, savory viand—roast pork?

Baked Ham

Clean the ham and soak it overnight in cold water. In the morning, rinse, cover it with cold water and bring slowly to the boiling point; then turn the fire so slow that it will merely simmer. Add half a dozen whole pepper berries, allspice berries and cloves, and a pod of red pepper. When the ham is tender, drain and trim it; place it in a saucepan, pour over it a quart of cider and let it soak for six hours. Then drain again; brush with beaten egg; cover with a mixture of equal portions of bread crumbs and brown sugar, place in a dripping-pan; pour the cider over it; and bake an hour or two, according to the size of the ham. When you remove the ham, make a gravy-sauce of the cider, seasoning it with paprika.

Roast Pork

Dredge the raw pork with flour and place to brown in a very hot oven. Lower the heat when the roast begins to brown. When browned well, add a little hot water, cover, and bake it until very tender, allowing a half hour for each pound. Do not add salt until the roast is browned or it will draw out the meat juices. If you add water before browning the roast will be pale and flabby instead of deliciously brown and crisp. Dressing or stuffing goes as well with a pork roast as it does with turkeys or ducks, and dressing is one of the best features of a roast. When making the gravy, add a cupful of cider to it, or if you do not have the cider, substitute a tablespoon of vinegar, or two tablespoons of chopped pickle. Season with paprika. Garnish the roast with parsley.

DO THEY EAT BREAKFAST?

To eat no breakfast is a failing of many a school child and it is very harmful to them. It is a long time from suppertime until the next noon and the child who does not eat breakfast suffers too much strain on the system. The children will do better work in school, grow sturdier and have stronger eyes and bodies if they eat a sensible breakfast.

The bad habit of missing breakfast can be cured more easily if we detect the cause. There may be several factors which contribute to this bad practice. Perhaps the child was too hungry at suppertime and ate too much supper and has some indigestion. It would be wiser to give him supper earlier and to serve then only easily digested foods. Perhaps he gets up too late and has to rush off to school. Perhaps he slept in a poorly ventilated room and has a bad taste in his mouth, and a disgust for food in the morning. Perhaps breakfast is prepared too hastily, and is sloppy and unattractive, or it may consist of things the child does not like. Perhaps he just has not formed the habit of eating breakfast. The wise mother will take her children in hand and see that they eat breakfast.

CANDLE LIGHT

The candle-lit meal at the close of day, is a sweet, sentiment-filled ceremony in the home. At first you may feel that things are too dim, and may want to turn on the light—but after a few meals in which a small candle at each place furnishes the illumination, you will enjoy its thought-inducing and becalming influence.

Small, glass candle-sticks to sit beside each plate, or four large ones will furnish ample light to eat nicely, and it will be softer than the glittering effulgence of electricity.

The historical significance of the candle,—the only light our forbears knew as they gathered into the shelter of home when the night of the wilderness shut down upon them,—adds its value to candle-light and makes its appeal especially to the homing instinct. Soft candle light makes the family draw closer together, especially in the fall, when the chill outdoors drives its members indoors for shelter. Then are candle light and firelight more than illumination and heat. They are rites in the worship of household penates.

CRANBERRY SALAD

Wash one quart of cranberries and put them through the fool chopper; add one cup of water and boil slowly six minutes, then add two cupfuls of sugar and boil three minutes longer. Pour into a cold, wet mold to set.

When set, cut into squares, and lay on a lettuce garnish. Sprinkle with chopped nut meats and add to each serving a tablespoon of whipped cream.

TABLE DECORATIONS

Yellow is an autumn color. For decorations for the autumnal party, use a yellow pumpkin for a centerpiece. Hollow it out and fill with fruits and nuts, spilling some all around the sides. About it have yellow candles in glass candle-sticks. Yellow autumn leaves may be pasted to the tablecloth. If it is too late for the real article, they may be made of crepe paper, or artificial leaves may serve.

Yellow grape fruit, oranges or apples may be used as corner pieces or at each plate, with a candle sticking in each instead of in a candle-stick. If a mirror is used as a base for the centerpiece, you have double joy in the reflection and added appearance of plenty. The kitchen mirror will serve if you remove the screws in the back and cover the frame with colored leaves or moss.

COLLEGE EDUCATION FOR WOMEN

Many reasons are given for the higher education of women. The college graduate is more capable, can earn more, can be a better companion to her husband and an inspirer of her children, can do more good in the world by a better understanding of its problems, knows how to associate with others and assume leadership, has made many valuable and influential friendships along the way, knows where to turn for information for any practical need—and others.

But there is one outstanding reason for the higher education of women—sufficient to justify the opening of colleges to women, if all the other reasons failed. It is this: a non-college girl may marry as well, make as good a wife and mother, and be as happy as her college sister—until she is about forty. About that age the care of the children grows less, society palls on her taste and what is the non-college woman to do.

She cannot take up any great work because she has not fitted herself for it. The college woman, on the other hand, when her children need her care no longer and when she loses interest in society life, has a wealth of resources within herself for intellectual and spiritual happiness. She can read, travel, think and study. She can enjoy what she sees on every hand, have more vital and interesting friends, and—best of all—she can throw her fine and matured energy into some worthy work which calls for just such a woman as she, and she can organize and adminsiter it, because he is a college woman.

If you are debating whether to send your daughter to college, or whether to let her off with a smattering of finishing school, take a long look ahead. If you want her strong and happy for the last forty years of life, give her a good college education.

Dr. Wilbert Shallenberger, The Regular and Reliable Chicago Specialist

who has visited here since 1901 treats Chronic, Nervous and SPECIAL DISEASES of Men and Women Scientifically, also Diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat, Lungs, Heart, Blood, Skin, Nervous Debility, Nerves, Liver, Stomach, Intestines, Kidneys, and Rectum. Consumption in an early stage, Catarrh, Ringing in Ear and Deafness, Paralysis, Neuralgia, Epilepsy, Spinal Headache, Goitre, Eczema, Scrofula, Appendicitis, Gravel, Rheumatism of joints and muscles.

PILES, FISTULA, FISSURE and other Rectal Diseases Treated Without Knife.

Surgical Cases and Rupture Given Special Attention.

Over 80% of my patients come from recommendations of those I have Cured. CONSULTATION FREE.

Address letters to DR. WILBERT SHALLENBERGER, 768 Oakwood Boulevard, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

CLARION, HOTEL MOORE, WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, DEC. 14
Visit No. 339

The Splinters

"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2 Thursday, December 1, 1927 No. 33

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

The New Year can't be very far away. We saw a new auto license plate today.

Last winter a man in this community told us he could see the curtains in his house waving in the breeze that blew around the windows. They won't wave this winter. He has storm doors and windows. We sold them to him.

A man in Georgia shot his wife because she didn't love him. But we doubt if that improved the situation much.

The thermometer sometimes registers 70 degrees below zero in parts of Siberia. But that wouldn't be so bad if you had plenty of good coal on hand.

FOR MEN ONLY,

Didn't you if woman a be wouldn't you, this read would you knew we.

Forty years ago, nobody swatted the fly; nobody had appendicitis; nobody knew about radio; nobody wore a wrist watch; young men had livery bills; farmers came to town for their mail; and the butcher threw in a chunk of liver.

A Belmond man said to his wife the other evening, —"When I'm gone you'll never get another man like me.' And she says, "Well, that's some consolation."

You should do at least two things every day that you don't like to do, some professor advises. In that case we're all fixed! Getting up in the morning and going to bed at night.

A worm may take it upon himself to turn, but how can it profit him for he is the same on the other side? (Pamona Sagehen.)

The display windows in Belmond, we notice are beginning to don their holiday attire.

The

FOSS CLEANING SHOP

Solicits your patronage in

CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING

Located West of the Foss Shoe Shop

All Work Guaranteed

We will appreciate your Trial Offer

FOSS CLEANING SHOP
Louis Foss, Prop.
Phone 70 Belmond, Iowa

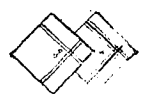
Check over his supply of underwear and see what he needs. Get him Coopers—men buy it for themselves anyway.

There's plenty of style and color in the new gym shirts and shorts. And comfortable!—tailored to fit like any other good clothes. All the snap and pep that young men like for this season of colorful clothing.

SILK AND WOOL HOSE
Better get him half a dozen pair.
$1 per pair

Many Other Gifts That Men Will Like for Christmas

COLORED LINEN HANDKERCHIEFS
75c



Splendid border and center designs, and fancy hand-blocked prints. Made of the finest French linen, with hand-rolled edges.

FANCY SILK SCARFS
$1.50 to $4

Men of all ages are wearing them. They're soft on the neck and give an added dash to the appearance. New patterns—bright colors.

We carry a complete stock of accessories for men's evening dress wear.

Fur and Knit-Lined Gloves

$2 to $6

A man's best friend in cold weather. Closely woven colored knit linings for up-to-date dressers. Fine style and finish in these gloves of imported cape.

C. C. McGUIRE, Belmond

HENRY FORD SAYS

Volume With Small Profits Is What Makes Big Business

WE SAY

That volume reduces overhead and makes it possible to work on smaller profits. We are carload buyers of everything in our line—Can the little fellow, who ships in ton lots and pays local freight, compete with us? Get our prices on the following and see:

OCCIDENT FLOUR	OIL MEAL
TOWN CRIER FLOUR	BONE MEAL
MIDLINGS	EGG MASH
BRAN	ALFALFA MEAL
TANKAGE	MOLASSES HOG FEED
POULTRY MEAT SCRAPS	MOLASSES CATTLE FEED
OYSTER SHELLS	WIRE FENCING
CALF MEAL	POULTRY FEED of all kinds
SALT	STEEL POSTS

We Pay The Highest Prices For GRAIN POULTRY HIDES
Truck Service—Phone 198

Farmers Grain Company
PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!
BELMOND, • • IOWA

Early Christmas Suggestions

Christmas is only 24 days away! The old slogan, "Shop Early!" applies as well this year as ever. Below we list only a few suggestions for you to choose from—there are many more appropriate and useful gifts at our store—gifts for the whole family. Come in and see them.

FOR MEN	FOR WOMEN
Razors	Silverware
Watches	Aluminum Ware
Flashlights	Pyrex Ware
Guns	Carving Sets
Pocket Knives	Roasters

FOR LITTLE BOYS AND GIRLS

Air Rifles	Skates
Sleds	Kiddie Cars
Tricycles	Tool Chests
Coaster Wagons	Air Rifles

Visit our Store---Something Useful for Everyone!

GRIESY'S

The Friendly Place
PHONE 10
BELMOND, IOWA

MESERVEY SECTION

REFORMED CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:30 A. M.
Morning worship at 10:30 A. M.
Young people's meeting at 7:45 P. M.
Evening worship at 8:00 P. M.
Choir practice Thursday evening.
Catechetical instruction and rehearsal of Christmas program Saturday at 1:30 P. M.
The Senior class in Catechism will meet at the parsonage Friday at 3:30 P. M.
The Dorcas Society met at the parsonage Nov. 22. Lydia Pannkuk was hostess. The two societies, namely the Ladies Aid and Dorcas Society decided to have their semi-annual sale at the church basement on the evening of Dec. 16.
Next Sunday being the first Sunday in the month, Infant Baptism will be administered. Please confer with the pastor some time during the week.

EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Sunday school at 9:45.
Morning worship at 10:45.
E. L. C. E. at 7:00 P. M.
Evening worship at 7:30.
Senior choir practice Sunday evening.
Junior choir practice Monday evening.
German prayer meeting Wednesday evening.
English prayer meeting and Bible study on Thursday evening.
Catechetical instruction on Saturday at 2:00 P. M.

A. K. Henning, Pastor

SCHOOL NOTES

School opened Monday after a four day Thanksgiving vacation.
Superintendent and Mrs. Taulbee and family spent Sunday at the home of Miss Elsie Hoyt at Ventura.
A number of pupils are still absent on account of corn picking.
This being the end of the second six weeks of school everyone is busy with examinations.
The Misses Ver Steeg, Temple and Wright were dinner guests at the Messelheiser home Thanksgiving Day.
A Girls Glee Club has been organized under the direction of Miss L. Watson. Mss Ruth Roth is the accompanist. The Glee Club will furnish music for the plays, declamatory contests and other activities of the year.
Orval Barkema in the 2nd grade has been absent from school for several weeks.
The following pupils in the 2nd grade received 100 per cent in spelling the past week: Ellen Olson, Verbena Meinders, Marjory Nissen, Louise Van Winkle, Sterling Sprau, Herman Koenen, Harold Allen, Arlene Schmidt and Sylvia Quandt.
The first and second grades are developing in their sand table the story of the three wise men.

Pals-Pals

On Thanksgiving Day at the home of the bride's mother. Mrs. Lambert Pals, occurred the marriage of her youngest daughter, Ollie and Mr. Albert Pals, third eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Harm J. Pals. The Rev. Pannkuk read the marriage service in the presence of immediate relatives and a few friends. The bride's sister, Miss Tillie and Mr. Dick Dirks were the attendants. Mrs. Kate Dirks presided at the piano, playing Lohengrin's "Wedding March." The bride was attired in a gown of brown crepe back satin, the groom wore a gray suit. The rooms were tastefully decorated in yellow and white chrysanthemums, the color scheme of yellow and white being carried out throughout the luncheon served to the guests. The bride and groom have grown up in this vicinity and are very favoraly known. The bride was graduated from the Meservey Consolidated school and held the positon of bookkeeper in the Lumber Office for the past five years. The groom is a prosperous young farmer and has been at the home of his parents, assisting with the work.
The couple left the same evening for a short honeymoon trip to Chicago. They will be at home to their friends on the A. J. Fee farm after Dec. 5.

MESERVEY LOCAL NEWS

Clocks, Silverware and China at Mallory's, Belmond.
Mrs. Wm. Koehler returned home from a few days visit with relatives at Rockford and Mason City. Wednesday and Thursday she spent at the John Ernest home at Rockford.
Mrs. Ed Schmidt of Belmond spent several days here last week, helping to care for mother Wickersheim who has been very ill.
Mrs. H. Fischer, Franklin and Lydia, were in Mason City Friday.
Henry Sprau and family of Mason City and Alvin Halfpop were spending Thanksgiving Day at the parental Chas. Halfpop home.
Miss Grace Obrecht came home from Fort Dodge Wednesday where she attends business college. She spent the Thanksgiving vacation at the home of her mother.
Miss Eva Sprau and Miss Irene Guth enjoyed their Thanksgiving and week end holiday at their respective homes.
Herman Fischer Jr. arrived home from Ames Wednesday evening and remained until Sunday at his parental home.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Nissen entertained at a family dinner on Thanksgiving Day. The following were present: Irv. Nissen and children of Kamrar, Wm. Hartfelder and family, A. J. Nissen and family, Frank Nissen and family and Elmer Nissen.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed Foss, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Foss, G. E. Raecker and family and Mrs. Anna Schroeder were Thanksgiving day guests at the James Hemming home at Thornton.
Fred Lautenbach of Pella and Miss Grace Pals of Bennett, arrived Wednesday evening to spend Thanksgiving and the week end at the H. K. Pals home.
The brothers and sisters and their families enjoyed a birthday dinner at the Heiko Janssen home on Thanksgiving Day, the occasion being Mrs. Janssen's birthday anniversary.
A. Musgred is the new man at the Woodford-Wheeler Lumber office. He takes the place of Miss Ollie Pals, who held the position of bookkeeper for several years.
A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dan Schmidt Sunday night but the little one died soon after birth.
John Kolb and family of Latimer were visiting at the parental Kolb home Sunday evening.
Miss Alma Ralston and friend, Thomas Ackermann of Wellsburg, spent the Thanksgiving vacation at the parental Fred Ralston home.
The Misses Viola, Evelyn and Thelma Thomas visited at the parental home on Thanksgiving Day.
Mr. and Mrs. Lew Avery of Goodell, Miss Elsie Knoll of Ventura and Jake Dorenkamp were entertained at the Irv. Bier home on Thanksgiving day. Miss Knoll remained until Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. John Lorenz of St. Cloud, Minn., arrived last Wednesday for a two weeks visit at the Henry Busse home. They visited with their old acquaintances, the Mullers and at the Hulsebus home during the afternoon.
The following families enjoyed a sumptuous Thanksgiving dinner at the Heiko Janssen home: C. J. Janssen and family, Louis Jansen and family, S. P. Ficher and family and W. R. Prelipp and family.
Rev. Henning and family were calling on friends in Mason City Friday.
Mabel, Lucile, Wilfred ad Ralph Paul and Miss Leona Fischer motored to Ft. Dodge Sunday to spend the day at the J. Wickersham home.
Mrs. H. Meinderts entertained her daughters and their families on Thanksgiving day.
Miss Lena Pals held a program and box social at her school last Wednesday evening. A fair sized crowd attended and the proceeds amounted to $16.00.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schlawin of Klemme spent Sunday at the C. J. Janssen home.
Mr. and Mrs. Walt Braga and Barbara were Thanksgiving day guests at a family dinner at the Carl Wenzel home at Belmond.
Mrs. Frank Nissen and children were week end visitors at the parental Thomas Sloss home at Ames.
Mr. Nissen drove down Sunday to bring them home.
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hopkey were visiting friends at Hampton Saturday.
P. H. Thiel of Renwick spent the week end at the C. J. Janssen home.
A. J. Nissen and family were visiting at the L. D. Hulsebus home at Dows Sunday afternoon.
Hartley Blewitt and family of Thornton were Thanksgiving Day dinner guests at the John Hartfelded home. In the evening they were all entertained at the Harold Blewitt home, including the Misses Roth and Watson.
A large number of relatives met at the Paul Hopkey home Sunday evening to render Mrs. Hopkey a pleasant surprise, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. The evening was delightfully spent and all enjoyed refreshments which the self invited guests had provided.
The following out of town relatives attended the funeral of Mother Strasburg last week: Mrs. Lydia Mc Ewen of Mason City, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Zimmerman of Des Moines, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Zimmerman of Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Strasburg, Fonda, and the Peters family from Alexander, and Chas. Strasburg and children of Ackley.

What You Want In the WANT ADS

R. T. COE
Veterinarian
CALLS ANSWERED DAY OR NIGHT
Office over C. C. McGuire Store
Phone 23 Belmond, Iowa

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Bldg
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

FOR YOUR AUCTIONEER
CALL
H. BRUMMOND
KANAWHA, IOWA
PHONE 118

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

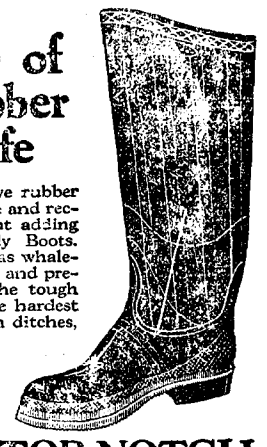
W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

ATWATER KENT RADIO
Fresh "B" Batteries always on hand.
H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

Undertaking & Funeral Director
F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone--Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

Harry T. Smith
General Blacksmithing
Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding
Meservey, - Iowa

Muscles of tough, live rubber lengthen its life



THE "muscles" of tough, live rubber give astonishing endurance and record-breaking long life—without adding weight—to Top Notch Buddy Boots. These ribs or muscles, strong as whalebone, add strength to the tops and prevent them from cracking. The tough gray soles stand up under the hardest going in muck and stumps, in ditches, slush or ice. The longest-wearing boot your money can buy. In short, Lip and Storm King Lengths.
For dependable, distinctive boots, arctics and rubbers, always look for the Top Notch Cross. The most reliable stores carry the complete Top Notch line for men, women and children. The Beacon Falls Rubber Shoe Co., Beacon Falls, Conn.
TOP NOTCH
A GUARANTEE OF MILEAGE
Rubber Footwear

Another Woodruff Famous
SHOE SALE
NOW GOING ON IN MASON CITY
Everything in this entire store reduced in price, including Christmas Slippers, Rubber Goods, Boys' and Men's Boots, Ladies' Novelty Slippers and all high grade new fall and winter footwear.
Prices Range from 69c up
COME NOW AND SAVE ON YOUR SHOE BILL
WOODRUFFS'
Good Shoes
115 North Federal Mason City, Iowa

Bank Your Money
If you have money it should be deposited in the Bank.
When you were a borrower some one deposited so you could borrow.
Pay your debt and build your credit at the same time.
Convenience and correct change.
SAFETY AND SERVICE
Farmers Savings Bank
Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

HIGH QUALITY
BUILDING MATERIAL
Screen Doors and Window Screens—Mill Work—Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts and Poles
Cement — Lime
INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT
Wheat Bran – Oil Meal – Cotton Seed Meal, – Tankage – Salt
Highest Price Paid for Grain
Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

Camel
The cigarette that knows how to "be itself"
There is no "pose" about Camel. It's just a good honest cigarette—the best ever—and it doesn't try to be anything else.

If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.
© 1927, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

OBITUARY OF GOODELL WOMAN

Alma Peterson was born in Olen, Sweden, April 2, 1871 and died at the University Hospital at Iowa City, Nov. 26, 1927, age 56 years, 7 months and 24 days. In 1894 she came to this country, coming to Ogden and living there one year, then moving to Goodell where she spent the remainder of her life. She was united in marriage to Welcome Robbins in 1898 and to this union three children were born, Lee, Carl and Esther. At an early age she united with the Lutheran church and remained in this faith until her death.

Mrs. Robbins was a good Christian woman, loving mother, friend and neighbor. She will be greatly missed by her sorrowing husband, two sons and daughter, Esther, a sister, Mrs. Anna Carlson of Klemme, her mother and two sisters who reside in their native land, and a host of friends.

Mrs. Robbins has been in failing health for a few years and two years ago submitted to an operation at Iowa City. Since then she had been feeling some better until this summer when she began to fail again. About a week ago she went to Iowa City and underwent another operation for double hernia. She remained in a serious condition until the angel of death came to relieve her early Saturday morning at 6:30.

Funeral services were held Monday at 2 P. M. with Rev. Scott officiating. Mrs. Snearly, Mrs. Scott, Mr. Carpenter and Harry Newgard sang several beautiful songs. Messrs. Thada, J. Dominy, Allaben, O. Sandberg, Henry Christensen and T. Burgess were pall bearers. Interment was made in the Goodell cemetery. The entire community of Goodell extend heartfelt sympathy.

Church Notes

The U. B. Aid met Wednesday. Picnic lunch.

The Missionary will meet Friday at the parsonage. The vice president, Mrs. A. C. Carpenter will have charge of the society during the absence of the president, Mrs. Okreug.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the U. B. bazaar and chicken pie supper at the church this week, Saturday, Dec. 3. Plan to attend.

A contest will be held in the U. B. Sunday school commencing next Sunday. This is put on by the state conference. Prizes will be awarded. Come out and help this place win.

Miss Lulu Wilkins who teaches the rural school 5 miles northwest invited the parents and pupils to the school house Wednesday evening and entertained them. A large crowd attended and enjoyed the evening very much.

Mrs. Gus Okreug left Monday from Mason City and took the train to New York. On Friday she will leave for Porto Rico to spend a couple of months with her daughter, Dorotha, who is a missionary at Ponce, Porto Rico. She expects to arrive there Monday of next week.

Mrs. L. W. Wesenberg has charge of the Red Cross and with the assistance of a few of the young girls made a drive on Saturday for memberships. A large number paid their dues and the total will be printed at a later date. Let as many as possible join as it goes for a worthy cause. About $70 was sent from here last spring for the flood relief.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Benson of Kanawha were Sunday dinner guests at the O. Sandberg home.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmalle went to Algona Sunday and visited a gentleman who owns a mink farm. Mr. Schmalle is interested in the fur business.

Mrs. Ray Christie returned home Sunday from Burlington where she has visited the past two months with her aunt.

Leo Finn autoed to Cascade Thursday to spend the week end at the home of his brother Raymond. On Friday he and the latter went to Chicago to the foot ball game.

Mr. and Mrs. Holtzbar who have been guests with her aunt, Mrs. Lamer, left Friday morning for their home in Sioux Falls, S. Dak.

There was no school Thursday and Friday due to Thanksgiving. Mr. Hopperstad who attends college at Decorah autoed here Wednesday evening and his brother, Prin. A. Hopperstad accompanied him and they went to their home at Calmar. The other teachers also went to their homes.

Dr. and Mrs. Snearly went to Ft. Dodge Thursday to spend the day with his brother, Luther and family.

E. J. Schneider is suffering with infection in his hand but is somewhat improved at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandberg and Edith motored to Iowa Falls Thursday and spent the day at the H. O. Sandberg home.

W. L. Thada and family spent Thursday at Mason City with her sister, Mrs. Taylor. Her niece Marilys Taylor returned home with them and visited the remainder of the week.

Ivan Baker who has been manager of the Mason City Oil and Grease station recently sold out his business to his brother-in-law, Henry Weide of Belmond, who has been working for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Smith whose home is in Mason City were over Sunday visitors with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Johnson.

Mrs. D. M. Conlan, Daphne and Cholm Houghton went to Rochester Thursday and visited their mother, who is receiving treatment for her eye at the Warrell hospital. Her many friends will be glad to hear that she is getting along fine and plans to be able to come home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hubbard have received word from their daughter, Mrs. Ralph Jenison, that she and her family have reached Colorado safely. They made the trip in less than three days.

The Mason City Oil station was robbed last Tuesday night. Entrance was made by breaking a window on the east side. A kit of tools, tires and candy were taken.

Rev. and Mrs. Scott accompanied by her sister, Miss Dessie Summerville of Cumberland, were Mason City visitors Friday.

Mr. and Mr. W. F. Beier visited Wednesday and Thursday at Manson with their son Walter and wife.

Selwyn Houghton of Belmond and Neva Aldrich of Rowan spent Thursday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Conlan.

Miss Ann Nolan of Grattenger came the fore part of last week to enjoy a visit with her sisers, Mrs. A. Lowenberg and Bridget Nolan.

Mae Griggs, primary teacher at Gilmore City, visited from Wednesday until Sunday at her parental home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Quigley, Viola Ruth and Loraine of Maple Hill, visited old friends here the latter partion of last week. The Quigleys formerly lived here and Frank's many friends are glad to see him looking and feeling so well since his recent operation for ulcers of the stomach.

Rev. Scott and son Floyd have been on the sick list the past week suffering with bad cases of tonsiliis. Mrs. Scott' sister, Miss Summervilla has also been laid up, having fallen and sprained her ankle very badly.

George Grigg went to St. Louis Wednesday on business.

Lucile Boller went to St. Ansgar, Thursday and visited at the home of her friend, Miss Laurabelle Johnson.

Mrs. Bush of Mason City was a week end guest at the home of her friend, Mrs. Will Allaben.

Mesdames John Dominey, D. M. Conlan and E. J. Schneider were called to Garner Tuesday as witnesses on the Quigley trial.

Miss Hilma Burgess who is primary teacher at Reading, Minn., came home Wedneday to enjoy her Thanksgiving vacation with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Thada entertained at their home Sunday the Taylor family of Mason City and the Tony Boller family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferleman and Betty of Mason City spent Sunday with her home folks, the T. Ruka family.

Marcellus Fuller autoed to Miller Wednesday and brought his sister Agnes home for her vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Gosnell and two daughters of Ft. Dodge spent Thanksgiving with her mother, Mrs. Lamer.

The Otterbein Guild Girls met Tuesday evening with the president. Miss Eunice Wesenberg. A fine program was enjoyed and tasty refreshments served by the hostess.

The Home Economics girls invited their mothers and several friends to the school house on Wednesday afternoon and entertained them to a fine program. They served a splendid lunch.

Carl Robbins who accompanied his mother to the hospital returned home from Iowa City Thursday forenoon. Mrs. Robbins had her operation on Monday and remained in a serious condition. On Wednesday she seemed slightly better and thought Carl should go home. On Friday the family received a telegram bearing the sad news that she was failing rapidly and wanted to see them. Her children, Lee who is working at Mason City, Carl and Esther left immediately on the train from Clarion to be with their mother but we regret very much to say that she passed away early Saturday morning about 15 minutes before they arrived. They returned home Sunday bringing the body with them.

Buy your sweetheart a diamond ring at Mallory's, Belmond

ALEXANDER NEWS NOTES

See the new line of toilet sets at Mallory's, Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hall were business callers at Hampton Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dunn attended the funeral services of Mrs. Will Robinson at Hampton Thursday.

Miss Susie Schulte, Miss Edith Eden, Lewis Schulte and Louie Schomburg who attend school at Des Moines, spent Thanksgiving Day at their parental homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Greenfield and son Frederick, were callers at Belmond Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Arends entertained at their home on Saturday in honor of Miss Susie Schulte, the Misses Vernona Goettsch, Pearl Schenke, Alice Seeds, Coryl Husband, Melba Tucker, Sylverne Helland, Hazel Beitz, Iva Crook, Susie Schulte and Lewis Schulte.

John Bell and Miss Jessie spent Sunday at the John Leebrick home in Hampton.

Robert Harlow is getting along nicely after his operation for appendicitis at the Lutheran hospital in Hampton.

John Flynn of Belmond was a visitor here on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Leebrick of Hampton spent Thanksgiving Day at the Claas Symens home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ammerman, Jr., spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ammerman, near Dows.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Larsen, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith and children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Larsen and children, and Mrs. Addie Larsen and son Jack took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Vern Finkle at Hampton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Krueger of Sheffield were visiting at the Geo. Dunn home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kennedy of Belmond were Sunday visitors at the Leslie Reed home.

Miss Imo Hall and Frank Peddle were visiting with family relatives at Blue Earth, Minn., over Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Woodcock enjoyed a visit with their son Bertram, of Nora Springs, and his friend Miss Leona Axtell of Deep River, who teaches at Wyman.

Ole Foughty spent Thanksgiving day with his brother Tom at Ventura.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hensell and family spent their Thanksgiving with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Hensell at Webster City.

Mrs. H. Suntken and two daughters Alice and Helen were Hampton callers Friday.

Miss Ruth Beenen who is teaching at Holland spent her Thanksgiving at home with her folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Murphy and son, Charles, of Webb, came Wednesday evening for a few days visit with friends here.

Ed Aldinger of near Bradford was visiting at the W. P. Aldinger home Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Peters and family spent Thanksgiving at the Frank Braden home at Dows.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Butler of Hampton were visitors Tuesday at the A. B. Arends home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Parks and family spent Thanksgiving with relatives at Lake Cornelia.

The following spent Thanksgiving at Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Aldinger and sons, Franz and Rex, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hall and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Green and daughter; Emmagene and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Gillett and son Alva George.

George Dunn and son Stanley, went to Hollandale, Minn., Friday and returned Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hawley of Carrollton, were visitors at the W. P. Aldinger home Friday.

Mrs. Leslie Reed and Mrs. Oscar Hensel and son Harold Edward were Hampton callers Friday.

Miss Irena Shenkle spent Sunday with friends in Eagle Grove.

UNITED CHURCH NOTES

Sunday services, December 4—

Morning worship at 10:00 A. M. with sermon on "The Finger of God."

Sunday school at 11:00 A. M.

Senior and Junior C. E. at 6:45. Topic, "What is Prayer?"

Evening service at 7:30 P. M. Sermon topic, "Finding the Lost Misplaced."

A fellowship meeting was held in the church on Tuesday evening, Nov. 29, conducted by Rev. C. B. Preston of Allison, Rev. H. O. Spellman, Clarion, and Rev. F. D. Reeves, Eagle Grove.

The United Ladies Aid will hold the annual bazaar in the church basement, Dec. 7.

SCHOOL NOTES

The Philomathean Literary Society program held Friday, November 25 was well attended. We were very pleased to have so many out and trust that more will attend our programs as the pupils and instructors are putting forth a great deal of effort to make the programs worth while.

The pupils in the elementary grades are now making Christmas presents as projects.

We were certainly very well pleased with such a large attendance of parents and patrons present at the grade program last Friday night. A sum of $24.90 was realized. The pupils and teachers in charge are to be commended for the fine program rendered and then too, the orchestra comes in for some share of the comment and glory of the evenings entertainment for the number of fine selections given before the regular program.

Margaret Hall has joined the beginning class in the orchestra and is playing the Saxaphone.

Our basket ball teams lost last week to Geneva by very small scores. Rowan plays on the local floor this Friday night.

This week ends the second six weeks period. Report cards will go out December 7. Parents should check these cards carefully and encourage and help pupils wherever the case may be. Teachers will also be glad to have parents come and visit school and talk over any matters concerning their child. Co-operation is what we desire and we trust that parents will feel free to come and talk matters over.

The faculty were very pleasantly entertained last Thursday evening at a rook party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peters.

OLAF NEWS

The Shipping Association shipped a mixed load of stock to Chicago Monday.

The North Ladies Aid Society met with Mrs. Herman Johnson Wednesday afternoon and was attended by a large number of members and visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Morse enjoyed dinner at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Orpha Anderson, Thursday.

Miss Ruth Bond and Howard Wolle spent several days visiting at the C. T. Scott home.

G. H. Baxter and family spent Thanksgiving at Iowa Falls at the S. O. Windecker home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kirk spent Sunday with relatives at Estherville.

Tuesday evening a program and box supper at District No. 3 was attended by a large crowd.

The last of the beets were loaded this week for Mason City.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Scott entertained a large party of friends and relatives for Thanksgiving dinner.

YOUR TOOTHBRUSH

To keep your toothbrush clean: rinse it well after using; sprinkle it with salt; hang it by itself in the sun and air; do not wait too long to get a new one.

OBITUARY OF ROWAN MAN

John Vurl Thomas, son of Joshua and Julia Thomas of Rowan, Iowa, was born September 10, 1897, near Columbus Jct. Louisa County, Iowa, and died at his home in Williams, November 26, 1927 at the age of 30 years, 2 months and 16 days.

He was united in marriage to Miss Frances Doyle of Williams on November 22, 1926. To this union was born one son, Gene Richard.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, son, father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thomas, two sisters, Mrs. Bonine Ersland of Red Lake, Falls, Minn. and Mrs. Delilah Thayer of Thornton, Iowa, and three brothers, James C. of Klemme, Jake B. of Blairsburg and Mack at the home in Rowan.

John came with his parents to a farm east of Williams in 1905 at the age of seven years. In that same year he was injured in an accident which finally resulted in his death.

He attended public school at Williams for seven years and was a bright pupil. He was very quiet and of few words, but honest and very kind. He was loved very much by those who knew him best.

A greater part of his life was spent in pain almost too great to bear, but he was the most patient sufferer, never murmuring, but always trying to be brave.

Although his life was short in years and full of pain and disappointment it was not in vain for he has left the blessed memories of love.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hadley spent Thanksgiving with their son Herb, and family at Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bailey, Jr., and Mesdames James Smith, Perle Lague and Leslie Andrews drove to Clear Lake Wednesday to attend the funeral of their cousin, Mrs. Herb Holt. Mrs. Holt's was a very sad death as it was caused from taking poison by mistake. Being a hurry she mistook the poison for medicine of which she wished to take a dose. The boxes being alike she took the wrong one. She left four children, one being her own and three adopted children.

Mrs. Hannah Whitten and Miss Angie Baines entertained the following guests at Thanksgiving dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Harm Brinkman and two children, Ed and Martin Baines all of Dows. Mr. and Mrs. Milt Ramsay and family of Belmond visited with them in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Harris are the parents of a baby boy, born Friday, Nov. 25th.

The Hackley family held a reunion at the home of their mother, Mrs. Jennie Hackley on Thanksgiving. Those present were Mrs. Hackley, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hackley and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Alt Haekley and four children, all of Rowan, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Bauchman and three children of Hampton and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gaulke and three children of Iowa Falls, also Glen, Nellie Howard and Zelda in the home.

Ray Norris who is working with a paving gang at Ferguson, Nebr., came Wednesday and spent Thanksgiving and the week end with his family.

Gus Bullion and family from the Galt neighborhood are moving to a farm near Nashua. Harry Cain took their furniture there in his truck the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Liming spent Sunday with friends in town enroute home to Adair after visiting their son Glen at Corwith.

George Brooks and nine or ten other men from Parkersburg went through town last week on their way to camp on the west fork of the Des Moines river near Humboldt. They had hounds with them and were going to hunt coons.

Miss Nora Shafer went to Alexander on Wednesday and spent Thanksgiving with her nephew, Wm. Shafer and family. Mrs. Shafer's brother, Fred Coburn and family were there also.

(Contmued on page 8)

AT LAST!

A Scuff-Proof Work Shoe

...tanned by WOLVERINE

NOW you can bump and scrape against rocks and ruts all day—you won't bruise the toe of this new Wolverine work shoe—it's SCUFF PROOF! No need to change shoes when you want to dress up, for this new model takes a good shine. It wears like a work shoe—feels like a house slipper—and is always presentable.

This new scuff-proof feature is just one of the many advantages you can now enjoy in work shoes since Wolverine discovered a way to tan Shell Cordovan Horsehide—the most durable leather in the world.

It often outwears two or three pairs of ordinary work shoes because it includes a reinforcing shell beneath the hide that wears like iron. Yet it's as smooth as buckskin—dries plump and soft after soaking—and has marvelous resistance against the acids of clay soil, manure pile or dairy floor.

The best news is saved for the last. Wolverines are as easy on your pocketbook as they are on your feet. The prices are no higher than what you've been accustomed to pay. Why not come in today and see this perfected work shoe?

C. C. McGuire
Belmond

The New FORD CAR is a Wonder

Full details to be given at our show rooms this Friday

Belmond Auto Co.

Lincoln Ford Fordson

THE PLACE OF SERVICE

LOUIS TOKMAN GEO. F. HAGINGER

Telephones 108 - 258

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

(Continued From Page 4)

Wheeler's Cash Store., Groc.	19.07
Frank Welch, Groc. Amount claimed, $17.10. Refused.

BRIDGE FUND

O. H. Bige, Labor	3.50
Blake Lbr. Co., Material	65.80
Harry Daggett, Labor (Sept.)	118.40
Ed Bjornson, Labor (Sept.)	71.20
M. E. Baker, Labor (Sept.)	68.00
Milo Swanger, Labor (Sept.)	56.00
Harry Daggett, Labor	60.20
Ed Bjornson, Labor	60.00
M. E. Baker, Labor	60.00
Milo Swanger, Labor	16.00
C. O. Gorton, Hardware	5.00
Henry Imboden, Labor	96.00
David C. Imboden, Labor	9.20
H. M. Imboden, Labor	82.00
D. C. Imboden, Labor	50.80
C. S. Imboden, Labor	14.80
Joe Johnson, Labor	2.00
Edward Kastler, Labor	15.00
G. H. Kastler, Labor	3.50
Paul Kastler, Labor	10.50
Klauer Mfg. Co., Culverts	365.25
Richards & Rummel, Paint	4.95
Shupe & Son, Hardware	11.71
S. M. Wilcox, Labor	20.00

DRAINAGE FUND

Charles E. Gross, Engineer-Dn. 14	3.80
Jens N. Kjar, Labor - Dn. 35	29.00
Bert C. Martin, Labor-Dn. 57	10.00
A. J. Carpenter, Hauling tile Dn. 74	16.80
Joe Claude, Labor-Dn. 74	72.50
Charles E. Gross, Engineer Dn 84-85-90	16.45
Melvin Jetmund, Rodman Dn. 84-85-90	2.00
Henry Edwinson, Labor-Dn. 96	11.65
James Mehl, Committee & mileage-Dn. 107	3.30
J. M. Bennett, Labor-Dn. 110	3.00
James Mehl, Committee and mileage-Dn. 110	7.60
S. W. Pinkham, Labor-Dn. 110	3.00
J. D. Baker, Committee & mileage-Dn. 111	7.70
Charles E. Gross, Engineer-Dn. 117	2.89
Bert C. Martin, Labor & material, Dn. 119	16.80
James Mehl, Committee & mileage-Dn. 119	6.40
E. E. Kitley, Session and mileage-Dn. 121	9.20
James Mehl, Committee and mileage-Dn. 121	12.70
J. D. Baker, Committee and mileage-Dn. 123	7.00
Charles E. Gross, Engineer-Dn. 123	4.65
Jens N. Kjar, Labor-Dn. 123	80.00
Jens N. Kjar, Labor-Dn. 123	96.40
James Mehl, Committee and mileage-Dn. 152	6.80
Virgil Schnebly, Labor-Dn. 152	21.40
Henry Schnebly, Labor-Dn. 152	39.90
Joe Claude, Labor-Dn. 157	16.00
Henry Edwinson, Labor & repairs-Dn. 158	66.20
Joe Claude, Labor-Dn. 171	29.00
Dickey Clay Mfg. Co., Tile Dn. 171	60.88
A. J. Carpenter, Hauling tile-Dn. 172	5.20
T. W. Clements, Labor-Dn. 172	6.00
Jens N. Kjar, Labor-Dn. 184	15.00
Jake Lampert Yards, Inc., Tile-Dn. 194	2.65

COUNTY HOME FUND

Farmers Mutual Insurance Company Insurance	12.05
Jake Lampert Yards, Inc., Tile and mtl. for fence	186.60
O. E. McGahey, Fence	97.95
Albert McCormick, Shelling corn	44.62

SOLDIERS' RELIEF FUND

F. B. Champlin, Secy., Allowances for Nov.	134.00

INSANE FUND

Cerro Gordo County, Care of Ida Stearnes	2.02

DOMESTIC ANIMAL FUND

Ray Best, sheep killed, amt. claimed $20.00, amt. allowed	12.00
Bert Meachem, Sheep killed	12.00
I. P. Nichols, sheep killed, amt. claimed $44.00, amt. allowed	40.00

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE FUND

Congregational Church, Janitor service	10.00
Dr. O. T. Corson, Lecture & exp.	120.00
L. J. Dickinson, Address	25.00
L. G. Focht, Institute exp.	1.60
C. A. Fullerton, Instructor & exp.	45.72
Nina V. Mitchell, Instructor and exp.	27.10
Wright County Monitor, Supplies	21.50

REFUND WARRANTS

F. P. Shake, Overcharge on 1926 tax	20.70

On motion adjourned to November 14, 1927.

E. E. KITLEY, Chairman.
F. W. WALKER,
County Auditor.

ROWAN NEWS ITEMS

(Continued from page 7)

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thomas, Mrs. Gerald Ersland and baby and Mack Thomas, went to Williams Friday to see their son and brother, John Thomas, who was very ill. Mrs. Thomas remained to help care for him. The rest of the family were called again on Saturday morning but John had passed away before they reached his home.

Mrs. Howard Box is getting along nicely after her operation at the hospital at Clarion. She will be home this week. Doris Gunderson is working for her.

The A. O. Pelley home was the scene of a large reunion of the Rietz family on Thanksgiving Day. Every member of the family was there which were as follows: the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rietz, the children and grand children, Rev. and Mrs. Geo. Stephens and five children Mr. and Mrs. Julius Goos and daughter Anna Helen, of St. Paul, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. August Rietz and six children, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rietz, and daughter Kathryn, and Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Pelley.

Mrs. Nels Hanson went to Cedar Rapids last Wednesday as her daughter who lives there was to be operated on. Her daughter, Mrs. George Vanston of Shefifeld is taking Mrs. Hanson's place at the hotel during her absence.

Charles Rowen expects to depart for Arizona this week to spend the winter for his health.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fairley and daughter, Virginia Lee, of Marion, spent Wednesday night at the parental J. A. Whitten home, going on to Mankato, Minn., Thursday to visit Mrs. Fairley's sister, Mrs. Jerdon Brinkman and family.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. French entertained Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Sinclair of Clarion and Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Myers at Thanksgiving dinner.

Howard Hackley had the misfortune to have his car badly damaged Thursday evening when he was run into by a truck at the road which goes under the railroad bridge near Hampton.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Usher spent Thanksgiving with her sister, Mrs. A. Ahrenkiel and family at Goodell.

Kenneth and Margaret Kieth spent Thanksgiving with their parents, Kenneth from school at Ames and Margaret from hospital training at Fort Dodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Anderson and children Leroy, Helen and Duane of Erlie, came on Friday and spent the night at the home of Mrs. Anderson's brother, Roy Hyde and family. They went from here to Fort Dodge Saturday to visit relatives.

Mrs. Fred Aldrich returned from Mason City last week where she had been caring for her mother, Mrs. J. A. Buchanan who is in the hospital now.

Mrs. C. H. Lindsey and children departed Monday by train from Clarion for Austin, Minn., to be with her husband who is doing tower work there. They will do light housekeeping there during the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cain took some of their furniture to Austin for them by truck Monday.

The A. A. Williams family had a family reunion at the Dee Halbrook home Thanksgiving. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Harris and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Shreck and family of Hayfield and Mr. and Mrs. Halbrook and family.

Mrs. Lula Emerson entertained several guests Saturday in honor of Miss Frances Farran who had spent Thanksgiving at home from her school work at Jesup. The following guests were there, Miss Farran, Douglas, Dale and Darl Farran, Miss Dolly Riley and Mrs. Emerson's daughter Mrs. Rex Boyington of Clarion.

The Wm. Duffy family attended the golden wedding anniversary of an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Pery at Clarion Sunday. There were ninety one who attended.

Mr. and Mrs. George Modderman, Herman, Fred and Henry Modderman of Alexander and Miss Hannah Bohlman of Meservey spent Thanksgiving at the Chas. Scott home.

The R. N. A.'s took in five new members at their meeting on Saturday night. They were as follows, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Musson, Mrs. Alfred Hansen, Mrs. Tom Lindsey and Mrs. Murphy.

Mrs. D. E. Harris' son, Clarence Townsan, came from Des Moines Sunday and took Mrs. Harris back with him to help care for her little grand daughter, Clara Jane, who is very ill with pneumonia.

You can buy a wrist watch for your friend, at Mallory's Belmond.

METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. J. H. Bounds, Pastor

10:00 A. M. Sunday School
11:00 A. M. Morning worship.
6:45 P. M. Epworth League.
7:30 P. M. Evening worship.
7:30 P. M. Wednesday, Prayer meeting.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society will hold a Thank Offering on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 7th at the home of Mrs. W. A. Rietz. Mrs. Van Meter, the minister's wife, of Garner will give a talk at this meeting. Everybody is invited to attend.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. C. M. Myers. Mrs. Pritchett and Mrs. Marie Utz are the assistant hostesses.

Wesley Azeltine has entered seven Barred Rock chickens and sixteen pigeons at the poultry show at Goldfield, which is to be held this week. Albert Emerson also is entering a coop of chickens. This is quite a large afafir. Part of the pigeon show is a national competition.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Rev. L. A. Marquardt, Pastor

10:30 A. M. Sunday school. Our Sunday school is growing. It would be a fine thing if the fathers and mothers would come with their children. Invite others to come who do not attend. 100 is the goal for next Sunday.

11:30 A. M. Morning worship. Subject, "Our Lord and Master."

3:00 P. M. Junior Christian Endeavor.

6:30 P. M. Senior Christian Endeavor. Darl Farran, leader.

7:30 P. M. Wednesday, prayer meeting and Bible study.

8:30 P. M. Wednesday, choir practice.

The Woman's Missionary Society meets with Mrs. Eva Burger Thursday, Dec. 1st. Leader, Mrs. Bertha Whitten.

The Young Woman's Missionary Club meets at the W. A. Duffy home Thursday evening to pack the missionary box.

The Ladies Aid Society will serve their annual supper and sale at the church basement Saturday, Dec 3. Everybody come.

The young people between the ages of 15 and 23 remember the older boys and girls conference at the Church of Christ at Clarion on Monday, Dec. 5th. We ought to have twenty-five or thirty represented at this conference from the two churches of Rowan. Can we make it? Yes, all right, let's go and prove that our young people are not lost to the church but are alive and working for Christ and the church.

Rev. L. A. Marquardt returned home from Minneapolis, Minn., Wednesday evening, where he attended the 25th anniversary home coming of the Alumni Association of the Northwestern Bible and Missionary Training school. Mrs. Marquardt and son Billy accompanied him to New Richmond, Wis., for two weeks visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bend.

The Happy Kan Doos class of the Rowan Congregational Sunday school very successfully presented the three-act play, "The Path Across the Hill" last Friday and Saturday nights. The production was directed by Mrs. Clint Kercheval who is the teacher of the class, assisted by Miss Mabel Aldinger. $45.00 was realized by the class for their efforts and they are very appreciative to all those assisting. The proceeds are to be used to apply on the fund for the improvement of the church and parsonage. Special musical numbers were presented by Misses Ruby Azeltine and Evelyn Whitten who played a piano duet. Evelyn Whitten and Kenneth Whitten sang a duet, and Mr. Henry Aldrich accompanied his son Richard who played the mouthh arp, with the mandolin, Clifford Halbrook furnished a great deal of entertainment by jigging to the above music. The characters taking part were as follows: Samuel Crawford, Darl Farran; Robert Post, Clint Kercheval; Walter Conrad, Reuel Silvey, Dr. Jimmie Reed; Lawrence Silvey; Salamander Jones, Fred Williams; Grandma Davis, Elsie Aldinger; Ruth Conrad, Mabel Aldinger; Flo Gray, Laura Aldinger; Lutie, Bernice Williams and Zuzu, Mrs. Fred Williams.

SCHOOL NOTES

Our two basket ball teams go to Alexander Friday night.

The Pep Club has purchased some "rooters' caps" to wear to basketball games.

Mr. Adamson and Mr. Swanson attended the Wright County Schoolmasters Club meeting at Goldfield last Wednesday evening. A delightful banquet was served by the domestic science department of the Goldfield school after which two very interesting and instructive talks were given.

The basketball teams met defeat again last Friday night at Williams. The boys score was 13 to 3 and the girls 21 to 14. The boys could not get their stride for some reason and both teams had trouble finding the hoop. The girls should be commended on their excellent team work.

$10 Wrist Watches -:- Diamond Rings

Good Assortment of Other Rings
WATCH REPAIRING A SPECIALTY
$1 Glasses You Can See With at

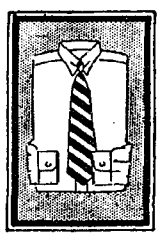
Mallory's Jewelry Store

For Christmas!

NOTHING pleases the man or boy like a useful, practical gift---and in our complete line of Men's and Boys' Clothing you will find a wide variety of practical gifts from which to choose. We carry Nunn-Bush Shoes and Michael-Stern Clothing---None Better.

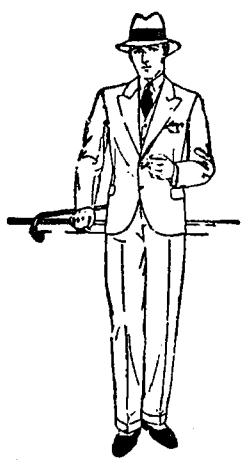
Emery Shirts

Guaranteed fast colors with new style collar.



$2 to $5

Other shirts from $1.50 and up



Michael-Stern Suits

In all the latest shades of browns and grays. In blues, too. Two and three-button models.

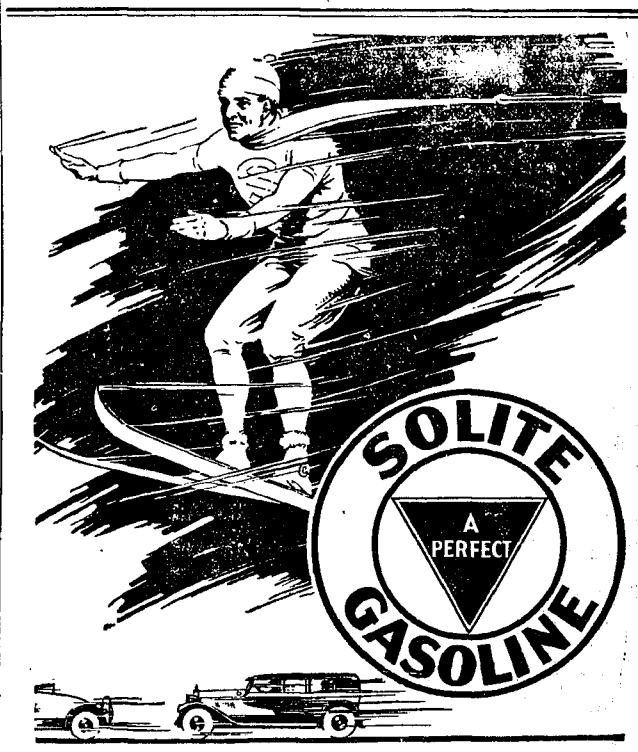
$35 to 50

Others as low as $20

Boys' Suits
$6 to $15

SMITH SERVICE & SKOVLIN SATISFACTION

Phone 50 Belmond, Iowa



Sends Your Car Speeding!

WHEN Solite is your fuel, your car speeds along with smooth and steady sureness. The engine purrs away with a quiet hum of power.

There's a thrill to "stepping on it"—sensing the instant answer of swifter speed! There's a thrill in the feeling of power at your command — all the power you need and more besides!

Solite is a remarkable gasoline because — for all its lightness and speed—it does not sacrifice power. It drives the piston the full stroke under power.

Solite gives you speed that is sure — certain satisfaction! For only a few cents more per gallon. You'll say it's worth it.

At any Standard Oil Service Station and at most garages.

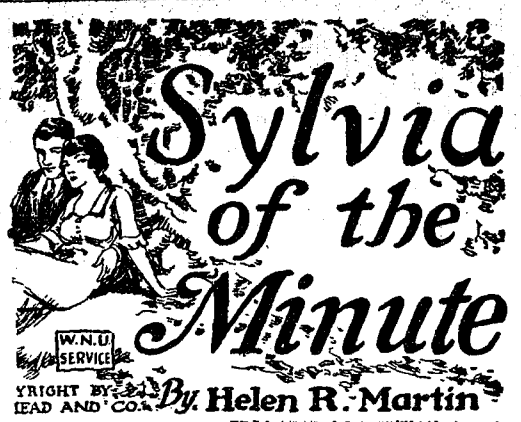
Standard Oil Company,
(Indiana)
BELMOND, IOWA

Peace on Earth

The Holiday Season approaching carries that great message to mankind. Yet, in this complex civilization of ours, Peace depends in so great a measure upon money—whether we have it or whether we don't. If we have, Peace—peace of mind, and so often of happiness and success—is more likely to be ours.

Money in the bank is an assurance of these things. A Savings Account is your greatest safeguard.

STATE BANK OF BELMOND
BELMOND IOWA



W.N.U. SERVICE

YRIGHT BY EAD AND CO.

By Helen R. Martin

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I—Handsome, fastidious and wealthy—young St. Croix Creighton awaits his sweetheart at their trysting place. She is fifteen minutes late, this ordinary little Pennsylvania Dutch girl, Meely Schwenckton, but he awaits her eagerly. She is so demurely beautiful, he thinks, but so out of his "class."

CHAPTER II—Meely, in the Schwenckton home, is altogether unlike the girl who meets St. Croix clandestinely, and her speech has little of the Pennsylvania Dutch accent. She is the teacher in the neighborhood school, of which Marvin Creighton, St. Croix' brother, is superintendent. Due to family differences, Marvin Creighton boards in town, near Meely, who is living with the Schwencktons, a Pennsylvania Dutch farmer's family. Meely learns that Marvin was to have married his cousin, a titled English lady, but, believing she was attracted by the Creighton wealth, had refused the alliance. It is the rumor that St. Croix is to take Marvin's place and marry the English girl.

"Yes, but Gramma she told Pop he darsen't make Nettie come home till Aunt Rosy's away a'ready. 'Till Susie's well and Aunt Rosy goes, then Nettie she'll come home. But mind you what she tol' Pop yet!"

"What?"

"She tol' Pop if he tried to whip her fur runnin' off, she'd run off where he couldn't find her, like Jakey done. Pop he's awful downhearted about Jakey. He didn't show it much; but he is."

It was not until after Sammy had finished his supper and the table was cleared and the last dish washed and put away in the cupboard, that Mr. Schwenckton, followed by Aunt Rosy, returned to the kitchen.

Lizzie, with a faint hope of saving herself, spoke to him ingratiatingly, though she was white with fear of him. "See, Pop, how I got all the work done—all the dishes and pans—"

"Yes, well, but," Aunt Rosy broke in, "look at your diapers still layin'—" Mr. Schwenckton laid his arm around Lizzie's thin shoulders, which shrank away from his touch, for she did not know whether it meant a caress or whether he was about to lead her away for punishment.

Meely, fearing the latter (for she had been a witness to Sammy's chastisement a week ago) could not restrain herself, unwise as she felt her interference might be. "Mr. Schwenckton, this woman doesn't tell you the truth!" she said breathlessly. "Lizzie's an obedient, willing, hard-working child!—and if Aunt Rosy can't get on with her, that's her fault and not Lizzie's. And, Mr. Schwenckton, it's a crime to put a little frail girl like Lizize to such heavy work as washing sheets and diapers! You don't know, do you, that this little girl stands at the washtub several hours each day? Her back will be strained! I ought to have told you before, but I hated to interfere. Now, Mr. Schwenckton, you've got to put a stop to it! You must, you must!—this womnn's a devil—"

"Tut, tut!" Mr. Schwenckton raised his hand in protest against such unseemly language on the lips of a girl; and Aunt Rosy's look of deadly spite at Meely's accusation turned into a broad smirk of satisfaction. "Didn't I tell you, Sam, how she's gettin' Lizzie spoilt fur you? Learnin' her to swear and curse (you heard her call me a devil yet!) and to disrespec' me and you—"

"Aunt Rosy," Mr. Schwenckton spoke in quietly, "t didn't speak nothin' to you upstairs, for the reason I didn't want to get my Susie stirred up. But I'm sayin' to you now that I pay you to do the work here and you don't do it. You try to put it off on my little childern. And what they don't do don't get done. You drove off my Nettie and Jakey and now you abuse Sammy and Lizzie. If it wasn't that Susie wants you here, I'd get another housekeeper; for no perfeck stranger could do worse'n what you do! So if there's any more trouble and if things ain't kept cleaner 'round here, I will send you packin', now mind, I'm tellin' you!"

Aunt Rosy, with a look of cold, concentrated resentment at Meely, turned to go instantly upstairs to her sister—but Mr. Schwenckton checked her by the simple, but effective means of barring her way with his brawny outstretched arm. "Not up there. I won't have Susie worried no more tonight!" He pointed to the door opening from the kitchen into a small bedroom. "To your own room, Aunt Rosy."

She looked at him reproachfully. "So this here's the thanks a body gets for leavin' my own home and comin' here to work myself to the bone for yons—"

"Yes, well, if you did work for us—but you don't. You make my little child do all. Puttin' a little girl like Lizzie yet to the washtub! Yi, yi, yi! Don't you leave me hear of such a thing again!"

"It's her," Aunt Rosy pointed vindictively to Meely, "that makes you so contrary! Takin' your children's part agin your wife's sister! And standin' by a stranger that's trein' to keep your wife sick by wo'ship' her and openin' windows on her—"

"That'll do, that'll do, Aunt Rosy. It didn't need Meely to open my eyes—though for a while, there, I was awful dumb about you. But

Then, Very Carefully, So as Not to Waken Her, He Carried Her Upstairs and Put Her to Bed.

I only gotta take a look at this here crusty, through-other kitchen—and your puttin' Lizzie at the wash-tub, a child like that!—well, le' me tell you that when I come in here this evenin' and seen Lizzie at that there tub standin', I felt dangerous! I didn't show it none, but for a minute there I felt dangerous! So," he concluded, "don't leave it happen again. And don't go near Susie no more tonight."

For an instant Aunt Rosy wavered as though weighing the possibility of defying her brother-in-law. But she knew the futility of such an attempt. He'd simply pack her into his car and run her to her own home; that's how he'd settle it.

So, with a parting glance of malice at Meely, she turned away and went to her bedroom.

Mr. Schwenckton stooped and, picking Lizzie up in his arms as though she were a baby, carried her across the room to a big rocking-chair, where, folded to his breast, he rocked her until she fell asleep.

Then, very carefully so as not to waken her, he carried her upstairs and put her to bed.

CHAPTER III

IT WAS at the heavy noon meal of the day that Meely for the first time heard Mr. Schwenckton break his own rule against complaining at the table. "Ach, Aunt Rosy, these here flies is somepin awful! Susie she never has no flies when she housekeeps. And this here's October yet! My first wife, neither, she didn't have no flies. Leastwise not in October yet! Why do you so leave the flies in? Couldn't you manage with less flies?"

"It ain't my fault that there's flies. It's that there fat farmhand of yourn that gives flies in fur me still; fur when he goes out the door, he's so fat he can't get out quick and that lets the flies in."

"You're always got a good excuse, ain't, Aunt Rosy?"

"But I don't see, Mister, why you ever got such a fat farmhand that he gives flies in fur me and that he's too fat to set in your car and drive it for you." She diverted the conversation from flies.

"Yes, it is some onhandy that me and Absalom's both too big to drive our car easy. Us," smiled the farmer, who liked his little joke, "we gotta set in the back seat and have such a chiffonneer! But, Aunt Rosy, blamin' Absalom for these here flies—no. That's goin' too far. I don't give you right. You better get after these here flies—"

"Did Absalom tell you," Aunt Rosy diplomatically interrupted, "who his comp'ny is that's wisitin' at their place?"

This question proved effective in diverting attention from the flies.

"Why, no, he didn't speak nothin' to me that they had comp'ny wisitin' 'em," said Mr. Schwenckton. "What makes you conceit that?—that they have comp'ny?"

"I seen a strange shirt on their wash-line this morning that I reckognized wasn't Absalom's. I didn't get time to run down and 'ast Missus whose the strange shirt was—what with all I had to do and Lizzie not helpin' any," she whined in a tone of deep injury. "But this after, mebby, I'll get time to run down."

"That's funny, too, again—that they got a strange shirt hangin' out and Absalom not sayin' nothin' to me about comp'ny," remarked Mr. Schwenckton reflectively.

"But couldn't the 'strange shirt' be a new one of Absalom's?" Meely asked.

"No, it ain't Absalom's size or color," Aunt Rosy pointed out.

"Do you know," said Mr. Schwenckton thoughtfully, "what I suspicion about that there strange shirt? I suspicion they're got a boarder at Absalom's, like us. I guess Marvin Creighton's boardin' with 'em since his Pap turned him out. For, you see, this here township's very handy in the center of all the schools he has to wisit. Yes, I bet you that's whose the strange shirt is! It's Marvin Creighton's! So then, Meely," he jocularly added, "you better watch your step, with the school superintendent livin' right handy here in sight of us! On our own farm yet!"

Meely stared blankly for a moment, without comment; then, pulling herself together, dropped her eyes to her plate.

As Meely remained silent, Aunt Rosy prodded her for an expression of her sensations at the great news.

"I suppose," Meely at last became articulate, "my teaching, when he beholds it, will give him a shock! It's not," she sighed, "according to rule. I don't know the rules! I don't know anything about teaching! I do have some ideas of my own, though—"

The sudden realization that she was talking to one of the school trustees brought her to with a jolt.

"But," said Mr. Schwenckton, puzzled, "you must know how to school-teach when you're a gradyate of Kutztown Normal yet! Well, I guess anyhow! Us we don't elec no teacher to our William Penn that ain't got her Normal school diarploma."

"Oh, yes—well, but—yes, of course," Meely concluded in some confusion. She glanced surreptitiously at Aunt Rosy—and found to her discomfort that she was being regarded with a look of cunning suspicion.

"Say," suddenly spoke up Rosy. "Have you got such a Kutztown Normal school diarploma?"

"Why—why, of course—why, of course I have."

"Mister," she demanded of her brother-in-law, "did you ever see her diarploma?"

"Ach, Rosy, what's over you? To be sure, she had to send her diarploma along with her application and her photygraft when she wrote for the job here at our William Penn. Your photygraft," he said to Meely, "don't favor you much. You're a lot prettier than that there photygraft."

"It's funny," answered Meely, "how my photographs never look like—never do me justice," she amended her remark.

Again she found Aunt Rosy's little cunning eyes boring like gimlets into hers.

* * * * * * *

Meely Schwenckton seemed to herself, these days, to be ever walking in fear. Yet never in all her young life had she found existence so exhilarating, so tense with interesting suspense. It was not really fear, she decided, only a thrilling apprehension that hung over her every minute of the day and night; an apprehension which even if realized could not really bring harm to her, only awkward embarrassment.

"But somebody else would feel more awkward and embarrassed!" she smiled to herself.

However, this apprehension, following her carelessness, was a bit nerve-racking; and the startling knowledge just acquired that Marvin Creighton (her "Steady Date's" brother!) stood over her as the school superintendent and was therefore bound to make her acquaintance very soon, greatly augmented her sense of the danger of her situation—a situation brought about less by her own plotting than by a succession of fortuitous and unforseen circumstances. Never would she have had either the audacity or the ingenuity to have arranged such an extraordinary chain of circumstances.

"Up to now, I've always held fiction to be stranger than truth—but never again! If I were a novelist I'd never have the cheek to make up such a lurid and improbable yarn as I'm living!" she amazedly told herself. "If I offered it to the movies I'm sure they'd consider it too true to life to be convincing."

If either of the Creighton brothers should ever see her in the other's company! Or if St. Croix discovered she was the district teacher, instead of the ignorant cow she feigned to be! Or if any of the Schwenckton family discovered her meeting with St. Croix or any of the other things about her which they were congenitally incapable of suspecting!

It was just three days after her first rendezvous with St. Croix that one afternoon at a quarter past four, school having been dismissed and her plain tailored school dress having been changed right here in her empty schoolroom for the fancy, cheap finery in which she always disguised herself to meet her "Date," that she came out of the schoolhouse and after locking the door and hiding the key under a stone, glanced cautiously up and down the road before starting for the distant hilltop where St. Croix would be waiting for her. For she intended again today to keep him waiting.

Last Monday she really had been at their meeting place long ahead of the appointed time and, having been curious as to how he would treat her tardiness, she had, on his appearing in the distance, hidden in a clump of bushes and watched him; his restless impatience, the eager light in his eyes when once he thought he heard her coming; and then his childish maneuvers to deceive her—his descending the hill, skirting the base and climbing up again on the other side in all that mud! How she had enjoyed herself watching him!

Evidently Marvin was not such an ass as St. Croix. "From all accounts he sounds like the Noble Army of Martyrs Praise Thee! Which is worse, I wonder—to be a bounder or to be so uncomfortably noble?" It certainly did sound uncomfortably noble to be willing to live at Absalom Puntz' when you could live in the much more comfortable home of the Creightons.

For Aunt Rosy's investigations had proven Mr. Schwenckton's surmise correct—Marvin Creighton was boarding, for the time being, at Absalom's cottage on the Schwencktons' farm, which fact added considerably to Meely's uneasy apprehensions.

As she strolled on her way to her meeting with St. Croix, in the lovely October sunlight, she wondered whether she should amuse herself with "luring" Marvin as she was "working" St. Croix (for other reasons than her amusement). Marvin might not be such easy game; they said he despised girls—

"Probably he's afraid of them! Or he doesn't know any nice ones of the Noble-Army-of-Martyrs style. Could I work the noble stunt, I wonder? Risky! Might get my two roles mixed up! Better keep off Marvin!"

It was just as she came to this conclusion that suddenly, with a jump of her heart, she saw him emerge from a lane on the road ahead of her and, turning in her direction, come straight toward her on the highway in a long swinging stride. She recognized him by that stride, for she had seen him that morning going across the Schwenckton's orchard to Absalom's cottage. That strong, free gait of his would have arrested attention anywhere. How different from St. Croix' dapple prancing.

Suddenly she realized that she dared not let him recognize her in this ridiculously festive frock she was wearing, for as he was bound to meet her soon in her school room dressed in her own character, the contrast would make him suspicious. But how to elude him? The highway offered no escape. She wore no hat that she could pull down over her face. And he was almost up with her!

In desperation, as they were about to pass, she raised both her arms to fuss at her hair and thus conceal her face.

But through the crook of her left arm she saw that she might have spared herself the trouble, for he never so much as glanced at her; apparently so engrossed in his own thoughts that he remained quite unaware of the passing of a pretty girl!

"Well!" she breathed in mingled surprise and pique, for she was used to young men's looking at her as they passed. "Never batted an eyelash at me!"

She had caught a glimpse of his face and the rest of her walk to the hilltop seemed all too short for the interesting reflections aroused thereby. For she had perceived the remarkable fact that Marvin and St. Croix Creighton looked extremely alike, yet totally unlike; alike in feature and coloring and unlike in countenance. St. Croix' smugness was here replaced by a rather wistful melancholy; St. Croix' cynicism by an expression of grave kindliness; St. Croix' scornful pride by a look of genial humor; St. Croix' keenness by a reflective, inquiring expression touched by bewilderment. Of course all this was not revealed in a passing glimpse. But a great deal of it unfolded to her consciousness as, while she walked, she continued to gaze on the mental image she had caught, of a face so arresting as to make that of his brother, whom she was going to meet, seem by comparison insignificant.

So absorbed had she been, as she loitered along, that she forgot all about St. Croix' annoyance if he were kept waiting for her. So that, when turning a curve in the path up the hill, she suddenly saw him standing there above her, looking coldly offended at her tardiness, it brought her up with a sharp start. The expression of his face made her feel more like turning tail and going back than going on to the top.

"Just imagine," she thought as she toiled up the rest of the slope, "being married to such a disposition!—to a man who'd take it out of you so whenever things didn't suit him exactly!"

She smiled inwardly as she thought that if she were a girl whom he wanted to marry, he would surely never so reveal himself to her.

"He'd surely have the sense to hide, not flaunt, his selfishness and egotism and show me a better side of himself; for of course he must have a better side." Probably with his own class of people, his own family, he was quite different; she had surmised from things he had unconsciously betrayed that he adored his mother and would die before he would hurt her! that he greatly honored his father; and that though he almost hated his elder brother, he respected him.

"So you're actually here, are you!" he ironically greeted her as she stood before him, looking like Magdalene, the Penitent.

"Oh, but, Mr. Creighton," she pleaded, "my step-mom's so bad, she can't set and she can't lay! This here wasn't no gay-low day for me, now mind I'm tellin' you, with Susie so poorly and all! I near broke my neck gettin' here!"

"I suppose you mean gala day? Don't, my child, use words you're not sure of. Well," he added, grinning appreciatively, "if Susie can't even cackle, maybe she'll soon be croaking."

She did not laugh this time, but gazed at him blankly. "And I was up so late last night," she continued her excuses, "that I was near too tired to come this here three miles this after."

"You poor child! You mean you were sitting up with your sick stepmother?"

"No. Widower Holzapple he's settin' up with me Thursdays."

"What? Holzapple? Who's he?"

"Ach, such a old man, as old as Pop yet, with three full-growed childern. Pop's awful pleased, for Hi Holzapple he's well fixed and owns his own place clear. But, you see," said Meely in an injured tone, her eyes anxious, "he never says straight out he wants to marry me, he just insinyates that way. He'll set for an hour without passin' a remark—just set—and me tryin' to keep awake. And then all of a suddint he'll shoot off a remark—'My children says, now Pop'll never be lonesome no more.' Or if he sees my head noddin', I'm that sleepy, he'll wake me with the remark, 'Charlie will give us a weddin' dinner over at his place.' But, you see, Mr. Creighton," she complained, "it never leads up to nothin'! He never gets furder'n insin-yations. He never yet held my hand oncet nor even tol' me my eyes were pretty."

"But how could you marry an old man with grown children?" asked St. Croix disgustedly, taking his usual seat on the broad, flat stone and motioning her to hers a few feet away.

"Look here, you're not seriously thinking of marrying that old man—what's his name? Holzapple? Are you?" he demanded.

"I gotta marry somebody. What difference is it?—seein' I can't marry the one I like!" she mourned.

He hastened to divert her from this dangerous snag. "Come here to me."

She obeyed him eagerly.

"See what I've brought you." He produced two packages from behind the stone.

With childish excitement and a touch of Pennsylvania Dutch acquisitiveness, she opened the box of a dozen ornate handkerchiefs (so ornate she had to check a laugh at sight of them; he had evidently judged her taste from her blue volle frock trimmed with artificial flowers; she would keep one for a souvenir and give the rest to Lizzie—how Lizzie would adore them!) [illegible] her pleasure in his other offering, a five-pound box of candied fruit, was not assumed.

"I'll hide 'em good away," she said slyly. "I'd like to leave 'em all taste 'em, at home, but it would look suspicious!"

"I want a reward!" he said.

She drew back a bit; but he suddenly snatched her face firmly between his two hands and brought his lips to hers—almost. With a wrench of her head she averted the contact, and his touch, as usual, met only her cool cheek instead of her rosy mouth.

"You always kiss me so onexpected!" she said breathlessly, looking flushed and almost frightened. "I wisht you wouldn't always get me so onexpected!"

"Meely!" He took hold of her shoulders and turned her right about face. "You're going to hold perfectly still and let me kiss you right—on—your—lips!"

She tried to pull herself free, but he held her in a relentless grip. "Hold still!"

"I won't!" she snapped, holding her face averted. "Le' me be! Please le' me be, Mr. Creighton!"

"Meely! Why don't you ever let me kiss you on the mouth?"

She hung her head and answered

She Hung Her Head and Answered Shyly, "My Lips Is for the Man I Marry!"

shyly, "My lips is for the man I marry!"

"But, Meely, my girl, you must know," he said in a low voice in which suppressed passion quivered, "that I want much more than your lips! Or why, my dear, would I be spending so much time with you?"

"Ach!" She raised a radiant, sparkling face to his. "Do you want to marry me, Mr. Creighton?"

His hands fell from her shoulders; he turned from her and bent his eyes to the ground.

"Ach," she apologized humbly, "that time I guess I went too far! But, Mr. Creighton, what is it, then, you want?"

He turned again and looked at her. "Meely! I'm d—d if I know whether you're as innocent and ignorant as an angel or as deep as hell.

"You and I both know, my dear little girl, that we're not spending all these hours together, week after week, for the pleasure of each other's conversation!"

She shook her head hopelessly. "It's always wondered me why you want to set 'round talkin' to a dumb thing like me, so oneducated as what I am, and ignorant like you say angels is—"

"Why do you pretend not to know why it is?" His voice was a little thick and husky; his hand hot which clasped her cool one lying in her lap.

The innocence of a new-born babe was in the eyes she raised to his. "Deedn't I don't. Why do you?" But before the burning hunger of his eyes she recoiled; and drawing her hand from his clasp, she rose hastily and walked away.

"Meely!" he called.

Slowly she turned and came back to him; and with a childishly obvious effort to divert his attention from herself, she spoke to him ingratiatingly of what she felt sure would have that effect. "Ach, Mr. Creighton, did you know your brother is livin' right on our farm, with our hard man and his wife?"

"With your hired man!" St. Croix exclaimed, an angry flush covering his face and neck. "Living with him! He would!" he added bitterly. "That's the sort of society he seems to prefer—farm hands and miners!"

"And you, too," said Meely, with her ingratiating smile, "like low-down comp'ny—ain't? It must run in your fambly."

"If you're referring to yourself as 'low-down,' kindly don't do it again—it's insulting to my taste!" He drew her roughly to him and she nestled into his embrace.

"Please tell me," she coaxed, "abo t your brother. He ain't the swell gen'leman you are, is he?"

"He doesn't know you, does he?"

"Not yet."

"But," said St. Croix anxiously, "he's bound to meet you, of course?"

"I guess mebby."

"Don't give us away—our meeting up here!"

"Ach, no, for my Pop would kill me if he knowed—have knew. But it does wonder me, Mr. Creighton, that your brother would board at Absalom Puntz', as common as what they are yet! My land's sake alive! Why does he do it? Why don't he live at his own home with you?"

"None of your business, my dear!"

She pouted. "I'll get it out of Absalom's missus, then. Or I'll meet up with your brother hisself at Absalom's and get it out of him."

"Oh, no, you won't ask him!" St. Croix shrugged. "People don't ask my brother Marvin impertinent questions!"

"Is he so proud, too, like you?"

"His pride," St. Croix sneered, "takes another form than that of the rest of the family! His 'pride' won't let him live, he says, on the 'charity of miners'!—won't let him take more than six per cent interest on our invested capital!—insisting that all the rest should be turned over to the miners and to the upkeep and safeguarding of the industry! Talks d—d rot like that! Bolshevism! That's what it is! D—d Bolshevism!"

"Is it? Why, I didn't know Bolshevism was so nice and kind and generous like that! I thought they was a lot of cut-throats, them Bolshevists."

"So they are! The poor cutting the throats of the rich to make themselves rich!"

"But your brother ain't poor."

"He and all of us would be if we ran the mines as he thinks they should be run! If he ever does come into his share of the mines he'll ruin the whole business, his share and mine, too, d—n him! Oh, don't let's talk of him! My father and I see red at the sound of his name!"

"And your mother, too?"

"He's breaking her heart!" St. Croix said with sincere feeling. "Disgracing the family by living with common laborers! Turning school-teacher! Making us the talk of the whole state! It's almost killing my mother!"

"But," Meely protested, puzzled, "I can't see he's doin' anything bad! It's just that he wants to act kinder to other ones than any of yous wants to."

"It's his quarreling with my father and leaving home that hurts mother so, and makes her suffer!"

"Why's he so different to what yous all are? Why ain't he greedy, too, to hog all for hisself?" she sweetly asked.

"We're not 'hogging all' for ourselves! Do you know what we pay annually to the people who work for us?" He named a hugely impressive sum. "And you talk about 'hogging all' for ourselves!"

"But why does your brother talk that way, then, if it ain't? What makes him different to yous?" she persisted.

"Oh, from the time he was a kid he's argued with my father about the management of the mines and the way the miners' families have been housed and paid. And at times of strikes he'd howl 'round at sight of the women and children looking starved. And just recently, when a miner who'd worked for us for twenty years was killed and his widow and children had to vacate their cottage, Marvin raised h—l! Wanted her pensioned; wanted father to give her the house she'd lived in for twenty years; wanted him to educate her children—all sorts of things that would have established the worst sort of precedent." St. Croix paused, realizing he was using words beyond her range.

But she answered, "Do you call the Golden Rule in business the worst sort of—"

She, in her turn, stopped short—and hastily changed the subject. "But I guess your brother'll soon have to find another boarding house, for Absalom's soon moving to town. So, then, when Absalom moves, mebby the new farm hand Pop hars won't take your brother to board. And mebby," said Meely suddenly, "my Pop might take him! Say, wouldn't that be a scream, Mr. Creighton?"

(Continued Next Week)

READ THE ADS!

LOCAL NEWS

John Anderson went to Mason City, last Wednesday where he spent Thanksgiving with Lloyd Skovlin and family and became acquainted with his new grandson. He returned Monday.

Stan and Minor Morse, of Spooner, Wis., came last Tuesday to spend Thanksgiving with their mother, Mrs. R. C. Morse, and other relatives.

Ben Blake has been quite ill the past week with an attack of appendicitis.

Miss Ruth Bond, of New Salem, S. D., has been a guest the past week at the W. H. Wolle home. Miss Bond was a resident of Belmond some years ago, and now resides with her sister, Elizabeth (Mrs. John Rule), at New Salem.

Mrs. M. E. Hanson, Mrs. J. Shurson, Mrs. O. T. Jacobson and Rev. B. Guldseth attended the Lutheran Sunday School Institute held at Ft. Dodge last Saturday.

Rev. B. Guldseth motored to Northwood Tuesday morning to attend the Iowa District Pastoral Conference of the Norwegian Lutheran church. He was accompanied by Andrew Scott of Norway township.

Mrs. Fred A. Meske of Akron, Iowa. spent several days last week, with her daughter, Mrs. Arthur G. Langholz.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Manville from Iowa City and Miss Jessie Wallace of Cedar Falls were Sunday visitors at the home of Miss Wallace's mother, Mrs. J. E. Wallace.

Chas. Johnson of Eagle Grove spent a few days last week with Belmond relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kramer of Dexter, Minn., and Mrs. Floyd Lewis and son of Tracy, Minn., were week end guests at the Mrs. Val Griesy home. Mr. Kramer is a brother and Mrs. Lewis a daughter of Mrs. Griesy.

The Luther League of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church enjoyed a social meeting at the church basement Friday evening. Messrs. Clarence Hoppel and William Rabe served lunch. On Sunday eve the League held an interesting educational meeting, with several hymns, a reading, a discussion on Lutheran Consciousness, and a piano solo.

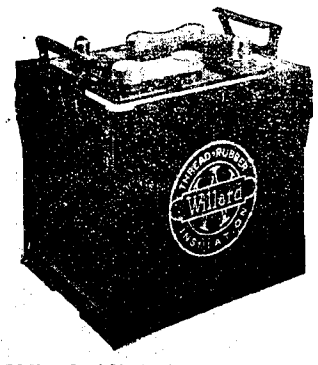
Read "Incidents and Co-incidence" by Ellen Harrison (Lydia Whited). For sale at Mrs. Curtis' Flower Shop. 1c

BASKET SOCIAL

Thursday, Dec. 1, 1 mile north and 8 miles east of Belmond. Program. Ladies please bring baskets.
Ida Steenblock, Teacher

BASKET SOCIAL

And program at school District No. 4, Belmond township, Friday evening, Dec. 2, at 8 o'clock. One mile north and five miles west of Belmond. Everyone invited. Ladies please bring baskets.
Helen Hildebrand, Teacher.



Willard All Rubber batteries with Thead-Rubber insulation means many months of extra service

They are, by far, the lowest cost battery money can buy. Thead-Rubber insulation is found only in Willard batteries. We have them in stock of course. All types for all cars.

Belmond Storage Battery Company
Thru Service We Grow!
Phone 46 Official 2417

Harry Webb and mother went to Liberty church, Sunday, where Harry is assisting in revival meetings.

Miss Alpha Johnson who is doing student teaching at Mason City, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Johnson.

Miss Sylvia Chapman who attends business college at Des Moines, came Wednesday, and spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Chapman.

Karl King and family of Ft. Dodge wer Thanksgiving guests at the Andrew Bullis home.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Smith and family of Worthington, Minn., spent several days last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith.

Edus Johnson and family, and Miss Clara Johnson of Iowa Falls, and the Albin Johnson family of Hampton were Sunday guests at the Gus Johnson home.

Harry Major and family of Mason City were Sunday visitors with Belmond relatives. Mrs. Major was formerly Maud Bullis.

Miss Marjorie Williams, who teaches at Monticello, spent Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hill were Saturday guests with the W. A. Dittmer family, at Fort Dodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Hadley spent Sunday with relatives and friends at LaPorte City.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Tuffree were guests last Thursday of Mason City relatives. Friday they visited relatives at Marshalltown.

Orders for Home Baked Cake and Pies taken any time. Phone 206. 32

Martin Nissen and family of Garner spent Sunday with his brothers, Gus and Con, and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Elder and children, and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Thompson spent Thanksgiving at the Spooner home in Storm Lake. Mrs. Spooner is a daughter of the Thompson's.

Mrs. C. B. Johnson has been quite ill the past week.

Glasses fitted.—A. H. Berger, Specialist, Clarion, Iowa. 528c

Miss Marjorie Stevens was a Thanksgiving guest of her grandmother, at Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scott entertained some 20 relatives at Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stadtlander and three younger children were Sunday guests at the Bert Stadtlander home near Latimer. Other guests there that day were Mr. and Mrs. Jake Dorenkamp, Jr., and daughter, of Goodell, Mr. and Mrs. Ruebendolf of Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Hughie Sharp and three children of Belmond.

Rev. and Mrs. Arthur G. Langholz and Mrs. Fred A. Meske spent Thanksgiving afternoon with Rev. Gillman and family of Renwick.

Dr. and Mrs. P. V. Ketchum of Cambridge, and Mrs. Sid Martin and children of Carrol were Thanksgiving day guests at the A. E. and A. W. Martin homes.

NOTICE

The undersigned will not be responsible for any debts contracted by anyone but ourselves.
22* Moe & Nelson.

FREE! FREE!

Are you burning too much coal? Find out how you can avoid it. Put a stop to those costly repair bills! Get a dollar's worth of value out of every dollar's worth of fuel.

We will inspect your furnaces and give estimates and advice free of charge during the week of Dec. 5 to 10 inclusive. Leave your orders with Johnson & Wright.

S. G. THOMPSON
H. S. THOMPSON
Heating Engineers
Clarion, Iowa

BELMOND MARKETS
(Subject to change.)

Hens	16c
Springs	17c
Roosters	08c
Ducks	15c
Geese	12c
Eggs	36c
Butterfat	45c
Creamery butter	50c
Oats	41c
New corn	60c
Barley	65c

Mrs. A. E. Chamberlin was hostess to the Delphian club, Monday evening of this week.

Miss Helen Johnson of Cedar Rapids, and Miss Magdalene Johnson of Belwein, returned Sunday to their school work, after spending the Thanksgiving vacation at home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ramsay, and Miss Ruth Ramsay, drove to Des Moines Friday to visit relatives. They returned home Sunday.

Poultry Wanted

We will call to buy your poultry and will pay you the highest market price. Poultry weighed and paid for at your place. Just call Geo. Coburn, Cornelia. Clarion phone 61-31. Belmond phone 3817. 47tf

SALE DATES CLAIMED

DEC. 2—Roy A. Henderson, Trustee, bankruptcy sale of farm equipment

DEC. 8—Geo. Dippel, closing out farm sale.

DEC. 10—M. D. Camper, 8½ miles east of Belmond. Closing out farm sale.

DEC. 14—Clarence Scott. Closing out farm sale.

DEC. 15—Sampson Stock Farm closing out farm sale. Also H. G. Guernsey herd.

DEC. 22—Reg. Houghton, 2 miles west, ½ mile south of Goodell. Closing out farm sale.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

We have the usual services next Sunday, and at the usual hours. We have but three Sundays of meeting together in church life until we come to a Sunday which should be especially deep in meaning for us, a Sunday which is also a Christmas day. The call of the church should be especially strong for us at this time of the year.

This Thursday afternoon there is the joint missionary meeting. Resolve to attend this meeting.

HAVE YOU TRIED OUR OYSTER STEWS?

If not, let us serve you one and see if you do not say it is the best you ever had. We use only fresh oysters, rich milk and creamery butter for flavoring, and your stew is served to you hot. Plenty of crackers, too. Try one!

Remember our Special Sunday chicken dinners.

MEALS LUNCHES
SHORT ORDERS
ICE CREAM CANDY
CIGARS TOBACCO

Look for the Red Light!

RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

CITY MARKET'S SPECIALS!

Friday - Saturday
DECEMBER 2 and 3

SPARE RIBS per lb. ____ 18c
PORK ROAST, per lb. ____ 22c
LINK SAUSAGE, per lb. ____ 22c

Watch for Our Specials Every Week!

Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning

City Meat Market
Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207. Belmond, Iowa

WANT ADS

FOR SALE — White Wyandotte Pullets, $1.25 each.—Mrs. Harm Braner. Phone 2804. 32c

FOR SALE—Choice Single Comb Rhode Island Red cockerels, $1.75 and $1.50.—Mrs. Lee Reed, Alexander. Phone 8908. 1c

FOR SALE—White Rock Pullets, $1 each.—Mrs. Martha Loats, phone 2305. 1c

FOR SALE—Pure bred White Leghorn cockerels. Phone 158.

FOR SALE—Large white Pekin ducks, $1.50. Drakes $2.00.—Geo. Thompson, 3 miles west of Goodell. Phone Goodell 1103. 1*

FOR SALE—Large type Poland China boar pigs. Guaranteed breeders. $30.—Jacob Nissen, Meservey. 3tf

FOR SALE—Two Ford trucks with Warford transmission, also 4 33x5 tires. Also have 2 Warford transmissions for sale.—Moe & Nelson. 22*

FOR SALE—Frame chicken house, 12x14. Also 2 Portland cutters. Inquire at Independent. 2tf

FOR SALE—Ben Davis apples. $2.50 per basket.—Ben J. Daniels, 1 block north and 1 block east of schoolhouse. 1*

FOR SALE—Duroc Jersey Boars, good cholera immune pedigreed pigs at farmers' prices.—H. L. Ziska, 8½ miles west of Belmond. 33*

FOR SALE—Big, husky spring boars. New blood for old customers. Cholera immune. Satisfaction guaranteed. Prices $30 and $35 for quick sale.—Roy Jenison. 51tf

FOR SALE—Large white Leghorn cockerels, $1. Black and Spotted Poland boars, 200 lbs. $30, if taken at once. Ten head cows and heifers to freshen soon. All good stuff.—P. H. Pals, Meservey. 51tf

FOR SALE—Silver Laced Wyandotte and Buff Orpington cockerels. $1.50 each.—Mrs. A. P. Lonning. Phone 2606. 23c

FOR SALE—One Duroc Jersey boar, 1 year old. Colonel Pathfinder breeding. A good individual. Priced to sell.—Hilandale Stockfarm. Phone 3318. 32

FOR SALE

18x30 kitchen sink with brackets; 20x36 kitchen sink with cabinet; Red Jacket pump head with windmill attachment, 2 pump jacks; heating stove; 3x18 brass lined pump cylinder; 3½x14 brass lined pump cylinder; 1 h. p. electric motor; ¼ h. p. electric motor for washing machine; used furnace; hot water heating boiler, 1200 ft. capacity; three small gasoline engines; electric automatic soft water pump.—W. J. Pech. 32c

Fancy Work
for Christmas

We are expecting a new selection any day

Numerous articles already worked up and moderately priced

Metallic Hats
Hosiery
Corsages

The Hat Shoppe
Belmond, Iowa

A Good Idea!

WELL, the old slogan's BACK again—we saw it LAST night—"Do Your CHRISTMAS Shopping Early!" BUT so far as this store IS concerned, we're not GOING to harp on that SUBJECT this season—YOU know Christmas is COMING and you know YOU'RE going to buy SOME Christmas gifts—SO we're just going to OFFER a little suggestion THAT we know you'll THANK us for later—COME into our store RIGHT away, select any ONE of the hundreds of BEAUTIFUL and practical GIFTS you'll find here, HAVE it laid aside for YOU, then pay a small SUM on it each week—IN that way you'll GET first choice and YOU'LL never miss the MONEY—if that isn't a GOOD idea, we never HEARD of one.

P. S.—Do not put off BUYING your Pfanstiehl Radio, OR Orthophonic Victrola UNTIL a few days BEFORE Christmas. DO it now.

Herman L. Schultz

SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

FRIEND C. BRAS
Tests Eyes Fits Glasses
Service Guaranteed
SOUTH OF COURT HOUSE
CLARION, - IOWA
1-128

ROBINSONS
... STORE ...

BAKERY
GROCERY

Our oven is hot every day now. We can supply you with buns, rolls, cakes, pies, cookies, cream puffs at prices that look good.

Twenty four years ago, the 19th of December we came to Belmond, and here we have stayed. Well we are going to celebrate the occasion. So remember the date and call Monday, December 19th.

Dates, 2 lbs.	25c
Prunes, 3 lbs.	25c
Ginger snaps, 2 lbs.	25c
Fig Bars, 2 lbs.	25c
Salt Pork, dry per lb.	25c

We help you, you help us.

Lyric Theatre
...Geo. Hake, Manager...

SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS

FRIDAY and SATURDAY
DECEMBER 2 and 3

"FLYING U RANCH"

F. B. O. picture with Tom Tyler, Frankie Darro, Nora Lane, Bert Hadley, Grace Wood. The story is by B. M. Bower, and is a sequel to "Chip of the Flying U." The story of a young cattle ranger who is assigned to the Flying U Ranch to apprehend a notorious rustler.

LITTLE RUBE
Educational comedy

10c and 25c

MONDAY, TUESDAY
DECEMBER 5 and 6

"SILK STOCKINGS"

Universal production with Laura LaPlante, John Harron, Otis Harlan, Wm. Austin, Marcela Daly. The story of the delightful experiences of a young married couple who are plunged into various hilarious situations.

Fox News

Prices 10c and 25c

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY
DECEMBER 7 and 8

"NO PLACE TO GO"

First National picture. Comedy drama with Lloyd Hughes, Mary Astor, Harlan Cooley and Monte Steadman. Light society and desert island comedy, picturing Sally's and Hayden's escape from the savages, their marital quarrels and conciliation and the South Sea atmosphere.

THE FIGHTING SPIRIT
Collegian comedy

10c and 25c

Kinseth's Store News

This is about the time to be making that shopworn statement—but just as true as ever—"Shop Early!" And we might add—Shop here first! Everything you need for the Christmas dinner—or for any other meal, for that matter,—you can get here.

This week we have some good buys for you in canned goods.

Royal Anne Cherries, No. 3 cans, at 29c.
Sweet Pickles, quarts, at 29c.
Tomatoes, No. 3 cans, for 17c.

Corn Flakes, 2 pkg. for 25c.
Peaches, gallon, 59c.

Next time you order breakfast foods try our new Wheat Flakes. Premium goes with them.

Overalls, good ones, guaranteed, for $1.75. With every pair you get a pair of gloves free.

Flour at $2.20.
Salt in blocks or sacks.
Fine Blankets for $2.98.

Some strong serviceable 4-buckle overshoes at $3.98.

Remember the Store on the Corner!

Bump Grocery Specials
Friday and Saturday, Dec. 2 - 3

APPLES BLACK BEN, 1 BU.	$2.45
APPLES, ROMAN BEAUTIES, 1 BU.	$2.95
GOOD GRADE BROOM, EACH	49c
SYRUP, 1 GAL. WHITE	59c
MUSTARD, 16. OZ. GLASS	20c
TONES BULK COCOA, 1 LB.	15c
CORN FLAKES, 2 PKG	23c
OYSTER CRACKERS, NATIONAL BISCUIT CO. 2 1-4 LB.	39c
ALL BULK CRACKERS, 1 LB.	19c
PEABERRY COFFEE, FANCY NO. 1, 1 LB.	35c
ASSORTED COOKIES, 1 LB.	19c
SWEET POTATOES, 6 LB.	25c
LITTLE JAP POP CORN, 2 LB.	19c

THE BUMP GROCERY
PHONE 38 BELMOND, IOWA

BELMOND HAS IT

Belmond Independent AND HERALD-PRESS

BUY IN BELMOND

ESTABLISHED 1919 — CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 9 — BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1927. — NO. 4

Tax Sale Of Property Is Held Monday

Brisk Bidding Bring Ready Sale of Seventy-Four Plats Of Land

Ten or a dozen bidders were present Monday at the annual sale of lands and lots for the taxes due thereon. A total of seventy-four pieces were offered and the entire number bid in, in most cases for the whole amount of the property. Competition was not very keen.

The remaining cases agains E. C. Platt and Harry Wright, the Eagle Grove bankers, have been dismissed by Judge Thompson on application of the county attorney.

James Lamb of Eagle Grove plead guilty Tuesday to a bootleg charge and Judge Thompson sentenced him to three months in the county jail and to pay a fine of $300, the latter being remitted. Saturday the same defendant was fined $100 or thirty days in the county jail for the illegal possession of intoxicating liquors, of which he had sixteen half pint bottles.

A road case transferred from Franklin county has been occupying the attention of the court this week. It will be concluded today. Appellee asks $5000 damages, which is considerable more than the appraisers allowed him.

The trial of criminal cases is set for Monday of next week.

The case against the Lustig and Macken boys, who were before the grand jury for having "borrowed" an auto without the owner's consent, was by agreement, transferred to Justice Triggs' court. The lads were allowed to plead guilty to the charge of wreckless driving and were each fined $15 and costs. On the occasion of their fast driving the Eagle Grove officers secured the number of their car. A few nights later when the rightful owner, Geo. Lee, appeared in Eagle with the auto, he was taken in charge by the officers for infraction of the city ordinance relating to fast driving. It required considerable explaining before the matter was finally ironed out to the satisfaction of the police.

E. W. Shafer of Clarion was cited to appear in Justice MacEachron's court in Goldfield Saturday, where he plead guilty to the charge of petit larceny. He was fined $50 and costs, the same being remitted during good behavior. Goldfield trappers accused the defendant of taking a mink hide and three muskrats from their car, while standing on the public highway. The value of the hides, about $15, was included in the costs.

BLIZZARD STRIKES TUESDAY

Late Tuesday night a heavy blizzard struck this community bringing snow, high winds and intense cold. Heavy sleet early Wednesday morning broke down high lines and poles of the Central States Electric Co., leaving Belmond without service all day Wednesday, and with small promise of resumption of service today. Highways are blockaded with heavy drifts, and in many places impassible. Several trucks are reported in the ditches north and south of town, where they have slid off the icy roads.

MRS. HENRY SLINING PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY

Mrs. Henry Slining, age 66, died suddenly Sunday morning about 6 o'clock. While she had not been feeling well for several days her death was entirely unexpected. Her family found her early Sunday morning, death being due to heart trouble. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 at the home, burial being in the Clarion cemetery where a son and daughter are interred. An obituary will appear next week.

Mrs. Herman Schultz, who has been quite ill the past week, is reported somewhat improved at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sampson will move in the near future to Emmetsburg, where they will conduct a poultry farm and make their future home.

CHRISTMAS EDITION

The Chrismas edition of The Independent will be issued next week. The Independent would like to have every merchant and business house in Belmond represented, even if the ad is small. Let's keep this year's Holiday business at home. It is impossible to call on every firm, so if you would like to be represented in the Christmas edition, and have not been called on, phone 115 and you will be taken care of. Absolutely no advertising will be accepted after Tuesday, Dec. 6, because of lack of time. Please have your copy early! A representative will be glad to call and help you prepare copy, if you desire.

Keep the Christmas trade in Belmond this year.

EPIDEMIC OF ROBBERIES IN HANCOCK COUNTY

Hancock county has suffered from an epidemic of robberies the past few weeks which have taken tall from various towns. A few weeks ago Crystal Lake merchants came down one morning to find several stores broken into. Two weeks ago robbers entered creamery at Britt, taking away many hundreds of pounds of butter and other dairy products. A lumber yard was also entered and robbed. Last week the Klemme establishments were broken into, the Wellemeyer store, Kluckholm & Sons store, and Standard Oil service station. It is thought the thievery is being done by an organized gang. So far, no one has been apprehended for any of the crimes.

SPORRA IN AGAIN

Forest City Summit: Trial of Henry Sporra of Norway township on a charge of stealing a heifer from L. B. Stinne began Wednesday noon in district court and will probably occupy all of today. A large crowd of neighbors is on hand to hear the testimony. Another indictment also stands against Sporra for the theft of a roll of woven wire. According to present plans there will be no other jury trials at the present time.

Christmas Seals Will Be Sold By Grade Children

Half Of Funds Received To Be Used For School Health Work

The annual sale of Christmas seals, which is conducted by the school pupils, is being carried on this week. This seal sale over the state is sponsored by the Iowa Tuberculosis association. The former work of the association was to fight tuberculosis, but due to the rapid and alarming increase in heart diseases, the work has been broadened to include both tuberculosis and heart disease. In addition a regular program of health instruction is carried on by the association.

In 1907 the tuberculosis death rate in Iowa was 76 per 100,000 of population. Last year it was less than half the 1907 figure. This is one of the work made possible by Christmas seals. Iowa now has the third lowest death rate from tuberculosis. It is less than half the national average.

Heart disease causes 10 per cent of all deaths. It often begins in childhood and is quite largely preventable.

One half the proceeds from the seal sale goes to the work of the state association for its work. The other half is kept for health work in the local community. Last year this money was used in connection with the work of the school nurse, who was employed for three months.

Hard to Get Started

Many Boys Report To Try Out For Basketball Team

Coach Hall Finds Plenty Of Material Lined Up For Winter Season

With the football equipment stored away for the winter, basket ball practice has been progressing at the high school for the past ten days. A squad of twenty candidates turned out for the first practice. Of this number only two are lettermen from last years squad, Captain Henry Johnson and Leonard Johnson. The two brothers were high scorers of last years squad and will give Coach Hall a good nucleus for this year's team. Several others on the squad have had experience as reserves and second team men, and with more experience will develope into good prospects. Others who have reported to Coach Hall for practice are Clarence Peterson, Emory Galloway, Hoyt Klemme, Robert Fetrow, Gordon, Dayton and Dale Kessler, Adam Zeigler, Roland Scuhltz, Ronald Courson, Galen Hauge, Max Elder, Clarence Hoppel, Duane Brady, Vincent Barry, George McAlpine, Martial Holtzbauer and Stanley Moe.

The first game of the season will be played with Klemme meeting the local boys on the Belmond floor. Twelve games have been included in the schedule, six on the home floor and six away. Six of the twelve games are scheduled with teams in the North Iowa Conference, of which Belmond is a member. Three of these games, Forest City, Clear Lake, and Garner will be played at Belmond, and Lake Mills, Britt and Northwood will be played on their floors. In addition, an alumni game may be played if there is enough sentiment for it.

The complete schedule is as follows:

Dec. 16—Klemme here
Dec. 30—Mason City there
Jan. 6—Goldfield there
Jan. 13—Kanawha here
Jan. 18—Clear Lake here
Jan. 20—Britt there
Jan. 27—Forest City here
Feb. 3—Northwood there
Feb. 4—Lake Mills there
Feb. 10—Clarion here
Feb. 17—Eagle Grove there
Feb. 22—Garner here

MRS. LEO KERNAN DIES

Mrs. Leo Kernan passed away at 9 a. m. Sunday, at the home in Belmond, following an illness of a couple of weeks. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, from St. Francis church. An obituary will be given in the next issue.

Mrs. E. F. Bailey was called to Ackley, Saturday, by the serious illness of her grandson.

NEWS OF THE BELMOND SCHOOLS

The Home Economics girls served an oyster supper in the high school dining room at 6:15 P. M. Thursday, given in honor of the boys who were out for football this fall. Besides 21 boys and Coach Hall, there were present, Superintendent Williams, Miss Thomas, Mr. Shepherd, Dr. Nelson, Dr. Parsons and Dr. Coe. Henry Johnson was elected to captain next year's football team.

All pupils in the Latin department were entertained by those in the Vergil Class in the auditorium, Friday afternoon. The program consisted of a series of living statues from Greek and Roman originals, a dialogue, "The Schoolboy's Dream" and cartoons based on Latin mottoes. The audience joined in the singing of America in Latin, after which a Latin Club with 30 members was organized. The purpose of the club will be to promote a fuller appreciation of Roman life and literature through monthly programs given by the members. Ursuline McGuire was elected president of the club; the other officers will be elected at the January meeting.

JUNIOR HIGH NOTES

Last week the Healthy and Wealthy Club deposited $89.81 in the local banks. We are all proud of this sum and hope to do much better next time. The 8th grade saved $1.31 and the 7th grade $5.48. The 8th grade have 19 people who have perfect records of brushing their teeth twice a day and the 7th grade have 14. There was none in either grade who did not brush their teeth at all in the past week. The follow- have had their teeth examined by the dentist last week: Corinne Johnson, Gladys Baker and Helen Kelly.

Every six weeks we elect new chairmen in each Current Event class. This six weeks Rose Barry is the 8th A chairman; Margaret Butterfield the 8th B; Dorris Parsons the 7th A and Clarence

(Continued on uage 8)

H E L P !

It has always been the custom of the Community Club to do a considerable amount of charity work at Christmas, but this fall club funds are low and the club is asking for donations. More charity work than ever before is probable this year. If you wish to donate money, clothing, groceries, vegetables, canned goods and the like, please leave them with either Mrs. G. F. McBurney, Chairman, or with Mrs. R. A Rankins. Your help will be greatly appreciated.

Annual Meeting Of Farm Bureau December 19th

Complete Program Arranged For Meeting; Large Attendance Expected

Basement of Library, Clarion, Monday, Dec. 19, 1927, 1:15 P. M.

Community singing.

Meeting called to order by President.

Reading of minutes of last annual meeting.

Report of auditing committee.

Report of treasurer.

Reading of proposed articles of incorporation, constitution and by-laws of Farm Bureau.

Adoption of same.

Report of nominating committee.

Election of officers.

President's speech—State and National Work of the Organization.

Report on Poultry Work—Mrs. Fred Allen, Troy township.

Report on Swine Work—A. E. Martin, Belmond townsmp.

Report on Club Work—Lucile Tourtelotte, Grant township.

Report on Service Department, —L. W. Collins, Lincoln township.

Report on 1928 Farm Bureau—County Agent.

Nominating committee — Jack Munnis, Iowa township; Harry Woodley, Grant township; Royal Uhr, Dayton township.

Auditing committee — Matt Clark, Lake township; Hugh Zastrow, Lincoln township; Albert Thompson, Norway township.

Resolution committee — Joe Meeker, Lincoln township; Percy Badley, Troy township; Mrs. Ed Kirstein, Woolstock township; Jay Tice, Grant township.

The 1927 annual meeting will be primarily a business session. Members should be interested in knowing what has been done thru their organization and likewise interested in the plans for the future. The members of the Bureau are invited to attend the meeting and to advertise the meeting among their neighbors.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Co-operative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of Nov. 27 to Dec. 3.

of November 27 to December 8.

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
27	44	29	—	Cloudy
28	45	37	.08	Cloudy
29	49	34	—	Cloudy
30	34	14	—	Clear
1	40	8	—	Cloudy
2	10	-2	T	Cloudy
3	21	6	.27	Cloudy

The Misses Alma Johnson and Mabel Johnson, both registered nurses, left Sunday for Merced, Calif., where they will work in a hospital. They planned to visit the Grand Canyon of Arizona enroute.

LIST YOUR DATE

Farmers who expect to hold sales this winter are invited to list their date with the Independent. There is no charge for this, and it reserves the date so another farmer planning a sale will not choose the same day. Whether or not you get your advertising here, we will be glad to list your date.

BLIND NECKTIE MAN BANKRUPT

Forest City Summit: Those of our citizens who received four neckties some months ago from "Necktie Tyler" of St. Louis, a "blind man," have received notice the past week, stating that the firm had gone bankrupt. With the notice is a request for $1.25 in payment of the ties or the return of same. An adjustment bureau is handling the matter, but it is doubtful if they find much business to do.

CAFE KEEPER TRIED FOR ASSAULT AND BATTERY

Upon information sworn out by Claude Veeder, G. A. Stanzel, proprietor of the Yellow Front cafe, was arrested on a charge of assault and battery, alleged to have been committed upon the person of Veeder. The case was tried before Mayor Russell, in the city hall, last Thursday. Stanzel was found guilty and the mayor assessed a fine of $25, which Stanzel appealed to the district court.

Veeder was in the Yellow Front cafe about three o'clock a. m. Thanksgiving morning. He and Stanzel, it is said, had had some disagreement previously, and in the conversation which occured Thanksgiving morning Stanzel ordered Veeder out of the cafe. Veeder claims Stanzel secured a base ball bat from behind the counter, and struck him, breaking his arm. Atty. Henderson represented the city, Atty. Bullard appearing for the defendant.

First Meeting Of Fellowship Club Is Held Monday

Don Farran, Rowan Writer, And Howard Woole, Local Youth, Give Talks

The first meeting of the Good Fellowship club was held Monday evening. Owing to numerous other meetings that night, attendance was small, but an enjoyable time was spent by those present.

Don Farran, of Rowan, one of Iowa's most promising young authors and poets, gave a short talk, reading several selections from the "Line Book," containing choice quotations from the Chicago Tribune's department, A "Line-O-Type Or Two."

Howard Wolle, a young Belmond man who is operating engineer of the automatic telephone system in Bombay, India, favored the club with a short talk on Bombay and India.

The next meeting of the club will be next week, Thursday, December 15, when it is hoped a full representation of the members will be in attendance. At that meeting, continuation of the club will be discussed, and if favorably decided a reorganization affected.

Some forty neighbors and friends gave a surprise farewell party Saturday night for Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scott, at their farm home near Olaf. Mr. and Mrs. Scott are holding a closing out sale and will move to Wichita, Kans., where Mr. Scott plans to engage in the furnace business with Clair Snyder.

Mr. John Kallestad expects to leave for Iowa City next Thursday to undergo an operation for intestinal complications.

Mr. Trumbell and Miss Iva Trumbell left Monday to spend the winter in California.

School Operetta, "Tulip Time," To Be Given Friday

Boys' And Girls' Glee Club Will Present Musicale At Auditorium

Glee clubs of the school will present the operetta, "Tulip Time," at the auditorium, Friday, December 9. Cast of characters and synopsis is as follows:

Hans, Young Dutch Apprentice—Donald Baker
Aunt Anna, Christina' Guardian —Thelma Rikansrud
Katinka, A Village Maiden—Everill Hauge
Hendrick Van Ooster, Burgamaster of Csendorf — Randall Klemme
Christina, A Charming Dutch Girl—Lillian Larson
Theophilus McSpindle, An Authority on Botany—Clair Hill
Ned Baxter, American College Student—Richard Gowdy
Dick Warren, Fellow Student of Ned—Orland Rierson
Dutch Villagers — Margaret Leavy, Marcella Leavy, Esther Steenblock, Muriel Luick, Marvew Hanson, Leonora Olson, Lillian McNutt, Ruth Leavy, Aileen Gibbs, Mary Blake, Harriet Gowdy, Lois Trafford, Ursuline McGuire, Helen Luick, Marie Barry, Harriet Martin, Leonard Johnson, Clarence Peterson, Edward Quinlan, Walter Schleiffarth, Eugene Barry, Robert Fetrow, Arthur Rierson, Donald Buchanan.
American Students — Mildred Jacobson, Evelyn Greenwood, Alma Nelson, June Norby, June Myers, Lucile Dochterman, Irene Dorr, Pearl Veeder, Uinta Packard, Robert Smith, Dwight Boughton, Ronald Courson, Harris Johnson, Duane Brady, Merlin Dippel, Clarence Hopple, Sailors—Robert Smith, Walter Schleiffarth, Harley Hammond, Edward Quinlan, Dale Kessler, Dwight Boughton.

SYNOPSIS

The village, enjoying a holiday, is startled by the arrival of a party of American tourists, college students under the leadership of Professor McSpindle, a tutor in botany, to study tulip culture. Two of the party, Ned and Dick, are much more interested in Christina and her friend, Katinka. News reaches the village that a thief has been stealing choice bulbs of prize tulips. Ned and Dick induce McSpindle to wear certain clothing, answering the description of the tulip thief. McSpindle is arrested. With McSpindle out of the way, Ned and Dick promote their friendship with the girls, and learn that Christina's stock is, unknown to her, of immense value. They reveal the truth to her and thwart the Burgomaster's attempt to grow rich at her expense. With the assistance of Christina's Aunt Anna, the innocence of McSpindle is estalished, and the latter declares his affection for her; and with the prospect of a triple wedding the final curtain falls.

Reserved seats were placed on sale yesterday morning at the Schultz Drug Store. Early reports indicate a full house. Friday afternoon, a matinee, for school pupils will be presented at 3 o'clock. In the evening the operetta will begin at 8 o'clock, with all seats reserved.

The school orchestra will also make its first appearance during the evening.

THANKS TO THE MONITOR

This issue of The Independent is enabled to go into the mails on time. The blizzard of Tuesday night and Wednesday left Belmond entirely without electric service, poles and lines of the Central States Electric Co., being down both north and south of here. As an electric motor will not work without electricity, The Independent could not turn a wheel, and the "forms" were taken to Clarion where The Monitor set a few columns of type and this issue was printed on their press.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Avery left Monday for Long Beach, Calif., to spend the winter.

Mrs. W. H. Wolle was hostess to the Chain of Ten, Tuesday.

Belmond Independent

AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Suscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES

Display, per column inch ----25c
Locals, per line ----------10c
Classified, per word ---------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

EDITORIALS

Why all this commotion over the "companionate" marriage? Really, it isn't anything new. We have been practicing the same thing for years, only in a different way. Perhaps we do not understand just what companionate marriage is, but whatever it is, the couple are married just the same, according to our laws and customs. If the companionship wears out, they will have to separate exactly the same way we have been doing. Heretofore we have been getting married, living together, and if we could not get along, separating. What difference is there in the companionate way? Marriages have been companionate ones throughout the past. The only difference was that formerly we vowed to stick together for better or worse, but if the worst occured we didn't always stick, whereas now we vow to stick together if it is mutually agreeable, or if children enter into the union. Companion-marriage, so far as we can see, is just calling six half a dozen.

About every so often someone comes to the front in American life for whom we feel obliged to apologize. He has his little day of publicity, his place in the sun, and then fades into oblivion, unwept, unhonored and unsung. Just now the United States is afflicted with such a character in William Hale Thompson, mayor of Chicago, and self-styled savior of American ideals and principles.

The ordinarly intelligent citizen charitably puts Thompson down as a politician and lets him go at that. No one with sense believes or pays much attention to the ravings of this publicity seeker when he blares his hatred of all things English, and "discloses" the insidious propaganda of England to undermine the patriotism of the American youth thru our school histories. His war upon such "treasonable" histories, his sensational attacks upon school teachers and boards of education, his burning of school books, which do not conform with his own dictorial ideas of what the American youth should study and be taught are simply so much bunk, thrown to the winds and spread upon the pages of Chicago dailies that he may gain notoriety.

Thompson knows he is not fooling intelligent citizens; he does not expect to. He knows that Chicago is composed of many nationalities, many factions, illiterate, ignorant, unable to reason intelligently, and it is to these groups he is appealing. It is a well known fact that Thompson's plurality was amazingly near the colored population of the city. So long as he can keep this class with him, the ignorant, uneducated foreigner and negro whose vote counts for exactly as much as anyone's, Thomson will continue to ride. If he ever tries for office outside the city of Chicago, his defeat will go down in American history.

FREE AIR!

Ward Barnes of the Eagle Grove "Eagle" says his new linotype operator has a terrible job spelling names there. Ward says:

* * * *

"Our new linotype operator, Mr. Sterba, thinks that spelling in Eagle Grove is just as hard as in Iowa City. He tells us that spelling "H-o-i-e-k-v-a-m," "Tih-i-e-l-e-n-," or the three ways of spelling "C-h-r-i-s-t-e-n-sen," "C-h-r-i-s-t-e-s-o-n" and "C-h-r-i-s-t-e-n-s-o-n" are just as difficult as "Slavata," "Divisek," or "Yavorsky," which are very popular family names down around Iowa City and Cedar Rapids.

* * * *

We just have to learn how to spell the same name its various ways. The Norwegians spell Christenson with the last syllable ending in "s-o-n." The Danes and Swedes spell the last syllable "s-e-n." Col. Linsworth Knudson spells his last name "K-n-u-d-s-o-n," while Isaac Knutson prefers to spell it "K-n-u-t-s-o-n." Some of our readers finish up Erickson with an "sen." Another name we have trouble with is "Derscheid."

* * * *

We'd just like to inquire, Ward, what your operator would do if he had some of our Belmond cognomens, like Holtzbauer, Papousek, Schleiffarth, Dochtermann, Wientzes, Kienenberger, Nordschow, Pfaltzgraff, Steinlicht, Zisla, and that champion of north Iowa—Dziewanowski!

* * * *

Then up at Goodell there's Ahrenkiel, Egemo, Zielie and Schlichting, while Meservey joins in with Hiemstra, Janssen, Kochler, Messelheiser, Ostendorf, Raecker, and a champion to Dziewanowski—Unverferth!

* * * *

Likewise Alexander comes in with Mulenbrock, Pletsch, and Rasmussen.

* * * *

And don't forget Rowan either, with Wehrsze as a sample.

* * * *

But if you want plenty of grief, Ward, come over here and try to keep our Pals separated! There's 25 of 'em in the telephone book; every Pals in the country subscribes for the Independent; and they all have just about the same initials! There's Hans, and Henry, and Hannas, and Hilko, and Harm, and Hero, and Hajo, besides half a dozen John's and a quantity of L's.

* * * *

Then there's the Smiths, the the Schmits, and the Schmidths!

Your operator, Ward, has a cinch, but we sure feel sorry for ours.

* * * *

Joe Scott brought us the pheasants he promised, last week, only they were ducks, wild ones. They were pretty tame, however, after we got thru with them. Joe is acquiring quite a reputation as a hunter—didn't he get four geese at one time this fall?

* * * *

Seems like we read it in the Des Moines Register.

* * * *

In the ball game at the city hall last Thursday, the northside defeated the southside 1 to 0. It looked like it might be a hard game, but Fan-em-out Henderson, pitching for the northsiders, was going good, and had plenty of stuff, while Soak-em-hard Russell, on the receiving end, never muffed a one.

* * * *

The southside was depending largely upon the stickwork of Home-run-Stanzel, who up to that time had a batting average of one thousand. Stanzel, however, went out on three straight strikes, and the battle went to the north side.

* * * *

Stanzel put up a holler, claiming all three pitches were balls, wide of the plate, and appealed the ump's decision.

* * * *

The attendance was heavy, nearly every seat being occupied, while hundreds had to depend upon the broadcasting for reports.

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

FRIEND C. BRAS
Tests Eyes Fits Glasses
Service Guaranteed
SOUTH OF COURT HOUSE
CLARION, - IOWA
1-128

-:- Belmond Church Notes -:-

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN CHURCH
Arthur G. Langholz, Pastor

Thursday, December 8, the Ladies Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Kiplinger.

Saturday, December 10. The Sunday School will meet at the church to practice the Christmas program at 1:30 P. M. All children are requested to be present.

3rd Sunday in Advent

Sunday School ta 9:45. Senior lesson, "Isaiah Counsels Rulers." We are glad to note the interest shown in this class and invite others to join with us.

Services at 10:45 A. M. in the English language. "The Ministers of the Gospel."

METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. J. T. Snyder, Pastor

Services as follows for the Lords Day, December 11—

Sunday School at 10 A. M. The school hour is a vital contributer to the formative period of life. Christian education is essential. Are you attending one of our schools?

Divine worship and sermon at 11 A. M.

Epworth League at 6:30. Ruth Ramsay, leader. We are having very worth while hours in our League.

Evening worship and gospel message at 7:30.

You are cordially invited to all of our services.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

Next Sunday, as usual, we come together in His name and for his cause. The hour of our Sunday school is 10 o'clock, with morning worship right after, at 11:00 o'clock. Young people's meeting in the evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Ladies' aid sciety meets this Thursday afternoon for the regular monthly meeting, the meeting to be in the church building.

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Our evangelistic meetings which began yesterday will continue throughout this week as announced in last week's announcements. At these meetings we wish to stress the one thing needful in life, and we hope many will find time to meet with us in our meditation upon the Word of God. These meetings are conducted by Evangelist E. Scotvold of Minneapolis.

Monday, December 12—The catechetical class A will meet immediately after school.

Tuesday, December 13—The Dorcas society will meet in the church parlors at 8:00 p. m. This will be the annual business meeting of the society, and we expect to have all members present. Bring your prospective members and your friends with you.

Wednesday, December 14—The Cathechetical Class B will meet immediately after school.

Friday, December 16—The finance committee will meet at the parsonage at 7:30 p. m.

ST. OLAF CHURCH

Read announcement of evangelistic meetings for Trinity congregation, and as many as can must try to attend these meetings.

Services for next Sunday will be definitely announced at our meetings at Belmnd.

Friday, December 16—The south ladies' aid will meet with Mrs. Otis Tendall at 2:00 p. m.

NOVEMBER WEATHER

(A summary by H. F. Luick, government co-operative weather observer, of Belmond.)

When all has been said, November treated us fine when it comes to weather. The average temperature for the month was 34.3 degrees just above freezing, which is practically the normal temperature for this month. The average of the highest temperatures which we usually find about 2 P. M. each day, was 42.8 while the average of the lowest points of temperature for each day, occuring generally before sunrise, when the roosters begin their crowing, was 25.8 degrees. The month as a whole offered some very fine days, the hottest of which reached 64 degrees on the 11th—just right temperature to work comfortably with a coat on. No zero weather prevailed during the month, the lowest point being 5 above on the 18th. (Three Novembers in past 17 have offered sub-zero weather some time during month.) The range between the highest and the lowest any one day was 35 degrees, just about an average for most years.

While there were recorded 9 days which in the catalogue of the weather-man would be termed "rainy" yet the sum total of precipitation was only .76 inches, about half normal for November. The month was a little unusual, however, in that there were 21 cloudy days, with only 4 when the sun shone full and clear. The rest were more or less cloudy. This eclipses the record for number of cloudy days. The weather-man says that he measured 2 inches of snow altogether for the month. None remained at the end of the month, most of it melting shortly after it fell. In the past 17 years of recorded data, it shows that twice we had only a trace of snow in November—in 1914 and 1922. But the charts also show that there has fallen during this month as much as 9.2 inches—in 1919. That year was unusual too, because of the fact that it thundered that year on the 18th.

Over half the month, the wind blew from the northwest. These winds sometimes bring plenty of cold and snow but this past month there was not enough to even start the Iowa-Californians to their winter haunts.

The 30th of the month found considerable corn yet to be picked but this does not seem unusual judging from the records of the past year. Those who remember well the conditions a year ago say that fully one-third of the corn was yet to be picked in December.

Taken altogether Iowa people surely had reason to be thankful this past Thanksgiving day for we have not been visited by any great storms and the crops have been good. We can soon take our places by the kitchen range with our feet near the oven and then and there resolve that after all, Iowa is a pretty good place in which to live.

The Weather Man.

HAVE YOU TRIED OUR
OYSTER STEWS?
If not, let us serve you one and see if you do not say it is the best you ever had. We use only fresh oysters, rich milk and creamery butter for flavoring, and your stew is served to you hot. Plenty of crackers, too. Try one!

Remember our Special Sunday chicken dinners.

MEALS LUNCHES
SHORT ORDERS
ICE CREAM CANDY
CIGARS TOBACCO

Look for the Red Light!
RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

There was a good crowd out to hear the speech on Red Cross work last Tuesday by Mr. John Hammill of Britt.

Mrs. A. W. Martin and her sister, Miss Ida Anderson, left Monday evening for Roswell, New Mexico, where Miss Anderson will spend the winter.

Postmaster Morse has been off duty the past few days on account of a badly sprained wrist.

Cap. Tyrrell while in Belmond last week issued a challenge to some of the farmers of this vicinity. He admitted the high quality of Iowa hogs but stated that he had 500 head down in Texas on his rice fields that he would back to outrun any 500 head in Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Wolcott visited relatives at Fort Dodge last week.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

C. J. Boughton and wife spent Thanksgiving at the home of their son in Clarion.

Belmond won the football game! Score being Belmond 5, Clarion 0.

Mrs. C. S. Smock, of Dubuque, arrived last Saturday and Mr. and Mrs. Smock will at once go to housekeeping in the A. B. Thompson house.

J. C. Butterfield and wife left for California, Wednesday. Miss Rose Wallace accompanied them.

Mrs. Lena Thompson and children of Ackley are visiting Mrs. Dunn.

E. P. Ripley transacted business at Clarion Tuesday.

Miss Cloe McGuire returned from Cedar Falls Thursday. She has been selected to fill the vacancy in the school caused by the resignation of Miss Rose Wallace.

Case and Snyder's new bus arrived Tuesday and it is a beauty. With four or five buses in town there is no excuse for a man to walk unless his health demands it.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

The following were in business 51 years ago and advertised in the Belmond Herald: Hubbard and Cuppett, Hardware; Bruns & Purdy, machinery; John F. Kent, machinery; J. E. Rowen, sewing machines; L. M. Langstaff, groceries; R. M. Cameron, land agent; U. I. Bruns, Insurance; J. T. Haight, real estate; C. E. Haight, furniture; Howland & Pritchard, dry goods and groceries; L. B. Clark, furniture; G. W. Cram, carpenter; J. P. Byers, harness shop; S. D. Pierce, village lots; R. K. Daily, wagon shop; Brewsaugh & Stacy, blacksmiths; W. H. Mitchell, drugs; A. R. Sargent, restaurant; Miss Emma Dalum, millinery; J. J. McAlpine, drug store; L. B. Clark & Co., bankers; J. B. Kern, dry goods and notions; John Elder, millwright and mill builder; Henry F. Ritter, house, sign and carriage painter, L. E. Metcalf, architect, builder; N. M. Wolcott, mason work; Hotel—Belmond House, U. I. Bruns, prop.; Physicians—John C. Morris, G. B. Galer; attorneys—J. T. Haight, John L. Morse, Z. C. Zradshaw, W. E. Eskridge; Mrs. J. C. Macomber, music teacher.

SHOPPING AID

The shopping trip is robbed of its exhaustion if one if well prepared beforehand. It is a good practice to write down and put into your purse the description of anything you need when on the next trip down town. Thus you will not have to hunt up tape measure and run upstairs to measure the curtains; or hunt up a dress and figure out how much lace, at the last minute; or get the scissors and cut off a sample of goods to match, while the car is waiting for you at the door. Before you start to get ready, put down and classify your list. Make a note of what you want and at what store and at what counter, then while you have the clerk you can go through your list and not have to retrace your steps or wait a second time for a clerk.

SMILES

A minister was so busy that he sometimes had to hurry from one appointment to another without having time to give himself preparation. Once he found himself in the pulpit to preach a funeral sermon, but he had neglected to find out the sex of the deceased. Reaching over to a mourner, he whispered, "Is is your brother or sister?" The mourner replied, "It's my cousin."

A legislator who wanted to pretend he remembered their name and faces got around it this way: Seizing their hands warmly he would look smilingly into their eyes and inquire, "And how is the old complaint?" It never failed.

CRANBERRIES

Do not cook cranberries too long, or they will be bitter. For one quart of berries, add one cup of water and two of sugar and cook until the skins break—about ten minutes.

Hoe out all weeds for three feet around the trunks of young fruit trees to help keep field mice from girding the trees this winter.

Ames Abe Says:

The heathen are those folks who have religions different from ours.

ATWATER KENT RADIO

Let the owner tell you

"My Atwater Kent Radio never goes wrong," he says.

"I snap the switch, I turn the One Dial, I go from station to station, until my kind of program comes in. I'm fixed for the evening. I know my set won't fail me. That's why I'm an Atwater Kent fan. And I didn't pay a fancy price."

More than a million families agreed before the end of 1926. Another million are discovering it NOW. That's why the 1928 prices are so low. Credit modern manufacturing methods with making thoroughbred radio inexpensive.

Never mind all talk about technical details. Everybody knows Atwater Kent Radio is right. What you want is fun—enjoyment—always—without fail.

Belmond Storage Battery Co.
Phone 46 J. W. Scott, Prop.

Fourteen Shopping Days before Christmas

We are proud of the stock of merchandise that we have to show you

---a Practical Gift for every member of your family!

Many thoughtful buyers have already selected the following articles which we have tagged and set aside for Christmas delivery. There may be a suggestion for you in this list:

Magazine Racks End Table
Child's Desk and Chair
Mohair Parlor Set
Smoker Set with Humidor
Ladies Vanity and Bench
Upholstered Rocker
Oil Painting on Canvas
"New Home" Sewing Machine
Complete Bed Room Outfit
Tilt-top Table, unfinished
Book Rack, unfinished
Ladies Over-night Suit Case
One Klar-O-Dyne Radio
Bridge Lamp
Rug

These gifts will help to make some homes happy. Will your home come first in your Christmas giving? These practical gifts or remembrances will remind the recipient of the giver 365 days in the year.

Our Easy Payment Plan
Our easy payment plan enables you to make Christmas what you wish it to be

We are glad to show you our stock and assist you in making selections, without any obligation on your part.

Your HOME Should Come FIRST

BELMOND FURNITURE COMPANY
Furniture and Undertaking
Phone 107 Belmond, Iowa

BELMOND VARIETY STORE

DOLLS! DOLLS!

We have a special consignment of dolls which we are offering at.....

Some of these dolls are slightly soiled or marred, but practically as good as new, and will please the heart of any little girl. Prices are cut squarely in two, and range from

19c to $1.98

Fresh Holiday Candies, Men's and Ladies' Hosiery, Handkerchiefs, fine assortment of new Toys--Bring the Kiddies!

PRICE!

DOLLS! DOLLS!

Here is your opportunity to get a Christmas Doll at tremendously reduced prices! Come early and take your choice! They are real bargains, every one of them.

A STORE FULL OF GIFTS FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE FAMILY—SOMETHING TO FIT YOUR NEEDS, GIFTS THAT WILL PLEASE.

Belmond Variety Store

AGRICULTURAL NEWS NOTES

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR FARM BOYS

Iowa State College is offering young men of Iowa who enjoy working with livestock an opportunity to improve their time during the winter months, (Jan. 2 to March 16) during which time the winter livestock short course is offered. This course is known as the Herdsmen's Course and consists of two winter quarters' work which may or may not be taken during consecutive winters.

The Herdsmen's Course has been found to fill a very definite need for the farm boys of Iowa and the middle west who do not feel that they can spare the time to take the longer collegiate or non-collegiate course. It has attracted a large number of very fine boys during the last few winters from all parts of the middle west.

During the last few years there has been an ever-increasing number of men enrolled in the dairy cattle work in the course. The first winter quarter's work for these men offers courses in Feeding and Management of Dairy Cattle, supplemented with Veterinary Medicine, Farm Crops and Soils, Testing and Judging Dairy Products. Beef cattle courses which correspond to the above mentioned dairy courses are offered to men who are now interested in that line.

There exists a very strong demand for the services of the men who have had at least three months of the Herdsmen's Course to take charge of cow testing associations in Iowa and neighboring states. Many new associations are being organized and the opportunity for trained men in this work is almost unlimited. Others who complete the work return to their home farms to put new ideas into practice, and breeders and commercial dairymen over the country are ready and anxious to employ the men who complete this work.

For further information, write to the Animal Husbandry Department, Iowa State Colelge, Ames, Iowa.

MOLDY CORN GENERALLY SAFE

Although moldy corn often has been suspected of poisoning cattle and hogs, investigations carried on in recent years indicate that this is rarely the case.

R. E. Buchanan, head of the Bacteriology Department of Iowa State College, says that, unless the molds are present in excess, or if the corn is not actually rotten, it may be fed to cattle and hogs with little danger of poisoning. In many instances the sickness or diseases of cattle which have been attributed to moldy corn have been due instead to infection with hemorrhagic septicemia or other diseases which have nothing to do with moldy corn.

Horses and sheep, however, are believed to be susceptible to mold poisoning. It is recommended by veterinarians at Iowa State College to test the corn out on one or two head of the least valuable livestock before feeding it to the entire herd.

Swine are preeminently adapted to the handling of soft or moldy corn as they have a simple digestive tract enabling them to strain the water out at a rapid rate and use the remaining dry matter for gains. With the soft corn, John M. Evvard, chief in animal investigations at the Iowa Agricultural Experiment Station, advises the feeding of tankage in a self-feeder. A half and half mixture of meat meal tankage and corn oil cake meal also is highly recommended when the hogs are on a soft corn diet.

COLD STORAGE EGGS MUST BE LABELED

All cold storage eggs must be labeled in conspicuous letters of not less than one inch in height, according to the rules of the Iowa Department of Agriculture, which have been forwarded to all egg dealers through the inspectors of the department.

This is not a new rule of the department but attention is called to it at this time of the year as more cold storage eggs are sold during the winter months than at any other time.

"Consumers should not condemn eggs on account of the cold storage label," states R. G. Clark, Chief of the Dairy and Food Division of the department. "We have ably demonstrated that No. 1 cold storage eggs are vastly superior to many of the held eggs that were formerly sold to the public as fresh eggs. This practice was stopped when the Legislature adopted a standard for fresh eggs that makes it unlawful for anything but newly laid eggs to be sold as fresh.

"There are two good classes of eggs for consumers to buy," says Mr. Clark. "One is a fresh egg and the other is a No. 1 cold storage egg. Other grades of edible eggs may be used for cooking but are not usually satisfactory for the breakfast table."

HENS MISERLY IN OCTOBER

A total of 22,635 laying hens, reported from 206 poultry record flocks in October, laid 149,068 eggs, or an average production of 6.5 eggs per hen, which is a considerable decline since the high point of the year—April—when the record flocks averaged 17.9 eggs per hen. The difference between feed costs and total returns for the 206 flocks was $10,065.14 feed costs being $6,515.51 and gross receipts $16,580.65.

With her flock of 48 S. C. Rhode Island Reds laying an average of 37.5 eggs every day, Mrs. A. C. Brewer, Atlantic, heads the production list for the months of October, the final report for 1927. Mrs. Brewer's feed cost for this period was $16.01 and the total receipts from her flock were $188.24. A close second was Mrs. Geo. Seeman, of Traer, whose small flock of 20 S. C. White Leghorns laid a total of 467 or about 15 eggs per day at a feed cost of $54.92. Her total receipts were $185.20.

In the larger flocks a number of good production records are listed. Buckdale Farm, Melcher, secured a total of 5465 eggs from a flock of 250 White Rocks at a feed cost of $175.14 and total receipts of $242.84. Jesse D. Sickler, Ogden, with 160 S. C. White Leghorns, produced 3071 or 19.2 eggs per hen at a feed cost of $26.85.

A gross return of $577.18 from a flock of 227 S. C. White Leghorns was secured by Mrs. H. E. Hagg, Essex, a return that leads the list altho there are several that approach this mark. Other high flock receipts were $496.94 from 324 S. C. White Leghorns by B. E. Craven, Kellogg, and $445.72 from a flock of 165 S. C. White Leghorns owned by Mrs. Chas. Hanysh, Dawson.

Poultry specialists of Iowa State College, in charge of the poultry record flocks work, advise that all undeveloped pullets that will not lay until next spring be disposed of now.

See Us Before You Sell Your

Ear Corn

Tyrrell Stock Farm

Phone 18

The Splinters

"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2 Thursday, December 8, 1927 No. 34

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

Again we observe—it should be easy to buy a Cristmas present for us this year because we need about everything.

—

"Do you think you could care ror a guy like me?"

"Possibly, if he wasn't too much like you."

—

Farmer, (to chemist).—"Now you be sure to mark on them bottles which is for my wife and which is for my cow. I don't want nothin' to happen to that Jersey cow."

An old friends of ours in one of our neighboring townships had a buyer for his farm the other day. Down in the lower end of his place he has a timber pasture enclosed by old fashioned rail fence. Our friend and the buyer stopped to examine this fence. "Them rails is 47 years old," said the old gentleman. I split 'em myself. It was the year my boy Jim was born." Just look at 'em—just as good as they ever was. And Jim ain't worth a cuss."

—

They heard the baby weighed a ton,
It raised an awful fuss,
Until the people found it was A hippopotamus.

—

Only 16 m. s. d. u. C!

Dear Editor: I am in love with a homely girl but she doesn't return my love. However, a pretty girl with lots of money wants to marry me. What shall I do? Marry the one you love, and send us the address of the other one.

—

We have just heard of one young man who is using his Christmas savings this year to pay the last installment on a last year's Christmas present. But that's lots better than not paying the installment at all.

—

The world owes you success and joy,
The world owes you respect;
And all you have to do, my boy,
Is hustle and collect.

Public Sale!

Sampson Stock Farm will hold a complete closing out sale at the farm 2½ miles southeast of Belmond, on

THURS. DEC. 15

Commencing at 9:30 A. M.

6 HEAD OF HORSES

1 black team of mares, 10 yrs. old
1 black team of mares, 9 yrs. old
1 sorrel gelding, 10 yrs. old
1 roan gelding, 9 yrs. old

20 Head of Dairy Cattle

Highly Bred, T. B. Tested Guernseys

This herd held the highest butterfat average over 14 head in the Wright County Cow testing Association in 1926. A complete record will be given of each cow's breeding, milk and butter record. Ultra Victor, a three year old pure-bred Guernsey Bull will be sold. He is a grandson of Ne Plus Ultra whose record is not surpassed by any bull in the Guernsey breed.

50 Head of Hogs

Purebred Spotted Poland Chinas

5 spring boars
6 open Gilts
1 herd Jr. Yearling boar
The rest are summer feeding pigs

Farm Machinery, Etc.

1 8-ft. John Deere grain binder
1 John Deere manure spreader
1 hay rake
2 hay racks
1 Dain 5-ft. mower
2 John Deere corn plows
1 Tower corn plow
1 20-ft. harrow
2 John Deere sulky plows
1 walking plow
1 9-ft. I. H. C. disc
1 McCormick corn binder
1 3-row seeder
1 Moline corn planter
1 bob sled
2 wood-wheel truck wagons with 36. in boxes
1 truck wagon
3 set of harness
1 buggy
1 hand corn sheller
10 tons of hay
1 6-in. 40-ft. belt
1 6-in. 20-ft. belt
1 1 h. p. Cushman engine
1 feed grinder
1 Rock Island 12-20 tractor. This tractor has a rebuilt engine and in fine shape
1 cream separator
Some standard bred breeding cockerels and hens,
White Plymouth Rocks
1 8x10 colony house
1200 bu. good yellow corn
300 bu. oats
1 stack straw
1 5 h. p. gas engine
1 Dain hay loader

Most of this machinery is nearly new and all is in perfect running order

EVERYTHING GOES---COME EARLY! FREE LUNCH AT NOON.

TERMS OF SALE—Cash, or make arrangements with your own banker or clerk before sale. All property to be settled for on date of sale.

C. Sampson Stock Farm, Prop.

Lewis Hauge, Jack Munnis, Auctioneers
State Bank of Belmond, Clerk

MESERVEY SECTION

EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:45.

Morning worship at 10:45. Lord's supper.

E. L. C. E. at 7:00.

Evening worship at 7:30.

Quarterly meeting on Friday night.

Rev. A. Couser will be with us as from Friday to Sunday.

Prayer meeting and Bible Study — German, Wednesday night, English, Thursday night.

Our yearly bazaar and supper will be held on Dec. 14.

REFORMED CHURCH

The Ladies Aid met last Thursday. Mrs. H. Pannkuk was hostess. The aid will meet again next Thursday, Dec. 8th on account of special work.

The semi-annual sale of the Ladies Aid and the Dorcas Society will be held on the evening of Dec. 16th, at 7 o'clock in the church basement. Let us have a good attendance. We also invite our friends. Coffee and cake will be served free by the societies. Here is a good opportunity to buy your Christmas presents and thus you will help the church and the Kingdom.

Choir practice Thursday evening at 8.

Senior class in catechism meets Friday at 3:15 at the parsonage. We urge all members to be present.

Rehearsal of Christmas program Saturday afternoon.

Sunday school at 9:30.

Morning worship at 10:30 (German).

Young peoples meeting at 7:30.

Evening service at 8:00.

You are welcome to any of these services.

H. Pannkuk, Minister

OBITUARY

Herman Witt was born at Latimer, Iowa, June 19, 1907. From here the family moved to Sheffield, and later to Clear Lake, where the greater part of his boyhood was spent. After his mother's death in 1921 Herman lived with his sister, Mrs. L. B. Hulsebus at Meservey. He attended high school at Meservey, later graduating at Clear Lake. After his graduation he worked at Dows for two years, and made his home with his sister. During his stay in Dows he made many friends. He was active in church work and was a member of the Methodist church.

In the fall of 1926 he enrolled as a freshman at Morningside College. He worked at the Y. M. C. A. to help defray expenses during his year at college. On May 12, 1927, he received a hard fall in physical training class which seriously injured his spine. His injury was very painful from the first but he finished his years work at college, after which he began his summer's work as sales man. He was only able to work a few weeks, however, when he was forced to leave his work and return to his sister's home at Dows. After various medical examinations by several doctors, he was advised to take a complete rest. So on Sept. 10 he was confined to his bed at his sister's home at Dows. On Oct. 14, after further examination his attending physicians pronounced his injury incurable. He grew steadily worse and after weeks of patient and intense suffering, he quietly passed away Nov. 30. at 6:45 P. M. Always having a strong faith in God he was ready and willing when the end came.

His mother and an infant brother preceded him to the Great Beyond. He is survived by his father, Mr. Witt, of Webster City, four sisters, Mrs. L. B. Hulsebus and Louise of Dows, Mrs. E. M. Boughton of Webster City and Elma of Mason City, and Walter Witt, an only brother of Sioux City, besides a host of relatives and friends.

The funeral was held at the Methodist church at Dows, Saturday afternoon, Dec. 3. Dr. Schneider vice president of Morningside College had charge of the service, assisted by Rev. Peterson of Fort Dodge, and Rev. Waterman of Dows. Ralph Mallam, a college friend of Herman's sang a solo entitled, "Going Home." A male quartet rendered two selections. The floral offering was large and most beautiful. Interment was made at Meservey.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire in this way to thank the friends who were kind and helpful during Herman's sickness and death. We wish to thank everyone for the beautiful floral offerings and messages of sympathy.

Mrs. D. F. Witt
Mrs. L. B. Hulsebus
Mrs. E. M. Boughton
Elma Witt
Louise Witt
Walter Witt

OBITUARY

Marie Salome Weckersheim nee Heitz, was born on March 13th, 1844, in Ottenheim, Germany, and died Dec. 4, 1927, at the age of 83 years, 8 months and 21 days. The cause of her death was old age.

In 1871 she came to America and was married to George Weckersheim on March 12, 1871. This union was blessed with eleven children. Father Weckersheim and two of the girls preceded Mother into the beyond. The girls dead are: Mrs. Mary Hoppe and Mrs. Lydia Fischer.

Following children are mourning mother's departure:

George J. Weckersheim, Ladysmith, Wis.; Jacob J. Weckersheim, Fort Dodge; William A. Weckersheim, Emery, Wis.; Caroline E. Wirts, Des Moines; Emma Fischer, Brooten, Minn.; Katie Paul, Meservey; Gustave Weckersheim, Gramly, Minn.; Martha Schmidt, Belmond; Chris Weckersheim, Randall. Besides these there remain 42 grand children and 6 great grand children.

Mother Weckersheim with her husband was converted in the year 1872. Later on they moved on a farm near Meservey. Here they came under the influence of Evangelical preacher. Their home with others, became one of the places where preaching services and Sunday School were held. They were some of the charter members of our Evangelical church in Meservey, worshipping at first in a schoolhouse three-fourths of a mile north of their homestead. She was a member of the Evangelical church unto her death.

When the winter came into her life she was ill at her daughters, Martha's, home at Belmond. Her home in Meservey was a great drawing point to her and a few weeks ago, despite physical weakness, she came home. She told the writer that she had come to die in her home, but being helpless, alone, she decided to go to her daughter, Emma, in Minnesota. She callel for the writer to give her the Lord's supper before she would start on that journey from which she never expected to return alive. However, she became ill and her illness was unto death. In her last illness she was cared for by grand daughter Leona, and her daughter Katie and Martha who were later joned by the other two daughters Caroline and Emma.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Bier were Belmond callers Thursday afternoon.

MESERVEY SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Elfreda Wright has organized a high school orchestra, which is progressing rapidly.

The Junior play has been abandoned.

Miss Lucille Paul and Lloyd Paul have been absent several days due to the illness and death of their grandmother.

The honor roll in high school is as follows:

A: Lydia Pannkuk, Mildred Janssen, Bonita Muller, Arloene Janssen. B: Wilma Pals, Goldie Quandt, Arloene Janssen.

Grade scool honor roll—

7 & 8 A: Bernice Blewett, 7th, Norman Muller, 8th, Viola Koehler, 7th. B: Ira Allen, 7th, Raymond Rooks, 8th, Orvel Rooks, 7th

5 & 6 A: Byron Blewett, 5th, Kenneth Sprau, 6th. B: Albert Wessels, 5th, Avery Bier 6th.

3 & 4 A: Mildred Wendel, 3rd, Genevieve Wilken, 4th. B: Ardell Rooks, 3rd, Marvin Prelipp, 4th, Ralph Schmidt, 4th.

1 & 2 A: Hildagard Gruis, 1st, Ellen Olson 2nd, Verneice Allen, 1st. B: Donald Ruigh, 1st, Clarence Boelman, 2nd.

The different rooms have been decorating for Christmas and the spirit of Christmas will soon travel around in full speed.

The third and fourth grades are looking forward to a Christmas tree and its contents.

The fifth and sixth grade received the picture, "Old Ironsides" which they earned selling magazines.

You can buy a wrist watch for your friend, at Mallory's, Belmond.

The following from here attended the funeral of Herman Witt at Dows last Saturday: A. J. Nissen and wife, Mrs. A. E. Muller and daughter, Bonita, Mrs. H. F. Rief, Mrs. H. K. Pals and children Clarence and Wilma.

Mrs. G. E. Raecker received word from Fort Dodge on Wednesday of last week that her aunt, Mrs. Jacob Brown, Sr., had passed away that afternoon following a lingering illness. Owing to the inclement weather the Raeckers and other friends from this place did not attend the funeral which was held on Saturday afternoon.

Word received from the bedside of Mrs. Mary Butz is to the effect that she is still quite miserable and not much change in her condition. Her son, Dr. Joe has been with her a few days.

The baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dirks was reported ill the fore part of this week.

Rev. A. K. Henning and Mr. Jacob Nissen were Mason City callers Tuesday. The former to call on Mrs. Butz at the hospital, and Mr. Nissen to consult a physician, he having been somewhat under the weather since Sunday.

Mrs. Arthur Gambrill of Los Angeles arrived here Wednesday afternoon to visit at the home of her brother, W. F. Butz and family and with her mother at the Park hospital.

Gus Wickersheim of Grundy, Minn., Mrs. Ed Wirtz of Des Moines, Mrs. John Fischer of Broten, Minn., Jake Wickersheim of Fort Dodge and Mrs. Ed. Schmidt arrived during the past week to be at the bed side of Mother Wickersheim.

Members of the W. F. Butz family visited with Mrs. Butz at the hospital different days the past week.

A. J. Nissen, A. E. Muller and wife were visiting at the L. B. Hulsebus home last week on Tuesday evening.

The Ladies Aid and Doscas Societies of the Reformed church and the Helpng Hand Society of the Evangelical church are preparing to hold their bazaars on Dec. 16th and 14th respectively. The Evangelical Ladies will serve supper from 5 until all are served.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Evangelical church met in the church parlors to hold their annual meeting and election of officers. Following was the result; President, Mrs. A. K. Henning; first vice president, Mrs. C. J. Wendel; second vice president, Mrs. Ed Rooks; secretary, Mrs. H. F. Reif; treasurer, Mrs. W. F. Butz, Mission Band secretary, Mrs. C. F. W. Paul; Little Heralds secretary, Mrs. H. Fischer.

Annual reports were presented and a resume of the year's work, which was found to be very gratifying. The officers elected at this meeting all held over from last year.

We Are Headquarters For

GIFTS OF UTILITY

FOR FATHER
Razors
Knives
Shaving Brushes
Tools

FOR MOTHER
Pyrex Ware
Aluminum Ware
Silverware
Scissors
Casseroles

FOR BROTHER
Pocket Knives
Razors
Guns
Tools

FOR SISTER
Pyrex Ware
Silverware
Scissors, Etc.

FOR THE KIDDIES
Wagons, Kiddie Cars, Slides, Teetors, Toys Of All Kinds

The Store of Quality and Service

C. J. WENDELL

Phone 2502 Meservey, Iowa

Undertaking & Funeral Director

F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone--Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

Harry T. Smith

General Blacksmithing

Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding

Meservey, - Iowa

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29

HIGH QUALITY

Building Material

Screen Doors--Window Screens--Mill Work--Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts and Poles
Cement — Lime

INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT

Wheat Bran---Oil Meal---Cotton Seed Meal---Tankage---Salt

Highest Price Paid for Grain

Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.

Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

DON'T SUFFER FROM PILES

Hundreds of cases have been easily and successfully treated and the cause removed without an operation. Dr. Wilbert Shallenberger, the Chicago Specialist, has practiced non-surgical treatment of Piles for over 26 years and has a large number of pleased patients scattered throughout Iowa. Why suffer the agony, inconvenience and undermine your health by neglecting a case of Piles when a majority of cases will yield to non-surgical treatment.

Dr. Shallenberger can be consulted at Clarion, Hotel Moore, Wednesday Afternoon, December 14; at Mason City, Hotel Cerro Gordo, Friday, December 16.

Return visits every 28 days. 339th visit. Consultation and examination free.

Fistual, Fissure, Proctitis, Ulcer and other Rectal diseases treated by safe, sane and humane methods. Write for free booklet describing Piles and associated Rectal troubles.

Address letters to:

Wilbert Shallenberger, M. D.
768 Oakwood Blvd. Chicago, Ill.

Bank Your Money

If you have money it should be deposited in the Bank.

When you were a borrower some one deposited so you could borrow.

Pay your debt and build your credit at the same time.

Convenience and correct change.

SAFETY AND SERVICE

Farmers Savings Bank

Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

Golden State Route to California

On your winter trip to California go via Golden State Route. It's the low altitude way—and "low altitude" means "perfect comfort."

"And what a variety of things to see—Ranch life, Indians, Mexicans, Missions, Apache Trail, and practically every winter resort in the Southwest!"

Rock Island-Southern Pacific California service includes the de luxe Golden State Limited from Chicago—Kansas City—none finer; the popular Apache—thru Pullmans daily from Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Des Moines and Kansas City and the Californian from Kansas City.

Meals—"Best on Wheels" at most reasonable prices.

Rock Island Lines

Ask the Rock Island Ticket Agent or

MAIL THIS COUPON
Rock Island Travel Service Bureau,
614 Valley National Bank Bldg.
Des Moines, Iowa.
Please send me booklets descriptive of California and the Golden State Route.
Name.....
Address.....

CROSLEY RADIO

Fresh "B" Batteries always on hand.

H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

"RED" GRANGE

National Football Star,

writes:

"While at college I learned that the condition of the throat is most important to an athlete. Coaches and captains know that throat irritation may even keep a player out of an important game. For this reason, I insist that my New York Yankees smoke only Luckies, when they smoke.

"I know that Luckies are smooth and mellow and cannot irritate the throat."

Harold E. Grange

Photo by Underwood & Underwood

You, too, will find that LUCKY STRIKES give the greatest pleasure—Mild and Mellow, the finest cigarettes you ever smoked. Made of the choicest tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"IT'S TOASTED"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

MADE OF THE CREAM OF THE TOBACCO CROP

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

Give them Shoes for Christmas!

Woodruff's Famous SHOE SALE

Will help you give your family a good pair of shoes, hosiery, slippers, rubber goods, etc. at a small cost. Shoes are a practical gift.

ENTIRE STOCK REDUCED IN PRICE!

Come to Mason City and take advantage of these savings.

WOODRUFF'S

GOOD SHOES

At 115 North Federal Mason City, Iowa

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

R. T. COE
Veterinarian
CALLS ANSWERED DAY OR NIGHT
Office over C. C. McGuire Store
Phone 23 Belmond, Iowa

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Building
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

FOR YOUR AUCTIONEER
CALL
H. BRUMMOND
KANAWHA, IOWA
PHONE 118

The
Foss Cleaning Shop
Solicits your patronage in
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Located West of the Foss Shoe Shop
All Work Guaranteed
We will appreciate your Trial Offer
Foss Cleaning Shop
Louis Foss, Prop.
Phone 70 Belmond, Iowa

ROWAN MAN WINS PRIZES

W. H. Azeltine who took Barred Plymouth Rock chickens and Silver King, Card nal and Giant Runt Pigeons to the Poultry Show at Goldfield last week, received a number of ribbons. He received 1st and 2nd places on his cockerels and 1st and 2nd on his hens, also one 5th place on his hens. He also received a number of ribbons on his p geons. A. E. Emerson received 1st place on his coop of Jersey Black Giant chickens.

The Steffens family have received word from their relatives at Milledgeville, Ill., that the town s quarantined for infantile paralysis. This disease seems to be quite prevalent in a number of places.

Mrs. Howard Box returned the middle of last week fro.n the hospital at Clarion. Miss Cramer, her nurse, returned with her to care for her a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Tice Streveler spent Thursday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Nickliss at Swaledale.

Clocks, Silverware and China at Mallory's, Belmond.

A. L. Gardner of Eldora was in town Tuesday of last week, looking after his eighty acres of land south of town.

Mrs. F. M. Myers had the misfortune to have her hand badly crushed last week in the electric wringer on her washing mach ne. It is getting along nicely at this writing as the splints have been taken from the thumb and first finger, leaving them only on the other three fingers.

Ed White and fam ly moved from the DeWitt Munson farm, north of town, to Clarion, last Thursday. Spurgeon Sarber and family who have been living on the north Trees farm are moving in with Mr. Munson.

Mrs. Nathan Aldrich and baby of St. Lou s came Monday morning to visit Mr. Aldrich' parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Aldrich, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Kersey near Galt. R. E. Lee Aldrich drove to Hampton to meet them.

Mrs. Clint Kercheval went to Clarion Monday where she will serve on the jury this term of court.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hansen and family and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hansen and fam ly spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Hansen's sister, Mrs. Julius Nelson and family, near Hampton.

Ed Lindsey and family of the Harvey neighborhood moved by truck the first of this week to Brandon, Iowa.

Misses Edna and Esther Ohlerking spent Sunday at the home of their s ster at Sheffield.

Will Brooks of Waverly spent one day last week with his mother. Mrs. Elizabeth Brooks.

The Congregational Ladies Aid Society bazaar and supper was a decided success last Saturday, nett ng the ladies $126.00 One booth, which was called the 'mysterious booth" had packages with their value marked on the outside but the contents of which were a mystery. This booth brought them $8.00. Another booth was called memory lane, in which were old time pictures of people of the community. Miss Letha Gunderson won the prize of a cherry pie, for guessing the most of these. Miss Gunderson then auctioned off the pie which brought forty five cents.

Alfred Fletcher came from Bruce, Wisconsin, last Thursday, to visit his sister, Mrs. C. C. Steffens and family and other relatives and fr ends around Rowan and Dows.

Jim Ward recently returned from Dakota where he had worked in the harvest fields. He is working near Sheffield at present.

Several new telephones have been installed the past week and a number of others are having them installed in the next few days. Those installed with the numbers are as follows: Rowan hotel 19, Chas. Scott res. 24, L. W. McKinley farm 306, Ed Rayle farm 309.

Rev. L. A. Marquardt drove to New Richmond, Wis., the last of the week, returning Saturday, with Mrs. Marquardt and Billy, who had spent the past two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bend. During her absence Mr. Marquardt had Roy Hyde install a new radio as a surprise for Mrs. Marquardt on her return.

Mrs. J. Aldinger and daughters drove to Mason City Saturday.

L. R. Fitz was called to Churdan Friday, where his father is very ill. He returned Monday and reports his father's condition about the same. He is suffering from diabetis.

Mrs. Murphy and son, David, moved into the Mrs. Lula Emerson's rooms the first of the week. Mrs. Murphy has been keeping house for Edwin Nelson.

Mrs. Etta Carr returned Saturday from an extended visit with her daughters, one at Latimer and another at Lyle, Minn. She returned to Latimer from Lyle and had only been there 4 days when she was called back to Lyle by the death of a seven month old great grand son, Virgil Larson. He was the son of Mrs. Carr's granddaughter and husband.

Those from the two Rowan churches who attended the "Olded Boys and Girls S. S. Conference" at Clarion Monday were: Rev. L. A. Marquardt, Darl Farran, Reuel Silvey, Evelyn Whitten, Thelma Hackley, Lorene Liming, Neva and Lyle Hinckley, Ruth and Vincent Bounds, Ralph and Violet Patton, Nina and Karl Rietz, Chas. Sellers, Mervin Reece, Mrs. W. H. Azeltine and Mrs. Earl Sellers. Vincent Bounds was elected vice president of the association.

The Home Talent play "Always in Trouble" which was given Wednesday and Thursday evenings drew a large crowd the first evening, but a very small one the last evening. They went to Belmond and gave it there on Monday and Tuesday nights.

Seven ministers from out of town were here Monday working on the campaign for the endowment fund for Morningside College at Sioux City. This campaign is being carried on all over the state and is meeting with wonderful success. The ministers who were here were Rev. Rutter of Mich., Rev. Burkholder who was a representative from Morningside, Rev. Taylor of Kanawha, Rev. Ortmeyer of Clarion, Rev. Snyder of Belmond, Rev. Simpson of Goldfield and Mr. Jones of Sioux City. Rev. Bounds and two out of town ministers went to Latimer in the afternoon to see the people there.

R. Virden drove to Mason City Thursday to visit his sister, Mrs. Hubbard McCallum. He returned Friday.

ROWAN SCHOOL NOTES

We have adopted the art course which is recommended by the County Board. Miss Redmon, a representative of the Practical Drawing Company, was here Friday forenoon and demonstrated teaching the work in the grade room. Books have been ordered for each grade pupil and they should receive some valuable instruction in art work.

We are starting declamatory work this week. Mrs. Carmichael will be with us again this year to do our coaching and about 18 students intend to enter declamatory work.

We had two very interesting games with Alexander last Friday night. All four teams seemed to put all they had into the game and the contests were both so close that it was anybody's game until the final whistle blew. Good sportsmanship and clean playing were exhibited in both games by both schools. Rowan was fortunate in carrying off the honors in both contests with a score of 17 to 21 for the boys and 15 to 18 for the girls.

The following is our basketball schedule for the remainder of the year: Dec. 9—Williams here; Dec. 13—Dows there; Dec. 16—Goodell here; Dec. 20—Hampton boys 2nd team and girls here (not definitely settled;) Jan. 6—Goodell there; Jan. 13—Woolstock there; Jan. 17—Klemme there; Jan. 20—Chapin there; Jan. 27—Alexander here; Feb. 3—Klemme here; Feb. 10—Dows here; Feb. 17—Hampton there; Feb 24 open. These games are all doubleheaders with the exception of the Klemme games. We have new bleachers installed which will accommodate more people and they are very comfortable. Come out and enjoy some good clean sport. The price is only 25 cents for everybody.

GOODELL BOY BREAKS LEG

Last Tuesday the high school boys were playing football on the play ground and a very serious accident happened. The little boys became excited and got in among the players. One of the boys tripped and fell on little Donald Zelie, breaking the bone in his leg just above the knee. Dr. Missman of Klemme was summoned at once as Dr. Snearly was out of town. He was unable to set the limb at present as it was swollen so much. At this writing Donald is feeling as well as can be expected.

The Ryan girls from Corwith spent the past week at the home of their uncle, Frank Quigley. They returned home Sunday.

Harlin and Marvin Hill of Clarion, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Martin of Renwick visited Sunday Ed Hemenway. Mrs. Martin will be remembered to folks here as Ellen McCormick, a former domestic science teacher in the local school.

Descomb Bishop spent a few days last week at Belmond at the home of his grandparents.

Friends here extend sympathy to Mr. Leo Kernan of Belmond, as we have learned of the sad news that his wife passed away Sunday. Leo formerly lived and attended school here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hughes of Williams came up Friday and visited until Sunday with her mother, Mrs. White.

Mrs. Frank Christe is enjoying a visit with her father from Waterloo.

Dale Chase of Garner came Friday to spend the week end at the home of his brother, Clifford.

Florence Trumbell of Mason City, who teaches a rural school near Kanawha, spent the week end with her brother, Harry Trumbell and family.

Mrs. D. M. Conwell went to Rochester, Minn., Tuesday to be with her mother, Mrs. Houghton, who went through the clinic again. Mrs. Houghton has spent the past three week at the Mayo Bros. hospital receiving treatment for her eyes. She is feeling fine and was able to return home with Mrs. Conlan on Friday.

Doctor Snearly returned last Thursday from Rochester, Ill., where he visited a few days with his father.

Mr. Matteson, better known as "Slim" who has spent the past year working in Goodell left Saturday in his car and went to Arkansas where he will work.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Wilcox of Mason City were Sunday guests at the home of their friends Mrs. White and Mayme.

See the new line of toilet sets at Mallory's, Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Baker and baby daughter, Lila Rose, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Weide of Belmond to Illinois, last Wednesday to attend Mrs. Weide'e father's funeral. They made the trip by car and plan to return home on Monday.

A. C. Carpenter, superintendent of the Sunday school, held a teachers' meeting at his home last Tuesday evening. The Christmas program was discussed and preparations are being made by the committee, Mesdames Scott, Carpenter, Newgard and Hanson. The program will be given at the U. B. church on Christmas Eve, Saturday night. Treats will be given also. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. On Tuesday evening after the business meeting, those present enjoyed an oyster supper, served by the hostess, Mrs. Carpenter.

Mrs. Hubbard has received word from her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Jenison, that they are nicely located in a home at Greeley, Colo., and the children are enrolled in school. They recently went there for Mr. Jenison's health.

Miss Eliza Cashman spent the fore part of last week at Belmond with her sister, Mrs. Finn, who is feeling some better since her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Mint Cline have been business callers at Blairsburg several days the past week. D. M. Conlan took them there by auto.

Mrs. Jess Thorson and Grace of Burt enjoyed a visit Wednesday and Thursday, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rust autoed to Mason City Thursday to see their hired man, Earl Fread, who is a patient in the Mercy hospital, receiving medical aid as he was hurt the fore part of the week, when the horses he was driving threatened to run away.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bishop autoed to Rockwell, Tuesday evening to visit at the home of her brother, Harm Vierkant. Mrs. Bishop remained until Friday and assisted the Vierkant family as they moved to a new location and the children are very sick with the whooping cough.

Harl Trees, barber at Klemme came to Goodell Wednesday to work in the shop here during the absence of Mr. Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dawson autoed to Dows Tuesday to see the new baby at the home of their son.

In spite of the bad weather last Saturday the U. B. Ladies Aiders are well pleased with the proceeds from their bazaar and supper. About $120 was taken in and more is expected.

Mrs. Aldrich and Neva of Rowan and Selwyn Houghton of Belmond visited Sunday at the D. M. Conlan home. They were enroute to Mason City to see Mrs. Aldrich's mother, Mrs. Joe Buchanan who is ill.

Rev. Scott autoed to Ventura, Sunday afternoon and gave a talk on the U. B. Sunday school contest.

Lee Robbins who has been working at the sugar factory at Mason City finished work there, and returned home last week.

The Mason City Oil Station was the scene of a hold up last Tuesday evening. Mr. Wiede was sitting reading when a young man entered and pointed a gun at him and shouted "Hands up." Mr. Wiede refused and got up. Just then Mr. Finn came up to the station and the stranger who came afoot fled. It happened about 8 P. M.

Avery township held a farm bureau meeting at the city hall on Monday evening. Mr. Barger is chairman. Mrs. Wesenberg assisted by having the young girls give a musical program. Mr. T. L. Nutty of Britt, county agent, was present and showed motion picture slides. A large crowd of members and visitors attended and enjoyed the program and refreshments served by the lady members.

The high school students started last week to make plans for their declamatory contest which will be given after the holiday vacation. So far ten students have chosen their readings. Miss Grace Liittchwager will direct the coaching at first and at the last they will have a hired trainer for a few days.

The basket ball teams are hard at work at the practicing and have a double header game scheduled to play with Rowan, Dec. 16. The games will be played here.

The U. B. Ladies Aid meets Wednesday, Dec. 14 at 2:30 P. M. All members urged to be present to hear the financial report of the bazaar and get work planned for the coming year. The place committee have the refreshments planned. Come!

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Avery entertained to dinner Sunday the Lemke, Met Avery, Anson Avery, Hans Nelson families, Mr. and Mrs. George Avery of Belmond in honor of the two latter who are leaving this week to spend the winter in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hanson Sundayed at Belmond at the Earl Jenison home.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Nelson of Belmond were entertained Sunday at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. Ahrenkiel.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for the kindness and floral offerings given us during the recent loss of wife and mother.

W. Robbins and family

W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

ALEXANDER PAIR SURPRISED

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Larson were most pleasantly surprised Sunday evening in honor of their birthdays, by a gathering of relatives and friends. Those present were O. V. Johnson and family, and John Larson of Latimer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stadtlander and family of Rowan, Mr. and Mrs. John Mullenbruck and children, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Peck and family, Mrs. Ellen Peck, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Stadtlander and children and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Clark and children. A very enjoyable evening was spent and a delicious luncheon was served.

Buy your sweetheart a diamond ring at Mallory's, Belmond.

W. F. Dunn made a business trip to Chicago Thursday.

The Delta Alpha class met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Clarence Bohlen. A very pleasant evening was sent.

Miss Pearl Schenke and Coryl Husband spent the week end at Garner.

Mrs. Fred Larsen and son

(Continued on page 6)

Only 17 Days to Christmas

Shop Early and Avoid the Rush!

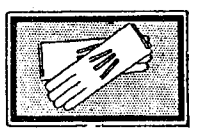
Reduced Prices on Overcoats

$15.00 TO 39.50

Buy him an overcoat for Christmas at a big saving!

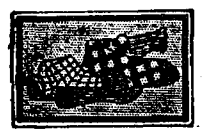
Beautiful new patterns in squares and reifers.

$1.50 to $5.00



Wool and leather gloves of all descriptions.

$1.25 to $5.00



Phoenix Hose of all colors in silks and wools. They will make a wonderful present for anyone. 50c to $1.50 Also ladies hose $1.75

SMITH SERVICE & SKOVLIN SATISFACTION

Phone 50 Belmond, Iowa

THE ROAD TO SUCCESS

YOU can have success ---if you are willing to pay the price. Intelligent work, wise spending, and regular savings. No one has ever regretted saving. Every successful man has saved. It is the test of success. Start now to save a part of what you earn.

STATE BANK OF BELMOND
BELMOND IOWA

The New Ford

LOW PRICES

Tudor Sedan	$495	Roadster	$385
Fordor Sedan	570	Phaeton	395
Coupe	495	Truck Chassis	460
Sport Coupe	550	Truck with cab	545

F. O. B. DETROIT

Never before in automobile history, such values as the New Ford car today.

The New Ford is distinctly a new and modern car designed to meet new and modern conditions. Place your order now with the Belmond Auto Co.

BELMOND, IOWA

Louis Tokman Phone 108 - 258 Geo. Heginger

tough rubber -and lots of it makes the Corn Belt a "bear for wear"

ALL-RUBBER arctics must stand the hardest punishment of any kind of rubber footwear. So we build Top Notch Corn Belts of the toughest rubber—and lots of it. They have the body and strength to stand up long after frail, flimsy arctics have broken under the strain. Fleece-lined, 4 or 5 buckle, red or black.

For dependable, distinctive boots, arctics and rubbers always look for the Top Notch Cross. The most reliable stores carry the complete Top Notch line for men, women and children. The Beacon Falls Rubber Shoe Co., Beacon Falls, Conn.

TOP NOTCH
A GUARANTEE OF MILEAGE
Rubber Footwear

LOCAL NEWS

Miss Ruth Bond, of New Salem, N. D., who has been visiting here the past couple weeks, returned home last Friday.

Glasses fitted.—A. H. Berger, Specialist, Clarion, Iowa. 528c

Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Schoenlein of Titonka were guests last Thursday, at the Rev. Arthur G. Langholz home.

Garner Leader: The Rev. Mr. Van Metre, pastor of the M. E. church, was at Rochester, Minn., where Mrs. Van Metre had undergone a surgical operation Sunday and was unable to fill his pulpit.

Henry Polmateer of Renwick was visiting his daughter, Mrs. H. R. Agley, and husband, the first of the week.

Dance Friday evening, Dec. 9, at the Belmond opera house. Music by Dean's Serenaders of Mason City. Tickets $1.10. Ladies Free. A good time assured. Everyody welcome.

Donald Jenison, young son of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Jenison, underwent an operation Saturday, for strangulated bowel. Dr. Steele of Belmond and Dr. Bernard of Clarion performed the operation at the local hospital. The boy who is recovering nicely, was operated on for appendicitis last August.

ALEXANDER NEWS

(Continued from page 4)

Raymond and Mrs. Nels Larsen, were callers at Belmond Friday.

John Bell and daughter, Jessie, were visitors at the home of the former's brother, Charlie, in Waterloo on Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Larsen and son Raymond were Latimer callers Wednesday.

Roman Butterbaugh was a business caller at Belmond Saturday.

Dick Blau and friend, Miss Melba Tucker, spent Sunday at the Ed Tucker home near Hansell.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ammerman, Miss Vernona Goettsch and Miss Iva Crook, were Dows callers Saturday evening.

Carl Bohlen was a business caller at Mason City Saturday.

E. S. Packard was a Latimer caller Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dunn and son Richard were Belmond callers Wednesday evening.

Herman Jansen was a Hampton caller Friday.

Rev. and Mrs. Frericks and son were Hamtpon shoppers Friday.

Mrs. Fred Dunn and son Leland were Rowan callers Saturday morning.

Lloyd Green and Will Root were Hampton callers Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Flynn and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kennedy of Belmond were visiting at the L. S. Reed home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Aldinger, and sons Rex and Franz attended a 6 o'clock dinner at the Will Aldinger home in Hampton Thursday evening in honor of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth, who is leaving for California.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peters and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Peters and family were Hampton callers Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dunn and family took dinner at the Chris Miller home at Thornton Sunday.

Earl Hall and Miss Ethel Hall of Hampton were visiting at the Lloyd Green and Forrest Gillett homes Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Richards of Rowan were visiting at the Ed Richards home Sunday.

Ed Richards and son Ray, were business callers at Hampton on Monday.

Rev. and Mrs. Woodcock were Hampton callers Monday.

Bennie Arends went to Des Moines Friday on business.

Rev. A. C. Woodcock attended the meeting of the Franklin County Ministerial association Monday.

UNITED CHURCH NOTES

Sunday services December 11:

Morning worship at 10:00 A. M. Sermon on "Mystery of the Universe and in Religion."

Sunday School at 11:00 A. M. Lesson on "Recognition of God in National Affairs."

Christian Endeavor at 6:45. Leader Miss Alice Peters. Topic, "Good Mottoes for Christian Living."

Evening service at 7530 P. M. Subject of the sermon "Unexpected Blessings." The Young Peoples' Chorus will sing.

The Missionary Circle will meet Thursday, Dec. 8. with Mrs. Carrie Reed. Leader, Mrs. J. R. Harlow.

The United Aid Society will be entertained on Wednesday, Dec. 14, in the church basement by Mrs. J. H. Leebrick and Mrs. J. L. Latham.

Make this Christmas last for thousands of miles

-a BUICK for Christmas

Make someone supremely happy this Christmas. Give a Buick for 1928. Delivery will be made, if you wish, at your home Christmas morning.

The liberal G. M. A. C. time payment plan is available if desired.

WEBSTER COUNTY BUICK CO
DISTRIBUTORS
20-24 North 9th St. Fort Dodge, Iowa
BELMOND—HUB MOTOR CO. Kanawha—Yeakel & Mallow
Dows—A Banwell Clarion—Linfor Auto Co.
Eagle Grove—Porter Auto Co.

A Christmas Gift

Preferred above all others

7% Preferred. It never ceases to bring happiness.

It sends a check as a reminder four times a year. Instead of spending money it puts money to work harvesting dividends. It makes saving interesting. A son, a daughter, a wife—any close friend or relative will have reason to be eternally grateful for a gift of 7% Preferred Shares in Central West Public Service Company. Here you can match your sentiment with your pocketbook knowing full well that you give the best.

Order your gift shares through any company employee at the earliest possible moment so that Saint Nicholas can make delivery Christmas morning.

CENTRAL WEST PUBLIC SERVICE CO.
A Subsidiary of the McGraw Electric Company

PUBLIC SALE

As I am quitting farming I will hold a closing out sale at the Ole Scott place, 6 miles west and 2¾ miles north of Belmond, ½ mile west of Olaf, on gravel road,

Wednesday, Dec. 14th

Commencing at 11 A. M.

6 Head of Horses and Mules

1 team mules, 3 and 4 years old, well mated

1 team, wt. 2400, 15 yrs. old

1 team geldings, wt. 3300, 14 and 15 years old

9 - Head of Cattle - 9

7 head of cows and heifers, T. B. tested last February
1 bull 2 years old

1 bull calf 8 months old. Bulls probably both eligible to registry

Cows and heifers are all good grade Holsteins, and young

53 - HEAD OF HOGS - 53

17 head of brood sows bred for March farrow
1 Yearling Spotted China boar, eligible to registry

34 head of fall pigs
1 spring Poland China boar, eligible to registry, consigned

THESE HOGS ARE ALL VACCINATED AND PUREBRED

POULTRY

ABOUT 100 PURE BRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS, ABOUT 75 PURE BRED S. C. LEGHORNS

FARM MACHINERY, ETC.

1 cutter
1 bob sled
1 top buggy
1 4-section drag
1 Ellwood corn plow
1 10-foot I. H. C. disc
1 McCormick 8-ft. binder
3 lumber wagons complete
1 2-row Tower surface plow
1 John Deere endgate seeder
1 John Deere Broadcaster seeder
1 John Deere corn planter with soy bean attachment, 160 rds. wire
1 John Deere 2-row corn plow
1 Little Boy corn plow with surface attachment
1 Fordson guide for binder, etc.
1 Fordson tractor and Oliver plow
1 hay rake
2 hay racks
1 beet lifter
1 grind stone
3 sets harness
1 brooder house
1 4-row beet drill
1 2-row beet plow
1 chick feed grinder
1 4 hole laundry stove
1 John Deere sulky plow
1 I. H. C. manure spreader
1 McCormick Deering corn picker with 8 h. p. Cushman engine
2 sets leather fly nets and horse collars
1 2 h. p. United gas engine
1 Power United washing machine with wringer
1 1000 capacity oil brooder stove
1 swill cart
Several chick feeders and waterers
1 Primrose No. 4 cream separator nearly new
1 post drill and assortment of shop tools
1 stone boat
1 Automatic hog waterer
1 tank heater oil burner for tank heater
All this machinery is in good condition and much of it is practically new.

ABOUT 25 or 30 BUSHELS OF EARLY PICKED STRUNG AND DRIED YELLOW SEED CORN AN EARLY VARIETY OF GOOD YIELDING CORN
One half stack straw

Household Goods

1 gray enamel cook stove, nearly new
1 porcelain top kitchen table
3 kitchen chairs
1 dining table
10 dining chairs
1 writing desk
1 Damascus sewing machine
2 reed rocking chairs
Buffet
1 large tapestry davenport, with rocker to match
1 9x12 Aminister rug, with small rug to match
1 6x9 Grass rug
1 oak wood bed room suite, bed and dresser, springs and mattress
1 Gum wood bed room suite, bed, vanity dresser, and chair to match
2 heating stoves
1 gas lantern, one gas iron, Diamond make
1 porcelain top kitchen cabinet
1 12x15 heavy canvas

The North Ladies Aid will serve hot lunch during the day at nominal cost.

TERMS: CASH, OR MAKE ARRANGEMENTS WITH YOUR OWN BANKER BEFORE DAY OF SALE. All Property to be Settled for on Day of Sale.

C. T. Scott, Prop.

A. B. Erickson, Lewis Hauge, Auctioneers

State Bank of Belmond, Clerk

YRIGHT BY EAD AND CO.

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I—Handsome, fastidious and wealthy—young St. Croix Creighton awaits his sweetheart at their trysting place. She is fifteen minutes late, this ordinary little Pennsylvania Dutch girl, Meely Schwenckton, but he awaits her eagerly. She is so demurely beautiful, he thinks, but so out of his "class."

CHAPTER II—Meely, in the Schwenckton home, is altogether unlike the girl who meets St. Croix clandestinely, and her speech has little of the Pennsylvania Dutch accent. She is the teacher in the neighborhood school, of which Marvin Creighton, St. Croix' brother, is superintendent. Due to family differences, Marvin Creighton boards in town, near Meely, who is living with the Schwencktons, a Pennsylvania Dutch farmer's family. Meely learns that Marvin was to have married his cousin, a titled English lady, but, believing she was attracted by the Creighton wealth, had refused the affiance. It is the rumor that St. Croix is to take Marvin's place and marry the English girl.

CHAPTER III—On her way to a rendezvous with St. Croix, Meely passes Marvin on the road. She is somewhat garishly attired for St. Croix' benefit, and avoids Marvin. St. Croix' jealousy is aroused by Meely's report of an aged suitor for her hand. On his presentation of candy and a box of handkerchiefs, he demands a "reward" from Meely. The girl evades his caresses and cleverly decoys him into admitting he has no intention of marrying her.

St. Croix privately decided that in the face of such a contingency his only prudent course would be to put an end to these sweet secret meetings with Meely; for the Creighton family had learned to their cost that Marvin's eccentric conscience was a thing to be reckoned with.

But even as he came to this decision he realized that it could not be done. He could not give up this girl. At whatever cost short of marrying her (that, of course, an impossibility) he would have her; and the cost, in view of his present delicate position in relation to his English cousin, might prove high indeed! But he would pay it rather than give her up!

He was not used to giving up things. His self-control was flabby from lack of exercise.

It never occurred to him that when he was quite ready to take the girl she would not readily come to him. Had he all along supposed her to be a "virtuous" maiden, he would not, at this moment, be here in this spot with her. But although he was not a despoiler of virtue, a man without heart or conscience, he certainly was not above accepting such gifts of life as the gods vouchsafed to him.

St. Croix' conscience, though not troubled as to his relation with Meely, was by no means at peace when he thought of the cousin whom he hoped to marry. He sentimentally felt that to go to his bride straight from a love affair with a "common" girl like Meely would be to wrong her (not Meely, but the bride) and the struggle that went on in his soul between his ideal of what the bridegroom of a high-born and immaculate lady should be and his compelling infatuation for the farm girl was at times bitter and devastating.

But there was never any real doubt in his mind as to which side in that struggle would win.

CHAPTER IV

MEELY knew just enough about the profession of teaching to know that she knew shockingly little about it; and her dread, therefore, of the county superintendent's impending visit to her school was a sword over her head.

"If I only knew what he expects (or hopes) to find me doing when he comes, I'd be doing it or making a bluff at doing it!"

She knew that to a professional teacher her methods must seem grotesquely unprofessional, being based on the same principle as that by which she lived most of her life—or tried to: that principle being the imperative need to extract all the entertainment possible from any situation in which you found yourself. So she worked really very hard to make her days in her schoolroom yield entertainment, first to herself, and secondly to forty rather bucolic children of all ages and sects (Amish, New and Old Mennonites, Dunkards) who filled her school. A few vigorous and tiresome hours were devoted to drilling in geography, multiplication tables, grammar, spelling (she suspected that the way she did that drilling would have made any real pedagogue shudder) and the rest of the time was delightfully spent in teaching what she, not the school trustees, thought children ought to know — fairy stories, poems, plays.

Ever since Mr. Schwenckton had warned her that the superintendent would be visiting her school, she had gone cautiously; had been ready, at an instant's warning, to have the children suddenly busy at the blackboard "doing tables" or something like that. But as ill luck would have it, it was on the very afternoon of his visit that she had become so entrancingly engrossed in her wide departure from "prescribed branches" that she never heard his knock on the schoolroom door, never saw him enter!—and God only knew how long he had been standing there watching her wild performance, when suddenly the faces of the children warned her. Her back was toward the door at the moment, but she did not have to turn to know he was standing there! Horror of horrors! That he should have caught her at such a moment as this, after all her precautions! She was so stunned with embarrassment she could not have turned around if her life had been the forfeit for not doing so!

Pretending to be unaware of his presence, she moved stiffly to the edge of the platform and spoke faintly, directing the several grades to the orthodox blackboard or tablet work with which she had planned to propitiate him on his visit—though she knew she was just several minutes too late, now, to deceive him. She'd been caught red-handed—oh, oh!

Seating herself at her desk, her back still toward him, she awaited his approach. But he did not come. A hope leapt up in her heart that she had been mistaken. But she was still too terrified to look around.

A step on the platform just back of her chair—and she barely suppressed a shriek.

He stood before her, hat and gloves in one hand, the other held out to her.

Blindly she rose and gave him her own, not daring to look up and meet his eye.

As she did not invite him to be seated, he had to take care of himself. "With your permission?" he said as he drew a chair forward and, motioning her to be reseated, sat down at her side—and she realized with fresh embarrassment her remissness in schoolroom hospitality.

Laying his hat and gloves on the desk, he leaned back comfortably, as though settling himself to stay a while, folded his arms and—waited.

Heavens!—what was she expected to do? Perform pedagogically for his inspection, no doubt. Well, she couldn't; she wouldn't try! But just to sit here— Ought she converse with him, entertain him? She stole a swift side glance at him. His eyes were thoughtfully contemplating the schoolroom. She might pretend ignorance of who he was; take him for a parent visiting the school.

But her protracted silence seemed to give him an idea. "Perhaps I must introduce myself? Mr. Creighton, your superintendent."

"Well, I cannot tell a lie and say I'm glad to see you!" she hysterically brought out, "for I'm not!"

He grinned. They all hated his visits, the county teachers, but they did not, as a general thing, frankly shriek at him! On the contrary! Palavered over him, flattered him, pretended to be pleased to death to see him.

"Why?" he asked. "Got a guilty conscience?"

She repressed a start. A guilty conscience she certainly did have and with good reason, but he could not know that reason. What a cultivated voice he had—like St. Croix'—but with a grave thoughtfulness in his tone that interested her. She took a bit of comfort from the twinkle in his eyes. His difference from St. Croix was conspicuous enough—here was no air of superiority, no self-consciousness; but an offhand directness which took it for granted that he was on your level, rather than that he accepted you on his. He impressed her on sight as being genuine.

"I Can't Teach Before You!" She Exclaimed, as Though Accusing Him of Our Famous American "Moral Turpitude."

"I can't teach before you!" she exclaimed, as though accusing him of our famous American "moral turpitude." "I just can't and that's all there is about it!" (She made an effort to pronounce her a's as in air rather than as in art, as her natural speech, she knew, would seem highly unnatural for a Kutztown Normal school graduate and a teacher in this vicinity.)

"But—" He turned in his chair and faced her. Such an unprofessional mien as this he had not encountered in any schoolroom of the county. "I understand, Miss Schwenckton, that you are a graduate of Kutztown Normal school. Then you ought to know a lot more about this business of teaching than I do! I am not a Kutztown Normal graduate."

She had nothing to answer. She almost hung her head, furious at her helpless stupidity; St. Croix had never put her to such confusion—

"You are a normal school graduate, aren't you?"

She slightly nodded. She had never in the least minded telling lies to St. Croix.

He regarded her doubtfully and if she could have read his mind, she would have had another cause for uneasiness; for his brief experience as county superintendent had taught him that what normal school graduates did not know about pedagogy was negligible; their superiority and their awareness of it, their poise, their condescending pity toward the unfortunate teachers who were not normal school graduates, he had found a little oppressive. Meely did not know it, but she was behaving more like the frightened, uncertain nongraduates that were mere certificate holders who had managed to pass the county superintendent's examination than like the self-confident Kutztown graduates who were not required to take that examination.

He sat back again and folded his arms with an air of determination. "I'm here to hear you teach," he said firmly. "Please call a class and teach!"

"You teach them something," she brightly suggested. "Oh, I" she exclaimed hopefully, "don't you want to make a speech to them?" (She knew how men loved making speeches; loved the sound of their own voices before an audience.)

"That's not what I'm here for," he returned. "I don't want to interrupt your program—what were you doing when I came in? Proceed with that."

"I—I can't!"

"But I only want to see you in your usual routine—"

"I—I was breaking the usual routine—"

"From what I observed as I entered, I must say I'm glad it was only a breaking of the usual routine! Now, will you call a class in—er—geography, we'll say?"

"You'd laugh at me."

"But look here! Will you tell me what you do here all day if you don't teach?"

"Oh, I do teach—of kaws—courrse I teach! But you see"—she suddenly picked up courage and launched forth—"I have my own original way of teaching—and if you're the conventional school man, originality would be highly offensive to you."

"Now you make me very curious! Let's have a sample of this originality!"

"You see, I hold that children should be taught," she discoursed airily, adopting somewhat the tone of a platform lecturer, "what is for their immediate use and pleasure, rather than for the future, for only so will they grow. You don't grow by what you store up, but by what you use and assimilate. So I—"

"Wait! Is this your own, or recited from some textbook of modern padagogy?"

"Entirely my own that I've forged out for myself—though others may also have forged it out—that I can't say. The goal which I set before my pupils is not marks and grades, but knowledge."

"Excellent! Knowledge of what, for instance?"

"Of whatever interests them. They're not much interested in arithmetic and gramm- and spelling. You can interes- hem in science, history, geography (geography only when taught entertainingly, as I teach it), poetry, stories, plays—"

"Sounds so good, I think I'll come to school to you! Do call up a geography class."

"I don't know so much about geography, really—do you know," she smiled, "until quite recently I thought the North and South of the Civil war here in the United States were divided by the Mississippi river! I—"

She stopped short in dismay—now she had given herself away! No American on earth had ever supposed such a thing as that!

"My sense of direction," she murmured with a nervous laugh, "was always weak! I—"

No use—you couldn't explain away such lunacy. Might as well keep quiet and let him draw what conclusions he would.

He made no comment. He had given her one swift, penetrating glance; but at her obviously painful embarrassment had mercifully looked away.

"Kindly call up a geography class," he urged after a moment, in a tone which, though courteous, was a command.

"I'd rather not, if you'll kindly excuse me. The one thing these children seem to need," she said, reverting to her lecture-platform tone in her effort to divert him from his yearning to hear her teach geography, "is to have their imaginations roused. Before I came they didn't know the commonest, most familiar stories—Cinderella, Jack, the Giant Killer, Arabian Nights. Imagine American children so benighted! Those children knew all the multiplication tables and all the capitals of the 37 states—"

"Forty-seven."

(Continued Next Week)

Bump Grocery Specials

Friday and Saturday, Dec. 9 - 10

1 1-LB. can CANE and MAPLE SYRUP, ea. 23c
1 2-LB. can CANE and MAPLE SYRUP, ea. 45c
½ GAL. FARMER JONES SORGHUM ---39c
LARGE CAN PEACHES, PEARS, APRICOTS ---24c

We have Fresh Apples, Cranberries, Citron and Dates this week

We pay highest cash or trade price for eggs. Buy your week's supply here.

We Appreciate Your Patronage

The Bump Grocery

Phone 38 Belmond, Iowa

HENRY FORD SAYS

Volume With Small Profits Is What Makes Big Business

WE SAY

That volume reduces overhead and makes it possible to work on smaller profits. We are carload buyers of everything in our line—can the little fellow, who ships in ton lots and pays local freight, compete with us? Get our prices on the following and see:

OCCIDENT FLOUR	OIL MEAL
TOWN CRIER FLOUR	BONE MEAL
MIDLINGS	EGG MASH
BRAN	ALFALFA MEAL
TANKAGE	MOLASSES HOG FEED
POULTRY MEAT SCRAPS	MOLASSES CATTLE FEED
OYSTER SHELLS	WIRE FENCING
CALF MEAL	POULTRY FEED of all kinds
SALT	STEEL POSTS

We Pay The Highest Prices For GRAIN POULTRY HIDES
Truck Service—Phone 198

Farmers Grain Company

PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!
BELMOND, - - IOWA

PUBLIC SALE!

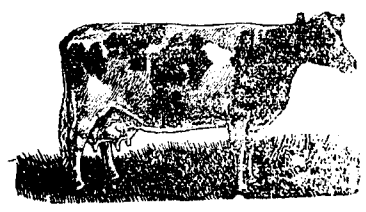
As I am moving away, I will hold a closing out sale on the A. R. Loomis farm, 3 miles north and 1½ miles east of Alexander, 4 miles south and 1½ miles east of Meservey on

SATURDAY DEC. 10

Commencing at 12 noon

9 - HEAD OF HORSES - 9

1 black mare 7 yrs. old, wt. 1400
1 sorrel mare 10 yrs. old, wt. 1400
1 grey mare 10 yrs. old, wt. 1500
1 team grey geldings 10 yrs. old, wt. 1300
1 black horse 10 yrs, old, wt. 1300
1 brown horse 10 yrs. old, wt. 1500
1 bay mare 12 yrs. old, wt. 1300
1 grey mare coming 3 yrs. old, wt. 1100

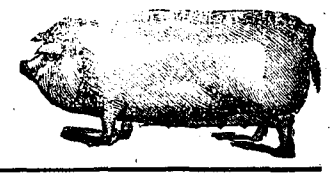


31 Head of Cattle

13 milch cows, 4 fresh cows, 8 coming fresh soon
1 yearling heifer
8 yearling steers
4 spring calves
1 white Shorthorn bull, subject to registry
4 sucking calves
All stock will be cared for over Sunday if not taken away day of sale.

50 Head of Hogs

1 full blood Chester White male hog, subject to register
49 good feeding shoats



FARM MACHINERY, ETC.

2 hay racks
1 Deering mower
1 Case corn plow
1 Deering 8-ft. binder
1 McCormick hay rake
1 Case gang plow, 12 in.
1 Case sulky plow, 14 in.
1 Surprise endgate seeder
1 New Century corn plow
1 McCormick Deering corn picker
1 8-ft. disc
1 7-ft. disc
1 fanning mill
1 hand corn sheller
2 wagons, triple box
1 International manure spreader
1 Anti-Tip bob sled with triple box
1 Hayes corn planter, 80 rds. of wire
1 grind stone
1 side delivery rake
1 Cowboy tank heater
1 24-ft. wood field drag
1 20-ft. steel field drag
1 Stover grinder, 10 in.
1 International corn planter, 80 rds. of wire
Some household goods and other articles too numerous to mention

FREE LUNCH SERVED AT NOON

TERMS: Under $15, cash; over that amount 10 months time on notes approved by Clerk. All property to be settled for day of sale.

M. D. CAMPER, Prop.

Potter & Saunders, Auctioneers, Alexander Savings Bank, Clerk

LOCAL NEWS

E. A. Pierce leaves today to spend the winter with his daughter, Alberta. His address will be 411 Roosevelt Ave., Cherokee, Ia.

The ladies of the M. E. aid society will meet with Mrs. J. B. Spitler Thursday, December 15.

FOR CHRISTMAS—The Gift your friends will treasure most—Your Photograph. Make an appointment today.—Thoe Studio.

The Geo. Dippel sale has been postponed until further notice. Line calls will be given later.

About 30 friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Geo Dippel gave them a surprise farewell party Monday evening. A pleasant social evening was spent, and the guests of honor presented with a token of the occasion. The Dippels are moving to California soon.

S. A. Bohning has purchased the Chas. Sampson residence in south Belmond and expects to move to town from the farm next spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dippel and family will leave this month for California, where they will make their future home. They will locate about 25 miles from the coast, near Los Angeles.

Dance Friday evening, Dec. 9, at the Belmond opera house. Music by Dean's Serenaders of Mason City. Tickets $1.10. Ladies Free. A good time assured. Everyody welcome.

A large number were at the Belmond Auto Co., Friday to see the picture of the new Ford car, and get specifications and details. The show rooms of the Company were beautifully decorated for the occasion.

The first real snow of the winter arrived Saturday, along with a cold wave. The ground was covered, and has stayed that way. Good weather the past two or three weeks enabled farmers to get the corn husking done, and most fields around here have been picked.

W. E. Daniels, who has been here the past few months in the interest of the securities department of the Central West Public Service Co., left for his home in Chicago, Monday.

SALE DATES CLAIMED

DEC. 8—Geo. Dippel, closing out farm sale.

DEC. 10—M. D. Camper, 8½ miles east of Belmond. Closing out farm sale.

DEC. 14—Clarence Scott. Closing out farm sale.

DEC. 15—Sampson Stock Farm closing out farm sale. Also H. G. Guernsey herd.

DEC. 20—Soren N. Faaborg, ½ mile south of Meservey.

DEC. 22—Reg. Houghton, 2 miles west, ½ mile south of Goodell. Closing out farm sale.

GET A TELEPHONE FOR CHRISTMAS

The Central West Public Service Co. will install a telephone in your home or place of business Free if ordered on or before Dec. 15. The regular installation charge of $1.50 will be omitted during the next 15 days.

1c C. E. Whitehouse, Mgr.

CITY MARKET'S SPECIALS!

Friday - Saturday
DECEMBER 9-10

SPARE RIBS per lb. 18c

PORK ROAST per lb. 22c

LINK SAUSAGE per lb. 22c

Watch for our Specials Every Week!

Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning

City Meat Market
Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207 Belmond, Iowa

SCHOOL NOTES
(Continued from page 1)

Cline the 7th B. We are all sure these chairmen will do their work well.

GRADE NOTES

The following pupils in the first grade were neither absent nor tardy in the second six weeks period: Roger Bohning, Ethel Cline, Robert Dempsey, Victor Foster, Laurence Greenwood, Ruth Guldseth, Maxine Kinseth, Elnora McManus, Mary Jane Roosevelt, Mildred Shaw, Anita Mae Thompson, Marjorie Tideback, Robert White.

The following third graders were neither absent nor tardy during the last six weeks: Barbara Chamberlin, Alice Cline, Donald Finn, Orvis Fitts, Arnold Foster, Celeste Hadley, Daryl Hood, Eugene Major, Melvin McManus, Francis Packard, John Packard, Betty Rowe, Fern Thayer, Velma Tideback, James Shaw.

The following pupils in the fourth grade have a perfect record for attendance in the last six weeks period: Ray Bonte, Donald Champlin, Bernard Daniels, Harris Dippel, Arlene Dorenkamp, Francis Dorr, Ruth Finn, Jean Hake, Angelene Jacobson, Jessie Jacobson, Kenneth Kinseth, Arlene Kragh, Eugene Miller, Donald Nielson, Maryl Pfaltzgraff, Earl Sheller, Louise Smith, Dorothea Thayer, Lawrence Tuffree, Douglas Sharp.

Jean Snader entered the second grade last week.

Andrew and Luella Nhoof have entered the sixth grade.

Mrs. W. W. Hill visited the fifth grade on Monday.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

STATE OF IOWA,
Cerro Gordo County

Public notice is hereby given that the undersigned has this day been appointed and commissioned by the District Court of Wright County, in the State of Iowa, administrator of the estate of Ida Starnes, deceased. All persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to file them with the Clerk of said Court, clearly stated and duly sworn to, and within legal time, preparatory to their being allowed and proved; and persons owing said estate are requested to make immediate payment to the undersigned and avoid costs.

Dated at Clarion, Iowa, this 1st day of September, 1927.

H. J. Blewett,
Administrator.

42

Stumped!

WE sat down here a FEW minutes ago to WRITE a Christmas
MESSAGE of some kind
TO you folks, and we're
STUMPED! We just don't KNOW where to begin!
WE thought at
FIRST we'd tell you that
THIS store is headquarters
FOR Christmas Shoppers,
BUT everyody else is SAYING the same thing—
AND then we thought
WE'D tell you that
WE'VE got the best line
OF Christmas gift
ARTICLES in Iowa
BUT we're not absolutely
SURE about that—but the HONEST-TO-GOODNESS truth
OF the matter is that
WE'VE got a beautiful
ARRAY of gifts—just the
VERY things you like to GIVE—Pfanstiehl Radios for INSTANCE, and Kodaks,
MANICURE Sets, Smoker
STANDS, Box Candy,
STATIONERY, Books,
HANDBAGS, Dolls, Toys,
AND dozens of other items
THAT "must be seen to be APPRECIATED," as the
ADVERTISEMENTS say—
COME in and see this
HOLIDAY display.
P. S.—Special Friday
AND Saturday. We will GIVE two Gold Fish and GLOBE Free with each
PURCHASE of Toys or
DOLLS of $2.00 and up.

Herman L. Schultz

SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Clarion, Iowa, Nov. 8, 1927

Board reconvened as per adjournment. Members all present.

Minutes of Nov. 7, 1927, read and approved.

Estimate No. 1 to Sampson Bros. for graveling Secondary Road District No. 39 for $5530.57 was on motion approved and ordered paid.

Moved and seconded that Mehl and Kitley investigate the Puffit matter at Sioux City, Iowa. Motion carried.

Moved and seconded that Greenlander Lumber Company be awarded contract for Illinois coal for the poor in Belmond at $8.50 per ton delivered. Motion carried.

On motion Board of Supervisors appointed Boards of Apportionon Secondary Gravel Road Districts as follows:

No. 30—C. O. Lewis, W. H. Mantle and Charles Gross.

No. 32—C. O. Lewis, Chester Luick and Charles E. Gross.

No. 35—C. O. Lewis, W. H. Mantle nad Charles E. Gross.

No. 39—W. H. Mantle, Chester Luick and Charles E. Gross.

No. 40—W. H. Mantle, Chester Luick and Charles E. Gross.

On motion county auditor was instructed to advertise in county papers for 1928 office supplies, the bids to be made on each item separately and bids on Bar Dockets and Financial Reports to be made on each numbered page. Letting to be held December 5, 1927, at 2 o'clock p. m., and county officers are hereby notified to file their lists of supplies wanted with the County Auditor on or before Nov. 19, 1927. All purchases to be F. O. B., Clarion, Iowa. The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

The following claims were presented, audited, allowed and warrants ordered drawn on the proper funds for their payment:

NOVEMBER LIST OF CLAIMS

County Fund

Ernest Anders, witness fee, (State of Iowa vs. Howard Welty)	$ 3.60
J. D. Baker, supervisor	144.90
A. H. Box, salary	104.00
Belmond Township Trustees meeting	16.00
Belmond Independent, board proceedings and printing	80.39
Burroughs Adding Machine Co., maintenance service	38.55
Cathlene Blue, clerking for Grand Jury	13.40
M. F. Birdsall, attorney's fee (defense of Raymond Rasmussen	10.00
Crescent Printing Co. supplies for Supt. office	12.94
Clarion Oil Co., gas for county car	13.65
Clarion Cafe, meals for jury	6.30
Dows Advocate, board proceedings, printing and supplies	112.98
Dayton Township Trustees, meeting	16.00
Eagle Grove Eagle, board proceedings and printing	73.30
L. G. Focht, office expense	8.04
Fullerton & Gray, supplies for Supt. office	57.92

(Continued next week)

LYRIC THEATRE
Geo. Hake, Manager

SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY NIGHTS

FRIDAY and SATURDAY
DECEMBER 9 and 10

"WILD BEAUTY"

Universal picture with Rex, the King of Wild Horses, June Marlowe, and Hugh Allen. A story of the West, featuring a band of wild horses and a thrilling horse race.

SOME SCOUT
Lupino Lane comedy

10c and 25c

MONDAY and TUESDAY
DECEMBER 12 and 13

"MAN CRAZY"

First National comedy drama with Dorothy Mackaill, Jack Mulhall, Edythe Chapman, Phillips Smalley. The story of the love affair of the daughter of an aristocratic New England family, and a truck driver who proudly pilots the fastest truck on the Boston Post Road. He turns out to be the son of an 'old' New England family. Taken from the story 'Clarissa and the Post Road,' which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post.

Fox News

10c and 25c

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY
DECEMBER 14 and 15

"THE HEART OF SALOME"

Fox picture with Alma Rubens, Walter Pidgeon, Holmes Herbert, Robert Agnew. Colorful adventure among the salons of Paris, where men fought for the woman who had the heart of a siren and the face of a saint.

THE DRAWBACK
Educational comedy

10c and 25c

Now is the time to feed Dr. Hess' Poultry Panacea. 1 egg will pay for all a hen will eat in 6 months. Guaranteed to increase your egg production.—Schultz Drug Co.

Your friends can buy anything you can give them—except your photograph.—Thoe Studio.

TO LOAN—$3000 for a term of years, on good first mortgage on town property. Inquire at Independent. 1c

Dance Friday evening, Dec. 9, at the Belmond opera house. Music by Dean's Serenaders of Mason City. Tickets $1.10. Ladies Free. A good time assured. Everyody welcome.

WANT ADS

FOR SALE—White Wyandotte Pullets, $1.25 each.—Mrs. Harm Braner. Phone 2804. 32c

FOR SALE—Large type Poland China boar pigs. Guaranteed breeders. $30. — Jacob Nissen, Meservey. 3tf

FOR SALE — Duroc Jersey Boars, good cholera immune pedigreed pigs at farmers' prices.—H. L. Ziska, 8½ miles west of Belmond. 33*

FOR SALE—Big, husky spring boars. New blood for old customers. Cholera immune. Satisfaction guaranteed. Prices $30 and $35 for quick sale.—Roy Jenison. 51tf

FOR SALE—Silver Laced Wyandotte and Buff Orpington cockerels. $1.50 each.—Mrs. A. P. Lonning. Phone 2606. 23c

FOR SALE—One Duroc Jersey boar, 1 year old. Colonel Pathfinder breeding. A good individual. Priced to sell.—Hillandale Stock-farm. Phone 3818.

FOR SALE

18x30 kitchen sink with brackets; 20x36 kitchen sink with cabinet; Red Jacket pump head with windmill attachment; 2 pump jacks; heating stove; 3x18 brass lined pump cylinder; 3½x14 brass lined pump cylinder; 1 h. p. electric motor; ¼ h. p. electric motor; 1-6 h. p. electric motor for washing machine; used furnace; hot water heating boiler, 1200 ft. capacity; three small gasoline engines; electric automatic soft water pump.—W. J. Pech. 32c

FOR SALE — Barred Rock Roosters.—Harm H. Pals. Phone 1608. 1*

FOR SALE—Buff Orpington Roosters, $2. Pullets $1.25.—Mrs. J. B. Sheffield. 1c

FOR SALE—18 months old pure bred Duroc boar, excellent type and breeding.—Oppedal and Steele. Phone 3606. 1c

FOR SALE—Alfalfa leaves for winter layers. Pure bred White Pekin ducks and drakes, and Toulouse geese and ganders.—J. R. Christie. 1c

Poultry Wanted

We will call to buy your poultry and will pay you the highest market price. Poultry weighed and paid for at your place. Just call Geo. Coburn, Cornelia. Clarion phone 61-31. Belmond phone 3817. 47tf

ROBINSON'S ... STORE ...

GROCERY
BAKERY

Our oven is hot every day now. We can supply you with buns, rolls, cakes, pies, cookies, cream puffs at prices that look good.

* * * *

Twenty-four years ago, the 19th of December we came to Belmond, and here we have stayed. Well we are going to celebrate the occasion. So remember the date and call Monday, December 19th.

* * * *

Dates, 2 lbs.	25c
Prunes, 3 lbs.	25c
Ginger snaps, 2 lbs.	25c
Fig Bars, 2 lbs.	25c
Salt Pork, dry, per lb.	25c

* * * *

We help you, you help us.

Fancy Work
for Christmas

* * * *

We are expecting a new selection any day

Numerous articles already worked up and moderately priced

* * * *

Metallic Hats
Hosiery
Corsages

* * * *

The Hat Shoppe
Belmond, Iowa

$10 Wrist Watches -:- Diamond Rings

Good Assortment of Other Rings
WATCH REPAIRING A SPECIALTY
$1 Glasses You Can See With at

Mallory's Jewelry Store

Early Christmas Suggestions

Christmas is only 24 days away! The old slogan, "Shop Early!" applies as well this year as ever. Below we list only a few suggestions for you to choose from—there are many more appropriate and useful gifts at our store—gifts for the whole family. Come in and see them.

FOR MEN
- Razors
- Watches
- Flashlights
- Guns
- Pocket Knives

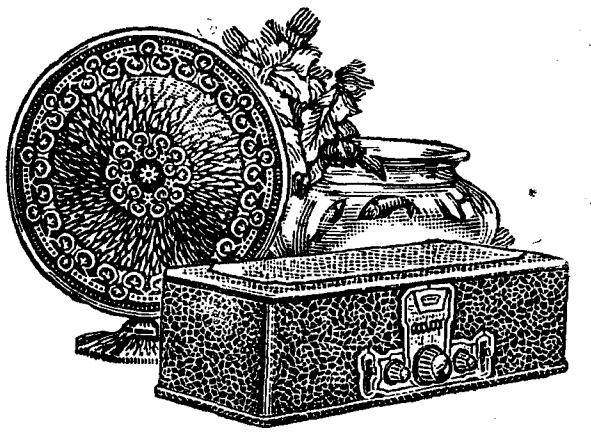
FOR WOMEN
- Silverware
- Aluminum Ware
- Pyrex Ware
- Carving Sets
- Roasters

FOR LITTLE BOYS AND GIRLS
- Air Rifles
- Sleds
- Tricycles
- Coaster Wagons
- Skates
- Kiddie Cars
- Tool Chests
- Air Rifles

Visit our Store---Something Useful for Everyone

GRIESY'S

The Friendly Place
PHONE 10
BELMOND, IOWA



A Crosley for Christmas

CROSLEY "BANDBOX", complete with super Musicone, five CX-301 A tubes, one UV 171 Power tube, three 45 volt Eveready or Burgess B batteries, one 100-Ampere storage A battery, one 22½ volt power tube, C battery, only $109.00

1. Completely shielded coils, condensers and wiring. 2. Acuminators for sharper tuning. 3. Completely balanced genuine neutrodyne. 4. Volume control. 5. Single tuning knob. 6. Illuminated dial. 7. Single cable outside connections. 8. Designed for easy installation in consoles. 9. Beautiful frosted brown crystalline finished cabinet.

Hanson Radio Shop
V. E. HANSON, Manager
PHONE 101 or 74 Across from Library BELMOND, IOWA

New Clothes for Christmas

Special Style Offering for Men

Now winter is really starting and the social events for the cold months are already under way.

We have a complete line of men's clothing to be right in keeping with the season. Here you'll find all fittings that exclusive dressers prefer—everything from Coopers Style Underwear to a brand new overcoat.

There's snap and pep in these clothes, too. The styles are sixty days in advance—the colors are the newest for the season—the quality is the best.

Come in and look 'em over!

COOPERS ATHLETIC SHIRTS AND SHORTS

Lots of style and pep—fancy colored stripes—cut on athletic lines. If you don't like "heavies," these are what you wont. Young men and old men both wear them.

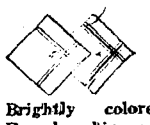
$1.50 and $2

WIDE COWHIDE BELTS

Plain buckle. Shown in tan, black and gray for boys and men of all ages.

50c to $1

IMPORTED LINEN HANDKERCHIEFS



25c to $1

Brightly colored printed French linen handkerchiefs. Very stylish, and popular with college men. Wear one in your suit and overcoat pocket.

COOPERS GAY PAJAMAS

are a riot of color in broad colored stripes and trimmings, checks and all over patterns. They're roomy and comfortable. Real style in the new wide collars, pocket and large pearl buttons. You'll enjoy sleeping in these.

$1.50 to $5

C. C. McGuire

SECTION ONE
Pages 1 to 8

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING NUMBER

SECTION ONE
Pages 1 to 8

BELMOND HAS IT

Belmond Independent

BUY IN BELMOND

ESTABLISHED 1919

AND HERALD-PRESS

CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 9 | BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1927. | NO. 5

Woman Forgets Her Second Husband When She Marries

Dows Woman Marries The Third Man Without Divorce From Second

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Mikesell, formerly of Dows, were placed in the Wright county jail Friday on complaint of David Lee of Des Moines. It seems that the woman in the case had been married three times, but by some slip overlooked her second marriage to Lee when she married Mikesell, which event took place in Clarion about two months ago. At the time of applying for a marriage license the bride-to-be produced her divorce papers showing a legal separation from husband No. 1 in Missouri, but no mention was made of her second spouse. He later learned of the marriage and filed a statutory charge against Mikesell. Sheriff Johnson located the couple at Charles City, to which place they had moved from Dows about two weeks ago. Mikesell is a garage employee. Lee came to Clarion Monday and just which of the two men will win out in this triangle is hard to forecast. The couple were released from jail and at last accounts an attempt was being staged to settle the matter by the two men with their fists.

A. F. Wenzel, local agent for the Sinclair Refining Co., at Belmond, brings action against E. L. Kinseth to collect balance alleged to be due on account in the sum of $210.22. Plaintiff alleges to have sold defendant gasoline, oils, etc., to the value of $5425.71 and after allowing all payments claims the above amount still owing.

Mr. and Mrs. Torres Scott of Woolstock have formally adopted Louis Fitzgerald, aged 6, son of Mrs. Norma Fitzgerald who gave her consent. Mr. Fitzgerald is deceased. Judge Thompson approved of the adoption in last week's court.

County Attorney Blue has brought action in the name of the state of Iowa against James Lamb of Eagle Grove, charging that said defendant is a bootlegger as defined by law. Wherefore the county attorney prays the court to enjoin said Lamb from selling or keeping for sale intoxicating liquors within Wright county or elsewhere in the state of Iowa.

Receiver for Citizens State Bank of Goldfield brought action against W. T. and P. T. Christensen to compel them to return $150, which was in the form of certificates of deposit and withdrawn from said bank a day or so before the bank failed, also the sum of $1300 which was drawn out at the same time by check. Judge Thompson ruled that the money taken out on certificates of deposit must be returned and the owner thereof receive such dividends as the other depositors. As cashier W. T. Christensen drew out $1300 by check, which sum he alleges his father gave him to invest. The court held, as is the rule in such cases, that where bank employes withdraw money at such a time and do not profit thereby, the transaction is valid.

Ernest Tudor was arrested Sunday near Woolstock by Sheriff Johnson. He was wanted at Independence for wife desertion, to which place he was taken by the Sheriff of Buchanan county the next day.

Marshal Reynolds came to Clarion Monday in search of Wm. Orr who was suspected of having stolen an overcoat belonging to John Frakes of that city. The coat was located and Orr is said to have confessed to the crime. At present he is in the county jail.

L. P. Anderson of Eagle Grove has been granted a divorce from his wife Frances Anderson, who failed to appear and defend.

The cases of Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Taylor of Clarion, in which the husband was defendant, in one case and plaintiff in the other, have not been dismissed by the parties concerned.—Monitor.

REFORMED CHURCH NOTICE

The Reformed Sunday school class Christmas practice, which was to be held Saturday, Dec. 17, will be held Sunday, Dec. 18, instead, at 2 P. M.

LIST YOUR DATE

Farmers who expect to hold sales this winter are invited to list their date with the Independent. There is no charge for this, and it reserves the date so another farmer planning a sale will not choose the same day. Whether or not you get your advertising here, we will be glad to list your date.

MODERN WOODMEN ELECT OFFICERS

New officers chosen for the local camp of the Modern Woodmen of America at a recent meeting were as follows:

Venerable Council, F. P. Dibble
Worthy Advisor, Walter L. Sharp
Banker, Luverne Smith
Clerk, G. W. Goelz
Managers—Con Nissen, Gus Ziska, C. J. Johnson.

The Woodman camp is growing rapidly. Much interest is being manifested by the members and some fine meetings are being held A social dance is one of the regular features this winter.

ERSHLAND-BERNS

Cecil V. Berns and Alice J. Ershland were married at Iowa City, December 5. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. John Bell of Lone Tree, Iowa. After the ceremony they went to Lone Tree where they were met by a large charivari crowd followed by a dance in honor of the occasion, at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. John Bell.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ershland living six miles southeast of Belmond. She has spent nearly all her life here and is a very popular young lady and has a host of friends.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Frank Wolter living five miles south of Belmond. He has been making his home here since last July and has made a large number of friends during his stay here.

The couple will be at home in Des Moines after January 1. The groom has accepted a good position at the Ford plant.

Their friends extend best wishes.

Ice Business Is Sold To A Des Moines Firm

To Discontinue Making Ice From Iowa River, Use Artificial Ice

A. Lamb has sold his ice business in Belmond to the Central Service Co., of Des Moines, possession to be given Jan. 2 next.

The Central Service Co. will discontinue putting up ice from the Iowa river here, and will ship in artificially made ice from their plant at Ft. Dodge. They operate a number of towns in Iowa, and recently along with the Belmond business, acquired the ice business at Clarion and Eagle Grove where they are now operating.

The new company will erect a storage house at the Great Western tracks, where they will store ice shipped from the Fort Dodge plant. It is understood they will erect a storage house free at any of the small towns around, providing the towns will furnish the land, and will supply those communities with ice at a nominal rate, customers to get it from the storage houses.

Mr. Lamb expects to devote a large part of his time to working his farm west of town.

COE PETIT HERE MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Coe Petit, Iowa's famous piano artist, will be a feature at the Lyric Theatre next week Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 19 and 20. Coe Petit will play the favorite selections of any one in the audience upon their request. Mr. Petit is well known to many lovers of good music in Belmond, having played here a couple years ago. He is famous all over Iowa and the middle west for his piano playing ability. Mr. Hake is to be commended for securing such high class talent for his theatre. Coe Petit will also furnish music for the picture the two evenings.

Watch Your Step, Young Fellow

Copyright, W. N. U.

Fellowship Club Meets Tonight In Important Session

Question Of Continuing Club To Be Decided This Evening

Tonight, Thursday, Dec. 15th, the Good Fellowship club meets at the library in a session of decided importance to the club. No special speaker or program has been arranged, the meeting being given over strictly to business. Refreshments will be served at the close.

Whether or not the Good Fellowship club shall continue to exist and to function during the coming winter months will be discussed and decided at the meeting tonight. A strong sentiment in favor of continuing the club, and of holding regular meetings thruout the winter, exists among the men of the community. Lack of manifested interest, however, has placed the club in a precarious situation. Unless attendance at this evening's meeting is large enough to be a majority representation of the Good Fellowship club's numerical strength, and a real, live interest is manifested by those present, it is probable the club will be discontinued, at least for this winter. Once permitted to stop, the task of starting up again will encounter many difficulties.

Organized some years ago, largely thru the efforts of Rev. Henry Horton, then a minister of Belmond, since deceased, the Food Fellowship club has carried on each winter. Its primary purpose indicated in its name—Good Fellowship—the club has been a democratic organization including any man in the community, town or country. It is unique among club or societies of any character. It has no constitution, no by-laws, no established rule of procedure. The officers draw no salary, membership is not essential to attendance. Dues are eight and a third cents a month—$1 a year—if a man care to join. If not, he is just as welcome.

Meetings have been held usually every two weeks during the winter, or when a good speaker could be secured. Some of the best talent of Iowa have addressed the meetings. Among them have been Secretary of State Ramsay, of Des Moines; C. H. Mc Nider, Mason City; Rev. Dr. Drake, formerly of Fort Dodge; Prof. Fitche, Iowa State College, Ames; Prof. Wassam, Iowa University, Iowa City; Sheriff Cress of Cerro Gordo County; and many others. Short programs of music, singing and readings have preceded the main feature, the address by some good speaker. Refreshments are served at cost.

The club has always had a strength of from 75 to 100 paid

(Continued on page 8)

NEWS OF THE BELMOND SCHOOLS

Grade School Notes

Mrs. Louis Kramer was a visitor in the first grade last week.

The 6th grade had two visitors last week, Mrs. Anfinson and Miss Sadie Frohling.

All of the grade children are working hard for the Christmas program.

Those in the Kindergarten who have been neither tardy nor absent during the past six weeks, are: Betty Jean Brewer, Georgia Groen, Marjorie, Sheller, Fred Stanberry, Reese Townsan, Irene Thayer, Merlin Thayer, Jack Lobdell, Lucille Anderson, Eunice Guldseth, Helen Dorr, Ethel Jenkins, Merline Miller, Billie Walrod.

The Kindergarten pupils are making Christmas presents for their mothers and fathers.

Mr. O. L. Varland talked to the 5th grade Friday afternoon about Norway, Sweden and Denmark. Mr. Varland visited these countries in 1913 and he gave the class a very interesting and instructive talk. Miss Barry and the pupils are very grateful to Mr. Varland.

Junior High Notes

Last week the 8th grade saved $6.36 and the 7th grade saved $2.54. Sixteen in the 8th grade had a perfect record of brushing their teeth twice a day and fifteen in the 7th grade.

The 7th and 8th grade girls have started to play basket ball in Physical Training under their gym teacher, Miss Sowerwine.

The Junior high English classes are writing English stories. The best one will be put in the paper.

The 8th grade Hygiene classes have written stories on Tuberculosis. One of the best will be read at the Assembly and another will be put in the paper. We are going to make health posters this week.

In the 8th grade Arithmetic classes we are all enjoying a study of insurance.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Co-operative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of Nov. 27 to Dec. 3. of December 4 to December 10.

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
4	26	4	.03	Clear
5	37	6	—	Cloudy
6	31	25	T	Cloudy
7	26	-6	.60	Cloudy
8	0	-13	—	Clear
9	20	-12	—	Pt cloud
10	6	0	—	Cloudy

Belmond To Meet Klemme In First Game Tomorrow

Prepare Defense Against Anticipated Attack of First Winter Game

The first basketball game of the season will be played on the Belmond floor Friday night with Klemme coming to furnish the opposition. Coach Hall reports the squad rounding into good shape, and although the boys have not hit their mid-season form, they will be in shape to put up a good game.

Coach Hall has been doing some experimenting trying to find the best scoring combination. Henry Johnson, captain and mainspring of the team, is rounding into form and has been locating the hoop regularly in practice. Leonard Johnson, the only other letterman from last year, has been holding down the other forward post. Among the new men Peterson, Galloway, Hoyt Klemme, Fetrow and Elder have been used frequently in rounding out the team. Most of the time has been devoted to building a defense to check the strong offense expected from the Klemme five.

Last year Klemme had one of the best teams in this part of the state and the local team is expecting a stiff scrap from the neighboring town. The Belmond team is determined to get off on the right foot and are leaving nothing undone to be in the best of shape for Friday night.

The game has been called for eight o'clock.

The operetta "Tulip Time" presented by the high school glee clubs, under the direction of Miss Waugh, last Friday afternoon and evening has brought forth many words of commendation. The large audiences for both matinee and evening were very appreciative of the work of both soloists and choruses. The operetta music combined enough humor, pep and good music to make it one of the most attractive ever presented by the local high school. The whole operetta showed a finish and smoothness not often found in high schools. The soloists carried their solos and speaking parts well and the choruses were well balanced and in good harmony. The wooden shoes and Dutch costumes added a touch of quaintness to the program. The tulips on the stage looked fresh enough for June.

The operetta showed capable and efficient training and the glee clubs are to be congratulated on the fine program presented. Much credit is due Miss Waugh for her ability to produce such pleasing entertainment.

The school orchestra also made its first appearance of the year playing before the operetta be

(Continued on page 8)

H E L P !

It has always been the custom of the Community Club to do a considerable amount of charity work at Christmas, but this fall club funds are low and the club is asking for donations. More charity work than ever before is probable this year. If you wish to donate money, clothing, groceries, vegetables, canned goods and the like, please leave them with either Mrs. G. F. McBurney, Chairman, or with Mrs. R. A Hankins. Your help will be greatly appreciated.

CORWITH HAD ANOTHER FIRE LAST WEEK

Algona Republican: Several years ago Corwith suffered several destructive fires and last week was visited by another fire, when the R. J. Clapsaddle store caught fire from some unknown cause and the stock of dry goods, notions and groceries was reported a complete loss. The second story contained a lot of stored household goods belonging to L. O. Mitchell, W. L. Monlux and Geo. Money and they were damaged more or less by the heat and smoke. Mr. Clapsaddle's loss is reported at about $6,000.

(Mr. Clapsaddle is known to a number of Belmond people, having married Miss Agnes Dillon of this place.)

FIREMEN ELECT OFFICERS FOR ENSUING YEAR

At the meeting Monday night of the Belmond Volunteer Fire Company, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

Louis Foss, Fire Chief
C. J. Johnson, Asst. Chief
Frank Miller, Secretary
Gus Nissen, Treasurer

Initiation of some new members was held, and following the business meeting and initiation the firemen enjoyed a huge chicken supper.

Firemen Patrol Street During Night Of Storm

Men Volunteer To Keep All-Night Vigil In Period Of Blizzard

Ten men from Belmond's volunteer fire company spent the night, last Wednesday, patrolling Main street watching for fires, during the blizzard and intense cold which held this vicinity in its grip thruout Wednesday and Wednesday evening. All electricity was off due to the lines of the Central States Electric Co. being down, and no electric power was available to sound the fire siren or pump water in case a blaze broke out.

The fire company, realizing the conditions and appreciating what might happen, took every precaution to avoid a disastrous conflagration. Ten men of the company volunteered to patrol the business section of town thruout the night and watch for fires. With these men on the job, a fire would likely be spotted immediately and the blaze extinguished before it could gain much headway.

The community owes a debt of gratitude to the fire company and these ten men who volunteered their services. The ten patrolmen were:

Con Nissen, Theo. Bonte, Frank Miller, Herman Wenzel, Carl Wenzel, Albin Tomson, Wm. Dempsey, A. W. Loats, "Speck" Houghton and Joe Scott.

GOODELL MAN HAS HIS CAR STOLEN

Reg. Houghton, a young farmer west of Goodell, had his Ford car stolen last Friday night while in Belmond. He left the auto parked for about 15 minutes, and found it gone upon his return. Police were notified, and calls placed to towns around. The next day the car was found abandoned in the gravel pit north of Belmond, with two of the tires stripped off.

Mrs. W. E. Daniels Burns To Death As Auto Tips Over

Drunken Driver Of Other Car Throws Daniels' Over Enbankment

Mrs. W. E. Daniels was killed and Mr. Daniels seriously injured, Tuesday evening, Dec. 6th, when their Studebaker car was struck from behind by Ed Voelpel, of Clinton, about six miles east of Clinton.

Mrs. Daniels was caught beneath the overturned car, and burned to death when the car caught fire. Mr. Daniels was badly injured, and received severe burns when he attempted to release his wife from the wreckage.

Voelpel was said by witnesses of the crash to have been drunk at the time. It was testified before coroner's jury that he had but recently completed a sentence of one year on a liquor charge, in the Morrison, Ill. jail. Daniels testified he begged Voelpel for help to release Mrs. Daniels from the burning car, and that Voelpel sat in his own car mumbling while the woman burned to death.

The coroner's jury at Clinton, at the inquest over the body of Mrs. Daniels, recommended that Voelpel be held to the Clinton county grand jury for investigation on charges of criminal negligence, drunken driving, and driving at a high rate of speed.

According to reports, the drunken driver narrowly escaped mobbing by the angry crowd which quickly gathered, and only prompt action of officers in placing him in the Clinton jail saved him from summary justice.

Voelpel crashed into the Daniels Studebaker from the back, hurling it into the ditch where it quickly caught fire. Voelpel was accompanied by Mrs. Viola Graber of Clinton. The accident occured at 6:30 P. M. on the Lincoln highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniels left Belmond, Monday, for Chicago. They had been in Belmond the past several months, rooming at the Henry Anderson home. Mr. Daniels was connected with the Central West Public Service Co. the securities department, and made his headquarters here doing a campaign for selling securities of that company. Mr. and Mrs. Daniels, both elderly persons, were congenial and pleasant and had made a wide circle of friends in Belmond. Their home was in Seymour, Wisconsin.

CAR AND TRUCK CRASH

Dr. G. H. Steele, driving a Buick sedan, and a Mr. Franks of Jackson, Minn., driving a Chevrolet truck, crashed together at 12:30 Monday afternoon at the intersection of Main street and primary road No. 15. Steele's car hit the truck on the side near the right front wheel. Damage to the Buick consisted of a bent fender and bumper. The Chevrolet truck was quite badly smashed having a sprung frame and front axle, besides a crushed fender and other minor damages. Neither driver was injured.

Steele was coming from the west, Franks going south on No. 15. Franks has been engaged in hauling gravel for Mee & Nelson on Primary 15, but fortunately his truck was traveling empty at the time of the accident.

The city has ordered an electric traffic sign for this corner, now considered the most dangerous in town, but it has not arrived as yet. Pending its arrival and while graveling of No. 15 is being carried on, the city is maintaining a traffic officer at the corner. The accident occurred during the few minutes the officer on duty was away for lunch.

MAY HAVE NEW BANK AT ALGONA

Rumors of a new bank to be current at Algona, to be organized in the First National bank building. C. H. McNider, of Mason City, is reported to be interested in establishing a bank there. Algona has been in need of banking accommodations for a few months following the closing of the Algona banks [illegible]

Belmond Independent
AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Suscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES

Display, per column inch ----25c
Locals, per line, ----------10c
Classified, per word ---------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

EDITORIALS

Anyone who believes that liquor and gasoline can mix has the fallacy of that belief demonstrated in a case which occured the past week to a Belmond person.

The most horrible of deaths, that of being burned alive, resulted to Mrs. W. E. Daniels when she was pinned beneath their blazing car when it had been hurled in the ditch by a drunken driver of another auto.

There is no penalty too severe for the drunken driver of the car that killed Mrs. Daniels. The sad part of it is, so far as he is concerned, that he cannot be hung. Had the crowd had its way he probably would have been, in very short order. But the judge who hears his case should administer the utmost the law permits. He is a murderer, whether deliberate or not, and every intoxicated driver of a motor vehicle is a potential murderer. Gasoline and booze will not mix; either we are to have one or the other, we cannot have both. Motor traffic on our highways has reached the point where a drunken driver can no longer be tolerated under any circumstances. The penalty for such a crime should never permit of a fine; the jail and penitentiary is where such persons belong, and that is where they should be sent. Drunkenness now is a disgrace, not to be tolerated by respectable society. The day of liquor is past.

Every man in Belmond who has an interest at all in the betterment and welfare of his community should attend the meeting tonight of the Good Fellowship club. If there ever was a club or society or an organization of any character that was worth boosting to Belmond, it is this one. More than what the name states, this club promotes good fellowship among all classes, kinds and conditions of society in Belmond. It is democratic to the utmost, barring none, making every man welcome. The Good Fellowship club is the most representative, most democratically, and most helpful and unselfish organization within the city limits.

There is a spirit of disinterest in Belmond that must be stopped right where it is now. Of all the organizations we have had for business men and citizens, the Good Fellowship club is the only one left; and indications are that it, too, is following its fellows to the graveyard of blasted hopes. The Chamber of Commerce wasted away, to be followed by the Commercial club and the Business Men's Luncheon club. The Good Fellowship club alone remains.

—Every one of the organizations mentioned has fallen by the wayside because of one thing—lack of interest. If the Good Fellowship falls too, we should hang our heads in shame. Whatever might be said or held against other organizations, it cannot be held against this club, which costs but a dollar, and grinds nobody's axe, which has no social register, and aims solely to create and promote the friendly, neighborly spirit among us.

This holiday period, when the Christmas spirit is beginning to enter into us, should be a good time in which to make unto ourselves a vow to be more friendly and more helpful to our fellow men; a good time in which to get together in this Good Fellowship club and boost for it and for one another. In our conscience, we know we're wrong; we know we should take the right interest; we know we are more or less selfish and self-centered. We should be ashamed of ourselves—and in our hearts we are. Every man who is not present tonight at the Good Fellowship club, and has no valid excuse that will pass inspection of his own conscience, should be ashamed.

Dont' let's permit this club to go the way of the others. The town can't afford it; we can't afford it. It's the only thing left out of the wreck. It's our only hope for something larger, our only foundation upon which to build. Keep it going!

FREE AIR!

Do your Christmas Shopping early!

* * * *

If you will peruse the various Christmas ads in this issue, you won't have any difficulty finding something for everyone on your list.

* * * *

You know it is common practice to speak of our Christmas "list." The "list" is a long sheet of paper on which we have jotted down the names of all the aunts and uncles, nephews and nieces, cousins and near relatives whom we simply must remember at Christmas. We haven't thought of most of them for a year—since last Christmas—unless it was to hope none of 'em would come for a visit.

* * * *

But no matter, we must remember every one of them at this festive holiday season. They would be peeved if we didn't.

* * * *

The "list" is to help us remember.

* * * *

On our list, opposite each name, we have a suggested gift. Sometimes it's something we ourselves received last Christmas. We didn't want it—it was horrid—but Uncle Josiah or Aunt Mariah won't know that.

* * * *

And anyway, it's just the same as though we bought is especially for them.

* * * *

Of course, a Japanese Cold Cream Jar will be out of place on Aunt Mariah's washstand, and Uncle Josiah wont' have any possible use for those bright gilt steel lion book ends, but such bright things bring a little color into their drab lives; and besides we can't possibly use them ourselves.

* * * *

This Christmas shopping is a great game, no question. And despite the foolish, unappropriate selections we are all prone to make, it would be a pretty bum old world if we didn't have Christmas, wouldn't it?

* * * *

Home-run Stanzel, the heavy hitter on the southside, fanned out again this week, when he faced the graceful curves of the county's greatest speed artist, Fred Johnson, of Clarion. Every other member of the southside made a clean hit, and none were caught napping. Stanzel, however, who has had a run of bad luck the past couple weeks, went down the line.

* * * *

He claims he was hit by a foul ball, in the play, but according to the rules that puts him out just the same.

* * * *

The next game is scheduled to be played in February, at Clarion.

OH, THAT'S DIFFERENT

Renwick Times: The National Association of Manufacturers is protesting because Uncle Sam is competing with them by entering the field of power development, which is unfair to private industry, "which is compelled to pay taxes and insurance," while Uncle Sam rides free. And they would like the co-operation and assistance of the newspapers in making public and showing up this unfairness on the part of the government. Sure, the newspapers will help them—just as soon as they cease using government printed envelopes, which are issued in direct competition with American printers the country over. The printers also pay taxes and insurance and rent and interest and wages. We have protested against this unfair competition for years, and it has fallen on deaf years. It makes a difference whose ox is gored.

ELECTRIC FRANCHISE UP AT EAGLE GROVE

Representatives of the Iowa Public Service company met with the city council of Eagle Grove, last week, relative to calling an election for granting a new franchise to the company. The present franchise expires next November. An election for this purpose may be called by a city council, or may be petitioned for by citizens.

-:- Belmond Church Notes -:-

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN CHURCH
Arthur G. Langholz, Pastor

4th Sunday in Advent

Sunday school at 9:45 A. M. Classes for all. Senior lesson, "Isaiah Predicts Peace."

Services at 10:45 A. M. in the German language. All who desire to worship in this language are cordially invited. The service will be in keeping with the advent season.

Evening services at 7:30. "When is a Christian Truly Prepared for Christmas?" You are invited to worship with us; we would point sinners to their only Savior, Jesus Christ.

Saturday, Dec. 17, at 1:30 P. M. there will be Christmas practice. All children and also the young people are requested to be present.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

The Sunday school and morning worship will be at the usual hours next Sunday, 10:00 o'clock and 11:00 o'clock respectively. If without other church affiliations, join us in these services of the day. In the evening, 7:30 o'clock, we have the young people's meeting. At this time of the year we should have added joy in gathering at the house of worship.

This Thursday afternoon there is a meeting of the Ladies Aid Society in the church parlors. It is a busines meeting, with officers to be elected, and all members should make it a point to be present.

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Friday, December 16. The Finance Committee is asked to meet at the parsonage at 7:30.

Sunday, December 18.

Sunday School and Bible classes will meet at 10:00 A. M.

The Luther League will meet at 6:45. The topic will be "Whar Did God Give us in our Baptism?" Titus 3:4-8. The pastor will speak on the subject of Baptism immediately following the League meeting.

Monday, December 19. The Catechetical Class A will meet immediately after school.

Wednesday, December 21. The catechetical Class B will meet immediately after school.

Thursday, December 22. Prayer meeting will be held at 7:30 P. M.

Our Christmas services will be announced in next week's Independent.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Friday, December 16. The South Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. Otis Tendall at 2 P. M.

Saturday, December 17. The catechetical class will meet at 10 A. M.

Sunday, December 18. Norwegian services will be held at 11 A. M. Theme "Bearing Witness Unto the Lord." John 5:31-39.

Wednesday, December 21st. Prayer meeting will be held at 7:30 P. M.

"LEFTY" WILSON IS WHITE SOX CHOICE

Clarion Monitor: Sport pages of the dailies Saturday brought news that Roy E. Wilson, of this city had been purchased by the Chicago White Sox from the San Antonio, Texas club, and that he would be given an opportunity to try-out with this "Big League" team when spring training opened up, providing the offer was accepted. Monday of this week "Lefty" received a letter from President Comisky of the White Sox, advising him that an immediate interview was requested looking forward to giving him a berth on their battery list. What the outcome of the whole affair will be is still a matter of conjecture, but Mr. Wilson is giving the offer serious consideration and expects to meet Mr. Comisky in the near future to go over details and to arrange to reenter organized baseball if saisfactory.

SPORRA CONVICTED

Henry Sporra, well known to Belmond people, was tried in district court, Forest City and convicted of stealing a heifer from a neighbor. Sporra has 15 days in which to file a motion for a new trial, and is at liberty under bonds. The Forest City Summit said last week:

"Sporra has been a source of trouble ever since he landed in the county three years ago and squatted in a house near Coon Grove that was then unoccupied. He served fifteen days at one time for taking a tent on which he made a bid at an auction sale, but for which he refused to settle."

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

Relatives here received a message last Sunday informing them of the death at Fort Sill, Okla., of Harvey E. Eimbrink, due to typhoid-pneumonia, and that the remains would be shipped to Belmond accompanied by a non-commissioned officer.

Claude Benson resigned his position as assistant cashier in the Belmond Savings Bank last week and enlisted as clerk in the quarter master's department of the army.

Hal Smith, the popular clerk in the Kinney cafe, and Miss Hattie Dippel surprised their friends last Tuesday by going over to Hampton where they were quietly married.

The Rebekah Lodge gave a farewell supper in the Odd Fellow Hall last Saturday evening in honor of Mrs. C. E. Sheffield.

A baby girl was born to Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Meier of Manson, on Dec. 5. Miss Lyna Pierce is the nurse in charge.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Born to Gus Johnson and wife last week Tuesday, a baby girl.

Gene Curtis is rapidly bringing C. E. Shaver's house to completion.

Willard Stapley was a guest in the Lincoln hotel in Chicago last week when that hostlery burned. Willard was one of the fortunate ones who escaped and is now visiting relatives in Illinos.

The Belmond Dramatic Club will present the 4 act comedy, "In Old New Hampshire," at the opera house Dec. 19, for the benefit of the Mystic Toilers.

J. S. White and wife departed last week for Texas, where they will spend the winter

Miss Lydia Whited is teaching school at Beaumont, Texas.

Prof. Popham and wife will entertain the teachers at tea Thursday evening.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

For the past year the Congregational society of Belmond and vicinity has held services in the M. E. church alternate Sundays, but we understand Pierce's Hall has been selected as a place of meeting hereafter.

Howland & Pritchard and Capt. Tyrrell took a lot of hogs to Alden Monday, shipping a car load on Tuesday from that place.

By the history of Troy township, published last week in the Herald, it will be seen that Mr. Wm. Striker was the first actual settler in Wright county. On the 5th day of July, 1854, he drove his team into what is now known as Troy township, settling on the northwest quarter of 35-90-26. The first birth in the county was a daughter to him and Mrs. Striker; and he also performed the first marriage ceremony. These are facts which ought to make Mr. and Mrs. Striker feel proud.

A resident of Cresco wants $10,000 for a fall caused by a defective sidewalk. He should live in Belmond where the walks are made of genuine terra firma.

Julius Peck caught a 14½ pound pike in the Iowa river above town. From the gills to the nose of the fish the head measured 10 inches; and across the head 6½ inches.

S. D. Pierce has gone into the boot, shoe and leather business in Belmond, and we believe he will be successful.

Dite Packard has got through with the rat business and has now turned his attention to fish catching, the undertaking proving entirely successful. He transported a shanty up the river about a mile and commenced operations by cutting a hole in the ice, using a decoy minnow to attract the finny fellows, and then gobbling them up with a big hook expressly for that purpose. He sent 155 pounds to Hampton yesterday to feed the fish hungry.

READ THE WANT ADS

SHOP EARLY

Christmas Means Something for the Home

Give Furniture

For Father
Smoker Sets $2.75 to $7.25
Coxwell Chairs $24.50 to $29.85
Home Desks $24.30
Reading Lamps $3.50, $6.00 and up
Foot Stools $2.55
End Table with Book Rack $5.25

For Mother
Sewing Cabinets $4.90, $5.25
Easy Chair, Upholstered, $12.50, $14.00 $16.00 and up
Oil Paintings $1.60, $2.20, $3.25, $3.75 up
Magazine Racks $3.90, $4.50, $4.90
Secretary Desk $45.00
Chest Desk, Mahogany with Bench $60.00
Maytag Electric or Multi-Motor Washing Machine
Floor Lamps $6.00 to $11.00
Sewing Machines

For Sister
Cedar Chests $12.25 to $29.50
Desks $16.00 to $25.00
Vanity Dresser—Various prices
Simmon's Metal Art Beds
Oil Paintings $1.60 and up
Fancy Waste Paper Baskets 60c, $1.00

For Brother
Desk $16.00, $25.00
Smoker Sets $2.75, $7.25
Coxwell Chairs $24.50, $29.85
Simmon's Metal Art Beds

For the Children
Small Chairs $1.00 and up
Tables $2.75
Baby Beds and Cribs $9.00 and up
Baby Cabs $16.00 and up
Desk and Chair $2.75

For the Home
RUGS
Small 27x54, $2.75 to $18.00
Chenille full reversibles, extra heavy $4.90
Rag Rugs 98c
9x12 Rugs in Axminster, Velour and Wiltons $25.00 to $128.00

PARLOR SUITES, 2 PIECES
Jaquard Velours $88.00 and up
100 per cent Mohair $99.00 and up

Occasional Chairs $4.50 to $30.00
Leather Seated Chairs $7.25 to $23.00
Polychrome Mirrors $2.20 to $15.00
Console Tables $13.00
Fancy Screens, Various prices

3 PIECE BEDROOM SUITES
Various Prices

MATTRESSES
100 per cent cotton $9.45 and up
Simmon's Famous Beauty Rest $39.50

DINING ROOM SUITES
Oak or Walnut, Various Prices

KITCHEN FURNITURE
Cabinets, Tables, Stools

CONGOLEUM RUGS
Special Prices on Dropped Patterns

LINOLEUM
Full Thickness in Print on Burlap
70c to $1.25 per yard

KLAR-O-DYNE RADIO
With Wonder Horn, Fully Built in, Beautiful Cabinet $142.50, $172.50 Complete

Your HOME Should Come FIRST

BELMOND FURNITURE COMPANY
Furniture and Undertaking
Phone 107 Belmond, Iowa

A CHRISTMAS VARIETY at the VARIETY STORE

Do your Christmas shopping early and enjoy the advantages of an unbroken assortment of holiday goods. It will be a pleasure to us to show you through our line---where you will find something suitable and pleasing for every member of your family, and for your friends.

FOR LITTLE GIRLS
DOLLS
DOLL DISHES
TOY ALUMINUM DISHES
DOLL CABS AND BEDS
SAD IRONS
EMBROIDERY SETS
BREAKFAST SETS

HOSIERY
For Men and Women
HANDKERCHIEFS
ALUMINUM WARE
FANCY GLASS WARE
CUT GLASS

A WONDERFUL LINE OF NEGLIGEES - KIMONAS
from $3.48 to $9.98
HOUSE DRESSES from $1 up
Children's Party Dresses at $2.98

XMAS WREATHS
XMAS DECORATIONS
CANDLES - CANDLE STICKS
FRAMED PICTURES
MOTTOES
DISHES

FOR LITTLE BOYS
WAGONS
JACK KNIVES GAMES
TRAINS
MECHANICAL TOYS
HORNS TOPS
HARMONICAS

Books--Dishes--Stationery, 15c and up for complete box. Fresh Christmas Candies and Nuts.

BELMOND VARIETY STORE

AGRICULTURAL NEWS NOTES

REMODELED BARNS INCREASE BUTTER FAT PRODUCTION

Two Wright County Cow Testing Association members, Ross Henry and W. C. Donelson, have found that by remodeling their barns they have increased their butter fat production.

While the majority of the cows in the association dropped or remained the same in production, the cows in these two herds showed a remarkable increase.

Ross Henry had been housing his cows in an old shed without light, ventilation and sanitation. He has now abandoned the old shed and remodeled a portion of his large barn into a dairy barn. His barn was remodeled after the October test. The six cows that milked both in October and November are used as a basis for figuring.

In October these six grade cows averaged 29.7 pounds of butterfat at a feed cost of $7.17; At the time of the November test the cows had been housed in the new barn about two weeks. At this test these same six cows produced 32.9 pounds of butterfat at a feed cost of $6.36. From these figures one notices, that each of these 6 cows produced 3.2 pounds butterfat more per month at a feed cost of 81 cents less. Figuring butterfat at 50 cents each of these cows paid Ross Henry $2.41 for his investment.

W. C. Donelson had been housing his cows in an old barn which lacked sufficient light, ventilation, cow comfort and sanitation. He also remodeled the barn and has now more light, sanitation and convenience.

His cows also show an increase in butterfat production in their new environment. In the old barn his 6 cows, which milked at both tests, averaged 30.3 pounds of butterfat at a feed cost of $6.59. In the recently remodeled barn these same six Holstein cows averaged 38.5 pounds butterfat at a feed cost of $7.83. Again by valuing butterfat at 50c each of Mr. Donelson's cows paid him $3.01 on his investment of remodeling.

Every one will agree that it certainly paid both these dairymen to spend a little time and money for remodeling. Their experience is nothing unusual as many more cows are capable of greater production with but half a chance.

This action of remodeling was due to a greater interest in the Dairy Cow, which was due largely to cow testing association work.

The average production for all the cows in the association for November was 550 lbs. milk and 22.44 lbs. butterfat. This average was 234 cows, 193 in milk and 41 dry. The herd for the month was owned by F. F. Soults. His 13 mixed and grade Guernseys, all in milk but one averaged 690 lbs. in milk and 29.5 lbs. butter fat. The next four high herds are as follows.

Albert Clark—G. H., 8 milking, 2 dry, average 775 lbs. milk, 27.4 lbs. butterfat.

F. B. Mathias—G. H., 8 lkingm

F. B. Mathias, Gr. G., 10 milking, 2 dry. Average 530 lbs. milk, 26.8 lbs. butterfat.

J. M. Sampson—Gr. G., 9 milking, 4 dry. Average, 504 lbs. milk, 24.9 lbs. butterfat.

G. E. Lindsay—Gr. J., 8 milking, 1 dry. Average, 470 lbs. milk, 24.9 lbs. butterfat.

BEES SHOULD BE GIVEN STORES

Iowa beekeepers should give particular attention to the stores of food for their bees at this time of the year, according to F. B. Paddock, professor of beekeeping at Iowa State College.

Stores should be ample in quantity, of the best quality and well placed in the brood nest. Minimum food requirements for the average swarm is not less than 60 pounds, according to Mr. Paddock. To accommodate such an amount, a two-story brood chamber is needed, and if the colony is to be wintered out of doors, it should be packed.

Due to the amount of indigestible material in the fall honey, many beekeepers find it advisable to save money from the clover flow for their winter reserve stores. Poor quality stores often causes early death for bees because of accumulation. The bees become restless, thus raising the heat higher than normal.

Location of the stores within the brood nest is highly important for many colonies of bees have been known to die with plenty of honey within the chamber, but out of reach of the bees. It is not best to use solid honey for stores, as the bees require some empty cells for their cluster organization.

The cluster should be able to move to the front and rear over the frames and especially upward. For this reason the two-story reserve chamber should be provided.

See Us Before You Sell Your

Ear Corn

Tyrrell Stock Farm
Phone 18

The Tragedy of Broken Toys

WHEN the last greeting of "Merry Christmas" has faded away the toys on the floor are ready being forgotten. Battered and broken they have outlived their usefulness. By all means give the children toys—it's part of their lives—but also give them something substantial. Such as a Savings Account.

The worthwhile lesson of thrift is thus instilled into youthful mind. And who can deny its value? So this Christmas, along with the trains and dolls, hang one of our bank books on the tree. A dollar opens an account and we'll put forth special efforts to help the children save.

Belmond Savings Bank

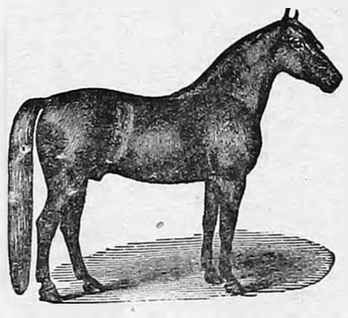
Belmond -:- Iowa

PUBLIC SALE

As I am quitting the farm, I will hold a closing out sale at the place known as the Conlan farm, 2 miles west and ½ mile south of Goodell; 8 miles east of Kanawha; 5 miles north and 1½ miles west of Belmond, on

THURSDAY DEC. 22

Commencing at 1 P. M.



8 Horses and Mules

1 bay mare 8 yrs. old, wt. 1550
1 blue roan mare 11 yrs. old, wt. 1350
1 black mare 10 yrs. old, wt. 1750
1 white mare 13 yrs. old, wt. 1400
1 white gelding 12 yrs. old, wt. 1200
1 black mule, 2 yrs. old
1 black colt, coming 2 yrs.
1 blue roan spring colt

11 - Head of Cattle - 11

6 young cows fresh soon 3 heifers, coming 3 yrs. 1 heifer coming 2 yrs. 1 bull coming 2 yrs.

7 Summer Pigs 50 Leghorn Hens

FARM MACHINERY, ETC.

1 drag cart
1 24-ft. drag
1 16-in. sulky plow
1 10-ft. Deering disc
1 John Deere spreader
1 Hoosier endgate seeder
1 P. & O. corn planter, 110 rds. wire
2 wagons
1 hay rack
2 wagon boxes
1 Bradley mower
1 McCormick binder
1 John Deere corn plow
1 McCormick hay rake
1 Moline 2-row corn plow
1 buggy
1 Never-tip bob sled
1 Sattley cream separator
1 2 h. p. Associated engine
2 sets breeching harness, nearly new Tools, scoop boards, and other articles too numerous to mention.

MISCELLANEOUS

Some corn fodder 2 sets leather fly nets 1 pair horse blankets Some household furniture

TERMS OF SALE

TERMS: Cash, or make arrangement with your own banker.

Reg. Houghton, Prop.

H. BRUMMOND, Auct. O. F. CONWELL, Clerk

MESERVEY SECTION

EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:45.
Morning worship at 10:45.
E. L. C. E. at 7:00 P. M.
In the evening, a Christmas cantata "Chimes of the Holy Night" will be presented. This will be supplemented by the orchestra, and reading. The cantata will begin at 7:30.
The catechetical class will not meet until after Christmas.
German Prayer meeting on Wednesday night.
English prayer meeting and Bible study on Thursday night.
A. K. Henning, Pastor

REFORMED CHURCH

The Dorcas met last Friday evening. Miss Hannah Boelman served refreshments.
The Ladies Aid met on Monday. Mrs. Bernard Koenen was hostess.
Remember the sale Friday evening at 7 o'clock in the church basement. Coffee and cake will be served free. Everybody is welcome.
Rehearsal of Christmas Saturday all day.
Choir practice Thursday evening.
Senior class in catechism Thursday at 3:15.
Sunday school at 9.
Morning worship at 10:30. (German).
Young people meeting at 7:30.
Evening services at 8:00.
H. Pannkuk, Pastor

You can buy a wrist watch for your friend, at Mallory's, Belmond.

Jacob Nissen returned Friday, from Mason City were he had been for a few days receiving medical treatments.

Those from a distance who attended the funeral of Mother Wickersheim were: Mr. and Mrs. John Fischer and daughter Leona of Brooten, Minn.; Geo. Wickersheim, Ladysmith, Wis.; Jacob Wickersheim and family, Fort Dodge; Ed Wirts and family, Des Moines; Gus Wickersheim, Grandy, Minn.; Crist Wickersheim of Randall; E. M. Schmidt and family, Belmond; Herman Fischer Jr., Ames. They all returned to their respective homes Thursday and Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dirks are happy over their daughters recovery from what at first was thought to be pneumonia. The little one was very ill the fore part of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Loats visited at the Mel Smith home one day last week. The Loats' are planning to spend the winter in Texas providing Mr. Loats' health permits.

Presiding Elder Couser of Ft. Dodge was present to conduct the third quarterly conference of the M. E. at the Evangelical church, Thursday Friday until Sunday.

Mrs. Anne Schroeder returned to Fort Dodge Saturday, after making an extended visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. G. E. Raecker.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wendel and Mrs. Alb. Wendel were Mason City business callers Monday.

Owing to the inclement weather last week, school was dismissed Wednesday at 3 P. M. and not resumed until Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schluter motored to Mason City Saturday and spent the day visiting and shopping.

Miss Irena Butz began teaching school in Union township last Monday to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Miss Irene Gibb.

Mrs. M. Taulbee and family were Mason City shoppers Saturday.

Mrs. Timmerman of the Woods cafe at Sheffield was a business caller here Monday.

The two-part cantata, "Chimes of Holy Night" will be rendered at the Evangelical church next Sunday night, by Mesdames H. Meier's and C. J. Wendel's Sunday school classes. They will be assisted by an orchestra under the supervision of Miss Irena Butz. All are invited.

Presiding Elder Couser and Rev. A. K. Henning were callers at Sheffield Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hemming of Britton visited at the Ed Hemming home Sunday.

Miss Irena Butz and family were guests at the former's mother at Britt Hospital Sunday.

Miss Eva Sprau spent the week at her parental home, returning to her school work Sunday evening.

Rev. H. M. Raecker and three members of his congregation from Ackley were calling in our city Monday.

CARD OF THANKS

We hereby wish to thank all our kind friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during the sickness and death of our dear mother, for the beautiful floral offerings, also the special singing. We give special thanks to those who braved the storm, and assisted at the funeral. May God graciously reward you all.
The Children and Grandchildren of Grandma Wickersheim

IN TRIBUTE TO MOTHER

Tho the storms were raging wild
On this sad day of all
When we laid our mother dear
To rest beneath the sod.
Many years she has waited
To be called from this earthly home
To be where there are no tears or sighs
In that home beyond the skies.
Tho the storms were tossing about
Yet a stillness within our hearts
Tells us that mother has gone
To be with Jesus!
In that home on the other side.
—Mrs. Kate Paul.

COE PETIT

Coe Petit, Iowa's famous piano artist, will play your favorite selections at the Lyric Theatre, Belmond, Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 19 and 20, and will also furnish music for the feature picture, "Not For Publication." Prices 10c and 30c. Don't miss hearing this great artist!

Legion Auxiliary Elects Officers

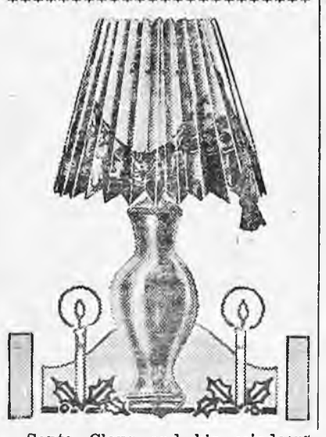
The members of the local Legion auxiliary met last week on Tuesday afternoon to hold their annual meeting and election of officers, which resulted as follows: Pres. Mrs. Nelse Faaborg, vice president, Mrs. G. E. Raecker, secretary, Mrs. Fred Schluter, treas. Mrs. C. J. Wendel, historian Mrs. C. J. Janssen, chaplain, Mrs. Theo. Wendel. Meetings will be held every three months in the homes of members.

Miss Irena Butz and Mrs. H. F. Reif were Mason City callers Saturday.

No occasion to get excited over the suggestion of a $5,000,000 corporation to buy Iowa land. Why, at $200 per acre that would buy but little more than one township and there are nearly 2,000 townships in the state.—Webster City Freeman-Journal.

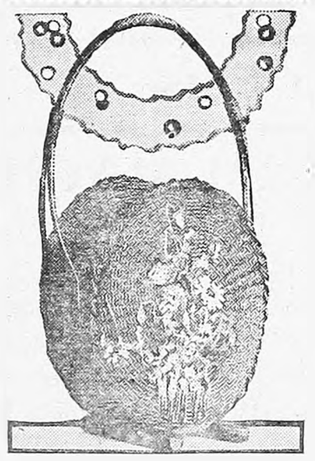
If five million dollars outside capital is actually ready for investment in Iowa farm lands, let it come in. The farmer is ready for the freshet; some of them have lands to sell. Not all of it was bought at $200 or $250 an acre. Much of it was bought for a few dollars on up to $25, $50, $60 and $70. Henry George, the single-taxer, is not the only man who can point to what is called the "unearned increment" whether farm land or farm property. If any company of men have five million dollars with which to buy Iowa land, for land sakes let 'em buy and get the money in circulation as quickly as possible.—Ackley World-Journal.

Plaited Parchment Shades



Santa Claus and his reindeers will have to work overtime to deliver the many sleigh loads of painted parchment lamp shades which are now "in the making." Clever women are buying these plaited shades undecorated, so as to give them the personal touch of hand embellishment. Many are "saying it" with "scissors painting." One uses scissors instead of a brush, cutting out pictures from decorative crepe paper. These are then carefully pasted on the shade and finally gone over with a coat of transparent amber sealing wax paint. The finished work looks like genuine hand painting.

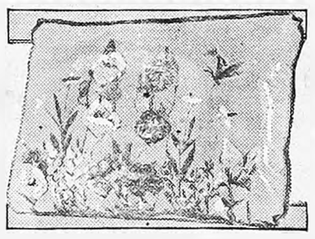
Of Crepe Paper Rope



Most anyone would count it good fortune to receive a handsome crepe paper rope magazine holder like this graceful basket-shaped one. It is hand-woven of crepe paper rope, in exactly the same way as raffia or reed work. The flower motif is cut out of decorative crepe paper, then pasted on.

What a din of "bow-wows" and "quack-quacks" there would be if all the animals and ducks and chickens and such in Santa's pack should start to talk at once. The calico dog in this picture, with eyes painted so big and ears so long, is not half as ferocious as he looks. In fact, he makes friends, not only with children, but the flapper contingent, who, doting on the sensational, call them "snuggle dogs," carrying them under their arm with true "beauty and the beast" effect. As to the other dog and duck, you can get them at almost any fancywork department stamped on pique ready to embroider. They launder perfectly.

Of Gay Enamel Cloth



A cushion of colorful enamel cloth with bas-relief of realistic-looking gay flowers is warranted to bring a real thrill on Christmas morn to the friend who enthuses on the subject of interior decoration, and who waxes eloquent over "a note of color" in the scheme of things. Do not confuse enamel cloth with glazed chintz or cretonne or anything of that sort. It looks rather like colorful patent leather and it is produced in every lovely shade, both pastel tints and exotic colorings, also black.

There's a thrill coming to friend husband or big brother or bachelor-man when he wakes up Christmas morning and finds a gayly attired "buttons" standing at attention ready to serve him during his smoking hours. These wooden figures are sold undecorated, ready for painting. To enamel them, prepare a paint by breaking sticks of sealing wax into little jars of denatured alcohol, letting it stand all night. Paint his trousers blue, his coat scarlet. Brass buttons on his coat, of course! Make them by dropping spots of hot gilt sealing wax along in rows as you see in the picture.

Sick Friend,
GET READY FOR CHRISTMAS

—oOo—

Would you cut your friend if he were sick?
Then, how about your appendix?

—oOo—

Are you weary of whooping cough?
Let adjustments put it off.

—oOo—

Should the "flu" strike you hard
Take adjustments, "flu" discard.

—oOo—

Friend, do not procrastinate
Too much time may be too late
Make your health rejuvenate
Thru Chiropractor J. M. Tate.

SEE DR. J. M. TATE
CHIROPRACTOR
Belmond, Iowa

BUNNIES LEAD HARD LIFE

Now that corn husking is about finished, the boys will have a little more time to go hunting. It may mean hard times for the bunnies, but not for the people who know how delicious a nice fat rabbit can be after the cook gets thru with him.

Fried rabbit, cooked rabbit, roasted rabbit are all good, but how about a rabbit pie? Here's how—and you can take the Iowa State College home economists' word that it is good.

Rabbit pie: 1½ pound rabbit, 3 medium potatoes (diced), 2 medium carrots (diced), 2 tsp. soda, 1-8 tsp. pepper, 3-4 tsp. salt, 2 slices bacon or 3 tbsp. bacon drippings, 1 tbsp. minced onion, 1½ cup flour, ½ cup milk and 2 tbsp. fat.

Soak rabbit in 2 quarts of water, to which 2 tsp. soda and 1 tbsp. salt have been added. Drain, dry and roll in flour. Brown well in bacon fat to which the minced onion has been added. Add about 1 pt. water and seasonings, simmer until tender, add carrots when about half done. Add potatoes about 30 minutes, before rabbit is done, keep water up to original amount. Thicken liquid in which rabbit and vegetables were cooked, using 2 tbsp. flour. Make a crust as for baking powder biscuit. Put rabbit, vegetables and gravy into a casserole, cover with crust and bake in hot oven until dough is done (about 15 min.) Any cooked left-over meat may be used in place of rabbit and other vegetables may be substituted or added.

SHOP EARLY
SHOP IN BELMOND

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

R. T. COE
Veterinarian
CALLS ANSWERED
DAY OR NIGHT
Office over C. C. McGuire Store
Phone 23 Belmond, Iowa

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Building
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29

Undertaking & Funeral Director
F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone--Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

Harry T. Smith
General Blacksmithing
Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding
Meservey, - Iowa

CROSLEY RADIO
Fresh "B" Batteries always on hand.
H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

We Are Headquarters For
GIFTS OF UTILITY

FOR FATHER
Razors
Knives
Shaving Brushes
Tools

FOR MOTHER
Pyrex Ware
Aluminum Ware
Silverware
Scissors
Casseroles

FOR BROTHER
Pocket Knives
Razors
Guns
Tools

FOR SISTER
Pyrex Ware
Silverware
Scissors, Etc.

FOR THE KIDDIES
Wagons, Kiddie Cars, Slides, Teetors, Toys Of All Kinds

The Store of Quality and Service
C. J. WENDELL
Phone 2502 Meservey, Iowa

HIGH QUALITY
Building Material
Screen Doors--Window Screens--Mill Work--Heider Ladders
American Wire, the best on the market
Farm Gates and Lawn Gates
Red Top Steel and Cedar Posts and Poles
Cement --- Lime
INTERNATIONAL SUGARED HOG FEED
START YOUR HOGS RIGHT
Wheat Bran---Oil Meal---Cotton Seed Meal---Tankage---Salt
Highest Price Paid for Grain
Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

Bank Your Money
If you have money it should be deposited in the Bank.
When you were a borrower some one deposited so you could borrow.
Pay your debt and build your credit at the same time.
Convenience and correct change.
SAFETY AND SERVICE
Farmers Savings Bank
Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

Rowan Woman Has Accident

Mrs. A. A. Williams was quite badly injured last Wednesday. While carrying corn to her chickens she slipped on the ice and fell on the frozen ground. The bone in her arm was cracked and a small bone in her hand was put out of place. In falling she struck her chest on the edge of a basket she was carrying, bruising her chest quite painfully. Because of the storm Dr. Jones was unable to get out there so Mrs. Williams was brought to her daughter, Mrs. Cecil Harris in town where she stayed for a few days to be near the doctor. At this writing she is getting along nicely and returned to her home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Azeltine drove to Fort Dodge Tuesday of last week where Mrs. Azeltine is taking treatment for her feet.

Ira Fletcher came last Friday from Dixon, Ill., where he has been working on a ditch contract, to visit his sister, Mrs. C. C. Steffens and other relatives.

Glen Liming who has been working at Corwith for several weeks returned to Rowan on Thursday and is picking corn for L. R. Fitz. He expects to go to the home of his parents at Adair the last of this week.

Being pulled out of a snow bank was the order of the day Wednesday and Thursday. The rural mail wagon had to be pulled out on Wednesday, also the large motor school bus on Wednesday and again on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Fitz were called to Churdan Tuesday of last week by the death of Mr. Fitz' father, who had been in poor health for some time. Funeral services were held on Thursday.

The Chapin town basket ball team came over Saturday evening and were defeated by a score of 17 to 15 by the town team of Rowan.

Mr. and Mrs. George Vanstone of Sheffield were Sunday guests of Mrs. Vanstone's mother, Mrs. Nels Hanson at the hotel.

Miss Angie Baines was a Clarion visitor Thursday.

Douglas and Dale Farran and Carl Emerson drove to Owasa Friday and were guests at the Holliday home. While there they set up a radio for Prof. Holliday. They returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Aldrich are the parents of a baby girl born Saturday, Dec. 10. Miss Anna Beenen is caring for mother and baby.

Mrs. A. O. Pelley and Miss Ruth Stephens spent Saturday in Fort Dodge.

L. D. Yeoman has been confined to his bed again. He is suffering from heart trouble and diabetis.

Mrs. Dora Shurson of Kanawha came the last of the week to spend some time with her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Burt. Mrs. Shurson just came from the hospital at Ft. Dodge where she had cataracts removed from her eyes. Her son. Hans Shurson, was with her in Fort Dodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Hoke have gone out to the Rowen brother farm where Mr. and Mrs. Hoke will work during Chas. Rowen's absence in Arizona this winter.

The Farmers Union enjoyed an oyster stew at the Woodman Hall on Friday evening.

A report is out that Ed Richards of Alexander has purchased the Bennie Ahrends farm and Mr. Ahrends the Richards farm north east of Rowan, and that they will exchange places the 1st of March. Ray Richards occupies his father's farm.

See the new line of toilet sets at Mallory's, Belmond.

M. E. CHURCH

Rev. J. H. Bounds, Pastor
10:00 A. M. Sunday School.
11:00 A. M. Morning worship.
6:45 P. M. Epworth League.
7:30 P. M. Evening worship.
7:30 Wednesday evening prayer meeting.

The Ladies Aid Society will hold a work meeting at the home of Mrs. W. W. Azeltine on Thursday afternoon.

The Foreign Missionary Society will meet with Mrs. D. E. Harris on Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Earl Sellers as leader.

The W. C. T. U. are sending a box of home made cookies as a Christmas gift to the chaplain of the U. S. Army, for the soldiers at Ringold, Rio Grande, Texas. Donations of cookies for this box will be taken at the telephone office up until Thursday.

The Thank Offering of the Missionary Society which was to have been held on Wednesday afternoon of last week at the home of Mrs. W. A. Rietz was postponed because of the storm and was held on Friday afternoon. A goodly number were in attendance and a nice offering received. An interesting program was given. consisting of a playlet by some of the ladies and a talk on "Missionary Work in Sioux City" by Ruth Stephens. Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

A very interesting meeting was held in place of the regular services on Sunday evening. This was called an Echo Meeting of the "Older Boys and Girls Sunday school Conference" which was held in Clarion Monday of last week.

Mrs. Earl Sellers had charge of the meeting and the young folks of the church who attended this conference gave a review of the whole days proceedings as near like it took place as possible.

Vincent Bounds gave the morning devotions after which the young people sang the Conference song entitled, "I Will Be True."

A talk, "Fit for Service" was reviewed by Nina Rietz and Neva Hinckley.

A separate conference for the boys and girls was held after this and the topic of this separate conference was the "Program of Organized Class." Lyle Hinckley reviewed tht boys conference and Nina Rietz; the girls canference.

Carl Rietz told about the luncheon and what they did during the noon hour. For the afternoon program the devotions were read by Ruth Bounds, which was on the topic, "Here Am I Send Me." She also told about the election of officers.

"Outlines of Church Schools," by Mr. Hutton, a state worker was given by Ralph Patton and Ruth Bounds.

"Directed Recreational Hour," was given by Mrs. Earl Sellers.

In the evening a banquet was held which was told about by Karl Rietz.

Toasts, by Charles Sellers.

Convention yells and Gab Contest by Vincent Bounds. This "Gab" contest was a contest to see who could say the most in thirty seconds, and was won by Myrtle Weber of Clarion. Darl Farran represented Rowan in the contest.

Violet Patton read the evening devotions and Ruth Bounds told about the installation of officers and also gave a review of an address, "Homes to Serve," by Mr. Herbrecht.

The convention closed by the singing of the hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." which was sung by the entire congregation on Sunday evening.

This Echo Meeting was much enjoyed by those who were privileged to hear it and much credit is due Mrs. Earl Sellers and Mrs. W. H. Azeltine, who worked faithfully to make it a success. The young people who took the parts did them exceptionally well showing that they had received much good from the congregation.

Wright County had the honor of having the first "Older Boys and Girls Conference" and it was voted a permanent organization.

The officers elected were:

President, Merle Weber, of Clarion

Vice president, Vincent Bounds of Rowan

Secretary, Uinta Packard of Belmond.

The young people of the Epworth League enjoyed a Christmas party in the church basement Monday evening.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. L. A. Marquardt, Pastor
10:30 A. M. Sunday School
11:30 A. M. Morning worship. Subject "Dwarfed Christians."
3:00 P. M. Junior Christian Endeavor.
6:30 P. M. Senior Christian Endeavor.
No evening services.
7:30 P. M. Wednesday. Prayer meeting at the parsonage followed by choir practice at 8:30 P. M.

The W. C. T. U. are asked to send a box of cookies for enlisted men to the chaplain of the army at Fort Ringold, Rio Grande, Texas. All who care to donate a dozen cookies or more are asked to leave them at the telephone office by Thursday.

SCHOOL NOTES

The date for the Parent Teachers Club has been changed for this month to Friday afternoon, Dec. 23rd. The program will consist of a Christmas program presented by the grade pupils under the direction of the grade teachers. The program will begin promptly at 1:00 P. M. because some of the teachers desire to leave early in order to catch a train, so they will get home in time to help prepare for their Christmas at home.

The basketball game which was to be played with Williams in our gymnasium last Friday had to be called off because the Williams players could not find drivers to bring them up. It is rather doubtful if the game will be played now because we now have more week night games scheduled than we like and our Friday night dates are all taken. Don't forget the two games this week—Dows Tuesday night there and Goodell Friday night here. In the class contest Friday night, the Senior-Sophomores were victorious in both games but the games were interesting clear through. The scores were 13 to 12 for the girls and 18 to 12 for the boys.

COE PETIT

Coe Petit, Iowa's famous piano artist, will play your favorite selections at the Lyric Theatre, Belmond, Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 19 and 20, and will also furnish music for the feature picture, "Not For Publication." Prices 10c and 30c. Don't miss hearing this great artist!

A "scissors-painted" waste basket makes an acceptable yuletide gift for man, woman or child. One cuts pictures out of illustrated crepe paper, which costs but a trifle for a whole roll. After the background of the papier mache basket form has been enameled with sealing-wax paint, paste on the pictures very smoothly. When thoroughly dry the whole is gone over with a coat of transparent amber sealing-wax paint. While this is still wet one can, if one chooses, sprinkle crystalline beads over the picture part to give it sparkle.

Alexander Items Of Interest

Leonard Arends was a business caller at Hampton Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ammerman Jr., were week end visitors at the home of George Ammerman near Dows.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Greenfield and son Frederick, John Bell and Miss Jessie, were Dows callers Saturday.

The Misses Alice Seeds, Melba Tucker and Sylverne Helland were Hampton callers Saturday.

John Bell and daughter, Jessie were visiting at the W. C. Tucker home in Hampton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cowley and baby of Rowan spent Sunday evening at the Fred Greenfield home

Rev. and Mrs. Barth of Marion Center were callers in town Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Peters and family and Mrs. Frank Peters were Belmond shoppers Saturday.

Miss Ida Steenblock of Belmond was a caller in town Friday evening.

George Winwood of Mason City came Friday to spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Winwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Winwood and son Kenneth were Belmond callers Saturday.

Mrs. Clarence Bohlen and children visited with relatives at Belmond Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Arends and daughter Dorothy Marie were Belmond shoppers Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hill and son John Henry and Miss Bonnie were Belmond callers Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Reed and children were Belmond visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Williams of Spencer came Sunday for a visit with relatives. Mrs. Williams was formerly Miss Esther Larsen of this place and Mr. Williams is from Alta. They were married last Thursday, Dec. 8th, at Spencer, and they will make their home at Alta. Alexander people extend congratulations.

Mr. Wolf of Hampton was a caller here Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Larsen were Hampton callers Friday.

A high school class party was held Friday evening in honor of Miss Hazel Camper, at the Fred Rodemeyer home. The M. D. Camper family are leaving this week for Kansas where they will make their home.

Clocks, Silverware and China at Mallory's, Belmond.

UNITED CHURCH NOTES

Rev. A. C. Woodcock, Pastor
Services for Sunday, Dec. 18—
Morning worship 10:00 A. M. Sermon subject, "Preservation of the Righteous."
Sunday School at 11:00 A. M.
Junior and Senior Endeavor at 6:45 P. M.
Evening service at 7:30 P. M. Subject, "A Growing Faith." Young People's chorus will sing.
All are cordially invited.

SCHOOL NOTES

The pupils in the second and fourth grade rooms are preparing a Christmas program which will be given Friday afternoon, Dec. 23d at 2 o'clock. It is desired that visitors attend.

The high school basket ball teams won both games with the alumni last Friday night. The girl's score was 18 to 17 and the boy's 21 to 17. Friday night both teams go to Swaledale. Let's have some boosters go too.

The next basektball games on the home court will be Thursday night, Dec. 22 with Sheffield as the opponents. Remember this is Thursday night and not Friday night.

Our schools will close for the holiday vacation Friday afternoon, Dec. 23rd for one week, beginning again on Monday, Jan. 2nd.

Because of the bad blizzard Wednesday, school was dismissed at 12:30 and then some pupils did not get home until 4 o'clock. A large number remained in town and so most of the pupils were in school on Thursday.

COE PETIT

Coe Petit, Iowa's famous piano artist, will play your favorite selections at the Lyric Theatre, Belmond, Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 19 and 20, and will also furnish music for the feature picture, "Not For Publication." Prices 10c and 30c. Don't miss hearing this great artist!

Olaf News

Clarence Scott and family spent Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Baxter.

E. J. Soma lost several hogs in the storm Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Heginger spent Sunday at Herman Hegingers.

Milford Mehl had the misfortune while cutting wood to have a piece hit him in the face, breaking his nose and cutting several gashes in his face.

Mrs. C. G. Lucas of Kanawha spent part of last week at the G. H. Baxter home.

Sam Hieman of Estherville is visiting at the home of his sister. Mrs. James Kirk.

The Olaf Shipping Association shipped two car loads of stock Saturday, one to Chicago and one to Mason City.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Holverson spent the week end with folks at Roland.

Goodell Man's Car Is Stolen

Friday night Reginald Houghton autoed to Belmond and left his Ford Coupe parked in front of the garage. He left it but a short time and returning found the car gone. Search was made about town but the car could not be found. Policemen in various towns were notified to be on the lookout. Late Saturday it was found in the gravel pit north of Belmond. Two tires were stolen from it.

Mrs. Will Tanner autoed to Garner Tuesday to spend the day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bates.

Francis Sandry who is employed at Walkon came last week to enjoy a visit at the Edgar Mayhew home. He is Mrs. Mayhew's brother.

The High School Home Economics Club enjoyed a program Wednesday afternoon after which tasty refreshments were served by the hostesses, Daphne Houghton and Fraealice Reed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Baker and baby returned home Tuesday from La Salle Illinois, where they had been to attend Mrs. Baker's grandfather's funeral.

Avery Township Farm Bureau ladies held a follow up meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. H. Conklin. In the absense of Mrs. Thada, Miss Avis Wilson gave a most interesting lesson on making lamp shades. A large crowd attended.

Mike Quandrahl, local garage man returned here Thursday, having spent the fore part of the week at Ventura, assisting to invoice at the garage there.

The Red Cross drive was recently made in this town and 29 members were enrolled.

The mumps are making a visit in several of the homes here. Those entertaining them are Jean Thada, Lawrence Christie, Gertrude Quigley, and Josephine Dominy.

Fred Schlutter of Meservey came Friday and took his daughter, Miss Eva Schlutter, 7th and 8th grade teacher, to Belmond to the dentist as she was suffering with a severe toothache.

Miss Marie Given accompanied by Miss Grace Liittchwager autoed to Clarion Friday to spend the week end with the former's sister. On Saturday they shopped at Webster City.

Coach Hopperstadt and the boys' basket ball team went to Hayfield Friday evening and played the boys there. The resulting score was 35 to 17, Goodell being the loser. The boys and girls will go to Rowan on Friday night and play there.

Claude Allie has been on the sick list the past week. Earl Clark has been working in the harness shop for him.

Mrs. Sumner Trumbell of Klemme visited Tuesday with her mother, Mrs. D. Christie.

The school children have been busy the past week selling the tuberculosis Christmas seals. Those selling $2 worth will receive certificates signed by the governor. So far Vernon and Harriet Scott have received certificates.

Cal Hughie of Dows came here Friday and purchased stock and shipped it to Chicago Saturday evening.

Miss Avis Wilson visited friends at Des Moines the fore part of last week.

Miss Lillian Tinkle who teaches at Victor, Iowa, is enjoying a visit at the home of her parents, Supt. and Mrs. Tinkle.

Weck Robbins has been quite ill the past week suffering with infection in his foot.

Don't forget the Christmas program at the U. B. church Saturday evening, Dec. 24. Everyone cordialy invited. Treats given.

COE PETIT

Coe Petit, Iowa's famous piano artist, will play your favorite selections at the Lyric Theatre, Belmond, Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 19 and 20, and will also furnish music for the feature picture, "Not For Publication." Prices 10c and 30c. Don't miss hearing this great artist!

Buy your sweetheart a diamond ring at Mallory's, Belmond.

BELMOND MARKETS

(Subject to change.)

Hens	19c
Springs	19c
Roosters	08c
Ducks	15c
Geese	15c
Eggs	45c
Butterfat	48c
Creamery butter	50c
Oats	44c
New corn	70c
Barley	68c

READ THE WANT ADS

PUBLIC SALE!

As we are going to move away, we will hold a closing out sale at the place known as the old Petrson farm, 3½ miles east and 1 mile south of Belmond, 2 miles north and 2½ miles west of Alexander, on

Wed., Dec. 21

Commencing at 1:00 o'clock P. M.

7 - Head of Horses - 7

1 BLACK MARE 8 yrs. old, wt. 1450
1 BLACK HORSE 12 yrs. old, wt. 1400
1 BROWN MARE 6 yrs. old, wt. 1300
1 TEAM MARES, 3 and 4 yrs. old, one black, one gray, wt. 2600
1 BAY MARE 10 yrs. old, wt. 1450
1 SUCKLING MARE COLT

26 - Head of Cattle - 26

4 MILK COWS
5 2-yr. old HEIFERS
2 YEARLING HEIFERS
3 SPRING CALVES
1 2-yr. old GUERNSEY BULL
3 MILK COWS, 2 fresh, other to freshen soon
3 YEARLING HEIFERS
1 YEARLING BULL
4 YOUNG CALVES

38 - Head of Hogs - 38

30 HEAD GOOD SPRING SHOATS
8 HEAD FALL PIGS

FARM MACHINERY, ETC.

1 bobsled
3 wagons
1 hay rack
1 feed bunk
1 Keystone disc
1 Moline corn binder
2 Moline corn plows
1 McCormick mower
1 14-in. walking plow
1 hay stacker, nearly new
1 Deering grain binder, 8-ft. cut
1 Rock Island gang plow, nearly new
1 Cracker Jack corn planter with 100 rods wire
1 Endgate seeder with grass seed attachment
1 drag cart
2 hay rakes
2 tank heaters
1 4-section drag
1 stack of straw
1 blacksmith forge
Several horse collars
2 sets backpad harness
1 Iowa Dairy separator
1 set cultivator shovels
2 sacks calico seed corn
1 1½ h. p. gasoline engine
1 DeLaval cream separator No. 15
1 stack hay, sudan and millet
6 SACKS EARLY YELLOW WIMPLE SEED CORN
1 folding bed
1 speed jack
1 fanning mill
1 set buggy shafts
1 set wagon wheels
1 Champion mower
1 Emerson sulky plow
1 set Concord harness
10 tons tame hay in barn
5 SACKS EARLY YELLOW SEED CORN
1 set sleigh runners for buggy
1 Hayes corn planter with 90 rods wire
1 FORD COUPE IN GOOD RUNNING ORDER
Numerous other articles

LUNCH SERVED AT NOMINAL COST

TERMS—$15 and under, cash; over that amount 10 months' time on approved security bearing 8 percent. All property to be settled for day of sale.

Nelson & Hereim, Props.

ALEXANDER SAVINGS BANK, Clerk — LEWIS HAUGE, Auct.

PREPARED TO ISSUE NEW CAR LICENSES

Monitor: On Thursday, December 1, County Treasurer Hallock was prepared to issue new auto license plates for 1928. The plates are now on hand. The figures appear in black on a white background, but contrary to first report the Wright county number will be 86 in place of 88. Owners of cars who remove from one county to another within the year, must notify the treasurer of the county in which they formerly held their residence before they can secure a new license in another county. Failure so to do will delay matters until the law is complied with.

Every applicant for a 1923 motor license will be furnished with a booklet issued by Secretary of State Ramsay, containing excerpts from the motor vehicle law relating to headlighting devices. The book also gives instructions for adjusting headlamps and focusing bulbs and courtesy suggestions for operations of motor vehicles on the road. A number of sections of the law of the road are set out.

Among suggestions given are: In case of personal injury operator causing the accident must give his car number, name and addressed to the injured party, after first giving such aid as circumstances may require. If the injured party is unable to receive the information it should be given to an apparently disinterested by-stander. After complying with the above the operator must report the accident to some nearby officer or to the county attorney or sheriff. Failure to so report is punishable by a fine of not more than $500 or two years imprisonment. Forty miles an hour is the speed limit on highways. Do not pass vehicles going in the same direction while on hills or curves. Stop before entering or crossing a primary road. Do not park on the surfaced portion of any highway. Keep brakes in good condition. Don't neglect the right of pedestrians on the highway—remember you are a pedestrian sometimes. Don't disregard the child on the curb. Remember, children can start quicker than you can stop. Don't forget that "Safety First" for yourself and others saves life and limb.

OBITUARY

Valda Mae Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Robinson, was born in Belmond, August 1, 1905. She died at her home in Belmond, December 4, 1927, at the age of 22 years, 4 months and 4 days.

She attended the Belmond schools and graduated from the Commercial Course in 1923. After graduation she was employed as stenographer and bookkeeper for the Belmond Auto Co. In the fall of 1924 she entered the Iowa State Teachers College at Cedar Falls and graduated from the Commercial course in June, 1926.

After graduation she was employed as stenographer in Chicago and later as commercial teacher in the Elmhurst Ilinois Schools.

Early in 1927 she was united in marriage with J. Leo Kernan of Belmond at the Holy Name Cathedral Rectory in Chicago. To this happy union was born one child, Velda Patricia LaVonne.

On November 21 she contracted an illness from which she never recovered. She passed away quietly Sunday morning, December 4, at 9 o'clock. She leaves to mourn her departure her husband and little daughter; her father and mother; sister, Maryl; brother, Henry, and a host of relatives and friends.

Her life though short and premature was complete and filled with many pleasures and accomplishments. This can be truly said of her, "She possessed a charming personality and a cheerful disposition which radiated happiness wherever she was." Her life as a commercial student and teacher was successful, being a member of Pi Omega P Gamma honorary Commercial Society, earning many merit medals for speed in typing including a Speed Expert Medal given by the Underwood Typewriter Co., and giving satisfaction wherever employed.

She was a devoted, loving wife and a true friend.

She lived a good Christian life, being a member of the Congregational church, and during the last year of her life she took instruction preparatory to becoming a member of the Catholic Faith. When recovery from her illness seemed doubtful, she completed her preparation for the "Great Beyond," by receiving the Sacraments of the Catholic Church.

During her last illness she was patient and cheerful. Her husband and relatives had one consolation; everything possible was done to bring about her recovery, but of no avail. "The Lord has called another of the faithful to his fold."

Funeral services were held Wednesday, December 7, at 9 o'clock, at the St. Francis church. Interment was made at the Catholic Cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt appreciation to the friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy in the illness and death of our loved one, and for the floral tributes.

Leo Kernan
Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Robinson and Family

MRS. HENRY SLINING

Elizabeth Margaret Alt was born at Hessen, Germany, Dec. 23, 1860, and died at her home in Belmond, Dec. 4, 1927, aged 66 years, 11 months and 12 days.

She came to America when she was 22 years old, settling in Illinois. She was married to Henry A. Slining on Sept. 22, 1885, at Mt. Carroll, Ill. To this union six children were born, two of whom preceded their mother in death. The four living children are Louisa Lyons of Clarion, Iowa; Hary F. of Belmond; Pearl Doctor, Lake Crystal, Minn.; and Clarence of Chicago, Ill. Mrs. Slining leaves also eleven grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Slining moved to Iowa in November, 1893, and located near Cornelia and have lived in the vicinity of Belmond until they moved to town a few years ago.

Mrs. Slining joined the Lutheran church when she was 14 years of age and never changed her membership from that body.

(Continued on uage 8)

CHRISTMAS SUGGESTIONS

DRESSER SCARFS
SILK HOSIERY
FABRIC GLOVES
WOOL GAUNTLETS
TOWELS
HANDKERCHIEFS
SILK SCARFS
INFANTS BRUSHED WOOL SETS
INFANTS CARRIAGE COVER SETS INFANTS SACQUES
AND MANY OTHERS

H. Jacobson & Son
Phone 33 Belmond, Iowa

Christmas Greetings

ROBINSON'S
BAKERY .·. GROCERY

We offer you the most for your money of the best to be had. We appreciate your patronage the past year and hope to merit it the next.

Merry Christmas
and
Happy New Year

May Your Cup Be Full of Cheer this Christmas!

A GIFT FOR the KIDDIE

A Savings Account

For Future Happiness

PERHAPS you've never thought of shopping at the State Bank of Belmond for your children's Christmas gifts, but it's a splendid idea, nevertheless.

A Savings Account is a gift that grows more and more valuable as time goes on; so that on some future Christmas it will have grown into a fine big sum.

Get a Money Gift Envelope

If you wish to make a gift of money to someone who already has a Savings Account, call and receive one of our fine money envelopes, for either gold or paper money, supplied free to our customers and friends.

State Bank of Belmond

PUBLIC SALE

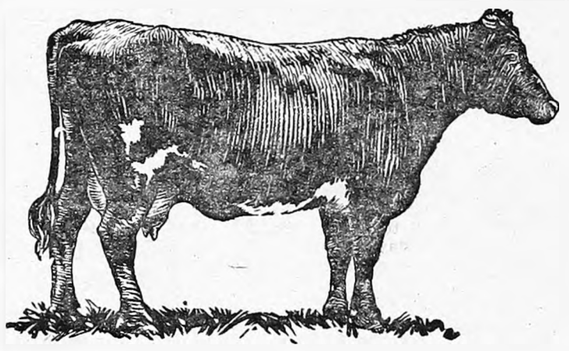
As I have decided to quit farming I will hold a closing out sale on my place one-half mile south of Meservey

TUES., DEC. 20th

Commencing at 10 o'clock A. M. sharp

12 - HEAD OF HORSES - 12

1 bay gelding 2 yrs. old
1 black mare 12 yrs. old, wt. 1350
1 bay team geldings, wt. 3200
1 black gelding 7 yrs. old, wt. 1600
1 grey mare 2 yrs. old
1 gray mare in foal, 7 yrs. old, wt. 1600
1 bay mare in foal, 10 yrs. old, wt. 1600
1 sorrel mare 12 yrs. old, wt. 1500
1 bay gelding 7 yrs. old, wt. 1500
1 grey gelding 3 yrs. old, wt. 1350
1 roan mare 4 yrs. old, wt. 1400



26 HEAD OF PUREBRED SHORTHORN CATTLE

8 milk cows, some giving milk, others will be fresh soon
7 yearling heifers
3 yearling bulls
7 calves
1 2-yr. old pure bred roan bull

13 - HEAD OF HOGS - 13

12 Chester White Brood sows
1 Chester White boar

12 BU. YELLOW SEED CORN, PICKED BEFORE FROST

FARM MACHINERY, HARNESS, ETC.

3 corn plows
2 top buggies
2 sets flynets
2 16-wheel discs
1 set driving harness
1 4-section steel drag
2 sets backpad harness
3 sets breeching harness
2 wagons with triple box
1 high narrow tire wagon
1 truck wagon with rack
1 John Deere endgate seeder
1 John Deere 999 corn planter with 80 rods wire
2 hay bucks
1 hay stacker
1 McCormick-Deering 8-ft. cut binder, new
1 Deering corn binder
1 Mc Cormick 5-ft. mower, new
1 John Deere manure spreader
1 John Deere sulky plow
1 John Deere walking plow
1 Janesville 14-in. gang plow
1 2½ h. p. Waterloo boy gas engine
1 cultipacker
1 buzz saw
1 grind stone
1 single hole corn sheller
1 DeLaval cream separator, No 15, new
1 block and tackle
1 bob sleigh with flat rack
1 Osborne side delivery rake
1 dump rake
1 drag cart
1 road cart
1 wheel scraper
2 shoveling boards
Other articles too numerous to mention

BIG FREE LUNCH SERVED AT NOON

TERMS: All sums of $10 and under cash; over that amount 10 months time will be given on notes bearing 8 per cent interest and approved by clerk of sale

Soren N. Faaborg, Proprietor

Potter & Saunders, Auctioneers, A. J. NISSEN, Clerk

YRIGHT BY... EAD AND' CO.

By Helen R. Martin

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I—Handsome, fastidious and wealthy—young St. Croix Creighton awaits his sweetheart at their trysting place. She is fifteen minutes late, this ordinary little Pennsylvania Dutch girl, Meely Schwenckton, but he awaits her eagerly. She is so demurely beautiful, he thinks, but so out of his "class."

CHAPTER II—Meely, in the Schwenckton home, is altogether unlike the girl who meets St. Croix clandestinely, and her speech has little of the Pennsylvania Dutch accent. She is the teacher in the neighborhood school, of which Marvin Creighton, St. Croix' brother, is superintendent. Due to family differences, Marvin Creighton boards in town, near Meely, who is living with the Schwencktons, a Pennsylvania Dutch farmer's family. Meely learns that Marvin was to have married his cousin, a titled English lady, but, believing she was attracted by the Creighton wealth, had refused the alliance. It is the rumor that St. Croix is to take Marvin's place and marry the English girl.

CHAPTER III—On her way to a rendezvous with St. Croix, Meely passes Marvin on the road. She is somewhat garishly attired, for St. Croix' benefit, and avoids Marvin St. Croix' jealousy is aroused by Meely's report of an aged suitor for her hand. On his presentation of candy and a box of handkerchiefs, he demands a "reward" from Meely. The girl evades his caresses and cleverly decoys him into admitting he has no intention of marrying her.

CHAPTER IV—Marvin visits school in his official capacity as superintendent, and discovers how shockingly little Meely knows about school teaching. She relies on her possession of a Normal school diploma to enable her to [illegible] in her position. Mr. Schwenckton coming home from town, picks up a stranger, and finding his watch gone, demands the stranger get out and turn over his watch. The stranger, St. Croix Creighton, loses his way and comes to the Schwenckton home, where he recognizes Meely, but the girl plays her part well and St. Croix does not suspect.

CHAPTER V—Meely encounters another trying morning with the school superintendent and is afraid she has been found out because of her knowledge of English topics and her woeful ignorance of things American, but despite the ambiguous situation she and the superintendent have an enjoyable lunch in the schoolhouse together.

"I mean forty-seven, of kaws—course—though strict accuracy in unimportant details always did strike me as rather a fault than a virtue in a teacher, for a good teacher should have a mind above insignificant facts—"

"Ten of these United States is not an 'insignificant fact,' exactly. I'm afraid I must insist, Miss Schwenckton, upon your calling a geography class. Everything you say makes me more and more eager every minute to hear you teach a class in the geography of the United States."

"I'm sorry not to oblige you, Mr. Creighton. I'll be very glad to allow you to examine the blackboard work—you'll find it quite creditable—"

"But this, Miss Schwenckton, is insubordination! Remember, I'm your superior officer!"

"But, you see, we moderrn teacherrs, we norrmal school graduates, do not believe in co-uh-cion and fawce. In my government of this school, for instance, I try to have all co-urr-cion come from within not from without."

"Fine; if you can work it; can you? And this idea of yours—teaching children 'what is for their immediate use' (and 'pleasure,' I believe you added?) is it for their physical or mental growth that you are striving?—for what I saw as I came in here appeared to be violent gymnastics or an execution of the charleston!"

"I was acting out a play for them—Barrie's 'A Kiss for Cinderella.' I was at the ball—"

"Um-mm," he murmured. "Acting?"

"Trying to."

"But you'll have these sectarian parents on your back! The 'plain' people, you know, are horrified at the word 'acting.'"

"But I act everything I teach—history, spelling, grammar—it's the only way I can teach."

"Now, do you know I would like to see you act spelling!"

"Well, you won't get a chance to!"

"Look here! Don't you know what a county superintendent is?"

"Oh, don't I? 'To you your superintendent should be as a god; one to whom you are but as form in wax, within his power to leave the figure or disfigure it,'" she dramatically recited a passage from "Midsummer Night's Dream," slightly adapted.

"Very well, then, how dare you cheek me and say you won't when I tell you to do a thing?"

"Because I'd rather lose my job than have you sit there and laugh at me!"

"It's not for a mere superintendent," he shook his head humbly, "to laugh at a normal school graduate!—though I am sure, Miss Schwenckton, that the normal school course does not include histrionics! I do know that much about normal schools! However, I congratulate you."

"On my—intelligent ideas about teaching?"

"On your excellent acting."

She stiffened with alarm. "'But—but you've not seen it!" she objected.

"You're sure? By the way—what role were you going to play when I passed you on the road the other day dolled up like a comic valentine?"

She caught her breath. "But—but you never looked at me! Do you see with your left ear?"

He laughed, rose abruptly, and held out his hand. "Good-by, Miss"—his eyes bored into hers like gimlets—"Schwenckton; I won't torture you any longer with my unwelcome presence!"

"Good-by," she sighed with deep relief.

"But—a few questions before I go, if you don't mind." He took out a pencil and notebook. "Your class at Kutztown normal?"

She could not answer that question offhand, apparently. "Wait a minute." She opened a drawer of her desk, took out her diploma and handed it to him. She had been prudently keeping this diploma at hand to be ready at need when he should call.

"Um-mm," he said thoughtfully, "two years ago. You didn't teach last year?"

"No-no."

"Why not?"

"Well—I was going to be married—but, strange as it may seem to you, I got jilted."

He caught his lower lip between his teeth and stared at her. Then, with an abrupt nod, turned away and left the schoolroom.

"My G—d!" she thought, her hand pressed to her heart, "how much does he suspect?"

It was, of course, her accent that betrayed her. She could perfectly disguise it when she adopted the extreme Pennsylvania Dutch dialect, but nothing short of that could hide the foreign touch of her speech.

She could only hope that her possession of this Kutztown normal diploma would throw him off the scent.

* * * * * *

All the Schwencktons, except the ailing wife and baby, were very tired of Aunt Rosy and longed for Susie's recovery not only for her own sake, but because it would rid them of the older woman's unpleasant company. Meely and Mr Schwenckton both loathed her uncleanliness; Meely feared her spying upon her; Sammy hated and resented her; Lizzie was afraid of her cold-blooded spite for the humiliating defeat the child had caused her; and Mr. Schwenckton was impatient to be rid of her so that he could bring home his daughter Nettie.

And at last, in spite of unsanitary conditions, and through the occasional conniving of Meely and the doctor to outwit Aunt Rosy and Mr. Schwenckton and air the house, Susie began to rally and the baby to pick up; and a week after they were brought down from the stuffy bedroom to the less confined atmosphere of the kitchen, Susie was almost as strong and blooming as she had ever been and the baby began to get fat.

Aunt Rosy was so reluctant to leave that Meely would have suspected her of having purposely prolonged Susie's convalescence by her bad care of her had it not been manifest that these two sisters were really very fond of each other.

It was a peculiar attachment, for Susie seemed phlegmatically indifferent to everyone else, even to her baby, and certainly to her elderly husband. Meely thought she had never met anyone so stolid; so incapable of being stirred by anything.

This stolidity seemed more marked than ever in contrast with the adolescent vividness of her stepdaughter, Nettie, who, on the very day of Aunt Rosy's departure, was brought home from her grandmother's by her father; a young girl in her early teens, with a pretty, though plebeian face, whose awakening nature was making her avidly curious about life. She worried Susie with questions to such an extent that the older woman, not accustomed to using her brains, found the girl's challenging curiosity exhausting to the point of pain.

One evening Mr. Schwenckton's absence from home (he had gone on a business trip to town) gave Nettie an unwarranted opportunity, for her father's presence was a check upon the intimate questions she loved to ask. Lizzie and Sammy had gone to bed; Meely, in a bathrobe, with her hair in a heavy braid down her back, was sitting at the kitchen table writing letters; Susie was rocking the baby before the kitchen stove; and Nettie was stretched at full length on the settee facing her pretty and ridiculously young stepmother.

"Say, Susie, why did you marry Pop?" asked Nettie.

"Ach—because."

"But why? Tell me! G'on."

"Ach, well, because I did."

"Ach, Susie, you must o' had some reason."

"Ach, well, a body has to marry somebody."

"Why must you marry somebody?"

"Well—if you don't want to be an old maid."

"Wouldn't you sooner be an old maid than married to Pop? I would! You couldn't o' been in love with Pop," said Nettie reflectively.

"Nettie Schwenckton, I do believe you think love is like in them movies! My sakes! That's only in them movies, Nettie. It ain't no such a thing for really!"

"But it is, too. I felt it myself a'ready!"

"Ach, you just think you felt it because you seen so many of them movies whiles you was in town there with your gramma. But it ain't no such a thing for really. You only gotta look around you a little to see for yourself it ain't no such a thing."

"I won't get married," exclaimed Nettie, "unless I can meet up with such a fellah like Rudolph Valentino or Tom Mix or whoever! I wisht," she sighed longingly, "I could run into Mr. St. Croix Creighton—"

Meely looked up from her letters and watched the girl's childish, pretty face whose commonness was almost obliterated by the soft, dreamy ecstasy that lit up her vivid youth. "I seen Mr. St. Croix Creighton oncet or twicet or so. Gee, he's some swell dresser! And ain't he a good looker! I wisht I could meet up with him!"

Though this longing of Nettie's seemed as far as possible from immediate realization, that very night was to see it fulfilled.

"Say, Meely," Nettie appealed to the teacher, "did you ever see Mr. St. Croix Creighton?"

"I—I think I did."

"You'd know it if you did! Gee, he's got the style to him! That," affirmed Nettie, "is the only kind of fellah can have me!"

Susie sniffed. "You hate yourself—I don't think! What makes you

"But Nettie," Meely Felt Urged to Warn the Child, "a Man in Mr. Creighton's Position Would Never Marry a Girl in Your—in Our Place in Life."

s'pose a high-stepper like him would take up with you yet? Good lands!"

"They do in the movies sometimes—when they fall good in love."

"Yes, in them movies," Susie scoffed.

"But, Nettie," Meely felt urged to warn the child, "a man in Mr Creighton's position would never marry a girl in your—in our—place in life. So that your 'meeting up with him' would only mean unhappiness for you—especially if he fell in love with you."

"But in them movies—"

"Ach, them movies!" Susie interpolated.

"All right, then!" retorted Nettie with sudden passion. "I'd sooner live three weeks with a swell gentleman that I could admar, than be respectable all my life with a old man like Pop! And I'd think more of myself for doin' it, too!"

"Well, Nettie Schwenckton, if you aint!" said Susie, only mildly scandalized; nothing could ever really rouse her to any show of feeling.

"Nettie," Meely experimentally remarked, "you know there's Mr. Marvin Creighton over at Absulom Puntz'—there'd be some chance of your meeting him—and none at all, I should think, of your running into St.—Mr. St. Croix Creighton—"

"Ach, that there county superintendent, he's a stiff! I often seen him a'ready and he didn't gimme no romantic feelings. He ain't nothin' like them movie actors—"

The sound of steps on the kitchen porch interrupted her.

"Pop's back a'ready," she said, with a glance at the clock whose hands pointed to ten. "He won't like it we're up so late."

She rose, yawned, and stretching wide her arms, revealed a beautifully developing figure.

Meely, looking at her, wondered whether, in case the girl's longing to meet St. Croix were ever realized, he would not find her even more irresistible than he was finding "Meely Schwenckton."

"No," she decided, "for he is really fastidious and Nettie's a hopelessly common little thing. And yet, if he can stand me and the dope I hand out to him—"

She did not know, however, that St. Croix, to his own wonder, never felt that she was "common" or vulgar; not even when she manifested the intelligence of a sheep or twisted the English language until his nerves were rasped; not even when she sat sprawling ungracefully with her feet far apart, nor when, after tasting an apple, she drew back her hand across her mouth.

She was a good actress, but there was that something inherent that nothing could disguise—

* * * * * * *

It was just when, relieved of Aunt Rosy's espionage, Meely was beginning to feel, in spite of the dangerous proximity of Marvin Creighton, more at her ease, less insecure in her equivocal position, that, on that very evening when she sat in the warm, bright kitchen, peacefully writing letters, she was to find the complexity and precariousness of her situation greatly increased by the outcome of an episode which was, at that same hour, in its incipiency on a Sunbury street corner, eight miles distant.

Mr. Sam Schwenckton, having finished the business which had taken him to town, was about to enter his car parked on the edge of the town, and start for home, when a man standing on the corner, apparently waiting for a trolley car, approached him.

"Pardon me—how often do these cars run?" the man inquired in a tone of extreme irritation. "I've been waiting here twenty minutes!"

"It don't run no cars on this line after seven o'clock, Mister. This here trolley line ain't doin' much business anyhow, so it stops till seven a'ready. You must be a stranger here—ain't?—or you'd o' knowed that."

"No—but I seldom use the trolley. Today, however, I had to leave my automobile at the repair shop. Are you, by any chance, driving out this road?"

"Yes, eight miles out."

"Will you, then, for a consideration, let me go with you?"

Now, as the night was raw and wet, it would, Mr. Schwenckton felt, be only a Christian act to offer this stranger a seat in his car. Also, he liked company, some one to talk to on an eight-mile drive. But, the newspapers were so full of holdup stories—and he was carrying a good deal of money—wouldn't he be taking chances?

The man looked so decent, however (what could be seen of him in the dimness) and Mr. Schwenckton had, as always when he traveled at night, brought his revolver with him—

He felt in his pocket and surreptitiously moved his pistol from his right-hand pocket to his left.

"I wouldn't want no sich a 'consideration,' Mister. Just so's you ain't one of these here thugs you can read about in the papers—"

The man laughed. "You're twice my size. If I can trust you not to hold me up, I guess you're safe!"

"Yes, I guess that's so too. All right. Come on, then."

Mr. Schwenckton felt rather cheated when he found that the stranger, though sociable and agreeable enough, was not going to repay his hospitality by satisfying his curiosity as to whom he was. All the leading questions with which the farmer plied him, received evasive answers. This seemed to Mr. Schwenckton so suspicious that he frequently felt in his left-hand pocket to be ready in case of need.

However, he tried to put his apprehensions aside and to beguile the ride with friendly talk.

"So your car had to go to the shop, heh?"

"Yes, worse luck!"

"When I first got my car I drove her and drove her till I got the cold in my chest and it near give pneumonia yet! Yes, anyhow!"

The stranger made a sound expressive of sympathy. For a while they drove in silence.

"Funny thing happened in the bank today," Mr. Schwenckton resumed conversationally. "When I went in to get a check cashed—" He stopped short in consternation—how tactless to mention having cashed a check!

"What was it?" asked his companion.

"Not much—a dollar or so. I spent it," said Mr. Schwenckton pointedly.

"I mean what was the funny thing that happened?"

"Oh, that! Well, a lady standin' alongside of me in the bank she handed in a check and the banker he said to her, 'What denomination?' and she says sort of snappy, 'Well,' she says, 'I'm a Presbyterian, but I don't see what business it is of yourn,' she says."

The laugh in which they joined over this yarn seemed to establish between them more confidence. Mr. Schwenckton, always warm-hearted, was sorry he had been feeling so suspicious of a fellow man and tried to atone by being as friendly as possible.

"Was you ever to New York, Mister?"

"Yes."

"That's a place I never seen. But my brother he was always set on seein' this here New York oncet, that you can read so much about in the papers. So at last his missus she says to him, she says, 'Pop,' she says, you're gettin' on in life if you don't go soon to this here New York, you'll be too old to go.' So then, he said he'd go oncet. So she helped him get ready and start off. 'Now, mind you, write,' she says to him, 'and tell me how you like it.' So after a couple of days she got such a pitcher post card from him and he'd wrote on it, 'Mom, Yi, yi, yi, yi! Pop.'"

Again their joint laughter seemed to bring them sympathetically close.

Since leaving the lighted town, the road had been very dark, for the night was cloudy and starless.

"Where do you want out, stranger?" Mr. Schwenckton presently inquired. As he spoke, he took his hand from the steering wheel to have a glance at his watch—and as he did so, the man beside him gave an uneasy start.

With a shock of some horror, Mr. Schwenckton's fingers found an empty pocket where his watch should have been! Instantly he stopped his car and jerked out his revolver. "Now, then, you hand out that there watch and then you run for your life!" he shouted.

The man obeyed with alacrity, thrusting the watch into the farmer's outstretched hand, leaping from the car and disappearing in the blackness of the road.

Mr. Schwenckton, greatly shaken by so narrowly escaping being man handled by a thug, his soul heavy with sadness at the desperate wickedness of man, went on his solitary way, musing on his own folly in having let his kindness of heart get the better of his prudence.

"It ain't safe to take up strangers these days—that it ain't! And me, I was always too trusting that way! Well, this here's certainly a lesson to me! Be kind to your fellar-creatures, yes—up to the danger point. That's all the further a fellah darst be a Christian these days!"

His despair over the perfidy of our human nature deepened as he reflected upon the "gentility" of the thief: his "nice" voice, his "educated" speech, his "polite manners"—what with his "Beg pardon," "Thank you very much—"

"A slick one, he was! I can't never trust no one's appearances again!" thought Mr. Schwenckton with a sorrowful shake of his head. "That's the worst harm a crook does—he spreads abroad a mistrust of man made in the image of Gawd!"

Fifteen minutes later Mr. Schwenckton, usually the most placid of men, confronted his family in the kitchen, looking so white and agitated that Meely and Nettie sprang up greatly startled, and even Susie looked at him inquiringly.

"I was held up and robbed!" he announced. "Not two mile up the road yet!"

"Ach! Was you hurt?" cried Nettie in a fright, running to him.

"No, I ain't hurt. And I ain't lost nothin' neither! I held the crook up and got back what was stole off of me! That's what I done!"

"Ach, Pop!" Nettie gasped in mingled terror and admiration.

"Good thing I took my rewolwer with! It ain't safe, these rough times, to travel at night without a gun along!"

He told them, then, as he removed his hat, coat and gloves, just what happened—giving his story a dramatic climax. "'Now, then,' I says to him, 'you hand out that there watch and then you run for your life!' I says. And he did! With that there rewolwer of mine in his face, he done what I tol' him and pretty quick about it too! Yes, and I guess he's runnin' yet!"

"Yes, well, but," Susie stolidly spoke to him over her shoulder, "you didn't take your watch along. You let it at home. You forgot it. There it lays." She thrust her thumb backward toward a small shelf which held a convenient comb and brush for family use.

Her husband stared at her incredulously as she calmly rocked her sleeping infant—then, desperately hoping to prove her words false, he fearfully drew from his pocket the watch he demanded from the stranger, and slowly, reluctantly, he let his eyes fall upon it.

It was not his!

Such a watch it was as he could never hope, nor even wish, to own. Gold, jeweled, initialed.

In a stride he stood before the shelf and beheld his own accusing watch.

"I was sayin' to Nettie," said Susie, "that you'd be awful put out at goin' without your watch along."

"And I never oncet missed it!" the wretched man murmured.

"But—why, my lands!" faltered Nettie, "this here's got an awful look!—like as if you'd held that there man up and stole his watch, Pop!"

"And I don't know who it is to give it back!" Mr. Schwenckton's voice was agonized. "If I never find him, it'll make me feel awful conscientious to keep his watch! Yi, yi, yi!" he shook his head and began agitatedly to pace the length of the kitchen.

"Oh, you'll have no trouble finding him, Mr. Schwenckton," said Meely encouragingly. "He'll of course report to the police and they'll easily trace you up."

"Yes, and arrest me for a thief yet!" exclaimed Mr. Schwenckton.

"I'll tell you!" cried Meely. "You report to the police, Mr. Schwenckton, and tell them of your mistake—and that you want them to find the man. That will save you."

Mr. Schwenckton stopped in his agitated walking to and fro, and looked at Meely admiringly. "You're got the head on you, Meely! I didn't think that far myself. Education's a grand help to a body in this here life! That's what I'll do this self-same minute!"

He went to the telephone, but found the line "busy."

"Delay may be fatal!" said Meely anxiously. "You must report it before he does. He has had a good deal of time already—all the time you've been home unloading your car and putting it in the garage—and the time you've been in the house—"

"Yes, well, but I don't think he'll be reportin' it wery soon—I started him on a good run and I guess he's still runnin'!"

It was at this instant that they were all startled by a rap on the kitchen door, and before anyone could answer it, the door opened and a wet, bedraggled and very tired-looking young man almost staggered into the room, closing the door behind him and leaning against it heavily.

"I've been held up on the road and robbed!" he announced, his voice weak with fatigue. "May I use your phone to report to the police?"

A stunned silence on the part of the four occupants of the kitchen met this statement and request—Meely staring with wide-open eyes, her hand pressed to her fast-beating heart; Nettie's face going first red, then pale; Mr. Schwenckton trembling and pallid; Susie unmoved.

But it was Susie who broke their stupid silence. "So you see, Sam, he ain't still runnin'!"

A little hysterical squeal of laughter from Meely brought the young man's eyes around to where she stood by the table—clad in a kimono, her hair down her back in a braid. She was glad she was not dressed normally, for in her tailored school suit with her hair done up around her head, she was so transformed from the country bumpkin of her volle frock trimmed with artificial flowers and streaming ribbons that the extreme contrast would have betrayed her hopelessly as a masquerader.

For the man leaning exhausted against the kitchen door was St. Croix Creighton.

"How did you get here so soon?" quavered Mr. Schwenckton, too absorbed in his own quandary to see the flash of startled recognition with which his visitor's eyes met Meely's. She had succeeded, at an instant's notice, in assuming the look of bovine dullness which has so effectually disguised her ever since she had known him.

"Am I—is this Sam Schwenckton's farm?" exclaimed the amazed young man. "I'd no idea where I was, the road's so pitch dark! I've been groping my way for a half hour to find a house where I could telephone. That," pointing to the lamp, "was the first light I saw in five miles!"

"No, not five—not more'n two," Mr. Schwenckton's shaking voice corrected him.

"How do you know? Is this Mr. Schwenckton?" asked St. Croix, for the farmer, without his coat and hat and necktie, did not suggest to him his automobile companion of an hour ago.

"It is," Mr. Schwenckton heavily admitted. "And you, now that I see you in the light, I rekonize as the younger Mr. Creighton! Yi, yi, yi, yi!"

"Yes, I am in a mess!" responded St. Croix, interpreting the farmer's exclamation as an expression of sympathy for his plight. "May I use your—"

"If it's only your watch you want, it ain't no need to phone. Here it is!" Mr. Schwenckton, with shamed, averted face, held it out to its owner.

St. Croix, amazed, took it. "You caught the thief? But how? Do tell me! I never was more taken in! He seemed the most harmless, kindly old simpleton—"

This time it was Nettie who gave a little hysterical squeal which brought the young man's eyes, for an instant, to her rosy, eager face.

"Meely!" Mr. Schwenckton appealed, "you tell him how it was! Me, I couldn't get the words together for to explain such a bewilderment!"

Meely was appalled. The Schwencktons were accustomed to hear her speak good English; St.

"I've been Held Up on the Road and Robbed," He Announced, His Voice Weak With Fatigue.

Croix had of course never heard her talk anything but the Pennsylvania Dutch dialect!

"Nettie," she murmured, "you tell him!"

Nettie, shy, but all too willing to hold the young god's attention upon herself, eagerly assumed the task of explaining her poor father's unfortunate mistake—and before she was half through her narrative, they were all laughing except Susie; and even she was feebly smiling.

"What gets me pupplexed," said Mr. Schwenckton amazedly, "is that me and you, Mr. Creighton, neighbors since you was born a'ready, though five miles apart and not seeing each other often (I ain't really laid eyes on you since you was a college boy, except to pass each other in our cars)—but that us we could ride together near eight miles yet and not rekonize each other—"

"I'd have known you in your farm clothes, I suppose, but—"

He did not explain how unnatural and unlike himself the farmer looked to him in his "store suit" with a collar and necktie on.

"It's a good thing we're neighbors that know each other or this here thing mightn't look so funny, but wery serious!" Mr. Schwenckton gravely opined.

"I didn't know," St. Croix said suddenly, when Mr. Schwenckton's abject apologies had been accepted, "that you had three daughters, Mr. Schwenckton; I thought you had only two."

"You thought right—I got only two."

"Oh, St. Croix nodded, "then this young lady isn't your daughter?" His nod indicated Nettie, but as she and Meely were standing together, Mr. Schwenckton misunderstood him.

"No, she's only a distant cousin, come to school to teach here."

"Teach? Why, she looks too young! You can't tell, these days, can you, how old girls are?"

Meely realized that his look of amazement, almost of consternation, was not at all for Nettie's youth as a teacher, but for the awful English with which the children of the district must be instructed!

Nettie was delighted that no one but herself, as she supposed, perceived his mistake, for it was wonderful to have Mr. St. Croix Creighton think her old enough and "smart" enough to be a school teacher!

It was obvious to Meely that St. Croix was even more concerned than she was that neither he nor she should by look or word reveal to this family the relation in which they stood.

Mr. Schwenckton offered, now, to get out his car again and take Mr. Creighton home, but the young man protested that if they would allow him to telephone home, one of the Beechlands chauffeurs would be here in a short time with a runabout.

While he was telephoning, Mr. Schwenckton ordered Nettie to make some strong hot coffee and get out some doughnuts and pie.

But what, Meely wondered, would St. Croix think of the teacher's being asked to do this instead of the daughter of the house? She considered swiftly what would be her best course to avert suspicion on both sides. To get across the kitchen to the stairway and run up to her room? Mr. Schwenckton would be bound to stop her and insist that she stay and have coffee and doughnuts with them, and if he spoke to her at all, St. Croix would notice how differently he addressed her and Nettie. To remain here, however, was more certain to invite exposure. And yet, she was afraid to go away for fear of what might come out in her absence.

Nettie, as she bustled about making coffee and setting out cups and saucers, saw, with keen chagrin, how Mr. Creighton's eyes kept turning toward Meely and never in her direction. And the expression on his face—furtive, hungry, infatuated! Was this, Nettie wondered, a case of love on sight? She was greatly puzzled, for in her opinion Meely "looked a mess" in that sloppy kimono and with a "plait" down her back.

As Mr. Creighton hung up the receiver, there was a quick movement in the room—Meely making for the stairs.

"Ach, Meely—" began Mr. Schwenckton.

"Good night," she interrupted, rushing up the steps before he could stop her—but not before she caught in St. Croix' eyes the evidence of the conflict in his mind—a passionate protest against her going, mingled with a fear of her presence.

Upstairs in her own room, while she prepared for bed, she had the exciting suspense of wondering whether they were talking about her; whether St. Croix had noticed the kimono she had on, a Japanese embroidered silk thing that a county school teacher would hardly own if she were what she should be! Yes, this kimono could be a "give-away."

"Well, when this sort of thing could happen it was evident that she could not much longer keep up her farce. She must bring things to a climax as soon as possible; beguile St. Croix to lay his cards on the table; force his hand for a show-down.

The sound of the cabinet organ in the parlor below her bedroom, and Nettie's shrill voice singing, interrupted her thoughts. Nettie was invariably called upon by her father to entertain "company" with her musical accomplishments of organ and voice, and of course such distinguished company as Mr. St. Croix Creighton would have to be favored. Through Nettie's lungs and fingers the entire family found their one and only artistic expression.

CHAPTER V

AT BREAKFAST next morning Meely warily watched the faces around the table for signs of newly awakened suspicions of herself. But she found nothing unusual in the demeanor of the family.

Nettie chattered excitedly about the elegance and "swellness" of Mr Creighton's stylish clothes, his wonderful words—"He says 'hoff' for half! It sounds awful pretty and genteel that way! And, ach, the manners he's got! The way he held my chair for me to get set! Say!"—it beggared words.

"But I always say," her father spoke in, "that I don't think so much of manners—morals is so much more important."

"Gimme manners!" Nettie defiantly affirmed her choice.

"Morals and manners," said Meeley, "can go hand in hand—they're not mutually exclusive!"

Meely had often noticed that her use of a word of more than two syllables invariably awed the family into a prolonged silence.

She broke the present lull by broaching a subject to Mr. Schwenckton that was weighing on her mind. "How often do county superintendents visit a school, Mr. Schwenckton?"

"Ach, about once in so often."

"Yes, but how often?"

"Not so wery often. Now and then."

"But I mean," Meely patiently explained, "how far apart are 'now and then'?"

"Well, pretty far apart. You see, he's got too many to wisit often. And the schools is spread over so much area that it takes up time to go to and from."

Meely decided that for at least a few weeks she could breathe freely and feel comparatively secure from the danger of a visit.

And that very morning, just after recess time, as the children were trooping in from the playground he walked in on her.

(Continued Next Week)

for READ WANT AD

LOCAL NEWS

Belmond meets Klemme tomorrow, Friday, night in the first basket ball game of the season, on the Belmond floor.

The new Ford car will be on display tomorrow, Friday, at the show rooms of the Belmond Auto Co. Now is your opportunity to satisfy that curiosity.

FOR SALE—Dressed chickens. A. W. Martin. 526

The old fiddler's contest Monday evening at the Opera House draw a large crowd, and proved to be very amusing.

A. L. Luick came down from Minneapolis last week on business. On Wednesday evening he left for Chicago to attend a meeting regarding the affairs of the sugar company.

During the blizzard of last Wednesday, the plate glass window of the Variety Store was blown in and snow sifted into the store. The Misses Shaffer, proprietors, had quite a time keeping the cold and snow out until the window could be boarded up preparatory to repairs.

G. A. Stanzel was invited to Clarion, Monday, by Sheriff Johnson to explain his punch board operations. Stanzel was lectured about the practice, and returned home. A drive is being made by officers to stop punch board operations, which are illegal.

Moe & Nelson have made excellent progress in graveling primary road, No. 15 from No. 10, eight miles south, to a point about two miles north of Belmond. The stretch from No. 10 to Main street has been covered, and it was expected to complete the stretch north of town yesterday. Some 25 to 30 trucks have been employed, and gravel has been spread at a remarkably rapid rate.

LYRIC THEATRE

Geo. Hake, Manager

SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY NIGHTS

FRIDAY and SATURDAY
DECEMBER 16 and 17

"THE GREAT MAIL ROBBERY"

A picture which glorifies the activities of the United States Marine Corps, featuring Theodor Von Eltz, Frank Nelson, Joanne Morgan, Lee Shumway, Dewitt Jennings. A dynamited mail train, bearing a fortune in gold, the valiant stand of an heroic detachment of Marines against a desperate bandit gang, the rush of airplanes to aid the beseiged train all help to make this a thrilling epic of the Marine Corps.

SEEING STARS
Educational comedy
10c and 25c

MONDAY and TUESDAY
DECEMBER 19 and 20

"NOT FOR PUBLICATION"

With Ralph Ince, Roy Laidlaw, Rex Lease, Jola Mendez, Eugene Strong, Thos. Brower. From the story, "The Temple of Giants" by Robert Wells Ritchie. A vivid historical record of achievement in the pioneering of the West of today.

COE PETIT
Iowa's famous piano artist will play your favorite selections in a 20-minute recital before the show, and will also furnish music for the picture.
Fox News
10c and 30c

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY
DECEMBER 21 and 22

"SMILE, BROTHER, SMILE"

With Dorothy Mackaill, Jack Mulhall, T. Roy Barnes, Philo McCullough, E. J. Ratcliffe. A comedy drama of the life of a traveling salesman.

THE RELAY
Collegian comedy
10c and 25c

The Parent-Teachers association meets tomorrow, Friday afternoon at 2:30, at the high school auditorium. A Christmas program will feature the afternoon, given by the children of the grades and under the charge of the grade teachers of the school.

Miss Thera Fitts was hostess Monday evening to the Delphian club.

NOTICE

I will not collect any wages of, nor be responsible for any debts contracted by my son, Verdie Wilson, from this date.
1* L. H. Wilson, Goodell, Iowa.

Dance Friday evening at the Belmond Opera House to music by Kelly's Syncopating Trio. Pep! Personality! Pleasure! Twenty-five cents is all—for all. Come! Everybody welcome!

Now is the time to feed Dr. Hess' Poultry Panacea. 1 egg will pay for all a hen will eat in 6 months. Guaranteed to increase your egg production.—Schultz Drug Co.

MARCELLING

I am doing marcelling at my home, 2 blocks south of Library. For appointment phone 255.—Mrs. T. L. Finn. 1*

Mrs. M. C. Norem, a farmers wife near Holmes, died suddenly Sunday morning at her home, from an attack of heart trouble. She had attended evangelistic services at Trinity church in Belmond the night before and was apparently in good health then. Mrs. Norem was a charter member of St. Olaf church in Belmond township, although not a member at her death, having changed to another church in Minnesota, where the family had moved. Funeral services were held yesterday at the Holmes church, burial being in St. Olaf cemetery.

COE PETIT

Coe Petit, Iowa's famous piano artist, will play your favorite selections at the Lyric Theatre, Belmond, Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 19 and 20, and will also furnish music for the feature picture, "Not For Publication." Prices 10c and 30c. Don't miss hearing this great artist!

A pleasant afternoon was spent Thursday, December 1, when the W. F. M. S. of the Methodist church was hostess to the Congregational society at the home of Mrs. R. E. Courson. About 50 ladies were present. A Christmas program was given, among the numbers being a solo by Mrs. C. O. Fitts and a reading by Mrs. Glen Klemme. The hostess served refreshments.

Do It Early!

THIS store may not be SANTA'S headquarters, but BELIEVE us, we're one of HIS important branch OFFICES—just to show YOU what we mean, a lady CAME in yesterday to do SOME Christmas shopping AND before she left she CALLED up three of her FRIENDS and told them THEY could find certain GIFT articles here, WHICH is just one of THE reasons why we're SO busy these days—REALLY, we have a fine DISPLAY of gifts here AND the beauty of it IS that you don't have TO be a person of WEALTH to buy them—WE have so many items THAT range from 1 cent to $20.00, including PFANSTIEHL Radio, ORTHOPHONIC Victrola, KODAKS, Electric Lamps. ARTICLES you can be proud TO give and which the RECIPIENTS will be mighty HAPPY to receive. TRY the Drug Store First! P. S.—Did you get one of OUR Toy Catalogs? If not CALL for one.

Herman L. Schultz

SCHULTZ DRUGS

Belmond Phone 171

SALE DATES CLAIMED

DEC. 15—Sampson Stock Farm closing out farm sale. Also H. G. Guernsey herd.

DEC. 20—Soren N. Faaborg, ½ mile south of Meservey.

DEC. 22—Reg. Houghton, 2 miles west, ½ mile south of Goodell. Closing out farm sale.

Glasses fitted.—A. H. Berger, Specialist, Clarion, Iowa. 528c

Mrs. J. B. Spitler will be hostess today to the monthly meeting of the M. E. Aid Society.

Rev. J. B. O'Connor, pastor of the Methodist church at Onawa, and former pastor in Belmond, figured in an automobile wreck during the blizzard of last Tuesday evening. The Clarion Monitor has the following item this week, which will interest many Belmond people:

Rev. J. B. O'Connor, while returning to Onawa in his Essex coach from Sioux City last Tuesday evening in company with Mrs.. O'Connor, Mrs. Chas. V. Smith and Dr. A. Curran, ran into a Ford three miles south of Salix, both cars being badly wrecked as a result. The blizzard caused the windshield of both cars to become badly clouded with ice and snow, so it was impossible to see through them. The Ford, which was occupied by two ladies, had been stopped on the pavement, in order to wipe off the windshield. Rev. Mr. O'Connor was driving slowly, only about eighteen miles an hour with his head outside the window, in an effort to see, when his car ran into the back of the Ford, standing ahead of him. The occupants of both cars were jarred but no one hurt. After the first accident a car from the south ran into the front end of the Ford, demolishing the parts that had escaped from the first collision.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—R. C. Silver Laced Wyandotte cockerels. Norris Odland, Belmond, Iowa. 52*

Don't forget the Good Fellowship meeting tonight at the library. Meeting starts at 8:00 o'clock.

W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

FIRST BASKET BALL GAME FRIDAY

(Continued from page 1)

gan. Considering the fact that most of the orchestra members are beginners and have had their instruments but a few months, they made a very commendable showing.

GOOD FELLOWSHIP CLUB MEETING TONIGHT

(Continued from page 1)

members. This small amount of money has had to meet and has met, expenses.

What part the Good Fellowship club has in the community life of Belmond, whether it has been worth while and if it should be continued, will be discussed and decided tonight. Every man at all interested in the club is requested to be present at this evening's meeting. If it is decided to continue, new officers will be elected and reorganization effected. The meeting starts at 8.

GIVE

Fancy Work for Christmas

Numerous articles already worked up and moderately priced

Metallic Hats
Hosiery
Corsages

The Hat Shoppe
Belmond, Iowa

Your Christmas Dinner

Will be one of the big events, of course, of the day. We just want to remind you that you can get everything you need to make it a success at our store.

Mixed Nuts Walnuts
Peanuts Fresh Candy
Oranges Bananas Grapes
All kinds of Fresh Fruits
Olives Celery
Fresh Vegetables, all kinds

Just phone 19

HEINZ WEEK
DECEMBER 19 TO 24

We are going to cut every item in this line and let you sample it. Come in!

B. K. Kinseth & Son
The Store on the Corner

NOTICE

Beginning this date, night bus fares to the Great Western trains will be 50 cents per person.
F. P. Dibble
Frank Case

OBITUARY OF MRS. HENRY SLINING

(Continued from page 6)

Her home was a home in the highest sense of that word: a refuge for her husband and children. Yet in spite of filling such a large place there she was ever ready to help those outside who were in need of help.

Funeral services were held at the home on Tuesday aftenoon Dec. 6, an were in charge of Rev. S. U. Leinbach.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy in the death of our beloved wife and mother, and for the beautiful floral offerings.
Henry Slining and family.

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

FOR YOUR AUCTIONEER
CALL
H. BRUMMOND
KANAWHA, IOWA
PHONE 118

WANT ADS

FOR SALE—1 set heavy bobs, 2 sets light bobs.—H. H. Hawley, Phone 298. 1*

FOR SALE—Large type Poland China boar pigs. Guaranteed breeders. $30. — Jacob Nissen, Meservey. 3tf

FOR SALE — Duroc Jersey Boars, good cholera immune pedigreed pigs at farmers' prices.—H. L. Ziska, 8½ miles west of Belmond. 33*

FOR SALE—Big, husky spring boars. New blood for old customers. Cholera immune. Satisfaction guaranteed. Prices $30 and $35 for quick sale.—Roy Jenison. 51tf

FOR SALE—Black Shetland pony, 5 years old. Broke to children, kind and gentle. A dandy Christmas present for some boy or girl.—P. W. Kaufman. 52c

FOR SALE—2 year old, registered Shropshire ram. Also one grade ram lamb.—John Mack, Belmond. Phone 3818. 52c

FOR SALE

18x30 kitchen sink with brackets; 20x36 kitchen sink with cabinet; Red Jacket pump head with windmill attachment; 2 pump jacks; heating stove; 3x18 brass lined pump cylinder; 3½x14 brass lined pump cylinder; 1 h. p. electric motor; ¼ h. p. electric motor; 1-6 h. p. electric motor for washing machine; used furnace; hot water heating boiler, 1200 ft. capacity; three small gasoline engines; electric automatic soft water pump.—W. J. Pech. 32c

FOR SALE—Oliver typewriter, No. 11, 1 year old, latest model, good condition. Amazingly low price.—Verdel Hanson. 1*

Poultry Wanted

We will call to buy your poultry and will pay you the highest market price. Poultry weighed and paid for at your place. Just call Geo. Coburn, Cornelia. Clarion phone 61-31. Belmond phone 3817. 17tf

MILK---10c A QUART

Baker's Dairy wish to announce they still deliver milk at
10c A QUART
And it is also for sale at
10c A QUART
At Kinseth's, Bump Grocery and Cleveland's Store

FOR CHRISTMAS
Place your orders early for Coffee Cream and Whipping Cream

BAKER DAIRY

ATWATER KENT RADIO

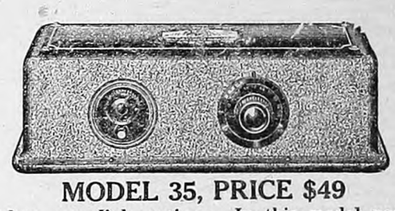
It's good after Christmas, too

MANY men and women who wanted to offer their families something more than the pleasure of a day have chosen Atwater Kent Radio as their principal Christmas gift.

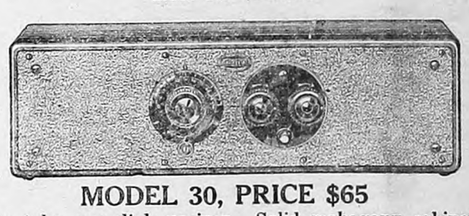
This year even more people will solve their Christmas problems in the same enduring way. For here, in these simple, beautiful, reliable instruments, is happiness that lasts.

If your home lacks Radio—is not Christmas the time to put it there? Or, if you have a set which does not do justice to the really fine programs—what better can you do than replace it with Atwater Kent Radio?

Through the months, the years, every day will renew the satisfaction of the first day and gratitude to the thoughtful giver.



MODEL 35, PRICE $49
Six tubes, one dial receiver. In this model you can own the latest model ATWATER KENT radio, all complete, installed with power tubes and good equipment for $115.00.



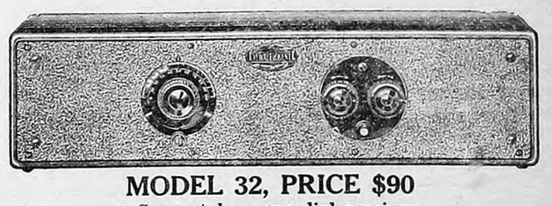
MODEL 30, PRICE $65
Six tube, one dial receiver. Solid mahogany cabinet; gold plated name plate, power supply switch and vernier knob.

RECEIVING SETS

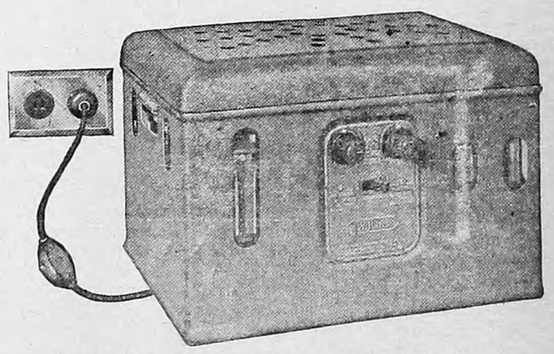
Model 35	$49.00
Model 30	65.00
Model 33	75.00
Model 32	90.00
Model 50	150.00

RADIO SPEAKERS

Model E, Drum type	$24.00
Model H & G, Horn type	15.00



MODEL 32, PRICE $90
Seven tubes, one dial receiver



WILLARD A & B POWER UNIT
No batteries, no bother, always full charged; run direct from your electric light socket at nominal cost. A-power and B-power units, also.

EVERY SUNDAY EVENING:—The Atwater Kent Radio Hour brings you the stars of opera and concert, in Radio's finest program. Hear it at 9:15 Eastern Time, 8:15 Central Time.

Belmond Storage Battery Co.
Phone 46 J. W. Scott, Proprietor Official 2417

BELMOND HAS IT

Belmond Independent

AND HERALD-PRESS

BUY IN BELMOND

ESTABLISHED 1919 — CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 9 — BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1927. — NO. 6

Belmond Victors Over Klemme In Fast Game, Friday

See-Saw Fight Finally Goes To Locals By 21-18 Score

The high school basketball team opened the season with a well earned victory over the Klemme team on the local floor last Friday night. The visitors put up a good fight and forced the Belmond boys to the limit to win.

The Klemme boys jumped into an early lead, at one time leading 8 to 2. During the second quarter the Belmond boys began opening up and at half time the score was 11 to 8 in favor of Belmond. During the last half the local boys held the lead, and the final whistle found Belmond with the long end of the score 21 to 18.

Although the playing of the Belmond boys was ragged at times and several easy shots were missed, they showed good early season form. The passing and floor work was especially good. Considering the fact that three of the five who started the game were inexperienced, Coach Hill has succeeded in rounding out a good combination. Henry Johnson was all over the floor and handled the ball in good shape. He led the field in scoring with five field goals and one free throw. Leonard Johnson at the other forward played a good game, dropping in two field goals. Klemme and Peterson at guards and Galloway at center, playing their first game showed up especially well. Galloway succeeded in getting a good share of the tip-offs at center, besides getting one field goal. Peterson dropped in two field goals.

The next game for the Belmond team will be at Mason City, Dec. 30. The next home game will be with Kanawha here, Jan. 13. For Klemme Stokesbury and Lemke played best. Robert Fetrow and Adam Ziegler were also in the game for Belmond a few minutes.

HILL-LEWIS

A very pretty wedding took place Thursday at high noon at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Osmund J. Lewis in Lake township when Miss Annie Hill of Belmond, was united in marriage with their only son, Edward. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Bernard Guldseth of Belmond in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends. The bride wore a lovely gown of apricot georgette, trimmed with velvet and carried a shower bouquet of roses. Miss Tabina Lewis acted as bridesmaid and Henry Hill as best man.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Russell Breckenridge played Lohengrin's wedding march and Mrs. Guldseth sang, "O, Promise Me." Following congratulations a three course wedding dinner was served to the fifty-five guests assembled. A color scheme of apricot and white was carried out in the room decorations, while poinsettias ornamented the dinner table.

The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. Christena Hill of Belmond, where she is well and favorably known. She has been her mother's mainstay in the home. The groom is a progressive young farmer, well liked by his circle of friends. After a wedding trip to Cambridge and Des Moines, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will return to the Lewis farm where they will reside in the future. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Lewis will move to Belmond about the first of the new year.

Relatives from a distance in attendance at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Milford Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Marian Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Breckenridge, Misses Carrie Lewis, Annie and Edith Hill and Ole Storvek of Cambridge, Ole Shefveland of Lakefield, Minn.

V. F. Mikesell returned last Wednesday from Texas, where he has been the past month or so placing agencies for the Premier Auto Awning. He reports good success in establishing southern agencies for handling this Belmond-made product.

LIST YOUR DATE

Farmers who expect to hold sales this winter are invited to list their date with the Independent. There is no charge for this, and it reserves the date so another farmer planning a sale will not choose the same day. Whether or not you get your advertising here, we will be glad to list your date.

LAST CHANCE FOR "BONUS"

There may be some ex-service men or other eligibles in this community who have not filed for their national adjusted compensation. If this is true and those who have not filed wish to receive the compensation, they should file immediately, for the opportunity will vanish forever December 31, 1927.

The Iowa Legionnaire says, in part:

"National Legion headquarters reports that about 50,000 eligible veterans had not put in for the government compensation up to the first of the month. Besides veterans other eligibles include widows, children of their guardians and mothers of deceased veterans who depended upon them, for support at the time of their death or have become dependent on outside support.

"If you haven't received the national adjusted compensation, remember that if you die your beneficiary will receive only the original amount of the certificate—$1 a day for home service with $500 as the maximum and $1.25 a day for overseas service up to $625, and that payments would be spread in small investments over a long period, whereas if you have the certificate the beneficiary would receive about two and a half times the original amount in one lump.

"Write direct to State Adjutant R. J. Laird, Iowa Department, American Legion, Des Moines, Iowa, or have your local post adjutant take up your claim for you."

Howard R. Wolle And Ruth Bond Married Tuesday

Will Leave December 31 To Take Up Residence In Bombay, India

Miss Ruth Bond, of New Salem, North Dakota, and Howard R. Wolle, of Belmond, were united in marriage Tuesday, Dec. 20, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. T. Rule of New Salem. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Thornell, pastor of the Sims Lutheran church, Sims, N. D., at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, in the presence of some 25 guests and relatives. Christmas decorations were used throughout the Rule home.

The bride was dressed in pale pink crepe, with gold brocade slippers and hose to match, and wore a corsage bouquet of roses and sweet peas.

A three-course wedding dinner was served at the Metropolitan hotel immediately after the ceremony, the decorations at the hotel being carried out in the Christmas spirit, with place cards and nut cups in holly design.

Mrs. Wolle is well known to many Belmond citizens, having lived here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bond, from 1906 to 1914. In 1914 the family moved to Dakota. She attended the Belmond high school two years. For three years she taught school in Dakota, and the past six years has been linotype operator on the New Salem Journal.

Mr. Wolle is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wolle, of Belmond, and well known to Belmond people. He graduated from Belmond high school in 1916. After finishing high school, he was employed with Adams Pharmacy one year, and in 1917 entered the employment of the Belmond Telephone Co., where he remained two years. He then entered the Student Training for telephone engineering, conducted by the Automatic Electric, Inc., of Chicago. After completing that course he was sent to Dallas, Texas, where he installed automatic equipment.

Later he was employed by the Dyer Construction Co., of Cleve-

(Continued on page 8)

Our Christmas Wish to You

Copyright, W. N. U.

Business Men Put Up Decorations Along Main Street

Fifty-Eight Firms Finance Holiday Trimming Of Business Section

Fifty-eight of the business firms of Belmond financed the holiday trimmings which were erected along the business section of Main street, Monday of this week. The decorations, which give the business section of town a Christmas effect, consist of red and green wrappings on 26 electrolier, the tops of the electroliers being covered with evergreen and pine branches and each electrolier carrying a red and green light besides the, three white globes. At the west end, a rainbow arch of colored lights was placed on the river bridge, while at the east end, at the library corner, a string of colored lights, carrying 'The Star In The East" was placed across the street.

Lewis Hauge donated the pine branches used in decorating, and Harley Miller the labor of installing the 90 colored lights.

The firms contributing to the financing of the decorations were as follows:

Standard Oil Service Station, C. J. Johnson Garage, Bump Grocery, Red Light Cafe, Belmond Storage Battery Co., H. Jacobson & Son, J. Zook Produce Station, Electric Store, Robinson Bakery & Grocery, Smith & Skovlin, Cleveland Store.

Belmond Auto Co., State Bank of Belmond, Belmond Candy Kitchen, Foster Cafe, Schultz Drug Co., Nordschow Motor Co., Hat Shoppe, Yellow Front Cafe, Petersen Market, Belmond Furniture Co., B. K. Kinseth's, W. W. Goetz, Wright County Furniture Co., Belmond Lumber Company, Klemme Lumber Co.

Greenlander Lumber Co., Hub Motor Co., Adams Pharmacy, City Market Sinclair Service Station, Mallory Jewelry Store, C. G. Johnson's, C. C. McGuire, Bohning & Co., E. M. Lathrop, Goelz Barber Shop, Cato C. Griesy, Schultz Jewelry Store, Foss Cleaning Shop, F. P. Dibble Dray & Transfer, Jones Harness Co.

Anderson Hatchery, W. H. Wolle, The Independent, Community Service Station, Farmers Grain Co., Belmond Variety Store, Belmond Savings Bank, Sheller Barber Shop, Atty. Henderson, Dr. Coe, Dr. H. L. Gowdy, Dr. G. F. McBurney, Dr. L. R. Parsons, Dr Nelson, Dr. Tate, Dr. G. H. Steele.

Dorothy Jean, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carpenter of Goodell, was operated on for appendicitis at the hospital here Saturday. She is getting along nicely.

NEWS OF THE BELMOND SCHOOLS

The Girls Home Ecomomics class has been rather busy this last week. On Tuesday evening they served the school board, their wives and the high school faculty. The idea of Christmas was carried out in the banquet and at the close, Christmas carols were sung. As is the custom one of the girls gave a report as to the expense of the meal which was thirty-six cents a plate. The guests were delighted with the delicious meal which was served.

On Wednesday evening, the girls served another lovely banquet to the School Masters. Again an enjoyable evening was participated in by the guests.

Last Monday we had an assembly at which we renewed the music memory work which is getting more interesting with every lesson.

The Senior party was held in the school building on Saturday December 17. The members of the high school faculty were guests. A chicken supper was served.

Soon after supper there was the presentation of gifts. Each person had brought a present amounting to ten cents. All who received any kind of musical instrument formed a band by which several pieces of unwritten music were played in an entertaining way.

Games were played and the evening was spent with much success.

Program:

Hallelujah Chorus

Musical Reading, "The First Christmas", Helen Luick

Pageant, "Christmas Everywhere"

Reading, "The Christmas Story" Everill Hauge

Grade Notes

The first grade under Miss Hazlett won the Parent Teachers penant this week.

Since Albert Cook is moving away soon, he will be missed from the second grade.

The fourth grade under Miss Bell's supervision is planning a Christmas tree and a grab bag for the latter part of this week.

Junior High Notes

Last week the eighth grade saved $2.25 and the seventh grade saved $4.86. In the eighth grade fourteen people had a perrect record of brushing their teeth and in the seventh grade there were nine. The following people have brushed their teeth twice a day since we organized the club: Amelia Greenlander, Leona Halfpop, Deloris Barry, Veda Curtis, Doris Parsons, Maxine Nordschow and Jean Elder. Deloris Barry had her teeth examined by the dentist.

In the eighth A Arithmetic class Ruth Courson got a ten in her Drill Book. That means she worked twenty problems in twenty-five minutes and got them all right.

The Literature classes are do-

(Continued on page 5)

Primary Road 15 Graveling From No. 10 Completed

Another Coat To Be Spread Next Spring; Completed Highway A Real One

Graveling of Primary No. 15 was comleted last Wednesday by Moe & Nelson, who were the successful bidders on the contract. The highway was given a coat of gravel from No. 10, eight miles south, to a point about two miles north of Belmond. This coat is not a full one, but was placed this fall to make the road passible next spring, inasmuch as the new grade had settled nicely and the gravel could pack without sinking out of sight. Another coat will be spread next spring, to finish the road.

Thru the straightening of Primary 15 through Belmond, and eliminating the turn up Main street four blocks, No. 15 is now a straight highway from No. 10 to a point three miles north of Garner, some 24 miles without a turn. From No. 10 south, the highway has been changed from the half mile jog east and then south thru Galt, to a mile west of the Solsberg corner on primary 10, so that traffic following No. 15 will henceforth go one mile west of the Solsberg corner, then south saving a few miles between Belmond and Des Moines.

The new grade on 15 south from No. 10 has not been graveled this fall, but will be given a full coat next spring. As it is now, with the gravel on 15, traffic has a graveled road all the way to Des Moines by taking the old route through Galt.

A splendid highway has been made from Belmond south to No. 10, and from 10 south, and by mid summer next year this primary stretch will be one of the finest roads in Iowa. No. 15, being the shortest route from Des Moines to the Twin Cities, will unquestionably carry a steadily increasing amount of traffic, particularly of tourists going north during the summer months.

The city has purchased an electric Stop and Go sign, to be installed at the intersection of Main street and Primary 15, at the Iowa river bridge. It is expected to have this sign here and installed within a short time. Traffic at this corner will be especially heavy beginning next spring, and some means of regulating it was necessary, as was evidenced by the collision of two vehicles there last week.

Under the new law, all primary roads are through highways, and traffic coming onto a primary highway from either side is required to slow down or stop, as the case may be. The state is now placing signs on all roads crossing primary highways which

(Continued on page 8)

H E L P !

It has always been the custom of the Community Club to do a considerable amount of charity work at Christmas, but this fall club funds are low and the club is asking for donations. More charity work than ever before is probable this year. If you wish to donate money, clothing, groceries, vegetables, canned goods and the like, please leave them with either Mrs. G. F. McBurney, Chairman, or with Mrs. R. A Rankins. Your help will be greatly appreciated.

JOHNSON-BREEDING

Miss Iola Jane Breeding, of Bloomfield, Iowa, and Harold Johnson, of Belmond, were married Saturday, Dec. 17, at Waukegan, Illinois, at the Immanuel Lutheran church of that place. The ceremony took place at 1:30 p. m., following which the couple went to Milwaukee where a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's sister. Sunday they arrived in Belmond to spend the holidays with Mr. Johnson's mother, Mrs. Selma Johnson, and other relatives.

The bride is the youngest daughter of L. E. Breeding, of Bloomfield. For the past two years she has resided in Milwaukee, where she has been studying dramatics under the management of the Boyle-McKinley Studio, graduating recently.

Mr. Johnson is the eldest son of Mrs. Selma Johnson of Belmond, and well known here. For the past year he has been attending college, and since finishing his studies has been in the real estate business.

Local persons in attendance at the wedding were Herbert Steenblock, Eddie Christie and Mark Nourse.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have not decided as yet where they will locate for the future.

Fellowship Club Postponed Until Thursday, Dec. 29

Severe Weather Last Week Kept Many Men From Attending Meeting

Owing to the extreme cold and blizzardy weather of last Thursday evening, the meeting of the Good Fellowship Club, scheduled for that evening was postponed until the evening of Thursday, Dec. 29. On that date, all men of the community, farmers as well as townsmen, who are interested in having the Good Fellowship club continue are requested to be at the library at 8 p. m. for the purpose of reorganizing the club and arranging a schedule of winter meetings.

Sentiment among the men of the community seems to be favorable toward continuing with the club, and if those interested will attend the meeting Dec. 29 it is probable that a reorganization can be effected and the regular meetings continued. No program or speaker is planned for the Dec. 29 meeting, the meeting being given over entirely to organizing and arranging the meetings.

FAREWELL PARTY

Friends and neighbors to the number of forty, sponsored a farewell party at the Geo. Dippel home last Thursday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dippel who leave soon for California to make their future home. The evening was spent in dancing and games, refreshments being served at the close. A gift of remembrance was presented Mr. and Mrs. Dippel by those present.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Co-operative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of Dec. 11 to Dec. 17.

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
11	15	1	T	Clear
12	37	5	—	Cloudy
13	38	22	—	Pt. cloud
14	34	4	—	Cloudy
15	33	-1	.07	Cloudy
16	11	-5	—	Clear
17	8	-3	—	Cloudy

Vern Hay, Local Chicken Thief, Gets Two Years

Judge Reads Him Stern Lecture And Sends Him To Anamosa

Judge Thompson wrote the final chapter in the Vern Hay case on Wednesday last, when he sentenced him to serve two years in the reformatory at Anamosa. The defendant has a bad record and in commenting on the same the court remarked that his term at Eldora, some years ago, might be compared to passing through the "grades" at Anamosa he would be entering "high school" and his next sentence would entitle him to a diploma from Fort Madison. Hay is the chicken thief from Belmond, about whom much has already been said. In addition to the larceny charge, he tried to abduct his child a few months ago and later with his wife made false charges against a well known citizen of the Belmond vicinity. Hay fought to the last ditch, having hired four different lawyers, some of whom received a good sized slice of his $1000 cash bond. One of these fellows, an outside attorney, made a big bluff about a faulty indictment and was going to turn the court house upside down. County Attorney Blue and Sheriff Johnson called his bluff and he backed down, later advising his client to plead guilty, for all of which he soaked him two hundred bucks. Hay stated that he paid another attorney better than $400. The ways of the transgressor are hard.

Judge Thompson adjourned court Friday until December 29, when the remainder of the business of the November term will be disposed of.

Application of J. W. McGrath of Eagle Grove, attorney for L. A. Andrew, receiver of the Farmers' Savings Bank of Goldfield, was presented to Judge Thompson, who finds that said petitioner has performed services of said trust and is reasonably entitled to fees in the sum of $967.00. A similar petition was presented for services performed in behalf of the same receiver for the Citizens State bank of Eagle Grove, for which said attorney was allowed $1546.50.

L. A. Andrew, in his capacity as receiver for the Citizens State bank of Eagle Grove, has sold and transferred unto F. C. Hartshorn of Clarion the judgment entered of record against John H. Wright for the sum of $2493.13.

Wm. Orr of Clarion who plead guilty to a county attorney's information, charging him with the larceny of an overcoat, was sentenced to twenty days in the county jail.

State vs. Lulu Rader (Durham) of Clarion has been continued by agreement because of illness of defendant, who returned a few days since from a Fort Dodge hospital.

C. A. Warren of Otho was given thirty days in county jail Tuesday by Justice Triggs on an intoxication charge. Marshal Jacobi had placed the defendant under arrest only a few hours before.

The total receipts of the recent annual tax sale was $10,436.77.

Ruth Orr of Clarion asks a divorce from Wm. Orr charging inhuman treatment. The couple were married August 29, 1927. Defendant is at present confined in the county jail on a larceny charge.

Joe Sampson of Belmond will be paid $50 reward by the Wright County Farm Bureau as a result of the conviction of Vern Hay on a chicken thief charge. E. A, Patton and Chas. Richards are two other members of this association to be rewarded for a like conviction.

An unusual case is that of H. C. Hansen vs. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bjornson of Clarion. Plaintiff held a ast due note in the sum of $190.34, executed by defendants in satisfaction of a grocery bill, which he placed with Justice Triggs for collection. When the defendants were notified they presented a counterclaim in the sum of $221.74, duly sworn to and in regular form. This claim was allowed by the justice and judgment rendered against plaintiff for the full amount, including costs of action $3.85. At the same time

(Continued on page 4)

Belmond Independent

AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES

Display, per column inch -----25c
Locals, per line ----------10c
Classified, per word ---------02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

EDITORIALS

"Christmas is a time for giving and Forgiving for getting and Forgetting." That is one of the finest delineations of what Christmas means that has ever been written. For giving—Forgiving! That it is more blessed to give than to receive, we all know. There is a satisfaction in doing a service to another that nothing else brings us; there is a feeling of comfort, a warm glow around the heart, an ease in the mind, a happiness of spirit after we have done something, no matter how little, to help another. We take a pride in it; we are glad. A friendlier feeling exists between us, there is an added sparkle in our eyes. Life is better, the world is rosier, the sun shines brighter because we have served. For in the final analysis our happiness in life is measured by the service we render — service to our fellow men, to our communities. There is only one way to realize true happiness, and that is by following the ways of the Man of Galilee, in serving others. And in the measure that we serve, our reward will be.

For getting—and Forgetting! It is pleasant to be remembered by a friend, to know that you are in his thoughts and heart. We all want friends: they are the best things life has to give us. A good and true friend is beyond price, not to be bought by money or gifts, but by character and service. To be friendly, to make and to keep friends, is a quality to be cherished and prized most highly. Friends are made only by ourselves. To make them, and keep them, we must make ourselves worthy of them. Forgetting is one of the great essentials to friendship. The ability to overlook inconsequential faults, to pass over undesirable qualities that are inherent in everyone, to Forget, must be ours before we can make friends. To be remembered by friends at this Christmas holiday season is sweet; it is a token of the love we all crave, and which we all must have.

For giving—and Forgiving; For getting—and Forgetting! Certainly that is true of the Christ and His life; and as we emulate Him and His ways, as we follow His teachings, doing unto others as we would have them do unto us, serving, Forgiving and Forgetting, we will increase the measure of happiness which life has to give us.

The discerning reader who does not always take things at their face value, but gets the message between the lines of events as chronicled in the daily press, can catch an outline of what goes on behind the scenes at Washington. An example of this is evident in the Lindbergh non-stop flight from the American capital to the Mexican capital, and at the same time the "expose" of "secret" documents from Mexico which tend to show over one million dollars was to be used by that country in bribing American senators.

The alleged documents were first shown to the state department, and by this department branded as false, as forgeries. William Randolph Hearst, however, realising their sensational value in yellow journalism—which most Hearst controlled papers specialize in—started publishing them.

Very naturally the publication of these papers of state, of such a sensational nature, would inflame the average citizen against the neighboring country. Does any one who stops a moment to think it over, doubt but what, had these alleged documents been genuine, the American government would have seen to it that they were suppressed? Hearst insisting on publishing them despite their falsity, or refusing to believe them forgeries, the state department cast about for a means of offsetting the resultant publicity.

And "Lindy" the hero and the idol of every American and of the whole world, flies to Mexico City to visit the president, carrying the greetings of a friendly neighbor. Hearst is crowded off the first page.

Lindbergh's flight wasn't just an accident. Either divine guidance of fate willed it just at this time, or some very wise hand behind the scenes at Washington worked it out. Perhaps both. Anyway, as a result, Hearst's "secrets of State" have flashed in the pan, hardly anyone gives them credance; while "Lindy" brings all Mexico to its feet cheering, lunches with President Calles, reviews a gigantic parade of workmen, honors a tremendous gathering of Mexican school children, attends a bull fight and builds in three days more friendly spirit, more neighborliness, and more co-operation and good will than William Randolph Hearst ever built or ever could build. While quietly keeping tab on things is Embassador Morrow, one of the shrewdest men a diplomatic corp ever saw.

FREE AIR!

Ward Barnes of the Eagle Grove "Eagle" becomes sarcastic over our tongue-twisting, hard-spelling names as set forth recently, and replies thereto as follows:

* * * *

Eagle Grove Eagle: Roy Rankins, editor of the Belmond Independent, challenges our statement that this paper's operators, C. W. Barnes and George F. Sterba, have a very hard time spelling the names of our subscribers. He says the Independent's operator should have the sympathy.

Editor Rankins is right. We have nothing to match up with his list of names and we are surely glad we do not have to pronounce them. However, we do have our troubles. In looking over our Woolstock list we find about ten Claude families, several Mourlams, Bernards, Schumachers, Schutts, Caquelins, Hilpipres and Pinkeles, and then we have Louxs, Klaases and Grandgeorges and many names hard to spell such as Algoe, Bige, Cellings, Frohling, Groshens, Nottingham, Scheppler, Tilton, Wier, Whistler.

At Thor we have Quamme, Ullensvang, Maage, Bjornson, Solheim, Tokheim, Nesheim, Opheim, Sandvig, Sandven, Wergeland, Kjorlang, Baltz Wohlwend and Torger Klette.

Vincent furnishes its quota: Krug, Lilleskau, Bechel, Dencklau, Soppeland, Swasand, Kluckholm and Dangelowski.

And at Renwick: Granner, Klassi, Egenes, Bleise, Mimson, and so on, ad infinitum.

At home more we have are: Dramolis, Ljostviet, Schumacker, Schmucker, Shoemaker, Shumacker, Marcinka, Schillinger, Shillington, Angnos, Engh, and Enge, Perdicaris, Rompf and Stumph, Paul Brownopolus, and last but not least, Sam Tonsilitis Middleton.

* * * *

Granting all Ward says, he still falls about 48 miles behind Dziewanowski. We claim the championship on that. And according to Sunday's Register, Dziewanowski's father is a son of a Polish nobleman. Got any nobility in Eagle Grove, Ward?

* * * *

Probably he'll say they're all noblemen over there.

* * * *

We've got some here in Belmond. Besides Dziewanowski, there's Count Urchange, Duke Smixture, Lord Helpus, Prince Albert, Queen High and King Full. There are several would-be Czars, also.

* * * *

Teacher asked her class if they could compose a rhyme using the word "Nellie." Johnny Jones, being called upon, arose much embarrassed.

"There was a pretty little girl named Nellie,
Who fell in the water and wet
her feet."

"Why, Johnnie, that doesn't rhyme."

"I know it doesn't. The water wasn't deep enough."

* * * *

WONDER—WAS IT HENDERSON?

There was a little lawyer man,
Who gently smiled as he began
Her dear dead husband's will to scan.
And thinking of the coming fee
He said to her quite tenderly,
You have a nice fat "legacy."
Next morning as he lay in bed,
With plasters on his broken head,
He wondered what it was he said.

* * * *

It's old, it's new, it's trite, it's true—

Merry Christmas!

-:- Belmond Church Notes -:-

METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. J. T. Snyder, Pastor

Sunday School at 10 A. M.

Divine worship and sermon at 11 A. M. Subject of sermon, "God's Gift to the World."

There will be no evening service.

Epworth League will not meet at 6:30.

The Christmas program in this church on Friday evening at 7:30. A great deal of effort has been put forth by the program committee to make this one of the best Christmas entertainments thus far enjoyed. Your presence is appreciated.

You are cordially invited to all of our services.

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Friday, December 23. Trinity Sunday School will hold their Christmas festival, beginning at 7:30 sharp. All Sunday school pupils should be at the church by 7 o'clock.

Sunday, December 25. The Sunday School and Bible classes will meet at 10 a. m.

The Luther League will meet at 6:45 p. m. The topic will be, "What Does Christmas Mean to the World." John 3:16, Luke 2:8-11. The English adult Bible class will have charge of this meeting.

Christmas services will be held at 7:30.

There will be no catechetical instruction this week.

Prayer meeting will be held Thursday evening as usual at 7:30.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Sunday, December 25. Christmas services will be held in the English language at 11 A. M.

Monday, December 26. The Sunday School Christmas festival will begin at 7:30 sharp. Let all the pupils and teachers be present at 7 o'clock if possible.

Wednesday, December 28. The prayer meeting will be held at 7:30 P. M.

Thursday, December 29. The North Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. John Eliason at 2 P. M.

The catechetical class will also meet at the John Eliason home, at 2 P. M.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

Next Sunday morning, Dec. 25, we shall have our Sunday School and morning worship at the usual hours. It so happens that this Sunday and the day when we celebrate the birth of the Master are one and the same and so it will be especially fitting for us to meet in the expression of religious life.

This Friday evening, December 23d, we have our Christmas program, the hour set being eight o'clock. Remember that, bring an offering in accordance with the number of years which we have been privileged to live and enjoy life's blessings. We trust that this feature of the evening's program will be a pleasing one.

The annual meeting of the church is to be on Thursday, Dec. 29th. On the same day, there will will be the final meeting of the missionary society for this year. Notice is to be given as to the hour which will be used for the business meeting of the missionary society.

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN CHURCH
Arthur G. Langholz, Pastor

Christmas Eve

Saturday evening, Dec. 24th at 7:30 the Sunday School presents the program, "When Jesus Was Born." The aim of this program is a service not for mere entertainment but a service in which the elements of worship and edification predominate. The offering on this evening is for our synod's educational and benevolent institutions. We extend a cordial invitation to you to attend this program on Saturday evening.

Christmas Day

Sunday School at 9:45 A. M. Christmas lesson, "The Shepherds Go to Bethlehem." The Christmas story is the sweetest ever told. Come and worship with us.

Church service at 10:45 A. M. A special communion address will be delivered followed by the Christmas service. Sermon theme: "The Birth of the Christ Child." The Christmas service will reach its climax in the celebration of the Lord's Supper. Announcements will be received by the pastor. The Christmas service is in the English language.

We extend to all blessed Christmas wishes. May the message of Jesus mean more and more to you as you continue your journey through life.

ON WITH THE DANCE

Algona Republican: Governor Hammill has at last come out in favor of the one hundred million dollar state bond issue for paving the roads of Iowa, and mortgaging the future of our children for the next sixty years. It will be fine for us, but h—l on the children. Hammill can usually be depended upon to do the wrong thing at the right time. State Senator M. L. Bowman, who is also a candidate for governor, may not be the man for the position but he certainly said something when he gave the following statement in regard to an extra session to order an election on the bond issue to the Des Moines Register:

"It would be much more in the interests of our people if the governor called a special session of the legislature for the purpose of passing a bank guaranty law that the widows, orphans, school children, farmers, laborers, and industry and business be provided with banks that are positively safe places to deposit and save their money, than to call a special session of the legislature simply for the purpose of mortgaging the state for $100,000,000 to spend."

THAT MUST BE IT

Eagle Grove Eagle:—A man by the name of Henry B. Langworthy of Dubuque announces his candidacy for the nomination for member of congress for the third congressional district of this state. The present representative is T. J. B. Robinson of Hampton. There is no apparent reason why Mr. Langworthy should displace Mr. Robinson—and he does not offer any. We are left to the presumption that it is simply because he wishes to. But is that a sufficient reason for the voters to make such an exchange.

READ THE WANT ADS

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

A meeting was called in the city hall to organize a Home Guard. The following officers were elected: J. W. Pierce, 1st Sergeant; W. A. Schooler, Com. Clerk; C. J. Jones, Q. M.; T. L. Finn, Mess Sergeant; L. L. Pond and H. F. Rininsland, Cooks; M. C. Barry, J. H. Nourse and C. H. Jennings, Sergeants; J. P. Jones, A. A. Beck, J. E. Pfaltzgraff and C. D. Snyder, Corporals; F. H. Fulton and Merle Hildebrand, Buglers; E. E. Sullivan, Gunsmith and Cobbler.

Mrs. Mame Thake announces that hereafter she will observe "wheatless" days each Wednesday and will not bake doughnuts on that day of the week at the Model Cash Grocery.

Mrs. Joe Pletch and Miss Lettie returned last Thursday from Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rule will leave this week to visit relatives in Dakota.

Little Arthur Christie was 12 years old one day last week and about a dozen youngsters his age and size made merry at his home in honor of the event.

Rev. Sauerman of the Congregational church has taken a step in the right direction, in the interests of fuel conservation, the evening services in that church will be held in the basement rooms during the balance of the winter.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

We are informed that Sam Lieuwen who has been ill the past week with typhoid fever is in a very critical condition.

Between 9 and 10 o'clock Thursday night the creamery west of the river was discovered on fire. The alarm was immediately sounded and the fire department took their apparatus as far as the last hydrant on Main street at the Kern hotel corner but had not sufficient hose to reach, hence the fire got beyond control and the creamery, ice house and machinery became a mass of ruins.

Besides being a tinsmith, J. H. Brown, at Griesy's store, is also a

(Continued on page 6)

TO THE FRIENDS OF THIS STORE

WE present this brief letter in the Christmas spirit of thanks. We are closing the year and desire to acknowledge to the trade our thanks for the courtesies extended. The year as a whole has been satisfactory and to you who have helped make it so we extend our appreciation.

We have tried hard to make every sale and every prospective purchaser a pleased customer. If we have failed it is because of lack of ability and not because we did not desire it to be 100 per cent satisfactory.

To the homes we have been called to professionally we have given our very best services and this is the policy on which we will maintain our standards.

Inasmuch as it is impossible to tell each and every one of you these few brief facts we make public this statement with the Season's Greetings we beg to remain

Yours very truly

BELMOND FURNITURE COMPANY

R. H. Klemme
O. H. Gartin
F. D. Fulton
C. Lewis

It will be a merry one in your home if you select your gifts from our store. A wide choice of practical, sensible presents at equally sensible prices.

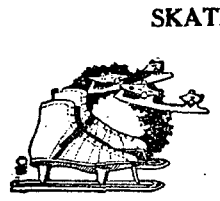
PYREX WARE

Pyrex Ware makes a suitable gift for the wife and mother. A practical, sensible gift that can be used the year round. All kinds and very reasonable prices.

ALUMINUM WARE

Every housewife appreciates Aluminum Ware, and none ever received too much. We have it in all utensils. A very acceptable gift for the housewife.

SKATES



Of all sports skating is the most universal. Skates for both boys and girls—and grown-ups, too, at 75c to $8.50

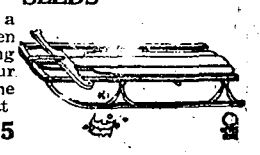
SLEDS



You wanted a good sled when you were young—so does your boy now. Some dandy ones at $1.30 - $3.15

COASTER WAGONS

A Coaster wagon and a boy just go together. We have the Coaster Wagons made for hard use, at $3.50 - $8.50

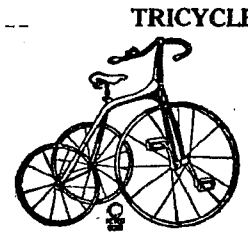
TRICYCLES



A joy to every boy's heart is a Tricycle. Strong, well made, and will stand hard usage by the boy.

$4.50- $10.50

KIDDIE CARS
TOOL CHESTS
FLASHLIGHTS
SILVERWARE
WATCHES
AIR RIFLES
GUNS
RAZORS
ROASTERS
ELECTRICA APPLIANCES
POCKET KNIVES
CARVING SETS

A RIVERSIDE ENAMEL RANGE IS A GIFT MOTHER WILL APPRECIATE ALWAYS.

BRING YOUR MAIL ORDER CATALOGUE WITH YOU

GRIESY'S

The Friendly Place

PHONE 10
BELMOND, IOWA

WE WILL MEET THEIR PRICES ON ANY ITEM, QUALITY FOR QUALITY

Bump Grocery Specials

Friday and Saturday, Dec. 23-24

HOLLY BRAND MARGARINE ------- 25c
ONIONS, Per Lb. ---------- 3c
BIG VALUE COFFEE, WITH PREMIUM 50c
BROOMS ---------- 49c
PEACHES, PEARS, Per Can, Each ------ 23c
MUSTARD, LARGE GLASS ---------- 20c

Bring us your eggs. We pay highest price cash or trade.

The Bump Grocery

Phone 38 Belmond, Iowa

AGRICULTURAL NEWS NOTES

EARLY PIGS MAKE MOST MONEY

Iowa farmers who had early farrowed spring pigs and gave them good feed and care so that they were able to market their porkers in early fall are several dollars profit ahead of those who had late pigs, or those who did not sell their pigs in the early fall.

This fact was disclosed in the reports of the farmers who entered in the Iowa pig crop contest of the past summer. These reports show that those who sold in late September or in the first half of October got from $2 to $3 a hundred more for their hogs than did those who marketed in late November or who have pigs ready for market now.

Dave Fausch of Slater, who was sixth in the state in production of pork per sow, sold his pigs in late September for $11.60 a hundred. His pigs were farrowed March 14 (average date) and weighed 194 pounds a head when sold.

In contrast with Mr. Fausch's good price, one farmer who sold his pigs Dec. 1 got only $8.40 a hundred, or more than $3 a hundred less than Mr. Fausch obtained. The farmer who got $8.40 a hundred had an average farrowing date of April 19, or his pigs came more than a month later than the Fausch pigs.

One of the highest prices recorded was obtained by Frank Swatosh of Montezuma, who sold his pigs Oct. 10 for $11.90 a hundred. His pigs, farrowed April 8, were weighing 206 pounds each when marketed. Mr. Swatosh was fifth place winner in the state contest.

Hog prices this fall have acted much in the same way as they do in the average fall, according to agricultural economists at Iowa State College. They point out that hog prices usually start going down around Oct. 20. The break came at just about that time this year, tho the price has gone lower this year in proportion to the earlier fall price than is usually the case.

The weekly averages of hog prices per hundredweight this fall in Chicago, have been as follows, according to the Iowa State economists: Sept. 3, $9.03; Sept. 10, $10.04; Sept. 17, $10.68; Sept. 24, $10.46; Oct. 1, $10.22; Oct. 8, $10.81; Oct. 15, $11.10; Oct. 22, $10.79; Oct. 29, $9.54; Nov. 5, $9.33; Nov. 12, $9.10; Nov. 19, $8.96; Nov. 26, $8.54; Dec. 3, $8.92; and Dec. 10, $8.43.

"It pays in practically any year to have the pigs come fairly early and to push them along with plenty of feed so that they are ready to go to market in the early fall," says E. L. Quaife, extension livestock specialist at Iowa State College.

GET MORE EGGS— LESS PROFIT

Even tho the hens in Iowa poultry record flocks laid 5 more eggs each in 1927 than they did in 1926, their profits were slightly lower, or $3.55 each, in 1927 as compared with $3.94 the previous year. The 235 record flocks in the year ending Nov. 1, 1927, had an average profit over feed cost of $638, as compared with $653 for each of the 318 flocks reporting the previous year.

These facts are shown in the annual report of Iowa record flocks issued last week at Iowa State College, Ames. Other facts brought out by the report are that the 42,281 hens in the 235 flocks laid 5,457,567 eggs, or 129 per hen, last year. The year before the 52,792 hens averaged 124 eggs each, while in 1925, the average per hen was only 117 eggs, indicating either that better hens are being kept or that the flock owners are giving better feed and care each year.

The first seven places in the state last year for average egg yield per hen were taken by White Leghorns. The ranking of these first seven were as follows: First, Guy Brady, Sac City, 205.6 eggs, per hen; second, Mrs. Herbert Hagg, Essex, 202.6 eggs per hen; third, B. E. Craven, Kellogg, 198.8 eggs per hen; fourth, E. J. Krebill, Donnellson, 194.9 eggs per hen; fifth, Mesdames Price and Brechtbill, Algona, 194.3 eggs per hen; sixth, Mrs. Fred H. Urbatsch, Plymouth, 184.2 eggs per hen; seventh, Jesse D. Sickler, Ogden, 183.2 eggs per hen.

Buckdale Farms, Melcher, was owner of the eighth flock in the state in egg yield. The 492 White Rock layers owned by this firm averaged 182.5 eggs each for the year.

BORER 200 MILES FROM IOWA

After checking up on the spread of the European corn borer during the past season, the pest is now found to be within about 200 miles of Iowa, according to Carl J. Drake of Iowa State College, who is state entomologist.

The nearest infestation to Iowa at present is in Berrien County, Michigan, the extreme southwest county of that state. While the borer spread its territory from 0 to 15 to as much as 60 miles during 1927, the increase in infestation was only about a sixth of that in 1926, due to the intensive clean-up campaign of the state and federal governments, Dr. Drake reports.

The heaviest infestation in the United States located during 1927 was in St. Claire County, Michigan, where an average of 113 borers were found per 100 stalks of corn. However, commercial damage does not result until there are about 500 borers per 100 stalks. The infestation is more serious across the Canadian line from St. Claire County, according to Mr. Drake.

Nearly 2,000,000 imported parasites of 12 species have been liberated during the past few years in the infested areas of the United States and during the past year evidence was discovered which showed that 6 of the species were becoming established and are working on the caterpillars of the corn borer. Several years must elapse before it can be ascertained how effective the parasites are going to be in controlling the corn borer.

That corn borers may be prevented from making serious commercial losses thru clean cultural methods, which destroy corn stalks and seridue of the previous year before the borers emerge in the spring, has been proved in regions where the corn borer is working.

Detailed information of the fight being made against the ravages of the pest may be obtained thru application to the Bulletin Editor, Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa. Circulars 100 and 103, entitled, respectively, "The European Corn Borer," and "Some Caterpillars Frequently Mistaken for the European Corn Borer," are recommended by Dr. Drake for general information concening the borer.

IT'S SUPERPHOSPHATE" NOW

From now on the fertilizer known as "acid phosphate" is to be called "superphosphate," according to an announcement of the National Fertilizer Association, Washington, D. C.

The name of the fertilizer has been changed because mistaken notions have occurred due to the word "acid." That is, many farmers have been unable to understand why they should apply a material containing "acid," and at the same time apply lime to their land to correct acid in it, according to soils specialists at Iowa State College.

"Acid phosphate" does not contain any acid and will not make a soil acid. The term came from the fact that acid was used in the manufacture of the fertilizer.

CORN TESTS BOOST YIELD

Wm. P. Gannon of Valeria, large Jasper County farmer, figures that corn yield contests conducted in his county by the county Farm Bureau have boosted the yield of his corn 5 to 10 bushels an acre. He has 400 acres of corn this year, all of the King variety, or strains developed from King corn. The local tests, part of which were conducted on Mr. Gannon's farm, showed that Krug corn was the best yielder tried.

A small bowl of lime placed in the preserve closet will keep the air dry and prevent the jellies from moulding.

Iowa Leads As Judges of Meat

The above team from Iowa State College at Ames won highest honors in the Intercollegiate Meat Judging Contest at the recent International Live Stock Exposition in Chicago competing against eleven other universities. Left to right in the picture are Glenn G. Briggs of Lamoni, Prof. M. D. Helser, Coach; H. W. Mathews of Danville, Fred B. Willrett of Malta, D. W. Johnson, Alternate, of Perry.

EXECUTORS' NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That the undersigned have this day been appointed and commissioned by the District Court of Wright County, in the State of Iowa, Executors of the Estate of Christian B. Johnson, deceased; and all persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to file them with the Clerk of said Court, clearly stated and duly sworn to, and within legal time, preparatory to their being allowed or proved; and persons owing said Estate are requested to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and avoid costs.

Dated at Belmond, Iowa, this 14th day of December A. D. 1927.

C. G. Johnson
Amanda Johnson
Executors.

Roy A. Henderson, Attorney 6

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That the undersigned has this day been appointed and commissioned by the District Court of Wright County, in the State of Iowa, Administrator of the Estate of Veronica McNamara deceased; and all persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to file them with the Clerk of said Court, clearly and duly sworn to, and within legal time, preparatory to their being allowed or proved; and persons owing said Estate are requested to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and avoid costs.

Dated at Belmond, Iowa, this 5th day of December A. D. 1927.

M. C. Coughlon, Mason City,
Pat C. Barry, Administrator.

M. C. Coughlon, Mason City, Iowa Attorney.

Renwick Times: Cylde Garnier pulled the prize boner last Friday when he drove over to Braugate to the basketball game. The Bradgate school stands on top of a hill and cars are parked above quite a bluff. Clyde parked his Essex along with the rest but failed to put on the brake and sometime during the game along came a gust of wind and the car went down the grade. When Clyde got ready to come home he found the car at the foot of the bluff where it had bumped into a rock and been pretty badly smashed up. Clyde had to come home with some friends and go back the next day and tow the wreck home. We would suggest that hereafter he carry a ship's anchor with him and throw it out when he leaves his car on a hillside.

News-Tribune: At a meeting of the Britt Commercial Club last evening an expression as to where the new electric siren should be placed was taken and it seemed the almost unanimous opinion that it should be mounted on the roof of the Memorial building—a most centrally located spot in town. The new siren weighs 380 pounds, is operated by a motor and it is said "will wake the sleeping" when it is blown. This new addition to the public improvements is to replace the whistle at the Central States Electric Co. plant. We are informed by "His Honor" the mayor that there will be an electric button placed in the local telephone exchange and that the hours of 7 a. m., 12 M. and 6 p. m. will be sounded form there. There will also be a switch in the Main street box where the street lights are turned on.

Eagle: The Eagle Grove cheese factory has been in operation now about six weeks and the results have been better than Mr. Giese, the manager, expected. Two trucks are hauling in the milk and thus far the average has been about 2000 pounds daily. It will take twice this amount to make the factory a paying proposition. However, Mr. Giese is certain that it will receive more and more support from the farmers when the advantages of selling milk to the factory are realized. The milk checks are larger and less work is required in handling.

The capacity of the local factory is 20,000 pounds of milk a day. There is no difficulty in selling the cheese. The public generally compliments Mr. Giese on the quality of his product. He knows how to make cheese.

See Us Before You Sell Your

Ear Corn

Tyrrell Stock Farm
Phone 18

Poultry Wanted!

TURKEYS - GEESE - DUCKS - CHICKENS

We want a lot of it for Christmas and New Year's. If you can't haul it, phone us, 198, and we will call for it.

Highest Market Prices Paid for Grain, Poultry and Hides.

Farmers Grain Company
PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!
BELMOND, - - IOWA

This Car has been carefully checked and reconditioned where necessary

- Motor
- Radiator
- Rear Axle
- Transmission
- Starting
- Lighting
- Ignition
- Battery
- Tires
- Upholstery
- Top
- Fenders
- Finish

for Economical Transportation
CHEVROLET
USED CARS
with an OK that counts

Courteous Attention and Highest Dollar-For-Dollar Value

Patrons of our used car department get the same courteous attention and the same high dollar-for-dollar value as our new car customers.

Used car sales constitute a vital part of our business—consequently, our used car department is conducted on the same high business plane as our new car division.

Look for our red "O. K." tag when you buy a used car. It is your proof that the car has been thoroughly reconditioned by expert mechanics, using genuine parts for replacement—your guarantee of superior VALUE!

HUB MOTOR COMPANY
Phone 39 Belmond, Iowa
QUALITY AT LOW COST

Gifts That Last!

Give useful and practical gifts this Christmas! You'll find hundreds of sensible things to choose from at Schultz's at money-saving prices. Selections held for Christmas delivery.

THESE SUGGESTIONS MAY HELP YOU

Cabinet Smokers
Smoking Trays
Box Cigars
Cigarette Cases
Flash Lights
Playing Cards
Military Sets
Pearl Knives
Safety Razors
Shaving Sets
Accordion
Violin
Lunch Kits
Thermos Bottles
Stanly Unbreakable Vacuum Bottle
Candle Sticks
Desk Sets
Indian Baskets
Kodaks
Mottoes
Calendars
Fancy Box Candy
Serving Trays
Clocks
Indian Moccasins
Book Ends

Underwood Portable Type Writer Priced to sell $38.50

FOR CHILDREN

Air Rifles
Toys
Games
Dolls
Books
Watches

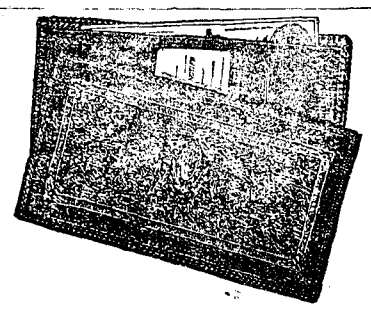
For descriptions see our catalog.

FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

Pfanstiehl Overtone Radio Receiver

There is none equal for fine quality, simple tuning, beanty of design and trouble-proof operation The gift most people want this year. Let us demonstrate.

Orthophonic Victrolas - Edisons - Records



MEEKER LEATHER GOODS AS GIFT IDEAS

Hand laced hand bags, bill-folds, wallets, cigarette and key cases, either separate or in attractively boxed sets. Best quality leather novelties from $1 to $16.00

DE VILBISS PERFUMIZERS

Most any price you have in mind will purchase an attractive De Vilbiss Perfumizer in your choice of tints and designs. Every one is distinctively fashioned and fully guaranteed. The final touch of refinement is conveyed by De Vilbiss. Prices range from 50c to $10.00

FOUNTAIN PENS

Wahl and Parker Fountain Pens and Pencils are most acceptable gifts.

Parker Duofold Fountain Pens $5.00 and $7.00.
Parker Pencils to Match Pens at $3.00 and $4.00.
Wahl Fountain Pens Priced at $3.00 and $3.50
Wahl Eversharp Pencils Priced at 50c to $3.00.
Up to date Pen Desk Sets at $5.00 to $12.00.

GLASSWARE including
Cherry Glass Water Sets
Sherbets, Goblets
Salad Plates
Tea Sets
Candle Sticks

POTTERY
Vases, Bowls, Animal Groups
And Other Pieces
So artistic is the designing of this pottery that here is choice for an individual gift.

After Dinner Coffee Sets

Casseroles $3.95 to $6.00

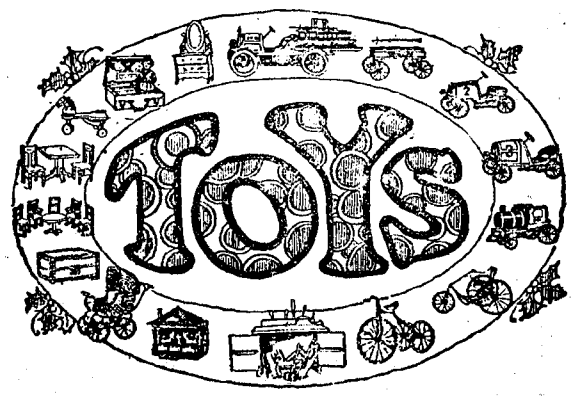
Pie Servers $5
Match the casseroles in their design

CHILDREN'S BOOKS
Books for children are always appreciated gifts. Here's titles for little tots and for larger boys and girls.
Volland Books 75c to $1.50
Stevenson's Child's Garden of Verses $1.00
Stevenson's Treasure Island $1.25
Bible Stories, beautifuly illustrated $1.00 - $2.00
Grimms and Andersons Fairy Tales 75c - $2.00
Many, many others 10c - $3.00
A large assortment of Christmas Cards 1c to 50c

GIFTS "SHE" WILL LIKE

Compacts, 50c to $5.00
Perfume Lamps, $6.00 to $10.00
Electric Lamps, $1.50 to $12.50
Manicure Sets, $2.00 to $15.00
Perfumizers, 50c to $4.00
Toilet Sets $1.50 to $30.00
Fancy Box Stationery
Perfume Sets $1.50 to $12.50

SURPRISES FROM TOYLAND



Toys, dolls, games, air rifles, dishes—we have such a large line of toys that we will not attempt to mention them. If you did not receive a copy of our toy catalog, ask for one.

Schultz Drug Company

The Splinters

"Every Splinter Has A Point"

Vol 2 Thursday, December 22, 1927 No. 36

Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

From December 20th to December 30th, the average child demonstrates what the human stomach can stand without a complete upset.

—

We have an idea that a ton of coal might be a very acceptable Christmas gift for somebody.

—

"Did you find your dime, little boy?"
"No, me kid brudder found it."
"And what are you looking for?"
"Me kid brudder."

—

Useful gifts? How about a nice coal shovel for mother?

We wish you all a Merry Christmas. That is an age-old wish, but we are repeating it again this season in all sincerity. We are glad that we have Christmas. It gives us a chance to forget the trials and troubles of business for a little while and think over our friends. We believe it will be an unusually happy Christmas here in the Belmond community—lots of family reunions and many social gatherings will take place during the next few days. It is the annual home-coming for those who are away, and that always means happiness. So, we hope this Christmas will be the happiest you have ever had, and that all the enjoyment you have been anticipating for the past few weeks will be fully realized. Again we say it. — A MERRY CHRISTMAS.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS

—

If you feel sorry that you didn't buy a more expensive gift for Uncle John because he bought an expensive one for you, then you haven't got the proper Christmas spirit. And you shouldn't have purchased anything for Uncle John. If we've got that figured wrong, correct us.

MESERVEY SECTION

We Are Headquarters For

GIFTS OF UTILITY

FOR FATHER

Razors
Knives
Shaving Brushes
Tools

FOR MOTHER

Pyrex Ware
Aluminum Ware
Silverware
Scissors
Casseroles

FOR BROTHER

Pocket Knives
Razors
Guns
Tools

FOR SISTER

Pyrex Ware
Silverware
Scissors, Etc.

FOR THE KIDDIES

Wagons, Kiddie Cars, Slides, Teetors, Toys Of All Kinds

The Store of Quality and Service

C. J. WENDELL

Phone 2502 Meservey, Iowa

SOLITE GASOLINE — A PERFECT — REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

What a Difference SOLITE Makes!

It's a special premium gasoline—costs a few cents more—but you'll be glad to pay the difference when you've tried it!

Fill up the tank with Solite and you'll hardly know your car. So obedient—so speedy—so smooth! And powerful, too. Solite drives the piston the full stroke under power. No other light gasoline like it!

At any Standard Oil Service Station and at most garages

Standard Oil Company
(Indiana)
BELMOND, IOWA

4759

EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Sabbath school 9:45 A. M.
Morning worship 10:45 A. M.
E. L. C. E. 7:00 P. M.
Evening worship 7:30 P. M.
German prayer meeting Wednesday.
English prayer meeting and Bible study Thursday at 7:45.
Christmas program Saturday evening at 7:00. Offering will be lifted for orphans. All invited.
During next week the annual elections will be held. Time will be announced later.

A. K. Henning, Pastor

REFORMED CHURCH

There will be no Sunday school next Sunday.
Morning worship at 10:30, (German).
Young peoples meeting at 7:30.
Evening services at 8:00.
Choir practice Thursday evening at 7:30.
Senior class in catechism meets Friday at 3:15 at the parsonage.
Christmas program Christmas Eve, Saturday evening at 7:00 o'clock.
The sale of the articles of both societies, the Ladies Aid and the Dorcas, amounted to $193.86. Many thanks for your cooperation.

H. Pannkuk, Pastor

Pre-Nuptial Shower

About sixteen of the friends of Miss Irene Guth met at her home last Friday evening and rendered her a miscellaneous shower in honor of her approaching marriage. A pleasant evening was enjoyed. Games and a general social time made the evening pass all too quickly. Refreshments were served before the guests departed for their homes.

Church Bazaar

Last Friday evening the Reformed Ladies Aid and Dorcas Societies held their semi-annual bazaar in the church basement. The proceeds amounted to almost $200.00 which will be appropriated to missions. During the evening cake and hot coffee were served and a pleasant evening spent, altho the weather was very wintry a good crowd was in attendance.

New low prices on Radio Tubes. UX-201 A or CX-201A $1.50 each; UX-171 or CX-171 $3.50.—H. F. Reif. 1c

The Meservey branch of the Red Cross holds its annual election, Dec. 28. All members are urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Thomas motored to Cedar Falls, Tuesday, their daughter, Evelyn, returning home with them.

Rev. and Mrs. H. Raecker returned Monday from their New York visit.

John Pals came Friday from Morningside College to spend the holiday vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hartfelder and Mrs. A. J. Nissen were transacting business in Mason City Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wessels were Belmond callers Saturday, having dental work done.

FRIEND C. BRAS

Tests Eyes Fits Glasses

Service Guaranteed

SOUTH OF COURT HOUSE
CLARION, - IOWA

FOR YOUR
AUCTIONEER
CALL
H. BRUMMOND
KANAWHA, IOWA
PHONE 118

Undertaking & Funeral Director

F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone—Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

Harry T. Smith

General Blacksmithing

Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding

Meservey, - Iowa

George Grosz returned last week from an extended stay at Minneapolis and vicinity.

Lewis B. and H. W. Hulsebus of Dows were visiting with relatives here, Tuesday evening.

The bazaar and supper put on by the Helping Hand Society of the Evangelical church last Wednesday was a decided success. The receipts amounted to some over $81.00 and will be placed in the treasury of the Helping Hand Society.

The Sunday Schools of both churches are preparing Christmas programs to be rendered on Christmas eve.

Karl Bohlen drove over from Alexander Friday night to direct the orchestra which met at the Sprau home for rehearsal.

Frank and Alexander Sprau returned the latter part of last week from Hayfield, Minn. They were a consignment of boys sent out by the Shipping Association to Austin, Minn.

Word was received here last week by O. Strasburg, giving an account of an automobile accident in which his son Ralph and family were injured somewhat, although no serious results followed.

You can buy a wrist watch for your friend, at Mallory's, Belmond.

Clarence Pals was a business caller in Mason City Friday.

C. J. Janssen and daughter Arloene and Harriet Sprau were Mason City callers Monday.

Mrs. E. A. Strasburg and daughter, Mae, were motor passengers to Mason City Tuesday.

Carl Oleson and family were Mason City shoppers Wednesday.

The Christmas cantata rendered at the Evangelical church last Sunday evening was well attended considering the cold weather. The young ladies did their parts well, the orchestra was also much appreciated as was the reading by Miss Versteeg. The offering amounted to about $12.00.

Miss Marcelle Waddingham was numbered among the sick several days and not able to attend school.

CHRISTMAS

"There was a man called St. Nicholas
Who had lived all these years to tickle us
With fine Christmas toys
For good girls and boys
And candy enough to sweetpickle us."

* * *

"Lo! Now is come our jolly'st feast!
Let every man be jolly
Each room with ivy leaves is dressed
And every post with holly."

* * *

"Now to the Lord sing praises,
And you within this place;
And with true love and brotherhood
Each other now embrace."

* * *

"With a hey! and a hi! and a hey-ho-ho-
The wind, the winter and the drifting snow!
With a hey! and a hi! and a ho-oh!
The Christmas holly and mistletoe"

* * *

"Childhood is waiting all wondered and breathless;
Youth is on tiptoes with dreams in its eyes;
Manhood is wistful with hope that is deathless
Age from its ingle smiles, tenderly wise."

* * *

"My love to all those that I love.
My love to all those that love me.
My love to all those that love that I love
And to those that love those that love me."

FRANKLIN COUNTY FARMER GETS DAMAGES FOR LAND

Hampton Chronicle: The case of B. F. Benson, of Osceola township, vs. the Franklin county board of supervisors resulted in a victory for Mr. Benson in the Wright county district court at Clarion last week. The board of supervisors had established a one mile connecting road across the south land of section No. six, in the northwest part of Osceola township, cutting thru a quarter mile of land owned by B. F. Benson and other members of the Benson family. A number of land owners abutting the proposed road did not claim any damages, the Janssenius estate was allowed and accepted $470 damages, John Haning was allowed and accepted $285, but the board of supervisors and Mr. Benson could not agree on the amount of damages to the Benson lands.

VERN HAY GETS TWO YEAR SENTENCE

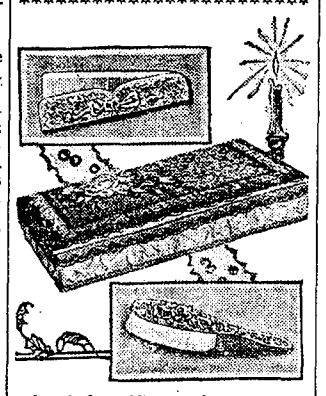
(Continued from page 1)

judgment was entered against the defendants for the amount of the note. Now comes plaintiff and petitions the district court to set aside the judgment on account, alleging as cause therefor that said proceedings were had without his knowledge and that he was not present at the trial; that said justice did not have jurisdiction in such an amount. Judge Thompson issued a temporary writ of injunction, which prevents defendants from carrying out the findings of the lower court.—Monitor.

Later an arbitration committee was appointed to appraise the damages and Mr. Benson was allowed the sum of $560 by this appraisal committee. This Mr. Benson refused to accept and he brought suit against Franklin county for the sum of $5,000. This case was taken on a change of venue to the Wright county court and was tried at Clarion last week, and the jury brought in a verdict in favor of Mr. Benson for $2,600.

With the damages paid to the other property owners, the courts costs, and the judgment in favor of Benson, will bring the total costs of this road up to $3,700, besides the cost of building the road, the grading on it being just about completed.

Ornate Dresser Things



Ideal for gift occasions are exquisite articles which show French inspiration in their elaborate finishings of gold lace and satin garlanded with flowers of superb silks and ribbons, all displaying a superior handcraft. Christmas will be a time for rejoicing for the debutante or bride who receives anything so beautiful as the dresser utility box shown in this picture, covered with taffeta silk veiled with all-over gold lace, garnitured with a cluster of handmade taffeta roses. The comb case and top of brush are made to match.

If you are losing sleep nights trying to "think up" the daintiest and loveliest of Christmas gifts for some winsome debutante or bride, here it is—flower-basket book ends. They are all that esthetic femininity might wish for. Conjured of gold lace, stretched over colorful satin-covered basket forms, they are as substantial and practical as if of heavy bronze. Those pretty posies which spill over the top are handmade of gay silk and satin and tinsel—very "Frenchy"!

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA

Office Over Robinson Grocery

Telephone 29

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

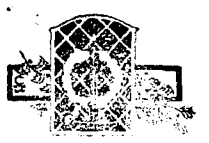
W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

Wishing You A Merry Christmas

H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Building
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

R. T. COE
Veterinarian
CALLS ANSWERED DAY OR NIGHT
Office over C. C. McGuire Store
Phone 23 Belmond, Iowa



We extend to our friends and customers our hearty good wishes for the Holiday Season, and may the New Year bring an abundance of Happiness and Prosperity

Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

A Merry Christmas!

It's the old, old greeting, but it comes from the heart. In extending it to you this holiday season, we mean every word of it, and our sincere wish is that you and yours may have a truly

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Farmers Savings Bank
Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

The Cream of the Tobacco Crop

You, too, will find that LUCKY STRIKES give the greatest pleasure—Mild and Mellow, the finest cigarettes you ever smoked. Made of the choicest tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"IT'S TOASTED"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

Florence Reed,
Favorite Stage Star,
writes:

"Night in and night out, for months, one's voice must be in perfect condition on the stage. To safeguard it, yet get the greatest enjoyment, Lucky Strikes are the favorites in the theatre world."

Florence Reed

Photo by White Studio, N.Y.

"It's toasted" No Throat Irritation No Cough.

Rowan Teams Are Winners

SCHOOL NOTES

Our basketball teams have both won half of their games so far this season. Both teams won two decisive victories last week in competition with Dows and Goodell. The girls scores show a very wide margin with 22 to 10, and 50 to 6 respectively. In fairness to Goodell, we should add that this was the first interscholastic game any of the girls on their team have ever played. While to differences in scores for the boys does not indicate decisive victories because of the fact that Coach Swanson gave his subs as much experience as possible, the games were quite easily won. The Dows score was 23 to 21 and 22 to 12 with Goodell. The first game on the home court after vacation will be with Alexander on Jan. 27th. We are wondering why our teams are not supported by larger crowds at our home games. With the exception of the Woolstock game our gate receipts have been so small that we have not made expenses. We pay practically every team that comes here $15.00 and the referee from $7.00 to $10.00. At the Goodell game, we took in $14.00. The teams and coaches are working hard to make a good showing for your school and they have been successful. Now you do your part and see if you don't enjoy yourself. With the bleachers, you can see the game and be comfortable. Our motto is "Play fair—play clean—be courteous."

Don't forget the grade Christmas program Friday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock sharp.

We will have only the one week vacation.

The grade rooms are getting all dressed up in their holiday clothes. The Primary room is the first to get their tree up and decorated.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Rev. L. A. Marquardt, Pastor
10:30 A. M. Sunday school.
11:30 A. M. Morning worship. Subject, "Where God and Man Meet."
6:30 P. M. Senior Christian Endeavor. Rev. Marquardt, leader.
7:30 P. M. Evening worship. Subject, "What Does Christmas Mean to You."
7:30 P. M. Wednesday. Prayer meeting and Bible Study at parsonage.
7:30 P. M. Saturday Eve, Christmas tree and program.
W. C. T. U. meets with Mrs. Thompson Wednesday afternoon of this week. Leader, Miss Nora Shafer.
Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Marquardt were business callers in Des Moines Wednesday of last week.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES
Rev. J. H. Bounds, Pastor
10:00 A. M. Sunday school.
11:00 A. M. Morning worship.
6:45 P. M. Epworth League
7:30 P. M. Evening worship
All of the usual services will be held on Christmas Day except Junior League, which will not be held.
The Christmas program will be given at the church on Saturday evening, beginning at 7:30. Following is the program:
Selection, Orchestra
Song, "Joy to the World"
Prayer, "Rev. Bounds
Song, Older boys and girls
Exercise, Six Junior Girls
Rec., Glen Eckleberger
Exercise, Primary Children
Rec., Gene Boyington
Song, Primary Class
Rec., Katherine Rietz
Exercise, Bailey Children
Exercise, Junior Girls and Eight Boys
Reading, Jessie Coburn
Christmas Pageant, Members of the Sunday school and choir

Mrs. John Richards was very ill with pneumonia last week, but is getting along nicely at this writing. Mrs. Henry Azeltine is caring for her.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Azeltine and son Robert spent last week visiting relatives in Omaha, and also entered some pigeons in the poultry show there. W. W. Azeltine drove the oil truck during their absence.

C. H. Parliamen held a closing out farm sale last week. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bohnett and family have moved in with Mr. Parliamen and Mr. Bohnett will farm the place next year.

Telford Simons has been ill with pneumonia. He is much better at this time.

G. W. Whitten visited relatives at Grundy Center a few days last week.

Ralph Wilkenson was in the community again last week and bought three more car loads of cattle which he shinned to his large stock farm at Sycamore, Ill.

Ray Norris has returned home from Nebraska where he has been picking corn since Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Jennie Hackley and daughters, Nellie, Zelda, and son Glen, spent Sunday at the Elmer Gaulke home at Iowa Falls.

Miss Anna Rietz came home Saturday to spend a Christmas vacation from Morningside College at Sioux City.

Gerald Ersland of Red Lake Falls, Minn., came on Saturday and expects to spend the winter here. His wife and baby have been here since the first of November.

Frank Carr of Latimer spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. Etta Carr.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Allen's baby has been very ill with pneumonia.

Mrs. John Thomas and baby have returned to her home at Williams after spending a week at the J. E. Thomas home.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Mosher and baby who have been living in Dows, have moved in with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Manly Francomb and will spend the winter there.

Seven farm bureau ladies attended the lesson "Nutrition" given in the Library at Belmond last Wednesday by Miss Church, a farm bureau worker. Those who attended were Mrs. J. Munnis, Mrs. F. Aldinger, Mrs. Earl Patton, Mrs. F. Streveler, Mrs. H. Whitten, Mrs. L. Rowen and Mrs. C. Martin.

Buy your sweetheart a diamond ring at Mallory's, Belmond.

Miss Eleanor Martin is expected home from Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, on Thursday to spend the Christmas vacation.

Ira Fletcher who has been visiting here from Dixon, Ill., drove to Forest City the first of last week to visit his brother, Harold Fletcher and family, and from there was going to Blue Earth, Minn., to visit his sister, Mrs. Frank Dray. He expects to visit here again before returning to Illinois. Alfred Fletcher, who has been visiting relatives here went as far as Blue Earth with his brother, Ira, and went from there to his home at Bruce, Wisconsin.

Rev. Bounds went to Clarion on Monday and rented a car to take the place of his which is being repaired. He was unable to get the parts needed for his car here and they had to be ordered from Detroit, Mich. Mr. Usher drove him to Latimer Sunday morning for his services there.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Jennings returned to their home at Grand Rapids, Minn., after visiting relatives here and at Belmond. They were stalled in Minneapolis four days on the way down by the snow and decided to turn back. Finding the road was open only seventy miles north of Minneapolis they waited until the road was opened south and came on down here.

The ice harvest for the Stevenson Meat Market was started Monday. Several men from Dows are working at cutting and getting the ice out.

Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Marquardt and son Billy, drove to Mason City, Monday.

The Ladies of the Congregational church and their husbands went to the parsonage last Friday evening and surprised Mrs. Marquardt. The ladies tied a wool filled comforter for her, the pieced top of which was donated by Mrs. Keith. The rest of the evening was spent in games, and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Ina Stumph and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Mantle went to Clarion Friday evening and helped Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Miller celebrate their 39th wedding anniversary.

ROWAN CONGREGATIONAL CHRISTMAS PROGRAM
Music, "Hark the Herald Angels Sing", All
Recitation, "Welcome", Betty Jean Adamson
Scripture and Prayer, Supt. E. Bingham
Recitation "Note to Santa", Doris Harris
Dialogue, "So Different", Margaret Emerson, Ardice Harris
Recitation, "My Say" Bobby Duffy
Song, "We're Happy Cause it's Christmas, Junior Girls
Recitation, Willert McBride
Candle Stick Exercise, Beginners
Recitation, "I's G'wine Tell Ol' Santa", Fred Francis Kercheval
Song, "Hush-a-bye", Lois Harris, Betty Jean Duffy, Dorothy Adamson and Marilee Whitten
Recitation, "Christmas", Evelyn Burt
Dialogue, Nita and Carol
Song, "Letter to Santa", Whitten children
Recitation, Marion Kercheval
Recitation, "Christmas Bells, Tincecline Silvey
Pantomine, "Holy Night"
Recitation, Billy Whitten
Recitation, "'Twas Christmas Day", John Robert Huey
Dialogue, "Minister's Daughter," Five Girls
Song, Junior class boys
Exercise, "Marketers", Primary class
Recitation, Johnny's Christmas", Avron Peyton
Recitation, "Proved at Last," Vernetta Knuths
Musical Reading, "Star of Bethlehem", Ione McBride
Recitation, 'While Stars of Christmas Shine", Madaline Davis
Dialogue, "Worm Turns" Junior children
Reading, "Linfield's Christmas Dinner", Mabel Aldinger
Song, "Old Santa is Coming", Eight boys
Program is to be given Saturday evening, at 7:30.

Alexander Girl Given Shower

About forty ladies gathered at the Nels Larsen home on Thursday afternoon for a post nuptial shower in honor of their daughter, Esther, who was married at Spencer, Dec. 8, to Glen Williams. The gifts wer useful and numerous. The afternoon was delightfully spent in various games after which a dainty luncheon was served. Addie Larsen and Mrs. Charlie Winwood were hostesses.

The faculty play, "Dearies" given in the school auditorium on Tuesday and Wednesday nights was much enjoyed by all who had the opportunity to be present.

The Ladies Missionary Circle held their monthly business meeting at the home of Mrs. Carrie Reed on Thursday.

A number of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mrs. P. C. Bohlen on Tuesday afternoon, and gave her a little surprise in honor of her 60th birthday. A social afternoon was spent together and dainty refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schmidt are the parents of a baby girl, born December 15.

MARCELLING

I am doing marcelling at my home, 2 block south of Library. For appointment phone 255.—Mrs. T. L. Finn. 1*

The United Aid Society held their annual supper and bazaar on Friday evening, Dec. 16. They realized the sum of $85.00.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hall spent the week end at Iowa Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Leebrick of Hampton were visiting relatives here Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Klinefelter were Dows callers Wednesday.

John Bell and daughter, Jessie, were business callers at Belmond Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Richards of Rowan were visiting at the Ed Richards home Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Strand of Ventura were callers at the Forrest Gillett home Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schimp and children were Hampton callers Saturday.

Edgar Mantle of Rowan was a caller at the Henry Schulte home Saturday.

Cornelius Stoffer and Arthur Winwood were visitors at Hampton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rodemeyer were visiting at Latimer Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Friesleben were calling in Hampton Sunday.

Lloyd Green was a business caller at Thornton Wednesday.

Lloyd Green and Forrest Gillett were business callers at Hampton Monday.

George Blau and Miss Nelson were Mason City callers Saturday.

Dick Blau and Miss Melba Tucker were Sunday visitors at the home of Ed Tucker east of Hansell.

Jelto Beenken was a business caller at Belmond Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams left Friday morning for their new home at Alta.

Walter Korth held his closing out sale Saturday. Mr. Korth has decided to quit farming this coming season.

Clocks, Silverware and China at Mallory's, Belmond.

UNITED CHURCH NOTES
Services Sunday, Dec. 25—
Morning worship at 10:00 A. M. Subject of sermon, "The Spirit of Christmas, Past Present and Future."
Sunday School at 11:00 A. M.
Junior and Senior Christian Endeavor at 6:45 P. M.
Evening service at 7:30 P. M. Sermon topic, "No Room for the Christ."
Christmas tree and program by the primary department of the Sunday school and young peoples choir at 7:30 P. M. Saturday. Treats will be provided for all the children. The parents are asked not to bring presents for the whole family to church for distribution as it takes so long and makes so much confusion.
All are invited to these services,
Rev. A. C. Woodcock, Pastor

Goodell Woman In Porto Rico

Relatives and friends have received word from Mrs. Gus Okrueg that she landed safely Monday in Ponce, Porto Rico, having gone there to visit her daughter, Dortha. Dorthe met her at San Juan and they made the return trip to Ponce in a bus over the mountains.

A very large crowd of children and grown ups visited Thada's store Saturday afternoon and had a chat with Santa Claus, who gave a fine treat of candy and nuts to everyone.

Mrs. E. C. Kienenberger is ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. McNutt. She is suffering with the rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Sandberg and son Robert of Iowa Falls were Sunday visitors at the former's parental home.

Dorothy Jean, the little four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carpenter, was on the sick list Friday, and on Saturday became much worse. About 8 P. M. Saturday they took her to Belmond and Dr. Steele performed an operation for appendicitis. She is getting along as well as can be expected. Her mother remained with her.

Miss Marie Given spent the week end at Clarion with her sister, Gladys.

Mrs. Houghton, Reginald and Selwyn accompanied by Miss Neva Aldrich of Rowan visited at Iowa Falls with the former's son, Clement.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Mayhew are the parents of a baby girl, born Monday A. M.

See the new line of toilet sets at Mallory's, Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ness returned Monday from Story City where they visited their son, Gaylord and family.

Mrs. Met Avery and son Anson spent Friday at the Lutheran hospital in Hampton. Both underwent physical examinations.

Mrs. Clifford Chase underwent an operation Monday for appendicitis at the Mercy hospital at Mason City. She is recovering nicely. Dr. Snearly went over for the operation.

Harry Ruka trapped a coon, weighing 22 pounds, on his farm last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Latch are at the hospital in Hampton with their little two year old child who is suffering with brain fever.

A large crowd attended the basket social and fine program at the Griggs school on Friday evening. Miss Beckman of Forest City is the teacher.

Forrest Boren who attends college at Grundy Center came home Friday for a two weeks holiday vacation. Forrest makes his home with his uncle, Emery Boren.

Mr. Wilson who lives in North Dakota visited friends and relatives here last week and then went to Cornelia to visit his brother, Bob Wilson.

Miss Eva Schluter of Meservey was not able to teach school here last Monday because of a severe tooth ache. Lloyd Tinkle substituted for her.

Mrs. Betsy Mayne of Klemme sent several days last week visiting her friend, Mrs. Will Allaben.

Rev. Scott and family accompanied by her sister, Miss Dess Summerville of Cumberland, Md., autoed to Mt. Vernon Wednesday to visit another sister, Mrs. Gormerly. The Scotts returned home Thursday, but Miss Summerville who has visited here the past two months remained there and will visit the same length of time before going back east.

Victor Bratt, garage man autoed to Britt Monday evening and attended a party.

Mrs. Harry Newgard, Mrs. White, Mayme, and Mrs. Hanson shopped at Belmond Tuesday and visited Mrs. A. M. Graeber.

Mr. Verdie Wilson went to Burt last week to enjoy a visit with his sister, Mrs. Jess Thorson.

The boys and girls basketball teams with their coaches, Prin. Hopperstadt, and Miss Laitchwager, went to Rowan Friday night and played a double header game. The girls lost with a score of 50 to 6 and the boys game resulted in a score of 19 to 12 in favor of Rowan.

Invitations have been received by the teachers, Seniors and Juniors to a high school party which will be given Thursday, Dec. 22 at the school building. The Freshmen and Sophomores will entertain.

Monday at 3 p. m., Coe Petit, famous piano musician gave a program at the local high school. A large crowd attended and enjoyed it very much at the small price of admission, 10c.

The Literary Societies have been organized and the two names chosen were Excelsior and Delphian. The latter will give the first program, Dec. 22.

Mrs. Del Christie recently received word from Dicky, N. D., that her sister, Mrs. Will Christie a former resident here, was very ill.

CHURCH NOTES

Everyone is most welcome at the Christmas program to be given at the U. B. church Saturday evening, commencing at 7:30 P. M. The following is the program:
Music—Orchestra
Song, "Joy to the World"—All
Welcome—Laurence Christie
Song, "Christmas Greeting"—Primaries and Juniors
Reading, "Because I Love Him"—Iola Baker
Reading, "Snowflakes"—Taalkeus Ahrenkiel
Reading, "Dolly's Christmas"—Marjorie Christensen
Song, "Luther Hymn" — Jean Thada and Harriet Scott
Song, "Lullaby"—LaVonne Sherwood, Delores Cook
Reading, "Six Foot Christmas Gift"—Frae Reed
Reading, "Glimpses Thru Windows"—Iris Sherwood
Dialogue, "Five Senses"—Junior Class
Song, "Song of Christmas"—Primaries and Juniors
Dialogue, "One Whole Dollar"—Viola Ellis, Harriet Scott
Offering, for Otterbein Home—Rev. Scott
Song, "Beautiful Star of Bethlehem"—Intermediate Girls
Tableau, "Gift to France." Reader—Doris Schneider
Reading, "Santa" — Frederick Schneider
Benediction—Rev. Scott

Don't forget that all children and Sunday school people will receive treats of candy and nuts. Hot coffee and sandwiches served in basement to adults. Everything free, and everyone come.

The Ladies Aid met Wednesday afternoon with a good attendance. Picnic lunch was served. The next meeting will be January 11. More money was handed the treasurer for the bazaar bringing it to date to about $130.

A rally is being held to get new members for the U. B. Aid, before the Jan. 11 meeting. The three divisions are working for the members and the one winning and the new members will be entertained to a Valentine party by the others. Let's join! ! The husbands will also be invited.

A home talent play entitled, "The Strike of the Ladies Aid" will be presented by the U. B. Ladies Aid the latter part of January. Fifteen ladies will take part. The play is in two acts and time one and one-half hours. Lunch will also be served. Plan to attend.

Olaf News

S. O. Windecker of Iowa Fals spent part of last week at the G. H. Baxter home.

Henry Lien and family were callers at Eagle Grove Saturday.

The Olaf Shipping Association shipped a car load of hogs to Mason City Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lars Hougland of Story county drove up Wednesday to attend Clarence Scott's sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lundy Jr. are the parents of a baby girl, born Dec. 19.

Milford Mehl returned home from the Mercy hospital where he has been receiving treatment for an injured nose. He had the misfortune of receiving this injury while splitting wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schltching called at Fred Prelipps Sunday afternoon.

Ladies Aid Society meets with Mrs. John Eliason Thursday, Dec. 29.

BELMOND SCHOOL NOTES

(Continued from page 1)

ing very well with their outside reading. Maxine Nordschow has earned 174 points and June Obrecht has earned 143 points. Maxine ranks first in the 7th grade and her points show that she read about 43 books since school began. June is a close second. In the 8th grade Mona Schmidt ranks first with 118 points and about 30 books. Harold Olson is second with 80 points. Everyone else is doing very nicely and we hope to be expert readers by the end of this year. We have eleven new books added to our Junior High library, and they are being devoured by those who can manage to get their hands on them.

SHOP IN BELMOND

PUBLIC AUCTION!

AT MESERVEY, IOWA

Wednesday, Dec. 28th

AT 1:00 P. M.

We will sell Equipment as follows:

1 full set taps
1 Emery stand
12 polishing wheels
2 Emery wheels, 6"
1 Simplex Hot shear
1 Emery Wheel, 2½"x16"
1 Champion drill No. 203
1 tool grinder Emery stand
1 Never-Slip tapping machine
1 Westinghouse motor, 5 h. p.
1 Edwards' shear machine No. 5
1 Little Giant trip hammer, 50 lbs.
1 Parker combined woodworking machine
1 Moles tire shrinker No. 4
1 Champion tire bender No. 2
1 Marvin electric forge blower
1 Fullers' improved shoeing vise
1 10 disc Giant wonder sharpener
1 Champion forge blower No. 400
1 Ideal lawnmower grinder (latest improved)
1 600-lb. 4" face grindstone with stand
1 Western Chief tire shrinker No. 1½
1 Imperial Acetlyene welding machine complete
1 furnace
1 75 lb. vise
1 office stove
14 pulleys, 3x18"
1 150-ft. 1" rope
1 set dies ¼ to ¾"
9 18" shaft hangers
1 18x24 leveling plate
600 lbs. common shoes
36 ft. 1 7-16" line shaft
1 175 lb. blacksmith anvil
188 ft. canvas belting, 2-5"
48 ft. leather belting 2-5"
400 lbs. never-slips size 1-6"

Right is reserved to sell the above items separately and then as one unit, and the highest bidder shall be considered the purchaser.

3 Oak plank
1 power jack
6 plow shares
1 buggy pole
3 turn knuckles
1 4-horse evener
2 cultivator poles
1 doz. plow points
2 rope and tackle
4 buggy neckyokes
1000 spoke wedges
1 set wood chisels
100 sled shoe bolts
1 50-ft. garden hose
100 buggy axle clips
2 pair coupling clips
3000 bolts ¼ to 5-8"
4 wagon single trees
2 rolling coulter forks
2 hind wagon bolsters
2 3½x9" wagon skeins
1 sanitary inside toilet
1 doz. whiffle tree clips
4 sets cultivator shovels
800 1¾"x3-16" tire bolts
3 dozen Agricultural eveners
1 doz. double tree front plates
12 38-40" stroll side springs No. 15
Miscellaneous lot of wagon and buggy spokes, etc.
Miscellaneous lot of buggy shafts, rims, etc.
3 barrels
1 glue pot
16 ft. track
1 buck saw
1 tire guage
2 disc heads
2 anvil stands
6 pitmen sticks
1 bolt clipper
2 drill chucks
1 set drill bits
18 mower clips
Blacksmith coal
12 pitmen heads
2 spoke pointers
2 pipe wrenches
100 guard plates
25 lbs. horse nails
100 summer calks
4 horse shoe pads
15 lbs. Emery grit
1 gallon glass glue
100 binder sections
200 never-slip calks
25 lbs. welding rods
100 lbs. winter calks
Some carpenter tools
25 lbs. nuts and rivets
1 doz. log chain hooks
All blacksmith hammers
10 mower pitmen strans
1 doz. whiffle tree hooks
1 Woods Universal tenor cutter
2 aprons
2 trussels
1 book case
2 bolt racks
1 60-lb. scale
1 48x30 desk
1 wheel rack
1 spirit level
1 8-day clock
1 snow shovel
1 12-ft. ladder
1 office chair
1 sanitary cot
100 lag screws
2 work benches
2 scoop shovels
1 set forge tongs
1 set shoeing tools
1 small show case
50 lbs. spring steel
1000 lbs. round and flat iron
Many other small articles

At the same place and date the following will also be sold:
1 hammer grinder No. 55
Frame building 12x12x12
Frame out building 8x12x8
100 feet 7-in. canvas belt (new)
18 in. cyl. 2000 cap, complete with 4 screens and dust collector
Frame building used for blacksmith shop, 30x60x18

Machinery is in good condition, none more than six years old.
Those unable to attend may send bids to the clerk.

TERMS AS ARRANGED WITH CLERK

FARMERS SAVINGS BANK

Potter & Saunders, Auctioneers, A. J. NISSEN, Clerk

ARE WOMEN SEWING?

Dealers are claiming that women are not sewing at home any more. They say there is almost no sale for thimbles, because women do not sew. On the other hand, three-fourths of the women of the United States make nine or more garments a year, according to investigations made by the Home Economics Bureau of about 2,000 women in 32 states.

Women who do their own sewing live in the small, rather than in the large communities. Perhaps this is because women in the larger communities are more likely to find employment outside the home and this interferes with home sewing. Perhaps it is because they are more tempted by the bargains in ready-mades shown in shop windows, and perhaps because the rural sister is more skillful with her hands, more accustomed to wait on herself or more simple in her tastes.

Those women who sew at home come in the class in which the family income ranges from two to three thousand dollars annually, rather than in the lower income group. This is hard to explain. One would think that the lower the income, the greater would be the necessity of saving money by home dressmaking. It is a luxury, however, to be able to sit at home and sew, and it may be that women with less means cannot afford it.

The two greatest difficulties met by the home dressmaker are the fitting of garments and the choosing of styles which are becoming and practical. The reason women buy so many ready-made garments is largely because they can tell how these will look on them.

CANDLE GREASE

Our family love to have a candle-lit meal at evening time. It sheds a gentle grace upon food and those around the board, helps one to relax and forget the cares of the day, and makes that appeal which an open fire always has to the home lover.

The candle-lit meal is usually a daily meal and for a time, I was anxious less the candles drip wax on my new dining table. But once the youngsters had a party and the next morning, to my horror, my best table was a mass of red, green, yellow candle-wax spots. Then I made the discovery that "elbow grease" combined with candle wax was a blessing rather than a curse to my table top. I took a soft cloth and tried to rub it off. I found, instead, that the friction melted the wax and I rubbed it in, and made a delightful wax polish on the table top. Now I never object to the candle-lit meal. A little rubbing will wipe away the deed; and then how easy is't (to paraphrase Lady Macbeth).

THE CHRISTMAS TABLE

The Christmas dinner should be different from any other meal, not alone in having special food, but it should look it. The children will love to help decorate the Christmas table. A tiny Christmas tree makes a pretty center piece, or lay a mirror in the center of the table to look like a lake and drape white cotton batting over the frame to represent snow, and sprinkle with greenery.

For Christmas greens, pachysandra cuttings keep well on wet moss, and there is nothing prettier than ivy. Asparagus fern makes a dainty Christmas green.

A Santa Claus figure is appropriate for the center of the table, and red candles are Christmasy. A fruit basket filled with oranges, grapes, rosy apples, figs, raisins and nuts is a fine center piece, or if you do not have the fruits, substitute vegetables, choosing those of most color: scoured carrots, shinging apples, a bright green cabbage or head of lettuce, with a few pine twigs for fillers.

BED QUILTS

Think of the long, happy hours our grandmothers whiled away in piecing bed quilts! Into these they stitched their sweet thoughts and housewifely dreams and gave vent to their domestic instincts during the long hours after dark when there were no movies nor clubs to draw them outside the family circle.

The devising of the design encouraged the inventive genius of the maker; and fantastic and far-fetched are some of the names and patterns. There were the "nine-patch quilt", the "four-patch", "log cabin," "necktie", "ocean wave", "birds at the window", "Irish chain", "album", "ragged star", "the basket" and many others whose relation to their title could be seen by some stretch of imagination.

Some of these quilts are today the prized possessions of granddaughters, quilts one hundred years old, and still in service, for company beds. Some of the pieces are very tiny, and the quilting is fine and even and took weeks of patient, but joyous work.

Some of these quilts were a part of the wedding supply laid in by lassies a century ago, and they could tell a history of sweet home life, of bridal chamber, of covering little children, of happy dreams and of beds of pain—if they could but speak. One virtue of these well-made old quilts was that they could be washed and kept sweet and clean, and the pink calico in some is almost as fresh and gay as when made up originally.

CANDY

The little Priscillas and Jonathans of a hundred years ago did not know there was such a bone in their anatomy as a "sweet tooth." The glory of the candy counter or the resplendent windows of a candy store were sights they could not envision even in their most glowing dreams.

Rock candy, caroway comfits, glazed almonds, and "sweetmeats' more like cookies were the limit of their candy indulgences. Wonder if the sturdy health and the healthy teeth of that day had any relation to this absence of childish bliss!

Candy eating, as other joys and "foolishness" was frowned down upon by our frugal and Puritanical ancestors.

CHRISTMAS FAIRY CAKE

Mix three unbeaten eggs and one pound of sugar. Stir, (do not beat) one-half hour or until very light. Add flour enough to make a stiff mixture. Season with one-fourth teaspoon of almond. Drop from a spoon upon butter cake tins. Let stand in the tins over night in a cool place. In the morning bake in a medium oven and the sugar will come out and look like frosting. This is supposed to be the work of fairies. Remove from the pans while hot.

RUG WRINKLE

If your rug will not lie down flat on the floor, but is inclined to wrinkle up, it is because the glue which stiffens the back has lost its force. To remedy this, spread the rug flat, with the face down, and tack it in shape. Then give the back another light coat of hot, liquid glue and let it dry. When dry, the rug will again be stiff and "stay put" nicely on the floor.

TO KEEP SQUASHES

Winter squashes, to be stored, should be picked carefully with their stems attached. The same is true of pumpkins. They should be set on racks or shevles in a cool, dry room, and it is necessary to have fresh air in it. The closed, damp cellar will cause them to rot. The garage will serve as a store room for them until cold winter, and after that, the attic.

COFFEE HINT

In making drip coffee, keep the water just below the boiling point. Its power of extraction is greater than with boiling water, and the tannin will be less, and the coffee not so bitter, but better flavored as well as stronger. There is an economy feature to this, as the beverage will not require so much coffee.

SMILES

"Did you prepare the fowl so as to tickle the palates of my guests?"

"Yes, Mum, I left the feathers on."

"Have you any cheap skates."

'Just a minute. I'll call the boss."

MRS. SOLOMON SAYS:

There is only one way to HAVE Christmas; that is to MAKE it for some one else.

Humboldt Independent: Plans are now completed for the three day Masonic school of instruction to be held here January 10, 11, 12, under the auspices of the Grand Lodge of Iowa, A. F. & A. M. The Grand Master of Masons in Iowa, members of the Board of Custodians and other notables will be here for the three day session.

The Humboldt lodge will be host to probably three hundred Masons from over the sixth district. This district comprises six counties namely, Humboldt, Hamilton, Wright, Webster, Calhoun, and Pocahontas. Kossuth county has also been invited to join in the meeting.

Housing facilities of the city will be taxed, but arrangements are being made to care for the visitors.

The local lodge has made some changes in their hall and are preparing in every way for a big time for Masons in this district.

Eagle Grove Eagle: T. J. Shaeffer shot his first fox of the current season last Friday. He tracked him several miles south and east of Thor before he was close enough for a shot. Mr. Schaeffer shot twice, both shots hitting the fast moving target. "Thede" usualy brings in several foxes and wolves during the winter season. Friday's kill was the first one he has shot this winter.

Holds a Ball of Cord

It would seem as if most everybody would appreciate as a Christmas gift a Handy Andy who would hold guard over a ball of cord, keeping it ever ready for use, like the little pasteboard-faced elf in this picture is doing. No, the spiral neck and spindling legs of the little sprite aren't just for "looks"; they form the axis on which the ball of cord revolves. The flower petal skirt? Oh, just a way of "dolling up" the trinket so that it is "ornamental as well as useful." The figure stands on a box which holds rubber bands, tags, thumb tacks and other needed articles.

For the Bachelor's Den

For many this Christmas is going to make a reality of that oft-dreamed wistful dream, "When my ship comes in." It is all due to the conspicuous part that ships are now playing as a decorative feature in modern house interiors. There are ships and ships to be had, some of brass, some of glass for table appointments. The bachelor who glories in a well-furnished den would feel honored to receive this candlestick which embodies a ship in its design.

BELMOND IN THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

(Continued from page 2)

taxidermist as samples of his work displayed in McGuire's window indicates.

Mrs. H. C. Polhemus who has been seriously ill with pneumonia is reported as improving.

S. A. Wolcott, Steve Underkofler, Howard Kaufman and Chas. Jones returned Saturday from Fort Dodge.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

Frank Christie's people at Hickory Grove, recently sent 800 pounds of butter to friends at Southbridge, Mass., to be sold.

Pete Stacy has moved Daily's old shop to the rear of his town residence, thus giving him a good wood-house.

Some nice pop corn is what was given us last week by Mr. McKune; and a mess of fresh fish by Dight Packard. Thanks gentlemen.

The meeting of the Temperance Association last Monday evening was a very interesting one. The hall was filled and the exercises were thoroughly enjoyed by an attentive audience. They began by singing, "Hold the Fort," followed by a prayer by Rev. Sands, and the debate came next, then the song—"Don't drink tonight, my boy," by the Misses Daniels and a select reading by Miss Rose Whited, also more singing, dialogues, speeching and pledge signing.

RODEO BOOTS fashions latest expression

A New Sensation — Here now in many colors and combinations

Patent White Top
Patent Patent Top
Tan Ivory Top
Tan Tan Top

$7

Orders by mail will be promptly filled.

PANORS
MASON CITY
106 North Federal Ave.

The
Foss Cleaning Shop
Solicits your patronage in
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Located West of the Foss Shoe Shop
All Work Guaranteed
We will appreciate your Trial Offer
Foss Cleaning Shop
Louis Foss, Prop.
Phone 70 Belmond, Iowa

$10 Wrist Watches -:- Diamond Rings
Good Assortment of Other Rings
WATCH REPAIRING A SPECIALTY
$1 Glasses You Can See With at
Mallory's Jewelry Store

For A
Merry Christmas and Prosperous 1928
WM. H. WOLLE
Real Estate and Insurance

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29

It's Christmas!

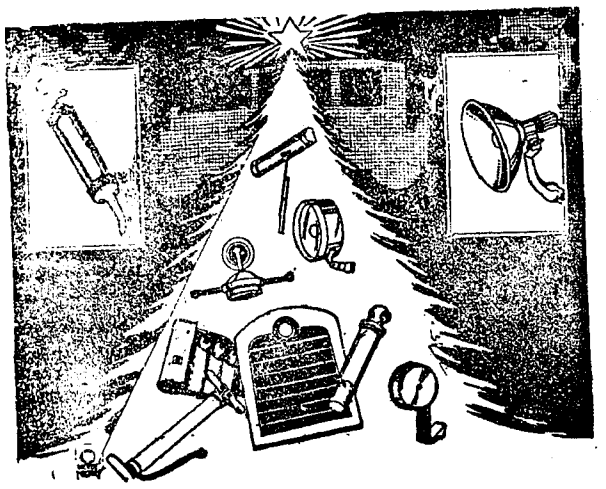
"YOU cannot cut Christmas out of the Calendar, nor steal it from the heart of the world." This is the season of seasons—the Day of days!

It's Christmas! And, as we lay aside the "tools of business" for the moment and silently close the ledger of the year now so nearly spent, we are reminded of a pleasant debt to be paid with compound interest, a debt we hasten to disburse before we place one more holly wreath or light another candle.

It's just to tell you that we're grateful—grateful for you cooperation during the past fifty-two weeks—and grateful for this chance to tell you so—and wish you, and those whose happiness is also yours, the merriest of Christmases and a New Year laden with all the blessings you most desire.

STATE BANK OF BELMOND

Finish Your Christmas Shopping in Belmond



May we suggest for
"His" Christmas present an Auto Accessory, such as

HEATER
ELECTRICAL CIGARETTE LIGHTER
MOTOR METER
MOTOR DRIVEN HORN
TIRE CHAINS
ELECTRICAL WINDSHIELD WIPER
STEP PLATES
CLEAR VISION NO FROST SHIELDS
FLOOR BOARD MATS
FLASH LIGHT
BUMPERS
TIRE COVERS
NEW TIRES

At this time we wish to thank our friends for the business given us during 1927, and trust we can be of more service in 1928.

Hub Motor Co.
Joseph Pletch Phone 39 C. M. Morse

YRIGHT BY EAD AND CO.

By Helen R. Martin

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I—Handsome, fastidious and wealthy—young St. Croix Creighton awaits his sweetheart at their trysting place. She is fifteen minutes late, this ordinary little Pennsylvania Dutch girl, Meely Schwenckton, but he awaits her eagerly. She is so deliciously beautiful, he thinks, but out of his "class."

CHAPTER II—Meely, in the Schwenckton home, is altogether unlike the girl who meets St. Croix clandestinely, and her speech has little of the Pennsylvania Dutch accent. She is the teacher in the neighborhood school, of which Marvin Creighton, St. Croix' brother, is superintendent. Due to family differences, Marvin Creighton boards in town, near Meely, who is living with the Schwencktons, a Pennsylvania Dutch farmer's family. Meely learns that Marvin was to have married his cousin, a titled English lady, but, believing she was attracted by the Creighton wealth, had refused the alliance. It is the rumor that St. Croix is to take Marvin's place and marry the English girl.

CHAPTER III—On her way to a rendezvous with St. Croix, Meely passes Marvin on the road. She is somewhat garishly attired, for St. Croix' benefit, and avoids Marvin. St. Croix' jealousy is aroused by Meely's report of an aged suitor for her hand. On his presentation of candy and a box of handkerchiefs, he demands a "reward" from Meely. The girl evades his caresses and cleverly decoys him into admitting he has no intention of marrying her.

CHAPTER IV—Marvin visits school in his official capacity as superintendent, and discovers how charmingly little Meely knows about school teaching. She relies on her possession of a Normal school diploma to enable her to hold her position. Mr. Schwenckton coming home from town, picks up a stranger, and finding his watch gone, demands the stranger get out and turn over his watch. The stranger, St. Croix Creighton, loses his way and comes to the Schwenckton home, where he recognizes Meely, but the girl plays her part well and St. Croix does not suspect.

CHAPTER V—Meely encounters another trying morning with the school superintendent and is afraid she has been found out because of her knowledge of English topics and her woeful ignorance of things American, but despite the ambiguous situation she and the superintendent have an enjoyable lunch in the schoolhouse together.

"Oh, dear, you here again!" she openly lamented as he, without offering her his hand, bowed rather curtly and drew forth a platform chair—not, however, seating himself while she stood, a courtesy to which she had, for so many months, been a stranger, that it thrilled her, to her amusement, almost as much as St. Croix' "manners" had thrilled Nettie the night before.

"I'm here," he grimly stated, standing behind her chair and folding his arms with a resolute, Napoleonic air that made her heart sink, "to hear you teach geography!"

"Here I stand—so help me Gawd!" she mocked at his determined mien. "Martin Luther!"

"And I don't leave this schoolroom until I have heard you!"

"Oh, gee!" she sighed.

He set his lips and stared straight ahead of him.

"I've had this school of my conscience since you yourself admitted that you can't teach. We can't let these children suffer from your—excuse me—incompetence. Will you call a geography class, Miss—Schwenckton?"

Did he or did he not hesitate over her name? She could not feel sure.

"But why this passionate interest in geography?" she complained. "Aren't you longing to see me teach spelling? I'll call a spelling class—"

"Geography, if you please."

"I suppose," she said accusingly, "you just want to expose me as not knowing any geography of the United States! Well, if you call that chivalrous—"

"I'm not here to be chivalrous, but to hear you teach."

"Why won't spelling do?"

"I prefer geography."

"Just because I jokingly pretended to think there were forty-seven states instead of fifty-seven! —and told you that when I was a mere child, I thought the Mississippi river ran east and west!"

"Exactly."

"Well," she said reflectively, "well, Mr. Creighton, before I take your request into consideration, will you tell me what is the extent of your power over my job? Can you take it away from me?"

"I can advise your school board to take it from you. But," he hastily added, "of course I don't want to! I'd hate like the dickens—" Again he pulled himself up. "I should greatly dislike," he said primly, "to resort to such stringent measures."

"That's better—sounds more professional," she encouraged him. "Be professional or die!"

The children of the school were all seated now—rigidly upright, in the presence of that magnate, the county superintendent—and Meely could no longer dally with the situation; she must decide what to do. She might repeat the successful geography lesson she had already given that morning on Italy—though a deliberate repetition of the whole performance would be so astonishing to the children as to be embarrassing to their teacher! For Venice, she had given them the songs of the gondoliers and impersonations of Portia and Shylock; for Naples, street beggars and coral workers; for Rome, impersonations of Caesar and Mark Antony with tales of gladiators interspersed; for Florence, impersonations of Savonarola and the Medici. Much more than the school had been able to digest at one dose, but she had enjoyed it. Feeling how cleverly she was doing it—ah there was the rub! She did it too cleverly, too professionally. She could not risk offering it to Marvin Creighton.

Well, then, nothing left but to try to give a geography lesson in the prosaic, uninteresting way she had seen it done in a school she had visited, where the teacher for a weary half hour, had led the children telling glibly what states enclosed other states. What had the teacher called that—a certain word she had used.

"I'll bore this man so he'll keep away from here for the rest of his life!" she determined.

"Zebilla," she addressed the brightest girl of the class that she summoned to stand before the desk, while she and the superintendent now sat behind it, "enclose the state of Pennsylvania."

Zebilla looked blank. "What's that I'm to do?"

"Enclose Pennsylvania," repeated Meely confidently.

Zebilla still looked unenlightened—even dazed. "I wouldn't know how to, I don't know right how you mean—enclose it!"

Meely saw that she had gotten the wrong word. "I mean—surround or circumscribe it!" she exsurround it—or what bodies of water, or whatever does enclose, surround or circumscribe it!" she explained desperately.

"Ach, do you mean, Miss Schwenckton, I'm to bound Pennsylvania?"

"That's the word—yes, you bind it."

A snort from the county superintendent was a signal for the amazed school and they broke into a roar of laughter that revealed to the embarrassed teacher how seriously she had erred. Her face flushed crimson. She hated this monster sitting on her platform laughing till the desk shook!

She rapped for order. The school became quiet. "Proceed," she said to Zebilla coldly.

"Pennsyl-wania is bounded on the north—"

When Zebilla had finished, Meely took as long a time as possible in drilling her to pronounce the letter V by catching her lower lip between her teeth. She prolonged this drilling to the point of absurdity, for if she called on any other pupil of this class to bound a state, she herself would have to keep her eyes glued to the map to see that they got it right. With Zebilla Zook that had not been necessary, for Zebilla could be depended upon to answer correctly. She always knew her lessons with depressing thoroughness. So it was not until the poor girl became restive and resentful under her prolonged drilling that the teacher desisted.

"Bind Connecticut, Hiram," she at last proceeded most reluctantly.

"Connecticut is bounded on the north by Massachusetts, on the east by Rhode Island—"

"Oh, come, an island can't bind anything. What is an island, Hiram?" she asked, very pleased at Hiram's blunder, for here she could be sure of her ground; she did at least know the forms of land and water!

"But Rhode Island," said Hiram, gazing at her almost in horror, "ain't no island—"

Her finger on the map, she could see for herself, now, that it wasn't—and turning hot and cold with consternation, she yet tried to save herself. "Very good, Hiram—I was trying to catch you up! Of course we all know how it came to be called an island? Zebilla?"

But Zebilla, her stand-by, failed her there—she did not know!

"I'll ask the class," said Meely hastily, "to look that up for next lesson."

She feared she was not succeeding in her plot to "bore" the superintendent. She saw, in a quick side glance, that he looked anything but bored. Indeed, he seemed to be enjoying himself. Probably he'd stay the rest of the day! Oh, how she hated and despised him! Conceited pedagogue!

After a few more states had been bound (her eyes and fingers fastened the while to map) she heaved a sigh of relief and dismissed the class to their seats.

"Now, you've had your heart's desire and have heard me teach geography. What further," she inquired with dignity, "can I do for you?"

"I leave it to you," he bowed, making no move whatever to go.

She decided to call up a reading class. There were no serious pitfalls for her in American literature. That is, if she could manage to resist the temptation to act out the reading lesson, in case it happened to be a "piece" (as the pupils would say) that lured her to a dramatic execution of it!

She settled that danger by ordering the class to turn to a speech of Theodore Roosevelt's. And too late she realized her mistake. The speech abounded in political allusions which none but a native American would understand. If only no one asked any questions! They so seldom did manifest curiosity about anything—but it would be just like the perversity of them to show off before the superintendent.

A hand was raised—the youngest little girl in the class. "Please, Miss Schwenckton, what does G. A. R. mean?"

Meely beamed with pleasure, for this was a question she could, as luck would have it, answer with convincing intelligence. She rejoiced that little Becky had been moved to ask it.

"The G. A. R. is a society of American women," she blithely replied, "the Granddaughters of the American Revolution, whose ancestors came over in the Mayflower."

* * * * * * *

"Well," said Meely lelly, as she stood with the superintendent behind her desk at the end of the morning session, "I suppose that awful conscience of yours will force you to advise the school board to discharge me for 'incompetence'!"

They were practically alone now, those of the pupils who did not go home for the noon meal having gone out of doors to eat their luncheon.

Mr. Creighton shook his head. "No, I can't be expected always to act disinterestedly for the good of society—I'm only human, after all—and yours is the only schoolroom I've ever visited that hasn't bored me to death! Whenever I'm dull and need a riot of fun, I can just drop in here and hear you teach geography! No, I cannot rise to such heights of altruism as to recommend your dismissal! It's asking too much! I'm only hu—"

"Well, believe me," she retorted resentfully, "you'll not get a chance to sit 'round here making fun of me—I'll resign!" She turned away haughtily—but she was too good an actress not to know that she was not tall enough to look haughty impressively—and suddenly, with out warning, she found herself crying. Desperately she fought to control herself, more mortified at such a childish display than she could possibly feel over perfectly excusable ignorance of a vast patchwork quilt of states, or of the fine distinctions between American alphabetical symbols—D. A. R.'s and G. A. R.'s! Useless information anyway!

But the strain of the morning had been too much for her and she could not stop crying. Her breath came in little gasping sobs, her shoulders heaved, she fumbled for her handkerchief—and not finding it, she jerked open a desk drawer, dragged out a towel and buried her face in it.

"Oh, but my child!—you poor kid!" Mr. Creighton unprofessionally and very remorsefully exclaimed: "I didn't want to hurt your feelings! Oh, please!" he begged in distress, laying a reassuring hand on her arm. "Come, come, don't cry! You're not going to be thrown out of your school—and I swear I won't laugh at you any more!"

She wiped her nose and her eyes with a corner of the towel. "I'd better resign!" she said dolefully, "or you'll be lying awake nights thinking of all the education those children are missing just because you were too weak to withstand a girl's tears!"

"Well," he said ruefully, though gently, "you have got me up a tree, you know! How you ever got a Kutztown Normal school diploma on your knowledge of United States geography—" She showed signs of weeping again, so he hastily veered off. "All right, let's never mention geography again! I do admit that the pupils in your school are more alert and wide-awake than any children in the county! There, doesn't that comfort you?"

She smiled dazzlingly through her tears. "Oh, but then I'm a success as a teacher!—since the whole purpose of teaching children must be to brighten up their wits, not to stuff states and names into them! It is not what I pour into them, but what I lead them to give out!"

"Ah, yes, but there's a lot of necessary drudgery in teaching which can't be side-stepped, my child; which really must be done. So if you'll be good and get down to hard work here—"

"But indeed I do! These things I do, yet do not leave the higher matters of the spirit undone. I do assure you."

He looked skeptical, but evidently did not feel it safe to pursue the subject, her bright eyes looking too ready to shed tears again.

"I'm keeping you from eating your lunch," he suddenly said, reaching reluctantly for his hat and coat.

"Oh, I say! Stop and have sandwiches and coffee with me!" she suggested chummily—not at all as a subordinate addresses a superior officer. "I can't bear eating alone—it's almost gross, isn't it? Will you? I've heaps—we'll have a jolly lunch! I've a thermos bottle of hot coffee, good strong coffee that I made myself," she chattered as she began to set things out on the flat desk-top, feeling exhilarated at a bit of normal human association and talk after her weeks of strained, artificial relations. With this man, if they kept off of pedagogy, she could be herself—up to a certain point at least (though of course she would have to watch her accent). She almost snatched his hat and coat away from him as she directed him to draw up his chair before the array of dainty sandwiches, coffee and fruit which she had spread out.

"But," he said as he placed their chairs and they sat down, "why is my company all of a sudden so welcome? An hour ago it was, 'You here again!'"

"Well, since you know the very worst about me, I can enjoy a chat with you. I've been dying for a man to talk to! I've been almost driven to flirting with the wooden Indian in front of the village cigar store!"

"Flirting!" I'm Afraid I Can't Play Up. Don't Know How. Afraid I've Always Been Rather a Stick With Girls."

"'Flirting'? I'm afraid I can't play up. Don't know how. Afraid I've always been rather a stick with the girls," he said dolefully, his eyes on her glowing face and creamy neck encircled by a fluffy, fluted white ruffle. What a brute he had been to make her cry—anything so dainty and sweet!

"I wouldn't presume to flirt with the county superintendent," she reassured him, "who knows the very worst about me!"

"The very worst—you're sure?"

"What further do you suspect me of? Not knowing the Presidents in order? Well, I don't. Nor the Twelve Apostles, either. And I can't name offhand the Chinese dynasties for the past five thousand years. Have some coffee?"

She poured him a second cup and his heart thrilled to her as he saw how gay she now looked after her tears. He himself was lonely enough, in all conscience, and this bit of companionship with such an engagingly impudent child was, to say the least, very diverting.

"You made this coffee?" he asked. "Teach that to the girls of your school and I'll advise your trustees to raise your salary—and if they taste your coffee they'll do it!"

"You put good coffee before learning and call yourself an educator! Men do like their comforts, don't they? I wonder why I'm teaching school anyway, when American cooks are paid such huge wages. What do American cooks do with the millions they earn? Buy country estates and retire?"

"American cooks?" he repeated reflectively. "How about foreign cooks? English cooks, for instance?"

She felt a betraying warmth in her cheeks. He suspected her! No wonder, the way she so often spoke of American things, as though she were not an American!

"I should think," she answered calmly, "that with the terrible unemployment we read of over there, cooks ought to be cheap. I'm told, Mr. Creighton," she changed the subject, as she leaned back in her chair with a sandwich in her hand, "that you're a terrible idealist. How do you manage it?"

"I don't. Though the alternative is so self-destructive! Do you (am I to conclude), like most young people of this day, imagine yourself a cynic?"

"How can we escape it? I have a cousin who was a radical Socialist until he married a rich wife. I have an uncle who was a liberal in all his ideas until a fellow-professor at his college was expelled for his liberalism—when my uncle changed his views. Believe in liberals with ideals? No, it's asking too much!" She shook her head over it hopelessly.

"Did you never know anyone," Creighton asked, "to sacrifice something for the sake of his ideals?"

"You?" she inquired, looking at him over an expanse of sandwich at her lips.

"Heavens, no! I was thinking of—Mr. E. D. Morell, for instance—"

"Editor of Foreign Affairs," she nodded—then instantly regretted her too-ready knowledge of this English editor. Wasn't the mention of him a bait? Would an American be apt to know of him? "Of course," she hastened to add, "liberals all over the world must take heart from Mr. Morell's steadfast courage and heroism!"

"Yes—but—he isn't very much known in America—how did you come to know him?"

"Read about him in The Nation."

He looked surprised. "I'm sure," he said, "you are the only teacher under my jurisdiction that has ever even heard of that paper!"

Conversation with him was, after all, too full of pitfalls, she decided. She was glad when the children's returning to the schoolroom obliged him to take his leave.

Her curiosity as to how much he suspected was fairly consuming her.

CHAPTER VI

AUNT ROSY was again at the Schwencktons', and it was manifest that her brother-in-law was not "overly pleased" at her unexpected visit.

Conversation at supper, in spite of her efforts to sustain it, seemed to languish. No one but Aunt Rosy seemed to be in the mood for this friendly chatting.

"Susie tol' me about your holdin' up young Creighton and takin' his watch off of him, Sam," she said, "and if I was you I wouldn't like it so well that that fast young fellah got a foothold in here with Nettie so lovesick she don't know half the time what she's about—"

"I don't know what you mean by a 'foothold,' Aunt Rosy," replied Mr. Schwenckton irritably. "He ain't been round here since."

"How do you know he ain't? This after, when I got here, I seen Nettie makin' sich chocolate futch and—"

"Yes," broke in Susie in a tone of grievance, "and mind what she done yet! She cooked my fire out, so's I had to build it fresh to cook my supper!"

"And when her futch was done a'ready, did she offer some to me and Susie? I don't see none of it bein' passed 'round to yous neither! What did she done with that there futch? Why, I seen her packin' it all up nice in a white box, and hidin' it good away! Who for? That's what you'd better find out, Sam Schwenckton! Who for?"

Nettie, her face crimson, muttered something about "a big nosey" and "buttin' into other folks' business,"—but her father interfered.

"Be peaceful, both of you. I won't have no wranglin' at our meals. Till supper's through a'ready, Nettie can tell me who the futch is for."

Nettie, flashing a look of hate at Aunt Rosy, subsided into a sullen silence.

Aunt Rosy was certainly a very disturbing element in this household. It was because of her presence here this evening that Mr. Schwenckton found himself, greatly to his astonishment, not to say bewilderment and distress, "up against" the younger generation in a way that was a shocking revelation to him of how times had changed. Incredible it seemed to his patriarchal ideas of family life that his own young daughter should dare to defy him—but here was the fact before his very eyes—Nettie stubbornly refusing to answer his questions as to what she had done with the fudge she had made. She admitted that it was already disposed of. But neither commands, threats nor coaxing would elicit anything further from her.

* * * * * * *

Meely was pledged for a rendezvous, about school-closing time, with St. Croix in the woods on the hilltop.

This would be her first meeting with him since their wordless encounter in the Schwenckton kitchen the night of the "holdup" and Meely, as she hastened after school to the hill, was tingling with curiosity as to what he would have to say of that dangerous moment they had managed to come through so unbetrayingly.

She was pretty sure that poor little Nettie's fudge had been made for St. Croix. "For all I know, he has been seeing her and has discovered that I am the tencher!" she speculated.

Not that she believed he had been seeking Nettie. He was, for the time, too engrossed in herself. But Nettie, in her adolescent infatuation, may have been thrusting herself upon him and St. Croix would not be overscrupulous in accepting gifts the gods offered.

"I'll find out about that fudge," Meely resolved, "and if he is taking advantage of that ignorant child, I'll protect her!"

She wondered, as she went on her way, whether St. Croix would notice the coat she wore. The season having advanced too far for her gaudy volle frock, without a wrap, she was in a bit of a predicament, for her jacket suit was far too stylish for the Meely of St. Croix' mental gallery and the only other wrap she had was this half worn-out coat she had used on the steamer en route for America, an English tweed that had once been such a first-class garment she feared St. Croix would instantly detect its quality and style—he was so observant and informed in such matters—well, rather!

If he did notice that her coat was a good English tweed and ask questions, how on earth should she explain? She would have to trust to the inspiration of the moment.

"It's almost unbelievable that I've come through so far without his discovering me! I'm—some—actress, I am! They'll certainly have to notice me when I get to Hollywood!"

He was there ahead of her at their meeting place and the nipping air of the hilltop had acted as an irritant to both his passion and his temper. It was getting much too cold for these out-of-doors meetings and he knew of no place under a roof where they could get together without risk of detection—especially as Meely's father had grown suspicious for some reason; he had brought old Schwenckton's funny letter with him to show her, as a warning that she must be more careful; he would demand an explanation from her as to what she had done to rouse her father' suspicion.

Was there no way that he could have the girl except by taking her away from her home altogether? But of course he wasn't going to get himself into that kind of a mess! Absurd to think of it!

St. Croix still felt confident that when he nodded his readiness, Meely would be only too glad and eager to come to him. Why he had put it off so long was a mystery to himself. Something about her all along had seemed to check his being precipitate—though probably she was just as impatient at his dallying as he himself was.

But the time was surely ripe now and he must delay no longer.

"I'm very displeased with you," he began as they sat huddled together to keep warm, on the big flat log. "What on earth made you do such a reckless thing, my dear, as to send that box of fudge to my home? My mother got hold of it! Don't ever do such a fool thing again, Meely! What on earth made you break out like that?"

"Ach, well—you see, you gimme them swell handkerchiefs and so I wanted to pay you back."

"Of course it was nice of you to make the candy for me—but to send it to my home! My mother asked all sorts of questions—she's awfully worried—"

"She must be awfully stuck-up if you're so scared of her knowin' you travel with me! But I knowed folks a'ready that's got twicet as much as she's got and they ain't ashamed to know me!"

"My mother isn't 'proud,' Meely—she's the gentlest, sweetest, dearest—"

He spoke with such feeling that Meely, who so seldom saw him show feeling for anyone but himself, was impressed.

"Well," she said with a long, deep sigh, "me I ain't got nothin' to be proud of—but my kar'kter!"

"Your—what?"

"My maur'l kar'kter."

"You mean your character?"

"Uh—huh. It's all I got."

"You've got something else—" He reached for her hand, drew off her cotton glove and clasped her fingers. "You've got—"

But she worked her hand free of his and drew on her glove again. "My fingers is cold."

He frowned. She might be glad he wanted to hold her hand!

"You not only have my mother, but your father, on the scent!" he reproached her. "What did you do to make him suspicious?"

"It was that there futch—Aunt Rosy tol' him about it. Did he—was he to see you?" faltered the girl—and the suspense in her voice was not assumed.

"No, but I had this letter from him." He drew an envelope from his pocket and handed it to her. "Read it—and see what mischief your fudge has made all 'round, my dear!"

It was a pathetic little note, Meely felt—poor Mr. Schwenckton anxiously endeavoring to protect his wayward child, yet equally anxious to avert dissension with his powerful neighbor by casting on him any base, unfounded suspicion; pointing out to St. Croix the impossibility of any safe or honorable relation between him and his daughter, due to their unsurmountable differences in station, wealth and education. Somehow, the most pathetic part of it to Meely was the poor man's struggle to write intelligent English. "Whiles we have always been in comfortable circumstances, yet limited, but honest and honorable."—"Our females in our family being ever Virtuous and very Chaste and never disgraced us, though many temptations."

Meely remembered, as she found the words all spelled correctly, how assiduously the farmer had, one evening, to her mystification, been consulting the dictionary and how he had asked her to spell for him several long words.

She was relieved to find that Nettie was referred to only as "My daughter," and not by name.

"Poor Pop," she sighed as she returned the letter to its envelope

"Well," She Said With a Long, Deep Sigh, "Me, I Ain't Got Nothin' to Be Proud of—but My Kar'kter!"

and passed it back to St. Croix, "he means so well by us children!"

"So you see, Meely, you've got to be careful. No more fudge!"

"I never conceited it would give all this trouble!" she lamented on the verge of tears.

St. Croix looked a shade less austere. "Where'd you get the spiffy coat?" he asked. "Looks for the world like English tweed."

"It's the teacher's. She left me borrow the loan of it off of her."

"Now, look here! Why can't you say simply that she lent it to you? instead of all those superfluous words—she let you borrow the loan of it off of her! Ye gods! 'She lent it to me.' That says what you mean, doesn't it? Five words instead of a dozen!"

"Ach, well!" pouted Meely, looking again as though she were on the verge of tears—and then suddenly, to her consternation, she quite unconsciously snickered—crushing her hand against her mouth to keep from laughing hysterically. Fortunately for her he took it for a suppressed sob.

"There, there, my dear!" he said half impatiently, half remorsefully. "Never mind! You're past teaching anyhow! Look here, Meely, why haven't you ever mentioned that the teacher boards with you? You've talked of everyone else in the household."

"Well, you see, I had afraid you might want to be gave an interduction to her and she's so pretty, I had jealous."

"She's a pretty little thing. But I wonder," he grinned, "what my brother, Marvin, thinks of such a little ignoramus teaching a district school! I didn't know they had such crude teachers as that in the schools!"

"But she's awful good in geography! She can bind every state on the patch-work quilt!"

"'Quilt'!"

"You know—the inap. And sums! You had ought to see her do sums once! My—goodness! To be sure, she can't talk wery correct. She gets her w's and we's mixed terrible! But United States history! Why, she knows even the footnotes, now mind I'm tellin' you!"

While she talked, he watched her with shining eyes, but it was her ravishing self, not Nettie's proficiency in sums and footnotes, that caused the shining.

"I declare, Meely, in that coat you could pass for anything at all! You look positively like a swell! Patrician, actually!" He laughed, little dreaming, of course, that the girl understood why he laughed; why he thought it funny that Meely Schwenckton should look "patrician, actually!"

"And if I really was so pa—high-toned like I look in this here coat," she responded wistfully, "you could marry me then! Ain't, Mr. Creighton?"

"Marriage isn't the happiest relation between a man and woman, Meely—there is a freer, happier relation," he said insinuatingly—ingratiatingly.

"But since I ain't high-toned," she broke in, "why do you take all this here worry and trouble to meet up with me?"

"You're always asking me that, Meely! I've told you—you know—"

"No, I don't. If you think I'm common—too common to marry—then what is it about me you like so good?"

"Well, if you've got to have an answer, I suppose, Meely," he said, regarding her appraisingly, "it's that you're absolutely feminine!"

"'Feminine'? Well, but my goodness—what would you expect?"

"It makes you, to most men, my dear, so irresistible! I can't understand how you've gone this long without being married. Why haven't you married, Meely?"

"Ach, I ain't got no curiosity!"

He winced. How blatantly vulgar she could be!

However, she had given him his cue—a wedge to break down barriers.

He found himself surprised at his own sense of reluctance to come to the point with her, to put his quest to the test; an undefined apprehension of disappointment—though of course that was ridiculous—surely she "loved" and desired him, or why had she been risking so much to meet him here? Surely she was flattered at his desire for her!

He suddenly snatched her to him with passionate kisses—so fiercely that this time she was too helpless in his hard grip to avert his lips—and into her ears he poured out words not in her vocabulary—she could only guess their meaning; could only surmise that now at last he was telling her what all along she had known—that he took her for a hussy!—and although through all these weeks she had been expecting this climax, yet it came to her now with a shuddering shock.

In vain she struggled to free herself from his arms and his appalling words.

"Let me go—or I'll scream!" she managed to gasp at last.

He was not too far gone to know the danger of her threat—their hilltop, though isolated, being not too distant for a scream to be heard from the valley below.

Panting, baffled, he dropped his arms from about her, his face distorted with a mingled resentment and an anguish of hungry yearning. But he clutched her skirt lest she get up and run away. She only moved, however, a few inches from him on the log, her whole body trembling, her face deathly white.

"If you touch me, I'll scream!" she gasped.

He could not find breath to answer her.

"Can we," she asked scarcely above a whisper, "talk this here thing out, Mr. Creighton?"

"What's there to say? I want you! You surely want me!—I'll amply reward you—"

"You mean—buy me?"

"Of course not—not more than you'll buy me. We want each other, Meely! I'll reward you for the risk you take—reward you well—"

"Do you mean you'll give me—money?"

"A pile of it—that you can put away for your marriage—"

Meely started—this was an amazing world that was being revealed to her! She had not dreamed how far some men would go, how ruthless they could be, in degrading a girl.

"For my marriage!" she breathed. "Ach, Mr. Creighton, I didn't know you thought that low-down of me!"

Before the look of utter dismay that had come into her face, he actually felt, to his own bewilderment, a momentary embarrassment. Was she going to be sentimental and scrupulous? That would make things much too difficult—he had certainly not anticipated having to wrestle with scruples!

"I don't think 'low-down' of you, Meely. We love each other—"

"Love? But I'd think, Mr. Creighton, that if a man loved a girl he'd purtect her, not hurt her!"

"But love never hurt anyone, Meely! It enriches and blesses—because it gives ecstasy! Ecstasy, Meely!"

"Supposin' you had a sister—would you go ahead and tell her to take such blessing and riches and ecstasy as you're offerin' me? Would you?"

(Continued Next Week)

LOCAL NEWS

A. W. Hill left Friday for Detroit, Mich., on a business mission.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson of Milwaukee, arrived Sunday to spend Christmas with his mother, Mrs. Selma Johnson.

Mrs. Legge Wallace left Friday for Persia, Iowa, to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. Willard.

A. L. Lamb returned Sunday from Tower Hill, Ill., bringing his parents with him to spend the winter here.

Miss Clara Johnson and friend of Iowa Falls, spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snyder, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scott and little son left Monday for Wichita, Kansas, to spend Christmas at the Clare Snyder home.

Donald McNulty and Gerald Barry, who have been attending Columbia College at Dubuque, came home Saturday to spend the holidays with relatives and friends.

The Misses Mariam McNulty and Loretta Barry who are attending Rosary College at Chicago, arrived Tuesday to spend Christmas with home folks.

Lyle Clemenson of Waterloo, formerly of Belmond, is in the Waterloo hospital as a result of being run over by a five-ton truck. Both legs were badly injured.

Ed Whity of Illinois has been a guest at the John Spitler home the past week. They were neighbors some 20 years ago.

Rev. O. H. Boening of Britt was a visitor, Tuesday, at the Rev. A. G. Langholz home.

Mrs. O. B. McGowan and children of Ocheydan are visiting Mrs. McGowan's parents, Rev. and Mrs. S. U. Leinbach.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanberg of Iowa Falls spent Sunday at the Gus Johnson home.

Rev. Harry Webb was a Klemme visitor Sunday.

Mrs. A. L. Lamb left Wednesday to spend Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Baker, at Aledo, Ill.

Mrs. R. C. Bras, who has been visiting relatives here, left recently to join her husband at Minneapolis, and from there they will go west to spend the winter. Their home is in Canada.

COMPLETE GRAVELING OF PRIMARY ROAD NO. 15

(Continued from page 1)

will carry the slow or stop warnings. It is expected these signs will be in place by the beginning of heavy traffic next spring. "Slow" or "Stop" at the cross roads will depend upon the amount of traffic at the intersection, and the visibility at that particular point.

Ernest Stapley was able to return to work, Monday, following the severe burns he received a couple week ago when his car caught fire. Some gasoline exploded while he was engaged in repairing the auto, severely burning both hands, his face and neck. The wounds have healed nicely, however, altho he suffered intensely for several days.

Mrs. H. L. Gowdy narrowly escaped injury, recently, when while driving their car she struck a telephone pole at Clear Lake. A large truck which she was trying to pass, suddenly moved into the middle of the road. Mrs. Gowdy applied the brakes on her car, causing it to swerve to the side where it hit the telephone pole head-on. The bumper on the car took up the shock of the impact and saved the car from damage. The pole was broken square off a couple feet from the ground, and fell over on top of the Gowdy car. Wires on the pole, however, kept it from falling clear down so that the pole just dented the sun visor of the auto.

Chas. McNamara figured in an auto wreck last week Tuesday afternoon, near Albert Lea, Minn. Mr. McNamara was driving his Ford, enroute to Belmond, and traveling on the highway a few miles from Albert Lea when two men in a Buick ran into him from the rear. McNamara's car was thrown off to the side of the road and narrowly escaped going down an enbankment into the ditch. The rear box and fenders were smashed, and a wheel torn off, besides other damage. Mr. McNamara was given a ride back to Albert Lea by a passing motorist, from where he took the train home, leaving his car to be repaired. The first of the week he went to Albert Lea to drive his Ford home. The men in the Buick sped on, but McNamara secured the number on their car and expects to make them stand the cost of repairing his Ford.

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association was held Friday, Dec. 16 in the high school auditorium. Only a short business meeting was held. A very fine program was given by all the grades and their teachers, from the kindergarten to the 6th grade inclusive. Much hard work was shown by all the teachers and greatly appreciated by the large crowd of parents and friends who attended.

A rising vote of thanks was given to the teachers and pupils for their untiring efforts in preparing such a good entertainment.

A small blaze Wednesday afternoon at the Hawkeye Manufacturing Company plant in south Belmond, was extinguished by the fire department. Damage was small.

Mrs. A. W. Martin, and daughter, Harriet, drove to Cambridge, yesterday. From there Harriet and Mrs. Ketchum will go to Pine Knob, Wyoming, by train to spend the holidays with the Ketchum family who are living there now. Mrs. Ketchum teaches at Cambridge.

GUERNSEY MILK—
10c A QUART
Buy Luick's Guernsey Dairy Milk at City Market, Petersen's Market, Robinson's Grocery, Parson's Store and Bump's Grocery. You can "whip" our cream—but you can't "beat" our milk. 62*

FOR SALE—Dressed chickens. A. W. Martin. 526

HOWARD R. WOLLE WED RUTH BOND, TUESDAY

(Continued from page 1)

land, O., in electrical work in the Belmond beet sugar factory, and in a plant which this company erected at La Luna, Honduras, Central America. After returning from Central America he reentered telephone work with a company at Sioux City, Iowa, remaining two years. In 1922 he returned to Belmond as chief electrician with the Iowa Valley Co., in the Belmond sugar factory.

After one campaign here he went to Chicago to reenter electrical school in a specializing course. He was then employed by the Automatic Electric, Inc. of Chicago, and sent to Pontiac, Ill., as operating managen of the Pontiac Home Telephone Co., in March, 1923.

In November, 1924, Mr. Wolle was transferred to Bombay, India, thru the Automatic Telephone Co., Ltd., of Liverpool, England, a branch of the Automatic Electric, Inc., of Chicago. He is Operating Engineer at Bombay for the Bombay Telephone Co., Ltd., of that city, the largest automatic telephone system in the Orient.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolle will spend a day or two at Fargo, N. D., with her sister, Mrs. S. G. Mason, and will arrive in Belmond tomorrow. After Christmas they leave for Chicago, and go from there to New York City where on Dec. 31 they sail on the steamship "Lancastria" for England, France, and Bombay, India, arriving at Bombay about Feb. 1, 1928. They will remain in India several years.

SALE DATES CLAIMED

DEC. 22—Reg. Houghton, 2 miles west, ½ mile south of Goodell. Closing out farm sale.

DEC. 28—Farmers' Savings Bank, Meservey. Sale of blacksmith supplies and tools. See ad this issue.

JAN. 12—Earl Martin, Closing out farm and Holstein cattle sale.

FEB. 15—Chas. Haupt. Closing out farm sale.

FEB. 22—S. A. Bohning, closing out farm sale.

The City Meat Market established what is probably a record for Wright county when they sold 75 hogs in the past 10 days. That's some amount of pork. Most of the animals were sold in half-hog sizes.

Glasses fitted.—A. H. Berger, Specialist, Clarion, Iowa. 528c

WANT ADS

FOR SALE—Five head of horses, from 3 to 11 years old.—Geo. Braun. Phone 1207. 62*

FOR SALE—Year old Spotted Poland China boar, eligible to registry.—Gunnar Ahlstrom. 62*

FOR SALE—Three two-year old colts, coming three, and one five year old bay mare. Located at Joseph Pletch farm. Inquire at Hub Motor Co. 63c

FOR SALE—Sandwich 48-ft. steel grain elevator; 2-row John Deere cultivator; John Deere hay loader. All new.—Elmer Jacobson, Belmond. Route 4. 1*

FOR SALE—Black Shetland pony, 5 years old. Broke to children, kind and gentle. A dandy Christmas present for some boy or girl.—P. W. Kaufman. 52c

FOR SALE—2 year old, registered Shropshire ram. Also one grade ram lamb.—John Mack, Belmond. Phone 3818. 52c

FOR SALE — Poland China boar, year old. Good blood lines. Eligible to registry. Phone 2807. 1*

FOR SALE—Spotted Poland China boar, 18 months old. Eligible to registry. Phone 2717. 1*

FOR SALE—A choice P. B. registered Shorthorn bull, 14 months old. Color dark red. Ready for service. A few pure bred Duroc Jersey boars, most popular blood lines, priced to sell.—Emil W. Lau, Route 1, Klemme, Iowa. 4½ miles north of Goodell, ½ mile west and 1 mile south of Klemme, on gravel road N. 1b. 62

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE —R. C. Silver Laced Wyandotte cockerels. Norris Odland, Belmond, Iowa. 52*

WARNING!

The party who stole the tub I purchased at the Geo. Dippel sale is warned to return same immediately. John D. Pals. 1*

BELMOND MARKETS

(Subject to change.)

Hens	18c
Springs	19c
Roosters	08c
Ducks	16c
Geese	15c
Eggs	45c
Butterfat	48c
Creamery butter	50c
Oats	44c
New corn	70c
Barley	68c

ROBINSON'S
. . . STORE . . .
GROCERY
BAKERY
We are wishing our friends and customers A merry, merry Christmas
We help you, you help us.

CITY MARKET'S SPECIALS!
Friday - Saturday
December 23-24
Pork Sausage, per lb. ____ 18c
Pork Roast per lb. ____ 18c
Banquet Oleo per lb. ____ 20c
Watch for our Specials Every Week!
Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning
City Meat Market
Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207 Belmond, Iowa

ATWATER KENT RADIO
1928 prices
Model E Radio Speaker $24
Model 30 Receiver $65
ENORMOUS public demand made these sensational new prices possible.
Come in and see what good sound radio really is—and how easy it is to buy.
Belmond Storage Battery Company
J. W. Scott, Proprietor
Phone 46 Official 2417

Kinseth's Store News
Your Christmas Dinner will be one of the big events, of course, of the day. We just want to remind you that you can get everything you need to make it a success at our store.
We have all kinds of fresh fruits — oragnes, bananas, and grapes.
If in need of Christmas nuts, call us. We have mixed nuts, walnuts and fresh peanuts, also fresh candy.
We have fresh vegetables of all kinds. Just phone 19 when in need of some.
December 19 to 24 is HEINZ WEEK. We are going to cut every item in this line and let you sample it. Come in!
We wish you all A Merry Christmas.

We're Grateful
NOW that the rush of the CHRISTMAS season is about OVER and a BRAND New Year is just AHEAD of us WE want to take this OPPORTUNITY to wish YOU a Merry Christmas AND a Happy New Year! WE realize that there ISN'T a thing original ABOUT that expression AND that it may sound FLAT and foolish to you BUT we can assure you THAT in all the millions OF times, it's been SPOKEN, it never has BEEN said with more SINCERITY than we are SAYING it right now— YOU Belmond people HAVE been good to us THE past year, probably BETTER than we deserve, AND we hope that the NEW YEAR may be filled WITH many rich blessings FOR you and your loved ONES.
P. S.—We are overstocked ON good dolls. One-fourth OFF on all dolls selling for OVER one dollar. TRY the Drug Store First!
Herman L Schultz
SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

DANCE!
At the
Belmond Opera House
FRIDAY DEC. 23rd
Music By
Kelly's Syncopating Trio
25c
IS ALL---FOR ALL
Come---Everybody Welcome!
Wednesday, Dec. 28
DANCE!
Music by
Minneapolis Black Devils

LYRIC THEATRE
Geo. Hake, Manager
SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY NIGHTS
FRIDAY and SATURDAY DECEMBER 23 and 24
"GALLOPING FURY"
Western picture with Hoot Gibson, Sally Rand, Otis Harlan, Frank Beal, Ed Coxen. From the story 'A Tidy Toreador' by Peter B. Kyne. A story of the West embracing all the colorful atmosphere of the new country.
OH, WHAT A MAN
Larry Semon comedy
10c and 25c
MONDAY and TUESDAY DECEMBER 26 and 27
"HER WILD OAT"
With Colleen Moore; the merriest fun film Colleen has ever given you with the kind of story that keeps you guessing and gasping. Adapted from the story by Howard Irving Young.
Fox News
10c and 30c
WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY DECEMBER 28 and 29
"THE VALLEY OF THE GIANTS"
With Milton Sills, Arthur Stone, Paul Hurst, Geo. Fawcett. A timber country melodrama from the story by Peter B. Kyne. Picture was photograhed in the redwood country in California.
DOG HEAVEN
Our Gang comedy
10c and 25c

GIVE
Fancy Work for Christmas
Numerous articles already worked up and moderately priced
Metallic Hats
Hosiery
Corsages
The Hat Shoppe
Belmond, Iowa

CHRISTMAS DINNER!
Sunday, Dec. 25
A holiday feast, home-cooked, you will thoroughly enjoy and long remember.
And Everyday--
MEALS LUNCHES
SHORT ORDERS
ICE CREAM CANDY
CIGARS TOBACCO
Look for the Red Light!
RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

MILK---10c A QUART
Baker's Dairy wish to announce they still deliver milk at
10c A QUART
And it is also for sale at
10c A QUART
At Kinseth's, Bump Grocery and Cleveland's Store also Belmond Cafe
FOR CHRISTMAS
Place your orders early for Coffee Cream and Whipping Cream . Phone 8 or 2207
BAKER DAIRY

Special Prices on SUITS and OVERCOATS
for Christmas
Suits $10.00 to $39.50

Overcoats $10.00 to $37.50
Some Real Values Going at these Prices!
A Suit or Overcoat would make a much appreciated gift for the man or boy.
OTHER GIFT IDEAS FOR MEN
Shirts, Hose, Slippers, Scarfs, Pajamas, Ties, Bath Robes, Gloves
SMITH SERVICE & SKOVLIN SATISFACTION
Phone 50 Belmond, Iowa

BELMOND HAS IT

Belmond Independent

AND HERALD-PRESS

BUY IN BELMON

ESTABLISHED 1919 — CONSOLIDATED 1927

VOL. 9 — BELMOND, IOWA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1927. — NO

Leinbach To Head Farm Bureau For Ensuing Year

Local Man Chosen To Head County Organization Another Term

The annual Wright County Farm bureau meeting called a rather small group of people, but the purpose of the meeting was carried out.

Officers for the coming year will be: S. U. Leinbach, president, Pleasant township; F. F. Soults, vice president, Grant township; George Kirstein, secretary, Woolstock township; Ralph Smith, treasurer, Dayton township; Mrs. Fred Allen, Troy township, county project leader.

President Leinbach is commenting

President Leinbach in commenting on the work of the state and national federation, stated that this alone was worth a great deal to agriculture. Their work on the equalization of taxes, freight rates, the promotion of the producers commission association on the terminal markets, their fight for the McNary-Haugen bill, all of these things have helped the farming districts.

Club work was mentioned as one of the outstanding features of the farm bureau, as it teaches the farmers cooperation, love of the thing we are doing and has a practical bearing or value that increases as the years go by.

President Leinbach said that he had found a splendid spirit of cooperation in the ranks of the farm bureau. This would grow stronger as more people came to realize the worthwhile projects undertaken by the membership.

L. W. Collins, chairman of the marketing and service department of the county organization, said in part, "This work is just starting. Many do not know of the opportunity offered through the service department. The automobile and life insurance are two new phases of the federation and deserve our investigation and support."

S. U. Leinbach was selected as the county delegate to the state federation meeting in Des Moines, January 11-13, L. W. Collins alternate.

The last meeting of the farm bureau board will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. on December 31 in the bureau office in Clarion. This will be a general meeting for men and women of the 1927 and 1928 boards.

LANGDON-RETLEFF

Della Elizabeth, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Langdon, prosperous farmers residing two miles east of Galt, and William Retleff, second son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Retleff, prominent farmers near Rowan, were united in marriage Christmas Day, Dec. 25, at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. Marquardt, pastor of the Rowan Congregational church officiated, the ring ceremony being used. Only immediate relatives and friends were present.

The young people were accompanied by Frank Retleff, brother of the bridegroom, as best man, and Miss Veva Hill, as bridesmaid.

The bride was attired in a gown of blue crepe satin.

Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served, and the next day the couple left for a short honeymoon trip to Minneapolis.

Mrs. Retleff has been making her home with her parents on the farm. Mr. Retleff is engaged in farming his father's place, three miles north of Rowan, in company with his brother, Frank, and the couple will be at home there after January 1.

INFANT DIES

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Lonning mourn the death of their two weeks old baby, which passed away last week. Funeral services for the little one were held Friday, at the home in Belmond township. Burial was in St. Olaf church cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our beloved baby boy, also for the beautiful flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Lonning and Family.

ACKLEY WINS OVER CENTRAL STATES CO.

The following from the Ackley Journal concerns the fight between that town and the Central States Electric Co., which has been endeavoring to force its way into that community, and will be of interest to Belmond and neighboring towns:

"Saturday the supreme court of Iowa overruled the petition for a re-hearing which was argued last Tuesday in the high line (Central States) temporary injunction matter. This is the matter of appeal from the temporary injunction restraining the Central States Electric company and others from building the high line to the Ackley (Hadley) creamery over railroad right of way, but crossing streets. The supreme court affirmed the decision of Judge Garfield granting the temporary injunction last July. The petition for re-hearing was filed by the defendants at once and was to come up last September, but was put over until December on request of the defendants, in order that they might be heard by the full bench instead of one division of the supreme court which generally decides cases on appeal. Last Tuesday F. J. McGreevy was at Des Moines to argue against the re-hearing for the town, and Attorney Boardman of Marshalltown argued for the defendants.

"Meantime, Judge Clock had announced at Eldora while holding court there, that the matter of making the injunction permanent, which was tried Nov. 28, 1927, is decided in favor of the town. This announcement was made Dec. 19.

"This ought to end the litigation. But utility companies are not speedy in letting go of litigation when they want to annoy or force the giving of something to them. The town of Ackley is fortunate in having a plant of its own, not dependant on the uncertainty of weather conditions affecting long distance lines, or unusual methods of computing rates. The change to alternating current and the final decisions against the high line will put Ackley in splendid condition on the light question.

"The defendants may appeal from making of the temporary injunction permanent, and may even ask another stay, but it seems hardly likely they will get another one in view of the prompt action of the supreme court in overruling their petition for rehearing in the appeal from the temporary injunction.

"Their persistence in litigation is probably only a small sample of what we should have if they were to be permanently with us. Towns where high lines are doing business by permission of the town, are in many instances in court over the question of rates and compliance with franchise provisions."

COMMUNITY CLUB MEETING

The Community Club will hold their December meeting on Friday afternoon of this week, Dec. the 30th.

There is to be an interesting meeting with our girls on the program. A piano solo by Shirley Brooks, a reading by Gladys Barry, a vocal duet by Mrs. Louis and Miss Ida Steenblock, a piano duet by Ruth Ramsay and Mildred Jacobson and a review of a short story by Mrs. H. F. Luick.

The hostesses are Mesdames A. Wenzel, C. I. Williams, A. E. Martin, G. E. Finch, Louie Moe and Chas. Pryor.

Come and bring a neighbor.

GOOD FELLOWSHIP CLUB MEETS TONIGHT

Tonight, Dec. 29, at 8 o'clock, the reorganization meeting of the Good Fellowship Club is scheduled to be held at the library. All men of town and country who are interested in having this club continue are requested to be present. Upon the attendance, and the interest manifested, depends the future of the club. The usual refreshments will be served at cost.

BELMOND WEATHER

As reported by H. F. Luick, Co-operative Observer, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the week of Dec. 18 to Dec. 24.

Date	High	Low	Prec.	Char of Day
18	6	-4	T	Pt cloud
19	12	-7	—	Clear
20	32	-5	—	Clear
21	27	6	—	Clear
22	23	9	—	Cloudy
23	25	-3	—	Cloudy
24	31	11	—	Clear

The New Year

$65 Cow Results In Over $1400.00 During Five Years

Four Calves And Butterfat Values Show Result Of Proper Attention

What good breeding, proper feeding and the right kind of care will do for the farmer with his dairy cows was illustrated in the history of one animal belonging to J. M. Sampson, and sold at his sale recently. This cow, a Grade Guernsey, listed as number 2, was purchased by Mr. Sampson five years ago for $65. Each year since she had given birth to a heifer calf, sold at the sale and listed under numbers 10, 8, 4, and 17. The price brought at Sampson's sale on these five cows, the original cow and her four offspring, was as follows:

No. 2	$135.00
No. 10	127.00
No. 8	102.50
No. 4	70.00
No. 17	39.00
Total Sale Value	$473.50

In the five years Sampson owned the original cow, No. 2, her butterfat produced in dollars and cents, as taken from the cow testing association records of Wright county, was:

1st Year	$100.14
2nd Year	125.27
3rd Year	156.25
4th Year	186.99
5th Year (Part Year)	77.09
Total	$645.74

Butterfat production in cash as shown by the testing association records of No. 2's calves, Numbers 8 and 10 was:

No. 8, first year	$135.39
second year (part)	54.29
Total	$189.68
No. 10, first year	$109.27

A summary of the foregoing gives the value Mr. Sampson received during the five years from the original cow, and her calves, in butterfat production and sale price:

Cow and 4 heifers	$ 473.50
Value of No. 2's butterfat	645.74
Value of No. 8's butterfat	189.68
Value of No. 10's butter fat	$109.27
Total 5-year value	$1,418.19

From $65 to $1,418.19 in five years. Any farmer or dairyman will be forced to admit that this $65 cow was a profitable investment. Good breeding to begin with, a careful check of production, combined with proper feeding, good care and sanitary barn conditions each played a part in producing this fine record. Without them, any one or all of them, it is not probable that any such total would have been reached, and is evidence that Mr. Sampson knows the production business in dairy cattle. The total amount, $1,418.19, is exclusive of the skimmed milk and manure values, which, to arrive at a full value-received conclusion, should be figured in along with the sale value and butterfat production of the cows. If this were done, the total amount would run considerably higher.

LIST YOUR DATE

Farmers who expect to hold sales this winter are invited to list their date with the Independent. There is no charge for this, and it reserves the date so another farmer planning a sale will not choose the same day. Whether or not you get your advertising here, we will be glad to list your date.

BOENING-MISSAL NUPTIALS

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Sunday, December 25, at 2 P. M., in the First Lutheran church, Britt, Iowa, when Miss Esther Missal became the bride of Rev. Otto Boening. To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, the bridal couple was led to the altar by the bride's brother, Mr. Herbert Missal, and Miss Elsie Boening followed by Miss Schalinsky and Mr. Henry Boening. Rev. Arthur Langholz delivered the nuptial sermon, while Rev. H. Schoenlein spoke the words that made them man and wife. The impressive ring ceremony was used. The ceremony was enhanced by a solo "I Love You Truly," sung by the groom's brother, Mr. H. Boening.

The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of white silk canton crepe and wore a tulle veil caught in a cap effect, held by orange blossoms, carrying a bouquet of roses, lily of the valley and ferns. The groom wore a suit of conventional black. Miss Schalinsky wore a gown of pale green silk and Miss Boening a gown of pink silk, carrying a bouquet of roses.

A reception was held at the home of the bride. A bountiful dinner was served to relatives and neighboring pastors.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. Fred Missal of Britt, Iowa, and is well known and admired by the entire community for her amiable character and many accomplishments.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Boening of Mapleton, Minn., He is a graduate of St. Paul Luther Seminary, St. Paul, Minn., having taken a previous course in the schools of Germany. He accepted the call to the First Lutheran church in the spring, and is a young man of high ideals and sterling worth.

He is well known in the vicinity of Belmond, having taken charge of St. John's Lutheran church during its recent vacancy.

They left the same evening for Mapleton, Minn. to visit with the groom's parents, and then will spend a few days in St. Paul. They will be at home to friends at Britt after January 1st.

Indications Point To Decrease In Pigs Next Spring

Seven Of Nine Districts In Iowa Show Decrease In Sows Kept

Hog producers of Iowa report a decrease of at least five per cent in the number of sows held for farrowing next spring. This is the greatest decrease reported for any of the corn belt states, with the exception of Michigan, Iowa and Minnesota were the two corn belt states west of the Mississippi River to report a decrease in the number of sows or to be bred for farrowing for next spring.

There is a reported increase of one and three-tenths per cent in the sows held for farrowing next spring in the eleven corn belt states. However, Leslie M. Carl, Federal Agricultural Statistician in charge of the crop and livestock estimating service in Iowa, states that some allowance should be made for the average decline between the breeding intentions as reported in December and the actual farrowings in the spring. Such an allowance would indicate that actual farrowings of sows in Iowa next spring might be as much as eight to ten per cent fewer than in the spring of 1927. Mr. Carl explains that allowing for a normal shrinkage between now and farrowing time will probably mean 6 to 8 per cent fewer sows farrowing next spring in the corn belt than a year ago, and about 3 to 5 per cent less for the United States.

The survey just completed indicated an average of 71.6 hogs per farm in Iowa; 12.1 sows per farm bred for farrowing in the spring of 1928; 3.4 sows per farm farrowing in the fall of 1927; and 5.5 pigs per litter saved in the fall 1927 farrowings.

EVANS-TOFT

Sadie Luella Evans and Iver Andrew Toft were united in marriage Tuesday morning, Dec. 27, at 10:30, at the Trinity Lutheran parsonage in Belmond, the pastor, Rev. B. Guldseth, performing the ceremony. The couple was accompanied by Miss Mabel Evans and Mr. George Gelder, as witnesses.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Severt Evans, residing six miles west of Belmond. Mr. Toft is a successful young farmer. The newlyweds will begin housekeeping on a farm in Story county, owned by the groom's father.

JENISON-LACKORE

Vere Jenison, of Belmond, and Miss Dorothy Lackore, of Goodell, were married Saturday, Dec. 17, at Garner, Rev. H. V. Reed, pastor of the Garner Congregational church officiating. They were accompanied by Miss Velma Kahl and John Tiara.

BANK ASSETS SOLD AT GARNER FRIDAY

The sale of the remaining assets of the defunct banks of Hancock county, namely the Garner Trust & Savings Bank of Garner, the State Savings Bank of Klemme and the Peoples State bank at Corwith, which took place at the court house Friday afternoon, indicated a tremendous shrink in the value of the offerings as compared with what they originally represented when being sold as part of the assets of these banks.

In the case of the Klemme bank the remaining assets represented by notes, judgments, unpaid stock assessment, overdrafts, tax receipts, and cash items, made up a total of $97,899.43. The total bid on these assets was $375, and they were sold to Smith & Smith, a firm of attorneys of Fairfield, Iowa. A farm, the title of which is in the Klemme bank, yet remains to be disposed of. When this is done the affairs of that bank will be closed.

The remaining assets of the Peoples State bank of Corwith was the next largest of the three offerings. The total of unpaid notes, judgments, overdrafts and judgments, amounted to $57,753.25. In this instance C. J. Nauman of Corwith was the successful bidder. His bid was $265 for the enitire outfit.

Next the remaining notes, judgments, claims for stock assessments, judgments for stock assessments, cash item, tax receipts, overdrafts, bonds and securities of the Garner Trust & Savings bank were offered. The total of the several items mentioned was $43,108.61. These were also purchased by Smith & Smith of Fairfield, the same firm that bought the remaining assets of the Klemme bank.

Three pieces of town property were also sold as assets of the Garner Trust & Savings bank. The first two, the Drake property in the east part of town, and the Tessier residence just south of the A. Y. P. service station, were purchased by R. B. Orr of this place. Consideration, both properties, $1,425. The third residence property offered was the Gaard home in south Garner. This last residence brought $1,225 but was sold subject to a $1,200 mortgage. The two properties purchased by Mr. Orr were clear of any incumbrance.

The sale was conducted by Sheriff Peck Hanson at the court room of the court house Friday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock, and was concluded at about 4 o'clock.—Garner Signal.

SHEFFIELD MEN ADMIT THEFT FROM FARM HOME

Following their confession of theft of a miscellaneous assortment of personal luxuries and ammunition, Henry Walters, 30, and Howard Lantz, 26, of Sheffield, will appear before Judge S. A. Clock this week to plead guilty to the charge of robbery by breaking into and entering a dwelling house.

The men were arrested Thursday by Sheriff Let McNames and charged with stealing from the Halfacre farm residence, two miles east of Sheffield, the following articles: A sewing basket, box of cigars, fountain pen, a pair of gloves, shotgun shells, 22 rifle and shells, three gallon jar of lard, lady's new corset, one South Bend watch, pair of sox supporters and a jar of vanishing cream.

Theft of these articles was discovered by Mr. Halfacre when he returned to his home late on the evening of Nov. 26. He notified the police authorities and investigation was begun. A clue leading to the arrest of the culprits was not discovered until last Thursday morning when a son of Mr. Halfacre while hunting near Sheffield, identified his father's rifle in the hands of another boy. On questioning the boy, he learned the rifle had been borrowed from Henry Walters. Walters was arrested along with his friend Lantz. Most of the articles reported stolen were found in the Walters' home or in the Lantz' room. The former is married and has three children. Lantz is single.

Both men pleaded guilty at a hearing before D. W. Parks, of Hampton, justice of the peace and were bound over to the district court. They are now in the Franklin County jail awaiting an opportunity to appear before Judge Clock.—Hampton Recorder.

Dows Farmer In County Jail For Forgery

Forged Employer's Name To $60 Check, Split With Accomplice

H. W. Miller of Dows was landed in the county jail Saturday night on a check forgery charge, which he at first stoutly denied, but later admitted his guilt. Miller had been picking corn for G. D. Denger, a prominent farmer living south of Dows, and in some manner became quite familiar with his employer's signature. After a little practice he was able to produce a good imitation. On Thursday last he presented a $60 check at the Farmers bank in that city, which was cashed without question. It was drawn on the bank of Galt, where it arrived the following day for clearance. Joe Denger, a son of G. D. Denger, is cashier and as soon as he sets eyes upon the check knew something was wrong. He was familiar with his father's business transactions and knew he did not owe such an amount to the party named on the face of the check. Turning it over he found that the endorsement did not agree with the payee's name, being entirely different. He refused to honor the check and returned it to the Dows bank. The officers of that institution set about to locate the forger, but were unsuccessful. As soon as Night Marshal Hemingway learned of the matter he called Sheriff Johnson at Clarion. After a little investigation they arrested H. W. "Red" Miller, who later proved to be the guilty party, but repeatedly denied any connection therewith. The sheriff asked him to write a few checks for examination. At first he was very deliberate and careful, but in writing out fifteen or twenty of them he made a few slips. These were compared with the forged check and the officer was soon convinced that he had the right man. Some of his stories did not dovetail with each other and when finally cornered said he was willing to pay Denger back his money. He admitted he had a partner with whom he split the money received from the check. His partner, he said, left town the same day the check was cashed. "Red" also admitted that he had served six months in the state reformatory at St. Cloud, Minn., for the larceny of a quantity of flax from a farmer.

Sheriff Johnson at once set about to locate "Red's" partner, in which he was successful, and he too was placed in the county jail. His name is John Cain and he was found near Ottumwa. He plead innocent of any wrong doing, but when told his partner was already in jail, he too admitted his part in the crime. He stated that "Red" wrote the check and that he cashed it. He received nearly $50 and the balance went to "Red." The two men were bound over to await action of the grand jury on Tuesday, each being held under a $150 bond, which they are unable to furnish.

County Agent Tomlinson had a boil on his knee last week. It was a bad one, so bad that it [illegible] himself and Ford [illegible] ditch. It happened this way. Tomlinson was enroute to [illegible] field. Soon after passing [illegible] Mathias farm home he attempted to adjust his pant leg, to prevent its drawing across his sore knee. As he did so he looked up just in time to see his car headed for the ditch, where it rolled over on its side before stopping. Only slight damage resulted.

Harry Rogers as guardian of Susan Rogers of Clarion, has filed suit in district court vs. Gertrude McMillan of Eagle Grove to collect the sum of $150.00 on account of services performed by the late J. A. Rogers, attorney. Said services consisted in compiling the claim of Laura Middleton on the estate of Adeline Harpham.

L. A. Andrew, receiver of the Citizens' State bank of Eagle Grove, brings action against Arthur Nervig et al, asking the foreclosure of a mortgage securing a $1600 note.

C. C. and Mabel McClain, formerly of Eagle Grove, are defendants in a suit brought by [illegible]

(Continued on page 4)

Belmond Independent
AND HERALD-PRESS
Consolidated 1927
R. A. RANKINS
Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 18, 1919, at the post office at Belmond, Iowa, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

Subscription price: $2.00 a year in the state of Iowa. Outside state of Iowa, $2.50 a year. All subscriptions strictly in advance. Paper stops at expiration.

ADVERTISING RATES
Display, per column inch ____25c
Locals, per line _____10c
Classified, per word _____02c
(One cent per word ensuing insertions. Minimum charge 25c per insertion.)

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

EDITORIALS

Oswald Garrison Villard in the Nation: "Does "Al" (Smith) drink and does he drink too much? Well, I am reliably informed that he drinks every day and the number of his cocktails and highballs is variously estimated at from four to eight. It is positively denied that he is ever intoxicated, much gossip to the contrary notwithstanding. He is a wet, and he lives up to it, and for that consistency he is to be praised. * * * One may differ with "Al" Smith on his attitude toward prohibition, but no one can call him a hypocrite."

In seeking to make Smith appear favorably in the eyes of the voting public, many of his supporters are unconsciously condemning him, as Villard does in the foregoing quotation. It is generally conceded that Smith drinks intoxicating liquor, altho he may not become intoxicated, and his friends and political supporters, knowing this fact and not being able to get around it, attempt to turn it to his advantage. They say he should be respected and praised for his consistency in drinking openly favoring liquor when a believer in it. As a matter of fact, Smith should be condemned rather than praised. Having and drinking intoxicating liquor not only unlawful in America, but is incorporated as a part of the national constitution. What the intelligent American voter think of a man who acknowledges he is ready to accept the leadership of the greatest nation on earth, when that man openly, defiantly, and flagrantly violates our constitution, and his friends praise him for it? Is that the kind of a man to head the country, who violates a constitutional law because he does not agree with it?

Every man is entitled to his opinion, and the free expression of it. If he believes a partcular law is wrong, and should be repealed, he is at liberty to work for its nullification. Al Smith is to be respected for his stand on the prohibition question; that is his belief, and while most of us disagree with him we can respect his opinion. But prohibition is a part of our constitution, it is one of our national laws. As such it is deserving of observance by Al Smith exactly the same as by any one of the one hundred and fifteen million other Americans, and as such Al Smith is to be condemned for deliberately and boastfully violating the law as any one of the said one hundred and fifteen millions should be condemned.

The making of resolutions at the beginning of a new year is a time honored custom, and a happy custom. There is none among us who looking back over the twelve months gone, cannot see where we have erred, where we could have done better, and where if we had another opportunity, we would do differently. Resolving to do better things is always worth while. It strengthens character, builds will power, and brings a happier, more cheerful view of life.

Nineteen twenty-eight should witness the resolution on the part of Belmond citizens to work together for the acquisition of those things which will make their home town better throughout the coming year. During the twelve months we have let many things slip by which, looking back now, we wish we had secured. We have missed many opportunities of cooperating with each other to our mutual benefit and the benefit of our community. Many times we would have secured needed results had we worked together better, had we had just a little more faith and willingness.

Looking back over 1927, there is no business man, no mercantile firm, no citizen who can truthfully say it was a successful year from a community standpoint. Individually it was for many; collectively it was a failure. Nothing constructive, nothing beneficial, remains as a result of efforts expended throughout the year. Each of us can see where lack of faith, lack of trust, petty fears and jealousies on the part of every one of us held us back from accomplishing the things we wanted and needed. There was a lack of leadership, a lack of definite purpose, an aimless wandering which we cannot afford, not only from a community standpoint but in dollars and cents to each of us, to permit in 1928.

Reinbeck Courier: There is something about this job of publishing a weekly newspaper that looks easy—until the onlooker actually tries it. The latest to acknowledge that it is an easy job and one fit for a man about ready to quit active work is Federal Judge Kenyon, who has announced it as his intention of buying a half-interest in an Iowa weekly newspaper when he gets ready to retire and to settle down amid beautiful surroundings, rest and invite his soul and write just what he feels like. It sounds nice but the judge, wise man that he is, is due for a most certain awakening. On most anything else in the world we would not presume to set our opinion against that of Judge Kenyon but we have eight years of more or less experience in this to set against his simple and child-like innocence. And we are warning him right now that if he undertakes to get out any kind of a weekly newspaper, he will work as hard or harder than any judge on any bench in the United States.

A famous novelist, Sherwood Anderson, recently bought two West Virginia newspapers, saying that he desired to have some means other than his books with which to make a living, and that continuous literary work caused a writer to degenerate into a hack. Mr. Anderson, we promise, will find one of two things facing him. If he does enough around his print shops to make a living, he won't have much time for other writing. And if he keeps on with writing his newspapers won't be nearly as much help in making his living as he expects.

We have seen half a dozen city newspaper men get into the weekly newspaper field, feeling that here was the place to make money with little work. They are escaping, they thought the mad rush and bustle of a daily office were almost taking a vacation and were to get well paid for it. Without exception all of them have gone back to city daily work. The management of a weekly appeared to offer problems that overshadowed even the haste and hurry of daily work.

All of which offers some comfort to the country newspaper man when one of his subscribers intimates that it must be nice to have a job where you work only one day.

Not that we think we and the other country editors are smarter or better workers than anyone else, but we have all learned that if it wasn't work we asked for when we started, it was work we got and have to be satisfied with.

Getting back to Kenyon, we once heard Governor Kendall, while still in the office, tell a gathering of newspaper men of his ambition to own a country newspaper as soon as he got out of office. The governor has been out several years and has shown the same rare judgment out of office as he always displayed in office —he hasn't bought that newspaper yet.

Perry Herald: Perry business men in promoting a Dollar day sales find that a grave injustice is being done the small town merchants by the Post Office department in the matter of postal rates. A rate of 1½ cents is charged on each eight-page copy of the Dollar Day News which is being circulated within a radius of 20 miles of Perry, yet on the same mail, copies of a Des Moines (Iowa) mail-order paper of 24 pages came to Perry bearing only 1 cent postage. The Des Moines paper weighs slightly more than the Perry paper and was carried hundreds of miles for 1 cent while the local paper which endeavors to develop trade at home, costs 50 per cent more to deliver within a stone's throw compared to Des Moines.

Local post office officials give no satisfactory reason for the discrimination against the home merchant except that a 24-page paper is rated as a catalogue, though trade organizations admit that the big mail-order houses are so influential that concessions are made. If the 8-page paper of the local business men weighed more than the 24-page Des Moines paper there would be justification for a higher rate, but when it weighs slightly less and is carried about one-fiftieth of the distance, then it is difficult to admit the consistency of the situation.

There is a serious struggle now going on in many of the small towns for existence, and while they ask no favors, they do feel that they should have an even chance. The engaging of the Post Office department in soliciting business, sending the work to the contractor in Ohio, collecting the bill and delivering the merchandise at a lower price than individuals can do it, even below recognized cost values, is another item that is being carefully investigated by business men who do not believe that the government should engage in private enterprise.

The attention of Congressman A. D. Sanders, long a member of the post office committee in congress through which all postal legislation must pass, is being called to the grave injustice being done his constituents.

Completing The Picture

A negro rector was preaching on the horros of hell and when he finished the phrase, "And there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth," there was a sudden burst of emotion in the front pew.

"What's the matter, Myriah?" he asked.

Dere, sah, I'se ain't got no teeth," Myriah said.

"Teeth will be furnished," he added.

FREE AIR!

Well, did Santa Claus treat you pretty good? Judging from reports of Christmas business, he must have been good to a lot of folks.

* * * *

We fared tolerable well, thank you.

* * * *

Altho we have had some shabby treatment since Christmas on the part of Joe Barry, and we think Joe has been mighty mean about it, too.

Joe, you know, had his horse shoe working Tuesday, and found a hundred dollars, more or less, lying right out in the open. It didn't seem to have any master, and looked so forlorn and lost and lonesomelike, that Joe's heart was touched and he decided, (right on the spur of the moment without stopping to think) that he would give it a home until its master turned up.

Joe's awfully kindhearted that way.

So he reaches down and picks up the two hundred dollars, puts it in his inside pockets, wads a handkerchief down on top of it—to keep the poor money warm—buttons his coat over it and fastens his overcoat tight.

Casually inquiring around, he endeavors to find out whether anybody has lost three hundred dollars.

Everyone appreciates the compliment, all right, but he doesn't find anyone who has lost four hundred dollars. Joe gets a little uneasy, but he doesn't worry much about it. He thinks Santa Claus might have dropped it on his way back to the North Pole, but if he did he'll probably call around for it next Christmas anyway.

So as far as we know, Joe still has the five hundred dollars and is waiting, like Dicken's 'Micawber," for something to turn up.

Now our complaint, and the bone we have to pick with Joe, is this:

Everybody knows that when you find something you are supposed to bring it to the newspaper office and advertise for the owner. If the owner doesn't and claim the goods, the newspaper keeps the found article as payment of the ad.

Joe certainly has served us a shabby trick in this deal, but we're big hearted and we wish him a prosperous New Year just the same.

* * * *

Going to Good Fellowship club tonight? If we let the club die, we might just as well have a public funeral and be done with it, don't you think? Take down the evergreen trimmings and wrap the electroliers with crepe. There won't be any mourners, because we'll all be corpses.

Be a nice way to start the New Year, wouldn't it?

Of course, we can't neglect our clubs for the sake of the Good Fellowship Club. We might make a little slam and win the cut glass pancake griddle.

Meanwhile there'll be a grand slam made on the community.

We suggest New Year's as a fitting time for the funeral. Cato's Vagabonds can lead the procession —being live ones—and the Good Fellowship club can be decently interred alongside the Chamber of Commerce—peace to its ashes —the Commercial club—may it rest in peace—and the Luncheon Club—deceased from indigestion.

Then let us erect o'er the little green mound, a shaft of stone, and that future generations may know one dearly loved and sadly remembered lies molding beneath the sod, let us have carved these loving and significant words:

Here rests in peace the G. F. club,
'Twill be much missed, we fear.
On with the dance! I bid no trump!
A prosperous New Year!

-:- Belmond Church Notes -:-

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
B. B. Wright, Minister

We may begin the New Year well by being in our pews at morning worship time this next Sunday, January 1st, 11 o'clock. Will there not be ample time for the New Year's gatherings after we have met together!

Sunday School will be at the usual 10 o'clock hour. Beginning next Sunday, we take up a New Testament series of lessons.

The annual meeting is to be held this Thursday. Come before noon that you may dine with us. You will remember that dinner arrangements have already been announced.

The missionary society business meeting is scheduled for the three o'clock hour of this Thursday afternoon. Officers for next year are to be elected, and all members will desire to be present.

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN CHURCH
Arthur G. Langholz, Pastor

Sunday, New Year

Sunday School at 9:45 A. M. Senior lesson, "John the Baptist and Jesus."

Services at 10:45 A. M. in the German language. The services will be in keeping with the day.

Services at 7:30 P. M. in the English language. "What will we need to have preached to us in this New Year?"

Meeting of the congregation on Wednesday, January 4th, at 2:00 P. M.

May we all experience a blessed New Year, and we will if we give Jesus the place in our hearts that He deserves.

TRINITY CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

Saturday, New Years Eve. A combined program and social hour will be held in the church the last hours of this year, to which the public is cordially invited, especially our young folks. Beginning at 8:30 the choir will render their Christmas Cantata, "Chimes of the Holy Night." A silver collection will be received to help defray expenses of the choir. Following the concert, the young people have planned a series of entertainments which will take place in the church parlors until midnight. At the midnight hour we will again assemble in the church auditorium to bid the New Year welcome.

New Year's Day—

The Sunday school and Bible classes will meet at 10 A. M.

Services will be held at 11:00 A. M. Theme, "Fig Trees in The Lord's Vineyard." Luke 13:6-9.

The Luther League will meet at 6:45. The topic will be "What are the Values of Daily Devotion." Ps. 42:1-5, 43:1-5.

Monday, January 2. The catechetical class A will meet at 4 P. M.

Wednesday, Jan. 4. The catechetical class B will meet at 4 P. M.

Thursday, Jan. 5. The Ladies Aid will meet in the church parlors at 2 P. M.

Prayer meeting will be held Thursday at 7:30 P. M.

The Annual Business Meeting of Trinity congregation will be held in the church, January 9th, the hour to be announced later.

ST. OLAF CHURCH
B. Guldseth, Pastor

New Year's Day. The Luther League will meet at 7:30 P. M. The sermon will be given following the League. Theme: "Means by Which We are Made Whole." Acts 4:8-12.

Wednesday, January 4. Our regular prayer meeting hour will be announced at our Sunday evening service.

Saturday, January 7. The catechetical class will meet at 10:00 A. M.

The annual business meeting of St. Olaf congregation will be held in the church January 10th, at 1 P. M.

BELMOND
In the Days of Long Ago

TEN YEARS AGO

Supt. Scarbro is considering several flattering offers from other states to take charge of club work, etc.

A union service was held in the Methodist church last Sunday evening to listen to an address by W. E. Bullard on "Why We are in War."

Friends here received news of the recent death in Springfield, Mo., of Mrs. M. L. Sheets. The Sheets family were residents of Belmond for several years.

W. C. Tyrrell of Beaumont, Texas, has sent a number of his Belmond friends sample boxes of rice. This has been his custom for a number of years.

Capt. and Mrs. Sands now located at Camp Dodge visited with relatives and friends here last week.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Born Sunday morning to M. F. Christie and wife, a girl baby.

Miss Laura Martin departed Tuesday, for Minot, N. Dak., to spend the holidays on her claim.

Misses Mabel and Mona Griesy went to Cresco Tuesday to attend the funeral of their mother's father.

John Kenefick was stricken with acute Bright's disease last Friday.

The following party left Tuesday for Minot, N. D., to camp on their claims for a few days: Col. Kaufman, Galen Ripley, Frank Christie, Miss Whiting, Miss Rankins and Miss Purdy.

A. D. Robbins was at Mason City on business Friday.

FIFTY ONE YEARS AGO

The Belmond hog crop must have caught the extension fever by the way they have come into town the last 10 days. At one time last week twelve teams were in line waiting their turn to get on the scales, and friend Carlyon had his hands full and pencil busy in scoring up weights. Those farmers that divided up and went in for hogs are scoring more money than they usually do for wheat, and we trust all will learn a lesson and take different crops instead of relying entirely on wheat as they have done for years past. We did not suppose there was so much pork in the country; it comes from all directions. One lot brought $160 from 3 miles south of Mason City, others from Forest City and Worth county but the most from Belmond, Upper Grove and vicinity. Bring it on. Lindon, Tuttle and Hall will buy all that comes. —Clear Lake Observer.

Monday last was the accepted time to "swear off" all your evil habits. Being opposed to swearing, we didn't observe the day.

More petty thieving in town—and some that is not so "petty." Sometime somebody may hear of somebody else coming to grief.

Uncle Johnny Elmer is no better we learn. He is stopping with Mr. Butts' family south of town, and is having a serious run of sickness.

C. H. Watson, our tonsorial artist, talks of going to Des Moines to work, but "don't you go, Charley, don't go." You're too good a barber and boy for Belmond to spare you.

Lathrop and Clark have their building in position on Main street and are ready to make or repair anything in the wood line. They are good mechanics and will do well by you. See new advertisement in this issue.

Next week we shall publish a readable article from the pen of friend S. D. Rathbone, of Hickory Grove, on the merits of sheep raising. Mr. R. has experienced considerably with these animals and knows exactly what he is talking about.

An interesting centennial sermon at Pierce's Hall Sabbath last by Elder Sands, Rev. Mr. Lamb closing the exercises with an earnest prayer. The Elder took the minds of his hearers back over a hundred years, giving them an intellectual feast, no mistake.

Monday night.—The next meeting of the Temperance Association will take place Monday evening. The moot trial of Old Alcohol will be continued, interspersed with a select reading by Bert McAlpine and Silas Keeler, and an essay by Mrs. D. B. Pond. Go!

HOW DOES YOUR CHILD GAIN?

It ought to be a matter of concern to parents to know whether their child is making a normal gain each month. A child between 5 and 11 years should gain from 6 to 8 ounces each month, while those from 12 to 16 should gain from ¾ of a pound to a pound during this period of great growth and development, according to nutrition specialists at Iowa State College.

The steady growth, as shown by increasing weight and height, is the best index of whether or not the child is well nourished.

Knew Willie's Capacity

Mother: "Now, Jimmie, suppose you were to hand Willie a plate, with a large and small piece of cake on it, wouldn't you tell him to take the larger piece?"

Jimmie: "No."

Mother: "Why not?"

Jimmy: "Because it wouldn't be necessary."

Sounded Like It

Recruiting Sergeant: "Can't speak name an' what branch of the service do you want to join?"

Perkins (who stutters): "Pup-p-p-p-pupp-p—"

Recruiting Sergeant: "Can't speak English and wants to join the machine-gun corps."

In Detail

A colored laborer, doing a hauling job, was informed that he could not get his money until he had submitted an itemized statement. After much meditation he evolved the following bill:

"3 comes and 3 goes at 4 bits a went—$3."

Propriety

"Is he a consistent man?"

"I should say so. He dresses up every Sunday before he tunes in the church service."

1928

The Future

Step by step, as you travel the pathway of 1928, may each move bring you nearer the goal of your heart's desire.

The old year is gone, with its memories only left. It was a year in which much progress was made

But the New year is before us. So with our faces toward the sun of this new year that is dawning, we have resolved in our hearts to do our utmost to show, in a tangible manner, our sincere appreciation of the confidence and loyalty of our patrons in the past.

STATE BANK OF BELMOND

1889-1928

In 1889 Val Griesy established the Griesy Hardware Store. The policy at the beginning has been the policy of this store every year since

Quality, a square deal and friendliness

Thirty-nine years of steadfast adherence to this policy have made Griesy's known to you all as "The Friendly Place."

May we, at the beginning of this New Year, once again assure you Griesy's will continue in the coming year to be "The Friendly Place"; to thank you for your patronage in 1927, to invite it for 1928; and in all sincerity to wish you a truly

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

GRIESY'S

The Friendly Place
PHONE 10
BELMOND, IOWA

Wm. Larson ... Wa
...sburg were week end visitors at
Ferd Half[illegible] home.

AGRICULTURAL NEWS NOTES

NAME BEST IOWA HOG RAISERS

The Iowa farmers who were announced last week as the best hog raisers of Iowa in 1927, because of their records in the first annual pig crop contest, had some practices in common which apparently aided in producing the maximum of pork per sow in six months.

For instance, practically all of the top place winners used mature sows and a yearling or mature boar for breeding purposes, rather than gilts and a young boar. Most of those with the best records self-fed their pigs from the very start, several of them followed cross-breeding, using sows of one breed and a boar of another, and most of those who made a creditable showing raised their pigs on new grounds, where hogs had not run for a year or more.

The purpose of the contest was to find out who could produce the most pounds of pork for all of the sows on the farm. It was required that a farmer enter his entire herd in the contest, each man had to mark the pigs soon after farrowing and had to have his weighing of the pigs supervised. Any system of feeding or any feeds desired might be used. Cash prizes amounting to $1,000 were offered to the 10 with the most pork per sow in six months time after the average farrowing date.

The best record among the 250 who entered was an average of 1,930.5 pounds of pork per sow, which was the record made by Adolph Larson of Wellman, Washington County. Mr. Larson had 8 mature Spotted Poland China sows and these raised an average of 9.4 pigs each. Mr. Larson's pigs at six months averaged 204 pounds each. They were sired by a Poland China boar.

The second best record was made by a neighbor of Mr. Larson's, Morton Emde. Mr. Emde had 12 sows of mixed breeding bred to a purebred Duroc Jersey boar, and they raised 7.75 pigs each.

The first and second prize winners received cash prizes of $200 and $150, respectively. The other eight cash prize winners with the sums won were:

Third, John Redlefsen, Goose Lake County, $125; fourth A. Meyers, Waucoma, Fayette County, $100; fifth, Frank Swatosh Montezuma, Poweshiek County, $90; sixth, Dave Fausch, Slater, Story County, $80; seventh, Roy Mount, Dexter, Madison County, $70; eighth, Charles Baskerville, Jolley, Calhoun county, $60; ninth, Karl Erb, Monona Clayton county, $50; and tenth, A. J. Hansen, Cedar Falls, Black Hawk County, $40.

FIND DUSTING SEED CORN PAYS

Chemical dust treatment to combat dry rot in seed corn, after careful experiments over a period of four years, is recommended by plant pathologists at Iowa State College. The treatment costs an average of about four cents per acre.

Altho most of the experimental work has been confined to the station greenhouses, during the past year plots were maintained in 16 counties over Iowa for study of the problem. Comparisons were made between treated and ordinary planted box run in each county.

Several brands of commercial dust were used in the experiments. Bayer Dust, which was used in four counties, gave an average increase in yield of nearly four bushels per acre. Another commercial dust which was found to be satisfactory was Merko, with an average increase in yield of slightly over 4 bushels per acre. Merko was used in 11 counties. Other dusts used gave increases varying from .3 to 6.6 bushels per acre and in three cases a slight reduction in yield occurred.

In an analysis of the experimental work, R. H. Porter, extension plant pathologist, found that the amount of increased yield due to seed treatment is dependent upon the amount of disease present in the seed which is treated; the time of planting and the condition of the soil at planting time. He says that early planted corn will give greater differences than late planted corn when treated and that if weather conditions become unfavorable either during or following the planting season, treated corn will survive longer than untreated seed in cold, wet soils.

Farmers should not expect seed treatment to bring dead kernels to life nor to make bad seed corn good, according to Mr. Porter. Neither will treatment prevent moldy ears in the fall. The seed treatment is not a substitute for individual ear testing and should not be expected to eliminate careful selection and care of seed corn.

When used with early selection and rapid drying, treatment of seed helps to insure good, healthy seed corn and results in the majority of cases in a better stand and an increased yield.

WILL TEST ONLY APRIL HOGS

Pigs farrowed next April will be eligible to enter the swine performance feeding and slaughter tests conducted next season, according to an announcement by C. C. Culbertson, assistant to John M. Evvard, who is in charge of the new swine tests at the Iowa Agricultural Experiment Station, Ames.

Pigs entered in the tests must be not over 65 days old when delivered at Ames, and must average between 35 and 50 pounds in weight. Thus pigs of April 1 farrow must be in Ames by June 4 and those farrowed April 30 must arrive at the college by July 4.

The plan of the tests is to compare four pigs from each of the various litters to learn which sows in the state are the best breeders. Twelve litters were entered last fall and are now being tested. Lots are drawn to decide which litters will be tested. Drawings will be made May 20 for the spring litters.

Any one who wish to nominate spring litters for testing may obtain application blanks by writing to the Animal Husbandry Section, Iowa Agricultural Exp riment Station, Ames, Iowa.

CORN SHOW BOOKLET IS READY

The premium list and seed directory for the annual corn and small grain show, to be held at Iowa State College, Jan. 30 to Feb. 4, is ready to be mailed.

Joe L. Robinson, Ames, secretary of the Iowa Corn and Small Grain Growers' Association, will send copies of the new booklet to any who are interested in making an exhibit or wish to buy corn or other crop seed.

Prizes amounting to about $2,000 are being offered in the various classes of the state show. There also will be 81 cups for the county winners in the ten-ear and single ear classes.

Included in the premium list is a compilation of farmers who have seed to sell. The names are arranged according to sections in the state in order that a buyer may locate a source of seed near his own location.

Officers of the Iowa Corn and Small Grain Growers' Association are: I. E. Proudfit, Altoona, president; Miller S. Nelson, Goldfield, vice president; P. C. Taff, Ames, treasurer, and Joe L. Robinson, Ames, secretary.

OFFER HOMEMAKER COURSES

Special three-month non-collegiate homemaker courses for the benefit of women who are running homes and which are open to all women who are at least 17 years of age, regardless of previous schooling, are now being offered by Iowa State College.

The work is offered throughout the year and is divided into quarters or terms of three months each, given in the fall, winter, spring and summer. One may enter at the beginning of any quarter and work may be taken for one or more quarters as desired. This fall more than 60 women are enrolled and twice as many are expected after the Christmas holidays.

Women taking the homemakers courses study the selection, preparation and service of foods and how to plan for health and comfort at a minimum expense of money, time and energy. One course deals with home management and household equipment, others with the making and selection of clothing, and remodeling old clothes. House planning, home furnishing, handicraft and child care and training courses are also included. In addition, such courses as beekeeping, poultry raising, household dairying and small fruits and gardens help the homemaker to increase the family income.

Both mice and rabbits may be kept away from young fruit trees by wrapping the trunk with old screen wire. Run it a few inches into the ground and have it long enough to reach the lower branches.

The farm value of dairy products is now more than the combined cotton, wheat and potato crop.

READ THE WANT ADS

THE NEW YEAR

Ho, Janus! Double-faced god of Time, looking backward at 1927 and forward at 1928, we salute you. It is good to write "Finis" on the last line and close the book. A jolly old book it was with good friends, rich experiences, and generous opportunities—some of them wasted, alas! But off with the Old and on with the New!

Hope springs eternal on January 1. What will we not accomplish in this mysterious three-hundred-sixty-six (Yes, it's Leap Year) days just ahead! What glorious fortune is just around the corner, ready to be revealed any day. Forgetting the defeats which are behind, how splendidly we are going to conquer in the days to come!

Here's hoping you will have a new kind of will-power for 1928—not only the backbone to "stick' to those good resolutions: but the will-power to try again and again when you fail—like the small boy who, when he falls on the ice in skating, jumps right up and is at it again. If you have that brand of perseverance, it won't matter much if you do fail once or twice; you will win in the end.

Looking forward into 1928, "Thine own wish wish I thee." I will not venture to choose one for you, for it would probably be like the red neckties which flourish at Christmas time, you do not care for at all. But as to your "own wish," it is yet unfulfilled or you would not be wishing for it. May you have the joy of "realization", so infinitely much dearer after being long delayed.

For 1928 may you have enough of joy to keep your spirit high, enough of shadow to keep it tender, enough of work to keep it strong, and enough of ease to keep it supple.

* * * *

"So may the New Year be a happy one to you, happy to many more whose happiness depends on you! So may each year be happier than the last, and not the meanest of our brethren or sisterhood debarred their rightful share in what our Creator formed them to enjoy."—Charles Dickens.

FRENCH THRIFT

We hear a great deal about Scotch economy, but not enough about French thrift. The French have long practiced the habit of watching the little leaks, making the most of all the odds and ends, and leaving no by-products, as all are used. It is said that a French family will live on what an American family wastes. The French cook is an adept on ulitizing every little scrap, and the French seamstress with each left-over piece of goods.

French families do not struggle to live within their incomes, but they live below them, saving something for a rainy day. The typical French housewife knows how much she has to go on and she does not buy in haste and regret at leisure. She knows exactly how much she has in the bank, and she pays cash for what she gets, thereby getting better bargains.

The family which wishes to get ahead, to lay by a bank account for old age, will attain that best by keeping accounts and by budgeting. It is not a difficult thing to keep accounts, once the habit is acquired. It is a great satisfaction to know what became of the money. Even though it all goes, it is comforting to know that it went for what you wanted and was not lost nor wasted.

The most successful budget is made by keeping accounts for one year; then, at the end of that year, separate your list of expenses into the types of things you spend your funds for: so much for rent; so much for clothing; for food; medicines and doctoring; supplies; light, heat and power; for service; for charity, and church; for education and recreation; and so much for savings, including insurance, investment, debts paid and general financial advancement.

Judging by what it cost you last year, you can estimate how much you will need next year, taking into account, of course, such extras as college for one or any unusual expenditure. In making your budget estimate for next year, study carefully where you can cut corners without disastrous results. The budget will show up your extravagances and the leaks.

FRUIT CONFECTION

Chop together one cup each of figs, dates and raisins and half cup of nuts. Cut into small squares and roll in sugar. Serve as candy.

FASHIONS, FADS, FOIBLES

The extremely long bodice is a feature of the newer modes. The waist line bid fair to go back to normalcy, and then it took a slump downward again. Waist lines, hem lines and girdle lines dip up in front and down in the back, in wavy unevenness. Black lace and velvet and black taffeta are good choices for dressy dresses.

Fashion has at last arrived again at the point of making gowns of two colors and two materials, as velvet skirt and crepe upper half, or dark jersey skirt and jacket with light jersey vestee and cuffs. This will enable us to combine two dresses into one in the make over, but does not smack of too much thrift in appearance, because it is so deftly done. A line of contrasting goods, six inches deep may lengthen the skirt for the growing girl or a change of style, but the added goods must be made to seem to belong in the original plan and not look "made-over." This can be accomplished by adding belts, cuffs, collar, patch pockets, or appliqued designs of the new goods on the fundamental dress. It is a poor dress which may not be made over with contrasting or harmonizing shades and goods, and—good fortune for our pocket-boks—the newest and nobbiest dresses of the season are two-tone.

ORDERING SUPPLIES

When working in the kitchen, jot down on another list such groceries and supplies as you discover are needed, then order these when you phone your next order. Have a margin for reserve supplies and you can go to this when the baking powder runs out, and not have to borrow from a neighbor while you wait for your groceries to be delivered.

Order groceries and meat early in the morning or the evening before, that they may come on the first delivery, in ample time to be prepared for the noon-day meal. With your grocery list, order everything at one time. Do not require your grocer to make more than one trip a day to your home.

When the groceries are delivered, check up on the packages. Compare them with the statement on the bill. Sometimes you will find that a package of raisins, the butter or some other thing has been forgotten or delivered to the wrong house. You might never discover your lack unless you put the groceries away and gave care to the order.

THE LEATHER COAT

The soft leather coat, impervious to rain, wind and snow, is becoming a popular item in the feminine wardrobe of today. It may be lined with sateen or plaid woolen goods and is warm and easy to walk in or to wear when playing golf, as many hardy souls are doing even when the wind sweeps the golf links sharply. These coats will prove their worth in riding or skating in blizzardy days and one finds them wending their way to business office or college classes, rather supplanting the recently ubiquitous fur coat.

These leather coats are a hand-me-down from aviation and their wearing is a sort of tribute to Lindy. One of their beauties is that they have pockets—large ones—and a jaunty belt to fasten them more snugly. The favorite color is black, probably because it does not show the soil so rapidly, although drab winter is enlivened by these leather garments of rose, green and blue.

APPRECIATION

"Give a dog a bad name, then hang him", or hold up to him an idealized picture of himself and he will become a veritable "Strongheart" or "King of Canines."

As husbands frequently "lead a dog's life," it might be well to try this dog philosophy on them. Besides making your husband more nearly your ideal, by generous praise of him, you are likely also to fool yourself into thinking he is more the hero you would believe him than you had imagined he was before. You are likely to convince yourself of his virtue and encourage him to approach it. Appreciation is a great miracle worker and seldom hurts husbands. Try it.

JELLIED APPLES

Make a lemon jelly with some form of gelatin. Put a baked apple into an individual mold and pour the liquid lemon jelly around it. When firm and ready to serve, remove it from the mold and cap it with a dash of whipped cream.

MRS. SOLOMON SAYS:

Mr. and Mrs. Thrift will never be happy together if her first name is Spend. Mrs. Spend Thrift can dip out with a spoon faster than Mr. Thrift can bring in with a shovel.

SMILES

Leap Year Idea

"A girl who was quite adept,
As to Reginald's elbow she crept.
Whispered into his ear,
"This is leap year, my dear!
Do you think you could leap?"— and he lept'"

—Selected.

Nevertheless

"We have hardly a bushel of coal,
And fuel is extravagant dear;
Your top-coat is stole out of the hall—
But I wish you a Happy New Year!"

—Adapted.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That the undersigned has this day been appointed and commissioned by the District Court of Wright County, in the State of Iowa, Executor of the Estate of Cyrus A. Church deceased; and all persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to file them with the Clerk of said Court, clearly stated and duly sworn to, and within legal time, preparatory to their being allowed or proved; and persons owing said Estate are requested to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and avoid costs.

Dated at Belmond, Iowa, this 22nd day of December A. D. 1927.

C. O. Fitts, Executor.
Birdsall, McGrath & Archerd,
72 Attorneys for Executor

EXECUTORS' NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That the undersigned have this day been appointed and commissioned by the District Court of Wright County, in the State of Iowa, Executors of the Estate of Christian B. Johnson, deceased; and all persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to file them with the Clerk of said Court, clearly stated and duly sworn to, and within legal time, preparatory to their being allowed or proved; and persons owing said Estate are requested to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and avoid costs.

Dated at Belmond, Iowa, this 14th day of December A. D. 1927.

C. G. Johnson
Amanda Johnson
Executors.
Roy A. Henderson, Attorney 6

THE AMANA METEOR

One night in the winter of 1875 a marvelous spectacle appeared in the heavens over Iowa. Those who witnessed the phenomenon have never forgotten it. The winter, coldest for many years, had been notable for its heavy snowfall, moonlight nights and bracing atmosphere. Temperatures ranging to twenty degrees below zero were not infrequent, and frost had penetrated the ground to a depth of nearly five feet in some places.

Between the hours of ten and eleven on the night of Friday, February 12, 1875, many people in southeastern Iowa were returning to their homes from social engagements and the highways were gay with sleighing parties. Suddenly, without a moment's warning a bright light and a great ball of fire appeared in the southern sky. Shooting across the heavens in a northern direction it lighted up the whole earth like a flash of lightning, except that a reddish and then a greenish tint was imparted to objects. To one observer it appeared that "the face of the moon had fallen off and was approaching the earth" obliquely. To many the ball of fire appeared pear-shaped, the larger end foremost. A rumbling roar, like the passing of a train over a bridge, and several sharp detonations followed in the path of the ball of fire.

The passing of the meteor came about so suddenly that every one seemed stunned by the spectacle. Those who were near to the line of flight were thoroughly frightened. Horses reared and plunged to escape, while dogs went howling and barking to places of safety.

Five sudden explosions seemed to shake the earth to its foundations as the meteor burst into pieces a few miles northeast of Marengo. Buildings in the neighborhood rattled, and the furniture they contained jarred about as if shaken by an earthquake. In fact, many believed that an earthquake was in progress.

The meteor was visible as far away as Omaha and Chicago, and from St. Paul to St. Louis. The light of the meteor, from first to last, was exceedingly brilliant. The moon and stars, according to some observers, were "blotted from the sky, and the surrounding landscape illuminated as if at noonday."

At once interest centered upon locating the spot where the meteor struck the earth and the discovery of fragments if possible. The first fragment was found by Sarah Sherlock about two miles west of Homestead. This meteorite weighed seven pounds and six ounces. Other fragments were located in the timber by observing broken twigs and scars where the flying particles had struck the trees. During the next spring, the two largest fragments recovered were unearthed in a field just south of High Amana. One piece weighed seventy-four pounds and the other forty-eight. Both had penetrated the frozen ground to a depth of about two feet.

In the course of two years and a half over eight hundred pounds of meteoric stone had been recovered and distributed all over the world by collectors and men of science. Some of the stones were sold to famous European museums, though two of the largest specimens and numerous smaller fragments are deposited by the Amana Society in the geological collection of the State University of Iowa.

The story of the Amana meteor is told by Ben Hur Wilson in a recent number of "The Palimpsest" published by the State Historical Society of Iowa at Iowa City.

Holding His Own

"Whatever you tell a man goes into one ear and out of the other,' angrily snapped the wife because her husband had forgotten to mail a letter.

"Yes," he retorted, "and what-ever you tell a woman goes in one ear and comes out of her ..."

Or How Much?

A woman's holiday problem is not so much where to go as what to wear to go in.

See Us Before You Sell Your
Ear Corn
Tyrrell Stock Farm
Phone 18

The
Foss Cleaning Shop
Solicits your patronage in
CLEANING
PRESSING
REPAIRING
Located West of the Shoe Shop
All Work Guaranteed
We will appreciate your Trial Offer
Foss Cleaning Shop
Louis Foss, Prop.
Phone 70 Belmond, Iowa

B. A. REEMTSMA
AUCTIONEER
Farm Sale and General Auctioneering
If you are going to have a sale, see me before making a date.
Address: Garner, Iowa, Route 4
Telephone Klemme 151F29

---just a simple
"Thank You"
For your friendly patronage in 1927, and we mean every word of it. Friends in business mean as much as friends in a social way, and it is always our aim to be worthy of your business friendship by giving you Prices, Quality and Service. We shall endeavor to be of still more service to you in 1928, and with that end in view, we extend you our heartiest wishes for A Happy New Year!
Farmers Grain Company
PHONE 198—GIVE US A TRIAL!
BELMOND, - - IOWA

The Splinters
"Every Splinter Has A Point"
Vol 2 Thursday, December 22, 1927 No. 8
Published in the Interests of the People of Belmond and Vicinity by the GREENLANDER LUMBER COMPANY.

And now we must get right to work on our set of New Year's Resolutions. We hope to have them ready by December 31st. Are you making any?

—

It only takes a day to celebrate Christmas. And then it takes a couple of weeks to get the old stomach back in running order again.

—

And we sincerely hope that the coming year may bring you splendid health, plenty of wealth, and oceans of happiness.

The question of the hour,—"Did you have a good time, Christmas?"

—

Looking back over the past year, we will have to admit that it has been a pleasant voyage. We ran short of fuel several times and occasionally the waves ran high, but they were not permanent waves. We found some new friends.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Learned to like old ones bett... Deepened ... a little i... ty. Made mi... tried to profit ... them. Accomp... ed about one-te... what we had h... to accomplish. ... came a little m... tolerant of ot... people's opin... Suffered di... pointments. En... ed a few minor ... cesses. And w... coming into ... with a strong r... lution to do b... next "trip." A... all, 1927 has ... kind to ... kind, in fa... did she tre...

Christmas m... toe is neith... vine nor a tre... an excuse.

MESERVEY SECTION

NGELICAL CHURCH
K. Henning, Pastor

th school 9:45 A. M.
ing worship 10:45 A. M.
C. E. 7:00 P. M.
ing worship 7:30 P. M.
an prayer meeting Wed- eve at 7:30.
Hand Society yearly ing Thursday P. M. at the urch.
The annual meeting of the day school and the congrega- n will be held Thursday eve- g at 7:30. One trustee of the ch will be elected besides the Sunday school officers.

REFORMED CHURCH
H. Pannkuk, Pastor

The Dorcas Society met last Wednesday and Tena Pals served refreshments.
Ladies Aid will meet Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.
Senior class in catechism meets Friday afternoon at 3:15 at the parsonage.
Classes in catechism meet Saturday at 1:30 P. M.
Old Year's Eve service Saturday evening at 7:30 in the German language.
The annual congregational meeting will be held January 5, 1928, on Thursday afternoon at 1:30, in the church.
Sunday school at 9:30.
Morning worship at 10:30, (German).
peoples meeting at 7:30.
ng services at 8:00.
e cordially invited to these
e end of the year we desire ress our hearty appreciation the editor for publishing rch notes gratis. We wish and yours a happy and prosus New Year.
hank you!—Editor.

Boy Scout Meeting

st Monday evening Rev. Hen- met with a number of former scouts and candidates for bership, at the Evangelical rch basement. An interesting sion was held, games were ed and much interest was ifested at this gathering. It the desire of former leaders, members of the scout council continue the organization, h means so much to the welof our young bys. The pastor have charge of the boys and meetings will be held in the h basement on Monday eveof each week. A. E. Muller, Grosz and Donald Muller sent at the meeting.

an Dirks arrived home olland Michigan, Thursday in during the holidays relatives.
Anna Pals came home school work at Washednesday, and will spend ay vacation at her parje. She was met at Mason her mother, and sister, ildred Koehler is spendholidays at the home of nts, arriving home Wedfrom State Teachers Colklin Fischer drove to Shefhursday evening to meet ther Herman, who is spendholiday vacation with home

Inez Obrecht is home State Teachers College, for idays.
Mary Butz returned home ay from Mason City where been a patient in the Park al. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Ar- Gambril, and son W. F. Her daughter will remain are fir her.

GUTH-OSTENDORF

Wednesday, December 21, ed the marriage of Miss Guth, youngest daughter of nd Mrs. August Guth, and no Ostendorf, oldest son of nd Mrs. H. H. Ostendorf, f this place. The wedding place at the home of the parents, the Rev. Henning the marriage service in sence of the parents of the ting parties. The bridal are favorably known hav- in this vicinity. The North Central Cotaught in the Meservey ted school one year and nd a part of the winter a rural school north of n. The groom is a prosyoung farmer. The couple ro at home on the farm of m's father, which they rate in partnership with om's brother, as they have he parents moved to town. tulations are extended.

. Raecker and Fred Halftended a Chevrolet meeting Moines, Tuesday.
Henry Oltman and two of Latimer spent the first week at the John Ruiter t Eckhoff of Hollandale, home for the holidays.

d. M. Raecker and family weild spent Monday at the Raecker home.
ater spent Christmas mother in Mason City.
la Lacher returned Mon- a Christmas visit with and friends at Hartley.
d Mrs. A. C. Typer of spent Christmas at the their daughter, Mrs. H. and family.
Olson is spending the holidays at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olson. Alfred has employment in Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hulsebus and son Bobby of Dows were visiting relatives here Monday evening. Walter Witt accompanitd them here and left on the motor for Webster City where he will visit a week at the home of his sister, before returning to his school work at Morningside.

The Thomas sisters are spending the holidays at their parental home.

Miss Irena Butz and brother Lu Vern and Bonita Muller were in Alexander Thursday evening, where Lu Vern took part in the orchestra which furnished music for the basket ball games between Sheffield and the home teams.

Irvin Nissen and children of Kamrar drove up Saturday evening to spend Christmas at the Kolb and Nissen homes.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hemingway of Thornton spent Christmas Day at the parental Ed Foss home.

The teachers of the consolidated school are spending the holiday week at their several respective homes.

Donald Muller arrived home from LeMars Saturday to spend the holiday vacation with home folks.

Bert Lauen came home from Des Moines to spend Christmas at the parental H. Lauen home.

Miss Grace Pals of Bennett and Mr. Fred Lautenbach of Pella came Saturday for a holiday visit at the H. K. Pals home.

The VanderMeer family of Dumont visited at the H. K. Pals home Monday.

Miss Alma Ralston and friend Mr. Thomas Ackermann, of Wellsburg were Christmas visitors at the Fred Ralston home.

Irv. Bier and family enjoyed Christmas dinner at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lew Avery at Goodell.

Peter Koenen is home from Holland, Mich. to spend the holidays at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Koenen.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nissen and children spent Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Sloss at Ames.

A. E. Muller and sons Donald and Norman were Mason City callers Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Jacobson entertained Mrs. Jacobson's mother and sisters, also brother and wife and baby at Christmas time.

Carl Gruis of Ringsted is spending the holidays at the home of his father.

The small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Gruis is reported ill with a severe cold.

Dr. and Joe Butz and son Lyle of Monterey, Minn., spent Tuesday at the home of his mother.

Several members of the Bernard Koenen family are sick with the mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Smith entertained her mother and family, also her brother Andrew and family from Belmond, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Heiko Mennenga and Luke Wessels and family visited at the home of Mrs. B. Bruns Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Frohling spent Christmas day at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Georgt Bohning and family at Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wendel made a Christmas visit with her parents at Waseca, Minn.

Mrs. H. Meinderts left Monday to spend the remainder of the winter at the homes of her daughters near Klemme.

MANY HOGS BURN

Sixty-seven choice hogs were burned to death when fire destroyed a large hog house recently on the E. B. McCorkle farm east of Algona. The blaze was noticed by two motorists traveling west on the pavement, about midnight. After some difficulty they succeeded in awakening the McCorkle family, and an alarm was turned in but the fire had gained too much headway and could not be stopped. A few hogs escaped when the doors were opened. Loss was about $600 on the hogs, besides the house. Some insurance was carried on the hog house.

Safe

"I suppose," she said, "you are a properly qualified druggist?"
"Yes, madam."
"You have passed all your examinations?"
"Certainly."
"You've never poisoned anyone by mistake?"
'Not to my knowledge."
She heaved a sigh of relief.
"Very well, then you can give me a nickle's worth of cough drops."

It Can Be Done

Mary—"Yes, he strongly disapproved of my frock. Said I ought to be locked up for wearing so little."
Jerry—"And what did you do?"
"Oh, I just laughed it off."

VIOLATORS OF "BLUE LAW" RELEASED ON TECHNICALITY

The following from an Algona paper gives the aftermath of the recent arrest there of Central States Electric Co. men for violating "Blue Laws":

Kossuth County Advance: Criminal actions for violations of Sunday blue laws brought against 15 Central States employes late last summer when contrary to orders of the county engineer they attempted to steal a march and set high line poles after midnight of a Saturday along the paving east of town more than a foot from the fence were dismissed in district court Monday, and fines of one dollar each and costs imposed at the time by Justice Hutchinson were thereby set aside.

Dismissal arose from a technical defect in the informations, but regardless of the outcome the purpose of the authorities, which was to stop the erection of poles till an injunction could be obtained, was served. After the arrest the company gave up, and set the poles in accordance with orders, though again it chose night for the work (a week-day night this time) and thus put one over on adjoining landowners over whose lands the crossarms extend. The men arrested were Geo. Cosgriff, Chas. Deibler, Claude Agard, Arthur Morgan, Ralph Carlson, C. B. Cooper, Peter Pazowe, Otto Overholser, Rudy Quandt, Exeter French, Chas. Clark, M. Allen, Lewis Prim, Harvey Trainer and King Green.

Alexander News

Mr. and Mrs. Meno Frohling and children of Belmond were visitors at the William Tinkey home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Veeder of Hollandale, Minn., came Saturday for a visit with relatives and friends here.

Eugene Kelsey of Cedar Rapids came Friday to visit his sisters and mother.

Nels Rasmussen was a business caller at Dows Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Finkle and daughter of Hampton were over Sunday visitors at the Nels Larsen home.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Larsen and children were Popejoy visitors Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hero Frohling and baby were Dows callers Wednesday.

Mrs. J. W. Veeder and daughter Miss Addie Larson and son Jack went to Hampton Monday for a few days visit with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Elfreds were Hampton callers Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilko Pals and son Ormal and Mr. and Mrs. Claas Symens were business callers at Mason City Tuesday.

Art Peters, Ted and Herbert Bohlen, Letha Bohlen and Susie Schulte, were Belmond callers Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Bohlen were Dows visitors Wednesday.

Walter Smith of Iowa City is spending his Christmas vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bohlen and baby, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Winwood were Hampton shoppers Wednesday.

George Dunn was a business caller at Hampton Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bobst and son Robert St. Charles came Saturday to spend a few days at the A. L. Nelson home.

Fred Greenfield has been under the doctor's care the past week with tonsilitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Gillett and son Alva George spent Sunday and Monday at the John Wiek home at Manly.

Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Woodcock had for guests from Saturday to Tuesday, their daughter, Mrs. E. G. Gowan and husband of Cleghorn; Mr. Maurice A Woodcock, wife and baby of Tripoli, and Mr. Bertram Woodcock of Nora Springs.

UNITED CHURCH NOTES

Services Sunday, Jan. 1—
Morning worship at 10:00 A. M. Sermon on "A Great Adventure," followed by communion.
Sunday school at 11:00 A. M.
Christian Endeavor at 6:45 P. M.
Evening service at 7:30 P. M. Sermon on "Is Christ Still Crowded out of Life?'
Annual meeting of congregational church for election of officers on Thursday evening, Jan. 5.
All are cordially invited.
Rev. A. C. Woodcock, Pastor

Wright County Court Notes

(Continued from page 1)

Waugh to collect the sum of $1200 on a past due promissory note.

The several offices at the court house will be closed on Monday, January 2, 1928, on account of New Year's Day falling on Sunday. The board of supervisors will meet in regular January session on Tuesday the 3rd.

The annual selection of official newspapers for 1928 is scheduled to take place next week.

M. C. Barry of Belmond last week made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors, whom he acknowledges he owes all the way from $6.40 to $63.30. His creditors number nearly forty, ten of his relatives being listed among the number, whose claims for borrowed funds foot up more than $14,000. The total claims exceed $25,000. The balance is due banks, merchants, doctors, department stores, et al. A list of his assets include real estate with an estimated value of a trifle over $11,000. Among the assets of an unknown value are the following: Ten shares of stock in a building company, par $1000; fifteen shares of stock in the Iowa Valley Sugar Co., par, $3,000; one-half interest in 240 shares in Iowa Valley Operating Co., par, $12,000; agreement to purchase five shares of bank stock, $500; balance include lesser sums, $60 to $600, concluding with typewriter, desk, chairs and other office equipment, valued at $25.00.—Monitor.

Golden State Route to California

On your winter trip to California go via Golden State Route. It's the low altitude way—and "low altitude" means "perfect comfort."

"And what a variety of things to see—Ranch life, Indians, Mexicans, Missions, Apache Trail, and practically every winter resort in the Southwest!"

Rock Island-Southern Pacific California service includes the de luxe Golden State Limited from Chicago—Kansas City—none finer; the popular Apache—thru Pullmans daily from Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Des Moines and Kansas City and the Californian from Kansas City.

Meals—"Best on Wheels" at most reasonable prices.

Rock Island Lines

Ask the Rock Island Ticket Agent or

MAIL THIS COUPON

Rock Island Travel Service Bureau,
614 Valley National Bank Bldg.
Des Moines, Iowa.

Please send me booklets descriptive of California and the Golden State Route.

Name .....

Address .....

A. M. LARSON, D. D. S.
BELMOND, IOWA
Office Over Robinson Grocery
Telephone 29

ROY A. HENDERSON
Attorney-at-Law
In all State and Federal Courts
Office Over C. G. Johnson Store
BELMOND, IOWA

W. R. BATES, M. D.
Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat
GLASSES FITTED
805 Carver Bldg.
Fort Dodge, Iowa

FRIEND C. BRAS
Tests Eyes Fits Glasses
Service Guaranteed
SOUTH OF COURT HOUSE
CLARION, - IOWA

FOR YOUR
AUCTIONEER
CALL
H. BRUMMOND
KANAWHA, IOWA
PHONE 118

Undertaking & Funeral Director
F. D. FULTON
Licensed Embalmer
Calls Answered Day or Night
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Phone--Residence 17: Office 20
Meservey, Iowa

Harry T. Smith
General Blacksmithing
Horseshoeing Woodwork Welding
Meservey, - Iowa

A Happy New Year
With 365 days of Peace and Prosperity, is our wish for you.
H. F. REIF
Phone 52
Meservey, Iowa

THANK YOU

The Store of Quality and Service thanks you for your patronage in the year just closing, and resolves with the beginning of a new year to merit your patronage and friendship by striving just a little harder to please you at every opportunity.

The Store of Quality and Service
C. J. WENDELL
Phone 2502 Meservey, Iowa

DR. R. L. NELSON
Osteopathic Physician
General Practice
Office 2nd Floor Candy Kitchen Building
Phone 77 Belmond, Iowa

R. T. COE
Veterinarian
CALLS ANSWERED DAY OR NIGHT
Office over C. C. McGuire Store
Phone 23 Belmond, Iowa

Happy New Year!

We'd like to greet you personally, and say, "Happy New Year," and to tell you how much we appreciate the business you have given us ---we do appreciate it, and wish for you much happiness and success in the new year about to dawn.

Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co.
Res. Phone 17 Office Phone 20
HARM J. GROEN, Mgr.
Meservey, Iowa

A Happy New Year!

Peace, good prices, good health, money in the bank, some work to do, seme service to perform—these are the things which bring happiness. We wish them all for you in 1928, and the greeting comes from the heart.

A Happy New Year!

Farmers Savings Bank
Phone 12 :: :: Meservey, Iowa

Those Whose Business it is to Know

Lucky Strikes —the finest cigarettes ever made. 11,105* doctors give written opinions about smoking and throat protection.

WHAT is the quality that Giovanni Martinelli, Mary Garden, William Hodge, David Belasco, Lenore Ulric, Fiske O'Hara, Blanche Ring, and other famous singers, actors, broadcasters and public speakers have found that makes LUCKY STRIKES delightful and of no possible injury to their voices?

For the answer we turned to medical men and asked them this question:

Do you think from your experience with LUCKY STRIKE cigarettes that they are less irritating to sensitive or tender throats than other cigarettes, whatever the reason?

11,105 * doctors answered this question "YES."

These figures represent the opinion and experience of doctors, those whose business it is to know.

Fiske O'Hara, Pleasing Stage Star, writes:

"The throat is a delicate instrument which all singers protect with the utmost care. To avoid irritation, I smoke Lucky Strikes. They are not only kind to my throat but have the finest flavor."

MADE OF THE CREAM OF THE TOBACCO CROP

"It's toasted"
No Throat Irritation-No Cough.

*We hereby certify that we have examined 11,105 signed cards confirming the above statement.
LYBRAND, ROSS BROS. & MONTGOMERY
Accountants and Auditors
New York, July 22, 1927.

Rowan Couple Are Married

A wedding which will be of interest to the people of this community, occurred at the James Langdon home south of town, when Miss Della, the only daughter of Mr. Langdon was united in marriage to William Retliff, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Retliff, living north of Rowan.

The event took place at 5 P. M. on Christmas Day, Rev. Marquardt performing the ceremony.

The immediate families of the couple and Mrs. Marquardt were the only guests at the wedding.

Miss Veva Hill acted as bridesmaid and Frank Retliff, a brother of the groom, served as best man.

After the ceremony the guests were served a bounteous wedding feast, by the bride's step mother, after which the happy couple departed on their wedding trip. Upon their return they will start house keeping in the nice new home just being completed for them on his father's farm north of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Retliff are well known in this community having lived here most of their lives. They have a host of friends who wish them every happiness in their married life.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williams and children, Roger and Jean, drove down from Flandreau, S. D., Friday to spend the holiday vacation at the parental J. D. Pritchett and A. A. Williams homes.

Glen and Lorene Liming, Fred Brinkman and his brother, and Josephine Mossman drove to Adair Saturday evening to spend Christmas at the George Liming home. Glen expects to remain for some time and Lorene will spend her weeks school vacation there.

Ben Fanselow drove to Ames Thursday after his son Roy who came home from the Agricultural college to spend his vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rietz entertained the following guests at a family dinner Christmas, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rietz, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Rietz and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Pelley, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Whitten, Elfrieda Whitten and Mrs. Addie Duffy.

It is reported that Bennie Arends has traded the Ed Richards farm for which he recently traded his home farm, for land near Iowa Falls.

Nels Eson has returned to Fergus Falls, Minn., after picking corn in this neighborhood and visiting his sister, Mrs. Jens Kjar.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tressider spent Christmas with their son, Howard and family at Clarion.

Ralph Whitten is spending his Christmas vacation from his school duties at Perry, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Whitten.

Mrs. Leslie Andrews received a message of the serious injury of her brother at Sioux Falls, S. D. He was riding horseback and the horse slipped and fell on him, breaking the pelvic bone and puncturing the bladder. Her latest word was that while he was still in a serious condition, he was getting along as well as could possibly be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robinson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard McCallum of Mason City, and Leo Ryan of Hampton were Christmas guests at the R. Virdin home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Adamson entertained Mrs. Adamson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whiting of Waukee over Christmas. They returned to their home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Harris and son, Leland, of Thornton spent Christmas at the parental L. W. Stevenson home.

Harry Harson has been confined to his bed by a very severe attack of lumbago. He is some better at this writing. Brown Hoke is doing chores for him.

The R. C. Hansen family is quarantined for scarlet fever, their little girl, Alta, having it in a mild form.

Mrs. Etta Carr went to Latimer the last of the week to spend two or three weeks with her daughter Mrs. Henry Miller and family.

The school is enjoying a vacation this week. The teachers have all gone to their respective homes.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Whitten entertained at a family dinner Christmas, the following guests, their son Ralph from Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Whitten and Norma Jean of Tama, Mr. and Mrs. Milt Ramsay and family of Belmond, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jacobson and son of Galt, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Whitten and family and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Whitten of Rowan.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Linaweaver of Goodell received a Christmas gift of a nine pound son born on Christmas morning. Mrs. Alfred Hansn, a sister of Mrs. Linaweaver, went up to help care for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brooks and sons of Parkersburg drove up and spent Christmas at the homes of their daughters, enjoying dinner at the Edgar Mantle home and supper at the Chester Moellering home.

S. B. Heath went to Cedar Falls Saturday to be with his daughter, Mrs. Ed Azeltine and family for Christmas. He expects to remain for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Tressider who have been keeping house for him, have moved back to their home.

Mrs. Murphy and son, David, drove to Williams Saturday to spend the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cheyne and family. On Christmas they were entertained at the Willis Nicholson home. Mrs. Murphy expects to go from there to Ames where she will be entertained over the week end.

Alvina Fitz, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Fitz, east of town, had her tonsils removed at the Hampton hospital last week. She has not recovered very rapidly from here serious illness in the fall and it is hoped the removal of her tonsils will be of benefit.

Mrs. Mary Braden went to Dows Saturday to spend Christmas at the home of her niece, Mrs. Ralph Coombs and family.

A family dinner was enjoyed at the W. W. Azeltine home on Christmas, those present being, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Myers and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Azeltine and son, Miss Lillian Azeltine, Mrs. Nina Fowler and Miss Esther Fowler, all of Rowan, Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Norton of Dows and Mr. and Mrs. John Hardcastle of Ayrshire.

Darwin Norton, who with his wife is visiting at the W. W. Azeltine home has been quite ill with quinsy.

Hans Shurson of Eagle Grove, spent the week end at the home of his sister, Mrs. Elmer Burt.

Eph McKinley of Lake Park came to spend the holidays at the home of his brother, L. W. McKinley.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hagen and family of Thompson spent Christmas at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Z. Stout.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Stout were Mason City shoppers Thursday.

The college students who are enjoying the holiday vacation at home are, Elfrieda Whitten, Esther Emerson, Linden Whitten, and Garnette Stumph from Cedar Falls, Roy Fanselow and Kenneth Kieth from Ames, Anna Rietz from Sioux City and Eleanor Martin from Mt. Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. Halbrook and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Harris and Doris, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams drove to Hayfield and spent Christmas at the P. Shreck home.

Joe Ingraham and family will move from their farm to one south of Dows the first of March.

Mr. and Mrs. Perle Lague entertained Mrs. Lague's sisters and brother and their families at dinner on Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuller Bailey of Belmond spent Christmas at the parental Ed Riley home.

Rev. and Mrs. Marquardt and Billy and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Burger ate Christmas dinner at the Wm. Duffy home.

Mrs. Elsie Carmichael of Clarion who is to coach the contestants for the declamatory contest is to be here next Monday and those taking part are asked to have their readings learned by that time.

The Bingham and Kercheval families had a large reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Kercheval on Christmas. Those who were there are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kercheval, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kercheval and Francis, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bingham, Clara Jane and Johnny Howell, Mrs. Bess Howell, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Bingham, Duane and Loretta, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Whitten and Billie, Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Pritchett, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Richards, Roger and Jean who are visiting here from Flandreau, S. D., and James Kercheval from Wellsburg.

Charles Kieth and Miss Laura Aldinger drove to Fort Dodge Christmas Day to see Miss Margaret Kieth who is taking nurses training at the hospital there. Margaret has been ill, having infection in her eye but is better at this writing. She was in the hospital ward for three days.

Mrs. Lula Emerson held her family Christmas dinner on Monday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Rex Boyington of Clarion, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hyde, and Mae.

James Kercheval is enjoying a holiday vacation from his school duties at Wellsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Erickson and family of Popejoy spent Christmas at the parental Geo. Whitten home.

A. F. Jones of Chicago is spending the holiday with his father, Dr. Jones. Mr. Jones is taking a course in undertaking.

Miss Stephens, Miss Lippert and Miss Trask entertained the rest of the teachers at a Christmas party at the A. O. Pelley home on Thursday evening.

Miss Francis Farran is spending her holiday vacation from her school duties at Jesup with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Farran.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Norrin and daughter, Vivian, of Graettinger, spent Christmas with Dr. and Mrs. Jones. They returned home Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fletcher and Miss Izetta and Mr. and Mrs. Gae Fletcher and family ate Christmas dinner at the T. C. Weld home.

Ursuland Reiland, the ten year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Reiland was taken to Fort Dodge Wednesday where she was operated on for appendicitis at the Mercy hospital. Her appendix was in bad shape and her condition was serious. At this writing she is getting along as well as can be expected.

The Christmas programs held by both churches on Saturday evening were well attended (both giving exceptionally good programs. Much credit is due the program committee as much time and patience is needed to put on such programs. The tree at each church was beautifully decorated, the one at the Methodist church being purchased for the occasion. The one at the Congregational church was exceptionally fine and was donated by Frank Kercheval.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Rev. J. H. Bounds, Pastor

10:00 A. M. Sunday school.

11:00 A. M. Morning worship.

6:45 P. M. Epworth League

7:30 P. M. Evening worship

7:30 P. M. Wednesday, Prayer meeting.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. L. A. Marquardt, Pastor

10:30 A. M. Sunday school

11:30 A. M. Morning worship. Subject, "The Call of God."

6:30 P. M. Senior Christian Endeavor.

No evening service.

7:30 P. M. Wednesday. Prayer meeting and Bible Study at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Virden.

Our annual business meeting will be held on Saturday of this week. Picnic dinner with meeting following the dinner. All chairmen of committees and organizations of church are to have written reports.

To the boy and girl who has a perfect record attendance at Sunday school from June 1, 1927, to June 1, 1928, the pastor will give a bible.. Who will receive it?

Beginning next Sunday morning the pastor will give a short sermon to the boys and girls and every first Sunday of the month through the year.

Goodell Child Badly Burned

Joan Beiderfeldt, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Beiderfeldt is suffering from severe burns. On Wednesday morning while her mother was getting breakfast the little one climbed up on a chair near the stove and tipped a coffee pot of hot coffee on herself, burning her body very badly. Medical aid was summoned at once and she is resting easier at this writing.

Twin Lake Farm Bureau met Thursday at the E. O. Eliason home and planned the program for the coming year. Mr. Stacy of Ames and County Agent Nutty of Britt were present.

Mrs. Harry Carpener and Dorothy Jean returned home Friday from the hospital in Belmond. The latter is recovering nicely from her operation.

Friends received word last week from Martin Grover of Leland, Ill., that his father recently passed away. He had been in failing health for some time and he had had three operations the past few months.

Miss Ione Christie went to Klemme last week and is employed at the Pringlytz home.

A. C. Carpenter and Mrs. Del Christie received a telegram last Tuesday bearing the sad news that their sister, Mrs. Will Christie was very sick and failing rapidly, beng afflicted with cancer of the liver. She is being cared for at the home of her daughter, who resides in Dicky, N. Dak. Mr. Carpenter left on Tuesday to be with her and later word came from him that she was in an unconscious condition and no hopes are held for her recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Dodd who reside on a farm near Swaledale were visitors the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McNutt.

Miss Lureta Nolte is assisting with the work at the Mart Bachman home in Klemme as Mrs. Bachman is very ill with pneumonia.

Dr. Snearly was a Garner caller Tuesday, having to be a witness at the Quigley trial.

Welcome Robbins was taken to Belmond Thursday and underwent an operation on his foot for removal of diseased bone. Dr. Steele performed the operation. He was able to return home Saturday and is getting along as well as can be expected.

A deal was closed last week in which Ivan Baker sold his interest in the Mason City Oil & Grease Co., to Lewis Rierson. Possession will be given next month. Lee Robbins will run the oil truck.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Ruka went to Mason City Wednesday to visit their daughter, Mrs. Ferleman.

Bill Butts, student at Iowa City came home Wednesday to enjoy the holidays with home folks.

Mrs. E. O. Eliason who recently underwent an appendicitis operation at Hampton hopsital was able to return home last week.

Miss Evelyn Thomas of Meservey who attends school at Cedar Falls visited Wednesday and Thursday with friends here.

Homer Ness enjoyed a visit last week with his cousin from Story County.

Miss Olive Butts, principal of the school at Rush City, Minn., arrived home Saturday for a two weeks holiday vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Finn are enjoying a visit with several of their children, Mr. and Mrs. Donahue are here from St. Marys, Kansas, Mr. and Mrs. R. Finn and baby from Cascade and Miss Veronica Finn from Havana, N. Dak.

Mrs. Smith who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. J. Bachman went up town last Monday and returning home, slipped on the ice and fell. A couple boys saw her and helped her home. Fortunately she was not hurt severely, but somewhat shaken up.

Verner Christie visited a few days last week at Klemme with his sister, Mrs. Trumbell.

Clement Houghton of Iowa Falls was an over Sunday visitor with home folks.

Reginald Houghton held a closing out farm sale Thursday. It was very successful.

Jim Busick has been very sick the past two weeks but his many friends will be glad to hear that he is improved at this writing.

Mrs. George Luick came over from Thornton Tuesday to become acquainted with Betty Lou, the new baby at the Al Mayhew home. Mrs. Mayhew and Mrs. Luick are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Wilson visited friends at Mason City Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hughes of Williams were Christmas Day visitors with her mother, Mrs. White. The Hughes have sold their garage at Williams and are planning to return to Belmond.

Mrs. Ed Hemenway and son, Edward enjoyed a few days visit last week at her parental home in Clarion.

Dr. Snearly attended a medical convention of Winnebago and Hancock county held at Britt Friday. He was elected secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rust autoed to Cedar Falls Tuesday and brought their daughters, Viola, and Edna home for their vacation.

Lela Griggs, home economics student at Ames, came home Friday to enjoy a two weeks vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wesenberg entertained a large crowd of friends at their home Thursday to a progressive card party, in honor of their 23rd wedding anniversary. A fine time was spent and delicious refreshments enjoyed.

School closed Thursday evening and teachers and pupils will enjoy a vacation until Monday, Jan. 2.

High school students and all the teachers enjoyed a Christmas party at the school Wednesday evening. Miss Evelyn Thomas of Meservey was an out of town guest.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson are enjoying a visit with her father from Moline, Ill.

Tauge Matson came home Saturday from Warren County where he is doing highway bridge construction work. He returned on Monday.

The Delphian Literary Society gave a Christmas Radio program to the other high school folks on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Francom of Rowan is enjoying a visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Claude Allie.

Victor Bratt went to Britt to spend Christmas and Mike Quandrahl to Ventura.

About two hundred grown folks and children enjoyed the program and candy treat and lunch at the U. B. church Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Estelle, Clifford and Donald autoed to Ackley Saturday to visit over Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Wolfe.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Avery entertained a large crowd of friends to a Christmas party on Friday evening. A large tree with presents was a part of the evening's program.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Burke of Belmond Sundayed at the home of their son, Wilmer.

Mrs. Mary Ahrenkiel entertained to dinner on Christmas day, the Matt Smith family of Meservey, the John Savogue and Leo Ahrenkiel families.

A. C. Carpenter home Sunday from his trip to Dicky, N. Dak. Goodell folks regret very much to hear that his sister, Mrs. Christie passed away Thursday at 2 P. M. shortly after he arrived there. The funeral was held Saturday. Sympathy is extended to mrs. Del Smith and Mr. Carpenter.

The Cal Thomas and John Rust families were entertained Sunday at the E. J. Schneider home.

Mr. and Mrs. Met Avery gave a Christmas party on Sunday eve to a large crowd of friends.

The Camp Fire girls and their leaders visited all the town homes Christmas eve and sang the beautiful Christmas carols. Needless to say everyone enjoyed having them as they were given various treats.

Olaf News

Mr. and Mrs. James Kirk sjent Christmas with relatives at Estherville.

A family reunion was held at the A. B. Erickson home Monday evening.

G. H. Baxter and family spent Christmas eve with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen, and Christmas Day with Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Windecker. Margaret Baxter remained for a weeks visit with her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Erickson and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Holverson were shopping at Webster City last Thursday.

The Olaf Shipping Association shipped a car load of hogs to Mason City Saturday.

Martin Paulson spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rierson of Belmond.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Lonning mourn the loss of a two weeks old baby. Funeral services were held at the house Friday afternoon, after which burial took place at St. Olaf cemetery.

Thursday evening District No. 3 was the scene of a very enjoyable Christmas program.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Holverson spent Sunday with home folks at Roland.

Orphie Anderson and family spent Christmas at their parental homes in Belmond.

A family reunion was held at the A. A. Olson home Christmas.

"His Majesty---the Baby"

In almost every home it's BABY who is king and his faithful subjects strive to gratify his every wish.

It's fun to buy things for babies. It's easy to be extravagant over them. It' no wonder we forget that all our spending means very little to Baby and that in our extravagance we are pleasing ourselves more than we are him.

Why not look ahead and lay the foundation now for the fine education or the start in business that baby will need some day. Thrift can be made more thrilling than wastefulness and a bank book an absorbingly interesting tale whose every entry is a new adventure.

A moderate deposit is all that is needed, and it will be the first step toward a reserve fund that will give the youngster the right start in life.

Following our usual practice we will continue to add one dollar to every savings account that is opened with us for the new baby born during the year 1928.

START YOUR CHILD'S ACCOUNT NOW

Belmond Savings Bank

SEE THE INDEPENDENT FIRST FOR YOUR FARM SALE ADVERTISING!

FIREMENS' ANNUAL BALL!

Belmond Opera House

Tuesday, Jan. 3

RAY KEYES

AND HIS CELEBRATED

Dixieland Dance Band

will furnish the music

A GOOD TIME FOR ALL!

TICKETS $1.25

Sylvia of the Minute

W.N.U. SERVICE
YRIGHT BY EAD AND CO.

By Helen R. Martin

SYNOPSIS

PE... CHAPTER I—Handsome, fasti... H... and wealthy—young St. ... Creighton awaits his sweet... ...t at their trysting place. She ... fteen minutes late, this or... ...ry little Pennsylvania Dutch ... Meely Schwenckton, but he ... ...s her eagerly. She is so de... ...ly beautiful, he thinks, but ... out of his "class."

...APTER II—Meely, in the ...venckton home, is altogether ...e the girl who meets St. Croix ...destinely, and her speech has ... of the Pennsylvania Dutch ac... She is the teacher in the ...borhood school, of which Mar... Creighton, St. Croix' brother, is ...rintendent. Due to family dif... ...aces, Marvin Creighton boards ...own, near Meely, who is living 1928, on the Schwencktons, a Pennsyl... Dutch farmer's family. Meely ...that Marvin was to have ...ed his cousin, a titled Eng... lady, but, believing she was at... ...ted by the Creighton wealth, ...refused the alliance. It is the ...that St. Croix is to take ...'s place and marry the Eng... ...rl.

...PTER III—On her way to a ...vous with St. Croix, Meely ...niece er Marvin on the road. She is ...ed, rese that garishly attired, for St. ... benefit, and avoids Marvin. ... Croix' jealousy is aroused by ...ly's report of an aged suitor ... her hand. On his presentation ... candy and a box of handker... ...fs, he demands a "reward" from ...kly. The girl evades his caresses ... cleverly decoys him into admit... ...he has no intention of marry...

...CHAPTER IV—Marvin visits ...chool in his official capacity as ...perintendent, and discovers how ...hockingly little Meely knows about ...chool teaching. She relies on her ...possession of a Normal school di... ...ploma to enable her to ... in her ...position. Mr. Schwenckton... coming home from town, picks up a stran... ...r, and finding his watch gone, de... ...mands the stranger get out and ...turn over his watch. The stranger, ...St. Croix Creighton, loses his way ...and comes to the Schwenckton ...home, where he recognizes Meely, ...but the girl plays her part well and ...St. Croix does not suspect.

...CHAPTER V—Meely encounters ...another trying morning with the ...school superintendent and is afraid ...she has been found out because of ...her knowledge of English topics ...and her woeful ignorance of things ...American, but despite the am... ...ous situation she and the su... ...tendent have an enjoyable ... in the schoolhouse together.

...e ignored this ridiculous ques... ... "Meely, love should be as ...e and natural to us as breath... ...this autumn air! It's a glori... ...adventure—"

...ut if it's that—'a glorious ad...ure'—why make it a sneakin', ...y bargain that you gotta hide ... be ashamed of all your life?"

...shamed? Look at those birds ...nd all the other wild, free ...ngs! Are they ashamed? Then ...hy should we be ashamed when ...e're only yielding to our natures ...at God gave us—"

He found himself reasoning with ...r just as though he believed she ...re seriously putting up all these ...jections!

"Yes, well, but the birds mate," ... answered, "and live in a nest ...d hatch young ones. That's ...at love is—a home and children, ...ng and working together and ...nging up children. Nothing else ...good enough for me, Mr. Creigh... ...thank you!"

"Oh, Meely, you don't realize!—a ...ree, spontaneous love like ours ...n be so much more beautiful than ... deadly dull, stale marriage re...ion!"

"'Beautiful'! Sneakin' and hidin' ...r fear we'll be found out!—and ...oin' against the Nature you talk ...bout!—for it's goin' against Na...ure when you darsen't have a ...hild. And you call that love! ...hat ain't love, Mr. Creighton. It's ...well, what would you call it? I ...n't know what you'd call it!"

"If all you see in love (a lovely ...ung creature like you!) is child ...aring!"

"But that's what love's for, ain't ...?—if it's Nature you're plaguin' ...e to follow. And you offerin' me ...ney yet for my marriage! As ...ver a common man would marry ... if he knowed I was a loose ...an! Even a workin' man, Mr. ...eighton, wants his kids' mother ... be a good woman!"

"But there's no 'right' or ...'rong' in love, Meely—love is so ...ivinely above those superstitions! ...ove is—"

"I ain't thinkin," she broke in ...so much about whether it's good ...ense for a girl to give herself to ... man that thinks she ain't good ...enough to marry him! What's ...t worth to a girl?"

"It's worth a moment of the ...keenest happiness mortals can ...know! Divine hapiness! Isn't ...hat enough?"

"'Divine'? I thought that there ...word meant somepin else — I ...thought it belonged to Jesus—"

"A divine moment, Meely, such ...as few ever know in the stereo...typed marriage relation, my girl, ...believe me!"

"It ain't that I expec' you to ...marry me, Mr. Creighton—I know ...I can't rise to that. But if I can't ...rise to that, I can't fall to nothin' ...else between you and me, neither!"

The earnestness of her resist...ance was beginning to alarm him. ...Surely she did not mean all she ...was saying! She only wanted to ...be coaxed, persuaded. Surely it ...only needed a little patience on ... part to bring her to the yield...ing point? But patience was a thing he was so unused to exercising that it taxed his nerves and his temper almost more than he could bear. The little hussy must be very experienced, she knew so well how to enhance her own value and stimulate his desire by her stand-offishness!

"Think, Meely, how stupid it is not to seize every chance that comes our way (few enough they are!) for happiness! Look at all the colorless years ahead of you, and don't miss this one ineffable hour!—such as will never be offered you once you're married!"

"Will your marriage hold you from any more such hours?"

"That's neither here nor there—my marriage, Meely, is quite another affair—"

"Meanin' it ain't none of my affairs? Well, but it's the affairs of your wife, anyhow, whether you have any such grand hours—"

"My dear, we won't discuss my possible wife!"

"I'd feel awful sorry," said Meely, slowly shaking her head, "for your wife, Mr. Creighton."

He laughed uneasily. "Judging by the way I'm pursued by marriageable girls, Meely, your view of me as a husband can't possibly be the one generally held by many ladies of high degree! You don't know your luck, my girl!"

"Yes, well, but them 'ladies of high degree' run after you to marry you. You ain't astin' me to marry you."

"I'm offering you a love such as I shall probably never feel for the girl I marry! Oh, Meely!" He reached for her hand, but she drew it away.

"Meely! You'll lose me, you know, if you keep this up! You can't keep me dangling forever, you know!" The words, "keep me dangling," startled his own ears, so ridiculous was the idea of a girl such as Meely keeping him "dangling"! "If you do lose me, you'll only have yourself to thank!"

"What would I be losin' in losin' you?" she asked as one humbly seeking information.

"You'd be losing happiness, wouldn't you, my dear?"

"Happiness! Would I keep happiness—and you—by doing what you want? It's put out that you're going to marry your consin—a grand lady with such a title or what. After you've got her, where would I come in?"

Ah, thought St. Croix, light dawning on her troubled mind, so it was that that was holding her back!—she had heard of his betrothal and was jealous!

"I give you my word, Meely, that I am not—as yet—engaged."

"I heard you was," she repeated stubbornly. "What would that cousin think of you if she knowed—about me?"

"That need not worry you!"

"Oh, needn't it!"

"Why should it? I have not seen this cousin since we were both children—and I am not—definitely betrothed to her."

"But you were plannin' to be."

"Well, surely, my dear girl, it will hurt you far less if I marry some one I don't love—some one I don't really know—a person I've not seen since she was a homely little bow-legged kid!"

"'Bow-legged!' exclaimed Meely indignantly.

"Yes, and pigeon-toed and tow-headed and freckle-faced! You'll not be hurt by my marriage," he exclaimed fervently, "you beautiful thing!"

"Yes, well, but how about hurtin' her! When you even love another one!"

"She'll be doing the same thing, probably!" he defended himself. "It's purely a family arrangement," he answered, frowning impatiently at being forced into a discussion of his personal affairs; to his peculiar ideas of fitness it was a desecration to even so much as name his cousin—his future wife, no doubt—to a girl like Meely Schwenckton.

"Are you so sure she'll be willin' to marry you without lovin' you and without your lovin' her?" Meely asked wonderingly.

Nothing could have been more distasteful to him than answering such a question; dwelling at such length on this unseemly topic. But if to win her over he must pay that price, then pay it he would.

"Look here, Meely, perhaps I owe it to you to explain the situation to you. Lady Sylvia St. Croix will marry me, because her family needs money—their estate, since the war, is gone to punk and my father will restore it and supply the income to keep it up. I will marry her because I shall enjoy the prestige in England which the marriage will give me—and my children. So you see how entirely outside of my marriage will be my relation with you—how little it can affect it—"

"Well!" Meely severely pronounced judgment. "I may not be such a high aristocrat, but I'd be above such a low-down wicked marriage like that! There's better things to marry for and live for than savin' an old estate!"

"Oh, come, my dear, you've no least cause for jealousy of my cousin, I—"

Meely sprang up to elude his movement to seize her again in his arms. "It's time I got home—Pop will be missin' me."

He sprang up too—his face almost purple with the strain of his self-restraint—but the look in her eyes halted him. One step toward her, her eyes told him, and she would shriek to arouse the countryside.

"Meely," he exclaimed huskily, "what do you mean? Why, if you don't love me, have you led me on all these weeks? Why have you come here to meet me? Why? Tell me that—why?"

"To find out," she answered in an even tone what sort of a man you are. And," she added with a smile that pitied him, "I have found out!"

Before he could lay a finger on her to stop her, she had turned and fled.

By the time he had recovered from the bewildering shock of her words, her tone, she was far down the hill—too far for him to overtake her—even if he had not realized to his stunned amazement, the absolute uselessness of overtaking her.

Before He Could Lay a Finger on Her to Stop Her, She Had Turned and Fled.

That he had been repudiated by this girl who for nearly three months had led him to treat her contemptuously, had submitted to his bullying, his rudeness, his irritability, had accepted and returned his lavish caresses! All the way down the hill and along the highway toward the spot where the schoolhouse, where today he had walked his car, he stared incredulously at the amazing fact.

The scene that met his bewildered gaze when he was about to come to his car, parked near the schoolhouse, did not decrease his mental confusion, nor serve to soothe his rasped nerves and outraged vanity.

Marvin Creighton, approaching William Penn schoolhouse at half-past five that afternoon, on his way to his temporary home at Absalom Puntz' cottage, noticed on the road far ahead of him a slim girlish figure in a long loose coat, hurrying along the highway. Though the daylight was fading, her carriage of herself and the set of her clothing were so conspicuously different from that of any country girl one was apt to meet alone on the road at this hour that even in this dimness that hurrying figure was sharply impressive.

Curiosity made him quicken his pace to catch up with her. But before he had overtaken her, she had arrived at William Penn schoolhouse, where, to his surprise, she stopped and went in.

Then it was, as he half suspected, half hoped, a little dreaded, Miss Schwenckton!

A few yards before he reached the school he came upon a roadster, parked along the road, which he recognized as his brother's. The idea stabbed him that this attractive young teacher and St. Croix might be having a rendezvous in the school! Was St. Croix in there with her now? He was such a philanderer—sometimes so unscrupulous—the girl ought to be put on her guard.

"But darned if I want to be the one to warn her! And if ever a girl seemed capable of looking out for herself, she's it!"

In a minute he was at the schoolhouse door. It was slightly ajar; he pushed it open a bit wider and, not entering, glanced in. The sight that met his eye made him draw back precipitately—Miss Schwenckton, her back toward the door, was standing on her platform disrobing! She had already taken off her coat and frock, her white shoulders bared—

"There was no one else in the schoolroom, yet—

Marvin stumbled back a pace from the door. But though the thought that pierced him made him call himself "a cad," yet as he stood there wondering whether he should knock, he felt cold all over; and even while he hesitated, in what seemed to him an incredibly short time, she suddenly appeared before him in the doorway clad in a jacket suit and a jaunty sports hat! He was so taken aback, so utterly confused, that he could not move or speak, but stood as stock-still as the wooden posts of the school porch.

At sight of a man standing motionless at her door in the gathering gloom, she cried out in alarm—which brought him to himself.

"Don't be frightened! It's only—your superintendent!"

She gave a little gasp of relief. "Only! And of whom, pray, should I be more frightened?—the schoolroom being empty just now, of course you can't bully me into teaching geography for your entertainment—my good luck!"

"Going home now?"

"Yes."

"Then"—he took from her hand the big door-key and the books she had in her arms—"may I walk with you?"

When he had locked the school door, he glanced up the road to the waiting car. Its lights had been turned on, illuminating the road over a wide area, and he saw that his brother, standing in front of his car, was witnessing his coming out of the schoolhouse with Miss Schwenckton. She, he observed, was viewing with frank surprise the lighted car and its owner a few rods away. That look of surprise seemed so genuine, it was hard to believe that his own unexpected arrival at the school had foiled a meeting between those two. And yet it would be so like St. Croix to seek a furtive love affair with a charming girl like Miss Schwenckton when he'd die before he would openly associate with anyone of a class outside his own!—like a parvenu uncertain of his position, rather than like a man born to a secure place in the sun! But that a girl of Miss Schwenckton's spirit should accept such cowardly attentions seemed incredible. And this mystery of her changing her clothing in the schoolroom!—

As they turned their backs on the car and went on their way, neither of them referred to it—though Meely was so absorbed in wondering whether St. Croix had recognized her that her sense of Marvin's interesting companionship was less keen than it would otherwise have been.

"Does your work always detain you so late as this at your school?" he asked with subtle guile. She didn't know he had seen her coming along the highway!

"Not always. Sometimes," she answered guardedly.

"I should think the schoolroom would be too dark for you to work there so late."

"I usually stop working before dark."

"But this evening?"

"I—I lingered on—"

A brief silence.

"I must warn you, Miss Schwenckton, it's not really safe for you to be alone after dark either in your schoolroom or on this lonely road."

"Then I'm thankful you're with me."

"But what detained you so late?"

"Oh—this and that—a bit of work—"

"Correcting spelling-papers, I presume?"

"Really, Mr. Creighton, your interest in perfectly unimportant trivial things like spelling-papers! My goodness!"

"I'll bet you never bore yourself with correcting spelling-papers! Not you!"

"How you came by the impression that I'm so light-minded as never to correct spelling-papers! Well, to be sure, it isn't my favorite pastime. I do sometimes indulge in other diversions."

No use—he could not trap her into admitting that she had been working in her schoolroom, but walking on the highway. Why didn't she want to admit it?

"Oh!" he exclaimed as at this instant she tripped over a rough place in the dark road and, to his consternation, fell headlong. "Are you hurt?" he solicitously inquired in alarm as he lifted her and she leaned against him panting.

"No, no. Don't you know, Mr. Creighton," she asked, as she moved out from the circle of his arm, "how dangerous it is to lift a fallen woman? What a h—l of a road!" she remarked as they resumed their walk cautiously.

"There are just two kinds of girls," said Marvin, "that would talk about 'a h—l of a road'—high-born ladies and toughs! As a country teacher and pious Sam Schwenckton's relative, you don't come under either of these heads. What must I conclude?"

"That I adopt my speech to my company. When I'm with—Cousin Sam—my speech is Yea and Nay."

"If it were more than that I'm sure he would not harbor you—if for no other reason than for your corrupting influence on his children. You're not afraid he might have your school taken from you?"

"He would if he thought it was his duty to," she nodded, her tone expressing supreme indifference to this fate so dreaded of the county school teachers.

"You wouldn't mind that—losing your school?" he asked curiously.

"It would be hard on the school. They'd not get another teacher like me in a hurry!" she smiled.

"I can well believe you!"

"I've always thought people that don't know me miss a lot!"

"I'm sure I've gained a lot in knowing you!"

"Thanks. Same to you. And if I were dismissed," she added with a sigh, "all the elegant education I'm getting in textbook lore would be brought to an untimely end! I'm learning a lot through teaching—from geography up."

"Up? To what?"

"Oh, the multiplication tables up to twelve. I never knew them so well beyond seven."

"Then for the sake of your education, I hope Sam Schwenckton doesn't find out what he's harboring in the family! But really, Miss Schwenckton," added Marvin earnestly, a solicitous note in his voice, "I'm afraid that with the sort of trustees we have in this district a teacher like you can't hold down this job long! I'd hate like the dickens to have your bigoted old trustees fire you, so let me warn you—do be a bit prudent—if it's in you to be! I've been hearing complaints—"

"Of me?"

—"from the parents. A small boy in your room, Jakey Raffensburger, roused his parents' suspisions by being so enamored of school since you've taught it, when heretofore he had to be flogged to make him go, that they were moved to investigate the reason, and he admitted, after much probing, that he'd rather go to school to you than see a movie, because you told them about 'devils,' showed them pictures of devils and acted the devil for them! Satan, it seems, has become to Jakey a hero, to the unspeakable horror of his devout parents, who, believe me, take the devil seriously! They complained to me that they didn't send their child to school to learn to love and admire the devil! So I interviewed Jake and found you'd been telling these children of scenes from 'Paradise Lost'!"

"A little English poetry surely can't be objected to, Mr. Creighton?"

"It's not in the curriculum, Miss Schwenckton! Stick to the curriculum just enough to hold your job, can't you?"

"But do you know I couldn't endure my job a week if I didn't liven it up with a little of the joy of life!"

"Joy of life—'Paradise Lost'? You'll be brightening their lives with Dante's 'Inferno' next! By the way," he suddenly remembered, "you're booked for a talk to the district teachers at their monthly meeting next Saturday, aren't you?"

"Gawd help me, yes! Ain't it awful!"

"What are you going to give them? How to teach geography, I suppose?"

"I could even get away with that in the frock I'm going to wear! The softest, most alluring French blue georgette!" she said enthusiastically. "Anything I say will be well received in that garb! I'm trying to collect suitable shoes and hat to go with the frock, seeing the hard-boiled shoes and hat I'd just invested in, before I'd dreamed of buying this dainty frock, would be a thought too harsh. If I'd only known," she lamented, "that I was going to buy that luscious georgette, I'd have bought entirely different shoes and hat! Isn't it tragic they don't match?" she wailed.

"Good Lord, are you confusing a teachers' institute with a fashion show? I asked you what you're going to talk about to those teachers?"

"What would you advise?" she asked confidingly.

"Do you mean to say you haven't anything ready and the meeting booked for day after tomorrow?"

"I don't know any of the teachers, so I don't know their tastes."

"'Tastes'! Do you think you're expected to treat them to a vaudeville stunt? You're supposed, child, to discuss some pedagogic problem or theory for their edifying! Now I'll admit you've some rather good ideas, if you could put them over—"

"It won't matter what I say—they'll be too taken up with looking at my blue French geeorgette—" She was off on the frock again, and she sang its praises for the next two minutes without intermission, until they had reached the Schwencktons' gate.

As they stopped, Meely suddenly realized, with a passing anxiety, that she had been entirely neglecting to attend to her accent—she had been saying "jawgette" and "mattah" and "teach-ah."

"Oh, come in and see Aunt Rosy. Will you?"

"Sounds tempting—but I hardly have time; I always spend Thursday evening with my mother, as my father is never home then; he attends a directors' meeting in Philadelphia every Thursday." He paused; then added slowly, deliberately, "Mother phoned me she particularly wanted to see me this evening, as she'd found an old photograph I'd asked her to look for—also, that she'd got some interesting mail from England—"

He paused again tentatively. Meely held herself rigid that he might not detect the tremor that went over her at his words.

"Good night," he said abruptly—and before she quite realized he was going, he had disappeared in the dimness of the road.

* * * * * * *

St. Croix Creighton and his father, dining at the Ritz-Carlton in Philadelphia, were discussing a certain matter not at all connected with the business of the directors' meeting which they had come to the city to attend.

If the infatuated eyes of Nettie Schwenckton could have beheld St. Croix just now—his evening clothes making him look taller, more slender, more than ever like the young god of her romantic air castles, she would indeed have thought her "honor" a small price to pay for any least notice such a divine creature might bestow upon her. Little did that enamored maiden dream that at that very moment her name was on the sacred lips of her demigod, her image in his thought.

St. Croix, in his desperation that afternoon, after Meely's amazing rebuff, determined, on his way to his car, that he would pique her into a regard for him by exciting her jealousy; she herself had given him the hint when she had explained her silence about the teacher's boarding with them. He would make love to that school teacher under her very eyes! Meely should be made to see how other girls in her station, or in any station, for that matter, jumped at his nod!

And then he had seen, as he supposed, the school teacher in his brother's company; coming out of her schoolhouse hours after the closing time, apparently in a relation with him of the utmost friendliness. This was the third time in ten days that he had seen Marvin come out of that schoolhouse! His official duties certainly did not take him there so often as that. St. Croix was genuinely worried over the circumstances, as well as irritated at being foiled in his plan to make Meely jealous of the teacher, which of course he could not do if Marvin were intrigued with her.

Over their cigarettes and coffee St. Croix was shifting his own apprehensions about his brother on his father's broad shoulders.

"The danger is, you know, father, that Marvin might take it into his cracked head to marry one of these common country teachers! If he happened to fall in love with one of them, her station or breeding wouldn't stop him!"

"Her station wouldn't. Her breeding would. Marvin's fastidious."

"Within limits," St. Croix doubtfully admitted.

"Bad breeding would be a limit for him."

"I wouldn't trust him! He'd be just fool enough to think he could raise her to his level. You know what he is—all for leveling and equalizing!"

"I ought to know what he is! I've suffered enough from what he is!" Mr. Creighton said bitterly.

"The Danger Is, You Know, Father, That Marvin Might Take It Into His Cracked Head to Marry One of These Common Country Teachers!"

"Takes after his mother. Never got his crazy radical slant from me!"

"Mother's not radical."

"She's tolerant. Tolerant of anything!"

"Much too tolerant of Marvin's freakishness!" St. Croix grumbled.

"Yes, if she'd only stand squarely with me about the boy—" Mr. Creighton paused and shook his gray head. "No—no use. What good has it done, my taking the extreme stand I have?—even ordering my own son out of my house!" he exclaimed; a pained look in his eyes that made St. Croix, who was fond of his father, curse his brother in his heart. "I thought he'd come back cured in a month at most! But what does he do? Gets himself a good job and goes to work! More confirmed than ever in his wrong-headedness! I'm thinking of asking him to come home again. Might as well. He'll never change. And it makes your mother unhappy—his being away!"

"And the d—d gossip it makes!" St. Croix frowned.

"What put this idea into your head, that he might marry a county school teacher?" Mr. Creighton anxiously asked. "If he'd go that far—disgrace me with a low marriage—"

St. Croix realized, as he told his father the grounds of his fears, that they sounded rather insubstantial. "But he must have been closeted a long time with that girl this afternoon, for it was nearly two hours after closing time," he explained. "And he seems to haunt her schoolhouse!"

"She's young and pretty, I suppose?"

"Young and pretty, yes, but deadly common!"

"How do you know? Ever met her yourself?"

"Yes. She's a relative of the farmer, Sam Schwenckton, and boards at his farm. I met her that night Sam Schwenckton snitched my watch."

"Attractive?"

St. Croix nodded. "But an impossible little vulgarian. I can't imagine why they let such illiterates teach our schools. She murders the English language as terribly as any uneducated Pennsylvania Dutch girl does!"

"I scarcely believe, St. Croix, that Marvin could be attracted to such a girl as you describe. He doesn't usually let his senses blur his judgment."

"I'd think, too, but for what I've seen with my own eyes, Father. If he could tolerate her for two hours—alone in her schoolroom with her—and then walk home with her for a mile—I should think he must be pretty far gone!"

"It wouldn't matter how far gone he were if it weren't that the young fool's apt, as you say, to marry her! Consideration for his family, for his mother—trifles like that!—would not stop him! Well, I'll nip it! I'll investigate the thing and if there's anything in it, I'll bribe the girl to go away."

"But wait—we haven't much evidence; it would be a pity to let her hold you up for a pile of money if there's nothing in it."

"I'll soon find out whether there's anything in it."

"But how?"

"If I can contrive to get in touch with her, the rest will be easy!"

"The danger of interfering is that it often starts just what you meant to prevent!"

"I wasn't born yesterday, St. Croix. Once I meet the girl I'll soon find out enough to guide me. If I waited for indisputable evidence, I might be too late. I suppose I could drop in to see her at her school just at closing time, don't you think? Do you know what time in the afternoon the school closes?"

"About four o'clock."

"I'll look her over on Monday. It won't do to dally with such a possibility! I'm fast coming to the point of resigning myself to the fact that Mr. Marvin can't be coerced. Very well, then, we've got to circumvent him!"

"Conceited, obstinate ass!" muttered St. Croix.

"Nothing of the kind! He has one of the few qualities in which men differ from sheep. Backbone. He has backbone. Stands upright on his own. Refuses to get down on all fours and run after a tinkling leader!"

"Steps out from the herd and throws the whole works into disorder!" St. Croix contended.

"He would say he was starting them on a better path—away from the slaughter house."

"Sounds as if you agreed with him, Father!"

"You know better. But I respect his backbone. Gets it from me," Mr. Creighton concluded, as at this moment the waiter presented the bill and St. Croix rose from the table.

CHAPTER VII

WHEN Marvin Creighton arrived at his father's house that same evening, he found, to his dismay, all the driveways about the place filled with limousines. A party on? But that was unlikely, for now that he no longer lived at home, he and his mother valued these Thursday evenings together too much to let anything interfere with them. This evening he especially wanted to see her alone for the reasons he had accurately stated to Miss Schwenckton—he wanted to see the photograph he had asked his mother to unearth and he wanted very much to hear about the English mail she had received.

He surmised that he had probably come in at the tail end of an afternoon club meeting—the "Quo Non Ascendus club," probably Well, he didn't want to be caught in that bedlam! So he stole in at a side door and went upstairs to his own rooms.

The familiar sight of his bedroom and study, to which he could now come only on brief visits in his father's absence, depressed him. It all seemed so unnecessary, this bitter controversy between him and his father! Yet it was not a light thing of recent growth, but deep-rooted in their essential differences of temperament and character and outlook—his father being quite frankly primitive and "humun" (he claimed) in his gospel of self-interest, while he himself was inherently, unconquerably socially minded. From his boyhood up his father had tried in vain to knock out of him his unbusiness-like consideration of the other fellow's point of view; and it had ended at last in their being unable to live under the same roof.

The hardest part of it to Marvin was the distress it caused his mother. If anything could have made him deny his soul it was that.

While he freshened up in his bathroom, reveling in its conveniences and comforts (there was no bathroom at Absalom Puntz') he wondered how Miss Schwenckton, who looked so dainty and seemed so fastidious, endured the crude life at Schwenckton's farm. She did not fit into the picture.

He knew the party must break up soon, for it was nearly dinner time and most of these people had several miles to drive; and a few empty cups and saucers about the hall which the servants had overlooked told him they had already had tea.

How did his mother, comparatively intelligent, stand that crowd? And yet, how else would she fill her life, emptied, through her great wealth, of the wholesome necessity to work? Superfluous wealth was a joy-killer as surely as poverty.

The visitors were gone at last and Marvin went downstairs to take his mother in his arms.

(Continued on page 7)

Vanity of Moire Silk

Here is a swagger vanity to carry on dress occasions. It is of black moire silk bound with gold lace galloon. It shows quality in every detail, especially in its shirred silk linings, which are all one could hope for in exquisite finesse. A choice floral done in genuine petite point embroidery adds a touch of refined coloring. Keep this in mind when jotting down things to buy wm. Lars... ...sburg were week end visitors at ... Ferd Hall) ...ome.

Wa

SYLVIA of the MINUTE

By HELEN R. MARTIN

Copyright by Dodd, Mead & Co.
WNU Service

(Continued from page 6)

It was cozy having his dinner alone with his mother; and the taste and comforts of his home, after his dose of Absalom Puntz' menage, were certainly soothing.

"Father thinks a dose of plain living will cure me!" Marvin smiled as he helped himself to fillet of steak and mushrooms the butler was passing. "On the contrary, living at Absalom Puntz' has made me realize, as I never did before, how much unnecessary luxury we have here, which I always took for granted, not knowing any other way of life. So this throwing me out of my own is just having the opposite effect of what he intended it to have."

"I don't like to think of your living in such discomfort, dear," his mother answered, "though you're not looking any the worse for it! But how in the world do you stand their food?"

"It's good. I walk about the country so much that anything tastes good. I'm getting to like sauerkraut and boiled beef and cabbage! Bully! And fried ponhaus! And even smearcase!"

"Imagine St. Croix eating at the table with those Puntzes!" Mrs. Creikhton smiled. "Sauerkraut and smearcase and ponhaus!"

"It's not their food so much as the way they eat it that 'kreistles' me. Know what 'kreistles' means? Of course you don't. Means disgust, rubs me the wrong way, gets my goat. I can't watch them eat; they are too darned industrious about it."

"Marvin, I want to ask you something—I'm worried. St. Croix is philandering, I'm afraid, with a very common girl and I do dread what can come of such entanglements. It's so imprudent! You get about the country so much I thought perhaps you had heard or seen something of it, have you? Do you know who the girl is?"

"No," Marvin responded gloomily, his heart sinking; that car of his brother's near the William Penn school and Miss Schwenckton pretending she had remained in school to work when she had been out on the road—and that weird business of her changing her clothes—"How did you hear of it, Mother?"

"The girl sent a box of fudge here to the house for him, with a verse written on the wrapping paper—the poetry being as homemade as the candy! I gave it to him when he came home and he was so embarrassed and angry I knew he must be involved rather deeply—and I've been worried!"

"What makes you conclude, Mother, that she's a 'common' girl?"

"Her poetry!

"When you receive this box of futch
You'll mebby think it ain't so mutch.
But in one piece I put a kiss.
You'll know which one—the sweetest 'tis."

Marvin laughed joyfully—the author of that was not Miss Schwenckton!

"St. Croix certainly takes his chances, playing 'round with one of these Pennsylvania Dutch girls! First thing he knows he'll have a lawsuit on his hands. But I think," he tried to comfort his mother, "we may always bank on St. Croix' playing safe. Philandering is of course always dangerous where a suit of damages offers a big haul—but in St. Croix' philosophy of life, Prudence and Respectability are such influential factors I think we needn't be anxious."

"Well, I hope so," she sighed. "Another thing I wanted to ask you—do you know. I'm beginning to think, Marvin, that there's more to this affair with our English cousins than meets the eye?"

"Aha! You are? Well, so am I! Go on—what's yours?"

"You know that for months St. Croix has been planning to go to England to see Lady Sylvia—and, Marvin, they keep holding him off! Their latest letter says Lady Sylvia has gone abroad. Now, of course they've no money to let her travel about the continent, so I'm sure she must have taken a position as traveling companion or governess. I'm beginning to suspect, dear, that she's as much averse to this rather ridiculous marriage scheme as you are yourself!"

"I should think she would be! Probably she prefers earning her own living!"

"But she can't earn enough to save the estate!"

"It's possible she may think more of her self-respect than of the estate."

"Well, her parents don't admit anything like that—they probably hope to persuade her—to bring her 'round."

"Vain hope, if she's a girl that's worth anything."

"Yes—only you must remember that the English don't regard such marriages as we do, they're so used to them."

"If she marries St. Croix, she's no better than any other courtesan that sells herself!"

"What are your suspicions, Marvin?"

"My 'suspicions'?"

"You said you agreed with me that there seemed more to this affair than meets the eye."

"Exactly. But let's not go so fast. About the girl's being 'abroad,' now—perhaps it's here, to America, that she has come to earn her living!"

Mrs. Creighton looked startled. "What makes you think that? Do you know that she has?"

Marvin regarded his mother uncertainly—a wild possibility flashing upon his mind. His mother was always perfectly open with him, but she was conscientiously loyal to his father and if his father had asked her to keep a certain secret she would certainly try to do it.

"Mother," he asked, his quiet tone concealing his strong feeling, "do you know that she's here?"—for perhaps he was being "worked"; perhaps the girl had been brought over here and placed where she was bound to cross his path, his father hoping that when his son met her without knowing who she was, he might "fall for her"; and all this talk about St. Croix marrying her was perhaps bluff to throw him (Marvin) off the scent! Could this be possible?

Was the girl conniving with his father to trap him, that her family and her home might enjoy the Creighton millions? And was his mother playing a silent hand? But a girl that could lend herself to such a plot! He felt a revulsion of feeling against her at the bare thought of it and his heart sank like lead in his breast.

He would demand the truth from his mother; she would not deny it. He put down his coffee cup and took both her hands in his. "You know, of course, Mother, why I asked to see that photograph?" he hazarded.

"Why, no, Marvin, I don't," she answered, very puzzled. "Why did you? And what on earth makes you think she may be here?"

"Mother, what do you know about this idiotic business? Let me have the truth!"

"I don't know a thing about it, dear, that you don't know, or not as much, evidently. What do you mean?"

"You don't know whether Lady Sylvia St. Croix is in America?"

"Oh course I don't. Why?"

The possibility still remained that his father and Lady Sylvia might be working without his mother's knowledge.

Here was an acid test of his suspicion. "Are you sure St Croix means to go over to England and try for her?"

"Why, of course! Why should doubt it? He's crazy about it! You know that, dear. And so is your father. What is in your mind dear?"

Marvin dropped her hands, leaned back in the deep couch and folded his arms. "I suppose I'm a fool, but I had a suspicion for a moment that Father had got the girl over here and was jabbing her on to me on the sly!"

"Oh! What makes you think such a thing?"

"A young teacher at William Penn school who is suspiciously ignorant of these United States and occasionally, when she isn't on her guard, falls into rather an English accent! She's supposed to be Sam Schwenckton's niece or cousin; she lives at his farm and her name is Schwenckton. But she's quite unlike the other county teachers. Rather distingue; a thoroughbred; the only teacher in the county that ventures to cheek me!" he grinned.

"Gracious. Don't let it make a prig of you, this job of superintending a lot of women teachers! It's enough to! I won't have you spoiled like that! But your suspicions—they seem rather fantastic, dear!"

"Yes," Marvin gave it up, "I suppose they do. May I see the photograph, please?"

Mrs. Creighton pointed to a book on the table behind the couch.

Holding a "cabinet-sized" photograph near the table lamp, he examined it eagerly. It was the face of a girl of fifteen; short, curly hair, fine features, a sensitive mouth, a serious, rather melancholy expression.

Undoubtedly there was a resemblance—the same wide-open innocent eyes and sensitive mouth. And yet it was not definite or strong enough to be unmistakable, by any means. He could not feel sure. Far from it. What resemblance there was might easily be a coincidence. This photograph gave no suggestion of that vivid sparkle of his young teacher's face, her gay riot of color, her charm. It looked rather insipid. And yet—

"Well?" asked his mother. "Of course it isn't your young teacher?"

"I can hardly tell—I'm not sure—"

"But, is there any resemblance?" she asked incredulously.

"Yes, there is. May I keep this?"

"Of course. But, Marvin, the thing is too impossible!"

"I suppose so. Look here, Mother, will you call on Miss Schwenckton and see what you think about her? Notice her accent. Sometimes she seems to me to be deliberately disguising it!"

"But, dear, what possible excuse could I give her for calling on her? Wouldn't she and the Schwencktons think it very queer? I'd feel embarrassed!"

"But aside from my little suspicion, I'd like you to call on her just because she's worth knowing. You'd find her a lot more your kind than that Quo Non Ascendus crowd!"

His mother's ears detected something in his voice, her swift glance saw something in his face, that caught her breath.

"All right, dear." Suddenly she turned to him and clasped his hand almost convulsively. "Oh, Marvin, dear, do you realize that if you took up with a county school teacher, a relative of Sam Schwenckton, that would be the last straw to your father! He'd never, never look at you again! Of course, I know that could not stop you if you loved—"

Marvin laughed. "Don't worry, dear! You're the only girl I've ever been in love with! What makes you imagine I'm going to 'take up' with Miss Schwenckton?"

"Now perhaps," she said ruefully as she noticed that his face had

"Well?" Asked the Mother. "Of Course It Isn't Your Young Teacher—" grown red, "I've put it into your head!"

"Perhaps you have," he slowly answered. "Perhaps if she isn't our English cousin—"

"Which she surely isn't, dear! Living at the Schwenckton farm and teaching that school—Lady Sylvia St. Croix! Unthinkable!"

"Well, if she isn't—if she's just herself—she certainly is fetching! But if she's the something-more-than-meets-the-eye, that I half suspect, I wouldn't touch her with tongs!"

"But why? Isn't that unreasonable prejudice?"

"Not at all. If she's a tricky schemer, out after our money, she's not the sort of girl she seems to be and it's only the sort of girl she seems to be that I might fall for—though I hasten to assure you I've no idea she'd fall for me!"

His mother laughed. She had never yet met the girl who, if given a chance, would not "fall for" either one of her fine sons. And, of course, with the additional lure of their millions, who could resist them? Surely not a county teacher of the Schwenckton breed!—though, of course, she must be, as Marvin insisted, far above her relatives or he could hardly find her so interesting and so presentable that he would ask his mother to call on her. Well, this certainly needed looking into! She would lose no time in calling on the young woman.

"I'm curious to know, Mother, how you'll size up Miss Schwenckton. Will you go to see her soon? On Monday?"

"What time will she be home from school?"

"School closes at four. By the way, to avoid the curiosity of the farmer's family, it might be better, perhaps, to call on her at school just at closing time."

"I'll be glad to avoid the curiosity of the farmer's family," his mother assented.

So it seemed that our young school mistress was booked for something of a reception at her schoolhouse at four o'clock on Monday afternoon: Mr. Creighton plotting to visit her with the determination to bundle her out of the neighborhood, because he saw in her the final and strongest hindrance to his son's desirable marriage with Lady Sylvia St. Croix; Mrs. Creighton planning to discover, in the course of a friendly call, whether the girl were no other than she whom her husband desired as his elder son's bride, desiring it so urgently that he would stop at nothing to gain its fulfillment.

The stage was all set, it seemed, for a scene dramatic enough to satisfy even Meely's insatiable love of histrionics.

CHAPTER VIII

MEELY'S idea in addressing the county teachers on Saturday morning at their monthly institute was not so much to be instructive and pedagogical, as to be entertaining. So she chose for her subject, "Shakespeare's Women." That title, while looking educational on the program, would give her a chance to riot in a dramatic orgy—speeches of Lady Macbeth, Portia, Desdemona, Juliet—she would have the time of her life!

And as she would never see these women again she need not bother with her accent, which would be a great relief.

Meely had assured herself, before launching forth, that the superintendent was not present. And once she "got going," she was too transported from the world about her to notice towards the end of the session while she was giving "the balcony scene," that Mr. Creighton had slipped unobtrusively and quite noiselessly into a back seat.

When, therefore, the meeting being over and she putting on her wraps, she suddenly saw him coming toward her across the length of the room, she was startled and rather perturbed.

"I've got my roadster out here—I'll drive you home," he stated.

She did not quite fancy this form of address; why didn't he ask her whether he might drive her home?

"Oh, I won't trouble you; the trolley will take me nearly all the way," she lightly dismissed him.

"But my roadster will take you the whole way."

"Thank you, no."

"But why?" he asked, surprised.

"I'm not going home. I think I'll go in to Sunbury and treat myself to a hotel meal and a cinema—movie," she hastily corrected herself.

"Good! I'm going to Sunbury myself. Have lunch with me, will you? I'll even go to a—cinema—w' 'h you!"

In her pleased surprise at such a jolly invitation (for to be in Marvin Creighton's company was rather perilously exciting and Meely was lonely) she dropped her cool manner with rather startling suddenness and assented with childish delight.

The day was clear, the air delicious, the roads in good condition. Marvin's car delightfully easy and comfortable; and Meely, freed from school-room drudgery and, for the first time in weeks, from the atmosphere of the Schwenckton household, felt a sudden hilarious gayety, a tingling in her blood, such as she had not experienced since she had undertaken the serious profession of the teacher.

"Oh!" she laughed gleefully, fairly bouncing in her seat, "what a lark! It makes me feel young again!"

"Me, too!" responded Marvin, his eyes snapping. "Pedagogy could dry one up at the roots, couldn't it?—if" he conscientiously added, "one didn't fight to keep it a living thing."

"I try not to take it too seriously," said Meely.

"A shockingly imprudent thing to admit to your superintendent! I suppose," he remarked ironically, "you look upon your work merely as a stepping-stone to something else?"

"Oh, dear, yes! I don't expect to be a school teacher all my days! Gracious!"

"A stepping-stone to marriage, I supose?"

"What a good guesser you are! But why be high-hat about that? Woman's place is in the home, isn't it?"

"It's not been for the past ten years. You're a back number!"

"You surprise me. I thought I was ahead of my times, because," she said with sad conviction, "I'm sure I couldn't make any man happy if I had to do his housewor-r-k."

"Will you tell me," he inquired in a tone of dulcet gentleness, "why you adopt a Pennsylvania accent when you talk to me and an English accent when you recite Shakespeare?"

"Oh," she lightly responded, 'that's just my platform manner—I've acted quite a bit—"

"Professionally?" he demanded, startled.

"Both in private theatricals and professionally."

"What, then, made you ever turn to teaching?"

"Working my way to Hollywood."

Marvin looked rather staggered, for this knocked out his suspicion as to who she was and put a very wet blanket indeed upon a hope he was half consciously cherishing.

"Do you think," he asked somewhat stiffly, "it's right to use our schools as a stepping-stone for your ambitions?"

"I'd use every school in this county for my ambition if I'd the chance to!—and all the trustees and even the superintendent himself. Now throw me out of your car! Take my job from me if you think me base and unprincipled! I don't care! I've nearly enough money saved anyway to get to Hollywood. Anyway, I believe I could get there sooner by cooking my way but—cooks earn so much more than college presidents in America!"

"Do your parents uphold you in this ambition of yours?"

"Now you are a back number!—parents' influence having passed out eleven years ago."

"Your parents are living?"

"Yes."

"Where?"

A perceptible pause. "Reading, Pennsylvania."

"Any brothers and sisters?"

"No—my only brother was killed in the World war and—" She stopped short; she had spoken impulsively; Marvin wondered whether emotion for her slaughtered brother—or something else—had checked so abruptly her statement of a coincidence.

He would test her a bit. "That's odd," he remarked, "I've an English cousin whose only son was killed in the World war and his only other child is a daughter about your age!"

"What's odd about it?"

"Rather a coincidence, don't you think?"

"Why, no. There must have been thousands of such coincidences, surely."

"My cousin is a baronet, Sir John St. Croix, and his son's death left no heir to his title; so that it would have died out with him, but that the king conferred on his daughter, Sylvia, the title of baroness and the right of continuance of the title in direct line, so that her oldest son will bear the title of baron."

As Marvin stated these facts, his efforts to watch his companion's face rendered his driving rather eccentric.

"Oh," she exclaimed, "is that the English titled lady they say around here you refuse to marry?"

Nothing could have been more impersonal that her tone—though he noted that her cheeks were flushed.

"Has that gossip reached you?"

"Couldn't have dodged it!" she smiled.

"By the way, I believe you told me, the first time I met you, didn't you, that you'd been 'jilted'?"

"Only once."

"What for?"

"That's what I'd like to know! Can you understand a man's deliberately and of his own free will and choice losing the chance to annex me for life? Why," she abruptly inquired, "did you jilt your cousin, that baroness?"

"I didn't. I was never really engaged to her. Our parents had a sort of understanding—"

"Did the noble lady fall in with it?"

"I never heard that she objected."

"Then don't you think you rather let her down?"

"Not so much, in my opinion, as a marriage de convenance would let her down! Anyway, my brother, whom she'll probably find much more to her taste, is going to marry her."

"Is he?"

"If she'll have him."

"And you think she will like him better than you?"

"If you'd ever met him you wouldn't ask!"

"Oh, why?"

"He's a ladies' man—has prettier manners than I have and better clothes."

"Some girls don't care for 'a ladies' man.'"

"Well, if she turns him down I might begin to be interested in her myself."

Marvin Felt a Tingling Sensation Along His Arm That Made It Difficult for Him to Keep His Hand on the Wheel.

"Why."

"If she could be so disinterested. My brother has a big income from my father. I have only what I earn."

"You haven't a very high opinion of girls, have you?"

"What makes you think so?"

"You seem to think they've no sense — preferring manners and clothes to—a man!"

Marvin felt a tingling sensation along his arm that made it difficult for him to keep his hand on the wheel, such an urgent pull was on it to snatch her to him and kiss the lips that paid him such a tribute; he was not used to compliments from girls—because he was not used to girls at all.

But the necessity, at this moment, of finding a parking spot in front of Sunbury's best hotel prevented his replying.

"I've been wondering," Meely said, as their waiter arrived with oysters, "are you going to make this educational job your life work, Mr. Creighton? Or are you 'using it as a stepping-stone' to other ambitions?" she wickedly suggested.

"Have you any idea," he seriously replied, "how hard it is to find a job an honest man can do? Pledge yourself to absolute honesty in this world and you'll starve to death or rot in jail! Public school positions are political jobs controlled by a bunch of exploiters. Show me one profession or business in which a man can be entirely honest. The church? It is to smile!—ask any pastor! Journalism? Ask John Swinton, one of America's most beloved journalists. Medicine? Read 'Arrowsmith!' The law? Ask Judge Lindsey! Teaching? Ask Scott Nearing!"

"Well, what is one to do about it?"

"Darned if I see any solution for a fellow that was born with a twist like mine!"

"Most people born to great riches as you've been, certainly are not troubled with your difficulties, Mr. Creighton! I've always been poor, so I can't quite feel your plight."

"All my life I've felt bitterly the hoggishness of our family's living in luxury on the labor of others who live on the ragged edge of poverty."

"You take life as seriously as I did at sixteen! Grow up and be a cynic like me, then you'll be happy, though rich. Can it matter to the vast universe how we worms on this tiny earth behave?"

"Not to the vast universe—but to us while we're here. Got to have traffic laws, you know, unless you can get off the high road to a road no one else uses; where, of course, you'd have a right to drive yourself to death if you wanted to. But can you find such a road? Can you—"

His voice trailed off into silence as he sat staring at her absently; for while he had been talking he had become conscious, as he looked at her, of seeing a face within a face—the childish face of that photograph of his English cousin looking out at him from the mature, intelligent countenance of this young woman.

That photograph was at this moment in his inside breast pocket. An almost irresistible temptation seized him to take it out and compare it with the living face before his eyes. Or to suddenly confront her with it and note the effect.

"Why on earth do you keep staring at me like that?" she inquired in astonishment.

He came to himself with a short laugh. "Well, I've seen worse chromos than your face!"

"Oh, don't be so impersonal!"

They laughed gayly as, having finished their luncheon, they rose to go out to their waiting car.

(Continued Next Week)

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Clarion, Iowa, November 14, 1027.

The Board of Supervisors of the ounty of Wright, in the State of owa, met at the court house in Clarion, Iowa, as per adjournment.

Members present: E. E. Kitley, Chairman, and Supervisors James Mehl, J. C. Peterson, L. W. Schroeder and J. D. Baker, with County Auditor in attendance.

Minutes of November 8, 1927, read and approved.

The following estimates were on motion approved and oredered paid:

Estimate No. 1 to Moe and Nelson for graveling Secondary Road District No. 40, $722.72; Estimate No. 1 to Moe & Nelson for graveling Secondary Road District No. 44, $1188.80; Estimate No. 4 to Hildebrand & Kragh for bridge construction, 1927 contract, $2891.70.

Moved by Peterson and seconded by Schroeder that County Attorney Robert D. Blue be authorized to enter his appearance in the action commenced by State of Iowa, Ex. Rel., John Fletcher, Attorney General of the State of Iowa, against Webster County and Wright County, at the request of the State Board of Control, for the purpose of determining the legal residence of John Voog, which has been commenced in the District Court of Iowa in and for Webster County. Motion carried.

Moved by Baker and seconded by Schroeder that L. N. Archerd be employed to assist Robert D. Blue in the John Voog case. Motion carried.

On motion adjourned to December 5, 1927.

E. E. KITLEY,
Chairman.
F. W. WALKER,
County Auditor.

Clarion, Iowa, December 5, 1927.

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Wright, in the State of Iowa, met at the court house in Clarion, Iowa, as per adjournment.

Members present: E. E. Kitley, Chairman, and Supervisors James Mehl, J. C. Peterson, L. W. Schroeder and J. D. Baker, with the County Auditor in attendance.

Minutes of November 14, 1927, read and approved.

On motion county auditor was instructed to transfer $900.00 from the Bridge Fund to the Road Fund on account of error in drawing road warrants Nos. 6592 and 6593.

The petitions of E. G. Reed, et al, requesting the board to establish the road in Grant Township from Cornelia east to Primary Road No. 15 as a county road, were presented and on motion referred to Engineer Gross for his report.

On motion Engineer Gross was instructed to notify all patrolmen that on and after December 1, 1927, they would be paid by the hour.

Moved and seconded, that whereas Otto Wolf, through error and mistake, paid 1926 taxes, interest and penalties on E½ NE¼ of Section 19, Township 91, Range 25, the treasurer be authorized to refund to such tax payer said sum so paid by him. Motion carried.

On motion county auditor was instructed to sign and return legal settlement notice of Grace G. Sheplee.

On motion the School Fund loans of $5000.00 each to Wm. A. Gartz and Chester P. Luick were approved.

Moved and seconded that the petition of Anna E. Jackson Hamblin for suspension of taxes on lots in Eagle Grove be refused. Motion carried.

On motion the County charge notice from Hamilton County, relative to Clara Brock, was refused and ordered returned.

On motion John Kirstein was appointed as delegate to the State Agricultural Convention to be held at Des Moines, December 14, 1927.

Time and adte for supply letting having arrived, board took up the same.

Bids were received from Belmond Independent, Jenkins-Fergemann & Company, Matt Parrott & Sons Co. Frankel Carbon Company, Wright County Reporter, Eagle Grove Eagle and Acres-Blackmar Company.

On motion Eagle Grove Eagle was awarded Bar Dockets for 1928 at 60c per numbered page; Wright County Reporter was awarded 5000 Monthly Attendance Certificates at $12.00; Jenkins-Fergemann & Company were awarded supplies amounting to $560.10; Belmond Independent was awarded supplies amounting to $40.06; and Acres-Blackmar Company were awarded supplies amounting to $2242.07.

On motion adjourned to meet December 6, 1927.

E. E. KITLEY,
Chairman.
F. W. WALKER,
County Auditor.

Something To Eat, Anyhow

His wife had gone to visit her mother, and had telephoned that she would not be returning until the morning.

When she got back she said to her husband: "You managed to find something to eat last night, didn't you, dear?"

"Oh, yes," he replied cheerily. "I had the steak that was in the pantry and fried it with some onions that I found in the cellar."

"Onions!" she gasped. "Darling you've eaten my bulbs!"

Triplicates

A local politician was called up at his office recently and notified that his wife had presented him with triplets. He was silent for a moment, and then boomed forth: "I demand a recount."

LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Rathbun left Saturday Mitchell, S. D., where she p to spend the winter with her dren.

Chas. McNamara went to bert Lea, Minn., last week to his car which had been left garage for repairs after he been run into from the rear St. Paul man driving a The St. Paul party, whose license number McNamara he cured, paid the costs of repa the Belmond man's car, and other costs connected with affair, totalling $86.00.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. W arrived Friday from New Sa N. D., where they were ma to spend Christmas with his ents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. W They left the first of the for Chicago, and then to York where on Dec. 31 they for Bombay, India, to make home for some years.

The annual business meeti the Congregational church w held today, Dec. 29, in the c parlors. At this meeting, re of the past year will be and election of officers held dinner will be served at noo a special speaker at the d Rev. H. O. Spelman, pastor Congregational church at ion, will be present.

Miss Leona Bras, of Des M spent Christmas at the Luick home. Miss Bras is ployed in Secretary of State say's office, at the capital.

Dr. Knox. of Superior, Dr. and Mrs. Devereaux and Hattie Knox of Fort Dodge, Leah Knox of Minneapolis Christmas with Mrs. Louise sen and children.

Miss Rose Wallace, o home for the holiday visiting her father, T. S. and other relatives.

To You
The Friend
Of Morningside College, at

In recent weeks, ou has loomed large on the horizo of Northwest Iowa. Thousands people in Sioux City and ot centers, in large towns, ham and rurals sections, and in m near, far states, have heard claim, weighed its merits an en in sums from $1 to $50,0 increase the efficiency o service and to guarantee th tinuance of its Grade-A

Through this letter, M side College seeks to expre appreciation of every gift, l and small. They have totalled sum of $603,249 including the values of Annuities and E Notes and apply toward the mediately continued $701,000 g This in turn assures the safety Morningside as a standard lege.

From Alumni in Boston; N tonville, Massachusetts; all way across Michigan, Iowa, c of South Dakota, to Portl Oregon; Los Angeles, Califor and down in Arizona, have c loyal, generous response over wires.

Morningside holds dear th expressions from its sons daughters and from who recognize the importan its efficiency and appreciate integrity of its service.

Again in the name of Morn side and its enlarging future thank you!

Respectfully and Gratefull
Frank E. Mossa
Presid

Slightly Nervous

An English barrister, after very trying day, came h with his nerves on edge, and once sought refuge in his study, and well away from noises of the household machin

He sat down by his fire and gradually getting calmed when the cat, which had b ting there, too, got up an walked across the room.

The master turned on h said indignantly: "Now, are you stamping around for?"

Another Samson

"Look, Daddy," exclaimed proud six-year-old son of a f er, "I pulled up this stalk of all by myself."

"My, but you're strong," marked the father.

"I guess I am, daddy whole world had hold of the end of the stalk."

Sounds Reasonable

"I got it at last!" shrieked inventor. "I'll make a fortu

"What is it this time?" the friend.

'Just a little device, but bring in millions. Every c in the country will buy one a collecting box with dif slots for different coins. A ver money falsl on velvet coppers drop on a big bell.

LOCAL NEWS

Christmas passed quietly in mond, with the usual church rams and family gatherings. weather was ideal. Business report an excellent holiday iness, and most of them are this week invoicing prior to ning the New Year.

Belmond Firemen will hold nnual ball Tuesday, Jan. 3, opera house. Music for ance will be furnished by the land Entertainers, with tick- priced at $1.25.

onday as Wm. Trafford was ng west on Main street, the front wheel on his car came dropping the auto to the ement. Trafford was driving ly, and no damage was done. appeared as tho someone had ened the four burrs holding wheel, with the intention of ing it but had been fright- away before accomplishing purpose. When the car was out the burrs gradually d off.

and Mrs. Henry Saatoff, have been visiting the past e weeks with Mrs. Saatoff's nts, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gar- returned to their home in apolis, Monday.

r. and Mrs. Everett Mathis of City returned home Tuesday spending Christmas with rents, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. e, and other relatives.

e Gus Nissen family spent ristmas with friends and rela- at Ackley.

and Mrs. Lloyd Skovlin and son spent Christmas at the Anderson home.

nson children with their spent Christmas at the Chas. Johnson home in ove.

Kenefick of Garner came Tuesday with Chas. Engstler ited old friends in Bel- Leo Kenefick is now locat- McNary, Arizona, where he loyed with a large lumber ncern.

Ernest Stadtlander Jr. came n from Northwood, where he employed with a bridge gang, spend Christmas with his par- and other relatives. He re- d to work Monday.

Sam Foster and family of oldfield spent Sunday at ome of her sister, and at her nts, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. ers, and the E. Stadtlander ne.

Miss Sylvia Chapman who at- s school at Des Moines spent Christmas holidays with her rents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Chap- n.

Verl Brewer who is employed Des Moines spent Christmas at home of his parents, Mr. and s. E. H. Brewer.

Stanley Th. Johnson came up m Marshalltown to spend istmas with his parents. Stan- who was a former employee The Independent, is now city of the Marshalltown Republiccan, where he is king a very fine success of his en work.

Miss Gulla Ullensvang from Estherville, who is attending school in Cedar Falls accompanied Miss Jessie Wallace home for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie and family of Waverly came Saturday to spent Christmas at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McGuire.

Miss Mable Baker who attends State Teachers College, Cedar Falls, and Miss Francis Baker who teaches at Thornton, enjoyed the Christmas vacation at the parental J. D. Baker home.

Miss Veron Hanson, a student at the University of Iowa, came Thursday to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Hanson.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Riley of Minneapolis arrived Saturday to visit for a few days with relatives and friends.

Mrs. J. E. Rathbun left last week for Mitchell, S. D., where she plans to spend the winter with her children.

Dr. and Mrs. Barth and daughter, Billie, of Boone, were guests Monday at the home of Mrs. Barth's mother, Mrs. M. J. Newgard.

Miss Mildred Parsons, who is emloyed in Minnesota, was home to spend Christmas with her father, W. A. Parsons.

Miss Elaine Rierson of Thompson, Harlan Rierson of Chillicothe, Mo., and Claire Rierson of Milweukee, Wis., are spending the holidays at the H. H. Rierson home.

Caryl McIntyre who attends the State University of Iowa, is visiting a few days with relatives and friends.

Stanley Hill, who is employed in the radio department of a large firm at Mankato, Minn., is spending the holidays at the home of parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Hill.

Glasses fitted.—A. H. Berger, Specialist, Clarion, Iowa. 528c

Legion members and their wives and friends enjoyed a dance Tuesday evening, at the Legion hall. Music for the dance was furnished by an orchestra from Britt.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheller spent Christmas with relatives in the southern part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fetrow are the parents of a baby girl, born Saturday, Dec. 24.

Roger Leinbach, a student at Iowa State College, Ames, was home to spend the holidays with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. S. U. Leinbach.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jacobmeyer and family spent Christmas in Fort Dodge with Mrs. Jacobmeyer's sister, Mrs. Sharp. While there, Mr. Jacobmeyer purchased a Chrysler coach.

The Rebeka lodge ladies gave a shower, last evening, in honor of Mrs. Shillington, formerly Elma Stapley.

Lee Lowenberg, of Wadena, is home for the holidays visiting home folks. He is principal of the Wadena schools.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Christie and family, of Ames, spent Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Christie and other relatives.

GUERNSEY MILK—
10c A QUART
Buy Luick's Guernsey Dairy Milk at City Market, Petersen's Market, Robinson's Grocery, Parson's Store and Bump's Grocery. You can "whip" our cream—but you can't "beat" our milk. 62*

FOR SALE—Dressed chickens. A. W. Martin. 526

HAMPTON PLANS TO PAVE 28 MORE BLOCKS

At a recent meeting of the Hampton city council, a plat was made of the new paving which the city of Hampton proposes to lay down next summer. Twenty eight blocks of pavement are planned. Part of the proposed paving is on Bridge street, connecting with the Jefferson highway thru the town, so that this highway, No. 65, will be paved all the way thru the Hampton city limits. It is understood the state highway commission will pay a part of the cost of paving along this street, as it is part of the state highway road.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Florence Anna Papousek who passed away three years ago today.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Papousek

Harry Jackson is home to spend the holidays with friends and relatives. He has been engaged in putting up highway guardrails in Iowa the past summer.

Miss Matilda Skovlin came up from Des Moines to spend Christmas at the John Anderson home. She returned the first of the week to her work in the office of the secretary of state.

Friends of E. E. Sullivan, who moved to Los Angeles last fall to work in the post office, will be pleased to hear that "Gene" is doing splendidly. He was recently promoted to assistant foreman, and has 50 employees under his charge now.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Pasco and family from Des Moines and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Trousdale and family from Dows spent Christmas at the Herb Hadley home. The ladies are sisters of Mrs Hadley.

W. E. Bump and wife returned the first of the week from Chillicothe, Ill., where they had spent the holidays with relatives.

Harvey Hutchinson went to Omaha, Saturday to spend Christmas with friends.

Chas. Baldridge went to Cedar Rapids, last week, to visit his father, Wm. Baldridge.

The Frank Jacobmeyer family went to Woden, Monday, to visti the O. E. McCall family. Mrs. McCall is seriously ill.

GARNER CREAMERY ROBBED OF BUTTER

Thieves entered the Garner Farmers Co-operative Creamery early Saturday morning, Dec. 17, and carried off 525 pounds of choice creamery butter. The market value of the butter at the time it was stolen was $262.50, which is a total loss to the creamery as no insurance was carried against theft.

Entrance to the building was made by breaking the outer lock on the door leading to the buttermilk room. After getting into this room, a lock was pried off the refrigerator, and still another on the store room. Of the butter taken, 175 pounds were wrapped in Christmas wrappers, 190 pounds in regular wrappers, 95 pounds was in a packed box, and 65 pounds in a tub. Two more 95 pound boxes had been placed ready to take, but for some reason were left behind.

EASTERN STAR ELECTS OFFICERS FOR 1928

Mrs. Amelia Bohning, Worthy Matron
Mr. Cato C. Griesy, Worthy Patron
Mrs. Lucile Parsons, Associate Matron
Miss Daisy Cameron, Secretary
Mrs. Mary Fitts, Treasurer
Mrs. Ruth Townsan, Conductress
Mrs. Mary Hildebrand, Associate Conductress

HAKE-RUKA

Miss Leota Hake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hake, and Leonard Ruka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Ruka, were married at Garner, Dec. 22.

The bride has been attending the Belmond high school, but will not complete the school year. Mr. Ruka is engaged in farming, and the young couple will work the Ruka home place, five miles from Belmond, next year.

BELMOND MARKETS

(Subject to change.)

Hens	18c
Springs	19c
Roosters	08c
Ducks	16c
Geese	14c
Eggs	34c
Butterfat	48c
Creamery butter	55c
Oats	43c
New corn	64c
Barley	70c

SALE DATES CLAIMED

JAN. 12—Earl Martin, Closing out farm and Holstein cattle sale.
FEB. 15—Chas. Haupt. Closing out farm sale.
FEB. 22—S. A. Bohning, closing out farm sale.

WANT ADS

FOR SALE—Five head of horses, from 3 to 11 years old.—Geo. Braun. Phone 1207. 62*

FOR SALE—Year old Spotted Poland China boar, eligible to registry.—Gunnar Ahlstrom. 62*

FOR SALE—Three two-year old colts, coming three, and one five year old bay mare. Located at Joseph Pletch farm. Inquire at Hub Motor Co. 63c

FOR SALE—Pure bred Rhode Island Red cockerels, $1.50 each. —O. G. Morris. 72*

FOR SALE—A choice P. B. registered Shorthorn bull, 14 months old. Color dark red. Ready for service. A few pure bred Duroc Jersey boars, most popular blood lines, priced to sell.—Emil W. Lau, Route 1, Klemme, Iowa. 4½ miles north of Goodell, ½ mile west and 1 mile south of Klemme, on gravel road N. 1b. 62

WANTED—To borrow $3000. Will give first mortgage on modern town residence property. Write "X", care of Independent. 1c

LOST—Crank for Baby Overland. Finder please notify J. C. Atherton. 1*

LOST OR STRAYED—Dark red bull calf, wt. about 400 lbs. Finder please notify Henry Goeman. Reward. 83*

FOR SALE—Last call for spring boars, only four left. One aged boar for sale, also bred spring gilts.—Roy Jenison. 7tf

ROBINSON'S ... STORE ...

GROCERY
BAKERY

We offer you today—

Cornflakes, 2 pkgs. for	25c
Bran flakes, 2 pkgs. for	25c
Shredded Wheat, 2 pgs.	25c
Pep 2 pkgs.	25c
Macaroni, Spaghetti, Noodles 3 pkgs.	25c
Bulk cocoa, per pound	10c
Raisins, seeded or puffed	10c
Van Camp's beans, medium can	10c
Celon India Tea	60c
Oolong Tea	50c
Peaberry coffee 35c, worth	50c
Fruit Jell, like Jello 3 pkg.	25c
Peanut butter, bulk, per lb.	20c
Flavor Sweet Oleo	22c
A. B. C. pancake flour, 3½ lb.	25c
Dwarfies, 28 oz.	25c

We have the rest at as good prices
We help you, you help us.

Start the New Year

Right by dropping in for our home-cooked chicken dinner! A satisfying meal, with all the trimmings at a Happy New Year price.

We thank you for your patronage during 1927, and trust we may continue to merit it throughout 1928.

MEALS LUNCHES
SHORT ORDERS
ICE CREAM CANDY
CIGARS TOBACCO

Look for the Red Light!

RED LIGHT CAFE
RAY BREWER, Prop

DANCE!

Friday, Dec. 30th
Music by Kelly's Trio
25c
TO ALL

Dance
Monday, January 2
Jack Harmony and his Rhythm Kings 5-Piece Orchestra.
25c
To Every Body

CITY MARKET'S SPECIALS!

Friday - Saturday
December 30-31

Pork Sausage, per lb.	18c
Hamburger per lb.	18c
Beef Roast per lb.	17c

Watch for our Specials Every Week!

Free Deliveries Twice Each Morning

City Meat Market
Nissen Bros., Props.
Phone 207 Belmond, Iowa

LYRIC THEATRE

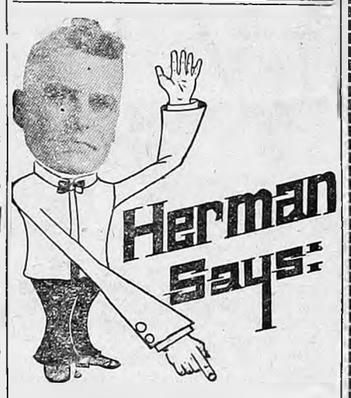
Geo. Hake, Manager

SPECIAL MUSIC WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY NIGHTS

FRIDAY and SATURDAY
DECEMBER 30 and 31
"WHERE THE NORTH BEGINS"
With Rin-Tin-Tin
SHAMROCK ALLEY
Educational comedy
10c and 25c

MONDAY and TUESDAY
JANUARY 2 and 3
"THE HARVESTER"
With Orville Caldwell, Natalie Kingston, Will R. Walling, Jay Hunt, Lola Todd, Edward Hearn, Fanny Midgley. The great epic of the Limberlost, from Gene Stratton Porter's greatest book. The magic beauty of the Indiana woods that inspired the story forms the setting for this picture. Story of a girl to whom life had given little; she learned through the sacrifice of a man that Love can bring back life and a desire to live.
Fox News
10c and 30c

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY
JANUARY 4 and 5
"THE THIRTEENTH JUROR"
With Anna Q. Nilsson, Francis X. Bushman. Story of a famous criminal lawyer and an unscrupulous politician.
THE CINDER PATH
Collegian comedy
10c and 25c



New Year Ahead

THERE'S a little CALENDAR here by our DESK that has reached ITS last stage of USEFULNESS—just 3 MORE days and it will HAVE to give place to A BRAND new one—and WE kind o' hate to SEE that little calendar GO because it's watched US go through our PAGES here for the past TWELVE months and it has HELPED us a lot to KEEP tab on our ENGAGEMENTS and pay OUR bills when due— BUT 1928 is coming AROUND the bend and WE hope she—or should WE say he?—brings you A LOT of joy and PROSPERITY—and we also HOPE that our store MAY be permitted to FIGURE prominently in YOUR 1928 activities— WE'RE ready, willing and ANXIOUS to serve, always. P. S.—Some amazing BARGAINS to start the NEW Year right. FRANSTIEHL Radio Model 182 CONSOLE value $209 for $149.50 installed. RADIOLA 3 A FREE, you to BUY the accessories. EDISON phonograph Console $295 value for $89.50. FOUR Victor Records $1. THREE Black Faced EDISON Records $1. SEE SAW, good playground EQUIPMENT $10 value, ONLY $3.95. Underwood PORTABLE typewriter at a SPECIAL price of $33.45. TRY the Drug Store First!

Herman L Schultz
SCHULTZ DRUGS
Belmond Phone 171

Bump Grocery Specials

Friday and Saturday, Dec. 30-31

2 LBS. FIG BARS	25c
1 LB. BOX EDGEMONT CRACKERS	23c
FAMILY SIZE BUTTER SODA CRACKERS	45c
2 LBS. POP CORN	19c
WHITE WAY CORN FLAKES	25c

We pay highest prices for eggs, trade or cash.
We Appreciate Your Patronage.

The Bump Grocery
Phone 38 Belmond, Iowa

--Now C RADIO

Atwater-Kent builds it

MODEL 36

o batteries, no harging---just plug in conomical in operation on display at our store.

imond Storage attery Company
J. W. Scott, Proprietor
46 Official 2417

Kinseth's Store News

A Happy New Year
And Don't Forget
The Store on the Corner

NEW YEAR'S

--- and an opportunity to buy that Overcoat at from $5 to $20 less than you ever hoped for

---NOW

The Season's Greatest Bargain in Fine Overcoats
$10.00 to $37.50

Our heartiest wishes to you for a Happy Prosperous New Year

SMITH SERVICE & SKOVLIN SATISFACTION
Phone 50 Belmond, Iowa

Wm. Larson ... sburg were week end visitors at ... Ferd Halt... home. ... wa